COST OF SITE CHIEF OBSTACLE TO BUILDING OF LARGE NEW SCHOOL IN THE SHIRETOWN

Requirements of School District Discussed at Annual Meeting on Monday—$6421 Voted as Appropriation For Coming Year—Board of Trustees to Further Investigate Proposed School Building Project.

Dalhousie, N. B. July 15—The annual school meeting of the Sackville school district was held on Monday forenoon in one of the departments of the Sackville Town Hall. Those attending the meeting were: Caleb McNeill, H. P. McEvoy and D. G. Stewart, the three trustees, John B. Delaney, Secretary Treasurer of the district, and Messrs. C. McKenney, Murray McKay, C. H. LaBaillois, H. H. McNeill, Arsenne Allan, Daniel Cook, J. C. Connaacher, Frank Godin and J. A. Alderman. Alderman Godin occupied the chair, and Alderman John B. Delaney, acted as Secretary of the meeting.

The report of the Board of Trustees with the financial statement of the Secretary Treasurer caused no discussion, except as to the question of the proposition of the erection of a new School building in the near future.

The sum of $6421.59 was voted by the meeting as the appropriate estimate for the coming school year.

re-elected Trustee for the next three years. Mr. H. P. McEvoy having spoken highly of the splendid work done by Mr. McNeill, who as chairman of the School Board, had given much of his time towards the creation of an addition to the present building, sufficiently large to carry on the work of education in the town for the next ten or fifteen years, and to report same at the next annual meeting in July 1925."

The question of building a new school building, to replace the present one, which cannot contain all the pupils of the growing district, was taken up, after Trustees McNeill and McEvoy had explained, that the owners of the only available site, on which could be built a $50,000 school house, were asking in the opinion of the Board of Trustees, too much for

Manitoba Crops Good—Saskatchewan and Alberta Suffering from Drought

Winnipeg, July 16—Manitoba crops appear to be in excellent shape, although somewhat late, but lack of moisture, high temperatures and hot winds have taken a very heavy toll of the crops, both wheat and coarse grains, in Saskatchewan and Alberta

There is little complaint from Manitoba points; the crop is admittedly about two weeks later than last year, but present conditions are quite favorable and with showers from now will harvest time, to enable the heads to fill out, a good average yield may be expected. In Saskatchewan and Alberta, conditions south of the main line of the C. P. R., may be said to be fairly good, but working north in both provinces, conditions gradually become worse and many points in central and northern Saskatchewan and Alberta report conditions as serious and several points state that rain must be received immediately to even get seed back.

The growth of the wheat crop appears to be very uneven throughout the west, running from six inches to over three feet. From twenty-five to one hundred per cent is in the shot blade, while from the five to seventy five per cent is in head. Manitoba appears to have sufficient moisture for the time being, although some points state that further rains immediately would be helpful. The lack of moisture in Saskatchewan and Alberta is severe, the great majority of points stating that rain is badly needed.

The damage from cutworms or other insects is light. There has been no damage from hail.

The condition of the coarse grain is mostly fair in Manitoba, but largely poor, thin and backward in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Wheat in Mani-

The Meaning of Chevrolet's "Economical Transportation"

IT is more economical to travel by Chevrolet than by any other means. That is what it means to say that Chevrolet is the most economical form of transportation.

This implies, first of all, that Chevrolet costs the least per car-mile—that it is less expensive to operate than any other make of car.

But, more than that, it means that Chevrolet is more economical than any other kind of transportation.

An investigation among Chevrolet owners of all classes, shows that it is not only more convenient—but also more economical—to travel by Chevrolet than by railway-train or trolley car. The information received gives an average of 30 miles per gallon of gasoline and over 1,300 miles per gallon of oil.

Chevrolet is easy to own. The G.M.A.C. plan of deferred payments will enable you to finance the purchase. Investigate the new Superior Chevrolet today.

BIRTH RATE SHOWS A DECREASE

Highest Death Rate for 1923
Was in Maritime Provinces

Ottawa, July 15—Canada's birth rate last year, based on a preliminary report of vital statistics for all provinces with the exception of Quebec, showed a decrease of about two per cent compared with 1922. The net increase in population for Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia in 1923 totalled 86,065 compared with 95,116 in 1922 and 101,267 the previous year. Living births numbered 156,118 as against 164,194 the previous year. The birth rate per 1,000 population in 1923 was 23.3 as compared with 25.1 in 1922. The proportion of males to females born was 514 to 486.

Deaths from all causes in 1923 numbered 70,063 in an estimated population of 6,692,000, a rough percentage of 10.5 per 1,000 population, the same as in 1922. The highest death rate in 1923 was in the Maritime Provinces and the lowest in the western provinces. Prince Edward Island led with mortality rate of 13 per cent with a percentage of 7.6. Of the total number of deaths reported in the year 13,795 of 19.7 per cent occurred in the first years of life.

Diseases of the heart were given as the cause of death in 7,471 cases or 10 per cent of all deaths. Pneumonia took a toll of 6,226 or 10.7 per cent; cancer 5,151 or 7.3 per cent; tuberculosis 4,777 or 6.8 per cent; influenza 3,578 and diseases of the arteries 3,174 deaths. Death was attributed to old age in 2,917 instances. The returns compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show a steady falling off in the proportion of deaths due to tuberculosis.

Former Explorer Serving Fourteen Year Term For Fraud Asks to be Relieved of Appeal Costs in Case Atlanta, Ga., July 14—Attorneys for Dr. Frederick A. Cook have made a motion before three Federal Judges here that he be relieved of the costs of an appeal from the sentence imposed on him in 1910 for fraud. The motion was taken under advisement.

Dr. Cook is under sentence to serve fourteen years in the Federal Penitentiary and pay a fine of $12,000. He is now in the Tarrant County (Texas) jail, pending the result.

Attorneys for the petitioner said that Dr. Cook is now a pauper and lacks funds to prosecute the appeal.

BULGARIAN WOMEN SEEKING

Majority of Dentists in Sofia are WOMEN

Sofia, July 15—There were 11 women among the 42 medical students graduated this spring from the medical school of Sofia University, the first class graduated from the school since its opening four years ago.

The enrollment of women in the other classes is much larger. Women are entering the medical and dental professions in conspicuous numbers.

The majority of dentists in Sofia are women.

In the legal profession women are meeting with some opposition. The Bar Association is denying recognition to women lawyers, and the bench has shown a disposition to deny them licenses to practice.

Women are admitted to the law school of the university, however, and the women's associations of the country are exerting pressure on Parliament to remove all obstacles to women seeking admission to the practice.

OPPORTUNITY FOR CANADIAN TRADE

Chance to Establish at Present
Time Great World Business
In Eggs and Poultry.

Ottawa, July 14—Canada's opportunity to establish at the present time a great world trade in eggs and poultry was emphasized last night by Fred C. Elford, Dominion poultry husbandman, in an interview here. Mr. Elford has just returned from attending the world's poultry congress in Barcelona, Spain.

Mr. Elford states that already an impetus has been given to the foreign demand for Canadian poultry and eggs and that in consequence a heavy export trade is awaiting this country. There will be no difficulty in securing markets for Canadian poultry and products, but it is doubtful if Canada can take advantage of this opportunity as at the present time she is importing eggs in large quantities.

Mr. Elford said that preparations would be made to study conditions and would be begun at once for the next world congress which is to be held in Ottawa in 1927, some time in August of that year.

Mr. Elford looked upon the Congress as an excellent opportunity for Canada as the delegates, who will be prominent in their respective countries would be studying conditions and should carry to their homes a favorable report of Canada.

The modern tendency is to keep the same apartment year after year. It's too much trouble to tear down the radio set.

TO SCALE HEIGHTS IN THE ROCKIES

Party of Three to Conquer Mt.
Geikie—Altitude is Over
10,000 Feet

Winnipeg, July 14—Hopeful of claiming for Canada the honor of being first to scale the hitherto unconquered heights of Mount Geikie, 10,000 feet in height, and one of the grimmest peaks in Jasper National Park, a party composed of Cyril G. Wates, of Edmonton; M. D. Geddes of Toronto, and Val E. Fynn, of St. Louis left Jasper Park Lodge yesterday to make a third attempt at this climb. With the party is A. F. Clark, photographer at Jasper Park Lodge, and "Bobby Barfoot", seventeen-year-old Edmonton Scout, who will act as camp helper.

This is Cyril Wates' third attempt on Mount Geikie. Twice before, when within an ace of reaching the peak with Dr. Bulyea, of Edmonton, he has been compelled to give up, each time determined to return and conquer. This year professional duties prevent Dr. Bulyea from attempting the climb.

Mr. Geddes is a member of the Alpine Club of Canada and an enthusiastic climber. Mr. Fynn has had many years' experience in climbing in different parts of the world, and all are hopeful of success in their present attempt.

The party are expected to stay in the Mount Geikie region for about two weeks, giving them time to make four attempts. If they succeed earlier they will cross the Geikie Valley to Ice Fall Lake and attempt to scale Mount Simon, another hitherto unclimbed peak 11,000 feet in altitude. Later they will come out to Mount Robson to take part in the Alpine Club camp there.

Will Study Conditions
The party will proceed at once to the foot of Mount Geikie, which is situated 35 miles from Jasper Park Lodge and they expect to arrive there to-night. They will establish a camp at the foot of the mountain and will commence a study of conditions so as to be ready to make a race for the top the moment the opportunity appears to be favorable.

An interesting feature of the climb will be observation of one of the ethics of Alpinists. The observance of this rule will call for the stopping aside by Mr. Fynn in favor of Mr. Wates if he sees that Mr. Wates has an opportunity to reach the peak ahead of him. This might be within a few feet of the top of the mountain, he will have to forego the honor of being the first man to set his foot there if he sees that Mr. Wates is in a position to reach the top.

Mr. Torrington, who is a member of the Appalachian Club of Philadelphia, is preparing for climbing in the Rockies. The route of the far traders of old, and Mr. Carpe is preparing for an assault on Mount Tien-tai. Both the pass and the latter mountain are located in Jasper National Park, Alberta.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR TODD IS WELCOMED TO MADAWASKA

Reception at St. Leonard's—Governor Pleased With Scenic Beauty of the North Shore

St. Leonard, N. B., July 14.—Lieutenant Governor Todd and party are being welcomed to Madawaska County with true Acadian hospitality.

The gubernatorial party arrived here on Saturday evening and spent Sunday at the Cyr Hotel, the whole country-side joining in the festivities.

At the conclusion of the reception the Governor and Mrs. Todd and party are leaving for Edmundston where this evening they will be officially welcomed to the shiretown of Madawaska county and presented with addresses.

The Governor's itinerary calls for him and his party to remain at Edmundston to-morrow when they will visit the Fraser Companies' pulp mill and other industries. They have been much pleased with the scenic beauty and the apparent prosperous condition of the county on the upper St. John river valley.

To-morrow morning they will have an automobile drive into the province of Quebec.

TO WAGE WAR ON TIMBER WOLVES

Government Wolf Hunters Will Again Patrol Far Northern Barren Lands in Search of Pre-datory Animals.

Edmonton, Alta., July 15.—Government wolf-hunters this season will again penetrate the barren lands and wage war on the bands of timber wolves which prey on the caribou herds. Last year the hunters killed off several hundreds of the predatory beasts in the country north-west of Great Slave Lake.

B. Loring, who headed the first expedition, will conduct the hunting operations again this year. He is taking with him a number of men and the party will leave for the territory of the Caribou migration by his schooner from Fort Smith, N. T. W. making his headquarters at the Lockhart River, where the Caribou cross in millions and where the greatest number of wolves were destroyed last year. Several canoes are being constructed specially for the expedition.

The body of young McKibbin was not the car when found and it was expected that it would be several days more before it would appear on the surface, but on Sunday afternoon, two little girls discovered an object in the water. They were crossing the same highway bridge and just near the draw span saw a body in the water. They called to some men on the bridge and as they looked the current took the body in close to the pier. A motor boat belonging to the Blackmores was passing at the time and the body was taken out of the water, placed in the boat and taken to Newcastle, where it was conveyed to Hogan's undertaking rooms—Chatham Gazette.

BANKER ROBBED OF BIG AMOUNT

Official of First National Bank at Lake George, N. Y. Relieved of Over $8,000.

Lake George, N. Y., July 15.—While on his way from the First National Bank of Lake George to the post office R. E. Archibald, cashier of the bank, was held up and robbed of $8,000 by two bandits. So well planned was the robbery and so efficiently was it carried out that those on the street were not aware that there had been a robbery or a chance meeting of acquaintances until Mr. Archibald set up a shout for help and they saw a sedan car speeding up the main street of the village.

Mr. Archibald left the bank about 10 o'clock. Under his arm he carried a package containing many bills of small denominations. These had been accumulated in the course of business and were so old and worn that they had been withdrawn from circulation. The package was destined to the Federal Bank in New York to be exchanged for new money. The cashier had gone only a short distance when he saw an automobile parked at the edge of the sidewalk in front of Shepard Memorial Park. One man near the running board while another remained on the front seat.

"When he was almost abreast of the car, the man who stood beside it walked toward him. At the same time the other man had slid from the seat and walked slowly toward the rear of the car. The first man by that time had come up directly in the path of the cashier.

"Give me that package that you are carrying," he said quietly, and he added quickly, "If you don't I will put a bullet through you."

Mr. Archibald saw that the bandit was holding a revolver pointing at his stomach. As he hesitated for a second, a voice over his shoulder said, "Come on now," and he felt something hard pressing against the small of his back.

The man in front grabbed the package and both men toward the car and jumped in. The engine was going and a second later the car was going at increasing speed up the road.

"The cashier called a taxi cab and started after the fugitives. While the chase was on Mr. Archibald took down the number of the car chased.

Winnipeg, July 14.—Detectives Robert Frayne and George Batho of the Winnipeg city force, were shot and wounded in a gun battle yesterday afternoon, while a man said to be Perry Magee, who is under arrest, was also wounded.

The man known as Magee entered the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch at the corner of Main and Alexander streets and asked the teller to change some foreign currency into Canadian money. The teller recognized the foreign money as some alleged to have been stolen a fortnight ago from a local financier house and detained Magee while the police arrived. On the arrival of the officers Magee bolted into the Manager's office and opened fire. Frayne and Batho dropped, the former with a bullet in his abdomen and Batho with one in his shoulder. Magee then ran from the bank and down a lane. There he encountered another officer, who opened fire. Magee fell wounded. He was carried to the hospital and is in a serious condition.

It happened in a British newspaper, "The Dundee Courier," that the word "wit" was accidentally dropped.

BODY OF GUY MCKIBBIN FOUND

Was Floating Near the Scene of Tragedy

Both the ill-fated car in which Guy McKibbin made the terrible plunge over the Newcastle highway bridge, on Wednesday morning, and the body of the unfortunate young man himself, have now been recovered.

The car was first caught by the grapples from John W. in charge of Messrs. Quartermaster and Chase. Sargeant, on Friday afternoon, and Diver Beck made a quick descent and secured the grapples and other chains to the car, so that when power was applied from the wench on a nearby scow, the car body was brought to the surface of the water and eventually up on the scow and taken to the Newcastle side of the river.

It was hauled to the North Shore Motors garage and though torn and broken in innumerable ways, the engine was found to be unharmed and it is stated that the car could be put in running condition for $100.00.

The body of young McKibbin was not the car when found and it was expected that it would be several days more before it would appear on the surface, but on Sunday afternoon, two little girls discovered an object in the water. They were crossing the same highway bridge and just near the draw span saw a body in the water. ## THE EARTHQUAKE HAZARD IN HAWAII

Necessary in Some Regions to Employ Special Building Construction

Hilo, Island of Hawaii, July 14.—The Hawaiian islands are intimately associated along the lines of human habitation with the earthquake danger on the Pacific Coast and the territory is a region where it is necessary to employ special building construction as a safeguard, it was stated here by Roy H. Finch, assistant volcanologist at the Kilauea observatory, in connection with the recent unusual activity at the Halemaumau frepit of Kilauea.

"It is true," he explained, "that the Hawaiian group is not connected in fact with the earthquake lines which border the Pacific Ocean. Still, so far as the island of Hawaii is concerned, it had a world-shaking quake in 1868 which was destructive to buildings over a radius of miles. On several occasions quakes have occurred under the ocean west of Maui or Molokai which were felt not only on those two islands, but on Oahu and Hawaii."

"It is quite possible that such slips occur along a fault of appreciable length, and a larger movement, easily possible, might cause a shock that would cause considerable damage in Honolulu."

The possibility of a movement of small land masses anywhere in the Hawaiian islands probably will be admitted by nearly every one. In most such cases, no doubt, the movement would be superficial and the resulting earthquake perceptible or destructive over a small area. A recent example of such phenomena is that at Kapaohu on this island. A block of land three miles long and nearly one mile wide was in motion, and a portion of it, at least, dropped from six to eight feet. The movement of this block was caused by numerous quakes that passed only slight damage individually. Their total effects were to separate one part of a building from another, leaving them at different levels; to drop a portion of railroad track eight feet and to cause great fissures in the roads and trails. Such a movement certainly would destroy water and gas mains."

Our European Trip

A Brief Account of our Pleasant Experiences with The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Party on our Trip abroad
By H. B. ANSLOW

Southampton
June 29th 1924.

Thursday morning most of our party who had suffered from seasickness were about, and again enjoying life. We were more favored than many did not have this thrill, although on Tuesday evening we ran in a heavy sea which continued well into Wednesday.

Early on this morning we sighted land first The Caskets, with its great beacon light, and then the Channel Islands. We were informed that Lands End beacon had been passed during the night. Many steamers were in sight now, as we were in the direct route to and from busy England.

About noon the shore of Normandy, France was sighted. Our first sight of France disclosed a country very different from Canada. The first feature we noticed was the hedge end fields, then the red tiled roofs.

We ran into Chiburg harbor about 1.30. Here a tender came off and took on passengers who were landing here to proceed to various points in Europe. We also landed a large quantity of mail and baggage.

Sailed again at 3.30 and it was not until the white cliffs of the Isle of Wight was sighted that we passed the needles light and old fortifications. The Isle of Wight appeared to be a great seaside resort, as many beach towns were passed, with the usual bathing pavilions, etc.

We also passed numerous cities and towns, beautifully located. We ran up to Cowes, then turned into the Southampton channel, and up to the docks. Hundreds of large passenger and freight vessels were in the docks or anchored in the stream.

As we sailed up this beautiful channel with Southampton, Portsmouth and Cowes in the distance we could not but think of the many Canadian boys who had followed this course during the years of the war. It will be remembered that it was at Southampton that our first contingent of 33,000 gallant boys landed in October 1914.

We were safely docked at 10 o'clock and received a visit from some English officials, and the Canadian Bowler, which had toured England and were then in Southampton. A noisy time for a while but things soon settled down to our usual calm.

Friday morning at 9 o'clock our entire party was assembled and escorted to motor busses for a drive through Southampton, and thence out to the "New Forest".

Here we had our first sight of rural England. The roads are all paved and the motors run at great speed through beautiful lively rural villages and farm lands, well cultivated, and crops looking well. Newspaper reports stated that England had suffered with a prolonged period of wet weather, but we were favored with a beautiful clear day.

We were led to believe that rural England was beautiful and were not disappointed. The cottages, many of them with thatched roofs, are so beautifully kept. Every square foot of land about them is cultivated, and the flowers, principally roses, are in great profusion. Each lot is enclosed by a stone wall.

We also on this ride saw our first English passenger train, with its little locomotive, and smaller passenger and freight cars, so different to ours in Canada. But we noticed with what dispatch they handled the large crowds. Everything seemed to work with clockwork precision.

At the New Forest, which is about twenty-five miles from Southampton, we had group pictures taken, but as our time was limited, our steamer being due to sail at 11 o'clock for Antwerp, we were not to have the privilege of visiting the many points of great historic interest in this great expanse of forest.

We returned to Southampton by a different route, and thus saw considerable of rural conditions in this section of England.

For six days and nights Major's was kept in a hotbed, filled with water, which was frequently changed. Great quantities of water was given to Major's to drink. A nurse was constantly at his side with glasses of water which he was forced to drink. But all the while the poison from the burns was being eliminated from system.

Today the final stage of the battle was won. There was one spot on Major's left leg that refused to heal. Dr. Julian Hart of the hospital staff performed an operation known as "pin's grafting," and Major's soon will return home.

Heretofore a person with one-third of the body covered with burns was regarded as a hopeless case.

section of England. At 11 o'clock we were again on board the Melita and ready to resume our journey to Antwerp.

It was here that we had our first sad news since leaving home. Miss Marion Stevens of Hartland, one of our Maritime province party received a cablegram announcing the death of her brother Mr. Fred Stevens, proprietor of The Carleton Observer. Mr. Stevens had attended the convention at Toronto and seemed to be in his usual state of health. He returned to Hartland on Monday, while Miss Stevens sailed with our party on Wednesday. Miss Stevens endeavored herself to all and deep sorrow prevailed throughout the entire party because of her sudden bereavement. Arrangements were made whereby she returned to her home Saturday by the Empress of Scotland accompanied by a young lady, a native of Southampton, who was proceeding to Canada.

Upon our arrival on this side of the water we saw many sea planes and airplanes flying about. They seem to be constantly going and coming with apparently as little thought of danger as the driving of an auto upon the paved streets of the cities.

It was another beautiful calm day so all could enjoy the changing scenes as the Isle of Wight was passed. At Cowes we saw one of the Castles of the late Queen Victoria. Our way from Southampton we passed the far famed Netley Marine Hospital. This is said to be the largest in the British Empire and is very beautifully situated.

We passed Cowes, which is noted as the scenes of the great yacht races Portsmouth, Brighton and Spithead. The British fleet was not in evidence but a few cruisers were seen.

The channel was a little foggy so that it was difficult to distinguish objects on the English coast but we passed Folkestone and Dover, and thence up the channel. At midnight we were still out of sight of land, but later the lights of cities were distinguished.

As we planned to arise early so that we might see a portion of Holland before we reached Antwerp we retired for the night.

ENGLISH GIRLS GO TO AUSTRALIA

Thousands Flock to Antipodes—
or Husbands
Hope to Find Good Jobs

English girls are flocking to Australia, according to Miss L. M. Fowler, President of the Y. W. C. A. of Sydney N. S. W.—some to start professional life anew, thousands as domestic and many in search of husbands. Many of the girls, including the husband seekers, settle down and find work of one kind or another, and are contented and happy in their new surroundings with or without husbands, said the Sydney Y. W. C. A. head.

The immigrants cover almost every type of occupations from the professional class to domestic workers, says Miss Fowler, who supplied further facts as follows:

"If they will sign up to do housework for twelve months after arrival, the latter class can get their passage partly paid by the Government. Our Government has started a selective immigration plan, and every effort is made over in London to attract the men and women of the better type to come out. Australia needs people badly. Our population is poorly distributed and chiefly in cities."

The communication from the head of the Sydney Y. W. C. A. invites attention to the fact that Australia, although within one square mile of the area of the United States, has only a six-million population, in contrast to that country's one hundred million.

Miss Fowler pointed out that conditions under which women work in Australia are considered much more favorable than in any other country, in spite of which she reports some discontent.

"While wages are higher," she said "our wages scale has one disadvantage. It attracts many young women and girls who come out and are disappointed with what they find. They become restless and dissatisfied."

A new building for the Sydney Y. W. C. A. is now in course of construction. It represents an investment of nearly $400,000. In Sydney alone the membership is 14,000, almost three times that number of women and girls using the building and recreational facilities.

IRISH SETTER SAVED BOYS LIFE

"Mike" a valuable Irish setter owned by S. Lordy, of the Lordy Woodworking Company, proved himself a hero when on Thursday afternoon he rescued from a watery grave a small boy playing at Courtenay Bay. The boy and his brother were playing on a raft when the young fellow fell off.

The setter jumped from a bank back of the East End grounds and dragged the young fellow ashore.

The boy left on the raft became terrified when he saw his brother's mishap and felt the raft start to drift away with him. He jumped into the water and was saved by James Price Meeklenberg street, who swam out to the struggling boy.

YOUNG PEOPLE TOO EXTRAVAGANT

Prominent London Financier
Speaks of the Folly of Young Generation

The members of the Kiwanis Club at their regular weekly luncheon which took place today in the summer cafe of the Chateau Frontenac, were treated by an interesting discourse by Mr. Sydney A. P. Kiteat, prominent London financier.

Mr. Kiteat, who was introduced to the gathering by Kiwanian Henry Willis, gave an outline of his experiences in Canada since last January, and enthused over the wonderful possibilities of the Dominion, and mentioned particularly the power development of the province of Quebec, with which he was well acquainted.

The speaker was very optimistic when speaking of the future hydraulic development of Canada. He stated that the prospects were little short of marvellous, and would hardly be credited unless one were to make a study of conditions for himself. He said that since his last visit to Canada in 1910, the Dominion has gone ahead to a great extent and predicted a great future for the country.

Mr. Kiteat deplored the fact, however, that there existed so much excess as well as in the United States. He was of the opinion that the younger generation was acting very foolishly in squandering their hard-earned money on expensive motor cars and other luxuries instead of saving their dollars with which to make sound investments at some future time.

BRITAIN DEVELOPS ART IN ADVERTISING

London, July 10.—Preparations have been complete for the holding of the world's greatest advertising conference which will begin next Monday. Delegates from Canada and the U. S. have expressed themselves as highly pleased with the reception they have met with.

The chief surprise of the visitors is the development of the art of advertising by poster in Britain, declaring that the majority of these advertisements, especially those broadcast by the railway companies, have attained a high standard of beauty without losing any of their effectiveness.

A woman doesn't settle down to matrimony until she gets the habit of thinking she smells something burning.

MOTHER OF TWIN BOYS

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Inflammation and Great Weakness

West St. John, N. B.—"I was in a general run-down condition following the birth of my twin boys. I had a great deal of inflammation, with pains and weakness. Finally my doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He said that your medicine would be the only thing to build me up. I am sure he is right, for I am feeling much better and am gaining in weight, having gone down to ninety-three pounds. I was in bed for over a month, but am up again now. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to my friends and give you permission to use my letter."—Mrs. ELIZABETH A. RYAN, 32 Rodney St., West St. John, N. B.

There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Ryan's experience is but one of many.

A Timely Warning to Housewives

When baking Bread, Rolls or Buns remember that Robin Hood Flour is a thirsty flour. Being rich in the highest quality GLUTEN, it absorbs more water than other flours.

You can bake better bread by using less Robin Hood Flour to the baking; or, by adding more water, bake a greater number of loaves.

Heed this advice and your reward will be light, flaky, wholesome loaves, perfect in color, flavor and texture.

INTERESTING FIGURES

A contrast is shown between statistics of failures for the Dominion of Canada and those for the United States. Whereas, there were more defaults in the United States during the second quarter of this year than in a similar period of 1923, failures in Canada decreased by 32.7 per cent. Thus, the 527 commercial defaults in Canada, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co. for the second quarter, compare with 783 in the corresponding three months of last year, while the liabilities of $11,653,847 show a reduction of 22.5 per cent from the $15,041,251 of the earlier year. Without exception, all provinces reported fewer failures for the second quarter of this year, though there was a decrease of only one default in each case in Ontario, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Aside from British Columbia, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island, the indebtedness this year was smaller in every instance, the largest reduction being one of about $2,900,000 in Quebec.

In point of number of failures, the falling off in the Canadian business mortality during the second quarter of this year, as compared with that of a similar period of 1923, extended to manufacturing, trading, and other commercial lines. The decrease in the manufacturing class was 62 and in the trading division 189, while there were five fewer defaults among agents, brokers, etc. The failures among manufacturers, moreover, involved liabilities smaller by nearly $4,000,000 than those of the second quarter of last year, when compared with the loss by deaths alone, which in 1923 totalled from all causes 70,063, is a cause for more or less apprehension. The highest death rate for 1923 was in the Maritime Provinces and the lowest in the Western Provinces, Prince Edward Island leading with a death rate of 13 per 1,000, and Saskatchewan having to its credit a percentage of but 7.6 per 1,000. Of the total number of deaths, 13,795, or 19.7 per cent, occurred in the first year of life, and high as this is, it is a decrease over the figures of a few years ago, but still leaves much to be desired.

Canada's birth rate for 1923 shows a small decline, a fact that is a disappointment to the maker of the vital statistics and to the health workers generally, who had hoped that the improved conditions noted in the different provinces would show a corresponding increase in the birth rates. The decrease is small, about two per cent as compared with 1922, and this is noted in all provinces save Quebec. The net increase in population for Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia for 1923 was 86,056, compared with 95,116 in 1922 and 101,257, in 1921. This total increase by births, when compared with the loss by deaths alone, which in 1923 totalled from all causes 70,063, is a cause for more or less apprehension. The highest death rate for 1923 was in the Maritime Provinces and the lowest in the Western Provinces, Prince Edward Island leading with a death rate of 13 per 1,000, and Saskatchewan having to its credit a percentage of but 7.6 per 1,000. Of the total number of deaths, 13,795, or 19.7 per cent, occurred in the first year of life, and high as this is, it is a decrease over the figures of a few years ago, but still leaves much to be desired.

SOUTH AFRICA AFFAIRS

A Capetown correspondent believes an effort will be made to re-unite the Dutch party in South Africa. One portion of this party at present supports Premier Hertzog and the other ex-Premier Smuts. Speeches made last week by three Nationalist leaders indicate a desire to bring about the reunion by absorption of the Dutch followers of General Smuts into the Nationalist party. One of them denounced the present South African party, which supports General Smuts as an enemy of the Nationalist spirit. It is easy to believe that the Nationalist party would desire to bring all the Dutch elements in the population into the same political camp, and this has long been the aim of the present Premier. So long as General Smuts remains in public life, however, the development of a Nationalist spirit which would tend toward the independence of South Africa will have a formidable opponent. Indeed it is suggested by another observer that before the Hertzog Government has been long in power all talk about secession will cease. This view derives some support from the friendly attitude the new Premier has shown towards the British Government, and his declaration that he desires to work in harmony and co-operate with the Mother Country and the other Dominions.

CROSSING THE BORDER

The Immigration Department at Ottawa reports that from the middle of March to June 30 the number of Canadians and others returning from the United States was 13,874. These are people actually returning to settle in Canada. Of the number 11,860 were born in Canada, 1,251 were British subjects who had acquired Canadian domicile and 763 were naturalized Canadians who had gone to the United States. This, of course, is a cheering statement, but not so cheering when we remember that, according to the United States figures, 13,400 people left Canada for the United States in the month of May alone. The United States figures also show that the "brain drain" of Canadians leaving the United States from Canada during the twelve months ending May was $9,624,114, compared with a value of settlers' effects coming from the United States of $4,450,118. While these last figures are depressing, it is nevertheless true that since May the movement from Canada into the United States has declined, and there is every reason to believe it will continue to decline for the balance of the year. There is no such inducement to cross the border now as there was last year, and even during part of the winter, when American industries were flourishing and there was an active demand for labor. Today thousands are walking the streets of American cities; and while it is predicted there will be a gradual revival of business activity, the general situation is not such as would encourage Canadians to go there expecting to obtain immediate employment. The tide has definitely turned.

MANUFACTURERS AND FARMERS

A writer in The Journal of Commerce deals in a very interesting way with the subject of the relations that should exist between the manufacturers and the farmers. He points out that if by exercising their political strength the farmers injure the manufacturers, or if the manufacturing class gain possession of the Government and enforce their economic views on the farmers, it is bad for all concerned. In other words, combined political action by either class against the other is bad business. The writer says that "to capture government for a time carries its own boomerang, no matter what the occasion, the purpose or the group." There is no doubt that the keynote of success in the development of the country is co-operation, which can only be the result of a clear appreciation by each of the mutual importance of the problems of the others. The difficulty is that each group or class is so absorbed in its own concerns that such an understanding does not exist, and so there is a constant clash of interests, each asserting that somebody else is to blame for unsatisfactory business conditions. There is also to be reckoned with the element in human nature which makes personal gain the great incentive in life. It prompts the farmer to seek the very highest possible price for his products, and the manufacturer to charge the highest price the tariff will enable him to exact. When conditions are unfavorable for one or the other, a remedy is sought in legislation, which in the nature of things would be more or less sectional. Many efforts have been made to bring farmers and manufacturers together but without any marked success. Perhaps that is because each party has been unwilling to abandon a theoretical position in order to meet the other. It is, however, in the interest of the country that a better feeling between the great farming and manufacturing industries of the country should be continued. Each is responsible to the prosperity of the country, and neither can be seriously injured without injuring the other.

THE PREMIER'S OPTIMISM
Opponents of the Liberal Government might be disposed to classify some of Premier Wood's remarks made Tuesday at the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Agricultural Society, as hot air but the prominent feature of the Prime Minister's address was his spirit of optimism which, by its way is evidently well founded. Such admirable faith in the future of our own country is always commendable and stands out in striking contrast with the pessimism of the masses. It is indeed encouraging to note such enthusiasm at a time when so many avenues of progress present themselves and when lack of faith and initiative on the part of our leaders might rob our province of countless opportunities for advancement and development.

Let us hope that the optimism of the Premier may be contagious and that it may find expression in energetic enterprise throughout the province.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Editor Graphic:
In the re-printed report of the Campbellton fire, as published in the last issue of the Graphic, it is stated that five days after the fire a meeting of the citizens was called by Mayor Mr. D. Murray and the work of relief placed in the hands of a competent committee.

The facts are however that a joint meeting of the members of the town council and citizens generally was called by the mayor in the early morning immediately following the fire (and while the members were still smoldering) by rumors, who notified as many citizens as possible in the devastated area. The meeting was held in the freight shed on the wharf at the east end of the town (a building that was saved from burning by the fire engine and a few feet of hose the night before.) At this meeting a Relief Committee was appointed. The personnel of this committee appears in the Staff Correspondence of the St. John Telegraph, dated July 12th and in the Boston Post of July 13th.

The work of relief in real earnest, and prosecuted it with all possible speed, and within two days after the fire they had erected two commodious and well arranged Relief buildings on the school grounds for the storing of food and clothing as well as buildings for cooking and serving meals.

The Telegraph of July 15th states that "the two relief stations were thronged and about 700 people were fed at one station while supplies were issued at the other station to almost as many and that one of these stations is similar to a large restaurant while the other is more like a wholesale warehouse containing general merchandise." Relief supplies were stored in these buildings as fast as they arrived.

The Mayor requisitioned the Militia Department for soldiers to maintain order and keep the blankets for the fire-stricken sufferers.

The Militia under Major Mesereau arrived on July 14th and 500 tents

ADVERTISING AND SOUND PROSPERITY

Prominent British Statesmen Point Out Advantages of Advertising
London, July 15.—The second day of the international advertising convention to-day was partially devoted to listening to advice by three members of the late Conservative Government, Stanley Baldwin, Sir Robert Horne, and Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame, on the direct effect advertising would have in establishing a new economic life and sound prosperity in the nations of Europe.

The general session this morning was under the chairmanship of Lord Leverhulme, the famous soap manufacturer, and the owner and developer of one of Britain's largest chain store systems. Lord Leverhulme described in detail to his audience the long and hard struggle he had fought in England before the manufacturers and public would recognize the advantages of advertising.

WOMAN CHATS AS SURGEON'S WORK

New Anesthetic Tested in New York in Major Operation
New York, July 17.—It is announced that an anesthetic locally used for the first time at the United Israel Hospital, Tenth avenue and Forty-eighth street, Brooklyn, a woman patient was able to converse with the surgeons and nurses and to feel no pain while undergoing an operation for gall stones and appendicitis.

The operation proved that a surgeon may operate on almost any part of the body without causing pain and without using a general anesthetic. Watching the operation was a gathering of prominent physicians and surgeons, who expressed their satisfaction that serious operations may now be performed without the use of ether.

The patient was perfectly comfortable after the operation and was given liquid nourishment almost immediately.

A large quantity of blankets on July 13th, water pipe services, sanitary latrines and other necessary conveniences were installed within 4 days after the fire and yet their services seem to have been entirely ignored by the writer of the report of the fire, published one year afterwards and from which the Graphic's report was taken.

Discovery Includes Skeleton Said to be Seventeen Thousand Years Old. Stags, Dinosaurs and Ancient Weapons.

Krasnoyarsk, Siberia, July 15.—Russian archaeologists who are excavating near here have unearthed several human bodies belonging to the Stone Age, a number of prehistoric mammoths, dinosaurs, bison, gigantic stags and more than 700 stone and bone implements, ornaments and weapons of the prehistoric era.

One of the human skeletons found by the explorers is believed to be a least 17,000 years old.
The expedition was undertaken two years ago in an attempt to fix the place of the abode of prehistoric man in Siberia. It is working under the direction of Professor Augsbach and Sanowaky, who are distinguished Russian archaeologists.

Krasnoyarsk is a city of about 35,000 persons, situated on the line of the Transiberian Railroad. It is on the Yenisei, a river 3,000 miles long.

TO GO OVER NIAGARA FALLS IN RUBBER BALL
Bobby Leach Will be Dropped Into River Above Cataract from an AirplaneBuffalo, July 14.—Bobby Leach announces that he will go over Niagara Falls and through the rapids in his specially designed rubber ball on July 26 or August 5.
"I will be in the ball when it is dropped from an airplane flying over the Upper Niagara River just above the Cataract," said Leach. "The ball will be dropped into the river at a point opposite and a bit upstream from the Toronto Power Company's plant on the Canadian side."

Leach believes he can outwit any of the efforts of the Canadian or American authorities to prevent his exploit. His efforts to get consent of the Canadian officials have been unsuccessful.

OVER 150,000 PERSONS IN GREAT BRITAIN ARE MENTALLY DEFICIENT

London, July 14.—More than 150,000 persons in Great Britain, or one in every 200, are mentally deficient, Minister of Health Wheatley declared in an address at a conference here. Referring to the number of such persons confined in prisons or various offenses, he said that he had wondered "whether the person who sent the mentally defective person to be punished for something which he did, and could not avoid doing, was not himself a fit subject for care."

Crimean Veteran Praises "Fruit-a-tives"

MAJOR GEO. WALKER
Major George Walker, now a familiar figure in Charlottetown, is one of the men who went through the terrible Indian Mutiny. As he says: "I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, serving under Lord Roberts. Force hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My hands were so contorted that I was in terrible shape until I began to use 'Fruit-a-tives.' They relieved me both of the Rheumatism and the Contortions. Today, I enjoy perfect health—no more Rheumatism or Contortions."

And in another letter, written December 1st, 1923 (eleven years after), Major Walker says: "Fruit-a-tives are keeping me in the best of health and I shall never be without them."

"Fruit-a-tives" are the famous Fruit Treatment—integrated fruit juices combined with tonic—that make you well and keep you well. 25c and 50c at all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Why Not a Strawberry Luncheon?

Did you ever get all you wanted of a favorite food—strawberries, for instance? If not, here is a suggestion you will appreciate.

Usually, a pinch of old-fashioned strawberry shortcake follows a hearty dinner, when it is impossible to eat much of this beloved dessert. Strawberry ice cream or frozen berries are served in the same way. But at the strawberry festival luncheon I am about to describe, you will be able to order just one hearty thing—and plenty of it.

The invitations should take the form of paper strawberries, with the invitation itself written on enclosed leaves tied with red, white and blue ribbon. The decorations of the house should consist of red, roses that are in profusion in many home gardens at this time. Their deep velvety coloring is charming with greenery.

Arrange the table with lengthwise and crosswise runners, sixteen inches wide, of leaf-green crepe paper, ruffling out the edges slightly to give a little finish. In the centre place a large gilt strawberry basket filled with red roses. The stems of the roses should be cut so that the roses will form a close mould of brilliant color held together by the national colors.

Besides each plate, put a tiny paper strawberry-box, also of gilt filled with maraschino strawberries. Place-cards are charming that represent strawberry-fairies. The bodies are made of an inflated paper berry and the hats and tails are made of the leaves. The names are placed on the round red "tummies". A wee paper strawberry leaf basket may hold the salted nuts at each place.

Many persons object to paper napkins—even to best hemstitched ones that are so soft. So if it seems wiser white luncheon napkins may be substituted. Paper service-plates with strawberry decoration add to the appearance of the table. Silver for only one course should be laid at one time where paper decorations are used. In case the dining-room is dark or the day dull, and candles are desired use green candles with strawberry paper shades. A single red rose tied with "the colors" placed at each plate completes this dainty table.

Now for the menu, which is, perhaps, the most important detail, though we come to its description last. The food should be individually served, as this is easy, does not disturb the beauty of the table decorations and is economical.

MENU
Fruit Cocktails,
Fruit Soup,
Broiled Chicken, Fried Potatoes,
Strawberry Fritters, Hot Biscuit,
Strawberry and Cheese Salad,
Strawberry Shortcake,
Frozen Strawberries,
Coffee.

The fruit cocktails may be made of mixed fruits in season with strawberries predominating. The strawberry soup may be served hot or cold, according to taste or the temperature.

In broiling the chicken, prepare a sufficient quantity to allow a half chicken to a cover. Garnish each serving attractively with parsley and tiny molds of quick strawberry jelly made for the occasion.

The fritters are made with chopped fresh fruit mixed with batter. When they are fried, they are dusted with powdered sugar and served as an entree with the chicken. The hot biscuit should be very tiny and should be pulled wide enough open to hold a piece of butter in the centre before being served.

The Magic That Makes a Room Seem "Homey"

What makes a home "homey"? Most of us would answer this question by saying it is some intangible quality that cannot be exactly figured out. But as a matter of fact, this result is accomplished to a great extent simply by arranging the furniture in cozy ways about the rooms.

The cozy corner with a tea-table, perhaps set in its angle, inclines one to stop for a cup of tea though she had not intended to indulge. Two "comfy" chairs under a standing lamp, with a smoker's table or a travelling book-wagon and a plump floor cushion, invite one to stop and linger. It is hard to get away from a room of this sort. We need not look to see if welcome is written on the door-mat. We know we are welcome, even expected, when there is so much thought expended on plans for our comfort.

We do not need much money in order to have a cozy home. We need only knowledge and ability. The presence of books, magazines, and papers on tables well lighted, of music on the piano rack, of flowers cut or in pots, of a bird or of a comfortable cat, a basket with a bit of sewing can humanize a place and make it cozy and inviting no matter how open violin case, and the room becomes world-wide in its interests, yet as cozy as a nest.

Lighting has become an art and it means more than almost any other factor in home-making. When we compare the illumination under which our grandmothers worked and our own today, we are bound to estimate a deep gratitude because we live in this great age.

Snapping on and off a light is better than filling and cleaning lamps, lighting matches and cowering under phur smoke. We live in our living-rooms. We don't shut ourselves out for fear of fading carpets, or our ancestors did. Most of us haven't carried a lamp and many rugs look better for a bit of fading.

In a cottage in the mountains of Massachusetts, where the living-room had eight doors, and a grape vine grew right under the chandeliers and intruded into the room, the floor was covered with rag carpet. The furniture was simple, but the room possessed an unaccountable charm. Each door that opened out of the room made one think of the chapter of the book. The room itself had begun as a "lean-to" kitchen, and the attractive room came, additions were built around the room until it became the centre of a straggling cottage, and when the doors were opened, it radiated a cozy invitation that drew all to its bright fire-side.

Study the room and hang the draperies in some original way that suits it. Don't let them hang them someone else has. Work out your own ideas, "always keeping homeliness" in mind.

The salad may be made of halved, fresh berries dusted with sugar and delicately seasoned cream-cheese balls the berries and balls are placed in a cupped lettuce leaves and mayonnaise made without mustard and with lemon juice instead of vinegar, lighted with a little whipped cream, which is placed on top of each serving.

The shortcake is made of biscuit dough split and generously buttered filled with sweetened berries. The extra juice is used for a sauce. The frozen berries are cooked a few minutes with sugar, then cream is added and they are frozen.

AN ATTRACTIVE WINDOW
The window in the Subway Grocery prepared for display is probably as pleasing a sight as most housekeepers will encounter anywhere in their afternoon shopping tour. Since opening here, this grocery has specialized in attractive window dressing but this one excels in many ways any of the former displays. The picture presented is that of a water mill and just the sort of scene one would expect to find in such a locality. There does not appear to be anything lacking for the running water, fresh green moss and a realistic "atmosphere" have all been provided. A sense of the artistic may not be essential to success as a grocer but, evidently, it can be utilized even in that business with good results.

130-POUNDER BEATS HIS 385-POUND WIFE
New York, July 12.—For thrashing his wife, May, who weighs 385 pounds, after catching her in the act of searching his pockets, Lawrence Deposito, a 130-pounder of Brooklyn, was found guilty of disorderly conduct in justice avenue court and remained for sentence on Thursday.

According to the evidence the difference in their weights did not prevent Deposito from giving his wife a severe beating. The husband said he woke up thinking burglars were in the house only to find that Mrs. Deposito was exploring repositories in his street attire which he considered strictly private.

He argued a husband had a right to chastise a wife caught rifling his pockets.

How to Have a Night At-home Vacation on Wheels

Two weeks with or without pay in subject that disturbs many a person at this season. The "wishes" are happy and wish the two weeks could be stretched into four, while the "with out" begrudge the time and the money, needed for a vacation trip.

In either case, we cannot all afford a real trip. Some of us must do the best we can with a "homey" outing of some kind unless we are part owners of a "machine," in which case, unlimited possibilities on wheels are ours.

Let us consider a motor-trip vacation and what we must count on in the way of expense. First, there is gas, then upkeep of tires and so on. Next come our meals. And they come very high along the main roads. One way to solve these problems is to take an amplified picnic luncheon from home with things to cook in the open—enough food for at least two days—and camp out one night. Long trips are very tiring unless you are a born gipsy and unless you can afford a comfortable hotel at night.

The short trips, homing every other night, have much to recommend them. Food from home is not apt to upset one as alien food frequently does. This is not a picnic against an outing in the open, but a warning to select one that will prove restful and refreshing as a vacation should do, rather than a strain.

A square, deep head-box of tin with a tray makes an excellent food-carrier for a short trip. The top tray will hold the first day's food. While the under part will carry food for the second day. On top there may be a big, generous steak to cook on a folding broiler, bread, butter, potatoes, a can of peas or tomatoes and a dish of spaghetti that can be heated in the folding oven while the biscuits bake.

A fine lemon or apple pie should complete this meal. Ham, eggs and corn-bread make a good breakfast. Small cans of condensed milk or, better still, evaporated cream will do for one meal, so there need be nothing carried uncovered.

Cake, fruit and sandwiches made of material prepared in jars will supply luncheon material. Underneath the tray we may pack half of a boiled ham, potatoes boiled ready for salad, minced onions and salad dressing in wax paper jackets more bread, chopped nuts and many things for sandwiches and another pie and a mould of fruit jelly.

If the weather is extremely warm, cooked foods will have to be specially planned and only one day's supply of meat can be managed.

It hardly pays to take a long trip on a short vacation. So much distance can be covered in a day and still allow one home comfort at night that a varied vacation can in this way be had at small expense.

OBITUARY
Miss Lillian Mallin
Death has claimed another young life in the passing of Miss Lillian Mallin of Douglastown, Que. The deceased was a native of this place was in her seventh year and was the daughter of George Mallin and May Flynn. Although she had been in failing health for some time the fatal disease did not fully develop until last week and she passed away yesterday morning. Besides her parents she leaves several sisters and brothers to whom we offer our sympathy. The funeral took place from the home of her parents to the Roman Catholic Church where requiem mass was celebrated and interment was in St. Patrick's Cemetery.

Flowers that do not wilt in late August weather are lovely in the new combinations of colors: primroses on a pale-pink ground, lilacs with white, orange-blossoms or small red roses on gray make exquisite little frocks for Midsummer. The wide band which so many of these little frocks adopt highlights the distinctive effect of the dresses and make their small waists as smart as for tiny French cousins in the Bois. Cotton crepes, cotton voile or crepe de Chine are very often used either in one color or a plain fabric with one printed in small designs.

To Have Beautiful Hair Shampoo this way

Women who command attention and admiration have pretty hair. Hair with softness, and silken sheen.

Such hair is within the power of every girl and woman to possess.

We are offering you a test of the shampoo which specialists on hair treatment recommend. It will bring out new beauty in your hair.

Without perfect cleanliness of hair and scalp, no hair can be really lovely. Do not use shampoo which leaves the hair dry and brittle, dull or lifeless.

Shampoo containing olive oil is best, authoritatively say.

It cleanses each hair, clear down to the tiny scalp pores.

Yet mildly, so that your hair is left soft,

AMAZING TALE OF PIRACY IS TOLD

Story Involves Theft of Million Dollars Worth of Liquor and $3000 Cash

Halifax, N. S., July 14.—An amazing tale of piracy among the liquor ships on the New Jersey coast ("Run Row") involving the theft of a million dollars worth of liquor and three thousand dollars in cash has been related by members of the crew of the French steamer Mulhouse which arrived here Tuesday. It is understood there will be an investigation locally, held by the French consul-general, to decide whether or not the tale is bon-fide. According to the story, the Mulhouse was boarded some days ago by thirty "high-jackers," who drove the crew below decks and, after manaculating the officers, kept them prisoners for ten days while they unloaded thirty-five thousand cases of liquor into small boats. The story was told that the prisoners were half-starved and that those of them that agreed to help in discharging the cargo for which they would be paid by the pirates, were afterwards robbed of their earnings at the point of guns.

Another rum-runner in port reported that in the attack on the Mulhouse, one of the pirates was shot and killed. Those on the latter steamer, however, refused to give any details.

FIFTY HOUSES BADLY DAMAGED BY HAIL

St. John, Nfld., July 14.—Fifty or more houses were badly damaged, their roofs being stripped and windows smashed, when the worst hail storm ever recorded in this part of the country struck Flat Islands, Placentia, yesterday. A public subscription list has been opened for the benefit of those whose homes were destroyed or damaged.

The Rev. E. J. Shaw after three years' ministry has resigned his pastorate of St. John's Presbyterian Church, and has accepted a call to a church in the State of Pennsylvania, U. S.

Miss E. Margaret Coleman, R. N., of Springfield, Mass., U. S. arrived in town on Monday to spend a two months vacation at the rectory as the guest of her parents, the Rev. R. J. and Mrs. Coleman.

Miss Mary Methot, Toronto, who has been visiting in Dalhousie, the guest of Mrs. Lous & LeBlanc and Mrs. Peter Methot, attended the wedding of her brother, Mr. Methot, an employee of the C. N. R. at Moncton and left here on Sunday evening with the bride couple for Ottawa, the former home of the bride. Miss Methot will continue to Toronto, where she holds a splendid position. The bride was formerly Olga Amond of Ottawa.

A sister resides in Moncton, N. B.

The Dalhousie friends of the late Miss Melvin, of Bathurst, were shocked when they read the news of her sudden death, which occurred in Boston a few days ago. Miss Melvin was very highly thought of and when she visited Dalhousie, she made many friends. A sister is the wife of Mr. J. P. McTavish, formerly of Campbellton, Miss Bourgeois Melvin carried on a Millinery business at Bathurst known as the Elite Millinery, of which she was the proprietress. On the advice of her physician, she went to Boston for treatment. There she evidently sank rapidly and passed away. She is survived by three brothers and six sisters, who have the sympathy of very many friends in their sad sudden bereavement.

BIG BAZAAR ON CHURCH

Grounds to Open at NOON ON SUNDAY NEXT

Entertainment in Aid of New Roman Catholic Church—Strong Committee Appointed to Organize—Good Programmes of Amusements Will be Provided For—A Brief Sketch of R. C. Church in Dalhousie.

A little over sixty years ago the first R. C. Church was built in Dalhousie. Some of the shrewd citizens still remember the monster Picnic that was held at the Light House Point to raise funds for the new church. People attended from all parts of the country and a large amount of money was realized. The heads of the families of that day, who were interested in the building of the first R. C. Church, were the late Daniel and Edward Delaney, John McAliskill, Joseph H. LaBille, Michael Melloy, Wm. Donovan, Luke Walsh, James, Edward and John Harquail, Severin Johnson, John Cimon, Charles Gauthier, Charles Allain, Pasteur Arseneault, Louis Arseneault, John Carroll, Pat. and Thomas McDowen, Thos. Dundon, Wm. Lawlor, Eugene Frelatte, Wm. Murphy, Louis Silas and the La-Violette, Letourneau and Harquail families. Mrs. John Phillips, Patrick Hayes and others.

The late Father O'Leary was in charge and with a small congregation made up of the town and country Catholics, a small church was erected. Previous to that R. Catholics of Dalhousie went to the Upper Charlo Church, then known as Eel River, where the first R. C. Church in the Co. of Restigouche was erected.

About 1884 a larger church was built in Dalhousie, when the late Rev. Father McDonald was first in charge of the parish. It is now found to be too small, there being over 150 families without pews, obliging the Rev. J. A. Hart, P. P. to conduct two morning services every Sunday. So plans are now being laid for the building of the third R. C. Church in Dalhousie.

Strong Committees have been appointed and the organization for a very successful Bazaar is about complete.

The opening will take place quietly on Sunday, July 20th, at noon, when Dinner will be served in the spacious Convent Hall. In the afternoon appropriate music will be enjoyed on the Church grounds, as a Campbellton Band of twenty instruments will furnish the music on Sunday afternoon, and evening and on Monday and Tuesday afternoon and evenings. Supper will be served on Sunday evening in the Convent Hall.

On Monday and Tuesday afternoons Refreshments to suit all. Games and Amusements to entertain hundreds of people on the grounds. The ladies of the parish, who have been conducting a sewing circle during recent months, have a large stock of useful and fancy articles, and their Booth promises to surpass anything of the kind ever witnessed in Dalhousie. The chance table, where every dime wins a prize, will contain a great variety of nice articles that have been received from Winnipeg, Moncton and other cities, in addition to those furnished by our generous citizens.

Frank Allard of Carleton Place, Ont., has kindly offered to bring people from the Quebec side to Dalhousie, to attend the Bazaar, and by all accounts there will be a large attendance from the neighbouring parishes.

WEDDINGS

Salter-Gagnon.
A quiet but pretty wedding took place in Dalhousie, N. B., on Wednesday July 4, when Miss Blanche Gagnon, teacher and daughter of Mrs. James J. Arseneault of Durville, Dalhousie Parish, was united in marriage with Mr. Thomas Salter of Bathurst, N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Hart, P. P. of the Sacred Heart Convent Chapel of Dalhousie. The groom was supported by Mr. Dick Kennah of Bathurst and the bride by Mr. James J. Arseneault. After the ceremony a dainty breakfast was served at the home of the bride after which the happy couple and friends motored to Campbellton. They returned to Dalhousie and Mr. Salter left for Chatham, N. B., and other N. B. towns on their wedding tour.

The bride who was born in Chicoutimi, P. Q., has been residing in Dalhousie parish for sometime and is very much esteemed and will have the best wishes of many friends. The groom is the expert employee of the Bathurst Co. Ltd., and is very popular. They will reside in Bathurst.

The Great Impersonation

A stirring story of love and adventure. By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Published by arrangement with The British & Colonial Press Limited.

His companion struck the table with his fist and his eyes flashed fire. "Men you are young!" he exclaimed. "You are like the rest of us. You carry your life in your hands. Don't carry it away. There's nothing which scares a man more than death. You have a past which may sometimes bring the ghost around you, but remember the sin was not wholly yours, and there is an atonement which is measured in terms of your common sense. You have a future. I have said enough about this. Greatness and glory go hand in hand. There! You see, I was a philosopher before I became a professor of propaganda. Good! The smile. That is something gained, at any rate. Now we will take a taxi to Holborn and I will show you something really humorous."

At the entrance to the town hall, the two men, at Seaman's instigation, parted, making their way inside by different doors. Dominey found a retired seat under a balcony, where he was unlikely to be recognized. From the platform, Seaman, on the other hand, took up a more prominent position at the end of one of the front rows of benches. The meeting was by no means overcrowded, nevertheless, the over-anything. There were rows of empty benches, a good many young couples who seemed to have come in for shelter from the inclement night, a few sturdy, respectable-looking tradesmen who had come because it seemed to be the respectable thing to do, a few genuinely interested, and here and there, although they were decidedly in the minority, a sprinkling of enthusiasts. On the platform the Duke, with a few dignitaries on either side of him; a distinguished soldier, a Member of Parliament, a half-dozen or so of non-descript residents from the neighbourhood; and Captain Bartram. The meeting was on the point of commencing as Dominey settled down in his chair.

First of all the Duke rose, and in a hackneyed but earnest sentence introduced his young friend Captain Bartram. The latter, who sprang at once into the middle of this subject, was nervous and more than a little bitter. He explained that he had resigned his commission and was therefore free to speak his mind. He spoke of enormous military preparations in Germany and a general air of tense expectation. Against whom were these preparations? Without an earthly doubt against Germany's greatest rival, whose millions of young men, even in this hour of danger, preferred playing or watching football or cricket on Saturday afternoons to realising their duty. The conclusion of an ill-considered speech was punctuated by the furtive entrance into the hall of a small boy selling evening newspapers, and there was a temporary diversion from any interest in the proceedings on the part of the younger portion of the audience, whilst they satisfied themselves as to the result of various Cup Ties. The speaker of Parliament then descended to them in a whirlwind of oratory and in his best House of Commons style. He spoke of black clouds and of the cold breeze that went before the coming thunder-storm. He pointed to the collapse of every great nation throughout history who had neglected the arts of self-defence. He appealed to the youth of the nation to prepare themselves to guard their women-kind, their homes, the sacred soil of their country, and at that point was interrupted by a drowsy member of the audience with stentorian lungs who seemed just at that moment to have waked up.

"What about the Navy, guv'nor?"

The orator swept upon the inter-upter in his famous platform manner. The Navy, he declared, could be trusted at all times to do its duty, but it could not fight on sea and land. Would the young man who had just interrupted him, and enrol his name for drill and national service that evening?—and so on. The distinguished soldier, who was suffering from a cold, fired off a few husky sentences only, to the tune of rounds of applause. The proceedings were wound up by the Duke, who was obviously, with the exception of the distinguished soldier, much more in earnest than any of them, and secured upon the whole a respectful attention. He brought in a few historical allusions, pleaded for a greater spirit of earnestness and citizenship amongst the men of the country, appealed even to the women to develop their sense of responsibility and sat down amidst a little burst of quite enthusiastic applause.—The vote of thanks to the chairman was on the point of being proposed when Mr. Seaman, standing up in his place, appealed to the chairman for permission to say a few words. The Duke who had had some experience with Mr. Seaman before, looked at him severely, but the smile with which Mr. Seaman looked around upon the audience was so good-natured and attractive, that he had no alternative but to assent. Seaman scrambled up the steps on the platform, coughed apologetically, bowed to the Duke, and took possession of the meeting. After a word or two of compliment to the chairman, he made his confession. He was a German citizen—he was indeed one of that bloodthirsty race. (Some laughter.) He was also, and it was his excuse for standing there, the founder and secretary of a league, doubtless well known to them, a league for promoting more friendly relations between the business men of Germany and England. Some of the remarks which he had heard that evening had pained him deeply. Business often took him to Germany, and as a German he would be doing less than his duty if he did not stand up there and tell them that the average German loved the Englishmen like a brother, that the object of his life was to come into greater kinship with him, that Germany, even at that moment, was standing with hands outstretched to her relatives across the North Sea, begging for a deeper sympathy, begging for a larger understanding. (Applause form.) And as to the military preparations of which they heard so much (with a severe glance at Captain Bartram), let them glance for one moment at the frontiers of Germany, let them realise that eastwards Germany was being continually pressed by an ancient and historic foe of enormous strength. He would not waste their time telling them of the political difficulties which Germany had had to face during the last generation. He would simply tell them this great truth,—the foe for whom Germany was obliged to make these great military preparations was Russia, and at Russia's instigation.—In his humble way he was striving for the betterment of relations between the dear beloved country of his birth and the equally beloved country of his adoption. Such meetings as these, instituted, as it seemed to him, for the propagation of unfair and unjustified suspicion, were one of the greatest difficulties in his way. He could not for a moment doubt that these gentlemen upon the platform were patriots, both to themselves and their country, if they abandoned their present prejudiced and harmful campaign and became patrons of his Society.

Seaman's little bow to the chairman was good-natured, tolerant, a little wistful. The Duke's few words, prefaced by an indignant protest against the intrusion of a German propagandist into an English patriotic meeting did nothing to undo the effect produced by his undesired stranger. When the meeting broke up, it was doubtful whether a single adherent had been gained to the cause of National Service. The Duke went home full of wrath, and Seaman chuckled with genuine merriment as he stepped into the taxi which Dominey had secured, at the corner of the street.

"I promised you entertainment," he observed. "Confess that I have kept my word."

Dominey smiled enigmatically. "You certainly succeeded in making fools of a number of respectable and meaning men."

"The miracle of it extends further," Seaman agreed. "To-night, in its small way, is a supreme example of the transcendental follies of democracy. England is being slowly choked and strangled with too much liberty. She is like a child being over-fed with jam. Imagine, in our dear country, an THE GREAT IMPERSON. NO 3 Englishman being allowed to mount the platform and spout, undisturbed, English propaganda in deadly opposition to German interests. The so-called liberty of the Englishman is like the cuckoo in his political nest. Countries must be governed. They cannot govern themselves. The time of war will prove all that."

"Yet in any great crisis of a Nation's history," Dominey queried, "surely there is safety in a multitude of counsellors?"

"In Germany as in England. The trouble for this country is that they would be all expressed publicly and in the press, each view would have its adherents, and the Government be left with no choice. In Germany, the

WHEN USING WILSON'S FLY PADS

There is only one way to kill all the Flies

This is it—Darken the room as much as possible, close the windows, raise one of the blinds where the sun shines in, about eight inches, place as many Wilson's Fly Pads as possible on the window ledge where the light is strong, leave the room closed for two or three hours, then sweep up the flies and burn them. See illustration below.

Put the plates away out of the reach of children until required in another room.

So you are waking up from the lethargy of Africa, my friend!" he exclaimed. "You are beginning to think. As you ask me, so shall I answer. The Kaiser is a vain, bombastic dreamer, the greatest egotist who ever lived, with a diseased personality, a ceaseless craving for the limelight. But he has also the genius for government. I mean this: he is a splendid medium for the expression of the brain power of his counsellors. Their words will pass through his personality, and he will believe them his. What is more, they will sound like his. He will see himself the knight in shining armour. All Europe will bow down before this self-imagined Caesar, and no one except we who are behind will realise the axe's head. There is no one else in this world whom I have ever met so well fitted to lead our great nation on the destiny she deserves.—And now, my friend, to-morrow, if you like

Trail Riders Hold First Pow-wow

PLENTY OF GRASSES AND PINE TREES ON LAND AT YAC VALLEY CAMP

July of this year witnesses the first annual Pow-wow of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies in Yoho Valley, the wonder valley of Canada's mountain playground where, in addition to the regular accommodation at Yoho Bungalow Camp, a camp of tents is being put up with capacity for one hundred guests. Last year a group of outdoor lovers made an initial trail ride and found it so fascinating that they decided to form an organization to foster riding in these mountains. Anyone who has established a record for riding in the Canadian Rockies of fifty miles or more, is eligible for membership, irrespective of race, creed, sex, age or color. So far as the Trail Riders' Pow-wow is concerned, all that is necessary is that intending members should ride in on horseback.

Dr. Charles Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D.C., is honorary president of the new order, and John Murray Gibson, of Montreal, is the honorary secretary. Among the members of the organizing committee are such prominent individuals as H. B. Clow, president of Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago; Reginald Townsend, editor of "Country Life," Garden City, N.Y.; Captain A. H. McCarthy, U.S.N., of New Jersey; and Wilmer, B.C., a celebrated mountain climber, and Col. W. W. Foster, of Vancouver. The underlying spirit of the order is a reverence for the majesty and beauty of nature. Its aims are to encourage travel on horseback in the Canadian Rockies; to foster the maintenance and improvement of old trails and the construction of new trails; to advocate and practice consideration for horses and to promote the breeding of saddle horses suitable for high altitudes; to foster good fellowship among those who visit and live in these glorious mountains; to encourage the love of outdoor life, the study and conservation of birds, wild animals and alpine flowers; to protect the forests against fire; to assist in every possible way to ensure complete preservation of the National Parks of Canada for the use and enjoyment of the public; to create an interest in Indian customs, costumes and traditions; to encourage the preservation of historical sites as related to the fur trade and early explorers and to co-operate with other organizations with similar aims.

Last year the Banff-Windermere Motor Road was made available to tourists and eight bungalow camps were built in as many beautiful locations among the Canadian Rockies. Some of them can be reached by automobile, others by trail riding. The new Order will prepare and circulate maps, descriptions and illustrations of existing trails and the country to which they give access, thus putting helpful information within reach of a public that has long been waiting for just such a delightful program as that made possible by the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies.
