Roting in the North of France.

PARIS, May 2.—Serious trouble has occurred at Tourcoing an extensive manufacturing town in the Department of North. The hands employed in 26 mills struck this morning and great crowds of men gathered on the streets to discuss their grievances. The crowd was augmented by a body of 5,000 strikers from Roubaix, another manufacturing town a short distance from Tourcoing, who marched in a mass into the latter place. Ugly feeling culminated in serious rioting, which was in progress at some. Military re-enforcements have been summoned.

VIENNA, May 2.—At Prossnitz a number of workmen had been put in prison, and when their fellow-workmen gathered on the streets a plot was hatched for their liberation. The result was that 4,000 men made a desperate attack upon the prison. The authorities, however, had provided a strong guard for the prison, and the rioters were repulsed and routed. At Trieste, Pols and Cracow there was only slight cessation of repulsed and routed. At Trieste, Pois and Cracow there was only slight cessation of work, and everything is quiet. The day passed without disturbances in Vienna. Over 60 workmen's meetings were held, at all of which resolutions were adopted in favor of an eight hour day.

The Senate Banking and Commerce Committee threw out the Combines Bill this morning after a long discussion. Telegrams were read from the Retail Grocers' Association, Montreal and Sherbrooke, against the bill. A large deputation of farmers from Western Ontario appeared before the committee in favor of the bill. The action of the committee this morning effectually shelves the measure for another year.

The Senate had an exciting struggle with the Northwest Territories Amendment Act. The bill was up for the third reading, and Senator Bellerose moved the amendment, of which he had given notice, to maintain the Qual language system in the Northwest intact. Senator Abbott, the leader of the House, moved an amendment to the amendment, declaring that the House of Commons having agreed upon a change, it was not wise to renew an agitation fraught with danger. Senator Bellerose and six others voting against it. Senator Bellerose "lay low" while the amendment to his amendment was being voted on, but when it was all over he raised the point that the motion which had been carried, not having been put in proper technical form, the bill had been voted down and when it was all over he raised the point that the motion which had been carried, not having been put in proper technical form, the bill had been voted down and was now dead. This created a wrangle, which continued until the time for recess arrived. The Speaker looked up his authorities during recess, and when the House resumed he solemnly decided that even if Senator Bellerose was formally right the bill could be reinstated on the order paper. The bill was then read the third time and ordered to be sent to the Commons, and the Upper House adjourned. The Committee on Agriculture and Colonization met and received the report of Gen. Lauric's sub-committee to inquire into the United British Women's Emigration Society and its work. This society is made up of prominent ladies in Britain, and has for its object the promotion of emigration to Canada. The suggestion of the society is that they advance funds to intending emigrants and the Canadian Government act as intermediary in receiving Mr. Healy (interrupting)—Send Mrs. Besant there.

The Speaker called Mr. Healy to order. Mr. Balfour said the Parnellites had refrained from touching the evils of the subdivision of land in the west and from urging consolidation or emigration of those who could not earn a living at home. Their view was that families ought to remain no matter whether they could earn a living or not. A more pernicious doctrine was never heard. The Government dealt with the difficulty of congestion in good faith, hoping its plans would stimulate industries and improve agriculture. He believed the time would come when a normal condition of Ireland would justify handing it over to county councils with power to say whether great national projects should be carried into effect. He did not believe the bill would tend to drive out the landlords. By diminishing social friction the landlords would be induced to live more frequently in Ireland. He did not believe the measure would endanger the British Exchequer. Taken as a whole, the bill was a great boon to Ireland, such as she never could get except from the party now in power. If the Opposition would aid in the great work which the Government, without party purposes, has taken in hand. (Cheers.)

Mr. Sexton (Nationalist) said the bill was a landlord measure. It was designed to tion to Canada. The suggestion of the society is that they advance funds to intending emigrants and the Canadian Government act as intermediary in receiving and handling over the money received from the parties to repay the loan, but without assuming responsibility. The sub-committee reported favorably upon the scheme. Circulars are to be sent to municipalities and responsible parties asking for opinions on the subject, and also for a statement of the number and class of laborers required in their respective districts. There are indications that the Government intends to go extensively into the business of increasing the immigration.

The Privileges and Election Committee, which has the Rykert investigation in charge, will meet again to day to further

(Cheers.)
Mr. Sexton (Nationalist) said the bill was a landlord measure. It was designed to enable them to get rid of practically unsaleable land. It was a betrayal of the county. He said Mr. Parnell's plan was better than the Government measure.
The bill passed the second reading by a vote of 348 to 268. The Privileges and Election Committee, which has the Rykert investigation in charge, will meet again to day to further consider the report to be made on the case. The position of the affair at the time the last meeting broke up was this: Mr. Blake had submitted a draft report, which embodied a statement of the facts as set embodied a statement of the facts as set forth in the evidence, and concluded that the charge was true, and that Mr. Rykert's the charge was true, and that Mr. Rykert's the charge was true, and that report sortupt and conduct was "discreditable, corrupt and scandalous." MCNTREAL, May 2.—Tory papers are making a good deal of noise about divisions in the ranks of Mercier's supporters, and there is some friction in some quarters, but nothing to be compared to the rumpus in the Tory camp. The Tories of the Quebec district are in full revolt against Mr. Taillon's leadership to such an extent that the work of Conservative organization in that section is paralyzed. One of the results is the retirement of T. C. Casgrain from Quebec county. He, it is said, declines to follow so disastrous a leader as Taillon.

Conneil, for a joke, jumped into a livery wagon, whose driver had just gone inside a house in front of which the rig was stationed, and immediately the horse dashed off at a furious pace, Conneil having no command over it at all. At length it overturned by coming into collision with a telegraph pole, and Conneil was shot out against a brick wall, the blow knocking him senseless. Montreal, May 2.—In the Court of Review Judge Gill rendered an important judgment in the case of F. D. May against Andrew Cochrane. The defendant's wife had done business with the plaintiff and owed him a considerable amount. He sued the husband for it and he pleaded that she did husiness on her own account and she did business on her own account and that he had nothing whatever to do with it: that he had nothing whatever to do with it; moreover that there was no community of property between them, they having been married in the United States, where the Canadian law as to marriage contracts were not in force. The Judge said that "in case of a marriage in the United States, the parties moving afterwards to Canada and doing business here, a community of property must be presumed according to our laws."

A Toronto Man Held for Fatally Beating His Wife.

Toronto, May 2.—An inquest was held yesterday afternoon in the case of Mrs. Caroline Oakman, the woman who died at the hospital early yesterday morning from the effects of a beating, supposed to have been given by her husband, Richard Oakman. It transpired that her husband had stated to the policeman who arrested him, when told his wife was dead: "It's a good job. I wish the old — had died 40 years ago," and that he had hit her with a bed slat in self-defense. It appears that the deceased was suffering from pneumonia, and violence offered a woman in her condition would have caused or accelerated her death. Nellie Weir, who was in the house, it is believed, when the assault took place, gave evidence to the effect that she did not see Richard Oakman hit the deceased with a bed slat, notwithstanding the fact that she stated to the constable who arrested her that he had hit his wife with a bed slat, and that she would not tell a lie to save him. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that Richard Oakman, by inflicting injuries on deceased while she was in a weakened condition, caused her death, and that Nellie Weir was an accessory to the fact. OWEN SOUND, May 2.—On Wednesday evening a very sad accident occurred which resulted in a lady named Miss Isabel Scott losing her life. The lady lived in the townresulted in a lady hamed miss Isade South losing her life. The lady lived in the town-ship of Keppell and was returning home in a wagon driven by a farmer named Ritchie, when from some unknown cause she fell backward and got entangled between the wagon box and the wheel. In this position she was dragged unnoticed some hundred yards. When extracted from the position life was extinct.

It was announced on Sunday last that the Rev. A. J. McKeon, S. T. L., will lecture at St. Marys Church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. His subject of dis-course is "Alcohol, Its Use and Abuse."

Have you catarrh, cold in head or any Have you catarrh, cold in head or any catarrhal complaint? Are you tired of using patent nostrums that at the best only give temporary relief? Do you want to be cured? If so write the U. S. Formula Company, 241 Fifth avenue, New York, who on receipt of 50 cents will send you a formula which is an absolute cure for the worst case of catarrh. Mention the name of your local druggist and we will forward him full instructions how to prepare it for you at a small cost. This receipt is worth hundreds of dollars in any family for the cure of cold in head, nasal and bronchial catarrh, influenza, snuffles with children, croup, etc. Remit by registered letter of postoffice order.

Bill Discussed-Loaning to Farmers.

OTTAWA, Thursday, May 1.

A number of members of the House of Commons have already paired and gone home, but the benches in the House were as well occupied as usual to-day, and the debate on the different subjects arising was as strong as ever. The day was devoted to clearing up a lot of Government business. First, Sir John Thompson explained the amendments made by the Senate in the long bill relating to bills of exchange, checks and premissory notes, and proposed that the House accept them. The amendments made by the Senate in the long bill relating to bills of exchange, checks and promissory notes, and proposed that the House accept them. The amendments made by the Senate in the long bill relating to bills of exchange, checks and promissory notes, and proposed that the House accept them. The amendments are numerous, few of them seemed to be of a very important character, and at Mr. Edgar's suggestion it was decided that they should be published in the Votes and Proceedings for the information of members.

The bill respecting interest, which among other provisions exempts mortgages made by railway and similar companies from the five years' limitation, was read a second time.

The Gas Inspection Bill amended in accordance with the agreement arrived at between Hon. John Costigan and the gas companies' deputation, was read a second time.

The House then took up the order known as "concurrence," the formal indorsement of the House, with the Speaker in the chair, of the votes passed in Committee of Supply. It is unusual for concurrence to be taken at this period of the session, as it is generally about the last thing done. The fact that it comes up now is the best indication in the world that the Government is without any bills or resolutions to go on with. The Banking Bill has been delayed because the terms of a number of proposed amendments have not been agreed unon.

At 9 o'clock in the evening concurrence was dropped and the Banking Bill taken up at section 70. The clause empowering a bank to lend money to wholesale manufacturers or producers of any goods, the security taken being given the same rank as a warehouse receipt, was discussed by Mr. Barron in the interests of the farmers, who, he maintained, should be included in the term "producers," and if they were not he would move an amendment, so as to make it clear that farmers were included and it clear that farmers were included and might obtain loans on the security of their

A Philadelphia dispatch says: School Teacher Flora Marshall's dog, which has so divided the residents of Waterford, Camden county, by biting Miss Abbie Rice, a popular young woman of the town, several days ago, is forward again as a candidate for public attention. Four men with guns followed Miss Marshall in an effort to get a shot at her big shaggy friend, "Nep," which she was taking across the border of Winslow township to get him out of harm. Miss Marshall closed her school at Bates' Mill yesterday and came up to Camden, where she held a consultation with Lawyer Martin V. Beigen.

A trick which was amusing for the com A trick which was amusing for the completeness of the deception was recently carried out at a masked party. The dancing was kept up until midnight, and supper was postponed until that hour in order to delay the unmasking. Just as the guests had reached the supper-room, a couple of policemen presented themselves at the door, and insisted upon being allowed to go into the house. Finding the host in the midst of the guests, and the fun of the surprises of the unmasking just at its hight, the policemen demanded of him the names of his guests.

Treublesome Milk Law.

The Dairy Commissioner of New York State has apparently aroused a hornet's nest by prosecuting a Jefferson county farmer for selling milk that did not come up to the legal standard. The farmer was not unknown, but had long borne a reputation for the strictest integrity. Naturally the prosecution was commonly regarded as in the nature of persecution. Now a petition, numerously signed by farmers of Jefferson county and indorsed by the County Grange, has passed resolutions repudiating the Dairy Commission in all its parts, and asking that the Legislature discontinue the appropriation of $50,000 per year, which he uses in giving instruction to farmers in dairy matters.

Montreal and Maritime Provinces—A. McKim

London Friday, May, 2.

This year the Ontario Government will spend $618,000 on education, but it will not take a cent of taxes from the people.

"SHOULD Mr. Mowat be sustained?" asks the St. Thomas Times, and all independent electors who value good government reply "Yes."

A WRITER in Blackwood's Magazine lectures girls who affect mannish practices, telling them that man wishes a contrast to himself and that the dainty, girlish girl is the one most in demand. He is right.

For Mr. Macklin, the Opposition candidate in North Middlesex, there is a fast growing respect among Grits and Conservatives alike, and a disposition to give him a fair trial. That gentleman, with his fine abilities as a speaker, his known honesty of purpose, clear knowledge of the country's needs and bold espousal of the pla form of Mr. W. R. Meredith, is the rising hope of the people there.—[London Free Press.

Very fine writing that, but it applies to a dead duck all the same. Before it was written, Mr. Macklin had discovered that he was not the man for Galway, and had folded his tent like the Arabs, and had gently stolen away. The electors can at least admire his discretion. When he knew he was not wanted, and that no Tory could be elected in the North Riding, he got out.

"No Indians, Grits, or Equal Righters admitted." Such was the legend on the placard exhibited at the Conservative Convention in St. Stephen's Ward, Toronto, the

What a hypocritical set these Tory bosse are! They think they have a majority in that district without the aid of "Grits" or "Equal Righters." But in every constituency where they do not think they have a majority they are ready to lie or resort to any corrupt expedient to secure the votes of hose who have hitherto opposed them.

Dr. Caven's denunciation of these men is

CHICKEN'S NEVER TO BE HATCHED

Mr. H. E. Clarke, of Toronto, who poses as a coming Tory Minister, is already trying to discount defeat by figuring out that if the Liberals had not obtained so many votes in some constituencies, and the Tories had polled more votes in other constituencies at last election, Mr. Meredith would have been in power to-day.

What an important word that "if" is. If the Tory leaders who tried, by the most shame-faced offers of large sums of money to Oliver Mowat has the confidence of thing to forfeit.

French, M.P.P., and Mr. Wigle, of South Essex, all trusted agents of Mr. Meredith in his present attempt to Chapleau, Mr. Langevin, Mr. Caron, Charles Rykert and other lights of the Tory party. The accumulation of a campaign fund, to be used in the coming elections, is believed to be a topic of earnest conversa-tion among the coterie. Rykert is pretty stingy, or he could fairly be called upon to give up a share of the $74,000 which he made out of the timber limits deal, the exposure of which has given the Tory leaders no end of trouble. He can-not be expected to "divvy" up while there is no reasonable chance that Mr. Meredith will be able to do as much for him in On-tario as the Ottawa Tory leaders did in the LIQUOR LICENSES.

The result of the labors of the License Commissioners of London city—Messrs. George M. Reid, John McClary and D. Regan—were published yesterday. The licenses granted numbered 67 in all, embracing 54 taverns, 12 shops and 1 wholesale. As London has now a population of considerably over 30,000, the licenses issued measure of all pine timber cut. The sales are fewer than authorized by law, in the made by the Dominion Government in the absence of a municipal bylaw limiting the number. But even when the aldermen fail to take action for the guidance of the com-missioners, the latter endeavor to keep in touch with public opinion on the subject of restriction, while doing everycommissioners have refused licenses to all licenses last year. It is interesting to contrast the change which has taken place since the administra-tion of the law was taken out of the hands of the ward politicians and placed under the control of independent citizens. In 1875, the year prior to the passage of the Crooks Act, the number of licenses issued in the then city of 16,000 or 17,000 inhabitants, was 105, of which 65 were for taverns and 40 for shops, or nearly twice the number now provided for a population of double the size.

TIMBER LIMITS POLICIES. Under the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act the Minister of the Interior may set apart any tract of timbered territory and divide it into berths not exceeding 50 square miles each, to be reserved from sale; and under regulations respecting ground rents. royalties and other dues, leases of right to cut timber on such berths may be issued under the following terms:

1. The Governor-in-Council may order that the leases be offered at public auction at an upset bonus fixed in the order and awarded to the person bidding the highest bonus therefor, such bonus to be paid in eash at the time of sale.

2. The Governor-in-Council may also authorize the issuing of a lease of right to cut timber to any person who is the sole applicant for any berth, the bonus to be fixed by the order authorizing the lease and to be

3. When one or more persons apply for a lease, the Governor-in-Council may authorize the Minister to invite tender from the applicants or the public, and the person tendering the highest cash bonus will be entitled to the lease.

4. Leases of berths are issued for a term not exceeding one year, without claim for renewal unless provided by the order-incouncil authorizing the lease or by the con ditions of sale or tender.

5. The holder of a lease is required to erect one or more sawmills upon his berth of a minimum cutting capacity, and in addition to the bonus he is required to pay a yearly ground rent of $5 per square mile and a royalty of 5 per cent. on the sales of the products.

In the Province of Ontario the Comm sioner of Crown Lands disposes of timber limits subject to the following regulations, adopted for the most part twenty years ago and only modified by the increase of rates and dues as circumstances have appeared to justify:

1. If the timber is in unserveyed territory, the Commissioner causes the section of country where it is intended to allot the berths, to be run out into townships, each of which shall constitute a timber berth; but the Commissioner may cause a town ship to be subdivided into as many berths

Liberal M. P. P.s, to corruptly purchase a majority in 1883, had then succeeded, Mr. Meredith would have been Premier seven for sale by publication at the upset price years ago. But then the "if" was a failure, fixed by the valuation, at such time and Liberal M. P. P.s were too honest to place and subject to such conditions as the and each berth goes to the highest bidder

3. All timber licenses expire on the 30th office-seekers remained in the cold. They of April after their issue, and holders who comply with all existing regulations are entitled to have their licenses renewed on application to the Commissioner or his local agent made before the 1st of July following the expiration of the last preceding license. But no renewal is granted until all arrears for ground rent, dues, etc., have been first paid.

4. All timber limits are subject (in addition to the bonus paid for at the time of sale) to an annual ground rent of $3 per square mile, payable in advance before the issuing of any original lease or its renewal; and all timber cut under license is subject get office in Ontario by false pretenses, have been in Ottawa for several days in daily conference with Sir John Macdonald, Mr. rate of $1 per 1,000 feet board measure.

The Dominion Act permits berths to be disposed of in three ways, viz., (1) at public auction to the highest bidder, at an upset bonus fixed in the order of sale; (2) to any person who is the sole applicant for the lease, at a bonus fixed by the order authorizing the lease to the party; (3) by tenders received from two or more applicants or the public, the person tendering the highest bonus to be entitled to the lease. The Ontario regula-No provision is made for private sale to a Northwest.

There is still the central Tory bribery applicant, and during the past twenty wars there is not an instance of any berth, large or small, having been obtained except public treasury went into the pockets of Rykert and Adams—... sh Rykert's wife being $74,000.

The last sale of timber limits in Ontario same year did not realize $1 for bonuse -nothing but the ground rent of $5 pe square mile and a royalty of 5 per cent. or sales of products.

During the seventeen years of Mr Mowat's administration 3,276 square miles thing in their power to prevent an excuse for illicit traffic in liquors. Therefore, with an increase of population, the bonus the large sum of $2,460,000, or an average of $751 per square mile; and in new applicants, and besides have declined addition the holders of licenses have to grant renewals to five dealers holding paid an annual rent for the land and dues at a fixed rate for every stick of timber cut. The Province of Quebec has in the same period of seventeen years sold 6,235 square miles, for which it has realized by way of bonus the sum of $398,722, or an average of about $62 per square mile.

These statements of facts speak volume for the Ontario administration of our tim ber resources, and the contrast with Tory administration at Ottawa will convinc every Ontario citizen of the importance of keeping the management of this valuable asset in safe and honest hands. Mr. Meredith and the Local Opposition are of course not satisfied with the timber policy of Mr. Mowat and his colleagues, and they have been attacking it session after session. what they would give in place of that policy we may know by seeing what their friends have done at Ottawa. They would utilize our timber forests for the personal benefit of such partisans in their ranks as Rykert of Lincoln and Robillard of Ot-

The average of the receipts for those seventeen years has been about $773,000 a year, and the table shows that though the evenue fluctuates it does not steadily decrease. The importance of the department from this point of view demands that it should continue to be administered with the same business capacity, and the same freedom from favoritism and corruption in the future as in the past, and under the present Commissioner, it undoubtedly will e so administered.

Horrors of Nightmare.
[Kingston Whig.]
The Hamilton Spectator has almost a column of crimes of which the Mowat Administration is guilty according to the editor's opinion. They were evidently discovered during the editor's night sweats.

A Proud Portion.

[Paris Star-Transcript.]

Ontario stands to-day without a peer in all the world in the condition of her exchequer, in the excellence of her educational and charitable institutions, and in the perfection of her legislative enactments. People do not generally reward their faithful servants by discharging them after a term of years. On the contrary, they heap additional honors upon them. So will Ontario do to Hon. O. Mowat and his Cabinet.

Qatholic Record.]
We need scarcely say that Catholics in this Province, as well as in every other, seek no special privilege of any kind. They want to be treated exactly as are all other classes of the community—they desire to live at peace with their Protestant neighbors, transacting business and holding social intercourse with them in the good old way which prevailed before the poison of bigotry was imported from over the ocean, and its hateful roots transplanted in the new country—they desire to deal out measure for measure of justice, liberality, friendship, charity and all manner of Christian kindliness—and they long for the day—as every good man should—when we can all meet as the citizens of a free and happy and united country, having buried once and forever all cause of divisa and enuity. and united country, having buried once and forever all cause of division and enmity moving onward shoulder to shoulder, and vieing one with the other in the grand and blessed work of developing and beautifying and enriching this magnificent country which a beneficent Providence has placed in our kervision.

chances on the bad grounds and went out to the new International Park in hopes of seeing a game between the Tecumsehs and Bisons yesterday, but the fates were against them. The grounds were too wet, and may not be in condition to-day, although every effort will be made by the management to get them in shape.

HAMILTON, May 1.—The 1,000 people who braved the cold yesterday were rewarded by seeing a very interesting and well-played game. Many were under the impression that the Saginaw-Bay City players were not last enough for the International League, but, judging by the game they put up, they will make the best of them hustle. Everybody is pleased with the work of the home team, and the general opinion is that it is the strongest team that Hamilton has ever had. Petty and Zell were the opposing pitchers, and both did good work, but Petty received the better support. The features of the game were Fulmer's and Powell's base running and Casey's heavy batting. He made two singles, a double and a three-bagger in five times at bat. The Hams scored three runs in their first inning. Fulmer got first on balls and stole second, Powell reached first on Sprindler's error, Fulmer going to third. Powell stole second and both men scored on Casey's single. A steal, a wild pitch and Sales' out at first sent Casey across the plate. Only one of the home team managed to reach first again until the fifth inning, when three runs were scored. After two men had been retired Fulmer again got first on balls, reached third on Powell's safe hit and cored by a daring steal to the plate. This seemed to rattle the visitors a little, for when the ball was thrown to Arundel to cut Powell of, "Tug" dropped it and Powell scored. Casey followed with a three-bagger and scored on Sales' single. A couple of errors by Weir and a sacrifice netted the Hams one run in the sixth.

The visitors got three runs in the first on a base on balls, West's single, Petty's poor throw to first and McShannic's sacrifice.

TORONTO DOWNED BY DETROIT.

TORONTO, May 2.—Toronto was defeated in the opening game of the International baseball season in this city with Detroit yesterday. The work of the home team was not by any means perfect, but the general impression made was that Toronto has the quality to make a good team. Titcomb is known as a warm day pitcher, but he was in good form yesterday, and if the support had been at all times equal to his work in the box the result would have been reversed. Bottenus and Coleman made themselves favorities on their first appearance. Ike appeared to be a trifle nervous, but he shapes up like a ball-player, and will no doubt be a good man.

As the time approached for beginning the Taylor Band played "See, the Conquering Hero Comes," and, when the music ceased, Mayor Clarke, who occupied a seat in the directors' box with Ald. Dodds, Swait, Hill and other members of the City Council, arose and delivered an opening address. The game began with Grim at the bat. He didn't have his eye on the ball at first, but he did have it on first base, and when the third strike came, the

THE MILITARY REILE LEAGUE.

To the Sporting Editor of the ADVERTHERE.

Sir.—The success of the Canadian Military Rife League is assured, as already 36 teams from the different battalions have entered and every mail brings with it fresh entries. Please publish this and state that the entries close May 7. You might ask the question: Why haven't the London Corps entered? The first match will be on May 17. W. R. PRINGLE, secretary C. M. R. A terrible occurrence has just happened at Woile, near Solluc, in Prusia. Three months ago an inhabitant of that place married a very pretty, young working woman. The other night the neighbors were awakened by a great noise and prolonged shrieks and groans coming from the room of the newly-married couple, but they went to sleep again when the noise ceased.

The next day the door of the room remained shut, and a locksmith was eventually sent for. When the door was burst open a horrible spectacle presented itself to the floor, the boiling water splashing over her face and body, scalding her person most severely.

Manure is now of so much more importance than formerly that the saving by use of stable floors with wide cracks, through with the manure leaches, is not to be compared with the resulting loss. The very best floor is one of cement, and if under a barn, where it can be protected against frost, it will last indefinitely. Many old barns have under them the leachings of years, and this, if cleared out, will pay a considerable part of the expense for putting a wall under the frame and a cement floor on the bottom.

A large audience assembled at the East End Hall last evening, the event being the open initiation of a Royal Scarlet Knight by the Mock Initiation Company, under the auspices of the Royal Scarlet Drill corps. The programme consisted of the following, Mayor Taylor acting as chairman: Songs, Misses Lillywhite, Ray and Stinson, Messrs. Crawford and Owens; recitations, Messrs. John Daykin, Mathews and James Daykin. The open initation of a Royal Scarlet Knight was a very comical farce, the audience being kept in roars of laughter throughout. Mr. G. Brown acted as the C. T. Pyramid; Mr. W. Buskard the C. J. H.; Mr. McFarlane, T. S. H.; Mr. J. Welford, boodler; W. Wates, poet: W. Gammage, watch dog of outer court; F. Shoulder, J. Smith, G. Lewis, W. Scott, P. Fitzgerald, J. Shortt, S. Quick, and Michael Jacobs acted as P. guards; D. Hardey, manipulator of gongs; F. Hardey, pianist: J. A. Mathews, candidate. The fife and drum band were also in attendance and furnished music during the evening. All present were well pleased.

A Big Blow.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2.—Yesterday afternoon a severe wind storm accompanied by heavy rain passed over this city. Buildings in all parts of the city in course of erection were badly damaged. In West Philadelphia a row of eight houses which were up to the second story were blown down. In the northeastern section of the city two men were severely injured. A great many dwellings were unroofed. In Camden, N. J., considerable damage was also done. A GREAT BIG WEDDING.

Two Giants Take Each Other for Bigger or Littler in a Cincinnati Church.

There was a big wedding at 112 West Sixth street last night—in fact one of the largest weddings that ever set society agog or brought echoes of the marriage bells from "A long while ago or not, I mean to let him know my opinion of him when I get back to Boisingham," said Edward, vicious-ly. "By Jove! it's 6:20, and in this estab-lishment we dine at the pleasant hour of half-past. Won't you come and wash your hands?"

half-past. Won't you come and wash your hands?"

Mr. Quest got a very good dinner, and, contrary to his custom, he drank the best part of a bottle of old port after it. He had an unpleasant business to face that evening, and felt as though his nerves required a bracing. About 10 o'clock he took his leave, and getting into an hansom bade the cabman to drive him to Stanley street, Pimlico, where he arrived in due course. Having dismissed his cab, he walked slowly down the street till he reached a small house with red pillars to the doorway. Here he rang the bell. The door was opened by a middle-aged woman with a cunning face and a simper. Mr. Quest knew her well. Nominally the Tiger's servant, she was really a jackal, and in return for the intelligence she lent to the chase, received her portion of the prey.

"Is Mrs. D'Aubigne at home, Ellen?" he said.

"No, sir." she answered with a simper.

"Is Mrs. D'Aubigne at home, Ellen?" he said.

"No, sir," she answered with a simper, "but she will be back from the music hall before long. She does not appear in the second part. But please come in, sir. You are quite a stranger here, and I am sure that Mrs. D'Aubigne will be very glad to see you, for she have been dreadfully pressed for money of late, poor dear. Nobody knows the trouble that I have had with those sharks of tradesmen."

By this time they were up the stairs in the drawing-room, and Ellen had turned the gas up. The room was well furnished in a certain gaudy style, which included a good deal of gilt and plate glass. Evidently, however, it had not been tidled since the Tiger had left it, for there on the table were cards thrown this way and that, amid an array of empty soda water bottles, glasses with dregs of brandy in them, and other debris, such as the ends of cigars and cigaretts, and a little copper and silver money. On the sofa, too, lay a gorgeous tea gown resplendent with pink satin, also a pair of golden embroidered slippers, not over small, and an odd gant de Suede, with such an extradinary number of buttons that it almost looked like the cast off skin of a brown smake.

"I see that your mistress has been having

Here is the true cause of Rheumatism, as given by one of the most eminent medical men of the age: "The nervous system becomes weak. This makes the blood sluggish, stagnant, and hence poisonous. Rheumatism results. It cannot be cured by treating the blood, for the blood cannot be purified except it is kept circulating, and it can only be kept circulating when the nervous system is strong. The only way to cure rheumatic troubles is to build up the nervous system, and thus keep the blood circulating, and consequently pure."

manner, but, serious as the affair was, the Doctor wasso overshadowed by the towering couple that the curious gathering almost forgot his presence, and one could scarcely keep back the feeling that it was theatrical rather than a sacred affair. The twain were evenly matched 7 feet each, and there was not a man or woman who did not appear like a pigmy in comparison. The top of Gil Robinson's head scarcely reached to the groom's waist, and when the bride bent down to receive his congratulations the reporter held his breath in anxious expectancy, fearing to see Gil crushed. The wedding ring was a gigantic affair, large enough to serve an ordinary woman for a bracelet, and the plentiful manufacture of such necessary ornaments would tax the purse capacity of an English syndicate. The bride had gone through a similar ceremony once before, having been married several years ago to a giant by the name of Parsons, by whom she had two children. In this is seen a clear explanation of the wonderful success of Paine's Celery Compound in curing cases of rheumatism that have hitherto been deemed incurable. Poor sufferers who have gone on crutches for years have been cured, and have kept in perfect health thereafter.

Mr. Frank A. Davis, City Justice of Faribault, Minn., is one of the many who are to-day living proofs of the ability of Paine's Celery Compound to cure the worst cases of rheumatism. In 1885 he wrote that he commenced using this medicine; he was in a very bad shape—nerves unstrung, one leg drawn up, kidneys imperfectly performing their functions, greatly debilitated by pain. After taking eight bottles the pain had left him, his leg was rapidly getting into natural shape and strength was returning. He said that he thought Paine's Celery Compound had saved his life.

The statement to the effect that Rev. Mr. Sawyers, of Westminster, had been called to St. James' Presbyterian Church, is denied on good authority. The matter was mentioned in an informal way to Mr. Sawyers, who told the gentlemen that he could not think of accepting a call. This gave rise to the report that he had declined a call from the congregation.

A Toronto correspondent says: "There has been a good deal of talk about a grand new hotel in Toronto. The suggestion has been made more than once that the proper new hotel in Toronto. The suggestion has been made more than once that the proper people to run such a hotel would be Messre. McGaw and Winnett. They are two of the best hotel men on the continent of America. Their three hotels—the Queen's, Toronto; the Tecumseh, London, and the Queen's Royal, Niagara-on-the-Lake—are all managed in that smooth, home-like and first-class manner which is never the result of chance, but only of skill and experience. If Toronto really wants a palatial hotel, that is the route. Let the Toronto millionaires turn in their money, and Messrs. McGaw & Winnett, their already established business, prestige and popularity, and presto! the thing is done, profitably to all concerned."

London's South End Minstrels.

On Saturday last a gang calling themselves the "London Amateur Minstrel Company," of London, Ont., were on a small scale advertised to appear in the Town Hall here on Wednesday evening last. On Wednesday atternoon the "minstrels"—about twenty of them—atrived in town, and enjoyed themselves as best they could until the time for opening the hall arrived. At the Town Hall gate they were saluted by Constable Butler with "Four dollars for rent of hall, please." Then long faces were put on, and they all went dewn into their pockets to hunt up the necessary shekels, but they looked in vain—they could not scrape up 20 cents apiece. They were accordingly refused the use of the hall. Returning to the hotel, they at once piled into the conveyance and left for the Forest City amid cheers from the small boys.—[Lucan Record.

"Kit, the Arkansas Trayeler."

"Kit, the Arkansas Traveler." Henry Chanfrau will be here on Monday evening in "Kit, the Arkansas Traveler," and the performance will be a benefit to J. L. Clarke, the well-known Londoner, who is with the company. Of the play the San Francisco Call says: "The title role sustained by Mr. Chanfrau is manly, quiet, determined and energetic at the right moment, avoiding those exaggerations which would seem almost inevitable amid such surroundings. In dialect and dress he is exact and has numberless fine touches which show the genuine artist. The support is in the main quite good. J. L. Clarke and Bassett Willard make a very good sketch of the Judge and the Major and Eugene Bertram plays the villain in a natural and effective style. Miss Carrie Rose Strong plays the dual character of mother in the prologue and child in the play with great good taste and expression. The piece was very favorably received by the audience and will, no doubt, draw good houses."

school question.

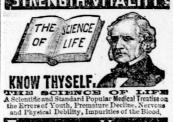

He was followed by Mr. A. D. Hardy, whose pointed and well-delivered address won the good opinion of his audience. Mr. Hardy though a young man has developed into a good platform speaker. He deait with the general policy of the Government and contrasted the management of the Crown lands in the Dominion with the policy pursued in Ontario in a telling way, and closed with a strong appeal to the electors to be true to the country's best inelectors to be true to the country's best in terests and elect a supporter of the Mowa date, then addressed the meeting at som length, taking up the ballot system of On tario. He pointed out how the advantages of the Ontario system caused it to be adopted. The statement that it was not a secret system had no weight, because before it railed to be secret someone must commit perjury. Nosuch case had occurred since it was adopted. The benefit of the system was that it prevented fraud, ballot-stuffing and bribery to a large extent, while other systems—notably the American—opened the door wide to all these. He then contrasted the license system of the Government with the policy of the Orposition, after which he dealt with the French cry and the Roman Catholic cry, claiming that it was but a repetition of the old cry of 1886, and he thought contrary to the real inclination of the leader of the Opposition. He had been for want of a better cry compelled again the Ontario system caused it to be adopted
