Langevin Must Leave

Ominous Utterances of the Tory Organ at Ottawa.

Startling Rumors Gain Credence in Montreal.

The Fall of the Government Believed to be Near at Hand.

Hardy Reforms Introduced in the Departments—Civil Service Clerks Will Have to Bring Their Dinner Pails—No Outing During Lunch Hours.

OTTAWA, July 27.—The Citizen (Government organ), in an editorial to-day foreshadows the retirement of Sir Hector Langevin. It adds:

"We doubt not Mr. Abbott will deal with all the details and ramifications of these much-to-be-deplored circumstances with a judicial and judicious spirit. Despite the ungenerous strictures of our Montreal contemporary, he possesses the confidence of Parliament and, we think, the confidence of the country at large, and as one of his admirers a Minister of Justice whose record is above suspicion.

"The Premier has a duty to perform, and doubtless fully vindicate the trust of supporters irrespective of personal influences.

"A time of excitement men too frequently punish the just for the unjust; too often determine on a policy and afterwards their actions impelled by false reports and erroneous impressions. Thinking men then will keep their eyes low and act as judges, rather than partisans."

OTTAWA, July 27.—Hereafter the pay of the clerks will stop when they do lunch.

A new order-in-council provides, that civil servants must not leave their offices for lunch. They must remain from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day except Sundays and statutory holidays.

The exports from the Dominion for the year ended June 30 amounted to $95,-[illegible], as compared with $94,389,945 for the year ending June 30, 1890, showing an increase the last year of $1,185,659. The imports show a decrease of $415,764, the figures being: 1889-90, $107,969,470, and 1890-91, $107,553,706. The duty on the imports also show a decrease of $791,018, the figures being: 1889-90, $22,814,703; 1890-91, $22,012,685. The exports for June were $10,993,671, as compared with [illegible]W 306 for June of last year, an increase over previous $570,365. Over $400,000 of the increase was in produce of the fisheries. HOCHELAGA, July 27.—A startling rumor has been circulating in political circles. The revelations at Ottawa have made such an impression on the country that the fall of the Government is considered to be a matter of months, perhaps weeks. It was confidently stated to-day by several well-informed politicians that Mr. Chapleau had approached Mr. Laurier and offered to form a coalition government with him. Mr. Laurier has the written conditions of the proposition in his pocket, of which the main feature is that Mr. Laurier makes his own selections, but gives Mr. Chapleau the portfolio of Railways. Mr. Laurier has declined to form a coalition, feeling that Mr. Chapleau [illegible]rieu, and that at any rate the [illegible]n of the Liberal party to power is [illegible]ble, and in no way depends upon the [illegible]f any section of the Conservative

The traffic earnings of the C. P. R. Company from July 14 to July 21, 1891, $384,000; 1890, $359,000; increase, $25,000. The earnings of the New Brunswick Railway are included in both years.

A special train of five cars composed entirely of steel has been constructed in Chicago. It is claimed the cars neither cost nor weigh more than the old style, while being practically indestructible.

The Montreal Star published the following special London cable Saturday night: The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk are buoyant on account of the rumored objects of the visits of Messrs. Van Horne and Depew. It is not believed that an actual fusion of the two roads is practicable, although it is generally thought that a friendly traffic arrangement will be arrived at, provided the Grand Trunk adopts a pacific attitude to the C. P. R. The G. T. R. Board met yesterday and fully discussed the situation with Mr. Duncan McIntyre, in view of Sir Henry Tyler's visit to Canada.

The Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, July 27.—Money was more plentiful during the past week, and discount was easy at 1⅛ for three months and 2 for short. Since the opening of the week, when discount rates touched the official minimum, and an advance of the Bank of England rate appeared imminent, the monetary outlook has rapidly changed. Whether the renewed abundance of loan-capital with the consequent easier promises to stimulate business. In the meantime the Stock Exchange shows no revival. Dealings are at the lowest and American railway securities dealt in extremely limited. Canadian securities were strong, owing to the prospects of large harvests and a good autumn traffic in the autumn.

THE GUILLOTINE

Does Its Work Sharply and Surely.

Details of the Execution of Two Murderers in Paris.

Terrible Conflict on the Scaffold Between the Executioners and Their Victim Berland—A Sanguinary Mob of Spectators.

PARIS, July 27.—The execution of young Berland and Dore, two accomplices of Mere Berland in what is known as the Courtevoire murder, took place this morning in the Place de la Roquette. Berland walked calmly to the guillotine, but a desperate struggle took place on the scaffold, finally the executioner succeeded in forcing the criminal down upon the bascule, and from there slid his head under the knife.

Dore did not make any resistance. The execution of the two men occupied only eight minutes.

Mere Berland has been granted a reprieve.

PARIS, July 28.—Dore, who was executed for complicity in the Courtevoir murder, left his cell with extreme composure. He made no objections as Diebler, the chief executioner, assisted by his son, attended to the criminal's toilet for the scaffold. But though the had thus far conducted himself with wonderful courage, Dore faltered and trembled as he reached the shadow of the painted uprights of the guillotine and caught sight of the deadly shining knife which was to sever his head from his body. The murderer at sight of the instrument of death seemed to become dazed and helpless, and in this condition the executioners helped him up the steps to the platform of the guillotine and quickly threw him upon the bascule, strapped him down, slid his head into the tunette and in a second or so the knife fell and Dores' head rolled into the sawdust-filled basket awaiting it.

When young Berland was awakened he showed a considerable amount of bravado and remarked with a hideous smile: "No more card-playing for me." In conversation with the prison officials and executioners, while his toilet was being made, Berland showed that he resented his mother's reprieve, and that he was very much disappointed that she was not to die with him. When all the preparations for death were made Berland walked jauntily across the prison yard and maintained an air of bravado and cool impudence until he reached the platform of the guillotine.

Just as the executioners were on the point of throwing him upon the bascule Berland made a desperate resistance, and a terrible scene took place in full view of the thousands of eager spectators who gathered in the Place de la Roequette. In spite of his struggles, however, the executioners and guards held Berland upon the scaffold and eventually threw him upon the fatal plank, slid him beneath the grim uprights and as the young criminal was writhing furiously the knife fell and Berland's head rolled into the basket.

No sooner had this occurred than the crowds with a combined mighty rush broke through the cordon of troops and police and rushing up to the scaffold gloated over the blood-stained apparatus, some taking a handful of sawdust away with them as a souvenir.

Mr. Spurgeon Recovering.

LONDON, July 27.—The report from the bedside of Rev. C. H. Spurgeon this morning is that the sufferer is progressing toward recovery.

A Mining Swindle.

LONDON, July 27.—A lively row has occurred here over the facts discovered about the Imuri mines, situated in New Mexico. The money paid for the property was $625,000, of which $337,000 was cash. A trustworthy expert says the ore in sight is not worth $50,000, and underneath is rubbish.

The Worst Defeat They Have Had.

LONDON, July 27.—The Times, commenting on the result of the Wisbeach election, says: This defeat is the worst the Unionists have sustained. Mr. Gladstone has at length obtained an argument supporting his predictions of a Liberal success at the general election.

Election Petition Withdrawn.

TORONTO, July 27.—In the South Leeds Dominion election case, Nathan Kelly vs. George Taylor, Mr. Justice Maclennan has made an order allowing the petitioner to withdraw the petition upon the ground that he gave consent to his name being used and signed the petition when under the influence of liquor.

Argentine Financial Troubles.

NEW YORK, July 27.—A Buenos Ayres special reports the failure of a bank and does not give the name. It is said all the depositors will eventually be paid. Millions of dollars are involved in the failure. Business in Buenos Ayres and throughout the country is paralyzed. Gold has advanced to 390. A currency issue of $100,000,000 is expected.

Labor Movements.

The committee of the Coal Creek, Tenn., miners and Governor Buchanan have reached an agreement which ends the trouble with the miners.

The conductors and motor men of the Rapid Transit Electric Street Railway, Newark, N. J., struck this (Monday) morning, and the entire line is tied up. The cause of the strike was an increase of working hours from ten to thirteen without increase of pay.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and conver the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

CHINESE ATROCITIES.

Mission Houses and Schools Burned by the Celestials.

Systematic Looting Carried on by the Natives—Europeans in Deadly Peril—A Steamer Wrecked.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 27—Advices just received from China give particulars of fresh depredations by the Chinese against the missionaries. The latest attack was made at Yangoo on June 29, when the Catholic missions was methodically looted. The buildings were afterwards set on fire. A few days previous four chapels were destroyed in Kiang-Si, near the city of Fuchon. The chapel, school and residence of the priest were looted and burned on June 26. On the same day a French orphanage at a place called Haimen was completely destroyed. In addition to the destruction of the orphanage eight or nine of the wretched little children cared for in the building were carried off.

There is a rumor in Canton that a disturbance has taken place in Fukin Province. It is stated that the rebels are several thousand strong and have captured a city. It is thought it will be difficult for foreigners in Canton to escape.

A junk containing three merchants, a crew of seven and nine passengers was attacked shortly after dusk by five junks containing armed men on June 15 off the port of Kiang-Ho. A fight raged for half an hour in which two of the passengers were killed, two were shot and three were stabbed so seriously that they died within a few months. The remainder of those on board seeing no chance for escape, jumped overboard, and after swimming some distance was rescued by a fishing boat. The pirates seized the junk and sailed away with her.

ALLEGED ARSON.

Serious Charge Against a West Williams Farmer.

An English Immigrant Girl Said to Have Been Accessory—Some of the Circumstances of the Case—The Invalid Wife Rescued by a Neighbor.

Detective Allen brought to the county jail Saturday evening two residents of West Williams — Benjamin Barnes and Frances Jane Garraway. The former is charged with arson and the latter with being accessory to the crime and also with spurring on the man to the alleged commission of the deed, perperated, as the commitment reads, on April 21. Barnes is a farmer, about 65 years of age, and has lived in West Williams for some eight years, his former home being in Reach township, Ontario county. His companion is a young English girl, about 20 years of age, having been in Canada just about three years. Barnes' wife is a helpless invalid and the girl is employed as a servant. Last April Barnes, it is said, communicated with an insurance company, requesting them to insure his house, but they refused. Barnes says their refusal did not reach him until April 22, while his house was burned the previous day. He therefore claims the amount of the insurance, about $2,200. At the request of the insurance men the case was investigated at Parkhill, about twenty witnesses being examined. Barnes is said to have been found by neighbors busily engaged in gathering some papers out of an old desk, while the fire was making great headway, and his invalid wife, unable to help herself, lay in agony in another room, until Mrs. Thomas Digman rushed into the building and rescued her. Barnes is alleged to have declared before a magistrate that he saw a man named George Snowden set fire to the house. It is stated that the girl Garraway drove to Parkhill the afternoon the house was destroyed, leaving Barnes' about 12:30 and returning about 6 o'clock. The prisoners were remanded by P. M. Wells, of Parkhill, until Friday. Detective Allen is working on the case.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CANVASS.

Chauncey M. Depew's Opinion as to the Probable Candidates.

LONDON, July 27.—In an interview published here Chauncey M. Depew deprecates the suggestion that he was likely to be the man to champion the Republican cause in the next Presidential election in the United States. He said he believed Mr. Harrison would carry the election as the Republican candidate. "Mr. Blaine," he continued, "is the strongest man politically and the most popular, but still in my belief Mr. Harrison will be nominated." Mr Depew believed Mr. Cleveland would most likely be the Democratic candidate, but that the Democrats would not be as unanimous for Mr. Cleveland as the Republicans would be for their candidate. "Bad times," Mr. Depew said, "would disappear under the assured prosperity of the farmers."

"Do you argue then that the Republicans have suffered all they will suffer on account of the McKinley law, and that now it is the Democrats whom it will smite hip and thigh?"

"Just so. The McKinley tariff will do a very great deal to carry the election for the Republicans, especially will the reciprocity clause do a great deal. The American people are now seeing that by means of that clause we shall be able to do great things from a commercial point of view with the states of South America.

THE TERRIBLE TOTAL.

Forty-Three Deaths Result from the St. Mande Disaster.

One Hundred and Four Persons Injured.

The Collision Attributed to the Malicious Act of Miscreants Who Altered the Signals.

Four Persons Killed at an Erie Railway Crossing.

PARIS, July 27.—The latest reports received from St. Mande, near Vincennes, the scene of the collision between two excursion trains loaded with passengers returning from a musical festival at Fonteroy, show that 49 persons were killed and 100 injured by the accident. Six persons died after being extricated from the ruins.

The details of the accident show that the collision was a most terrible affair. The engineer of one of the express train telescoped three carriages loaded with excursionists, and at the same time the reservoir of gas on the damaged train exploded and set fire to the wreckage, while scores of people were pinioned down and helpless beneath the ruins of the wreck. In a very short time the flames spread to such an extent that numbers of the wounded were before assistance could be rendered. The horrible shrieks of the burning people continued for nearly an hour after the collision. It is now reported that persons were either killed or injured as a result of the collision. Many of the unfortunate people imprisoned beneath the wreck of the railroad cars were drowned (while partly roasted) by the firemen who were summoned to the scene. The firemen were at first unable to obtain water; when they did so they poured torrents upon the wreck and seemed to be utterly unaware that they were they were attempting to rescue. The blackened bodies of the dead lie in rows upon the floor and upon tables in the Town Hall at St. Mande. In some cases the remains are but little more than heaps of cinders intermingled with portions of limbs. One pile of charred remains was especially conspicuous. It consisted of a mass of unidentified and unconnected bodies placed in a heap.

A FEARFUL CHARGE.

PARIS, July 28 —Le Paris states that an investigation made into the St. Mande railroad accident has disclosed the startling fact that the disaster was intentionally caused by some unknown miscreant who deliberately altered the signals so as to bring the two trains into collision. This announcement has caused the most intense indignation, and excitement. The majority of the victims were women and children. The work of rescue proceeded slowly during night until dawn. People then began to flock to the scene by thousands, many seeking friends who had not returned from the fete. By daybreak there were 20,000 persons around the station, and the school room and town hall, where the bodies of the dead were lying, were besieged by distracted people.

SAD SCENES.

A man searching for missing relatives suddenly came upon the bodies of his wife and daughter. His cries attracted his brother-in-law, who in turn recognized a grandchild lying dead, and learned that his wife and his mother were in a hospital, dying. A man who for a long time had been rushing about half-demented seeking his family, stopped a litter entering the school-room and found that it bore the charred bodies of his wife and baby, the latter being only a few months old. Five of this man's children were on the train, and only one was rescued living. The bodies of the others were picked from the debris. Most of the bodies in the town hall were scorched beyond recognition. The fire that broke out after the accident was fiercest in the first-class carriage, from which twelve bodies have been recovered, so badly charred that identification is impossible. Among the injured sent to the hospital a number died immediately after admission, and many are expected to succumb.

THE CAUSE.

An inquiry into the causes of the accident shows that the second train left Vincennes at the regulation interval of five minutes after the first train. The latter train was delayed at St. Mande, owing to an enormous crowd of excursionists. The station master at Vincennes blames the driver of the second train for the accident. When this train was starting, the station master advised the driver to go slowly, as there was a train in front of him, but the man paid no heed to the advice, and went ahead at full speed. This driver at first alleged that all the signals indicated that the line was clear, but an inquiry confirms the report of the officials at St. Mande and Vincennes, that danger signals were shown. The driver now asserts that he has been the victim of an act of revenge on the part of some one who severed communication with the Westinghouse air brake, thus preventing him from bringing the train to a standstill the instant he perceived the lights in the rear of the stationary train.

The stoker of the second train declares that when the train left Vincennes the signal discs indicated that there was no danger ahead. On reaching Pont Tournelle, close to the station of St. Mande, where the line curves, he caught sight of the red lamps on the rear of the front train. He then tried to put on the brakes, but they failed to act properly.

A leading official of the railway blames the public for crowding into the rear van, which, he says, was intended to remain empty. The greatest number of dead were found beneath the ruins of this van.

THE TERRIBLE TOTAL.

An official statement makes the number of dead 43 and the number of injured 104. Among the victims are the Marquis and Marquise Monteferate. An artillery lieutenant climbed to the top of the burning carriage to rescue a girl, but fell with her into the burning mass, and neither was seen again.

FOUR KILLED AT A CROSSING.

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 28.—A distressing accident occurred last evening about 6 o'clock at a crossing of the Erie, near Eldredge Park, in which four persons were killed and two so seriously injured that death is expected at any moment. The Rev. Wellington White started out to drive, having with him Mrs. White, their three children and Hattie Hastings, a daughter of a neighbor, and Susie McCarthy, a nurse girl. Approaching the crossing of the railroad a freight train, which had been cut in two to allow entrance to the park, occupied the nearer track. Seeing and hearing nothing indicative of danger, Mr. White drove between the halves of the freight just in time to be struck by an Erie passenger train, No. 24, from the west. Mr. White, his daughter, Lilian, aged 9; Hattie Hastings, aged 9, and Susie McCarthy, aged 12, were instantly killed. Mrs. White and a child 2 years old received each a fracture of the skull and other injuries, and may not survive the night.

SMASHUP ON THE CENTRAL.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 28.—At 4:15 yesterday a west-bound freight train on the Central crashed into another freight at Spencerport. Engine No. 382 was badly smashed, together with six or eight freight cars. No one was hurt.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Yesterday was the first Sunday since the passing of the Toronto city bylaw imposing a penalty on any person who "shall in any public park, garden or place for exhibition in the city, publicly preach, lecture or declaim," and 25,000 citizens assembled in the Queen's park to see how the bylaw would be observed. Considerable rioting took place. Three men were arrested for throwing stones, and one for malicious injury to property. The mayor was escorted out of the park by a jeering crowd of thousands. At least 60,000 visited the park during the day, but nothing serious happened.

"Just as Good."

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is Peculiar to Itself. h

A choir of twenty natives of South African tribes left for London last week to show the results of their education and training by giving concerts.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try abottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

Near Buchanan, Ga., a few days since, W. A. Keith found a solid flint rock near the center of the heart of a pine tree. How the rock got there is a mystery.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—"Mother, may I a yachting go?"
"My daughter, you may not;
But I'll buy you a yachting suit or so
If you won't go near a yacht."

—The London Cricket Club left yesterday to play at Chatham.

—Six carloads of Sunday visitors at the Port arrived home yesterday morning.

—Dr. and Mrs. Niven and Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Macbeth, of this city, are visiting friends in Wallacetown.

—President Cronyn, of the street rail way company, has notified the city that the space between the car tracks on Richmond street should be cedar blocked.

—Father Hoben, word of whose death in Ohio has reached his mother in this city, received his early education in the London Separate School, subsequently pursuing his studies in the Dominican College at Louisville, Ky., from which institution he graduated.

Distinguished Masons Pass Through.

The St. Bernard Drill Corps, Knights Templars, Chicago, the crack Masonic team of that city, with the Knights of the Commandery, their ladies and friends, passed through London early yesterday morning en route for Hamilton, Ont., where they will be entertained by the Thirteenth Battalion Band and Godfrey de Bouillon Preceptory, No. 3. They will also go to Niagara, the Muskoka Lakes and Toronto. It will be an eight days' trip.

At Sault Ste. Marie.

Hon. Oliver and Mrs. Mowat are spending the holidays at Sault Ste. Marie. The Premier is much interested in the great works in progress in connection with the new waterway to join Lake Superior with Lake Huron. Mr. and Mrs. Mowat have made their home at the International Hotel, which is beautifully situated and is under excellent management. The establishment draws to it hundreds of visitors and tourists every month, but so well conducted is it that it combines the quiet of a home with the variety of a great public resort.

He Got a Slice of Melon.

Gentlemen of African descent were plentiful among the employes of Robinson's circus which visited Stratford on Friday. One old darkey was walking along the side of the road with his head hanging, evidently in deep thought. As he passed a party of young people who were seated on a sidewalk eating lunch, one of their number threw a piece of watermelon at him. It struck the old man on the side of the head and he jumped as if he had been shot. Recovering his composure he eyed the party sorrowfully and then the water melon, and remarked with a pathetic voice: "Nex' time you 'tend doin' anythin' like dat giv' man chance t' open his mouf so we's bof enjoy de joke." He got a big slice off the melon.—[Stratford Times.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is ear-ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

Kings often go around among their subjects disguised as civilians. Now, if they would go around a little more disguised as kings they would fare much better.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation; its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend. 25 doses, 35 cents.

No one notices the flight of time so much as the man who puts his hand into his pocket for his watch and finds that it has really flown.

Inconvenience avoided.—By using Persian Lotion to improve your complexion you avoid the risk of traces of white powder, proving that your color is not natural This toilet water whitens the skin without leaving any trace.

"La Cadena" and "La Flora" Perfectos.

The smoker who has been in the habit of using a Perfecto size in well-known Havana brands will readily appreciate the "La Cadena" or "La Flora," which will be found equal to the finest imported and at a much lower figure. 1 tf

BEFORE THE GATE.

[By W. D. Howells.]

They gave the whole long day to idle laughter
To fitful song and jest,
To moods of soberness as idle, after,
And silence just as idle as the rest.

But when at last upon their way returning
Taciturn, late and loath,
Through the broad meadow in the sunset burning,
They reached the gate, one fine spell hindering both.

Her heart was troubled with a subtle anguish
Such as but women know,
That wait, and lest love speak or speak not, languish,
And what they rather would they would not so.

Till he said, manlike, nothing comprehending
Of all the wondrous guile
That women won win themselves with, and bending
Eyes of relentless asking on her all the while,

'Ah! if beyond this gate the path united
Our steps as far as death,
And I might open it!" His voice affrighted
At its own daring, faltered through his breath.

Then she, whom both his faith and fear enchanted
Far beyond words to tell,
Feeling her woman's finest wit had wanted
The art he had that knew to blunder well;

Shyly drew near a little step, and mocking:
"Shall we not be too late
For tea?" she said. "I am quite worn out with walking;
Yes, thanks, your arm. And will you—open the gate?"

Through Pullmans and Dining Car Attached to New York via Erie Railway.

The Erie is the only line running through Canada that gives the people of London the above service, and it is to be hoped they will take advantage of it by purchasing their tickets via the favorite Erie and save themselves the annoyance of changing cars and jumping off the trains for meals. 11-tf

Impossible.

It would be just as easy to advertise on the moon as for any importer to give the same value in imported cigars as we offer in our "La Cadena" and "La Flora" brands of clear Havana cigars. The higher the price, the greater the duty. Cheap cigars made in Havana are in the majority of cases offered to the Canadian public as fine goods. S. DAVIS & SONS, 1tf Montreal.

Perfectos.

The name of Perfecto is used by the leading Havana factories to designate a particular size and (generally extra fine) quality of a brand of cigars. It is well known to connoisseurs and in great demand in the principal clubs in Europe and America. A great many factories, owing to the great popularity this size has obtained, are using the word Perfecto on all classes of goods, some as low as $20 per 1,000; therefore, we caution the public to be particular when purchasing and see that they obtain the genuine size and quality that should be represented in the Perfecto size. Our "La Cadena" or "La Flora" will be found a creditable example. S. DAVIS & SONS, Montreal. 1-tf

WESTERN ONTARIO.

BRANT.

On Saturday afternoon a serious accident occurred at the building of a carriage shed immediately behind the Sydenham Street Methodist Church, near Brantford. A number of men were engaged on the roof of the building when it gave away, precipitating three men to the ground. Edward Brierley had one ankle broken and the other one put out of joint. James Marsh had a serious injury to the spine, and Thos. Ridley had his head and arms severely bruised.

BRUCE.

John Kennedy, of Ripley, caught a young lad tapping his till Friday evening. He was taken before Justices of the Peace H. P. Chapman and Peter McDonald. The case was settled.

Mr. Newton, mail clerk on the G. T. R., from Wiarton to Stratford, is about to move his family to Wiarton.

ELGIN.

P. Huffman, St. Thomas, an M. C. R. brakeman, had his collar bone broken by being caught between the cars while coupling at Victoria.

A severe hailstorm passed over a large district west of St. Thomas on Friday afternoon. At Rodney and Taylor some of the hailstones were larger than walnuts. Much damage was done to the crops, windows broken, poultry killed and thousands of dollars worth of fruit of all kinds is lost. A dispatch says that all the crops along the town line between Orford and Aldborough for over seven miles and almost a mile wide are destroyed.

W. A. Phillips, B.A., has been appointed English master of the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute.

T. Hortop, liveryman, St. Thomas, has purchased from D. Fraser the blacksmith shop and lot facing on Talbot and Southwick streets, west and south of Duncombe's drug store, for $3,500. The lot has a frontage of 39 feet on the former and 87 feet on the latter. Mr. Hortop intends to build a large brick livery stable this fall.

Dr. Bell, of Victoria College, Cobourg, formerly assistant master of the St. Thomas Collegiate Institute, has been appointed by the Minister of Education chairman of the department of classics in the departmental and matriculation examinations and member of the appeal committee.

An infant child of Mr. Lang, who is employed by Dr. Teskey, at the Kains farm, fell off a sofa and broke both bones of the right arm, between the wrist and elbow.

An excursion to Toronto will be run on the St. Thomas civic holiday, on Aug. 18.

Hubert's grove adjoining the new waterworks, which was purchased by the city of St. Thomas for a public park, was formally opened on the occasion of the picnic of the Grand Trunk loop line employes on Friday.

One of the children of John Hales, of Malahide township, drank a quantity of paris green a few days ago, but prompt measures saved him. A child of Milton Van Patters, of the same township, fell into cistern and narrowly escaped drowning.

George Jones, of Attercliffe, who was rushed by the wheels of an M. C. R. gravel train at Catfish Creek on July 2, and who had to have amputation of his right foot at the ankle, his left leg below the knee and his left hand performed, has so far recovered that he was removed from the Railroad Hospital on Saturday to the residence of his sister, Mrs. Quinby, at Ridgetown.

Wm. Ayearst resided near Talbotville previous to seven years ago, when he removed to Palermo, in Halton. On Friday he died, aged 75, after an illness of a fortnight. He leaves a wife, six sons and six daughters. The sons are William and Alfred, Minnedosa, Man.; Henry O., De Clare, Man.; Rev. J. A., who was on the Dorchester circuit of the Methodist Church last year, and will attend college this year; Horton and James, at home. The daughters are Mrs. Frank Bennett, Talbotville; Mrs. J. E. Rooney, South Bend, Ind.; Mrs. J. W. Norsworthy, of this city; Mrs. Wm. Calcott, Talbotville; Miss Minnie, at home, and a married daughter at Port Rowan.

ESSEX.

James Considine, of Detroit, well known in Essex, was taken to Marquette, Michigan, about two weeks ago and convicted of the burglary of the Calumet postoffice and sentenced to five years in the Detroit House of Correction. On the way down an attempt was made be Considine's friends to rescue him from the hands of the officer in charge.

Herbert Brush has sold the west quarter of lot 14 in con. 4, Colchester South, to Joseph McCarthy, for $1,800. Susan McCarthy sold an acre and house on the 4th to Herbert Rush for $300.

Chas. Bell has sold the Oliver Lonsbury farm of twenty acres of lot 67 in con. I, Colchester South, and 23 acres adjoining to Frank N. Donnadieu, of Detroit, for $2,400.

The contracts have been let for the Long Marsh and Richmond drains in Colchester South. Edwin Lockwood secured that part of the Long Marsh in Malden at $2,965; George Heaton obtained the part of the Long Marsh in Colchester South at $1,200, and Christian Sorenson has the Richmond outlet at $1,950.

Cord Fagan, of Kingsville, had the misfortune to run a chisel into his knee while working on Wednesday, making a somewhat serious wound. He will be laid up for a time.

Richard Keyes, the younger, of Windsor, is in trouble again, having been arrested on a charge of taking papers from the postoffice.

Wm. Barclay, for carrying firearms, was fined $24 on Saturday by P. M. Bartlet at Windsor.

The saloon-keepers of Essex county have been warned against selling intoxicants to George Drysdale. The objector is Joseph Barringer, his father-in-law, proprietor of the International Hotel at Windsor.

John Drake, Windsor, is holidaying at Kingsville with his family and a lot of other Windsor people. Jack Denver is there too. Jack is one of the most intelligent donkeys living, being a gift from the Rockies to the little Drakes from a distant friend. His musical talents are mighty, the higher notes being a specialty. The orchestra at the Mattawas Hotel is losing caste since his introduction, for Jack is equal to a whole band and the dog under the wagon. He is used as an alarm clock by the tenters, and at 5 a.m. daily every one within a radius of four miles is reminded that day has dawned. Jack is greatly appreciated, and a petition is being signed to have him placed by the Government at Point Pelee to be used there as a fog horn. Great, indeed, is John Drake's Jack Denver.

A number of Windsor merchants will decorate on a grand scale for the G. A. R. encampment. It is reported that a Detroit company will erect a grand stand near Walkerville to be used on the evening of the fireworks.

The Windsor Baseball Club are contemplating a trip through Western Ontario. The club has not been defeated this season.

John Curry & Co. on Saturday sold three lots on Curry avenue for $900, and a house and lot on Pellesier street for $900.

KENT.

Last autumn the magistrate sent John Farrel to the Central for six months and the other day the exile arrived in Chatham. He had no sooner arrived than he went on a spree and was soon in the care of the police. He told the magistrate to give him a term in jail and offered to go over the creek without an escort. His worship, however, took the precaution to have him attended to Castle Mercer.

Wm. Whitebread, Wallaceburg, has the contract to build the Moravian bridge.

The warden has called a special meeting of the Kent county council for Aug. 4. Matters in connection with the Jeannette's creek bridge and the treasurer's office seem to necessiate the meeting.

Devere Fullmer, Wallaceburg, who has been holding a good position in a railway office in Syracuse, N.Y., has returned home, and will, in the course of a few weeks, go to Omaha, Neb., where he has secured a position as manager of a large shorthand school.

Wallaceburg is too lively a town to be without a band any length of time. The players in a new band are: Ch. E. Ayers, Fred. Cummer, J. Cochrane, Chester McDougall, Silas Dawson, Theo. Leroy, E. E. Parker, J. W. Waugh, A. J. Vining, J. Bouskill, Thos. Harrison, R. Bouskill, O. Allen, W. Purser, Carl McDougall, Joseph Delong; bandmaster, Ch. E. Ayres; drum major, Hugh Blake. Wm. Plummer, the Chatham forger who is under arrest at St. Clair, and who is fighting extradition, was given a hearing before Judge Mitchell, of Port Huron. He acknowledged uttering the forged notes, but denied writing them. He further admitted that he knew they were false notes, but said that he thought there was no punishment for that crime. A man named Plusie, of Chatham, is also under arrest as an accomplice, and has been committed for trial.

PERTH.

Two trains of 22 cars left Stratford on Saturday morning for Sarnia in connection with the annual G. T. R. employes' excursion. Nearly 1,200 tickets were sold. Besides the Grand Trunkers many citizens took advantage of the excursion for a day's outing on the River St. Clair.

J. C. Palmer, with the North American Mill Building Company, Stratford, had the forefinger of his right hand injured in such a manner Saturday morning as to necessitate its amputation. He was sawing a board in two with a circular saw, when the board broke and came in contact with the saw. The thumb was also badly cut, but will not have to be amputated.

Walter E. Buckingham, son of Wm. Buckingham, Stratford, has been chosen to go to England with the "All America" football team, and expects to sail on Aug. 6. This young man is as brilliant on a football field as he is on examinations. There is a story told about him that he was severely censured by his father for devoting so much time to athletics, and a week later the Toronto papers announced that he had won the Blake scholarship. He can play as much football as he likes now.

WELLAND.

J. C. Page for many years the trusted and popular county clerk of Welland county and now an addition to the population of the American city of Buffalo, owing to a slight misunderstanding as to the disposition of certain moneys intrusted to his care, is anxious to return to this side, but just now that is rather a risky thing to do. Mr. Page, who wants to compromise, offers to contribute $500 at once, and $200 per annum thereafter until his indebtedness has been liquidated.

WATERLOO.

Hon. James Young, of Galt, and Mrs. Young, are spending a few days at Ottawa, stopping at the Grand Union. They are on their way to the seaside.

Canton Victoria, Independent Order of Oddfellows, of St. Thomas, will take part in the big demonstration at Galt this week.

Two or three small boys in Galt got hold, by some means, of one of the cartridges used in blasting by the waterworks men. The result of their investigation of its contents was that it exploded. One of the boys was unfortunate enough to have a finger split open, while the other two were burned black with powder, and the skin punctured with the clay or whatever it is that is mixed in with the explosive.

ENOUGH EVIDENCE TO HANG ON.

A prominent Conservative in London on Saturday asserted that it was certainly time to change the Government if it were proved that Sir Hector Langevin, chief in the great spending Department of Public Works, knowingly connived to rob the taxpayers. This man is, we believe, a type of citizen who can be reasoned with. To all such as he let us recall the circumstances of the latest swindle exposed before the Committee of Investigation at Ottawa.

One could go back to the evidence adduced in the Kingston, Quebec and British Columbia contract scandals and the Bay of Chaleurs railway rascality in proof of the contention that Sir Hector acted either as a fool or a knave in managing his department while these huge steals were taking place. But there is no need for going back as far as that. The evidence given by several reliable witnesses, all of them Conservatives, in exposure of what must now be known as the Langevin Block Scandal is enough to condemn Sir Hector in the minds of all right-thinking persons. It is enough to destroy the fair fame of his associates in the Cabinet, who were appealed to, but refused to interfere in the interests of justice between man and man and between the contractor and the public. The Langevin block is a large addition to the Parliamentary Buildings at Ottawa. It has been constructed within the last year or two, at vast cost to the country, under the supervision of Sir Hector Langevin. The contractor for the mason work was a Mr. Charlebois, who, in former years, had been declared by Sir John Macdonald as an improper person to intrust with a contract for a great public work. But by the exercise of some influence over Sir Hector, he managed to secure the contract for the mason work of the Langevin block and a great deal more than by any reason or justice, except the Minister's favor, was he entitled to. This man Charlebois was given the exclusive right to enter into the building, and as the contracts for the roofing, the plumbing and other works connected with the completion of the structure were let to others, he was enabled to go to them and say, "I have sole control of this building. If you wish to work here, you must pay me toll. I want 25 per cent. of your contract price." Confronted with such a demand as this, backed up by a clause in their contracts which deprived them of the right to enter upon the building except by arrangement with Charlebois, more than one of contractors either refused to sign or threw up the contracts, permitting the favorite of the Minister to obtain the contract at virtually his own figures. For example, a man contracted to put in the heating apparatus for $15,550, but before he could begin his work he was compelled, through agreement of Charlebois with Langevin, to pay $3,750 to that grab-all. Even more dastardly was the exaction demanded from the contractors for the iron roof. These men offered to do the work for $42,975, and hoped to make $8,000 or $9,000 by the transaction. But before they began work they were told by Sir Hector Langevin that they must pay the usual 25 per cent. of the contract price to Charlebois. This startling proviso, which was not embraced in the original specifications, had the effect of securing the withdrawal of the contractors. Indeed, when the contractors asked time to decide how they would meet this extraordinary demand, Sir Hector gave them fifteen minutes to choose their course. Mark the sequel! Once they were out of the way, Langevin gave the contract to Charlebois for $60,000, or $34,000 more than the work could have been done for.

Chief Engineer Fuller has affirmed that the Minister's decree regarding these contracts, by means of which the country was defrauded out of many thousands of dollars, was not warranted by trade usage. Why was it resorted to then? Perhaps some excuse will be offered for it. None has been made so far. Competent contractors assert that no reasonable explanation can be given of the jobbery. It is indefensible, and can only be explained on the ground of favoritism. Charlebois, it is on record, was a contributor to the fund collected for the benefit of Sir Hector. Like Larkin, Connolly & Co., he doubtless did not pour his thousands of dollars into Sir Hector's breeches pockets for the pure love of the man. It was rather paid out on the assumption that "it would all come back," and back it went with a vengeance, as the evidence now given shows.

There is no use mincing matters. The revelations in this case, as well as in those which have gone before it, all point to an organized system of plunder of the public, and it is impossible to conceive that the Minister knew nothing about it. He would have been afflicted with blindness of a density to which there was no limit if such were the case. He had his eyesight. He is no fool. What is he? Let the evidence be our reply. It is irresistibly conclusive.

FREE WATER DRINKING AS A PREVENTIVE AND CURATIVE.

The Canada Health Journal and other leading medical authorities now urge the value of free water drinking for both the sick and the well. Water flushes the system, bathes every tissue, dissolves and removes the products of tissue metamorphosis, keeps the skin more active, stimulates the kidneys to the removal of waste matter, and unloads the emunctories generally, and so leaves the cells in the best condition for functional activity, unclogged by surrounding debris and able to perform their respiration freely and naturally. Thus it not only removes old, worn-out matter, but paves the way for the reconstruction of new material, and the whole system is as it were from day to day rejuvenated. In the admirable "Cavendish" lecture delivered recently before the London Medico-Chirurgical Society by T. Lander Brunton, M.D., LL.D., F.R.C.P., etc., physician and lecturer of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, the lecturer dwelt strongly on this point, in the elimination of bodily waste. "Water," he said, "is the most universal solvent in the world. It is not only useful to wash out our closets and flush our drains, it has a similar effect in our bodies, and tends to wash away the waste products from the cells of which our organs are composed, to clear out the uric acid, urea and phosphates through our kidneys, and thus prevent renal or vesical calculi (stone in the kidney or bladder), and also to wash out our liver and prevent gall-stones, while it helps to keep the bowels in action. The liver especially is an organ which suffers much from want of water, and I never see a gall-stone without asking the patient, How much water do you drink? Almost invariable the answer is, I hardly ever touch water. I am not a thirsty person; and on one occasion a lady called for a particular teacup, which held little more than a thimblefull, in order to show me how much she drank. On reckoning how much water she took in the 24 hours it came as nearly as I could calculate, to sixteen fluid ounces. What wonder then that she had a gall-stone! The poor liver had not a chance to make decently fluid bile and naturally there was a deposit. By making such people drink a big tumbler of water, and especially hot water, every morning, with or without some Carlsbad salts added to it, and, if necessary, repeating the hot water once or twice more in the day, the renewed formation of gall-stones may frequently be averted, and symptoms of biliary colic, to say nothing of so-called 'biliousness,' may be prevented for many years, or perhaps entirely. But some patients will not do this at home, and if you were to tell a fashionable lady to get up at 6 o'clock in the morning and walk round Grosvenor Square with a tumbler of hot water in her hand, taking a sip at every three steps, to go on doing this for an hour together, and then to buy at a confectioner's a penny roll, and eat this without butter for her breakfast, with a small cup of coffee and no more, she would probably laugh in your face or apply to some one else for advice. But all this and more you secure by simply advising her to go to Carlsbad. * * * It is not merely the elimination of the natural waste products of our tissue, Dr. Brunton says, that we have to consider, but the elimination of waste products formed within our bodies by disease germs which have entered them. It is evident that if the toxic products of any bacillus can be washed out of the organism, that organism will have a better chance; and experience confirms the theoretical view that free elimination, both by the kidneys and bowels, is useful treatment in infectious diseases."

We may prescribe any or all of the salts found in the most noted springs of the world, asserts the Canada Health Journal, to be taken out of a spoon with the utmost regularity; we may regulate the diet, the sleeping hours, and the amount of work which shall be indulged in by our patient, and yet get no such results as are got at health resorts. The difference in result is doubtless due, leaving out the advantage gained by the change of scene, air, etc., to the greater dilution of the remedies contained in the natural waters—to an abundant supply of water.

ANOTHER EMPRESS LAUNCHED.

The Liverpool Journal of Commerce gives a long and interesting account of the trial trip of the Empress of China, the last of the three Canadian Pacific Railway steamships designed for the ocean service between Great Britain, Suez, Straits, China, Japan and Vancouver, B.C. The new service has proved most popular, and is working a revolution in the carrying trade to and from the East and the West. Through it and the land link supplied by the Canadian Pacific Railway a round-the-world trip can now be made in a marvellously short time, while the carriage of freight and of the mails has been vastly accelerated. The new vessels are fitted up with every known improvement, in point of internal fittings and engineering capacity. Their appointments and conveniences are described by the Liverpool journals as really magnificent, and the large crowd of admirals, engineering experts and railway managers who witnessed the trial trip of the Empress of China thoroughly indorsed this view.

ANOTHER CONSUMPTIVE CURE.

While the German Government has again recognized the great aid which Professor Koch has rendered to science by appointing him director of the Institute of Infectious Diseases—a new office—an English doctor comes forward with the information that he has discovered another method by which consumption can be prevented, and even cured in cases where the disease is not too extensive. He asserts that he has cured many patients in a private establishment of his own since 1886, and he is now anxious for a public test. He recently wrote to Lord Salisbury asking for facilities, and received a reply, to the effect that the Prime Minister had no power to afford them. Dr. Hambleton, in a letter to the United Service Gazette, a leading military newspaper, announces that he has been forced to the conclusion that it is useless to endeavor to obtain an investigation by the British Government, and that he will now place the facts before another power. The Gazette vouches for Dr. Hambleton's good faith and demands an official investigation with a view to the application of "this great English discovery" to the British army. It is understood that Dr. Hambleton is about to approach the United States Government on the subject, and if the statement made by the United Service Gazette be only partly correct that gentleman may get more respectful treatment in Washington than he has received in London. The editor of the Gazette declares that he has seen notes of well established and permanent cures of consumption, of some of which he has personal knowledge. "In fact," he says, "such a mass of practical evidence has been collected that we have not to deal with a prima facie case, but with a case that has been proved up to the hilt. Prevention and cure of consumption is an accomplished fact."

The Gazette, of course, looks upon the question chiefly from a military point of view, and here is what it says of the effects of consumption upon the efficiency of the British army:

"For five years, 1880-1884, there were from tubercular disease 6,749 admissions into hospitals, 1,341 deaths, 1,063 invalids sent home, and 2,356 finally discharged. The financial loss to the country from deaths and invalids discharged amounted, on the estimate of Lord Eustice Cecil at £120 per man, to £442,440, and to that must be added pay, cost of maintenance and treatment of invalids in the army, cost of sending home and replacing the invalids from abroad, pensions to invalids discharged, and cost of obtaining, training, maintaining, and paying men to replace those dead and discharged. That is, consumption was not only a serious source of waste in the army, but it also caused during those five years a financial loss that must have amounted to millions."

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

ACCORDING to a lady orator at Chautauqua every reform has three phases: First, it is not possible; second, the Bible is against it, and third, everybody is in its favor.

\+\+\+

THE lives of pedestrians on King street are daily endangered by fast drivers of vehicles. These men imagine that the public highway is a race course. Several residents on the thoroughfare write to the ADVERTISER that they mean to have the city bylaw against fast driving respected, or know the reason why.

\+\+\+

THE recent great Liberal victory in Cambridgeshire is due, in part, to the wife of the candidate. Mrs. Brand has a beautiful voice, and she charmed the audiences at the gatherings in favor of her husband by her beautifully sung melodies. Both political parties seem willing to let the women help them in every way possible except by a visit to the polling booths, but even that aid seems now within measurable distance.

\+\+\+

THOUGH the evidence is clear that Thomas McGreevy, M.P., has been guilty of obtaining public money by false pretenses, not one of the subsidized Tory newspapers, so far, has joined in the demand that he should relieve Parliament of his presence. They stuck by Rykert in the same way till Mr. Blake compelled Sir John Thompson to withdraw his whitewashing report and adopt the resolution that resulted in the expulsion of the timber limits appropriator.

MR. HYMAN'S PROTEST.

[St. John, N. B., Globe.]

The published report of the proceedings of the public accounts committee at Ottawa yesterday showed that the Government are anxious to keep back the information sought for by the members of Parliament who are pressing the inquiry. More than that, they are indirectly seeking to prevent persons from giving information to the committee. For instance, in the committee the other day this scene took place. Mr. Palmer, one of the dismissed clerks, was testifying that some clerks in the Interior Department had threatened to make exposures:

Mr. Montague—Who was it that made threats of exposure?

Mr. Palmer—Well, Hickey said, "If they do dismiss us, I'll write the thing up." He is an old newspaper man from Renfrew county.

Hon. Mr. Foster—Did any others make threats?

Mr. Hyman—This is wholly immaterial. It is not wise to deter clerks in other departments from giving information.

Mr. Montague—No one is trying to do that.

Mr. Hyman insisted that the line of question which the Minister of Finance was entering upon would have that effect.

The protest of the Liberal member from London apparently had the result of stopping the inquiries of this kind. And properly so, for it was clear the object of the inquiries was to prevent men in the service from exposing the rascality committed around them.

TIME FOR HIM TO GET OUT.

(Toronto Telegram, Independent Conservative.)

If Sir Hector Langevin knew what was going on in the Public Works Department and profited by wrong-doing he is a rogue.

If all this crookedness existed and Sir Hector did not know it, he is a fool.

In either case he is unfit to be chief of one of the two great spending departments of our Government.

Three Years Free

The Coming School of Medicine.

The Histogenetic System.

THIS SYSTEM IS COMPLETE, having different medicines for all the different diseases. The theory is entirely different from that of the old schools. The medicines are perfectly pure, containing nothing of a poisonous nature whatever, and are quite tasteless. For three years these medicines have been given away free and thoroughly tested in the most hopeless cases before being placed on the market. The result has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Hundreds of cases supposed to be incurable have been cured, and abundance of proof can be produced to convince the most skeptical that Histogenetic Medicines have cured and are curing to-day DISEASES at a later stage than any other system of medicine in the world. In ACUTE cases the medicines act like magic. Chronic troubles require a longer time, generally from one to three months, according to the nature of the complaint. In FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, WOMB TROUBLES, etc., the medicines have been especially successful. Private EXAMINATIONS in these troubles are almost, if not quite, absolutely unnecessary. Call or send for one of our free books explaining the system. They should be in every house in the land.

RHEUMATISM and SCIATICA

LONDON, April 26, 1891.

I am happy to acknowledge and now testify, to the efficacy of your medicines in curing Rheumatism. I have suffered with this painful disease in my shoulders, knees and hips for twenty-five years, also with sciatica for some time. I decided to try Histogenetic Medicines as a last resort, as nothing ever seemed to give me any permanent relief. The first week's medicine gave me relief, and in two weeks the sciatica disappeared and has not returned. I took the medicines for six weeks, and am cured of the rheumatism. I feel better in every way. I am sixty years of age, and feel quite smart and active. I can cheerfully recommend these medicines to the public, and will be glad to tell any sufferer about my case. It is now nearly two months since I ceased taking the medicines, and the effect is permanent.

Peculiar

To itself in many important particulars, Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from and superior to any other medicine.

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be induced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get

ENJOYMENT AD LIBITUM.

A Glorious Day Spent at Port Stanley.

Second Annual Outing and Picnic of the W. O. C. T. A.

An Unqualified Success—Big Crowds and Fine Weather—The Athletic Contests and Special Events—List of the Prize-Winners—Notes by the Way.

The average commercial traveler is a "jolly good fellow," and when a number of them get together with a social purpose there is bound to be a boom in the various lines of vivacity and enjoyment. This quality was infused in a large measure into the second annual picnic of the W. O. C. T. A. at Port Stanley Saturday. The jollity of the travelers was infectious. A gayer and more select crowd than that which patronized the enjoyable affair never gazed on the blue waters of Lake Erie from Port Stanley's lovely greensward. Last summer's was the first outing of the kind under the auspices of the association, and was looked upon as an uncertain venture, but judging by the splendid success of Saturday the W. O. C. T. A. annual picnic has already attained its zenith, for it is impossible to conceive how it could be improved upon to any material extent. Its reputation has now been thoroughly established, and it will always be looked forward to as one of "the" events of the season.

Chilly weather in the morning caused many to think of spring overcoats and wraps, but the prospect soon brightened, and it proved to be a perfect day for a picnic at the Port. The favorite resort is frequented by large crowds, and that of Saturday was among the very biggest. Fully 300 people went down at 9:30 a.m., but there was such a throng on the G. T. R. platform at 1 o'clock in the afternoon that two trains were found necessary—27 carloads in all. The members of the association previously assembled at their rooms and marched to the station headed by the band of the Seventh Fusiliers. A very pleasant feature of the picnic was the large attendance of ladies, evincing the popularity of the gallant knights of the road with the fair sex.

Means of enjoyment are not lacking at any time at Port Stanley; but the committee had added to them by probably the best programme of events ever presented on a like occasion. Directly on arrival the first contest was introduced in the shape of a walking race up the lofty hill to the Fraser Heights, for which President W. S. Case had offered a nobby gold-headed cane. The match afforded a great deal of amusement for the spectators, although the competitors evidently found it "up-hill" work. James Mason's superior sprinting abilities won for him the staff. A caddy of tea, value $10, was the prize awaiting the adult who figured nearest to the number of seeds in a certain watermelon. Some close guessing was done, but Miss Lily A. White's admirable judgement procured for her the gift. The right number of seed was found to be 855, and the heroic patience of the traveler who made the count was rewarded by a gift of the dissected melon. The numbers ran all the way from 103 to 4,568.

Merrily the afternoon passed. Some went boating, some bathing, some fishing, some promenaded the banks and others the beach, some reclined on the grass listening to the music of the band and gazing over the pretty panorama of land and water—but the greatest number surged around the race track, where no less than 24 diversified athletic events were put through in a manner that did credit to the management, entertained the spectators, rendered happy the successful ones, and brought out exhibitions of skill, sometimes laudable and sometimes laughable. With a goodly list of contributors, the prizes were valuable enough to make the entries numerous and the contests exciting. J. Wolfe, G. M. Anderson and Chas. Perry did admirable service as judges and starters. Following were the events and winners:

Girls' race, under 8 years, 50 yards—Aggie Sharp 1, Ada Dane 2.

Girls' race, 8 to 12, 50 yards—Laura Talling 1, Grace Gillies 2.

Girls' race, 12 to 15, 50 yards—Rebecca Sharp 1, Laura Lay 2.

Boys' race, under 8 years, 50 yards—Freddie Burns 1, Claude Gillies 2.

Boys' race, 8 to 12, 50 yards—George Burns 1, Willie McGregor 2.

Boys' race, 12 to 15, 50 yards—Charlie Burns 1, Bert Lind 2.

Green race, W. O. C. T. A. only, 100 yards—T. B. Parkinson (silver service).

Quolting match—Robert Cummings 1, Thomas Cockrell 2.

Tug-of-war—Grips vs. Trunks, the former represented by Messrs. McDonald, Edgecombe, Wolfe, Perry, Hughes, Reid, Keenleyside, Johnston, Boyden, Whetter and George M. Anderson (captain), the latter by Messrs. Nagle, Herald, Gray, Wright, Mortimore, Graham, Garrett, Mason, Loveless, Herring and "Handsome" Saunders (captain.) This event proved a most desperate struggle and was watched with intense interest. The Trunks proved too much for the Grips, pulling them over the scratch in two straights, though not without hard work. Prize, two boxes of cigars. The Trunks, elated with victory, were inclined to be generous, and the defeated Grips probably got as many of the cigars as their conquerors.

Three gentlemen, whose knowledge of the subject in hand was thorough and impartiality unquestioned, were appointed a committee with power to select the "best looking lady on the grounds." With such a galaxy of youth and beauty to choose from the task called for the nicest discrimination. Late in the afternoon they still had three of the fair ones within the pale of eligibility, and after much learned discussion on the relative merits of the trio, decided that the fine rubber circular offered should adorn the handsome personage of Miss Hattie Rapley, of Strathroy.

Three ladies were also empowered to exercise their judgment upon the travelers present in a like contest. As in the other, it was a painstaking duty, for travelers taken as a class, are endowed with a fair share of external embellishment; the truth of which statement can be verified by asking any of them. The ladies finally came to the conclusion that Mr. Charles W. Saunders, of John Green & Co., had been the most kindly favored by nature. Mr. Saunders received the prize valise, and accepted the verdict with a modest conviction of the good taste of the judges.

A gold-headed cane presented by Mr. C. W. Davis, of the Tecumseh House, to the most popular traveler was balloted for by members of the profession at, the Fraser House until 4:45 p.m. The voting was close, as may be supposed with so many favorites in the field. Mr. Albert Neighorn, local representative of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Company, carried off first honors. The prize for the best comic song was captured by genial Mr. John R. Herald, who warbled "The Irish Jubilee" in splendid voice.

Supper was provided for the guests at the Fraser House, while private luncheon parties dotted the picnic grounds. The first train for home left at 8:50 p.m. Prior to its departure the "boys" formed in line on the hill, marshaled by John Herald, assisted by Vice-Presidents Tait and Conroy, and marched down to the station, with the band playing lively airs. Arrived there, they performed an imitation Indian war dance to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne," and vented the remaining joviality in ringing cheers. Then the rush was made for the cars, thirteen of which, jammed to the door, composed the first train. A second with as many more on board left shortly afterwards, and was followed by another at 11 o'clock. The W. O. C. T. A. members, accompanied by the band, paraded again on their arrival home, via King, Wellington and Dundas streets, thence to the Masonic Temple rooms, where, after a few formalities, they dispersed to enjoy their allotted hours of sleep, as did the hundreds of others who returned tired but happy.

NOTES.

Frank Love sprained his ankle.

"Redpath" can run as well as shoot.

J. R. Herald makes a fine looking drum-major.

The guests were supplied with neat badges.

Hon. Secretary A. Neighorn, was a busy man all day.

The steamer Ruby carried passengers to and fro on the lake.

Many of the brethren were present from Toronto and adjacent places.

Charles W. Saunders would like to learn the name of the three ladies who pronounced on his good looks.

Bert. Leys, by request, favored the smoking car occupants with comic songs on the return trip.

The scenes on the London and Port Stanley station platform at train times were animated.

Constable Logan looked after the interests of law and order. He reported the crowd as a model of sobriety.

J. B. Dignam says he had a four-days' handicap on the good-looking contest, because he neglected to apply the razor.

The employes of the Hobbs Hardware Company, London Furniture Company and D. S. Perrin Company took advantage of the day to hold their annual outing.

T. B. Parkinson, the winner of the green race, bolted in with such impetus that he ran against the dancing shed, spraining his wrist and otherwise bruising himself.

Letters of regret were received from C. S. Hyman, M.P., Hon. John Carling, Judge Elliot, Dr. Roome, M.P., J. Burns (president Travelers' Association of Canada), and M. R. Loughlin (President Northwest Association).

To the following picnic committee all honor is due for its excellent work: W. S. Case, P. J. Conroy, R. Tait, W. Grey, J. W. Herald, H. Line, C. H. Firth, Wm. Ward, J. Pocock, J. A. Smith, J. J. The best cattle sold at 4½c, while the lower grades varied from 3c to 3½c. The latter price was for young cattle, what the dealers call "stockers." Sheep sold at from $3 50 to $7 each, and lambs at $2 75 to $4 25; calves, $3 to $10 each, and fat hogs in demand at from 5½c to 5¾c per lb, very few remaining.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., July 27.—Cattle—There were 320 loads of fresh arrivals and about 35 loads of held-over stock. Part of the latter came in Thursday. The market opened very dull and dragging for all kinds, with the common grades much lower. Exporters took a few of the best tops, and some of the best heavy shippers sold at prices 10c to 15c lower than last week. Old cows, thin heifers, and fair, light butchers' steers of 900 to 1,050 lbs were very slow, and 50c per cwt lower than last week, while there was a quantity of coarse green cattle that buyers would not bid on at all. Best thick fat steers, of 1,350 to 1,450 lbs, brought $5 60 to $5 90; good to choice, same quality, of 1,250 to 1,325 lbs, $5 15 to $5 50; medium weight corn fed, of 1,150 to 1,225 lbs, $4 35 to $4 90, with good, fat, tidy butchers' steers, smooth and fat, of 1,000 to 1,125 lbs, $3 75 to $4 25, some coarse 1,125 lb steers, but fat, bringing $3 75 to $3 90. Old to good lots of cows were lowest of any, and sold $2 to $2 25 for common to fair and $2 to $3 for good to prime; bulls in fair supply and lower; 50 good lots of butchers' $2 25 to $2 60; light and sausage, $2 to $2 25; good to choice fat, $2 75 to $3; extra smooth, $3 25. The bulk of the better grades were sold, but a good many common held over. Offerings of milch cows and springers about fifteen cars; market fully $2 per head lower for the best lots, and more for common to fair. The best demand was for springers of two to three weeks off; good to choice at $35 to $38; extra, $40 to $42; common to good, $20 to $33; dairy cows, $15 to $18 per head; all the best cows were sold. Stockers and feeders in liberal supply, and ranged in quality from common, thin, light yearlings to fairly good, half-fat feeders. There was a fair demand. Prices for good desirable lots were without decided change, but poor went a-begging and some held over. Good to choice stockers, 700 to 899 lbs, $2 65 to $2 80; extra fine and smooth, $3; yearlings and light stockers, $2 25 to $2 50; good feeders, $3 to $3 25. Veals and calves—The supply of calves was about 600 head. The market weakened from early sales, and all but the very best lots were lower. Good to prime veals brought $5 25 to $5 50; common to fair, $4 25 to $5; heavy-fed calves, $2 75 to $3 25. Sheep and lambs—Receipts about twenty cars. Market fairly active for good lots. Prices on both sheep and lambs advanced owing to the light supply and fair demand. Choice lambs, $5 25 to $6 40; fair to good, $5 50 to $6; best sheep, $5 to $5 25; fair to good $4 25 to $5 85; about all sold.

Hogs—Receipts 45 cars. Market a trifle firmer for strictly corn-fed grades, but very dull and slow for common and grassy stock. There was no York demand to speak of. No demand for common. Good to choice corn-fed Yorkers, $5 75 to $5 95; a few choice heavy York weights, $6; fair Yorkers partly corn-fed, $5 60 to $5 70; grassers, $5 25 to $5 60; good mediums, corn-fed, $5 90 to $6; common, grassy and dairy-fed, $5 50 to $5 75. Pigs—Slow: good corn-fed, $5 25 to $5 40; common to fair, $4 50 to $5; roughs, stags, etc., as quoted in our range of prices. About all the best hogs sold, but some common held over.

BRANTFORD, July 27.—At the cheese market held last week ten factories boarded 1,450 boxes. Five hundred boxes of the Attercliffe factory sold at 8 11-16c, and 130 boxes of the Boston factory sold at 9c. Offerings for the balance were from 8 9-16c, but no sales were made. Six buyers were present. The next market will be held on Aug. 6.

A BAD MISTAKE.

It is a bad mistake for any young man, income voter, owner's son, or citizen who has moved within the last few months to suppose that his name will be on the voters' list if he does not personally look after the matter.

But three or four days remain in which to make assurance doubly sure, and avoid having to go personally before the revising barrister.

Every such person, especially young men qualifying on income or as owner's sons, should visit the Liberal rooms, Oddfellows' block, and register in legal form. The officer is in attendance from 2 to 5 and from 8 to 10 p.m., every lawful evening.

Save your vote now and you will not be disappointed on election day.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Discussion on Claims of the Veterans of 1837-38.

OTTAWA, July 27.—In the House to-day Mr. Sutherland obtained permission to introduce a bill respecting the Ontario Express and Transportation Company. He explained that the company was incorporated by a Dominion act in 1878 and had been engaged in business. There had been a reorganization this year, and the present bill was to remove all doubt of the validity of that reorganization.

Mr. Lister elicited information about the receipts of the Sault Ste. Marie wharf and the salary of the wharfinger. The wharf was kept in repair by the Government.

PAYMENT OF CIVIL SERVANTS' SALARIES.

To Mr. McMullen's interesting question seeking information of the time when the present system of paying civil servants came into operation, the system under which have been perpetrated the departmental frauds, Mr. Foster replied that the Government does not intend to make any change, that it is quite satisfactory. It was the rule until the Auditor-General's office was established that pay sheets had had to be executed by each civil service officer, whether temporary or permanent, in payment of salary. Under the present system the salaries are paid by checks and the indorsation on the back is the receipt.

EAST BRUCE'S REPRESENTATIVE.

Mr. Truax had four questions on the order paper. Two of them, relating to the customs office at Walkerton, were allowed to stand because of the absence from the House of the Minister of Customs. The other two obtained from the Government the services rendered for the bills paid last year from the Dominion Treasury to Shaw & Shaw, of Walkerton, for $183, and A. B. Klein, also of Walkerton, for $319. These lawyers find profitable employment in the Indian cases in Bruce county courts, and, as will be seen, have a reason for their activity in politics.

FINAL REVISION OF VOTERS' LISTS.

Mr. Frechette asked: Is it the intention of the Government to extend the limit of time for the completion of preliminary lists in view of final revision of the voters' lists?

Sir John Thompson replied that there was a bill before the House with that object and he hoped it would be reached to-morrow. The bill provides for the extension from the 1st to the 15th of August.

THE QUEBEC BRIDGE.

Mr. Fremont, who is the mayor of the city of Quebec, asked whether it is the intention of the Government to initiate this session any measure calculated to assist in the construction of a bridge over the River St. Lawrence at or in the vicinity of the city of Quebec. Sir Hector Langevin replied in the negative.

THE DUTY ON SIR HECTOR'S PLATE.

Mr. Davidson asked what amount was paid as duty on the plate presented to the Minister of Public Works in March, 1889, who paid such duty, and in whose name was said plate imported.

Mr. Haggart, replying for the Minister of Customs, said the amount was $329 30, and that the importation was made through A. Rosenthal, jeweler, Ottawa.

COMMENTS ON COMMENTS.

Mr. Davin obtained an order of the House for a return of the estimates of the Indian Department, Regina, for 1888-89, the revision of such estimates by inspectors McGibbon and Wadsworth; the comments on such revision by the Hon. Edgar Dewdney; the comments on such comments by Mr. Vankoughnet, Deputy-Minister of Indian Affairs; the comments on all by the late Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior.

A PREVENTIVE OFFICER'S DISMISSAL.

An order of the House was given Mr. German for a return of all correspondence, letters or papers in any way connected with the dismissal in June, 1884 of one Samuel Johnston from his position as a preventive officer in her Majesty's customs for the station from Clifton to Dunnville.

MR. DAVIN'S DISCONTENT.

Mr. Davin will not proceed this session with his proposed resolution which declared that:

"Whereas, notwithstanding the liberal policy of the Government of Sir John Macdonald pursued in regard to the Northwest Territories, and the well established fact of the great fertility of the country, their settlement has not reached the proportions expected, this House is of opinion that a policy can be devised which will more rapidly people those territories."

He remains discontented with the administration of the Northwest, but withholds the motion of which he gave notice because of the lateness of the session.

COL. HERCHMER'S MACHINATIONS.

Mr. Davin returned to his attack on the commissioner of the Northwest Mounted Police with bitterness increased since last session by the efforts the colonel made at the elections to secure his defeat. His this year's resolution asks:

"That an address be presented to his Excellency the Governor-General praying that he will be pleased to cause an inquiry to be made into the conduct of Lawrence W. Herchmer, commissioner of the Northwest Mounted Police, generally from the date he became commissioner to the present time and especially with reference to his conduct during the last election in Western Assiniboia and also into the conduct of the officers and men of the force in the said constituency during that election."

Referring to the charges he had made at the last session of Parliament against Col. Herchmer, Mr. Davin said an inquiry had been held, but as the comptroller, White, who conducted it, had not authority to examine witness under oath, as the witnesses were subordinate officers of the accused, and as in the debate out of which the inquiry had arisen the superintendent-general of the police and the Prime Minister had spoken favorably of the accused, the witness thought it would "be like going to law with the devil in the court of hell." Under these circumstances he could not expect the report would show the true state of affairs. When the elections came on he worked tooth and nail for his defeat. Mr. Davin telegraphed Mr. White and Sir John Macdonald, and an order was sent to the commissioner that he must not interfere. This order had been ignored. He wrote a letter, which was sent to every division, which said, "The police are at liberty to vote as they like, but I am in favor of Tweed." Tweed, too, was a Conservative candidate. At Maple Creek he went so far, Mr. Davin said, as to keep in friends of his (Mr. Davin's). At Maple Creek whisky was given by the other candidate's friends to the halfbreeds and they were then sent to vote. This had been pointed out to him (Mr. Davin, who was at Maple Creek that day), and he refused to stop them voting for Tweed, as he said he could.

Mr. Watson (with a smile)—How?

A member—By another glass of better whisky. (Laughter.)

Mr. Davin (to the member for Marquette)—I don't want to put him up to an electioneering wrinkle, which is probably new to him, and that he might not have virtue to resist as I did. (Laughter.)

Proceeding he told of the persecutions which, after the elections, the commissioner had put upon the officers and men in the force who had voted for him.

Mr. Laurier commented on the action taken by Mr. Davin. If a grievance existed it should be investigated, but Parliament was the place to have the evidence taken on oath, and if the honorable gentleman, instead of asking, as he now asked, for a royal commission, or as he did last year for a simple departmental investigation, had moved for a Parliamentary inquiry there would have been a better chance for arriving at the truth and of having the grievance thoroughly investigated. Last year the honorable gentleman made very serious charges against an officer of the Department of the Interior, and he was promised a departmental inquiry. Now he was promised another investigation, but had he any reason to believe that investigation would be more formal or more effectual than the one made last year, or that more justice would be done? He agreed that there should be careful inquiry in this young nation, but this was the place to investigate the charges. If the honorable gentleman were to ask for a committee to investigate the charges, that would be the best way of arriving at the truth of the matter. The honorable gentleman had complained of the interference of the public officers in elections. Well, he was glad to see that the Liberal party had the sympathy of a prominent member of the Conservative party on that question. As the charge was between two Conservatives and not between a Liberal and Conservative he (Mr. Laurier) looked upon it with the more satisfaction. Perhaps the honorable gentleman would see that the interference of public officers in elections was not to be tolerated in this country. (Cheers.)

Mr. Davin, in view of the promise of Sir John Thompson that a further inquiry would be made into the circumstances, announced that he would withdraw the motion.

Sir John Thompson declared that no officer could remain in the service of the Government who used such language as had been attributed by L'Etendard to the commissioner of the Northwest police.

TO REORGANIZE VETERANS.

Mr. Kirkpatrick introduced a motion which raised the old loyalism, the old heroism and the old spirit in favor of civil liberty and constitutional government, which the family compact endeavored to trample to the dust. The member for Frontenac moved:

"That in the opinion of this House it is expedient that the Government should bestow some mark of recognition upon the veterans of 1837 and 1838 for their services to the country at that time.

The motion was supported by Mr. Allison, Col. Tisdale, Col. Dennison and others.

Mr. Somerville remarked that when this matter was before the House some years ago he opposed the motion on the ground that the House should take no step of the kind unless it was prepared to reward those who were the rebels. He took the same ground now. We should reward the men who were instrumental in securing Upper and Lower Canada justice, the men who were instrumental in gaining civil and religious liberty for this Dominion to-day. Had it not been for the action taken by the rebels in 1839 it was possible that they might have been living now as they were then under the iron heel of oppression. All honor to William Lyon Mackenzie to-day. Mackenzie and Papineau were names to be revered in the very homes of the people of the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario. (Cheers.) Mr. Somerville reminded the House that this House had voted for a monument to one of the rebels of 1837—had voted $10,000 to George E. Cartier. If we turned to Lord Durham's report we would find that when he came out to investigate the causes of the rebellion he reported that the rebellion was justifiable. He would oppose this motion and trusted that everybody in the House would see that no injustice was being done.

After recess Mr. Charlton's bill on Sunday observance was defeated by a vote of 63 to 18.

He Fell Among Thieves

Mr. Humphrey Frost was introduced to the distinguished traveler, and shook hands with him without a suspicion of his identity.

"Mr. Morton," said Lady McCorquodale, "was with our poor dear Harry at his death. The poor boy was shot down at his side, and Mr. Morton himself was dangerously wounded at the same moment."

At this Frost began to question warmly, and whilst the conversation was still going on a smooth gentleman of foreign exterior, with a scarcely perceptible foreign accent, approached the pair and drew the millionaire away.

"You will understand, Mr. Morton," said her stately ladyship, "how very natural it is that your return to England should bring poor Harry to our minds again. He was always our favorite, and we can never forget him, but there is a freshness about his memory." The old lady's dark eyes were suspiciously brilliant, but she continued with her usual dignity. "He did not know what he was running away from. It is quite possible that if he had lived he would have been the head of the family. My father is ninety-nine years of age, Mr. Morton, and in the course of nature he cannot last much longer, but in constitution he is scarcely older than Lord Hounes. Charles Seaforth, Lord Hounes' son is a confirmed valetudinarian. He has been married thirteen years, and has no family. Colonel Seaforth, poor Harry's uncle, who was next in line, is dead, though his life seemed to be worth the other three put together. And so you see if the poor foolish boy had lived he would have been very near to the earldom of Bridgebourne now. You must forgive me for speaking of these things to you, but Harry was a comrade of yours, and I can see that you cared for him. You will not be impatient at the recital of an old woman's trouble."

How little, he thought, he had known that they all cared him. Half the past was obliterated in his mind. He forgot and was willing to forget the angry opposition which her ladyship had offered to him. That at least was buried with the past.

That sunburned and massive exterior the traveler had brought back with him showed nothing of the tender riot in his heart. He and Inthia had saluted each other to all appearance after the most casual and commonplace fashion. But he could not for his soul keep out of his eyes for the one brief second during which they rested upon hers, a hint of the worship which filled his mind. She had grown to be a finished woman of the world, and was not to be scared out of her self-possession by any ardent glance. Her looks were all the cooler for it, but the glance fluttered her strangely. She wondered a little that she was not angered by it, it seemed so full of a meaning which no stranger had a right to express to her. She was not in the least angry, except with herself; but she could command no anger. On the contrary she felt an almost overpowering curiosity about the man, and instinctively looked after him again. That instinct of the eye, the working of which everybody has experienced, warned Harry of her gaze. Their eyes met point blank, and flashed an untranslatable message from each to each. She felt a vivid blush dye her very throat and forehead, and turned hastily away. He, knowing that his glance had frightened her, abused himself savagely, and tried to pin himself down to the vivacious chatter of Lady Mabel, who was pressing a small pocket portfolio upon him.

"It is quite a gem in its way," said her ladyship, musingly. "There is nothing here, Mr. Morton, which purchasers dare criticise, unless, indeed, they are armed with feminine terrors. All these objects of beauty are the work of our own hands. This portefeuille is mine." She made a pretty pretense of surprise on opening it. "No. I must not steal a sister artist's credit. This is Miss Grey's embroidery. I recognize it by its neatness. My own style has more bravura in it. It is only five pounds. Surely you need no persuasion."

He needed none, indeed. At that moment he would have given all he owned for the possession of any trifle which had actually felt the touch of Inthia's fingers. He paid the five pounds, and the elegant trifle was his own. He put his hand to his breast pocket, and drew out the little leather wallet which held Inthia's last letter. His heart so overflowed over the old souvenir and the new that his fingers and his bearded lips both trembled. That wonderful instinct of the eye struck him again, and he looked up through a thin, swift flash of tears. Once more he met Inthia's glance, and again she blushed beneath it, and turned away in a new wonder and confusion. How dared the man to look at her, and why did she not resent it? Why did she even feel a pleasure in it? A raw country girl would have known better how to preserve her dignity.

Lady Mabel was holding up the note in half-coquettish, secret triumph to Lady McCorquodale, so that she and the old lady saw nothing of this rapid byplay. Inthia was quite unnerved, and fell with shaking fingers to arranging some trifles about the stall.

At this point Humphrey Frost came providentially back again, and renewed the broken talk. Harry could speak with him, at least without betraying the emotions which filled him. By and by Lady Mabel broke in upon them.

"After your presence at a fancy fair, Mr. Morton, your profession of recluse will not be allowed to serve you. A fancy fair, except for the stall-keepers, is the most frivolous of town amusements. A ball, by comparison, is quite a solemn function. I shall really expect to see you at Milne House on Friday. I have received a response to my invitation beginning, 'Mr. Ronald Morton regrets,' and bearing lithography upon its face. Now that shows that you are declining invitations wholesale, but really I expect you to reconsider your determination."

"You will be at Lady Mabel's ball, Miss Grey?" said Frost, leaning across the counter.

"We are dissipating terribly this week," Inthia answered, with an almost feverish brightness. "We have three days of the fancy fair, the garden party at Lambeth Palace on Thursday, and Lady Mabel's ball on Friday."

"Come, Mr. Morton," said Lady Mabel, pray consent to bear the penalties of your position. If you are a shy lion I promise that you shall not be over-hunted."

"I shall be delighted," said Harry, "to accept your invitation."

Inthia experienced a new disturbance. She had actually indicated her intended whereabouts, and it looked to her as if she had offered an appointment. The man had certainly accepted it. And even yet she was not angry. Lady Mabel enjoyed quite a reputation as a lively and agreeable chatterbox, and once having found that the new lion, in spite of his scar and his other reminiscences of the desert, was clawless, she played about him with all the popgun artillery of her conversational charms. At something she said Frost broke into a decorous laugh, and Harry, whose spirits were at something like fever heat, took it up in less conventional fashion. He had always had a jolly and infectious laugh, and had not of late years been accustomed to confine it within drawing-room limits. It rang out over the hum of talk, and two or three score of people turned to look at him. Inthia found Lady McCorquodale regarding her almost with a look of terror, and at that became conscious of her own aspect. Both hands had gone to her heart, and she was standing with parted lips and frightened eyes.

The laugh was so like Harry's.

When she had first seen Mr. Ronald Morton he had brought Harry to her mind. The laugh brought him back again even more vividly. The look the stranger had bent upon her had been like Harry's. A mad, half-formed fancy made her limbs tremble. She knew how foolish and how wild it was, and put if from her mind, but she knew now the source of the interest the traveler excited in her. The tones of his voice had now and then a hint of Harry's in them. His eyes wore a look of Harry—a resemblance fugitive, but strong. She understood her own feeling, and in that knowledge became mistress of herself again.

CHAPTER XVII.

At about six o'clock that evening M. Vergueil, strolling leisurely into the vestibule of the hotel, saw there a man in a velvet skull-cap of dark blue seated in a little go-cart. He was in animated conversation with the hall porter, and the detective, turning his back upon him, studied the addresses of the telegrams exposed in a glass case upon the wall.

"Gilfoil," said the man in the go-cart, in a strong Americann tone. "Gilead C. Gilfoil, to see Ronald Morton. That's my card, and it's got to go up stairs."

"Well, sir, I've told you already," the hall-keeper answered, "that Mr. Morton's orders are imperative. Your name, sir, is not on the list."

"I sha'n't leave till I've seen him," the man in the go-cart responded, "and if you won't take up my card, you'll have to take up a note. Get me an envelope."

The man obeyed, and whilst he was away M. Vergueil continued his study of the telegrams in the glass case. Mr. Gilfoil penciled a line or two upon a leaf torn from his pocket-book, put his brief missive into the envelope handed to him by the hall porter, and was in the act of addressing it, when a young man of commonplace exterior came down the stair-case, fluttering a sheet of paper in his hand."

"That's the amended list," he said, addressing the hall-porter. "There are two or three new names on it. You'll find the additions at the bottom."

No Disappointment.

Disappointments of one kind and another crop up all along life's pathway, for unfortunately it is the unexpected that always happens. There is at least one article of acknowledged merit that never disappoints. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure to remove the worst corns in a few days, and as no claim is made that it will cure anything else, it cannot disappoint. If you have hard or soft corns just try it. Beware of the article "just as good." N. C. POLSON & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

Clouds consist simply of water divided into minute globules or drops. They differ in no essential respect from the steam emitted by the tea kettle or the mists and fogs that fill river valleys at sunrise. These forms of water are all produced in the same way.

Hair Magic

Is a good name of Dr. Dorenwend's German preparation for the hair. It really works like magic. All who have used it pronounce it to be unequaled for remedying the lost vitality of the hair roots, restoring gray hair, removing dandruff, etc. Just try it. It is first-class. All druggists sell it

The British Admiralty has resolved to give $20,000 to Admiral Colomb for his invention for flashing light signals.

Mr. J. K. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto, sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so, too.

The United States collects $639 and spends $461 every minute of the night and day.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills, as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of and other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Each of the 1,500 street cars of New York earned $20 a day last year.

—Quite a large congregation assembled in the Saints' Church, Maitland street, to hear Elder J. B. Watson, St. Marys. His text was: "Not everyone that saith Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom, but he that doeth the will of his Father who is in heaven." Mr. Watson is a fine speaker, and held the close attention of his audience from the start.

—A dozen or so of Londoners are real mad. They visited Cleveland, intending to return home via Joe Milton, which is announced to leave that city at 2 p.m. Sunday. When they arrived at the wharf the steamer was seen in the distance homeward bound, having left, as the would-be passengers claimed, fifteen minutes earlier than was appointed. Several of them arrived home by way of Detroit yesterday morning.

—Mr. Ed. Green, who has presided at the First Congregational Church organ for the past year, having arranged to proceed to Europe shortly to continue his musical studies, the trustees of the church have engaged the services of Mrs. Sanderson, who was for five years organist of the First Congregational Church in Kingston, Ont. Mrs. Sanderson, who comes highly recommended, will no doubt prove a valuable addition to the musical talent of the city. Her duties commence about the third Sunday in August.

Where Is the Inspector?

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I see that Contractor Beckett for the Richmond street block pavement is using a common farm roller not weighing more than 1,000 pounds, when the specifications call for a roller not weighing less than 3,000 pounds. Why should this be allowed?

To nearly all men a good cigar is an invaluable companion, but a bad one is intolerable. The latter may be easily avoided by procuring a brand that is recognized by the smoking public as above reproach. The leading favorite in the race is the Highland Lassie, a 5-cent cigar, and one of the choicest makes on the market. H. McKay & Co., this city, are the manufacturers, and their shipments extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Lonely Ending of an Old Man's Life—Hugh Williamson's Dead Body Found Partially Decomposed.

Mr. Nicholas Wilson, merchant tailor, made a ghastly discovery at an early hour Sunday morning. For several days he wondered what had become of Hugh Williamson, the old man whose duty it was to clean up his store, and whom he had not seen since Tuesday night. Mr. Wilson, who lives near by, accordingly betook himself to Williamson's home on the river road below the waterworks at the time mentioned. Finding the door locked and getting no reply to repeated calls he forced his way in. Striking a light he found his way to a bedroom and was horrified on discovering the dead body of the old man in the early stage of putrefaction, the face giving evidences of having been gnawed by rats. He had died in bed, for the remains were covered with three or four blankets with the head exposed.

Word was instantly sent to the authorities by Mr. Wilson, and Corner Flock hastily empanneled a jury, the members of which viewed the body. It was buried Sunday in Oakland Cemetery. An inquest will be held Wednesday night. For sanitary reasons the blankets and the old man's clothes were burned. Williamson was well known in the city, where he did odd jobs, and was remarkably lively for a person 78 years of age. He was an enthusiastic member of the Orange Order. The victim lived entirely alone.

Of Course It's a Woman.

The hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rocks the world.

The mother, sitting beside and rocking the cradle, often singing her sad lullaby, may be thus shaping, as it were, the destinies of nations. But if diseases, consequent on motherhood, have borne her down, and sapped her life, how mournful will be her song. To cheer the mother, brighten her life, and brighten her song Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, has, after long experience, compounded a remedy which he has called his "Favorite Prescription," because ladies preferred it to all others. He guarantees it to cure nervousness, neuralgic pains, bearing-down pains, irregularities, weakness, or prolapsus, headache, or any of the ailments of the female organs. What he asks is, that the ladies shall give it a fair trial, and satisfaction is assured. Money refunded, if it doesn't give satisfaction.

Cleveland is happy in the possession of a deaf mute policeman.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

A brown rat with a blue tail has been seen in Cincinnati.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.
