

SUNDAY CARS TO PORT, APRIL 24 ANNOUNCEMENT IS NOW MADE

Beginning Sunday Next the London and Lake Erie Railway and Transportation Company Will Operate a Regular Schedule—First Car Will Leave at 7 o'clock in the Morning.

Sunday cars will be run to Port Stanley and St. Thomas on Sunday next.

The management of the London and Lake Erie Railway and Transportation Company, known formerly as the Southwestern Traction Company, today announced that the regular Sunday schedule will be commenced on Sunday next, April 24.

The first car out of London will start at 7 a.m., and cars will be run at regular hourly intervals from that time until the evening.

The fare will be the regular week-end fare, which will allow for a return on Monday, as at the present time.

MANAGEMENT CONFIDENT.

The Dominion charter gives the company undoubted rights to operate cars on the Sabbath, the management claim, and there will be no attempt to interfere with the company.

"We will operate cars on Sunday, commencing on Sunday next," said Manager Mowbray, who was asked by The Advertiser concerning the company's plans. "We will run the regular daily schedule as in operation at the present time. We expect no trouble, as our charter covers the ground thoroughly. We have decided that the week-end fares will operate on this day."

CASE OF THE P. M.

"There is nothing to prevent the Pere Marquette operating cars to Port Stanley on Sunday."

This statement was made by a prominent lawyer, who is widely read on railroad law, to The Advertiser, today.

"The road is operated under a Dominion charter, the same as the Grand Trunk, the C. P. R., or any other company," he continued. "The management have undoubted rights to run trains on Sunday. More recently, the London and Lake Erie Company were granted the right to operate cars on Sunday. All are under Dominion charter, and if the Pere Marquette so decide, I fancy there is nothing to prevent them."

"So far as the agreement with the city is concerned, I fancy there is nothing to prevent Sunday cars. The contract, as I read it, compels the company to maintain a certain schedule every day, Sunday excepted, but there is nothing in that to prevent the company running on Sunday."

DID NOT PAY FORMERLY.

The same gentleman expressed his opinion that Sunday cars were abandoned on the L. & P. E. R. not because of legal difficulties, but because they would not pay. If the company are of the opinion that they will pay, there is nothing to prevent them from running, if they so desire.

As for handling coal on Sunday, there is not so much certainty, although it is understood that they can do so.

Mayor Beattie is awaiting the opinion of City Solicitor Meredith on the subject before calling a meeting of the L. & P. E. R. board to deal with the request of the company. This opinion will be ready in a very few days, and then a meeting will be called.

POINT TO BE SETTLED.

"It merely depends on whether or not the Dominion railway commission have control of the road," said Mayor Beattie. "If they have, there is no reason why cars should not be operated on the first day of the week. I have not received Mr. Meredith's opinion as yet, but when we do I will call a meeting of the board."

"It does seem an injustice to the company to have a rival company run cars to the Port, and be prevented from so doing. If one has the right, the other should have the same right. There are a number of things to be considered by the board when the matter comes up, and we will canvass the situation thoroughly."

BOARD OF TRADE BANQUET WILL BE A VERY BRILLIANT AFFAIR

President Hays of the Grand Trunk Railway Will Respond to the Toast, "Imperial Transportation Development"—Prof. Adam Shortt and Mr. J. P. Downey, M. P. P., Will Also Be Heard.

The Board of Trade banquet on Thursday evening promises to be one of the most successful ever given by the board. There will be about 300 members present, and no expense has been spared to give the guests a good time.

Mr. Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, will respond to the toast of "Imperial Transportation Development," which will be given by Prof. Adam Shortt.

The toast, "Canada," will be taken by Mr. J. P. Downey, M. P. P., of Guelph, and "Commercial Interests" will be replied to by Prof. Adam Shortt, chairman of the civil service commission.

There will also be a toast to "Visiting Bureaus" and Mayor Beattie will be asked to reply on behalf of the city of London.

A number of out-of-town visitors will be present at the banquet, including Mr. D. E. Hoste, Esq., the general director of the mission at Shanghai, which, when decoded, reads as follows:

All missions at Chang Sha rioted; all destroyed. Prior results: personal effects all lost. China Inland Mission workers arrived safely at Hankow, with the exception of Dr. F. A. Keller and Mr. O. Hollenweger, remaining at Chang Sha for the present, on board the steamer. Position is not encouraging in the whole district."

It will be noted that no reference is made to the report of a collision with a gunboat on the river, and so it is concluded that the damage, if any, was not very serious.

CHILD THREW STONE
BIG ROW WAS RESULT

Story of How Two Families Fought Themselves in the Police Court.

Because little Ethel Niles, aged 8, of Hamilton road east, threw a stone at little Gertrude Barnes, aged 11, when she was going to the shoemaker's one day recently, a row resulted which brought both families into the police court this morning, and ended by Mrs. Niles being bound over in the sum of $100 to keep the peace.

It was alleged that Mrs. Niles had kicked Gertrude Barnes also, after hearing the evidence. Magistrate Love told Mrs. Niles that she should have tried to make the children friendly towards each other, instead of acting as she had, and bound her over to keep the peace.

Judgment Reserved.

At Osgoode Hall, before Chief Justice Meredith, re Birkbeck Loan Company, an appeal by Mrs. Daniel from the local judge at London, judgment was reserved.

STORM ON NORTH SEA.

Cuxhaven, April 20.—A wild storm is raging over the North Sea today. Shipping generally is harbor bound. The Holland steamer Nord Holland, a coaster, arrived here in a damaged condition this afternoon.

A BALLAST TRAIN DROPPED INTO LAKE

Four Perished in Disaster On Transcontinental Construction Near La Tuque.

Quebec, April 19.—According to the latest news the catastrophe on the Transcontinental Railway happened at Lake MacDonald, 40 miles from La Tuque. A viaduct built on the shores of the lake at a height of 75 feet, fell down under the weight of a ballast train composed of six wagons heavily loaded, and 40 men were precipitated into the lake, which is 15 feet deep. Four men were crushed to death and 22 others were more or less injured. The others escaped.

MERCURY WAS CLOSE TO FREEZING POINT

Dropped to One Degree Above Last Night—Cold Weather To Be Expected.

The mercury dropping within one degree of the freezing point last night. Quite a quantity of snow fell, and there was a chilly breeze pervading the air, which made Londoners seek the warmth of their firesides. Very few people were out and the streets were quiet.

The indications point to a clearing up, but continued cool weather. This morning the temperature had gone up a little. At 8 o'clock it registered 38 degrees.

HARBOR AT PORT IS GREATLY IMPROVED

Kettle Creek Dredged at the Mouth—Big Dock Being Built.

A channel 200 feet wide and 16 feet deep has been dredged in Kettle Creek at the bridge where the docks of the Ontario Navigation Company are being built at Port Stanley.

For some days the government had had a dredge at work. The stream has been widened from 135 to 200 feet, and has been dredged a uniform depth of 16 feet.

The dock is being rapidly built, and will be ready for occupancy by May 24. "We will have the Forest City at our docks before May 24, and we will commence operations then," said Mr. Mowbray. "Everything is being rapidly pushed forward."

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY SPENT PLEASANT EVENING

A Splendid Address Given by Sheriff Cameron—A New Departure.

The first of a series of meetings arranged by St. Andrew's Society, was held last night in the Foresters' Hall.

President Alex. Fraser presided. The purpose of the society is to hold an evening of a social nature periodically and stimulate interest in matters pertaining to Scotland.

Sheriff Cameron gave an address on "The Ballad Poetry of a Lost Cause," having special reference to the literature incident to the uprisings of 1715 and 1745.

Songs were admirably rendered by Messrs. Patterson and Meldrum.

A most enjoyable evening was spent, and many interesting remarks were made during the evening.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC ENGINEERS APPROVE ALL THE CONTRACTS

Tenderers Want Three Months From Date of Signing Contracts in Which to Deliver the Goods—A Compromise May Be Reached.

All the contracts for machinery for the power station have been approved by the hydro-electric commission's engineers, and are ready for signature. The contracts will be forwarded to London today, or tomorrow, and will be signed.

Everything is satisfactory, according to information received, with the exception of the date for delivery. The commissioners want the goods delivered within three months of the date of the awarding of contracts, while the companies interested want three months from the signing of the contract.

There is about a month's difference, and that will have considerable bearing on the date of the completion of the power station here.

However, it is anticipated that a compromise will be reached between the parties.

INSURANCE RATES MAY NOW BE CUT BY UNDERWRITERS

It Is the Opinion That Inspector Howe's Visit Will Result in an Amelioration of Conditions—Inspector Secured Data for the Insurance Man.

The visit of Inspector Howe, of the underwriters, to the city, is considered preliminary to the opening of negotiations between the underwriters and the civic bodies looking towards a lowering of the insurance rates of the city.

The last visit of Mr. Howe was when the key rate was raised the last time, and the presence of the inspector is taken to mean that the underwriters are preparing either to lower the rates or give reasons why they should remain as they are.

According to reports, Mr. Howe did not test the water pressure on his previous visit.

The Water Pressure.

He discovered that there was but 22 pounds pressure, although 42 pounds were registered elsewhere. Since that time the normal pressure is about 60 pounds, but the inspector apparently took no notice of that fact.

"I think the work is preliminary to opening up the question of insurance rates," said Mr. John M. Moore, engineer of the waterworks. "Mr. Howe is obtaining information as to the capacity of the new pumping station, capacity of the wells, etc., and these facts will be presented to the underwriters for their information."

He has no doubt that the underwriters will come to London within a reasonable time and discuss rates with us," said Commissioner Pocock. "There is no reason why they should be kept pressure according to his own ideas, so high as they are."

SEQUEL TO KILLING OF SCOTT ACTION TO RECOVER THE FARM

Wesley Scott Sues the Executor of the Will of His Father Who Was Shot and Killed by the Wife of the Plaintiff—Thorndale Case Again in the Public Eye.

An interesting case which will come up at the next sitting of the high court is that of Scott vs. Vining, an echo of the Harvey Scott tragedy at Thorndale.

Wesley Scott, a son of Harvey Scott, the old man who was killed by his daughter-in-law, is suing the executor of the estate, Joseph Vining, to recover possession of the farm. The writ was issued by Mr. J. A. McEvoy.

Another high court action is that of McRoberts vs. C. P. R. The plaintiff's son, a Glencoe young man, was working on a bridge gang at Windsor and was killed by an engine backing in on him.

Negligence is claimed on the part of the plaintiff.

Unstated damages are sought.

JOE WARD RELEASED HAS SERVED HIS TERM

Man Who Got Into Trouble in a Scuffle Is Once Again Free.

Joseph Ward was released from the county jail Tuesday afternoon.

He was sentenced to a year for manslaughter, and had been in jail Oct. 7. He has been in jail practically a year, however.

It will be remembered that Ward, in a drunken scuffle, shoved "Trusty" Warwick down the stairs of the Morton House, Warwick subsequently dying from the effects of the fall.

Ward was charged with manslaughter and sentenced to a year at the fall assizes. He had been in jail six months before his sentence, and consequently has served a year.

Ward resides in London Township.

LITTLE COLORED BOY SAW FATHER FINED

Laughed and Appeared Happy When His Parent Was Unable to Produce the Cash.

A little kinky-haired pickaninny, with a musical laugh was a keenly interested spectator at the police court this morning. He sat on his mother's lap and took in everything, and was just as happy when his father, Elijah Owens, was fined $3 for being drunk as if he had been allowed to go.

Mr. Owens had not the $3, and the court sent him down for ten days.

John Dishman, a young man from Parkhill, who also slipped off the wagon, was fined $2.

James Wilson, of West London, charged with stealing a gasoline burner from Thomas Dyer, pleaded not guilty. He said he borrowed the burner last November and had so far failed to return it, but could do so at any time.

Crown Attorney McKillop remarked that Wilson had sold the burner, but that Wilson said that he had got it back again. He asked that the case be laid over until tomorrow morning and this was done.

STEAMER LOST IN HALIFAX HARBOR

Halifax, N. S., April 19.—The steamer Halford ran aground at the entrance to the port here this morning. Her crew were saved, but it is believed that the vessel is a total loss.

Lost Her Purse.

An old lady lost her purse near the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets this morning, and it was picked up by another lady. The policeman on the corner was notified of the loss, and an effort will be made to locate the missing article.

LAST FLING AT NAVAL BILL BORDEN AGAIN FOR THE CASH

Tries to Explain His Right-About-Face by Blaming the Liberals and Once More Declares Himself in Favor of Money Contribution.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 20.—The Commons this morning began its final struggle with the naval bill, Sir Wilfrid moving the third reading without comment shortly after the House opened.

Mr. Borden paid his last respects to the measure in a brief speech, reviewing the arguments previously advanced by the Opposition on the main contention that effective aid to the empire could best be given by placing a certain sum of money at the disposal of the Imperial Government unconditionally for purposes of defence.

Mr. Borden's speech was a complete reversal of his attitude at the conference of 1907.

That About-Face.

Mr. Borden sought to reconcile the present Conservative attitude towards the bill with the Indorsement by the Opposition of the unanimous resolution of last session. He asserted that the people who had abandoned the resolution were the Liberals, basing their claim upon the argument that the naval bill did not provide for co-operation with the Imperial navy along the lines suggested by the British admiralty.

He did not propose that the naval forces of Canada should be sent to all the little wars of the empire, but he did insist that in time of war there should be one naval force (read Conservative cheers), and that that force must be available to meet any enemy. Under the Government bill the enemy would have to reckon with the British navy, plus a potential order in council which might not come until after the destiny of the empire had been settled. Delay might spell disaster, and vote to the whole empire, and it would be small satisfaction to turn a Canadian Government out of office after the empire had suffered wreck.

Mr. Fielding.

Hon. Mr. Fielding made a vigorous reply. The bill, he said, involved no new principle, but ratified the principle laid down many years ago, when Canada assumed her military defence. All were agreed that Canada must participate in Imperial defence. The resolution passed unanimously by the House last year not only declared against the policy of contribution, but was a declaration that the time had come for the creation of a Canadian navy, such as was proposed by the bill. He insisted that the Government had acted in co-operation with the British admiralty, and said: "We are proposing a scheme which the British Government approved of."

WOMAN JUSTIFIED IN KILLING BRUTE

Acquitted of Murder Charge, Prosecuting Attorney Refusing to Act.

Port Arthur, Ont., April 20.—At last night's session of the assizes, Mary Matthews, of Port William, a Galician, was placed on trial on the charge of murder in killing Paul Sonobolski at her home in the coal docks section on Feb. 16, and was acquitted without the case being given to the jury.

H. Keefe declining to prosecute after hearing the evidence of the woman and two other witnesses.

The woman swore that Sonobolski had assaulted her when she was twice before and that she killed him only in self-defence. Two neighbors corroborated her story. The judge instructed the jury to give a verdict of acquittal, which they did without leaving the room.

TERRY KING MAY ALSO GO WITH GRAND TRUNK

Rumor Says He Will Be Given a Big Berth With W. E. Mullins.

According to report, Mr. Terry King, a former Londoner and a well-known railway man, who held an important position on a Costa Rican road, has been offered a big berth in the head offices of the Grand Trunk at Montreal.

Mr. King will, it is said, take the position of vice-president, and acting general manager of the road.

The latter statement is practically assured, it is claimed, as Mr. Fitzhugh is said to be very favorable to the idea.

MR. FIELDING TABLES THE SUPPLEMENTARIES

Total Asked for a Little Over Five Millions, Bringing Main Estimates to $132,814,074.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 20.—Supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year, totalling $5,408,000, were tabled in the House of Commons this morning by Hon. W. S. Fielding. Of this amount, $3,673,781 is chargeable to consolidated fund and $1,734,219 to capital account. With the main estimates totalling 127,670,992, the total expenditure for the year provided for, this amounts to $132,814,074, of which $37,248,715 is on capital account, including $29,000,000 for the National Transcontinental Railway.

Principal Items.

The principal items in the estimates brought down this morning for expenditure on capital account include:

To begin construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, $500,000.

Further amount required for construction of Quebec bridge, $500,000.

Surveys and borings for proposed new or enlarged Welland Canal $25,000.

Port Colborne harbor improvements, $113,000.

Port Arthur and Fort William harbor improvements, $100,000.

Quebec harbor improvements, $100,000.

Victoria Harbor, B. C., $90,000.

On consolidated fund account, the items include $94,475 for the new department of the naval service, to provide for office, salaries and expenses, $40,000 for experimental farms, and the establishment of additional branch stations; $30,000 additional for exhibitions; $125,000 additional for immigration; $5,000 towards erection of

SARNIA IS ANXIOUS TO GET THE SEVENTH

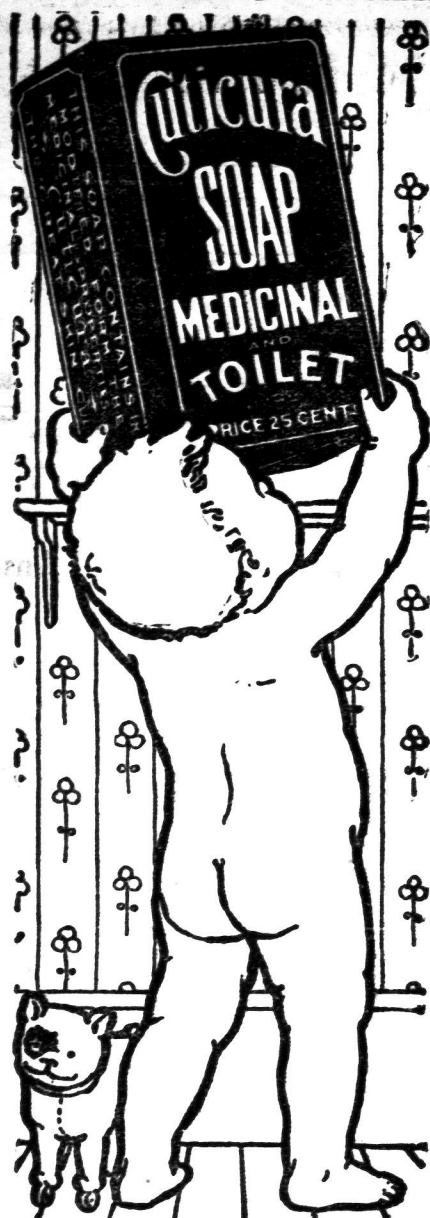

Probable That Local Regiment Will Spend May 24 in Border Town.

It is quite likely that the Sarnia Regiment will spend May 24 in Sarnia. An offer has been received from the town council of Sarnia, stating that they will grant $200 towards the expenses if 600 men are brought, and $100 if less than that number.

The Government has made the regiment a grant, but it is stated, it is insufficient to cover the expenses of going under canvas here.

An effort will probably be made to get the city council to make some grant toward bringing the city regiments of Western Ontario here.

Last year the men went to Sarnia and went into camp and had a splendid time, and there is a strong feeling of going back again this year.

SCREENS REMAIN ON BARROOMS

License Commissioners Refuse
the Request of Temperance Delegation.

ALL LICENSES RENEWED

Gambling in Hotels Was Taken Up, and Commission and Temperance Organization Will Likely Hold a Conference.

The annual meeting of the license commissioners was held yesterday afternoon in Inspector Galpin's office, and no changes whatever were made. Twenty-six hotel licenses, five shop licenses and two club licenses were renewed.

A deputation composed of Secretary McDermid, of the London Temperance League, Rev. J. Gibson Inkster, of the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. H. A. Graham, of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, and Mr. J. E. Madden were in attendance, and requested the commissioners to take steps to have the screens removed from the windows of barrooms, and to stop gambling, which they alleged is quite common in many hotels.

The commissioners declined to take any action in regard to the request to remove the screens.

In regard to gambling, the suggestion of Dr. F. P. Drake, that the members of the Ministerial Alliance and the Hotelkeepers' Association get together and talk over the matter, will probably be carried out.

Remove the Screens.

At the commencement of the meeting, Rev. H. A. Graham stated that he had only one request to make, and that was that the screens be removed from the windows of all barrooms. "I believe," he said, "that there are many young men who have not yet become lost, who, if people saw them, would keep out of barrooms."

Many others, he said, would not go in at all were it not for the fact that they are screened from public view.

"If the business," he continued, "was carried on open and above board there would not be so many in there."

"There is a good deal of loitering about barrooms which legislation of the kind I have suggested would prevent. I do not see that the barkeepers should have any objection to this if it is, as they say, a legitimate and respectable business."

Gambling in Hotels.

Rev. J. G. Inkster said he had been asked to be present and speak about the gambling, that it is stated is being carried on in city hotels.

"Card playing," he said, "is not an evil, and many persons do not consider gambling an evil, but when gambling is carried on in public places around hotels, it must be regulated as far as possible. There are many reports regarding gambling. Not being in possession of the full facts, I cannot place too much credence in what is reported."

"There was, however, one case recently where gambling was charged in a local hotel, and it is said that a good deal of gambling is done in clubs that, but you have control of the club licenses. In Hamilton, when I was there, card playing was not allowed in any hotel. I do not know that it is any injury, but we were wondering if it would not be as well to put a stop to card playing in local hotels. I think the hotelkeepers would willingly co-operate."

Power to Deal With Question.

Mr. D. A. McDermid stated that in other places any recommendations that had been made by the license commissioners in regard to gambling had been fully upheld by the authorities and contended that they had full power to deal with the matter here.

Chairman Greer said the matter had been very thoroughly gone into by the commissioners last year, and they had then decided that it would be inadvisable to remove the screens.

"Because a man is addicted to drink," he said, "it is hardly necessary to point him out to everybody and say 'This man has been drinking today.'"

He did not think the gambling matter was one for the commissioners to deal with, as the laws as they now stand forbid gambling. He strongly disapproved of gambling around bars, but thought it would be persecution to enact that, if the proprietor of a hotel wished to have a quiet game of cards with his family, he could not do so.

Case of Travellers.

"Take the case of commercial travellers," he said, "in a small town, they can pass away many an hour playing

Regulate the Bowels

"I have been troubled with constipation for several years, and have tried a great many kinds of pills, as well as medicine from the doctor. cards, and I am sure it is better for them to do that than to be hanging about bars drinking.

"The gambling laws here are decidedly at fault in that there is no provision made for punishing every man found gambling in a hotel. As things are now, the proprietor comes up and is, perhaps, fined $10, and that ends the matter, and all the men who were playing are let go. There should be some legislation to remedy this."

Dr. Drake said he thought it would not do to prevent card playing altogether. He thought that if screens were removed from barroom windows that the tendency would be to drive the men into small rooms and bedrooms to drink.

"We have done a good deal to do away with that sort of thing in the past," he said, "and we should not undo what we have done."

Should Get Together.

"In the matter of the gambling in hotels," he continued, "I think that if the ministers and the hotelkeepers would get together they could arrange that matter and many similar things. Any hotelkeeper who was informed of a man neglecting his family and spending the money he should give them for drink, would, if you brought it to his notice, be only too glad to stop selling liquor to him."

Rev. H. A. Graham and Rev. J. G. Inkster both said that the ministers would be agreeable to doing this.

Mr. Inkster suggested that the commissioners warn the hotelmen not to allow gambling on their premises.

Commissioner Jones said gambling is not allowed now.

Mr. James Hamilton, who was present, stated that he was in correct statements that had been made in the Advertiser regarding what he said at the East Middlesex commissioners' meeting on Saturday. He denied that he had said that many of the hotels in the city could not provide a decent meal or stable a horse. He stated that he said that many of the county hotels gave just as good a service as the city hotels.

The Licenses.

The commissioners granted licenses to George H. O'Neill, Tecumseh House; John P. Evans, Griggs House; A. E. Brenner, City Hotel; W. L. Lastbrook, London House; Mrs. Walper, Walper House; Hall & Son, Queen's Hotel; John D. Minihinnick, C. P. R. Hotel; John Jennings, Western Hotel; W. L. Cooke, Richmond House; John P. Thursday's Sale Will Settle the Suit Question for at Least 75 Women---See Window Display $22 to $35 Suits Direct From the Manufacturer, $15.00 Per Suit

We have handled bigger clearings, as our customers will well remember, during the past few seasons, but we can boldly state that these at $15.00 are the best we have ever sold or seen. Amongst these are suits we have already sold this season, one at $27.00 and another at $35.00. With such styles at $15.00, eight hundred would not be too many. Unfortunately the quantity is under the hundred mark, but every suit is this season's, every style a new one; not an accumulation of undesirable styles, but the balance of a manufacturer's output, who turns out the highest-grade ladies' suits that are made in Canada. At the $15.00 price we have just sixty suits, including fine serge, plain and diagonal worsteds, in colors of wistaria, navy, reseda, myrtle, cream, light and dark grays, also black. All are silk or satin lined, with trimmings of moire or corded silk; semi-fitted coats, with skirts in pleated styles; sizes from 34 to 40 inches. On sale tomorrow, per suit, $15.00

Also 15 Sample Suits---$20.00, $22.00, $27.00 Suits for $13.75, $15.50, $18.50

These are from a wholesale tailor who also supplies us with high-grade garments, and some of these were our own selection earlier in the season, and were sold at $20.00 to $27.00, as quoted above. They were the samples carried by the traveller, who, having just finished for spring, turned them in to us. Ladies' and misses' styles, in black, reseda, navy and taupe, all silk or satin lined, blouse and semi-fitted styles, pleated skirts. We cannot describe all, but have a few, for example:

Two only Misses' Suits, in taupe and green, satin lined, a $22.00 suit, for.....$15.50
Two only Ladies' Suits, in black Venetian, invisible stripe, new blouse style, satin lined, a $27.00 suit, for.....$18.50
One only Shepherd Plaid Suit, satin lined, semi-fitting coat, a $20.00 suit, for.....$13.75

Wall Paper,
Carpets and Furniture
Third Floor.

40 Sample Tourist and Waterproof Coats

These are also manufacturer's samples, every coat a new one, correct in style and correct in material, full length, semi-fitted, in gray, navy, castor, olive, etc., beautiful styles for summer wear for the tourist or boat, train, auto or for street or outing wear in rain or sunshine. While we cannot say too much about the style, yet we must not forget to remind you that these 40 coats, like the suits, are manufacturer's samples, every one this season's, and come at same reduction in price as the sample suits. They run about this way—$13.50 for $9.00, $14.50 for $10.00, $15.00 for $11.00, $18.00 for $12.50, and $20.00 for $14.50. Such opportunities come for a very simple reason, because the makers' are winding up their season and we are in the middle of ours, and though price be no temptation, style and quality are the prime reasons why you will want these. Not a cast-off nor a doubtful style in the entire lot. SALE (tomorrow) THURSDAY.

LOST APPETITE.

CAN'T EAT! STOMACH OUT OF ORDER

You are losing strength and vitality. That listless, languid feeling is due to the weak condition of the system. These are sure signs of a breakdown. Check the breakdown quickly and effectively by using PSYCHINE the Greatest of All Tonics. If you feel worn out, and run down, it is time for a tonic. Use PSYCHINE early, do not wait till you are worse. It will tone up your system and restore you to your old-time vigor and health. Keep your stomach in order, increase your appetite, restore your system to a healthy condition by taking PSYCHINE today. Mrs. J. T. Miller, of 63 Notre Dame Street, Winnipeg, proved this, for she says: "I am thankful for what PSYCHINE has done for me. I was laid up with weakness. Oh, how I suffered! My appetite was very poor and my stomach was greatly disordered. To-day I am strong and well, for PSYCHINE has brought me permanent relief. I feel like a new woman now to what I did before taking PSYCHINE. I feel the vigor of girlhood in my veins once more."

A Russian Pianist.

London music lovers had an opportunity last night of hearing the famous Russian pianist, Mark Hambourg, but the number who took advantage of it was very few. However, it was an enthusiastic audience, and one which could appreciate to the full the rare treat given. To musicians and students of music, of whom there were not a few in the audience, it was an evening of unalloyed enjoyment.

The programme was made up of works of Bach, Beethoven, Chopin, Moszowski, Mendelssohn and an original number by Hambourg. This last number received unstinted applause.

The audience included a large number of out-of-town people, particularly musicians from outside towns who desired to have an opportunity of hearing Mr. Hambourg's recital.

Mr. Hambourg's visit to London was due to Mr. Maurice Pouré. This is the last concert Mr. Hambourg gives in London on his present tour.

"The Soul Kiss" Tonight.

"The Soul Kiss," the merry musical comedy which has enjoyed a run of three hundred performances in New York, will be the attraction at the Grand this afternoon and evening. Heading this delightful musical entertainment will be found Mlle. Pertina, a premier danseuse who has been the sensation in both France and Germany. In support of Mlle. Pertina a competent company of 75 funmakers have been engaged to interpret the different roles.

"The Climax," Friday.

The dramatic and musical treat of the season will occur on Friday evening at the Grand, when Joseph M. Weber's charming play, "The Climax," are a nice habit. The step is soft, sure, springy. They won't slip. All Shoemen.

which has had such a long and successful run at Weber's Theatre, New York, will be presented here. Four characters make up the entire cast of this exquisite little play. Beautiful incidental music by Joseph Carl Bredl is introduced into the play, the most notable of which is "The Song of a Soul." The reserve seat sale is now open.

Forbes-Robertson on Saturday.

Every sign points to two overflowing houses at the Grand on Saturday to hear Forbes-Robertson in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." No play has created such interest in years, and New Yorkers alone have enjoyed it. It was the intention to place it on tour, but such demands were made for a run in New York that it remained there for many months. The Canadian cities are given an opportunity of witnessing the play before any of the large American cities.

INTERESTING TALK ON

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Dr. Wilson Last Night Addressed Meeting in Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Wilson, of Vancouver, superintendent of Presbyterian Missions in British Columbia and the Yukon, was the speaker at a young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

About 45 young men sat down to the banquet, which preceded the address. Dr. Wilson is endeavoring to secure young men to fill the mission fields of service next winter after the students return to college. He gave a very interesting talk last night on British Columbia and the Northwest, relative to the nationalities that are forming the population, and reciting incidents of men who are doing work in lumber camps and cities and towns where there are small churches.

Rev. Dr. Ross and Rev. John Gibson Inkster also spoke.

After the meeting a number of young men expressed their willingness to undertake mission work in the west.

Tonight Dr. Wilson will speak at the prayer meeting in St. Andrew's Church.

YOUR STOMACH IS TO BLAME

MISERY DISAPPEARS AND STOMACH COMFORT COMES IN FIVE MINUTES.

"Take good care of the stomach" is good advice that all sensible people should heed. If your blood is bad and pimples and sores break out on your body in 90 per cent of the cases the stomach is to blame.

If you are nervous, irritable, feel dull, are depressed mentally, and feel disinclined to exert yourself, make up your mind the stomach is at fault and treat it as promptly and intelligently as possible.

Mi-o-na, the universal stomach remedy, will cure any abnormal condition of the stomach, promptly and surely.

The action of Mi-o-na on the delicate membrane of the stomach is so prompt that the most painful distress vanishes in a few minutes.

But Mi-o-na (small tablets easily swallowed) is more than a relief-giver. It is a prescription used by a most learned and sensible physician.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20.

ANOTHER SIGNIFICANT ELECTION.

There was another portentous by-election yesterday in the United States. The Democrats carried the 32nd congressional district in New York State, which embraces the city of Rochester, by a majority of over 5,000.

The district had been Republican for many years, the late representative having over 10,000 majority in 1908.

The successful Democratic candidate in yesterday's contest made tariff reform a campaign cry. The sequel is another unmistakable sign of the anti-Republican reaction, and the rising tide of feeling against the Payne-Aldrich tariff. Coming on top of Mr. Foss' sensational victory in Massachusetts, it will carry fresh dismay into the ranks of the "stand-patters."

It will heighten the Democrats, and it is a moral victory for the insurgent Republicans.

If the Congressional elections were held tomorrow, the new House of Representatives would be overwhelmingly Democratic without a doubt. Unless something unforeseen happens in the meantime, this will be the result in November. The Republican party is paying the penalty of the violation of its anti-election pledges. It promised a revision of the tariff that would afford relief to consumers, and then mocked them by a mere pretence. Some of the oldest Republicans in the Senate and the House refused to accept the Payne-Aldrich law, and their open revolt has had a tremendous effect upon public opinion. President Taft seems to have made a tactical error by aggressively identifying himself with the Payne-Aldrich forces. Instead of quieting the insurgents he has widened the breach in the party ranks. The oppressive rise in the cost of living has also reinforced the agitation against the tariff. By the exercise of courage the Republican party might have retrieved itself and "disbanded the Democrats" on the tariff question, but the party machine is in the grip of the trusts and combines. The American people have borne so long and so patiently the exactions of McKinleyism and Dingleyism that the present insurrection must be surprising even to themselves.

THE LABOR VICTORY IN AUSTRALIA.

The unexpected has happened in Australia in the return to power of the Labor party, with a clear majority over both the Liberals and Conservatives. It has forty-five out of a total membership of seventy-five in the House of Representatives, and also controls the senate, an elective body of thirty-six members.

Since the formation of the Commonwealth, a decade ago, the Labor party has held the balance of power, the Liberals or the Conservatives holding office according to its pleasure. The withdrawal of its support caused the downfall of the Deakin ministry in November, 1908. The Labor Government, which succeeded that of Mr. Deakin, held office for six months by the grace of the Liberals, who declined to join hands with the Conservatives in opposing it. The refusal of Mr. Fisher, the Labor leader, in May of last year, to offer a Dreadnought to the British navy, on behalf of the Commonwealth, brought the two old parties together, and the first Labor Government fell. On the refusal of the governor-general to allow a dissolution and an appeal to the country the Fisher ministry and a Conservative-Liberal coalition government was formed.

The life of an Australian parliament is but three years, and the election of last week, therefore, came in the natural course of events. The result, has been most decisive, inasmuch as, for the first time in the comparatively brief history of the Commonwealth, a party has been returned to power having a clear majority behind it in parliament—a party the chief plank in whose platform is "the securing of the full results of their industry to all producers by the collective ownership of monopolies and the extension of the industrial and economic functions of the state and municipality."

As the Liberals and Conservatives are united on the Dreadnought question alone, and are as far apart as the poles on, for instance, the trade question—the Liberals there being the protectionists and the Conservatives the free traders—it is not likely the opposition to the new Government will be formidable. The experiment of a Labor administration, untrammelled by alliances, will be an instructive study. The Australian Labor party is protectionist, but has a brand of its own. It proposes to regulate the tariff protection of a particular industry according to the wages it pays. The Laborites assume that a tariff enables a manufacturer to collect higher prices for his products, and that he should be compelled to share his advantages with his workmen. This seems to be an abandonment of the theory that internal competition will keep down prices. Higher wages can be paid only by raising prices or reducing profits; and it is impossible that the profits of manufacture in Australia can permanently rise above the average. If they did rise, competition in manufacture would be so stimulated by the prospect of high rewards that profits would fall to the normal level. The Australian Laborites also appear to lose sight of the distinction between real and nominal wages. The Government may be able to force up wages, measured in money, to an unexampled point, provided that manufacturers are permitted, under shelter of the tariff, to recoup themselves by raising prices accordingly. But the higher that prices go, the less will a dollar purchase. A workman will not be advantaged if his wages are doubled, and the cost of living doubled at the same time. There is a great deal to be said for the principle of the minimum wage, but its virtue would be lost if it were fixed so high that higher wages could not be held out as an inducement to extra exertion or ability.

A SENSIBLE ONLOOKER.

The London Times, after studying the Canadian-American tariff settlement, concludes that the balance of success rests with Canada. As a free trade journal, it is disposed to be jocose over the flourishing of revolution by the United States, Germany and France, with the result that not one of them gets any exclusive advantage, and that Great Britain, by the operation of the most-favored-nation clause, automatically secures everything that the other countries obtain, and without threats or fears or negotiations. The dealings of Canada with Germany, France and the United States, have, in the Nation's opinion, given striking evidence of Canada's absolute fiscal independence. Canada is now, it adds, in the fullest sense of the word, a nation. The prospect of closer commercial relations between this country and the United States is welcomed by this influential London journal, and it protests against the notion of some British tariff reform newspapers that Great Britain can "keep" her colonies for exclusive trading. "Whatever makes for Canadian prosperity, even if it develops her continental rather than her overseas trade, is indirectly a gain to us," says the Nation. "It must stimulate her growth and increase her value to us as a producer, as a consumer, and also as a client for our investments, while making her a politically powerful, as she is already a loyal, ally."

This is in refreshing contrast, not only to the comment of a portion of the British press, but of that of Canadian newspapers and politicians, who pretend to anti-imperial tendencies, even in the trifling reduction of duty upon American imports, which avowedly is a golden link between Great Britain and the United States, and the greater the material interest of the United States in this country, the more potent will Canada be in such a role. This was demonstrated in the recent tariff negotiations. The United States needs and wants Canada's goodwill.

The Republican party promised the people bread and gave them a stone. Now the party is being stoned.

The people of the United States are thoroughly aware that the Payne-Aldrich tariff is the Dingley nostrum with a new label on the bottle.

By the way, isn't it time that Mr. Beck began to show more interest in the Western University? Its friends have had no help from him, so far.

The Lloyd George budget would have yielded a surplus of $21,000,000 the first year if the peers had not laid violent hands on it. Its productivity is a tribute to its framers.

The Ottawa Free Press is urging local merchants to accept only clean bills from the banks. It has a shrewd idea that in this, as in other cases, the supply will meet the demand.

Agricultural societies in England are preparing to protest against Mr. Balfour's proposal to admit Canadian wheat free of duty. All imported wheat looks alike to the British farmer.

Manitoba has a university, Alberta has one, Saskatchewan will have one, British Columbia will have one. The Maritime Provinces have half a dozen. Ontario, with more population than all of them put together, has three, and the Premier of Ontario says it is one too many.

The Canadian navy will not leave Canada's shores without the consent of the Canadian Government. Some members of the Opposition and some of their journals have been screaming that this provision is a separatist one. But the Opposition yesterday challenged no vote on the issue. Why not?

A CALCULATING BACHELOR.

[London Daily News.]
An early example of a kind of advertisement that has since become the mainstay of certain periodicals—there are at least three "matrimonial" papers circulating semi-privately in this country—is thus quoted by the Observer from its file of a century ago:

"Matrimony—A gentleman of the strictest probity and honor, about 40, of unblemished character and respectable family, whose person, health, etc., will be found unexceptionable, is desirous of forming a matrimonial alliance with a lady of agreeable person and genteel manners, whose income (to be settled upon herself, together with his own, would be equal to the indulgence of a domestic and genteel life. However strange this mode of inquiry may appear, he has his reasons, and will explain them; and he has also the vanity to think that there are many ladies, did they but know the man, would embrace the opportunity of being united to one whose respectability and correct habits, combined with mind and temper, are calculated to render the marriage state truly happy. In negotiating this business, he pledges himself to the most scrupulous delicacy, honor and inviolable secrecy. Letters, post paid, stating particulars, to Mr. Weston, Circulating Library, Walsingham Place, Asylum Road, Lambeth, shall be respectfully attended to."

What elegant female, we wonder, secured this prize in the frantic competition for him which must have followed?

NOT ALL OF THEM.

[Exchange.]
She—The fashionable color for the spring will be called messenger boy blue.
He—Why that name?
She—Because it's guaranteed not to run.

HIS CAUSTIC COMMENT.

[Judge.]
"Educational facilities were not so good in the early days as they are now."
"No," admitted the grumpy citizen, "they were not. I was 16 years old before I knew as much as my father. The kids today reach that stage at 10."

HUBBY AGAIN.

[Chicago Post.]
"My dear," says the fond wife, "you really should allow me to buy the things for the house."
"I haven't been buying anything for the house."
"Yes, you have. Now you know you paid $1 for that new dresser, and Mrs. Nexius bought one for 15 cents that registers four degrees below ours every day."

HOOT AWAY, MON!

[Boston Transcript.]
An English clergyman, talking one day with a Scottish brother of the cloth, remarked facetiously, "Well, David, I believe, after all has been said, that my head could hold two of yours."
"Mon," returned the other, with ready wit, "I never thought before that your head was so empty."

TRUE POLITENESS.

[Success Magazine.]
One evening, as the mother of a little niece of Phillips Brooks was tucking her child in bed, a caller was announced. The mother told the child to say her prayers, and promised to be back in a few minutes. When she returned she asked the child if she had done as she was bidden. "Well, you see, mamma, I was awfully sleepy, so I just asked God if he wouldn't excuse me tonight, and he said, 'Oh, certainly, don't mention it, Miss Brooks.'"

THE CABINET A TRUST.

The cabinet council, when has to pass on all legislation proposed by the Labor Department, is something of an editorial board. It is made up of an editorial writer and reporter of Halifax, Frank Oliver, pioneer editor and type slinger of the west; George P. Graham, another output of the Ottawa Free Press; "Taffy" Thompson, the aristocratic publisher of Astor-Victoria; Rodolphe Lemieux, who knows something about delinquent subscribers; and Sidney Fisher, newspaper owner and a real estate speculator over them. It is Mr. Fisher, who still looks with fondness on the days when he was just a cub reporter.

More power to these combined!

A LAW-ABIDING CHILD.

[Tit-Bits.]
A health officer recently received the following note from one of the residents of his district:
"Dear Sir, I beg to inform you that my child, aged eight months, is suffering from measles as required by act of parliament."

THE DOCTOR'S FAULT.

[The Evening Blatter.]
Judge—I am led to understand you sold the watch of the doctor who had just written a prescription for you at the free dispensary. What have you to say to this charge?
Purse—Well, your honor, I found myself in a desperate quandary. His prescription said "a spoonful every hour," and I had no droppers.

PLENTY OF THEM.

[Smart Set.]
"Did your wealthy old uncle have many helms?"
"Oh, yes. A new hair looms up almost every week."

TAKING CHARGES.

[Boston Transcript.]
Maud—I have a message to me three times before I accepted him.
Kate—You were always a reckless girl, Maud.

THE HERO.

[Puck.]
"Sir, I wish to make your daughter my wife."
The old man hesitated. "Haven't you better see her mother first?" he asked, gently, after thinking a moment.
"I've seen her mother, and it doesn't make any difference," he replied, to the old man's amazement.
"What chance?" he exclaimed, with all the ardor of honest love.

GREED.

[The Daily News.]
"I had a great dream the other night. I dreamed I met a man who offered to cut me a pound slice of radium."
"What?" It's worth more'n a million an ounce!

That's right. "Want a slice?" he says to me. "Yes, I answered. But I was too grasping."

"How was that?"

"I woke up just as I asked him to cut it thick!"

ENCOURAGING.

[The Daily News.]
Ted—Are you making any progress in your love affair with that young widow?
Ned—It looks that way. She has just put on second mourning.

POSSIBLY.

[Washington Star.]
"Why does that man always look fierce and shout when he talks on the wrong side of an argument?"
"I don't know," replied Senator Sorghum. "Sometimes I think he's trying to scare his conscience into silence."

SOMETHING WANTING.

[The Delinquent.]
Two-year-old Harry had never seen a lamb, his only knowledge of that animal being derived from a toy one on wheels. While visiting grandpa on the farm he was taken to the sheep pen to see the lambs. After looking at them for a few minutes he looked up at grandpa with a puzzled expression and asked, "Where's the wheels?"

HAMILTON HOTELMEN ORDERED NO SELL OUT

Four Cut Off by Commissioners at a Meeting Held Yesterday.

Given Three Months to Sell Out. Noil & Hope, Courthouse Hotel. Thomas Kirk, Wyndham Hotel. A. A. Goetz, Franklin House. George Roach, American Hotel.

Given Three Months to Comply With the Law.

Henry Dean, Lillis Hotel, must provide stable accommodation. R. W. Yaldon, Aquatic Hotel, must remove doorway leading to store.

Hamilton, Ont., April 19.—The license commissioners met yesterday, and decided that no licenses should be cut off this year. Four hotel proprietors were given three months in which to sell out, and two others were given three months in which to comply with the law.

Thomas Manning, the chairman, made the following statements this afternoon:

"After due deliberations on the request of the temperance and moral reformers, we came to the conclusion that we could not conscientiously cut off one hotel license in this city this year. They asked us that we cut off the licenses of those hotelmen who broke the law, but our action in refusing that request has been based on the fact that there has been on hotelmen fined three times, three and one-half times and then was fined, and Goetz had two cases against him. But we ourselves have to observe the law, which says that a hotelman should not have his license until he was convicted three times within two years. Furthermore, the voting people in January in the municipal elections indicated that they did not want any licenses cut off. Ward 3 was the only ward that returned three temperance aldermen, and that ward is temperance-minded."

"So far as the four hotelmen who have been given three months in which to sell out are considered, we do not care to cut off the public and details other than making the general assertion that there were cases in which they figured."

DOHERTY YESTERDAY IN FOSTER'S SEAT

Ottawa, April 19.—Ex-Judge Doherty (St. Anne's Methodist), took the seat on Mr. Borden's left hand when the House met this morning. This seat has been occupied for years by Hon. Geo. E. Starvation Amid Plenty

NOT UNCOMMON TODAY—THE REASON IS EXPLAINED.

For a period of last summer the thought of food excited feelings of nausea," writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge of Bloombury. "The heat had made me listless, and the distaste for food rendered me to a condition of semi-starvation and brought me to the verge of nervous collapse. Tonics were useless to restore an active desire for food. The doctors told me my liver and kidneys were both at fault, the medicines they gave me were too severe and reduced my strength so that I had to abandon them. At the suggestion of a friend who had been cured of blood and skin trouble, I began the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The difference I first noticed was, that while they cleansed the system, instead of feeling weaker I felt better after taking them. Indeed, their activity was so mild it was easy to forget I had taken them at all; they seemed to go right to the liver and in a very brief time not only did all source of nausea disappear, but I began to crave food and I digested it reasonably well. Then I began to put on weight until within three months I was brought to a condition of good health. I urge Dr. Hamilton's Pills for all who are in poor health."

Get this best of all medicines today and refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butter-nut. Look for the yellow box. Sold by all dealers, or The Cataract Company, Kingston, Can., at 25 cents per box.

THOMAS CHAMPEON DEAD

A Well-Known Toronto Newspaperman Dies Very Suddenly.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, April 19.—Thomas E. Champion, for nearly twenty years a member of the Telegram staff, died suddenly this morning at his home, 78 Sullivan street, from dilation of the heart. He died at 10 o'clock yesterday, and covered an assignment last night. Deceased was widely known in Toronto, deeply interested in military affairs, and the author of a history of the Queen's Own Rifles and many other semi-historical sketches. He is survived by a son in Liverpool, and a daughter, a Mrs. Leal, in Texas. He has a sister in Salt Lake, Marie, and a brother, H. T. Champion, a well-known banker in Winnipeg.

TORONTO OFFICIAL DEAD.

Toronto, April 19.—C. S. Grant, assistant registrar of the court of appeal, died in the General Hospital this morning of heart failure. Mr. Grant was knocked down by a motor car ten days ago and his collarbone was broken. He was also somewhat severely bruised. He seemed to be making rapid progress towards recovery until this morning when heart failure carried him off. Mr. Grant was 59 years of age, and had been in Osgoode Hall thirty years. His father before him was an official of the hall.

NO ARREST LIKELY IN THE BEST CASE

Detectives Have Found That the Story Told by the Husband Has Been Verified.

Windermere, April 19.—Arthur Best, of Harrow, Ont., was in the city yesterday to await any new developments in the drowning case of his wife, whose body was found on Sunday after being in the water for five weeks.

Detectives are still working on the case, but have found that the story which Best told on the witness-stand has been verified in every detail. Chief of Detectives McDermott, declared that there was not enough evidence against him to warrant an attempt at extraditing him, while with the evidence on hand, it would be hard to prove whether Mrs. Best cast herself into the river or was forced in. His arrest is not looked for. The request has been adjourned until Friday.

COMMITTEE AT WORK ON EIGHT-HOUR BILL

Ottawa, April 19.—The special committee under the chairmanship of the minister of labor, which has been taking evidence respecting the eight-hour bill, is applying to the Government works, will do nothing in respect to it this session, insofar as making a recommendation is concerned. A good deal of evidence has been taken and data collected, and this will be printed in both languages and distributed during the recess. Next session it is intended to reappoint the committee, and it will then report. The manufacturers and employers have been heard in opposition to the bill and several witnesses in support of it. The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress will present its evidence favoring the measure at tomorrow's sitting.

A LIFE'S DEVOTION

BY FRANK H. SHAW.
Author of "A Daughter of the Storm," "First at the Pole," etc. (Copyright in U. S. America. All Rights Reserved.)

CHAPTER XXI.
The summer seemed all too short for both husband and wife, for it had such immensities of joy as bewildered them even whilst they rejoiced with full hearts. But at last the summer was over, and winter settled down grimly upon the world. Yet even with winter at its depth, the promise of spring held sway over their hearts. The spring would bring them that which both desired, and almost before they had accustomed themselves to the fact that winter was upon them, it was over, and the icy grip was loosening on the world.

Scroggs felt his heart catch strangely. Below the happiness that irradiated his life always ran a sub-current of fear, which he dared not put into words. His wife was so very necessary to him; without her—and he felt a cold chill of horror close upon him as he realized that she might be lost to him—life would be a meaningless thing. He had dared all things to win her. Now, now, she was too precious a possession to lose.

And so it came about that there was a sudden alarm in the night; a frantic ringing of telephones, a speeding of swift motor cars, a tense awe in the great house. Scroggs tested livid fear in those agonizing hours, and knew what his love for his wife meant to him to the full.

Gibbus walked upstairs without answering, and Scroggs seated himself in the hall. But thoughts crowded in upon him there—he found the waiting intolerable to endure. What if his peerless darling died in his agony? What if—what if—? Hundreds of doubts and fears revealed in his brain—started to his feet and paced up and down wildly; his hands clenched, cold sweat standing out upon his forehead. A door opened above; it shut softly, there was a rustle of draperies. With a groan he looked upwards. Nothing—the place was silent again. He felt a hot pang of anguish, and he looked at his feet. It was Marion's door, a toy thing, because it had been picked up a wall, not by reason of any beauty of its own. But the animal put out a wet, red tongue and licked pitifully at Scroggs' shoes. He stooped and patted the brute—it leaped on his knees and made frantic attempts to lick his face. Her dog—she loved her in its own doggy fashion and sought to assure him of its sympathy. But it quivered on his knee, and he understood that even the unthinking animal was afraid. Afraid of what?

"A son; as fine a youngster as ever I wish to see," said the cool voice of Gibbus. "Let me congratulate you on the birth of your heir." Gibbus washed his hands with invisible soap. "How's the mother?" asked Scroggs, clutching at the doctor's arm. "Doing splendidly. No, keep back; you can't see her yet. In another hour, perhaps."

CHAPTER XXII.
The Touch of Baby Hand.
It was all over at last. For an interminable hour they kept him waiting there, and then a soft-footed nurse ushered him into the room. His first glance was at the baby, and then he saw two starlike eyes gazing at him from a white, wan face. Then he forgot all cautions, all fears. He reached the bedside in one stride, and sank on his knees beside the woman he loved. The stinging in his eyes became more intense; she seemed to understand his voicelessness, for a thin hand stole out from the lacy sheets and patted him gently on the cheek. He strove to speak, but not a word could he find. The shoulders of the strong man who had faced a hostile Arab crowd unflinchingly, who had heaved to his long-pent emotion, who had been changed into a child—this was a new Ebenezer. She had known him loving and gentle, but now—this morning man who dared not lift his head was changed into a child. He was actually crying. It seemed very like it.

The nurses had discreetly withdrawn, but there was a tiny stirring of the coverlet.

"Ebenezer—look. Our son!" His weakness seemed to bring the tears to her own eyes, but there was a shy, pretty glow on her alien cheeks as she moved gingerly and lean-like at his gaze a crumpled rose-leaf that might have been a face. "Look, dear husband; our child—our son! Oh, I'm so glad!"

And then Scroggs took his child in his arms. In the after years he was to think that child for the regaining of which that was lost to him, but the future held its own. He had not known how all the world depended on the mite he held to his breast. But a tiny, helpless hand, grasped at his finger, and a sudden thrill, he could never forget, it was cold or hot, ran from that finger to his shoulder, to his brain, until it settled about his heart. His child and hers. The magnificent wonder of parturition gripped him, he gazed dumbly to be made worthy of this new trust, and when he stooped to kiss his boy a salt drop fell on the grimy skin of his forehead.

"Now, then, sir; her ladyship mustn't be agitated. Give me the child, please." It was the nurse, authoritative and unheeding. Scroggs felt his heart catch. He would have liked to hold him tight, but the nurse said to let him go. He looked at the child, and he felt a vast and overwhelming tenderness grow up in his soul for every young thing—he smiled vacantly on the baby, and he felt the pressure of the spring, at the budding trees, and then, with a sudden realization of what the world meant to him, he swept his hat from his head, and flung himself down on his knees, and wept. He wept for the wet grass, crying incoherent words.

For there is nothing in all the world that has the power to soften a man's heart as has parenthood. A gentleness, a tolerance, a fervent desire to thank something, someone—these are characteristics of the man who has held his first child in his arms. There is no sensation to be compared with it. The lingering embrace that a man gives to his chosen wife; the rapture of the first kiss imprinted on willing, loving lips, even these ecstasies fade into insignificance before the greater rapture of the clinging touch of a baby hand. Scroggs felt all this, and yet, because he loved his child, he loved the mother more.

His capacity for loving seemed to be enlarged since the night now gone; he had feared that his mad affection for his offspring might have taken from his adoration of his mother—now he understood that his heart had grown greater and more commodious. He held his wife safely, tenderly; also it held the child; to each its need of love. (To be continued.)

MARK TWAIN VERY ILL

Physicians of Great Writer Announce That His Condition Is Critical.

GREY CONGRATULATES MISS PATTI MACLAREN

Charming London Lady Receives Bracelet Given by Margaret Anglin for Best Actress.

Miss Patti MacLaren, daughter of Dr. MacLaren, was presented with the handsome bracelet given by Miss Margaret Anglin, the brilliant Canadian actress, for the best actress in the Earl Grey competition recently held in Toronto, at a dinner given in her honor at the Kennels by the London Dramatic Club.

The presentation was made by Col. M. Smith, who expressed the great pleasure experienced not only by the Dramatic Club, but by the citizens in general, at the splendid success of Miss MacLaren. There was no doubt that she was by far the cleverest actress in the competition.

Col. Hodgins responded to the presentation on behalf of Miss MacLaren and expressed her appreciation of the kind words spoken of her.

COLD AND SNOWY THROUGHOUT OHIO

Toledo, Ohio, April 19.—With telephones, telegraph and interurban wires twisted and torn by the weight of their burden, traffic delayed in all directions and the peach trees and other crops partially destroyed, the snow and sleet storm which began last night continued all day in town and Northern Ohio, and bids fair to prove one of the most disastrous of the year.

GENERAL LAW DEAD

He Was a Brother of Commander Law and Distinguished Officer.

Brookville, April 19.—The death occurred on Friday last of General Victor Law, at his residence, Alexander Court, London, Eng. He was the son of the late Hon. William T. Law, of Hampton Court Palace, London, and grandson of the great Lord Ellenborough, lord chief justice of England. General Law spent the greater part of his life in India. He was an officer of the Madras Cavalry and also held one of the highest political appointments in the gift of the Government, being "Resident" of Ulwa and Jeypore and guardian of the princely states. He was a man of exceptional ability, and a linguist of the highest order, speaking many of the most difficult languages. He was in religion a devout Roman Catholic, and his great charity and devotion to his high order of Knight of St. Gregory the Great conferred upon him by Pope Leo XIII. Some years ago he retired from the Indian service and had since lived in London. At the time of the coronation of King Edward he was assistant master of ceremonies under the Duke of Norfolk at Westminster Abbey. He married Miss Florence Crawford, of Toronto, daughter of the late Hon. J. W. Crawford, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, by whom he is survived, with one daughter, three brothers and four sisters. He was a brother of Commander Law, R. N., Toronto, and a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. A. Macdonell, Brookville.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS CURED A SEVERE CASE OF ANAEMIA AND WEAKNESS.

Anaemia—poor, watery blood—is the cause of most of the misery which afflicts mankind. The housewife especially falls an easy prey to it. The long hours, continued necessary in performing her household duties sap her strength. She becomes run down and often suffers extreme misery. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the housewife's friend. They make new blood—lots of it—and pure blood banishes all women's ailments. Mrs. E. St. Germain, wife of a well known farmer of St. John des Chateaux, Quebec, found new strength through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "A year ago I was extremely weak. I could not attend to my work. I suffered from dizzy spells; my head ached; my blood was poor; I had a bad cough, and the doctors feared I was going into consumption. I followed their treatment for some time, but without relief. I grew discouraged and finally gave it up in despair. I was strongly advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I began to take them. Before they were all gone I felt relief. The headache and dizziness became less frequent, and I felt a little stronger. I continued the pills for a couple of months, at the end of which time I had gained in weight; the pains had left me, my appetite was good, and I felt as strong and well as ever I did. I cannot say too much in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I certainly owe my good health to them."

The woman in the house, the man in the office, the boy or girl in the school will always find a friend in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They actually make new, rich red blood and good blood banishes rheumatism, general debility, kidney troubles and those aches and pains caused by overwork or overstudy; good blood builds up the tired, unstrung nerves and makes pale, thin cheeks rosy and healthy. The pills are sold at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by all medicine dealers or by mail from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brookville, Ont.

Why Ladies' Home Journal Patterns Are Different From All Others

All patterns, with one exception, are graded patterns—the one exception is the Ladies' Home Journal Patterns. Graded patterns are made by creating a pattern for a "36 figure" and cutting all the other sizes in exactly the same proportion as is this master pattern.

LADIES' HOME JOURNAL PATTERNS are NOT graded patterns, they are DRAFTED patterns. Each size is cut after a careful study of the average proportion of a 36 figure, a 38 figure, a 40 figure, a 42 figure, or whatever the case may be. Each size has its master pattern, and the proportioning of each size is made from individual study of that size, irrespective of any other size that has been drafted.

This is why Ladies' Home Journal Patterns are so satisfactory. This is why they differ from all other patterns made. And this is why in a Ladies' Home Journal Pattern you find perfect proportions as to each individual size.

MISS RICHARDSON will be here all day Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and will be pleased to give you practical information and instruction in home dressmaking.

OLD WORLD ART FAKES

Don't Buy Pictures From a Soble but Improvised Party.
Paris, April 19.—The Matin today claims that Count De Gattigny, who is charged by Mrs. Charles Hamilton Faine, formerly of Boston with misrepresentation in connection with the sale of paintings, had employed talented young artists to copy masterpieces in the art museums of Europe, and that these copies were subsequently installed in his chateau at St. Cyr-Sur-Loire.

M. Rochefort, who is an authority on paintings, writes to the Patrie, saying that he has met Prince Lousignin, who is alleged to be identical with Count De Gattigny. Lousignin, he says, was a tailor, but assumed a title, and posed as a pretender to the throne of Jerusalem. He says he met the prince at the home of Victor Hugo.

Rochefort warns foreigners against buying the paintings of pretended ancient, but impoverished families, saying that the chances are a thousand to one that the pictures were manufactured in Montmartre.

The writer divulges that when he recently inspected a supposed collection of the school of 1830, which had been acquired by an American at an expense of $100,000, he found not one to be authentic.

He expressed the opinion that of the hundreds of Rembrandts in America, 80 per cent are spurious.

LAWYER HEGGIE DEAD.
Brampton, April 19.—R. E. Heggie, barrister, died suddenly at noon today. He went to his office as usual at 9 o'clock in apparently good health. Mr. Heggie was found by his stenographer an hour later lying on the floor unconscious. He never regained consciousness and died at noon. Mr. Heggie was unmarried.

CONSTABLE WAS KICKED TO DEATH

Vancouver Officer Attacked by a Band of Hoboes on a Train.

Vancouver, April 20.—Answering a summons for aid by railway officials, Constable Lane was killed last evening by a band of hoboes numbering at least seven, who had boarded the Seattle express as it pulled out on the Canadian side of Sumas. The constable boarded a southbound train and met the express two stations south of Mission. The hoboes were seated at their ease and defying the conductor in the smoking car, when the constable arrived. He at once ordered them off, but his orders were met with a volley of oaths. The constable, seeing that further parley was useless, resorted to force, and with the help of the train crew grabbed two of the men and rushed them towards the door.

GIRL'S MOTHER IN THE WOLTER TRIAL

Identifies Umbrella Found in Man's Room, and Necklace and Ring Daughter Wore.

New York, April 19.—The jury box in the Wolter case, on trial in general sessions, was filled at 2 o'clock this afternoon. In his opening Mr. Moss, assistant district attorney, occupied only half an hour. He said that much of the state's evidence necessarily would be circumstantial. He then related the facts made familiar by accounts of the crime—namely, that Ruth Wheeler, a girl of 15, living with her widowed mother and two sisters on West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, having completed a course in stenography in a commercial school, answered a postal card request for a stenographer made to the school and signed by Wolter. This quest for work took her to the rear apartment on the fourth floor of the furnished apartment-house, 224 East Seventy-fifth street, and she never came back.

Mr. Moss concluded by telling of the finding, on the fire escape outside the window, of the half-burned and mutilated parts of a young woman's body, which, he said, had been positively identified as that of Ruth Wheeler.

The first witness called was an architect, Walter H. Vukering, who identified a drawing of the room on the floor of the house Wolter had occupied.

Kodaked the Scene. The second witness, a professional photographer, H. L. Koh, identified a number of photographs he had made of the scene of the tragedy. These included pictures of the fireplace in which the body of Ruth Wheeler, as the state alleges, was partly consumed.

When these exhibits had been admitted and examined by the jurors, Mr. Moss called Mrs. Emily Wheeler, mother of Ruth. She testified that Ruth was 15 years and six months old, and identified an umbrella Ruth took with her on that day.

After much objection, the mother was permitted to say that the umbrella afterward found in Wolter's room was hers, and that she had given it to Ruth when Ruth set out in her hunt for employment. Under the same circumstances the witness identified a necklace of beads and a little gold ring found with the remains as having been ornaments worn by her child.

Then an assistant passed to Mr. Moss from the great bundle of physical evidence a book, a box of soap, a cover and holding it near the witness, the state's attorney asked:

"Do you recognize that as Ruth's hair?"

The woman said that it was a braid of hair that looked like Ruth's, and was braided as Ruth had braided hers. There was no cross-examination.

John Taggart, a waiter, and his wife, who live in apartments next to those occupied by Wolter, told of finding the body wrapped in oil cloth on the fire escape of the Wolter apartments.

MEN BEHIND ISSUE.

Toronto, Ont., April 19.—The Imperial Bank directors today decided to issue one million dollars of new stock to present shareholders, in the ratio of one share of new to five shares of old stock. The issue price will be $200.

ABANDONED IT

For the Old-Fashioned Coffee Was Killing.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table."

"I had been troubled some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily. Sometimes it would heat fast, and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill it gave me a severe pain."

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be caused by coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. I am now glad to say that I am entirely well of the heart trouble, and attribute the relief to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum."

"A number of my friends have abandoned the old-fashioned coffee, and have taken up with Postum, which they are using steadily. They are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if it is boiled long enough, according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage. I never used any of the old-fashioned coffee since Postum was first started in our house."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in packages. "There's a Reason."

PAIR OF SWINDLERS SENT TO THE JAIL

Windsor, April 19.—Roy Green and Thomas A. Malone, who were arrested last Wednesday, charged with swindling Essex County farmers, appeared before Police Magistrate Leggett this morning for sentence. Green received three months at hard labor in the county jail, and Malone is to serve only fifteen days, at the expiration of which time he is to be deported. Malone hails from Oklahoma City, Okla.

A SILVER VEIN NEAR KINGSTON, ONT.

Kingston, April 19.—A silver vein, said by a mining engineer to be remarkably rich, has been discovered in the range of hills lying about four miles south of Arden, a village on the C. P. R., in Kennebec township. The lead was discovered by C. Ritchie, who sent samples to New York, which assayed a high percentage of the white metal.

MARY MANNERING FREED FROM HACKETT

New York, N. Y., April 19.—A final decree of divorce for Mary Manning, the actress, from James K. Hackett, the actor, was signed by Justice Fitzgerald in the supreme court today. The decree provided that Miss Manning shall have the custody of the only child, Mr. Hackett is prohibited from remarrying, and Miss Manning is allowed to retain the name of Mary Manning. No mention of alimony is made in the decree.

USED FOSS SLOGAN TO WIN ELECTION

Reciprocity Cry Routs the Republican Forces in Rochester Election. Rochester, N. Y., April 19.—Standing for tariff reform and for closer trade relations with Canada, John S. Havens, a Democrat, defeated for Congress George W. Aldridge, for a score of years the leader of the county, by 5,500 votes.

The special election was caused by the death of James B. Perkins, who was serving his third term as representative of Monroe County, which is the 32nd Congressional district, and nominally Republican by about 6,000. Mr. Perkins was elected in 1908 by 10,167 votes.

Havens had arrayed against him one of the strongest political organizations in the state, yet in a campaign lasting but seventeen days, and with hastily constructed machinery, he accomplished one of the most remarkable overthrows in political history.

The result of today's election takes its place beside the Democratic victory in the 14th Massachusetts district, when Eugene E. Foss, on the "reciprocity with Canada" slogan, was sent to Congress from a district supposed to be as rock-ribbed Republican as this one.

UNCLE SAM'S ALIENS ARE A POOR LOT

One Out of Every Four Insane, Says Government Expert.

New York, April 19.—"One out of every four immigrants is found to be insane," was the startling declaration made by Dr. Sidney D. Willig, of the state lunacy commission, at the spring meeting of the commission today.

"We cannot hope for a desirable race from these immigrants," Dr. Willig said. "Some of them are so low in the scale of humanity that they do not know their own names."

Dr. Willig made a literary test, and an increase in the head tax, but particularly an increase from three to five years in the period of federal control of an alien.

MISS PRIESTLAND ALIVE

The Girl Who Has Been Missing Traced to Prince Edward Island.

Montreal, April 19.—Nellie Priestland, the young lady from Jarvis, Ont., who has been missing from her boarding house here since March 24, is alive and well, according to detectives working the case. They say that they have traced her as far as Charlottetown, P. E. I., and are making every effort to bring her back to her home.

THREE YEARS IN PRISON

Hugh Harmon Tells Dramatic Story of Row in Which He Killed Wheelman.

Port Arthur, Ont., April 19.—At the high court sittings here yesterday, Hugh Harmon, a second engineer on the steamer Andrew Carnegie, was found guilty of manslaughter, in causing the death of Albert Walner, wheelman on the same boat, while she was in Port Arthur harbor on the night of Aug. 16 last year. He was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

ORDERED TO SELL OUT.

Hamilton, April 19.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon the license commissioners announced that they had decided to cut off no licenses this year, the following hotels were given three months in which to sell out. Neil & Hope, Courthouse Hotel; Thomas Kirk, Woodbine Hotel; A. A. Goetz, Franklin House, and George Roach, American Hotel.

BLOCKED BY ICE.

Port Colborne, April 19.—Huge drifting cakes of ice, driven into the harbor last night, have caused a blockage at the entrance of the lake here. Upbound boats are unable to force their way through until a change of wind returns the ice to the lake. These steamers are detained: Fairmont, West, Araba, Arabian, Key West, Burlington and Imperial and barge.

GOES TO KINGSTON.

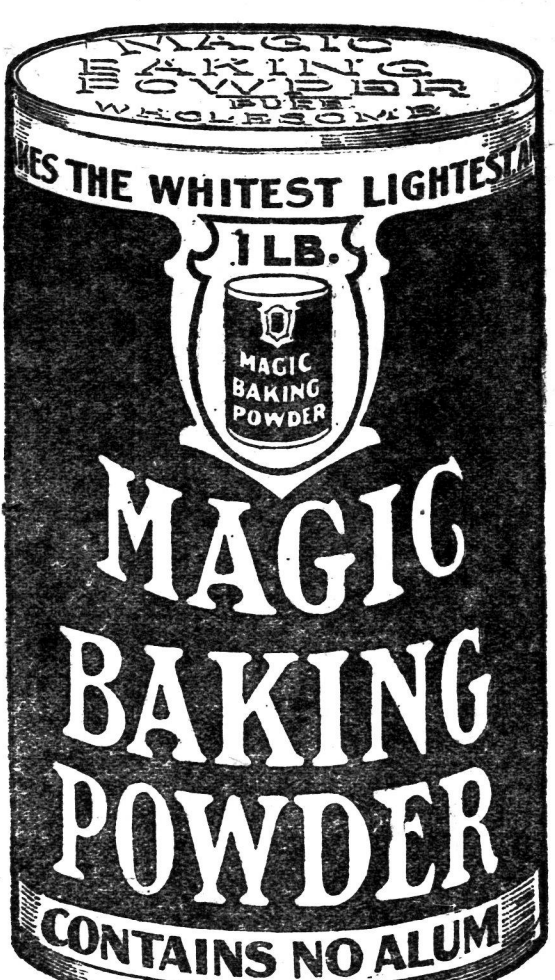

Cobourg, April 19.—Geo. Mancuro, the Italian convicted of manslaughter in the killing of a woman, was yesterday transferred to Kingston Penitentiary to serve his twenty-five years' sentence.

M. S. R. INCREASES WAGES OF 3,000

Montreal, April 19.—Three thousand employees of the Montreal Street Railway Company received an increase of salaries today. The announcement was a surprise to the men. Motormen and conductors receive the same pay, but are divided into three classes. Those of two years' standing will now receive 19 cents an hour instead of 18 cents. Those of two to five years' standing will receive 20 instead of 19, and those of more than five years' standing will receive 21 instead of 20 cents an hour.

TO OPERATE PARK.

Toronto, Ont., April 19.—At a meeting of the creditors of the Toronto Park Company, held this morning in the rooms of Reelver Clark, it was decided to operate the Scarborough Beach Park again this summer. A large sum of money will be spent on improvements, and strong efforts will be made to attract sufficiently large crowds to make the park a paying proposition. In the meantime a committee of three will deal with the assets of the company.

GOES TO HAILEYBURY.

Toronto, Ont., April 19.—Mr. A. E. Jupp, assistant engineer in the roadways section of the city engineer's department, has accepted an offer of a position at Haileybury at an increase of salary. His present salary is $1,100.

READ TURNS UP.

Montreal, April 19.—The arrival at New York from Buenos Ayres is announced of Herbert Read, the Socialist, N. B. man whose disappearance from this city a few months ago created much notice. Read so far has made no statement except that "Everything is all right."

NO MORE TORTURE FROM ECZEMA

RELIEF QUICK AND CURE CERTAIN WHEN DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT IS USED.

There is no form of itching skin disease which can defy the extraordinary curative powers of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

This is a strong statement and is only made after years of experience with the use of this preparation in the most horrible cases of eczema which you could imagine.

Relief from the terrible itching comes with the first few applications, and then it is a question of patiently applying the ointment and watching the natural process of healing which is set in operation by this great healer.

There are lots of cures to refer to, but what you want is actual relief in your own case, when you will soon realize that there is no disputing the wonderful healing power of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

If you have Eczema or any form of itching skin disease don't let an hour pass before sending for this treatment. Sixty cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

CANON DANN SPEAKS OF PARTISANSHIP

Address Delivered Before A. Y. P. S. of St. James' Church, Ingersoll.

At a banquet given by the Anglican Young People's Society of St. James' Church, Ingersoll, Rev. Canon Dann, of this city, said in the course of an address, in reply to the toast, "Our Country," as reported in the Chronicle:

"What is the use of having a country with so much wealth if we haven't men to work it. The first way to increase the population is by immigration, and not in favor of bringing unworthy people into this country. If we want to preserve our country, we want to look after the methods of immigration. I think there ought to be a feeling amongst us that here in Canada our own children ought to occupy a great portion of this land."

"The next thing will be the education of our people. Education is a very important factor in the bringing up of good citizens, and that education should be founded on the very highest principles. If we want to follow in the lines of our great mother of the great empire of which we form a great part, it will only be by bringing up our children in the principles of the Bible. If we want to make our country a great one, it must be by elevating the character of our people, and I know of no way which will elevate our people like the teaching of God's word. How are we to get that character? Let me tell you some of the things that seem to militate against that character. One of these is party spirit. I don't want to say a thing about party government. What I am speaking of now is partisanship. I am not speaking of one party more than another."

D. J. CAMPBELL DEAD.

Montreal, April 19.—Daniel J. Campbell, telegraph editor of the Montreal Herald, for the past seven months, died of pneumonia in the Homeopathic Hospital this evening. He was 34 years old, unmarried, and previous to his coming to the Herald was with the Toronto News. For four years previous he was on the staff of the Ottawa Journal. He was born at Eganville.

IN PERIL OF FLAMES.

Toronto, April 19.—The lives of a couple of hundred men, women and girls, were placed in jeopardy by a fire which broke out at 9 o'clock this morning in the blanket department of the Adams Bros. Harness Manufacturing Company, Frederick street. The fire started in a machine which picks pieces of cloth preparatory to their being made into blankets. The machine is situated on the top story of the building. This is an old structure, with a single winding staircase, which was soon choked with employees struggling fanatically to reach the open air. The fire was got under control in short order, however. The picking machine is a complete wreck. The total loss will not exceed $1,000.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN.

Toronto, April 19.—C. S. Ward, the international secretary of the building and endowment fund of the Y. M. C. A., arrived in the city this morning to take charge of the Toronto Y. M. C. A. whirlwind campaign to raise $500,000 for new buildings and equipment.

Mr. Ward came here from Chicago, where he conducted the campaign resulting in the Y. M. C. A. of that city raising $350,000. It is understood the Toronto Y. M. C. A. has already received a large number of subscriptions from prominent citizens.

PREACHERS OBJECT TO THE BRUTAL SPORT

To Become a Divorce Clearing-House
Is Bad Enough, But Oh You Prize Fight.

Los Angeles, April 19.—The Methodist Preachers' Association has adopted a resolution calling on all ministerial associations of the state to join a movement against prize fighting. Part of the resolution reads: "To become a divorce clearing house for the nation, like Nevada and some other states, is bad enough, but for the great State of California to be made one vast clearing house for the exhibition of this most brutal sport, is a disgrace and degradation, to which we ought not longer to submit."

SPIKE ROBSON SUFFERS
CONCUSSION OF BRAIN

English Pugilist Who Was Knocked Out by Jim Driscoll, Is In Very Bad Shape.

London, April 19.—Spike Robson, who was knocked out at the National Sporting Club last night by Jim Driscoll, remained unconscious 45 minutes after being carried to his dressing room. A doctor finally revived him, but he had a relapse. It is learned that his condition was so serious today that he was unable to be removed from the National Sporting Club. The physician attending him fears that he may have sustained concussion of the brain. The police will take no action against Driscoll unless Robson dies. And Later This. London, April 19.—In his fight with Jim Driscoll at the National Sporting Club, Spike Robson fell in the fifth round, his head striking Driscoll's chair. A heavy scalp wound was the result, and at the end of the contest Robson was in bad shape. This gave rise to a report that he had been seriously injured, but he has expressed a desire for another bout with Driscoll.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Terre Haute, Ind., April 19.—It is the irony of fate that the famous "four cornered" harness race track is to be obliterated by an automobile road.

Frank P. Fox is at the head of the syndicate which has taken an option on forty-seven acres of the fair grounds for building purposes. The track association has been in debt for several years. Owner McKen told the syndicate he would sell the forty-seven acres, but on condition they should not be platted this year if the trotting association wanted to keep its dates in July. The association is to abandon the dates, but it is possible that Dr. George Fleming, secretary of the association, will carry through his plan to take the meeting off the hands of the syndicate.

BASEBALL IS BOOMING

Four Teams Have Already Been Entered for City League, and Fifth
Is Expected.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Stratford, April 19.—The annual meeting of the City Baseball League has created a great deal of enthusiasm in local baseball circles, and things look decidedly bright for the coming season. The league opening is on the second Saturday in May, and it is expected that at least four, and possibly five teams will be entered by that date. The officers who have been elected for the season are: President, D. A. McLachlan; vice-president, W. J. Smith; secretary-treasurer, H. Patterson.

Boxer Is Satisfied That He Can Take His Time, and Handlers
Are Pleased.

Ben Leonard, Cal., April 20.—James J. Jeffries' training camp looked like a rest cure sanatorium yesterday. For the first time since he began training Jeffries took almost a complete rest from active work. The trainers were pleased at the rest, as they were anxious to have Jeffries' insatiable desire for work. Billy Papke has joined the Jeffries camp to train for his fight with Thomas and Frank Klaus. He brought no sparring partners with him, as he expects to work with Jeffries' trainers, or even Jeffries himself. Papke will not start work before Monday.

JOHN KLING TO EARN HIS FINE AT ACTING

Cub Catcher Will Walk Across Stage
Twice a Day For Week—Reports to Team on Sunday.

[By Associated Press.] Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—John Kling, baseball catcher with the Chicago Cubs, is to walk across the stage at a music hall at Chicago twice a day for one week, beginning Monday next. In order, he says, that he may earn the $500 fine imposed on him by the National Baseball Commission. Kling last night said that he would report to Manager Chance, of the Chicago National baseball club, on Sunday, and play out the season for the $500 offered him.

Notes of the Boxers

Now that Jack Johnson has settled all his cases in court, he expects to get down to active work. A ten-mile run on the south side boulevards and some light work with Cotton and Cutler is also on the card for today. Of course Jack will also go automobileing. Our friends who have made Jim Jeffries a 10-to-6 favorite. Up to date the betting has been very light. Paris mutes on the fight have been opened. There are six lines for each fighter, running as follows: First to fourth round, fifth to ninth, tenth to fourteenth, fifteenth to nineteenth, twentieth to twenty-fifth, and twenty-sixth rounds and over.

Birds of Any Age Will Be Eligible—A
Silver Cup for the Winner.

The Western Ontario Pigeon Society's monthly meeting was held in the Albion block last night, there being a very encouraging attendance. Mr. E. Wilson took the chair in the absence of the president. It was decided to hold a home race from Chatham on May 24, for birds of any age, the society to donate a silver cup to the winner, with mouse prizes for the first three birds home. A prize for flying homers was also held, and two classes were provided. Mr. E. Wilson, the judge, awarded the prizes: Cock—L. McGillicray; Heiser; L. McGillicray; 2, R. Lashbrook; 3, G. Raison.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Chicago, April 20.—A right uppercut to the point of the chin is the blow with which Jack Johnson has won the majority of his fights, and it is this blow that will win the fight with Jeffries, if Johnson is victor.

O'BRIEN AND SECONDS
HELD FOR PUG'S DEATH

Frank Cole, a Negro, Died Following a Fight, and Men Implicated Are on Bail.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Philadelphia, April 19.—Frank Cole, a lightweight negro pugilist, of this city, died in a hospital today from injuries received last night in a boxing bout with Stanley Rodgers at the boxing club managed by Jack O'Brien. Rodgers was held without bail by the police to await the action of the coroner. The referee and several witnesses were also held. Cole was injured in the third round. He received a solar plexus blow which sent him to the mat, his head striking with terrific force. The crowd began cheering at the apparent knockout, but when a physician failed to bring Cole back to consciousness the spectators were dismissed and the fighter was removed to the hospital, where it was found he had sustained a fracture of the skull. He never regained consciousness. Later in the day Jack O'Brien, Rodgers, Cole's seconds, and George Becker, the referee, appeared before Coroner Ford and were held in bail to await an inquest to be held on Saturday. Rodgers' bail was fixed at $500, and the others were held in $200 each. O'Brien became bondsman for all involved, except himself, a friend going on his bond.

FINE MATERIAL FOR ANTI-EXCURSIONERS

Just 38 Per Cent of Games Scheduled
Thus Far Have Been Postponed
—National in Trouble.

Those of the baseball politicians who are for a later start of the season have some fine material for next winter's arguments in the history of the start of the present season. Things that have happened this far promise a put something of a crisis into the National League's 108-game arrangement, piling up postponements before the season is fairly started. This is the record of snow or cold weather call-offs to date:

American League.
Cleveland at Detroit.....1
St. Louis at Detroit.....1
Cleveland at Chicago.....1
New York at Philadelphia.....1
Washington at Boston.....1
Total.....5

National League.
Pittsburgh at St. Louis.....1
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.....1
St. Louis at Chicago.....1
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.....1
Total.....4

Will It Work? Most of the men Johnson has met were his inferiors physically. It is easier for a fighter to deliver a terrific uppercut to the chin of a shorter man than upon the chin of a man of his own height, or taller. For this reason, Johnson's pet punch may not avail much against Jeff, but the champion believes he will get it home frequently.

This right uppercut is usually delivered as a counter, Johnson stepping in close after blocking a punch or slipping it, and ripping the fist up from his mid-section, with all the strength in his wonderful right arm.

Properly delivered, with every ounce of the massive body to give it power, this punch is enough to tear a man's head from his shoulders when it lands plumb.

No matter how powerful an opponent is, no matter what his reserve force may be, the man doesn't live who could remain upon his feet after receiving the full force of Johnson's right on a vital spot.

The photograph, for which Johnson posed, illustrates how Johnson has stepped inside a left lead to plant his great right on the point of the jaw. Note the champion's attitude and you realize the immense amount of physical force he can bring to bear with the blow.

THE BRITISH BUDGET

London, April 19.—In the House of Commons this evening Hon. David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, reintroduced the budget of 1909-10. The changes are few and are chiefly of a verbal nature.

The chancellor dealt at length with the financial position. He declared that he realized that the present deficit of $131,240,000 would be more than wiped out when all arrears had been collected, and that there would be an actual surplus of $14,800,000. If the budget had been passed as usual last year, he said there would have been a surplus of $21,000,000.

The Chancellor commented upon the remarkable decrease of 32 per cent in the consumption of whiskey, which he attributed to the extra duty imposed. The gross revenue from spirits as compared with the estimated figures was $14,000,000.

CONTROL OF CANADA'S NAVY MUST REST WITH CANADIANS

The King to Control, But Through His Ministers at Ottawa, Instead of Imperial Advisers, as Will of People Must Be Expressed Through Parliament.

Ottawa, April 19.—The bill providing for the creation of a new Canadian navy, which took six weeks' talk to get its second reading in the Commons, was today put through the committee stage in the House with comparative ease under the pilotage of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Frederick Borden. The members spent all day going over the bill, clause by clause. Criticism from the Opposition benches was comparatively mild and perfunctory, centering mainly on the clause providing for the participation of the Canadian navy in any war in which Great Britain may be engaged only on authorization of the governor in council. The Opposition again took the stand that the navy should be automatically placed at the disposal of the admiralty whenever England declared war. There could be no holding back for when the empire was at war Canada was at war, and Canada's naval forces should be automatically at the disposal of the King.

The Premier's Position.
On the other hand, Sir Wilfrid, while declaring that there could be no doubt that Canada could be depended upon, along with all the other daughter nations of the empire, to come to the defense of the mother country in time of need, the principle of her autonomous government, on which was based the unity and stability of the empire, must be maintained. Canada must keep, he said, the control of her own affairs in her own hands. Canada's loyalty to the empire was unquestioned, and if the supremacy of England were threatened any government that refused to actively assist the Dominion's navy to the assistance of the mother country would be swept out of power. But in Canada, as in England, there was responsible government, and the will of the people must be expressed through the Government and Parliament. The issue, in brief, was as to whether the King should control the Canadian navy through his imperial ministers, or through his Canadian ministers, who were alone responsible to the Canadian people. The Opposition challenged no vote on the issue.

Participation in Wars.
The Opposition placed its resistance developed on clause eighteen of the bill, which gives the governor in Crimea. But he repeated that opinion, because it was a causeless, senseless and useless war. Inkerman and Balaklava added immortal pages to British history, but they were dearly bought glory. Another example of what he styled a war in which Canada should not participate was that of 1881, when there was a movement to free Egypt from the rule of the Khedive, and France and England agreed to co-operate to support the Khedive against Arabi Pasha. France withdrew, but the English fleet bombarded Alexandria, and English troops were landed to support the Khedive. Would Canada have had any excuse to take part in such a war as that? If such a case were to arise again there would be no occasion for the Canadian fleet to participate therein. Who was to decide when the Canadian navy should go to war? The men responsible to the people of Canada, and not a Government a thousand miles away. This was the clear difference between the two parties, and he was not afraid to ask the people to judge between the two.

Mr. Borden came back with the query whether Canadian troops and harbors would be considered neutral, like the Canadian ships, until the governor-in-council had made up his mind. He indulged in a number of suppositions, which led him to the conclusion that the result would be that Canada would cease to be a part of the British Empire, and would become an independent nation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the doubtful hypotheses of the leader of the Opposition would apply equally to the royal navy as to the Canadian navy. The Canadian fleet would resist attack, but would not attack until instructed to do so. So war came now without some warning. That was the case even between Japan and Russia, and the moment war was apprehended the emergency council would take action. It would not wait for war to be actually declared. Mr. Borden retorted that his position was that Canadian troops and forces should always be in the same position as the British naval forces. The government's proposal was absolutely unworkable and absolutely dangerous.

Mr. Fielding's Question.
Hon. Mr. Fielding asked Mr. Borden whether a British man-of-war would engage in action without receiving instructions from some one, and added that the British Admiralty could give its orders, so could the Canadian Government. Should not the Canadian people, who paid for the ships, have the right to say what should be done with them? There was no doubt as to how that power would be exercised. It would be the duty of any Government to instantly join in helping the mother country, and any Government which declined to do so would be swept out of existence. But any action must be taken by the free, voluntary action of the Canadian Government and the Canadian people.

After some further discussion along the same line the clause was declared carried. Major Currie called attention to the fact that the bill contained no provision for the conscription of boats, though it was in the militia act. Sir Frederick Borden said the power had never been used. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he did not propose to put conscription in this act. We believe the service will be so popular that the only compulsion required will be to keep men out of the service. Sir Wilfrid introduced an amendment which will provide a pension for the family of any seaman killed in service, and compensation to any man injured in the service. The pension clause was dropped. Sir Wilfrid stating they would be taken up again next year.

TWO GENTLEMEN SAY MR. HOMISTER IS WRONG

Statements in The Advertiser Which He Denies Backed Up by Prof. Bowman and Mr. McDermid.

At the annual meeting of the license commissioners Tuesday afternoon Mr. James Homister, of the Homister House, stated that his remarks at the meeting of the East Middlesex license commissioners' meeting on Saturday afternoon were exaggerated in the report in Monday evening's Advertiser. Mr. D. A. McDermid, secretary of the London Temperance League, and Professor James H. Bowman, who were present at the meeting, and listened to Mr. Homister's remarks with great attention, both agree that The Advertiser's report was, if anything, exceedingly magnified.

The Advertiser quoted Mr. Homister as saying that "there are any number of hotels in London where you cannot get a meal or stable a horse, and every hotel in the city breaks the law." "The only inaccuracy I see," said Mr. D. A. McDermid, "is that Mr. Homister said that the majority of the London hotels could not supply a meal or stable a horse." "He also made the statement," said Professor J. H. Bowman, "that there were not more than five hotels in London that could keep going were it not for the bar trade." "I thanked him for that information at the time," continued Mr. Bowman, "He made a whole lot of other wild statements."

Yesterday Mr. Homister called up The Advertiser, and made the assertion that he did not make the statements, credited to him by this journal, at the meeting of the East Middlesex license commissioners on Saturday last. His denial appeared in last evening's Advertiser.

DR. TILLMANN ON "SCARLET FEVER"

Interesting Address Delivered Before Talbot Street Mothers' Club.
At the Talbot Street Mothers' Club, Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Tillmann gave an instructive talk on scarlet fever and measles. In tracing the history of scarlet fever, citing peculiar instances of the spread of the disease and treatment given in such places as Dr. Barnardo's Home in England, the subject was made very interesting. The different kinds, stages, first and following symptoms, complications, infection, method of treatment and necessity of thorough disinfection, were each dealt with, giving the hearers a clear in-

BIG DETROIT STORE SWEEP BY FLAMES

Hunter's Great Departmental Store Badly Gutted Damage Being Half Million.

Detroit, April 19.—Out of the murk and drizzle last evening, fire leaped in a spectacular manner, about 6 o'clock, sending up in smoke the seven-story Fowler estate building occupied by the Hunter & Hunter department store, 177-179, 181 Woodward avenue, and not desisting in its destruction until damage to property had reached $462,000. As far as can be learned until more careful examination is permitted this morning, the flames did not extend beyond the Hunter & Hunter store, but the stock of the clothing store of Traver-Bird Company, one door to the south, has been badly damaged by water and the loss to stock may reach $50,000. There has also been slight damage to the stock of the R. H. Fyfe Shoe Company, on the other side of the gutted building. The damage will be mostly to colored goods by smoke. For a time the new Altes Vaudeville Theatre, fronting on Griswold street, and which backs close to the Fowler building, was threatened, but heroic work on the part of the firemen saved it.

Heaviness at Pit of the Stomach

A Feeling of Uneasiness Before and After Meals Is Quickly Cured With Nerviline.

Nearly everyone gets an occasional attack of indigestion and knows just what that heavy feeling means in the stomach. "I was subject to stomach derangements and my health was seriously hampered on this account. After meals I belched gas, had a weighty sensation in my stomach and over my left side. The first relief I got was from Nerviline—I used it three times a day and was cured. I continue to use Nerviline occasionally, and find it a wonderful aid to the stomach and digestive organs."

The above letter comes from Mrs. P. R. Stetson, wife of an important merchant in Brockton, Mass.

Further proof of the exceptional power of Nerviline is furnished by A. E. Rossman, the well-known upholder of Chester, who writes: "Let everyone with a bad stomach use 'Nerviline,' and I am sure there will be few sufferers left. I used have cramps, rumbling and gas on my stomach and severe fits of indigestion. Nerviline was the only remedy that gave me relief, and I found it so entirely satisfactory that I would like to have my letter of recommendation published broadcast in order that others may profit by my experience." You'll find a hundred uses for Nerviline—it's a trusty household remedy that sells to the extent of a million bottles per year—that's the best proof that it must cure and give unlimited satisfaction. Refuse anything offered in place of Nerviline. Large bottles, 50 cents; trial size, 25 cents. All dealers, or The Catarrhose Company, Kingston, Ont.

HE FEARED TO EAT

Till "Little Digesters" Cured His Indigestion

Like many another sufferer from Indigestion, Mr. E. Thody looked forward to mealtime with dread instead of pleasure. Writing from his home at 141 Yorkville Ave., Toronto, on June 12th last, he says:
"For two years I suffered with Indigestion and obtained no relief from anything I took, including several prescriptions from prominent physicians. Every meal was followed with acute pain until I feared to eat, consequently became run down for lack of nourishment."
"The 'Little Digesters' were recommended to me by a friend and I tried them with remarkable results, two boxes completely curing me. It is three months since I took any and have not suffered a pain no matter how hearty I eat. I would certainly recommend them to anyone suffering with Indigestion."

Why allow yourself to be handicapped and your life shortened by Indigestion or Dyspepsia, when you can so easily avoid it? "Little Digesters" are guaranteed to cure you or your money will be cheerfully refunded.

PRINT SCHOOL TAX IN RED INK

New Scheme to Impress Upon the People What It Costs for Education in London.

ALD. RICHTER'S IDEA

Taxpayers Will Be Told in Dollars and Cents Just How Much They Pay for Each Civic Branch of Work.

The tax slip this year will be much more comprehensive than in the past. It will contain every item of expenditure that goes to make up the tax rate—general rate, school rate, debt rate, etc., and will not be given in terms of mills on the dollar, but in actual dollars and cents.

This will make it very plain exactly how much every man is paying for the education of his children, for street improvement, for debt service, both local improvement and ordinary, and all the rest of it.

The School Tax.

The school tax will be separated as in Toronto, and will probably be printed in red ink. It was the intention to collect the school rate as one of the instalments, but this would involve much more labor and consequently more expense, and it was decided to collect the taxes as at present. However, the school rate will be sufficiently placarded to allow the taxpayer to know exactly what it is costing him.

Rate for 1910.

The rate this year is made up as follows:

Debt rate		Mills.
Public schools		7.9873
College		1.3782
Free library		0.4730
Hospital		1.5100
Police		1.8680
Board of health		0.1524
Other purposes		4.9547

Total..... 23.5 mills.

This information will be given, and opposite each item will be placed in actual figures the actual amount of money the figures represent. The tax slip will be two columns larger.

"The new slip will be very satisfactory," said Tax Collector Hayes. "It will not interfere with our method of collecting the instalments, but will give every taxpayer exact information as to what he is paying his money for."

58 NEW MEMBERS DURING THE YEAR

Talbot Street Baptist Church Is Flourishing in All Branches of Work.

OFFICERS WERE CHOSEN

Committees Also Named—Membership at Present Is 717—Some Families Have Left the Congregation.

The annual meeting of the congregation of the Talbot Street Baptist Church was held last night, and reports received from the various departments indicate that the year just past has been a most flourishing one, and that the church is growing steadily in every way.

The membership at the present time is 717. During the year there were 58 new members and 71 were lost through moving away and other reasons, making a decrease of 13.

The total amount given for missions was $2,054.30, and the total receipts from all branches was $8,638.56. Of this sum $6,783.69 was contributed from the church directly, and the following amounts were received from societies:

Ladies' Aid $605.07, Young Ladies' Mission Auxiliary $84.23, Sunday school $385.77, Women's Mission Circle $25.17, Northwest Indian Mission $13.34, home missions $240.02, foreign missions $199.39, B. Y. P. Union $59.62.

The Ladies' Aid also raised the interest on the church mortgage.

During the year the relief committee distributed $75.79 among the poor. The treasurer's report showed that the receipts increased $251.68, and that there was a balance on hand of $389.12.

The Officers.

The following officers were elected: Clerk, John B. Campbell, assistant clerk, Andrew Dale; deacons, J. B. Campbell and J. M. Thompson; J. Beardsall, G. Griffith, J. W. Westerville, A. Dale, N. Women

Cannot be Strong and Healthy Unless the Kidneys are Well.

Weak, lame or aching backs are the first sign of Kidney Trouble.

Under ordinary conditions they ought to be strong and ready to bear the burdens of life.

It is hard to do housework with a weak and aching back. Backaches come from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered that they get out of order.

Weak back is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from kidney troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you in the same way as they have cured thousands of others.

Miss Alberta B. Clarke, Stoney Creek, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with kidney trouble for several years; my back was weak, I had such terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night and tried everything without any benefit. Meantime a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got four boxes and they completely cured me. I now feel as well as I ever did and would advise everyone suffering from Kidney Disease to try them."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or The T. M. Burn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In ordering specify "Doan's."

THAMESFORD NEWS

Death in Manitoba of Former Popular Thamesford Lady.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Thamesford, April 20.—Mr. Rod. Young, who has been suffering from lumbago during the last week, is better, although still confined to the house.

The adult bible class of St. Andrew's Church is attended by a large number of young and middle-aged people, and great interest is manifested in the lessons under their able teacher, Mr. J. A. McDonald, principal of the public school.

Ward has been received by telegram of the death of Maggie Shewan, daughter of the late John Shewan, of this village, at her home in Nesbit, Man., after a few weeks' illness. Deceased, and her husband, Brock Donaldson, moved to Manitoba about twenty-seven years ago, and bravely bore the hardships that are connected with life in a new country. She leaves a sorrowing husband, one daughter and three sons, besides her mother, Mrs. Shewan, and her sisters, Mrs. James Young and Mrs. Alex. Bain.

The Presbytery, Alex. Shewan, a prominent merchant of Brandon, and James, a butcher here. Her death will be regretted by a great many of her school-day friends and acquaintances.

Mr. H. Karn, of this village, has made his final sale of furs for this season. Trapping has apparently paid well this winter, as he is receiving upwards of eighty cents for his rat skins that formerly did not sell for a quarter as much money.

Miss B. Westlake, who has been visiting Mrs. Jas. Mower during the past week, expects to leave for Alberta, about the 2nd of May, to join her brothers, Sid and Frank, who are homesteading.

John Lawrence and James Young are expecting their new rowboat in a few days and will, no doubt, enjoy all the sport that is to be derived from this healthful exercise.

The Presbyterian Guild held its usual meeting on Sunday evening. The subject, "Sowing Wild Oats," was ably handled by John Lawrence.
