INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES TO BE SOUGHT BY C. N. R.

C. N. R. WILL SEEK AUTHORITY TO INCREASE FREIGHT RATES FROM 30 TO 40 PER CENT

Advance in Rates To Be Permitted or Taxpayers Must Calculate On Payment of Heavy Deficit—Same Order Will Apply To Canadian Pacific Railway.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—The Canadian National Railways will at an early date make an application to the railway commission for an increase in freight rates. Whether the Canadian Pacific will be a party to the application or not makes little difference. Whatever increase is ordered will apply to that company also.

The only alternative to an increase in rates on the National Railways is the payment by the people of heavy deficits in the operation of their system. Prospective deficits during the coming fiscal year are heavy.

The last increase in freight rates was made under the war-time measures act, and in the face of fairly strong opposition from boards of trade. The application was backed chiefly by the C. P. R. and Grand Trunk, and was based on the increase in the cost operation due to the adoption of the McAdoo award in the matter of wage scales. It was provided in the case of the Canadian Pacific Railway that whatever amount the company earned over and above 10 per cent on its stock should go to the treasury. What amount the treasury reaped is not known.

Thirty to Forty Per Cent.

It is anticipated that the further increase asked for will be along the lines of increases in the United States, and will approximate from 30 to 40 per cent. It has been suggested in the case of the C. P. R. that the same limitation be made as previously on the matter of earnings, and that a careful audit be kept to prevent the charging of actual capital expenditure to maintenance.

Considerable interest centres around the probable finding of the railway commission in the matter of the application of the telegraph companies for an increase in their rates. The companies brought forth a new and somewhat novel claim for depreciation. They put forward a sort of theatrical mortality covering a period of years. Objection was taken to this by H. Symington, counsel for the Winnipeg Board of Trade, who warned the commission that if such a basis were adopted in the matter of the telegraph rates, the railways would undoubtedly make it the basis for an increase in freight rates.

TYRANNICAL RULE OF OTHER DAYS REPLACED BY WEAK AND WOBBLY POLICY NOW IN USE

John Lewis, Editor of Liberal Publications, Arraigns Union Government.

CONFIDENCE IS NEEDED

Administration Now in Power Failing To Carry Out Its Duties.

Montreal, Feb. 18. — At a luncheon of the Montreal Reform Club, John Lewis, editor of Liberal publications at Ottawa, gave an address on "Freedom and Order." Referring to the unrest and discontent arising after the war, he said there were two ways of dealing with the discontented elements. One was to repress them, to punish them, to deport them. The other was to vindicate our institutions and not only to defend them, but to make them worthy of defence. It is to say to the discontented, this is your parliament, the purpose of which is to make laws for your benefit and as nearly as possible corresponding to your will and judgment. This is your government, depending for life upon parliament and the people, intended not to tyrannize over you, but to serve you. These are your courts of law, not the instruments of arbitrary power, but the safeguards of your liberty and your rights. To the best of our endeavors we will keep our parliament free and our courts impartial. We invite you to use them and to make suggestions for their improvement. We are ready to consider any reasonable complaint. We invite you to take your full share in the government of the contry, to make full use of the franchise, to elect your own representatives to parliament. That I conceive to be the Liberal policy for dealing with discontent and the right policy. Stern methods may be required in extreme cases, but on the whole I think I fairly describe the attitude of Liberalism toward the critical and the discontented when I say that our policy is not to silence them and shut them in jails, but to invite them to our councils.

Back to Old Ways.

"I propose to consider how far our present troubles are due to departures from the spirit of our constitution and how much we may accomplish by getting back to old ways, how we may restore the alliance of freedom and order. For that purpose I will ask you to

U.S. Will Become Involved In New War If She Shirks Duty

New York, Feb. 18.—A warning that the United States will be involved in another European war within ten years unless she accepts her share of the responsibility of putting Europe and Asia on their feet again, was uttered by Henry Morgenthau, former American ambassador to Turkey, in an address before the students of Columbia University.

Mr. Morgenthau declared that the United States, in refusing to accept a mandate for Constantinople, had lost an advantage which it can never regain.

After asserting that "the magnificent talk of self-determination has all died away," and that the nations of Europe are "going back to the old order," the former ambassador continued: "Unless militarism is destroyed and the new order of things established I predict that all you young men who fought in the late war will be called upon again to bear arms in an European war and that all of you who were too young two years ago will receive your first call for service."

DR. W. H. ROBINSON COLLAPSES IN WITNESS BOX AT JUDICIAL PROBE AT LONDON HOSPITAL FOR INSANE

Head of Institution, Who Has Been Confined To Bed, Exclaims "I'm Sick" and Topples Over—Examination of Kitchen Casual and Hurried.

Dr. W. H. Robinson, superintendent of the Ontario Hospital for the Insane, collapsed in the witness box this morning while being cross-examined during the investigation of the charges made against the institution over which he has supervision.

When first put in the box the doctor was examined by Senior County Judge Talbot Macbeth, who has been commissioned to hold the probe into the charges. He gave evidence as to the manner in which supplies were purchased for the asylum and as to who was responsible for the issuing of them. He testified also as to the manner in which requisitions for food were made and then supplied to the kitchen. He followed this with a glowing eulogy of the cottages and reception hospital, and a report of the main building and the staff.

Donald Swanson of the firm of Swanson & Weekes, who is appearing on behalf of the plaintiff, Harry Lauder, said that no charges were being made against the cottages or the reception hospital.

Casual and Formal.

In the course of the cross-examination by Mr. Swanson, Dr. Robinson admitted that his knowledge of requisitions for food for the kitchen and the manner in which it was handled was merely casual and formal. He had no specific information in regard to these matters.

The witness told of the manner in which R. Beamish, the chef, performed his duties. He first claimed that he knew the chef was on the job and paid regular attention to his duties, but later declared that he had not seen him at his place of employment at 8 o'clock in the morning. After more cross-examination he could not recollect having seen the employee there at 9 o'clock.

According to his own evidence, Dr. Robinson's inspection of the kitchen consisted of a hurried walk through it.

The Collapse.

After this admission the defendant exclaimed: "I'm sick," and collapsed. He said that he had been ill for several weeks.

The superintendent was then taken into the hall and given medical attention. The judge and the lawyers present, after a consultation, agreed that owing to his breakdown the remainder of his cross-examination should be set over until the first part of next week.

Dr. Robinson in the box confessed that he had not seen Beamish at the institution at 8 o'clock in the morning during the past five weeks, nor during the five weeks preceding that

No Locks.

Since his coming to the institution there had not been a lock in the place. Prior to that time, however, locks were everywhere. It was his knowledge of the inmates of such an institution that had led him to remove the locks. However, as the cross-examination progressed he was asked about certain food being kept in a cupboard in the kitchen. He said that there was a lock on the cupboard and also on the dining-room door. Mr. Swanson reminded him that this was a contradiction of his former statement

Regarding the weighing of food he said that it was first weighed by the storekeeper and then in the kitchen. He acknowledged a short time after making the statement that it had not been weighed in the kitchen for a period of years.

Jared Vining, appearing on behalf of Beamish, the chef, and E. T. Essery, acting for R. B. Heighway, the chief attendant, and Mrs. Sarah Walker, the

DECLARES U. S. PEACE DELEGATES WERE BUT MARIONETTES UNDER PRESIDENT'S CONTROL

Italian Newspaper Asserts Lansing Resigned Too Late.

RECTIFIED BLUNDERS

Made by Wilson in His Conduct At Versailles Conference.

Rome, Feb. 18.—"America is going through such a crisis of overproduction that she needs European markets as much as Europe needs her goods, in the opinion of the Populo Roma, which comments today on President Wilson's note relative to the Adriatic settlement. Urging United States Senators Lodge, Sherman and Knox to "show the strength of the majority of the Senate in preventing Mr. Wilson's interference in European affairs," the newspaper adds: "Secretary Lansing resigned too late. He was a straightforward and conscientious man until he went to Paris, where becoming the blind instrument of President Wilson, he lost the esteem of friends and adversaries alike.

"Mr. Lansing, Mr. Whyte and Gen. Bliss were in fact mere marionettes which were moved at the pleasure of the stage manager of the theatre at Versailles. At the same time, Col. House was intrusted to the negotiation of foreign affairs, not for America, but for President Wilson.

"Mr. Lansing, assisted by a very competent staff, repaired many presidential blunders. He opposed the League of Nations and favored the establishment of an international tribunal sufficiently strong to pass valid verdicts. He also differed from Mr. Wilson on the Russian question, mandates, Adriatic dispute and the Turkish problem. Usurpation of power is unknown in the history of America, and the president acted without the consent of the only body having the right to give it—the American Senate and people."

METHODISTS SHOUT FOR JOY WHEN NEWS RECEIVED THAT OBJECTIVE HAD BEEN PASSED

Contributions Continue To Pour Into Hands of Canvassers For the Inter-Church Forward Movement — Total Is Expected To Reach $4,500,000 When All Subscriptions Are Received.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—Contributions continued to pour into the hands of the canvassers for the inter-church forward movement, according to reports received at headquarters here today. Up untill noon the Presbyterian organizers state that a total of $3,873,000, an increase of $15,000 over last night's returns, have been reported. Several hundred churches of this denomination have yet to be heard from, owing to inability of canvassers to make their rounds on account of the influenza. When the canvass is completed, the Presbyterian organizers expect that over $4,500,000 will have been subscribed.

There were cheers and more cheers last night at the "joy" meeting of Toronto Methodists in Central Methodist Church when Rev. Peter Bryce announced that the national campaign total for Toronto had reached the top notch figure of $1,009,672, over $200,000 more than the objective of $800,000 set.

Again there was enthusiasm and cheering when Rev. J. H. Arnup told the rejoicers that the dominion objective had been topped and that the total was now $4,266,563.

Reports Still Coming.

There are more reports to come in, Rev. A. Lloyd Smith spoke vigorously on "Looking Forward." It is a fine thing for us to raise $4,000,000, but does that make Canada a weeded garden of the Lord? There is wrong and injustice and evil yet in the land. It was human life poured out that won the war. Now that we have this money we must let the lives of men and women be poured out, their blood to become the stream of power, to win the war against sin.

The Congregationalists, who were the first to officially report having reached their objective, which was $100,000, but were erroneously reported this morning to have only secured over 99 per cent of their objective, received an additional $25,000 in subscriptions this morning, thus realizing 105 per cent of their total dominion objective. The Anglicans reported an additional $100,000 from districts hitherto unheard from, which brought their percentage up to 96 of their total objective, and their total to above $2,357,065. At noon today reports from Baptist and Methodist headquarters indicated that the totals are practically unchanged.

Dr. Braithwaite Pleased.

In a statement to the Canadian Press today, Dr. E. E. Braithwaite, national organizer for the united churches, said: "The satisfaction which resulted from the united national campaign during the past number of months has been intensified by the successful financial canvass. The large amount of money which will be available will enable the Canadian churches to take a much larger part than ever before in the spread of Christianity both at home and abroad. The success of the financial drive and the splendid publicity and the educational features of the campaign could not have been undertaken by the churches separately.

DESCHANEL INSTALLED AS TENTH PRESIDENT OF FRENCH REPUBLIC

FOLLOWS PRECEDENTS

Transfer of Power Is Marked by Brilliant Program.

Paris, Feb. 18.—Paul Deschanel today became the tenth president of the French Republic, succeeding Raymond Poincare, who laid aside the robes of office after one of the most critical periods in the history of the country. The formal transfer from the old to the new regime occurred at the palace of the Elysee this afternoon.

The inauguration of the French president is an formal ceremony, arrangements for which are made long in advance of the event. Precedents having historic approval are closely followed, and the number permitted to witness the transfer of authority is limited to the presidents of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies, committees from each house and members of the cabinet.

In carrying out the preliminary details of the program Premier Millerand shortly before the hour set for the ceremony drove to the Palace Bourbon, where, as president of the chamber, M. Deschanel has maintained his residence, and called for the president-elect.

Entering a state carriage and escorted by a regiment of cuirassiers, and preceded by a flagbearer, they drove to the palace, where the ceremony was to take place.

With the arrival of M. Deschanel at the Elysee the formal transfer of power took place, although at midnight last night the reins of authority had automatically passed from M. Poincare to his successor.

Woman Lights Up, Men Follow, Then Happiness Reigns

Ottawa Rotarians Put At Ease by Lady From Nova Scotia.

Ottawa Rotary Club yesterday held a luncheon at the Chateau Laurier, and invited to it delegates to the educational convention now in session here. When the luncheon had concluded, the secretary of the club, Mr. H. S. Binks, quietly passed about and requested the members present to refrain from smoking, owing to the fact that there were a number of ladies present who were interested in educational matters, and who might be averse to sitting in the fumes of tobacco.

Gallantly obeying this request, the members felt a little at a loss without their usual after-eating "gasp." They were not quite at ease and happy as is usual with Rotarians, when President Dan Johnson arose to launch the day's program.

He was suddenly interrupted by a gasp of astonishment, quickly followed by a sigh of relief. By the time the president had looked over the assemblage to discover the cause of the interruption he found everyone lighting up a cigar, cigarette or the old pipe.

Here was a lady from Nova Scotia, wife of one of the educational delegates, nonchalantly puffing away at a cigarette. From that moment the party brightened up perceptibly, and the Rotarians were quite tickled with the action of this worldly-wise woman, who had relieved the tense situation and put the men at their ease.

There is talk of the constitution being changed to allow the club to make her a member.

Suggestion Is Made As an Amendment to Workmen's Compensation Act.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 18.—State insurance for Manitoba was the recommendation made yesterday by the experts called in by the Government to assist a joint committee which has been considering suggested amendments to the workmen's compensation act. They also recommend the increase of compensation from 55 to 66 1-3 per cent of the earnings, and the increase of the allowances to widows from $20 to $30 per month, and to children from $5 to $7.50.

Cards will therefore be required for bread, rice, macaroni, coal, lard and fats.

METHODISTS $20,000 OVER OBJECTIVE IN CHURCH CAMPAIGN

London Has Donated $110,500 to Forward Movement Campaign of Methodist Church.

The Forward Movement campaign objective of the Methodists in the London district has been passed by $20,087, according to figures given out at campaign headquarters at 2 o'clock this afternoon. There are three other cities in Western Ontario over the top. The figures show Stratford, Chatham and St. Thomas have exceeded their objectives.

The London total is now $110,500, and the canvassers are working hard this afternoon and hope to raise several thousand more before the campaign closes. Other cities of Western Ontario have raised the following sums, in the Methodist campaign: Stratford, $65,111; Wingham, $35,000; Goderich, $35,000; Exeter, $30,511; Strathroy, $25,926; Sarnia, $19,238; Windsor, $72,000; Chatham, $53,021; Ridgetown, $20,075; St. Thomas, $43,024.

Reports received by the Anglican headquarters at noon showed that Chatham has raised $12,000 in the two churches of that city. In Bruce County $13,000 was raised, the larger subscriptions coming from Kincardine, $2,233; Walkerton, $28,000, and Paisley, $1,600.

Reports from the Presbyterian and Baptist headquarters were not available at 2 o'clock today.

WOULD MAKE ALL ALIENS REGISTER ONCE A YEAR

New York, Feb. 18.—Amendment of the immigration law to require all aliens to register and report once a year to some federal official, is one of the several recommendations made to the National Republican Club in a report by its sub-committee on immigration.

Repeal of the laws in certain western and southern states that permit aliens to vote who have only declared their intentions to become citizens; stringent regulation of the foreign language press in the United States, and the creation of a permanent commission to study the effects of past and especially future immigration, were other recommendations.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS OF CANADIAN COPPER SHIPPED INTO U. S.

Total Imports by the United States Less Than in 1918.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Canada sent 28,201,213 pounds of copper, valued at $5,222,768, into the United States during 1919, according to a report issued today by the department of commerce.

The total imports of copper by the United States fell off more than 30,000,000 pounds as compared with 1918. During the last year 126,455,063 pounds of copper, valued at $23,541,020, were imported, against 157,216,481 pounds, valued at $34,650,864, in the previous year.

Imports from Mexico in 1919 totaled 57,530,337 pounds, valued at $10,577,333.

Copper exports also slumped, ore shipments for the year totaling 507,546 pounds, valued at $95,938, compared with 2,387,275 pounds, worth $578,165, in 1918. Refined copper exports decreased from 690,067,091 pounds in 1918 to 438,160,818 pounds last year, representing a decline in value of over $80,000,000. England was the chief market for American copper, taking a total for the year of 105,679,150 pounds, worth $22,856,469.

BODY OF MURDERED GIRL BRIDE EXHUMED

Italian Police Forging Strong Chain of Evidence Around Peruvian Painter.

Rome, Feb. 18.—Two developments in the tangled and mysterious case in which Luis Ignatius Mesones, a Peruvian painter, is charged with the murder of his girl-bride, came to light today. The skeleton of a woman known as Maria Rotinelli, who was supposed to have committed suicide here two years ago, was exhumed, and positively identified as that of Senora Mesones, and Mesones admitted to the court that his wife had disappeared on December 27, 1917, instead of sailing for America, as he has insisted hitherto. He also expressed the belief that Senora Mesones and the Rotinelli woman were one and the same person.

Mesones told the court that for the purpose of obtaining money from his wife's family he invented the story that Senora Mesones had gone to America. Investigation by authorities has shown the Rotinelli woman first appeared in Rome on the day Mesones says his wife vanished.

SALARIES OF JUDGES WILL BE INCREASED

Provision For Advanced Emoluments May Be Made At Coming Session.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—Higher salaries for judges, cabinet ministers and members of Parliament may be anticipated. At the present time the highest salary received by any judge is $7,000 a year, the amount ranging downward according to rank. A cabinet minister receives $7,000, plus his sessional indemnity of $2,500. A member receives only the sessional indemnity, which last year was doubled because of the two sessions. Judges are precluded from making any money outside their salaries. The latter have dwindled because of the increasing cost of living and it is claimed that no man can do honor to the position at the existing emolument. It would not be surprising if provision were made at the coming session for increases.

On the other hand, while salaries of ministers and members at present are considered inadequate, there is no likelihood of the present Parliament increasing them for itself. It may be, however, that a bill will be passed providing for increases to become effective only after the next general federal election.

PACKERS MUST ACT TO PROTECT THEMSELVES

Toronto, Feb. 18.—Canadian packers will shortly take action to protect themselves from loss after April 1, according to well-defined rumors here today. That is the date on which "packers' insurance" on live stock passing through stock yards is to be banned, according to the recent order of the Dominion Government. It is said that the farmer or the public will likely have to meet it.

The tax of 50 cents on cows, 20 cents on beef cattle, and one-half of one per cent collected by the packers was to protect them from loss through the condemnation of cattle by veterinary inspectors. Local packers are to meet shortly to determine what action they will take.

JAMES OVEREND IS PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Popular Manager of Canadian Express Company Dies This Morning.

James Overend, London manager of the Canadian Express Company, and well known in local business circles, died at his home, 394 Piccadilly street, early this morning, following an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Overend came to this city in 1901 from St. Thomas, to manage the office of the company in this city. He was 56 years old and was born at Marchmount, Ontario.

Forty years ago Mr. Overend entered the employ of the Canadian Express Company at Orillia and rapidly won promotion. From that town he was transferred to Toronto, and later was given a managership at St. Thomas. He remained there for some years before coming to this city to take charge.

The deceased had been in fairly good health until about two weeks ago when he took a severe cold. He remained on duty, however, for a few days, but was then forced to his bed with pneumonia.

In addition to his wife he is survived by one daughter, Miss Genevieve, and three sons, James J., Winnipeg; Cyril S., Winnipeg and Hugh A., of this city, traveling auditor for the Metropolitan Insurance Company.

The arrangements for the funeral have not been made pending the arrival of the two sons from the West.

Harry Overend, a brother of the deceased, was killed in a wreck on the Grand Trunk near Port Credit four years ago. He was an engineer, and one of the pioneer railroadmen of this part of the country.

AIR FORCES WILL BE USED BY BRITAIN IN DEFENCE OF FAR EAST

Hon. Winston Churchill Declares Bases Have Been Established.

IN COLONIAL CITIES

Aeroplanes To Play Big Part in Persia and Mesopotamia.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Great Britain relies largely upon her air forces for the defence of Persia and Mesopotamia, according to official advices received here. Hon. Winston Churchill, British war minister, recently informed Parliament that air bases have been established at Bagdad and Karachi, the latter a port on the Arabian Sea, and the terminus of an important railway.

Military experts here attach great importance to this advice because it is an innovation in military strategy in two particulars. It is the first time, the authorities say, that air forces have been relied upon to so large a degree purely for defence. Also the impossibility of conducting operations in desert regions has been overcome by carrying on the operations in the air.

British authorities have feared that Bolshevik troops who have penetrated Turkestan might enter Afghanistan and take Persia from the flank. It is believed that the aerial forces have been organized partially to meet this threatened danger.

More than half a million dollars had been collected by campaigners for the Methodist Forward Movement in the London Conference when reports were made to headquarters last night. The exact total was $510,000.

Other denominations reported favorable increases in the sums contributed. Definite reports on the Baptist Forward Movement will be submitted at a prayer meeting in the Talbot Street Church tonight.

Three Anglican churches in the city have exceeded their objectives, and the total amount collected in the whole city now stands at about $40,000, with an objective of $51,000 to be reached.

Methodist campaign headquarters reported last night that Toronto City had a total of $985,000, while the outside district had $225,000. The Toronto Conference had a total of $1,210,000, London Conference reported $510,000, Hamilton Conference $568,000, the Bay of Quinte $320,000, and Montreal, Ont., $254,800, a total of $2,862,800.

The Montreal Conference in Quebec has collected $323,200; Nova Scotia, $170,000; New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, $150,000; Manitoba, $248,500; Saskatchewan, $277,000; Alberta, $70,000; British Columbia, $126,400, a total for the Dominion of $4,220,000.

The Presbyterian canvass in Maitland has been almost completely held up owing to flu conditions, while returns from other presbyteries are very incomplete. Many congregations have not yet made their canvass, and others have failed to report to date. All the conveners of the presbytery's committee's are confident that the objectives will be exceeded. The returns so far have suggested to the synod's convener that ultimately one million dollars may be subscribed by the synod.

The Cayuga Indians at Caledonia have subscribed $528 to the Anglican Forward Movement, which is regarded as very encouraging.

The deanery of Norfolk reports: Delhi, $727; Port Dover, $2,300; Port Rowan, $800; Simcoe, $9,000; Woodhouse, $1,900; Waterford, $1,700, making a total of $17,000, which is 50 per cent over the objective.

Reports from the deanery of Waterloo are as follows: Galt, $7,500; Preston, $9,800; Hespeler, $1,000; Kitchener, $4,200; Waterloo, $4,200; New Hamburg, $1,000, making a total of $27,800, which sum is away "over the top."

STORM IS CAUSE OF EMBARGO ON SOME LINES OF FREIGHT

Not Expected To Remain in Force Many Days.

Owing to the conditions brought about by the storm of the first part of the week Grand Trunk officials have placed an embargo on all "dead" freight going to points east of Toronto. London officials do not believe that the embargo will remain in force for any length of time, they stated today, as with the improvement of the weather it will be easier to get the lines cleared.

The embargo will not stop the shipment of live stock or perishable freight. It is not expected to remain in force long enough to seriously affect shippers in this city, who will only be inconvenienced by their freight being held up for a few days.

With the better weather today the railroads in the London district were able to get all branch lines blocked by snow cleared. The six lines on the Grand Trunk which were tied up yesterday were opened during the night, and the two lines of the C. P. R. which suffered by the storm are also carrying trains through today.

The drifts encountered by the plow crews were the largest seen in this part of the country in years, according to the men who cleared the way. On the London, Huron and Bruce line of the G. T. R. drifts 20 feet high were encountered in cuts, but the traffic on that line is going through all right today. In the vicinity of Palmerston the drifts were also exceptionally large.

The St. Marys branch of the C. P. R. was one of those seriously affected by the storm, but traffic on it was resumed today.

GRATUITY QUESTION WILL BE DISCUSSED ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Mass Meeting of Soldiers Is Scheduled for Hyman Hall —Petition Being Signed.

The gratuity question will be discussed from every angle by the G. A. C., at the reorganization meeting to be held in Hyman Hall Saturday night. There will be several speakers from Toronto, including J. F. Marsh, who represented the G. A. C. at the Parliamentary committee meeting in Ottawa last October.

The meeting will be an open one and it is expected that there will be a large turnout from all the soldier organizations in the city.

The Petition.

Following is a copy of the petition that is being signed by thousands of soldiers all over Canada and which will be submitted to the Dominion Parliament at the next session:

The petition of the undersigned, represented by the Naval Veterans' Association, the Originals' Club, Grand Army of Canada, United Veterans' League, the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, His Majesty's Army and Navy Veterans' Association, and all other ex-sailors and soldiers who have served in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces at home or abroad, or who having been resident in Canada before or during the great war of 1914-1919 served in any branch of the Allied forces; and the dependents of those who sacrificed their lives in the defence of the empire,

Humbly sheweth:

That they voluntarily gave up home, position, prospects of ordinary economical success and advancement for service in the navy or army.

That they accomplished with distinction and honor the tasks they set out to perform.

That their deeds of valor have raised the Dominion of Canada to the status of a nation and have secured for the Dominion in a place in the League of Nations.

That they should be re-established in civil life to a position commensurate with the sacrifices made.

That the physical condition of thousands of them makes it impossible to compete with those who never saw service in the fighting forces.

That in view of the methods of systematic production which have been introduced into the Canadian industries during the war a vast majority of them find themselves unable to meet the demand for 100 per cent efficiency.

That having returned home they find the best positions taken by those who remained behind.

That thousands of them are unable to find suitable employment.

That through the high cost of living the dependents of those who have returned find themselves at a considerable financial disadvantage as compared with those who stayed at home.

That the dependents of the fallen find themselves in a similar position, with the additional disadvantage of having lost their bread-winner, or their growing sons upon whom they looked with confidence for support in the coming years.

That many aliens have established themsives in business during the war while your petitioners were fighting for the very existence of the country, and that owing to the pecuniary losses sustained while serving their country they are unable to compete with these aliens.

The Amounts.

Your petitioners therefore humbly pray:

That in order to re-establish those officers, non-commissioned officers, men and women who have enlisted and served in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces at home, or abroad, or who having been resident in Canada before or during the great war of 1914-1919 served in any branch of the Allied forces, and to place them in a post-war position to which their services justly entitle them, a further cash bonus be given on the following scale:

$2,000—To officers, N. C. O.'s, men and women who served in France, or any other zone of active warfare; $1,500 to those who served in England or on fortress duty; $1,000 to those who served in Canada; $2,000 to those in the naval service in the war zone; $1,500 naval service patrol duty, and $1,000 to naval men serving in Canadian waters, and that a cash bonus, based on the same rating as the above be paid to the parents, wives, children, or proven dependents of deceased sailors and soldiers

Urge Nation-Wide Effort To Arouse Public To Need of Better-Paid Teachers

National Council of Educationalists Opens Session At Ottawa—Discuss Question of Survey of All Canadian Text Books For Moral and Spiritual Influence.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(By Canadian Press.)—That the teaching profession all over Canada is at present badly underpaid, thus taking away all inducement to those who would otherwise devote their lives to it, and that a nation-wide propaganda should be immediately instituted to offset this condition, as well as to awaken public interest in the fundamentally important nature of the teaching profession as the basis of national advancement were some of the features of today's opening session of the National Council of Educationists.

A committee of three was appointed to bring in a report on how best such a campaign can be undertaken. This committee will report before the close of the conference, Thursday night. Dr. McLellan of Charlottetown, P. E. I., made an impassioned appeal for a propaganda which would stir the people of Canada to a sense of their obligations towards teaching as a profession.

"Teachers' salaries are too small in all provinces," he declared, "and there is no inducement to men or women to give up their lives to this noble profession."

Spiritual Welfare.

Next to the clergy the teacher had more to do than any other person with the future moral and spiritual welfare of the race, he added.

About forty members of the council, gathered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, are present at the convention, which is presided over by W. J. Bulman, chairman of the Winnipeg School Board and an ex-president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Tomorrow night the delegates are to be the guests of the Ottawa City Council at a banquet, at which the governor-general has signified his intention of being present.

Drafting Committees.

Today's proceedings, after organization had been completed, were devoted entirely to drafting committees on resolutions designed to better the status of the teaching profession, and to secure for children a better chance of being taught the fundamentals of good citizenship before they begin to earn their own living.

The convention appointed committees to go into the question of a survey of all Canadian text books and to prepare estimates of costs of such a step, the idea being to find what moral and spiritual influence exists in the school curriculum, to inquire what is being done in Canadian institutions to prepare teachers to develop the personality and to influence the character of the pupil, and another committee to look into the education of teachers already in the service with a view to extending it.

"Mad Mullah" Escapes.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The combined operations of the British and Italians with tanks and aircraft against the "Mad Mullah" in Abyssinia have been very successful. The enemy was heavily defeated and the ope ations have been virtually concluded, but the "Mad Mullah" escaped.

The "Mad Mullah" has recently been preaching a holy war, according to the Somali tribes, and during the recent war continually raided the country, necessitating the maintenance of a garrison by the Italians.

The colonial under-secretary announced today in the House of Commons that the Dervishes had been attacked by aeroplanes in Somaliland; that the Mullah had escaped, but his positions were captured with much booty and the power of the Dervishes had been entirely destroyed.

Says Reds Acted Like Barbarians to Foreign Folk

Swiss Consul At Kiev Arrives Home Penniless.

GENEVA, Feb. 17.—Charles Wigler, Swiss consul at Kiev, arrived here penniless yesterday with sixteen compatriots. Wigler said that when the Bolsheviki entered Kiev in December they pillaged and then burned most of the shops. They arrested all the foreigners and robbed them of everything, even their clothes and shoes being taken. A number of foreigners were forced to work for the Red army or starve, especially as four hundred grammes of black bread cost 200 rubles, a pound of butter 500, a half-pint of milk 100, an egg 40, a pair of shoes 6,000 and a chicken 450 rubles. Clothes and linen were not to be found.

According to Wigler the Bolsheviki acted like barbarians towards foreigners, shooting to death Madame Bevechi, a Swiss, because ten years ago she subscribed 150 rubles to the Nationalist Club of Kiev.

The banks of Kiev quoted a sovereign at 2,500 rubles, Wigler said, while dollars could not be obtained at any price. The English, French and a few Americans in the interior suffered severely under the Bolshevik regime, the consul asserted. The Reds maintained no pretense of order, murder and robberies being common.

ADMISSION OF SOUTH AMERICAN COUNTRIES TO LEAGUE IS NOTED

Ottawa Regards Their Entry As Significant.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. — (By Canadian Press.) — Official notification was received by the Government today that four additional countries have joined the League of Nations. At the time of the Paris peace conference, the four were included among states (not represented at the conference) invited to join. They were named in the annex to the covenant.

Admission of the South American countries is regarded here as of particular significance, in view of the stand taken by the Canadian Government in respect of Canada's status and voting rights in the league. Paraguay, for instance, is a country of only one million population, as compared with over eight millions in Canada. But Paraguay will have the same voting rights in the assembly as the Dominion. Before the admission of Paraguay, a number of Central and South American states, with an even smaller population had voting rights equal with Canada. They, however, were signatories of the treaty of Versailles, and along with Canada were counted among the original members of the league.

According to advices received by the Government, there is a strong sentiment throughout the Dominion in favor of insistence on full Canadian rights in the league. Mr. Meighen, minister of the interior, is to speak in Winnipeg on the league tomorrow night. It is expected that he will further outline Canada's stand.

BRITISH WATCHING BOLSHEVIK MOVEMENTS

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The home secretary, Edward Shortt, stated in the House of Commons today that the activities of Bolshevist agents in this country were receiving careful attention, but he did not think it is in the public interest to publish particulars. This was in reply to the question as to whether his attention had been called to the fact that the underground activities of Bolshevist agents here had greatly increased of late; whether the police had recently seized large quantities of propaganda and if any newspapers and British subjects were being subsidized by soviet money.

DIED SUDDENLY.

PORT ELGIN, Feb. 17.—The death took place here suddenly on Friday of John Floto of Elmira, who had been visiting friends in this vicinity. Mr. Floto was waiting at the station for the train, which was to take him home, when he was suddenly seized by a heart attack and collapsed, and died before medical aid could be procured. He is survived by his wife and family.

CANADA'S PLACE IN THE EMPIRE.

"Canada," says the Agricultural Gazette in its January issue, "is the foremost of the family of the British Empire, and, being nearest, the great responsibility rests upon her, not alone to aid and succor in battle, but to lead the van in all forms of industrial life; to seize every opportunity to forward the grandeur and stability both of herself and of the empire."

New Silks For Springtime

More beautiful than ever new silks of spring, 1920, have emerged to rival in weave and texture their predecessors of former years, and more particular are we this year on emphasizing none but dependable merchandise for the departments throughout this store. Today there are so many low grades (particularly silks) placed on the markets with just fine appearance and finish, that lack even reasonable wear and sell but slightly less than dependable silks. Considering the cost of making up such merchandise it is purely speculation and waste of money to buy these doubtful qualities. Most women today search for something more than just fine appearance on poor quality goods. They invariably want the outstanding qualities that represent value and long wear—and to maintain the reputation this store has enjoyed always for satisfactory merchandise, the new spring 1920 stocks have been carefully chosen to fill your needs of dependable goods. There is so much of the new coming into the departments every day that it will pay you to visit this store very often and inspect the new spring designs.

RAILWAY CARTAGE PROBLEM IS AGAIN BEFORE COMMISSION

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. — The point as to whether railway companies should be forced to do cartage work was again before the Railway Commission here today, the matter coming in the form of a complaint from the Toronto Board of Trade against the tariffs of the companies made effective on September 1 last.

Another item at today's session was the application for permission to carry samples of explosives on passenger trains. It was explained that the federal military authorities wished to send samples by express. This also stands for judgment.

NO FINE, ONLY JAIL PROPOSED FOR NEW MANITOBA DRY LAW

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 17. — Jail sentences without the option of a fine for persons convicted of violations of the Manitoba temperance act, which is the recommendation of the chief license inspector in his annual report, is announced as one of the provisions to be introduced in a bill amending the act which awaits second reading by the Legislature. It is stated that another amendment will make it a crime to sell prescriptions given by a physician.

Six hundred and ten convictions were obtained during 1919 for infraction of the Manitoba temperance act, according to the report of J. N. MacLean, administrator of the act. In 1918 there were 357 convictions. The fines amounted to $105,465.

FIRST DEATHS FROM FLU.

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 17.—The first deaths from the influenza to occur in Owen Sound took place last night, when Jack McLellan and little Bessie Klippett died within a few hours of each other. MORE ROOM MUST BE PROVIDED FOR THIS YEAR'S FAIR

New Directorate Must Take Steps To Provide Greater Space.

MAYOR GREETS VISITORS

President Declares That Vote Against Extension Should Not Affect Progress.

Conditions on the country roads depleted the attendance at the annual meeting of the Western Fair Association today. City members of the organization turned out in full force to the noon luncheon in the Tecumseh, and a considerable number of county members were present. Many of those prominent in the work of the association were kept out of the city by the snow, however.

President W. M. Gartshore, in welcoming the members, expressed his regret at this condition. He briefly reviewed the work of the year and pointed out that the new directorate must consider steps for the enlargement of the present grounds, as the cost of a new site made that plan impracticable. An effort would have to be made to provide all the accommodation possible next fall, but even then it would be impossible to provide space for all the exhibitors who wished it, and it is the exhibitors who make the fair, he stated.

Mayor Welcomes Visitors.

Mayor E. S. Little welcomed the visitors from the county to the city. A popular suggestion at the present time was that the annual meeting be held in June instead of February, so that a full attendance would be possible, he said.

"I think the presence of you gentlemen here indicates the value of the exhibition," he continued. "In my opinion the Western Fair and the Western University are the two main assets of the city. Although the citizens voted against extending the grounds, I don't think we can deduct from that fact that they are not heavily in sympathy with the general policy of the association. Therefore I don't think this vote should be allowed to block the general progress of the fair and I am confident the 1920 directors will find a way to deal with the situation."

S. Frank Glass, M. P. for East Middlesex and Warden Thomas Clark of the county council also spoke briefly.

Col. Gartshore in his address to the association said:

President's Report.

"It affords me a great deal of pleasure, as president of the Western Fair, to welcome you as representatives from your different organizations at the 53rd annual meeting of the association," said Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore.

"We are met here today to review the work of the past year, and to launch out into another year by electing directors to organize and carry on the work for a successful 1920 exhibition.

"With regard to the exhibition only one thing might be said, and that is that it was 'a magnificent exhibition' from every standpoint. We were favored with good weather—the weather is always more or less a source of worry—and with a good start on Monday, when we were favored by a visit of Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, who officially opened the fair, the week was one of continued success. Our financial statement, as presented to you today, will give you all the particulars necessary regarding our success financially.

"The only regret we have in connection with our exhibition just closed is the fact that so many applicants for space had to be refused on account of lack of space, and not only that, but it was proven beyond a doubt that the accommodation at the disposal of our visitors was by no means adequate to provide suitable room for the thousands who are attracted to our exhibition.

Action at Once.

"Now as to the future. Your board of directors and officials have spent many anxious hours trying to solve the problem of more room. It was the unanimous opinion of your board, after viewing the matter from all standpoints, that the solution of the difficulty would be met by adopting the course of extension of our grounds eastward, as embodied in the bylaw approved by the city council and submitted to the people, but which was defeated. It will be one of the first duties the new board will have to take into consideration, and action will have to be taken at once, in order that suitable accommodation may be provided so that our exhibition, which has become noted throughout not only the Dominion of Canada, but the United States as well, may not suffer, but may go on growing as in the past, until London and London's exhibition will become the centre of the great live stock and agricultural interests of Western Ontario.

"Our secretary visited a number of large exhibitions in the United States during the fall, also a convention of fairs and expositions, held in Chicago in December, and reports were made to the board on his return. Much valuable information was secured and will be available by the several committees for next year's work.

"Our thanks are due to all who in any way assisted in our work last year, and continued co-operation is asked from all organizations and individual citizens to assist the board and officials in making the exhibition of 1920 the best ever held."

laundress, both argued and urged that the time and place of the criminal acts which their clients were alleged to have committed be given to them by Mr. Swanson.

Just Investigation.

Mr. Swanson replied that this was not a trial, but an investigation, and it would not be impossible, but unfair, to force him to do such a thing. The judge ruled in favor of the plaintiff's solicitor.

After Judge Macbeth had examined Dr. Robinson, he was somewhat unwilling to let him be cross-examined right away, and thought that he should not be cross-examined until all the other witnesses had been heard. He finally agreed to immediate cross-examination.

The investigation is proceeding this afternoon again, having commenced at 2 o'clock.

Harry Lauder, 380 Hale street, the plaintiff, was in the box this afternoon.

His First Move.

Judge Talbot Macbeth's first move in the investigation of the Ontario Hospital for the Insane charges was to exclude the press from hearing the evidence presented. The senior county judge, who was appointed commissioner by the Drury Government to investigate the affair, said that he was following the example set by the judge commissioned to probe the charges made against the officials of the Hamilton asylum.

Donald Swanson, solicitor for the complainant, Harry Lauder, 380 Hale street, objected to the press being barred, on the grounds that the matter was of great interest to the general public, as the institution was a public one. He said that through the press only could be laid before the people the full facts of the case. Judge Macbeth had said that a report would be given out after the evidence had been threshed out in the Provincial Legislature. Mr. Swanson remarked that the full evidence would not come out if the matter was discussed on the floor of the House.

Inspector of Hospitals W. Dunlop objected to the press being in the hall, declaring that it would not be fair to the relatives of the persons in the witness box to have the "names of the patients paraded before the public."

Mr. Swanson declared that no patients would be called, and no reference, not even in regard to their mental condition, that would injure them or their relatives would be made.

Another objection to the procedure of the investigation registered was that no crown counsel had been appointed. Only a crown counsel who was paid to do the work could arrange the full evidence in a satisfactory manner, it was argued.

No witnesses had been subpoenaed. This was directly opposite to the understanding that Mr. Swanson had of the matter. He thought that arrangements had been made to have all the witnesses present. Judge Macbeth told Mr. Swanson that they would be subpoenaed.

Mr. Swanson, prior to his five years' service overseas, was engaged in the work of prosecuting criminal cases in Toronto.

NOSE FOR BOOZE

Local Sleuths Sniff Three Bottles Reposing in Club Bag—Fined $200 and Costs.

A man from Toronto, who came to London in the early hours of this morning to attend to the interior decorating of a local theatre, was fined $200 and costs for having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. He was arrested by Patrolmen Ben Irwin and Knight on Richmond street, and three bottles of whiskey were found in his club bag. A friend who accompanied him, was arraigned on a similar charge, but no evidence was offered against him.

The Toronto citizen claimed that he was taking the liquor from his private home in Toronto to give to a local theatrical man with whom his firm has done considerable business. Edmund Meredith, K.C., his counsel, and Magistrate Graydon interpreted the law in different manners.

Different Interpretations.

Mr. Meredith said today that he believed it absolutely legitimate for a man to take liquor from one private dwelling to another, but Magistrate Graydon insists on interpreting the law to read that a man cannot give liquor to anyone in a place other than his own private dwelling. Therefore, he held that the prisoner had no right to give his friend liquor in his friend's home. Magistrate Graydon read over section 41, under which the man was tried, and he believes it illegitimate to give liquor to a friend in the manner in which the accused intended giving it.

This is not the first time such a technicality has been threshed out. When the Ontario temperance act first came into force, Magistrate Graydon ruled that it is legitimate for a man to give another a bottle of liquor, providing the presentation is made in the private dwelling of the person making the donation.

GO TO REFORMATORY FOR STEALING SUITS

Londoners With Criminal Records Sentenced by Magistrate Graydon.

For the theft of a number of suits from the pressing shop of Randolph C. Potter, George Lampman and Norman Weir were sentenced to not less than three months and not more than two years in the Ontario Reformatory by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court today. Both men have criminal records. Lampman has previously been convicted in London, while Weir admitted today that he was sentenced at Windsor for the theft of an automobile.

Broke Window.

By breaking a rear window, the two men gained entrance to Potter's shop, which is located on the Hamilton road, last Thursday night. The police were notified, and following investigation by the detectives the suits were found at the homes of the accused. Weir claims to reside at 9 Pegler street, while Lampman gave 425 Bathurst street as his address. Both took the sentence with broad smiles, and if they have any regrets at being sent once more to the reformatory they certainly concealed their feelings today.

WEDDING AND CHRISTENING AT HOME OF MRS. A. YOUNG

Daughter Married and Two Grandchildren Christened.

The home of Mrs. Agnes Young, 923 Ellas street was the scene of a pleasing event Tuesday, when the marriage of her daughter Jean took place and two grandchildren, Walter and Arthur Ling and John Walter Bennett were christened. Rev. Peter Nichol officiated at both ceremonies.

The bridegroom was Mr. Frank Warner of this city. The bride who wore her traveling suit, was given away by her brother, Gordon Young. The couple were unattended. The gift of the bridegroom to the bride was a string of pearls with a clasp of diamonds set in platinum.

Following the wedding they left for Toronto and at the conclusion of their honeymoon will reside in Windsor.

James Young, a brotner of the bride, was godfather to the two children in the baptismal service, while Mrs. Agnes Young was the godmother.

SEVEN SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

New York, Feb. 18.—Seven men arrested at Providence on suspicion of being implicated in freight yard robberies were questioned by detectives for twelve hours last night. They were brought here after their all-night session with the officers. The goods stolen during the last year amounts to a total value of $200,000.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN ANGLICAN AND ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCHES MARK THE BEGINNING OF LENT

Ceremony of Blessing Ashes Performed At All the Catholic Churches This Morning—Fasting and Restrictions On Food To Be Practiced by Adherents Past 21 Years and in Good Health.

The beginning of Lent today was marked by special Ash Wednesday services in the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches of the city.

The ceremony of blessing the ashes was performed in all the Catholic churches in the morning and the distribution will be made this evening. Throughout the Lenten season services will be held Wednesday and Friday evenings. The service of the stations of the cross will be held each Friday.

Apart from the religious services, members of the Catholic church are required to observe all days in Lent, except Sundays, as fast days. The law of fasting ordains that only one full meal a day be taken, but does not forbid a small amount of food in the morning and in the evening, according to the approved custom of the locality. The full meal may be taken in the evening and the collation at noon.

At Principal Meals.

Flesh meat is allowed at the principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, except the Saturday of Ember Week and the forenoon of Holy Saturday. The law of abstinence forbids the eating of flesh meat and of broth made of meat, but does not exclude use of eggs, milk and products of milk (namely, cheese and butter), and any seasonings of food, even those made from the fat of animals.

The prohibiting of fish and flesh at the same meal during Lent has been abolished.

The Lenten fast and abstinence cease at 12 o'clock noon on Holy Saturday.

Persons under 21 years of age, or those who have reached their 60th year are not bound by the law of fasting, and all persons in ill-health or engaged in hard labor or have any other legitimate excuse, may be dispensed from both the law of fast and of abstinence.

The precept of abstinence obliges all who have completed their 7th year, and even those who have passed the age of 60. A person dispensed from abstinence is not thereby dispensed from fasting and vice versa, if he is allowed several meals a day, this does not mean that he need not keep the abstinence. In this, as in other cases, a dispensation obtained under false pretences is invalid.

Members of the church have been advised in instances of this nature to consult their pastor or confessor.

Apart from the obligation in the matter of fast or abstinence, Lent is supposed to be a season of mortification and penance.

Pastors of the churches have been requested to preach during Lent the necessity of penance and the obligation of Christian mortification. They are also asked to provide special means whereby their people may advance in devotion and piety.

The practice of family prayer in common, and especially the recitation of the Rosary, is also urged.

Lenten Pastoral.

Bishop David Williams, in his Lenten pastoral to the Anglican churches of the Diocese of Huron, declares that Lent comes providentially to continue the moral and spiritual efforts of the forward movement.

1. The forward movement has been to those who took it seriously a long Lenten discipline, for our first aim in the movement was to get nearer to God in our life., "Nearer, My God, to Thee" was its keynote, and that also is the keynote of Lent, which therefore this year comes providentially to continue the moral and spiritual efforts of the forward movement. It gives us time to consolidate the gains made and to advance further along the road by which God has been leading us during the strenuous years just past. This, therefore, should be our first aim this Lent to make sure of the beginnings already made and to push on in our advance into newness of life.

"We need—the whole world needs—a great store of self-control to meet the disintegrating forces now working more or less unseen and ready to burst out and overthrow the social and religious fabrics that have been slowly and laboriously built up by centuries of piety and self-sacrifice Our own Dominion is not exempt from this peril. While the war lasted, an immense pressure weighed heavily upon all classes alike, and we held together. We were compelled to hold together. Now the pressure is removed. We have emerged into a rarified atmosphere, and there are abundant symptoms that we have not yet adapted ourselves to the new conditions. They appear in politics, in commerce, in social and religious life. Old and tried ways are depreciated or abandoned often apparently for no other reason than because they are the old ways. In such a state we need above all things to hold fast to fundamental Christian principles. For if there is one lesson impressed upon us by the war it is this: That human society rests upon a moral foundation—upon truth and justice, liberty and brotherhood, and these moral qualities have no meaning and no sanction apart from faith in God. Our safety, the safety of the world and of this Dominion, lies therefore in getting nearer to God as revealed in Christ Jesus our Lord. Let us then strive to get nearer to Christ. By so doing we shall acquire a sense of responsibility, and a store of self-restraint that will save us from the distintegrating forces by which we are threatned. Christ is still the only satisfactory solution of our own and the world's difficulties.

Be Practical.

"To be practical in our Lenten efforts, we must be definite. We all acknowledge God in a general way, but ignore him in particulars. Let us strive this year to bring the recognition of God into the details of our lives.

"Our general aim should be to cultivate the habit of living as in God's sight. But to be definite, may I suggest three lines along which we should try to carry out this aim?

"Let us do this first in the ordering of our thoughts, desires and wishes. We are Christians, i.e., Christ's men. Are our thoughts, desires and wishes for ourselves and for others worthy of Christ? Are they such that we shall not be ashamed of when hereafter we shall meet him face to face?

"Then let us do this in the ordering of our outward life. The ideal of Christ is brotherhood and His law of conduct is to do unto others as we would they should do unto us. The practice of this law would save us from all perils—social, commercial and national; and the realization of that ideal means the establishment of the kingdom of God upon earth. Does my life correspond to that ideal? Am I living by that law of Christ? What does my life show?

"Then let us do this in our relations with money. If you realize the presence of God in your life, there will be ways of making and of spending money that you will not follow. In all times of stress we would cry, Good Lord, deliver us! Save us from making money unjustly. save us from spending it irresponsibly! The remembrance of God—that we are but his stewards—will make a world of difference in our attitude towards money. The restraint that we shall gain by that remembrance will make us more and more faithful stewards and bring us nearer to God, but will actually contribute greatly towards steadying our economic position in these uncertain days. As always "Godliness is profitable unto all things, having the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come."

"Finally let me urge all to take advantage of the additional services and communions and other helps to devotion provided by the church during Lent. It is not merely the church, but the church's Lord who invites us to come apart and rest awhile this season, so that we may learn to know him more perfectly and to serve and follow him more truly."

DOES NOT APPEAR; WARRANT IS ISSUED

Patrick Welch Among Those Absent From Police Court Today.

Patrick Welch, Front street, who was to have appeared in police court today to hear Acting-Magistrate P. H. Bartlett's decision on evidence given in a case in which he was charged with selling liquor, did not appear, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Edmund Meredith, his counsel, pressed for a decision in Welch's absence, but this Mr. Bartlett refused to do. R. G. Fisher, for the prosecution, said it would be highly improper to give a decision in the absence of the accused.

Charles Bell and Thomas Delaney, who were charged with being disorderly at Welch's house, were each assessed $5 and costs.

ROADS BADLY BLOCKED; NO PRODUCE FOR SALE ON THE LOCAL MARKET

All Highways Leading to London Piled High With Snowdrifts.

The local market was deserted this morning, not a solitary farmer being on the city square. The roads in all directions are snowed in to a depth of several feet, caused by the recent blizzard drifting over the last heavy fall of the "beautiful." There has only been one load of hay on the market this week, as it is impossible to get large loads through the mountainous drifts. One or two roads from the west are open, but the eastern and southern roads are out of commission.

The Lambeth road looks like a Rocky Mountain pass, and the farmers in that direction are all afraid to take a chance on getting through. The northern highways are in a bad shape. The Proof Line road and Adelaide street are badly blocked, and it will be some time before these roads are again open for normal traffic.

If the present condition of the roads prevails for some time, the city will begin to run short on dairy produce, as there have been few farmers in all week. There was not a single sleigh on the market this morning.

DEPUTATION WILL URGE PERMANENT HIGHWAYS

Hamilton, Feb. 18.—R. E. Kelley, president of the Western Ontario Highway Association, has arranged for a deputation from the association and municipalities between Niagara Falls and Windsor to wait on the Ontario Government on March 3, when the premier and cabinet will be asked to have provincial highways made of a permanent nature, surfaced with asphalt or brick.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating, or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments, and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antiacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Advt.

CRIME INCREASES IN TORONTO DESPITE "DRY" LEGISLATION

Police Chief Say Natural Reaction of War.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—Crime in this city last year was greater than in 1918, according to a report made public today. Chief of Police Grassett accounts for the increases in crime here as a natural reaction of the war and he points out that there is increase of crime all over the civilized world. There were five murders in Toronto in 1919, as against three in 1918. The number of house and shop-breaking cases was 1,939 last year, an increase of 483.

There were eighteen cases of manslaughter here last year, ten of which were due to motor cars, two to street cars and the remainder to drunken quarrels.

The police commissioners recommend the augmentation of the police force to 1,000 men, and the increasing of the mounted section of the force by twenty-five per cent.

SAYS LABOR LEADERS FAVOR PUTTING OFF BRITISH ELECTIONS

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Westminster Gazette, Liberal, says that responsible Labor leaders are agreed that a general election at the present time will not be in the better interests of the party, and that every month the election can be delayed within the next two years is likely to benefit them. It is added that the extreme sections represented by such men as Smillie, the miners' leader, are coming also to this view.

CONSTIPATION OR COSTIVENESS

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill-health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings street east, Vancouver, B. C., writes: "I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses."

Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails. —Advt.

BRITISH LABOR TO OPPOSE TWO IRISH HOUSES

Delegation To Recommend Withdrawing Government Bill, Says Report.

WOULD TRUST PEOPLE

Would Let Responsibility Rest On Democratically-Elected Irish Parliament.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The British Labor party delegation which visited Ireland recently has reported in favor of withdrawing the Government's Irish bill and settling the Irish question from an entirely different standpoint, it was stated this afternoon. The delegation is said to have come to the opinion that the problem is as much an industrial as political one, and that it should be solved by taking both these factors into consideration.

AGAINST DIVIDING IT.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(By Canadian Press).—The Labor correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, prophesies, with some support from other quarters, that the Labor party's report on its visit to Ireland recently will declare strongly against two legislatures dividing the north from the south and west of Ireland. The deputation during the tour found little, if any, support for the proposal from any section of opinion. The same correspondent suggests that the report will summarize the Labor party's policy as trusting the Irish people with responsibility for good order, resting upon a democratically-elected parliament within the widened borders of the constitution.

OBJECTIVE EXCEEDED IN OCEAN TO OCEAN DRIVE OF CHURCHES

Reach Goal of $11,440,000 in Sweeping Campaign.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—With incomplete returns at the close of the financial campaign in connection with the inter-church Forward Movement of the Methodists, Presbyterians, Anglicans, Baptists and Congregationalists of Canada, the splendid total of $11,321,089 had been piled up tonight. Confidence that the original sum named, $11,440,000, would be largely oversubscribed was expressed by the officials of the national campaign headquarters here, and it is believed that more than $12,000,000 may be reported by the time the returns are all in. This may take several weeks.

In a statement given out tonight by G. H. Wood of this city chairman of the executive committee of the united national campaign, attention was called to the fact that for the first time the five great religious bodies concerned in the campaign, representing 10,330 congregations and about 4,500,000 members, had planned and carried through a joint campaign.

Marvelous Response.

A marvelous response to the appeals which were made on behalf of the five denominations is regarded as a thanksgiving offering for the winning of the war.

"All the co-operating communions," said Chairman Wood, "have done magnificently. Baptists, Congregationalists and Methodists having passed their objectives. The Anglicans and Presbyterians are close up, with 90.26 per cent and 95.55 per cent respectively, and these before many days wil undoubtedly exceed 100 per cent.

"The returns are still incomplete from all the communions, and the next week or two will still further substantially increase tonight's figures. The Anglicans are actively carrying on for the whole of the present week.

"Two provinces, namely, Ontario and Quebec, have already reported more than their full quotas, the others reporting in the following order: Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba and Alberta."

EXPECT PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS WILL BE READY FOR SESSION

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—Some doubt has been expressed by members of Parliament coming to Ottawa in the last few days that the new Parliament Buildings would be ready to house the session which opens on February 26. Sir George Foster, acting premier, however, stated that he had no reason to believe that the opening of Parliament would be delayed for such a reason. Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell, acting minister of public works, also thinks that the Commons chamber will be ready for the opening next week.

The office of the leader of the Opposition, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, will be moved to the new building at the end of this week.

SENATOR SLEEPS WHILE ON TRIAL

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 17. — Senator Newberry, on trial here with 122 of his political associates on a charge of election conspiracy, slept peacefully in the courtroom while the trial was in progress this morning. Stormbound trains and the influenza epidemic kept all the witnesses away, and the morning was taken up with the reading of documentary evidence regarding expenditures in connection with the Newberry campaign. It was so dull that the senator fell asleep.

Three Millions Changes Hands at Fur Sales

Record Mark of Five Dollars a Skin Paid For Brown Muskrat.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Touching the record mark of $5 per skin, the highest price ever paid at an auction of raw furs in this city, brown muskrat was the star of the second day at the sale in the Masonic Hall here. Mink easily captured second honors, with marmot, stone marten and marten following in the order named. Sales for the day reached one million six hundred thousand, which is the largest total for a single day's selling ever touched here, and which brought the grand total for the first two days up to three million, one hundred thousand dollars. Compared with the corresponding prices obtained at the October sale, today's figures showed these percentage advances: mink, 100; marmot, 75; stone marten, 65; brown muskrat, 60, and marten 35.

INVESTIGATION IS ORDERED INTO DEATH OF GEO. STONEFISH

Authorities Give No Reason For Sudden Change of Decision.

THAMESVILLE, Feb. 17. — Crown Attorney H. D. Smith of Chatham has ordered an investigation into the death of George Stonefish, the Indian sniper, whose body was found frozen to death near his home on Monday. The inquest has been set for Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when a jury will be impaneled by Coroner Stewart of this place. An adjournment will likely be made until Friday, when the inquest will be conducted in the town hall here.

No information has been allowed to leak out by the authorities as to why there has been a change made in the decision of the local coroner that an inquest was not necessary.

FOUND FROZEN.

Moraviantown, Feb. 17. — George Stonefish, Canada's most noted Indian sniper for three years in France, was found frozen to death last night near his home on the reserve. Stonefish's dead body was discovered by neighbors, and the belief is that he was overcome in his exertions in wading through the huge drifts near his home. Stonefish was the first Indian to enlist after the outbreak of war, joining the Canadian army on August 6, 1914. In his capacity as a sniper he is credited with having killed hundreds of Germans, but himself came through three years of service without a wound. He was invalided home in November, 1917. His homecoming was made the event of the greatest celebration that the Indian reserve of this place has ever known.

The coroner, after securing all available information concerning Stonefish's death, decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

JOHN SUCKLING, General Sales Manager

Gentlemen:

The prevailing unsettled conditions of affairs will doubtless continue for some time to come; still, there is no reason why we all should not strive our utmost to overcome, as far as it lies in our power, some of the difficulties which confront us.

Primarily the chief difficulty is in procuring raw materials, and it is on these basic necessities that our future and that of every other business house in Canada depends.

Making rash promises and trusting to fate for their fulfilment is speculative besides being mighty poor business.

I have created a precedent by breaking away from the time-honored custom of sending representatives out on the road, commencing January 1st. Instead, I have devoted the whole of January in securing inventories from my Spinning Plants, Tanneries, Cotton Mills, Warehouses and factories. The exact knowledge gained places me in a position where I know just how I am situated and what I can offer you.

The tremendous demand for "Bob Long" products, the popularity they enjoy and the enviable position they occupy in the public estimation,—must perforce make me exercise great care in the quality of goods I deliver, and in the statements I make to the Retail Merchants of Canada.

All of my representatives are now on the road. Each one carries a complete range of "Bob Long" samples. One of these men will call on you in the very near future and it will be to our mutual interest if you await his arrival—he has many surprises in store for you.

Don't neglect to make use of my statistical bureau—it was inaugurated to enable you to procure authentic, world-wide market information regarding wearing apparel—this information is yours for the asking.

"Bob Long" brands are known everywhere—"from coast to coast." Our salesman will call anywhere—no place too large or small. If one does not call on you, write to me direct and I will have one come and see you at once.

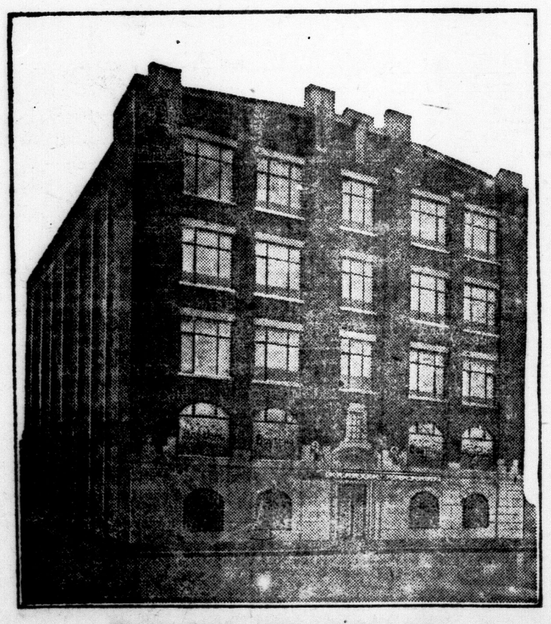

Wishing every merchant continued success for 1920.

Yours very truly,

PASTOR OF WEALTHY CHURCH DECLARES SALARY INADEQUATE

Grosse Pointe Church Is One of Most Exclusive and Fashionable.

ENTERS REAL ESTATE

Rev. T. G. Sykes Declares He Finds Himself Without Material Support.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 17.—Declaring his salary as rector of Grosse Pointe Protestant Episcopal Church to be wholly inadequate for the needs of himself and his family, Rev. Thomas G. Sykes, for ten years in charge of the parish, today announced his resignation. Mr. Sykes will go into the real estate business where he says "there is some future."

The Grosse Pointe church is one of the most exclusive and fashionable in Detroit, and numbers among its large congregation many of the city's oldest families as well as more than a score of millionaires. The parish has long been regarded as one of the wealthiest in America.

Dr. Sykes, in a statement accompanying his resignation, says his action was "due entirely to economic cause. All of my parishioners are wealthy. I lived among them, and was one of them. I suppose they took it for granted that I was wealthy also. It is merely another instance of traditional thoughtlessness of rich parishes concerning the financial standing of their clergy."

Without Material Support.

"It took me seven years of college work to equip myself for the ministry," he continued. "I worked my way through college, and my course was quite as expensive as though I had studied medicine or law. Had I chosen one of the latter professions I should now be independent, but because I entered the church I find myself without any material support for myself and my family in my old age. I do not care to end my days in a home for aged ministers."

INFLUENZA CASES IN ONTARIO TOTAL 11,000 FOR FEBRUARY NOW

Epidemic General From Essex To Prescott.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—During the month of February to date 11,150 cases of influenza have been reported in the province of Ontario, with 529 deaths from the influenza and pneumonia, and 388 deaths from primary pneumonia, it was stated at the provincial board of health today. In the month of February, 1919, there were 812 deaths, from these diseases, but in February last year the influenza epidemic was on the wane.

"We may have reached the peak now," it was said today by the statistician. "The epidemic is general throughout the province from Prescott to Essex. Windsor has been hard hit with 75 deaths out of a population of 90,000."

COL. PRITCHARD DECIDES TO RUN AGAINST RANEY

Fergus Farmer, Former Commander of 153rd Battalion, Throws Hat in Ring.

WELLINGTON EX-WARDEN

Was Conservative Candidate in Last Election, Defeated by A. E. Hellyer.

TORONTO, Feb. 17. — Lieut.-Col. Robert T. Pritchard of Fergus tonight announced in this city that he would oppose Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general in East Wellington. Col. Pritchard stated that he was running against the attorney-general as an independent candidate in protest against an outsider being presented to represent the constituency. He said he had been asked to do so by an independent body of electors.

Col. Pritchard said he knew nothing of the Citizens' Liberty League, and did not recognize it. He said he regarded the Liberty League as something dragged in to give Mr. Raney's candidacy notoriety.

Col. Pritchard commanded the 153rd Wellington battalion overseas. He is a prominent farmer and stockbreeder, and is ex-warden of Wellington County and an ex-reeve of Nicol Township. He was a Conservative candidate in the last provincial general election, when Albert E. Hellyer, the U. F. O. candidate, was elected in a three-cornered fight.

The nominations for the East Wellington by-election will be held next Monday and the election the following Monday.

WESTERN ONTARIO IN GRIP OF BLIZZARD; TRAFFIC TIED UP

Business in Cities and Towns Badly Handicapped by Storm.

DRIFTS MANY FEET DEEP

Country Roads in All Directions Are Impassable—Mails Delayed.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 17.—One of the worst snowstorms in years, accompanied by a gale of high velocity, held the city and surrounding district in its grip throughout last night and for the greater part of today. Traffic on all railways running through here has been at a standstill, and it will be hours before matters can be righted, and perhaps several days will elapse before normal conditions are again restored.

Large gangs of shovelers were at work tonight on the Grand Trunk, Michigan Central and Pere Marquette, and every effort is being made to restore prompt service. There are no serious blockades on the Michigan Central from Buffalo to Detroit, but east of Buffalo the road was completely tied up, in this city and west of here matters were in a serious condition.

The London and Port Stanley had a couple of plows at work all day between here and Port Stanley and London. The local street railway managed to operate a few cars, but the service was far from normal. Tonight gangs of men are at work shovelling the snow off the tracks in order to restore the service by tomorrow.

WORST STORM OF WINTER.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 17.—Brantford was hard hit today by the worst storm of the winter. North and south trains on the Grand Trunk were cancelled, while radial connection with Simcoe and Paris was discontinued. It was announced that it would be some days before the radial cars would be running to Simcoe and Port Dover, huge drifts blocking the railway at many points.

TRAFFIC PARALYZED.

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 17.—The blizzard of the last two days has paralyzed traffic on the Owen Sound-Wiarton branch of the G. T. R., the only train to get through to Owen Sound since Saturday night was a snowplow, which came through Monday afternoon, and let the afternoon south bound train depart.

The C. P. R. managed to keep a fair order on their line, only having to cancel this morning's train. All Monday night the gale raged, increasing in violence at times till it almost assumed the proportions of a hurricane. Roads through the surrounding country exist no longer and unless the storm abates the situation may become critical.

RURAL ROADS CLOSED.

INGERSOLL, Feb. 17.—With the country roads filled with drifts and the traffic on the south and north lines of the C. P. R. completely tied up, storm conditions at present are the worst of the season. Rural mail drivers have experienced much trouble, and only part of them made the usual deliveries today. Two got out a short distance on their routes and were forced to return, the roads being absolutely impassable.

There has been no train from the lake on the C. P. R. since Saturday and the same conditions apply to the north line between here and St. Marys. This line is badly filled with snow and a snowplow and three locomotives, which started from the north had not reached here this afternoon.

The stage driver from the north, on whose route deep cuts were made yesterday, had not reached here this afternoon. The driver of the Bayham stage has not been here since Saturday. On many of the roads deep cuts were made yesterday, but they were completely filled by the storm which raged during the night, and continued today. Many of the drifts are six and eight feet deep.

LIVED ON FISH FOR A YEAR.

That we place too high a value on a great variety of food as necessary to health and good digestion is the opinion of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the eminent explorer.

"I lived on fish, both raw and cooked, for a whole year, without salt," Mr. Stefansson says, "and weighed ten pounds more at the end of the year than at the beginning. I was not troubled with indigestion, or any other bad effects. In fact, I can say that I never felt better in my life."

"Taking up any new system of diet is largely a psychological matter," said Stefansson. "We have prejudices which it is difficult to overcome. If the animals that are used for food were placed in one group and those that are not considered good for food were placed in another group, and a thoroughly unbiased person were asked for an opinion he would say there is little or no difference between them.

URGE DEPARTMENTS TO SPEED ESTIMATES UP FOR LEGISLATURE

Premier Drury Buckles Down After Congratulations.

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—Premier E. C. Drury was at his office in the Parliament Buildings here early today, and after having received the congratulations of his colleagues in Halton County, buckled down to work and cleared off a good deal of accumulated correspondence. He said that there was still much work to be done to get ready for the meeting of the Legislature, less than a month away, and the estimates had not been very far advanced as yet. The departments will be urged to speed up, the premier said, so that the cabinet would have the estimates in hand in time to do any necessary paring.

It is said that there is some uneasiness in the civil service over proposed reclassification bills, which is based on a report prepared by J. M. McCutcheon, civil service commissioner. His suggestions are being kept a close secret, and the civil servants are guessing as to just how far the new bill will go.

In connection with Mr. Drury's election yesterday his defeated opponent, E. J. Stephenson, today called attention to the large vote in the rural sections of Halton, notwithstanding that snowdrifts were piled in many highways so high as to make the roads impassable. His friends, he said, had suggested that an investigation on the matter should be asked for. He did not state that he would act on the suggestion.

ST. CATHARINES NOT TO HAVE WOMAN COP

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 17.—A woman will not be appointed on the police force here as has been suggested. The police commissioners decided the question this afternoon. They voted the policemen increases of 17 per cent in their salaries.

The Hacking Cough

STRAINS THE LUNGS

The terrible, hacking lung-racking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E. I., writes: "Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for some time. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night, and did not think I could ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me, and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief, and by the time I had taken two bottles, my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LIKE BOLT FROM HEAVEN'S BLUE

A happy discovery of Cincinnati chemist interests women here

Your high heels have put corns on your toes and callouses on your feet, but why care now?

A genius in Cincinnati discovered a magic ether compound and named it freezone. A quarter ounce of this freezone can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. Apply a few drops on your tender, aching corn or callous. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callous so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with your fingers.

Just think! You get rid of a hard corn, soft corn or a corn between the toes, as well as hardened callouses for a few cents and without suffering one particle, without the slightest irritation of the surrounding skin. Just a touch of this marvelous freezone on a sore, troublesome corn gives instant relief.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat, also take glass of Salts before eating breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies

Every true mother realizes the fact that her baby's health depends upon her own, that the very vitality of her child is influenced by her own physical condition. How important it is, therefore, to guard against any derangement of the female organs, which induce general weakness, nervousness, constant fatigue and utter inability to properly care for her child. Please remember, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and strength to thousands of such mothers.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when 7 months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. PEARL MONTHAN, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during and after maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

HALTON'S VERDICT.

The large majority given Premier Drury by the electors of Halton County may be considered as an accurate expression of the feeling of electors throughout the province. The people of Ontario desire to give the Farmer-Labor Government an opportunity to put into play the liberal, progressive policy the group has announced. That is clearly the sentiment of the public generally. The "People's Government" goes to its task with the hearty good wishes of the citizens of the province, urban and rural. Whether the coalition will hold together well enough to legislate broadly for the best welfare of all classes remains to be seen, but the administration knows that it has the confidence of the general public to begin with, and that should be an incentive to apply the most careful deliberation on whatever legislation shall be introduced and put through.

CANADA'S VOTE.

The Lenroot reservation which Lodge and his treaty wreckers would like to see written into the League of Nations covenant, robs this country of its vote in the league's assembly. Dispatches from Ottawa declare the imperial authorities are likely to support Canada. Of course they will. Any other attitude would be unjust and we believe the great majority of Americans also feel that way about it. It is the sheerest nonsense to hold that Canada would always vote with England. There are many issues likely to arise in which Canada's ballot would be found cast with that of the United States. But that apart, this country's contribution in men, money and material to the war has won for her the right to stand on equal footing with the other league signatories. That Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa should be shut out, while black Haiti, Panama and Cuba, all of them to all intents and purposes dependencies of the United States, are permitted a vote, would be intolerable. The Republican senators had better grasp this fact at once, that if their acceptance of the treaty involves the taking from Canada of her voting powers, the United States will remain outside the league, as Canadians have no intention of agreeing to any such humiliation and injustice as the Lenroot reservation would put on them.

GOMPERS AND THE REDS.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has many times during his long service as head of the great labor organization displayed the highest wisdom and judgment in his stand on questions of serious import. He has with very few exceptions stood for conservatism. The hasty change as a means of remedying evils he has not approved. With such methods there is too much injury and loss has been his view. Once again Gompers has expressed his hostility towards the unconstitutional. Speaking editorially in the Federationist he says:

> "We know about Russia. We know about Bolshevism. We know the piteous story of cruelty and intolerance, and we know the autocratic concept that underlies the minority dictatorship which is hailed to the world by its dupes and advocates as the most perfect state of society yet devised. We know about it, and we condemn it, completely, finally, and for all time."

That is a clear-cut arraignment of Lenine's detestable doctrine that cannot be misunderstood. It goes directly to the heart of the matter, showing how impossible it is for Bolshevism to find a permanent place in America, how unacceptable to the workers of the new world.

At another point in his statement Gompers draws attention to the parlor Bolshevist, that pest, who because of his social and intellectual standing is capable of doing a hundredfold more damage in destroying democratic government than would be accomplished by the crude activities of a thousand missionaries from Moscow. Of this class he speaks as follows:

> "There are a number of newspaper and magazine writers who within the last two years have become more or less known as writers on the Bolshevist. These parlor Bolshevists habitually preface their apologies for the Bolshevists with a denial of personal belief in Bolshevism. They play up an air of tolerance, but under this mask they have been most generous in their support of the Bolshevist experiment."

It is reassuring to know that the head of trades unionism on this continent has such a lively appreciation of the Red menace, and that his organization is forever and whole-heartedly opposed to the lawless methods of the communists.

MR. KING IS RIGHT.

The declaration of Hon. Mackenzie King in favor of a downward revision of the tariff after proper investigation has shown where revision is proper is in accordance with the thought of the country at the present time. It is, no hysterical campaign that has arisen against the high protective theories of the past, but a reasoned conclusion on the part of the great majority of Canadians that the tariff, as it stands today, is going beyond its proper functions, and is a factor in the building up of fortunes in this country out of the needs of the mass of the people. The unreasoning attitude that is constantly assumed by the backers of the tarif whenever anybody talks of revision is in itself a condemnation. The mere mention of reduction throws these privileged gentlemen into alarm—chiefly alarm for their own pockets—and we at once have a tirade against those who would "sell us out to the United States." Men long ago learned that the man who has no case is usually first to raise the cry of danger or alarm. We had it in 1911, when, according to the Conservative party, we were at the "parting of the ways," just ready to be gobbled up by the republic if we allowed the "entering wedge" of lower tariffs. A lot of water has gone under the bridges since 1911, and it remained for the high priests of protection to be themselves compelled to put into effect the very things they had condemned in 1911. And yet we are still here, and probably farther from thought of alienation from the Motherland than at any time in our history.

The same unreasoning forces are gathering at the present time. The Parti National is the latest disguise for a tariff high as Haman's gallows. The gentlemen behind that movement may easily be recognized. The same crowd that raised the wolf cry in 1911 will raise it in 1920, and why? For no other reason than that it may be that their pocketbooks will cease to bulge with the tribute they exact from eight million consumers in Canada. We had some examples of these gentlemen's methods even in war years, and know what to expect. There are industries in Canada today that have not hesitated in their advertising directed to investors to boast of being able to compete with United States manufacturers without protection, though enjoying the highest protection. Is there any justification whatever for protection in cases of this kind?

Mr. King's declaration in favor of downward revision contemplates, first of all, careful inquiry to determine what industries still need protection, what ones do not. Unquestionably there were industries twenty years ago that would never have survived save for the tariff. But the trouble is that these infants want to stay at the bottle when they should be out battling their own way, and getting ahead by their own efforts. Old Mother Canada has been running a regular baby farm these many years and finds herself today with a brood of hearty youngsters who refuse to go out and make their own living. We need to call in some expert advice and find out if it wouldn't be the best thing for some of these "infants" to start out for themselves and cease to ask their foster mother to sustain them longer. For that is the situation as it exists today.

The leader of the Liberal party is reflecting the real sentiment of the country when he urges a measure of relief that will aid in reducing the cost of living. There are many factors entering into today's cost of sustenance, but one factor upon which all are agreed is that of the tariff. We are paying more to labor in dollars, but giving less in purchasing power. We are asking the farmers to produce more and while we urge them to dig we raise the price on the spade. If the returns really went to the country it would be a different matter, but they do not go to the country. A tariff running up to 42 per cent keeps out foreign products and the producer raises his price to the very point above which competition would enter. The foreign products being kept out there is no tariff revenue, but the manufacturer gets the large share of the 42 per cent that he is allowed in protection. It is the consumer who carries the load and who will continue to carry it as long as high protection reigns in this country. The Liberal leader is on the right track when he calls for an accounting by those who are benefitting, an inquiry into the whole question and revision downward wherever it can be done. Some of the babes may turn out to be pretty husky youths if we can get them out of the folds of their swaddling clothes.

JUST PROTEST.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

It should not occasion much surprise to learn that a deputation from the Ontario Educational Association has protested to the minister of education against the alleged "comic" supplements which accompany some newspapers. In many instances their publication looks like wanton waste of energy and material.

LET US GIVE OUR JEWELS.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

It has remained for a Canadian in England, Lord Beaverbrook, to make a suggestion for aiding the authorities in meeting the pressing demand of the United States to be paid in gold for the advances made for war purposes to the European Allies in general, and to Great Britain, who financed all the others, in particular. In reply to Mr. Glass, who, as secretary of the United States treasury, says to Europe, "Pay America in gold," Lord Beaverbrook urges the British ministry to invite the people to bring their trinkets to the treasury, whether watch chains, necklaces, bracelets, earrings, brooches or the gold plate of the rich. The idea is to have the value of these gold articles appraised by the treasury department, and to have their place taken by interest-bearing bonds to be handed to the depositor. The sacrifice thus made for patriotic sentiment would thus materialize as an investment. This is what France did in 1871, and there is apparently no good reason why the same could not be done by Britain in 1920. The proceeds from this gold would cancel a good part of Britain's debt to the United States, and thus greatly help the country to cope with the crisis in exchange during the trying period of the next twelve or fifteen months. The Daily Express boldly claims that these gold trinkets alone would suffice to entirely wipe off the American debt and bring the pound sterling to a value of five dollars. Mr. Asquith has already in one of his Paisley speeches spoken approvingly of the proposal as practical politics. Bold and startling the project undoubtedly is, but it is rather a wonder that it was not earlier thought of, for it is intensely effective and patriotic, as one of the London papers has already declared, and as will readily appear if a national crusade, founded upon it, is immediately undertaken and supported by all parties and newspapers. And if Britain does it, there is no reason why Canada should not do it too.

CAUGHNAWAGA.

[Exchange.]

Thousands of tourists each year pass the Indian village of Caughnawaga, about six miles above Montreal, on the St. Lawrence River. It is situated at the head of the famous Lachine Rapids, and its braves now are famous the world over as bridge-builders. Only recently a party went to France to erect structures destroyed by the German hordes, while in Canada the great bridges spanning the St. Lawrence are in a large measure their work.

Caughnawaga is an old village. As far back as 1749 it was established on its present site. When the French missionaries began the task of converting the Indians the converts were collected as much as possible at Caughnawaga. At one time it was said that 300 Christian warriors lived within the fortified place. These could not be trusted to fight their kinsmen, but they were always ready to do battle against the English. Like various other Canadian missions, the village was divided between the church, the army and the fur trade. It had a chapel, fortifications and storehouses, two Jesuits, an officer and three chief traders. Two of its traders were ladies—sisters—who carried on, by means of the mission Indians, a very lucrative fur trade with the Dutch at Albany, N. Y.

Like all the warriors of the pioneer days, the tribesmen of Caughnawaga were engaged almost all of the time either in bloody forays against the whites or other tribes, or chasing the wild animals of the forest. Now they are bridge builders, while the squaws find employment in shop, office or city homes, and within the limits of the reservation the palefaces play golf on the links of the Kanawaki Golf Club.

From Here and There

THE COLORS OF THE FLAG.

[Canon Scott.]

What is the blue on our flag, boys?
The waves of the boundless sea,
Where our vessels ride in their tameless pride
And the feet of the winds are free;
From the sun and smile of the coral isles
To the ice of the South and North.
With dauntless tread through tempests dread
The guardian ships go forth.

What is the white on our flag, boys?
The honor of our land,
Which burns in our sight like a beacon light
And stands while the hills shall stand;
Yea, dearer than fame is our land's great name,
And we fight, wherever we be,
For the mothers and wives that pray for the lives
Of the brave lads over the sea.

What is the red on our flag, boys?
The blood of our heroes slain
On the burning sands in the wild waste lands
And the froth of the purple main.
And it cries to God from the crimsoned sod
And the crest of the waves controlled,
That He sends us men to fight again
As our fathers fought of old.

We'll stand by the dear old flag, boys,
Whatever be said or done,
Though the shots come fast as we face the blast,
And the foe be ten to one.
Though our only reward be the thrust of a sword
And a bullet in heart or brain,
What matters one gone if the flag floats on,
And Britain be lord of the main.

POLITICS AND PEACE.

[Montreal Star.]

It will be an unfortunate thing both for Europe and for civilization if the question of the ratification of the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations is made the main issue in the coming presidential contested in the United States. Mr. Bryan has already parted company with the president on this question, and while he declares himself eager for the immediate return to normal conditions and for peace, yet he believes that more good will be accomplished both for America and for civilization by conciliation and compromise than by the fight to a finish of which the Republicans are openly boasting, the while a number of Democrats seem eager to take up the challenge. If the issue could be presented squarely before the electorate it is probable that the majority would decide for instant ratification. But in the political arena theories and questions soon get soiled with the dust of party passion and prejudice. Congressional rights, the Monroe Doctrine and anti-British propaganda would cloud the issue, and the relations between Britain and America, which have already been lessened by Irish-American agitators and pro-German sympathizers, would be further diminished. As the president has already pointed out, America has no more moral right to refuse to partake in the execution of the settlement than she had to refuse to fight. If the question of war was decided by her president and ratified by congress, what need is there for direct consultation of the people for the signing of peace?

DRESS A LA MODE.

[London Daily Telegraph.]

The world is full of fancy dress. Most of the dances which get into the papers, and a great many of those which do not demand that the guests should come as anybody but themselves. There are those who have explained this vogue by the theory that modern dress is now so ugly and graceless as to produce a universal craving to get out of it at every opportunity. Against this we may place the explanation that people are now so free and easy in their clothes as to make every dress a fancy dress, and the two dicta may be left to cancel each other. Some austere moralists take occasion to censure their fellow-creatures for an indulgence in gaudy display and extravagant impropriety, but we do not know that the fancy dress is more obnoxious to this censure than the fashions of the moment. Whenever such recurring accusations are heard, it is well to remember that one offence attracts more attention than the ninety-nine modest dresses which do nobody any harm, and the great stimulus to immodesty is talk about it.

THE SEAWORTHY FLYING BOAT.

[New York Times.]

When a steamship is overdue there is not much concern, as a rule. Usually she is reported safe and comes into port. There used to be anxiety when a seaplane was not accounted for, but it is giving place to the presumption that the mishap she has met with was not of a tragic nature. Such fabrics may be seaworthy as well as airworthy. They are provided with pontoons to ride out a temporary disability, and they have survived half a gale.

The navy flying boat which put out from Palm Beach with New Yorkers among her passengers a few days ago did not make port when she was expected, and Palm Beach had a sensation as hour after hour passed and she was not sighted. When friends of the adventurous party were beginning to be worried the second day, the news came that the missing craft had made Vero, which is seventy miles north of the winter resort, under her own power, after twenty-six hours of tossing at sea, with waves running twelve feet high. A descent had been necessary on account of engine trouble, and the water had been so rough as to interfere with repairs. Twenty-six hours afloat in a tumbling sea, with dining awkward and sleeping out of the question, was an experience that the Palm Beach sojourners had not bargained for. But it was a demonstration of the good behavior of the seaplane on the Atlantic out of sight of land, and of her ability to depend upon her own resources. She did not have to be salvaged, but when repairs were made she rose into her natural element, showed her "heels" to the gull, and bore her weary passengers to safety.

THE AUTOMOBILE AND THE FARMER.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

To no class in the community has the automobile brought a larger measure of comfort and relief than to the farmer. It has emancipated him from a large share of his former labor, shortened his hours of toil, and made great and hitherto unknown advantages possible to himself and family. Today the farmer living twenty miles from town is practically as close to his markets as another five miles from town who depends upon the horse-drawn vehicle. The shortening of the distance which heretofore consumed a great deal of his time, getting backward and forward, necessarily means a much shorter day of toil. To the helpful and heathgiving advantages of farm life, where he has his market both for buying and selling, it is now, therefore, an easier matter to dispose of perishable products at a greater profit, and to buy at such times as the lowest prices prevail. And with the automobile, the whole social and educational life of the farmer has taken on added pleasure. Friends are brought close at hand, schools, colleges and music lessons are an easier matter, and for these reasons the farmer's children are not so easily tempted to leave the farm for the glamor of the city. They can practically enjoy the advantages of both town and country, and they have the use and the pleasure of the automobile into the bargain, which most of the workers in the lines of industry in cities that they are qualified for have to do without.

GERMANY LOSING BOOKS.

[Brooklyn Eagle.]

Germany is complaining about its loss of valuable books, especially what are regarded as almost irreplaceable libraries, due to the low value of marks. Foreigners are said to be buying them in great quantities, and also purchasing other treasures, which can be had cheaply because of the decline of the mark. It is needless to state that books on military matters published before the war have scant attraction for bargain-hunters.

PRISONERS IN RUSSIA.

[Westminster Gazette.]

Now that peace has been ratified with Germany we would plead that something should be done in Paris to secure the release of the 350,000 Austrian prisoners who are still in Russia. Many of these men were captured in the early days of the war. They have been away from their homes and families for four and five years. Thousands of them belong to races that are now being given an independent existence. A large proportion of them are in Siberia, and although they have a large measure of freedom they are under-fed, poorly clothed and continually being reduced in numbers by disease. The lavish assistance which has been sent to them by their families and by sympathizers reaches them as doles. Their case is the hardest of all the men who have fought in the war.

Love of the Wild

By Archie P. McKishnie

It was midnight when Paisley opened the door of the McTavish home and with a voiceless laugh waved the bundle of deeds above his head. The candle was burning dimly; the fire in the wide firepiace almost dead. Boy sat before it alone, looking thoughtfully into its depths. Paisley crossed over to him and placed the deeds in his hand.

"They can't get the timber without the deeds," he chuckled, "and to get the deeds I guess they'll have to get us, eh?"

Boy caught his friend's hand and pressed it. He tried to speak, and, noting his feeling, Paisley drew forth his pipe and filled it as he gave, in an undertone, an account of his great night's work.

"I guess all the Bushwhackers'll have reason to thank, you, Bill," said Boy. "I ain't sure that they all feel like I do about holdin' this," he swept his arm about him and a glow came into his eyes. "It's been a lot to me—a lot. Nobody can guess what it would mean to me to see this woods crippled. Somehow I haven't been just myself since they started it over there. I can't sleep like I used to. I know it's foolish, but that saw gets buzzin' in my dreams and I'm fightin', fightin' all night long for this, Bill, this woods and all it holds. I was thinkin' that I'd come over and see you, when you stepped in. Bill, we don't ever say much, us Bushwhackers; but tonight I couldn't help but be glad me and you have always been what we have to each other. Some things come over me lately that grip tight hold of me without hurtin', and I seem to like the feelin', too. It's like the frost that kills without hurtin'. If I wasn't strong I'd think I was gettin' sick."

There came from the inner room a voice mumbling in troubled sleep. Boy lifted his head and smiled.

"It was your name she called, Boy," whispered Paisley wonderingly.

"Ma says she often calls out that way," said Boy. "Sometimes it's my name and sometimes it's dad's. Gloss dreams a lot, I guess."

Paisley noted the smile that drifted across his friend's face, and he nodded his head up and down slowly.

"Guess I'll be hittin' the back-trail," he said, rising "and you best go to bed, Boy.

I'll come over tomorrow as we arranged and help you set your traps in the runs. It's goin' to freeze right soon, and trappin is on from now. Declute got a couple of deer this afternoon so we'll just take a whack at 'em ourselves toward night tomorrow."

"You'd better stay and sleep with me, Bill," said Boy. "Somehow I'd like to have you, and we could make an early start in the mornin."

"Oh, I'll hoof it along back, I guess" laughed Paisley.

He was wondering whether he ought to tell Boy what he had learned concerning Watson and Simpson. He glanced at Boy and his lips closed tight.

"He'd kill 'em both," he thought, "—I'll watch them fellers myself."

With his hands on the latch of the door he glanced back. Boy was seated before the dead fire, his chin on his hand and the bundle of deeds pressed against his cheek. Paisley leaned his rifle against the wall and unstrapped his powder-horn. Then he came back and put his hands on Boy's shoulders.

"I'd best stay, I guess," he grinned, "and show you how a real Bushwhacker should sleep. It strikes me, Boy, that you're looking some lonesome and need company. Glad Ander Declute's goin' to have a loggin'-bee. It'll stir us all up."

He sat down on a stool and started to unlace his moccasins, whistling an old tune beneath his breath. Boy arose and, walking to the window, gazed out across his kingdom. An owl was hooting from a distant thicket. Down in the deep shadow a fox called, and from the sheep-coral came the soft bleating of a late lamb. The chickens in the coop stirred and voiced their uneasiness. Outside on a well-worn spot a dog stretched himself, arose and sniffed the breeze, then assumed his former position.

Boy turned to the long cupboard near the hearth.

"Seems I can't be myself these days," he said. "I forgot you might be hungry after your tramp tonight. Set up, Bill, and have a bit of turkey."

He placed the carcass of a cold fowl on the table, and from the milk house fetched bread and butter. Paisley drew his stool up to the table.

"Ain't you eatin'?" he asked.

"Not hungry," answered Boy. "Seems I ain't like anythin' I used to be any more. All day long I've been thinkin' about a lot of no-count things that happened years ago. Little things I've done and seen here in the bush. How I tramped with Davie 'cross the ridges and down through the wild blackberry patches. Why, Bill, it seems, some nights, when I'm lyin' awake, that I can see everythin' just as plain as I saw it then. Last night I was listenin' to the rushes sweepin' against my skiff. My oar was poked in a bog and my boat-painter was tied to it. I was trollin' with a live minnie, and the creek was a clear bottle-green. The pond-lily roots lay there six feet below me, and the bass swam in and out—you know how they did before the mill was up, Bill?"

Paisley nodded and looked back over his shoulder. His mouth was full of turkey and bread.

"And as they'll do again," he asserted in muffled tones of conviction. "I was gettin' strikes and playin' bass," smiled Boy; playin' and landin' 'em and enjoyin' it all. Davie was there, and Gloss was there. We all talked and laughed together. It was real, I tell you, Bill. It wasn't a dream, 'cause my eyes was wide open. That sort of thing scares me. I don't understand it."

Paisley put his hand on Boy's knee.

"I know what's doin' it all," he said. "I know just what is doin' it all. You're worryin". That's just what you're doin'. You shouldn't 'cause Hallibut and his gang ain't goin' to get this bush, not by a danged sight. You're thinkin' that you won't fish no more like you used to; that you and Davie won't tramp together no more in your own little world. But you will. You'll always own it, Boy. Take old Bill's word for it, you ain't got nothin' to worry yourself sick about."

"Somehow I feel sort of helpless," sighed Boy. "Maybe I'm a coward, 'cause I feel like hidin'; only the fight in me makes me keep to the open. You've seen a young partridge when you walked upon him unexpected-like. The little beggar just grabs a leaf and turns over on his back, holdin' the leaf over him. You and me know where he is, because we see that leaf movin' after a time; but nobody who ain't a Bushwhacker could find him, Bill."

"And like him, you naturally want to lay low, eh, Boy?"

"Yes," as though I want to cover up; not because I'm scared, but 'cause it seems the natural thing to do. Then I get over that feelin', and the next thing I know I'm carryin' my rifle at full cock and keepin' a lookout. I don't know how this is goin' to end, Bill, I sure don't."

Paisley stood up.

"Boy," he said earnestly, "you'd best be careful what you do. Don't you fire first. I ain't advisin' you to leave your rifle on the rack, but you know that us Bushwhackers don't shoot to scare. Ammunition's too scarce for that. If you was to kill one of Hallibut's gang now, it would make things bad for us all."

"The traps ain't set and the rats have left their houses," said Boy dreadfully. "All along the creek are dead runs and there's no use trappin' there. The ducks have left our shores and they've gone to the Point grounds. There's nothing here, Bill, but the slash and burn and whistle of that mill. The turkeys don't come on the ridges like they used to; the deer stay back in the swamplands; and all through this woods sounds are chasin' the fur and game further back. And now he's goin' to send his schooner in here. Think of it, Bill. He's goin' to sail across the bay and up Lee Creek for his lumber. Old Noah was here this mornin' and told me. He's goin' to work for Hallibut, too, and I can't understand that."

"He's goin' to watch the boat. It looks as if Hallibut's afraid we'll burn her. I don't know why he should think that, but Noah says it's better for him to be on the boat than anybody else. And he's right. He didn't tell me much—you know what a silent old feller he is. But I know he's been over to see Hallibut. Noah isn't against us; he thinks too much of Gloss for that, but there's somethin' he knows that we don't know. I see him watchin' Gloss a lot. I'd give a good deal to know just what's in his mind, Bill."

"Why, there's nothin' in his mind. Hallibut said, 'Old Injun, do you want a job standin' watch on my boat when I send her down among the Bushwhackers?' and Noah he says, 'Much good.' Noah knows that he can watch Hallibut that way better than we can watch him. Of course, I don't mean to say that Noah would turn traitor to any man he worked for—we both know he wouldn't. But he's there to watch things for us as well as Hallibut."

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

COALPORT CHINA.

Every woman who possesses even one piece of pottery with the willow pattern will be interested in the history of its manufacture.

The history of Coalport takes us back to Shropshire upon the banks of the Severn, where the pottery was established about 1754 and where it still exists. The white clay of these banks which is used in this pottery was used by the Romans to make their pottery. The earliest works were built at Caughley and the patterns were blue flowers upon a white ground, samples of which possess great excellence. The celebrated willow pattern was produced in 1870, and was very soon copied by other manufactories. It was taken from a Chinese model and is still one of their stock patterns. The Blue Dragon was also a favorite pattern.

The secret of the manufacture was in the possession of Thomas Turner and his sister, and it seems a fine thing that the early manufacture of this beautiful ware was partly in the hands of a woman. When Turner withdrew, John Rose, who had learned the art of pottery from him and who had himself formed a manufacturing company established his works at Coalport. In 1820 Rose received the gold medal of the Society of Arts for his "Feldspar" porcelain and from this date Coalport ranks with other great chinas.

The earliest mark was a half moon but not all specimens were marked. The half moon later became a "C" which stood for Caughley. Other markings were the words "Salopian Coalport" in a scroll, or simply the name Turner. About the year 1800 the word "Coalport" appears and much later to meet the requirements of the American Tariff Act, the word "England" was added.

Among its beautiful patterns are to be found the "Chantilly Sprig," the "Worm Sprig" and the "Broseley Dragon." The reproductions of the Mazarine Blue are equal to the Derby in tone, and the copies of the Turquoise Blue and the Rose-du-Barri ground colors of the old Sevres China are excellent.

NODART OF THE NORTH.

(Part II.)

"Goodness me!" exclaimed Bingo's mistress when she discovered the strange dog that had come home with Bingo in his hamper. "What are we going to do with this funny, woolly little dog?"

"It must be Nodart," said Bingo's master. "He and Bingo were great chums up north, and so the little beggar has climbed into the hamper when no one was looking and travelled all this way. He is a lovely little fellow."

Nodart didn't know whether to be glad or sorry. Already he was beginning to miss his mother and the other dogs of the north. "I wish I hadn't come," he whispered to Bingo.

"Don't be silly," the bullterrier snapped angrily, for to tell the truth Bingo did not like to hear his master and mistress say nice things about the dog from the north. He was naturally a jealous dog.

"I believe I like his looks better than Bingo's," said the bullterrier's mistress, for she had guessed that Bingo was jealous, and delighted in teasing the old dog.

But if she had known how nasty Bingo could be, she would not have said that, for from that very minute the old dog led the pup from the north an awful life. He would not play with Nodart, and whenever the puppy came near him would snap and snarl fiercely.

Poor little Nodart! How he wished he had not left his home. How he longed for the nice crisp cold weather of the North. It was damp and dreary in the south country outside, and inside the steampipes made it much too warm for Nodart's comfort—for he had been born with a heavy north country coat.

And then there were so many things Nodart did that displeased his new guardian. Of course, because his coat was long, he brought in a great deal of mud and rain on it. And then, too, his feet were big and padlike, and he tramped in mud and dirt on his mistress' carpets and clean floors. Bingo was a short-coated dog, and his feet were small, so he made little mess. What scoldings poor Nodart got from Bingo's mistress and how uncomfortable she made him feel.

"If I was you I would start back for the north country," Bingo said one day. It was the first civil thing the bullterrier had said for many a day.

At last, Nodart could stand it no longer. He waited his chance and ran away toward the North. Poor Nodart! Many hundreds of miles lay between him and his beloved homeland.

(Nodart meets with some real adventure in tomorrow's story.)

READER BLAMES VOTE OF PEOPLE FOR WET ONTARIO

Dear Friends,—In answer to Elspeth Wilson's letter in The Advertiser of February 11, as I am a temperance man myself, I must say I am sorry the way the vote went. Question one said: "Are you in favor of the repeal of the Ontario temperance act?" and the most of the people voted "No," which was quite reasonable; questions two and three were: "Do you want stronger beer?" and, of course, we voted "No"; question four was: "Do you want malted liquors sold through Government agents?" and most of the people voted "No." These questions might not be worded exactly correct, as I just wrote them from memory. We got just what the majority voted for, as there was no dry on the ballot. If the people had voted "Yes" on question four, the Government could have issued individual licenses with coupons attached and allowed a quart bottle for each coupon, if they thought four bottles a year was enough for medical purposes. They would allow four coupons to a license, to be gotten quarterly, and no one could be a very big drunkard on four quarts a year, and rich and poor could get the same, while under the Ontario temperance act which the people voted for, a person can buy a barrel of whiskey, if he can pay for it, and take it home, and the authorities cannot do anything, as the Ontario people voted their authority away from them, and the Government is in the same boat, and are not to blame. We reasonably expect the Government to give the people what they vote for or why have a vote at all. These are my personal opinions to the way I understood the ballot from careful investigation.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Could you tell me what will take stains out of a polished table?

I am sending you 10 cents for the children's hospital, which I think is a splendid idea. — HONEYSUCKLE.

Cosy Corner Chats.

Excellent flavoring for custards and sweet puddings can be made at home with very little trouble and expense. Before cutting a lemon or an orange wash and wipe it dry. Then grate off the yellow skin, being careful not to get any of the white part, as that spoils the flavor. Put the grated peel into a wide-mouthed bottle, cover thickly with granulated sugar. Keep the bottle tightly corked. The sugar becomes saturated with the volatile oil of the peel, and when used in the place of extract will be found to give a most delicious flavor.

It may be new to some readers that a mustard plaster made with the white of an egg, instead of water, will never blister, or mixed with flour and soda, about 3 teaspoons mustard and 3 teaspoons flour, pinch of soda, and mixed to a paste thin enough to spread.

The white of egg beaten up with loaf sugar, with a little lemon juice or glycerine added will quickly relieve hoarseness.

The white skin that lines an egg shell is a useful application to a boil or felon.

Ink stains on white material may be effectually removed by washing first in a strong brine and then wetting the spot in lemon juice. This is harmless and sure. SYBIL WOOD

Inclosed please find ten cents for the Children's Hospital Fund. I am sure if your readers could only see how the suffering children are made well again through the help of doctors and nurses they would surely feel they must help all they can, if only a "Widow's Mite." I have been through the children's hospital in England, and have seen the good which is done, and little hearts made glad.

ENGLISH-CANADIAN.

I have enjoyed reading your page for some time. Inclosed find stamped envelope for the wonderful stocking-foot pattern, also a dime for the Children's Hospital. Can you tell me what day December 23, 1904, fell on?

KAY.

Ans.—Friday.

Have just finished reading the second part of the new story. I think it will be very interesting when we get farther into it. I wonder if any one has "Daddy Long Legs," by Jean Webster.

So Ura Kidd's got an unknown Pal has she? I hope they don't break the springs of that touring car. I see where you have the address of a lady that tells your character by your hand writing. Would you mind sending the address in the inclosed envelope?

NONA.

Ans.—Read "Dear Enemy" now, Nona, by the same author as "Daddy Long Legs," and leave Mary J. Holmes and Bertha M. Clay on an obscure shelf. There are so many splendid Canadian books by Canadian writers to occupy your leisure moments. Have you read Marian Keith's books (London is very proud of Marian Keith, also Nellie McClung's, Ralph Connor's, L. M. Montgomery and a host of others?

Believes Friends Make Happiness.

Accept my thanks for patterns. Naomi, I extend to you my right hand. It is not the one nearest my heart, yet it is the one I use when shaking hands, and the suggestion you made lies very near to my heart. Sincerely trust that many of our readers will try it—not "tomorrow," but "today." As I have said before, it is our friends that make our lives happy or otherwise. I thought your definition of forgiveness, Miss Grey, was grand, and trust that our readers will learn to forgive, so that others may be made happy, and we may enjoy the fragrance of that beautiful flower, forgiveness. After all it is not hard to forgive, but oh, the sorrow when we realize that some dear friend has by an unkind word or thoughtless deed robbed us of our confidence. We cannot be too careful. Have been wondering what kind of a person Irish, Too, considers a "highly educated" person? She refers to "a farmer, a laborer or a highly educated person." I know of farmers with a college education, farmers' wives with university education. Some people labor with the hands, some with the brain. Whether physical or mental, is it not all labor? Will some-one please inform us what an educated person really is?

MARGARET LINDLEY.

Ans.—Your little sentence, "We cannot be too careful," brought to my mind what Jean Blewett says: "The friend I trusted failed me. This was bad, but not so bad as though I had failed my friend." I'd rather trust people too much than too little, wouldn't you?

Disappointing Friends.

After reading the last letter from Ura Kidd's Pal, I really couldn't be very angry any more. At first I thought I'd forgive her right then and there, but when she said she'd take me for a little Jazz in her car, thought I'd just take her up on that! Guess I can ride as fast as that Franklin car can run.

Seriously, I'd like someone to answer a question. How is it that boys who pretended to be our best friend before they went overseas can look about six inches above our head since they have returned?

They went away, telling us "Good-bye" and asking us to pray for them, and won't even say, "Hello," when they come back. Or, some pretend to be tickled to death to see you, and stop to talk every time they see you, and then at a dance, where there's plenty of other girls—better than you (?)—they don't even see you! They tell you they think it's perfectly all right for you to work in the fields, and they think a lot more of you for it; then at a dance or party they can't notice anyone but a few empty-headed dolls, who never did one thing to help win the war, excepting make eyes at every uniform that came along. Oh, I know what I'm talking about (by experience)! And I've heard different girls say the same thing. Now, I'd like to know the reason, if anyone can tell me?

Hazel-Nut, I really think we should be friends. My nose turns up, too, and I just love to wade snowdrifts. Send your address or a letter through Miss Grey.

I'd often like to help in some way, but never seem to have the chance, so am sending a bit for the fund.

YANKEE FARMERETTE.

Ans.—Many thanks for your donation. I'm sorry you've been disappointed in some of your returned friends—but it is one of life's revelations—some so-called friends do change, but they were not worth our while, perhaps, after all. Anyway, why worry about those who do not seek to remain friends when the world is full of lovely people we don't yet know? Don't show your hurt—go on serene in the belief "that what is yours shall know your face," and as the Cheerful Cherub says:

"You never know what's waiting
Just around the bend;
You'll maybe find a dollar
Or a brand new friend!"

A Small Stranger.

Have you room for another small stranger in your corner? If so, may I come in? Someone was asking how to set the color in print aprons before washing. My mother always soaks prints or any wash goods in salt and water for a couple of hours before washing. Inclosed find a stamped addressed envelope and 10 cents for pattern. I am 11 years old. My birthday is on Halloween, so will sign myself,

HALLOWEEN.

Ans.—I am quite sure, Halloween, that you are one of our future helpers of the Mail-Box, and we are very glad to have you join the circle.

Requests.

Wonder if Elderly Lady will write and tell us how she packs her butter. Twenty-five cents for the hospital fund, which I think is a splendid idea. What day did May 26, 1891, fall on.

WOODCHUCK.

Ans.—On Tuesday.

Here I am again to bother you a little. How I would love to drop in and help you sometimes.

Wonder if any Boxites have had any trouble knitting pullover sweaters. I have just finished one, but didn't have any directions. Here is a good hint: After getting correct number of stitches lay your work on a dress pattern which is plenty large enough for you and make the same size. Be very careful not to stretch the stitches any. Mine looks very good, and fits smoothly, but not tight, as they soon lose their shape.

Wonder if anyone has ever read any of E. P. Roe's books, "Barriers Burned Away" is splendid.

Would you please send me a dialogue which is quite comical?

TALKS ON HEALTH

(Noted Physician and Author.)

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. YE OLDE WARM AIR FURNACE.

As we grow ever softer and more effeminate softening luxuries hold for us a stronger appeal. Statistics of morbidity and mortality rates in ye olden recollection of grandpa about such matters is notoriously romantic, yet there is no reason to believe that respiratory troubles were more common, if they were as common, in 1820 than they are in 1920.

A dwelling heated with an ordinary wood or coal stove is as hygienically heated as an apartment equipped with a hot water or steam radiator. The principle of the heating is the same in either case. The stove has one important advantage over the radiator; it must be connected with a flue and the draft produces some ventilation of the room if the room is not hermetically sealed.

Steam or hot water radiators, unfortunately, do warm the air of apartments even if ventilation is inadequate. Hot air furnaces do not work satisfactorily unless ventilation is fairly efficient.

The air inlet of the hot air furnace should be from the outside, never from the cellar or, worse still, from a room of the house. The largest possible volume of outside air should be admitted through the air inlet, consistent with comfort. An air outlet should be provided near the roof. A hot air furnace register which belches forth a scorching blast is wholly unhygienic; it means that insufficient cold air is being admitted through the air inlet.

The registers should give forth warm air, not hot air. The temperature of the room thus warmed should be temperate, not torrid. From 60 to 67 degrees Fahrenheit may be considered a hygienic temperature in a furnace-heated apartment; a higher temperature than that is depressing and unwholesome. Elderly and enfeebled individuals imagine they need more heat; they do, but not from the atmosphere they breathe. Their body warmth should be maintained by additional clothing, though it is well to remember that the less clothing one wears at any time, consistent with physical comfort, the better for health.

The hot air furnace does dry out the air, but not more than the radiator does. If the apartment is constantly overheated, it is practically impossible to maintain anything like normal humidity in the air by any apparatus available for the private dwelling. But if the temperature is kept below 68 degrees Fahrenheit, a fair approach to proper moisture in the air may be maintained if the water pots of the furnace are large and well filled. It requires something like 75 gallons of water daily, evaporated in the air, to maintain fair humidity in an artificially heated dwelling of average size in cold winter weather. The evaporation of a few gallons of water daily would therefore make little impression on atmospheric aridity.

As a matter of economy, efficiency and hygiene, let the householder rest assured that the hot air furnace is thoroughly correct. Hot water or steam heating may be necessary for large buildings or rambling dwellings which cannot be economically warmed with the hot air furnace.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Gasoline Fumes.

Do you think that inhaling the evaporation or vapor of gasoline causes throat irritation? (C. E. H.)

Ans.—Yes, many workers in industries where they are much exposed to gasoline vapor (not the gases formed in the combustion of gasoline) suffer from throat irritation and bronchitis causing cough.

Pass the Pork.

Kindly inform me whether eating pork is dangerous to the health. (Miss D. M.)

Ans.—Pork properly cooked—I mean thoroughly cooked—is a wholesome and very nutritious food. The only real objection to pork in the diet is the risk of tapeworm infection from measly meat, but thorough cooking prevents that, even though the meat be measly. By "measly meat" is meant flesh in which the larval form of tapeworm is present.

When Scarlet Fever Is Contagious.

When is scarlet fever most contagious, when it is just developing, or when the patient is getting over it? (Miss M. D.)

Ans.—When it is developing. Measles and scarlet fever are both most catching in the stage just before the rash appears. Another good reason for promptly isolating every individual who is developing an alleged "cold."

I have a baby boy six months old; he weighs 21 pounds. Is he overweight for his age? He has never been sick a day yet. Do you believe in baby's own tablets? Some say they are not good for a small child. When should I start feeding him? I nurse him every four hours, and that's all he gets. What is good to give a baby in case he gets a bad cold or the flu?

EXCITEMENT.

Ans.—1. The normal average weight of a six-months-old baby is sixteen pounds.

2. I do not know what the tablets contain, or what they are for.

3. Begin to feed the baby, that is, wean the baby, some time between his eighth and twelfth month. Send a stamped addressed envelope for advice about weaning and feeding.

WM. BRADY, M.D.

Chapped and Cracked Knuckles.

My knuckles get chapped and bleed during the cold weather. Can you suggest a remedy? (A. T.)

ASWER—It is an extraordinary case. If the knuckles chap and bleed in the course of the cold weather I should suggest this:

Boric acid	3 drams
Glycerine	1 ounce
Tragacanth	1 dram
Water	12 ounces

Boil slowly and stir constantly till dissolved. Apply three or four times a day immediately after washing. At night gently rub into the skin of the hands any clean fresh oil or grease, such as petrolatum liquid, lanolin, lard, butter or freshly made cold cream.

Aluminum Safe.

Do you consider aluminum cooking utensils safe to cook with? Have heard that coffee cooked in aluminum is injurious to the kidneys. (Mrs. B. F. M.)

ANSWER—Absolutely safe for cooking anything that should be cooked, but coffee is one thing that should never be cooked—if it really isn't poisonous it is unfit to drink when cooked.

The Craving For Guessing.

When a man 55 years old is suffering from myocarditis and at times has severe pains under the right shoulder blades and his veins sometimes look empty and again appear swollen, are these indications that he has hardening of the arteries and angina pectoris as complementary complications? (E. S.)

ANSWER—No. By the way, the appearance of the veins gives no clue whatever to the condition of the arteries, contrary to a popular fancy.

Children as well as their elders need something hot to drink, and Cocoa is the only thing adapted to their youth which at the same time they enjoy. It is not a stimulant, as are other beverages, but is nourishing and invigorating. It strengthens their power of resistance against cold and illness.

Cocoa is recognized by doctors and dietitians as one of the standard foods, and is particularly recommended for growing children. Taken in the form of a beverage at breakfast or lunch, or after school in the afternoon, it is easily digested and the children love it.

Give your children Cowan's Cocoa every day, and it will help them to develop sturdy constitutions which will be the foundation for good health all through life.

Follow the directions on the tin in preparing Cocoa.

Stratford Beats Juniors 11 to 4

Locals, Against Heavy Work of Heavy Classic City Crew, Faded in Stages—Fans Concede Red and White Chances For Honors.

The locals were given a decisive beating last night by the score of 11 to 4. Stratford outplayed them in every way with a much heavier team. The score was larger than it should have been, as Vair allowed several goals on offsides. Penalties were numerous all through the game. Both teams were inclined to mix it at different periods with Carson of the Classic Town crowd leading the keep him out of the game for some time. It is thought that two of his ribs way. Berger also pulled a rather dirty aside on Woods, which will no doubt are smashed, but there is no definite information on it yet.

Carson opened the first period when he scored in three minutes. Both teams seemed scared to go at it for a while, and the play was slow. Stratford again scored in the period when Kelterborne took the disc along for a shot and a counter in sixteen minutes. Both goaltenders were having a lively time as the Stratford crew were taking things easy, and London was breaking through at different times.

In the second period, both teams opened up, and Stratford ran in four more goals. London was going at it tooth and nail, and managed a couple, Quennville getting one of them.

The third period was the disastrous one. Stratford ran in five more in short order, and then let things drift for awhile. London managed to scramble two out of the mixing, Pring getting one and McKay the other. The last one was a doubtful one, as the puck ran around the top of the net and came out. Vair allowed it to go, though.

Kelterbore, the fast little left wing man of the Classic crew, is the fastest man seen on the London ice this year either in junior or intermediate. His stick handling is beautiful, and there is not a man on either of the teams has a show with him as a skater. Berger, the blode defense man of the same team, is a fast man, and was the only one that showed anything like the speed of Kelterborne.

Mays and Quennville worked hard, and owing to their efforts the score was kept where it was. Time after time they were called on to break up a four-man combination. They usually did the trick, but Stratford has a wicked way of boring in on the net and getting passes from the rear at the same time. This caused most of the trouble, as there was no one there to give Smith a helping hand.

Mays Good.

The combination of Stratford was beautiful. Time after time they came down with four men, and were successful in getting by the local forwards. Mays will wear a black eye as the result of it, as he was checking like a fool. His French partner was not far away either. Mays was also the hardest worker in the aggressive line again last night.

Off the Boards

There'll be as many people getting hoarse croaking "I told you so" today as there are wheezy from fanning the local youngsters to an attempt at a win last night.

The great old game of "But and If," which is seeing who can string off the most alibis without taking a breath, will be in full swing today.

Let 'er go! One-two-three!

If London had been playing their usual game—

If the locals had had about a good round hundreds more weight—

If the kids had kept up the pace they started at the first of the second period—

If Woods hadn't been knocked out—

BUT

They weren't, hadn't, didn't, he was and—

Stratford won.

The Classic City youths are what they said of them.

Stratford showed the natives the fastest collection of hockey players that have visited these parts this year. The youths from the hesitation point on the old Grand Trunk branch are a finished team of puck-chasers.

The London team was simply outskated and was not there with the old combination. The latter method of play was the undoing of the local defence time and again.

Steve Vair refereed a vair game only. He let the Midgets get away with a lot of hooking and scragging, while iorward passes netted the visitors goals on four occasions. Even at that, the visitors had a healthy monopoly of the play.

Woods played a great game until he sustained two broken ribs in the second period. He was a tower of strength to the team. Pring, who took his place, played a scrappy little game, but could not keep up to the faster Stratford gang.

The fellow who named the visitors Midgets must have been blind. They are the heaviest bunch seen here this year.

The local defence had a busy evening, thank you. Smith played a star game, while Quennville and Mays both worked their heads off.

Johnny Burgess played an excellent game for a sick boy. However, he was not in shape to give his check much of a tussle.

It was a pretty sight to see the Stratford two and three-men combination. However, less of it would have done.

Youths who happened to be born in the Kelterborne and Berger families did some dazzling skating and stick-handling. They were on the job all the time, and the pick of a fine team.

"How did they win?" asks the office boy.

"They scored more goals," said the society editor.

And to this may be added two more words, and they are "team play."

RACE FOR AMERICA'S CUP FIXED FOR HOOK JULY 15

Resolute or Vanitie Will Defend Against Lipton's Shamrock IV.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—England and the United States will be friendly rivals in a battle for the yachting supremacy of the seas, beginning July 15, when the first race for the America's Cup is scheduled over the Sandy Hook course here. This was formally announced by the New York Yacht Club here late this evening, in accepting the challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton through the Royal Ulster Yacht Club of Belfast, Ireland. Sir Thomas will attempt to win the world-famous yachting trophy with his challenger Shamrock IV., while the New York Yacht Club will defend the cup won in 1851 with either the Resolute or Vanitie, launched for that purpose in 1913.

In announcing its formal and definite acceptance of the challenge the New York Yache Club made public correspondence with the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, which shower that the dates and course were the result of a compromise of the wishes of the two yachting organizations. The American club in agreeing to race off Sandy Hook, beginning on Thursday, July 15, and every alternate day, not counting Sundays, until one of the competing yachts has won three out of five races, abondons its original desire that the regatta be held off Newport about the 1st of August.

The challengers in turn acquiesced to a later date than the one first mentioned in the correspondence, which was June 24.

Considerable discussion passed between the clubs regarding these details and the sail equipment to be used. In general, the New York Yacht Club acceded to the wishes of the Belfast Club with one exception. This referred to the rule of measurement of sail area which it is stated "we must decline to change."

2 EVENTS RESTORED TO OLYMPIC GAMES

New York, Feb. 18.—Two all-around events, the decathlon and the modern penthalon, have been restored to the program of the Olympic games at Antwerp, it was learned today. In the original draft of the competition it was deemed sufficient to have only one all-round event, the penthalon, as held in ancient Greece. The decathlon consists of ten events as follows: 100, 400, and 1,000 metre runs, 110 metre hurdles; running high and broad jumps, pole vault, putting the weight, throwing the javelin, throwing the discus.

The modern penthalon will be similar to the event held in Sweden and will consist of swimming, fencing, revolver shooting, cross-country riding and cross-country running. The events are contested on different days.

Y and Western U. Play O.B.A. Fixture to 24-24 Tie

Y Had Apparently Game Won 24--21 When Dispute Out of Which Referee Awarded Foul To Varsity Tied Game.

The "Y" apparently had Western University beaten within a few seconds of the finish of their game last night at the Varsity gym by 24 to 21, when a mix-up occurred regarding the calling of time, and Referee Fleming of Brantford, after the "Y" had failed to come on the floor when the whistle was blown for resumption of play, awarded Varsity a foul, ending the game with a 24—24 tie.

The game itself was one of the hardest games yet staged on a London basketball floor, and the "Y" team, showing a wonderful reversal of form, seemed to have the edge for a large portion of the pastime. Both teams checked hard and consistently, and it was a pretty game to watch. Referee Fleming handled the game well, and had his hands full keeping them to straight basketball, with the play so fast and close.

The line-up:

Western "U"		"Y"
McGeoch	R. G.	Douglas
Simpson	L. G.	McLean

Cline	R. F.	Gillies
Kingswood	L. F.	Mascarl

Referee—Fleming, Brantford.

In the preliminary game the Shamrocks beat the St. Peters of the Girls' City League in a fast and interesting game. Western "U" girls, who were to have played King Street, could not place a team, owing to illness, hence the substitution.

"Win Race" Rule Changed At Annual Meet of Trotting Assoc.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—A change in the "win race" rule was adopted by the American Trotting Association at its annual meeting here today. The revised ruling provides that a horse with a "win race" be allowed whether raced or not, two seconds for each calendar year until he reduces his time, or wins in faster time than the class to which his time allowance made him eligible. The old rule allowed only one second for each year.

The rule also declares that a horse winning a race in faster time than the class to which his time allowance makes him eligible, shall thereafter be considered as having acquired a new "win race."

A "win race" was described as the "fastest time made by a winner either in the first or second position."

W. H. Ijams of Terre Haute, Ind., was elected president of the association, T. H. Gill, Milwaukee, vice-president, and W. H. Smollinger, Chicago, secretary-treasurer.

The Standard of Motor Car Value

Everywhere, now, you find cars compared with the Gray-Dort for value.

Because the Gray-Dort has become the standard—a new and higher standard—giving more for the money than ever was given before—and setting new standards of strength and quality for light cars.

Here's What You Get in the Gray-Dort at $1365(plus war tax) Compare it with Other Cars.

The Gray-Dort Motor is big, and finely built, like a watch. 40 pound crankshaft; non-warping, quiet valves; light, three-ringed pistons; Carter carburetor, Connecticut ignition, Westinghouse starting and lighting; cellular radiator and big water jackets.

The leadership of the Gray-Dort motor is paralleled by the leadership of the Gray-Dort chassis. Here is a strong, solid frame of heavy channel steel; a big, husky rear axle, designed and built exclusively for us here in Chatham; Chatham-built springs, full cantilever in the rear; big brakes, with Thermoid lining; a new steering gear, 50% bigger and stronger than has been used for light cars; a big gas-tank in the rear, with vacuum feed system.

Nothing can take away your pride in the smooth, flowing lines of your Gray-Dort. No other car can equal the wonderful Gray-Dort finish, which we have spent 60 years in developing.

And there is the smart, new top, hand-tailored in our own shops; French-pleated upholstery; a new hood, with many long, narrow louvres; snug side-curtains, which open with the doors; a shorter, smarter cowl which gives more room in the driving compartment; seats tilted at the most comfortable angle; increased leg-room in the tonneau; lamps raised to give size to the front of the car.

Once you know the Gray-Dort, you will be too critical to accept any other light car. There will be thousands who will agree with you—probably several thousand more purchasers than there will be Gray-Dorts. We urge you to see the Gray-Dort dealer now.

Prices

The Gray-Dort 5-passenger car, finished in Gray-Dort green and black and with standard equipment is $1365 f.o.b. Chatham. War tax extra.

PROOF THAT NO ONE MAN IS ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS OF TEAM

Ottawa Hockey Team Wins Despite Absence of Crack Players.

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—The Citizen today says:

A few weeks ago, critics along the N. H. L. circuit were kind enough to boost Sprague Cleghorn as the greatest all-round star in the game, and to intimate that without the Westmount boy the Ottawas would go to pieces. Cleghorn took ill, and the Ottawas won their two most critical games of the first half without him. George Boucher replaced Cleghorn and played great hockey.

Then another blow hit the club, and they lost Eddie Gerard for two very important games on the second half. Boucher and Merrill replaced Gerard and Ottawa came through with a win over Canadiens. Last Saturday night at Montreal, when Punch Broadbent was put out of business in the first five minutes, Ottawa supporters shook their heads dubiously and calculated that the Ottawa line, without the crack right-wing would blow up. Well, Denennay replaced Broadbent, and both McKell and Bruce got into action. This time Ottawa captured an over-time decision.

All of which would indicate that the first half champions of the N. H. L. are not a "one-man" team.

STECHER WINS AGAIN WITH SCISSORS HOLD

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 18.—Joe Stecher, champion heavyweight wrestler, threw Franz Holar, claimant of the Bohemian title, twice here last night. Stecher won the first fall in 43 minutes with a body scissors and arm lock. The second fall came after eleven minutes, Stecher again securing his scissors hold.

TYRANNICAL RULE

excuse a little excursion in history.

The speaker here sketched the history of responsible self-government and provincial self-government in Canada.

"I have tried to show what we have gained by development along constitutional lines, and by adhering to the constitution. I want to show now what we have lost by departing from the constitution, from its spirit if not from its letter. I think I shall not be accused of very violent partisanship if I say that the present condition of Union Government is far from satisfactory. It is unsatisfactory to the country, unsatisfactory to Conservatives as well as to Liberals, and unsatisfactory to itself. Minister after minister resigns; there is a remarkable lack of eagerness to fill the vacant places. The prime minister is absent, and there is no recognized head of the Government. There is, except the absent premier, no minister with portfolio representing the region extending from the confines of the city of Montreal to the Atlantic ocean. Ministers are shuffled from one department to another; there is a condition approaching chaos. There is weakness. The Government is weak because it has a bad conscience, because it has no right to be where it is, because it is a usurper. The stream was poisoned at its source. 'It has no real mandate from the people; and we shall never have an efficient Government till we have a Government that is responsible to a Parliament, fairly and freely elected by the people.

The Wrong Road.

The beginning of the wrong road was the extension of the life of the last Parliament. That was not done with wrong intent, and I sympathize with the view of those who did not desire to have the country plunged into a general election in the midst of the greatest war in history. Nevertheless, a departure from the constitution is always a serious thing, and may have ill-results that are not always anticipated. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, looking at the matter with the experienced eye of a veteran statesman, was extremely dubious about the extension. He dwelt upon the immense importance of the control of the people over Parliament and the control of Parliament over the Government. Correspondence took place between him and Sir Robert Borden as to the extension; and in this correspondence, as summarized by Sir Robert Borden in the debate, reference was made to the restriction of legislation to matters arising out of the war or occasioned thereby, or directly connected therewith, except possibly minor matters of urgent need and unavoidable necessity as to which I would desire to consult with my honorable friend."

Not Direct Violation.

It will hardly be denied that the war times election act was a direct violation of this understanding. It was such a measure as would have borne the brand of extreme partisanship even if passed in a Parliament with a clear mandate from the people. It was doubly unjustifiable when passed by a Parliament drawing its extension of life from an understanding that the only purpose was to allow the war to be prosecuted without the interruption of a general election, a Parliament restricted in its powers. Do you suppose that Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have dreamed of granting the extension if he had been told how it would be abused. If Sir Robert Borden had said to him in 1916: "Next year we shall use the power you have given us to pass a measure which will enable us to entrench ourselves in office for another Parliament, to make this extension not for one year only, but for that year and the whole term of a new Parliament. We will disfranchise great bodies of electors, we will create such machinery for carrying on the general election as will make it impossible for Liberals to be elected, except where the majority is overwhelming, we will enact such a law for taking soldiers' votes that these votes may be transferred in bundles to any constituency where the Government needs them?" The question answers itself: The extension would have been refused, (and Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have had absolute power to refuse it) if any such policy had been announced, or even upon any fair ground suspected. I will go further and say that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier had expressed such a suspicion, it would have been met with an indignant denial by Sir Robert Borden, and the Government would have sworn before the high heaven that it had no intention of introducing such a law. It was introduced. It was passed by a most drastic use of the closure in Parliament. And to that breach of faith, to that violation of the constitution of Canada, the present Parliament and the present Government owe their life.

A Tyrannical Government.

The character of the Government is just what might have been expected from its origin. Men do not gather grapes from thorns and figs from thistles. In its early days, it was violent and tyrannical. It ignored Parliament and carried out its will by thousands of orders in council, one following another so rapidly that a skilled lawyer could hardly undertake to advise his client from day to day as to the state of the law. It passed orders of the most drastic kind even when Parliament was in session. It placed its arbitrary orders above the judgment of the courts and the sacred principles of British law.

Today we find it in the second stage. It has rushed from one extreme to the other, from the extreme of arrogance to the extreme of weakness. Having in its early stage exceeded its powers, it now seems incapable of using its legitimate powers. It wobbles and vacillates. Its weakness is the familiar story of those who do business with it, and the despair of its friends.

The remedy is to get back to responsible and representative Government. We need a Parliament fairly elected and representative of the country, and we need a Government responsible to Parliament and as nearly as possible representative of all sections of the people in Canada. If we are afraid of Bolshevism the best safeguards against Bolshevism are freedom and order and a restored respect for free institutions.

Restore Confidence.

"I am far from contending that these institutions are perfect or incapable of improvement, or from censuring or discouraging those who would reform them. But I would seek to restore the confidence of the people in the deliberations of Parliament and the orderly processes of law, and to encourage the sentiment that the institutions of our country are in the real sense popular and democratic and founded upon the public will. I want every elector to feel that his duty is not only to obey the law, but to have his due share in making the law, and to choose those who make the laws and administer them. I want to see this a democratic country in the real sense—in which every man and woman will feel it to be his duty not only to cast his vote on election day once every few years, but to study public questions every day and put his whole heart into the promotion of the welfare of the country."

SAFE REGULATOR FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

It is useless, dangerous and unnecessary to be tortured with the digging, twisting pains or backache or to suffer disagreeable kidney and bladder disorders if a safe, simple and harmless kidney regulator like Solvax can so promptly and surely relieve such troubles as many users say it does.

People who suffer back weakness, rheumatic pains, puffy swellings under eyes or in ankles and feet or are bothered with urinary disorders ought to try taking a little Solvax for a few days and note results.

Solvax usually begins to work in a few hours to regulate the kidneys so they can drive out the excess uric acid and poisonous impurities that are clogging and stopping their free and healthy action. A difference can often be noticed in as little as twenty-four hours. Leading druggists who sell Solvax agree to return its full purchase price if in any case it does not give entire satisfaction.

If your druggist cannot supply you write inclosing 50 cents to Booth's Hyomei Company, Postoffice Box No. 388, London, Ont.

DAIRYMEN CONDEMN OLEOMARGARINE; SAY IT HURTS BUSINESS

Claim Introduction of Butter Substitute Has Discouraged Milk Production.

BIG CONVENTION OPENS

Object Is To Bring Milk Into Homes of Under-Nourished Children in Cities.

Winnipeg, Feb. 18.—Unanimous condemnation of oleomargarine and of many advertisements of it, which were characterized as a fraudulent intent with wording that kept barely within the law, featured the executive meeting of the national dairy council yesterday afternoon. Dairy Commissioner J. A. Ruddick stated the federal government of agriculture had never been in any doubt as to where it stood on oleomargarine and added that if an energetic organization like the national dairy council had been in existence at the time it might have prevented the suspension of the law prohibiting the sale of this product in Canada.

"The person who states to you," said Mr. Ruddick, "that oleomargarine is as good as butter is either not well informed or is guilty of misrepresentation. Furthermore, there is no doubt in my mind that the introduction of oleomargarine has discouraged the production of milk in Canada. There are hundreds of farmers who are hesitating about going into the dairy industry. When these people hear that oleomargarine has cut into the dairy industry they decide against the milk business and Canada is deprived of that many more milk producers."

The convention opened with an address by Miss Holbrook, dairy division of the United States department of agriculture, who explained how campaigns to interest everyone in the use of milk were conducted in the United States. The main object of these campaigns was to bring milk with its superlative protein into the homes of the undernourished children of great cities.

JUDGING IS COMPLETED.

Winnipeg, Feb. 18.—Judging was completed last evening in the greatest exhibit of creamery butter ever made at one exhibition, to wit 225 entries. The greatest interest centred on the "all Canada" competition which was open to every province in the Dominion, and for which there were eight prizes, the first being $100. The competition was for one box of fourteen pounds of solid packed butter made in September last, and shipped to Winnipeg and held in cold storage ever since. There were 70 boxes entered in this competition and they came from all parts of Canada, even from Prince Edward Island.

Alberta won first, second and third places, Quebec fourth and fifth, Manitoba Sixth, Quebec seventh and eighth.

Ontario did not get a place in the first 30, yet her score was 89.1, indicating how extremely uniform was the make. In the preliminary try-out, no less than six entries tied for first place.

THREE BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED IN $200,000 HOTEL FIRE

Lorraine Hotel in Providence Is Virtually Destroyed.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 18. — Three guests lost their lives in a fire which virtually destroyed the Lorraine Hotel here early today.

Samuel Warwick of Harrietsville was so badly injured jumping from a window that he died later at a hospital. Two bodies, believed to be those of Louis B. Kunz of Centerdale and E. F. Fobert of Boston, were found in the ruins.

J. V. Jordan, manager of the Lorraine, is unable to tell the cause of the fire. The property loss is estimated at $200,000.

ROADS STILL BLOCKED; NO PRODUCE ON MARKET

Lots of Buyers, But No Farmers on Market Square Today.

Owing to the roads being blocked by snow, the farmers did not venture to market with their produce today. On Tuesday one rural resident brought a load of hay to the city, but when asked for more said that he had brought this lone load as a favor for a friend. There were no changes in prices:

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Fresh weakness showed itself in the corn market today. The chief new bearish factor was a department of justice report in regard to the seizure of foodstuffs in an effort to compel the lowering of prices. Declines in the value of hogs tended also to act as a weight on the corn market. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c to ½c lower, with May at $1 32⅞@1 33½, and July at $1 29¾@1 30, were followed by a moderate further setback.

Oats sagged with corn. After opening ¼c to ⅜c down, including May at 80½@80¾c, the market continued to descend.

WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 18—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Rails supplemented yesterday's many substantial gains at the opening of today's stock market, transcontinentals rising 1 to 2 points. Shares of these roads, covering eastern and southern territories, averaged large fractional advances, but coalers were reactionary. Oils improved, but the movement was somewhat irregular, motors and equipments reacting 1 to 3 points. Rails forfeited part of their advance within the first half hour, when pressure against industrials became more pronounced.

Noon.—The early setback proved of short duration, industrials rallying easily when buying of rails was resumed at additional gains. For the first time in months the transportation shares dominated the trading both as to activity and extent of their advances. Oils were next in favor, and railway equipments followed the course set by rails. Losses of 1 to 2 points in General Motors, Crucible Steel and affiliated issues were more than recovered, and specialties also strengthened. Steadiness of foreign exchange and the renewal rate for call loans comprised the other encouraging features.

HER DUTY TO TELL, STATES MRS. HENRY

Learned of Tanlac Through Others and Must Now Tell of Own Benefits.

"From a weak, nervous and sick woman to a well, strong and happy one, is a long step, but Tanlac enabled me to accomplish it in a few weeks," said Mrs. James A. Henry, a well-known resident of Lingan road, Sydney, Nova Scotia, recently. "It is not only a pleasure, but I regard it as a duty to tell you how much Tanlac has benefited me," she continued, "for it was by reading such statements from others that I was put on the right road to health.

"I contracted the influenza during the epidemic and it left me in such terrible condition I could hardly keep on my feet, and was really too rundown and weak to do my housework. My stomach had never been strong, but this attack left me in such bad condition I could not eat anything without distress from bloating, and my appetite became so poor I did not care whether I ate at all or not. I was very nervous, too, and would roll and toss all night long and feel so tired out when I got up in the morning that I could hardly dress myself. Then my whole system seemed to give way and I lost so much weight and got so weak I thought I would have to give up entirely. My condition was really deplorable and I was much discouraged because nothing seemed to benefit me, although I tried everything I could think of.

"I noticed some statements in the papers about what excellent results other people had gotten from Tanlac and I tried it, too. However, I was in such bad condition that I took the first two bottles without being able to tell that it was helping me. I was more discouraged than ever, but resolved to stick to it a while longer, and I tell you that was the wisest decision I ever made in my life, for the third bottle of Tanlac took right hold of me, and in no time I was so much improved I hardly knew myself. I have taken five bottles in all and am enjoying better health than I have known in several years. My appetite is splendid and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. Every bit of my old strength has returned. I sleep as sound as a child every night, and when morning comes I feel so refreshed and strong my day's work is a genuine pleasure, and I feel years younger.

"I think Tanlac is the finest health builder in the world, and I am sure it will do for others what it has done for me if they, too, will give it a fair trial."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

What It Is and How It Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force In Two Weeks' Time In Many Instances

SHOULD BE PRESCRIBED BY EVERY DOCTOR AND USED IN EVERY HOSPITAL

SAYS EDITOR OF "PHYSICIANS' WHO'S WHO."

Take plain bitro-phosphate is the advice of physicians to thin, delicate, nervous people who lack vim, energy and nerve force, and there seems to be ample proof of the efficacy of this preparation to warrant the recommendation. Moreover, if we judge from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Clinical tests made in St. Catherine's Hospital, N. Y. C., showed that two patients gained in weight 23 and 27 pounds, respectively, through the administration of this organic phosphate; both patients claim they have not felt as strong and well for the past twelve years.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

Physicians and hospitals everywhere are now recognizing its merits by its use in ever increasing quantities. Frederick Kolle, M. D., editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Joseph D. Harrigan, Former Visiting Specialist to North Eastern Dispensatory, says: "Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anaemic, or rundown, take a natural, unadulterated substance such as bitro-phosphate and you will soon see some astonishing results in the increase of nerve energy, strength of body and mind and power of endurance."

Bitro-Phosphate is made entirely of the organic phosphate compound referred to in the National Standard Dispensatory as being an excellent tonic and nervine and a preparation which has recently acquired considerable reputation in the treatment of neurasthenia. The standard of excellence, strength and purity of its substance is beyond question, for every Bitro-Phosphate tablet is manufactured in strict accordance with the U. S. Pharmacopoeia test requirements. Bitro-Phosphate is therefore not a patent medicine and should not be confused with any of the secret nostrums, so-called tonics or widely advertised "cure-alls."

CAUTION—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties it should not be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

VIII.—Travis Lloyd At Home.

Alice took me to my room as soon as we had explained the accident to her.

"It's going to be a ghastly week-end," she remarked, switching on the lights, "what with illness in the house and everything upset, there'll be no fun at all! Helene!"—she wheeled me round so that the electric bulbs shone full on me—"you look for all the world as though you'd seen a ghost!"

I marveled at her. Jim, hovering between life and death—and she wearing the diamond bracelet he had given her, could talk like this!

"My dear, you must have some tea at once!" A ray of human compassion seemed to gleam in Alice's blue eyes. She rang the bell. "You'll have some supper later on. We finished dinner half an hour ago. I really didn't expect you till 9:15."

She helped me out of my traveling dress, and into a pretty evening gown. But, oh, what a mockery it all was! Suppose Jim shouldn't recover? I daren't let my mind dwell on that thought.

I drank the tea her maid brought to me. Then Alice and I descended to the dining-room.

Tony was there, with some week-end guests of the Anstruthers.

He got up as we entered.

"Sit down, Helene." The caressing note was in his voice. His eyes were fixed upon my face. "You needn't worry too much about that poor chap that you rescued. The doctor says he'll pull through all right, provided he has good nursing, and perfect quiet."

Alice wheeled round.

"And how," she drawled, "is he to get either commodity in this house?"

Tony looked ashamed of her.

"The doctor telephoned for a nurse, and sent the car to meet her. Luckily, there's an excellent woman at a house about six miles away. She ought to be here in half an hour. As for the 'perfect quiet' that's needed for the patient, Mr. Travis Lloyd very sensibly suggests that we all go over for the week-end to his place."

Alice looked relieved. Hard-hearted creature, she couldn't possibly have cared for Jim!

"That's a good scheme. My housekeeper is so splendid, she can manage the servants quite well without me. And Thorny Grange is a wonderful house to visit. Do let's go!"

No longer could I keep silence.

"I prefer to stay and help the doctor and the nurse." My voice was not quite steady as I spoke. And tears were in my eyes. I couldn't possibly leave Jim——

"Don't be a little goose, Helene. What do you know of nursing? Besides, the man's a perfect stranger to you." Alice's tones were mocking. And her stare was insolent. She made it evident that she considered my offer to be presumptuous.

Oh, if she only knew the truth!

At this psychological moment, Travis Lloyd, accompanied by the doctor, came into the room.

Again I repeated my offer. The doctor shook his head.

"We don't need you in the meantime. I've engaged a first-class nurse. And the housekeeper here is a level-headed woman. She'll help, too."

I think he noticed how my face fell, for he added, kindly:

"Go over to Thorny Grange with the others, and I promise you that if we need extra assistance, I shall phone for you."

Nothing more was to be said. With this small crumb of comfort I had perforce to be satisfied.

Thorny Grange was a dear old rambling house, set in magnificent grounds. Isolated in position, it formed a quaint retreat from the tumoil of the outer world.

We were a subdued little party that evening, the week-end guests from Anstruther Lodge.

"Come on—let's have a game of bridge," suggested Alice, dragging Tony from my side. "The others are waiting for us in the library."

I saw her husband raise his eyebrows, critically. He hates his wife to play for money. But Alice loves the excitement of the game.

"Miss Beauclaire, may I have the honor of showing you around my house?" Travis Lloyd, immensely courteous, stood before me. He had followed us to Thorny Grange. The worried look that the evening's adventures had brought to his attractive face was beginning to vanish now. He smiled at me.

I complied with his request. Indeed, I was glad of anything that would take my mind from Jim—poor Jim!

"You ought to be a very happy man," I said impulsively, pausing before some priceless paintings in his picture gallery:

"Happy?" He gave an odd little laugh, looking sideways at me. "Is anyone really happy in this world?"

The cynicism of his words amazed me. But before I could reply to his strange question, he went on:

"Of course a girl like you is happy—I make an exception in your favor! You are made for happiness."

I stared at him, amazed. I? Made for happiness? Why, in the whole of England there wasn't a sadder girl that night than I, Helene Beauclaire, the unacknowledged wife of Jim St. Aubyns!

"You have everything the average human being longs for," resumed this strange man, watching me intently, "youth, beauty, health and charm. A heap of friends. Success in social things, and in your recent stage career. And"—here he lowered his voice—"freedom and—love——"

Freedom? And love? I could have laughed aloud. Neither of these things were mine!

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND.

"Luck In Pawn," a Paramount-Artcraft picture starring Marguerite Clark, will be shown at the Grand the last time today. Ernest Truex in "Too Good To Be True," the Pathe Review, Topics of the Day and Kinograms will be the other film features.

"The Revue" De Luxe heads the vaudeville bill. This is a clever singing, and musical offering with seven people in the cast. The other acts include Robert and Robert in a novelty offering; Mel Klee, blackface comedian; the Winter Garden Four, harmony singers, and Lura Bennett and company in a surprise offering entitled "You Can Never Tell."

There will be a complete change of the vaudeville and picture program tomorrow.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

MARJAH, THE GREAT CRYSTAL GAZER AND MIND READER, AT MAJESTIC WITH SPECIAL FILM PRODUCTION.

Marjah, the wise man from India, the mystic who seems to see all and know all; who answers questions regarding the past, present and future; the man who solves your love affairs, and instructs you whether you will be successful in your enterprises. Marjah to whom the past is like an open book the future like a window. This is the wonderful attraction which the Majestic is presenting today and all this week.

Already Marjah has answered many questions, brought much satisfaction to those who have laid their mysteries before him, and this morning he will give to ladies only at a special matinee from 10:30 to 12 o'clock, a special seance where questions which are too intimate for a mixed audience will be answered.

Presented with Marjah today will be a special film production, "The Fortune Hunter," starring Earl Williams—one of those delightfully comic, thrilling romances which seem to be so popular with picture patrons today. You will like the "Fortune Hunter." It is something different than the usual run of pictures.

Presented tomorrow, Friday and Saturday will be Olive Thomas' sparkling romance, "The Spite Bride," shown in conjunction with Marjah's great act.

AT THE PATRICIA.

"Should a Husband Forgive?" You'll never forgive yourself if you miss this thrilling, absorbing, vital, vivid picture. A picture of heart interest and spectacular scenes. See the sensational horse race and the boxing match. Sixty minutes of rich entertainment.

"Should a Husband Forgive?" has been termed the perfect cinemelodrama by those who have seen it. Surely it is a spectacular picture in so far as its scenic investiture is concerned, yet it contains a vital theme which is unfolded with a wealth of heart interest.

At the Patricia today, matinee and night.

AT LOEW'S.

There will be an entire change of program at Loew's Theatre, commencing tomorrow, and continuing for the balance of the week. The film feature will be that lightning speed boy of filmdom, Wallace Reid, in a new breezy rapid fire comedy "The Lottery Man." Wally starts a lottery all by himself, he being the prize. He expresses a willingness to marry any woman possessing the necessary dollar for a coupon and the winning number. But something happens to make him change his views—that something is a wonderful girl and causes the most hilarious entanglement Wally ever got into. Wanda Hawley is the wonderful girl and the troublemaker.

The vaudeville entertainment comprises the Royal Uyena Japs, marvelous and sensational wonder workers, from the land of rice and sun. The offering has created a sensation throughout the circuit. Eugene Emmett, styles himself an "Irish Nightingale," and will offer medley of song numbers, both old and new. Mason and Bailey, billed as "Two Dark Spots of Joy," will be a riot with their blackface comedy. Jack Blair and Florence Chrystal have a novel little skit, "The Reporter." Their offering will be one of the bright spots of an all-star bill, Burke and Burke, in a neat little skit, "A Western Union Flirtation," a Mack Sennett Comedy, "Up in Alf's Place," and Loew's Pathe Weekly of World Events will complete a program of exceptional merit for last of the week patrons.

Enid Bennett, in a charming film story of domestic life, "Stepping Out," Fatty Arbuckle in a rip roarious comedy scream, "The Garage" and five excellent vaudeville offerings will be seen for the last time today.

ONTARIO RURAL SCHOOL FAIRS A BIG SUCCESS

During the year 1919, the Ontario department of agriculture, through its agricultural representatives, distributed seeds and eggs to 78,946 pupils in 3,278 rural schools of the province. R. S. Duncan, B.S.A., writing in the Agricultural Gazette for January states that the following quantities were distributed: 1,890 bushels of potatoes; 432 bushels of grain; 12,575 packages of root seeds; 30,700 packages of vegetable seeds; 21,900 packages of flower seeds, and 11,045 dozens of eggs of a bred-to-lay strain of Barred Plymouth Rocks. These figures give some idea of the magnitude of the school fair movement in Ontario.

The first school fair was organized in 1909, with three schools taking part. Ten years later 357 rural school fairs were held in the province, and the pupils had 69,848 home plots and made 111,823 entries. It is estimated that about 250 people saw the first school fair in which 58 pupils took part, while last fall 52,600 children and 107,590 adults attended the school fairs in Ontario. This is truly a wonderful growth.

REAL HAIR GROWER FOUND AT LAST

NEW DRUG BORANDINE CAUSES BIG STIR AMONG HAIR SPECIALISTS.

$1,000 REWARD IF WE FAIL ON OUR GUARANTEE.

Those who have become prematurely grey or who are troubled with scalp or hair diseases, such as falling hair, dandruff, baldness, itching scalp, etc., know full well the humiliation that they cause. There is no need, however, of such conditions. These troubles can be quickly overcome by Borandine, the new drug recently discovered at the Scientific Research Laboratories at Scranton, Pa. Since its discovery a little over a year ago. Borandine has been found to contain marvelous properties for producing a new growth of hair. In subjecting it to various tests in the worst cases of baldness, dandruff, itching scalp, etc., the results obtained by the experimenting chemists were considered almost miraculous. In every case it was found that where there were any hair roots left it would produce a new and luxuriant growth of hair in from four to six weeks' time. Grey or faded hair was often restored to its natural color in from 10 to 14 days' time. In minor cases of scalp and hair diseases, such as dandruff, falling hair, itching scalp, etc., it was found that these unnatural conditions were corrected and often completely cured by two or three applications. The discovery of Borandine will without doubt put an end to the troublesome scalp and hair diseases that are becoming so common with the American people. Anyone who suffers from scalp or hair troubles should write the Scientific Research Laboratories, Dept. 118, Scranton, Pa., at once, and full particulars of this new discovery will be sent you in a sealed envelope free of charge.

SEES WARNING TO AVOID INVESTMENTS IN CANADIAN FIRMS

British Writer Says Borden-G. T. R. Deal Unfair.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(Canadian Press)—The Grand Trunk shareholders meeting to consider the terms offered by the Canadian Government for the purchase of the railway takes place on Wednesday. Most commentators have prophesied that the shareholders will accept the present offer, although perhaps with a good show of protestation.

There is, however, a letter in today's Financial News from Robert Walsh, head of a noted firm of Belfast chartered accountants, who after criticizing the deal generally, declares the worst feature is the clause confiscating shares of the dissentient shareholders by alloting their stocks to His Majesty. His Majesty will be well advised to decline this responsibility, as, under British company law, these dissentients would be entitled to have their claims settled by arbitartors, says Mr. Walsh.

Continuing, he writes: "Under all these circumstances, British investors ought to inwardly digest the unfair treatment to them by Canadian statesmen, as a warning to avoid future investments in Canada."

HON. W. ROLLO HEARS PROPOSAL TO PIPE WATER FROM ERIE

St. Catharines Water Commissioners Discuss Matter.

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 17.—The water commissioners of St. Catharines and Merritton conferred here today with Hon. Walter Rollo, minister of labor and health, with reference to the proposal to run a pipe line from Lake Erie to St. Catharines to supply water to St. Catharines, Merritton, Thorold, Port Colborne and Port Dalhousie. The commissioners mentioned the proposition of the provincial board of health, to take water from the Niagara River at the mouth of Chippewa Creek, to supply these municipalities and also Niagara Falls.

They said they did not regard the water in Niagara River as sanitary as that which could be brought from Lake Erie. They claimed that the Dominion Government was behind the scheme to bring water from Lake Erie.

Hon. Mr. Rollo promised to take up the question with the provincial board of health's chief engineer in a short time and inform the local commissioners as to the engineer's report.

NOT MUCH HOPE OF AGREEMENT ON PACT IN AMERICAN SENATE

Debate Likely To Run Course Before Vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The best friends of the peace treaty in Washington were not very hopeful tonight of the possibility of agreement between Republicans and Democrats in the Senate on the reservation.

"It looks as though we might come out at the same hole as we went in," was the description applied to the situation by Senator Hitchcock, Democratic leader in the Senate. He added that the Republicans evidently wished to avoid any compromise on the matter. On the other hand, he declared, that there would be no ratification unless there was first a compromise.

It is generally agreed that the debate will be allowed to run its full course without any effort to hasten a rollcall on ratification.

No progress was made today towards a vote on the first of the proposed modifications of the Republican reservations, the entire day being occupied in talk on other features of the treaty.

NO IMMEDIATE HOPE OF RELIEF IN SUGAR SUPPLY SHORTAGE

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—There is no immediate prospect of a relief in the sugar shortage throughout Canada. It is learned today that the February output in domestic plants is much below normal. Some of the plants are still closed to permit of alterations in machinery, made necessary by the change from beet to cane milling, and the dock strikes in Cuba still interfere with the import of raw sugar. Some local strikes in Canada are reported, but these should be shortly disposed of and the production in the Dominion brought to normal when the mills are ready for operation and the raw production is available, although there will be no Canadian sugar available for export during March, it is stated definitely, by the department of trade and commerce.

NATIVE OF LONDON PIONEER IN NORTH ONTARIO IS DEAD

NEW LISKEARD, Ont., Feb. 17.—Edward Monaghan, who came here in 1895, is dead at his home after a short illness. He started the first hardware store in this district after coming to town from Muskoka, where he had been reeve of Chaffe Township for some years. Deceased was born in London, Ont., in 1855, and he took a prominent part in public school work and in fraternal circles. His widow and two daughters survive.

Another pioneer of the north has passed away in the person of Mrs. J. C. Doble, who died at the age of 72 years. Her husband, two sons and five daughters survive.

Mr. Monaghan is a brother of Police Sergeant John Monaghan of the local force.

PACKERS' INSURANCE BANNED SOON, SAYS SUPERVISOR'S ORDER

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17.—The Packers' Insurance, amounting to one-half of one per cent on all livestock sold through the stock yards is to be banned on and after April 1, of the present year, according to an order issued by the supervisor of livestock yards for Canada.

A local paper says: "This tax came into force shortly after the Government adopted inspection of meats at abattoirs, and many thousands of dollars have been collected on cattle which never reached an abattoir in Canada, as the tax was imposed in stockers and feeders, as well as butcher cattle, and in many cases cattle passing through the yards twice paid the tax twice."

30 Days Hard Labor or---

"JUST a minute, your worship."

AN officer in uniform steps forward, and holds a quiet conversation with the magistrate and other court officials.

THE story is simple and oft repeated. Just a lad—in this case from N——. Got into fast company. Gambled, took money from employers. Hoped to win and pay it back.

FOUND out—arrested and jailed.

OF course, he's sorry—but the officer has sized him up. Believes he has the stuff to make a man of. Knows that a jail sentence may only harden him and start him toward continued criminality.

THE officer in uniform was the Salvation Army Probationer. By manly counsel, supervision and prayer he enables the lad to regain control of himself and get another start, free from the stigma of a prison sentence.

IF someone you know makes a false step don't judge them harshly.

IS DECLARED INSANE.

SARNIA, Feb. 17.—Examined by Dr. William Logie, Lambton County jail physician, Charles Cameron was announced to be mentally deranged, with the result that the man who battled for a revolver with which to shoot Detective Stringer will shortly be committed to an insane asylum. Cameron appeared during the police court session today, and an order for his commitment will be issued in the course of a few days.

GOOD ADVICE FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE

WHAT WORN, FRAZZLED, UNSTRUNG, "JUMPY" NERVES REALLY NEED.

When you are rundown, out of sorts, tire easily, have lost confidence in your ability to do things, and ambition seems to have deserted you, it's a sure sign your nerve force has run down and that your nerves need a stimulant to restore to your system its old-time strength and energy, and bring back the good old pep that used to make you famous.

Standard Drug Company and many other of the leading drug stores in London and vicinity are selling a wonderful nerve remedy called Ferro-Peptine on a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back. Thousands testify to their remarkable value in cases of severe mental depression, nervous prostration, nervous dyspepsia, trembling, "jumps," "fidgets," and the generally unstrung nerves that come from excessive work, worry, lack of sleep or overindulgence in drinking, eating, or smoking. They never fail to benefit. If you are blue and feel as though you didn't give a hang, or are cross, irritable, and your nerves are right on edge, get a package of Ferro-Peptine right away. It comes 42 tablets to a box. Eat one with every meal for a few days, and see what a wonderful improvement they make in your whole nervous system.—Advt.

MOVIE STARS PROVE BIG DRAWING CARD AT LOEW'S THEATRE

The film stars, who appeared personally at Lowe's Theatre at yesterday's pedformence, proved to be a great attraction to Londonars, for it is not often that people living so far away from moving picture studios have a chance to see real honest-to-goodness movie queens.

June Caprice was the first to appear on the stage. She was introduced by N. T. Granlund, who is in charge of the party, and in a small, scared voice, she told the audience of some of her experiences since she arrived in the Forest City. She thanked the audience for the kind and appreciative way in which she had been received.

June Elvidge tersely told of some of her trying experiences on the American side, and gave a few notes of her theatrical career. Her vocal selections drew great applause.

Doridina, who is credited with bringing the Hawaiian dance to America, gave the audience an exhibition of some of her Hawaiian and oriental dances under most trying conditions, owing to the fact that she was unable to have her costumes unpacked.

Miss Anne Luther and Miss Helen Moyer, who were in the boxes, were introduced, but appeared to be too shy to go on the stage.

The best welcome was given little Jane and Kathlyn Lee. After a preliminary introduction to the audience, given by themselves, they gave a number of the latest vocal selections, which nearly brought down the house. The little girls are only six and nine years of age respectively, but have already taken leading roles in many films. They have been before the camera since they were three and six years old respectively. It must be acknowledged that they were the greatest attraction of last night's special performance.

LIBERALS CHOOSE NEW CANDIDATE IN WESTMORELAND DIST.

RIOTS IN SPAIN.

MADRID, Feb. 17.—Two persons are reported to have been killed and ten others injured in the clash between Catholics and Syndicalists at Toledo.

"Gee-Whiz! How it Hurts ← → The Pain in My Foot!"

"Sometimes it is in my arm. Merciful Heaven, how my back hurts in the morning!" It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison, called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking "Anuric." This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form, and will dissolve uric acid as hot water dissolves sugar.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, get Anuric (anti-uric-acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. You will feel full of vim, vigor and vitality, instead of tired, dragged-out and blue. "Anuric" is many times more potent than lithia, dissolves and carries away uric and other poisons from the system. Ask your nearest druggist for "Anuric," or send Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package.

TORONTO, ONT.—"For the last eight years I have suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. It began with pains in my back and finally left my back and went down into my foot. It soon developed in a chronic case of rheumatism, I could not begin to tell how much I suffered. I tried every medicine I could hear of and consulted some good doctors but still I kept on suffering. About a year ago a friend (who had gotten relief by taking Anuric) advised me to give it a trial, which I did, and am happy to say I am today a well man—never feel any traces of my ailment no matter what the weather conditions may be."—E.
