POLICE PROBE TOLERANCE OF PAT NORTON Baptists Urge Vigilance Committees To Enforce O.T.A.

HUNT MADE FOR BANDIT IN OHIO CITY

Detectives Send Out Letter Stating Man Resembling Norton Located.

HAS LUNCH WAGON

Ontario Provincial Police Secure Co-operation of Ohio Detectives.

Ontario provincial police, in co-operation with Ohio state police, are conducting a search in Toledo for George Ernest "Pat" Norton, wanted in this city on a charge of murder, robbery with violence and bank hold-up at Melbourne in April, 1921.

Norton was the fourth man of a party, including the two Murrell brothers, Sidney and William, and Henry "Slim" Williams, who attempted to rob the Home bank at Melbourne three years ago. In the hold-up, Russell Campbell of Melbourne was killed immediately after the shooting.

Major-General Victor Williams, commissioner of provincial police, speaking over long-distance telephone to the Advertiser this morning, stated that rumors of Norton being being investigated by his department.

"We are investigating a report from Ohio detectives stating that Norton had been identified in Toledo," General Williams said. "We have furnished the state police with full particulars regarding Norton, including his photograph and information of the bank hold-up and murder. We haven't as yet received a reply from the American police."

Sends Letters.
Letters from a member of the Ohio detective bureau have been sent to Chief of Police Robert Bird of this city, General Victor Williams, and The Advertiser.

He states that a man, fully answering the description of Norton contained in circulars broadcasted by The Advertiser and provincial police, has been found in Toledo. Another detective friend of his, according to the letter, came across Norton when the latter was engaged in selling novelties and frankfurters from a motor car.

Norton, the detective states, is travelling under the name of Kruger, and has been in the Ohio city for some time.

The detective states that when Norton was questioned by him about Canada and working in this country, he invariably changed the trend of the conversation, being reluctant to speak about Canada at all. He has, however, an intimate knowledge of the country.

Sent to Williams.
Chief Birdell this morning said that he had received a similar letter from the Ohio detective, and in answer referred the letter to the proper authorities to handle the case, the provincial police.

In the detective's letter to The Advertiser he declares he is confident Norton is residing in Toledo. He says the man has been under suspicion about the ages of 35 to 37 years; about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches in height, with a rather light sandy complexion and hazel eyes. This description is almost identical with that contained in circulars sent to the province. "I am sure we have your man," he declares.

Should Norton be found in Toledo a reward of $1,000, offered by the provincial police department, will be given the Ohio detectives for his arrest.

Although Norton, because of his quick disappearance after the Melbourne murder, is not familiarly known to local police, he will not be hard to identify. Slim Williams, who is now serving a term of life imprisonment in Kingston penitentiary, was a member of the bandit gang and a personal friend of Norton's. Should Norton be arrested, Williams brought to London, Williams will probably be asked to furnish exact identification.

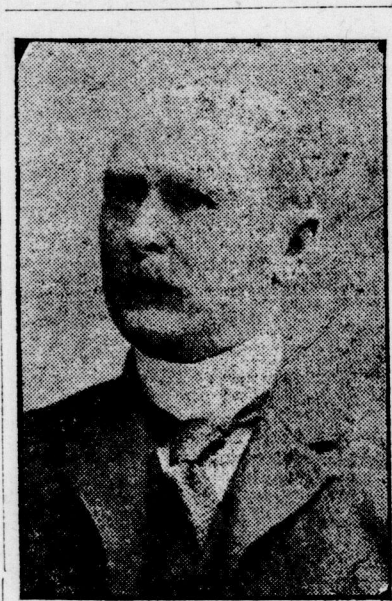

The man believed to be Norton told the Ohio detectives that he was contemplating leaving Toledo in order to go to Scranton, Pennsylvania, where his father resides. He is desirous of selling his novelty outfit in order that he might leave Toledo as soon as possible.

Shields Urges Amendment To Make Baptists' Paper Put Forward Views of All

Resolution Presented Based on Report of Letters in Fonds Case.

DEAL WITH O. T. A.

Resolution Introduced Urging Vigilance Committees to Enforce Act.

With the presence of Rev. T. D. Shields of Jarvis Street Baptist church, Toronto, in the convention, the first rumblings of subterranean quakes were observed this morning.

In the discussion of the annual report of the publication board, Dr. Shields proposed an amendment, a clause to make the columns of the Canadian Baptist open for discussion of all questions vital to the church.

It was not a very vital addition to the report which already includes this suggestion, but as the mover included some reference to his own relations with the paper, and to the fact that letters of his in connection with the Fonds case, had not been published, his action took on the air of a motion of censure of the board.

A resolution was introduced in connection with the O. T. A., which marks a new departure in suggestions for achieving a more rigid enforcement of the act. This resolution asks the delegates on returning to their homes to work for the institution of vigilance committees to enforce the act. It seemed to meet with the general approval of the convention, although together with other resolutions, it was referred to the resolutions committee for further consideration.

States Reason.
Dr. Shields stated that his reason for asking the convention to adopt this amendment was because the official organ of the convention, the official organ of the church, was being used in the periods between conventions. He thought it only fair that the sides of all discussions should be heard, and referred to the letters he had sent to the publication in regard to the conferring of an honorary degree on Rev. Mr. Fonds by McMaster University and the fact that they had not been published.

Rev. Dr. W. T. Graham of Toronto, speaking for the board, accepted the amendment as part of the report, and as such it was unanimously adopted by the convention. He explained the statement of the vice-president, however, which already says: "The columns of the (Canadian Baptist) paper are open for a free and frank discussion of questions that vitally affect the life and work of our churches in as far as space will permit."

Dr. Shields, who appeared for the first time in the convention, took his seat in a front pew, and apart from this amendment took no part in the proceedings. When he rose to speak he was received with applause from all parts of the church, which however was just as general in character.

PLOT TO GET VEREGIN.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—According to a statement issued here by D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the western times of the Canadian Pacific railway, the explosion early this morning on train No. 11 of the Nelson-Vancouver express, which resulted in the death of five passengers and injury to many others, was caused by some human agency.

The belief is entertained by company officials that a plot was designed against the life of Peter Veregin, leader of the Doukhobor colony in British Columbia. The official statement of the vice-president, however, concludes that according to information available "the explosion was caused by some human agency in the car, either intentional or accidental."

PRIZE CREW MAY FACE CHARGE OF PIRACY

Captain of British Schooner
Claims All Liquor Seized
Was Sold.

Associated Press Despatch.
Boston, Oct. 29.—Council for Captain Harry Richey of the British schooner Marjorie E. Bachman, seized by the coastguard cutter Tampa off Cape Cod last Friday as a rum-runner, declared yesterday in federal court that they would ask for the extradition to Canada on charges of piracy of a prize crew placed on board the schooner by the Tampa unless 300 cases of liquor taken from the Marjorie are returned together with money and personal effects alleged to have been taken from the schooner's crew.

According to statements of counsel, the prize crew sold over half of the Marjorie's 150 cases of champagne, sent another 150 cases to the cutter and took nearly $1,000 in money from members of the crew of the schooner. Lieut. Commander S. S. Yeandle said the prize crew had sold two cases of champagne in the manner described for the purpose of obtaining evidence against the purchasers.

REV. DR. GEORGE H. WILLIAMS,
pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist church, Toronto, who has been invited to take charge of Ryerson Methodist church, in Hamilton, during the war he was chief chaplain for the Toronto military district, and held the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 29.—Peter Smith, former provincial treasurer for Ontario, will remain in jail pending hearing of his appeal from the decision of Chief Justice R. M. Meredith, under which he was sentenced to serve three years in Fort Smith penitentiary following his conviction on charges of conspiracy in connection with the sale of succession duty-free bonds and jointly with Aemiluis Jarvis Sen. to pay a fine of $600,000.

T. H. Lennox, K.C., counsel for Smith, appeared before Chief Justice Latchford at Osgoode hall this morning and made request for bail, but this his lordship refused. At the same time he promised to do everything possible to facilitate hearing of the appeal next week.

W. N. Tilley opposed the application on behalf of the attorney-general. The court suggested that if the counsel could agree upon a day the appeal might come on next week.

Appeals From Misdirection.
Mr. Lennox stated that he was appealing from misdirection at the trial.

The judge had commented on the fact that Smith had not gone into the box. He did not use those words, but he had said that there were certain things which Smith had not cleared up. He had not given the court the benefit of Andrew Peppall's evidence.

"That is going into the merits; I have nothing to do with that here," said Chief Justice Latchford.

Mr. Lennox: "I ask you to take into consideration the standing of the accused."

Court: "I must also take into consideration the penalty to which he is subjected."

Mr. Lennox: "Three years."

Hear Appeal Next Week.
Court: "Three years and a fine of a very large amount. Why could not the appeal of which you have given notice be brought on at an early day?"

Mr. Lennox: "Would Friday be convenient?"

Court: "Friday of this week? I couldn't do that. The evidence has to be presented. Why couldn't you?"

Mr. Lennox: "I can do without the evidence."

Court: "What do you say, Mr. Tilley?"

Mr. Tilley: "My learned friend says that he does not want the evidence, and I have not considered it from that point of view."

Court: "If the evidence is required, it could be ready some day next week?"

Mr. Tilley: "Perhaps we might speak to it again?"

Court: "I will try to convene a court for some day next week."

Mr. Lennox: "In case the evidence is necessary, will your lordship grant me leave to appeal?"

Court: "I think so. You have appealed on questions of law only, and as to that you have a right to appeal."

COMMISSION BUYS SUBSTATION SITE

Carling Street Property Bought
For $4,000—Pocock
Lauds Deal.

The public utilities commission has purchased property fronting on Carling street, near Talbot street, as a site for a new transformer substation. The price paid was approximately $4,000.

The commission purchased, through the Canada Trust Company from the McIntosh estate the store and property at 118 Dundas street, and then resold that portion of the property fronting on Dundas street, retaining the back of the lot facing on Carling street. The store was resold to John E. Thorne.

The lot lot purchased by the commission embraced a frontage of 25 feet on Dundas street, and extended right back through to Carling street, with a frontage of 29 1/2 feet. The portion retained by the commission is the whole frontage on Carling, with a laneway of 9 1/2 feet and 60 feet deep.

Construction upon the new substation, which will be of two stories and probably of stone, will be commenced directly, it is understood.

The opinion was expressed by Commissioner Philip Pocock, who today made public the purchase of the property, that the utilities commission was going to be further ahead than if it had been successful in purchasing the old registry office building from the city council for the sum of $10,100.

The substation was made necessary by the overloading of the substation at Horton and Eldon streets.

BANK DIRECTOR'S TRIAL FINISHES

Judge Reserves Judgment in Case of Lieut-Col. Clarence
F. Smith.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 29.—The trial of Clarence F. Smith, Montreal Home Bank director, on charges of making, approving and concurring in false statements of the bank's financial affairs was finished at noon today.

Judge Coatsworth reserved judgment until Nov. 1. There will be no further trials of Home Bank directors in this court until Monday, when C. A. Barnard of Montreal will face charges similar to those upon which Mr. Smith has just been tried.

Gordon Waldron, defence counsel, spoke for about half an hour this morning, and D. L. McCarthy replied for the crown. Mr. Waldron contended that the crown to make a case must fix the exact time at which the accused approved or concurred in the statement and also, establish what facts were within his knowledge at the time. Mr. Waldron said the fact which was within the mind of the accused was that all was well with the bank.

His honor pointed out that the accused was a capable businessman with a good and active account in the bank and "not in my humble class, who issue a couple of checks a month."

Today application was made by J. H. Sanford Company, Toronto architects, for a permit for Ronald Lewis to construct

TRAFFIC TOWER URGED FOR CITY

Special Committee May Recommend New Devices to Solve Problem.

A traffic "crow's nest" tower for the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, and the use of two traffic policemen and automatic traffic signals are being recommended and will be brought up at the next meeting of the traffic committee. An improved traffic system, including about $1,000 worth of mechanism, and an additional traffic officer are included in the plans proposed.

C. C. Fields, sales director of a Lancaster, N. Y., firm, was in London yesterday looking over traffic problems. His firm has a number of modern traffic signals, some of which work automatically and dispense with the services of a traffic officer. A sort of clock work mechanism is adjusted so that traffic may be automatically regulated. It can be set so that east and west traffic may cross the intersection for 30 seconds, or a minute or any other set time. Then the signal turns north and south and the cycle repeats.

This whole automatic signal may be tried out, on approval and without charge at either the corner of Clarence and Dundas or at the intersection of the Wharncliffe road and Pipe line intersection.

For the Richmond and Dundas corner, it is agreed that with left turns of so many street cars an officer is needed to direct this traffic and while automatic signals may be used on poles for turning traffic, a policeman will have to remain on duty at the corner.

"It may cost $1,000," admitted Ald. Allan Towne, in discussing the proposal with The Advertiser. "But we have been fortunate in not having serious accidents there. Our traffic problem at this corner is getting worse all the time. If we had only one serious accident we would soon see the fallacy of continuing under the present system."

New underground wiring will be needed for the system if it is installed and a "look-out" station for an officer to direct traffic would have to be erected.

City Engineer Near has been investigating traffic systems in some of the larger American cities, and he, along with Police Chief Birrell, will meet the traffic committee on the proposals.

INTEREST LACK MAY KILL "U" NIGHT COURSE

Class of 15 Necessary For the Proposed Commercial Law, Advertising Studies.

Unless more people express a desire to attend the proposed courses in commercial law and advertising, which have been placed on the curriculum of the University of Western Ontario as an extended course for night students, the lectures will not be given.

Col. Brown, executive secretary, said today that up to the present the enrollment had not been sufficient to warrant the courses being given. It requires a class of fifteen to make the plan operative.

The lectures were designed for businessmen and others who wished to devote an evening a week to advertising or commercial law. The lectures on law to be given on Mondays and those on advertising on Tuesdays. The lecture periods have been planned to cover two hours. The course would last from October to May, and for the convenience of students the work would be taken up at the Technical school.

Col. Brown expressed himself as being hopeful that during the next few days enough students would enroll to make the course possible.

TORONTO MAYOR SUGGESTS ANOTHER WORK PARLEY

In his letter the Toronto mayor asked that another meeting of Ontario municipalities be held in the near future, when the matter could again be taken up and the province urged on to definite action. Copies of the letter have been sent to all Ontario municipalities.

mentation of the attitude of the publication board.

The church was filled and every seat occupied. Scrutineers stood sentinel at all doors, and only actual delegates were allowed admission. An atmosphere of expectation was clearly noticeable at noon when the session adjourned, and the afternoon session, it is thought, will see a brisk battle.

This action by Mr. Shields was regarded much as a preliminary skirmish and test of strength by the majority of the delegates.

Members elected to the board were J. W. Widdow, Rev. T. E. Meldrum and Rev. E. W. Merrill. Rev. T. Therrien, in presenting the 88th annual report of the Grande Ligne mission, stated that there had been a very large increase in the French population in Quebec and in most of the provinces in the last few years, and that the need of renewed effort was apparent. Eighty per cent of the population, he said, was Roman Catholic. He congratulated the convention on the result of the recent O. T. A. plebiscite.

Movs. Report.

George S. Mathews of Brantford, moving the report, said:

"Dr. Shields in the Canadian Baptist and our attitude to him is the same as to any other minister in the Baptist church. Anything we may have had to say of him was based on facts obtained from officers of that church."

"We have felt it was very hard to carry on with the Canadian Baptist owing to the attacks made on its editor in the personal organ of Dr. Shields."

Rev. J. T. Shields, who was received with a vigorous round of applause, speaking in the discussion of the report, said:

"One might have thought that this report was a personal criticism of Dr. Shields. However, I do not wish to introduce any personalities into this discussion. All that I asked was that the Canadian Baptist publish the letters upon which my action was based. I only wanted the constituency of the Canadian Baptist to be able to read my letters just as they had read the report of the university board."

"Mr. Mathews is correct in saying that references to Jarvis street church are made gratuitously. It is not our custom to send out statements."

Suggests Amendment.
"As an amendment to the report I would request that whereas matters of vital importance requiring frequent discussion frequently arise between our convention, and that the only forum we have is the columns of the Canadian Baptist, that the convention should suggest to the Canadian Baptist that its columns should be open to all discussions and that absolute fairness be used in which to build publicity. Also, as the official organ of the convention, no space should be given to anyone expressing doctrines subversive of evangelical faith."

At several points in his speech Dr. Shields was interrupted by clapping, and at the conclusion of his address a delegate suggested that all applause be deleted as it was wasteful time.

Rev. J. R. Turnbull seconded Dr. Shields' amendment, declaring that men carrying on in the frontier was intended and only a "free and frank discussion" of all questions desired.

Mr. Fisher, of Jarvis street church, Toronto, said he had sent articles for publication to the Canadian Baptist, with the result that one of them had once appeared under the death notices. He could see no reason why the amendment would not prove acceptable to the convention.

There was some discussion as to the inclusion of the amendment in the report, and Dr. Shields said he was willing to put it as a resolution to the convention.

Supports Contention.

A. P. Wilson of Cannington supported the contention that the Canadian Baptist should be opened up for discussion of all questions arising within the church.

Dr. W. T. Graham of Toronto declared he was quite willing to accept the amendment in the report, declaring it a gesture of magnanimity and turning to Dr. Shields, asked: "Are you six magnanimous enough to withdraw your statements calling the board an unfair and un-Baptist crowd?"

At this point the report, including the amendment, was submitted and carried unanimously.

The Canadian West, India, and Bolivia, the three missionary fields of the Canadian Baptist church, formed the subject of yesterday's session of the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec in the Talbot street Baptist church.

Annual reports on the work in each district were presented, and in each case the convention was strongly urged to attain the vision of the future and its imperative need for present-day groundwork to take care of the work which would assuredly arise tomorrow.

Faith in the future growth of the Canadian West, of the abounding population out there which would some day dominate the scene of Canadian history, was demanded by Dr. C. C. McLaurin, for 23 years a missionary in Alberta, as sufficient ground for effort in carrying on the work there.

Belief in the development of the Christian church in India and in Bolivia was declared to be the basis on which to build a new Christianity on the Orient by J. S. Moore, chairman of the foreign missions board. Inspiring addresses by Dr. McLaurin on the Canadian West, by Rev. J. G. Buck on Bolivia, and by Rev. J. B. McLaurin on India, left color to the plain matter of fact statement of the various reports, and gave substance to the voice of the far-away missionary and the cry of "Come over and help us from the men and women carrying on in the frontier stations of the church."

Foreign Missions.

J. S. Moore, chairman of the foreign mission board, asked for an additional 10 per cent increase in the financial grants in 1925 and also made a request for new blood in the missionary work.

"For the past 10 years," he said, "we have been very hard pushed to carry on without finishing the year with a deficit. The war increased everything, and the grants from the Canadian church have not increased in proportion to the extra costs. In order that we may not finish the 51st year of our foreign missions with a deficit or be forced to curtail the estimates for work in India and Bolivia, we shall need a 10 per cent increase, and this we ask from you this year."

C. L. Timpany, a former missionary in India, supplemented the report with a sketch of the position of the church in India. As with Dr. McLaurin in the morning, speaking of the Canadian Baptist, that the convention to catch a vision of the future and to form a solid foundation on which to build the church to be.

Outlook Bright.

"India," he said, "is a country where opportunity is writ large over every door as far as the success of the church is concerned. The church is the only place where men and women of every caste meet together in friendly communion, something which no other agency has been able to accomplish in the history of the country."

H. E. Stillwell, general secretary of the foreign mission board, in explaining the report, which reflects the work of 50 years of the Canadian Baptist church in India, and of 25 in Bolivia, said:

"In 1874 there were four of our missionaries in India. Today there are 121, 34 of whom are men, 34 wives and 53 widows, and 50 single ladies. From the seven Indian colleagues who helped Dr. McLaurin in 1874 we have advanced to 343 men and women native helpers. Fifty years ago there were 37 converts in our missions, today there are 17,603."

Education Costs Low.

"Again our progress is noted in the growth of educational facilities and buildings. In 1874 we had one pioneer missionary schoolhouse, and that without a teacher. Today we have two high schools, in which 1,200 students are being trained. Last March we had eleven boarding schools with 629 boys and 439 girls. There are now 421 village schools, with 19,371 children in attendance, and I cannot expect to ask you to notice the cost of educating these children as printed in the report. It is slightly less than one dollar a year."

Have Taken Great Step.

Rev. Mr. McLaurin, speaking from the text: "For I determine not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified," I Corinthians 2:2, declared that the foreign missions' board had taken a great step in two directions by publishing books on the mission work, which eliminated the necessity of our naming on the box and sell the policies, hopes and visions of the church.

"Our native churches are now grown up and are blazing a tremendous trail ahead of them."

"They have come into the realization of Jesus Christ and have reached their manhood."

He asserted that an era of co-operation had been reached in India among those of the various denominations and through this co-operation have been of great service to each other. He pointed out that other denominations had definite policies to follow out and definite work to be done.

The speaker described the country and the life of the natives, and declared that the real work was among those that were "down and out," which formed the greater majority of the population. He referred to the work of other denominations there, and said that some were doing the work which the Baptists should be doing, especially in the way of education. He pointed out that the Baptists abandoned school about fifteen years ago because they did not have the teachers and did not realize the importance of the work. He reviewed the great progress during the past five years, and urged greater efforts to continue this progress.

Lead Simple Life.

Rev. Mr. Buck, speaking of the work in Bolivia, declared that the missions work there was growing, and issued a strong appeal for more missionaries, stating that there was a great lack of teachers.

"It is up to us not to be the choppers down but the builders up and go forward," he said.

He reviewed the geographic aspect of Bolivia, using Switzerland by way of comparison, pointing out that the population in Bolivia was very sparse and widely scattered. He declared the natives led a simple life and were most indolent.

"They have nothing to urge them on to something better," he asserted. "If there is anything calling us now it is those people that know nothing of the freedom and liberty which we enjoy. Let us bring to them the freedom of the soul that they might enjoy all that the Canadian Baptists enjoy."

The McMaster university alumni association of London gave a banquet last night in Smallman & Ingram's to McMaster graduates in attendance at the Baptist convention. There were more than 250 guests present.

Everton A. Miller, principal of the Central collegiate, presided. Speakers included: Rev. H. McDonald, of Stratford; Dean McLay of McMaster and Chancellor Whidden of McMaster. Dean Sherwood Fox of the University of Western Ontario, who was to have been a guest, was absent owing to the illness of his father in Toronto, whither he was called suddenly.

FLAG CEREMONY OPENS MEETING

REPORTS GIVEN

An imposing flag ceremony opened the semi-annual meeting of the Provincial chapter, I. O. D. E., in Wesley hall this morning. Over two hundred delegates had gathered in the auditorium when promptly at 11 o'clock the standard-bearers of the local chapters, led by Mrs. Gordon Hunt, Municipal chapter standard-bearer, filed down the steps at either side of the platform, bearing the flags of the order.

Mrs. Harry Burkholder, of Hamilton, provincial regent, occupied the chair, and as the standards were placed behind the executive on the platform, the provincial standard was placed in front, near the official chair. The ceremony took place in the presence of the whole assembly rising as it was sung.

The official opening of the convention included the presentation of great armfuls of roses to Mrs. Burkholder and Mrs. Allan McLean, the London Municipal regent, Mrs. Puddicombe and Mrs. C. T. Campbell officiating. Representatives from the various cities and towns throughout the whole province.

Greeting From the East.

The Provincial regent in her opening address, referred to the fact that the first provincial meeting had been held in London. Later in the morning she suggested that a telegram be despatched to the Alberta chapter, meeting in Calgary today, a greeting from east to west, from sisters to sisters," she said. The telegram has been forwarded.

The opening ceremonies also included an address of welcome from Mrs. Allen McLean of this city, to which Mrs. H. R. Duff of Kingston replied, and greetings from Mayor Wenke.

The chief business of the morning session was the reading of the treasurer's report by Mrs. Oscar Main of Hamilton. During the past six months the chapter has received $129.41 for the national educational war memorial fund, and a total of $2,043.66 for educational purposes. This amount included $1,250 for the national war memorial fund, and $793.66 for educational purposes, to the Navy League, to the Canadian Red Cross, to the National Institute for the blind and for the Halleybury hospital. The balance on hand amounts $854.32.

Discussion centered about a communication from the Toronto public library, through the National chapter, asking that the Provincial chapter make a record of the war memorials erected under the direction of the I. O. D. E. since 1918. As a result the Provincial chapter will undertake a record of all war memorials erected in this city. In her report the suggestion was made that the order erect a building in India to serve as a social center there. The educational work being carried on amongst the women and girls of India was also mentioned. Mrs. M. B. Morden of Hamilton, read the secretary's reports.

Adjournment was made at 12 o'clock. Following luncheon the afternoon session continued until 4 o'clock, when the delegates were motored to the Westminster hospital. Here they were the guests of the hospital staff at the tea hour, motorcade to the city for inspection of the War memorial children's hospital.

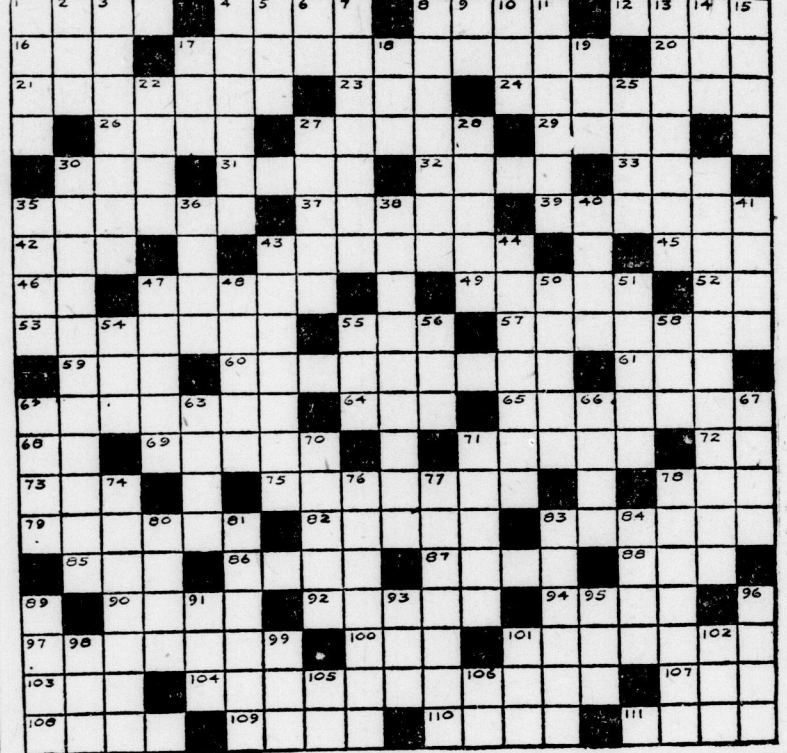

At 6:30 they gathered again at the Smallman & Ingram dining-room for dinner and a round-table conference. The chief speaker on this occasion will be W. G. Raymond, M.P., of Brantford.

Committees appointed this morning were the resolutions committee, Mrs. A. H. Malcolmson of St. Catharines; Mrs. A. C. McLeod of Stratford; and Mrs. R. V. Bray of Chatham. A press committee includes Mrs. A. F. Hatch of Hamilton; Miss Margaret Edwards of Hamilton; and Mrs. A. E. Miller of this city.

WESTERN LOSES CLOSE STRUGGLE

Injuries to London Stars Deciding Factor of Game.

FINAL SCORE 2-1

By ANDY MCGUIRE, Assistant Sporting Editor of The Advertiser.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—University of Western Ontario slipped a second place in the intermediate inter-collegiate standing by losing 2-1 to St. Michael's in the closest and hardest fought struggle of the group season to date at Varsity stadium here this morning. However, Western still has a chance to climb back on the top rung with the Irish, providing the Londoners beat Varsity Saturday and St. Michael's lose to O. A. C.

Today's game developed early into a booting game between Lowry and Warren with Maxwell replacing the latter in the second period when he was kicked in the head. Gourley Howell, Western drop-kicking ace, was kicked in the second frame. He went through the rest of the game in a daze and this fact alone prevented him from dropping over the odd field goal now and then.

The Western end run looked best yet and made yards on several occasions. Fake plays by both teams failed on almost every attempt. St. Michael's made most of their gains through holes in the London line while Western advances generally took the form of individual dashes around the end of the line or extended runs.

Starts Battle.

The opening period saw back and forth battling with neither outfit having the edge. In the second frame Lowry booted over for a rouge, and from this point on the Toronto twelve laid aside their easy-going attitude and began to fight. The Western end run looked best yet and made yards on several occasions. Fake plays by both teams failed on almost every attempt. St. Michael's made most of their gains through holes in the London line while Western advances generally took the form of individual dashes around the end of the line or extended runs.

In the last period, the fighting Western attack kept the ball in St. Michael's territory and the Irish halves were kept on the jump running back Maxwell's punts. On several occasions a St. Michael's fumble would have meant victory for Western, but the Toronto crew tightened up and managed to preserve their thin lead, although hard pressed until the Irish finally sounded.

The line-ups: St. Michael's—McKeon, Lowry, Lebel, O'Brien, Kennedy, Watson, O'Donnell, Callahan, Pore, Donohue, Thompson, Barrett, Flatt, Cloutier, Mahony, McGarry, Irvine, Canary and Mallon.

Western U. Howell, Maxwell, Johnson, Warren, Simpson, Fiddie, Russell, Comfort, Calder, Johns, Savage, Mowrey, Hungerford, Hunter, Wiley, Garland, Simmons, Martin, Osborne and Rose.

Referee—H. De Gruchy. Umpire—Foulds.

First Quarter. Lowry kicked off and Warren returned it. Play remained in Western's half, with St. Michael's breaking through the Londoners line apparently at will. The Forest City Jeds, however, were stopping the famous end runs of the Irish. Lowry's punt was blocked. Comfort fell on it. Western's ball in mid-field. Everybody sat up with a start when Warren kicked St. Michael's ball after a fumble and was stepping out for the Toronto goal when he was brought down. The ball was called dead, however, and given to St. Michael's. St. Michael's end run, however, was stopped by the Irish. Western took the ball on a fumble. Western worked down in two plunges. Howell tried a kick to safety. Lowry booted it out to safety. Lowry kicked off. On the first play, St. Michael's took the ball and Lowry booted again to Western's 20-yard line. Warren returned it. Familiar tactics put the ball back in London territory. On the next play, but Warren passed to the next. On an attempted St. Michael's fumble, Western took St. Michael's fumble.

Second Quarter. To start the second period Lowry booted behind the Western goal line. Warren tried to run it out, but was brought down by McKee and Thompson. One point for St. Michael's. From this point on the Irish began fighting. One, two, three, successive attempted punts. One, two, they blocked Warren, the first time the London kicker has been thwarted in this respect in four years. Western gained yards by both squads. Western gained yards on two plunges. Warren kicked. Lebel ran it out. St. Michael's booted to mid-field and gathered in his own punt. St. Michael's were held. Another boot to Western's 40 line. Western made 5 yards on an end run. Warren kicked. St. Michael's went to Western's 5-yard line. Lebel passing to O'Brien, who was brought down near the line. Western held two plunges. Lowry kicked to the dead line. Just before this period closed, Warren was laid out with a kick in the head, and remained out until 17 minutes before the game finished.

St. Michael's 2, Western 0. Maxwell kicked to St. Michael's 2 yards. Lowry returned it. Maxwell kicked for a rouge, but it being downed a yard behind. St. Michael's 2, Western 1. More kicking. Comfort made the biggest gain of the game so far when he tore through for 7 yards. St. Michael's held. Maxwell kicked. On a St. Michael's end run, Lebel passing to O'Brien, who was brought down near the line. Western held two plunges. Lowry kicked to the dead line. ## Miners Observe Mitchell Day

Associated Press Despatch.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 29.—The anthracite mining industry stood idle today while union mine workers observed Mitchell day to mark the anniversary of the ending of the great coal strike in 1900 when John Mitchell was president of the United mine workers of America. No central celebration was held, but many of the local unions observed the day by holding exercises.

FRANK SPEEDER WINS APPROVAL OF COURT

Magistrate Hawkshaw Imposes Light Fine on William F. Urse.

It always pays to tell the truth, especially in the court of County Magistrate C. W. Hawkshaw. This was proved to the satisfaction of William F. Urse, R. R. 1, Thamesford, who breezed, smilingly, into the courtroom this morning, with the question: "Where's Hawkshaw?"

"I'm Mr. Hawkshaw," replied the magistrate, returning the smile. "What can I do for you?"

"What's the charge?" queried the youthful Mr. Urse. "Damages for what?" countered the court.

"Speeding through Thorndale," replied Urse. "Oh, yes, you're the man that drove through Thorndale at 35 miles an hour a week ago Sunday," said Mr. Hawkshaw.

"Well, I was going near 35, and how that cop got my number 41 all the dust beats me," declared Urse. "You admit you were speeding?" asked the court.

"Sure. What's the use of denying it? I was going pretty fast, and I don't deny it."

"That's the spirit I like to see," approved Mr. Hawkshaw. "Most people who come here say 'What they give you, they get.' You can make it go as fast as the officers say it was going."

"I'm going to let you off a little lighter on the cost just for your honesty," continued his worship, who proceeded to fine Urse a total of $10.75.

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN PROGRAM OF ARMY

Officials Now Plan to Procure Larger Hall For Young People's Event.

So varied is the program and so wide the interest manifested in the forthcoming demonstration of the work of the young peoples' organizations of the Salvation Army that it is expected the event will be staged in one of the bigger halls of the city. Adjutant Spooner, of the headquarters staff, said today that it had been intended to hold the demonstration in the Clarence street citadel but the big program and the interest shown in it has demanded a larger auditorium. As yet it has not been decided where the demonstration planned for November 22 will take place.

The four London citadels will be represented in the program. Constable Sowton, Toronto, will be in charge. Boys and girls of the primary classes of the army will take part. There will be drills by the scouts and guards. The St. Thomas will be present.

George Beaumont, 15 years old, son of Mrs. C. E. Beaumont, 927 princess avenue, broke his leg shortly before noon today in a fall from his bicycle. The accident occurred at the corner of Adelaide street and Princess avenue. The boy fell when his bicycle skidded on the wet pavement.

He was brought to Victoria hospital where first aid was rendered.

MANY SEEK WORK. Unemployment registration at the government employment bureau is still on the increase. J. C. Spencer stated today:

"There has been an increase in both departments," said Mr. Spencer. "There has been some demand for farm helpers, but the season is practically over now. At the present time we have 465 men registered as being out of work."

PLAY FRIDAY. The soccer team of the South London collegiate institute will meet the Simcoe high school eleven at Woodstock college convent hall on Friday afternoon in a sudden-death game in the semi-finals of the Wossa series.

ments for an invasion in force of Toronto by Purple and White beribboned supporters. It was first all decided when St. Michael's insisted that the game must be played at 10 o'clock if played at all today, to run an early morning special, but this was found impracticable, and the idea abandoned. Western had first suggested to St. Michael's officials that the game be played at 12 o'clock, but this the Toronto men could not accede to.

Despite all the mix-up in arrangements, and the fact that word did not get to a great majority of the students that the team would have to leave last night, a big crowd turned up to give the game a rousing send-off. The echoes ringing in the players ears should help them over the bad spots this morning in lieu of the close support which they seemed assured of yesterday.

The squad itself, owing to the hurry of getting away, had to call off a light alarm at practice, but the signals were to be gone over on the way down and at the hotel on arrival. Every player seemed confident that they would hand the St. Michael's crew a second defeat, and the fact that Western has played as well away from home as here is one big factor in their favor, quite aside from the playing angle.

One thing is assured. Win or lose, Western team will receive a warm welcome on arrival home. For the first time, it seems, Western football players have achieved something like the heroic role in the eyes of their fellow students.

5 BYLAW BALLOTS TO FACE VOTERS

Elective Police Commission and Grant to "U" Among Municipal Questions.

Five questions will be presented to the ratepayers in the municipal elections of December: this year in the bylaw balloting. Three of these will likely be on changes proposed in the civic government, one will be on proposed changes in police commission personnel, and the fifth will be a bylaw to provide for a yearly grant of $55,000 to the University of Western Ontario.

The grant to Western has been made this year and is considered the usual grant. However, any council from now on may bring in a resolution for a smaller or larger amount. By putting it before a civic bylaw election the yearly grant, it is expected that the appointment will remain fixed from year to year.

The election system for police commissions was proposed by Mayor G. A. Wenig in his inaugurals. The movement is to secure two elected representatives of the people in addition to the mayor, the senior county judge and the senior police magistrate.

These and the proposed changes in civic government will be brought up at tonight's meeting of No. 1 committee. Ald. Edwin Smith, sponsor of the move to revise the system of electing councils, suggests the following clauses for a civic government ballot:

1. Are you in favor of the abolition of the ward system and the election of aldermen from the entire electorate?
2. Are you in favor of the reduction of the council from twelve aldermen to eight?
3. Are you in favor of a two-year term for aldermen?

Chorus girls' pictures may not be pasted on church doors nor undertakers' signs on doctors' residences. ## INTERNATIONAL AUDITOR OF ARMY DIES IN ENGLAND

Commissioner William Bates, international auditor of the Salvation Army, is dead. Following a brief illness which seized him at the army headquarters in London, England, the commissioner passed away on Monday. The news was received by the local headquarters staff this morning.

Commissioner Bates was one of the veterans in the army work. He joined the ranks in 1888 and at once became an active worker.

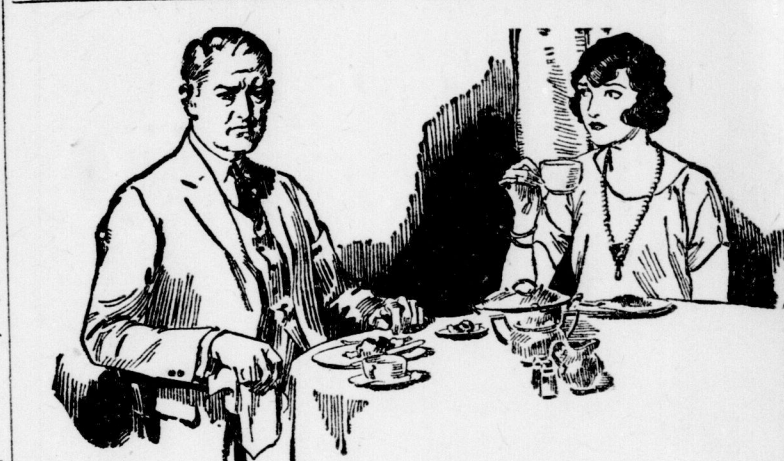

The funeral services will be conducted by members of the headquarters staff. If General Booth, who is on his way back to England following the congress at Toronto, is not able to be present, Commissioner Higgins, chief of staff, will conduct the services.

DELIVERS PERMIT.

License Inspector Walter Bolton is touring the county today, delivering license permits to standard hotels in the various towns and villages.

WALNUTS PLENTIFUL.

The walnut season at Port Stanley has begun. The crop this year is exceptionally large, exceeding last year's. Many summer residents are visiting their cottages on Sunday and altering their plans and spent the day gathering walnuts in the woods which encircle east Orchard Beach, Port Stanley.

EIGHT MEN ARE HELD FOR MAIL ROBBERY

Four Detained at Montreal and Four Others in U. S. Jails.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Oct. 28.—With four men lodged in the cells at detective headquarters and four others in the hands of the police at New Haven, Conn., and Saratoga Springs, N. Y., all the perpetrators of the mail wagon robbery on St. James' street on the night of May 7 last are declared to be in custody. The detectives at work on the robbery, which netted $26,500 in money and negotiable bonds, recovered only a small part of the loot. It was stated this morning.
The original plot is declared to have been planned by ten men, eight of whom are now under arrest. Two of the prisoners are awaiting trial at New York city on charges of having stolen goods in their possession when arrested on September 7 last. They gave the names of Lewis and Walton. Both are fighting extradition to Canada.

FALLS FARMERS ANGERED AT PHEASANT HUNTERS

Canadian Press Despatch.
Niagara Falls, Oct. 28.—The "unwelcome" sign for pheasant shooters is being prominently displayed on many of the farms in this district. Many of the farmers, angry at the announcement of an open day for the shooting of pheasants, have put up signs announcing that shooting on their lands will be forbidden, and if carried on will be followed by prosecutions.

Canada Gaining Trade With U.S.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Oct. 28.—The balance of trade between Canada and the United States is rapidly becoming more favorable to Canada. In the twelve months ended in September Canada exports to the United States were valued at $419,814,635, or thirteen million dollars more than in the previous corresponding year. Imports from the United States, however, were $541,736,243, a decrease of $73,000,000.
The unfavorable balance of trade—i.e., the excess of imports over exports—is therefore $121,921,608 less than it was in the twelve months ended September, 1923.

Wealth of Humor Makes Jollies of '24 Real Show

Kiwanian Extravaganza of Black-Face Minstrelsy To Be Staged at Grand October 31 and November 1.

COURTROOM SCENE A SCREAM

Rehearsals of the Kiwanis Jollies of 1924 are now under way and, judging from the enthusiasm of the cast and the wealth of humor in the libretto, there will be an abundance of fun at the Grand opera house when the curtain rises on Oct. 31.

Joe Bren of the production company of that name, with headquarters in Chicago, is producing the Jollies. Hal Gillies, representing Mr. Bren, is in town looking after the details of the work.

The first consideration of the Jollies is to place before the citizens of London a show put on by themselves which will measure up to the standard set by the road shows.
The cast has been carefully selected. The members will have capable instruction and help from professional producers. The properties will be up to the minute.

Big Courtroom Scene.
The play will be given in two sections. The first will feature a courtroom scene. The second will be given over to the old favorite funsters, the minstrels. Specialties will be introduced throughout the two acts.

John J. McHale will be the judge in the courtroom scene. Frank McLachlin, attorney for the defence, Cliff Hunt, bailiff and sheriff. Tom Yull, attorney for the plaintiff. Miss Marjorie Skinner is to be Evaline and Miss Alice Baker is to take the part of Eva. Miss Muriel Jackson will interpret the part of Genevieve. Rastus, a comical part, will be taken by Sam Amoro.

Ken Murray, who is well known as possessing gifts in minstrelsy, will take the part of Hiram Jenkins. Miss Blanche Roberts will play opposite him as Samantha, his wife. Donald Payne is to be Harry. Harry Morgan, in turn, takes the part of "George." George Arthurs takes the part of "Will Landen" and Neil Stryker will play "Tom Leffingwell." George Fraser is scheduled to take the part of the "bookmaker." J. J. McHale will double as the play-wright lover. He also takes the role of interlocutor.

And Here's the Chorus.

The Jollies chorus is made up of Mrs. Helen Huyck, Mrs. Irene Reid, Mrs. Eida Cossey, Dorothy Dickinson, Violet Partridge, Jean Maitland, Lillian Santo, Doris Santo, Florence McCaig, Gladys McEvoy and Elsie Crocker.
With Jack McHale as interlocutor and Nelson Adair, B. A. MacDonald, J. D. Isaacs, W. Hodgins, Charlie Martin, Vincent Colgan, and Bev Hay as funny end men, a real good cross-fire of wit should result.
Lloyd Bullen and Tom Yull will sing the ballads. In the minstrel circle will be found R. Wright, Jack Tennant, Bob Darrach, Roy Williams, Fred Ross, Art Wilkes, V. D. Sprout and Harold Garner.

Six boys appearing in connection with the production are Lloyd Reilly, Gordon Thompson, Archie Limon, Arthur Smith, Maurice Abbott and Tom Rowat.
The pianists for the entire production is Miss Lenore Coughlin, one of Ontario's best production artists.

TOM YULL,
president of the Kiwanis club, who plays the attorney in the sketch in the Kiwanis Jollies. He also sings a ballad in the minstrel group.

Then the Gifted Musician Called

Nether Jones nor his wife were real musicians. She could play a little and he liked music, but they weren't expert judges of it. They had bought a SHERLOCK-MANNING PIANO. They liked it, but they weren't just sure they had chosen wisely.

AND THEN THE GIFTED MUSICIAN CALLED.

"A Sherlock-Manning Piano," he exclaimed in tones of genuine pleasure as he ran his fingers over the keys. "My, but you have a good Piano!"

The Joneses were delighted. After all, they had chosen wisely: the verdict of this man of music proved it, and they were proud of their choice.

Everywhere musicians praise the Sherlock-Manning—it is "Canada's Biggest Piano Value."

CHAS. MATTHEWS GIVEN TWO-YEAR PRISON TERM

Former Deputy Treasurer For Province Guilty On Two Counts.

DROP OTHER CHARGE

Jury Finds Him Not Guilty of Conspiracy to Steal.

FRIENDS STAUNCH

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 28.—Found guilty by the jury of having committed a breach of trust, contrary to criminal code, and of having accepted inducement to do so, contrary to the secret commissions act, Charles A. Matthews, junior, former deputy provincial treasurer of Ontario, was in the criminal assize court tonight sentenced by Mr. Justice Mowat to two years in the penitentiary.

The jury found the accused "not guilty" on all four conspiracy counts in the indictment, namely conspiracy to steal certain securities or moneys from the Home Bank, conspiracy to defraud the province, conspiracy to defraud the Home Bank and conspiracy to accept, as a public official, gifts or rewards for showing favor
and failing to show disfavor.

Greeted By Friends.

As Matthews was escorted by sheriff's officers from the courtroom,
which was crowded despite the hour,
he was tendered a mark of friendship and respect seldom if ever witnessed in a court of justice, to a man who has just been convicted of a crime.
His passage was for the time being brought to a halt by the many persons in the courtroom who sought to shake his hand. The face of the convicted man at once lit up with smiles at this remarkable display of confidence in him by so many citizens who thus so conclusively proved that they were not mere "fair weather friends."

His father, who had remained close to him throughout the trial, was the first to grasp his hand as he stepped from the dock after being sentenced.
The wife and mother of Matthews remained outside the court when the jury returned with their verdict and sentence was pronounced, as it was his wish that they do so.

The case was placed in the hands of the jury for their verdict at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. At 8 o'clock tonight they returned to the court for further information on the counts in the indictment. Forty-five minutes later they again re-entered the court with their verdict.

Silence Prevails.

The verdict was received in silence.
Matthews, who had anxiously listened to the foreman as he recorded the jury's verdict, did not display any emotion when he heard it.

Immediately afterwards, W. N.
Tilley, K.C., crown counsel, moved for sentence.

"Charles A. Matthews, Jr., have you anything to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed upon you?" said his lordship to the prisoner, who had been asked to stand up.

"No, my lord," replied Matthews.
"May I speak on his behalf?" asked Mr. Gordon. The assent of the court was given.

Defence counsel, H. H. Gordon, then stated that Matthews was an Ontario boy, having been born in London, and during the past 23 years he had been a resident of the city of Toronto, 19 of those years having been spent in the public service as an employee of the Ontario government.
He was a married man with a family.

His First Offence.

This was the first act of any nature or kind that could be pointed out against his character.

He was not quarrelling with the verdict of the jury, who had gone

Man With Razor Holds Up Trial

Canadian Press Despatch.

Hamilton, Oct. 28.—J. J. Thompson, gardener at the Ontario hospital here, ran amuck with a razor
in the city hall this afternoon
while cases in Hamilton's tax scandal were being tried by Magistrate Jelfs. A police constable was painfully slashed on the hands in an effort to subdue the man, who also sustained severe injuries. Court was halted while the police removed Thompson. First warning of the attack was given when Thompson ran one of the principals of the trial, threatening him with the razor. The man fled and policemen fought with Thompson.

very thoroughly into the charges in the indictment and had found him guilty of the two lesser counts, having acquitted him on the conspiracy charges.

"They have found him guilty of accepting money while a public official," said Mr. Gordon. "I do not know how your lordship will view that offence, but I throw myself on the mercy of the court in view of the fact that he always held the highest character up to the laying of the present charges."

"If I thought it proper, I could bring a petition bearing thousands of names, but I think that would be a reproach on the judiciary of the court. I only ask you to judge from the evidence whether this man was a criminal in the meaning of the criminal code. I cannot take exception to the verdict of the jury. He has been found guilty."

"I believe him to be worthy of the utmost consideration from your lordship," said Mr. Gordon, in conclusion. "And I ask it."

"Your counsel has made remarks to me of a moving nature," said Mr.
Justice Mowat to the prisoner. "I have listened to them patiently and have them considered."

Trial Was Fair.
"But I cannot forget that this trial has been conducted with extreme fairness."

"I must pass the sentence of the court from the finding of the jury, who have found you guilty on the main charges, not on the inferior, as your counsel has said.
"One of these is that, being a public official, you committed a breach of trust against your employers, who were the government of this province.
The other is that you corruptly accepted reward or inducement to show favor to these other men."
"In view of what has been said to me by your counsel and in view of the fact that under the statutes you will forfeit all claim for pension for your long period of service, the sentence of the court is that you be laughs in the Kiwanis Jollies. Ken sent to the penitentiary for two years."

Evidence was submitted at the trial to support the charge that commissions on the sale of Ontario inscribed stock to the provincial government had been shared with Matthews.

The first suggestion of wrongdoing was heard in the inquiry conducted by the public accounts committee last winter. Following the mention of his name in the matter, Matthews fled from the city before a warrant had been issued, and some months later was found operating a lunch wagon in a California town. His identity was discovered by his partner in the lunch business, who claimed a provincial reward for having delivered Matthews up to the authorities. Matthews was deported by the United States authorities and was accompanied from California
by a Canadian officer.

STOREHOUSE INTERIOR DESTROYED BY BLAZE

Building Owned by Partridge Plumbing Company On Wellington St. Gutted.

Fire completely gutted the storehouse of the T. L. Partridge Plumbing Company, Wellington street, last night. The damage was estimated at $500 by Chief Aiken.

The fire did not start inside the building, but came in the side window of the structure. It is believed that small boys had a bonfire in the vacant lot adjoining the building and that it was close to the wall. The window was open and the flames ignited material stored in the building. Most of the material was scrap iron and the flames did not damage this. The roof of the structure was nearly totally destroyed, as the flames got between it and the rafters. The roof had to be torn off before the flames could be reached by the water.
No damage was done to adjoining property.

THE SEA HAWK

By RAFAEL SABATINI.

CHAPTER XXIV (continued.)

He pointed up the hillside to the nearest olive tree, a hundred paces distant. "Yonder," he said, "is a man's mark. Put me a shaft through the long branch of that first olive tree." Asad and his officers voiced approval. "A man's mark, indeed," said the Basha, "so that he be a marksman." But Marzak shrugged his shoulders with make-believe contempt. "I knew he would refuse the mark I set," said he. "As for the olive branch, it is so large a butt that a child could not miss it at this distance."

"If a child could not, then thou shouldst not," said Sakr-el-Bahr, who had so placed himself that his body was now between Marzak and the palmetto bala.

"Let us see thee hit it, O Marzak."

And as he spoke he raised his crossbow and scarcely seeming to take aim he loosed his shaft. It flashed away to be checked, quivering in the branch he had indicated.

A chorus of applause and admiration greeted the shot, and drew the attention of all the crew to what was toward.

Marzak tightened his lips, realizing how completely he had been outwitted. Willy-nilly he must now shoot at that mark. The choice had been taken out of his hands by Sakr-el-Bahr. He never doubted that he must cover himself with ridicule in the performance, and that there he would be constrained to abandon this pretended match.

"By the Koran," said Biskaine, "thou'lt need all thy skill to equal such a shot, Marzak."

"Twice not the mark I chose," replied Marzak, sullenly.

"Thou wert the challenger, O Marzak," his father reminded him. "Therefore the choice of mark was his. He chose a man's mark and by the beard of Mohammed he showed us a man's shot."

Marzak would have flung the bow from him in that moment, abandoning the method he had chosen to investigate the contents of that suspicious palmetto bala; but he realized that such a course must now cover him with scorn. Slowly he levered his bow at that distant mark.

"Have a care of the sentinel on the hilltop," Sakr-el-Bahr admonished him, provoking a titter.

Angry the youth drew his bow. The cord hummed, and the shaft sped to bury itself in the hill's flank a dozen yards from the mark.

Since he was the son of the Basha none dared to laugh outright save his father and Sakr-el-Bahr. But there was no suppressing a titter to express the mockery to which the proven braggart must ever be exposed.

Asad looked at him, smiling almost sadly. "See now," he said, "what comes of boasting thyself against Sakr-el-Bahr."

"My will was crossed in the matter of a mark," was the bitter answer. "You angered me and made my aim untrue."

Sakr-el-Bahr strode away to the starboard bulwarks, deeming the matter at an end. Marzak observed him.

"Yet at that small mark," he said, "I challenge him again." As he spoke he fitted a second shaft to his bow.

"Behold!" he cried, and took aim. But swift as thought, Sakr-el-Bahr—heedless now of all consequences—leveled at Marzak the bow which he still held.

"Hold!" he roared. "Loose thy shaft at that bala, and I loose this at thy throat. I never miss!" he added grimly.

There was a startled movement in the ranks of those who stood behind Marzak. In speechless amazement they stared at Sakr-el-Bahr as he stood there, white-faced, his eyes afire, his bow drawn taut and ready to launch that death-laden quarrel as he threatened.

Slowly then, smiling with unutterable malice, Marzak lowered his bow. He was satisfied. His true aim was reached. He had drawn his enemy into self-betrayal.

Asad's was the voice that shattered that hush of consternation. "Kellamullah!" he bellowed. "What is this? Art thou mad, too, O Sakr-el-Bahr?"

"Aye, mad indeed," said Marzak; "mad with fear."

And he stepped quickly aside so that the body of Biskaine should shield him from any sudden consequences of his next words.

"Ask him what he keeps in that pannier, O my father."

"Aye, what, in Allah's name?" demanded the Basha, advancing toward his cousin.

Sakr-el-Bahr lowered his bow, master of himself again. His composure was beyond all belief.

"I carry in it goods of price which I'll not see riddled to please a pert boy," he said.

"Goods of price," echoed Asad.

with a snort. "They'll need to be of price indeed that are valued above the life of my son. Let us see these goods of price." And to the men upon the waist-deck he shouted: "Open me that pannier!" Sakr-el-Bahr sprang forward, and laid a hand upon the Basha's arm. "Stay, my lord!" he entreated almost fiercely. "Consider that this pannier is my own. That its contents are my property; that none has a right to—"

"Wouldst babble of rights to me, who am thy lord?" blazed the Basha, now in a towering passion. "Open me that pannier, I say." They were quick to his bidding. The ropes were slashed away, and the front of the auiler fell open on its palmetto hinges. There was a half-repressed chorus of amazement from the men. Sakr-el-Bahr stood frozen in horror of what must follow.

"What is it? What have you found?" demanded Asad.

In silence the men swung the bale about, and disclosed to the eyes of those upon the poop-deck the face and form of Rosamund Godolphin. Then Sakr-el-Bahr, rousing himself from his trance of horror, reckless of all but her, flung down the gangway to assist her from the pannier, and thrusting aside those who stood about her, took his stand at her side.

CHAPTER XXV THE DUPE

For a little while Asad stood at gaze, speechless in his incredulity. Then to revive the anger that for a moment had been whelmed in astonishment came the reflection that he had been duped by Sakr-el-Bahr. Duped by the man he trusted most. He had snarled at Fenzileh and scorned Marzak when they had jointly warned him against his lieutenant. If at times he had been in danger of heading them, yet sooner or later he had concluded that they but spoke to vent their malice. And yet, as he looked now, he realized that he had been duped, needing Marzak's wit to tear the bandage from his eyes. Slowly he went down the gangway.

end man in the Jollies. "Joe" has a real song and some real humor to dispense and will provide a rare treat.

followed by Marzak, Biskaine and the others. At the point where it joined the waist-deck he paused, and his dark old eyes smoldered under his beetling brows.

"Sakr-el-Bahr," "These are thy goods of price. Thou lying dog, what was thine aim in this?"

Dedantly Sakr-el-Bahr answered him: "She is my wife. It is my right to take her with me where I go."

He turned to her, and bade her veil her face, and she immediately obeyed him with fingers that shook a little in her agitation.

"None questions thy right to that," said Asad. "But, being resolved to take her with thee, why not take her openly? Why was she not housed in the poop-house, as becomes the wife of Sakr-el-Bahr? Why smuggle her aboard in a pannier, and keep her there in secret?"

And why? added Marzak, "dost thou lie to me when I questioned thee upon her whereabouts?—telling me she was left behind in thy house in Algiers?"

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about 25c
Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a bottle, bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily 25c. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

Use it usually to overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally By Drinking Quarts of Good Water.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy, and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advt.

BRILLIANT RECITAL IS GIVEN BY BIGGS

Toronto Pianist Makes Splendid Interpretation of Bach Music.

Claud Biggs, Toronto pianist, masterly interpreter of Bach music and music of his school, visited London again last night, giving a brilliant recital in St. Andrew's hall under the auspices of the Institute of Musical Art.

Appearing with him on the same program was Mrs. Zoe Addy-Watson, English violinist, who took up her residence in London some time ago, and whose playing last night gave evidence of true artistry.

Mr. Biggs was received with enthusiastic applause following each number. The audience wanted to pay tribute to the brilliant technique of a pianist who knew his composers. His tone has a peculiar sinning quality, which gives strength even to the quietest passages. He plays with the assurance of one who has an exact knowledge of the masters he interprets.

Opening his program with the magnificent Bach Prelude and Fugue in C, he played through Scarlatti's "Pastorale and Capriccio" and the three movements of the Bach "Italian Concerto." Throughout each of these numbers his remarkable technique execution was evident.

Perhaps the favorite number, however, was from Brahms—"Variations and Fugue on a theme by Handel." In this majestic, organ-like tones were brought out by skilful handling of the keys. The theme throughout is elusive, captivating—an altogether delightful number.

For encores Mr. Biggs played "Moment Musical" by Schubert, and an attractive black key study.

Mrs. Watson was heard in several interesting numbers, opening with an English sonata by D. B. Haydon (Bocles). Her tone is rich and true. She plays with verve and sympathetic understanding. Her technique is exact. In her final group of dance numbers she was found at her best. There was a Poropora Menuet, Schubert's ballet music from "Rosamund," two Slavonic dances from Dvorak and a Chinese dance from Kreutzer. For encores she played Woinowsky's Mazurka, and a modern arrangement of "Drink to me only with thine eyes."

As a tribute to her playing, a student who has followed her from England to study under her, presented her with flowers.

The very first number of the evening was a very fine rendition of Greig's sonata in G major by Mrs. Watson and Claud Biggs. A. D. Jordan acted as accompanist during the recital.

Woodstock C.I. Crew Swamps De La Salle In First Game

Pile Up 23-0 Win Against Lighter London Youngsters Yesterday.

"DEES" PLAY GAMELY

The Woodstock collegiate junior "Wossa" rugby squad completely outclassed the De La Salle youngsters in the first game of third round play-offs by the score of 23 to 0.

Not once during the whole game did the De La Salle boys make yards against the heavy Woodstock team, while on the other hand the much heavier visitors made successive gains on plunges.

End runs were about the most popular dish of the Woodstock team, with Start on the end of nearly all of them.

A Lost Chance.

In the first period it looked like a touch for the visiting team, when on the five-yard line they lost the ball, and Barratta booted it to midfield.

After making two successful gains, with Lockhart on the front end of the runs, Stevenson crossed the London boys' line for a try, which was not converted, the first period ending 5 to 0 in the visitors' favor.

Barratta's kicking was about the only thing that kept the Woodstock crew in check. The ball bounced out of Moralee's hands into Stevenson's, who ran 30 yards through an open field for a touch. The touch was converted.

Lockhart ran 35 yards after the kick-off. Half-time score, 11 to 0.

March Down Field.

After making yards three times in the third quarter, the invaders made another 5 points, Stevenson running past the whole team to score. Stevenson converted the try.

Barratta's playing was good in this period for the locals, while Ryan made some nice tackles. The third stanza ended with the count 17 to 0. Milburn's attempted drop-kick went as a rouse when it went under the bar. Geddes went over for the fourth touchdown of the game, which was not converted.

Barratta, Donohue and Ryan were best for the locals. Start, Stevenson, Lockhart and Bailey were the pick from the visitors.

Lineups: Woodstock—Ross, snap; Corless and Carr, left half; Milburn and Geddes, middle; Milburn and Right, outside; Bailey, Lockhart and Sinclair, halves; Start (Capt.), flying wing; Calais, Martin, Kellett and Hammond, subs.

De La Salle—Mugan, snap; Donohue, quarter; flying wing; Wilkinson and Malloy, inside; Metson and Irvine, middle; Nolan and Burke, outside; Ryan, Barratta and Moralee, halves; Meyers, McGreivie, Smith and Durkin, subs.

Referee—Umpire—M. M. Hood. Head linesman—Pickley.

"SEARCHLIGHT GOLF" IN DARK PROVES SUCCESS

Associated Press Despatch.

Briarcliffe Manor, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Golf was successfully played after dark here last night by the light of a 400-million candle power searchlight, said to be the largest in the world, and other electric illumination on the Briarcliffe Lodge course.

Gene Sarazen, former professional golf champion, conducted the exhibition as a feature of the opening of the annual convention of the Illuminating Engineers' society. Although a few of Sarazen's drives landed the ball in the rough where it was lost for the night, enough rested in the line with the flag to satisfy observers that night golf was a success.

PIRATES NEEDED YOUNGER BLOOD

McKechie Gives Explanation of Deal With Cubs.

Associated Press Despatch.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 28.—With startling suddenness the Pittsburgh and Chicago National League baseball clubs swung the most pretentious player deal engineered in recent years, when Walter (Rabbit) Maranville, shortstop and second baseman; Wilbur Cooper, star left-hand pitcher, and Charlie Grimm, first baseman, were traded to the Cubs for Victor Aldridge, pitcher; George Grantham, infielder, and Albert Niehaus, recruit first baseman, recently purchased from Chattanooga.

There was no cash consideration.

Grimm, Cooper and Maranville compose a trio that is famous in annals of Pittsburgh baseball. Maranville was obtained from Boston in 1920 in a trade that sent Babe Ruth to the Braves.

Grimm was purchased the same year from Little Rock of the Southern Association. Cooper came to Pittsburgh in 1917 from Columbus of the American Association.

Manager McKechie declared that it was because of the sensational showing of power made by the team last season that he recommended the acquisition of new and younger blood.

McKechie will revamp his entire lineup next year. Eddie Morehead, obtained from Atlanta in 1922, will play second base. Grantham will be used in the outfield.

M.O. CLUB MEETS FOR YEAR'S RESUME

Queen's Park Plant Assumes Shape As Good Weather Holds.

Associated Press Despatch.

Tonight's meeting of the London Tecumseh baseball association, scheduled for 7:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce, was probably the last of the season, as the weather is so unfavorable for the game.

Heard has already made known the fact that he would be willing to try one more year of the old M.O. League, providing the league was run strictly on the salary limit laid down in the constitution.

However, lately there seems little certainty that there will be enough clubs left to operate the league, Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Kalamazoo are all very doubtful.

The figures on this year's operations should be interesting. They will probably disclose the fact that although money was lost on the season, there were very obvious signs of a revival of interest, and sufficient to justify another season's trial.

Meantime the fine weather of the last few weeks has helped the work of remodeling the inclosure at Queen's park into a baseball diamond. According to enthusiasts who have made the trip out to the park this week, it is possible to see now what the arrangements will look like when completed.

Practically all the field has been leveled, and when in shape, will provide as fine a diamond as any boasted in the M.O. League.

The removal of the buildings has given a much better idea of distance, and there is nothing cramped about the new field.

The Passing of Peter McArthur.

Last week Peter McArthur, the sage and philosopher of Ekfrid, stood on the street in London and chatted with friends. Yesterday he passed on to the great majority. If he was suffering from the ailment that eventually took him off, he said nothing about it.

It was typical of Peter McArthur that he should say very little about his own ailments. Few men lived in a sphere that radiated more of cheerfulness, even temper, and a sincere desire to see the bright side of things. His was the inquisitive mind, and his faculty for inquiry led him into many new fields and brought him in touch with many men. When his mind turned to banking and banking systems he found himself in the company of men who knew. When, in a less profound vein, he sought to interpret farm life and rural conditions, he argued on the price of a monkey-wrench and at times found space to tell of the dog, the house, and the sheep that lived on his farm.

Peter McArthur had seen much of journalism; he had, in his earlier years, pursued it in crowded New York, but he found the atmosphere cramped; he preferred to draw his pictures from life as he found it in Middlesex than where the people were huddled together in the American metropolis. Anyone who was fortunate enough to know Mr. McArthur intimately can appreciate why this was so. It was the very nature of the man, and although he saw much of cities and city men, at heart he was a farm philosopher.

Peter McArthur leaves a memory of good-natured criticism, of natural optimism—he enjoyed the days as they were measured out to him, and to an unusual degree he possessed the gift of passing that enjoyment on to others.

Minding Their Own Business.

Chicago decided some time ago to publish a list of income tax payers, and it has aroused a storm of protest on the part of those taxed. Now it is hinted that the list may not be published, and again there is a storm of protest, this time from those who were anxious to know all about other people's business.

Why? Well, for a variety of reasons. Young women want to know if their young men "friends" are telling the truth about their finances; people are crowding in asking for information, which they fear will not now be published, about how much income their neighbors have. The great bulk of the inquiries, though, are coming from "begging institutions," anxious to get a list of those in receipt of good incomes so that they can hurry off and nail them for a subscription.

The hesitation in Chicago about publishing the list has shed a new light on the whole matter. There may be some very fair reasons for publishing income taxes, but those reasons will have a hard time living down the fact that a horde of curious busybodies are waiting to grab the lists to satisfy their craving for meddling in other people's business, while others seek to use them to select targets for their money-wheeling proclivities.

The Situation in Hamilton.

For weeks experts have been busy prying into affairs around the city hall in Hamilton. Yesterday the civic probe committee sat only half an hour, yet in that short time got more proof of a most ineffective system of accounting between the city treasurer's and city tax departments regarding tax arrears and penalties. In an attempt to reconcile the arrears as shown on the books of the tax department and those of the city treasurer there was a difference of not a few dollars, or a few hundred dollars, but of $127,000.

The more the Hamilton situation is probed the more far-reaching has become the circle of those who appear to have been "in" on the manipulations. This makes it all the more surprising that the undesirable state of affairs could have continued unchecked so long, and it also shows how a system of accounting on which the people of Hamilton relied to protect them has been no protection at all.

No doubt Hamilton has every known contrivance to facilitate proper accounting methods; it probably has adding machines and mechanical bookkeeping machines; no doubt there have been auditors going over the work of the year regularly. Yet today Hamilton finds that one thing was lacking—a goodly portion of integrity and a sense of honor that should respond to the tenure of public office.

No system is liable to rise to a higher level than those entrusted with its operation.

Paying In Human Lives.

Three men are dead and at least two mentally deranged from the effects of ethylene gas, while experimenting on new methods for producing gasoline in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company at Elizabeth, N.J.

Whether the experiments were being carried on under unfavorable circumstances we do not know, but it is a fact that the names of these three men will be added to the long list of lives that have been snuffed out in the pursuit of scientific secrets, and often in an attempt to produce some commodity, now commonly used, in a more satisfactory manner.

Not often that we pause to consider this. It is not necessary to go farther than your own coal bin to find an article that yearly takes a staggering toll of human life in the production of the tonnage required to heat the homes of the continent.

Martha Washington's Crop.

Mrs. Martha Washington, of Niagara Falls, is in trouble. Officers had suspected that Martha was doing some trading in moonshine, so they visited the Washington hut to see what was going on, and found all things in order, as they should be in a place presided over by a Martha Washington.

But these officers were as suspicious as they were persistent, and took a walk through Martha's garden, no doubt wondering if moonshine could grow in such a well-kept plot. In one corner of the garden the earth was freshly turned. The casual observer would take it for granted that Martha was setting out tulip or daffodil bulbs for the spring, but an officer of the law sees things differently—he's no amateur gardener.

So a little digging showed a fine crop of moonshine right in the corner of Martha's plot, and for the life of her she can't explain how such a planting took root and grew. By the time Martha Washington appears in court she may be able to provide the solution for a new form of vegetation that even our most expert horticulturists have never dreamed of.

Better Have a Bonfire.

A despatch from Elmira states that a number of former German soldiers who are working on farms in that district are wearing old uniforms of the German army.

It is a matter about which no one cares to become unduly excited, especially as in some cases these uniforms seem to be the only clothing the immigrants possess. At the same time it might very well be suggested to them that they are living in Canada, where the uniform of the German army is not shown in the style books of the country.

Even at the chance of some small hardship to the owners, the best thing these new immigrants can do is get rid of the uniform, get it out of their sight and out of their mind.

Note and Comment.

Architects want new station in London to be Gothic instead of antique.

A flat tire or a cracked spark plug makes people go to church on Sunday.

Honestly, we can't think of another single thing to say about bobbed hair.

A mistake was made in referring to the big Zep that landed in United States as the only gas bag there. Elections are still on.

Detroit man named Ward had a plan whereby he stole from his employer for seven years. Now Detroit is moved to do away with the Ward system.

There are four perfectly good corner spaces at Dundas and Richmond, and up to last night not one of them had been turned into a gas station.

Col. Kelly, Conservative candidate in Britain, was called a liar by a man in the crowd, whereupon the colonel walked from the platform and smote the offender on the jaw. Perhaps it's a good thing the campaign was three weeks short.

The death of Herbert F. Gardiner has removed a man who left his imprint on the time in which he lived. In the time between 1874 and 1877, when John Cameron was the power behind The Advertiser, Mr. Gardiner was his editorial writer, leaving this city for Hamilton, where he was first with The Spectator, and afterwards with The Times. For almost twenty years he was principal of the Institute for the Blind at Brantford. Retiring from that post, he indulged in his first love, journalism, in the form of weekly contributions to Hamilton papers. Mr. Gardiner was an able journalist, and a worthy exponent of the best traditions of his profession.

Cows Now and Then

What style the cows are putting on in days what we are travelling through, far greater than the brindle cow upon lot ten could ever do.

Just come a book from Ottawa, a hundred pages printed there, a-tellin' of the cows we have and how each lives and when and where.

And there they be page after page, their names is Lulu, Mary, May, not like the brindle cow of old who poured forth buttermilk and whey.

There's Norma, Mildred, Mercedes and Daisy, Dora, likewise Floss, they've got a separate set of books a-scribblin' down about each boss.

And men from Ottawa go forth and climb upon the barnyard rails, a-cartin' with them where they go a set of nickel-plated scales.

And by the rules what's in the book these men they camp upon the place, and gaze upon each milkin' stool and look the prize cow in the face, a-askin' how she is today and how she likes her board and hay, and if she's got a kick to make at gettin' but three meals a day.

He likewise goes unto the cow and asks if it's got mumps or fleas, or if she's got a crumpled horn or heebie jeebies in the knees.

And after he has done these things he works a tester in the cream, a-squintin' all the time to see if milkin' is rich or kind of lean. And then he takes a pencil out and writes upon a little book, and says as how the fifteenth cow is somewhat of a barnyard crook, and that her tail is far too long, that she's too thick upon the neck, she should be gushin' twenty quarts, but only gives one skimpy peck.

It ain't no likky what it used to be when we kept cows back in '19, we led 'em to the old town pump and pastured on the village green. We fed them on potato skins and straw and tops of garden truck, and if the roadside pasture failed them brindle cows was out of luck.

It seems as things has changed since then, and now they're gettin' out a book describin' how the cows behave and how the hired men act and look.

I'm sad about our brindle cows, no expert at hem took a squint, and never once did them old boys break forth and get their name in print—

TO A BEARD.

Just a thousand little bristles
On a territory small,
Like a thousand little thistles
Pushing through our facial wall,
Though they seem to be trying to escape
Like a flock of foolish sheep,
Comes a razor blade a-scrapping,
And destroys them with one sweep.
'Tis a battle grim and daring
'Twixt the bristles and the blade—
Though our efforts are unavailing,
Ne'er a final stroke is made.
They're as strong as life, these thistles,
Though they sometimes rouse our gall,
And we'll always fight those bristles
Passing through our facial wall.

"If these cross-word puzzles keep up," Goofts McGoots, famous indoor sportsman declares, "they'll simply have to put some new swear words on the market. I'm tired of using the old ones over and over again. 'Cross-word' puzzles is right."

While trying to figure one of the darn things out I've used so many cross words that my wife has gone home to her mother and the neighbors threaten to have me arrested for disorderly conduct.

It is said that 18,000,000 persons are engaged solving cross-word puzzles, and the strain on lunatic asylum accommodation is getting fierce.

A new disease called "cross-word puzzitis" has developed. The first symptom is depression at not being able to get a certain word, followed by profanity, and attempts at self-destruction. Then the victim begins to make marks on the wallpaper patterns, yelling, "I've got it," and "No, I haven't," at intervals of 30 seconds. When the mania has subsided the patient invariably tries suicide. Suicide, in fact, is the best cure.

We went to see the man who invented them last week, and found him carving his initials on his nose and barking like a coyote. The warden says he is not of the dangerous type.

Cross-word puzzles are great sport. The way to enjoy them is to do without meals for a week and lock yourself up in your room. The precaution should be taken to pad the room first.

If you intend taking the game up as it has been taken up in all our best oblongs, you must first read the directions. These are almost as easy to understand as a radio address from a Greek living in Zulu-land, that has never been broadcasted. After perusing them diligently 611 times you may begin tearing little tufts of hair from your noodle and possibly pulling out a few teeth. But don't be discouraged. Remember how long it took Columbus to discover electricity.

The only puzzling thing about these puzzles, as I see it, is how people who do them have managed to keep out of the asylum so long.

After watching several friends ponder over them for hours, we can't help but conclude profanity is akin to insanity.

If you are despondent and want to die quickly, one of your best bets is to interrupt a cross-word bug while engaged in his favorite pastime.

Cross words have been responsible for more divorces than drink, alcohol and liquor combined.

If your husband has contracted the disease the only thing to do is to separate. Remember that actions speak louder than cross-words.

THE THIRD PARTY.

A third party has never been successful in the United States. Its influence, however, has been considerable.

A record of some of the third parties that have flourished previously, and have appeared and disappeared at various times in American history, has been given by a recent writer and is interesting.

"The Anti-Renters were a New York organization which flourished about 1841. They resisted the collection of back rents on the Van Rensselaer manor near Albany. They had strength enough to defeat Wright, the regular Democratic candidate for governor of New York.

"The Barn-burners, New York, 1846, were seceders from the Democratic party. They were opposed to slavery extension. The Bucktails were another New York party and supported Madison for the presidency.

"The Conservatives, in New York and several other states, were paper money Democrats and in their prime in 1837. To the Doughfaces belonged the northern members of Congress, who voted for the Missouri compromise.

"The Know-Nothings, New York, 1854, were opposed to the naturalization of foreigners who had not lived at least 21 years in the United States.

"The Loco-Focos, New York, 1835, were a branch of the Democratic party.

"The Liberal Republicans, 1872 were those who joined with the Democrats in support of Greeley for president."

Roosevelt headed a third party but was unsuccessful.

Just what will be the result of the La Follette third party, which appeals to the discontent of the great middle west, is yet to be seen.

To the Editor

Juvenile Court.

Londoner Believes One of the Magistrates for Children's Aid Officer Could Fill the Position.

Editor of The Advertiser:—The question of the juvenile court for our city seems again to be in the fore. I have listened to a lot of talk and have read a lot about it. I have visited most of the children's shelters between London and Halifax, have personally given some attention to the child welfare work for several years, have been in every child rescue home in Ontario and the Maritime provinces. From my standpoint there is no doubt what ever as to the need of such a court for this city, and it would be a crime if it were discontinued.

If my information is correct, when the Rev. Quintin Warner first took the position he was going to do it without any remuneration, and that the very great probability is that if he had not been thus represented he would not have been appointed.

I note that there is now a question as to the fact of Mr. Warner's resignation. I do not know if he really did or not, but there does seem to be a question of his reappointment.

Is the Rev. Quintin Warner the only man in London capable of doing this work? Is there any special need of adding to our county officers? Does the reverend gentleman need the position? Is his pastorate sufficiently extensive to occupy his time and energy?

I frankly admit that as it appears to me, one of our present magistrates should be especially charged with this duty, or the man in charge of the children's aid work should do this work. I would presume that he now has to do a good deal of work that comes very close to the duty of a juvenile court judge, and if he is the right man for his present position then he is capable of doing work as well.

I have no interest in the position as such, but I am vitally interested in the safeguarding of our child life, and in giving to every child the chance of becoming the highest possible type of citizen.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
W. EDWARDS.

THE CALL OF THE NORTH WOODS.

Never do the great Canadian north woods call so insistently, never are they so full of beauty as during this magic month of October, when the mornings are sparkling cool and clear, when the wild geese honk over the still lakes, when the trees are a symphony in crimson, green and gold, when the sun goes down like a ball of fire and the light of the quivering northern lights play across the sky.

Then it is that you long to leave the city's dust and din, the ticker, the telephone, the typewriter, the newspaper, stiff collars and razors all behind and answer the call of the northern wilds. You see the trail of the moose on the spongy moss. You hear the call of the wild things of the forest, the song of a bullet through the clean, cool air and the crash of your lordly prey as it falls before your aim. But perhaps business is urgent and each day is filled to the brim and you feel you cannot go.

Still the north woods call, and one day you will be able to stand it no longer. You will get out your old rifle, sweaters and tugs and go to the nearest Canadian National Railways office and ask for their publication "Hunting in Canada." In this booklet you will find listed the choicest spots and full information regarding accommodation and guides. Also ask for special train service pamphlet.—Advt. Oct. 23, 27, 29.

Invites Londoner To Play At Restoration of Ypres

Harry T. Dickinson Honored
Because of Discovery of Old Church Music.

FAMOUS CATHEDRAL

Ypres cathedral, demolished by the Germans in November, 1918, is now being restored. And a London man, Harry T. Dickinson, organist at St. Paul's cathedral, is to have a share in that restoration.

His contribution to the historic cathedral will be several old folios of liturgical music, rescued by the men of his battery from the ruins of Ypres two days after the bombardment. And the cathedral authorities, in recognition of the value of his contribution, have invited him to be present at Ypres at the restoration celebration in 1925, to play in the cathedral.

The music, all in loose sheets and for the most part handwritten in ink, is informally bound in three blue-time covers. Prominently inscribed on every sheet is the name, Carl Kramler, at that time musical director of the diocese of Ypres. In these folios, the old church shows dating back to medieval times, have been adapted by Carl Kramler to meet the peculiar needs of Ypres cathedral choir and service. Both choral and orchestral parts are found neatly written out in black ink. These sheets have been well preserved, although the outer blue covers show evidence of having been subjected to the devastating fury of falling stone and mortar.

Battery Stumbles on Music.
It seems strange that the historical music of Ypres cathedral should fall into the hands of a Canadian musician. For although the actual discovery of the folios was made by Battery Sergeant-Major MacDonald, he handed it over immediately to his comrade, Lieut. Dickinson, at that time conductor for all Canadian artillery bands and a member of his unit. The folios were stumbled on amongst the debris as the Canadian battery was moving on, following the bombardment of Ypres.

Since that time Lieut. Dickinson has played the music on seventy different occasions, throughout France, England, Scotland and the United States on historical occasions he has offered the beautiful music of Ypres to the people. In such famous places as Amiens, St. Surpice church, Paris; Albert Hall, Old London; Folkestone and Shorncliffe, he has been heard playing the old church airs from the scores rescued at Ypres.

In 1918, he was made conductor of all Canadian corps bands in England and France, and on many occasions his massed bands in Paris, Folkestone and Shorncliffe were heard playing the Ypres music. The score is arranged for strings, two trumpets and tympani, as well as the four voice parts.

Mercier Hears Music.
The most interesting occasion on which the music was played dates back only to 1919, during the visit of the great Cardinal Mercier to America. During the reception tendered him in the Arena, Detroit, the Liberty band, of which Lieut. Dickinson was conductor, played the Ypres music.

HARRY T. DICKINSON, who has been invited to play at the celebration of Ypres cathedral restoration in 1925.

When the cathedral was informed that it was Lieut. Dickinson's intention to return the folios to the Cathedral of Ypres at its restoration, he was very much touched.

Horace Dodge of the Dodge Motor Company had been striving in vain to purchase the folios at a very high price for the library of the Detroit symphony orchestra. But Lieut. Dickinson was firm in his resolve and kept them in his possession until they could be returned to their own sanctuary.

Played Over Old Airs.
Yesterday, when I visited Mr. Dickinson in St. Paul's cathedral, he was good enough to play over selections from the graduation ceremony of the confirmation of the priests.

First came the beautiful processional, followed by part of the sanctus. And as I sat far down in the cathedral among the empty pews, the majestic beauty and simplicity of the old airs filled the whole church and transformed it into the historic cathedral of Ypres. The music was played with men and women of centuries ago at their devotions. The sun streamed in through the stained glass windows and settled like jewels on clasped hands and bowed heads. And the music lifted hearts, drooping under the same sins and the same kind of sorrow as men and women feel today and will continue to feel as long as the music lasts.

ANNIVERSARY MARKED.
Strathroy, Oct. 28.—The Strathroy Methodist church celebrated its anniversary by special services Sunday. Rev. Mr. McCall of Woodstock preached. Over 1,000 people were served at the chicken supper given by the ladies of the congregation last evening.

CLUB AT CHESLEY MARKS BIRTHDAY

Mothers Gather at School to Find Former Officers Occupying Chairs.

The regular meeting of the Chesley avenue mothers' club was held last night, when it took the form of a birthday party, opened by the president, Mrs. L. F. Mayne. Mrs. James Mills' report from the child welfare program was heard, after which Mrs. Mayne called on Mrs. Edward Pellow, the first president, and the first secretary, Mrs. Andrew Miller. Halloween decorations were very effectively used, and quite a wonderful program was presented. There was an instrumental number by Mrs. Winnifred Barrow, a violin duet by Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Russell Steik, Miss Sybil Hignam contributed a reading, and solos were rendered by Mrs. Mayne, Mrs. Barrow, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. H. A. Secord and Mrs. Jack Wilson. Mrs. D. Frank Smith, Mrs. C. Secor and Mrs. McIsaac were accompanists. The whole program was greatly enjoyed and appreciated.

The ceremony of the birthday cake, surrounded by 17 candles, was very effective when the past presidents lighted the candles, those taking part including Mrs. Edward Pellow, Mrs. A. E. Tutt, Mrs. James McLean, Mrs. Fred Barrow, Mrs. James Mills, Mrs. L. F. Mayne, and Mrs. Tanner, president of the Union mothers' club. It was the two candles for Mrs. Frank Pickell and Mrs. W. Mason, who were absent. The candles were then blown out by the past secretaries, after which ice cream and cake were served. The birthday cake was cut by Mrs. Mayne.

Among the guests present were Mayor Wenig, Mr. E. E. Gibbs, the principal of the school, Miss Irene Isaacs, a returned missionary from Japan, most of the staff and some of the past teachers.

W.C.T.U. SCORES STAND OF MAYOR

Members Decide His Attitude on O.T.A. Question Not Definite Enough.

The members of the W. C. T. U. at their regular meeting held yesterday afternoon at the rooms, Clarence street, protested at the attitude taken by Mayor George Wenig in the recent O. T. A. campaign. They declared that the stand taken by the mayor was not definite enough, and the members were asked to remember this lack of decision when casting their votes in the civic election.

Mrs. A. J. Chapman presided over the meeting. Arrangements were made for a thanksgiving service to be held on Monday.

Mrs. Mary Burnham and Mrs. T. W. Mitchell, Wilton Grove, were received into the membership of the union, being welcomed by Mrs. E. Gregory. The Bible reading was taken by Mrs. J. McLeod, following which campaign experiences were given by the members. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Ida Harrison, the meeting closing with the doxology.

Dorothy Dix

Should husbands and wives try to correct each other's faults and improve each other?

It would seem that there could be but one answer to this question. Every human being who possesses a grain of intelligence must desire to progress, to become better educated and more cultured. This being true, it seems that one of the sacred obligations of matrimony is for the stronger one of a married couple to reach out a helping hand to the weaker one and help lift him or her up to the higher life.

More than that, it would seem that the inferior one of a married couple would be eager to sit at the feet of the superior one and learn all that he or she had to teach and that he or she would feel that no criticism could come so graciously as that which was inspired by love and an ardent desire for his or her own good.

Nothing, however, could be further from the state of the case. Neither husbands nor wives accept with gratitude a few well-intentioned hints about their manners and habits. The minute either a man or a woman attempts to turn matrimony into a mutual improvement society it becomes a scrapping match. Neither a camp nor the Demon Rum can break up a home so quickly as can a critic on the hearth.

He has great native ability. He has push and enterprise, all the qualities that enable a man to climb high, but he will never reach the top-most rung because he is handicapped by his lack of early advantages. He is shy on grammar and short on pronunciation. He is like a bull in a china shop in a drawing-room, and hopelessly befuddled by the silver on a dinner table.

His wife would like to call his attention to his lapses in grammar, and pronunciation and teach him beautiful English. She would like to instruct him in table etiquette and help him to acquire the little niceties of manner that distinguish the gentleman from the boor. But she dares not do it, for at the very first suggestion that he change his ways she sees that she has wounded him to the quick, or else he flies into a rage that makes it impossible ever to reopen the subject unless she is one of those women who are born fighters and enjoy a domestic scrimmage.

Nor are wives any more amenable than husbands to criticism. It is a very common thing for a man to marry out of his class under the fatuous belief that he will have no difficulty at all in making over his wife according to his taste. A man who is cultured in mind, elegant in manner, fastidious in dress, will often choose to marry a girl whose pretty face has captured his fancy, but who is uneducated, untalented, loud of voice and bold of manner, and who knows neither how to dress or to conduct herself in society.

Her husband would like to polish his rough diamond, but he attempts to do so at his peril. If he suggests that she try to imitate the quiet charm of manner of some old woman friend of his, she becomes green-eyed with jealousy. If he finds fault with her clothes and tells her that real ladies do not wear flamboyant garments that shriek at the beholder, she goes into hysterics. If he tries to get her to read and study, she weeps that he is tired of her and no longer loves her.

And, after having proven by his failures that no husband can improve his wife, he gives up the hopeless task and settles down to make the best of his bad bargain or else repudiates it, according to the type of man he is.

DOROTHY DIX.

ter. Mrs. A. A. Campbell will be in the chair.

Farmer Brown's Boy went to work with the ca nigger to catch that tin can. He did his best to be careful, but that leg was so swollen and tender that merely touching it made it ache. At last Farmer Brown's Boy got the can off. Bobby didn't even know it. You see that leg ached so and was so swollen that he didn't know when it was free from the cure of course he couldn't see because his head was wrapped up. Then Farmer Brown's Boy carefully bathed that swollen leg, put healing ointment on it, and bound it with a strip of clean cloth. Then he took Bobby Coon out to the barn and put him in the pen he had built for Unc' Billy Possum, but which Unc' Billy had never seen the inside of. (Copyright, 1924, by T. W. Burgess.)

The Operation I Avoided—

MRS. IDA M. COFFMAN

IF there is one thing more than another a woman dreads, it is a surgical operation, and to be told that one is necessary is very disheartening.

Hospitals are grand institutions, and undoubtedly many operations are necessary. However, we have received hundreds of letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation had been deemed advisable.

Every woman who suffers as Mrs. Coffman did naturally wishes to avoid an operation if possible, and the remarkable statements which she makes in her letter will be read with interest by women everywhere.

Mrs. Coffman's Letter Follows:

Sidell, Illinois.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side which was noticeable at all times, but sometimes it was almost unbearable and I could not even let the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so badly until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help and the doctor told me that an operation was all there was left for me. I would not consent to that so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without my Vegetable Compound in the house and when my two little girls reach womanhood I shall advise them to take it."—Mrs. Ida M. Coffman, R. R. No. 2, Sidell, Illinois.

Alberta Woman Avoids an Operation

Provost, Alberta.—"I was in a bad condition and would suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I should have an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. Adams, Box 54, Provost, Alberta.

City Churches

HAMILTON ROAD W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of the Hamilton road Presbyterian church held their thank-offering meeting Monday night. Miss Lillian MacVicar, a missionary on furlough from India, was the speaker of the evening, telling of the life in that country and the need of missionary activity there. Her talk was heartening, with much interest by the members. During the evening the Misses Dunham contributed a delightful vocal duet, and Mrs. C. Rumble, Mrs. A. Stein and Miss H. Harlow took the devotional exercises. There was a large attendance and light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the evening. There was a generous thank-offering received, but since it is still incomplete, the total contribution is not yet known.

ASKIN STREET LEAGUE.

Dr. Leroy Hiles presided over the regular meeting of the Askin street league. During the evening Herbert Childs gave a very interesting talk on temperance, after which Mrs. (Dr.) Keller sang a delightful solo for the young people.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

The young people of the First Congregational church met for their regular meeting on Monday, when Miss Annie Moulie, the president, was in the chair. The first part of the meeting took the form of a devotional night, after which a short business session was held and arrangements were made to hold a Halloween party in connection with the Sunday school on Friday night. There was a good attendance.

RIDOUT STREET LEAGUE.

The members of the young people's league of the Ridout street Methodist church were the guests of the Wellington street young people at their regular meeting on Monday night, with Miss Ida Wambold in the chair. The president, E. M. Muma, welcomed the guests, and a very interesting evening followed. Rev. G. T. Watts, pastor of the Wellington street church, gave a very interesting reading which was greatly appreciated. Miss Ida May and George Winder gave a splendid piano duet. The topic, "Home," was interestingly taken by Mrs. C. Landis. Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program, and a social hour was enjoyed.

CENTENNIAL LEAGUE.

The young people of the Centennial Methodist church met last Monday evening when their regular meeting took the form of a Halloween party. All the members came in costume, and there was much variety to the scene. Misses Winnifred Kernohan and Dorothy Anderson, who came as a lady and gentleman of the French court, were the prizes. During the evening fortunes were told by Miss Ida Parkinson, and light refreshments were served, bringing the evening to a happy close.

HALE STREET LEAGUE.

Into spooky rooms, mysteriously lighted, with weird sounds and ghostly figures floating about, came the young people of Hale street Methodist church, last Monday evening, when their regular weekly meeting took the form of a Halloween party. The guests were led through a hazardous passage to the prizes, and here, breath-taking ghost stories were related by David Couke and W. Bedgood, and at the

ST. MATTHEW'S COMMITTEE.

There was a meeting of the committee of St. Matthew's Anglican church on Monday, when arrangements were made for the bazaar they are having on Nov. 18 and 19. The conveners appointed include: Fancypark and candy, Mrs. R. Stanley, plain sewing and home-cooking, Mrs. D. Messerole; flower booth, Mrs. Cole; baby shoppe and HYDE PARK CHURCH SUPPER.

A delicious chicken supper was served in the Hyde Park hall last night under the auspices of the Hyde Park Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. McKillop, pastor, acted as chairman. An excellent program was given by Miss Phyllis Gray, soprano, formerly of Hyde Park, and R. Patterson, tenor. Eddy Willmot delighted the audience with violin selections, and P. J. Fitzgerald acted as accompanist for the evening. There was a large attendance and the event was very successful.

CHURCH.

The members of Christ church held their usual meeting in the school-room yesterday, with a good attendance.

PIPER REINSTATED, SUSPENDED AGAIN

Building Inspector Taken Back
by Committee—Aldermen Allege Unfairness.

Reinstated by No. 2 committee last night, City Building Inspector A. M. Piper was immediately afterwards suspended indefinitely by Mayor Wenige. His worship's action yesterday noon in suspending the building inspector on a charge of neglect of duty and intoxication while in charge of a city automobile precipitated a brief, bitter debate at last night's committee session. The mayor failed to get support for his action, but immediately upon leaving the room told Mr. Piper that he still stood suspended.

Suspended, reinstated and laid off again, all within the course of nine hours, the building inspector must now await the next regular meeting of the committee, two weeks away, before his case will be brought up again. During the stormy scenes of the committee meeting, aldermen demanded that the mayor provide specific charges, with complete details, for immediate investigation. Chairman Greer led the demand that charges should be in writing and should name, if possible, irregularities which had caused the mayor to personally suspend the building inspector.

Questions Letter.
Aldermen alleged that the mayor sought to make the council a one-man affair, that he wasn't playing fair, that he would let the affair hang fire so long that it would inate the McCallum suspension, and they declared that they were not going to be just dummy figures on the committee.

In making his report of the suspension Mayor Wenige took exception to a letter he had received from Chairman Greer yesterday afternoon. In that letter Ald. Greer recalled the procedure bylaw, and he asked that the mayor have his charges in writing before the committee last night. "This letter from the chairman is an insult to any mayor," Mayor Wenige charged. "It is not necessary for the chairman, or for any other man, to call the mayor's attention to the procedure bylaw in this respect. And he also made the time of the meeting quite explicit, presumably so that I would not forget the hour, and he asked me to have the charges in writing."

"In the first place, the mayor does not have to put the charges in writing, and he will not do so," the mayor continued. "And in the second place, the mayor does not have to be responsible to this committee; he is responsible to the public."

"This letter does not enter into the subject under discussion," Chairman Greer interjected.

"Just a minute, I have the floor," Mayor Wenige replied. "I rule you out of order," the chairman retorted.

"I will appeal to the committee," the mayor declared.

"I suggest that you are out of order in discussing that letter," the chairman warned. "That letter was a personal one to you from the chairman, this committee and the committee has no interest in it."

"Then why did you write it as chairman of No. 2 committee?" asked the mayor.

"What is the nature of your charges against Mr. Piper?" Ald. Bottrell inquired. "That is what we want and not a lot of bunk like you have been giving us."

"My charges are that the building inspector has neglected his duties and he has been under the influence of liquor while on duty," the mayor replied. "This case that brought about his suspension came on so quickly that I have not had time to put this report in detail; I am merely reporting the suspension and leaving the matter with you."

"Is it a crime to be under the influence of liquor?" Ald. Towe asked. "That was contrary to the bylaw," the mayor replied.

"Was he in his own home?" Ald. Towe wanted to know.

"I said he was on duty, a man is not on duty in his own home," the mayor retorted.

"Tell us when that happened," Ald. Bottrell interjected.

"If he had time to prepare all the details," the mayor declared.

"We do not want this thing hanging fire for six months like the other suspension," Ald. Bottrell insisted. "And we should have all the details of the charges tonight."

"I have told you that you cannot have the details tonight," the mayor argued.

"It is a serious matter to place an employee under suspension, and the charges should be in readiness to present to the committee immediately the suspension is made," Chairman Greer continued.

into the committee room, and by vote city officials, spectators and reporters were requested to step outside for a few moments. The mayor had put on his hat and coat to go to another meeting, but came back for the private hearing of the building inspector.

"We didn't whitewash Piper," Chairman Greer said afterwards to the reporters. "But we reinstated him because the mayor would not furnish us with specific, detailed charges. Mr. Piper denied the charges which had been laid."

Mayor Wenige left the room immediately after a vote was taken to reinstate the inspector. The two men met in the hall.

"They've reinstated you, Piper," his worship declared, "but I'm going to suspend you again. I've got all the evidence I want, and the council will get it."

According to the procedure bylaw, the mayor is not required now to file a report on the matter until the next regular meeting. In this case the meeting is November 11. Speaking to The Advertiser late last night, Mayor Wenige declared that he would not have his charges in writing ready for publication until that time.

ELECT DIRECTORS ON C. OF C. BOARD
W. C. Benson, C. A. Isaacs and Professor Morrow Are New Officials.

W. C. Benson, C. A. Isaacs and Professor Morrow of Western University were all elected to the board of directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday in place of Major Hume Cronyn, A. T. Little and George Belton, who, owing to pressure of business, found they were unable to give the required amount of time to chamber of commerce affairs.

Messrs. Isaacs and Benson both polled high votes in the recent election for directors, while Professor Morrow will represent the University of Western Ontario.

The directors approved of amendments to the chamber of commerce bylaws, which provide that the retiring president is to remain a member of the executive for the ensuing year and that directors whose term of office is up cannot again become directors for two years.

Publicity For Tourists.
A resolution forwarded by the Vancouver publicity bureau that the dominion government be petitioned to carry on a publicity campaign for tourists was endorsed by the directors and will be submitted to the annual meeting of the Western Ontario united boards of trade for further approval.

Another resolution to be submitted by the London chamber of commerce to the united boards of trade is the prohibition of net fishing in Ontario rivers and streams during the spawning season.

The railways will be asked to give fast and frequent passenger service on Western Ontario branch lines by using automotive cars similar to those used in Central Ontario.

Another resolution approved by the directors, and which will go to the united boards of trade for approval, is the proposal to affiliate with the Ontario associated boards of trade, provided arrangements are made for the financing of the Western Ontario branches from the general funds.

Aid Cadet Shoot Expenses.
There is also a resolution urging the affiliated boards to invite members of parliament from western and western provinces to address a chamber of commerce gatherings in Ontario cities, thereby helping to improve interprovincial relations.

A small grant was made toward the expenses incurred in the cadet shooting competition held at the Coves last week.

The chamber of commerce will invite members of London and Westminster township councils and officials, city council and town-planning commission to a dinner on November 19, at which co-operative plans for city and district will be discussed.

President Dowler reported on the meeting with city council representatives regarding the abolition of the ward system and reduction of the council from 12 to 8 members with a two-year term.

MEDICAL INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS IS TALKED
Education and Health Boards
Hold Round Table Conference.

The board of education and the board of health participated in a round table conference yesterday afternoon with regard to medical inspection in the public schools of the city.

While nothing of a definite nature was accomplished, the two boards formed a bona fide entente, which will form the basis of a co-operative

The New Modes In Review For Thanksgiving Gayeties

New frocks and coats and hats crystallize a Thanksgiving mood. They are brilliant in a harvest richness of colors. They are warm against the whitening frost that foretells the snows of winter. And they are gay to match the glad-some heart of a Thanksgiving season.

WE INVITE YOU TO VIEW OUR SPECIAL DISPLAYS THIS WEEK.

NEW COATS—

Their lines lean to Parisian dictates! But in material, they pay court to "Our Lady of the Snows." And bow their homage with colorful fabrics and linings, snug and warm. And always collars and cuffs of cosy fur. Models displayed for the Thanksgiving season are a review of the winter modes.

Second Floor.

NEW FROCKS—

Frocks revel in a season of new and lovely fabrics. Bengalines, beloved of tailored frocks. New Satins, new Crepes; and in materials that are exquisite, frocks follow lines that are fashion-right. With correct accessories, and matching coat or wrap, they form the modish costume complete.

Second Floor.

NEW FURS—

Fur fashions that are authentic. Fur fabrics that are reliable and of quality assured. Lustrous sable and seal. Close curled furs from Persia. Modish dyed and clipped pelts from China and far Siberia. Furs from a world to make an individual fashion for the wearer, and furs that are new with this season are of a distinctive mode. Enfolded slimly, but with more than a suggestion of wrappiness in their luxurious lines. New combinations and new lines, and still the same seasonable quality of warmth and comfort.

Second Floor.

NEW HATS—

Versatile in color and line! Brilliant hues that are born of October sunshines. Glints of silver and gold that are born of a harvest richness. Even tailored black takes a metallic brilliancy with silver buckle or bow. And softest velvets and velours lend their graceful, flattering richness. Lines may be smart and upstanding of the directorate modes. Or they may be soft and drooping, vastly becoming to the youthful face.

What Smart Women of New York Will Wear When the Thanksgiving Season Reaches Fifth Avenue.

Coats are richly furled against the onslaught of winter's winds. Smooth, sleek pelts as pliable as the fabric itself, or long-haired furs, with flattering shadows in their depths, divide the favor of fashion.

Fashionable shoulders wear flowers. Fashionable throats wear pearls.

And jewel-tones glow in shoulder flowers.

And flower hues glisten in pearl necklaces.

New frocks find slender foundations in girdles of knitted elastic and broche, deftly combined to give youthful grace to the smart silhouette.

Fashion—in festive mood—chooses gold. And so she brings splashes of sunlight to evening hours. Formal frocks and wraps favor gold fabrics. And in informal costumes, too, trimmings take to the same gleaming metal.

The fall's ensemble fashion includes much more than the ensemble costume suit. The suit—important and successful as it is—can represent only one phase of this fashion of togetherness. The complete ensemble from hat crown to shoe sole means the close agreement of all parts of the costume.
