TO STOP WORK ON SUNDAY

Lord's Day Alliance May Take Action In Tilbury Oil Field

WILL MAKE AN EXAMPLE

The local Lord's Day Alliance threatens to prosecute those Tilbury East oil operators who have been operating on Sunday, contrary to law. Complaints have been made, not only by residents but by employers, of the unnecessary erection of buildings, tanks and other work. It is proposed to make an example of the next offender, as Canadians do not propose to have their Sabbaths violated in this manner; complaint is also made of the employment of several hundred aliens in the field.

N. H. Bowby has sold his interest in the Sugar Grove Oil Co. for $22,000. The Maple City's well on the Irwin farm, a h. lot 7, M. R. S. Tilbury East, was shot. It is the best well yet in the southern part of the field. The southern part of the field has been neglected of late owing to a few light wells drilled in it. It is now coming to the front as being fully as good territory as the north. The well of a New York Co. on the Barry farm, Con. 9, Tilbury East, drilled in three weeks ago, now averages 17 bbls. per day, no water. The owners of this property are very lucky.

The production of the field since the four inch line was put in is 1,000 barrels a day for shipment to Merlin. One great lack is contractors. Many contracts would be let that are not given out for lack of some one to take them. Messrs. Scott, Spencer and other Wellville, N. Y., operators are erecting a rig on the Levesque farm, Tilbury East, on the Tilbury townline, about two miles directly south of Tilbury, where they have 1,000 acres leased. This is an entirely new field and should open up a big territory. They expect to begin boring on Monday.

The Commonwealth Jewel Oil Co., of Chicago, expected to drill in Monday on the farm of J. H. Williams, lot 4, Con. 3, Tilbury East, 3-4 of a mile west of Fletcher. This company has extensive interests in Illinois, where they are pumping about 300 wells and have about 350 acres leased in Tilbury East, although it is its first well here. It was drilled in Tuesday at a depth of 1,411-2 feet—the deepest in the field—and made a good showing. It may be shot on Thursday.

The Currant-Hill well, on the J. W. Campbell farm, also the Alex. Ayers well on the same farm, were both shot Tuesday, and a good showing was made. They are both good wells.—Tilbury Times.

MR. BOWYER IS ACTIVE

He And Mr. Clements Have Interested Government In San Jose Scale

RENCOUAGING LETTER

One of the first questions discussed by P. H. Bowyer, M. P. P., with the Hon. Mr. Monteith after his arrival in Ridgetown the evening before he formally opened the fair, was that of the San Jose Scale. Next day H. S. Clements, M. P., joined with Mr. Bowyer in asking the Minister to assist the farmers in a big general fight against the pest. Hon. Mr. Monteith promised assistance, but rightly remarked that the farmers should organize for a general campaign, as it really depends upon them whether the trees be saved or not. The Government can only direct and advise, it cannot spray all the trees in the country.

The following letter shows that Mr. Bowyer did not urge in vain, and that the Minister upon his return to Toronto gave the matter his prompt and favorable consideration, and that it is now up to the farmers and fruit growers of Kent to follow the lead of the Government in a general fight to a finish against the scale.

Toronto, Oct. 17, 1906.

My Dear Bowyer,

In view of your earnest solicitation and of the numerous requests that have been received by my Department from orchardists in your county whose trees are suffering from the ravages of the San Jose Scale, I have decided to have carefully reviewed the situation, that the department should undertake a campaign with the object of proving that the scale can be successfully destroyed and held in check by spraying with proper mixtures. With this in view, I am endeavoring to arrange with Mr. Joseph Tweedie, a well-known orchardist of Fruitland, Ontario, and Mr. J. Fred Smith, our Chief Scale Inspector, accompanied possibly by someone directly representing the Department, to hold a number of meetings to talk the matter over with the interested, and enter into definite agreements with them for the spraying of their orchards in the spring. If this is agreed to, we will send our power-sprayer to treat their orchards, charging them as little as possible for the work, and will also make in order to induce those who have never sprayed their trees to go into it, and after it has been demonstrated by the department, the growers will be expected to perform the work for themselves.

Trusting that this arrangement will meet with the approval of your people, I am,

Yours very truly,

NELSON MONTEITH

P. H. Bowyer, M. P. P., Ridgetown.

ENDED HIS LIFE

L. K. Silverthorne Wearies Of Repeated Financial Failures And Commits Suicide

L. K. Silverthorne, at one time one of the most prosperous farmers in Kent County, ended his life some time Wednesday afternoon by hanging himself from a beam in his barn.

He was last seen Wednesday at noon, when he seemed to have the blues, caused by financial difficulties. He went out after the meal, and did not return at supper time.

His wife went out to look for him and found him in the barn suspended from a beam, dead.

The unfortunate man was 54 years of age, and lived on the 14th concession of Raleigh. Several financial reverses caused him to become despondent.

He is survived by a widow, two sons and two daughters. The children are: Cecil, Detroit; Herman, Saskatoon; Clara, of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Oliver Rodgers, of Oury.

QUIET WEDDING

A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, Oct. 17th, at the Victoria avenue parsonage, when John Barker and Miss Ethel Everly were married by the Rev. F. E. Malott.

They will reside on Wood street.

Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known in this city. Their many friends wish them a very prosperous married life.

GOES FAR TO WED

A wedding will take place in Valdosta, Georgia, to-morrow, in which many Chathamites will be interested.

The nuptials will be those of Mr. E. Graves McMath and Miss Hilda Bechard. Miss Bechard left yesterday morning for Valdosta, where she will be joined by the groom-to-be, and the marriage will follow.

Mr. McMath was formerly a tin-smith in the employ of Gray's carriage factory. He left for Valdosta some time ago. The bride-elect is the daughter of O. A. Bechard, and she has many warm friends in this city who will wish her every happiness.

A FIRE AT KENT BRIDGE

Once More This Village Receives Loss Through Big Conflagration

3 BUILDINGS DAMAGED

From Our Own Correspondent.

Kent Bridge, Oct. 19.—A disastrous fire occurred here at an early hour this morning, destroying Andrew Shaw's blacksmith and carpenter shop and the Knox Presbyterian church. The fire originated in the blacksmith shop, and had reached the church and got beyond control before it was discovered. Some of the contents of the church were rescued from the flames, but the building itself was burned to the ground, as was also the blacksmith shop. The church loss is covered by insurance, but the shop is a total loss.

This is the second big fire which has visited Kent Bridge in the past two months. Dr. Sjolom's residence and laboratory being burned to the ground just two months ago to-day.

REASONS FOR THANKFULNESS

People Should Appreciate The Bringing To Light Of Wrong Doing

FIRST CHURCH SERVICE

There was a very good attendance at the Thanksgiving service held in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning. The service was a short one and was conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. H. MacGillivray. In speaking of the setting aside of a day for thanksgiving, the earnest young pastor regretted that it was not more strictly observed. He lamented the fact that the people of today thought more of attending athletic games on this day, rather than attending to religious duties, and rendering thanks to God for his many mercies and benefits. He regretted that sports formed such a seemingly important feature of the day's celebration, in many cases, where people did not attend church, he had no doubt that they were thankful, but in his opinion, thoughtlessness was closely related to thanklessness.

The people of this country have a lot to be thankful for, he said. This has been a year of disasters in many parts of the world, through fire, water, earthquake and volcano, but Canada had been comparatively free from all of these. We have reason to be thankful for abundant crops, and most of all, for national progress.

The speaker touched on the various scandals which have come out in connection with the actions of public officials, especially in election scandals, and even in this he thought that the people should be thankful that evidences of wrong doing are being brought to light. It is a matter of duty for the people themselves to put a stop to these before they gain too strong a hold on the country. The condemnation should be decisive.

SAN JOSE SCALE

A well known fruit grower says that the San Jose scale is eating up nearly everything about Windsor. Many trees have been destroyed. E. H. Donnelly, of Sandwich, sustaining the greatest loss. He had to cut down one hundred peach trees. The fruit inspector is badly needed up here to stop the spread of the disease.

HE COMES TO CHATHAM

W. C. Armstrong Of Winnipeg Is Given A Rousing Send-off

MGR. OF DOMINION BANK

The following, referring to a man who is soon to become a Chathamite, appears in the Winnipeg Free Press: "Last evening a number of the merchants who are customers of the Dominion Bank, and friends and fellow employees, gave a complimentary dinner at the Empire in honor of W. C. Armstrong, who is retiring from the management of the north-end branch to take charge of the bank in Chatham, Ont. Arch. McLaughlin occupied the chair, and S. Lellan, the vice-chair. A very large number of guests were present.

After a well-served repast, the toast of the King was drunk, and the chairman called upon W. M. Gordon to propose the health of the guest of the evening.

Mr. Gordon spoke of the pleasure it gave him to testify to the splendid work of Mr. Armstrong. One of the great characteristics of the western land was, he said, its recurring transitions. A man might come to stay a little while, then come to remain a little longer. The west peculiarly afforded a stage where they could act a part in the changing scenes and then pass along in life's procession. The company had a pleasant function to perform in honor of their guest. Mr. Armstrong, who had been manager of the north-end branch for the last five years, had won the esteem of the banking fraternity and its merchant customers, and was now, to their personal regret, departing to occupy a higher position in Chatham. All their fine words of good-will might be forgotten, but they had decided to express their regard in a tangible form; namely, a gold watch and chain, which he asked Mr. Armstrong to accept as a token of their esteem. "As you look at it," he concluded, "and watch the changing seasons of time, may it remind you of the warm hearts here that will never change in wishing you prosperity and success in your work in Chatham."

CARING FOR CHILDREN.

In view of the agitation in Britain for the feeding of school children out of public funds, there is particular interest in a statement by Mr. C. C. Burlingham, chairman of the New York committee on Physical Welfare of School Children. He says that 189,000 children in the schools of New York City are either under-nourished or in need of medical, dental, or ocular care. He recommends the appointment of 300 medical inspectors to give each child a minute physical examination for weak eyes, defective hearing, lung trouble, adenoid growths, enlarged tonsils, under-nourishment or diseased teeth. While there is no public announcement as to what New York will do with its army of under-nourished children, its policy in this regard will be worthy of attention, for in school matters New York is lavish in the expenditure of money and careful to get its money's worth.

The Toronto News expresses the opinion that the benefits of a rigid and careful examination of children cannot be over-estimated. It should be a feature of the Public School system. For instance, it is said that very often a boy is incorrigible owing to an adenoid growth pressing on the brain. A simple operation may make a good citizen out of a bad boy gravitating towards the penitentiary. Again, it is said that children with enlarged or weakened tonsils—about one in every twenty-four—are more subject to diphtheria than others. Short-sightedness may be corrected if the child is taken in time. Juvenile deafness may be cured. Moreover, all these ailments, incipient or advanced, make against the success of the pupils and of the teacher also. It would do no harm for Boards of Education to get a report on the adequate medical inspection of Public schools.

After the heavy rain of yesterday, it will be a wonder if the new Government wharf at Jeanette's Creek is not washed away.

McGill, the ex-manager of the Ontario Bank has been arrested, and all that remains now is for the Globe to claim the credit.

Stratford is after a new industry with good chances for success. Stratford isn't after the only one there is to get, and there are sites in Chatham waiting for some of the others that are left. An active Board of Trade could accomplish much in the Maple City.

Some important changes have taken place in the editorial staffs of The Planet's Eastern Ontario exchanges. Mr. Stanley Dancey, who for the past three years has been City Editor of the Guelph Herald, has received the appointment as Editor of the Woodstock Daily Express, and Mr. Bert Costin, formerly connected with the editorial staffs of the Brantford Express and Courier, has been appointed to take Mr. Dancey's place on The Herald. Both are young newspaper men who have gained considerable fame as hustling news-gatherers and writers.

IT ISN'T NEEDED.

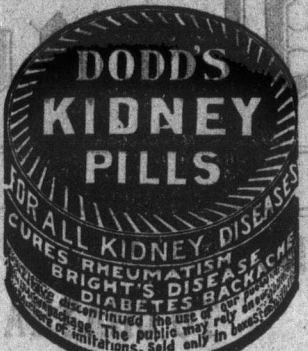

The Globe should call in its poster headline, "Who Wrecked the Bank, Mr. Foy?" Leave that kind of thing to the yellow press.

MUST HAVE BRAINS.

Hamilton Spectator.
A Toronto lady is quite anxious to be made a member of the advisory council to the minister of education, and she is being boomed by "many who realize the advisability of having a woman on this important council." If the lady has the proper mental equipment, we do not know of any reason why she should not be a member of the council; but the fact that she is a woman is no reason why she should be.

A BUSY PREMIER.

Ottawa Citizen.
Among the facts brought out in the London election is that Premier Walter Scott went up to London to do editorial work on the Advertiser when the last by-election was on. It will be recalled that the London by-election was expected to give an indication of public opinion on the Northwest bill, but evidently the Government had decided that public opinion was not going to be heard if it could help it. Of course, Hon. Walter Scott for personal reasons was particularly anxious that there should be no adverse decision against the minister of public works, so he took off his coat and got into editorial work again. With the pen of a Walter Scott and the even mightier argument of the $10 bill, public opinion, as represented by London, failed to make itself heard.

SUSPICIONS CONFIRMED.

Ridgetown Dominion.
Even the politically blind can now see how the Ross Government was kept in power from 1898 to 1905. The workings of the machine are now being exposed to the gaze of all men, and also the non-working of the provincial legal machine in charge of the Attorney-General of the day. As Mr. DuVernet put it, the machinery of the law was held in check to protect the rascals who went about the country purchasing votes, switching ballots and hobnobbing boxes in the interest of the Ross candidates.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

Horse Wanders, Man Falls and is Drowned in Boggy Land.
Kirkfield, Oct. 17.—Duncan McCallum, a farmer living near here, was drowned about 4 p. m. Monday, a mile and a half east of the village, on the flooded land near the Trent Valley Canal.

Spade. On returning from Lindsay with a box of dynamite, the horse turned off the road and walked down the embankment, and he fell over the front of the buggy and is supposed to have hit his head. He was found shortly after, but life was extinct.

Woman Killed on C. P. R.
Toronto, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Gregory, Macdonnell avenue, aged about 50, was struck by an incoming C. P. R. train at Brook avenue crossing at 9 o'clock last night. She was taken to the Western Hospital, where she died shortly after midnight. Her principal injuries were on the head.

Daniel Griffin, East Toronto, employed as a switchman by the G. T. R., was badly mangled by a car at Mimico last night. His foot caught in a "frog." Before he could extricate it a car backed down on him. His recovery is doubtful. He is 23 years of age and unmarried.

One Dead, Two Blind For Life.
Brookville, Oct. 17.—One man was killed and two badly injured at Lyon Mountain. The accident occurred in a mine and was caused by a drill striking an old charge of powder that had failed to explode. The victims are as follows: Frank Vistura was killed, and the injured men are Joe Secord and Anton Borato. The two latter are seriously, but not fatally hurt, but will be blind for life.

Strangled by Gas.
Barrie, Oct. 17.—John Armstrong, foreman of the Barrie Gas Co., was suffocated yesterday afternoon while at work. Armstrong had been with the company for about 30 years, and leaves a wife and a number of children.

Collision of Trolley Cars.
Toronto, Oct. 17.—A Belt Line car crashed into a Carlton and College, at Sherbourne and Carlton streets, last night, seriously injuring G. F. Watson, of 52 West Gerrard street, who was standing on the rear platform of the car which was struck. Another man sustained slight injuries to his back. Watson is a married man, of about 44 years of age. He will probably recover.

Don't you want to be rid of that nagging, biting, torturing pain across the back and through the kidneys? Don't you want to sleep through the night without being disturbed by the sick kidneys? Don't you want to feel well and be well? Here's the way:

I suffered from pain and stiffness in the back. Sharp pains would catch me unexpectedly, which were sometimes so severe as to produce fainting spells. Rheumatism followed, and the sharp pains were so severe that I had to take to the bed for several months. I started to take Gin Pills, and in five days I was up and around the house. My pains are gone now, and I have not had a return of the old trouble since. And Gin Pills gave me the first painless passage of urine I have had in two years.

A QUIET BACHELOR.

Easygoing Brother of the Dead South African Croesus is One of the World's Rich Men.

By the death of his brother Alfred, Otto Belt, a bachelor, aged 40, becomes practically the richest man in England—certainly the richest untitled citizen. The fortune of the dead millionaire is conservatively estimated at any figure between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000, and as the bulk of this is left to his brother, Otto Belt must be regarded as the king of Englishmen of wealth.

It is lucky for Otto Belt that he had a brother possessing such tenacity of purpose—so keen, shrewd, and enterprising—because if left to his own initiative it is doubtful whether he would ever succeed in controlling millions. There were no two brothers who possessed more widely different characteristics. In the midst of all his financial worries and excitements the late Alfred Belt was always devotedly attached to his own family and relatives, and when fortune came he shared it liberally with them all. The happy-go-lucky disposition of his brother appealed to him, though he was himself one of the most matter of fact of men who ever invested a dollar.

Brothers Opposite as Poles.
"I have enough to establish us both as millionaires," he was once heard to say at a convivial gathering of South African millionaires. "Otto, if left to himself, might or might not work out his own fortune, but it is a thousand to one on the 'might not.' He might become the controller of a small store or something of that kind, but there is no material in him for a self-made millionaire."

Alfred was a man of method and determination in everything he had undertaken. Otto, on the other hand, was inclined to take things easy and let opportunities slide. Perhaps it was the feeling that his brother had accumulated sufficient wealth to supply the family wants a thousand times over and to keep their old mother in Ham-burg supplied with luxuries that caused him to incline more to the pleasures and enjoyments of society than he otherwise would.

There is no reason why he should not, so far as his mother is concerned, for the old lady lives monotonously at the family home in Germany and is apparently content with the life she leads. It was Alfred Belt's first ambition to secure for her.

Happy-Go-Lucky Croesus.
Immediately Alfred Belt saw the foundation of his own fortune laid, he shared all his confidences and the most of his investments with his brother, so that Otto Belt dropped into a millionaire's bag in 1889 quite as rapidly and quite as unexpectedly as he has now become a multi-millionaire. Although he has been personally acquainted with almost every detail of his dead brother's financial and industrial undertakings, he has taken no active share in directing or controlling them.

His brother used him as a sort of courier when important dispatches relating to hurried finance had to be carried between London, Paris, Berlin and South Africa. At the offices of the great firm of Wernher, Belt & Co., he was seldom seen. One of the heads of the departments, in detailing his experiences of the two brothers, said:

"The government, although most humane and considerate man, was excessively exacting in all matters relating to business. We always expected a rough time of it when we reached the office at 9.30 or 10 in the morning and found him already wading through piles of correspondence. When Otto took his place we always were prepared for an evening out; and to have what we liked in drinks and cigars."

Is Not a "Man About Town."

It would not be right to say that Otto Belt has been a man about town. He lacks the foolish extravagance of the "Johnnie," but he likes the theatre, the music hall, and the opera, both before and after the great show. It was once suggested that if he married at all he was sure to succumb to the fascinations of some one of the dozen or so beautiful actresses who were always ready to share his hospitality at one or other of the restaurants where he is wont to entertain.

While the new multi-millionaire is fond of life and the excitements of fashionable London, there is nothing objectionable in his manner of doing things. He dresses with great care, but resembles his late brother in his horrid jewelry. He carried sometimes a common oxidized metal watch to which was attached a leather strap held to his waist coat button hole by means of a buckle.

His tastes, however, are of a different order. His sport, from boxing, wrestling, billiard playing, to horse racing, and has now succeeded in his brother's racing stables in Germany, which are, however, of no great consequence. His patronage of sport is, however, more of the quiet, unassuming type than of the sensational extravagance of the youth who has just come into an unexpected inheritance. His luncheons, both at fashionable hotels and at his private residence, are distinguished for the absence of shady financiers, butterfly jockeys, and pretentious sports.

His Tastes Extremely Simple.
Unlike his brother, Otto does not believe in the early to bed and early to rise rule, but as he does not saturate himself with wine and keepain form by means of plenty of physical exercise, a little sleep satisfies him. "A dip in the lake in Hyde Park in the early morning is a luxury he never misses when he is in London. He and a couple of his dogs may be seen having their bath any morning during the summer months. In the choice of his food he is peculiarly simple in his habits, and prefers a chop or steak to anything else. For this reason he has no distinguished continental chefs or cooks of European fame on his premises at 49 Belgrave square. Incidentally, he inherits his brother's beautiful house in Park Lane, but it is understood that he is going to sell it.

While Alfred Belt was accumulating millions for himself and his friends his brother Otto was cultivating the society of London's proudest aristocrats. One was the financier, the other the slightly bohemian courier, and in this way the brothers succeeded in bringing together a variety of influential forces.

At the Briscoe Opera House—

A Trip to the Highlands—Oct. 19.
It may sound queer to say that despite my half dozen years in professional life, I have rarely seen any other performance than that by the company in which I happen to be playing. I have had no opportunity of hearing some of our greatest artists. Some day I think I shall remain idle one whole season and just live in the theatres as one of the audience. I always could sing but never contemplated a stage career until circumstances forced that means of livelihood upon me. As I remember it now, my first few weeks behind the footlights literally meant bed and then in my fright. After a little experience at Daly's Theatre, London, I started on a tour of the English provinces singing the contra roles in "A Country Girl" and "San Toy." After three years on the road, I decided to try my fortune in America and played my old part in "A Country Girl" here and here I am with "A Trip to the Highlands." After my present engagement terminates, I shall return to New York and prepare for a part that is now being written for me to be produced at Daly's Theatre.

Mrs. Rushman is an English girl with boundless ambition that with her voice, youth and beauty, will probably reach to the pinnacle of fame.

At the Briscoe Theatre on Monday, Oct. 22, will appear one of the largest New York productions, DeAlva's College Girls, a curious and pretty girls and a red hot show. They carry a lady band and orchestra, the only one of its kind that ever visited Canada. Watch for the street parade each day at noon.

Following from the Galt Reporter: "DeAlva's College Girls, the big musical production, held the boards at Scott's Opera last night. Before eight o'clock every seat was sold, and the large audience present was not disappointed. The opening prologue, 'Hunting for Hawkins,' was a perfect setting, and the opening chorus, 'College Life,' showed a good number of really pretty girls in splendid costumes. Miss Littlechild, the dainty little Southerner, sang a beautiful melody, and danced her way into the hearts of her audience. Billy Gibbs, as 'Hawkins,' the wise Janitor, is a show in himself; his songs, 'The Wise Guy,' 'The Good Ship Never Floats,' and 'The Sultan,' were splendid. The lady band and orchestra are of the highest type. The specialties were all good and the closing act, 'Shooting the Shoots,' was simply immense. The girls are a pretty lot of jolly girls, and it was a pleasure to enjoy the system. Next morning all is well. No cold, no time lost at school. If Polson's Nervine isn't in your home get it there at once. Dealers sell it in large 25c bottles.

MANY CHILDREN SICK.

Get their feet wet, catch cold or cramps, and give mothers an anxious time. With the first shiver or sneeze rub the little one's chest with Nervine, gargle the throat, and give ten drops in hot water at bedtime. Next morning all is well. No cold, no time lost at school. If Polson's Nervine isn't in your home get it there at once. Dealers sell it in large 25c bottles.

A Hyman Reception Echo.

In the afternoon the chief witness was Edgar Jefferys, a young bachelor, identified with organizational work before and during the campaign. Jefferys professed lack of knowledge of any campaign fund. Incidentally, was brought out the rather amusing fact that Hon. Mr. Hyman had contributed to the expense of holding reception in his own honor.

There is more Chatham in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven a truth to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Household Hints For Women

A TIMELY DISCUSSION OF THE SERVANT GIRL QUESTION.

(By Isabel Wilder.)

PERSONAL RIGHTS OF SERVANTS
From the position of the employer in the household, the existence of obligations to them is generally recognized, but any general idea as to the definition and scope of these obligations is extremely vague. Right here is a very delicate adjustment of personal and economic relations. The training that men have gotten in the business world, where the distinctions between personal and business relations are sharply drawn, has been almost unknown to women in the past, and their propensity to mix sentimentality, prejudice and personal caprice with all their business transactions is notorious.

In the economic relation, the employer owes to the employee a definite reasonable wage for a definite amount of service, and, since she is also the educator, she owes such training as shall bring efficiency. She is also under obligations to maintain proper conditions in the occupation for the preservation of health and social welfare. Such obligations certainly include a place to sleep, having the requisite amount of air space and sunlight, with comfortable and wholesome bed and proper facilities for bathing, etc. But this has been so entirely ignored that our homes have been built with "the girl's room" invariably in the most uncomfortable part of the house, and rooms that will be considered impossible for any other human being even casually spending the night in the house. They are frequently bare of even common necessities.

The position of those employed in this service, as dwellers under the same roof with their employers, gives the latter no more right to interfere in their private personal affairs than with those of her tailor. When the service for which she pays is properly rendered, economic rights end. It may be her privilege to suggest or wisely guide personal affairs, but it must be willingly granted her. Certain personal restrictions are necessarily imposed upon any one living in another's household, but they must be only such as any self-respecting person would naturally comply with, or they become intolerable.

The housekeeper who does her whole duty to those who are members of the household—may her tribute increase—rests serenely in the confidence of having performed the whole duty of woman. Nevertheless, every once in a while her home is invaded by the reprehensible methods of her neighbors, introduced by one of the nomadic host that forms the constant procession through our American kitchens, with uncomfortable and sometimes salacious results; or a sudden demand for an increase of wages from a carefully trained and reliable maid reveals the fact that some other housekeeper in the neighborhood, in dire stress of circumstance, or for a less honorable reason, has been tempted to offer higher wages. The good woman can not understand how she becomes the victim of such unpermitted disaster, and wonders "why people can't mind their own business and let her alone," and she forthwith goes to the intelligence office and fills the place of the competent, intelligent maid with a wholly inexperienced and untrained emigrant, at the same rate of wages she paid for competency, and the next order she sends to her grocer calls for an inferior quality of goods, because "such are good enough for an incompetent cook to spoil."

The whole course of human development has had a tendency to make women the conservative, self-centered being that she is, and through that characteristic the home, her special province, became and remained a supposedly self-sufficient social unit. Here she enshrined the deepest mysteries and sanctities of human life, rightly protected from public interference. As the manufacturer is entitled to keep secret the process whereby he combines raw materials into the finished product, but the plant and machinery so in the home, the life itself is a personal affair, but the machinery whereby it is carried on is a social affair. The housekeeper's responsibilities are not alone personal, but social and economic, and in her failure to recognize these latter lies the secret of much of the lack of success as employer.

RESPONSIBILITY TO THE PUBLIC.

In the days when everything the family needed, from physics to millinery, was produced in the home, and the distance between families was measured by a limitless expanse of air space, shot through with the radiant energy of sunbeams; when water supplies and drainage systems were the individual concern of each household, as were also the visitations of Providence in the form of typhoid or diphtheria, the home was a self-sufficing social unit. But when homes came to be laid up in strata hundreds of feet into the air, separated horizontally for miles by the thinnest walls that will stand upright; when few of the needs of the family are supplied either by their own production or the bountiful provision of Providence; when the very air to breathe is composed more largely of the refuse of human life and manufacture than of oxygen, sunshine is only coaxed and coaxed into being a casual visitor, and water supply and drainage systems are incomprehensible combinations of "traps and calamities," the individual home has come to be a part of a great aggregate of homes, dependent upon and responsible to every other.

In the days of simpler housekeeping the domestic wage-earner were few in number, and the ministrations of each individual were confined to one or at most perhaps a half dozen families, and it mattered comparatively little if the training consisted largely of unwholesome process of cooking and unsanitary methods of cleaning, since the mischief was not disseminated through a whole community, neither disease germs nor other results of crude experimenting were carried from family to family by the constantly moving stream of domestic employees we have to-day. The woman who raised the state of wages in her own household compels every other employer in her neighborhood to do likewise, either absolutely or by accepting inferior service, and this result follows whether her motive in so doing was to raise a wage unjustly low or to have herself of the efficiency acquired through some other woman's careful training, or whether it was done in pure thoughtlessness. The woman who takes into her employ, in place of a competent and well-trained cook or housemaid, an untrained and inexperienced one, at the same rate of wages, because the girl, through natural stupidity or ignorance of the ways of her adopted country, "is not up to the tricks of girls in general," or because the housekeeper wants to be able to "train her from the start," not only raises the relative rate of wages, but puts a premium on incompetency.

PROBING SUN LIFE

Large Contingent Fund
Defended By Actuary
Macaulay

LOSS AND GAIN SHOWN

Montreal, Oct. 17.—When the investigation was resumed in the morning, President Robertson Macaulay told the Commissioners that prior to 1901 the company was in the habit of charging in a lump 50 per cent. for expenses, but it was found that the expenses did not amount to so much and this was rectified.

Commissioner Kent severely criticized the bookkeeping methods of the Sun Life. The company keeps no cash-book, but a sort of journal in which items of accounts are entered.

Writing Up Profits.
Mr. Shepley continued with the profit and loss on investment account. T. B. Macaulay was on his stand. In 1903 a sum of $10,000 had been taken from profits on securities to lessen the apparent cost of some real estate investments, and large sums had also in that year been written off Detroit Telephone and Michigan Telephone when their properties were taken over by the Michigan State Telephone Co.

In 1904 a similar state of affairs existed. There was another $10,000 on real estate profit and loss. Another item of debt was $20,000 on interest on Ohio Street Railway bonds. The bonds had become worthless and the interest on them, which was never paid, was taken off profit on securities.

Agents' Advances Figures.
An item of $17,000 for agents' advances, which were non-collectable, also figured, and witness defended entering this because American companies did, and Commissioner Kent insisted that if agents were solvent advances should be repaid. Witness said that $30,000 profit on Illinois traction bonds had been supplied to wiping out these advances to agents.

In 1904 a share of the profits on investments was paid to shareholders, although arrangement had been altered previously. They were paid 5 per cent. of profits for the last four years. The company thought the 5 per cent. on their investments was not enough for the shareholders.

Writing Down Bonds.
In the year 1905 the writing down of bonds had been largely practiced, and there were items of $5,000 for special expenses re securities, and $1,000 traveling expenses for selling them.

About $558,000 had been wiped off for losses in securities. Mr. Shepley remarked this, but witness said, these were not necessarily losses. The company was doubtful about them and money enough to put these securities out of assets in the meantime. He gave as an instance the case of Ohio bonds, which are now worth $375,000, although wiped off in 1904.

Undesirable Assets.
There was a warm discussion between witness and Mr. Shepley as to the advisability of the company keeping such large amounts of their assets undeclared and without profit to policyholders. Witness said that the Sun Life had now $3,000,000 of contingent account, and it was each year accumulating.

Mr. Shepley noted that the growth of the contingent account was outstripping that of divisible profits, but Mr. Macaulay contended that there had never been complaint on this score from policyholders.

No Votes For Policyholders.
Commissioner Kent sprung a surprise on the witness by asking one of his usual questions, "Would you be in favor of giving policyholders votes in the company?"

Mr. Macaulay: "No, the shareholder is liable for more money, and it would be fair to put policyholders on an equal basis."
When policyholders vote by proxy their votes are controlled by agents, and in that case the management cannot be ousted. If they vote by franchise all but those who live in the vicinity are deprived of the right by their distance from the place of meeting.

Ideal Management.
The ideal management is when those in charge of the affairs of a company find enough of the stock that cannot be easily sold, and yet not enough to make them inflexible.

Mr. Shepley asked whether it was the intention of the Sun Life to have the growth of contingent account outstrip that of divisible assets.
Mr. Macaulay said that he wanted the contingent fund to be as large as possible, as it was the strength to the company, but they wanted the increase of divisible assets to go hand in hand with it.

An Heroic Encounter.

London, Oct. 17.—News has just reached England from La Chaud of a case of almost unparalleled bravery on the part of British naval troops, who, under the leadership of a black corporal, held at bay for over two hours, and subsequently drove off with considerable loss, a force of Tuareg outlaws, who outnumbered the defenders by nearly 80 to 1.

Law Kind to Lehmann.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 17.—James B. Lehmann, who was arrested here last week, charged with being connected with the recent smuggling of Chinese from Newfoundland into the United States, on the schooner yacht Frigate, has been released. There were no grounds on which to take Lehmann to Boston, owing to the conflicting international laws.

Hamar Greenwood Dined.

Toronto, Oct. 17.—Dining and hearty was the greeting tendered to Hamar Greenwood M.P. for York, by the Whitty Old Boys Association last night in the St. Charles on the eve of his departure for England. Well on to 80 of his old school mates and fellow townsman sat down, and reply Mr. Greenwood sought the depths of many happy memories.

Gen. Lyttleton Exonerated.

London, Oct. 17.—The War Office issued Monday night its decisions in the cases of officers involved in the South African war stores scandals.

Gen. Sir Neville Gerald Lyttleton, chief of the general staff, and first military member of the army council, is completely exonerated, secretary of War Haldane and the army council concluding that it was impossible for Gen. Lyttleton to supervise the system of supply while commanding the troops.

Several officers are censured and others reduced without pay allowed retired officers. Many others are exonerated and restored to service.

Double Suicide in Hamilton.

Hamilton, Oct. 17.—Monday evening Andros Enveloudes, a Dane, and his wife, who came to this town time ago from Palmerston, drank carbolic acid, and their dead bodies, lying side by side on their bed at 11 Keith street, were not found till yesterday morning. They were about 63 years of age. The wife was an invalid, and at all places where the husband applied for work he told that he was too old. Completely discouraged, they decided to end their lives.

READ AND YOU WILL LEARN

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, as the strongest remedy possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of all chronic and long-standing cases of catarrhal affections, and their results, as bronchitis, catarrh of the bladder, etc., and it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root, Queen's root, etc., which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Barlow, of Jefferson Medical College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. Coll., Philadelphia; and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for life purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than a hundred times its cost in testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merit. A glance at this published formula will show that the "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous or harmful agents and no alcohol—chemically pure, bromine-free, glycerine-free, and entirely free of any objectionable ingredients. It is a most useful ingredient in the cure of all stomach and liver troubles, and of all chronic affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glycerine extract of the most medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

The Vinegar Bible.

The "Vinegar Bible" was thus named from a ludicrous typographical blunder in the "parable of the vineyard" in the twelfth chapter of Luke, being made to read the "parable of the vinegar." This edition of the Bible was published in 1717, and most of the copies were destroyed by the publishers, though several got into circulation before the blunder was discovered. It is asserted that not more than a dozen copies of this book are now in existence.

WITNESS JOHN A. TO PRISONER

Sudden Translation Of Tom Lewis In Bribery
Case

THE BRIBES RECEIVED

Toronto, Oct. 17.—"Tom" Lewis, erstwhile proprietor of the Normandy Hotel, London, and, by the statements of a number of witnesses, an active participant in the wholesale bribery of voters, was placed under arrest on a charge of perjury at the conclusion of evidence given by him in the witness box yesterday afternoon. Mr. Robinson used vigorous arguments in an attempt to induce Magistrate Denison to allow the prisoner to be released on bail, but the magistrate declined to do so, pending instructions from the crown to the effect that Mr. DuVernet was unable to get into communication with Hon. Mr. Foy last night, and Lewis remains in custody for the present.

Transition Was Sudden.

The transition in the role played by Lewis from that of witness to the one of a prisoner charged with a serious offence, was startlingly sudden. For the space of one and a half hours during which Lewis was in the box he did little else than deny the truth of the depositions of other witnesses indicating bribery on his part in the London bye-election, and on previous elections in other ridings. The cumulative effect of all this testimony was staggering, but the witness held his ground against it and gave the court the assurance that never at any time in his life had he bribed a voter. So puny appeared Lewis' attempt at controversy that Magistrate Denison later in refusing bail declared that it was "the worst case of perjury I have heard of in many a day."

Take Him Into Custody.

It was as Lewis turned to leave the box that the crisis came. Magistrate Denison in a low voice directed Constable Macdonald to take him in custody. Lewis' features were impassive as he made his way to where he had been sitting on the east side of the court room, picked up his hat and was removed at the entrance of the prisoner's dock by two constables.

The information sworn out against Lewis charges that he had been "unlawfully and being a witness, in a judicial proceeding, namely, a charge of conspiracy against John O'Gorman and others, being investigated before the said George Taylor Denison in open court, made assertions as to matters of fact and knowledge as part of his evidence upon oath, such assertions being known to such witnesses to be false and being intended by him to mislead the said magistrate holding the said proceeding."

Canada Must Be Blind.

Toronto, Oct. 17.—"When I think of the great portion of Canadian commerce which is not going through your own ports, I marvel at your blindness—or perhaps apathy in the better word. For I am sure you know that the ports of Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore are getting the bulk of Anglo-Canadian traffic that should be handled by your ports alone."

5,000,000 Britishers Lost.

London, Oct. 17.—(O. A. In the last 40 years eight millions of emigrants were allowed to discard British allegiance."

Half Sick

When your nerves are weak, when you are easily tired, when you feel all run down, then is the time you need a good strong tonic—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Your doctor will tell you why it has such power over weak nerves, why it makes the blood rich, and why it gives courage and strength. Ask him if it is not just the medicine you need.

ORGANIZE ICE PLANT

Plans are under way to have an artificial ice plant in Windsor. A meeting of the hotelmen and butchers was held in the Curry Block Tuesday night, when a committee of three was appointed to find out the cost of a plant, to get capital interested, either from this city or on the other side, or see if the Murphy Co., who are erecting an immense ice plant in Detroit, would look over the possibilities that the Windsor field offers. The project should be under way before a month, the hotelmen and butchers declare, so as to have the ice supply secure for next spring.

John Turner attended a meeting of Oddfellows of District No. 3 held in Thamesville last evening, where the three degrees of the Subordinate Lodge were exemplified by the Florence, Newbury and Glenora lodges. The work was done in a very efficient manner, which brought forth congratulations from all present. After the degree work was finished the Rebekahs served a delightful luncheon and a very enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

HORSEMEN'S MEETING

A meeting of horse breeders has been called to meet in Harrison Hall on Friday, Nov. 2nd, to discuss with the commissioners recently appointed by the Ontario Government the raising of the standard of the horses in this country, and an inspection for a license. J. R. Longmore, secretary of the West Kent Farmers' Institute, has been notified that W. Smith, Columbus, Ont., and T. Graham, Toronto, will arrive here on the 27th inst., and on that day and 29th and 30th will make an inspection of the studs in this county, and on Oct. 31st and Nov. 1st and 2nd they will be taken in charge of by J. THREE SMALL FIRES

On Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 the firemen were called out by telephone alarm to the Pere Marquette round-house, where a large pile of slabs had taken fire presumably from a spark from a passing engine. The fire was in dangerous proximity to the round-house building, but was extinguished by the firemen before it had a chance to spread. The damage to the slabs will amount to about $25.

At six o'clock Wednesday evening the department was again called out. This time to the rear of Masse's clothing store, where a bon fire started on some rubbish threatened danger to the buildings nearby. The blaze was put out before any damage resulted.

Yesterday morning at ten o'clock clouds of dense smoke were noticed issuing from the Bank of Commerce building, King street. The fire department was notified and on investigation being made, it was found that the smoke was coming from the furnace in the basement of the building. The flue had become blocked in some manner. The interior of the bank was somewhat damaged by the smoke.

MARY AND HER LAMB

No. 5
Mary has a little lamb,
It's fleece, once white as snow,
Wears now the rainbow's glorious hues,
For Mary made it so.

P.S.—"ECLIPSE DYES did it," confessed Mary. "Isn't the old fellow just too gaudy for anything? Red, White and Blue. I bought them at RADLEY'S. You can dye twice for 5c. with Eclipse Dyes—twice as often, twice as easily, and twice as well."

POLICE COURT CASES

Frank Johnson, a Sued, was arrested for being disorderly. When he was searched it was found that he was carrying a gun. His fine in the Police Court this morning was $25 and costs, $29 in all. He did not have the money so he took a month in jail.

Arthur Carter was gathered in this morning, charged with being drunk. He will likely come up this afternoon.

The young lad who entered John Ross Walker's house the other night and stole a pocket book and $10 has been located. He confesses to the crime, and will come up this afternoon. He was very much offended that the account of his deed found its way into the papers. He is 16 years of age, and works at O'Brien's cigar factory. He has burned the pocketbook. He undertook to stop Judge Housh on the street to tell him that he was offended that the police gave the account of the robbery to the newspapers.

A farmer named Parks, who lives in Raleigh, called at the police station this morning to notify the police that he was held up yesterday afternoon at the Tecumseh House. He was in having a drink and had just stepped out of the bar-room when he was attacked by some unknown person and his watch and money were taken away from him. He received a black eye in the scuffle. He had no idea of the identity of the man who assaulted him. P. C. Dezela is investigating the matter this afternoon.

Wm. Sherring, of Hamilton, the world-famed winner of the Marathon race, the proud son of Canada, who, aside by the Crown Prince Constantine—who ran the finishing portion with him—came first to the Stadium at Athens in the great race, has since his return told how Zam-Buk, the great herbal balm, helped bring the honor to Canada. Speaking to a Hamilton Herald representative, he said:

"While training for my great Marathon race at Athens I used Zam-Buk, and it proved a great boon to me. I have used it both as an embrocation and as a salve for chafing sores, bruises caused by stepping on to stones while running in light shoes, and other bruises, and have found it the best salve and ointment I have ever tried. Its healing powers are exceptional, and for general household use it should be a wonderfully fine curative. I have pleasure in expressing my appreciation of its value."

Sherring is undoubtedly right, for as a household balm Zam-Buk has no equal. Zam-Buk is to be regarded as much as a skin food as a medicine. When skin disease, such as eczema, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, etc., occur, the skin needs increased vigor to overcome the evil. Zam-Buk provides it. When you sustain a cut, a burn or a bruise the surrounding tissue has to do extra work to overcome the damage. Zam-Buk helps it. Ever since the dawn of creation vegetable essences and extracts have been the proper sources of human medicine, and in Zam-Buk is found a blending of the finest herbal extracts it is possible to obtain.

Sufferers from any of the above mentioned skin diseases should give Zam-Buk a thorough trial. This unique balm is also a cure for chapped hands, chilblains, sore nipples, eczema, eruptions, itching, scaling sores, etc. It eases the pain and the itching of piles, and stops the bleeding. For skin rashes, ringworm or scalp sores in children it is an effective remedy, and for all purposes to which a household balm may be put is unequalled. All druggists sell it at 50c a box or post-free from the Zam-Buk Company, Toronto, on receipt of price—3 boxes for $2.50. Write for free sample box, sending one-cent stamp to pay return postage.

KENT BRIDGE.

Geo. Langford, Jr., made a flying visit to Toronto last week.
Rev. Mr. Marka, of Bothwell, was a Sunday visitor in the village.
Ed. Worth, Jr., is home on sick leave.
A couple of our fair citizens were evidently emulating Ridgeway races en route to a near-by town one day last week. They were driving a spirited horse, which took flight, leaving the carriage in the ditch, one of the erstwhile occupants sustaining a sprained wrist, the other sundry scratches and bruises. The return journey was made in a hired conveyance and, doubtless, racing will henceforth be left to the sterner sex in Kent Bridge.
Fred. Ruseborough, of Wallaceburg, spent the week end at his home here.
A number of Kent Bridge supporters attended the football game vs. Lacorix street on Saturday. A good game was witnessed, Lacorix street team being supplemented by a number from the once famous Darrell team. In spite of this fact, the boys in orange and green kept them busy, Kent Bridge scoring two goals to Lacorix street's one. It was remarkable on the field that before Cunningham did not show such strict impartiality this time, as has ever been his wont, but favored the city team in some of his decisions. However, this does not seem consistent with the fair and able judgments he has hitherto accorded every team.

A trio of jubilant football enthusiasts collided with another rig on their return Saturday evening. Two of the occupants were hurled out, while the other managed to curb the fiery steed. No serious damage resulted.

LAW WILL BE INVOKED

County Crown Attorney Drayton To Act Re Ontario Bank

PROCEEDINGS BEGUN

Toronto, Oct. 17.—The Attorney-General's Department have asked County Crown Attorney Drayton to take steps toward an enquiry into the affairs of the Ontario Bank.

There will be no hurried measures, but when sufficient facts are known the law will be invoked in whatever directions may seem warranted.

Ministers Won't Talk.
A meeting of the Ontario Cabinet was held yesterday afternoon, at which were present the Premier and the Hon. Messrs. Poy, Pyne, Matheson, Reame, Coghlan, Monlith and Hendrie. Besides routine business the only topic which came up appeared to be the Ontario Bank disaster, but none of the Ministers would discuss the point.

The Provincial Treasurer, Hon. Mr. Matheson, said that the Government deposit, amounting to about $79,000, had been formally removed to the Bank of Montreal.

Ex-Manager Charles McGill is assisting the officials in their investigation of the affairs of the bank. It is understood that he has turned over all his property to the bank, including his life insurance policies. The latter will ensure to the benefit of the shareholders, and are not included in the transfer to the Bank of Montreal.

Shareholders Want to Know.
There is a general feeling among officials that the wreck may not be so complete as supposed. One of the directors has expressed a belief that the shareholders may, in the end, receive 75 cents on the dollar.

This has led some of the shareholders to ask why they were not given the opportunity to save their interests by reorganizing and strengthening the bank and carrying it on as a going concern. They consider $150,000 for the business and good will to be ridiculous.

A meeting of the shareholders was called for yesterday to ratify the transfer to the Bank of Montreal, but it was postponed until the board of directors can submit some more definite statement.

To Institute Recovery Proceedings.
A very considerable number of shareholders have already instructed their solicitors to institute proceedings against the directors to recover any loss that they may sustain by reason of their performance of duties as may be provided by the act.

Manager Brathwaite left for New York last evening. It is said that he will be appointed receiver of the assets of the Ontario Bank on deposit with the Fourth National Bank of New York, and certain securities also deposited with that bank as collateral.

STOP LANDING OF HINDUS.

Vancouver Police Guard Government Immigration Sheds.
Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 17.—Acting on instructions from Mayor Burnside, the Vancouver police are guarding the Dominion Government immigration detention sheds on the waterfront to prevent the landing of the Hindus now held there.

The local objection to the Hindus immigration has reached an acute stage here, and is similar to that which marked the Chinese exclusion several years ago is anticipated. The steamer Empress of Japan brought in over 100 Hindus Monday; none being allowed to land.

Negro Artist Wins Harris Prize.
Chicago, Oct. 17.—Henry Tanner, a negro artist, has been awarded the N. W. Harris prize of $500 for the best painting at the 19th annual exhibition of American paintings, which will open at the Art Institute today.

The decision on Mr. Tanner's "Two Disciples at the Tomb" was unanimous. The picture shows the faces of Peter and John before the Saviour in a fine light playing across their features, which are marked with expectancy while awaiting the fulfillment of the promise that had been made them.

Will Co-operate With Canada.

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—Dr. Rutherford, veterinary director-general, and livestock commissioner for Canada, has returned from Washington, where he spent some days in consulting with veterinary experts in regard to the enforcement of quarantine regulations on the international railway, and other matters. He found the United States officials quite willing to co-operate with Canada in preventing the spread of disease.

Aldrich Wiped Out By Fire.

Brooklyn, Oct. 17.—The little hamlet of Aldrich, on the line of the Carthage and Adirondack Railway, was wiped out the night of a few days ago. The fire started in the dry kiln of the Aldrich Lumber Co., and, fanned by a heavy wind, spread rapidly, taking in turn the residential portions and several houses. The lumber yard was reduced to ruins.

G.T.P. Can't Get Labor.

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—The Transcontinental Railway Commissioners left yesterday for the west. They learn that great difficulty has been experienced in securing labor for the construction of the transcontinental line eastward from Winnipeg to Superior Junction, and will look into the complaint.

Judge Stevens Dead.

St. Stephen, N. B., Oct. 17.—Judge Stevens, one of the most prominent men in the province, died yesterday after a lengthy illness. He was an enthusiastic member of the local Presbyterian church, and in the work of the general assembly. He was a grandson of Sir Colin Campbell of Argyll.

The Council considered the township not liable, but offered to aid in the construction of a ditch which would prevent the overflow. The claimant would not agree and had the Township served with summons for $60 damages.
