6-0. LIMITED 0000000000 .95 er you better value

UST 13, 1904;

ty. It you want your opportunity. le, in fancy stripe , perfect workman -value at $9.00, but a considerable $2.89

Vol. LIV. No. 7

NOTICE.

voluntary liquidation.

in the Union present.

members can display activity.

successful organized bodies in

THE LATE POPE LEO XIII -

His Holiness Pius X, has appointed

Commission composed of Cardinals

angements for a great Irish convention to be held in New York. August

80th and 31st, are now almost completed. It is expected that this convention will be the largest and most race ever held in America. Carnegie

grand public demonstration on Sun-

given to details.

work.

s wish to see their . We have never an extremely low

oth in a splendid yles, well mede and sale $2.89

's 59c

special offering, be-ing in material, or ut 50 dozen Men's y stripes, floral and The best of them ce..... 590

oods. want at Carsley's, ble. Prices are

Lacrosses 69c mmocks. 29c ls. 124c ts. 45c ocks. 69c ance of Season

LOVES ABRIC.

Real Kid Gloves, ades of tans, modes, and white, fancy sizes 5½ to 7. Sale ality Lisle Thread gray, champagne, ite silk applique, to 7. New Manage-

0000000000 ;0. LIMITED

country or seae renovated and order; Bedding

BUILDING. t. Catherine St

ins, Drapes,

Everything

good boys- as and when you day you will be eighty-one girls this past week, our train when n. Next week aken by more and so on to rt in his breast pon the eager

day evening, August 28th. fellows-some of τy, ι d two of his c

ca of the Lateran.

MONTREAL, SATURDAY, AUGUST 20, 1904.

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE IS PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY THE TRUE WITNESS P. & P. CO., Limited.

S Busby Street, Montreal, Canada. P. O. Box 1158. STBSCRIPTION PRICE-City of Montreal (delivered), $1.50; other parts of Ganada, $1.00; United States, $1.00; Newfoundland, $1.00; Great Britain, Ireland and France, $1.50; Belgium, Italy, Germany and Australia, $2.90. Terms, payablein Mance. All Communications should be addressed to the Managing Director, " Taux Wir-m" P. & P. Co., Limited, P. O. Box 1138.

EPISCOPAL APPROBATION.

"If the English-speaking Catholics in Montreal and of this Province consulted their set interests, they would soon make of the "True Witness" one of the most proparous and weerfal Catholic papers in the country. I heartily bless those who encourage this excellent "† PAUL, Archbishop of Montreal."

of the Liverpool Protestant Cathedral, the corner-stone of which laid by the King a few days ago, At a recent meeting of the share is a Catholic.

holders of the True Witness Printing and Publishing Company, Limited, YOUNG MEN'S INSTITUTE .it was decided to place its affairs in There is an example in the following item of news from Columbus, O. Elsewhere in this issue we publish concerning the erection of a home for an advertisement in which the Liqui-Catholic young men and that is the dator asks for tenders for the assets. practical support which the project is receiving from sister organizations

The item is : TEMPERANCE CAUSE .-- The Ca The Young Men's Catholic Institute tholic Total Abstinence Union of the of St. Mary's parish have just bought United States held its annual cona property on the corner of Third vention in St. Louis, Mo., last week and College streets, which they will There were delegates from every state turn into a complete and up-to-date club house. The contributions so far have been most generous. "They are as follows : Knights of St. John, The President, Rev. Walter Shanley in the course of his inaugural address, pointed out the importance of $1000; St. Paul's Young Men's Soawakening an interest in the regular ciety, $1000; St. Joseph's Court, C. 0.F., $500; Ladies' Auxiliary, $200; meetings of all affiliated societies. He said they ought to be well-springs St. Frances Romana Society, $150; of energy, inspiring enthusiasm, and the committee of twelve men who will make up the board of officers, clearly defining the lines in which The $650.

smallest details of organization should not be disregarded. The most PUBLICITY .- A striking lesson of the value of publicity is afforded by spheres of life, whether commercial or the success which the annual festival political, scientific or social, are known as the Oireachtas, held in the those in which special attention is leading city of Ireland, has achieved during recent years in the new move-A most commendable feature of de ment for the preservation of tail work is the division of societies Irish language. In seven years, says into bands of ten or twenty, and the assignment of officials to take charge a contemporary, a wonderful change has come to pass. At the beginning of the subdivisions, whose duty it of that period it seemed almost impossible to awaken general interest in the Oireachtas. The secular press, shall be to maintain interest, to secure attendance at the meetings, the which measures every event by the popular view, paid scarcely any atpayment of dues, and to enlist individuals in their charge in practical tention to the festival. Now the columns of the Irish papers are filled with accounts of the proceedings. The institution has developed into an affair of national importance at which the Irish people, wherever re-

Agliardi, Ferrata, Rampolla, Satolli, and Tripepi, to undertake the siding, desire to be represented. The supervision of the erection of the sum of $2000 is expended in prizee, monument of Leo XIII. in the Basilifor which there are about a thousa competitors, Recently, as briefly noted in our Irish notes elsewhere in this issue, Dublin was filled with THE IRISH CONVENTION .- Ardelegates from Irish provinces, from England, Scotland, and Wales, and even from the most distant colonies Day after day they were occupied at the Rotunda with competitions, entertainments, ceremonies and dis-cussions. The festival must exercise representative gathering of the Irish dis a powerful influence in favor of Hall has been taken by the Council the of the United Irish League for a old stongue. The competitions along stimulate talent in a notable way, and thus tend to enrich Irish litera-Mr. John Redmond, M.P., leader of ture with lasting contributions.

down the river on Monday iast Rev. Father Strubbe, C.SS.R., St. (Lady Day). It was well patronized Ann's parish. The pastor of (Lacy Day). It was well patronized Ann's patish. The pastor of St. by the members and their families Michael's has issued no special invi-and friends. The weather was de-tations for the caremony, but now, Hightful, and the varied programme of through the columns of the "True music and song provided by the com-mittee of the Society was very much tion to all friends. The St. Denis enjoyed.

Urne

12.0 A NEW HOUSE .- The Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament on Mount Royal Avenue have erected a new and attractive-looking brick and stone building on the corner of their extensive grounds adjuining their Church. It is intended for a new home for their printing plant use in the publication of their monthly reviews, of which they publish not less than four in the French Janguage, and one of which has the large circulation of 33,000. Those brothers of the Order with a few lay-PERSONAL .- Rev. Daniel P. Mc-"True Witness." Father the Mc-Church, Biddulph, a prosperous farming township within a distance of 13 rish there are nearly two hundred families. On one road-known under the farms are owned and occupied by Irish Catholics who are successful and well to- do. In answer to a Catholic Irish Canadian youth.

question as to the number of paro-chial societies in existence in his parish, Father McMenamin stated that they had branches of the C.M.B.A. Third Order of St. Francis, The Holy Rosary and League of the Sacred Heart. In connection with the lat ter there are fifty promoters who represented 750 associates. Asked if the young men remained on the farms, Father McMenamin replied in the affirmative, adding that he advised his parishioners to adopt the idea of "Home Rule" and developing the resources of the locality by maining at the old homesteads on the farm. Father McMenamin during his stay in Montreal, was fortunate in securing a relic of Ireland's patron saint, which he intends to have set in an artistic reliquary in much the same style as the one placed in position by the late lamented pastor of St Patrick's, Rev. John Quinlivan, this city, many years ago. ' In addition to the relic of St. Patrick. Father McMenamin has made arrangements for a number of artistic altar orna ments for the shrine of Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception in his parish Church, to the decoration of which he is devoting much attention, jubilee of the definition of the dogma

C.M.B.A. CONVENTION -The delegates of the English-speaking branches of the C.M.B.A. of Canada of this city who will attend the convention to be held in Toronto next Curran, B.C.L., Thomas Lynch, Jno.

In local circles of the Association

A SUCCESSFUL EXCURSION. - place to-morrow (Sunday) at 3 The parent temperance organization o'clock. Very Rev. Father Lecoq, of this city, St. Patrick's T. A. & B. Society, held its annual excursion and the sermon will be preached by St. street cars pass in front of the site of the new church.

ST. PATRICK'S SCHOOL .- During several weeks past a number of workmen have been engaged in making alterations and renovating the Catholic High School building on Lagauchetiere street, preparatory to its occupation by Brother Prudent and his able staff of confreres numbering in all eleven. On Monday of this week they took possession and when, a representative of the "True Witness" visited the establishment ha engaged in the establishment are lay eheld a scene of animation and enthusiasm which indicates that St.

Patrick's School, under its new roof will achieve a triumph unprecedented in its long history. The various Menamin was one of the callers of classrooms and other apartments in the week at the editorial rooms of their new dress look neat and cheerful, and as your representative saw Menamin is pastor of St. Patrick's them on Tuesday occupied by the friends of Catholic youth of every station of life he realized that 'an miles of London, Ont. ' In his par opportunity was about to be afforded to the parishioners of the mother Irish parish church of Montreal to the name of the "Roman Line," all build up an educational establishment which would be a powerful aux-iliary in their midst in training the

There are many changes in the interior arrangements as your representative saw them a few years ago and again this week; there are also new features characteristic of the life of religious communities which will afford striking object lessons to youthful minds .. It is the intention to have eight classrooms ready for occupation when the term opens during the first week of September. Of the personnel of the teaching staff much might written in terms of prajse. But it is guite unnecessary more than to mention the fact that they are not excelled by any similar educational establishment in Montreal.

The laity of the old parish have a school second to none in its appointments and it is for them to show their appreciation of the efforts made in their behalf.

CATHOLIC UNITY .-- A distinguished of Catholics in a non-Catholic city, once said :- "I find here a number of large parishes with its priest at its head, and its good and true men as officers and committee, and all banded together in one grand union which will be able to speak and to act with in honor of the approaching golden the whole weight of a great Catholic community behind it. Whilst exclud-jects are briefly, public institutions of education and charity, material help to missions, and fellowship "In the nineties an Irishman named among all Catholics of the city. It Malone is said to have performed a is an association which carries with it no menace to anybody. Its mem-ning a quarter of a mile in fortybers do not want to shirk one single six seconds, but there is no mention civic duty or to encroach by a hair's of that performance in the official breath on the liberty of a single fel- guide. low-citizen."

wa, of Mrs. J. J. Hayes and Miss gallant Tipperary. He crossed the Lizzie Brennan, this city. She was also a miece of Mrs. M. P. Ryan, with whom she resided for many years prior to her marriage. During her residence in Montreal Mrs. Whitton made hosts of friends, and was a prominent figure at all socials and bazaars held in aid of our charitable. institutions. She is survived by five sons and two daughters. R.I.P.

Elitness

IRISH ATHLETES.

John Flanagan, holder of the world's hammer throwing record, added a foot and three inches to the former best figures by hurling the sixteen pound missile an even 173 sixteen pound missile an even feet at Celtic Park, New York, on a recent Sunday.

This marvellous performance was accomplished at the games for the benefit of the Christian Brothers' Training College, Clontarf, Dublin, Ireland, and was witnessed by seven thousand persons, attracted by the very cream of metropolitan athletic performers.

Thomas F. Lonergan, a noted athlete in the East, gives an interesting account of athletics, in which he shows that the Celt has long been first in the field.

"For centuries, owing to unceasing warfare, confiscations and penal laws, the Irish Celt had no time or inclination to indulge in athletic sports. But in the early seventies a genuine athletic revival in Ireland began. The Irish Champion Club was established in 1873, which introduced to the public for the first time the Davin brothers of Tipperary. Thomas Davin was the first man in the British isles to clear six feet in the running high jump, and Maurice Davin in that same year made several records with the fifty-six pound weight and the sixteen-pound hammer, which he held up to a few years ago. 1878 their younger brother "In Patrick achieved a great feat in the running broad jump, clearing twentythree feet, which has been the world's record until recently, when Peter O'Connor of Waterford, cleared twenty-four feet, eleven and three-quarter inches-a feat yet to be beaten. "Daniel Shanahan is now

+h world's champion and record holder in the running hop, step and jump, of fifty feet one-calf inch, which was accomplished a few months ago. "M. F. Sweeney, who was born in the County Kerry, has maintained the best traditions of a race of jumpers, and holds the world's prelate in addressing an association cord in the running high jump of eix feet five and a half inches. Sweency came to this country when a child and he received his training under the stars and stripes. S. J. Chandler, record holder for the sianding three jumps of thirty-eight fect ten inches, is Irish of the Irish.

"One of the most remarkable jumpers that Ireland ever produced is K. ing party politics, I find that its ob-J. Newburn, of Dublin, who once cleared twenty-five feet eleven inches in a running broad jump ..

one putting are three Irish Celts, who the first saw the light of day in Munster

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Atlantic to compete for the all-round championship at St. Louis on the Fourth of July and made an excellent record. The Celt has made wonderful records in the all-round championships. Thomas F. Kiely has been the all-round champion of Great Britain and Ireland for several years. He holds eighty cham-pionships. He has made forty records and has won fifteen hundred prizes, and, to cap the chmax, he beat all the great American athletes at St. Louis on the Fourth, and is now the world's champion in all-round athletics. Kiely is the athletic marvel of our day and generation. He, too, is a Tipperary man. It seems that the premier county in Ireland, during the past fifty years, has produced as many famous athletes as all the other counties combined. Now, I do not refer to this in any spirit not refer to this in any spirit of county pride, because I do not believe in local or geographical distinctions. Every county, yes, every foot of Irish ground, is equally dear to me."

HOME FDR AGED POOR.

A new home for the aged poor was dedicated in San Francisco recently. It will be under the administration of the Little Sisters of the Poor. "The Monitor" of that city, in referring to the event, says :

The new Home is the munificent gift of Mr. Edward J. Le Breton, who not only gave the five acres of ground which surround the institution but built it in stone and brick and completely equipped it for the accommodation of 250 old people. The Home is a memorial to the parents of Mr. Le Breton.

The Home is three stories high, with a finished attic and basement, making it practically a five-story structure. It has been in course of construction for nearly two years pasta The material is brick and the style classic. It has a frontage of two hundred and thirty feet and the depth from the entrance to the rear of the chapel is two hundred and thirty-six feet. Its general design is in the form of two wings with connecting corridor from which entrance is gained to the chapel. In the northwest wing of the finished basement are the kitchens, refectories, store rooms, sculleries, refrigerators, etc. In the opposite wing are the assembly and smoking rooms. A completely equipped barber shop, mortuary and an efficient heating plant, in all about twenty rooms. On the main floor in the opposite wings are the men's and women's dining and sitting rooms, two large parlors, 'priests and doctors' lors, priests and doctors' rooms, vestiary community room and oratory. The chapel is cruciform, with a length of one hundred and twelve feet and thirty six feet in width. It has a seating capacity of nearly five hundred and is a beautiful structure. The second floor is the infirmary, with special dining rooms for men and women and dormitories for the infirm. The northwest wing is devoted to the use of the Sisters' infirmary. The third floor contains five years old, ng along upon much too pale-without feeling e to do some-

$2000, a beoul, toward the y house of its Catholics of induced to go tion some Sad watch these bling there- for the committee additional be-uch the hearts ny if they could and clambering ar attached to or if they could to to the farm at play in the at play in the places, or even ome again with sens and epples other treasures. Noy and a guest seat Bowman's mot be a boy us grand to hped to pay for ablic Standard

Patrick O'Brien, sailed yesterday from Liverpool. EXCURSION BOATS. -In refer-ring to an inspection of an excursion boat plying in the harbor of New York having a license to carry 3700 cum," an exchange says : "An examination showed that of the '3700 life preservers on board more than 2000 were wortbless. A life preserver is required to have sufficient buoyancy to sustain a dead weight of twenty-four pounds. An agues, Captain Donelan and Mr. ing Catholics to the now famous shrine of the Reparation at Pointe aux Trembles, to which it is said York having a license to carry 3700 passengers, which was no doubt brought about through the recent disaster to the excursion boat "Slo-cum," an exchange says: "An exchange says: heard in English in the Chapel and neard in English in the Chapel and Communion will be given during and after the Mass. In the afternoon the processional visit of the Stations of the Cross will take place, and Rev. Thomas Hefferman, St. Ahthony's, will be the preacher, delivering an ex-bortation at each station. Following the special business to be brought before the convention, such as the proposed increase in the rates, is awakening a good deal of discussion A veteran member of the parent branch of this city informed the "True Witness" that a professional insurance man has been at work on scales of rates for some time, and that some portions of them had been published. He expressed the opinion that the convention of next week

A PILGRIMAGE. — On Tuesday next the Fathers of the Blessed Sa-crament of Mount Royal Avenue will and J. Murphy. hold a pilgrimage for English-speak-

would be one of the most important in the history of the Association. There will be several interesting contests for the chief executive offices weight of twanty-four pounds. An impector tied twanty-four pounds. An inspector tied twanty-four pounds. Thomas Hefferman, St. Ahthony's. Wile the barracher, delivering an ar-horation at each station. Following this grand exercise will be a proces-sion in honor of the Blesset Virgin to the pow and besuiffui grotte of our Lady of Lourdet the most re-oant memorial erected on the grounds Those intending to join the pil-primage may take the Terminal elec-tric curs which pass mear the 'drill ball on Oralg street via Cadieux and other streets north direct to the strine. The fare is 25 certs. Should the weakter be unfavorable, the pil-grimage will take place on the Bri-day tollowing. It is said that the genial and 'elo-quent Grand President, Mr. M. F. Hackett, K.C., will be opposed by a member of the judjoiary of a 'well known name down by the sea. ST. MICHAEL'S PARISH. - Th

S.T. MICHAEL'S PARISH. - The many triands of St. Michael's parish will have an excellent opportunity of, seeing the progress made in the new Ohurch now in course of spectro hy attending the imposing ceremony of the blassing of a bell which will take

Such an association is calculated running distances are nearly all Celts to stimulate a true Catholic senti-ment that will command the respect of those outside the Church.

MASS ON SUNDAY.-Why do so great athletes, is singularly modest "In these opening years of the twentieth century, the world's chammany people attend Low Mass on Sunday? Because it does not oc-cupy much of their time. It is giving to God, grudgingly, the least pos-sible service in the forenoon of one day. There was a time when the heads of Catholic households their children felt it to be their duty a Limerick man. James S. Mitchell, to attend High Mass in their parish of Tipperary, has been the r.cord church.

LATE MRS. A. E. WHITTON

and Denis Hogan, the record holder of the sixteen-pound shot, of forty On Monday last a lady well known and highly esteemed in all circles of Montreal and particularly in our Irish Catholic parishes, Mrs. A. E. eight feet two inches, hails County Cork. It is at present a mooted guestion whether or not his

Irish Catholic parsider, Mrs. A. E. Whitton, passed away to ber reward after an illness of some duration, in New . York. Mrs. Whitton was a Gaughter of the late Mr. Martin Brennan, and sister of Mr. Patrick J. Brennan, of the Ojvil Service, Otta-

and

attic. The dormer windows of the latter give it an abundance of light and an extensive view from all sides "The record holders in the various Two brick outhuildings contain the steam laundry plant and the stables The Home is equipped with its own It is only necessary to mention Thos. electrical pumping works and artesian Joyce, and last, but greatest of them all, J. T. Conneff, who is a Ceit in well. The estimated cost of the Home is about $250,000.

from

IN VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION. FOR SALE.

dormitories and wards as does the holder for several years of the lifty-six pound hammer (with unlimited run) of thirty-eight feet five inches, Tenders will be received by the undersigned for the machinery, type and other equipment, office furniture, safe, etc., and also for the good will and subscription lists of "True Witness."

Permits to view the premises and other particulars may be had on ap-plication to the undersigned.

> C. A. MCDONNELL Liquidato 180 St. James Str. Nontre

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE

that Japan, through the actual war that has held so many surprises for world, is awakening great interst, the subject that most affect the state of religion -and es cially of the Catholic Church-- in that flowery land. In the years long gone we remember a First Commu-nion picture, in a part of which we saw a representation of the martyr dom of the Christian missionaries in Japan, and the casting of Christians children to the swine to be devoured That picture has ever since remained Whenever fixed in our mind. hear tell of religion in Japan that picture flashes before us. Yet, very changed are the conditions there Not long since His Holines Pius X. received in private audienc Mgr. . Mugabure, Coadjutor. sion, to the Bishop of right of s Tokio. The Bishop was enthusiastic in his account of the state of religion in that land. He said that at pre sent there is complete freedom of wor ship in all the Mikado's empire, an that recently the Catholics of Tokio. to the number of one thousand might be seen, accompanying th sed Sacrament in solemn proces sion through the streets of the capi We might add, by way tal. comment, that such is more than the Catholics would dare do in certain cities of Canada where the Orang element prevails, or in certain cities United States, where the A P.A. has left its slimy influence be hind. It is probable that the Ca tholics at present in Japan out number all the sects taken together although there are only one hundred and ten Catholic missionaries compared with over one thousand Protestant missionaries. Mgr. Mag abure declares that the Catholi priest is generally respected by the Japanese, who flock in crowds to to hear his conferences on the existen of God, the immortality of the soul and other doguna of our Holy Catho lic faith. Thus it is that the lightened though pagan race is be ginning to take in the rays of truth with the beams of civilization.

. . .

RELIGION AND POLITICS. - Th San Francisco Monitor remarks that questions of religion and nationality are losing some of the force that once attached to them in American national politics. It concedes that a Catholic nominee would stand juittl chance for the Presidential office but declares that the prejudice manifested against Catholics a decade ago is growing weaker and weaker in re lation to such positions as Senator ships. It admits there are localitie where a candidate with a recognized Catholic name could not be elected as poundmaster.

. .

GREGORIAN CHANT. -A summ school in which instruction may be given in Gregorian Plain Chant being talked of by English Catholics The Isle of Wight is suggested as a location.

SOCIETIES FEDERATE.-A fede ration of the Catholic societies has been formed in Scranton, with membership of eight thousand Bt Rev. Bishop Hoban is the moving spirit of the society. . . .

. .

THE CHURCH IN JAPAN. -Now gious associations, whose death oc curred last week, we noticed the fol owing paragraph, which ac some measure for his popularity. is to the following effect: "The story is told that one when he was Minister of the Interic number of carpenters called upor him who wished to form an as tion or guild for mutual benefit, but vere unable to do so because had no money. There was no put lic fund for this purpose, but Walder usseau, struck with their play himself advanced the nee amount. No papers were signed, no witnesses to the act were called, bu the money was returned upon th day appointed. He was thus th father of the first workingman's sociation for mutual benefit organiz ed in France, a movement that now reached vast proportions. Wal deck Rousseau's connection with i has given him a hold with the mas ses which his political opponent have never been able to shake. The working classes in France an elsewhere have had to pay dearly for such gifts from ambitious politician whose sole aim in making them is to promote their own selfish aims

. . .

ATHLETIC SPORTS. to which only a few years ago little attention was paid n Germany, are now being indulged in by very large numbers Tennis and football are perhaps mor popular than in the United States Athletic goods of all kinds are be ing imported into Germany England in considerable quantities

IRELAND'S CONDITION -From ime to time we are regaled with ac counts of the unsafe and unquiet condition of Ireland, the great dan ger there always lurks of the peace being broken, the terrors due to fierce character of the people, and a lot more of such like nonsense and invention. What is the cause of it all? The same old game of ' at tempting to make the world believe that the Irish are ungovernable and that Great Britain is amply justified in perpetually refusing to accord Ire land that which every civilized coun try in the world enjoys-that Home Rule, legislative autonomy, And yet we find that there is reall no foundation in truth for all such umors and assertions. Not long since we read of the riot in Armagh, on the occasion of the consecration of the Catholic Cathe dral n that city. Although it was notorious that the Catholic element could not have been the cause such disturbances, yet it has been pointed to, by extremists in the North, as an evidence of the unruly conduct and lack of self-governing principles on the part of the Irish people. Only the other day, at the opening of the Assizes, Lord Justice

Valker congratulated the Grand Jury on the state of the country, as indicated by only one case fo Specially reported cases were practically the same as in the corresponding period last year. Non of them were agrarian, and ther was nothing to indicate a disturbe condition of the country. With re gard to minor offences, owing to the form now adopted, not by the police but by those above them, there were no details to furnish them with com.

d as a thing apart the i ern Declaration which the end to make in the presence of to make in the presence of to make in the presence of the make in the presence 0102 bject to it, not mere iciple. We are therefore pathy with the views by almost all the speakers who bated the matter last week in House of Lords. They spoke, alnost unanimously, in favor of aining a test; they de etention of its actual terms For the existing Declaration House of Lords had not a go to say. But it is conde d on th ost unworthy grounus. It is co demned as containing ter ult the King's Roman Catholic sub jects, who are sneeringly de extremely sensitive people. It is not mned for what it is, a detest able piece of false theology, deriv from a period of detestable COL troversy.

THE PARNELL STATUE .- A ording to a report in the Boston Pl lot, Mr. Augustus Saint Gaudens, th eminent sculptor, who is at work or the monument of Charles Steward Parnell, to be erected in O'Co street, Dublin, is making rapid progress with his work.

Mr Saint Gaudens intends to the monument one of the greatest-if not the greatest-works of his his and to that end is devoting his en tire time to the modelling of the de sign. As he describes it, it will be work worthy to take its place with the finest monuments on either side of the Atlantic. He is at present hurrying on the work on the statue of Parnell, which is to adorn the base of the monumen in order that it may be viewed by the Irish leader, Mr. John E. Red mond, and his colleagues when they come to America at the end of thi month to attend the convention the United Irish League of America in New York

Mr. Saint Gaudens has been collecting materials regarding the sub ject of his work from various places Europe and America, including photographs of Parnell, pen picture of him, quotations from his most fa mous speeches and references to him by other statesmen in order that h may present to the public when hi work is done a faithful representation of the great figure he is gaged in modelling

The task is so gigantic that Mr Saint Gaudens simply will not hurried in completing it, although he expects that in about a year the In response work will be finished. to an inquiry sent to him a fev days ago by John O'Callaghan, cretary of the Parnell monument as sociation of Boston, which assiste in the raising of funds to complete the monument, the following letter was received from Mr. Saint Gauden which gives a concise description of the present condition and an outline of the contemplated proportions of the monument, which is now for first time published. The letter is as follows : Aspet, Windsor, Vt., August 5, 1904. 1

Mr. John O'Callaghan,

Globe Bidg., Boston, Mass Dear Mr. O'Callaghan .-- I have you note of inquiry with regard to the condition of the Pornell monument. The work is progressing, and I expect to have the model of the figure of Parnell finished in three or fou months. The casting in bronze and the erection of the triangular shaft about fifty feet in height, in ward financial en 1000 tired and also cers with reference to what h done in that respect. Before mautial proceedings were instituted, the offending officer concluded to re-sign, and his resignation was at the offe once accepted.

ANOTHER CENTENARIAN. ast week we noted the death of an Irish centenarian which occurred Philadelphia. This week we through the columns of one of exchanges that Mrs. Mary Mur of Meodeville, Pa., died on August aged nearly 184 years. Mrs. Mur-phy herself had stated that she was orn in Dublin, Ire., on Christ day, 1770, and that she well membered the Irish uprising of 1798 and the execution, five years later, of Robert Emmet. She was almost centenarian when she came to An rica in May, 1870. A MAGNIFICENT LESSON .- On he occasion of the consecration the Armagh Cathedral, it is the collection amounted to $30,000 No comment is needed. The SUT realized beers eloquent testimo the fervor and faith of the race

. AN EXAMPLE .- In noting appointment of Mrs. W. C. H. Keough to the Board of Education of cago, the New World of that city says:

Mrs. Keough has displayed marke ability upon many public occa in this city, and has manifested trong aptitude in the promotion of philanthropic, religious and socia matters. Catholic Chicago is prous of her representative on the Board of Education and feels disposed to res content in the knowledge that it interests will be fully and capably cared for. Mrs. Keough became a convert the Catholic faith while attending the Sacred Heart Convent in Chicag The appointee has spent several year in travel abroad, and is now a law student in her "hushand's offices. . . .

A PRIEST'S APPOINTMENT Rev. Charles Warren Currier, paston of St. Mary's Church and State Chap lain of the Knights of Columbus for the District of Columnia, was recent ly appointed one of the representation tives of the United States by Secre tary of State Hay to the International Congress of Americanists, a Stuttgart, Germany. The International Congress Americanists is a body of sch who meet every two years in one dity or the other, either in Europe 01 America, Its object is to bring gether scholars interested in the New World, its archaeology, ethnology, religion, philology and history-, pa pers upon these various subjects -be ing read and discussed.

A CATHOLIC PICNIC. -The Buf falo Catholic Union and Times save that 25,000 persons aftended the outing of the Assumption annual Church of the diocese of Syracuse, at Lakeside Park recently. The social spirit in that parish and district is well developed. . . .

CHURCH PROPERTY. -The sessors of Rochester have made their

and to plac cepartment or caking, there are en of these, as cau of printing for the regular u of district ation of the se

Interature will be put into a dozen or a score of foreign tongues, such as Polish, Hungarian, Viddish, German, French, Scandinavian, Finnish. ian, etc. Bureau of oratory, to train stunn

Bureau of information, to gathe inside news from pivotal States. Bureau of publicity, to furnish the newspapers with all favorable news, and to prevent unfavorable reports trom rea ohing unfriendly journals. Bureau of general supplies, banners, buttons, portraits, campaign songs, torchlights, etc. It is little wonder that husiness en look for a lull in trade during such a period.

THE OLD LESSON .- In every pulpit and on every platform the clergy and the laity make appeals for unity. At a recent celebration in London, Eng, and, in memory of late Cardinal Manning, held under the auspices of the League of " the Cross, Rev. Father Handley, in course of a sermon said :

"In order that that enthusiasn might be productive of the best re sults, there must be union between the members of the League of ' interest to the Catholic ' community the Cross, and there must be loyalty to the priests. There must be loyalty the midst of old Calton, with its and there must to the priests first, gable abutting Marshall lane, a narbe cohesion. The strength of the nembers of the League of the Cross Gate and King street, stood If disunion and lay in their union. many years an old erection which petty divisions found their way into the League, they would have a simi-Catholic Church and school. little building was, in fact, the first far effect that rust had upon steel, or an insect had upon fruit. It was union that would bind them toproperly appointed and equipped Catholic Church in Glasgow where Mass gether in one great organization; was mutual help that would make that organization like a strong city ground floor, while the first flat, and that unity must be accomplis by loyalty to their priests. . .

school house. As time went on the number of pupils increased and ex-A TWOFOLD LESSON, -What tensions were ultimately bnecessary. good hay be achieved by unity and the adjoining building being requisi good will is shown by the report of tioned for the purpose. During the a St. Vincent de Paul Conference of demolishing of the structure an inone district in England, which TA interesting rel c was discovered, an cently celebrated the golden jubile old brass crucifix being found near of its organization. The total sum the spot where the altar had stood given in charity, of money and goods at the east end of the Church. during the fifty years of the society' existence amounted to $25,000. There is also a lesson of economy CONVICT'S LEASE SYSTEM. - in this connection. .

EDUCATION. -From a paper rea by Rev. Lewis Drummond, S.J., be-fore the Dominion Educational Association, we take the following ex are subjected. He says tract:

"In all other trades and profe tions no man attempts to be a tea cher unless he has first assimilate the collective wisdom of the age no builder of steam engines rejects of his back from stripes received were past principles of his craft unle they have been proved wrong; least he makes sure that he has tried them all before he adopts new ones else he will have his fellow crafts of Dade county (which, by the way, men twit him with ignorance of is a camp which is the dread of all principles. But pedagogy of a cer culprits), after a term of four years tain fashionable type dispenses with and the sides of the lellow, all such precautions It rushes shoulders, hips and the sides of his where angels fear to tread. It in augurates some new fad on the bar lying on his sides in the mine, where word of some plausible promoter whe the opening was not allowed to be has a pecuniary interest in the sucmade sufficiently large for cess of that fad. It experiments able work, and where, he told me, he upon the plastic minds of innocent had often worked far into the night children. Instead of developing the latent powers of the child's mind. which ought to be one of the chief aims of education, this type of tea cher wants to cram it with iil di-"Give the pupil gested erudition. "Give the placts, broad information, varied struction,' is his watchword.

and more than fifty priests nt in the sanctuary. was preached by the Homing, C.S.S.R., of St Formon was pre-Joseph H. Henn Patrick's, Quebe

SATURDAY, AUGUST 20, 1904

islation is being worked out by the perpendicular council of Birmingham, r. says a temperance journal. 'Elan, the site of Birmingham's w waterworks, which the King is o open, is said to be the most com. lete model village in England. was built ten years ago by the Birm Corporation for odation of the navvies engaged on the works, and has been a suject of Utopian government. Its only entran ce is over a susp bridge, and this has b prevent the coming of unauthorized and undesirable strangers. Tramps een used eking work, for example, are barr. ed out until they have gone a week's quarantine, and then those for whom theme are jobs are scoured and cleaned before crossing the municipal rubicon. The one public house run on unique lines. No spirits are sold, only beer, and that not women or males under eighteen years of age. The inn is open during week days for only five hours a day-from 12.30 noon to two p.m., and from

CATHOLIC LANDMARK GONE .-

A building which had a particular in-

has just been lost to Glasgow. I row thoroughfare joining Glasgow

served for a considerable period as a

was calebrated after the Reforma

reached by an old-fashioned outside

stone staircase, was utilized as the

. . .

A correspondent writing to on American daily newspaper on the negro

convict lease system in vogue in the United States, gives, among others,

the following descriptions of the cru-

cities to which unfortunate convicts

"I saw a man who had served a term under a convict lease in a brick company's camp, and the condition of that man's hands from

handling hot brick and the condition

only of human cruelty, but limit of human endurance as well. I saw a man returned from the coal mines

legs were hard and calloused from

hig

suggestive of the very limit,

Mass was celebrated on the

for

5.80 to 9 p.m."

the head. The effect of the nation poetry upon national chi judged from the h em, "Rosaleen," in wh poem, Mangan poured forth his wail-Rosaleen in whom fied Ireland as he exclaim

BANOUET TO

FTWAR

(From the Ottawa Fre

The banquet given to Edward Blake by the m

the Irish Parliamentary

British House of Commo day was not only a ma

bute to the great pers was honored, but a demo

the eyes of the world of of the national aspiration

Of the depth and pe these national sentiments indeed be no doulit. Th

ed in the hearts of the

mshrined in their literatu

They are fanned to flan

gatherings as the one gi

Blake's honor, and the alive in song and story-

as much as in politics, f

in the heart, while politic

All day long in unrest, To and fro do I move, The very soul within my Is wasted for you, love The heart in my bosom f To think of you, my qu My life of life, my saint My dark Rosaleen ! My own Rosaleen !

> To hear your sweet and plaints, My life, my love, my sair

> My dark Rosaleen !

It is those sweet and plaints that we hear vol banquet to Mr. Blake. We see outstanding figure of Mr. Blake, as i heroic mould, as Mr. Joh the leader of the party, I Blake's services to the c land, both in Westminster nada.

"I am not Ekely," sai mond, "to forget that came to this country at a exceptional difficulty and the Irish cause. He did weather here as a fair came in a time of stress When he came here he fou ing tumult from end ito land. A great tragedy place-a great leader-one greatest leaders who had peared on the Parliame since the union-had just and, as was naturol, .j man natute as it is, his ance had led to a politic quake in Ireland. It was cene that Mr. Blake ca This Mr. Redmond with the declaration that the councils of the Irish Blake's wisdom and fore perhaps the most valuabl the party; that in the deb conferred distinction conferred distinction u cause he had advocated, brought calmness of judg the midst of heat and pe troversy, and had found h the affections of the Irish In Mr. Blake's eloquent speech one may perceive of self-sacrifice so admirat

HEAD OF DOMINICANS. -It is announced that Very Rev. Hyacinth Cormier, Master General of the Dominican Order, whose headquarters are in Rome, is coming to America early next year to visit and inspect the various houses of the Order.

. . .

IN SEARCH OF HEALTH. - An exchange in referring to the throngs of Catholics seeking the intercession of the Blessed Virgin at the famous shrine of Lourdes, remarks :

Considering the present state rance and the wave affairs in F of infidelity and persecution which has swept over the country, it is interesting to learn that the shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes hos never had so votaries as during the preyear., Vast throngs of pilsent from all quarters of the globe visiting the miraculous have been healing spring, and when August d the great processions take phace, the pilgrims will become even nore numerous.

1.

COSTLY GIFTS TO LABOR. -In the eulogistic obituary notices the late Waldeck Rousseau, the of of m the late Waldeck Rousseau, the for- bays t mor Premier of France, and instiga- We are frankly opposed to all reli-tor of the infamous law against reli- gious tests for political offices. For parison. The returns of 1903 were given, but they were ancient historyf of which the statue is to stand, will The county inspector's report showed be done as near as I can judge now, that the country as a whole was in now, within a year or eighteen most satisfactory condition. months In citing this instance, we do so

tiquated docum

argue with the one who desires through thick and thin, to bolster

up injustice; but the great work

more aware of the real conditions in Ireland; and such is exactly what

THE ROYAL DECLARATION. -

The "Church Times," an Anglican journal, in noting the recent debate

in the House of Lords on the resolu-tion of the Duke of Norfolk in favo

dify ng the Royal Declaration

is gradually becoming more

the long-misrepresented people

that country most desire.

The figure of Parnell in the posi. because it is only one out of hun tion of making an address stands by dreds that we could guote if we so a table with a large Irish flag thrown desired. But as this refers to over it. The statue is at the foot country in general, we prefer to take of the shaft, which will probably be surmounted by a bronze harp. Direct ly behind the figure on the stone, will it, rather than to base comments on isolated cases of a like character The time is fast coming when al all be the principal part of the inscrip those worn out arguments, mostly If possible, my idea is if not entirely in bad faith, must be have the stone work constructed of relegated to the pigeon-holes of an-tiquated documents. It is useless to green Connemara marble

Yours very truly,

Augustus Saint Gaudens,

. . .

MUST PAY DEBOS .- The Sacres Heart Review says : The newly ap binted Secretary of the Navy has gnulized the beginning of his ad-inistration of the department by signalized the b directing that the service be at one leared of officers who refuse to pay heir legitimate debts. His decision elative to the payment of debts was nded down in the case of an o to came up for promotion, and, al a perfect m gh he passed a leal, and profes nal er on, his financial de bject for special co annual report. It shows that church property to the value of $4,841,000 is exempted from taxes according to Of this sum Catholics are put law. down for $1,836,000. . .

RATHER SELFISH .- A printing contract given out by the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association a theme for a number of Catholic American editors, whose establish ments were unsuccessful in capturing the prize, which they are writing up with much bitterness

. . . NOTABLE CONVERTS .- The late totable converts to the Catholic faith in England are Harold Ef T. Gibbs an authority on church mu ton Boyce, son of the Vicar Ecchinswell. Both have been receiv ed into the Church at Nottin

nd confirmed by Bishop Brindle. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION - I an article detailing some of the fea the campaign during the Presidentia

The first work of the ca anagers is to pick out those of his

year in the United States, a write

CIM.B.A. OF AMERICA. -Mr. A R. Archambault, the new organiz of the C.M.B.A. of America. whoe appointment was the result of a con lerence between the Supreme officer and Grand Council of Quebec on the ccasion of the recent visit of the ormer to Montreal, has orga new branch of 25 members in the city of Quebec. He is now making arrangements for an office in this cit a headquarters for this Provin ends to visit all the parishes east and west.

A NUN'S EARTHLY CROWN. hen renewing her vows on the oc-asion of the celebration of her golen jublice. Mother Superior of Do-ninick, of the eastern community on the Ursulines Order of the United tates, which took place recently a golden crown upon the the jubilarian. High Mass ng by Mgr. Edwards. Archi bucket came down with othe order to get in and come up, only to return at sunrise in the morning. Broken in health and spirif, he had pardoned and sent home to die. Tt. is a custom much practised to release them when no longer fit for duty, and thus relieve the contractor of the responsibility for their support and the state of the odium of a mortality." . . .

CATHOLICS OF FRANCE.-It is stated that an address expressing homage to and sympathy with His Holiness the Pope will be put in cir-culation and when signed will be presented by a deputation of Senators and Deputies.

C.O.F. PREMIUMS. -From a Ca. cholic American journal we clip the allowing:

At the last meeting of the High Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, State Organizers were dispensed with and the less paid in future to ormisers of courts will be materially pressed. Those who organize a urt of twenty members will ' re-ve $75; of twenty-five members, 100; of thirty members, 0. 100; of thirty members, 0. rs, $125; over quoted in the eanlier part. ticle. "The very soul wi breast is wasted for ye That spirit is revealed in n which he describes the the Irish Parliamentary hold," said he, "politics t highest and noblest pursuit citizens in a free land, s it to be a still higher pursuit when it is a purs citizen in a subjugated is ing the freedom of his co that is our destiny. We, necessities of the case in assembly, stand apart. regret that we stand apa by our own will perpetual are called the cold shades tion. We have nothing cept that which is worth to animate us, except the ration to restore the liber country. We are estrange long as this island persis course of declining us our tional freedom we must re-tranged from the remain assembly. We are here ar in a strange place, becaut tional aspirations are as y by the majority of the al-therefore, our position is

ed by the Ir

UST 20, 1904. an fifty priests by the Rev. C.SS.R., of St.

m -A practical

tive liquor le orked out by the of Birmingham, ance journal. of Birmingham's ich the King is in England. It ago by the Bin navvies engaged has been a sub-00. ernment. Its ver a suspens been used to of unauthorized angers. Tramps ample, are barr-Tramps ve gone a week's those for whom oured and cleanthe municipal ublic house No spirits are that not to er eighteen years open during week ours a day-from

MARK GONE .a Particular in-

.m., and

olic ' community o Glasgow. In lton, with its hall lane, a narjoining Glasgow et, stood erection which able period as a school. The in fact, the first nd equipped Cagow where Mass the Reformaabrated on the the first flat shioned outside utilized as the me went on the reased and tely bnecessary, e being requisise. During the tructure an indiscovered, an eing found near altar had stood e Church.

E SYSTEM. ing to on Amer on the negro n vogue in the among others, ions of the crutunate convicts ys : had served a t lease in 8 p, and the conhands from d the condition es received were y limit, not y, but limit of well. I saw a he coal mines h. by the way, e dread af of four years his lellow, sides of his alloused from he mine, where allowed to be e for comforthe told me, he troversy, and had found his way nto the affections of the Irish party. In Mr. Blake's eloquent and able speech one may perceive the spirit of self-sacrifice so admirably express-ed by the Irish poet in the verse into the night before only to ning. he had

me to actor of • supp

ANCE thy wi be put ed will abmit ourselves to a severe discip-line, provided by the experience of many years in the struggle in which we are engaged, subjecting all indivial opinion to the views of the ma-FDWARD BLAKE ority of the party." Mr. Blake left his hearers in

BATURDAY, AUGUST 20.

(From the Ottawa Free Press.)

The banquet given to the Hon Edward Blake by the mombers of the Irish Parliamentary Party in the bute to the great personality that was honored, but a demonstration in the eyes of the world of the vitality of the national aspirations of Irejand

Of the depth and permanence of these national sentiments there can indeed be no doulst. They are rooted in the hearts of the people and

They are fanned to flame at such gatherings as the one given in Mr.

gatherings as the and they are kept alive in song and Story— in poetry as much as in politics, for poetry is in the heart, while politics is more of

The effect of the national spirit of poetry upon national character may be judged from the heart-stirring poem, "Rosaleen," in which Clarence

Mangan poured forth his passionate

fied Ireland as he exclaims:-

All day long in unrest,

To and fro do I move,

The very soul within my breast

Is wasted for you, love !

The heart in my bosom faints

To think of you, my queen,

My dark Rosaleen !

plaints,

My own Rosaleen !

My dark Rosaleen !

banquet to Mr. Blake.

My life of life, my saint of saints,

To hear your sweet and sad com

My life, my love, my saint of saints,

It is those sweet and sad com plaints that we hear voliced at the figure of Mr. Blake, as it were, in heroic mould, as Mr. John Redmond, the leader of the party, recounts Mr. Blake's services to the cause of Ireland, both in Westminster and in Ca

"I am not kkely," said Mr. Red-mond, "to forget that Mr. Blake

came to this country at a period of

exceptional difficulty and danger to the Irish cause. He did not come here as a fair weather friend — he came in a time of stress and storm

When he came here he found a seething tumult from end to end of Ireland. A great tragedy had taken place-a great leader-one of the greatest leaders who had ever appeared on the Parliamentary stage

since the union-had just disappeared

and, as was naturol, .judging human natute as it is, his disappear

ance had led to a political earthquake in Ireland. It was into such

This Mr. Redmond followed up with the declaration that to day, in

Blake's wisdom and foresight were

the party: that in the debates he had

cause he had advocated, that he ha

brought calmness of judgment into

the midst of heat and personal con-

distinction upon every

Mr.

scene that Mr. Blake came."

the councils of the Irish party,

perhaps the most valuable asset

see outstanding the splendid

-Rosaleen in whom he personi-

brined in their literature.

the head.

not only a magnificent

British House of Commons the oth

BANQUET TO

oubt as to what the work of the future would be-Home Rule. Some people had said it was dead. It could ever die-it could never even slum-It is the hope and promise the future. It is the work to which he has consecrated his life. One may see here, too, the poetic inspiration 'Tis you shall have the golden throne "Tis you shall reign and reign alone,

My dark Rosaleen ! . . .

The fudgment hour must first te nigh Ere you can fade, ere you can die, My darls Rosaleen !

At the opening of the Armagh Ca thedral the other day, was sung the 'Hymn to St. Patrick," originally written by the Rev. G. O'Neill, S.J. and translated into Irish by Tadhe O'Donoghue. The Irish words were sung in unison by the choir, the tune being an ancient Irish air which had peen adapted to them. The hymn in English is as follows :

Dear Apostle, blessed Patrick, faithful lover of our land: Thou so tender in compassion, in thy fortitude so grand, See thy children gathered round thee, let thy heart be opened wide To the voice of their appealing; be our father and our guide. At thy words the pagan island, blossomed red and blossomed white As a garden of God's pleasure, in the dawning of the light;

And the evil spirits fleeing from each holy rite and prayer Left to Jesus and to Mary evermore that land so fair. Blessed Patron, make us faithful, as thy martyr sons of old: Loving still the Church, our Mother with an andent love and bold. Make us wise to baffle Satan in his cunning and his might,

Give us strength to conquer sorrow, give the scorn of base delight.

O console our drooping courage, as we battle day by day

'Gainst the world and its beguiling and our hearts that still betray Let thy prayer, on earth so mighty

be our aid till peril cease Till we hail thee in the gladness of the everlasting peace ?

ABOUT SERMONS.

A NEGRO'S VIEW .- A non. Catho-Mc bishop of Philadelphia recently told of a young clergyman, whose pastoral charge had fallen to him out in the thinly populated end of a western State. Riding the circuit of his tiny churches, he never imagined that the auditors of one town ever sat under him in another, and so he had been delivering everywhere the same sermon; and it see ed to take well, but just how well that young precher never guessed, until one Sunday he was stopped at the church door by an old negro. "Pahdon me, suh, fer a me he said with a most respectful how "I jus' wan' to say that I sutinly have enjved dat sermon. De fust time I heard it, suh, I liked it, and de secon' time I liked it better, an as I been follerin' you aroun' hit jus keep growin' on me ijke. Now, suh, I'se sorter in de preachin' busi-ness my own self, an' it jus' occurred

How a Catholic Boy Won a Scholarship,

(From the Salem News.)

Some days ago I gave some of the uestions which were given to the 13-year-old Henry Sullivan, a pupi. at St. Mary's parochial school, who was awarded a seven year scholarship in Boston College by finishing second in rank among all the pupils in the parochial schools of the dioese of Boston. Rev. Louis Walsh, of Salem, supervisor of all these schools, prepared the examina 'did the markingf tion blanks and Herewith are some of the replies. Master Sullivan, showing a remarkable degree of accuracy and grasp of detail remarkable for a college man, and little short of wonderful for lad of 13 (a) History is the summary of the rincipal events in the life of a nation. (b) Patriotism is love of country. Patriotism is developed at home and in school by parents and teachers, by example of great men and by oppression, as was the case of the colonies in 1775. To the question, Why is patriotism shown ? Because true love of country cannot help showing itself when needed.

To the question, How is it shown? In times of peace, by praising one's country in speeches and writings; in time of war by fiahting for it. The code of laws of the 'United States : The legislative department is vested in Congress, and it makes the laws. The executive power is vested in the President who enforced the laws.

The judicial department is vested in the courts which expound the laws.

The labnr question concerns the contest going on between the laborer and his employer, the former seeking shorter hours and more pay and the latter opposing his claims.

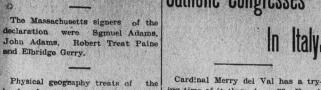

The immigration question

The civil service question aims to regulate by means of examinations the system ol civil service appont. ments and promotions. The States' rights question is the right of each state to make its own laws, subject to the laws of the United States.

By anti-imperialism is meant 'at aversion to anything that savors of royalty or is contrary to the declaration of independence. An admirable illustration of imerialism is our effort in the Philippines to govern without the consent of the governed.

The attempt of the French to gain dominion in Mexico, when opposed by our government, is an example of land and water on the earth, of the atmosphere which surrounds it. and the animals and plants which live on Political geography treats of division of the earth's surface into ligion, classes of society, etc. counties and states, and of the Commercial geography treats of in Italy. the different places on the earth as regards commerces The success and growth of a place Hes in its situation; of a city on its hartor and railroads; of a country on the richness of its soil; good sea ports and long, navigable rivers. Bos ton and New York were once small

the

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE

dent states.

it.

declared themselves free and indepen

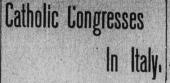

importance of their situation they have grown into very large cities. Suilivan's reply to the question relative to the time shown by nan's watch on a vessel bound east across the Atlantic showed that h had sailed 51 minutes and 25 SC conds of longitude The distance in miles could not be computed unt the exact course of the ship and the distance north of the equator were known. In this case the question was how far he had sailed when his watch was three hours, 25 minutes and 40 seconds slower or faster than the sun time taken on the 'ship. Sullivan supplied the figures and replied that the watch was behind time The complicated question relative to areas and contents of irregula plots of lands and bu idings was answered by young Sullivan, as foi lows: 748.78 2-9 yards of side 474.79 1-3 yards of fence

settlements, but on account of 254.4696 square feet occupied by the tower; 16,128 feet of soil, taker from the cellar; 1306f9056 square feet of walks, floors and ceiling 3619.1232 cubic feet of air in the tower; 598 2-5 square feet of plaster.

Now, if anybody thinks these ques tions are easy, let him get last Sa turday s News and start from the beginning to answer the questions. That a 13 year old boy should ave the command of language in which these answers are couched is remarkable in itself, to say nothing of his extmaordinary comprehension of the subjects treated. It is fair to assume also, that although Master Sullivan stood pre-eminent in his special examination, there were many others in the same class who passed the required percentage for promotion on the questions he answered s brilliantly. The result achieved in the parochial school which Master Sullivan attended is a crushing re ply to those carping critics, both outside and in the Church, who are orever making the bald assertion that Cathole schools teach religion only. This charge has been refuted ime and again, but it will no down, especially when it forms basis of an excuse for a spinsiess Cacholic in sending his children to "

public school in order that he may be looked upon as an "American" by his anti-Catholic neighbors. Whenever and wherever Catholic paroch-ial school students have encountering time of it these days. The French troubles of themselves would be quite sufficient to keep him busy and anxious, but in addition to these he has troubles of a very grave kind here in Italy to contend with. The work of Catholic congresses in Italy has so much in common with the Federation of Catholic Societies in the United States that American Catholics may find much food for thought in the complications that have arisen here The work of the con ses endeavors to unite all forms of Catholic activity all over Italy. It is divided into several groups, each with its respective President, and it is governed by a body consisting of these Presidents and a Permanent Committee. The chief plank in its platform is to advocate the liberty and independence of the Holy Seea plank which, by the way, ought to be the chief one in every national union of Catholics all over the world On this head all the leaders of the work of congresses are substantially agreed, but just here the agreement begins and ends. They differ about the attitude Catholics should assume towards unified Italy, they differ as to the methods of Catholic action. they differ as to participation in th politics of the country, they differ as to the amount and the nature ' 0: episcopal control over Catholic move ments in the different diorese. Some of them are of the old-fash/oned school, who imagine that the world reached the ne plus ultra of perfectibility one or two generations ago; they would like to have back the Bourbons and the petty principalities of other days; they claim that the Pope cannot and will not be satisfied with anything less than the restoration of every square yard of territory wrested from him by the Italian re volution; they refuse to recognize that a great change has taken place in modern times, and that the pre sent situation has created needs that were unknown or unfelt half a cen tury ago. These are called the "vecor the "vecchioni," chi" means the "old party". They are very unreasonable; but they are nuch more reasonable than the "giovani," or the "young party." Most of the members of this wing of the Catholic movement are young men, priests and laymen; and as the "vec

chi" are not satisfied with present conditions and methods because they are different from those in vogue long ago, sa the "giovani" are not satis fied because things are not what they ought to be a hundred years hence To give the "vecchi" their due, they have plenty of good work to their credit, and whatever has been effected by the work of the congresses been effected under their leadership The "giovani" are much better at talking and speculating and writing in the newspapers; they profess great love for Italy, but the would like to Anglo-Saxonize the Catholic its of Italy (Heaven only knows why) ;; in short they want to reform pretty well everything. The worst of it is that these , contending parties are not willing to drop their differences at the threshold of the work of congresses, and work within it unitedly for the Catholic cause. Up to a few years ago the 'vecchi'' had control of the organization, but at the last General Congress held at Bologna last year, the of public school pupils in competi- "giovani" managed very adroitly to leadership, and his first thought was to come to Rome and see the Holy, Father. Pius X. received him with the utmost kindness, and expressed his entire confidence in his leadership instructing Cardinal Merry del Val at the same time to write a letter for publication which was to explain that Count Grosoli possessed the confidence of the Holy See, and that with regard to the five points mooted there was really no need quarrelling over them. Then the Count made his first real faux pas. He published a circular in an ex-cathedra kind of way, proclaiming what was to be the spirit and tendency of the work of congresses, and making a liberal use of the Holt Father's name. This circular contained one passage which was well calculated to outrage feelings of the "vecchi." for it proclaimed that the work of the congresses and all the members of were expected to look upon the modern political events of Italy as so many milestones in the road of pro gress, and to abandon questions 'dead in the national conscience.' Naturally enough the Holy Father, was greatly surprised and pained on reading this passage, which, besides lending itself to false or doubtful interpretations, was a direct provocation to the old party. He instructed Cardinal Merry del Val to have a note inserted that very evening in the Osservatore Romano denving the approbation of the Holy See to the cirular. His Eminence did so, and Count Grosoli resigned.

3

But where does Cardinal Merry del Val come in here? Well, the "giovani" attribute the whole blame to the Cardinal Secretary of State- he is too young to understand the situation, they say, and besides he is a Spaniard, and cannot take a proper view of the Catholic movement Italy. The moral of the whole story for American Catholics, as well French, or English, or Irish Catholics is that party feelings and private views should be very carefully pressed in any national movement designed for advancing the general interests of the Church and of Catholics -Roman Correspondent of the New York Freeman's Journal

We have often quoted from the 'Amerika,'' the leading German newspaper of St. Louis, which was under the able direction of 'the learned editor Dr. Edward Preuss. It is our painful duty now to 'announce the death of that eminent editor, which event took place recently at his residence. He was a convert to the Catholic Church, and like many a zealous convert, was exceedingly anxious for reforms that in his judgment, were needed. He requently wrote with more vigor. than judgment on matters directly affecting the discipline of the Church; but behind it all was a deep-rooted conviction and a real sincerity. He was born in Prussia in 1834, and graduated from the University of Koenigsberg in 1853, receiving the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. The best appreciation of his work as on editor and author is the following, taken from a Catholic American contemporary ;

As a writer Dr, Preuss became first known by his book against the Ca-tholic dogma of the Immaculate Conception. It was published in Latin, but at the request of many friends wgs subsequently translated into German. This book, however, was not received very favorably by the libesal Protestants then prevalent in Ger-

In 1803 Thomas Jefferson purchased the Louisiana territory, mainly to get control of the Mississippi River. By this purchase the country gained control of the great tract of land now comprising 13 States.

gration to people who will good citzens.

COD cerns the kimiting of foreign immimake

| CIRO | ched al l | | | tive examinations they have more | get, hold of the machine-and to some | many, nor were his other theological | |
|---------|-----------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|---|
| nden to | cuoted in the eanlier part, of this ar- | to me dat you gwine to wear 'out | and the second second second second | than held their own. This is a fact | extent, it must be feared, of the pre- | works. This was especially the case | |
| return | ticle. "The very soul within my | dat sermon some fine day, an' den | The Declaration of Independence : | of which all Catholics should be | sident of the machine. The former | with his book on "The Justification | |
| Broken | breast is wasted for you, love." | I wants to buy it. When you git | On July 4, 1776 the Declaration of | | president, Count Paganuzzi, a fine | of the Sinner before God." In the | |
| been | That spirit is revealed in the words | ready to sell it, suh, I stan' to give | Independence was signed by 54 dele- | proud, considering the many serious | | face of this opposition Dr. Preuss de- | |
| e. It | in which he describes the position of | you 50 cents." | gates from the colonies. After the | disadvantages under which parochial | | cided to emigrate to America. | |
| elease | the Irish Parliamentary party. "T | · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · | unjust treatment of the colonists by | schools are built, equipped and main- | to resign owing to the opposition he | Here he became identified with one | |
| v, and | nold," said he, "politics to be the | | England the people were forced to | tained. The tremendous sacrifices | met with from the young party; Leo | of the most orthodox Lutheran | |
| the | ingnest and noblest pursuit of true | BIG PRICE FOR A SERMON | separate themselves from the mother | Catholics are making for the educa- | and appointed as mis successor a | synods. which readily received him | |
| and | citizens in a free land, and I hold | Probably the highest sum ever paid | country. The author of the declara- | tion of their children according to | man who seemed to unite in him- | as a professor of theology in a se- | |
| high | to be a still higher and nobler | tor a sermon goes each year to a | tion was Thomas Jefferson. The chief | the teachings of the Church and the | self all the best qualities of a desir- | minary. September 1, 1871, he re- | |
| | pursuit when it is a pursuit of a | lucky German preacher, who receives | fundamental assertion is that as "all | results obtained are awakening fair- | able leader. Count Grosoli is first | signed his professorship, and on | |
| | ciuzen in a subjugated land accort. | $3600 for his effort. In 1690 a | men are created equal and are en- | minded non-Catholics to the dangers | of all a good Christian and devoted | | |
| It is | ing the freedom of his country, and | wealthy French baron named Favart, | dowed by their Creator with certain | of an irreligious education and win- | heart and soul to the Holy See; he | December 8th, the Feast of the Im- | |
| essing | that is our desitiny. We, from the | who lived in Elberfield, died and be- | inalienable rights;" it is their duty | ning from them a more just view | had not been identified with either | maculate Conception, against which | |
| h His | necessities of the case in this great | queathed his money to the Protestant | 「「「「「「「」」」「「」」」「「」」」「「」」」「「」」」「「」」」」「「」」」」 | of the Catholic claim for an equit- | party, and there was good reason to | dogma he had warred with his pen, | |
| in cir- | assembly, stand apart. We do not | church there, with the proviso that | and right to alter or abolish any | able share of public school moneys. | hope that he might get them both to | he was received into the Catholic | |
| e pre- | regret that we stand apart. We sit | it should be invested, and the in- | form of government destructive of | That Catholic schools fulfill all the | work in amity; even when he did | | 1 |
| nators | by our own will perpetually in what | terest given annually to some | these rights, Among the acts of | requirements demanded by the State | show a certain predilection for the | book of recantation, entitled "In | |
| acors | are called the cold shades of opposi- | clergyman, chosen haphazard from | oppression set forth by the signers | in the way of purely intellectual de- | | Praise of the Immaculate Conception | |
| | tion. We have nothing whatever ex- | those holding the poorest livings in | were the refusal of a trial by jury to | velopment, is a claim that has been | that he was seeking to moderate their | of the Blessed Virgin Mary, by One | |
| | cept that which is worth every thing | the see, on condition that he preach | Americans, plundering our seas, ra. | substantiated by numerous tests, but | ardor and bringing them as far as | Who Has Defamed Her." In 1884, | |
| ca. | to animate us, except the our aspi- | a short sermon extolling the good | vishing our coasts, burning our | as a most convincing individual case | possible into harmony with the other | when the University of Notre Dame | |
| p the | ration to restore the liberties of our | deeds of the dead baron. It is ge- | towns and destroying the lives of | in point, we do not have to go be- | Bide. But the "vecchi" never took | tendered the doctor the Lastare me- | |
| | country. We are estranged, and so | perally delivered on the first Sunday | our people. Repeated attempts 'to | yond the answers of Master Henry | kindly to Count Grosoli, while the | dal, which had never before been be- | |
| High | long as this island persists in her | in June, after the regular mornina | obtain redress were met by failure, | Sullivan of Boston, | "giovani" came to look upon him as | stowed on a German American, not- | |
| sters, | course of deputation | service, and, being of only half an | and added injury, until at last the | | an exponent of their own particular | withstanding the urgent request of | |
| with | course of declining us our constitu. | hour's duration, is paid for at the | limit of endurance was reached, and | | views. Things came to a crisis, as | many prominent friends, among them | |
| 01- | tional freedom we must remain es- | rate of $120 a minute. | the colonies determined that a prince | Paris has the biggest debt of any | already described a few weeks ago | the late Bishop Dwenger, of Fort | |
| rially | tranged from the remainder of this | terre to the terre of te | whose every act defined a tyrant, was | city in the world It amounts to | in the Freeman, at a recent meeting | Wayne, Ind., Dr. Preuss modestly de- | |
| a | assembly. We are here as strangers | | unfit to be the ruler of a free people, | $400,000,000. | in Bologna, when the leaders of the | clined the honor. ' His medal is there- | |
| re | in a strange place, because our na- | London has the largest proportion | and with an appeal to the Supreme | Every member of Boston Electrical | old school succeeded in passing a | fore still at Notre Dame. | |
| bers, | | of insane of any English city, the | Judge of the Universe for the recti- | Workers' union, No. 108, is to be | motion condemning five propositions | | |
| over | | number being 361 per 100,000. Not- | tude of their intentions, and relying | find $1 if any non-union tobacco, ci- | supposed to be professed by the | China holds the world's record in | |
| extra | | tingham is a close second, with 802 | on the Divine Providence, they threw | | young element. The motion was felt | the way of executions. There are at | |
| | "pect distinctive and peculiar. We | per 106,000. | The second se | possession | by Count Grosoll to reflect on his | lesst 12,000 legal executions marks | |

Irish Catholics in Industrial Life

From time to time we have referred to the spirit of enterprise, perse varance and integrity of the pioneer of Irish Catholic emigration to Mon-In this regard we have many ples in the golden jubilee cel tion of the organization and foun ation of one of Canada's industrial establishments, the Canada Sugar Refining Co., of Montreal, which was held on Friday, the 12th

For two generation's, and more Trish Catholics have been employed in the Refinery in large numbers in That they various departments have performed their duty loyally to founder and his successors, George Drummond, the present offi-cial head of the undertaking, cheerfully admitted in a reply to an address of congratulation presented to him on the occasion.

For the most part the employees past and present, have been residents and parishioners of St. Ann's and St. Gabniel's parishes, particularly of the latter. Their industry and thrift is well and practically exem-plified in many little monuments that dot the last mentioned parish in the form of homes for their families which have been erected as a result of their toil.

Associated with the celebration the foundation of the Refinery was another notable feature, the completion by Mr. James McMenamin of his fiftieth year of uninterrupted ser vice in the establishment in various positions of importance. This splen did record of our co-religionist and fellow-countryman was deservedly acknowledged by Sir George Drummond and his associates in the company at an informal gathering previous the banquet in commemoration of the principal event of the day, when the steemed member of the staff and his estimable wife were made the recipi ents of two valuable gifts, the former a cheque for a substantial and a silver vase bearing a suitable inscription, to the latter a cheque and an artistically designed tea service.

Sir George Drummond, in making the presentation, congratulated, Mr. McMenamin on his long years of service in the company from the day of its foundation. He complimented him :or his fidelify, sobriety and up rightness and his valued atd in mal ing the enterprise a success. Sir George made a kindly reference to Mrs. McMenamin, whom he sa,d, had, in no small degree, aided her husband in achieving success.

Mr. McMenamin thanked Sir George Drummond for his great kindness and kindly words of appreciation. H sincerely concurred in the generou references made to his devoted wife who had helped him in every under taking. "If my record of fifty years in the service of the company has been marked by success and highly appreciated now, it is in a large easure due to the fact that I have always had good, kind and generou superiors, among the number the dis tinguished chief of the present, Si George Drummond," said Mr. McMe namin in closing a neat little speech of appreciation of the honor confer red upon Mrs. McMenamin and him-

After a photographic group of the Birectors and officials of the Com pany and their wives had been taken. the following address was read Sir George Drummond by Mr, Alexander Bower, chairman of the committee of employees formed to ar

him is the trying days of the islancy of the undertaking. He dweit upon the ever-loyal spirit to the interests of the enterprise manifested by the rank and file of the employees throughout the half century of its existence which had just closed and hich they were so happily and harmoniously commemorating. He sketched the changes which had taken place in and around the vicinity of the Refinery, industrial and other wise, which, he said, were of marked character, and closed with an expression of hope that the cordial rela tions between the employees and the executive administration would long continue. Then followed the presentation an address to Mr. James McMen It was as follows :

We, the employees of the Cana Sugar Refining Company, Limited wish to offer you our hearty con gratulations upon this golden anni versary of your connection with this company. Your long and successfu services have well merited our high praise and recognition, and we take the opportunity this celebration presents to beg your acceptiance of the accompanying purse of gold in token of our good-will and esteem.

On behalf of the committee. ALEX- BOWER.

Mr. McMenamin acknowledged th very great compliment from thos with whom he had been long associ ated in a manner which showed he deeply appreciated their kindness and

Then followed the banquet, which was held in a large hall over the offices, and at which all the director office and Refinery staff, to the nun ber of 600, sat down. The hall was tastefully decorated with flags bunting. While the menu was being served an orchestra discoursed vari ous national airs. ' After full. ju tice had been done to the goo things provided, many of the em ployees contributed songs and rectus tions which were much enjoyed.

. . .

NOTES,-Mr. James McMenamin ferred to in the foregoing, is a pro minent and well known member Gabriel's parish. He has resided in the district since his arrival in Canada. He is a justice of the peace, and holds the responsible office of manager of the indistrial department of the Canada Sugar Refinery. is to be congratulated upon the marked recognition of his fifty years of faithful service. Mr. McMenamin 1 the father of Rev. Daniel J./McMe namin, a zealous priest who during the twenty odd years of his ministr has left the impress of his devotion it. his holy calling in parishes down by the sea and in the sister provinc of Ontario, where he now presider over an important parish mainty comprised of well-to-do Irish Catho lic farmers.

Each one of the twelve months he year has been dedicated by 'the Church to a Catholic devotion, it may be of interest to know what the objects of each month's devotion is. We take them in their order, and our readers might do worse than to clip out this item and paste it their prayer-books.

January, the month of the Holy Childhood, February, the month of the Pas sion.

March, the month of devotion to St. Joseph. April, the month of the Resurrec-

Friendly Hints to

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATEOLIC CERONICLE

Fraternal Associations THE C.M.B.A.-No su

more delicate handling than that of fraternal benefit organizations. These They are numerous in our country. have passed through varied experi-ences. By most of these organiza-tions, the fatal blunders of early tions, the fatal blunues but there ventures have been avoided, but there a lurking danger, which it is imper ative should be fully considered an if possible warded off. That danger sts in attempting to do busin on too cheap a basis, promising be-yond the powers of fulfilment, and as consequence, perhaps, at no distant date, plunging many families into distress. One of the most solid of our fraternal organizations is the C.M.B.A. of Canada. It has cured the patronage of many of the Canadian Archbishops and and leading clergymen, of recog ability, are to be found in its ranks and on its council boards. Since it became an independent organization Since 'it in 1893, it has paid out to the relatives of deceased members sums running into millions. To-day its mbership in the different provinces of the Dominion, numbers 20,000. Shortly it will hold its grand con ention in the city of Toronto, and the programme of subjects open to discussion is important beyond preedent. Looking at the present condition of finances of the Associa tion, with its gradually increasing reserve fund, now amounting to sum of $162,000, there is, most th suredly, no cause for a panicky feel The rates up to the presen ing. time have been, I fear, too low for permanency, although the associa tion might go on for some years at the present charges for insurance Permanent security is what must be aimed at. To attempt this by the adoption of a radical measure might prove fatal. By all means increase the charges, let those charges ' based upon the mortality experience of the past, and let the increase b such as to insure a level rate for the next ten years. Provision should be made that, within such period, the present reserve fund should 1 doubled. With such a condition financially, at that date, and an im crease of membership as in the past there ought to be no difficulty . 11 then arriving at a moderate leva premium for all time.

The membership of the C.M.B.A has been steadily increasing, not by leaps and, bounds, as in many other organizations, but by a steady heal thy growth, indicating that thos who join do so after mature conside ration, and not as the result of per ervid appeals. The Association is amongst those that are inspected by the Dominion superintendent of surance, and it holds a good place in the government report.

Some members are clamoring fo sick benefit fund. Experience teaches that the existence of such branch has almost always brought ruin upon fraternal organizations, and it is just possible that such cheme might cause the withdrawa of the recognition given the Association by the department of insurance at Ottawa. The convention may be trusted to place its best men in different offices of responsibility. They will select those who command cor fidence by their ability, their expe rience and their disinterestednes Ability and integrity are indispensi ble more especially for the succ this system, properly described as paid for their serv ays we get nothing for mo-cept what is given for sweet s sake. The C.M.B.A. is a but not a charity organization. Th officers should be p done, and then be held to the strict I hope that those who will m Toronto may be inspired to do is for the best all along the and that the C.M.B.A. of Can may continue to be a credit to urch from which it takes its ne Catholic, and a source of aid, or fort and conmolation to those look to it when the bread-winnee has been called to the long home.

VIATOR.

LADY DAY.

(By a Regular Contributor.)

There is no more joyous feast the old time annals than the midmer festival in honor of the Bless ed Virgin. In Brittany it has been of immemorial tradition: but find that in Ireland it has occupied a still more prominent place. It fails upon the 15th of August. It is supposed to be the middle of the sum mer season, though in reality it is hearer to the autumn. It goes back long beyond the date of Christianity in Ireland: and as St. Patrick mer use of a great many of the old pagan or Druid feasts. by accommo them, to the requirements of Ohris tianity, so did he turn the feast of Baal, or the summer god, into one of honor to the Holy Mother of the True God. Thus, without breaking away from their tradition s and customs, the people of Ireland continu ed on to celebrate, in a similar manner, that which they had 80 long been accustomed to keep The Baal fires were lighted on cred. the hill-tops, and the people came from far and near to watch then and to honor the ancient god. So in more modern and Christian times, did they light the fires and the merry making was carried on around And with such rejoicings the them. blended deep devotion and sincere re ligious sentiments. Whenever this period of the year comes around recall the graphic song of Edward Walsh

'One mid-summer's eve, when the Baal-fires were lighted, And the bag-piper's tunes called the

malidens delighted; I joined a gay group by the Arag-leen water, And danced till the dawn with O'Donovan's daughter."

There is a charm also in the titl given to the feast; it is called Lady Day, in honor of Our Blessed Lady It is the time of the harvest. the yellow grain is ripe and sways upon its stalks to the warm breeze of summer; when the harvester go forth to gather it in, as the fruit of his toil and the gift of God; the gleaners follow the harvester and collect the straws and the heads of grain that have fallen from th waggons and gather them as a little revenue to purchase an ornament for the next patren, or a gift for the altar, of Our Lady of the Harvest. What a fund of sweet recollections innocent and happy customs comes to the memory when such festivals arise on our pathway. In these colder,

EFTPTAN RELES. BY "CRUX."

For many years I have taken eep interest in Egyptian discover interest in Egyptian discovers to me that we have a dence in the monuments of that untry of a buried civilization that rpassed in its stupendou a and in its gigantic prob hing that our modern times have uld be an instructive and an tudy to delve into those hidden treasures that the sands of four thousand rears have covered from the human aze. Meanwhile we can glance over ome of the fresh discoveries in the and of the Ptolemeys.

RECENT EXCAVATIONS .- Th excavations begun in 1902 at Ben-sian, on the east bank of the Nile, ome two hundred miles from Cairo have been completed. Some tombs, including that of Sebik 887 teps. 2300 B.C., were unearthed. Each burial chamber was formed of a recess at the base of a square shaft ewn in solid rock ta a depth some thirty feet. Thus was th body preserved from all danger bance. This type of distu humia antidates the period of mumil ation Each tomb contained a wood sarco phagus, with the lines of religious formulae and text inscribed upor it in the orthodox hieroglyphics and with the head pointing to the north. and the pointed "eyes of Osiris" wards the east. Around this are a number of little wooden models, representing rivers and sailing boats a granary, a number of perso ing, a man brewing, a man leading an ox, a girl carrying a couple of birds in her hands, and having basket on her head. This is believ ed to be four thousand years old yet these relics are in a remarkable state of preservation. The oarsmen in the galleys leaning upon their oars and the paint still bright and clear show how perfectly the whole was preserved from destruction. The ceremonies accompanying the burial of a woman were slightly dissimilar, the departed lady being provided with a basket of toilet requisites, instead of food, as was the more mo dern custom. These curious little models were buried in accordance with the ancient Egyptian religious rites, in order to provide the departed one with the necessaries for the future life. One interesting discovery was an exact counterpart of modern weaving reed as used in England, the only difference being the use of cane teeth instead of steel ones.

A LONDON EXHIBIT .- These is wonderful Egyptian eithioit in the city of London to-day. It consists of curiosities recently discovered in Egypt. The list is most interesting. There is, to begin with, a series of important Greek and Latin papyri ranging from the first to the century of the Christian era, dis covered by Dr. Grenfell and Dr. Hunt at Oxyrhynchus; and the declaration of a supposed Christian dating from the persecution of Decius. There are new classical pieces, including fragnents of Pindar; Menander's Colax the argument of the Dionys.lexandros one of Cratinus' most famous co-midies; a philosophical dialogue attributed to Aristotle; part of the new epitome of several of the lost books of Livy; and a curious farce in prose and verse, a unique example from the Boman period. Then there are filled with ideals and beliefs and are the petitions of an Alexandrian

Miss Moth of and arise accounting the cy, fine drawing and complete of these copies making them, a demor Potrie says: "An impor-contribution to early archest "These are only a few facts oted to show what a fund al the scientific researches day are digging up from the

AY. AUGUST 20, 1904.

OH

CURBSTONE

OBSERVER

- 美- 英

We are now past the golden suns of June and gone. Although it is st gone. Although it is s and pleasant, and there delightful weeks ahead of

have passed over the hill-are on the decline of the days are growing shorter around us indicates the or

the dreary autumn, to be followed by the long cold

this season I, always feel

sad. The memories of the season that has passed ar sad than the anticipations season to come." And who

that I, too, like the sease

ther like the year, have se

springbime, have watched grow longer, "the nearer of June," have behead

time of July, and that I

to move out of the harves

August, and to enter upo

tumn that precedes the la unending winter, I feel a st

mess come over me, and even the most pleasant,

with the sombreness of that they are but images of hopes, of loves and pleasu

are buried to never again

glance back over my year

vation, along the curbston

miss so many hundreds whose faces, dresses, man and ways I was in the halt ly observing. When I look

nt time of spi

0000000000

CONCLUSION. -The result of these veries, to my mind, is simply hat we are nearer now to antiquity ver were the people of any of res that intervene between us and that remote past. But when we ionsider our present-day inventions, the wonderful achievements of people of genius in the present age, we inclined to believe that we are coverers of marvels that have er been revealed to man by sci-Dever nce. Yet as we delve further down into the great mine of the past we unearth proof after proof that there is nothing new on earth. We find that the ancient Egyptians, two thousand years before Christ, possessed mechanical contrivances to which our boasted steam engines are but play-toys, and that they had mathematical and other acquirenents to which all the works Euclid, or of Newton, are but the alphabet. When, then, we find vain human beings priding themselves to such an extent on their knowledge, that they can afford to ignore and to deny God and His All-present, all.directing power, we are forced to the conclusion that they are mere children playing with bubbles - and that their bubbl es will finally burst, leaving them with mere emptiness in their hands. Instead of combating Instead of combating the researches of science the Church encourages them, for their results are all testimonies fo the truth of ier immortal teachings.

Once the people have learned sing, the priest will not longer be dependent upon the convenience good will of a few singers for the nusic at Benediction, for the evening services, processions, or even Holy Week, writes Right Rev. Abbot Ford in the Catholic Times of Liverpool. It is a common experience with priests to be obliged to wait until the last moment to see if the choir will turn up in sufficient numbers to enable them to give this or that service. Or, just as they are entering the church the music has to be all re-arranged because some principal singer has not come. . . . Again, where congre-gational singing is used and the people are taught to understand the words they sing and the services in which they take part, there is always a revival of interest in the services and an increase in the attendance at Church. Intimately connected with this question is the custom of singing hymns, especially English hymns. I am inclined to lay great stress fifth the value of hymns when sung by a congregation; when sung by a choir in a gallery they would seem to be of no great use. If the words are carefully chosen, the hymns sung by the congregation provide a store dogmatic and devotional thoughts in the mind of the people. When these hymns are learnt carly in life they influence the habitual attitude of the mind towards religion in a way that no other teaching can.' Our hymns cover the whole field ol dogma and devotion and the minds of a conthe years that I have been such observations. I feel k the memory is uninspiring. gone, with their opportun their anticipations, and th going to come back-I do n much memories, for they a discourage and disarm o struggle-brief though it mains. GLAD AND SAD-There ories that are glad and o are sad, but it seems to a of them are alloyed to swith bitterness. The glad with bitterness. so because they bring b that belong to the past cannot be lived over in t the sad ones are so becan serve to cloud the sunset o and though the clouds may A PLEA TO YOUNG In his inaugural address Catholic Young Men's Sou ference held in England, re Bishop of Achonry said : Let me, my friends, put a few thoughts in plain, u words, which may prove here to-night. Let me as consider your position-1 prominent, pre-eminent por hold in virtue of your fait nor and happiness which s yours, as being Catholics in Catholic land. Disabilities removed; official life has be bigotry is discouraged, pre been largely allayed; profes mercantile pursuits are un literature and art are at ;

Motherscie, the ring and complete as making them, says: "An impos-to early arbatas o only a few facts what a fund what a fund tific researches of up from the dey past.

UST 20, 1904.

The result of these mind, is simply now to antiquity people of any of me between up st. But when we nt-day inventions, vements of people esent age, we are hat we are the rels that have to man by scielve further down e of the past we proof that there n earth. We find Egyptians, two ore Christ, poscontrivances steam engines are that they had other acquirethe works to n, are but the hen, we find vain ng themselves their knowledge, d to ignore and His All-present, we are forced hat they are mere th bubbles - and will finally burst. mere emptiness in ad of combating ience the Church for their results to the truth ıgs.

are on the decline of the year.

days are growing shorter and season to come.' And when I reflect that I, too, like the seasons, or ra

that I, too, like the use seen my gay ther like the year, have seen my gay

grow longer, "the nearer the fulness

of June," have beheid the haying

time of July, and that I am about

tumn that precedes the long ' and

unending winter, I feel a strange sad-

mess come over me, and memories,

even the most pleasant, are tinged

that they are but images of joys and

glance back over my years of obser-

miss so many hundreds of those

and ways I was in the habit of close-

in observing. When I look back over the years that I have been recording

such observations. I feel keeniv that the memory is uninspiring. They are their anticipations, and they are not going to come back-I do not care for such memories, for they are liable to

GLAD AND SAD-There are memories that are glad and others that are sad, but it seems to me that all of them are alloyed to some extent

so because they bring back events

that belong to the past and that

The glad ones are

gone, with their opportunities,

mains.

with bitterness.

hopes, of loves and pleasures

the sombreness of the relative

that

and

springtime, have watched my

AL SINGING,

ave learned not longer convenience singers for the , for the evening or even Holy Rev. Abbot Ford s of Liverpool. It ence with priests it until the last e choir will turn mbers to enable that service. Or, ering the church, all re-arranged al singer has not n, where congreused and the understand the the services in , there is always

tyrs who won their palms and gain tom of singing to $342,730. The amount paid in emerging from playfulness of youth Catholic Young Men's Sovieties' Coned their crowns. In the dismal in glish hymns. benefits during the year was $156,and the buoyancy of boyhood, ference held in England, recently, the terval, between the evening to A MEMORIAL AND LESSON. -In when sung by a 740, the total since 1884 being $1, enrol them in your ranks, to take Bishop of Achonry said : outcast, outlawed, broken-hearted Wolsey entered Leicester Abbey and Newry, recently, the home of the The income for the year 475.000. them beneath your patronage, to wrap around them your protection, sung by a choir Let me, my friends, put before you Russell family, a beautiful chapel was $307.690 laid him down to die, and the sum was dedicated in memory of the late Mother Emanuel, Superior of the Id seem to be of a few thoughts in plain, unvarnished There are branches of the ouraniza to shield them by your power. Then words are caremer day when young Victoria, still tion in South Africa, Australlia and words, which may prove suggestive St. Patrick's Total Abstinence is the critical point of their career. in her teens, amidst the pomp ans sung by the Nuns of Mercy of that place. The here to-night. Let me ask you to and So in the United States. In connection then is the testing time of life; if pageant and pride of her people . Bishop of Dromore presided and there le a store consider your position-the proud. with the progress made in the latter they fail then, it may be they fail cended the English throne onal thoughts in was a large attendance. In noting prominent, pre-eminent position you country the report says : for ever. Young men are impressionthe laudable and praiseworthy unle. When these hold in virtue of your faith-the ho-. . . "There is one feature about the able, impulsive; impetuous, visionary dertaking of erecting a monument to a religious who was distinguished ly in life nor and happiness which should be American section of the society that and wavering; they have not the The history of Catholicity in this attitude of the yours, as being Catholics in this nonshould be noted in countries nearer calming influences which maturer country may not be read in open also a member of the A.O.H. The de-Catholic land. n in a way that during her long life for her sanctity Disabilities have been home, and it is that the female years will bring. Seek them, search .n.' page and acknowledged chronicle. In and devotion, a correspondent points removed; official life has been opened, branches threaten not ajone to run ol dogma and recent times, when life moves onward them out, before their young lives betime, but a short time previous to out that with the exception of himbigotry is discouraged, prejudice has neck and neck, with the male branhis death began to fail rapidly, and as it never moved before, when come tainted by the contaminations the inds of a conbeen largely allayed; professional and old order changeth and giveth place self., every member of the family of ches, but probably outstep them in of the world; while yet the fragrance passed peacefully away on Thursday ith such poetry mercantile pursuits are unrestricted; to the new when oftentimes the Mercand art are at your discharge is swift and cuick and mulden bearts. the late Lord Russell of Killowen, the race. I wish them success, and morning at the early age of the illustrious Chief Justice of Engtheir and beliefs and literature and art are at your 84 hope they'll win." dis- change is swift and quick and sudden When his death was years. a preacher can posal; science and research within like the land, entered the religious life. All nounced the flag on Tara our reach. More, regard and respect even now, more than ever, is it an became members of the HEAD OF REDEMPTORISTS. -A has been at the and reverence are, if not rendered, at honor to be a Catholic. At the pe-least recognized towards those whe riod in the century which has passed Thousands of young lives drift dai-Order of Mercy, and his brother, most enthusiastic reception was ac people to sing derstanding will well as women ly to destruction borne onward by Rev. Matthew Russell-the gifted wri corded to the Very Rev. Mathias which took place on Sunday afterthe tumbling torrent or tossed in ter and editor ol the Irish Monthly practice their printiples and make Kans, rector.major of the Redemptonoon, was the largest seen here for when this Empire knew little of Car real their belief. True, there is yet strife and conflict and contention; took place amidst the peaceful clois the whirlpool of life, because there is entered the Jesuit Order rist Order on his arrival in Limerick a long time. The various societier words in their no hand raised to rescue them from He was met at the termiwith which deceased was connected recently. there must needs be until the end. But there is a kull in the conflict between you and the sons of the vic-was not sudden; it was the result of time in the the term and the sons of the vic-time in the term and the sons of the vic-time in the term and the sons of the vic-time in the term and the sons of the vic-time in the term and term and the sons of the vic-time in the term and term and term and the sons of the vic-time in term and term and term and term and the sons of the vic-time in term and term and term and term and the sons of the vic-time in term and term and term and term and the sons of the vic-time in term and term and term and term and term and the sons of the vic-time in term and term and term and term and the sons of the vic-time in term and the sons of the vic-time term and their doom. Thousands of brave hearts are lost at the very opening ork. A short MONEY AND POLITICS. turned out in full force, the A.O.H. nue by a large and influential depu try, far from a tation of the clerey and laity ughman singing Discussing some phases of the campassed through the ranks of 7000 tims in dark and deadly days, and the sons of the men who sent your fathers on hurdles to Tyburn and hymns as struck by the tempest of temptation gradual growth; quiet, silent, hushed, like the ripening of the corn or the men and boys who were in line along paign now in progress in the United chief mourners. Rev. Father and pressed hard by the peril of non officiated at the solemn Libera, the streets and wore their contrater-States, the "New Freeman." a Ca no hesitation most of our a all smaller swelling waves, there is no voice to fathers on hurdles to Tyburn and placed the headsman at Tower Hill. If there be strife, it is the fights of faith and infidelity, the conflict of Christianfty with Scaladium n'ty medals. The distinguished chief of the great tholic newspaper of St. John, N.B., assisted by Rev. Fathers Cullen and shout aloud the word of courage, no light to flash out the gleam of hope. Delargy as deacon and sub-deacon. The interment took place in the famiremarks : Order was v sibly moved by warmth and enthusiasm of bie "The voters of to-day, at least a ional singing nediction, at In the midst of all your society. the large part of them, want pay for Christianity with Socialism, the opposition of dogma to unbelief. Besilently, steadily, unobtrusively, re their vote. They are ready to sell the lake or placid pool. Silent first, it versal sympathy is felt for the afflictception in the historic city. processions, for observed, worked its way, advanced lake or placed poor. Since here a busic vel, worked the here is outposts, invigorating its mem-into the topic of the times, like the bars, bettering their condition, pro-low, deep, solemn rumbling of the their vote just the same as they sell their labor. The millionaire is the ed family in the loss they have susk, and for all ing a Catholic brings both honor into the topic of the times, like the a Mass. In the and happiness, for, my friends, you hold in your hearts the treasure of organ, which, under the touch of a HOME RULE .- In a letter to the big man in politics. In times gone loved so dearly, whose entire life I think' ' the would be Lord Mayor of Cork, Mr. John E. Redmond, M.P., says : hold in your hearts the treasure of truth, unfolded by the Man-God to a wondering even in the slopes of a a-off Judean hill; committed to the trusted leeping of the great Judean Twaive; sealed and sanctified by the Sacrifice on Calvary, proven and ser-tified by the Resurtection from the dead, promulgated on the first Pon-tecost by the Paraclete of first Pin-tecost by the Paraclete of first Pinby, a vote was something that was was that of a good practical Catuth, unfolded by the Man-God to wondering eyes an the slopes of a far-of Judean hill: committed to the trusted eseping of the great Judean Nerveixes sealed and sanctified by the Sarifice on Calvary, proven and yer tided by the Beautrection from the feed, promulgated on the first Por-tecost by the Paraclete of first Hid-turies in the nands of mathyrs for cos-turies in the caverns of the Cata-combs, smidst the desert sands of Northern Africa, undet the tangled within its ample arms all that was best in Catholic life. It has weath-ered the tempests of hauf a century; considered sacred, beyond the buying tholic. R.I.P. they could sing s of the Mass. Everything points to the practical certainty that we are rapidly i ap-proaching a time when Home Rule will once again be the foremost po-itical question of the day. Would it power of money. Which are degene-rating-men or politics? It is a sad and the tempests of half a century; and it stands proudly in the land to-day, with a past full of history, and a future full of hope. This hope will come true, if the members, like men of principle, be mindful of their membership, and faithful to . their first duty, loyal to their first law, and be constant to their Communion on the specified monthly day. This, my friends, is the charter of your se-curity, the sheet-anchor of your ex-PASTORAL LETTER. -A pastocommentary on the affairs of the ral letter from His Grace Mgr. Begin United States, as well as of Canada, that money is the first calculation of the politician. He can so use it was read in all the city churches on RCH. not be almost criminal to allow any controversy now to distract our counics of Cahoes to influence the masses that the party will triumph. Among the classes, place and position is the dangling bait held before the ama new Church. have been r appointed by charge of the cils or weaken our forces on the eve of such an eventuality. Let us be practical. Let us deal bitious eye. The twentleth century is not making progress in the science of polities. with the actual living facts of the present situation, about which there is no doubt, and bend all our ener-

and golden they are none the les We are now past the mid s th We are now past the midsummer. The verdant time of spring and its golden sums of June and July are gone. Although it is still warm ore-runners of the twilight. What genius was Moore. On such occa sions as the present I recall his won and pleasant, and there are we hope delightful weeks ahead of us, still we lerful thoughts that he so beautiful ly expressed in these lines a have passed over the hill-crest

"Ne'er tell me of glories serenely Th adorning.

The close of our doy the calm eve of around us indicates the on-coming of our nightthe dreary autumn, to be inevitably

Give me back, give me back, the followed by the long cold winter. Ay ess of morning. bright freshn this season I, always feel somewhat Its clouds and its tears are worth sad. The memories of the beautiful season that has passed are no less sad than the anticipations of the evening's best light."

CONCLUSION .- These are mere re flections that come to me, suggested by the turning of the year and by my own turning to step down the western declivity of life. I feel. however, that this is the time turn to the great Guide and Master pnaise." to move out of the harvest time of August, and to enter upon the auof all, to gaze upon the Star of Hope that hangs upon the horizon. It is on such occasions and at such times that it is well to be a Catholic. The memories of the past have no depressing influence, for the life of the Catholic is one of the future No matter what this world has given or retained, there is another one ahea are buried to never again revive. I where all that memory points 8.4 dear and beloved in our past shall vation, along the curbstone, and I revive and be with us through "the length of eternity's cycles. I often whose faces, dresses, manners, lives look back with one great joy. one immense source of happiness: if this were the last line my pen were to trace, and I were perfectly aware of it, I do not think-as far as memory serves me-that there is one word which I ever wrote in all my observations that I would desire to be re called. I am confident that no per sonal feetings were ever injured and discourage and disarm one in the struggle-brief though it be-that reno personal interests were ever harmed. This is not bonstfulness, because the record is there in black and white. It is merely the giving vent to a feeling of legitimate satis faction. The memories of the past

may be fraught with disappointments misunderstandings and sufferinas of various kinds and the anticipations of the future may contain visions of the repetitions of the same, but long as the heart is young and the

By your Catholicity you are the Establ, shment; profitable positions in university life, bravely break ng asunder the rusty links of ages. derest ties of love, the pro-prospects of promotion, the mising prospects of promotion, the highest hopes of honors, increasing s, increasing wealth and facing poverty, penury, privations, discom-fort; a desponding outlook; an un-certain future. Wonder was succeeded by admiration; rankling feelings soon succumbed to respect and reverence; and honor followed men who sacrificed so much for the sake of conscience and the cause of Christ. It is an honor to you who profess this by the waters, will dominate your faith to be able to count amongst lives like the cedar tree on Lebanon, your members those whose names are In another day you go back to the held in reverence and linger in lasting love, who by their learning shed a lustre on the land, who by their kindly co-operation have brought from the counting-house or the fac comfort to the sons of toil, and who have left behind them lives of use directors' board, from the prof. fulness for their Church, their country and their kind. It is an honor to follow, even from afar, and walk the way marked by the foot- that toil ennobles and labor sanctisteps of Wiseman, Newman, Manning, Vaughan, the Jesuit Coldridge, the Dominican Wilberforce, the Oratorian life away. Bear away from Gates Faber, Lord Chief Justice Russell, and the gentle, genial Archbishop Eyre. "None knew them, but to to love them; none named them but to

If our Faith gives great honor, it If our Faith gives great honor, it whose eyes follow your work with also brings great duties. I have of-pride; carry to them this counsel, ten said that your society should that in good report and in evil re-be the vanguard of the faith; that port, in shadow and in shine. in you should form the leading line in loyalty to the Church; that your of their monthly duty and cling with place is there, where the fight fiercest, where the throng of men is thickest, where fall the heaviest "Esto perpetua"-be ye ever so. May blows, You are the sentinels on the Tower of David, with arms grounded, with attention riveted, and gaze intent. You are the watchmen on the walls of Israel waiting to wave a warning and toil the danger bell. You are the trustful and trusted guardians of those treasures of the Church-the guiltless and the guileless, the weaklings and the young. Your society does not insinuate that it is constituted exclusively for those whose lives are in their spring; it im plies that its work is to mould the minds, to develop the intellects, to form the character, to cultivate the feelings, to confirm the Faith of the young. Thank God there are among you many who are warriors in the warfare, who have borne the brunt of battle and are seared with the scars of strife, who can look back on rigid service rendered, and successful results achieved. Though for them "life is in its sere, its yellow leaf,"

the strongholds of your society, guiding it by their wise counsels. checking it by their tried experience. The future, however, belongs to the important interest to search for and seek out young men just when tence, the mainspring of the m nery, and the mystery of the mechan-ism. The monthly Communion is the stone on which the stately structure stands; the bed-rock on which the whole fabric fests; the hinge on which the whole society turns; the pivot round which your whole work time nor inclination for going back revolves; it is the centre from which, on old controversies or fighting over on the one hand, all your actions raagain personal differences. diate, and to which, on the other all your desires should tend.

THE TRUE MITTIES AND CATLOLIC OFICONICIES

If this rule be observed, then all things else will follow; your so-ciety will flourish like the bay tree work-a-day world and to the drag ging duties of daily life-for, my friends, no matter whence you come the directors' board, from the professions or trades, you are not the drones that drivel, but the active bees of to the empire; you act on the principle fies; you have learned the maxim that indolence enervates and idleness wears head to your brothers dispersed through Britain this counsel of an Irish Bishop, who loves his country. men in exile with all the warmth of a Celtic heart; whose soul goes out to your society in full sympathy; port, in shadow and in shine, tempest and in calm, they be mindful is Celtic constancy to the Communior when the settled day comes round. the peace he inspires, and the low look down upon your grand society, overspreading it with his gleaming wings: may the unity he typifies, and the peace he inspises, and the love he brings, settle on you for ever After the example of the fine old members, who have passed away during the fifty years now gone, so, in the years yet looming and in the days that are to be, prove your selves a credit to your Creed, th mainstay of your Church, the comfort of your clergy, the vanguard of your people; and realise to the full and recognize in its entirety the honor and happiness of being Catholics in this non-Catholic land. perpetua''-be you ever so.

Features of Irish News

FRATERNAL WORK .-- The annual convention of the Irish National Foresters was held in Cookstown; recently. In the report of the General Se cretary it was shown that branches had increased by 30, the membersh p an ncrease of 2767, and the fund an increase of $30,000. The bran ches number 401, the members number '38,732, and the funds amoun

gies to the task of vigor NOTES FROM QUEBEC gies to the task of vigorously put-common sense, we will fine neither culated to meet the very grave situation in which we find o we take this course, plainly dictated. it seems to me, by wisdom (By Our Own Correspondent) and cummon sense, we will find neither

the

be

DIED AT THE ALTAR .- Very Rev.

John Corish, parish priest of Bally-

more, near Wexford, died suddenly or

Sunday, July 31, at the age of 55

years, as he was celebrating Mass.

Ballymore for some years, and was extremely popular throughout the entire diocese of Ferns. It appears he ascended the altar in apparently his

First Gospel he turned around to address his congregation. Just as loved," he was noticed to become

faint, and he at once fell on the al tar. Dr. Hassett, the local medical fficer, who happened to be in the

having examined the good priest announced the sad news to those present that their pastor was no more

He attributed Father Corish's death

to failure of the heart's action. The congregation left the Church strick

. . .

THE PAPAL LEGATE .- Cardinal

Vannutelli, since his arrival in Ire land to attend the consecration of the Armagh Cathedrai, has been the recipient of most enthusiastic recep-tions in various cities.. In expressing his appreciation of the manner in which he had been received His Eminence is reported to have said that though his body would lie in Rome.

GAELIC WEEK .- A writer in one of our exchanges in the following

paragraphs indicates to what extent

the Gaelic movement has taken hold

of the minds and hearts of the people at home, and those in exile who have sent delegates from far distant

places to attend the Ard Fheis held

This is indeed a great Irish week

Members of the Gaelic League from every quarter have concentrated at

Dublin, and song and story, oratory

and instrumental music-fiddle, pipe

and harp-and native drama also

On Monday last the great Parliament

are fascinating and delighting all.

in Dublin recently. He says :

his heart would remain in Ireland.

Father Corish had been pastor

usual health, and after reading

had uttered the words "Dearly

Church, rushed to the altar,

en with grief.

TOOK THEIR VOWS. - Mgr. Marois, V.G., officiated at an imposing ceremony in the Convent of the Sisters of Charity recently, when 17 young ladies took the holy habit, and 25 others took their perpetual vows: There was a large number of priests present in the Sanctuary. similar ceremony took place last week at the Dominican Convent, at which Mgr. Mathieu officiated, ass ed by Rev. Fathers Gagnon and Gui-

ş 1

SECOND RETREAT .- The second retreat of the clergy of the Diocese of Quebec commenced on the 15th instant at the Seminary. Rev. Father LeDore is again the preacher. exercises of the retreat are followed by a great many priests.

A VENERABLE COUPLE. - On Saturday, the 13th instant, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Malley celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage. Mr. O'Malley came from Ireland 75 years ago, and for a long period carried on a prosperous business in the dry goods line, being now in his 85th year. He took part in the 1887 rebellion, and can tell many interesting tales of those stirring days. A special Mass of thanksgiving was celebrated in St. Patrick's Church, but Mrs. O'Malley, through indisposition, was unable to attend. Several members of the family outside the city arrived here to attend the celebration. Their numerous friends wish them many more years of happiness.

EXPELLED BROTHERS. -Fifteen Brothers of the Order of St. Joseph de Valier de France have arrived here, having been among those excountry. Eight of them will take charge of the school at Montmorency Village, while the remainder of them will go to St. Jean Port Joli, where the mother house will be established.

NEW ORGAN .- A new organ is at present being installed in the Basilica from the Casavant factory at St. Hyacinthe. The new organ will cost about $6000, and will be one of the finest in the city. It will be inaugurated at an early date. The old organ had been in use for almost a century of the League-the Ard Fheis-opened cannot be lived over in the future : in the Rotunda, under the presidency the sad ones are so because they soul seeks to keep close to; God, there serve to cloud the sunset of the day- are hidden joys in the memories of OBITUARY .- The many Irlends and and the snows of time are thicken of Dr. Douglas Hyde. Delegate ing on their heads, yet they are still acquaintances of Mr. John Ernest from the United States, Argentina and though the clouds may be bright yor Buenos Ayres, Australia, and also Delany were saddened when it was announced on Thursday morning that and from the great cities and towns of Britain, are daily sitting with their his sojourn in this vale of tears was A PLEA TO forests of Asia Minor, it came forth at an end. Deceased was one of the Irish confreres in congress, discussing in God's time, to flourish and fructi most popular young men of this city, young; the older men are passing off the best means to be adopted for th in the services fy, to enlighten the earth, to civilize YOUNG MEN the stage, and it becomes your first his unassuming manners, genial disthe nations, to dominate the world propagation and general furtherance he attendance a duty, your constant care, your most of Ireland's ancient language, and position, warm heart and honest the and upright character having made the development of a genuine indus companions and coheirs of the man trial movement. ted with this In his inaugural address at him a favorite with all with whom he came in contact. He was a brother of Messrs. Thomas and Charles. Delany, of the firm of T. Delany & Co., and Mr. W. J. Delany, insurance agent. For several years Mr. Delany held the office of Secretary of ciety, was President of St. Ann's Conference of St. Vincent de Paul Society, Secretary of St. Patricle's Literary Institute, a prominent meme ber of the Young Men's Sodality and ceased had been ailing for a long displayed at half mast as a mark of respect to his memory. The funeral, marching in front of the hearse, while the other societies followed the ly lot in St. Charles Cemetery. Unitained by the death of one they Was read in all the city churches on Sunday, promulgating the encyclical of the Holy Father announcing a universal jubiles to celebrate the golden jubiles of the definition of the dogma of the Immaculate Com-ception. The time set apart to com-ply with the required conditions be-gins September 7th and will last three months.

CATHOLIC AMERICAN FEDERATION CONVENTION.

In our last issue we published the reliminary proceedings of the fourth invention of the National Federa-on of Cathol c Societies in the United States held at, Detroit. The closing hours of the great gathering were devoted to the consideration of important amendments to the con-stitution, one of which permits Ca-tholic parishes and institutions to scome members (f the Federation as all as Catholic societies.

An amendment was also adopted permitting officers to hold office for ore than two terms. The resoluderation's declaration of allegiance to the Pope, express satisfaction with the progress made in the past year by Catholic societies in Germany towards the removal of restrictions onerous to Catholics, express indig tion at the tyranuy of the French Government in its recent suppression religious orders in France, and in impeding free and immediate communication between the Pope the French Bishops, and falsely accusing him of breaking the Concordat, express pleasure at the improv-ed condition of the Indians and reiterating the Federation's pledge make the maintenance of Catholic Indian schools its first national issue. The resolutions commend the efforts of the men and women who are working to educate the negro, and urge generous support of the efforts to spread the light of Catholic truth ng these people, and urge further efforts to provide for the' Catholic instruction of immigrants arriving in this country from foreign lands. On the Catholic Indian school ques tion the Federation says :

ed parties

While we express our sense of plea sure at the improved condition of the Indian, the enactment of a more 'use legislation and the equitable attitude of the Government in protecting his rights, we cannot fail to realize that the ultimate solution of the Indian peoblem must be on the basis of Christian morality. We accordingly reiterate our pledged policy to make the maintenance of our Catholic Indian schools our first national issue We urge every member of the Federa tion to join the Society for the Preservation & the Faith among Indian children, or the Marquette League We pledge ourselves, moreover, not to relax our efforts in behalf of the red man until the the bands still in paganism are brought into the Church of God and elevated to the condition of intelligent citizenship. On the school guestion the resolution says :

In the terms of our resolution o last year, we observe again with deep satisfaction the gradual growth among our non-Catholic fellow citizens of the conviction that religious instruction of some sort in the school is obsolutely necessary for the 'welfare of our country. Witness the dis. cussions of the National Education Association, and of the Religious cation Association, both of which fully justify the position maintained by Catholics for the vast half century. We note with pleasure that while the pupils of our Catholic schools receive a thorough religious training, their proficiency in secular studies is not inferior, but in many cases superior to that of public school children. Convinced that we are not called upon to suggest plans for the various non-Catholic denominations, we propose this solution of the educational problem as far as we are concerned :

1st. Let no public moneys be paid out for religious instruction in any

no right to legislate regarding readers, we reproduce a couple the bond of marriage, although it ges from that co may regulate its civil effects, esp The writer says :

ally the property rights of the marri-Yet, in view of the reli gious condition of our country, and of the fact that the American law claims full jurisdiction in this mat ter, we call upon our Catholic and non-Catholic fellow-citizens, especially our State Federations, to use proper necessary influence in the State legislatures to frame such laws as will effectively restrict reduce the facility of obtaining divorce, and bring about more unifor mity in the marriage and divorce laws of the different States. Concerning the teachings of Socialism, the resolutions say We reiterate our urgent recomm dations to study the social question and especially the pastoral letters of Leo XIII., in wh ch the most effective means of remedying the social evils are proposed. We condemn socialism as opposed to natural justice, since its primary object is to deprive man of the lawful possession of staple and permanent private proverty, which is necessary for the welfare of individual as well as of the family. Catholics especially should take firm stand against international cialism, which preaches the gospel of materialism and atheism, repudiates the divinely constituted authority of Church and State, and threatens undermine family life by advocating free love and secularization of all ducation. We heartily endorse the endeavor of workingmen to better their material condition and to pro mote their temporal prosperity the formation of trades unions, but at the same, time we exhort our Ca thokic workmen to form special asso ciations, the object of which is te provide also for their religious and noral wants, and to instruct then properly on the social questions and a practical solution thereof, as it has en proposed by our Holy Father.

Leo XIII. in his encyclical on the 'Conditions of Labor.'' Corruption in politics is deplored and all Catholic citizens are urged to use every legitimate influence to check the evil. Efforts to secure the place Efforts to secure the placing of a proper representation of Catholic books in public libraries urged, and it is stated that when a librarian is unable to make probar selection of Catholic books th Catholic citizens should demand the appointment of such a person shall respect the rights of all. The Louisiana delegation succeed ed in capturing the convention una nimously for the selection of New Orleans for the next annual meeting. The convention adjourned sin die after electing the following officers: President, T. B. Minahan, of 'New York; vice-presidents, J. B. Coskers.

of Newark, N.J.; Edward Feeney, of Brooklyn; George W. Steiger, Minnesota; treasurer, C. of Detroit; secretary, Anthony Matre, of Cincinnafi; executive board, Walter George Smith, cleairman, of Philadelphia: Nicholas Conner, of Dubuque, Iowa, Thomas H. Cannon, of Chi-cago; J. W. Fowler, of Louisville; F. W. Immekue of Pittsburg; Peter Wallrath, of Evansville, Ind.; H. N. Cou-of "During my travels in San Domin. go,-unattended for the most part -extending over a period of twelve D.m months, the honesty of the Dominican strongly impressed me. In this connection the following incident would substantiate these statements. Upon asking a large and prominen schant of Santiago, an important uterior city, the legal process of colbecting debts under the Dominican law, he informed me that their statutes provided the means of collecting, as in the United States, but that in his long experience as a merchant he had not found it necessary to use the courts for this purpose that his credits to Dominicans covera large area and, in the aggr gate, a considerable sum; a certain date was fixed for payment to him of these advances made-usually the payment was promptly made-but, if for any reason a debtor could not then pay, he gave his reasons, which were always satisfactory, and when payment at another date was pronised, it was promptly made. mention this conversation to show the integrity of the average Dominican farmer or laborer.' Then dealing with the religion the people, which is Catholic, writer (who is a Protestant; tells what follows :

"It has been asserted in the pres that the practice of voodooism ampant in Santo Domingo. I can positively state that there is not a emtlance of truth in this statement The religion of the Dominican people is Roman Catholicism. I have been a witness, on many occasions, simple acts of devotion in the most inpretentious huts in the interior and other parts of the republic. The moral standpoint of the Dominican is good. They hold as sacred the marriage vow, and, from my persona: observation, family relationship in everything that could be desired Every facility and courtesy has been shown me and my associates -all -in our travels by the off foreigners cials of the Government, without regard to political distinction, and it is everywhere apparent that the for eigner is accorded privileges in Santo Domingo fully in keeping with the treatment received in other civilized countries, the repeated statements to the contrary notwithstanding. There are to-day in auccensful operation in Santo Domingo, a number of large enterprises owned exclusively by foreigners, who are, and have been for ears, availing themselves of the opportunities presented in that coun try for the safe investment of capi-

The Dominican of the better class 1904. is cultured, with a charming personality. It has been my privilege to attend many delightful musical and literary evenings with Dominic

Society Directory. T. PATRICK'S SOCIETY. -Es A PATRICK'S SOCIETY. - Esta-inad March 6th, 1856, incorps ated 1868, revised 1846. Meets is St. Patrick's Hall, 92 St. Alexa Gor strest, first Monday of the month. Committee meets last Web mesday. Officers: Rev. Director, Rev. M. Callaghan, P.P.; Freiden, Mr. Justice, C. J. Debuty, Rev. M. Oallaghan, P.F.; Fresideat Hon. Mr. Justice C. J. Doherty Int Vice, F. E. Devlin, M.D.; 2a Vice, F. J. Curran, B.C.L.; Trans-urer, Frank J. Green; correspond-ing Secretary, J. Kahala; Re-cording Secretary, T. P. Tansey.

IDAY, AUGUST 20, 1904.

ST. PATRICK'S T. A. AND B. 80 CIETY-Meets on the second s CIETY-Meets on the second Sun day of every month in St. Patrick's Hall, 92 St. Alexander etreet, at 3.30 p.m. Committee of Manage ment meets in same hall on its first Tuesday of every month at 8 p.m. Rev. Director, Rev. Jas. En loran; President, W. P. Doyle; Res Same Inc. P. Gunning, 716 ps Secy., Jno. P. Gunning, 716 St. Antonine street, St. Henri.

ST. ANN'S T. A. & B. SOCIETY, established 1868. -Rev. Director, Rev. Father McPhail; President, D. Gallery, M.P.; Sec., J. F. Quinn, 625 St. Dominique street; M. J. Ryan, treasurer, 18 St. Augustis street. Meets on the second Surday of every month, in St. An's Hall, corner Young and Ottaws streets, at 3.80 p.m.

ST. ANN'S YOUNG MEN'S SOCIE. TY, organized 1885.—Meets in its hall, 157 Ottawa street, on the first Sunday of each month, at 2.30 p.m. Spiritual Adviser, Rev. E. Strubbe, C.SS.R.; President, P. Kenehan; Treasurer, Thomas P. Kenehan; Treasurer, Thomas O'Connell; Rec.-Sec., Robt. J. Hart

C.M.B.A. OF CANADA, BRANCE 26.-(Organized 13th November, 1873.-Branch 26 meets at St. November Patrick's Hall, 92 St, Alexander St., on every Monday of each month. The regular meetings for the transaction of business are held on the 2nd and 4th Mondays of each month, at 8 p.m. Spiritual Adviser, Rev. M. Callaghan; Chan-Adviser, Rev. M. Callaghan; Chas-cellor, P. J. Darcy; President, W. F. Wall; Recording Scretary, P. Q. McDonagh, 139 Visitation street; Financial Scretary, Jaz. J. Costigan, /825 St. Urbain street; Treas surer; J. H. Kelly; Medical Advisers Drs. H. J. Harrison, E. J. O'Connor and G. H. Merrill.

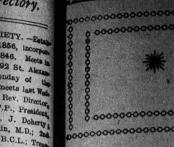

OHUROH BELLS.

to price. Our experts are at your disposal, without extra cost; Car we do anything for you?

100

enough to have my mother away so suddenly (Mrs. St. had been ill but a day, but a spurned my love must come t the detestable robes of a my dist ing to give sympathy. For fully half an hour he s the corner of the street oppo onvent, then walked up and in front of the building for time, but for what purpose 1 aot. He was fully aware the would be ho chance of meeting but there seemed to be some fort in gazing at the h which he knew sheltered her. himself growing faint and for he had taken scarcely any and had been unable to slee his mother's death. The pol on the beat passed him once twice, eyeing him suspiciously was anything but pleasant to his his sensitive nature. Trembling violently from w tried to walk to a car would take him home, but the corner just in time to se Pass, and it would be fully t utse before another came. as a large church on the and he was about to sit dow and he was about to sit dow the steps to wait for the car he noticed that the door was and, thinking that he would less attention inside, he entry ulet here and had

PART SECOND,

CHAPTER VIIL-Contin

"You are right, but it is women of a religious ord criticized on every side the greatest prudence, especie lic and among stran not think of app you do him ?''

"I would like to, Sister." "Better not, Cecelia. Reve would not approve it." "For charity, Sister, do not. I feel he would at impulse of the mom On the is was gone, and her co looked sadly after her, filled ad misgivings. She knew i dri's motives were good, bu ould excuse this act of disc on the part of a postulant he habit ? And then she the the pretty, winning face and which was too apt to the notice of strangers, espe the opposite sex. Cecelia ha ontrary to her wishes and could only breathe a silent Another deep, sad groan the man as Cecelia stood or then she spoke what was int a word of consolation. A he was silent, then quickly h dropped from his face, he tun er and springing to his feet looking straight into her eye Sister, fearing that Cecelia tronted a madman, hastened rescue. Cecelia was spellbo the man's glance, and there responsive tenderness in her eyes. To the Sister the mo stranger he said, sadly and r confronted by Allyn St. Clas Unheeding the presence stranger, he said, sad, y and :

fully : "Cecelia Daton, how can y before me in your nunnish re try to speals words of consol me after having broken my i once believed you to be all good and true in woman, bu mad love for you I made a s take. The only woman who true heart was my own mot she is gone now, gone forevo my confidence in woman is h her grave."

Cecelia dared not speak, b gering into the arms of her panion, she looked into her f an imploring expression, whi her take her away. Wit stood looking after them went to a seat some distant to await for the boarders, w assembled. When they formation and walked away he left plot where his mother had re less than a week and follower distance, as if unwilling to lo of her whom he still loved u door of the convent closed

"Lost, lost forever," he ma bitter tones. "It was in bitter

2nd. Let the educational per capita tax be disbursed for results in purely secular studies only, in our Catholic schools, our teachers receiving their salaries as other teachers receive theirs.

3rd. To ascertain these results, let ur schools be submitted to state or city examinations. Thus will ' the great principle of our Government, "No public moneys for sectarias purposes," be preserved intact.

Better observance of Sunday as day of rest and religious exercises is urged, and gnatification is expressed at the outcome of the negotiations for the friars lands in the Philip On the divorce question the olutions say :

We rejoice at the public recognition which the Catholic principle regard-ing marriage and divorce has received in the protests of non-Catholic denominations against the present devorce legislation in the United States, and its wide interpretation by the courts. As Catholics, we by the courts. As Catholics, we claim that Christian marriage being a divinely instituted sacrament, falls lon of Louisiana.

IN SOUTHERN COUNTRIES,

There has been so much of slander spread about the people of the Sou-thern countries, especially those that are well known Catholics, that one is always pleased to find a bit of the truth told from time to time. the truth told from time to time. An Englishman, named H. Godding Field, who recently came to the United States from San Domingo, and who is deeply interested in the commercial development of that country, has written the account of a year's travel in the Island Republic He Boddes out that the claim that Christian marriage being a divinely instituted sacroment, falls exclusively under the jurisdiction of the Church, and that civil authority (must deeply interest many of our can families, but their apparent reserve to foreigners, in their home can be easily attributable to lack of lange association with the outside world. The country has been, and is still, a terra incognita, but fair-minded strangers who have visited the republic cannot but that the intercourse with the intelligent Dominican, both from a busiess and social stondpoint, is eable.

All that is needed in Santo Domin go is capital and enterprise to de velop the immensely valuable natural sources of the country. Labor is cheap-from forty to fifty cents per day, and intelligent labor at that-and it is also abundant. Vast fracts of wonderfully fertile country await merely up-to-date methods of culti-vation to convert them into rich pro-ducing areas. Water is everywhere plentiful. Railroad faciltities hadly needed in Santo Domingo. The present autiquated means of transportation, with few exceptions in the republic, rander impossible profitable and extensive development. The present Government, under Pre-sident Morales—a far-seeing and in-that sident Morales-a far-seeing and in our telligent and careful administrator

SUBSCRIPTION ORDER

The Ira: Witness P. & P. Co.'y. Lin P. O. BOJ (1188, MONTBEAL, P. Q.

But

1

I hereby authorize you to send me THE TRUE WITNESS for which I agree to pay to your order at the rate of One Dollar per year.

staned.

Address

subscription' Rates, Strictly in Advance-Canada. Newfoundland and United States, $1.00 per ver-City and Foreign, $1.80 per year.

GUST 20, 1904. Directory.

SOCIETY. -Est Storing TY. - Establish Sth, 1856, incorpor-ed 1846. Meets in all, 92 St. Alexan ttee meets last Wede ttee meets last Wei Rev. Director an, P.P.; President ce C. J. Doherty; Devlin, M.D.; 2nd ran, B.C.L.; Tress Green; correspond J. Kahala; Be y, T. P. Tanmey.

T. A. AND B. 80. on the second Sum on the in St. Patrick's exander etreet, at mittee of Manage ame hall on the every month at 8 tor, Rev. Jas. Kil W. P. Doyle; Rec. Junning, 716 St.

& B. SOCIETY. a. -Rev. Director, hail; President, D. bec., J. F. Quinn que street; M. J. 18 St. Augustia on the second Sum nth. in St. Ann's pung and Ottawa).m.

St. Henri.

885.-Meets in its a street, on the tual Adviser, Rev. SS.R.; President, ec., Robt. J. Hart ADA, BRANCH 18th November, 6 meets at St.

92 St, Alexander onday of each ular meetings for of business are and 4th Mondays 8 p.m. Spiritual Callaghan; Chancy; President, Wa g Secretary, P. C. Visitation street; ry, Jas. J. Cos. bain street; Treas Medical Advisers on, E. J. O'Com rrill.

ED & CO. ers, &c., STREET.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 20, 1

women of a religious order who criticized on every side to use greatest prudence, especially in blic and among strangers. I hope do not think of approaching

"I would like to, Sister." "Better not, Cecelis. Reverend mo uld excuse this act of disobe

the habit ? And then she thought of the pretty, winning face and swee voice which was too apt to attract the notice of strangers, especially of the opposite sex. Cecelia had acted contrary to her wishes and now sh uld only breathe a silent prayer. Another deep, sad groan escape the man as Cecelia stood over him then she spoke what was intended as a word of consolation. A moment he was silent, then quickly his hands dropped from his face, he turned to her and springing to his feet stood looking straight into her eyes. Sister, fearing that Cecelia had con fronted a madman, hastened to her cue. Cecelia was spellbound by the man's glance, and there was before me in your nunnish robes and try to speals words of consolation to me after having broken my heart ?] once believed you to be all that was good and true in woman, but in my mad love for you I made a sad mis take. The only woman who had a true heart was my own mother, but she is gone now, gone forever, and my confidence in woman is buried in her grave." Cecelia dared not speak, but staggering into the arms of her com-

her take her away.

in bitter tones. "It was not mough to have my mother taken away so suddenly (Mrs. St. Clair had been ill but a day, but she who spurned my love must come to me in the detestable robes of a Catholic the detestable robes of a contract and mock my distress while pre-

the interior of the vast edifice and its beautiful works of art. Such things had no charm for him now. All that occupied his mind was embrance that the church in the far West where he had once heard Cecelia Daton sing was much like this. Dropping into a seat near the door he sat gazing fixedly on the little lamp which, in the midst of a costly array of cut glass, burned like a bright star before the altar. Now and then a devout worshiper would enter the edifice, kneel a few minutes in prayer and go away but he heeded them not, and the car he had come in to wait for was entirely forgotten. To him the church was growing dark (though the sunlight was streaming through the stained windows) until only the sanctuary lamp was visible, then that too, faded, and he was asleep. In his dreams he thought that the air around him was suddenly laden with the sweetest perfume, and he heard many voices singing in tones more grand than anything he had ever heard before. Cecelia's voice arose loud and clear above them all, just as it had when he had heard her during Holy Week. But where were the singers ? For some time he look ed for them and at last he found them, -a vast crowd in spotless white gathered around the altar. Their faces shone with a wonderfu radiance, and all seemed so happy that he would have given all he possessed to have joined them, but a deep rushing stream rolled between which he could not cross. He approached the bank and stood looking wistfully across, fixing his gaze on one face-Cecelia's. She turned once and looked at him, then geld a golden cross entwined with white liflies before her face and beckoned him to cross.

He made one effort, which failed, then formed a mad resolution not to go to her. but to bring her to him, heeding not the danger she must encounter. For a long time she firmly resisted, still-holding the cross before her face, and he discovered that while she clung to that she was immoveable. Picking up a stone he aimed it straight at the cross, crushing the lillies and striking it unbroken to her feet. She made one fruitless effort to recover her prize and in so doing slipped and fell into the stream. "She is mine, now," he thought, "and I will rescue her." So saying he plunged in and tried to reach her, but her companions lifted her out. Her_white garment was dripping with the muddy water, but strange to say, it was not stained. She gave him one look of sad reproach and then pointed to a man of noble appearance who hung aying upon cross which he had not seen before. The vision vanished and he felt something clutching him Opening his eyes he looked to the left of the high altar and there beheld the same cross on which hung a life-size mar-

"Come," said a man's voice, "it is time to lnck the church."

It was the sexton. St. Clair tried to rise but fell back in his seat. The sexton thought he had been drinking once to set his epiritual affairs same clearness with which her would-aright. On learning that he had no be lover was to tell his story a few religion, the good father did not days later. Then when she was induced to go out in company, she knew that she was being stared at by many and mention the matter to him again un-til he was stronger. His rapidly increasing weakness caused his benefactions to fear that he would did die. and while the inmates of the house took turns in caring for him, they daily besieged heaven with earnest prayers for his conversion. In even his weakest state the true nobility underlying his manly character had asserted itself, and the aged priest who had taken him in often declared that with the light of the true faith he would possess the power to do much good.

His caretakers soon learned that he was a singer by profession and alone in the world without a rela tive, his mother having recently died but for the rest nothing was revealed until he had fully recovered, when he told his good friend about Co celia, hiding nothing of his love for her, and lingering longest on the scene in the cemetery and how he had followed her to the door of the convent. He had expected to be bitter ly reprimanded for his folly, but the priest spoke only the gentlest words of reproach, after having ex-plained to him the holy calling for which Cecelia had left all. The priest's words in regard to the excellence and holy purity of the life to which she aspired reminded him of his dream, and he told that in in every detail. With the deepest interest the story was listened to but no comment was made. When Allyn was ready to take his departure his mind was filled with many anxious thoughts in regard to the darkness in which he had been educated, but this he would not tell, for he felt that perhaps the influence of kindness might have dulled his perception. He wanted time to recover his strength of mind as well as body and to think it all over by himself. He gladly accepted the "God bless you" extended as he took his de parture, as well as the kind invitation to call again soon.

But how fared it in the meantime with Cecelia ? Did she escape unscathed from the blow she had re ceived or did she, like Allyn St. Clair, suffer a severe and purifying illness in atonement for her impru dence ?

During the long walk home scarcely spoke a word to her companion, for she was too full of humiliating thoughts of what she had done and of sympathy for him whom she had refused to marry. As far as she herself was concerned, she was glad of the strength she had shown in rejecting him,, for she still felt strongly that marriage was not for her, but the time which should have been spent in prayer, was given to idle lamentations for him. She neve suspected that he was following her home. The walk had given others a keen appetite, but she could eat no supper and appeared to be ill. When asked by her superior if she were not well, she simply replied that she was quite tired, and was told to retire early so as to be re-Cecelia thanked the kind superior and went away feeling that she upon as having taken one very mised to be down in a few minutes, days later. "Poor child," he said, "this is most unfortunate affair, and I am sorry for you. Do you feel that you could care enough for this young man to marry him if you were not here ?

"No, father, I have no desire to marry. I feel that my place here and I want the holy habit." "But, child, if it should prove not to be your vocation, what then ?" have never thought of such thing. I have no doubt whatever but that my vocation is in the convent.

"We are not always the best judges where we ourselves are concerned, so it is better to take counsel of one who is older and more experienced in these things."

"Who would that be, father ?" "Go to your reverend mother, giv her your confidence and tell her all as you have told me. Then if she thinks you have not a vocatinn, it will be best to leave." "It will be very hard, father, when

I am so near the habit." "It would be harder to take this important step and to learn after wards that you had made a mistake You would then have the greater humiliation of giving up the religi ous habit to return to the world." Cecelia did not reply, but her face was very sad. "'You should not be unhappy whatever may happen. If God wishes you hare, you will not be sent away;

He does not, you have no right to remain, for it would certainly be a grievous sin."

Cecelia turned away and hastened to obey the command, which was no easy task. The good father was not surprised when, a short time later, he learned that she had left the or der and returned to her home. But he felt very sorry; he believed she had a true religious vocation. Still, there was something lacking. At Cecelia's home preparation

were being made to go to New York when a telegram was received telling them not to come; no more word came until the following day, when another message stated that Cecelia would be home on the evening train the day she was to receive the habit At the convent our young heroline

was greatly missed, and many were the conjectures as to why she had left. Among her companions the truth remained a secret. At her own home there was great rejoicing by all except ng Aunt Nellie, who, while she had missed her niece, had been glad to see her give herself to God

"It is no more than I expected." said Mrs. Daton, "and I hope my daughter will now know enough appreciate her home and friends un til she has a husband to take her to a home of her own."

CHAPTER IX.

"No more than might have been ex pected," was the verdict not only of Mrs. Daton, but many of her friends, and Cecelia, who was looked other girls, and the old lady pointed out to strangers as one who promise to become my wife ?" had left the convent, and she feit it keenly; but this humiliation was nothing compared to the remorse burning in her heart. After spend.

ing six months at home, during which she had kept up correspondence with the Sisters, she wrote and begged to be taken back, waiting patiently for the answer, which was long delayed, and when it did come, she was refused admission on the ground that she evidently had no vocation. The letter was kindly written, but very brief and to the point. which was not wholly plans ing to her.

To increase the trouble, in her mind was a continual remembrance of Allyn St. Clair and the scene in the cemetery. She yearned to know what had become of him, but earnestly pnayed that he might never again cross her path. Her prayer was answered, for it was several years ere she heard of him again. In the winter the Clintons came to the city, but he was not with them. The manager, who called upon her as an act of courtesy, stated that St. Clair had left the company several months before on the death of his nother, promising soon to return, but he had failed to do so and could not be found. Even his most intlnate friends at home only knew that a few weeks after his mother's death he had made a public sale of his household goods and gone away. Maurice Carroll, who had accumulated quite a fortune of his own in buying and selling Western land, was now home to remain, and no more welcome visitor than he was enterained at Innisfallen. In Cecelia's presence Mrs. Daton now never referred to the hope she had entertain ed of making Maurice her son-in-law, and as he appeared to be a friend of the family rather than of herself, in particular, Cecelia saw no reason for not trying to make the hours spent at her home pleasant, her only precaution being never to remain alone with him. On two or three occa-sions when he had invited Cecelia and Agnes to attend the theatre with him, Cecelia had accepted, and had also permitted him to be her escort to supper at a few parties, thinking no more of the matter than sh

would of going with a relative. One evening just before Christmas Cecelia was alone with her grandmother, the other ladies having goad out to attend a lecture, when Mr. Carroll was announced. Cecelia ask. Mr. ed the old lady to accompany her to the parlor, but thinking that the young people could get along better without her, she declined.

"Please do come down, grandma,' she said, "for I feel very dull tonight and cannot entertain him alone."

Mrs. Daton smiled, thinking how different Cecelia was from most young ladies to whom the presence of an elderly person is usually a bore when their gentlemen friends call, but then Cecelia never was like pro-

"Now, Cecelia," he said in conclusion, "can you not give me the love for which I have waited so long and "As a friend I have always esteemed and respected you, but I cannot marry you." "Surely you cannot mean it, Cecelia !"

7

"I do mean it, Mr. Carroll. I am not one to say one thing and mean another."

"You are very cruel; but perhaps you think that one who has failed in an effort to become a nun has no right to marry."

"Such things may appear a little strange to those who do not understand. I see no serious objection to such a person afterwards marrying if she feels that she is called to it by God. I am not afraid to speak plainly to you of the matter, for I feel that one of your education can understand."

"I think, Cecelja, that I comprehend your meaning, and you would have me understand that you have no objection to me, but you feel that you are not called by God to marriage."

"Exactly so," she said.

"Cecelia, if I could be convinced of this, much as I have loved you I would be content to give you up. But I fear you do not know your own mind. Would it not be better to wait a little longer before you say the final 'No' which both of us might regret all through life."

"My decision is final, I cannot change it."

"Perhaps," he said, "I have been . little hasty in asking you to promise to marry me so soon after your leaving the convent."

"I have been outside long enough now to decide, and I feel that if there could be any change in me it would have come before this."

He saw that she was immovable this evening and decided to bide his time, allowing her opportunity to forget the days spent in the convent. On one thing he was resolved, and that was to speak to her father on the subject without delay.

"Cecellia," he said, "you have tried to discourage my love, but I tell you frankly that I cannot be so easily persuaded to give up all hope."

"How early Mr. Carroll has gone." said grandma, who went to meet Cecelia as she came up stairs. Mrs. Daton was a Nttle disappointed at the absence of the happy expression she had expected to find on Cecelia's face

"Yes, grandma, it is quite early, but you could not expect him to remain late when there was no one to entertain him but myself?" "Are you not enough to help him spend a pleasant evening ?" Cecelia only smiled and said: "Grandma, why did you not come down to the parlor as you promised ?"

11111 "Because I thought young people would be happier without an old woman like me."

"If I had not really wanted you, grandma, I should not have invited ou down."

"Our guests are to be considered ma well as ourselves," she said with a meaning smile. Grandmother was

THE TRUE WITNESS AND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE.

PATHS. BY MARY ROWENA COTTER.

aking a thorough examination of |

PART SECOND, CHAPTER VIII,-Continued, "You are right, but it is our d

"For charity, Sister, do not ist. I feel he would apprec

On the impulse of the moment Ce paia was gone, and her companion looked sadly after her, filled with ad misgivings. She knew that the girl's motives were good, but what on the part of a postulant so near responsive tenderness in her own eyes. To the Sister the mon was a stranger he said, sadly and reproachunfronted by Allyn St. Clam. Unheeding the presence of the stranger, he said, sad,y and reproach "Cecelia Daton, how can you stand

G MEN'S SOCIE

panion, she looked into her face with imploring expression, which bade to take her away. With folded arms and a hardened face the man stood looking after them as they went to a seat some distance away to await for the boarders, who soon nbled. When they formed in ine and walked away he left the plot where his mother had rested for less than a week and followed at a distance, as if unwilling to lose sight of her whom he still loved until the door of the convent closed behind "Lost, lost forever," he muttered ble figure.

freshed for the retreat.

| • | In front of the building for some time, but for what purpose he know not. He was fully aware that there would be ho chance of seeing Occilai but there seemed to be some strange confort in gazing at the building which he knew sheltered her. He felt himsel growing faint and weary. for he had taken scarcely any food and had been unable to sleep since his mother's death. The polleman on the beat passed him once or twice, eyeing him suspiciously, which would take him home, but reached the tried to walk to a car which would take him home, but reached the core just in time to see one pass, and it would be fully an min- uts before another came, There was a large church on the corner, and he was about to sit down on the steps to wait for the car, when he acties that the door was open, and, thinking that he would attract | and would not excited in an officer to help put him out, but one of the priests, an elderly man, who was walking up and down the aisle say- ing his Office, was now upon the seeme, and bending over the youth he took his hand, saying: "Th's man is quite ill." Aliyn looked gratefully into his face, but could not speak. "He cannot remain here," said the sexton, rather impatiently, for much as he loved and respected the priset, he felt that he often carried his charity too far. "No, he cannot, so you must help bring him into the house." Hospitality from one of the priests he had been taught to despise was something wholly unlooked for by Allyn St. Clair, and at any other time he would not have accepted it, but he was too weak now to resist and willingly permitted himself to be carried into the house and then to be infimmary nearby, where for many months he was tendenly cared for by another the set of the bouse and the prisets. Having been found in the church, it was supposed that he was a Ca- tholk, and the priest, who saw that | her all that had happened, but it was hard for her to bring herself to speak of it. She went to the chapel and prayed for a time, but no solace came to her troubled mind and she retired filled with remore and bitter agony of heart. The next morning found no change. She entered upon her retreat with the others, but she was far from happy, and the words spoken in the opening instruc- tion did not bring her any of the peace she had expected. In silence she prayed for comfort and grace to feel the sweetness of devotion which she hud hoped the instructions would uncite, but Allyn St. Olai's face was always before her, and she felt afraid even to lift her eyes to meet the penetrating gas of the preacher. At the end of the second day, unable to bear her mental anxiety longer, she asked for a private interview with the priget and was left alone with him in the parlor. He had noticed her in the chapel and knew that something was wrong. He was not surprised, therefore, | was gladly welcomed back to her place in society. Many invitations to attend social gatherings pourd in upon her as soon as it was known that she was at home to stay, and to please the members of her own household she had to accept them with good grace and go in spite of her own wishes. It is almost needless to say that Cecelia was far more unhappy now than she had ever been at home be- fore. She fully appreciated the lows of her own and all that was done for her. but having tasted the joys of a far purer, holier life which is to the true religious only a beginning of the bills to be enjoyed throughout a happy eternity, she found it hard to be content with her present life. The first night spent at-home a dread homesickness took possession of her, and she would gladly have sacrificed everything the world could have offered her to be back again in the poor little room where there was none of the glitter and lixury that surrounded her hers. "Too lats; too late," seemed to sound in her ears, and she wept bit- terly urtil shep came to her re- | soon as the young girl was gone. At- ter putting a few touches to her ra- ther disordered tollette, she sat down for half an hour, then went to keep her promise, feeling that she was allout to intrude. As she meared the door she heard Maurice's voice in low, earnest tones but could not understand a word. Very cautiously she advanced until she stood in half concealed behind the portieres hang- ing over the opening leading to the hall; then she beheld a sight which caused her to smile and glide noise- lessly back to her room, thankful that she had shown wisdom emough not to go to the parlor with Ce- celia. Thiding himself at last alone with her whom he loved, Maurice would, not let this golden opportunity pass without seeking some return for the affection so long entertained in silence. Drawing his chair close to her he made his growal, to which she was obliged to listen, when she would gladly have flown from the room. Her eyes were fixed upon the carpet and site never once raised them, while her heart beat violently. It was at this point grandmother | Acting upon his resolution, 'Mr. Carroll called upon Mr. Daton and was pleased to learn that he was held in the highest esteem by the family, who would most gladly wel- come him to their home as one of their number. He promised to do all in his power to win Occelia's con- sent to the marriage. ''Do you think you can change her?'' asked the writent lover. ''I think I can,'' said Mr. Daton, ''for Cecelia has ever been a good and dutiful daughter, and when she knows her father wishes her to mar- ty you I think you will net find her hard to win.' ''Thank you with all my heart.'' said the young man, ''and when we are married I shall feel that I am doubly blessed in baving so good a father-in-law as well as the loveliest of wives.'' ''The changest municipal tenements are those owned by Dubin where two rooms can be renied for 50 | |
|---|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|
| | undaturbed he would have snjoyed | ne was in all probability entering, on [| her arise and tell him what was | terly until sleep came to her re- | looked in and retreated so well sa- | | |
| | | | | | | | |

come on ?"

could see from the window."

Mrs. Smith took the paper

read aloud what Susie had written.

"I am sitting on a low seat at the bay window, one half of which is open so that I can smell the sweet flowers in the garden. The sky is all

bright with sunset; I can see purple

that any one on earth has a paint

box with such lovely colors in it I can see one cloud far above the res

that looks like a ship sailing in the blue sea. I should like to sail on a

they are just as beautiful as they were before. The green hills are tipped with light, and look as in

they were wearing golden crowns.]

can see the river a great way off.

and it looks quite still, although I know it is running as fast as it can get to the ocean."-The Holy Family

. . .

TOMMY'SDREAM .--- Tommy had a curious dream one night. He had bee

kept in from play to help his father

but instead of being proud to think that his father wanted his help, he was cross about losing his play- so

cross that his father quietly remark

ed that he would not ask him to star

night he dreamed that two angels

were sent down to earth to make

boys and girls were doing. One ancel

was to take note of all the big things

that were done, and the other was

to write down all the little, unnotic

ed deeds of life. They parted as they reached the earth, and when they met again, on their way back to heaven, they compared notes. One had scarcely filled two pages of his

"There are not many conspicuous things done, after all," he said in ex-

write down all that I have seen,'

said the other angel; and he showed

a little book filled from cover to cover with the record of loving little

Tommy's heart stood still and thought : "My name must be there too, for it was a nice thing to stay

Then he heard the angel explaining

why there were some boys and girls

"They did nice things," he said

so unwilling, that I could not write them down. For, you know, I was told only to record the loving deeds

lay still and thought about it, he knew that he could not possibly have been in the angel's book that day.

Then Tommy woke up, and as in and help father."

"I have scarcely found time

record of all the nice things

When he lay down to sleep

bu

the

cloud, if it would not make

"While I have been witting

clouds have changed in color.

dizzy

in again.

book.

deeds.

of life "

planation.

and pink and gold. I do not be

HER FIRST COMPOSITION. aith one day full of trouble, and she had no sooner entered the sitting-room where her mother was sewing than the burst into tears. "What is the atter, my dear child ?" said kind mother, drawing her little daugh ter to her side and smoothing away the curls from her forehead.

"O mother, matter enough," sob Susie, as soon as she could speak "All of our class must bring in com positions before to-morrow morning ad I never, never can write one in the world. We must write twelv the world. We must write to lines at least, and I have tried the afternoon, and have written only a few words. See," continued she taking a rumpled. tear-stained pare r pocket, "what work I made of it ! I.d be real ashamed to show it to anyone but you."

Mrs. Smith took the paper clanced at what Susie had written in her round, careful hand. -

First she had chosen "Time" her subject, and upon it she had written,

"Time is short. We should all im prove our time," and there she had come to a full stop. Next, "Tempe rance" was the theme, concerning which she said,

Temperance is a very useful thing, and then she had suddenly ended her remarks,

Then came a few lines under th head of "Industry."

"We should all be industrious if wish to do anything in the world."

"Now," said Suste, as her mother finished reading, "I can't think of an other single word to say upon any of those subjects, and I know I shall have to go to school without a composition and then I shall lose my erfect mark for the week. Hattie Grey says she shall take her compo mition out of a book, and Jane Miles says she is going to get her sister to write one for her, but I told them I would rather lose my perfect mark than be so mean. Wouldn't you, mother ?'

"Certainly I would," answered her mother; "and you will be far happier with ever so poor a composition if it is all your own, than with fine one which is borrowed. But where did you get these subjects ?"

"Oh, I have heard the first-class girls read their compositions about such things, and I thought that Tim and so on was all that people could write about-school girls, I mean."

"Well, dear, the trouble is you haven't begun right, for you have all the afternoon been trying to write upon subjects that you know nothing about. Now, bathe your face and smooth your hair, and then run out into the garden for half an hour.". 1 "But, mother, my composition," composition while you are gone, but began Susie.

"Don't think a word about you" have as pleasant a time as you can, and at the end of half an hour I will call you."

It seemed but a few minutes to Susie before she heard her mother's voice cailing her. She went into the house immediately, with her hands full of sweet flowers and her cheeks rosy with exercise.

"Now, Susie," said her mother, "I want you to sit by the window with this nice sheet of paper and pencil, and write ssomething about what you can see." "But my composition," said Suste,

"when shall I begin that ?" "Never mind your composition sued an Apo he most earnestly end Africa, esp away, winding like a thread of silver out of sight, and at last the garden with its gay flowers and the birds flying past the windows.". Just as she had reached the bot-tom of her paper, her mother came in. "Well, Susie," said she with a Africa, especially those of the Soda lity of St. Peter Claver. This Soda lity, which is under the direction of Madame Maria Teresa Ledochowski, aids the African missionaries by means of prayer, contributio noney, and offerings of books. money, and oneringe of boots. I hely dicals and newspapers. The Holy Father having been asked to give it a token of his favor, has most will-ingly done so. He has assigned to it as Heavenly patrons Our Lady of it as Heavenly patrons Our Lady of smile, "how does that composition "Composition !" exclaimed Susie, with surprise, "you told me not to think anything about my composition t as Heavenly patrons ever Claver Good Counsel and St. Peter Claver you know, and I really have thought of it once, I have had such and has raised their festival to a nice time writing about what I dignity of a "Double Major" for the churches in the houses of the Sodality throughout the world, directing at the same time that account shoul be taken of the rubrics. St. Pete Claver, His Holiness observes, devot-ed himself during life with unweary ing Christian charity to redee African slaves from misery, so he was deservedly called "the Apos the of the Blacks." The Holy Father is confident that in continuing apostolate the Sodality will be bless by Heaven, and that with the assis tance of the prayers of Our Lady Good Counsel and St. Peter Claver it will receive increased practical sym pathy in all parts of Christendo

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

President Loubet of France dic not send a message of congnatulation to the Pope upon the completion of his first year as head of the Church A most cordial talegram was sent by Emperor William of Germany.

KRUGER'S REMARK

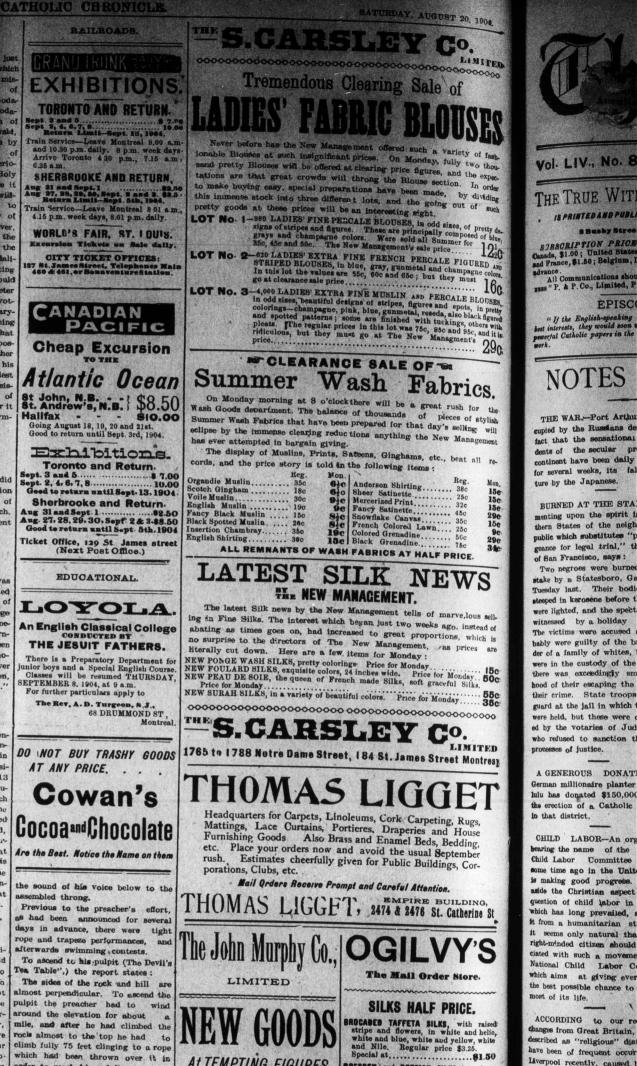

The late ex-President Kruger was not an eloquent man, but he excelled at brief and pithy sayings, many of which have passed into the language of nations. His answer to a phew who petitioned for a government appointment has often quoted; "My dear boy, I can do no thing for you. You are not clever enough for a subordinate position and all the higher offices are filled.'

THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

Women who are desirous of tering the medical profession counter a discouraging situation in Germany. An association of physicians has sent to the directors of 613 high schaals a circular for distribu tion among the students in which these are warned against entering the nedical profession, which is described as being disastrously overcrowded, the number of physicians being near ly 30,000, or more than double what it was in 1876. The situation is aggravated by the abolition of the law against quacks, and by the insurance clubs which hire doctors at starvation wages .- New York Post.

DISTRUST AND PREJUDICE.

recent sermon Auxiliary Bi shop Cusack, of New York, said but they were so cross aboue it and Christians were often compelled to suffer more or less persecution, and especially Catholics. He would not indertake to cast any blame on those who were responsible for such per ecution, for they know no better, since they and their ancestors have been taught for something like four hundred years to distrust the lio. man Catholic Church. The one thing order to reach his pulpit, that he would dwell on was that such. This feat was one of the

AT TEMPTING FIGURES. ORESDEN and PERSIAN SILKS in a large

have been of frequent occur Liverpool recently, caused i testants of a most aggressi

a Busby Stree

EPISC

| Write. "I'll write about the sunset, then' said she, and her pencil began to move rapidly across the paper. "Now, mother," said she, in a few moments. "ahall I read you what I have written ?" "No, not now," said her mother, "I am going to see about getting tea and you may sit and write until I we write." 88,552-Messrs. Bentz & Riedie. Win- ipog, Man., Imp. in registering bottless 88,550-Jeseph A. Lesperance, Mont- real. Que, folding bed. 88,652- Ckarles Murriy, Central Kangselear, N.B., neck-yoke and hold-back. 88,650-Pierre Trepanter, Burlington, Vt. U.S.A. bristle combing ma- chine | expect to suffer a great deal in many ways from the prejudice they were sure to encounter. The Belgians are the greatest po- tato-caters in the world, and the Irish come second. In addition to a huge assortment of other wearing apparel, 500 pairs of gloves belonging to the Marquis of Anglescy have been found at Anglescy castle. In the search for methods to create sensations there are preachers in non-Catholic ranks whose sole afm in ile seems to be devoted to that end. Secular newspapers recently publish- ed a long despatch describing the most recent effort of a revivalist to autheve distinction in a sensational way. The place selected was in Paraersburg, W. Va., and the spot from which he delivered his exhorta- tion is called the "Devil's, Tea Ta- bel," and is situated at an elevation of about 500 feet on the side of a | the day. The preacher remained on the rock between the morning and afternoon sermons, eating his solit- acy lunch so high up in the air that he looked like a midget. In explanation of his methods, which he describes as religious no- velties, this minister made the fol- lowing statement: "I do not advertise these innova- tions for any purpose other than to attract and entertain a crowd. There are many persons who are not reach- ed by 'the church, for whom the church offers no attraction. These are the people I want to get at. It is not the good church people who go to the house of God regularly that I am after. The persons I want to reach are the sinners, and some means must be devised to get them into the church. If I can do that I see no harm in trapeze performances or tight-rope walking any more than in golf on Sunday. The people among whom my work lies need amusement and novelty to get them | boundary line of a new season is drawing very near, and new goods specially adapted to it are arriving daily from almost every point of the compass. To con- centrate attention on these we have decided to offer some choice lines of "first arrivals" at exo p- tionally tempting figures. The following "examples" will be found on our Dress Goods Floor: New Fancy Silks for Blouses and Shurt Waist Suite. 3,000 yds, in the new Hair Cord Stripes, brown and white, fava and white, black and white, also fancy stripes in all the new coleuring. Special Frice | choose at 1000000000000000000000000000000000000 | explanation of the |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ^MI am going to see about getting tea and you may sit and write until I return⁴⁴ As Susie went on writing ahe was supplied to first her mother, burlington, burlington, Vt. U.S.A. bristle combing ma- chine. 88,783-Perci H. Eaton, Newcastle, | tion is called the "Devil's, Tea Ta- ble." and is situated at an elevation of about 500 feet on the side of a mountain. It is stated that 5000 people were sathered in a valley at the foot | among whom my work lies need amusement and novelty to get them in reach of the word of God, and 'I believe I am doing a good work is providing these attractions." From this we can easily infer that | SAMPLES SENT BY MAIL | gray and white. The sizes are 6], 7, 7], 7]. Special value at 290 Latter Lists Surds Sieves. in shades of black, | acrifice is considered too a accure this praiseworthy Many reasons have been ad explanation of the paucity of iy vocations, but they do n the root of the trouble. IRELAND AND ROMEI. lowing extract from the |