

BRANT DRAGOONS OFF THIS MORNING---FIRST OF CANADIAN CAVALRY

Despite the Rain a Large Crowd Gave Soldiers a Send Off.

Scenes at the Depot Were of Affecting Nature.

With the heavens pouring down a drenching rain, and amid the good-byes, and cheers of a rain-soaked crowd, the Volunteer contingent from the 25th Brant Dragoons left on the G. T. R. special at 9:30 this morning for Val Cartier, Quebec, where they will join other regiments as ordered and proceed to fight the battles of the Empire at the front in Europe. There were 37 altogether, including the three officers, F. Hilton Wilkes, son of Crown Attorney A. J. Wilkes, Lieutenant R. Thompson, Paris, son of R. Thompson of Paris, and Lieutenant H. G. Watson, son of J. Watson of the Watson Mills, Holmedale.

This contingent perhaps effects Brantford more directly than any that have yet left, as it was more distinctly a Canadian one. The officers indeed are all Brant County boys, and are not only well known themselves, but come from well known families.

Early this morning the headquarters on George St. were crowded with the volunteers, their friends and officers of the regiment. Mayor J. H. Spence and Col. Muir were early arrivals. The mayor did not address the men, but he privately assured each one of them to have no fears for those they left behind, as they would be well looked after.

At 9 o'clock Sergeant-Major Roberts lined the men up in the mess and Lt. Wilkes called the roll. All that volunteered answered to their names, none had flunked. It was time to leave and with a few farewell remarks from Col. Muir the men lined up on George St. and headed by the regimental band, proceeded by George, Darling and Market streets to the G. T. R. station. Despite the rain a big crowd accompanied the parade, while a still larger crowd were waiting at the depot. The train was waiting. The band played patriotic airs through all the downpour, the crowd swayed right up to the special reserved coaches. And then the good-byes. It is better not to describe them. Here a mother was saying farewell to her boy or husband. One girl of eighteen, whose brother was going, cried incessantly. The crowd behind could not see them, they were right at the coach's steps. Col. Muir then ascended the steps of the coach, "Friends," said he, "don't forget that the first Canadian cavalry regiment to go to the war in Europe, came from the 25th Brant Dragoons." The Colonels remarks were greeted with loud cheering, evidence that the crowd appreciated the fact.

At 9:30 sharp, the train pulled out with the band playing patriotic airs. The third group of soldiers from Brantford had departed. It is not known in what regiment the men will serve. That is all settled at the recruiting station at Del Cartier, Quebec. It is certain the majority, if not all will be ordered across the sea to Europe,

PARIS IN GOOD HEALTH.
PARIS, Aug. 20.—The health of Paris is excellent. According to reports of the sanitary authorities, the population of both the city and its suburbs co-operates readily in the measures taken by the health officials so there is no danger of epidemics. Advice as to re-vaccination is very generally followed. The police consider Paris is now the safest city in the world. The patrols find little to do. Before mobilization the average daily arrests in the city was 700. This has now dropped to 150.

NOTED RUSSIAN REGIMENTS NOW IN THE FIELD FIGHTING GERMANY

It will be noticed that the Russian infantryman is heavily clad. The splendid physique of these troops enables them to make marches of from thirty to forty kilometres a day without experiencing any great fatigue. The men wear their gray-colored overcoats "en bandolier" fashion and not rolled up in rectangular fashion as is usually the case. Always the Russian keeps his bayonet fixed, even when moving in ordinary column of route.

ENTIRE CHANGE OF CAMPAIGN BECAUSE OF GERMAN MOVE

Kaiser's Army Has Penetrated North of Belgium and Forces of Buffer State Must Now Line Up With British and French Troops.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
An entire change in the plan of campaign may be brought about by the finding of an opening to the north by the German armies in Belgium. This was admitted in an official communication from Brussels to-day, which said the Germans "had gained ground on both banks of the Meuse and are in contact with the allies." It adds that "the Belgians having done all that they expected by holding the invaders in check for 15 days, their strategy will now be merged into the general plan of the allied armies." It concludes with the significant sentence that the "retrograde movement does not mean defeat," implying that the Belgians have been operating hitherto by themselves in checking the Germans, while the French and British were making preparations to meet their advancing German foes.

Rumors that Brussels had fallen into German hands were persistently current in Paris, but no confirmation could be obtained. The capital of Belgium was known certainly to be threatened by daring German cavalry which had reached the forest of Soignes flanking the city. All the approaching roads had been barricaded and entrenched. Four of the Brussels hospitals are filled with wounded soldiers.

Antwerp apparently is the temporary goal of the German troops in Belgium. They are reported moving slowly but steadily in the direction of the great fortified port on the River Scheldt. The German soldiers have occupied the town of Tirlemont, and their masses, pushing in from the frontier, are believed to have come in contact with the allies line of front.

Reports in Brussels asserted a battle had occurred near Charleroi in which the Germans were supposed to have suffered a loss of 6,000 killed. This was not confirmed by any official source.

Reports were current in many European quarters to-day that Germany had decided not to comply with Japan's ultimatum calling for the German evacuation of Kiao-Chow and the abandonment of the Eastern seas by German

PONTIFF PASSES TO PEACE

Aged Ruler of the Vatican Succumbs to a Long Illness.

Death Occurred at Early Hour This Morning.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
ROME, Aug. 20.—"Together in one, all things in Christ!" These words, which he adopted as his motto in an encyclical issued on August 10, 1903, six days after he had been elevated to the pontificate, were on the lips of Pope Pius X as he entered the Valley of Death.

The end, which came at 1:30 o'clock this morning, was peaceful. A few moments before he had been roused from a state of semi-consciousness and attempted to bestow a blessing upon those gathered in the chamber, but his strength failed him. After a pause he murmured the scriptural text and did not speak again.

The death of the pontiff in the 80th year of his life and the 12th year of his pontificate, while long anticipated because of ailments incident to advanced age, nevertheless came as a shock even to those near him. For several days he had been suffering from gouty catarrh but on Tuesday his physicians declared that the situation was of no great importance and yesterday morning reassuring reports concerning the patient were current.

The change came suddenly during the forenoon yesterday, and early in the afternoon those in attendance announced that death was imminent.

Similar attacks had been resisted with the aid of the pope's will power, but depression over the clash of arms in Europe militated against another recovery. At ten o'clock last night the pontiff experienced an attack of coughing that greatly distressed him. He could not move in bed without assistance and the struggle which he made to breathe was painful to witness. As the supreme moment approached, the coughing ceased and the restlessness which the doctors had been unable to relieve, disappeared. The features of the patient, which had given evidence of his pain, resumed a normal expression except for the pallor which increased.

AT THE BEDSIDE
The papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val, Cardinals Ferrata, Cagiano and Bialelli, the pope's two sisters and physicians, who were at the bedside, recognized the calm preceding eternal rest. Dr. Marchisava, his hand on the pontiff's pulse, turned toward the papal secretary, who was kneeling and shook his head. Cardinal Merry Del Val understood and covered his face with his hands. Meantime Cardinal Vannutelli, the pope's niece, Gilda Parolin, his major domo, Mgr. Bianchi, Mgr. Misciatelli, and his secretaries Mgr. Bressan and Mgr. Pescini, had joined the group in group in the chamber. The sisters and the pope's secretaries could not restrain their sobs and their voices seemed to bring back the pontiff from the state of coma into which he had lapsed.

BRUSSELS MAY HAVE FALLEN TO THE ENEMY

Persistent But Unconfirmed Rumor to This Effect Heard.

PARIS, Aug. 20, 7:15 a.m.—There is a persistent rumor here that the Germans have occupied Brussels, but it cannot be confirmed.

TOWARDS ANTWERP
LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Brussels correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, telegraphing Tuesday night, says:

"The Germans seem to be moving in the direction of Antwerp. Any Belgian backward movement in that direction may therefore be explained as strategic, manoeuvring, which points to the early discomfiture of the enemy."

CAVALRY RETIRES
PARIS, Aug. 20.—A portion of the Belgian army has begun to retire in the vicinity of Antwerp, according to an official announcement this morning concerning the situation in Belgium. East of Namur the Germans have attained the line between Dinant and Chateau. Large German forces continue to cross the River Meuse between Liege and Namur. German outposts have occupied Dyle.

LONDON Aug. 20, 5:50 a.m.—An official communication issued at Paris last night states that very large German forces are crossing the Meuse between Liege and Namur. The statement continues:

"The French army is making a rapid advance on the Sille river and at the end of the day had reached Dalmon on one side of the river and Mohange on the other."

A respatch to the Times from Paris says that the first point at which the Germans crossed the French frontier was at Cirey-sur-Vesouse. Since then

Daring Young English Girl

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
DIJON, France, Aug. 20, via Paris.—French gendarmes today stopped a young girl who, disguised as a man, had left with a group of Pau aviators for the war. She was wearing a military aviator's uniform and had cut her hair short. It was found that she was an English girl, aged 26. She will be sent back to her parents.

ONE LANDLORD IN BRANTFORD DECLINES RENT

Reservist's Family in Arrears Will Not Be Put Out.

One of the reservists who was called from Brantford to the front this week, left a wife and family in a rented house, or which the rent had not been paid for some time. The wife was frantic and finally appealed to the landlord. "Stay where you are," he assured the woman.

Later the landlord telephoned Mayor Spence and said that if the city were to forego taxes due on the house, no rent would be charged the wife of the reservist during such time as the latter was at the front.

Mayor Spence thought the suggestion was a good one and proposes to take it up. "Perhaps," said the Mayor, hopefully, "there are other landlords who will do the same thing."

IN EAST AFRICA

Small German Force Makes Raid on a British Possession.

NAIROBI, British East African Protectorate, via London, Aug. 20, 11:55 a.m.—A small German force crossed the frontier into British territory to-day, raiding the natives' cattle.

The British East-African protectorate is a vast area of nearly 250,000 square miles, which is really a colony governed by the Imperial authorities. It has a defence force of 34 white officers and 1,150 men of the King's African rifles and a native force of 1,735 men under 38 English officers.

German East Africa is still bigger in area, having 384,000 square miles. It has a military and police force of 261 Germans and 2,472 native levies, but there are about 4,000 German residents.

A TERRIBLE SCENE IS ENACTED IN VILLAGE

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
LONDON, Aug. 20, 5:20 a.m.—despatch to The Times from Brussels says:

"The Germans in strong forces, mostly cavalry and artillery, entered Tirlemont early this afternoon (Tuesday).

"The big guns shelled the place while the cavalry played at war by attacking the flying panic-stricken populace, shooting and sticking them at random.

"About five miles from the town two trains were made up and fully 1,000 refugees got away, so swift and terrible had been the onslaught of the Germans that in the flight for their lives, men, women and children left everything behind. Never have I seen such a picture of woe as that presented by a group composed of a peasant woman and five children, standing bewildered in the square, crying as though their hearts would break. The woman said: "They shot my husband before my very eyes and trampled two of my children to death."

"The last glimpse that the refugees had of Tirlemont showed smoke and flames in different quarters of the town."

SPARED NOTHING IN MAD EFFORT TO TAKE VILLAGE--GERMANS KILL WOMEN

Times Correspondent Tells of Ruthless Kind of Warfare Which is Being Waged by the Kaiser's Troops.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

LONDON, Aug. 20, 6.40 a.m.—The Times correspondent at Rotterdam telegraphs a statement, which he says was made to him by a party of Chinese medical men who have arrived in Rotterdam from Berlin. "When we left Berlin Saturday," says the statement, "the city was in the hands of old men and boys. Not an able-bodied man was to be seen. All the bridges were guarded by boys of about 14 years of age, who stood with fixed bayonets. A fortnight ago the Friedrichstrasse bridge was badly damaged by a Russian bomb. We ourselves saw the damage done.

"A corpse of Amazons is being raised in Berlin, leaflets having been distributed calling the women to arms.

"A week ago an attempt was made to blow up the bridge of Zoologische Bahnhof, without success, a Russian spy being sabred by an officer. The German soldiers look very fit and are splendidly equipped."

NEARING BRUSSELS
BRUSSELS, Aug. 18.—Tuesday via London, Aug. 20.—5.30 a.m.—The war evidently is rapidly drawing nearer this city. Already four hospitals are filled with the wounded soldiers. German aeroplanes have been scouting above the city after sundown. German cavalry is reported frequently in the region on the farther side of the forest of Soignes, which flanks the city. This forest is the point from which the attack is most likely to come in the opinion of many here and a network of trenches has been thrown up along the woods. The trenches are occupied by burghers and a few civil guards.

The forest of Soignes, which is to the southeast of Brussels, extends in the direction of Wavre, where severe fighting has been reported. Trustworthy reports have just been received of an engagement near Charleroi. It is claimed by the Belgians that 6,000 Germans were killed in this battle.

The censorship here is now so strict that no news of the war is going out of the city except by courier. The Belgian papers, because of the rigid censorship, have ceased to be sources of war news. They are publishing chiefly local matters unconnected with the war. The mails also are being held up.

An order has just been issued prohibiting the granting of further military passes to newspapermen or others, and without these it is impossible for correspondents to go outside the city. The populace does not appear unduly excited over the prospect of fighting in their streets. The crowds seem placid and the people are attending to their business as usual.

REFUGEES TELL OF HARDSHIPS ON THE CONTINENT

Many Have Arrived in America From Scene of the Conflict.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—First-hand tales of the fight at Liege and grim narratives of the seamy side of the war sweeping Europe came into port to-day on the lips of American refugees from the continent aboard the Red Star liner Finland. Many of those aboard were without money or baggage, and had been held as spies, others had made their way on foot from the interior of Belgium to Antwerp amid the scenes and dangers of warfare, and nearly all had stories of hardships encountered in their flight.

With a Dutch pilot aboard, Captain Barman steered his ship through a little used channel of the harbor of Antwerp to the North Sea, where he found the horizon smudged with the smoke of British battleships. In his perilous passage through the mine-strewn waters there were buoys to guide him. His way lay over the shallows, and he had to lighten the ship of all of her water ballast to make the course without scraping the bottom. Time after time the ship was stopped by war vessels, although she flew the American flag.

James A. Hatten of Chicago and Mrs. Patten, passengers, said they were in Carlsbad when war was declared between Germany and Russia. They left for Nuremberg in an automobile and arriving there were taken to the guard house and rigid cross-questioned before they were allowed to continue. They boarded a crowded train for Ostend, but got no further than Boulogne. Here they found themselves in a vortex of mobilizing troops and marching citizens which choked the streets. After a long delay they managed to get aboard another train for the border, but got no further than the little town of Herbstal near the frontier, which they reached at ten o'clock at night in a downpour of rain.

"We managed to make our way into a little cafe," Mr. Patten said, and there got one slice of bread apiece—our first meal for the day. Next day I hired a horse and cart to take us over the Belgian frontier to Verviers. Three others were with us.

"On the road we passed the most pitiful procession of German refugees fleeing from Belgium. Some were in vehicles, but the majority were pulling their baggage in carts. Women, with babies at the breast were walking under the noon day sun.

"From Verviers we proceeded by another cart toward Liege. We had not progressed three miles when we came upon a party of Belgian engineers engaged in mining the road. They had great piles of dynamite stacked there ready to plant in the ditches they were digging across the roadway. They told us we had better go to Liege by another road. Three hours later another party of tourists were halted at that very spot by a skirmish between the Belgians and Uhlans. They were forced to lie in a ditch while the Belgians fired over them. Next day 3,000 Germans were killed by the mines we had seen the engineers planting.

"We arrived at Liege at one o'clock on the afternoon of August 4th and managed to get a train for Brussels two hours later. But we did not leave before we heard the thunder of the forts' cannon repulsing the first onslaught of the Germans. The town was cold wet hear."

E. R. Weeks, Jr., and his sister, Mrs. A. L. Weeks of Spokane, Washington, told of the situation at Brussels on August 5, after the German troops had invaded Belgium.

They saw a squad of soldiers pursuing a solitary man in uniform over the horse tops, firing at him as they ran. One of the shots went true, the pursued man threw up his hands and pitched headlong from the top of a four story building to the street. He was a German spy, the soldiers thought. A little later they saw a mob rip the clothing from another German suspected as a spy and beat him till soldiers wrested him away. Next day the victim was shot as a spy.

MESSAGE TO SERBS.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company says that Grand Duke Nicholas, commanding the Russian army has sent a letter to Prince Alexander of Serbia saying: "Having received news of the brilliant victory of the Serbian army, I send on behalf of the Pan-Slavic army cordial congratulations on the first victory which God has given us. The Russian army shouts to you a vigorous cheer in honor of the victorious Serbs."

EXCITING RUNAWAY

William Grierson of Cainsville Was Severely Injured on Colborne Street Last Night.

William Grierson, farmer from Cainsville, met with an exciting runaway last evening about 6.30 as he was returning home with a spirited team of horses attached to a hay rack wagon. When about opposite St. Mary's church, one of the horses became loosened and leaning over to hit it, the team took fright and tore down Colborne street at a terrific clip. When just opposite the residence of Mr. John Cornelius, Mr. Grierson was thrown out on the pavement, the team completing their mad rush only when they smashed the wagon to pieces against a telegraph pole. Mr. Cornelius rushed out of the house and picked Mr. Grierson up. He had received a bad cut under the eye which was bleeding freely. Drs. Phillips and Gamble were telephoned for, and the injured man was removed to the hospital where he is reported as getting along very nicely this morning.

THE GERMAN LIST

Casualties of 1,500 Dead and 7,000 Wounded Are Given Officially.

[By Special Wire to the Courier.]
ROTTERDAM, Aug. 20.—The casualty list of the German army published in the Cologne Gazette gives in detail the losses of the Germans, up to August 18. They total about 1,500 dead and 7,000 wounded. The list as printed gives the name of each individual killed or injured.

According to another German newspaper the German fleet not now blockading Russian ports, is at Kiel and in Heligoland. About 2,000,000 Germans are now in the field, but the mobilization continues. The railroad in the west are carrying nothing but soldiers and supplies. Many Austrian troops are on their way to France, according to this newspaper.

A BRIEF REPORT.

PARIS, Aug. 20, 2.20 a.m.—The communication given out by the French War Department this morning was one of the briefest for some days. It announced only the bare facts of importance now in progress in Belgium and added that there was nothing new along the front in Alsace-Lorraine.

Laid at Rest

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jas. Dougherty, wife of J. W. Dougherty, 29 Jackman Avenue, Toronto, took place at New Durham on Friday, 14th inst. Mrs. Dougherty died suddenly at the Victoria Memorial Hospital Toronto and the body was brought to New Durham for interment. The burial service which was held in the Methodist Church, was conducted by the Rev. J. Hackett, assisted by the Rev. Byron Simmonds. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, evening the esteem in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were Messrs. E. Dougherty, G. Dougherty, F. Dougherty, A. Dougherty, G. Hammond and Wm. Simmonds. Late Robert Coleman

The funeral of the late Mr. Robert Coleman took place this morning from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Coleman, 87 Park Avenue, Dundas, at 10 o'clock this morning. Impressive services were conducted over the remains last evening by the Rev. D. T. McClintock, which were attended by many friends and sympathizers. Interment in Dundas occurred when the G.T.R. train arrived at that centre at 10 o'clock this morning.

WAS ILL USED

A Danish Countess Subjected to All Sorts of Indignities by Germans.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
COPENHAGEN, via London, Aug. 20.—The Countess of Crote, daughter of a Danish nobleman and wife of the Duke of Cumberland's steward, is seriously ill, as the result, she says, of treatment received at the hands of German soldiers and officers at Mecklenburg, where she had been on a visit to a relative. The countess says that at the railway station she was accosted as a Russian spy. A mob attacked her, declaring that they would lynch her. The soldiers made only a feeble effort to protect her, she asserts, and the mob badly injured her and tore her clothing. She told the soldiers that her husband was a German officer but they took her to the barracks for further questioning. There, she declares, she was treated in a brutal manner. Later she was released and arrived here suffering from her wounds.

Mr. W. G. Deakin, formerly of Brantford and who was at San Francisco when the war was declared, left Brantford to-day to join his old regiment in England.

The Vital Organ

HEAT IS GENERATED IN an electric iron by passing the current through resistance wire. This wire must be insulated to avoid short-circuiting—it must be protected from the air—it must be relieved of its heat as fast as possible.

You would be surprised to know how many electric irons are improperly constructed in this vital part. The Dover Electric Iron is absolutely right in every respect.

We Can Show You
If you desire a moderate priced electric iron that is fully guaranteed against burning out, that economizes current, that maintains an equitable temperature, that will make possession and use a satisfaction—purchase a DOVER.

We have also the DOVER AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC IRON. Phone 301 and let us send you one on trial!

MEN OF BURFORD

Each Got $10 in Cheques Before They Made Their Departure.

Burford's contingent for the front was five in number to-day and each man received an address and presentation as follows:
To Sergt. George Tapley and Privates J. Davis, J. Muir, L. Shellington, and G. Force:

Comrades—As your Commanding Officer I heartily appreciate your goodly spirit in doing your duty, not only as citizens of this township, but your soldierly spirit in answering the "Call to Arms" for the defence of our well beloved flag and the preservation of the country's honor.

You are departing from amongst those who are dear to you and on your return will appreciate the duty for which you have now offered your services.

This cheque of $5 each is a small presentation which is now handed you as a first recognition of your gallantry by the resident officers of the 25th Brant Dragoons.

We are also pleased to present you with a cheque for $5 each granted by the Township Council, which will prove useful, and we hope each one will appreciate and use well, so that it will remind you at times of those whom you have left behind.

I must now offer you my congratulations as well as those of the citizens of the Township that you all may return safely and bring honor to the home and township you are now leaving.

WM. T. HEARNE, Major, Commanding C Squadron 25th B. D. Burford Armory, 20th Aug., 1914.

His eyes opened and his lips moved and it was plain that he was making an effort to impart a final blessing. For a moment it seemed that dissolution had taken place and then the lips moved again: "Together in one, all things in Christ," he whispered. Dr Marchi-avista released the wrist which dropped pulseless on the pontiff's breast. The physician bent over the bed listening for a heart that was stilled. "It is all over," he said and reverently kissed the pontiff's hand. To turn the others did the same, after which they intoned prayers for the dead. Immediately after candle lights flickered in all the windows of the Vatican and the whole personnel of the apostolic palace with the permission of the papal secretary passed by the body kissing the hand of the pontiff as they passed. Throughout the night messages had been received from the heads of many states inquiring the condition of his illness. All were immediately notified of his death by Cardinal Merry Del Val. As is the practice at the Vatican the news of the death of the pope was withheld from the public until it had been officially announced to the various governments. Then it was made known here. The Italian premier, Signor Salandra at once ordered that the necessary measures be taken to guarantee the complete liberty of the provincial government of the church and of the sacred college of cardinals which is the temporary custodian of the supreme power of the church during the interregnum pending the election of a pope. The matter of a conclave was discussed to-day. It is said that a majority of the cardinals are in favor of holding it in Rome as is usual and further, because of the neutrality of Italy in the present war. Others, however, suggested that it would be better to meet in Holland, a country which is more neutral than Italy. Among the candidates already mentioned are Cardinals Maffi, De Tai-Ferata, Agliardi, Poppini and Serafini, the latter ex-nuncio of Mexico. There is much interest in the matter of where the body of the pope will find its final resting place. It is recalled that the body of Pius IX, while being carried from St. Peter's to St. Lawrence, was the cause of a riot. For this reason the body of Pope Leo, although he had expressed a wish to be buried in St. John Lateran, where his tomb was erected, is still in St. Peter's as the late pope feared that the transportation might cause disorders. It is believed that Pius X chose St. Peter's for his tomb in order to avoid the possibility of unpleasantness.
A VICTIM OF WAR
ROME, Aug. 20.—Cardinal Della Volpe, chamberlain of the church on the pope's death early this morning, assumed direction of the Holy See during the interregnum. A message had been sent to the pope's brother, Angelo, urging him to come to Rome as quickly as possible, while the pope's sister, Signora Paroline, reached the Vatican before death ensued. Confusion reigned at the Vatican because these, with the exception of the papal secretary, who takes charge of affairs in such an emergency were out of Rome, so little was the death of the pope expected. Outside the apostolic palace the scene was mournful, from early in the day automobiles and carriages carrying cardinals and high ecclesiastics to the Vatican, passed continuously. Hundreds of visitors made inquiry regarding the pope's condition and so many telegrams arrived that it was impossible to open half of them. This work will be completed by a new staff to-day.

The "Giornals D'Italia, discussing the difficulties of holding a conclave for the election of a pope, while the world is at war, says that if Italy were among the belligerents, every facilities would be given the sacred college to meet. It expresses the belief that a new pope might be chosen from among the foreign cardinals, for instance Cardinal William Van Rossum, of the Archdiocese of Utrecht, the Netherlands, who would be representative of a neutral power.
The Tribune says:
"The pope was the victim of the war. In these latter days he dictated a great number of despatches and tried to avoid the horrors of an European war. The rupture of peace of peace broke down the last remains of his strength."
That the pope was grieving deeply over the state of war in Europe even to the last, was evidenced by his words during one of his lucid intervals in the afternoon. "Now I am forced to see," he whispered, "the spectacle of my own children, even those who yesterday worked here with me, leave for the war, abandon the cassock and cowl for the soldier's uniform, yesterday, although they were of different nationality, they were here studying in sympathetic companionship; now, in different fields they are armed against each other, ready to take each other's lives."

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.
WINNIPEG, Aug. 19.—A wheat price advance took place in a further substantial rise, opening 3/4c to 1/2c higher and advancing further 1/8c to 1/4c to close. The influence supporting the higher values is the better export outlook and the fact that Europe will ultimately require the surplus wheat, possible at war prices, all exporting countries being deficient at this season's crop excepting the States. Exporters were buying futures in a limited way.
Toward the close values eased off from the high point, closing at an advance of 3/4c to 1/2c.
MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.
MONTREAL, Aug. 19.—There continues to be a good enquiry from London for oats for nearby shipment, and sales of 50,000 bushels were made at 25c 60 per quarter. Exporters have been in the market for supplies, but owing to the small offerings no large sales were reported. The tone of the market is strong and prices have scored another advance of 10 per bushel, with sales of No. 2 C.W. in carlots at 60c. There is also considerable enquiry for Manitoba barley for export accounts. The demand for rolling peas is good and sales of two carlots were made at $1.75 per bushel. There is no change in flour, for which the demand is good at firm prices. The demand for baled hay is good. Mill feed active and firm. Butter rather quiet.

WILL CANADA CARRY HER BURDEN?

Great Britain and Europe, where productive industry has been paralyzed, have mouths to feed, bodies to clothe, constructive operations to carry through, and a thousand-and-one wants and needs to be satisfied—and Great Britain and Europe look to Canada in confidence for much of the needed supplies.

It were folly for Canadian manufacturers and merchants to be down-hearted during these terrible times in Europe. A great burden—a great duty—a great responsibility—has been imposed on Canadian manufacturers, merchants, bankers and workers. Shall Canada and Canadians shirk this burden, this duty, this responsibility?

THE SITUATION.

As anticipated, Germany has lost no time in precipitating a main conflict in Belgium. She has everything to gain by such a course, and her practically open plan of campaign has been carried forward with dogged perseverance and vigor. London army authorities have all along seemed to incline to the belief that the honors of the first struggle are likely to rest with the troops of the Kaiser. If that result does happen there should be no down-heartedness about it. War has its varying reverses as well as successes, and victory does not always perch upon the one side alone.

In Canada the main event has been the splendid spectacle of a united Parliament, every man eager to uphold the hands of the Government with regard to what we all feel to be an Empire duty.

The speeches of the two leaders were both worthy of the solemn and weighty occasion. Sir Robert Borden spoke with that statesmanlike directness for which he is so justly noted, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier also achieved a very high plane. All Canadians can afford to feel proud of both of them in such an hour.

Brantford to-day saw her second contribution of those who have offered for service. Once more there were the sad leave-takings, and once more all were sustained by the sense of high patriotic duty in a righteous cause.

IT IS ACCEPTABLE.

The majority of the U. S. papers express satisfaction over the fact that John Bull has answered for Japan in the matter of restricted operations in the China Sea. The class of comment is very well exemplified in this editorial taken from the Chicago Herald:

"The statement issued by the official British press bureau goes as far as any assurance can go to remove grounds for American apprehension as to the extent of possible effect of Japanese war operations in the Far East.

"It is understood, the statement reads, that the action of Japan will not extend to the Pacific beyond the China seas, except as may be necessary to protect Japanese shipping lines, nor in Asiatic waters westward of the China seas, nor in foreign territory except territory in German occupation on the continent of Asia."

"It is furthermore pointed out that England has been in constant communication with Japan; that the two nations are acting in harmony in the Far East, and that they will keep especially in view the independence and integrity of China, as provided for in the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

"The British Admiralty has now declared the Pacific to be safe for navigation. Keeping open his trade routes is a great and an important accomplishment upon the part of John Bull.

"The provincial authorities have decided to stop fakirs at Fall fairs this year. The move is a good one. There is no need to add to the excitement of looking upon the apple when it is red, and the frolicsome squash can always while away an hour or so.

"Made in Germany" will be an imprint not calculated to sell many of the goods of the Fatherland in Great Britain after this. The consequent blow to German manufacturers will be enormous.

Buffalo News: "Thoughtful persons everywhere have the greatest sympathy for the German people because they are stopped in their unrivaled career of industry and sent to fight

MANUFACTURING IN A TIME OF WAR.

Writing in the Canadian Courier, Mr. James Johnston takes an encouraging view of the trade situation as affected by the war. He says: Manufacturers of staple lines in common consumption will be either undisturbed or stimulated by the removal of foreign competition. More will be stimulated than otherwise. Our export trade is bound to diminish—but not greatly. Our imports have already fallen off and will continue so to do. The balance of trade favors Canada.

We have become an extensive importing people, from most of the countries in Europe as well as elsewhere, even while we built up our export trade in certain staple lines and developed transcontinental railways and great lines of steamships. Putting a bigger price on our exports, reducing our imports from belligerent countries and eliminating them altogether from Germany and Austria, we should be able to offset some of the necessary handicaps caused by the disruption of the world's markets to which we belong.

Instances already have been given of orders placed in Europe that are now being filled in Canada. The list will extend as the lines tighten and the war progresses. Then we shall discover how far we have been buyers of both necessities and luxuries from abroad. Some of the luxuries we shall get along without. Most of the important necessities we shall begin to make for ourselves, or shall get the orders without competition from Europe. Germany and Austria, both highly developed manufacturing nations, had extensive exhibitions at the Canadian National last year. These were not bought over merely for show. They were intended to beat up business with German consumers. There will be no German, Austrian or French exhibit next year."

KITCHENER'S MESSAGE
Big in stature, big in brain, and big in achievements the individual message of Lord Kitchener to the British troops was pre-eminently typical of the man. He is a strict disciplinarian, and it is a common saying that no one shirks twice who comes under his surveillance, but at the same time he is just and considerate.

Throughout his career he has placed his belief in the policy of putting Tommy on his honor instead of hedging him about with regulations. He urges the soldiers to be more than courteous to women, and to avoid drinking liquor to excess. His experience in the Aldershot command no doubt prompted the injunction, in preference to declaring a prohibitory law during hostilities. When commanding the first army corps at Aldershot he withdrew all hotel pickets and street patrols, while even the canteen lost its familiar "master of ceremonies" in the person of the canteen sergeant. In making the change, Lord Kitchener made the statement that he did not believe that Tommy wanted any more supervision when he was enjoying his social glass than did civilians, and that in future the Aldershot command would be put on its honor to keep sober.

The old order of things fully justified that memorable barrack room ballad of Kiplings, in which he says: "It's Tommy this and Tommy that, And Tommy go away, - But it's 'Thank you, Mr. Atkins' When the band begins to play.

And it's "Tommy this and Tommy that, And Tommy fall behind, And 'Its please to walk in front, sir' When there's trouble in the wind.

For its Tommy this and Tommy that, "And chuck him out, the brute," But its "Saviour of his country" When the guns begin to shoot.

NOTES AND COMMENTS
The British Admiralty has now declared the Pacific to be safe for navigation. Keeping open his trade routes is a great and an important accomplishment upon the part of John Bull.

The provincial authorities have decided to stop fakirs at Fall fairs this year. The move is a good one. There is no need to add to the excitement of looking upon the apple when it is red, and the frolicsome squash can always while away an hour or so.

"Made in Germany" will be an imprint not calculated to sell many of the goods of the Fatherland in Great Britain after this. The consequent blow to German manufacturers will be enormous.

Buffalo News: "Thoughtful persons everywhere have the greatest sympathy for the German people because they are stopped in their unrivaled career of industry and sent to fight because the kaiser hopes in that way to stay the march of reform."

If the Dominion House would show a little more of the despatch in connection with ordinary business that it is now demonstrating in connection with the war crisis, it would be a mighty good thing for the country.

HYMN BEFORE ACTION

(Rudyard Kipling)
The earth is full of anger,
The seas are dark with wrath,
The Nations in their harness
Go up against our path;
Ere yet we loose the legions—
Ere yet we draw the blade,
Jehovah of the Thunders,
Lord God of Battles, aid!

High lust and forward bearing,
Proud heart, rebellious brow—
Dear ear and soul unceasing,
We seek Thy mercy now!
The sinner that forewore Thee,
The fool that passed Thee by,
Our times are known before Thee—
Lord, grant us strength to die!

From panic, pride and terror,
Revenge that knows no rein,
Light haste and lawless error,
Protect us yet again,
Cloak Thou our undeserving,
Make firm the shuddering breath,
In silence and unswerving
To taste Thy lesser death!

E'en now their vanguard gathers,
E'en now we face the fray—
As Thou didst help our fathers,
Help Thou our host to-day!
Fulfilled of signs and wonders,
In life, in death made clear—
Jehovah of the Thunders,
Lord God of Battles hear!

ALARMS AND SILENCE

Toronto Telegram
War's rude alarms are nothing in war's chilling silence.

SOME ROOM FOR OPTIMISM

Montreal Daily Mail
This is a fitting time to indulge in some optimistic talk, because there is much in the situation to justify it. Sir William Van Horne sees the business situation aright. He predicts that Canada's stimulated export of war supplies will bring a remarkable revival in trade to Canada.

THE DEMAND OF THE SEA.

New York Sun
England's fleet has performed its first great task and opened a long stretch of ocean to the commerce of her subjects. Before a serious blow has been struck on land or sea-British shipping is notified that the Atlantic is clear as far south as Trinidad, and that the transportation of goods and supplies may be resumed at once.

The official announcement of the success of this prime and vital naval operation comes after a series of manoeuvres in which no spectacular battle was fought, if, indeed, a hostile shot was fired. Yet its importance to the allies and to this nation is greater than victory in a pitched battle on land.

MADE IN GERMANY

Montreal Herald
The almost unanimous spirit of the American newspaper is given in a paragraph of the Philadelphia Press, which says that when the war is allotted its place in history it will bear the label, "Made in Germany."

QUITE A LIKELIHOOD

Hamilton Herald
One guess is as good as another, and a probable one is that the end of hostilities will see Alsace and Lorraine reunited to France, and Herzegovina wrenched from Austria.

UNITED STATES OPINION

New York Tribune
American public opinion holds the Kaiser's Government responsible for destroying the peace of Europe and bringing distress upon the whole world. American public opinion is outraged by the wanton attack on the weak neutral power of Belgium and the slaying of its subjects. It recoils at the cost of what the Kaiser has undertaken. It has no sympathy with the excuse that this is a war of self-preservation for Germany. That is a militarist delusion.

Springfield Republican
The precipitation of war by Germany is an act of egregious wickedness and folly. This is a war not for the defence of civilization, but for the supremacy of a military and arrogant nation.

HER PLACE IN THE SUN.

Montreal Star
That place in the sun which Germany demanded has now become so hot that she will soon be anxious for the shade.

SWAT THE FLY.

Detroit Journal
Germany is beset on one side by 1,250,000 men and on the other side by 2,000,000. Oh, well, 'tis but a trifle. Swat the fly.

WANT NO MORE OF THEM

Toronto Star
Whether the Kaiser or the Crown Prince is directly to blame makes little difference. The world cannot afford to have any more of them.

ford to go on rearing either Kaisers or crown princes.

HEART NOT IN CAUSE

Ottawa Free Press
If there is a grain of truth in the despatch sent from Brussels yesterday that a company of German soldiers with their officer surrendered because they were opposed to the war, although they belonged to the army, then Germany's war is ended before it is really begun. An army, no matter how powerful, will not fight if its heart is not in the cause.

CANADA TEAMING WITH SUPPLIES.

Toronto Telegram
This country is teaming with supplies. Providence has been bounteous to Canada and it is one of the great producing nations of the world. The difficulty of exporting this mass of food is such that Canada is to-day more threatened with a glut than a famine. American grain dealers, indeed hesitate to take the risk of shipping across the Atlantic, despite even the assumption by Great Britain of the war risk. This continent is in no danger of a shortage of food. Indeed irrefutable logic points to the likelihood of a super abundance.

A RUSSIAN VICTORY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 20. via London, Aug. 20, 12.50 p.m.—An obdurate Russian troops, according to an official communication given out today, has occupied Gumbinne, 20 miles from the Russian frontier of East Prussia, capturing at the same time 12 German guns and a large number of prisoners.

A "HEATHEN" ON THE WAR

New York Times
A heathen statesman strikes the sole note encouraging to Christians under conditions which are such a reproach to their religion and their reason alike. Premier Okuma at Tokio said on Saturday that to bring about a great peace a great war is sometimes unavoidable. The general disturbance in Europe, he thought, might resolve itself into the final war of the world, leading to a permanent and universal peace. The divine beatitude of "peace on earth, good will to men," can be realized only through establishing the reign of human law. It may be that the punishment of the warring nations may now be so severe that with one accord they may unite against the scornful declaration that no great power in a dispute with a small one, would submit to be brought before a European Areopagus. Austria has been the world's greatest offender in recent years, and is ripe for reproof by all nations loving peace. Peace should be dictated not by the commanders of war but by the leaders of thought and conscience.

CHOOSING A BRIDE

The man who goes to choose a bride should cautious be, and falcon-eyed, or he will harvest woes; it is a most important chore—more so than going to the store to buy a suit of clothes. If you have dreams of pleasant nights around the fire, and home delights, sidestep the giddy maid whose thoughts are all of lats and gowns, and other female hand-me-downs, of show and dress parade. And always shun the festive skirt who will never miss a chance to flirt with men, at any cost; she may seem sweet and charming now, but as your own and only frau, she's sure to be a frost. And when you see a woman near who bankers for a high career, and combs her hair back straight, who says she's wedded to her art, whose brow is high whose tongue is tart—oh, Clarence, pull your freight! Select a damsel sane and sane, who has no folly in her brain, who wants to build a home; if you can win that sort of bride, peace shall with you and yours abide, and crown your old maid home.

Picnic Postponed.

The inclement weather prevented the Y. W. C. A. picnic at Mohawk Park yesterday. The happy event was promoted for girls who had officially represented the Y. W. C. A. at the annual summer conferences at Muskoka during the past five years and as there were about thirty girls who intended to participate, the affair would have been a great success. It was decided to postpone it until Saturday.

Wanderers Defeated.

In a stirring football match at Mohawk Park yesterday between the East Ward Wanderers and the Echo Place Stars, the Wanderers were defeated 1-0. It was a great game and several feature plays were pulled off. W. Lambert, goal keeper for the stars played a fine game, as did W. Healey, W. Danby and A. Deakin. For the Echo's Treble, Happy and Boyles played a feature game. The return match will be played on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Open on Saturday.

The new White Bridge which has been constructed on the Hamilton Road in the Township has been completed and will be publicly opened at 3 o'clock on Saturday by Reeve Jennings. The Township Council will attend the function in its official capacity and the handsome structure will be formally declared open after the usual ceremonies. This bridge has been long desired by the farmers of the district and the opening exercises will be largely attended.

Open Access System.

The open access system will be in vogue at the Brantford Public Library when it has been thoroughly restacked and advantage taken of the increased stack room. This system, is practically the most thorough and up-to-date before the public is used in all the greater European libraries, and the majority of larger libraries built by Mr. Andrew Carnegie, are equipped for this method of circulation. As there are over 20,000 volumes in the local library, the utility of this system will be realized by all. As there is a good deal of space in the stack room, tables and chairs will be installed in the sections into which the library will be sub-divided and it will be possible to read and select your books among the shelves. This itself, is quite an innovation.

C COMPANY VOLUNTEERS GET REAL FAREWELL

A Supper at King's Hotel Last Night, Where Comradship Was Kept.

There was a rousing soldiers' farewell in Spittal's Hotel last night, when C Company of the Dufferin Rifles met to give a farewell supper to the active service volunteers.

The hours of song and feast made the old clock's hands travel fast and faster still, for comrades must needs be comrades once again for old times' sake, before the "Reveille" sounds and the "Call to Arms" sings out and the muster roll is called.

Capt. Shultis and Lieut. James did the evening's honors. Color-Sergeant Speechley occupied the chair, and in the riot of song and story there were words spoken that will be remembered.

Capt. Colquhoun replied and told them the modest story that soldiers tell—"It was duty, and we volunteered." That's all, and the "Jus" so' of the humble Tommy showed his complete acquiescence.

Sergeant Freeman and Sergeant Blues sang, and the Color-Sergeant outsang them all, and, as he said, "He didn't do 'bad' for an old cove."

Capt. Shultis was proud to command such a company—a company in which ten men out of 30 or 40 had volunteered. He wished them God-speed and an early return and many bumper nights together in the years to come.

Capt. Colquhoun in his good-bye was in his best vein. Esprit de corps and company loyalty, he said, would make the active service men, when they returned, still hang together and be "the" company of the battalion—and amid vociferous cheering and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," he sang out his "Good-night, boys," and was gone.

There was a toast proposed and drunk with hearty "God bless him's"—it was the toast to "Captain Colquhoun—a very gallant gentleman."

The active service men were toasted, and they responded. The hour grew later, the evening must needs finish, and with "God Save the King" and "Three Times Three" the gathering broke up.

The following is C Company's honor roll for Belgium: Sergt. Freeman, Sergt. Jubber, Sergt. Cross, Sergt. Greenwood, Pte. W. Grant, Pte. J. T. Jones, Pte. A. Chapman, Pte. H. Westlake, Pte. W. Jarvis, Pte. W. Blackal.

LADIES TO HELP

Each Brantford Soldier Will Get Packet Containing Useful Articles.

About twenty ladies of all different local organizations met yesterday at the Children's Aid Society when it was decided to make up little packets for all the Brantford soldiers going to the front. These will contain all sorts of little things tending to the comfort of the soldiers in the field.

Mr. John Varney of the Slingsby Co. has already offered a quantity of flannel, which will be a great help. The House committee of the Children's Aid which is forwarding the matter state that with the assistance of other ladies' societies, cholera belts and pneumonia jackets can also be provided. These articles proved of great benefit to the men who served in South Africa.

PATRIOTIC DUTY OF CITY WILL BE FULFILLED--NOT REGARDED AS A CHARITY

Care of Families of Soldiers Who Have Been Called to Fight Empire's Battles--Meeting of Citizens Held Yesterday.

The movement to aid and support the families of the soldiers who have left or will leave for the war, as has been talked of by Mayor Spence and other citizens, took definite shape yesterday afternoon, when at a well-attended meeting in the City Hall of the representatives of different societies, a strong committee was named to consider arrangements and to report back to another general meeting to be held on Friday afternoon at three o'clock. This committee will decide on a certain scheme and present it to the meeting on Friday. To-day Mr. Frank Cockshutt is in Toronto looking into the methods adopted by the Queen city and he will report to a meeting of the committee to be held to-night at the city hall.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was very enthusiastic and it was evident that they were agreed that something should be done, but it was only a question of just what method should be adopted. Mayor J. H. Spence presided and those present were: City Treasurer A. K. Bunnell, T. J. Barton, E. B. Eddy, Reeve Jennings, Very Rev. Dean Brady, F. D. Reville, Joseph H. Ham, Frank Cockshutt, Warden Milmine, Reg. Scarie, T. H. Preston, Rev. R. D. Hamilton, Adv. Hargrove, Robert Ryerson, A. McFarland, M. Atkinson, F. W. Weldon, Harvey Watt, Major Ashton, Deputy Reeve M. Burris of Burford and Mr. E. L. Cockshutt. The different Women's organizations were well represented.

Mayor Spence as chairman explained that he had called the meeting on the advice of several prominent citizens and civic and military officials. The work was not a charitable one but a patriotic duty. Roughly speaking when all the soldiers had left the city there would be 75 families to take care of. There were duties here as well as at the front. He could assure all present that the city council would do its share in the matter. His Worship then called upon City Treasurer Bunnell who would roughly outline what had to be faced in the matter. Mr. Bunnell said that the first thing to do was to get a scale on which to work. Some families were larger than others. The Canadian Volunteer receives a larger sum from the government than the other soldiers. All this would have to be carefully considered. Just what each family had coming in would have to be known. A central committee and a central fund was necessary. It might be that the city would have to levy a special tax in order to raise their share of the fund. Mayor Spence remarked that the meeting was called to deal with the main question the relief of the soldiers' families. Some of these families would need assistance immediately. Mr. T. H. Preston on the other hand thought that the whole question of city relief work during the coming winter should be discussed. An endeavor should be made to keep things normal; a panic was to be dreaded. Any civic works that could be gone on with should be to provide employment for a large number of men. Over in England business has resumed its normal conditions. The talk of step of the butchers and grocers not to give any credit was a very poor one. Regarding the fund for the soldiers' families it was easier to come from the city as a whole than from private subscriptions. Mr. F. D. Reville didn't think that the general question of distribution should be discussed at the meeting which had been called to consider means of aiding the wives and families of soldiers. Married men have left the city and another draft would go shortly. While drilling they received $1.75 per day, and while on active service only $1.10. One soldier had informed him that he had drawn his last dollar from the bank. The dollar he received on duty he would give to his family, the ten cents he would keep for himself. In dealing with the problem before them, the appliers of too many committees was to be avoided. One central committee should look after the whole business and overlapping would be thus avoided. Personally he was heart and soul in favor of anything that would help those whom the soldiers had left behind. Mr. J. Ham M.P.P., thought the situation was more serious than any which had ever faced the city before.

He favored a general appeal to the citizens. In regard to the unemployed the manufacturers should get together and keep their establishments going if only on half time. He also thought that the city should go on with public works so as to give employment. The Mayor then called on Rev. Dean Brady. The Dean said that one thing that struck him particularly was the calm, deliberate way in which Canadians were facing the present crisis. While we are at war yet we are calm and deliberate. The first thing to be done was to find out the earnings of each family and with that information a nice start could be made. In regard to the unemployed he believed that the Associated Charities should look after that. The work of looking after the soldiers' families is not charity; it is a patriotic duty, and we should do it as patriotic men.

Rev. R. D. Hamilton speaking for the Ministerial Alliance, said he knew the Association would be ready to do its duty. The coming winter would be very severe, and the work of the Associated charities would be taxed to the limit. Mr. Frank Cockshutt also favored a patriotic appeal by a general committee. Civic improvement should be gone on with this winter. The Associated Charities would be totally unable to go on with the work. The Mayor suggested that the lives of the departing soldiers should be insured. Mr. H. H. Powell thought that the duty of the municipality and not any other committee. Warden Milmine assured the meeting that the smaller municipalities of the county would do their share for their own boys. On motion of Mr. Bunnell and Mr. Hamilton the following committee was appointed to suggest a certain scheme and report back to the general committee on Friday afternoon: F. Cockshutt, E. L. Cockshutt, R. F. Ryerson, Harvey Watt, Dean Brady, Moore, Rev. R. D. Hamilton, Lt.-Col. Ashton, T. H. Preston, F. D. Reville, Lt.-Col. Howard and Lt.-Colonel Muir.

After the meeting a short session of the committee was held. Mr. Harvey Watt was appointed secretary. Messrs. Reg. Scarie, A. K. Bunnell and J. L. Axford were appointed a sub-committee to get all information. Messrs. Hollinrake, Ham, Spence and Bunnell were appointed a committee to look after the insuring of the men. Another meeting will be held to-night when the report of Mr. F. Cockshutt from Toronto will be received.

RUSSIA LOOKS A NEW COUNTRY

Spirit of the People Never so Earnest as in the Present Crisis.

(By Special Wire to The Courier) LONDON, Aug. 20.—It is impossible to relate a tithe of the amazing things that have happened in Russia during the last ten days," says a letter to The Daily Chronicle written in St. Petersburg on August 12. It continues:

"Russia is not recognizable, or rather that haunting beauty of Russia, which those of us who live here gropingly and often sadly feel and love has suddenly gone forth radiantly from out of the heavy clouds of failure and defeat that have hidden it for so many years.

"Russia is full of moral energy. She has never displayed it with the same vigor as now at any period of her history. Russia feels herself for once to be morally in the right."

"Russia's internal condition is deplorable," says the correspondent, "the Poles, Finns and Jews were embittered by the government's policy of oppression. The Duma was divided and helpless. Strikes were spreading. There were serious riots in St. Petersburg."

The writer adds: "Few Russians wanted to fight for the sake of Serbia, but when it became clear that the Austrian move was only the prelude to a German attack on an apparently helpless and demoralized Russia, the feeling changed in an instant."

"The general mobilization made all Russia realize the situation. The peasants, the workmen and the strikes of the week before; clerks, students, teachers and lawyers—all dropped their work without a murmur and joined the ranks."

"I had half expected mobilization in the country districts like those which occurred during the Japanese war, but friends from the south, the west and the east, declare that all Russia is as one man. Everywhere the people are going to war to die for our country, as the peasants say. The drink shops were closed, and all went soberly and sternly, expecting no easy victories and prepared for a long and hard struggle. For the first time in his reign the Russian emperor is cut off now from those German influences that egged him on continually to ruinous reaction. His majesty came out on the balcony of his palace to greet an immense throng of his people."

Pope Pius X died at an early hour in Rome, the European war hastening his demise.

Napoleon Lajoie and Hans Wagner Two Of The Greatest Known Ball Players, Passing Out Of The Game

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

This year of 1914 is epochal in baseball. Forget the wars and rumors of war, the scandals, the loss of interest and still the year will stand out in baseball history.

It marks the passing of two of the greatest players the game has ever known.

This in all probability will be the last year of Hans Wagner and of Lajoie. The two great veterans are worn out and ready to retire from active service. Year after year the prophets have said they were done, that human beings could no longer stand the strain they had endured and each year they have come back and played stronger than ever.

The case of Wagner is rather pathetic. Four years ago he had enough of baseball and he was determined to retire with his chief, Fred Clark. They were persuaded to remain to help the team they had served so long and so loyally. From Wagner's standpoint the decision to remain with the Pittsburgh club was a blunder. He was persuaded against his own will and he remained when he rather would have retired.

He is a proud German, this quiet, big honest fellow, who for nearly twenty years has been an idol. His ambition was to retire at the height of his fame. They would not let him. He knew he was slowing up, that he no longer had the speed and the dash that made him the greatest perhaps of them all. He remained because of the determination and earnest effort that marked the whole career of Wagner. He was too good a fellow and both he and his team suffered from it.

The great pair are passing out of the game—and it will be several generations at least, before two like them come into baseball.

world, both in defence and attack. The crowd did not figure the cost to him.

Last winter Wagner made a resolution. He would be in perfect condition when the season started and he would show them. I was with him at Hot Springs when he reported for duty this spring. Never during his long career had he been in more perfect physical condition.

The day the Pirates started practice on Whittington Park he was ready for the championship season to start. He was hard, fit and fast.

He started the season like a whirlwind—but when July's heat came and the strain of the battle told he must have realized he had made a mistake. He was over-trained and the gaining muscles would not carry him as they used to.

Wagner knows without being told when he is playing good ball or bad. He is to honest to deceive himself, and too honest to take salary when he is not delivering. He wanted to quit at the height of his glory—go down in history as the greatest ball player of his generation.

He need not fear; nine out of ten will grant him the honor. He has won it by long and faithful service. His record will stand forever.

Lajoie is a different case. Big, careless, good natured and a good fellow, he ought, to have been the greatest player the game ever has known—yet lost it through that lack of determination and earnest effort that marked the whole career of Wagner. He was too good a fellow and both he and his team suffered from it.

The great pair are passing out of the game—and it will be several generations at least, before two like them come into baseball.

Chase Lost First Game for Sox While Big Nick Came Back for a Win.

OTTAWA, Aug. 19.—Ottawa played very loose ball yesterday and were lucky to split the double header with the Red Sox, winning the first game 6 to 4 and dropping the second 5 to 4. Peterson was replaced by Shocker in the eighth, Shocker holding the Brants in check for the remaining two frames. In the second game Kubat was erratic from the start and poor fielding behind him helped to toss the game away. In the fourth Deneau and Roth singled and then worked a double steal, Roth getting home from third. Fried's single bringing in the other run. Three singles, a couple of sacrifices and Bullock's error scored two more in the sixth and another error by Bullock and Dudley's single, one in the seventh.

Canadian Boys Make Good Baseball Players Everywhere

While the bulk of the players in the Canadian Baseball League are Americans there are many Canadian boys making good in the leagues across the continent. On the principle it is easier to make good in a strange city than at home, most Canucks go abroad when they break into organized ball. The Ottawa club has a real Canadian in Dusty Bullock, who was born and raised in St. Thomas. Cresswell, the Peterboro southpaw is a Canuck; so is Charlie Isaacs, the crack third sacker of the Toronto Beavers. Harry Howick, the St. Thomas pitcher, was born in the town he plays for, was in the fourth Deneau and Roth singled and then worked a double steal, Roth getting home from third. Fried's single bringing in the other run. Three singles, a couple of sacrifices and Bullock's error scored two more in the sixth and another error by Bullock and Dudley's single, one in the seventh.

WANDERERS QUIT LEAGUE
Local Football Team Loses Ten Men, Owing to the War.

The meeting of the Brantford and Paris Football League Executive at the Y.M.C.A. last night was a rather formal affair there being no business other than routine to be transacted. The Wanderers announced their resignation as a team from the league. They were sorry to take this step but it was one forced upon them with no alternative. Their team was no more. Five of their men had gone to the front, three of them were on the lengthy vacation of one of them had gone to Deseronto and another was beyond recall. Thus, ten men short, the Wanderers found it impossible to rake up a team with any hope of success, and they had, therefore, decided to quit league warfare.

Mr. Bowtle expressed the regret of the executive in having to lose one of the best and most sportsmanlike teams in the league. He complimented them upon the fair manner in which they had played during the season and hoped they might reorganize and be a power in the next season's tourney. He was voicing the sentiment of all when he said the Wanderers demise was greatly regretted.

Sydney Payne is eligible to play for the P.S.A. on Saturday and P. McMcGraton was passed for the Scots.

Courier Cup Tie.
Tutela and Holmedale will meet on Saturday at the Agricultural Park when they play off the semi-final round of the Courier Cup which was left in a tied state three weeks ago, both teams scoring twice.

The other games are league matches—S.O.E. v. Scots at Tutela; Paris v. P.S.A. at Paris.

SOME GLEANINGS FROM THE CIRCUIT

CHAMPS HAVE BIG WEEK AT LONDON AND ERIE
Ottawa Journal. The champs have some heavy sledding in front next week. After they finish the St. Thomas series the Senators hit the road for the real test of the season, the road trip which will settle the championship race almost to a certainty.

On Monday the champs play a four game series in London, winding up with a double header on Wednesday. Then they jaunt to Erie for another four game clash. Eight games against first and third club in the standing will be enough to test the mettle of the Senators to the full. To come home with an even chance from the gonfalon, the Shagmen must take two out of the four at London and at least that number if not three from Erie.

There are only two more Sunday games here and the season closes in about three weeks on Sept. 7. Just now chances look favorable for the closing game or couple of games to settle the pennant location. Manager Shaughnessy has already won three pennants at Roanoke, Ford Wayne and Ottawa on the last day of the season.

BASEBALL'S RAREST PEEK
Twice this season one of the rarest possible freaks of baseball has been recorded: a box score where one team, using only nine men, made exactly one hit, no more, no less, for each and every member of the nine. Louisville and Nashville did it. When you remember that few teams go through a game with only nine men, usually have two or three for some one fellow, and none at all for a couple more, especially the battery artists; when you consider, too, the way in which a man's one-hit chance can be removed by passes or sacrifices, the scarcity of such games can be appreciated.

Any time a club with nine men in line, gets just one hit, no more, no less, for each of the nine, it's a freak if there ever was one.

Hamilton Herald: Rube Deneau professes no love for London. Still he jumps into Ottawa and helps the London cause by taking a fall out of the Senators just when Shaughnessy is becoming most dangerous.

Probably it was to keep out of the cellar that the Rube acted so. A defeat yesterday, coming with two wins by Hamilton, would have put the Brants back where they belong.

Tom Nelson reminds one of Hamilton's footballers. The genial owner of the Brantford club talks of retiring from the game, but like the footballers he can be depended on to be on hand when the season rolls around again.

Manager Jack White is expected to get into harness in the present series at Erie. It wouldn't be a bad idea at that. We must nose out Brantford at any cost.

Japan will confine any action against Germany to the China seas.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR
Brush This Through Faded, Lifeless Locks and They Become Dark, Glossy, Youthful.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Newadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wetly's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wetly's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. NAPOLEON GAVE INTERVIEWS TO ONE NEWSPAPER

Little Paper Published on Island of Guernsey in 1814 Printed Them.

It is just 100 years ago that Napoleon took possession of his miniature island empire of Elba, and an appropriate discovery has been made on anniversary by Henri Houssaye. It is what the Frenchman declares to be the earliest example of modern journalism known to be in existence. A little paper published on the island of Guernsey called the "Pole-Mirror," and was "printed at the house of Capt. Champion, subscription 2 shillings a year, and for detached vertising sheets three pence extra."

Interview with Napoleon

This paper, declares M. Houssaye notwithstanding its miniature was, to all intents and purposes, a modern journal. It had various sections of authentic news, and a column of its columns with those of great paper of London and Paris show that it was far ahead of its times. What particularly struck Houssaye was the current news concerning Napoleon. He finds that appeared in the Political Mirror and sometimes a week before it did in the London papers. He found in the columns of the little land newspaper the first modern interview it was with Napoleon, on the island and the reporter's is Silverthorne.

"You are English?" enquired poleon.

"Yes, Sir."

And, continues, Mr Silverthorne, "the sovereignty of Elba delivered self up to his interrogator. He s

Transfer of St Thomas Games May Give London Advantage

Reisling Outfit Would Then Have More Home Games Than Ottawa Has In Ottawa—Five Games in the Series.

The London team may receive an additional advantage in the pennant race as a result of negotiations between London and St. Thomas clubs to transfer the games scheduled for St. Thomas on August 31, September 1 and 2 to this city. The London team has two postponed games to play off with St. Thomas in the railway city, and if this series is transferred here, it is likely five games will be played in the "three days." The fans in St. Thomas are not supporting the team there and the management is losing money every day. With London fighting to hold first place the games should attract big crowds here. It is for this reason that they will be transferred to Tecumseh Park.

St. Thomas Owners Discouraged
The St. Thomas directors are greatly discouraged over the situation in St. Thomas and it is doubtful if that city will be again represented in the Canadian League. The team has been little better than a second division one all season, and the fans have long since lost all interest in the league race. The present owners of the franchise have been making an effort to transfer the club to Youngstown,

Doc. Reisling Says Kubat is Best Pitcher

Doc Reisling, manager of the London Baseball club, now battling so strenuously with Ottawa for the Canadian league pennant, pays Frank Kubat the Ottawa southpaw, the compliment of being best pitcher in the Canadian League. The fact that Kubat has beaten London every game he has twirled against them this season, scoring two shutouts and allowing but one run in the other two contests is not the only reason assigned by Reisling in awarding the palm to the Ottawa left-hander. Kubat has been a constant winner this year his record to date being fifteen won and three lost, and he now heads the list of mound-men in the league.

In 1912 Kubat and Fred Herbert were drafted from Ottawa by the Toronto Internationals. They went south with the Leafs but both were farmed out to Scranton in the New York State League. The coal diggers let Kubat go, so Frank Shaughnessy, picked him up at once. He pitched good ball last year, but under Shaq's tutelage this season, is twirling better than at any time in his career. That he will advance this season is almost a certainty for he is ripe for much bigger company. In addition to being a wonderful curve ball pitcher, he has unlimited intelligence when on the rubber.

Kubat has been out three seasons and is but twenty-two years old. He is a pupil of George Huff of the University of Illinois and was in the same school team with Jimmy Breton, who is holding down third base for the Chicago White Sox; Fred Herbert, the Toronto International pitcher and Frank Smejkal, the Ottawa second baseman.

Doc. Reisling Says Kubat is Best Pitcher

Doc Reisling, manager of the London Baseball club, now battling so strenuously with Ottawa for the Canadian league pennant, pays Frank Kubat the Ottawa southpaw, the compliment of being best pitcher in the Canadian League. The fact that Kubat has beaten London every game he has twirled against them this season, scoring two shutouts and allowing but one run in the other two contests is not the only reason assigned by Reisling in awarding the palm to the Ottawa left-hander. Kubat has been a constant winner this year his record to date being fifteen won and three lost, and he now heads the list of mound-men in the league.

In 1912 Kubat and Fred Herbert were drafted from Ottawa by the Toronto Internationals. They went south with the Leafs but both were farmed out to Scranton in the New York State League. The coal diggers let Kubat go, so Frank Shaughnessy, picked him up at once. He pitched good ball last year, but under Shaq's tutelage this season, is twirling better than at any time in his career. That he will advance this season is almost a certainty for he is ripe for much bigger company. In addition to being a wonderful curve ball pitcher, he has unlimited intelligence when on the rubber.

Kubat has been out three seasons and is but twenty-two years old. He is a pupil of George Huff of the University of Illinois and was in the same school team with Jimmy Breton, who is holding down third base for the Chicago White Sox; Fred Herbert, the Toronto International pitcher and Frank Smejkal, the Ottawa second baseman.

NAPOLEON GAVE INTERVIEWS TO ONE NEWSPAPER

Little Paper Published on the Island of Guernsey in 1814 Printed Them.

It is just 100 years ago that Napoleon took possession of his miniature island empire of Elba, and an appropriate discovery has been made on the anniversary by Henri Houssaye. This is the earliest example of modern journalism known to be in existence. It is a little paper published on the island of Guernsey called the "Political Mirror," and was "printed at the foot of the Pollet and for sale at the house of Capt. Champion, subscription three shillings a year, for detached advertising sheets three pennies extra."

Interview with Napoleon
This paper, declares M. Houssaye, notwithstanding its miniature size, was, to all intents and purposes, a modern journal. It had various columns of authentic news, and a comparison of its columns with those of the great papers of London and Paris will show that it was far ahead of its time. What particularly struck Mr. Houssaye was the current news concerning Napoleon. He finds that this appeared in the Political Mirror three days and sometimes a week before it did in the London papers. He also found in the columns of the little island newspaper the first modern interview it was with Napoleon, then on the island and the reporter's name is "Silverthrope."

"You are English?" enquired Napoleon.
"Yes, Sir."

And, continues Mr Silverthrope, "the sovereign of Elba delivered himself up to his interrogator. He speaks

"Yesterday about 5 in the evening Louis XVIII received a despatch from the Duke of Wellington, written in haste. Here is an extract:

"Bonaparte was entirely repulsed at Genappe. It was a bloody battle and the Duke of Brunswick was killed at the head of the brave Brunswickians. The English troops suffered extremely."

VOICE OF UNITED CANADA HEARD IN PARLIAMENT

"With Firm Hearts We Abide the Issue," Declares the Premier

"Our Answer is 'Ready, Aye, Ready' Says Sir Wilfrid. Our Appeal is to the God of Justice and Mercy—Hospital is Offered to France.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Canada speaks with one voice. The voice of a united Parliament is the voice of a united people. "As to our duty all are agreed. We stand shoulder to shoulder with the Mother Country. With firm hearts we abide the issue," said Sir Robert Borden, in concluding the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the Throne in Parliament yesterday.

Our answer is 'Ready, aye, Ready!' Our appeal is not to the God of battles, but to the God of justice and mercy. We have had our differences and disagreements, but here and now I give the assurance that in what has been done and in what remains to be done we shall take no exception and offer no criticism so long as there is danger at the front. We propose to fight the friends and the foes of Britain and the Mother Country, conscious and proud that she wages war on a noble and a just cause, and that she is fighting for the honor and dignity of her name, and for the advancement of the human race. We are proud that she is fighting for the honor and dignity of her name, and for the advancement of the human race.

BRITISH SPEECHES TO BE CIRCULATED
At the opening of the House Premier Borden said it was proposed to print the returns tabled, as well as the Hansard of the speeches of Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Grey in the British Parliament.

VON TIRPITZ, WHO RULES THE NAVY
The man who must meet the Russian, English and Japanese enemies of Germany on the seas is Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, head of the Kaisers navy. A man of comparatively humble birth, born 65 years ago, he entered the royal Prussian navy when he was only 16, cruising in the Baltic, the North Sea, the Mediterranean and the Atlantic Ocean, and rising to the grade of second lieutenant in time to serve in the Franco-Prussian war on board the Koenig Wilhelm. Service in South America, in the West Indies and again in the Mediterranean followed, and the young seaman had soon become so indispensable to the service that in 1879 he was appointed commander of the Zeiten; in 1881, commander of the Blucher, and in 1885, commander of the Blitz, as chief of the flotilla. He was made rear-admiral in 1895. In 1896 he became chief of the squadron in East Asia, and in 1898, secretary of state to the admiralty.

THE STORY OF Waitstill Baxter

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN.

Copyright, 1913 by Kate Douglas Wiggin.

"Well, I hope they'll never hear anything worse," replied her father, flinging a bucket of water over the last of the wagon wheels.

"They couldn't!" These words were never spoken aloud; but, oh, how Patty longed to shout them with a clarion voice as she walked away in perfect silence, her majestic gait showing, she hoped, how she resented the outcome of the interview.

"I've stood up to father!" she exclaimed triumphantly as she entered the kitchen and set down her yellow bowl of eggs on the table. "I stood up to him and answered him back three times!"

Waitstill was busy with her Saturday morning cooking, but she turned in alarm.

"Patty, what have you said and done? Tell me quickly!"

"I'm angry, but it didn't do any good. He won't let me go to Ellen's party."

Waitstill wiped her floury hands and put them on her sister's shoulders.

"Hear what I say, Patty: You must not argue with father, whatever he says. We don't love him and so there isn't the right respect in our hearts, but at least there can be respect in our manners."

"I don't believe I can go on for years holding in, Waitstill!" Patty whimpers.

"Yes, you can, I have!"

"You're different, Waitstill!"

"I wasn't so different at sixteen, but that's five years ago, and I've got control of my tongue and my temper since then. Sometime, perhaps, when I have borne, sometime when you are away from here in a home of your own, I shall speak out to father; just empty my heart of all the disappointment and bitterness and rebellion. Somebody ought to tell him the truth and perhaps it will be me!"

Waitstill bent over the girl as she flung herself down beside the table and smoothed her shoulder gently.

"There, there, dear! It isn't like my little sister to cry. What is the matter with you today, Patty?"

"I suppose it's the spring," she said, wiping her eyes with her apron and smiling through her tears. "Perhaps I need a dose of sulphur and molasses."

"Don't you feel well as common?"

"Well? I feel too well! I feel as if I was a young colt that up in the attic, I want to kick up my heels, bustle the door down and get out into the pasture. It's no use talking, Waitstill, I can't go on living without a bit of pleasure and I can't go on being patient even for your sake. If it weren't for you I'd run away as Job did, and I never believed Moses slipped on the logs. I'm sure he threw himself into the river, and so should I if I had the courage!"

"Stop, Patty, stop, dear! You will have your bit of pasture at last. I'll do some of your indoor tasks for you, and you shall get out into the green grass for dinner. Take the broken knife and a milk pan, and don't bring in so much earth with them as you did last time. Dry your eyes and look at the green things growing. Remember how young you are and how many years are ahead of you. Go along, dear."

Waitstill went about her work with rather a heavy heart. Was life going to be more rather than less difficult now that Patty was growing up? Would she be able to do her duty both by father and sister and keep peace in her secret heart always to do? She paused every now and then to look out of the window and wave an encouraging hand to Patty. The girl's head blazed like red gold in the sunlight. The short young grass was dotted with dandelion blooms, some of them already grown to huge disks of yellow, and Patty moved hither and thither, selecting the younger weeds, deftly putting the broken knife under their roots and popping them into the tin pan. Presently for Deacon Baxter had finished the wagon and gone down the hill to relieve Cephael Cole at the counter—Patty's shrill gong whistle floated into the kitchen, but with a mischievous glance at the open window she broke off suddenly and began to sing the words of the hymn with rather more emphasis and gusto than strict piety warranted.

There'll be something in heaven for children to do.
There'll be work for the heart, there'll be work for the mind
And employment for each little hand.
There'll be some-thing to do,
There'll be some-thing to do,
There'll be some-thing for child-dren to do
On that bright, blessed shore
Where there's joy evermore.
There'll be some-thing for child-dren to do.
Patty's young existence being full to the brim of labor, this view of heaven never in the least appealed to her, and she rendered the hymn with little sympathy. The main part of the verse was strongly accented by jabs at the unappealing dandelion roots, but when the chorus came she brought out the emphatic syllables by a beat of the broken knife on a Sabbath school classic did not meet Waitstill's ideas of perfect propriety, but she smiled and let it pass, planning some sort of recreation for a stolen half hour of the afternoon. It would have to be a walk through the pasture into the woods to see what had grown since they would there a fortnight ago. Patty loved people better than nature, but failing that she could put up with the other, for she had a sense of beauty and a pagan love of color. There would be pale blue innocence and blue and white violets in the moist places, thought Waitstill, and they would have them in a china cup on the supper table. No, that would never do, for last time father had knocked them over when he was reaching for the bread and in a silent protest against such foolishness got up from the table and emptied them in the kitchen sink.

"There's a place for everything," he said when he came back, "and the places for flowers is outdoors."

Then in the pine woods there would be, as she was sure, Star of Bethlehem, Solomon's Seal, the white spray of ground nuts and bunch berries. Perhaps they could make a bouquet, and Patty would take it across the fields to Mrs. Boynton's door. She need not be disobedient; her father's command not to visit that "crazy Boynton woman."

Here Patty came in with a panful of greens, and the sisters sat down in the sunny window to get them ready for the pot.

"I'm calmer," the little rebel allowed. "That's generally the way it turns out with me. I get into a rage, but I can generally sing it off."

"You certainly must have got rid of a good deal of anger this morning by the way your voice sounded."

"Nobody can hear us in this out of the way place. It's easy enough to see that the women weren't asked to say anything when the men settled where the houses should be built. The men weren't content to stick them on the top of a high hill or half a mile from the stores, but put them back to the main road, taking one back to the sink window where their wives couldn't see anything, even when they were washing dishes."

"I don't know that I ever thought about it in that way," And Waitstill looked out of the window in a brown study, while her hands worked with the dandelion greens. "I've noticed it, but I never supposed the men did it intentionally."

"No, you wouldn't," said Patty, with the pessimism of a woman of ninety, as she stole an admiring glance at her sister. Patty's own face, irregular, pliant, tantalizing, had its peculiar charm, and her brilliant skin and hair so dazzled the masculine beholder that he took note of no small defects. But Waitstill was beautiful—beautiful even in her working dress of purple calico. Her single braid of hair, the Foxhall hair, that in her was bronze and in Patty pale asurn, were brown and made to stand a little as it went across the front. It was a simple, easy, unconscious fashion of her own, quite different from anything done by other women in her time and place, and it just suited her dignity and serenity. It looked like a coronet, but it was the way she carried her head that gave you the fancy, there were such spirit and pride in the poise of it on the long graceful neck. Her eyes were as clear as mountain pools shaded by rushes, and the strength of the face was softened by the sweetness of the mouth.

"KICKLESS" DONKEY WANTS NEW HOME

Many Friends for Virtuous Beast Who Has Appeared in Grand Opera in London

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Some of the stateliest homes in England have been ungrudgingly opened to a donkey which has often been referred to as "the kickless donkey of Luton," which comes as a reward for its virtuous youth. Another spectacular thing about the donkey is that it has appeared frequently in grand opera.

Its owner, a man named Davis, wanted to dispose of the donkey because his children were growing too big to play with it, but such a disposal was not to be the nature of a sale. He did not want to bring ignominy on the head of the creature or to run the risk of hard times for the old pet and opera star in its declining years.

To find a home for it, therefore, Mr. Davis offered it through a newspaper, fully stating its many qualifications to any one that he considered offered the donkey a bona fide first-class home.

In a few hours after his offer had appeared some of the stateliest homes in the country had bid the donkey welcome by telegram, and a few hours later also motor cars arrived with fashionably dressed women trying to impress the owner that each had the best home for the beast. Some peresses wanted to give the donkey the same shelter as their prairie star, a few workingmen had the nerve to offer it board and lodging.

"A big stable and plenty of grass," "a nice orchard and two very small children," a happy life and it will end its days in peace, were a few of the phrases in the chorus of kindness which were conspicuous in letters from well-known persons eager to get the good-natured donkey.

A rather alarming accident occurred on Colborne street this morning when Wm. Turner, a youth of 19 residing on Ontario street skidded in the car tracks whilst riding a bicycle this morning. Duke Will Visit Camp

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 20.—Rumors having got into circulation that His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught would not visit the Valcartier camp as announced, Arthur Sladen, secretary to his royal highness, announced to-day that the governor-general would make a series of visits to the camp. The Duke has already visited Valcartier and has taken a warm interest in what is going on there. The statement made that his royal highness would take up residence at St. Joseph's Lake Hotel, near the camp, is denied by Mr. Sladen. The hundred or so westerners who reached here yesterday, were disappointed because they could not be enrolled in a cavalry corps for active service, have been taken up by the artillery. The men are all expert horsemen and the artillery officers are finding them of the greatest assistance in breaking in the young horses bought for the guns.

A GERMAN TRICK

In Order to Keep Cruisers in the Pacific Stocked With Coal.

[By Special Wire to The Courier.] SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—A fire which broke out in the hold of the German steamer Mazatlan revealed to J. O. Davis, collector of the port of San Francisco, conditions which he believed pointed to a plan for coaling at sea the German cruiser Nurnberg with the remainder of the one thousand tons of coal purchased by the German Government for the bunkers of the cruisers Leipzig.

After the 575 tons of coal allowed by the Government to be loaded into the bunkers of the Leipzig were put aboard a few days ago, the remaining 425 tons were loaded aboard the Mazatlan ready to sail yesterday for Mexican ports with a cargo of general merchandise. The fire, which was easily put out, was discovered while the Mazatlan was lying at her dock, and the fact that the coal was stowed on the top of the general cargo, enclosed in bags, led the authorities to suspect that an attempt might be made to replenish the coal supply of the Nurnberg. That warship is reported to be cruising near the coast, not more than 100 miles south of San Francisco.

Collector Davis, after superficial investigation, ordered the vessel held in port until a complete examination could be made.

BRUSSELS MAY

(Continued from Page 1) there has been continued fighting in the region until a day or two ago when it ended in the victorious advance of the French forces who inflicted a decisive defeat on the enemy and drove them back across the frontier, east of Luxembourg.

The correspondent says that the laconic reports of the French Minister of War give little idea of the desperate struggle that occurred around the handful of villages scattered along the French border.

Point after point was taken and retreat by the enemy was the order of the day. The following story of the fighting at the village of Badoinville as told by the villagers:

"The village was occupied by a battalion of chasseurs as a covering force and was prepared for defence by numerous trenches. The battle began on August 18. The Germans bombarded the village compelling the chasseurs to evacuate it. The latter retired on Celles and afterwards took up a position on Donan ridge.

"After nightfall the Germans increased the bombardment and the inhabitants sought refuge in cellars as a continuous rain of shells kept wrecking the houses and setting fire to them. It was a terrible sight when women fell on their knees and prayed while children cried piteously.

"The chasseurs retired defending every house foot by foot and making the Germans feel their fire. The sun rose on a village in ruins. It had been entered by the Germans who entered the first of all the windows and loop holes into the cellars. No corner was spared."

COLONEL MORRISON

Again Protests Against Women Protecting Husband Volunteers.

[By Special Wire to The Courier.] OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—Colonel Morrison, director of artillery in Canada, this morning renewed his protest against wives of willing recruits who are using the privilege granted them by the militia department to prevent their husbands going to the European war.

Colonel Morrison pointed out that the duty of women in war time does not end with the collecting money for hospitals splendid as this work may be. They must be prepared to make sacrifices for the protection of the nation in the same way as the women of England and Scotland are doing.

The Colonel also pointed out that the militia department was prepared to accept presentations of mess kits for regiments, while the women could supply warm clothing and "Balalaica caps" that would be needed in the war.

German troops took 1,000 Russian prisoners near Stettin, and 400 American women in London gave $80,000 the first day to a war relief fund.

ENTIRE CHANGE

Cumbines, a German town 20 miles from the Russian frontier, has been occupied by the Russians who, according to Russian official advices, captured twelve German field guns and took many prisoners.

News of military developments issued by the official bureaus, becomes more brief as the great mass of Germans and Austrians approach the opposing forces of the Belgians, French and British and indications of the positions occupied are entirely suppressed.

This morning's note sent out by the French war office just mentions that important events are occurring in Belgium, and adds that there is nothing new along the front in Alsace-Lorraine.

French official advices announce the rapid progress of the French column invading Lorraine in the direction of Metz.

Two sons of Emperor William are said to have passed through Liege on their way to the front.

A corps of Amazons is reported being raised in Berlin, according to a statement made by Chinese medical men, who have arrived in Rotterdam from the German capital.

Montenegrin troops have invaded Austrian territory in Herzegovina, where they have been incorporated as an army corps in the Serbian army.

The small German and British forces stationed in the African colonies are carrying out raids on each other's territory. The Germans in East Africa to-day invaded the British protectorate.

The question of providing work for those thrown out of employment owing to the war, occupied the attention of the French cabinet council, which decided to start work shops and labor yards.

La Croix of Paris alleges the blind bishop, Kannengiesse, an Alsatian, was shot by Germans who believed he possessed plans of the strong fortress of Istein-Glotz in Baden.

Official Summary is Given Out

[By Special Wire to The Courier.] WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The British embassy here to-day received from the British foreign office a summary of the naval and military situation to-date, Colville Barclay, the charge, sent a copy to Secretary Bryan. It follows:

"Since the declaration of war, the fleet has been responsible for the safety of the expeditionary force which completed its disembarkation in France on August 18 which was effected in perfect order and without a casualty. The work of the navy in the Atlantic and elsewhere in safeguarding the trade routes is best exemplified by the fact that at Lloyd's yesterday the war risk rate fell to 40 shillings percent for almost any voyages of British vessels, whereas the rate to insurance freights of corn, paid by steamers from the United States to a British port, is 30 shillings percent.

"The German fleet outside the Baltic, is confined to harbors. English commerce is almost normal. German seaboard commerce is paralyzed.

"The only casualty is the loss of the light cruiser Amphion, blown up by a mine after having sunk the German mine layer Koenig Luise. One German submarine has been sunk in the North Sea.

"The military position on as follows: "The German forces at present extend from north of neighborhood of Basle through Liege to a point in Belgium to the east of Antwerp and near the Dutch frontier. Outstanding features of the operations up to present has been delay caused to the contemplated German offensive across the Meuse, by the defense of Liege, where the forts are still intact. It has permitted the orderly mobilization and concentration of the French army and British expeditionary force. German troops have now crossed the Meuse both above and below Liege and making ground slowly westward, but their advance cavalry has been continually checked by the Belgians.

"In the south where the German armies are apparently on the defensive, the French are advancing on a long line into Alsace and elsewhere in great extent of which they now occupy after driving back in several engagements the troops opposed to them."

With the City Police

Frank W. Snider answered a charge of a breach of the Motor Act and was found Not Guilty on the charge.

Goldbert Doty, was alleged by Peter Claws to have stolen a horse. He denied the charge and said he never had any intention of stealing Claws's horse. Witnesses on the charge were lacking and the case was adjourned for their appearance.

More poll tax passive resistors were upon the list but in each case they had squared up and the charge dropped.
