

TORTURED FOR THIRTY FIVE YEARS

I really could not live without "Fruit-a-lives"
FENAGHVALE, ONT. Jan. 29th. 1910.
"Forty-three years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation. No matter what remedy or physicians I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure.

The greatest remedy in the world for all forms of Indigestion and Dyspepsia, is "Fruit-a-lives". Doctors as well as hundreds of people proclaim it. "Fruit-a-lives" cures all stomach troubles because it makes the liver active, strengthens the kidneys, purifies the blood and keeps the stomach sweet and clean.

FOUND ST. JOHN TALKED ABOUT

Mr. Malcolm Thinks the Future is Bright—Goon Season for His Railway

Thomas Malcolm, president and manager of the International Railway who was in St. John Saturday after three or four weeks spent in the west, says that everywhere he finds that St. John and the province generally is attracting attention and that the prospects look good for the return of many former residents to New Brunswick.

Mr. Malcolm said his Railway was having a good season, and that the lumber cut on the Restigouche would be heavy. Conditions were most favorable for lumber operations particularly if there was a fair amount of snow in March to ensure lots of water for stream driving.

Petty Burglary At Campbellton Arrest is Made

Herbert Mayo Held by Police in Connection With Last of Series of Crimes—Removed Merchandise.

Still another petty burglary occurred Saturday. The store of W. H. Miller was again entered and goods consisting of men's socks, yarn, and tobacco were taken. The thief entered the building from the rear and rummaged the till, but found no money. Disappointed in this he seized an armful of the articles above mentioned and made his exit by the road he had entered, and thence to the railway tracks, in the same manner adopted by the thief that entered this store a short time ago.

There is good reason for thinking in the same party planned and executed the job. The break was made about three weeks ago at night, while the clerk was at dinner. Saturday the entry was made at supper time.

"INSOLENCE NICOTINA"

New League Been Organized To Abate Public Smoking.

The "Non-Smokers' Protective League" has been organized with the avowed purpose of abating public smoking as a nuisance.

Of course the bare announcement of the organization of such a league is the cue for all smokers to break into derisive laughter. The smoking fraternity simply assumes that smoking is here to stay and that the unfortunate posing public must either learn to smoke on their own or bear the fumes of tobacco.

It is true of course, that the smoking public is considerably in the minority, counting men, women and children, and that the folks who smoke in public places do so because they dare to, not because they have any logical right to, but even when cheerfully admitting these truths, the average smoker will keep the even tenor of his way.

THE BEST WORLD EMPIRE
The Time Dominated the World.

A correspondent of "The" a statement containing that Babylon was not the first "world empire". He thinks that Assyria was a prior world empire. We do not know where the critic got this idea of history, unless possibly from Rollins. Later researches put away any possibility of making Assyria a preceding kingdom or even a universal one.

The facts of history are these: Babylon existed before Assyria. Gen. 10:10. This statement of the Bible puts the matter beyond controversy. History confirms the fact. To quote: The Babylonians and Assyrians were two very important peoples of remote antiquity, inhabiting the region of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers in Southwestern Asia. The Greeks regarded these peoples as constituting one nation, and called their country Mesopotamia—a name that could properly be applied to only a part of their territory. The Babylonians and Assyrians themselves, on the other hand, regarded each other as alien peoples, though both belonged to the same Semitic stock.

It is true that there was a brief period when Assyria conquered Babylon, but this lasted but a very brief period. The Babylonians remained distinct as a people in civilization and religion, and under Nebuchadnezzar soon dominated the world. The Lord never calls Assyria a universal empire; but He did speak of Babylon. He rebuked the King of Assyria and prevented his taking Jerusalem; but He gave over Jerusalem and its temple to Babylon. In the language of the Bible, and prophecy, Babylon is the first world empire.

SELLS MOSTLY AT HOME.

How the Canadian Farmer Disposes of his Year's Crop.

Canada as everybody knows is a very great food exporting country. We sent out in the year 1910 $21,607,692 worth of cheese, practically the whole of which was sent to the United Kingdom. We exported to the same destination $6,836,392 worth of bacon and ham. The wheat export of the Dominion of Canada which at confederation reached only 2,284,762 bushels, amounted in 1910 to no less than 49,741,350 bushels of which over 46,509,000 bushels was sent to Great Britain.

Our Canadian farmer is greatly interested in this export business and particularly in his connection with the British market, but it is not generally realized that this foreign export market represents only a small part, not more than one fifth of the interest of the Canadian farmer as a producer. The statement has been frequently made that 80 per cent of every thing that is grown upon our farms is consumed within our own borders. Some people have been inclined to challenge this. They have the general idea that the Canadian farmer is a grain grower and that Canada is a grain exporting country and have failed to appreciate the enormous growth of our own home consumption, and the vast quantity of farm produce that is necessarily consumed in a community of eight million people or by cities like Montreal and Toronto with about half a million of inhabitants each.

On examination there seems ample warrant for the statement that Canada consumes 80 per cent of this agricultural output. We may reach this result from the following calculations: The Crop Bulletin for 1909 places the value of all the wheat, oats and barley grown in Canada that year at $289,144,900.00. To arrive at the home consumption of the crops we must deduct the net exports, i.e., the exports of grain produce (Canadian grown only) were: Barley $ 1,107,732 Oats 1,566,612 Wheat 52,909,351 Total $55,283,695

For the same period the imports for consumption were: Barley $102,908 Oats 27,287 Wheat 55,611 Total $185,807

Deducting one from the other it leaves the net value of Canadian field crops for 1909 was $53,937,838. The balance therefore, $234,046,112, or 81 per cent of the whole, represents what was consumed by the home market.

It will be noticed that the above example deals only with three commodities, wheat, oats and barley. The computation which follows embraces all field crops. According to the Bureau of Statistics the total value of Canadian field crops for 1909 was $532,992,100. For the fiscal year ending 31st March, 1910, our exports of field produce (Canadian grown only) were: To the British Empire $76,427,447 To other countries 14,006,300 Total $90,433,747

Of this $20,829,950 was exported in a manufactured state, (flour, oatmeal, etc.), leaving the exports of unmanufactured field products $70,349,788. But again, to arrive at the net exports we must deduct imports of unmanufactured field products valued at $12,601,742, bringing the final amount down to $57,748,046. From these statistics the home market appears to have consumed 1-5 per cent of the total production.

Neither of the above illustrations takes cognizance of animal products, and in the absence of an annual inventory showing the value of our live stock, it is difficult to furnish satisfactory figures. The following comparison however, is suggestive. For the fiscal year ending 31st March, 1910, our exports of unmanufactured field products shown above were $70,349,788; to add our exports of animals and unmanufactured animal products, $43,900,000, and it shows our total exports of unmanufactured farm products to be $114,249,788. But again, to arrive at the net exports we must deduct imports of unmanufactured animal products, $43,900,000, and it shows our total exports of unmanufactured farm products to be $114,249,788. But again, to arrive at the net exports we must deduct imports of unmanufactured animal products, $43,900,000, and it shows our total exports of unmanufactured farm products to be $114,249,788.

In the heart of a woman there are few chambers and still fewer doors. Instead of business-like compartments, mostly isolated. Sometimes there are long labyrinthine passages all opening into our chamber and inextricably bound together.

Rung himself to Death.

Extraordinary circumstances attended the suicide of a church sexton at the Hungarian village of Koros-Eszmany recently. The inhabitants were alarmed by the violent ringing of their church bell, and thought a fire must have broken out. As, however, no fire could be seen, some of them went to the belfry to discover the reason, and there found the body of the sexton dangling from the bell-rope, with which he had hanged himself.

The Sixth Sense

It is frequently the case that we meet people who, at a certain moment a glance is exchanged, while our eyes are turned to some object, and we both start and become conscious of some personalities which we have never met.

BATTLES WILL BE GREAT

Fighting Machines Will Be Great Factors in Future Wars.

There is no doubt now that in the next great war air will be fighting with the ground forces. The warfare of the air will have something of the individuality of an ancient warfare. The modern sea warfare is a conflict of huge iron-clad machines rather than of men. Victory depends upon the skill of the men in the abstract, but upon the prowess of the men on the ship.

In the air fight individual prowess and skill will count for almost as much if not quite so much as in the old days of hand to hand conflicts between the crews of small sailing ships. The flying machine can carry only a few men. It is not easily probably a thousand machines could be built and equipped for war at a considerably less cost than one Dreadnought. Much will depend upon whether the gun of the great warship on the water can reach the small and cheap rival in the air.

Perhaps the first battle in the air took place the other day, when a well-known French aviator, who was attacked by an eagle and escaped with some difficulty. However, before this happened Hubert Latham had started French sportsmen by shooting wild ducks from his monoplane. An Aspinette Latham had taken his flight with him for the purpose of shooting from above at a game preserve, but catching a flock of ducks about a mile over the ocean, he turned his flying machine seaward and started in pursuit. The following description of the hunt is given by a scientific writer: "The ducks flew their best, the flock dividing the two parts. Latham, however, was able to outfly them, to fly all around them in fact, and succeeded in bringing down one of the birds. The remarkable part of this feat is that the airship had to be guided without hands for the moment necessary to aim and fire. It is claimed that the Antoinette was the only airship which can be left without control of the victor's hands for that purpose."

WINE IN THE FACE OF DEATH
Walter E. Smith was in a town in his district one night when a mob gathered about the jail for the purpose of lynching the colored man Mr. Smith heard of what was going on, and mounting the jail steps, he made an impassioned plea to the mob to disperse and let the county jailer take the name of their town through his penitentiary. His plea was effective and the negroes were spared.

A few weeks after that he revisited the town. At that time there was a movement to amend a by-law for the blind. In opening his speech, which was the beginning of his joint debate with a Democratic orator, Mr. Smith said that the purpose to build the asylum was a wise and so humane that the Republicans of the county invited the Democrats to join with them in raising enough money to make the project feasible.

"I distrust Mr. Smith's remarks about the asylum," said the Democratic fulminator in answering Smith's speech. "He makes political capital out of everything. We Democrats might give our money for that building and wake up to find that the Republicans claimed all the credit for it."

"Why, look what Mr. Smith said in making his speech to save the lives of the two colored men from that mob a few weeks ago. His remarks were eloquent. They were great. They carried his point. But here is how he wound up: 'Shoot—shoot if you will, but hold head of mine'—and oh, save those two black boys for the Republican party!"

WHAT BECOMES OF OLD BOOTS?

What becomes of old boots and shoes has hitherto been almost as puzzling a problem as what becomes of all the pins. The solution, however, is given in a trade journal. "Old boots and shoes of leather," the journal says, "are cut up into small pieces, and then are put for two days into chloride of sulfur, the object of which is to make the leather very hard and brittle. When this is fully effected the material is withdrawn from the action of the chloride of sulfur, washed with water, dried and ground to powder. It is then mixed with some substance that will cause it to adhere together, such as shellac or other resinous material, or even a good glue, and a thick solution of strong lard is added. It is afterward pressed into moulds to form combs, buttons and a variety of other useful articles. "Prussiate of potash is also made out of old leather heated with persulf and old iron hoops in a large pot. The nitrogen and carbon form cyanogen, and then unite with the iron and potassium. The soluble portions are dissolved out, and the resulting salt, added to one of iron, produces the well-known Prussian blue, either for dyeing purposes or for use as a pigment."

Sermons must learn to make, if they expect to make their husbands happy, says Rev. John L. Bedford, pastor of the Roman Catholic church of the Holy Spirit, who explains his views this way:

and cherish for better or for worse by your dreams, that she will forget to both cooking or take bread from the table. The beauty is somewhat that dressing is a poor substitute for lunch, and, as for the time, there will come a time when he will get a maximum on an hour of perfect quiet."

PEOPLE are becoming very careful about what they eat and drink—
The preference for goods in sealed packages—especially in food stuffs—is now quite definite and becoming more so every day.
We must frankly admit that there are sound reasons for this preference. Food stuffs cannot be exposed to varying atmospheric conditions without losing both strength and flavor.

AFTER DOCTOR'S FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Toronto, Canada.—"I shall endeavor to describe to you how I felt before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I scarcely knew what it was to be well. I had awful bearing-down pains and usually before my monthly periods the floor the pain was so bad. I doctored for a long time, but the doctor's treatment did not do me any good. I gave up all hopes of ever being well again until one day my husband saw the Compound advertised in the paper. He decided to get me a bottle, and I am thankful he did. I had not taken one bottle before I began to feel better, and I kept on taking it until now I am a different woman. It also helped me during maternity and childbirth. I can thoroughly recommend your Vegetable Compound to any woman who is afflicted with female troubles."—Mrs. J. M. TWEEDALE, 138 Nassau St., Toronto, Canada.

A MATTER OF ETIQUETTE

Judge Ruled that Wife Justified in Opening her Husband's Correspondence.

An Austrian judge has ruled that a wife was justified in breaking the law by opening her husband's correspondence, because the letter she opened proved the correctness of her suspicions. In other words, according to this chapter of justice, the end justified the means. Unfortunately, we are left in doubt as to what would have been the pronouncement had the letter in question proved the suspicion to be unfounded, and yet information on this point would be of far wider interest and importance. In that case, however, it is not probable that the husband would have made the charge against his better half. Altogether an exceptional proceeding, as we begin by saying, and yet it is likely to be widely welcomed and quoted as a precedent for a prevalent habit.

Many wives, indeed, will deny that the habit needs any legal sanction. In all good faith they hold that it is a right bestowed upon them by marriage; that a husband's letters, or rather their contents, are part of the worldly goods which he endows his spouse on their wedding day. It is, after all, not a question of law or of right, but of private agreement, mostly tacit—least after more or less argument. The habit is generally established in the golden days of the honeymoon, when the two are one and would have no secrets from each other; when the bridegroom is fondly anxious to let his bride read all that he does not tell her. Sometimes the habit is not established until later in life, when the sons leave home to stand on their own feet at college, or to try the strength of their young wings in the world without. But what there can be of unimpeachable interest to a wife in her husband's general correspondence is a puzzle that no man can solve. How many husbands, by the way, would have enough curiosity to avail themselves of the privilege of reading their wives' correspondence, or even to ask for it? They are generally quite content with the snatches from it read to them across the breakfast table.

Chinese Puzzles.

Members of the latest Hague peace tribunal are wondering yet whether one of the delegates from China was having fun with them or really wanted to know when he asked these questions: "I have listened to your discussion as to what constitutes a state of war. Will you learned gentlemen kindly tell me whether you consider a state of war exists when the armies of several foreign countries are landed in another country, march to the capital of that country, climb its walls, enter all its sacred places, and not only kill its inhabitants but loot its palaces and temples?"

The Bishop Couldn't Swear.

An Eastern bishop declined to take up golf, and as he wished to begin his practice where he was unknown he sought a public links instead of one of the many clubs which would have been joyously opened to him. He provided himself with an outfit and a book of rules, hired a caddie at the links, and proceeded to set up his ball for the first stroke. After the usual feinting and lumbering process he gave a mighty lunge at the ball and went wildly over the top of it, leaving it reposing on the tee in impenetrable celluloid majesty. "Tut! tut! tut!" exclaimed the bishop, in mild, clerical dismay. "Tut! tut! tut!" Then he tried again, with yet more earnest and vigorous swings, and that time he ploughed a hole in the ground ten inches away from the ball. "Tut! tut! tut!" he reiterated. "Tut! tut! tut!" "Say, mister," warned the caddie nonchalantly, without shifting his gum, "you'll never loin to play golf wid dem woids."

PROFESSIONALS BARRED

Students of Cambridge Must Not Take Part With Actresses in Theatricals

In an order issued lately the proctors at Cambridge university have forbidden undergraduates to take part in amateur theatricals with professional actresses. It has long been the custom of the Oxford Amateur theatrical society to engage the services of professional actresses for their parts. Two years ago Cambridge adopted a similar course and have followed it ever since, but hereafter they will have to abandon it. From now on the dramatic club will have to find some pretty-faced, bright-cheeked undergraduates for the female roles. The order is resented, but the proctors are inexorable.

He Knew It.

Manager: "That young woman whom I placed at this counter a year ago already knows more about the business than you do, and I find that I shall have to put her at the head of the department, though I fear it will be rather unpleasant for you to be under her orders."
Clerk: "Oh, no; I am getting used to that. We were married last month."

One Hundred Years Hence.

A somewhat unusual case will shortly engage the attention of the courts. Last year the Republic of Nicaragua sold the entire cinematograph rights in its wars to a well-known New York firm. This firm is now suing the Republic for heavy damages because in a recent revolution it is alleged the Government forces, in direct violation of the agreement, began a battle before the cinematograph apparatus was ready.

NEWCASTLE N. B., MARCH 6, 1911

TAXATION REFORM

In spite of the fact that at the last Convention of the Union of N. B. Municipalities, held here in October, 1911, it was resolved by a large majority to ask the Legislature to enact a law whereby each municipality might have the privilege of improving its system of taxation, it now appears that the Executive of the Union have taken, and propose to take, no action in the matter at this session of the Legislature, on the ground that they do not consider themselves authorized to prepare and promote a bill!

This is certainly a most wonderful decision! What are the Executive for if not to carry into effect the resolutions of the Convention?

Their decision makes it all important that each municipality that desires improvement in taxation should at once proceed to draw up an act on its own account and have it submitted to the Legislature without delay. Especially is this obligatory upon Newcastle Council, which early last fall resolved "to prepare or co-operate with the Union of N. B. Municipalities or any municipality in preparing" legislation to enable municipalities to change their taxation system in accord with more modern and sensible methods than at present obtain. A special meeting of the Council should be called to consider the carrying into effect of this resolution.

St. John City is asking permission to assess land at double value and improvements at one-half the assessed value, and fix the poll tax at $2.00. Moncton proposes to ask for authority to gradually decrease the tax on improvements and increase it on land values. Newcastle should at once decide upon its immediate needs and promptly move to secure them.

GOOD EXAMPLE FOR OTHER TOWNS

The proposed new charter for the city of St. John has been completed by the committee charged with its preparation and is now ready for presentation to the Legislature.

It reduces the number of aldermen to four and gives the Mayor and each of the aldermen (or commissioners) a yearly salary of $3,000.

Among the provisions new to New Brunswick towns are the following:

1. Property qualifications for Mayor and Aldermen are abolished. A majority of the votes cast is considered sufficient qualification for office. This act of common sense and justice recently rejected by Newcastle Town Council by a vote of five to two is made by the St. John committee almost the first section of their recommendations.

2. A second ballot to determine between the two leading candidates for office when more than two candidates run and neither receives a majority of all the votes cast. This will, as in Germany, France and other enlightened communities, encourage all parties to test their strength at the primary elections and, in case of defeat thereat, allow them to vote for the next best at the secondary elections.

3. The Recall. On the petition of duly qualified voters, entitled to vote and equal in number to not less than fifteen per cent of the total number of persons who voted at the final election then last held, an election shall be held to determine whether or not the Mayor or any commissioner shall be recalled and sent back to private life.

4. The Initiative. Twenty per cent of the number who last voted may request the passage of a new ordinance or by-law and such request shall be submitted to popular vote, and, if sustained, shall become law.

5. The Referendum. During twenty days after the passage of an ordinary ordinance or by-law twenty per cent of the number of voters last voting may demand the submission of said ordinance or by-law to popular vote, and it shall be submitted thereto.

The mayor shall hold office for two years, and two of the first four commissioners for two years each and the other two for four years each, the mayor and two commissioners being elected every two years.

While the Recall may rarely be necessary where Direct Legislation obtains, still it will not likely do any harm, and the abolition of property qualifications, the second ballot, the Initiative and the Referendum are decided improvements in civic government and are constitutional planks which Newcastle and all other New Brunswick towns and cities would do well to adopt.

A MILLION MEN ON STRIKE

The threatened strike of the coal miners of Great Britain went into operation on the 29th ultimo, over one million men and boys stopping work. With the exception of two small non-union mines the whole coal industry of the island is paralysed.

The miners' unions are striking to enforce their demand for a minimum wage of five shillings a day for underground work. As this is scarcely $1.22 of our money, Canadians will not, on the whole, be inclined to be too severe upon the British striker. At this distance their demands appear modest enough.

All last week the leaders of the strikers, of the mine owners, and of the Government were attempting to arrange a settlement. The Government early accepted the principle of minimum wages and induced about two-thirds of the mine owners to do likewise; but, as the remainder of the operators held out, the negotiations failed to prevent the general cessation of work. However, Premier Asquith's declaration to the National Miners' Federation that "The Government having recognized the principle of a minimum wage for all underground workers, if it is not secured by agreement it will be secured by the Government by other means," indicates that the unwilling mine owners will be compelled by an Act of Parliament to submit to the inevitable. Organized labor is becoming very powerful in Great Britain.

The strike has so far been very orderly. The men appear to be well disciplined, and public opinion is largely in their favor.

Coal being an article everyone must use, and the chief sufferers from a prolonged strike being ultimately the public, it would seem that the true solution of the trouble is, the nationalizing of all the mines and the running of them directly by the representatives of the people, and Britain seems to be rapidly approaching this solution.

ROOSEVELT PROGRESSING

Ex-President Roosevelt is in the field for the Republican nomination this year. He who was once an opponent of everything radical has, after appropriating everything progressive in W. J. Bryan's platform, now declared in favor of Direct Legislation by the Initiative and the Referendum and also for the submission to popular vote of the disallowance of any act of a Legislature by the Courts. While Roosevelt may not be sincere in his sudden conversion to the cause of popular freedom, his action certainly shows the trend of public opinion in the United States. There, as in Britain, France and Germany, the people are about to come into possession of their own.

NEW ELECTION IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

The British Columbia Legislature, elected on November 25th, 1909, has been dissolved, and a new election ordered for this month.

The last Legislature contained 39 Conservatives, 2 Socialists and 1 Liberal. The popular vote in 1909 was about as follows: Conservatives, 48 per cent; Liberal, 32; and Socialists, 20.

Amatite ROOFING

Why the Buyer of Amatite Never Complains

When a man buys ordinary ready roofing he usually neglects to paint it and after three or four years he comes back to the dealer with a protest. It is human nature to neglect painting roofs.

When a man buys Amatite he comes back to the dealer in three or four years it is still as good as new and does not need any paint. He gets no satisfaction but a hard-earned dollar by that.

There is nothing to neglect in the case of Amatite. Amatite has a peculiar surface of its own.

Everet Electric Paint

A housewife who has used Amatite says: "I have used Amatite on my house and cattle barn. It is the best thing I ever saw. It keeps the rain, dirt, and germs off the surface." - Mrs. J. H. Smith, Halifax, N. S.

concrete made of pitch and mineral matter.

This surface is plastic enough so that the material can be rolled up into handy rolls in the usual manner and handled just like any other ready roofing. When unrolled on the roof and nailed down it presents to the weather a continuous surface of mineral matter and pitch. On this surface wind, rain, storm, heat and cold have little effect. Year after year it looks up to the sky undisturbed and unaffected. It costs nothing to maintain and relieves the owner from all responsibility.

Dealers can improve their business by selling Amatite and buyers make a good bargain when they buy it. The price of Amatite is less than that of most painted roofings of less weight and durability.

Sample free on request. Ask for one nearest office.

Everet Electric Paint and Cow Spray

Amatite is the best material for farm use. It keeps the rain, dirt, and germs off the surface of barns, sheds, cattle barns, and other farm buildings.

SCATHING DENUNCIATION OF LIQUOR CONDITIONS

North Shore Council in for a Lively Time.

(Campbellton Graphic)

I am a Temperance man, and although not a rabid Prohibitionist, have, for years, taken a lively interest in the people's control of the liquor traffic.

Two general stores in Paspebiac, for a long time, have held licenses for selling liquor by the bottle and pint.

At the eastern end of Paspebiac and at the gateway to its business centre, stand the two liquor distributing general stores.

The store and the office are under one roof, a partition separating them. There are two doors in front, one leading into the store and the other into the office.

refused. The holder of this was the new but-ter-in to the drink trade and had duly held the license for four years.

It appears that he had recently been fined for selling liquor by the glass inside his Shebeen, and his parish priest tried his influence against him.

There is a suspicion as to the right property qualification of some of the councillors, and this question will come up at the next meeting.

Thus stands the situation now, and it is probable that all the bottle and pint liquor licenses will be done away with.

PEOPLE are becoming very careful about what they eat and drink— The preference for goods in sealed packages—especially in food stuffs—is now quite definite and becoming more so every day.

We must frankly admit that there are sound reasons for this preference. Food stuffs cannot be exposed to varying atmospheric conditions without losing both strength and flavor.
