To the Mayor and Aldermen,
Town of Newcastle,
Gentlemen:—

We, the committee on Better Housing beg to submit the following:—
Whereas the cost of all material entering into construction of houses is still as excessive compared to normal, and the margin covering depreciation is comparatively small, (only 15%.)

Whereas the Town's financial obligations are already so burdensome, and at the present time the outlook is far from encouraging. Therefore we recommend that the Better Housing Scheme be laid on the table and brought up for discussion after a period of nine months.

This means a downward readjustment in wages and as regards working conditions the abolition of the present onerous conditions imposed on the carriers by the terms of the McDade award. Notice of termination of existing wage and working term agreements have been sent out by the railways and these will be handled by the railway association of Canada on behalf of all the railways.

C. P. Riddell, secretary of the railway association, said today that no immediate action was looked for, but that preliminary steps were being taken by the railways which would be followed by conferences between the executives of the railways and representatives of the men.

Owing to a combination of trade depression and high costs both the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway shops were, it was said today, contemplating another ten days holiday, to last until June 1.

Ald. Ritchie called attention to a letter in the Advocate commenting on the actions of the Fire Company at the fire at Jas. Forest's residence.

The Chairman of the Park & Fire Com. stated that there was no justification for the remarks made in the letter as the Firemen had responded promptly and had done good work at the Forrest fire, and that the Fire Company was now in good working condition.

FRASER COMPANY WINS CASE

In the Police Court, on Thursday morning before Police Magistrate J. R. Lawlor, the case of the Fraser Companies Ltd., vs. the Union men who were charged with making a demonstration in their mill property at Chatham Head last April was continued. Mr. A. A. Davidson K. C. for the Fraser Companies Ltd. and Mr. Geo. M. McDade for the defendants.

Mr. McDade on behalf of his clients withdrew their election to be tried by Jury, and asked for a summary conviction. Mr. Davidson stated that the Fraser Company were prepared to go more than half way with the men, their sole intention in instituting the charge being to prove to the men that they had no right in the eyes of the law to take upon themselves the privilege of entering private property either to create a disturbance or to intimidate other men who were working thereon.

His Honor read from the Criminal Code of law regarding such actions and also the penalties prescribed, which he said he did for the purpose of acquainting the general public regarding such incidents. He further advised the accused men that they should listen to their leaders in matters of this kind and not take upon themselves methods, which, if they persisted in, would lead them to trouble. Mr. J. Martin, M. L. A. and President of the Miramichi Union stated that he attended the proceedings as a labor Representative of the Provincial Legislature, and he wished it distinctly understood that his presence did not mean an admission of fault on the part of the Labor Union.

He said that these men had made the demonstration on their own individual responsibility, as such demonstration was not ordered or sanctioned by the Labor Union. He also said that the men had been told by the leaders of the Union that they were not to indulge in demonstrations of this kind. His Honor disposed of the case, with the understanding that the accused were to pay the costs of the magistrate and constable. The members of the Newcastle and Nelson Unions were addressed by Mr. Martin after the court adjourned.

"ALF'S BUTTON" A SCREEN CLASSIC

Cecil M. Hepworth's film version of W. A. Riggall's clever novel, "Alf's Button," is causing so much comment just now, is certainly to be congratulated upon his work. It is without a shadow of a doubt, the cleverest and most consistent piece of film comedy ever presented. Briefly, the story is that Alf Higgins has been issued with an army tunic having a button on it made from Aladdin's lamp. Every rub of that button, inadvertent or otherwise, causes the sleeve of the button to appear to do whatsoever his master may wish. His conception of the likings of a coster Tommy are amusing in the extreme, as he varies his scenes from a box at a West End presentation of "Hamlet" to the centre of a Turkish harem with its attendant bevy of beauties.

The photography is splendid, the settings are beautiful as well as elaborate and the acting of the stars is of the high standard common to English artists. The management of the Happy Hour Theatre where this film is showing Tuesday can therefore feel assured that they have booked a winner.

PRESENTATION

The members of the Baptist Church Basket Ball Teams composed of the boys and girls of that church, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Scribner last Tuesday evening and presented their instructor Alderman Fred Locke, with a beautifully bound Bible. Miss Lyle McCormack read the address and Mr. Locke, who was completely taken by surprise replied in a most feeling manner. The presentation was made by Price Amos on behalf of the boys and girls. After the presentation a social hour was spent in games and music, after which a dainty lunch was served.

Speaker's Chair for Canada

The Speaker's Chair which is being presented to the Canadian House of Commons by the Empire Parliamentary Association (United Kingdom branch) to take the place of that destroyed in the fire at the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, in February, 1916, is now completed, and it is expected that the presentation will be made by the Right Hon. J. W. Lowther, speaker of the Imperial House of Commons, during the summer.

The gift has been tendered by the donors as "an abiding token of good will between both Parliaments," and has been gratefully accepted as such by the Canadian House of Commons. The chair is an exact copy of the Speaker's Chair in the House of Commons (designed by Pugin, who was Barry's assistant in the building of the New Palace of Westminster), which has been used since the occupation of the present chamber by the Commons in 1852. Like the original, the replica is a beautiful example of carved oak. It stands 18ft. 6in., surmounted by a canopy bearing the Royal Arms, which are carved in a piece of old oak taken from the roof of Westminster Hall. The seat of the chair is upholstered in green leather. The right jamb of the chair is inscribed:—"Manus justa nardus; memora et fidelis mens conscia rectori"; and on the left jamb is inscribed:—"Nec prece nec pretio; libertas in legibus; hostis honoris invidias laus Deo."

The replica was executed by Messrs. Harry Hems and Sons, of Exeter, under the direction of Sir Frank Baines, of the Office of Works. It was recently on view at the rooms of the Empire Parliamentary Association, Westminster Hall, when the Speaker and a large party of Lords and Commons, were received by Sir H. d'Eville, secretary of the association, and Mr. T. Wilson, Clerk of Works and Deputy Keeper of Westminster Hall. Accompanying the chair is a framed roll of parchment, ornamentally inscribed as follows:—

"This replica of the Speaker's Chair in the House of Commons, at Westminster, is herewith presented to the House of Commons at Ottawa by the United Kingdom branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association, comprising members of both Houses, as a fitting symbol of the great Parliamentary tradition which binds together the free nations of the British Commonwealth."

The scroll is signed:—"Birkenhead, Lord Chancellor; James W. Lowther, Speaker of the House of Commons, Joint President, Empire Parliamentary Association, United Kingdom branch, Westminster Hall."

Formerly the Canadian Speaker, on leaving office, was entitled to take away the chair in which he sat as a perquisite, but this perquisite will now be lost. It is probable that there are some of the chairs of the old English House of Commons still in existence in country mansions. Dean Fellow, in his biography of Lord Sidmouth (Henry Addington), relates that in the dining-room of White Lodge, Richmond Park—a house given by George III. to Sidmouth in appreciation of his services to the Crown—there were two old and bulky armchairs standing guard, one at each side of the fireplace; they were chiefly remarkable for their lumbering size and gaunt, inconvenient form, and visitors, always curious as to their history, were told they were the chairs of the House of Commons in which Addington had sat as Speaker. He originally possessed three of these chairs. He presided over the House of Commons in three consecutive Parliaments, and had the distinction of being the first Speaker of the House of Commons in the United Kingdom on their assembly on January 22, 1801, after the Union with Ireland. One of the chairs disappeared, Dean Fellow says, and the mystery of its fate was never solved.

The chair of the first Speaker of the first reformed House of Commons is in the Parliament House of the Commonwealth of Australia at Melbourne. It is the chair that was provided for the temporary chamber in which the House of Commons sat after the fire of 1834, and was taken away as his perquisite by Charles Manners-Sutton when he completed, late in 1834, his long term of office as Speaker. Manners-Sutton's son took the chair out to Melbourne when he was appointed Governor of Victoria, and presented it to the Legislative Assembly, whose successive Speakers sat in it for many years. In course of time another chair was substituted for it, and at the inauguration of the Commonwealth in 1901 it was placed—with a brass plate recording its history—in the House of Representatives for the use of the Speaker.

INTERNATIONAL DAIRY CONGRESS

There is probably no branch of agriculture in which Canada has made more progress in recent years than dairying. An opportunity will be afforded next year to let the world know how far this is the case, for in summer is to be held at Chicago, Ill., the Seventh International Dairy Congress at which there will be present officially appointed representatives from thirty to fifty different countries. At the sixth congress, held at Brene, Switzerland in 1914, Mr. J. A. Rudick, Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, was Canada's representative, among a total of 800 delegates representing twenty-nine countries or states. The congresses are organized under the auspices of the International Dairy Federation, of which any person interested in dairying, corporation or association can become a member on payment of the annual fee, which at present is twenty francs. Papers are read at the congresses and the reports are published in English, French and other languages. Already Mr. Rudick is engaged, by authority of the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, in preparing for Canada's representation at next year's congress in Chicago and a committee is being formed on which the heads of the dairy branch in every province will be invited to act. This committee will arrange for the questions to be discussed and the papers to be read as far as Canada is concerned. A pamphlet will also be prepared and distributed among the delegates descriptive of the dairy industry in this country. It is further proposed to establish in connection with the congress a bureau of information at which facts will be set forth regarding not only dairying in Canada, but agriculture generally and the manufactures and resources of the country. In addition, leaflets will be circulated suggesting itineraries for delegates who might like to visit Canada before returning home.

ACTIVE BUYING OF AUTOMOBILES

That the buying of motor cars in Canada is on the upward trend is evidenced by the statement of The Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Ltd., who report that their sales for the first four months of this year show an increase of 157% over the corresponding period last year. They further report that their factories at Walkerville, Ontario have been into full production since the first of April. In commenting upon the condition of the automobile market, W. G. Palmer, Sales Manager of the Studebaker Corporation, has the following to say:—"Through the Dominion there is a marked revival in the buying of automobiles, and there is every indication to believe that our own sales for 1921 will more than double our volume of business last year. I lay this demand solely to the low per capita ownership of cars in Canada when compared with the same figures in the United States. Then, too, we must remember that the automobile is an indispensable part of our daily work, and this fact will always give foundation to a consistent demand for cars."

AUTO PRICES COMING DOWN

The Boston News Bureau, a reliable Trade Journal, under date of May 9th. has the following to say of a reduction in the price of Chevrolet cars:

Chevrolet Motor Company announced a reduction of approximately 21 1/2% for its "Four-Ninety" models effective May 7.

Under the new price list, the Chevrolet touring car will list at $445, a reduction of $175; the roadster at $635, a reduction of $160; the sedan at $1195, a reduction of $180."

THE UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION SERIOUS

Toronto, May 19—Following a special meeting of the Dominion officials of the G. A. U. V. at headquarters here tonight, a telegram was sent to the premier, the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, stating that the unemployment situation had reached such serious proportions throughout Canada that it was warranted suspension of the routine business of the Ottawa House until a remedy was provided for.

CAMPERS AND FOREST PROTECTION

Holiday time is approaching and already some people are getting their tents and canoes and tackle ready for a trip in the woods. This open fire in the forest is a form of recreation in regard to which Canadians are especially privileged, and it is a particularly valuable and health-promoting form in these days, when so many people live in crowded cities. Camping in the woods will doubtless increase in Canada from year to year, and so long as campers are careful with fire their presence does the forest no harm. It has been noticed, however, in many quarters, that too often in the past the trial of the camper has been marked by forest fires. If during the coming season every camper will be so careful that neither from his camp-fire nor from his pipe will he permit fire to escape into the forest, a great stride forward will be made in forest protection. Let all unite in preserving this great natural resource of Canada.

This is woman's problem and the source of almost endless worry.

True, there are times when most women take a pleasure and pride in cooking and baking, but when you are not feeling up to the mark it does get on your nerves and become a real worry—a nerve-exhausting worry.

Since meals are essential to life, the old problem of "what to eat" must endure, but need not be a worry when your nerves are set right.

It is when you are tired—nerve tired—that such things become a source of worry. There is nothing like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to combat this condition.

It is because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is such a help under these very conditions that it has come to be relied upon by the great majority of Canadian women. Headaches, sleeplessness, tired, depressed feelings, lack of energy are some of the accompanying symptoms.

STOLE A DEAD MAN'S SPIRITS

Windsor, Ont. May 21—Scarcely had the funeral of Francis Miernie, who was killed in a motor accident on Saturday night, left the house on Riverside Drive this morning, when six men forced the front door of his house and took therefrom forty cases of liquor, escaping with them in a motor boat across the river to Detroit. Before the procession had moved off, the boat docked a few hundred feet away from the house and the six occupants disembarked and waited about until the party had left. They then coolly entered the house and ransacked the place for liquor. No clue as to their identity is held by the Windsor police to whom the affair was reported.

THE BENEFIT OF FORESTS

Most of the land on which our Canadian forests now stand is not suitable for agriculture, but it is suitable for growing fine crops of trees to keep our saw-mills, our wood factories, our furniture factories, and our paper mills running at full force forever. It purifies the blood—clears the complexion and removes all those nasty pimples and blotches. Let us all take part in protecting our valuable forests. Fire is their enemy. Therefore let us be careful with fire when in the woods.

CARE OF CHICKS ON THE RANGE

The care of the chicks while in the brooder stage is most important, for at that time the largest mortality occurs, yet the subsequent care of the chicks that have lived through the brooder stage has very much to do with the success or failure of the birds later.

Plenty of Heat

Do not cut down the heat too soon until the chicks are well feathered, and even after that, if the weather is cold and changeable, they will require a certain amount of heat, whether they are raised naturally or artificially.

Naturally Raised Chicks

The hen will probably leave the chicks to themselves by the time they are feathered, sometimes even before, and it is well to have the chicks housed in a fairly comfortable coop or colony house, so that when the hen leaves them they will be quite comfortable and can get along without her.

Artificially Raised Chicks

The same care as to heat and comfortable rearing quarters should be given to the chicks that are hatched and reared artificially and sometimes even more care is necessary. The removal of the heat, when nights are still cold, often results in the chicks becoming chilled, crowding into a corner and a number of them being smothered. Those that survive are more or less stunted because of the chill.

Give Them Fresh Land

It is never advisable to rear chickens in the same yards or upon the same soil that the old hens have used. Give them new soil that is sweet and free from disease germs. Such a place as a cultivated orchard, potato patch, root or corn field, or in fact any place where there is a growing crop of such a nature that they cannot destroy it will be an ideal spot for the chicks.

Plenty of Shade

During the warmer months shade is very important. This can be provided by the growing crop, orchard, shrubs or even the raising of the house and in some cases, along with this, artificial shade made from boughs or cotton screens is an advantage.

Feeding

The feeding of a flock of chicks during the growing season should not be haphazard. Though plenty of feed is required it may be given in such a way that the minimum amount of labour is entailed. For this purpose, hopper feeding is very much to be recommended. A homemade hopper in which mixed grains and mash can be placed and to which the chicks can have access at all times insures plenty of feed for the chicks with very little labour on the part of the attendant. If the growth in plenty of time for the fall, a moist mash fed once a day will help them, and milk before them at all times is a decided advantage.

In feeding and caring for the growing chicks it should be borne in mind that the chief aim is to have matured pullets so that they will commence to lay before the winter season comes on. The feeder should keep this in mind and feed the birds accordingly. Early chicks may be fed so that they will mature too early for best all-round production, and though this is an exception, still it is well to keep in mind that the pullet that starts laying the latter part of October or the first of November is usually the pullet that gives the best yearly production and certainly yields a better revenue than the pullets that do not start laying until after the season of high prices for eggs is over.

NO INCREASE IN PRICE OF TEA

St. John Telegraph: While despatches from Toronto predict that the taxes imposed on tea in the new budget will send the price of tea up two cents a pound to the consumer a large local dealer said last night that he did not believe there would be any changes made in the retail price of tea in St. John. So far as he was able to judge, the importer, wholesaler and retailer would absorb the extra tax between them and the consumer would pay the usual price. The greater proportion of the tea sold in the city is sold as package goods at fixed prices of 55, 65 and 75 cents and, since the increase did not justify an additional 5 cents being added and it was not advisable to have the price a less handy sum, the dealers would endeavor to divide the increased tax among themselves.

ATHLETIC ASS'N FOR NEWCASTLE

A meeting of those interested in the formation of an Amateur Athletic Association was held last Thursday evening in the Council Chamber of the Town Hall at 8 o'clock. The members of the Town Council as well as a large number of influential citizens were present. The subject was introduced by Mr. Jack Nicholson, who said that it was thought advisable by the young people of the town to form an Athletic Association so that all branches of sport, which have for some time been dormant in Newcastle, would be encouraged and it was felt that if the general public would show some sympathy along these lines that there would be no difficulty in the formation of an Association. The different members of the Town Council spoke in favour of such a move and were heartily in accord with the movement. Mayor C. E. Fish was chairman of the meeting and Mr. Jack Nicholson acted as Secretary.

After a full discussion of the matter, Mr. Chas. J. Morrissy, M. L. A. moved that a Newcastle Amateur Athletic Association be formed which was duly seconded and passed. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected.

President—Ald. W. L. Durick
Sec.-Treas.—Jack Nicholson
Executive—James Stables, Fred Decke, Chas. J. Morrissy, A. H. Cole, and J. Alex. Bell, M. D.

On motion of Ald. Ed. Dalton the membership fee of the association was placed at $1.00 per year.

The meeting then adjourned at the call of the President. It is the desire of the Executive to secure a large membership of the leading citizens as well as the young men interested in the promotion of athletics, and they have already started a campaign for such membership. The committee are meeting with very good results and at the time of writing a membership of about thirty has been secured.

This movement is one which we have no hesitation in commending and we feel positive that all good citizens will assist the young men to attain their objective.

A Dangerous Practice

A matter of vital concern to all railway travellers was suggested in a letter that appeared in a recent issue of the "Montreal Star" under the heading of "The Editor's Mail." This letter was as follows:

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

The Editor—

Sir—There is one thing which I think should be brought to the attention of the big officials of our railway companies. That is the highly dangerous practice of smoking in sleeping cars.

In a train in which I was travelling the other night from Toronto to Montreal, I heard a porter go up to a berth and ask the occupant if he were smoking. There was a very sheepish denial, but as a matter of fact the man was smoking a cigarette—not in the smoking room, remember, but in his berth. Quite smart from the lack of consideration which this showed for the other passengers—amongst whom were several ladies—think of the danger of it, where an accidental little fire might have endangered the lives of some score more. There are plenty of instances on record where men smoking in bed in their own houses have fallen asleep and been burned to death, without having to emphasise the much bigger danger in a bed on a train.

I spoke about this case to the porter in the morning, and he told me that one day there would be a big fire and then people would perhaps sit up and take notice. The worst offenders, he said, are not the people in the ordinary berths, who can be asked to stop, so much as those who occupy compartments, and who can lock their doors and tell the porter who remonstrates to go to the devil.

I am not an anti-smoking crank, but I once had the misfortune to lose a relative in a railway fire, which started in a way something like this, and I am sure that if the big railway officials realized the seriousness of this they would, in justice to the travelling public, issue strict orders about it. Leg that Wouldn't Heal

"Ever since a boy of fourteen," writes Mr. John Redmond, of West Frampton, Que., "I had trouble with a bad leg. I used many remedies. Though some appeared to heal the ulcer for a while, it always broke out again as bad as ever. This last time I suffered continuously for nine years, and the old remedies had absolutely no effect."

The limb was in an awful state when someone advised me to get Zam-Buk right away. I had only used this herbal healer a few days when I began to see great improvement. So I continued the treatment, for even Zam-Buk needed time to have complete effect. However, I am glad to tell you that it was only by the aid of Zam-Buk that the leg was finally thoroughly healed. I never saw the ulcer since."

"WILL PRAISE IT LONG AS I LIVE"

Farmer's Wife Gains 15 Pounds and Looks So Well Friends Hardly Know Her.

"Tanlac has been such a wonderful blessing to my wife that I shall praise it as long as I live," declares Atherton Titus, a well-known and prosperous farmer living at Perry's Point, N. B.

"She certainly was in a terrible condition before taking Tanlac. Why, for ten years her stomach was so bad she didn't dare eat anything like pork or pancakes, and even oatmeal would sour and caused gas to form that bloated her until she was in perfect agony. She fell off in weight till she was a mere shadow of her former self, and she became so weak she could hardly do a thing about the house. Rheumatism set in, and the pain in her arms and legs were so awful it kept her awake for hours at night. She tried nearly everything in the way of medicines and treatment, but never got anything more than temporary relief until she tried Tanlac.

"In all my life I've never seen anything to equal the way this medicine got rid of her troubles, and it has built her up to where she is like an entirely different woman. She can now eat anything and is never troubled in the least with sourness or gas. She has gained all of fifteen pounds in weight and has improved in appearance so that her friends hardly know her. The rheumatism has practically disappeared, and she sleeps like a child the whole night through. She works all day without getting tired and feels as well and strong as ever in her life."

CULTIVATION OF GROWING CROPS

The cultivation of crops requires reasonable care. There is seldom gain from deep cultivation after the crop has been planted. Such cultivation is necessary in preparing the soil for all food crops, but if not done then later cultivation will not make up for the neglect. Summer cultivation should be shallow, sufficient to destroy weeds and produce a fine mulch one to two inches deep.

It may be possible and is then advisable, to narrow the cultivator and cultivate deeply the space between the rows not occupied by growing roots. It should be remembered however, that these roots penetrate the soil towards the centre of the row very rapidly and frequent observations are necessary to determine whether the feeding roots are being disturbed or destroyed by cultivation, as so very often happens. The moist soil below the loose surface soil covering is where the soil bacteria are most active, and consequently where the most plant food is being liberated, as a result of which roots will be found in this soil area in greater abundance than anywhere else.

Although there seems to be no good reason for using care in selection of seed, preparation of the soil and fertilizing to grow a good plant-only to destroy the roots as soon as they have grown-yet this is what is very often done. Root pruning has so far never been shown to be desirable and as the root development is a big factor in crop yields, the better chance they have for development without being disturbed the better use they can make of the plant food the soil contains. The object at this time is to point out the desirability of surface tillage by shallow surface cultivation and warn against deep culture in the area occupied by the growing plant.

Another reason why roots should not be disturbed more than possible is because injured roots may not be able to take up the full moisture required and willing may result bringing about premature maturity; particularly in this case if the weather is hot and accompanied by drying winds.

A depth guide should be used on the cultivator to avoid too deep cultivation and as the plants grow toward the centre between the rows the cultivator should be narrowed. The advent of the horse hoe or biller has marked the greatest advance in economic potato culture of any implement on the farm. This implement has made it possible to distribute around the potato hill a fine earth mulch sufficient to kill the weeds, if done when the weeds are young, and not in any way disturbed the growing roots in the hill. The tooth cultivator should follow the horse hoe, setting it as close as possible, to loosen the hard centre between the rows in order to protect the land from drying out, form a loose soil to quickly absorb rains that may fall and give fine soil for subsequent hilling.

In potato culture the point above mentioned indicates the necessity for reasonable distance between the rows in order to grow this crop with the least amount of hand hoeing for, if the rows are narrow, there is not the space from which to draw the soil for hilling purposes and the row cannot be cultivated without doing damage to the feeding roots as there is not space enough for the cultivator to work without doing such damage. Thirty-three inches apart seems to be the distance most suitable. Tests made at Kentville covering a period of five years including 16 tests show that rows thirty inches apart yielded an average of 265.6 bushels and those thirty-six inches apart 233.1 bushels, the potatoes being spaced twelve inches apart in the row. The system of cultivation outlined above having been followed.

Some Beauties of the Ottawa River

Fort William, Pontiac County, Province of Quebec, is a lovely spot along the Ottawa river, and yet it is not so well known as it should be. On one side of the Ottawa river is Petewawa training camp, and just across the water Fort William lies by the side of a forest of magnificent pine trees. Since the war Fort William has become better known, for thousands of Canadian soldiers who prepared for fighting at Petewawa were there, and they did not forget to tell their friends of its loveliness and the happy hours they spent around it.

You may reach Fort William, Quebec, by a variety of ways: You may get off the C.P.R. train on the main line at Petewawa railway station, then go for two miles across Petewawa Camp grounds to Petewawa village. At the village you may take a boat to the opposite side of the river and you are in Fort William.

Or you may go to Fort William, Quebec, from Pembroke, Ontario, by a more direct route. The Pembroke Transportation Company runs the S.S. Oiseau from Pembroke to Des Joachim at regular intervals, a distance of about 20 miles, calling at Petewawa village, Fort William and other points. The fare for this trip is small, and the trip itself is most enjoyable, the scenery being beautiful, and on a hot summer day the breezes blowing along the wide lake like Ottawa river are refreshing as sea winds.

It would indeed be difficult to find a prettier spot than Fort William, Quebec. The place looks like an inland seaside, for here there is a beach miles in length, and sandy as a sea strand. The crystal waters of the Ottawa river gently lave the golden fringes of their bed. In summertime children play in the sand and dig holes just as they do at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea. Age and youth walk together by many flowery paths. The bathing beach is safe, shallow at the shore, but you can go out into any depth you wish, for the Ottawa has a deep heart.

The river is dotted with islands. Motor boats, rowing boats and canoes ply its waters. Sometimes you may see a barge tugging a floating mass of logs to some distant mill. The Hotel Pontiac, owned by the genial Chris McCool, is the soul of Fort William. The hotel stands beneath towering pines; in front is the golden strand, then the river, and beyond the river the gentle Petewawa hills, which often resound to the firing of the big guns used by the soldiers training in the open country. There is a most distinct echo in this district. If you laugh or talk in a loud voice the hills will surely laugh and talk back to you.

From the Hotel Pontiac steady walks radiate in many directions. It is a nice walk from the hotel to the Beaver Dam. In the fruit season you may gather thousands of blueberries and wild raspberries on the way.

"Slow shiks, more lovely ere nis race is run. Along Fort William hills the setting sun."

Thus Lord Byron, who wrote an immortal poem on the sunset in Greece, might have written about a Fort William sunset had he seen one. The sunset at Fort William is beautiful as the sunset in Greece or anywhere. It is a marvel of beauty. Those who look on it never forget the scene. Sol goes down beyond the Petewawa hills in a robe of deep crimson, lighting up the waters of the Ottawa with its hue. The beams dart their silver among the islands. The landscape is all solemn. At that time it seems as if Nature, in worship of her Creator, is taking a great heavenly Host into her breast. Many watch the sunsets at Fort William from the log seats on the beach. Many logs that escape from the lumbermen find a resting place at the river side and make comfortable natural seats for the tourists.

out point for lumbermen, trapped and hunters.

Des Joachim is the last post of call for the steamer. Here there is a half hour allowed for any who wish to visit picturesque waterfalls in the vicinity before starting their return journey.

Fort William is historic, for it was a trading post before railways were built, and when the early French explorers were going towards Western Canada they left their footprints here.

The Ottawa river affords good trout fishing. Deer and moose roam in the woods. Beaver and other fur-bearing animals are plentiful. There is also good partridge shooting.

APPOINTMENT
Mr. Arthur Petrie has been appointed sanitary inspector and sub-deputy Registrar for the town of Newcastle in place of George Bethune, who has resigned.

INCREASE IN PRICE
The new federal tax on liquor will mean an addition of about $1.65 per bottle. This is one of the best prohibitory measures that could be adopted.

THIS YEAR'S TAXES
The Town's valuation this year is about $50,000 in excess of last year. The tax rate will be (it is thought) a little lower than 4%. Last year the rate was 3.40.

TAX RATE
Campbellton's total valuation for 1921 has been increased to $5,544,825, which is considerably above previous valuations. The rate this year is expected to figure out at $1.85, which is a little more than half of last year.

24TH MAY ATTRACTIONS
A Pic Social and Dance under the auspices of I.L.A. No. 1146, in the Orange Hall, Cheimsford and a Dance and Supper in the Parish Hall, Renous are among the 24th May attractions.

PARTNERSHIP FORMED
A Partnership has been entered into by R. M. Faudel and Chas. Asouf under the firm name of The Castle Import and Trading Co. and are now doing business under this name in the premises recently occupied by R. M. Faudel & Sons on Castle Street.

SMALLPOX
A case of smallpox is reported at Quarryville N. B. The patient is a child and the case is well developed. The Board of Health have been notified and have taken the necessary precautions, although considerable time elapsed before the authorities were acquainted of the existing case.

WIDENING STREET
On the request of the Town Council, Mr. Charles Maroney has very kindly consented to move his building (the old Park Store) back off the street about six feet, in order that Castle Street may be widened. This corner has always been considered a dangerous one on account of its narrowness and the public are indeed grateful to Mr. Maroney for his kindness in moving his building back.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE
A Nova Scotian Automobile turned turtle last Saturday afternoon on the road near Douglastown. The car was occupied by a number of children besides the driver at the time of the accident and it is a miracle how the occupants escaped with their lives. Some minor injuries were received by the occupants and the car was badly damaged.

THUNDER STORM
Several heavy peels of thunder were heard last Saturday night and Sunday was an exceptionally warm day, until 3.30 o'clock p. m. when a heavy thunder and lightning storm accompanied by a down pour of rain, with a heavy gale of wind broke out. The atmosphere immediately turned cold after the storm and during the night was intensely cold.

EATING BETWEEN MEALS
There is nothing that has so much to do with a child's health as what it eats and when and how it eats it. Many of the disorders of childhood can be traced directly to unsuitable food eating between meals and over-indulgence in sweets. One of the most injurious habits of childhood is eating between meals. Children are tempted to spend their pennies for candies, cakes, etc. They eat them between meals and so destroy their appetite for the regular meals.

Just how long a child will keep well under such conditions depends upon the care it receives in other respects; sooner or later its digestion will become impaired and it will have bad dreams, lose sleep and become thin and pale. It is such a child who soon becomes run down and is susceptible to colds and more serious contagious diseases.

PRESBYTERIAN MINISTERS' ASSOCIATION

The members of the Miramichi Presbyterial Ministers' Association were guests Tuesday of Rev. F. W. Thompson of Loggieville. With the President Dr. Wylie in the chair, and a good representation in attendance, a discussion was held on the question of Foreign Mission enterprise in all its different phases, following an informing paper on The Value of Foreign Missions read by Rev. W. Girdwood of Redbank. The next discussion will be held in October when Rev. W. M. Matthews will give a paper on The Church and the Social Order.

Well Satisfied With Baby's Own Tablets

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. Her use of them leads her to believe there is no other medicine to equal them for any of the many minor ailments of childhood. Concerning them Mrs. Eugene Boisvert, East Adfield, Que., writes: "My baby was terribly constipated, but after the use of Baby's Own Tablets he is entirely well again. I am so well satisfied with the Tablets that I lose no opportunity in recommending them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
