FIGURES DO LIE.

Prices are only Relative

REGAL ENGINES are the highest priced engines, yet they are the cheapest.

They are the highest priced engines because they cost more to build.

They are the cheapest engines, because they will last twice as long as any other engine.

They are also the cheapest engines because they save your time, and "Time is money."

If you shut your eyes to this real bargain in engines, you will be the sorriest fisherman who ever signed an order.

You will lose more money than you can afford to lose, and your oil bills will be twice as large.

REGAL ENGINES use less oil, have more power, run with less trouble and give more genuine satisfaction than any other engine on the market.

We are, in the near future, going to ask all cash for REGAL ENGINES, so buy one before we make this change, as we intend to make them the "Hall Mark" engines of Newfoundland.

We ship REGAL ENGINES complete with full book of instructions, and when once installed in your boat, any child can run one.

REGAL ENGINES are higher priced than other engines, but are the cheapest in the long run, because they run the longest.

CHAPTER XI.
"How mad—how worse than mad I am!" he cried. "Dear Heaven, how is it to end, this love of mine?"

He saw no end to it but death. Well many a man had died for less; many a man had loved his life through, and met with reward. His fate was so different. "Only let me live, and, living, love her!" he would say to himself.

He had never betrayed this love of his. True, he had made her some ardent speeches. He had talked of living and dying for her, of thinking alone of her; but, then, Miss Neslie was used to compliments—she was accustomed to homage. It was nothing new for her to hear that some one was willing to die for her. There were times when she was inclined to think the young secretary presumptuous—when she thought he was using words that only those whom she considered her equals should use. It was but natural, she thought, that he should offer her what all the rest of the world gave her—praise and homage. If any one had said to her that her father's secretary loved her with a love that was overpowering in its intensity, she would have thought it an insult. As it was, she had a kindly feeling for him. She placed a certain amount of trust in him. He would be faithful to her, she thought, if ever she required fidelity. She knew that it would be a pleasure to him to serve her—no matter in what manner—but that he was presumptuous enough to love her she never dreamed.

So he kept his love in his heart, and it grew there like a fair flower. A queen might have been proud of such devotion—it was so deep, so genuine, so entire, so utterly unselfish; it was the love of an artist for his ideal, of a musician for the most cherished offspring of his brain.

He did his best to serve her. When the news of Sir Arthur's marriage came, no one felt it more keenly than he did. He would a thousand times rather have endured pain himself than have seen Vivien suffer; and he knew that nothing could cause her such intensity of pain as this marriage.

It was to screen her from Sir Arthur's anger that he had worked so hard to prepare for the bride's coming home. He had both sense and self-control. He knew that fighting against fate was worse than useless—if Vivien showed her anger it would be all the worse for her. There was no course open to her but submission.

"Had I been Sir Arthur," he said to himself over and over again, "I would rather have died than have contracted this marriage." Now that it was done all contention was useless.

He never knew whether his love gave him most pleasure or most pain. There was never a moment in which he dared indulge it. He dare not look long at the face he loved so well. If he did so, hoping that it was unnoted, Miss Neslie would say, "Did you wish to speak to me, Mr. Dorman?" She would not admit, even in the utmost depths of her heart, the faintest idea that her father's secretary presumed to love her.

Once, as she was crossing the drawing-room, a flower fell from her hair, and he, believing she had not seen it, hastened to pick it up. He took it in his hand, when she turned round with a calm face, and said—

"I will thank you for my flower, Mr. Dorman."
"Will you not let me keep it?" he asked. The proud calm deepened.

"I beg your pardon," she said, looking at him with clear, cold, pitiless eyes—"I did not understand."
And, with those proud eyes gazing coldly at him, he did not dare to repeat the words. With a low bow he placed the flower in her hand and left her.

CHAPTER XII.
"Valerie," said Sir Arthur to his wife, "have you no friends whom you would like to invite over to England for a few weeks—no relatives, acquaintances—old school-fellows? I should be so pleased for you to do so."
They were sitting round the fire in the drawing-room at Lancewood, and Vivien looked up quickly at Lady Neslie's face as her father asked the question—quickly enough to detect there an expression of embarrassment. Valerie flushed and felt uncomfortable under her scrutinizing look. Then she turned with a grateful smile to Sir Arthur.

"You are always thinking of something or other kind and pleasant for me," she said; "but I really do not care to ask any of my friends here."
There was a slight infection in her voice, a slight infection in Vivien's direction, which seemed to imply that no friend of hers would be very welcome. Vivien perceived it, but disdained to reply. Sir Arthur continued—
"Lady Smeaton asked me the other day when we should see any of my charming wife's friends. She may have thought you had some handsome young cousin who would fall in love with Dora Smeaton."
"I should be sorry for him," said Valerie, with a smile; "he would have a dreary time of it."
But Vivien was determined she should not, as she usually did, divert attention from the subject of conversation. She turned to her.

"It seems so strange, Lady Neslie," she said, "that you should have no friends or acquaintances of your own."
"I have plenty, but none for whom I have any particular affection. Indeed, just as the sun absorbs all lesser lights, so my love for you, Sir Arthur, has absorbed all other liking."
He was touched by the words. Vivien saw in them only another proof of her wily, deceitful manner.
Then Lady Neslie quitted the room. Soon afterward Vivien turned to her father.

Stops the Twinges of Rheumatism, Limbers the Muscles, Eases the Joints

Amazing Relief Comes at Once—Cure Every Time.

USE NERVILINE.
Aching joints and sore muscles are common in rheumatic people. Inflammation is deep in the tissues. You might use a dozen remedies and derive less relief than Nerviline will give you in half an hour.
Nerviline is a pain-subduer that works do not altogether describe.
It is fully five times stronger than most remedies, not that it affects the skin unfavourably—no, its great power is due to its wonderful penetrative quality—it strikes in deeply, but never burns or blisters.

Just rub Nerviline into sore muscles, stiff joints, and note the glow of comfort, the ease of pain that follows.
You are astonished, delighted, this is because words do not express the promptness and permanency with which Nerviline cures every ache and pain in the muscles and joints.
Marvelous, you'll say. Natural, we say, because Nerviline is different, stronger, more penetrating, a true pain-subduer. Just try it and see if it doesn't cure rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, strains and sprains.
The large 50c. family size bottle is four more economical than the 25c. trial size. Get it to-day. Sold by dealers everywhere.

He was touched by the words. Vivien saw in them only another proof of her wily, deceitful manner.
Then Lady Neslie quitted the room. Soon afterward Vivien turned to her father.

"Papa," she said, "I am quite sure that your wife is an impostor."
He looked up with a horrified face.
"My dear Vivien, what a cruel thing to say."
"It is true, papa. She has imposed upon you. She is not a D'Este. She does not even belong to a good family. No matter what she may have told you, I am sure it is all false. She has no friends whom she can invite here. Did you ever in your whole life meet with a gentlewoman who had no friends?"
"You are so terribly hard on her, Vivien," said Sir Arthur, with a troubled look. "Why should she have called herself D'Este if she had no claim to the name? Besides, of what use is it to rouse these suspicions now?"
"Then," thought his daughter, quickly, "he has had some suspicion himself!" Aloud she said, "I should not speak so to any one except yourself, papa. The truth I am sure will be known some day; it may be long first, but it will be known. I should not say one word to you but that I hate to see you deceived."

"If I am deceived," he replied, "it is all my own fault—we must remember that. Besides, I do not think you have any grounds for your suspicions."
"Then I will say no more about them, papa," said Vivien. The look of pain on his comely face distressed her; and, as he said very truly, of what avail were suspicions now?

Looking at him, Vivien wondered if any doubts had arisen in his mind—if he was as sure of everything connected with his young wife, as he seemed to be—if his happiness was as real as he wished it to be thought. She would never know. He was indifferent, indifferent, careless in many respects; but he could keep such a secret well. To the day of his death Vivien never knew whether her father had been satisfied with his marriage, or whether, when it was too late, he had repented of it.

No friends of Lady Neslie's were invited, and Christmas came. The house was filled with guests. It was long since such hospitality had been shown at Lancewood; half the gentry were invited to the grand Christmas ball. It was on that occasion that Miss Neslie found that other people besides herself had some curious ideas about Lady Neslie.

Milad's toilet at the ball was something wonderful; it was a beautiful creamy silk, with a superb suite of diamonds. She had never looked more lovely; her bright face was flushed with triumph. Things were going well with her—she had almost entirely eclipsed her rival. She had, at all intents and purposes, eclipsed Sir Arthur's daughter—and she knew it—on this night of the ball. She saw herself, and not Vivien, the queen and center of all—the leader of the most brilliant crowd of guests even seen at Lancewood. That night she told herself her triumph was complete—it was to Lady Neslie the world paid court, and not to Vivien.

The ball-room was crowded. Lady Neslie had herself superintended the decorations, and though some might have considered them slightly theatrical, they were magnificent. Colored lamps shone from the midst of the plants and exotics in the conservatories. Vivien had suggested several little improvements, none of which were carried out. Three years before, when the Christmas ball was given, she had had the sole direction of it, she had been the queen of the fete. She had no rival then. Now Valerie, in her superb costume, with the brightest of smiles on her fair young face, stood by Sir Arthur's side, bidding his guests welcome, receiving and paying compliments—radiant, graceful, with the full consciousness of victory in every gesture and word.

At a distance was Vivien, who had once stood by her father's side. She was now merely the daughter of the house, not its mistress. She had never felt the difference in her position so acutely. She went to the least crowded part of the room when the first dance was ended, and sat down behind a great cluster of tall candelabras. The gentlemen formed a little group near her; they did not perceive her, and Vivien, not wishing to be noticed, remained quite silent behind the plants.

She was thinking with bitter intensity of the change in her position. Another dance began, and the gentleman to whom she had promised it was looking for her; but Vivien did not even remember that there was a dance—she was busy with her own sad thoughts. Presently she was roused by the mention of Lady Neslie's name; and then she found that a waltz was going on, and the gentlemen were criticizing the dancers.
"People may talk as they will," said one. "I have watched Lady Neslie dance, and I maintain that it is after the style of Mabelle, not of an English ball-room. I have my own ideas about that same lady."
"Where did Sir Arthur meet her?" asked another.
"The old story! He saw her at some hotel in Paris, fell in love with her, and married her. Unless I am very much mistaken, I have seen her lovely ladyship before."
"Where?" asked the second speaker; and Vivien listened, breathlessly for an answer.
But she did not hear it—it was whispered softly. She saw, however, the start of surprise with which it was received.
"You do not mean that? You must be mistaken!"
"I may be," was the cautious answer; "but I do not think I am. If I am right, miladi ought to be one of the finest horse-women in England."
"So she is. I heard Sir Arthur say so. She rides horses that men shrink from mounting."
"Then I am right. I remembered her face when I saw it, though she was very young then; but she had the same bright laughing expression, the same sunny look. I may be mistaken—at least, I should not like Sir Arthur to know I had said anything about the matter. Rely upon it, he knows nothing about his wife's antecedents."
"I shall say nothing—in fact, what you have asserted would be a dangerous thing to repeat," replied the other.
"I vote that we say no more about the matter. Now that I look at her, there is certainly something of that kind about her style of dancing. How unlike she is in every respect to Miss Neslie! I am a great admirer of miladi, but I must say from my very heart that I am sorry for Miss Neslie. Sir Arthur had no right to marry again after bringing her up as he did. The first time I came to the Abbey she was as Lady Neslie is now—mistress; and let me tell you there was a difference in the tone of the entertainments."
Then another friend joined the little group, and they went away.
So that was how people spoke of Sir Arthur's wife! Others besides herself evidently considered her an impostor. What could they have meant? What was the whispered word she had failed to hear? She could remember stories she had read, in which low-born adventuresses had, by intrigue, gained admittance into good society and had married well; but in all the stories the impostor was found out at last, her sins were discovered, and she was punished for them. That was the course of events in fiction—what would it be in real life? If Valerie Neslie were indeed what she suspected, an impostor who had deceived her father, would a day of reckoning ever come for her? And, if it did, what effect would it produce on Sir Arthur?

Another little incident occurred that confirmed Vivien's doubts. One morning Lady Neslie brought a small writing-desk into the library. Sir Arthur laughingly asked her if she was about to commence letter-writing—she had hitherto been too indolent.
Mr. Dorman suggested that she should use the writing-table. Vivien looked up, wondering how miladi always contrived to make such a sensation wherever she went and whatever she did.
Lady Neslie declined all offers of help.

LONDON, July 24. The Governor, Newfoundland:

The Russian Government report severe fighting at various points. The enemy were repulsed with heavy loss at several points, but succeeded in advancing in the region of Grabiszow.

The Italian Government report a violent enemy attack arrested on the Carso front. The Italians, reinforced, made a counter-attack, ending in a veritable rout of the Austrians. Fifteen hundred prisoners, including 76 officers, were captured by an enveloping movement.

FRENCH STOPPED GERMAN DEFENCE WORKS.

PARIS, July 25. French troops last night stormed several powerful German defence works between Lafontelle heights and the village of Tannois, in Ban de Sapt region of the Vosges mountains. According to an official communication issued this afternoon by the French war department, the southern part of Tannois is occupied by the French. Seven hundred unarmoured Germans were taken prisoners, and a whole company of machine guns.

FIGHTING IN SOUTHERN ARABIA.

LONDON, July 25. There has been further fighting in Southern Arabia, where British and Turkish forces have been skirmishing for some time according to a British official statement issued today, claiming success. The statement follows: "Sheikh Othman, which, in the withdrawal of our troops from Aden, had been temporarily abandoned, was re-occupied on Wednesday. The Turks were easily expelled, and were pursued for a distance of five miles. Sheikh Othman is now securely held, and the civil population is fast returning. The Turks are still near Lahel, but it is said, are suffering from sickness. Our total casualties in the affair of Wednesday amount to about 25 of all ranks."

FIELD MARCHAL FRENCH REPORTS.

the crater caused by an explosion of our mine west of Hooge, which was reported in my communication of July 20th. Our heavy artillery succeeded in silencing the heavy trench mortars which were assisting the attack. On the evening of the 23rd we successfully exploded a mine under a salient of the German line, east of Killest, and destroyed the enemy's trenches there. Shortly afterwards the enemy exploded a mine a little to the south, which, however, did little damage. Since then we have made some ground, by occupying the crater of the German mine, linking it with our trenches. Yesterday we repulsed another heavy bomb attack on our trenches around the crater near Hooge.

SUBMARINES AGAIN ACTIVE.

LONDON, July 25. German submarines to-day resumed their activity in English waters, sinking a British steamer, a French steamer, and four British trawlers. One of the undersea boats is reported to have been destroyed by bombs from gun fire. Another British trawler was destroyed by a mine, and ten of the crew were killed. The French steamship Dana, bound from Liverpool for Archangel, was sunk off Cape Wrath, which forms the northwestern extremity of Scotland. The trawlers Henry Charles, Kathleen, Activity and Prosper were sent to the bottom in the North Sea. The crews of all the vessels were saved. The Dana was attacked by two submarines. The crews of the trawlers state that one of the underwater craft was sunk by means of bombs and guns fired from the trawlers. The British steamer Firth, 406 tons, of Aberdeen, bound from France for the Firth of Forth, was torpedoed by a submarine in the North Sea. Four of the crew were killed by an explosion.

TURKEY CANNOT MAKE A SEPARATE PEACE.

GENEVA, July 25. Nedjemken Effendi, Turkish Minister of Justice, and Fassung Effendi arrived on Friday at Lausanne, from Berlin. The former is ill, and has entered hospital. The Turkish Consul here to-day stated that the story published here and also in London to the effect that Nedjemken Effendi and Fassung Effendi came to Switzerland as representatives of their Government, with the object of opening negotiations for a separate peace with the Triple Entente, is untrue. "Even if she wished, Turkey cannot make a separate peace," declared the Consul. However, peace rumors continue. By a curious coincidence, Abbas Hilmi, former Khedive of Egypt, also arrived at Lausanne from Vienna. He is travelling incognito.

TURKISH CRUISER TORPEDOED.

LONDON, July 25. The Turkish cruiser Midulla has been torpedoed in the Black Sea, but not sunk.

RUSSIAN SHIP TORPEDOED.

LONDON, July 25. The Russian ship Rubonka was torpedoed and sunk by a submarine. Her crew of thirty landed on the Orkney Islands.

ONE THOUSAND LIVES ESTIMATED LOST.

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN AT THE CRESCENT.

"Francis X. Bushman the famous moving picture star, will appear at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day in "Sears of Possession," this stirring 2 reel feature is produced by the great Essanay Company, and is a most interesting story. "For the Love of Him" is a strong domestic drama by the Selig Company. George Ade, America's foremost humorist, is the author of "Three Boiled Peas Fables" the fable of why Essie's friend got the fresh air, the fable of the household comedian and the fable of the prevailing craze; besides there are 2 other good comedies: "Dob's at the Shore" and "He Made His Mark." A big picture programme truly, don't miss seeing Mr. Bushman in this great feature at the Crescent to-day.

NICKEL'S DELIGHTFUL SHOW.

A charming show has been arranged for the Nickel Theatre to-day, and patrons will be delighted to hear that the pictures of the Presentation of the Colors at St. John's Camp will be repeated. There is a great three reel Vitagraph drama entitled: "The Sage Brush Gai." This will be found to be one of the best pictures ever shown in this city. The comedy is entitled: "An Incompetent Hero" with Fatty Arbuckle as the hero. Forbes Law Duguid will sing "Erie Tu" from the Masked Ball, and (b) "A Perfect Day." The entire programme is a splendid one and will no doubt attract large audiences. Many will be delighted to see the soldiers again.

BRITISH THEATRE.

As elsewhere announced the British management have decided to give a percentage of their entire week's receipts to the Acropolis Fund and it is confident of augmenting the laudable object by being able to donate a substantial amount. The opening program of the week is replete with interest. The famous drama: "The Ironmaster," being the chief attraction. This great play has had a world-wide reputation for a number of years and it is as popular to-day as it ever was. This wonderful story was exploited by the great English players, Mr. and Mrs. Kendal so well and favourably known wherever the language is spoken. Great interest is being evinced at the coming appearance of Miss Dorothy Kynoch who will arrive during the current week.

REMINGTON STRIKE ENDED.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 25. With the ratification last night by machinists of the agreement reached between labor leaders of the Remington Arms and Ammunition Company and the Stewart Construction Company, the strike in the Arms Company's plant was practically at an end last night, and the men will be back to work on Monday morning. The construction workers took a similar action.

EXPLOSION ON BRITISH FREIGHT STEAMER.

NEW YORK, July 25. An explosion of unknown origin, occurred in the forward hold of the British freight steamer Gragside in her dock on the Hudson River here, yesterday, and was followed by fire, which, however, was speedily checked. The Gragside, which was to leave here last night for an English port, with a cargo of 100,000 bags of sugar, will be delayed for a few days. The authorities are investigating to determine the cause of the explosion. Fire and water damage to the steamer is estimated at $144,000, while the cargo of sugar, valued at $144,000, is believed to be a total loss.

A TURKISH AND GERMAN CRUISER REPORTED TORPEDOED.

LONDON, July 25. Advice received at Athens from Constantinople state that the Turkish cruiser Forlody, and German cruiser Breslau, have been torpedoed in the Black Sea, and has returned with a hole six yards long and three wide under the waterline, according to the Athens correspondent of Reuters' Telegram Company. The correspondent adds that the German submarine U-51 is reported stranded off Tchekmedje.

MONDAY, July 26th, 1915.

A fortnight ago an invitation was sent out by His Excellency the Governor, as Chairman of the Patriotic Committee, to meet him and discuss the advisability of presenting aeroplanes to the Imperial Authorities.

Here and There.

COAL CARGO.—The schr. Seth Jr. reached port Saturday evening from North Sydney with a coal cargo to A. S. Rendell & Co.

LEAVES HALIFAX TO-MORROW.—The s.s. Florizel got away from New York on Saturday, and leaves Halifax to-morrow for here.

EXCURSION TRAINS.—By the excursion train yesterday afternoon, 355 persons took passage, 125 to Tor's Cove and 230 to points as far as Kelloggs.

Take a teaspoonful of Stafford's Prescription "A" a few minutes before eating and enjoy your meals.—July 12, 1915

INFECTIOUS DISEASE.—Two cases of diphtheria were reported to the health authorities within the past week. There are now in hospital 24 diphtheria patients and one of typhoid.

POSTPONED.—The annual mass at Mount Carmel Cemetery was again postponed yesterday, as announced at all masses at the Cathedral, on account of inclement weather.

GOOD FISHING.—Saturday was another busy day on the local fishing grounds. During the afternoon and night several big boat loads of cod were brought to port and some splitters were engaged all night at the fishing stages, in consequence.

VIA BRIGUS EVERY DAY.—With the operation of the Heart's Content Branch Railway, the morning train from Carboneau will come via the Brigus Branch every day instead of Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays as heretofore, when the Broad Cove Branch was in operation.

HIGH TEMPERATURE.—Yesterday at Bishop's Falls the thermometer registered 99 in the shade at noon, while at Humbermouth the temperature was 84 and at other points along the line the thermometer varied from 70 degrees upwards.

NASCOPE OFF.—The s.s. Nascope, Capt. Mack, sailed from this port Saturday night direct for Montreal where she will load supplies for Hudson Bay ports.

FIX THE ROADS PROPERLY.—The attention of those in authority is called to the condition of Topsail Road. It appears that the Government made an effort to repair the road, but instead of a remedy made matters worse by the material used.

Have you sent your Subscription to the Aeroplane Fund? Don't wait to be called upon, send it TO-DAY. C. R. STEER, Sec.

GEORGE M. BARR, Agent.

At St. Thomas's.

The congregation of the above Church listened to a striking sermon last night from the Rector, Rev. Dr. Jones, who took his text from the story of the Tower of Babel and the lesson drawn from it of the fatality of any work undertaken without taking God into consideration.

From the many applications of such a wide subject the preacher spoke principally about the labour problems of to-day, showing various means which have been tried to cope with them, from the scheme of emigration to the aggressive upheaval of the French Revolution; the individualistic theory of Malthus; and Socialism, which in its note of service for the whole community presents grand truths.

Dr. Jones spoke strongly of the church's standing in the community and the need that it should stand for social service more than it does. In a word concerning the legalized saloon and the coming Prohibitionist phreosicite he spoke with no uncertain sound, and the temperance cause has gained in Dr. Jones an advocate who should prove a mighty power in the coming fight. The perpetrator entered. Mr. preacher eloquently pictured the home, and the potentiality of the child, as the social group from which the principles which will work for the regeneration of the world, must eventually come, and thus how the atmosphere of the home should contain the fundamental teachings of the Christian religion.

The pulpit strength of the City is considerably enriched with the coming of Dr. Jones to his native land, and his work should be of great worth to the city.

Convicted of Theft.

An East End farmer reported to the police on Saturday evening that his gold watch valued at $50, had been stolen. 'Tec' Byrne soon accounted for the disappearance of the watch. He had taken it from the farmer's pocket when he was engaged in the farmer's employ, and on whose person the watch was found. The lad was arraigned before Mr. Hutchings, J.P., to-day, and in view of his tender years and offence being his first, he was let go on suspended sentence.

Many Italians Leave Canada to Fight.

Montreal, July 21.—In answer to the first call to arms issued ten days ago to Italians in Canada, two hundred and fifty men left the city this morning for New York, enroute to take part in the war, waving flags and apparently delighted with the prospects of striking a blow for their country.

Chevalier G. Chilesotti, consul for Italy in Montreal, said to-day that from this city alone, whose Italian colony numbers fifteen thousand, approximately one thousand men would be called upon at the present time, while four thousand would be about the number from the whole Dominion required to return to their country immediately. The men will leave in parties of a hundred and fifty, two hundred or two hundred and fifty, according as trans-Atlantic passenger accommodation is available.

This is to certify that fourteen years ago I got the cords of my left wrist nearly severed, and was for about nine months that I had no use of my hand. I had tried other Limonents, also doctors, and was receiving no benefit. By a persuasion from a friend I got MINARD'S LINIMENT, and used one bottle which completely cured me, and have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family ever since and find it the same as when I first used it, and would never be without it. ISAAC E. MANN. Metapedia, P. Q. Aug. 31st, 1908.

The Canadian Fisheries

That Canada's fisheries are the most important in the world was the statement made at a luncheon of the St. John Rotary Club, Monday, by Prof. E. E. Prince, chairman of the Canadian Fishery Commission and Biological Board. He mentioned that the total value was about $35,000,000. Prof. Prince is a Scot by birth and has a long experience in the study of fishery problems in the old country. In Italy and New Zealand. He believes that in value and in quality the fish of Canadian waters are of immense industrial possibilities. Per capita of the fishermen employed the return of the fishing industry runs to $600 being more highly paid than the best labor in the United States where the average is $518 per annum.

SAW NO POSSIBILITY OF PEACE IN EUROPE.

Washington, July 21.—President Wilson was told to-day by Miss Jane Addams, representing the Women's Peace Conference which recently met at The Hague, that she saw no possibility for peace in Europe in the immediate future. Miss Addams gave the President a detailed account of confidential talks she had with high officials in Europe. Afterwards, she said she had not tried to interpret the views of those officials, but had sought to give the President an inside view of the European situation as she had found it.

AT THE NICKEL.

Anxiety for S.S. Newfoundland.

Anxiety is felt for the S.S. Newfoundland. She left here last Saturday week, nine days ago, for North Sydney to load coal for here and no word has been received of her arrival there. The firm who chartered the ship have no knowledge of her arrival, but believe she is all right, though not reported.

Geese Stolen.

When Mr. Henry Cowan, the well-known farmer, of "Brookfield," Topsail Road, visited his barn this morning he found that he was minus six splendid Toulouse geese. He could not account for the absence of the birds as he left them properly safeguarded last evening, as he thought. However, on enquiry he noticed that the gate of a new fence had been pried open and through this aperture the perpetrator entered. Mr. Cowan has no idea of who the culprit is and has placed the matter in the hands of the police.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—Deputy Minister of Justice Hutchings received a message to-day from Lawn, stating that James Rouel, of Lance au Basque, aged 20 years, was drowned yesterday. An enquiry into the affair is now being held by Magistrate Benning.

RECRUITING FOR NAVY.—Recruiting for the Navy has not been very brisk of late owing no doubt to the large numbers of young men still engaged at the trap fishery. There are now upwards of 40 men in training on H.M.S. Calypso, and it is hoped that when the fishery is over a large number of volunteers will come forward.

MEIGLE BACK.—The s.s. Meigle, Capt. Goobie, arrived at Humbermouth from the Straits service at 9 a.m. to-day, having made all ports of call to Battle Harbor going and returning. Capt. Goobie reports the weather calm and fine during the whole trip. Since his last report to the Reid Nfld. Co., there has been no improvement in the Straits fishery.

CANT AND HYPOCRISY. (From the Springfield Union.) For sheer cant and hypocrisy the long preamble to the latest German communication to the Government at Washington is almost unapproachable. It bristles with absolutely false statements and with an assumption of Teutonic virtue that is amazing even in the light of previous assertions of a similar character. From the expression of the satisfaction with which the Imperial Government learned "how earnestly the Government of the United States is concerned in seeing the principles of humanity realized in the present war," to the assertion that "the case of the Lusitania shows with horrible clearness to what jeopardizing of human lives the manner of conducting the war employed by our adversaries leads," the document is one mass of self-justification woven around a clumsy effort to make it appear that England and not Germany is responsible for the losses of American lives and property due to the submarine outrages. The statement that Germany "has been always tenacious of the principle that war should be conducted against the armed and organized forces of an enemy country, but that the enemy civilian population must be spared as far as possible from the measures of war," finds its contradiction in Belgium, in the wanton naval raid on Scarborough, Whitby and the Hartlepoons, in the Zeppelin raids on unprotected cities and towns and, what concerns us more intimately, in the torpedoing of the Gulf Light, and the attacks on the Cushing and the Nebraskan, and the Lusitania atrocity, in which more than 1200 innocent non-combatants, including 108 Americans, were cruelly murdered by a German submarine.

STAFF LEAVE GORIZIA.

PARIS, To-day.
 A Milan correspondent of the Petit Parisien, sends the following despatch: Gorizia has been evacuated by the Austrian General Staff.

THE FIGHT FOR WARSAW; STIFF RUSSIAN RESISTANCE.

LONDON, To-day.
 At only the northern point of the pincers, which the Austro-Germans for more than a week have been trying to close round Warsaw, and the Russian armies in the Polish salient, did they make any progress during the last few days. At this point they forced their way across the Warsaw River between the fortresses Pultusk and Rozan, advancing toward the Bug River, which stands for the greater part of the way between it and Warsaw and the Vilna railway, its objective. At other points which Von Mackensen is directing at Lublin Cholm railway, they have hardly gained a yard of ground since it reached the Village of Reiovetz, just south of the railway. Offering a stubborn resistance to the German advance, the Russians are making a continual threat on Von Mackensen's flank along the Bug River from East Cholm, East Lemberg, between Krylow and Sokal. Their attacks have been particularly severe, compelling the Germans to send reinforcements probably intended to support Von Mackensen and meet them along the Vistula. To the southwest of Warsaw, there has been little change except for the occupation by the Germans of some positions evacuated by the Russians when they drew their line. While Warsaw is under heavy pressure, the Austro-Germans have a lot of stiff work before them, if they are to bring their operations to a successful ending by its capture. After crossing Narow they still have the broader bug lined with a fortified face, while in the south, the Russians have great positions north of the Lublin Cholm railway.

NOON.

THE RUSSIAN DEVICE TO MEET POISONOUS GAS.

LONDON, To-day.
 Russians have developed a still but effective method of meeting the German attacks with poisonous gases, according to the Post's Petrograd correspondent. The Russians dig a shallow gutter some distance in front of their position, filling it with moss. As soon as scouts report that gas attacks are being prepared the Russians pour a considerable quantity of Petroleum into this gutter. The oil drenches the moss and soaks into the soil. When the gas cloud begins to appear the moss is set on fire and the flames rise quickly, even the soil burning fiercely until the Petroleum is exhausted. The effect is to change entirely the air current for some distance carrying the gas cloud above the troops.

FRENCH DESTROY DEPOT.

TOULON, To-day.
 The French destroyer Le Bison, has demolished an Austrian submarine and aeroplane depot on Lagosta Island, Southernmost of the Dalmatian Group in the Adriatic, with loss to the French of only one man killed. This despatch indicates the French navy is co-operating with the Italian against Austria in the Adriatic Sea.

ATTACK ON RIVA STATION.

ROME, To-day.
 On July 23, two Italian seaplanes flew over Riva and dropped 18 bombs on the railroad station with excellent results. The enemy's artillery fired on the machines, without causing any damage.

12.30 P.M.

CRITICIZE WILSON'S REFERENCES TO SUBMARINE.

LONDON, To-day.
 Seven of the morning papers declare they are unable to understand President Wilson's reference in his latest note to Germany to events of last two months, which have proved that it is possible to conduct submarine operations in accordance with the accepted principles of warfare. The papers argue there has been no change of German methods in this respect. The naval correspondent of the Times asserts the blockade of the past two months does not bear out the view of President Wilson and points out that the few intervals of decreased activity have always been followed with renewed warning and with loss of life both of British and neutral vessels. He says there is not the slightest indication that the German commanders have changed their methods, and that Wilson's words therefore taken in their ordinary acceptance cannot be justified. The Times says it is possible for Wilson that he may have had from the British Government some information which is withheld from the public, but argues that so far as facts have been revealed, there is no ground for supposing any changes have been made in the instructions given to German submarine commanders.

GERMANY WILL MARK TIME.

BERLIN, To-day.
 There is every indication that considerable time will elapse before the German Government makes any attempt to answer the latest American note. Should the United States protest to Great Britain in regard to the restrictions placed upon shipping, which it is reported here, is now being formulated and will be couched in firm tones. It is considered possible that the German reply would not be brusque in the absence of evidence that the United States intended to force Great Britain to abandon the policy which Germany considers illegal. Hope has not been abandoned however that the United States may intend to assail vigorously Great Britain's method of controlling the sea. Until this point becomes clear the Berlin Foreign Office probably will mark time.

WEATHER.—It is calm and fine along the line of railway to-day with the temperature ranging from 48 to 60 above.

National Debts.

One result of the war has been to send up the National Debts of the various countries engaged by leaps and bounds during the eight months from August 1st, 1914, to March 31st, 1915.

Great Britain's national debt at the beginning of the war, exclusive of the debts of the British colonies, amounted to £732,000,000, and this was increased by £420,000,000 by the end of March. France had a national debt of £1,250,000,000, which increased by £446,000,000, and Russia increased her debt of £955,000,000 by £550,000,000. The national debt of Belgium increased £40,000,000, of Serbia £17,000,000, of Japan £36,000,000, and of Montenegro £125,000,000. Germany's national debt, which at the beginning of the war was £1,284,000,000, had increased by £579,000,000 at the end of March; Austria added £140,000,000 to her previous debt of £542,000,000; and Hungary added £85,000,000 to a previous £279,000,000, making an increase in State liabilities for the Dual Monarchy of £235,000,000; while Turkey increased her total debt from £121,000,000 to £143,000,000. Thus the national debts of the Central Powers, with Turkey, show a total increase from August to March of £731,000,000, as compared with the entente countries and their allies of £1,520,000,000, the aggregate national debts of all the belligerents having increased by £2,250,000,000.

The dress could be made in a combination of materials, in plain and checked gingham, crepe de chine and net, or plain and embroidered linen or batiste. The skirt has a shaped yoke to which the three gorges are joined. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 2 3/4 yards of 44 inch material for 36 inch size. The skirt measures about 3 yards at the lower edge.

The Eastern Trust Company.

A few reasons why an estate can be better administered by the Eastern Trust Company than by a personal executor or administrator:—
 1. The Company affords the estate absolute security; it has a paid-up capital of $931,000.00, and a reserve fund of $225,300.00.
 2. It has a long experience in the work of administering estates; it is incorporated for this business of acting as a trustee, and, unlike many other trust companies, it does no other.
 3. Its existence is perpetual. Your estate, in the event of the death of a personal executor or administrator, must look around for a substitute, and the work of administration is impeded during that time, and the new executor is unfamiliar with the policy of his predecessor, and confusion results. This company's existence is perpetual, and there is a continuity of policy in its administration that the death of its officers does not break.
 4. It possesses the confidence of governments, universities and prominent charities and administers their funds.
 5. A number of other advantages which will appear in due course.

John Ward, Labor M.P. and Soldier

IS TRUE BRITON.

London, July 19.—John Ward, who began life as a navy or common laborer, and is now a member of Parliament and a lieutenant-colonel in the army, is one of the most remarkable leaders of Great Britain in the present critical time.

He has organized the Navy Battalion, which he himself explains as follows: "This is a diggers' war. Navy experts in trench-making, they know things about side supply and intricate timberings, and even the army has not yet thought of them." Ward stands six feet two inches tall, and is broad in proportion to the fair hair of a Viking. When he was seven years old he began to work for a farmer. He had no education and it was only by puzzling out letters in the names of the farms and their farms on the wagons to Andover, that, with a little help from a kind-hearted woman, he learned his alphabet at the age of twelve.

Fought in Soudan. A little while later he ran away from the British navy, but he was fished because he did not have parents' consent. He sought work in a freight car and landed in a police station, and later in a workhouse where he was set to picking up floors learned his story and went home. He worked for a while in the navy and then joined the army. He fought in the Soudan with gallantry that Queen Victoria decorated him with a star, and he received the Khedive's Clasp. Once back in England he became a navy again, slept under hawsers worked on the Andover and Manchester Railway, and subsequently the Manchester Ship Canal. One day the navvies grew dissatisfied with the conditions of work, and a few remarks from John Ward set them that he was the man to lead them. The result was that, due to his untiring endeavors, the navvies' Union shortly afterwards came an accomplished fact. This in 1889. The formation of the Union by the way, was no easy job, as navy rarely stops more than a few in any one place, and even sailors no more difficult to organize.

The Real Things.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

The Wants-to-cynic had been playing cards with a partner addicted to that most trying of partners' faults—over-bidding his hand. At a crucial point in the game this ultra-optimistic partner had capped the cynic's bid of three royals (thoroughly justified) by four hearts (not justified) and thereby had lost the hand, the rubber and the game.

The cynic had taken it very calmly on the whole and we were congratulating him upon his self-control afterwards.

still have an utterly false standard and a man might live but half that time and have begun to glimpse the truth.

You've got to get down to brass tacks and actually think for yourself to learn to put things in their proper places and "thinking" someone has said "is just what no one wants to do."

You've got to analyze your own desires. You long passionately to possess some pretty thing. You covet some honor, you are eager for some pleasure, as a penny held close to the eye eclipses the sun, so this particular desire bulks out of all proportion, and if you cannot fulfill it, temporarily blots out the sunshine of life. You must learn to put it farther away and see it as small as it really is.

Things Are Only A Part of Life. Things, material things, are only a small part of life, but some people never realize that and those who do glimpse that truth are continually losing sight of it.

Friendship, honor, self-knowledge, courage, wisdom, love, self-control, character building, aren't these after all the realities of life?

Whether you win the game of cards is a minor matter, but whether you play it honestly and without losing your self-control is a tremendously big matter.

Help us to learn to put all things in their proper places is a very big prayer in a little sentence.

TALKING MACHINES. — We are showing a nice line of Talking Machines very cheap. — CHESLEY WOODS, Agent, 232 Duckworth St. — July 17th.

Start a wild flower garden. Many pretty things can be taken from the woods and transplanted.

The Cynic's Lesson. "Well," he admitted, "there was a time when I wouldn't have been so calm, but I think I've learned to put the cards in their proper place now."

"I've learned to put cards in their proper place now," that sentence leaped out at me and I sat revolving it in my mind while the conversation drifted on to other matters.

It's a pretty big lesson, isn't it? Of course, I don't mean merely putting cards, but putting things in general in their proper places.

A true sense of values is one of the biggest and rarest assets in life. To put things in their proper places is a lesson that neither wisdom nor experience alone can teach. It takes both the passing of the years and the ardent desire to understand the issues of life to enable us to sift and weigh and eliminate and appreciate toward a true standard of values.

Some People Live a Century Without Learning. A man might live a century and

Largest Typewriter

Cost £25,000 and Weighs Fourteen Tons.

One of the exhibits at the Panama-Pacific Exposition which can hardly escape observation is a typewriter of gigantic proportions. Lest their product be overlooked among the myriads of typewriters that are to be put on exhibition, an enterprising company has had a machine built 1,728 times larger than a standard model, that actually writes, and during the Exposition it will type news bulletins on a sheet of paper nine feet wide in letters 3in. high and 2in. apart.

The monster machine will be operated by electrical connection with a typewriter of standard dimensions. For instance, on depressing a key of the small machine the corresponding key of the large machine will respond. A lever is used for the return of the carriage and for line spacing or rotating the cylinder. The big machine weighs fourteen tons, as against 20lb., which is the weight of a standard machine.

It is 21ft. wide, in action, by 15ft. high, and requires for its operation a room measuring 25ft. by 30ft. by 25ft. The platen, 9ft. 6in. long by 21in. in diameter, weighs 1,200lb., and the carriage 3,500lb.

Each key-cup, which is the part of a typewriter that is pressed by the fingers, is 7in. in diameter, while each type bar is 52in. long and weighs as much as a standard typewriter. This mammoth typewriter has been under construction for about two years, and cost £25,000.

Mrs. Tucker Has a Good Word.

For Mount Cashel Garden Party. Mrs. Tucker, like many other women of her class, has taken a back seat since the war clouds gathered, for while she always "had her say" on topics in general in days gone by, and attended every public gathering when peace reigned, now that the scene is changed she too has allowed her serious thoughts to control her frivolity, and devoted the time spent heretofore in lecturing, to knitting socks and in other little ways helping to make the soldier lad's happy. But as it is indeed a gloomy heart that never rejoices, and a foolish being that persistently shuts out the gleam of sunshine from life, especially when in amassing ourselves we help others, Mrs. Tucker rejoices in the glad tidings that announces the Mount Cashel Garden Party to be held on the 28th inst., Wednesday next.

Orphans, said Mrs. Tucker, have to be cared for in war time as well as in times of peace, and as the annual Garden Party is the main source of revenue—the pound that keeps the institution a-going, she hopes all the old friends and lots of new ones will rally there as in former years. People whom you thought had gone to their reward are to be met there among old friendships are renewed and old time hospitality revived. There's a "go-as-you-please" gait about this affair that puts you completely at home, and this is one of the many reasons why it is so popular, for we have too much of the "How are you" about other gatherings in this community, that freezes the people and turns enjoyment into penance. At Mount Cashel every one feels free, for the time at least their position in life is forgotten, the Premier will roll skittles with Tucker, and the "Cute Man" will invite the leader of the band on the "Frank of Ginger Pop," and this is the atmosphere that is natural without which you will "strike the main patch" of tired feeling and dry yawns.

Come to the Garden Party, then, leaving all your troubles at Rawlin's Cross. There you'll hear once again the old-time airs, that rich old-fashioned music which sets your feet a-going. You will see the boys with their happy faces "stepping it out" to the tune of the Irish Washerwoman; you will enjoy the beautiful scenery, bask in the sunshine and inhale the pure country air; you will witness football matches that will bring back memories of the days when the Stars and Saints struggled for supremacy. Baseball, skittles and shooting contests are also big items on the programme. There's a Round Race, and by the way a good old-fashioned Pony Race, that will bring you back to the days when Draklin's pony shone at the New Era Gardens. Of course tea will be served in galore, and talking about teas reminds Mrs. Tucker that somehow or other a tea at Mount Cashel reassures her that her old-time appetite clings to her still.

So let us on "Mount Cashel Day" turn out in full force, making Brother Ennis and his associates in the noble work feel that we appreciate the good that they are doing for the orphans, and also make the orphans happy by assuring them by your presence that we are with them "thoroughly and thick."

TIM SHANNAHAN.

MR. MINARD'S EQUIPMENT IN WAR HOUSE.

Killed in Action.

Mr. Robert Patrick, a Newfoundland, residing in Australia, writing to friends in the city informs them of the heroic death of his brother, Walter J. W. Patrick, who was killed in action in the Dardanelles while serving with the machine gun section of the 18th Battalion of the Second Australian Contingent.

The late Walter Patrick was a son of the late David Patrick and Caroline Williams, who at one time resided at Pleasant Street, this city, and who, with their family, emigrated to Australia in 1895. David Patrick will be remembered by the older business men in the community as he was buyer for the firm of Edwin Duder for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick are now dead.

Their soldier son, Walter, who has laid down his life for the Empire, was born in 1880, and received his education at Bishop Field College, this city. On reaching Australia he entered a mining college in Adelaide, whence he graduated as a mining engineer, after which he worked in the gold fields of West Australia. He offered himself for service in the South African War but was not accepted because he was married and had an outbreak of the Great War he left the gold fields and travelled 400 miles to enlist. He spent some time with his regiment in Victoria, and was also at Egypt before being ordered to the Dardanelles, where he fell in action. He is survived by one brother, Robert, who is married and comfortably settled in Australia. Mr. George R. Williams, Managing Director of Southwell & Bowring, Ltd., and Mr. Walter D. Williams, of the Webster Smith Co., are first cousins of the gallant soldier.

The three trains will be due in the city at 9.15 p.m. daily.

Baseball.

The Baseball League met Saturday night to consider a dispute as to the eligibility or otherwise of certain players who are temporarily domiciled in the Colony. In the absence of President Havermade, Mr. W. J. Higgins presided. There was a large attendance, every club being represented. After considerable discussion it was decided that Orr, who played with the Cubs and was protested against by the Shamrocks, is not eligible to play any longer. It is said that the Cubs will make a counter-protest against certain players of the (Shamrock-Islanders) combine. On account of Wednesday's game at the Garden Party there will be no regular League match this week. This evening the Cubs and Wanderers will compete and the winners will have to face the Red Lions on Wednesday for the H. D. Reid Cup. On August 14th there will be two games played, the Cubs will clash with the combine and the Red Lions with the E. I. S. The entire proceeds of the double-header will go towards the Patriotic Fund.

PREMIER BOTHA HOME: GIVEN AN OVIATION. Cape Town, Union of South Africa, July 22.—Premier Botha arrived here today from the campaign which ended on July 19th with the surrender of German South-West Africa. The Premier received an ovation wherever he appeared. Business was suspended. The city was decorated and the people thronged the streets. ### Holland Resolves

To Increase Navy by Six Warships.

The Hague, July 16.—The Dutch Parliament to-day took decisive action in support of a program for a larger navy. The Second Chamber passed the Government's Bill authorizing the immediate construction of two 7,000 ton cruisers and four 800 ton submarines and appropriating $11,200,000 for that purpose.

A second Bill appropriating $30,000 for the purchase of naval hydroplanes, was passed by a large majority. The Chamber also authorized the Government to keep the army under arms and ready to resist any attempted violation of Dutch neutrality.

In advocating the passage of the Bill, adding six new warships to the Dutch fleet, several speakers declared that the increase at this time was only an emergency measure, and that the war had proved Holland must begin the construction of a navy commensurate with her position among the European Powers.

They suggested that the Government await the outcome of the war before deciding whether dreadnoughts or submarines should be made the basis of Holland's new navy.

"Will you tell me if it is proper for a young man to take a girl to the theatre in a street car?" asked Frank.

"It is quite proper. The man who are able to take their friends to the theatre in a private conveyance are in the minority," said his mother.

Lands Passengers Off the Narrows

At 6:15 a.m. yesterday, the s.s. Beothic, bound from New York to Tilt Cove, gave up off the Narrows, and landed the wife and child of Chief engineer Seward, of the ship. Mr. Brook and two boy students, aged 12 and 14 years, respectively, who intended to join with the Nasconie en route to Hudson Bay, where their fathers are. Failing to connect with the latter ship as she left here Saturday night for Montreal, the boys took passage by last evening's express to meet her at the Canadian port. The Beothic is chartered to take another load of copper ore to New York from Tilt Cove where she is now going.

CHANGE THE VIBRATION

It Makes for Health.

A man tried leaving off meat, potatoes, coffee, etc., and adopted a breakfast of fruit, Grape-Nuts with cream, some crisp toast and a cup of Postum.

His health began to improve at once for the reason that a meat eater will reach a place once in a while where his system seems to become clogged and the machinery doesn't work smoothly.

A change of this kind puts aside food that is slow to digest and takes up food and drink of the highest value, already partly digested and capable of being quickly changed into good, rich blood and strong tissue.

A most valuable feature of Grape-Nuts is the natural mineral elements (phosphate of potash, etc.) grown in the grains from which it is made. These elements are absolutely necessary for the well-balanced rebuilding of body, brain and nerves.

A few days' use of Grape-Nuts will show one a way to physical and mental strength well worth the trial.

Look in pkgs. for the "Little Book, 'The Road to Wellville.'" There's a Reason."

Drudgery.

By the adoption of modern gas appliances you may abolish drudgery from your home.

GAS COOKERS eliminate the drudgery of lighting fires, the handling of coal and ashes; and enable you to prepare meals in half the time required with old-fashioned appliances.

GAS WATER HEATERS are indispensable in every well-regulated household.

GAS LIGHTING is best for the eyes and the pocket.

THE PERFECTION GAS IRON is a recent addition to labour, time, and money saving appliances. This Nickel-plated Gas Iron may be had complete with stand and a length of metallic tubing for the small sum of $3.00, and should be in every household.

With the "PERFECTION GAS IRON" a whole day's ironing may be done at a cost of five cents, give better results, and do more work in half the usual time. It is always hot and ready, clean and smooth. Send post card, or phone 97, and the Gas Company will send a man to give practical demonstration of any, or all, up-to-date household appliances.

NOTE.—It is important that Gas Cookers and other appliances be kept perfectly clean and free from grease. Use "SO-KLEEN" enamel cleanser. It will quickly remove all stains and grease from metal or enamel. 25 cents per packet.—1725, ft

Lands Passengers Off the Narrows

At 6:15 a.m. yesterday, the s.s. Beothic, bound from New York to Tilt Cove, gave up off the Narrows, and landed the wife and child of Chief engineer Seward, of the ship. ### Two to One in Favor of Prohibition.

Big Majority for the New Law in the Province of Alberta.

Edmonton, Alta., July 21.—By a majority that will run about two to one, the Province of Alberta, in a plebiscite vote under the new Direct Legislation Act, to-day pronounced in favor of the proposed Liquor Act, prohibiting the sale of liquor throughout the Province. Returns received up to 10 o'clock showed 39,020 in favor, and 20,104 against, with half the polls heard from.

The biggest majorities in favor of prohibition were piled up in the country districts in the southern part of the Province, while in some of the northern constituencies where liquor is now partially barred, the majorities were against prohibition.

All the cities, with the exception of Lethbridge, went dry, Edmonton showing a majority of 3,600 and Calgary about 3,200.

The new liquor Prohibition Act goes into effect July 1, 1916.

WITH THE VOLUNTEERS.—The volunteers spent Saturday morning at indoor drill in the Armoury, and in the afternoon the men were given their regular fortnightly pay. There are now about 130 men in training and recruiting is progressing very favorably. Yesterday the regular church parade was held, the men attending their respective churches.

Lessen Your Living Expenses!

"Be economical," is the cry in England, and this slogan has the same significance in Canada. We all must economize. There is more actual waste in our dress expenses than any other item. When a garment becomes soiled we throw it aside, when for a few cents it could be restored to original freshness and beauty by Dry Cleaning. A saving of at least 35 per cent. in the expense of dressing is possible by using the processes of Dry Cleaning and Dyeing.

Our agents will gladly give you full particulars.
