The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol ➡ (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ▼ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaît sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole ➡ signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▼ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. EXTRACT

From the Minutes of the Council of the City of Montreal.

Wednesday, 10th May, 1865.

Present—His Worship the Mayor, J. L. BEAUDRY, Esq.; Aldermen GRENIER, RODDEN, GORRIE, DAVID, BOWIE, ROLLAND, STEVENSON, MCCREADY; Councillors MCGIBBON, DEVLIN, LABELLE, GOYETTE, MCNEVIN, HIGGINSON, MCGAUVREAN, LEDUC, POUPART, ARCHAMBAULT, ALEXANDER, OGILVIE, BROWN, ISAACSON, CASSIDY.

Resolved—That this Council deem it their duty to express to the City Clerk, Charles Glackmeyer, their acknowledgment for his ability, zeal, and assiduity in collating, classifying, and revising the Charter and By-laws of this City, and in preparing the supplementary matters contained in the volume of Municipal Laws about to be published under the direction of this Council.

Resolved—That the thanks of this Council are also due to the Assistant City Clerk, P. L. Macdonell, for the able and diligent manner in which he has translated the Revised By-laws in the French language.

P R E F A C E .

The necessity for a new and comprehensive edition of the City By-laws has long been felt by the City Authorities, and by all persons connected with the Municipal Government.

Since the last compilation was made, in 1842, the City Charter has, at different times, been remodelled, and new provisions introduced which necessitated some modifications in several of the By-laws, to make them conform to the new enactments, and to the practical working of the various departments of the Corporation.

It was, therefore, deemed expedient to re-enact the whole of the By-laws in a modified and revised form.

The draft of the By-laws contained in this book was submitted to the City Council on the 14th December, 1863, and referred to the Chairmen of the several Standing Committees for their examination; and after a careful consideration and revision, by the Chairmen, of the By-laws relating to their respective departments, the same were brought back before the Council in their present shape, and finally confirmed and passed on the 10th day of May last.

It will be observed that the order in which the By-laws were originally passed has not been followed, and such parts of their primitive form as were purely technical have been omitted, and a classification of subjects attempted for the purpose of rendering the compilation concise and easy of reference.

In connection with the By-laws, it was thought proper to publish the City Charter, with its various amendments, and such other acts of the Legislature as related to the City.

There is also added an Appendix, embracing the Catalogue of the City Government since its establishment in 1840, the Internal Rules of the Council, the Rules and Regulations of the Fire and Police Departments, &c., together with a copious and correct Index; all of which, it is confidently hoped, will make the Volume particularly interesting and valuable to all those whose duty it is to administer the Municipal Government of this fair and growing City.

MONTREAL, June, 1865.

2. If such Justices, upon the hearing of any such case, deem the offence not proved, or that it is not expedient to inflict any punishment, they shall dismiss the party charged on finding surety for his future good behaviour, or without sureties, and then make out and deliver to the party charged, a certificate under the hands of such Justices stating the fact of such dismissal. 25 V., c. 29, s. 1.

Preamble.

Council of Montreal on warrant of the Sheriff to pay part of the expense of guarding the said Gaol.

WHEREAS by far the greater number of the prisoners detained in the Common Gaol for the District of Montreal, are persons charged with or convicted of crimes and criminal offences committed within the City of Montreal, and it is therefore just and proper that the Corporation of the said city should contribute towards defraying the expense of guarding the said Gaol: Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Canada, constituted and assembled by virtue of and under the authority of an Act passed in the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and intituled, An Act to re-unite the Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada and for the Government of Canada, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be lawful for and the duty of the Sheriff of the District of Montreal, on the first juridical day in each of the months of March, June, September and December in each and every year, beginning with the month of December, next after the passing of this Act, to furnish to the Clerk of the City of Montreal, for the information of the Council of the said city, a statement in writing of the probable expense of guarding the Common Gaol for the District of Montreal during the three months then next ensuing, over and above any sum of money applicable for that purpose which he may have in hand at the time of furnishing such statement; and the said Sheriff may, by his warrant or warrants from time to time, require the Council of the said city, out of the funds of the said city, to pay any sum or sums of money not exceeding two-thirds of the sum mentioned in the then last statement, and the Council of the said city shall thereupon cause the said sum or sums of money in the said warrant or warrants mentioned, to be paid to the said Sheriff by the Treasurer of the said city, within forty days from the delivery of such warrant or warrants to the Clerk of the said city: Provided always, that the sum and sums of money so to be required and received from the Council of the said city, for the purposes and in the manner aforesaid, shall not in any one year exceed the sum of six hundred pounds; and that the application and expenditure thereof shall be accounted for by the said Sheriff to the Council of the said city, on or before the last juridical day of each of the months of February, May, August and November, in each and every year.

2. And be it enacted, That the Treasurer of the said city, at the time and times of making payment to the said Sheriff of any sum or sums of money required to be paid to him by this Act, for the purposes and in the manner aforesaid, shall sign and deliver to the said Sheriff a note in writing, specifying the sum or sums of money so paid, which note shall be kept by the said Sheriff as a voucher for his receipt of such sum or sums; and the receipt of the said Sheriff, specifying the sum or sums paid to him by the said Treasurer as aforesaid, shall be a sufficient discharge and voucher for such Treasurer, and shall be allowed as such, in passing his accounts.

Receipts and vouchers for payments under this Act.

3. And be it enacted, That if after the lapse of forty days from the delivery of any such warrant or warrants to the Clerk of the said city as aforesaid, the sum or sums of money therein mentioned, or any or either of them, or any part thereof, shall remain unpaid to the said Sheriff, an action shall accrue to the said Sheriff, on behalf of Her Majesty, to demand and have, of and from the said Corporation, to wit, the Corporation of the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of the

42. If any person in the said City neglects to pay the amount of assessments, taxes, or duties imposed upon him, for the space of fifteen days after such demand made as aforesaid, the Treasurer of the said City shall levy the same, with costs, by warrant to be issued by the Recorder's Court of the said City (according to Form D, in the schedule hereunto annexed), authorizing the seizure and sale of the goods and chattels of the person bound to pay the same, or of any goods and chattels in his possession, wherever the same can be found within the said City; and no claim of property or privilege thereon or thereto shall be available to prevent the sale thereof for the payment of the assessments, taxes or duties and costs, out of the proceeds thereof; provided always that any party having any hypothec, lien, or privilege upon property real or personal out of the proceeds of which the said Corporation shall be paid any assessments due which shall have accrued in respect of other property, such party shall be subrogated to and shall have the right to exercise the rights and privileges possessed by the said Corporation at the time of such payment in respect of such other property as to such assessments.

43. Before proceeding to the sale of the goods and chattels of any person indebted as aforesaid, the Treasurer of the said City shall give public notice (Form E) of the day and place of sale, and of the name of the person whose goods and chattels are to be sold, which said notice shall be affixed or posted in a conspicuous place at the entrance of the City Hall of the said City, at least forty-eight hours previous to such sale.

44. If the goods and chattels seized are sold for more than the whole amount of assessments, taxes or duties levied for and the costs attending the seizure and sale, the surplus shall be returned to the person in whose possession such goods and chattels were when the seizure was made; but if any claim for such surplus is previously made by any other person by reason of any alleged right of property or privilege upon such surplus, and such claim is admitted by the person for whose assessments, taxes or duties the seizure was made, such surplus shall be paid to such claimant; and if such claim be contested, the surplus money shall be retained by the said Treasurer until the respective rights of the parties be determined by the Recorder's Court.

Surplus of product of sale to go to the proprietor.

the nature of the offence, be kept, without further registration; any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

50. The Council of the said City shall have power, in any By-law or Ordinance passed for any purpose set forth in the Act incorporating the said City, or any Acts amending the same, for enforcing the provisions thereof, to impose a Fine not exceeding Twenty Dollars and costs of prosecution, with Imprisonment in the Common Gaol or in the House of Correction, at hard labour, for a period not exceeding One Calendar Month.

may act in virtue of the Act of the Consolidated Statutes for Lower Canada, chapter forty, intituled: An Act concerning Lessors and Lessees, and of the Legislative provisions amending the same, in the same manner and with the same formalities, as the said Circuit Court, or any of the Judges of the said Superior Court, is directed to proceed in and by the above last cited Act, as regards the ejection of the Lessee for committing waste upon the premises or part of the premises leased, or for refusing or neglecting to pay his rent or any part of his rent, or for using the premises leased, contrary to the intent for which they were leased, or because the term of his lease, either written, verbal, or presumed, is expired; and the said Recorder's Court shall have and possess, to that end, all the necessary powers and authority including that of issuing writs of summons, execution and possession, and to fix and determine the costs to be paid by the losing party, which cost however shall not include any Attorney's fees; Provided always that the competence of the said Recorder's Court shall be limited to cases where the consideration or annual value of the property occupied shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars, and which shall apply to premises or real estate situate within the limits of the said City.

55. Whereas by an Act of the Parliament of this Province, passed in the eighteenth year of Her Majesty's reign, chapter one hundred and forty-two, the property, estate, chattels and effects bequeathed by the late John Conrad Marsteller, for the purpose of establishing in the said City of Montreal a House of Industry, were transferred from the hands of the late Wardens of the House of Industry, to and made to vest in the said Corporation of the City of Montreal; and whereas it is believed that the purposes for which the said late John Conrad Marsteller so bequeathed the said property, will be more effectually accomplished by transferring the said property to a duly established and permanent institution or institutions in the said City, having for object to relieve and assist the poor: therefore, it shall be lawful for the Corporation of the said City, at any time after the passing of this Act, to transfer all and every the estates, property, moneys, chattels and effects vested in and now in the hands and possession of the said Corporation, as aforesaid, to any duly established and permanent institution or institutions, in the said City of Montreal, having for object to relieve and assist the poor, and provided with a House of Refuge, with power to hold, use, appropriate, sell and dispose of the said estates, property, moneys, chattels and effects to the best advantage possible, for the exclusive purposes of a House of Night Refuge, notwithstanding anything contained in the said last cited Act; provided, however, and it is hereby expressly enacted, that in any institution or institutions to which a transfer may be made of the said estates, property, moneys, chattels and effects, or any part thereof, under the provisions of this section, admission shall be given to the poor, indiscriminately and without any distinction of creed or nationality.

3. Immediately after the Mayor, or Presiding Member, shall have taken his seat, the minutes of the preceding Meeting shall be read by the Clerk, in French and English alternately, in order that any mistake therein may be corrected by the Council.

5. (By the 48th section of the Act of Incorporation, 14th and 15th Vic., cap. 128, it is provided, that not less than one-third part of the whole number of the Members of the City Council, viz.: ten Members, including the Mayor, shall be necessary to constitute a Meeting of the said Council for the exercise of its powers.) REGULATIONS *
FOR THE
GOVERNMENT OF THE POLICE FORCE, OF THE CITY OF MONTREAL.
WITH INSTRUCTIONS AS TO THE LEGAL POWERS AND DUTIES OF

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE MONTREAL POLICE.

Although the system of Police is designated for the detection and punishment of offenders, its great and primary object is the prevention of crime, by restraining the vicious, intimidating the reckless, and rendering punishment a certain consequence of crime.

These objects can only be attained by unremitting vigilance, and energy of action on your part in the performance of the high and important duties that the law has devolved upon you.

A careful examination of the law, and of the Rules and Regulations, will constitute a guide for your conduct, a compliance with which will secure the confidence of your fellow-citizens, and do honour to the position you occupy. The due enforcement and maintenance of the law is, under all well regulated Governments, a primary and most essential object.

To accomplish these objects, the agents on whom these important powers are conferred, should be men of an honourable character—calm and dispassionate, discriminating and cautious, yet when the emergency requires, bold and resolute.

* Adopted on the 2nd May, 1862.

A Policeman's duty is ceaseless. Act as if the good order of society and the prevention of violations of law depended upon your individual diligence and courage; and be not unmindful of the fact, that where crime prevails and law is violated, it is attributed most frequently to dereliction of duty on the part of the constituted guardians of society. The absence of crime will be considered the best proof of the efficiency of the Police.

The influence and character that you will sustain in this City will, in a great measure, depend on your own conduct and vigilant activity.

A Policeman seen in the streets listless and lounging on a corner, or idly wasting his time in conversation with a passer-by, when he should be fulfilling the object of his appointment, patrolling his beat, and carefully watching and correcting the conduct of the thoughtless or reckless, is soon observed, and his conduct condemned as it merits.

It is necessary upon all occasions, to command your temper, and ever conciliate rather than provoke. Let your conduct and deportment, when off or on duty, be marked by a civil and courteous demeanour, while it should be characterized by firmness and decision, and you will secure the confidence and respect of your fellow-citizens.

It is particularly necessary, that in all your intercourse with each other, there should be mutual forbearance and civility, with prompt obedience to all lawful orders. Discipline and a strict conformity with the Rules and Regulations of the force are essentially necessary, and will be enforced. The law makes a sufficient allowance for your services, and the public rightfully expect an adequate return in your faithfulness.

To justify the confidence reposed in the department, and to elevate it in public estimation, should be the object of every Officer and Policeman. Much must necessarily be left to the intelligence and discretion of individuals, and according to the degree in which those qualities are developed, which mark them as possessed of zeal, activity, and judgment, will be their claims to future promotion and reward.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. Reading and writing combined, with a practical knowledge of the French and English languages, will be exacted as much as possible. An unimpeachable character shall in all cases be necessary for admission into the Police Force.

2. Good conduct, zeal, activity, obedience, and judgment in the performance of the several duties imposed upon all members of the Force, are expected, and will entitle them to promotion or reward.

3. Each member shall devote his whole time and attention to the Police service, and shall follow no other calling, directly or indirectly.

4. He shall promptly obey all lawful orders from his Superior Officers, and conform himself to all Rules and Regulations which may be made from time to time for the benefit of the service.

5. He shall at all times appear in his complete Police dress.

6. He shall not use, nor allow to be used, the baton marked "City Police," except while he belongs to the City Police.

7. He should clearly understand what powers are given to him by law for the efficient execution of his duties. For this purpose he is recommended to read carefully the instructions given to him respecting the general duties of a Constable.

8. He will be expected to possess such knowledge of the inhabitants of each house as will enable him to recognise their persons. He will thus prevent mistakes, and enable himself to render assistance to the inhabitants when called for.

9. He should be able to see every part of his beat at least once in half an hour; and this he shall be expected to do; so that any person requiring assistance, remaining in the same spot for that length of time, may be able to meet a Constable. However, he is permitted to remain at any particular place, if his presence there be necessary, to watch the conduct of any suspected person, or for any other reason; but he shall satisfy his Superior Officers that there was a sufficient cause for such apparent irregularity.

10. When he takes any one into custody he will immediately return to his beat, which he will not leave during his time of duty, unless circumstances make it necessary..

11. He shall not enter any houses except in the execution of his duty; and he shall pay particular attention to public houses in his beat, reporting whether they appear to be kept according to good order; whether soldiers and apprentices are drinking after the hours mentioned by law; and report any drinking between the hours of 11 o'clock on Saturday evening and 6 o'clock on Monday morning; also, any gambling in these houses. But on no pretence, shall he enter such public house, except in the immediate execution of his duty. Such a breach of positive orders will not be excused; the publican himself is subject to a heavy fine for allowing him to remain in his house. He shall moreover report all unlicensed taverns that may come to his knowledge, with names of occupants, &c.

12. He will be civil and attentive to all persons, of every rank and class; insolence or incivility on his part will not be overlooked.

13. While on duty he must not enter into conversation with any one, except on matters relating to his duty.

14. He must be particularly cautious not to interfere, idly or unnecessarily. When required to act, he will do so with decision and boldness. On all occasions he may expect to receive the fullest support in the proper exercise of his authority. He must remember that there is no qualification more indispensable than a perfect command of temper, never suffering himself to be moved in the slightest degree by any language or threats that may be used. If he do his duty in a quiet and determined manner, such conduct will probably induce well-disposed by-standers to assist him, should he require it.

15. The following general instructions for the Policemen are not to be understood as containing rules of conduct applicable to every variety of circumstances that may occur in the performance of their duty ; something must necessarily be left to the intelligence and discretion of individuals ; and according to the degree in which they show themselves possessed of these qualities, and to their zeal, activity, and judgment, on all occasions, will be their claims to future promotion or reward.

16. Upon no occasion, and under no pretext whatever, shall they receive money or rewards from any person, without the express permission of the Chief of Police.

17. No Policeman shall quit the Force without giving a month's notice. In case he quits without such notice, or be dismissed from the Force, all arrears of pay then due him shall be forfeited.

18. Every man dismissed, or who shall resign, must deliver up, before he leaves the service, every article of dress and appointments supplied to him.

19. Every man of the Force will be liable to immediate dismissal for the following offences :

- Disobedience to orders ;
- Drunkenness ;
- Insolence, in word or manner ;
- Violent or coarse language or behaviour ;
- Neglect of duty ;
- Entering into taverns or houses of ill fame, unless when required in the regular discharge of his duties.

20. When absent from duty, by sickness or any other cause, every man will be liable to be placed under stoppages of pay, as the Chief of Police shall think proper.

21. The Police Committee will never refuse to receive the complaint of any member of the Force when addressed to them through the channel of his Superior Officer. Should the Superior Officer refuse to convey such complaint, the Committee will be ready to receive the complaint of the said member.

22. If the charges or complaint be frivolous or unsupported by sufficient proof, the party preferring the same will be immediately dismissed.

23. When upon duty the extent of his beat will be clearly pointed out to him by the Officer. He will then be held responsible for the security of life and property within the limits of his beat, and for the preservation of the peace, and general good order, during the time he is on duty.

24. He is not authorized to interfere with persons for standing or talking together; but he is not to allow such numbers to collect as will obstruct the free passage of the streets. He is to recollect upon all occasions that he is required to execute his duty with good temper and discretion. Any instance of unnecessary violence in striking a party in charge, will be severely punished. A Constable must not use his staff because the party in his custody is violent in behaviour or language. A Constable is not to use language to persons in his custody calculated to provoke or offend them: such conduct creates resistance in the party and a hostile feeling towards the Constable among bystanders. Every Constable will recollect that in executing an arrest he is not justified in doing more than is absolutely necessary for the safe custody of the parties whilst he conveys them to the Station House.

25. Individual Constables, when walking the streets, should not shoulder past passengers, but give way in a mild and civil manner. The more respectful the Police are when off duty, the more respected and supported will they be by the public in the proper execution of the same.

26. If during the service, or upon the dismissal or resignation of any member of the force, it shall appear to the Chief that any article of dress shall have been improperly used or damaged, a deduction from any pay due to the party shall be made, sufficient to make good the damage, or supply a new article.

27. Every member of the Force is liable to immediate dismissal for unfitness, negligence, or misconduct, independent of any other punishment to which he may be by law liable.

28. Members of the Force are forbidden to smoke or drink, or carry sticks or umbrellas, when on duty.

29. Members of the Force are strictly forbidden to accept of any description of drink from any person while in custody, or after he shall have been discharged, or from any friends of the defendant.

30. Constables on duty are strictly forbidden to enter into conversation with any person whatever, except on matters relating to their duty. If found while on duty engaged with female servants or other women, they will be severely punished.

31. The men, on or off duty, are to consider themselves liable to be called on at all times, and will always prepare themselves, when required, at the shortest notice.

32. Every member of the Force is strictly bound to prevent nuisances, interruptions and impediments in the public streets of the City.

33. During the time of his duty if he observes in the streets anything likely to produce danger or public inconvenience, or anything which appears to him irregular and offensive, he must report it to the Station.

34. It is the duty of each Constable to notice and report to his Superior Officers any gas-lamps which are broken, dirty, or extinguished. The Police Constables are particularly directed to observe the porches, areas, and area-gates of the several houses within their beats, as persons frequently conceal themselves in the area till the Constable on the beat passes, and then commence their operations. They are also specially directed to watch carts, waggons, or sleighs standing or loitering in the streets, early in the morning and after dark in the evening.

35. Policemen are not to refuse to give their assistance for the protection of persons and property near their own beats if called for in any case requiring immediate attention; but the Constable is always bound to return, as soon as possible, to his own beat.

36. In cases where a distress is made for non-payment of rent or any other cause, or when disputes arise between parties upon civil matters, the Police Constable is not to give assistance to either, or interfere between them, unless it be necessary to prevent a breach of the peace, or to quell a disturbance, and he is on such occasions merely to take persons breaking the peace into custody, as in other similar cases.

37. Constables shall take to the Station House all persons found on their beats, who, from intoxication or otherwise, are unable to take care of themselves and their property, and deliver them over to the charge of the officer on duty.

38. In all cases of violent or sudden death which may come to the knowledge of the Constables, they are to report the particulars to the officer in charge, that they may be entered in his report, and information given forthwith to the Coroner.

39. Police Constables may stop, search, and detain any cart, carriage, or vessel which they have reason to suppose contains property stolen or unlawfully obtained.

40. Should a member of the Force be called upon by the inmates of a house of ill-fame, for the purpose of arresting any person or persons, he shall be bound to arrest all the inmates of such house as disorderly characters.

41. While on duty every member of the Force shall be bound to be in full uniform with his belt and baton; and when not on duty he shall in no case appear with his belt and baton.

42. All matters relating to the Police Department shall be kept strictly secret, under penalty of dismissal.

43. Cabals, conspiracies, or reflections cast against the moral or official character of any Officer of the Force, without sufficient proof of the charges being made before the Chief, will be punished by instant dismissal.

44. Members of the Force will on no occasion whatever hold any intercourse with prisoners brought to the different Stations, nor shall they laugh, jeer, or joke at or with them. This rule will be strictly enforced.

45. All men, while waiting in the Station to relieve those on duty, must be in full dress ready to turn out at a minute's notice, and they are not permitted to lay down when on day duty.

46. Every relief before they turn out for duty, shall be closely inspected as to cleanliness and good appearance, and if found wanting in either respect, shall be punished by stoppages of pay at the discretion of the Superior Officers.

47. By the Statute 23 Vic., chap. 72, sec. 20, Officers and Members of the Force are not allowed to vote at the election of Mayor or of any of the Councillors, under the penalty provided for in the Statute; a violation of this law by any member of the Force will entail immediate dismissal from the Force.

48. The Police are to report all sales of Liquor by houses or persons not duly licensed.

49. Nuisances of all kinds, whether in the streets or lanes, vacant lots, yards, or enclosed properties, or fields, must be reported distinctly to the Officer on duty, as soon as the Constable returns from his beat.

INSTRUCTIONS.

As to the Legal Powers and Duties of Police Constables.

1. The powers of a Constable, when properly understood and executed, are amply sufficient for their purpose.

M*

2. By the laws of this Province he is authorized and required, in the execution of his office; to arrest a party charged with or suspected to be guilty of having committed certain offences—to enter a house in pursuit of an offender—to quiet an affray—to search for stolen goods—and to take possession of goods suspected to have been stolen.

3. It is necessary, therefore, that each Constable should be informed of the cases in which he ought to interfere, and what legal power he possesses to effect his lawful object in case of resistance.

4. It will be first shown for what offences of common occurrence a party may be arrested and detained in custody. With this object, offences may be divided into felonies and misdemeanours.

FELONIES.

5. Murder, house-breaking, robbery, stealing, picking pockets, receiving stolen goods knowing them to have been stolen, setting fire to any church, house, or other building, wounding with intent to murder or to cause grievous bodily injury, are some of the principal felonies, besides which there are a great many more which it is unnecessary to mention in detail. Persons guilty of any of these offences are called Felons.

6. As it is more important to prevent and punish the commission of great crimes than of lesser offences, the Constable has a greater power in cases of felonies than in that of misdemeanours.

7. The first duty of a Policeman is to prevent the commission of crime.

8. For this purpose he has power to arrest a party whom, from his situation and character, the law judges to be likely to commit some felony, and whom he has just cause to suspect to be about to do so. Thus when a lunatic or a drunken person, or a man in a passion threatens the life of another, or to burn his house, the Constable must interfere and arrest.

9. He should arrest any person whom he finds under, such circumstances, giving just cause to suspect that he is about to break into any dwelling-house or other building, especially if he has in his possession any implement adapted for that purpose ; or any person armed with a gun, pistol, sword, bludgeon, bowie-knife, or any offensive or deadly weapon, with intent therewith to commit any felonious act.

10. In these, and similar cases, the Constable must judge from the situation and behaviour of the party what his intention is. In some cases no doubt can exist, as when the party is a notorious thief, or associating and acting with those who are known to be thieves ; or when a party is seen to be attempting to pick a pocket, or commit a theft, or to break into a house. The Constable will not act hastily, in case the intention is not clear, but content himself with watching closely the suspected party, in order to discover his design.

11. A Constable must arrest any one he may see in the act of committing a felony, or even charged, on suspicion of another, of having committed a felony, if the suspicion appears to the Policeman to be well founded, and provided the person so suspecting goes with the Policeman to the Station, and is ready to make his affidavit.

12. Though no charge be made, yet, if the Constable suspect a person to have committed a felony, he should arrest him, and if he has reasonable ground for his suspicions, he will be justified, even though it should afterwards appear that no felony was, in fact, committed. But the Policeman must be cautious, as his sole defence can rest only on the reasonableness of his suspicions.

13. Generally, if the arrest is made discreetly and fairly, in pursuit of an offender, and not from any private malice or ill-will, the Policeman need not doubt that the law will protect him.

14. If the Policeman shall see any one carrying, or in any manner conveying away any goods or chattels whatever, and it shall appear to him that there is probable cause to suspect that they have been stolen, he should apprehend the person, and may detain the goods. Here also he must judge from circumstances, such as the appearance and manner of the party, the account he gives of himself, and the like, whether he has got stolen goods in his possession, before he actually takes him into custody.

15. A Constable must make every exertion to effect an arrest; and the law gives him abundant power for that purpose. If the felon, or party accused with felony, fly, he may be immediately followed wherever he goes; and if he takes refuge in a house, the Policeman may break open the door to get in, first stating who he is, and his business. But the breaking open of outer doors is so dangerous a proceeding that the Policeman never should resort to it, except in extreme cases, and when an immediate arrest is necessary.

16. There are some cases in which a Constable may, and ought to break into a house, although no felony has been committed,—when the necessity of the case will not admit of delay, as when persons are fighting furiously in a house, or when a house has been entered by others with a felonious intent, and a felony will be probably committed unless the Constable interfere, and there is no other means of entering. Except in such cases, it is better, in general, that the Constable should wait until he has a warrant from a Magistrate for the purpose.

17. If a Constable finds his personal efforts insufficient to effect an arrest, he ought to require all persons present to assist him, and they are bound to do so.

18. If a prisoner should escape, he may be retaken, and in immediate pursuit, the Constable may follow him into any place or any house.

MISDEMEANOURS.

19. Offences, such as common assaults, affrays and riots, are called misdemeanours.

20. In cases of actual breaches of the peace, as riots, affrays, assaults, and the like, committed within view of the Constable, he should immediately interfere (first giving public notice of his office, if he be not already known,) separate the combatants, and prevent others from joining in the affray. If the riot be of a serious nature, or if the offenders do not immediately desist, he should take them into custody, securing also the principal instigators of the tumult, and do everything in his power to restore quiet.

21. A Constable, in cases of assault which have not been committed in his presence, or within his view, is not authorized to arrest or assist in arresting the party so charged; nor is he to receive a party so charged into his custody, unless the party has been arrested by some other Constable who saw the assault committed. But if a person has been cut or wounded, and gives into custody the party charged with having cut or wounded him, the Constable is authorized to take the party under his charge, and keep him in safe custody until he can be brought before a Magistrate.

22. He may arrest any one assaulting or opposing him in the execution of his duty; but in doing so he must be able to prove some specific fact, as, if not, the charge will be rejected by the Officer on duty at the Station House.

23. If a person forcibly enter the house of another, the Constable may, at the request of the owner, turn him out directly; if he have entered peaceably, and the owner request the Constable to turn him out, the Constable should first request him to go out, and, unless he do so, he should turn him out: in either case, using no more force than is necessary for such purpose.

24. When the offence has not yet been committed, but when a breach of the peace is likely to take place, as, when persons are openly preparing to fight, the Constable should take the parties concerned into custody; if they flee into a house, or are making preparations to fight within the house, the Constable should enter the house to prevent them, and likewise take the parties into custody; and, should the doors be closed, he may break them open, if permission be refused after giving notice of his office and object in entering. But the power of Constables to break doors, as before mentioned, should be exercised in extreme cases only, and then with great caution.

25. If any party threaten another with immediate violence to his person, or offer to strike, the Constable should interfere, and prevent a breach of the peace ; if one draw a weapon upon another, attempting to strike, the Constable should take him into custody. If persons be merely quarrelling and insulting each other, confining themselves to words, a Policeman has no right to take them into custody, but should be ready to prevent a breach of the peace.

26. If a party charged with felony or misdemeanour escape from custody, he may be pursued anywhere ; and if he take refuge in a house, the door may be broken open, after demand of admission, and after notification by the Policeman of his office and object in coming.

27. After an arrest made, it is in all cases his duty to treat his prisoners properly, and impose only such restraint upon them as may be necessary for their safe custody.

28. He is bound to follow the directions contained in his warrant, and execute it with secrecy and despatch. If the warrant cannot be executed immediately, it should be executed as soon as possible.

29. He must execute the warrant himself, or, when he calls in assistance, he must be actually present. Upon all occasions he ought to state his authority, if it be not generally known, and should show his warrant when required to do so ; but he should never part with the possession of his warrant, as it may hereafter be wanted for his justification.

30. A Constable may enter a house to search for stolen goods, having got a search-warrant for that effect from a Magistrate. He should, if it be possible, execute it in the day-time. If he finds the goods mentioned, he will take them to the Station House, and, when the warrant so directs, he must take the person also in whose possession they are found. To avoid mistakes, the owner of the property ought, if possible, to attend at the search to identify them.

31. The Constable is also authorized under such warrant from a Magistrate, to break open any dwelling house, shop, warehouse, or other place named in the warrant, as shall not be opened on demand, or after due notice of such warrant, for the purposes stated therein.

32. He has power to apprehend and take to the Police Station, as vagrants or disorderly persons, all persons who, being able to work, refuse and neglect to do so; persons exposing themselves indecently; persons maliciously or wilfully obstructing passengers, by stopping across footpaths, obstructing a thoroughfare; using insulting language; causing disturbance, by screaming, shouting, swearing, singing in the streets; tearing down or defacing signs, posters, and notices where permitted to be posted up; breaking windows, doors, door-plates, knockers, bell-pulls, or the walls of houses, yards or gardens; destroying fences, railings, trees or the plants and shrubs in the public squares streets, or gardens in front of private dwellings; being drunk, and impeding or incommoding peaceable passengers; all common prostitutes; all persons in the habit of frequenting houses of ill fame.

33. A Constable, if authorized by the warrant of a Magistrate, may enter any house of ill-fame, tavern or boarding-house, and there apprehend and bring before the Recorder, all or any of the persons described in the foregoing article, as being disorderly persons; also, all persons found tippling after the hour of 10 at night and before 5 A.M., from 21st March to the 1st of October; and from 6 A.M. to 9 P.M. between 1st October to 21st March. But on Saturday night, during the whole of the year, he is authorized by the Corporation By-law to enter after the hour of 11 o'clock P.M., until the following Monday morning at 6 o'clock, all Shops, Taverns, Public Houses, or places of public entertainment within the said City, and there arrest on view the landlords and all persons found playing at cards, dice, or other chance games, and tippling, in any of such Taverns, Hotels, Saloons, Bar-rooms, or any other place of entertainment, or Shops, between the hours mentioned in said By-law.

VIOLENT OR SUDDEN DEATHS, OR ACCIDENTS.

34. In all cases of persons found injured, dead or dying, the duties of the Police may be confined to the following objects:

35. In case the party be found dead, to see that the body is decently covered and cared for; to apprise relatives or friends of the event, and inform the Coroner of the occurrence. The body should be moved as little as possible from the place where it was found, until the inquest is held.

36. In case the party is dying, or seriously injured, to send immediately for a Surgeon, and convey the party, with all possible care and speed, to his or her own house; to an Hospital, or, if nearest, and in any way desirable, to the Station House.

37. In case the party is evidently dying, or declares himself to be so, in consequence of injuries or violence inflicted by others, it becomes important to take his dying declaration of the facts; the Constable should therefore send at once for the Police Magistrate, or, in his absence, for any Magistrate resident in the vicinity.

FIRES.

38. The principal duties of a Police Force at fires, consist in the protection of property saved from the flames—in clearing the streets from crowds or other obstructions, ensuring space and free action to the firemen, and for the general maintenance of good order.

39. As it is the duty of every Member of the Force, at all times, to render all assistance in his power to the public in general, each Constable who shall discover a fire in the limits of his beat will immediately give the alarm through the nearest alarm signal station.

POLICE REGULATIONS.

40. As soon as the alarm shall reach the Station-house, the Officer will dispatch all the men available to the scene of conflagration, to maintain order, protect the property saved, and as much as possible lend a helping hand to the Firemen in the accomplishment of their arduous duty.

41. The members of the Force shall pay particular attention to the following rules laid down for their guidance by the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, to whom they shall be bound to render every possible assistance :

1st. Prevent at all times, if possible, the opening of doors or windows to admit air. .

2nd. Give the alarm by day and night at the nearest Signal Station upon the first discovery of fire.

3rd. If the Watchman be watering the street, and has not heard the alarm, state to him that there has been one.
