THE
CHARITIES,
THE
CHILDREN.

Did the good folk of Toronto but know the need and fully understand the work of the Hospital for Sick Children the ready money would leap from a thousand pockets to aid the noble charity.

While the friends are not harassed with appeals for aid, the great Hospital has many needs and many of those are still unsatisfied. Room for a hundred and fifty cots. Yes, and children to fill them all will be suffering within the next year for the mercies with which under Providence, the Hospital is able to bless them.

Poverty puts its own cruel accent on the word "suffering" as it is applied to the children. Their pain-racked little bodies languish in narrow homes. Their lives go glimmering through days of weariness, and to these the Hospital is a very heaven, all warmth and brightness, into which God's suffering children go in ailing and oft times come out whole.

The Hospital either prolongs the life journey of the little ones or smooths the rough places out of their short pathway. The hand of its activity blesses all who are touched.

Money is needed to widen the circle of the Hospital's healing influence. Fill in the coupon attached and return it to the Trustees. Your money will be well invested. A child won from the grave back to home and health and happiness may be the rich dividend it earns. New interest will be paid on the amount each time that the smile of health chases the shadows of death off the face of the child in your cot.

There is not a Sunday School, a Bible Class, a public or private school, with the hundreds of attending pupils, a lodge of any of the fraternal societies with its long roll of members, a factory, foundry, workshop or printing office, where many hands are employed, a large mercantile warehouse, a building, loan, a financial corporation with scores of employes, in every one that with a slight effort could not in a few hours collect enough to furnish a cot. In a school of a hundred pupils, a cent a week from each will furnish a cot. In any of the lodges about four cents a month will do it, and in factories that average twenty men five cents a week from every employe will furnish the cot equipment. Just think this over. What a grand opportunity of helping the great charity that takes care of sick children.

Your $50 can be a present that will not stale with the flight of the festive season. Each child may be blessed anew by the comfort your gift brings into its worn life. Throughout the year your money goes on doing good. Then cut out this coupon, fill it in, and return to J. ROSS ROBERTSON, Chairman Board of Trustees, Hospital for Sick Children.

THE LAKESIDE HOME FOR LITTLE CHILDREN. THE PARK POINT, TORONTO ISLAND.

Present indebtedness of the Hospital, One Hundred Thousand Dollars. Funds are urgently required. The running expenses of the Hospital average Two Thousand Dollars per Month

The Hospital had, during last year, nearly Five Hundred Children as indoor patients and a thousand in the out door department.

Since its formation, the Hospital has had in its beds 2,000 sick children, and in the out door department has attended to about 5,000.

It may be safely estimated that nearly 70 per cent of the cases treated are discharged cured, while 25 per cent. are improved.

There is no more worthy object than the care of sick little children. The Hospital for Sick Children, the only provincial institution of the kind in Canada, specially favored by the law. The debt of this Institution is $100,000.

All bequests perfectly valid. No danger of litigation after death.

The statute expressly enables this Hospital to accept gifts of both land and money, no matter when the will is made.

The following clause in the will of any one wishing to help the sick children is legal and sufficient: "I GIVE AND DEVISE TO THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN AT TORONTO THE SUM OF ——— DOLLARS." If lands are given insert this clause: "I GIVE AND DEVISE TO THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN AT TORONTO THE FOLLOWING LANDS (describe them)." Any further information from the Secretary Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN

was originally founded in 1875, and occupied various buildings in Toronto until 1891, when the present building on College street was erected. Its equipment is perfect in every regard. The Institution has all the advantages of a staff of thirteen eminent surgeons and physicians of Toronto on the active staff, with eight medical men on the consulting staff and six on the outdoor staff, with eight specialists in various branches of medical work.

The Hospital is in debt to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars—and funds are urgently required. The average cost of maintaining the Hospital is $2,000 per month. this is for food, light, fuel, nurses and superintendence.

There are no salaried officials in the Hospital except the Lady Superintendent, the housekeeper, nurses and domestics and a bookkeeper. The work of the Trustees and the Ladies' Committee is all voluntary.

The Hospital cares for about 500 patients a year. No cases are taken in except those that are acute and can be cured or improved. No chronic cases are admitted. To do so would be to make the Hospital a home for sickly children instead of a place for the treatment of the diseases of childhood. It is probable that, during the next year, the number of cases will be largely increased. Children are taken from all parts of the Province of Ontario. The Hospital is a Provincial institution, and the Inspectors of the Government admit that in building and equipment it is unequalled. It has beds for about 170 patients and 40 nurses and domestics. It is the second largest Hospital for Children in the world. The most eminent surgeons and physicians from Europe and Great Britain have inspected the Hospital and the Lakeside Home, and pay the highest tribute to the excellence of both these buildings. Since its foundation, the Hospital has had in its beds about 2,000 children, and has given advice to about 5,000 in the outdoor department.

The Lakeside Home for Little Children is at the Point Park, Toronto Island. It is the largest children's sanitarium in the world, and will bed 140 children and 40 nurses and domestics. It is open from June until October. All children who can be removed from the mother Hospital are sent here, as well as any sickly children of the Province who are convalescing. There is an average of 100 children in the building in the summer months.

Remember that every sick child in the Province, whose parents cannot afford to pay, is taken into this Hospital. The cases offered must be acute, such as can be cured or relieved. No chronic or incurable case is under any circumstances admitted. For parents who can afford to pay a rate of $2 50 is made for the public wards, $5 for the semi-private wards and $10 for a private ward. The Trustees desire that all should contribute something towards the hospital. No matter how small the amount, it will be thankfully received and faithfully applied.

RULES FOR ADMISSION OF PATIENTS.

IN-PATIENTS.

1. Children who are not suffering from small pox or other infectious diseases shall be received as in-patients from two to fourteen years of age, and shall not be admitted unless brought by some grown person.

2. The following classes of children shall be admitted to and treated at the Hospital: sick children, destitute and friendless, or whose parents through poverty are unable to take care of them, and who from various circumstances cannot receive care and attention at home, and who have friends who are willing to contribute towards the expense of maintenance. So that pauperism may not be fostered, the rule that remuneration to some extent shall be paid is strictly enforced whenever the relatives or applicants are in a position to afford it.

3. Accident and urgent cases are admitted at any hour during the day or night.

4. Parents and others from whom children are received into the Hospital shall be required to sign an application for admission, which shall state the terms on which the patient is received, and contain an agreement on the part of the applicant to be bound thereby.

5. Presents of toys or other things to any patient shall belong to the child only while in the Hospital, and for its use and amusement there; and shall not, unless when given by its parents or guardians, be given away or taken from the Hospital without the consent of the committee; when such consent is not given they shall be left as the property of the Hospital.

OUT-PATIENTS.

1. Children shall be received as out-patients from birth until fourteen years of age, who are free from small-pox or other infectious diseases, and who are brought to the Hospital by one of their parents or by a grown person. Those patients who are not received into the Hospital will daily receive advice and medicine free, and have any ordinary operation performed at the dispensary by the visiting medical officer at the hour appointed. All out-patients must provide their own phials or vessels for medicine, and these must be kept clean.

2. Parents or others who bring patients shall attend promptly at the dispensary department on Elizabeth street at the hours appointed, and when advised and treated shall leave the Hospital premises, and if they wilfully disobey directions given, or violate the rules of the Hospital, they shall not be permitted again to enter the Hospital.

3. The attendants shall strictly enforce these regulations, which are intended to promote the general welfare. It is hoped that the friends of patients will feel it to be their duty to conform to these rules, and to behave with propriety to the attendants.

VISITORS.

1. Visitors are admitted to the Hospital on Tuesdays and Saturdays from 2 to 5 p.m. All visitors must enter at the main entrance on College street, and must see the nurse in charge before entering a ward.

2. Ladies and others who desire to visit and entertain the children by reading and singing may do so after having obtained permission from the Lady Superintendent.

3. Visitors are strictly forbidden from giving any article of food, fruit or luxuries to any of the children. Any luxuries intended for particular children can be left with the nurse of the ward, who will distribute them under the direction of the Lady Superintendent.

PRIVILEGES OF SUBSCRIBERS.

1. Each donor of five thousand dollars shall be entitled to name a ward, and to recommend ten patients yearly.

2. Each donor of two thousand dollars to endow a cot shall be entitled to have it permanently inscribed in regulation form, and to recommend five patients yearly.

3. Annual subscribers of one hundred dollars for the purpose of maintaining a cot shall be entitled to have the cot named as long as the annual subscription is continued, and to recommend one patient yearly. This subscription may be paid monthly in payments of $8 50 per month, which shall include the expense of inscription on the cot. This subscription will maintain a cot at The Lakeside Home for Little Children as well as one in the Mother Hospital.

4. The representatives of any church, Sabbath school, public work, lodge, society or benefit organization shall be entitled to the same privileges as an individual subscriber of the same amount.

All donations in kind can be left at the Hospital on College street, and all P.O. orders or cheques shall be made to the Treasurer, Hospital for Sick Children.

THE EIGHTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The Work of this Interesting Charity During the Past Year.

---

The following extracts are from the Eighteenth Annual Report of the Ladies' Committee of the Hospital :—

“ And Jesus called a little child unto Him, and Set him in the midst.”
“ And a little child shall lead them.”

Anniversaries, whether from the standpoint of the individual or the organized body of workers, are always important. Why? Because from the vantage ground gained the individual or the committee pauses for a little, and looks backward upon past achievements and failures, then forward, with the aid of experience, upon future duties, responsibilities and possibilities.

The Hospital for Sick Children is now a little more than eighteen years old, and never before in its history were the duties and responsibilities of the management—trustees, ladies' committee, medical and household staff—heavier, nor the possibilities for loving service in the future to ailing children grander than at present.

In all lands childhood is more or less a dominating power. Since the world began; since the first little child life came into that sin-shadowed home without the gates of the Garden of Eden, the influence of children upon the great heart of humanity has been and is simply inconceivable. This is not surprising when we remember that every grown person was once a child, and that in every child there is the promise of a grown person.

This fact, and coupled with it the hope of helping the young life that promises so much to completeness, makes the care and training of the little ones in our homes a delight; it fills the work of sheltering and educating God's poor children with hope and encouragement, and it sends forth hand and heart to tender ministries of love and pity to little suffering bodies that languish in poverty stricken homes in city or country.

All deeds of benevolence springing from pure motives are sweet and precious to the heart of the Divine Master, whose whole life here on earth was a benediction; but perhaps “the sweetest of all charities,” as someone has well said, is the care of little, sick children. It touches the hearts of all, it appeals to all, the high, the low, the rich and the poor, the old and the young, the sick and the well.

The following incidents and a thousand others that might be stated are ample proof of this statement :—

Late one evening a few weeks ago two young men were walking past the hospital on the opposite side of College street. Suddenly one of them, thrusting his hand into his pocket, with a hasty “Wait a moment” on his lips, disappeared in the darkness. His companion stood irresolute, gazing up at the great building outlined against the sky, when in a trice his friend returned, and as they sauntered slowly along, said half apologetically: “Do you know I never can bear to pass that place without dropping a quarter into the box. I always think of the little children who are sick, and who have no comfortable homes, and no kind mothers to take care of them, and I'm glad that some of them are in there.” Nearly two years ago now, a letter came to the Hospital, and upon opening it, it was found to contain $2, and these words:—"My first week's earnings, for the little sick children." A year later, about the same date a second letter came, containing $3 with the statement that the writer had commenced his second year in his situation, and that the enclosed amount was the first week's earnings of his second year of work.

The amount received in contribution boxes during the year was $416, by far the largest part of this sum having been dropped into the box at the Hospital, which opens on the street. Sovereigns, bills, and the larger silver coins, frequently appear in the contents of this box, but cents, pennies, and small silver coins, are in abundance, showing that school children and those whose means are limited, deem it a blessed privilege to help the sick and suffering. A glance at our list of donations and contributions, supported cots, etc., will give the reader a clearer idea of the universal character of the support given to this noble charity. One little boy brings a rosy cheeked apple, a little girl offers lovingly a sweet bouquet of fresh flowers, a band of children bring the proceeds of a sale of work, wrought by their small fingers, a mother sends the coins found in her angel child's "bank" or "money box," a kind-hearted man forwards his cheque, one keeps a cot in memory of the dead, another because her dear ones are all around her, national societies send collections, associations, bands of employes, trades' unions, Masonic and other lodges, churches and Sunday schools furnish and keep "cots," bands of children bring fruit, flowers and toys, and, as we have said, gifts from all ranks and classes are freely given to bring freedom from pain, restoration to health, or a glimpse of sunshine to the wan, pitiful faces of the children in our Hospital who are appointed to die.

The number of "cots" supported this year in the Hospital is 50, being an increase of four since last report was issued. The number maintained in The Lakeside Home is 10. The cost of furnishing a "Cot" in the Hospital is $50, of maintenance $100 a year, and of maintenance in The Lakeside Home, $25 a year. The list of supported "Cots" in both Hospital and Lakeside Home is as follows:—

Several large sums have been received as bequests from, namely:—Mr. Keterson $5,000, Mrs. Susan C. Cooney $100, Mr. George Craig $500, Mrs. Connors $25.

But while the gifts flowing into our treasury have been various and generous, have come to us from channels many and widely separated, proving how tender is the heart of humanity, how pitiful towards want and woe, whenever and wherever these are known, these gifts must be even more increased, and more general, or this Christ-like work must be crippled for want of means.

Before the new Hospital was opened 38 or 40 was the highest number, we could under any circumstances admit. To-day 100 children are being treated. The average number the entire year has been 70; and many of these, as will be seen by reference to the medical report, have been dismissed either wholly or partially restored to health.

Many of our little patients are of very tender years—almost babes, it may be said; others are bed-bound sufferers, our work being to smooth their otherwise rough pathway to the children's home beyond the sky; while others again are in various stages of convalescence.

To provide "daily bread" for all these, food, clothing, medicine, nursing and delicacies, to keep them warm and comfortable, to make the wards and schoolroom in which they live pleasant, home-like and attractive, requires on an average of over $2,000 per month.

Our Friday morning prayer meeting was established when the Hospital was first opened; it continues to-day and is to many a helpful and inspiring service. Our committee numbers 25 and the average attendance at this meeting has been 10. All take part in some way, either in praise, or in reading and commenting on the word of God, in prayer or in reading helpful articles of prose or poetry. Every known want of the Hospital is brought to God in prayer at this meeting, the answers are recorded at subsequent meetings, and thanksgiving offered for these manifestations of the watchful care of Him who neither slumbers nor sleeps over our helpless little patients.

Not many subscriptions have been received for the building during the year. This may be attributable to the fact that no special means have been used to make known to benevolent friends the adaptability of the building to hospital purposes; the completeness of the appointments, the perfect appliances for the most improved methods of treating the diseases of children; and that it was impossible to secure all this without what seemed to be an immense expenditure of money.

Much has been done this year in the way of furnishing the wards, ward pantries, etc., the operating room, and in adorning and beautifying the wards, corridors, offices, board and officers' rooms. The following table shows the value of special donations in kind (many of them furnishings) to the Hospital from Oct. 1st, '92, to Sept. 30th, '93.

The day school, conducted by Miss Sams, continues to be a source of great delight, as well as of profit and instruction, to the children who are convalescing, and to some who are undergoing surgical treatment of various kinds. Miss Sams is in perfect sympathy with our little invalids, and many a tedious and wearisome hour is made bright, happy and profitable in the school room.

Our Nurses' Training School, under the care of the superintendent and members of the medical staff, has been specially successful in the new building. The training given is of a high order, and with the many illustrative appliances at hand, our nurses are sent out at the end of two years well equipped for nursing, not only diseases of children, but for general work. Testimony to this effect has reached us from many sources, and it is worthy of note that a recent graduate from our Training School is superintendent of the Nursing-at-Home Mission.

The supervision of the household affairs is in the hands of the Ladies' Committee, two of which have been appointed weekly to visit every department in the building and report subsequently to the full committee. Several members of the committee have developed special ability in this direction, and all have been as faithful and efficient as circumstances would permit.

Miss Underhill, who was appointed to the position of superintendent upon the retirement of Mrs. McMaster, has, with the blessing of God, proved herself fully able for the heavy duties and responsibilities devolving upon her. With gentle but firm hand she has guided the affairs of this great institution, and in recording this, our appreciation of her work, we feel that it is but a feeble tribute to the worth of her services.

Our nurses are faithful and efficient, and the house physicians are invariably kind and attentive. In this connection it is impossible for us to give expression to the words of praise and appreciation which are due the members of the medical staff for their unwearied kindness and patient attention to the medical and surgical requirements of their little patients.

THE LAKESIDE HOME.

The "fitting" to the Island was the event of the season. Early one bright June morning, a close observer might have noticed an expectant look in the wan faces of our little patients, and that some eyes were looking as bright as sick eyes could possibly look; also that doctors, nurses, attendants, and even Miss Underhill, moved about, if not in a hurried, at least, in a somewhat excited and rapid, manner.

What strange things were happening? Up and down flights of stairs, and along corridors, nurses were flying with their arms full of wraps and head-gear. Who for? Why, for little sick children, who had not, some of them, been out in the fresh air for months. To some this seemed almost too good to be true. But the fears of the most faithless were soon allayed. Cab after cab drew up at the door, and after lunch was served in the wards, the commotion began in good earnest; the strong, kind, cheery voices of friends were heard through the corridors, chairs and stretchers of all descriptions, and firm but loving arms as well, were brought into requisition and soon every child in the Hospital able to be moved, had been quietly placed in cab or ambulance, and was on the way to the boat, en route to the Island.

All were soon made comfortable on Messrs. Clark Bros' roomy and seaworthy scow, a very "Cunarder" in the eyes of some of our boys. The voyage, though it could not, by any means, be spoken of as a "rapid transit" was over all too soon, for some of the most adventurous, and on landing, aided by some kind-hearted and strong-armed friends of Dr. Clingan, our children were soon reposing in their cots in the pretty wards at this Island Sanitarium, as we like to call it.

To the eyes of children, who had looked upon little else save the walls of their wards, for weeks or months, the Lakeside Home seemed a fairy scene, a wide expanse of blue, flecked here and there with tiny caps of white foam dancing in the sunlight, a deeper blue in the sky overhead, trees and green grass around, and in the background the beautiful building, with its verandahs and turrets.

Here in this happy spot the children spent the long summer days, and on the 28th September returned to their winter quarters. Many other weakly and ailing children, besides the patients from the City Hospital, were admitted to the Lakeside, the average this year being larger than usual.

The City Hospital was open all the year, as there were many serious cases requiring treatment during the summer.

Many were the kind attentions given to the children by citizens summering at the Island; among other things it may be mentioned that the mending of this large family of 100 was done by a few friends who met weekly in the summer home of Mrs. Geo. Bartlett. Sincere thanks are given also to the friends who have gathered on Wednesday mornings throughout the year to cut out work, to sew and to mend for our little ones, also to the Women's Bible class in the city, whose members mended with the help of an aged lady 70 pairs of socks and stockings in one week.

Toronto has been well called "The City of Charities;" there is, however, one class of sufferers, which has so far been entirely overlooked, namely, incurable children. There are several incurables now in the Hospital who ought to be removed at once, as sick children, who require hospital care and treatment, and who would be benefitted thereby, are waiting to come in; but there seems to be no "open door" for the little waifs, who will never know the joy and freedom of healthy child life.

We have thus imperfectly set forth the work we seek to do in the Hospital for Sick Children, and, enwrapped in prayer, we send the record into Canadian homes, with the hope that the Great Healer may touch into active sympathy for the pain-stricken mites of humanity, who lie in our wards day after day, the hearts of those who read:—"Blessed is he that considereth the poor, (weak or sick, see margin); the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble."

INCIDENTS IN THE WORK.

LEAVES FROM THE LIVES OF THE LITTLE ONES IN THE HOSPITAL.

"Take this child away and nurse it for me and I will give thee thy wages."—Exodus ii. 9.

Very few outside of the Hospital for Sick Children can realize the care and thoughtfulness required to manage children of all sorts and conditions who come there with their sufferings and fretfulness, and often with a large supply of stubbornness and selfwill.

One frail little girl, having left her home and loving parents, being surrounded by strange faces, refused to eat or take anything. She would do nothing but fret, until the nurses' patience became almost exhausted. Finally a little game was resorted to. A nice plate of bread and butter was brought with some jelly; the slices were cut into long, narrow strips, and then each of them named after one or other of the doctors who visited the hospital, of some of whom she evidently had no very pleasant recollections.

"Now says the thoughtful nurse, let us eat the doctors all up." "Bite their heads off first," (the crust represented their heads), "but as they seem very hard we will dip them into the jelly to soften them." This at once aroused the interest of the little patient and with a vim she put her teeth into the imaginary doctor's head. Then his arms were eaten, and so on until every doctor was devoured by the young cannibal, she and the nurse laughing heartily over each bite. Next the Army was attacked in the same manner. A second supply of bread was brought in, and the General, Colonel, Captain and Lieutenant all demolished, until nature was thoroughly satisfied and unconsciously the child had eaten heartily. Then she lay down and counted up the time for another meal, so that the game could be continued.

This is only one case out of many which have to be humored by similar devices, until the child becomes attached and accustomed to the place, when there is no further trouble on that score.

This particular one is a dear little girl of six years old, five years of age when she came in. Very bad hip disease is her trouble, and she has been compelled to lie on her back all these months with her little knees drawn up. At times her sufferings must have been very severe, yet a slight quivering of her under lip, and eyes suffused with tears, were the only indications given of the sufferings endured.

Now she seems to have gained so much strength that when an old friend who had been absent from the city for some time came to see her the little one began to raise herself in her cot—and sit upright by holding on to the sides. The little face became radiant with joy when she saw the look of surprise and delight in her friend's face, and her laugh could be heard throughout the ward. You, little children, who may read this, and are blessed with health and strength, just think of the joy that little sufferer feels because she can sit up unaided in her cot, without pain; and, oh, how grateful and happy she seems for that privilege. While you, do you realize and feel happy for the great mercy shown to you, that you can run and jump all day long, free from ache or pain? Perhaps, instead, you are grumbling because you cannot have some special toy or fad. If so, come to this hospital, and here learn the lesson of contentment and gratitude for that blessing you already possess—perfect health.

A SAD SIGHT.

A little girl was playing around a bonfire, roasting potatoes, when her clothes took fire. There was no one near who could help her, and she was almost roasted alive. Her cries finally brought a workman to her rescue, but not until one side was completely scorched. Now it is a sad sight to see all one side of her pretty face scarred, probably for life. Everything that skill can do is being done for her, over 100 pieces of skin having been taken from nurses, doctors and friends, who have each kindly bared their arms and given their share towards the healing of this little sufferer through the process of grafting new skin over the wounds, thereby preventing contraction. She is recovering slowly, but it will be a long time before she will be able to run about again.

A YOUNG SAMPSON.

There is a sturdy looking lad, over three years of age, in one of the wards, who is as handsome as a picture and seems to have the strength of a Sampson, thereby giving the nurses no end of trouble. His feet were very much turned and he was sent to the Hospital to have them straightened. Otherwise his bodily health is perfect. His will was on a par with his health, and whatever he wished to do he generally worked very hard to accomplish; and but for the watchful care of the nurses, no doubt would have done himself some injury before this, either by climbing out of the windows or over the verandahs. When he could not manage these things, out of spite he would take many of the crutches of the lame boys and throw them all the way down stairs, one after another, the sound of falling debris generally bringing some of the nurses to the rescue. At other times he would go into the ward pantry, open the cupboard in which some of the children's flannels were kept at times, throw them into the middle of the floor, and then climb into one of the empty shelves and hide. But the nurse did not need anyone to tell her where the mischievous youth had gone, as the deplorable state of the pantry floor generally told its own tale. The damage this boy could do in five seconds could not be repaired in less than a quarter of an hour. At one time he had the measles, and as it was impossible to keep him in his cot, the nurse found it necessary to tie him to it; but he tore the bandages into scraps, until a rope had to be procured. When convalescent they found it still necessary to use this means of limiting his freaks to the inside of his ward. At first he rebelled very strongly and "made the night hideous with his howls" of temper, but finally he succumbed, and is now becoming quite an amiable, tractable boy. He is a great favorite and of a warm loving disposition. One day he was kissing and hugging one of his nurses, when another one came in and asked if he did not love her also, and he said, "Yes, I lub all de nurses in dis house," showing that the firmness with which he had been disciplined had not in any way destroyed his affection for them.

Last summer we had a dear little boy with us, whose sweet disposition made him beloved by every one who came in contact with him. His name was Arthur. On his neck he had a large growth, which in size almost resembled another head, and the doctors found nothing could be done to save his life, for any operation would have undoubtedly proved fatal. So we cared for him, and shortly after his coming he died without any pain, indeed, he almost seemed to sleep away. All his little sayings and doings were so sweet that he hardly seemed to belong to earth. He was free to wander all over the Hospital alone, and was made welcome by every one of the household, from the cook to the lady superintendent. The day before he died he stood thoughtfully looking at the Robertson Memorial Window, and said to his nurse who stood beside him: "I know that is Jesus with the little sick boy. He is coming soon to make me well too." Yes, He did come for that little angel the very next night, and took him where now he is free from all pain and suffering.

Tim.

In last year's reports an incident was related of a lad who had his feet dreadfully burnt by falling asleep beside a bonfire, while under the influence of liquor given him by his own drunken parents. When brought to our hospital, he proved one of the most refractory cases we had ever had to manage. His language was frightful, and he had neither respect nor fear for the clergy, doctors, nurses or anyone who had dealings with him, and yet within this apparently hardened life was a vein of goodness which shone, like the lustre of the diamond amidst dark and dreary surroundings. This little incident we have heard since writing of him previously: One bitter, cold stormy night, he went into a railway office to warm himself, when a poor little lad with a bundle of papers almost as big as himself, came into the same office, crying most piteously, from the pain of his almost frozen feet. "Our 'Tim'" immediately rose, and gave the lad his seat by the fire. Then placing his crutches on the floor Tim pulled off the old dilapidated boots of the child and rubbed some warmth into the poor chafed feet, and as the tears still flowed the brave boy took the little one's bundle and, bidding him wait there, rushed out, and presently his deep lusty voice could be heard calling, "Evening papers, only one cent." The station was almost deserted as the night was stormy, but in a short time Tim returned without the bundle of papers, handed the lad its full value in money, afterwards sending him home warmed and comforted. Later on one of the railway officials found stowed away behind a door all the child's bundle of papers where they had been placed by Tim when he found he could not sell them, and pretending he had disposed of them he had given his own savings to his little companion in misery. He did not want even the child to see the tender spot in his heart, so he hid it, but the God who sees all things knows of his noble deed, and He will reward him.

A little boy was brought into this Hospital suffering from some acute disease. After being taken from his home (if that sacred name can be applied to such a place, where dirt, squalor and drink prevailed, and the sound of gentle voices or kindly spoken words was unknown), and was bathed, dressed in fresh clothes, placed in a clean ot, with a nurse in her pretty uniform ready to administer to his wants, he seemed amazed, and with a wondering look in his eyes as they wandered round the room, asked "Is this heaven?" No doubt he had been to Sunday school; taken there by some of those kind people who are always interested in the welfare of sad and neglected children, and there he must have been told of that happy place. After his bodily sufferings this peaceful rest must have seemed more like heaven than any place he had ever been before.

Lakeside Home.

At the Lakeside Home, the summer resort for those children who are able to be moved from the City Hospital for Sick Children to inhale the pure fresh air off the lake, which helps to bring back to many pale faces, the bloom of health, the children watch the numerous vessels, which pass almost every hour within hailing distance of the shore. "Here she comes" is an old familiar call through these wards as one of their boats comes in view and the excitement produced by these events often aids in sending the blood circulating more freely through the veins of the feeble system, and doing more good than quarts of medicine.

Then for the convalescent children and surgical cases, everything is done to make their lives pleasant. Games, such as croquet, ball etc, are numerous indeed, kind friends send drums, bugles, horses and swords in such quantities that the idea of a regiment was suggested and carried into effect. The older and stronger boys took the position of officers in this mimic regiment and all who were able to be out of their cots, even for only part of the day, eagerly offered their services as volunteers. A short time, (a very short time) was given for drill, when the marching began, and though the little company was only formed for pleasure, yet in reality it was a sad sight. Poor lads, with all the love and admiration of soldiering born in every boy's heart, the eagerness to join in every manly pursuit, the ambition to be a soldier, with all the strength and power that word implies, they crave for it all. The will is there, but alas! the poor deformed bodies of many of them cannot accomplish much. God only knows what silent, rebellious bitterness may lie smoldering in each breast of these afflicted incurable ones. May He help them and give them strength to bear their heavy burdens.

As the march proceeds on its way, let us take a glance at the little band of followers. Many of them were lame, some on two crutches, swinging their bodies with each step, and not touching the ground with their feet; others lame with one crutch; then the little bent bodies with spinal trouble; another with head drawn to one side, and some even crawling on the ground (having no use of their limbs), dragging their bodies at a rapid pace—in any manner rather than not belong to the regiment—all looking as bright and proud as the real volunteer on his first day out. Yet, in looking more closely at some, you could see the young face drawn up from pain, but the plucky resolve not to be beaten carried them on, until first one, then another, was compelled to drop out.

The famous picture of the "Roll Call," by Elizabeth Thompson, has not a more touching or pathetic subject than that of the little Hospital Regiment.

After a while only the few that were left, as in the "Charge of the Light Brigade" (but not the "Six hundred"), continued on their way, with their three-cornered paper hats trimmed with wool cord and tassels, their swords at their sides, and flags in their hands, with heads erect and eyes glistening with delight. They were allowed to march through all the wards, so that those little patients who were confined to their beds could see the "soldiers" and share their pleasure. Upstairs and downstairs they went with all the pride and delight of the real soldier, who sees and feels himself the object of many admiring glances from the gentler sex.

The Sailors.

Those who were unable to keep up with the soldiers, and many others, were allowed to go down to the lake shore, under the care of one or more of the nurses. Many of the boys had their trousers rolled up, and waded in the water along the edge, watching with delight for the big waves to roll in, caused by some passing steamer. They seemed to know exactly the time to wait for the extra swells, judging from the distances of the boat from the shore, and by watching they learned to know which steamboat created the largest waves. How they would shout with glee when the water dashed upon them; those who were unfortunate enough to get wet were allowed to go back and put on dry clothes at once. They were not in any way blamed for it, so that their pleasure should be unalloyed. Some boys would spend their spare time in making boats for those afternoons at the lake, many of these boats being quite cleverly constructed, showing unmistakable signs of ingenuity in that direction. The wiser ones, before launching the boats, would tie strings to them so that they could be brought back at any time, but others trusting to chance, and eager to see what their crafts were capable of, with loving looks would send them out free and untrammelled. Then when the passing breeze would fill the sails, they would move stately and gallantly on into the lake, "away and away" beyond recall, as if with a sense of freedom. Even its owner perhaps, with a feeling of envy in his heart, would cast longing eyes after it, hungering for the liberty which has befallen his boat, but is denied himself.

The kind friends who send toys and dolls would be amply rewarded if they could see from day to day the pleasure their gifts bring to the little ones. On each verandah at The Lakeside Home, stands a beautiful doll's house, furnished with all the requisites of the modern housekeeper. The larger girls took the management of these doll houses, but as some of them were bedridden their cots were daily brought out to the verandah.

A clever girl from the Orphans' Home gave the orders for each day's work in these miniature houses and then would herself do all the mending of torn linen and the dress-making for the dolls. She arranged a regular day for everything. First the spring house cleaning, then the carpets were taken up and shaken, floors washed, etc. There was a washing and ironing day each week, then the curtains and clothes would be taken to the laundry, besides starching and ironing, all with the same correctness an older housekeeper would demand.

There was no end of work and pleasure combined in this department. Then another class took up miniature hospital work, and the precision and knowledge with which they treated a doll patient was marvellous. The nurses and doctors kindly gave them little scraps of things which helped them in their work. We were invited to follow a subject from the moment of its entrance to its bath and clean clothes, then the operating-room, where the patient was given chloroform, the doctor holding the watch and the patient's wrist; then come the knife and its work; next the plaster of Paris, applied to straighten the crooked limb, and all the rest was carried on with wonderful precision and correctness. They even had the chart for each patient written out in all its details, up to the history of the patient's ancestors, thereby tracing the cause of disease. If these children's bodies are weak, their brains are often unusually bright and clear.

In presenting to the public our annual report, we feel that it is due them to lift the curtain, as it were, and give a glimpse into the daily life doings of the little sick ones entrusted to our care. Every cot with its inmate has its own sad history. Not one child of the hundreds who come to us but appeals to our most tender feelings, and as they lie there in their sufferings and helplessness, the startled eyes look into ours as if pleading for protection. When first brought in from their homes and placed amongst strangers, the most hardened hearts could not remain untouched. And as it makes us feel the great responsibility upon us, we ask you all, parents, and others, who have kind and loving hearts, you who cannot endure the thought of your own loved ones having to suffer pain of any kind, to think of those parents who have to send their little ones to undergo all sorts of operations, and to help us to carry on this good work. Help us with your love, your money, your time, and God will bless you and yours. We have given only a very few instances of what is occurring daily in our midst, for a book could be filled with the pathetic and often humorous sayings and doings of these little ones. But you have enough here to give you a slight idea of a Sick Children's Hospital life. In this great work of easing the sufferings and soothing the pains and trials of afflicted childhood we ask the help of all loving hearts and hands.

THE VICE-REGAL VISIT TO THE HOSPITAL.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen Spend an Hour with the Sick Little Ones

On Friday, the 27th September, the Governor-General and his wife, Lady Aberdeen, paid a visit to the Hospital building.

That philanthropy which has become known to be a prime quality of the new Governor-General and Lady Aberdeen is no of the theoretical kind. Especially does her Excellency take an interest in charitable works which have for their object the amelioration of the condition of the young. At the time of their first visit to Canada their Excellencies were much interested in the accounts they heard of the Hospital for Sick Children, and their enduring regard for the institution was shown by their visiting it first of all the city hospitals.

The Globe of the 28th says:—

THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN.

"Their Excellencies touched the two extremes of youthful conditions within one hour by driving from the Normal School to the Sick Children's Hospital. It was a transition from a roomful of healthy, merry children, gathered from kind and comfortable homes, to an hospital of helpless little ones, whose parents are too poor to give them the care and comfort they require. In the happy scene at the school their Excellencies evinced an unmistakable interest and admiration. In the quiet halls and wards of the hospital they showed a tenderness of feeling which sat more beautifully upon them than their titles or vice-regal honors. They won the hearts of their escort of women managers by their practical philanthropy, and left behind them when they went away a bright bit of memory for the occupants of the little cots.

RECEPTION BY THE MANAGERS.

"They were received upon their arrival by Mr. J. Ross Robertson, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Mr. A. M. Smith, one of the Trustees. They were welcomed in a few words, after which the following ladies, members of the Ladies' Committee, were presented to them:—Mrs. W. H. Howland, President; Mrs. John Harvie, Miss Maria Buchan, Mrs. W. W. Merritt, Mrs. R. A. Donald, Mrs. Wm. Baldwin, Mrs. W. G. P. Cassels, Mrs. J. I. Davidson, Mrs. Dumble, Mrs. C. S. Gzowski, Mrs. S. C. Gundy, Mrs. Henry Hough, Mrs.

C. Heron, Miss Knapp, Mrs. W. S. Lee, Mrs. H. S. Mara, Mrs. C. H. Nelson, Mrs. H. M. Pellatt, Mrs. Edwin Snider and Mrs. Fred. Stewart.

"Their Excellencies then made a tour of the splendid building. They evinced the greatest interest in everything pertaining to the general management of the institution. Many were the questions which they answered and many were the short visits made to the cot-side, where a few words of conversation with the tiny inmates were indulged in. The flowers which had been received from the happy children in the Normal School were taken by the Countess and its roses put into the little white hands of the sick ones. As the party came down the broad staircase they passed the door to the operating room. The door was opened by an attendant coming out, and a glimpse of a small form upon the operating table was seen. Her Excellency turned her face away, with a saddened expression upon it. In the school room a score of convalescent little ones were found, poor, crippled and sickly children, who sang in shrill, unmusical chorus as their Excellencies entered, a verse of "We Welcome You," then "The Maple Leaf" and "God Save the Queen." Then little eight-year-old crippled Arthur Taylor presented Lady Aberdeen with a bouquet of carnations and maiden hair ferns. His Excellency's son, Hon. Archie, in his kilted costume, excited the interest of the children, and one inquisitive one inspected the eagle feather in his Scotch bonnet.

"The completeness of the institution seemed to give the visitors great satisfaction, and the officers of the board were highly complimented.

MR. ROBERTSON AND THE EARL.

"As the Governor-General and Lady Aberdeen were about to leave, and while standing in the beautiful vestibule of the hospital, Mr. Robertson addressed his Excellency saying:—

"I can assure your Excellency that the Trustees and the Ladies' Committee of this, the mother hospital for sick children in the Dominion, recognize the kindly sympathy you have evinced in the good work we are engaged in by honoring us with your presence. Our gratification is intensified by the fact that your Excellencies are both deeply interested in all that is helpful to humanity, and that you have during your sojourn in Canada, in aiding by your presence and good words all efforts that are being made to better the condition of man and womankind, have on this autumn day, when the leaves are falling, not forgotten the helpless little ones, those who cannot help themselves. Your visit has delighted us, and we shall surely inscribe the event in our records as a treasured incident in the annals of this hospital.

"His Excellency, replying, said:—This visit has given us a great deal of pleasure. We are much interested in the work that you and your management are engaged in. We can readily appreciate the completeness of detail in appointments that we have seen in this building, and can well believe that, in addition to being the second largest in the world, it is one of the best managed and most efficient."

Another report said:—

And then a tour of the splendid building was in order. Their Excellencies evinced the greatest interest in everything pertaining to the internal management of the institution. Many were the questions which they answered and many were the short visits made to the cot-ride, where a few words of conversation with the tiny inmate were indulged in. To the children the most notable feature of the visit was the appearance of the stalwart Capt Kindersley, A. D. C., who brought up the rear of the vice-regal party as it moved through the wards. Capt. Kindersley wore the undress uniform of the Grenadier Guards, and the glittering gold lace caught the eye of many a little one.

GAVE AWAY THE ROSES.

Very pleasing was it to see her Excellency send to the vice-regal carriage for the magnificent bouquet which was presented to her by the children of the Model School. The dainty satin ribbon which bound its splendid roses together was cut, and so long as the blossoms held out, each little sick one was given a rose.

ON ARCHIE'S CAP.

It was in the school room that his Excellency's little son, Hon. Archie Gordon, evinced the greatest interest. In his kilted costume he was something new to the young Canadians, and when he allowed an inquisitive one to inspect his Scotch bonnet with the eagle feather standing proudly aloft he immediately became a great favorite, Lady Marjory Gordon, the young daughter of the Earl, was also present and talked with many of the children.

The completeness of the institution seemed to give the visitors great satisfaction, and the officers of the Board were highly complimented. After the tour of the building the Chairman of the Board of Trustees made a few remarks, in which he expressed his satisfaction at welcoming his Excellency to an institution devoted to the care of suffering little children, a charity in which he felt sure their Excellencies took a deep interest.

AN INVALID CHAIR.

THIS IS THE CUT OF A
WHEEL CHAIR FOR INVALID CHILDREN

SAME AS USED IN THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN, TORONTO.

THESE CHAIRS COST $25 EACH,

And any one desiring to contribute to the Hospital funds could not do better than

for the purchase of a chair. Many of the children are unable to walk, and the privilege of moving about the Hospital by the aid of these chairs is inestimable.

Just think of it: $25 will enable a crippled child to move about the ward, look out at the sunshine, and have a small share in the enjoyment of life.

Cheques payable to

THE TREASURER

THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN, TORONTO.
