LINE AFLAME FROM VALENCIENNES TO THE RIVER MEUSE

Germans Resisting Well But Allies Make Headway

Hun Losses in Effectives 50,000; Three Battles in Progress and Allies do Well in All of Them

Paris, Oct. 26.—The battle has flamed up again and heavy fighting is now under way from Valenciennes to the Meuse. The Germans are fighting well everywhere, but the Allies continue to make substantial headway in the task of driving back the enemy on the Meuse line.

Although the recent fighting has been marked by no sensational developments, it is having a cumulative effect which, apart from the ground gained, adds considerably to the waste of men and material with which the Germans must reckon. In the last four days the enemy has lost well up towards 15,000 prisoners and 200 guns. His total losses of effectives cannot have been less than 50,000.

THREE LARGE BATTLES.

Strictly speaking, there are three large battles in progress, all of which are being conducted with equal success for the Allies. The first is being carried on by the British third and fourth armies, which, pushing on towards Meuse, have reached the Valenciennes-Hirson double track railroad.

The second is the attack of General Mangin north and east of Laon, which has resulted in a gain on a front of eight miles for a distance of two miles. He has carried his line out of the swamps around Sisson.

The third battle is being fought by General Guillaumat on a front of seventeen miles from Sisson to Chateau Porcien, where the line joins the Kremslud system of defenses. The average gain has been a mile, although at some points the advance has been greater.

FAVORABLE IN BELGIUM.

London, Oct. 26.—Operations in Belgium continue to develop favorably, according to an official statement issued at the war office last night, which says the French have carried Zulte, in spite of desperate resistance, while the British have occupied the villages of Ingoyheim and Oerghem and are advancing towards the Scheldt river.

VALENCIENNES BEING RAPIDLY BOTTLED UP BY HAIG'S MEN

British Last Night Were On Outskirts of Lequesnoy

FIGHTING IS HEAVY

If Forward Pressure Can be Maintained as in Last Three Days, Valenciennes Soon Must Fall—Moon, in Flanders, is Captured

With the British Army in France and Flanders, Oct. 26.—(By The Associated Press)—The British troops tonight were on the outskirts of Lequesnoy, having driven forward across the Lequesnoy-Valenciennes railway line.

Today's advance greatly increases the menace to the Germans holding Valenciennes, which is rapidly being bottled up.

British patrols late today were operating in the Lequesnoy region, while British infantry had reached the high ground north of Maresches and were attacking the German positions there.

Today's advance greatly increases the menace to the Germans holding Valenciennes, which is rapidly being bottled up.

AT THE END OF THE ROAD.

Enemy Forced To Use Raw Troops Brought From East

Only Twelve Divisions In Reserve On West and None Fresh

TONIGHT YOU CHANGE THE HANDS OF CLOCK

With the British Army in France and Flanders, Oct. 26.—(By The Associated Press)—The heavy losses which the Germans have sustained since the allied offensive began have forced the enemy to use raw troops brought from the eastern front.

The simple ceremony of turning the hands of the clock back an hour will probably be carried out by most people on Saturday morning, Oct. 27, at 2 o'clock, when Canada will abandon daylight saving for the winter and return to the orthodox measurement of time.

The simple ceremony of turning the hands of the clock back an hour will probably be carried out by most people on Saturday morning, Oct. 27, at 2 o'clock, when Canada will abandon daylight saving for the winter and return to the orthodox measurement of time.

At that hour the clock will be stopped for one hour while the sun, which daily has been lagging further behind the nation's clocks, will have a chance to catch up. At the same time the trains on all railroads of the country will stop by order of Director General McAdoo and remain motionless for one hour, then proceed on their way.

HAROLD LINTON AND FRED. G. HAWKS DIE OF WOUNDS

Sad News of Soldiers Comes to Families Here, Including Killed, Wounded and Gassed

Mrs. Averna Linton of Fairville has received the sad news that her son, Private Harold Linton, had died of wounds at No. 54 General Hospital, Auberges, on Oct. 15. Information had previously been forwarded to his mother that the young soldier had been wounded Sept. 29 in the head, leg, arm and foot, evidently from machine gun fire or shrapnel.

Private Linton was only eighteen and half years of age, having enlisted with the 28th Kiltie Battalion when barely seventeen. He was subsequently transferred to the 13th Canadians and in due course went to France on the firing line.

Previous to enlistment he was employed as a blacksmith shop of Samuel T. Cough, Main street, and will be remembered as a bright young man of excellent habits and steady at his work.

Besides his widowed mother, now in the hospital, he leaves his elder brother, Kenneth, who is somewhere in France with the fighting 28th, and two younger brothers, Byron and John at home. To all his relatives the sympathy of the community is extended.

Mrs. F. Newbury of 117 Main street, Indiantown, has received word from her mother, Mrs. X. P. Hawkes of the Range Queens county, to the effect that her brother, Fred G. Hawkes, who left St. John with the 14th Battalion, had died of wounds at the front. Private Hawkes had been transferred to the Princess Pats and it was while in this unit he received his mortal injuries. He was twenty-two years of age.

ANSWER TO WILSON BY THE REPUBLICANS

Declare They Are Strong For Carrying On War and Against Note Writing to German Government

Washington, Oct. 26.—President Wilson's appeal to voters to return a democratic Congress in the November elections if they have approved of his leadership in this critical time, evoked a spirited reply in a formal statement from Republican leaders in the Senate and House and the chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee.

The Republican statement, declaring that the minority party in congress had supported the administration policies since the war with an animity and in absence of criticism unprecedented in party history, pointed to the record as proof.

The war, the Republican statement contends, is not the president's personal war, nor the war of congress, nor of any party, but the war of the people, and declared that the Republican party, representing more than half the citizenship of the country, demands its rightful share in the burdens and responsibilities it imposes.

If given a majority in either or both houses, the leaders said, the Republican party would drive forward the war and hasten victory.

"The Republican party," says the statement, "believes in the question of surrender should be left to Marshal Foch to the general, and to the armies in the field. What they report that Germany has laid down her arms, the United States and the Allies should then impose their terms. Will that knowledge cause dejection to those who are fighting with us? All the world knows that the Republican party is opposed to negotiations and discussion carried on in diplomatic notes addressed to the German government. The Republican party stands for unconditional surrender."

MARRIAGES AND BIRTHS.

Eight marriages and nineteen births—twelve girls and seven boys—were recorded during the week.

Agree To "Regulation" Of The Alsace-Lorraine Question, Says Self

Amsterdam, Oct. 26.—As for Alsace-Lorraine, it is at once clear that as these territories were expressly mentioned among President Wilson's fourteen points, we agree to regulation of these questions," said Dr. W. S. Solff, German foreign secretary, in addressing the Reichstag on Thursday. (In the same address referred to President Wilson said that "the wrong done to France by Prussia in 1871 in the matter of Alsace-Lorraine, which has unsettled the peace of the world for nearly fifty years should be righted.")

"Moreover," having accepted President Wilson's programme as the basis of the entire peace work, Dr. Solff continued, "we will loyally and in the sense of complete justice and fairness fulfill the programme in all directions and at all points."

FREE LOVE BUREAU

Bolshevik Decree Shows Lengths To Which They Will Go

London, Oct. 26.—(British Wireless Service)—Russian maidens under the jurisdiction of certain provincial Bolshevik services become the "property of the state when they reach the age of eighteen years and are compelled to register at a government bureau of free love," according to the Official Gazette of the "Vostok" Soviet and Workers' and Soldiers' Deputies, which recently published that Soviet's decree on the subject.

Under the decree a woman having registered "has the right to choose from among men between nineteen and fifty a co-habitant husband." The consent of the man chosen is not necessary, the decree adds, the man chosen having no right to make any protest.

A similar privilege of choosing from among the registered women is given every man between nineteen and fifty, "without the consent of the woman."

This provision is described as "in the interest of the state." Opportunities for choosing husbands and wives is to be presented once each month. Children born of such marriages are to become the "property of the state."

Death of Charles Leococ.

Everyone In Alberta Must Wear Gauze Mask When Outdoors

Edmonton, Oct. 26.—All persons in the province of Alberta will be compelled to wear a gauze mask outside their own homes or residences except when it is necessary partially to remove the mask for the purpose of eating. This order was issued by the provincial board of health yesterday.

Turkey About To Quit War

Offer of Peace Which is Near To Unconditional Surrender

Rumors of Preparations For Demobilization of Austrian Army -- Anarchy Reported In Part of Hungary -- Many Signs of Collapse

London, Oct. 26.—A Berne despatch to the Daily Mail says that the Turkish minister to Switzerland has handed the British and French ministers to that country an offer of peace virtually amounting to surrender.

WHISPER OF AUSTRIAN DEMOBILIZATION.

Basel, Switzerland, Oct. 26.—Vienna newspapers are publishing articles relative to preparations for demobilization of the army. One newspaper says that two infantry regiments, stationed at Karlowitz, have revolted. Karlowitz is a village in Croatia, Slavonia, Hungary.

PEACE AT ANY PRICE FAVORABLE.

Paris, Oct. 26.—In well-informed circles it is said that the nomination of Count Julius Andrássy as successor to Baron Burián, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, is above all important from the viewpoint of a conclusion of peace and an application of the "safety first" principle in Austria. It is said that peace at any price is now popular at Vienna and Budapest.

The Zurich correspondent of the Journal says that the new foreign minister is understood to be a partisan of direct peace negotiations with the Entente without recourse to the offices of President Wilson. He says that the situation in Austro-Hungary is such that the monarchy will soon capitulate and throw itself on the mercy of the Allies.

The Czechs are now master of the situation at Prague. The Slovaks have decided to change the name of Pressburg to Bratislava. The Ruthenians of Galicia have declared for a separate Ukrainian state comprising regions of Austria-Hungary inhabited by Ruthenians.

Anarchy Reported.

It is reported that anarchy reigns in the ancient Danubian monarchy of Hungary. The correspondent says that in Austria no notice is being taken of decisions arrived at by Berlin.

Viscount Bryce.

London, Oct. 26.—Former Bryce, former British Ambassador to the United States, speaking at a luncheon given by the American Club to the Inter-Allied parliamentary committee yesterday, said in discussing President Wilson's note to Germany: "It is the straightest, simplest and most candid expression of opinion that has been given in my lifetime. It is one of the great qualities of a friend to be candid, then Germany has a good friend in America. We have the right to insist that the peace shall be in accordance with our military victories."

TO BE MAIN MILITARY HOSPITAL HERE

Military Authorities Plans For Use of School For Deaf, Lancaster

Brigadier-General Macdonnell, G.O.C., military headquarters, announced this morning that the militia department has taken over the School for the Deaf, Lancaster Heights, to be utilized as a military hospital. The hospital is to be known as the St. John Military Hospital, and is to be the main military hospital on the city. The St. James street and Pitt street hospitals are to be kept open to accommodate the overflow from the new hospital. The militia department in addition to buying the building, have purchased the three and a half acres of ground surrounding it. The work of remodeling the building is to commence at once, and it is the intention of the military officials to have the hospital in readiness for the occupation of about seventy-five patients within the next two weeks.

General Macdonnell said this morning that the residence on the property will be occupied by the medical staff and that in the spring it is intention of the militia department to erect new buildings on the property and have the hospital put in such a condition that it will accommodate 150 patients.

The doctor to be in charge of the new institution has not as yet been named, but Major Jost, Senior Medical Officer of the district, it is understood, has several names under consideration.

The grounds surrounding the institution the reversing falls and should prove an ideal spot for such a hospital as the military officials intend to make out of the present structure.

DEATHS IN CITY IN WEEK 48

Eighteen Due to Pneumonia and Ten Caused by Influenza

The St. John death rate this week is much below the average for this time of year, no fewer than forty-six being reported to the Board of Health. Out of this number twenty-one were from pneumonia and ten from influenza. This, however, is comparatively light in comparison with other places where the population is smaller than in St. John.

The list follows: Pneumonia, eighteen; influenza, ten; broncho pneumonia, three; senility, two; malnutrition, two; peritonitis, myocarditis, meningitis, convulsions, gastro enteritis, cholera infantum, heart disease, capillary bronchitis, hemorrhage of spinal cord, cerebral hemorrhage, and epithelioma of lip, each one.

ANTI-GERMAN AUSTRIANS LEAVE ON A SECRET MISSION TO SWITZERLAND

Zurich, Oct. 26.—Prince Frederick Lobkowitz and Baron Nauderby, who represent the strongest anti-German tendencies at Vienna, have left that city for Switzerland, charged with a mission about which no details are given, according to a Vienna newspaper.

HORSES IN QUEBEC LUMBER CAMPS HAVE INFLUENZA

Quebec, Oct. 26.—News coming here from lumber camps in La Tuque and that vicinity, show that horses have been known to fall sick with what is called there, the horse influenza. The beasts cough, their nostrils run, then the animal dies from what seems to be congestion of the lungs.

Two men were before the magistrate this morning charged with drunkenness. They were each fined $8 or two months in jail.

STIFF FIGHTING FOR THE AMERICAN TROOPS

Washington, Oct. 26.—Heavy fighting on the Verdun front is described in General Pershing's communication for Friday. Strong German counter-attacks were repulsed by the Americans. West of the Meuse the American lines were further advanced in the face of determined resistance.

MILITARY HEADS
GATHER AT PARIS

Basel, Oct. 25—(By the Associated Press)—The German war cabinet considered President Wilson's reply at a long session yesterday, according to the Frankfort Zeitung.

It was decided not to answer at the present time, but to wait until it is learned what the Entente armistice conditions may be.

Washington, Oct. 25—Arrival in France of Colonel House, President Wilson's personal representative, and Admiral Benson, the highest ranking officer in the American navy has cleared the way for the beginning of such deliberations by the supreme war council at Versailles as may be necessary to frame the draft of an armistice to be submitted to Germany. The premiers of the Allied countries, who make up the political elements of the council, can be assembled at short notice, but it is presumed that their presence will not be necessary until the military and naval members have completed their work.

It was said today in official quarters that Colonel House would not be a member of the council, at least for the present;
that he simply is the eyes and ears of the president in Europe charged with ascertaining the exact state of public and private feeling in regard to all matters connected with the war. Possessed of full knowledge of this nature, it is believed that the president will be better prepared than heretofore to deal with every complex problem that will arise as soon as negotiations for an armistice and peace are fully under way.

LOCAL BOARD OF TRADE DISAPPROVES
OF WESTERN JAUNT

Proposition From Quebec is Considered Ill-Timed—The Committee to Consider the Charges on Business Profits Tax.

Having received special permission from the board of health the council of the board of trade met yesterday in regular session. This is the first time in the history of the board that permission to hold a meeting has had to be secured from the board of health.

A communication was received from the Quebec board of trade respecting the proposition of T. M. Keirstead of Three Rivers, and Toronto, for the building of thirty wooden steamers of 3,000 tons each for the handling of Canadian grain through Canadian ports rather than allowing it to go through American ports. The Quebec board suggested that twenty-five delegates each from Quebec, Halifax and St. John boards of trade make a tour of western Canada and during this tour interest the grain growers and exporters in routing their grain through Canadian Atlantic ports.

The Quebec board had prepared an itinerary. The local board council thought that the time was inopportune to take the proposed trip, more particularly as the federal government had already outlined and decided upon its shipbuilding policy.

A communication from the maritime branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was received which dealt with the proposed maritime conference on December 11, and the local board was requested to send a delegation to this convention, which is to be held at Amherst. No action was taken in the matter pending further information. A resolution from the same body respecting the fire waste in this country was received. This matter was referred to the special committee of the board dealing with fire insurance.

A letter from Captain A. V. Sefcovich, royal consul for Serbian relief, was received, asking that a Serbian relief committee be formed in this city. The communication was referred to Mayor Hayes for treatment.

The Winnipeg board of trade wrote, forwarding a resolution which called for certain changes in the composition of the Canada Food Board. The resolution stated that in the opinion of the Winnipeg board each province of the dominion should be represented by a member of the Canada Food Board, and that there should be three members from Germany's Food Outlook.

Germany and her allies face another serious food shortage. Rumania and the Ukraine, which were counted on to supply a large part of the Central Powers' needs, will themselves have a shortage and will have nothing to export.
A drought is responsible. Rumania provided the Central Powers with 8, 000,000 tons of grain last year, but this year it really needs imports to fill its own needs. The Ukrainian supply is disappointing to the Germans, and may be regarded as negligible. The German crop is of average dimensions. Hungary is the same, but Austria has a crop failure. Hence the Central Powers face a hard winter in respect to food conditions.

Reconstruction Committee.
(Guaranty Trust Company of New York.)
Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts, has introduced a resolution proposing the establishment of a joint Congressional Committee on reconstruction composed of six senators and six representatives.
His resolution, which is complete in every detail, provides for the investigation of and recommendations on twelve major subjects of reconstruction as follows:
Labor, capital and credit, public utilities, demobilization of industrial and military resources, foreign trade, continuance of existing industries and establishment of new industries, tariff, agriculture production and distribution of coal, gasoline and other fuels, shipping, housing conditions and disposition of temporary structures erected by the government, war legislation with reference to its repeal or extension and all activities resulting from the change of war necessities to pursuits of peace. In support of such an investigation the senator urges that "unless we act promptly we shall lose a great part of the commercial advantages we have obtained during the war, especially in the early days, and we will have much confusion, which it will take a long time to overcome."

You CAN bring theatrical amusement home to YOU, even though theatres and other public entertainments are forbidden. You can hear, right in your comfortable living room, the latest hits from "Chin-Chin" and other light operas, catchy, rollicking song favor-concert stage. And so far as the enjoyment of the music is concerned there's not a shade of difference between hearing the artists in the flesh and hearing those same artists' Re-Creations on

"That's a pretty strong claim," you say. It's true, though, every word of it—literally true. And the famous Edison Tone Tests fore audiences totalling more than 2,000,000, some 30 Edison artists have sung in direct comparison with the instrument and challenged

IT CONCERNS US ALL

If Germany decides not to agree to unconditional surrender the war will be prolonged into next year. It is still a long way from the Allied front to the German border, at points where an invasion of Germany would be most likely to succeed. We must take nothing for granted. This is no time for cheap and easy optimism, but for a succession of blows that will ensure complete victory as early a date as possible. This involves, as an American paper puts it, "the force that will save food, provide funds, build ships, raise armies, equip and man destroyers and win the war." All is going well, but it must continue to go well, and every man and woman must contribute in some way.

"The enemy must be given war until every German from Kaiser to peasant sprints at the very thought of it. Until the Prussian tiger's claws are clipped and his fangs completely drawn there can be no possibility of a lasting peace."

Canada's soldiers are doing their part nobly, brilliantly and with glorious results. The people of Canada must subscribe the $500,000,000 of Victory Bonds needed to back up Canada's soldiers and keep the country prosperous.

The man or woman who buys a Victory Bond has exactly the same security as if the amount were deposited in the government savings bank, and the interest is much higher.

On Monday the great campaign begins in this city and province. Everybody will want to share in it for three reasons:

- 1—To help win the war.
- 2—To keep Canada prosperous.
- 3—To make a safe and profitable investment.

The appeal comes as strongly to the citizen who can only buy a fifty dollar bond as to one who can afford the very best fifty thousand. It is everybody's opportunity, privilege and duty. This province will not fall down. It has always responded nobly, to every appeal, when there was no question at all of a cash return. The canvassers for the Victory Loan next week should find everybody ready to welcome them.

ON TO VICTORY.

The Allies on the western front are meeting with determined resistance. The enemy has, however, sustained heavy losses, and one of today's cables from the British front says there are only twelve enemy divisions available in reserve, and none of them fresh. The Americans are meeting with the hardest resistance, because they are driving against a portion of the front that is vital to the Germans, and the smashing of which would involve far greater disaster than failure to hold positions farther north. In spite of the hard fighting the Americans are gradually advancing, and inflicting heavy losses on the enemy. The British have gone beyond Valenciennes, both north and south of the city, and have only to gain a little more ground to compel its evacuation by the Germans. The British and French continue to advance slowly but surely in Flanders. The harder the enemy resists the more severe are the losses, which cannot be made good. If the Austrian divisions should presently be withdrawn the situation of the Germans would be more desperate.

In the eastern area the Allied forces have entered Roumania, and begun the deliverance of that country. The Serbians are also driving the enemy and freeing Serbia. In Northern Russia the Allied forces have defeated the Bolsheviks, and there are signs that the opposition to the latter in Russia itself grows more and more formidable. In Palestine the British are still in pursuit of the Turks. In every fighting area the Allies are making gains. The renewed activity on the Italian front has resulted in an improvement of the Allied position.

Meanwhile the German Socialists are beginning to clamor for a republic. The Turkish minister to Switzerland has handed to the British and French ministers a peace offer that is said to be virtually a surrender. There have been reports in Belgium that the German army is retreating. The Standard reports that the Czechs are masters of the situation in Bohemia. There is talk of direct peace negotiations with the Entente, and one cable says peace at any price is now Vienna paper says two of the strongest popular anti-German noblemen have left Switzerland on a secret mission. The early collapse of both Turkey and Austria-Hungary seems a foregone conclusion.

The war does not stop because there is an epidemic of Spanish influenza. The Victory Loan campaign must also go on. It will be hampered by the epidemic in some sections of the province, but this only furnishes a stronger reason for a more vigorous general effort to attain the objective.

THE UNREPENTANT LIAR.

The last German note contained this paragraph: "The German government protests against the reproach of illegal and inhuman actions made against the German land and sea forces and thereby against the German people. For the covering of a retreat, destructions will always be necessary and they are carried out insofar as is permitted by international law. The German troops are under the most strict instruction to spare private property and to exercise care for the population to the best of their ability. Where transgressions occur in spite of these instructions the guilty are being punished."

Over against this statement let us place the cable report of what the British found when they entered the city of Roubaix. It says:

"The people had not seen fresh meat for a year. Salt pork and rice were issued to them every seventeen days. The inhabitants were forced to work in vegetable gardens, but were not allowed to eat what they had grown. Old women, who were held responsible for the acts of children, such as writing in French or criticizing the Germans, were imprisoned. The Germans extorted money by every possible trick. One story was told of how a child had been killed by a German soldier whom it annoyed."

"Prices were so high as to make decent food prohibitive, even when it could be secured, which was seldom. The Germans simply helped themselves to anything they wanted, no matter who owned it."

This is how they spared private property and exercised care for the people. In other cities conditions were found to be still worse, especially if the Hun had time to plunder and destroy before running away. When the whole story is told it will stagger humanity. There can be no peace by negotiation with these bandits and murderers. The next and succeeding generations must be made safe from even the possibility of another such war. Not to achieve that result would make the Allies share the guilt of the Hun.

GERMANY'S FUTURE.

British and American students will not rush to German universities after the war. There will be no exchange of professors to promote German kultur. Tourists will not be interested in German scenery after seeing the results of German devastation in Belgium and France. And who will trade with Germany, or desire to purchase German goods? We can imagine the reception the first German vessel would get in any port in England. The memory of these years of war and of the hideous atrocities committed by the Germans will not soon fade in the countries with whom they would under other circumstances do their most profitable business. As they have sown, so shall they reap. We do not waste sympathy upon a wild beast, and Germany has proved herself a tiger-nation. Her people must learn in some tribulation the lesson that between nations as between individuals right must prevail, and that the God of the universe is not honored by Kaiserism and its clamorous brood of baby-killers. To say the other nations should now deal leniently with Germany is equivalent to saying that the cage of the jungle tiger should be left open in order that he might seek his own food among his captors. The tiger of the Rhine is not to be tamed. It is a long process, but therein lies the safety of Christian civilization.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

One of the most lamentable developments in connection with the patriotic potato enquiry is the apparent doubt or suspicion that has entered the mind of the Standard concerning the veracity of Mr. W. B. Tennant. There is a popular belief that Mr. Tennant is or was a director of the Standard, which makes the case the more lamentable. Mr. Tennant has testified that the late Premier Clarke asked him to get some friends to assist and make up the potato shortage; that he expressed a willingness to do so if he got the Valley Railway contract; that he got the contract, and thereupon paid to Mr. George B. Jones, by Premier Clarke's direction, the amount required. Mr. Jones asked for $61,200 and got it. He has told what he did with it.

This is a straightforward story. But the Standard appears to have its doubts. It has twice referred to the fact that Premier Clarke is dead and cannot speak for himself. Does the Standard think Mr. Tennant has been telling a falsehood? Or has it made up its mind that his usefulness is over? The serious phase of the situation is of course the danger that Mr. Tennant may think it worth while to tell all he knows about the Standard group; and that, with an epidemic of influenza upon us, would be horrible.

Spanish influenza continues to take its daily toll and to seek new victims. It is still necessary to exercise the greatest care. In Alberta every person is compelled to wear a gauze mask as a precaution.

APRES LA GUERRE.

I've stood waist-deep in the trench pure, I've marched in a daylight trance, With my boot tops drinking the sodden mess, Blood-soaked on the fields of France. And I've grovelled low in the reeking dirt, When the heaven itself rained lead; When the heavies pounded our trenches flat, And the best of our boys were dead.

I've followed hard, with my blood on fire, In our own barrage's wake, While I thirsted for life to take; I know what it's like to bomb men out Like rats with no right to live, And to feel regret to be facing death With only one life to give.

I've trodden the darkness of No Man's Land, And cursed the infernal wire That holds men glaring, defiant, dead, Face still to the trenches fire; And I've stood stark and when the flames went up:

Ah, a moment is time untold, When the universe, with a single eye, Looks into your naked soul.

Oh, I know the thrill when the battle's on, And life is the merest chance; And I know the depths of the peace of God In the quieter vales of France. And the barracks room and the bivouac I know, and shall not forget, Nor the stern, sad joy of the men who live, And who die—but do not forget.

Do you think I would miss it—the blood, The torments of bursting shell— To feed my soul on the coward's lie, That another might serve as well? No, I'll keep my trust with my mates, out there In their graves' heath the open sky; Like a man I'll play in a manly game, Like a man, if need be, die.

But I'm thinking still of another time— 'Tis the thought of my comrades, too— A thought of the time when the war is done, And of what we will say and do, What of the days when the war is done, Dull, dreary, without this strife? God! Do you think we have fought for fun? We have fought that we might have LIFE.

LIFE! and the freedom to tread again The path of a thousand goals; To speak our thoughts of the world, and to God, As they burned in our war-born souls; LIFE! to build on a new-wrought plain.

With woman a builder too; And to touch with the torch of our Old tasks, and to make them new. (This poem was written by a young theological student now at the front.)

A DAYLIGHT SUGGESTION.

The daylight saving time will after tonight cease to exist for this year and once again the hands of the clock will be turned back to Atlantic standard time. Very few people will object to the extra hour of sleep that is in store for them tomorrow morning, but undoubtedly it would have been much more welcomed had it come on, say, Monday morning. Sunday, under present conditions, is a very quiet day and to most people the opportunity for an extra hour of sleep would have been more appreciated on any other day of the week. Before retiring tonight put the hands of the clock back one hour or advance the hands eleven hours, which secures the same results without danger of damaging the timepiece.

SCHIR, EFFORT ABANDONED.

It was learned last evening from an unofficial source that the crew of the schooner Effort, which was sighted by the steamer Empress, dismantled, at 8:10 o'clock yesterday morning about eleven miles south-southeast of Partridge Island, had landed at Windsor (N. S.), and that the schooner had been towed into Digby. It is believed that the schooner ran into a gale on Wednesday night and the crew were forced to abandon her. The vessel was light and bound up the bay.

SPANISH INFLUENZA RAGES IN CANADA

Thousands of Cases Reported With Many Deaths THOSE WHO ARE MOST SUSCEPTIBLE TO IT

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" — The Wonderful Fruit Medicine — Gives the Power To Resist This Disease.

The epidemic of Spanish influenza which played such havoc in Europe, has reached this continent. Thousands of cases of the strange malady have appeared and many deaths are already reported. Surgeon-General Blue of the United States Public Health Service having stated that "Spanish influenza will probably spread all over the country in six weeks."

Practically every ship which touches on shores from abroad, brings those infected with the disease. Surgeon-General Blue urges that "the individual take all the precautions he can against contracting the disease by care and personal hygiene." Plenty of exercise should be taken; the diet should be regulated, etc.

Spanish influenza affects most severely elderly persons and others whose powers of resistance are weakened by illness, work or worry, especially those who are "run-down" or "not feeling up to the mark."

The really great danger from the disease is not so much in the disease itself, as that it often develops into pneumonia.

What everyone needs now is a general tonic like "Fruit-a-tives." This wonderful fruit medicine is not a germ-killer. It is a body-builder, a strength-maker, a blood-purifier; a power in protecting against the ravages of disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" regulates the kidneys and bowels, causing the organs to eliminate waste regularly and naturally as nature intended. "Fruit-a-tives" keeps the skin active, and purifies and enriches the blood. "Fruit-a-tives" tones up and strengthens the organs of digestion, insuring food being properly digested and assimilated.

Everyone can take ordinary precautions, avoid crowded places, and use "Fruit-a-tives" regularly to insure sound digestion, to keep the bowels and kidneys regular and the whole system in the best possible condition. Then we are safe from disease.

"Fruit-a-tives" sold by dealers everywhere at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Oshawa, Ont.

AVOIDING INFLUENZA

N.S. Health Department Circular Warns Public Not to Pin Faith on Camphor Bags and the Like

A press circular issued by the Nova Scotia Department of the Public Health, on "Avoiding Influenza," says:

"The public is warned against pinning faith to the use of camphor bags, gargles, throat sprays, etc., as preventives of influenza. It should be realized that the germs of influenza, and of the pneumonia which so often complicates it, will resist immersion in strong germicidal solutions for several minutes, and could not possibly be destroyed by the odors from a camphor bag or similar device. Gargles and throat sprays may do harm rather than good, by irritating the mucous membranes and rendering it less resistant to bacterial invasion, so they should be used except upon the advice of a physician.

It cannot be too strongly urged that safety lies particularly in avoiding close association with those who are ill, and, as many cases are mild and strongly resemble ordinary colds, those who have colds should be kept at a distance. The infective agent is given off in the discharges from throat and nose, and in the fine spray which is ejected in the acts of coughing, sneezing and loud talking. Such spray is ejected to a distance of from four to ten feet. Keep out of its range.

Resistance to its attack by the small number of germs which may be present in the air of well ventilated places

RECEIVE COMMUNION FOR THE INTENTION OF FIELD MARSHAL FOCH

Baltimore, Oct. 21—Speaking at the celebration today in honor of Cardinal Gibbons' fiftieth anniversary as a bishop, Mr. William Barnes, Catholic chaplain of Oxford University, England, asked the cardinal to appeal to the Catholic children of America to receive Communion on behalf of Marshal Foch and to pray for the Allied cause.

He said that Cardinal Gibbons had written him as follows:

"The act of faith which the children of Great Britain have made for my intention has profoundly touched me. Please express my gratitude to them and beg them to continue their prayers for the victory of our just cause."

Since that, said Mr. Barnes, Marshal Foch has sent the following:

"I am still depending on the prayers of the children. Ask them to go to Communion for me again and again."

Bishop Keating of Northampton, England, said that the Catholics of both America and England had been further united by their work in the common cause in the way of the late war.

M. de Carter, Belgian minister to the United States, was among the guests, as was also Mr. Handhart of the French Academy and rector of the Catholic University of Paris.

The British and French delegations expect to call at the White House in Washington tomorrow.

Issued by Canada Food Board.

"GOOD-BYE, SUMMER"

It is characteristic of the young of Canada that they like to ply the gentle art of Isak Walton and land suckers when they can. Just as they bid farewell to amateur fishing for the season they can launch forth on a great fishing campaign, beginning, but not ending, on the 31st of October, National Fish Day.

Last year Canadians ate only 29 pounds of fish per capita. This year they are asked to eat 32 pounds—or a pound a week. Make National Fish Day a day of resolutions. Make it the beginning of a systematic run on the stores for the best substitute for meat that we have.

Food Board Flashes

So severe is the shortage of food in Friesland, Holland, that there is a veritable epidemic of thieving. Potatoes, beans, peas and corn have been disappearing like magic. Fowls and ducks have been vanishing overnight, too. Thieft of food have become so common in some localities as to necessitate a large increase in the police force, with additional constabulary for the protection of property.

LEMON JUICE WHITENS SKIN

Girls! Make beauty lotion at home for few cents

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quart pint of the best bleaching and skin whitening lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how tan, redness, sallowness, sunburn and windburn disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

A Senseless Discussion. "Every man has a right to his own opinion," said the argumentative man. "That's what I say," exclaimed Senator Sorghum, in a tone of slight irritation. "What is the sense of your putting up a discussion in an effort to take my opinion away from me and substitute yours?"—Washington Star.

Rheumatism

Rheumatism has become so common nowadays that hundreds of people make no effort to rid themselves of its fatal grip, believing it to be ineradicable save in exceptional cases.

No greater fallacy exists. Sufferers from rheumatism can be relieved if the cause is remedied and removed.

Let us examine the facts. The direct cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is poisoning of the blood stream, through failure of the kidneys to filter and remove the impurities that are constantly collecting in the system.

Once the kidneys are out of order, the trouble starts. The poison-laden blood circulating through the system deposits its impurities in the muscles and joints, setting up infection, and Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, etc., follow.

The first step necessary is to bring the kidneys to perform their natural function once again, and relief will be the immediate result. GIN PILLS will do it, and will save weeks of fearful suffering if taken at the first indications of rheumatism.

GIN PILLS have been recognized as an assured relief to sufferers from rheumatism, backache, painful urination, brick dust deposits, and gravel. Thousands of testimonials bear witness to the fact that they relieve kidney or bladder troubles instantly. Try them. For sale everywhere at 50c a box. GIN PILLS cost little, but are worth a lot. Sample free on request.

We Must Help Russia
(Toronto Star Editorial.)
Public opinion outside of Russia does not seem to have got beyond condemning the Bolsheviks, and such emphasis is laid on their misdeeds that there is a tendency to lay upon their shoulders all the troubles of that unhappy country. The diagnosis is simple—so simple as to be foolish. The mischief had been done before the Bolshevik appeared on the scene as lords of maraud. The Bolsheviks no doubt deserve to be scolded, but scolding them or even crushing the movement will not restore Russia.

SITUATIONS WANTED

RELIABLE CAPABLE WOMAN who can do light housework, or light housekeeping to do. Middle-aged or elderly couple preferred. Address T 62, care Times. 86760-10-30

When the Russians were fighting on our side we lent a ready ear to the most favorable opinions of their character. We idealized them. Possibly we went to extremes in our enthusiasm, but a generous enthusiasm is a failing that leans to the virtue's side. Let us not now fly to the other extreme, and imagine that the whole nation is rotten because it failed to place the Russians in such a position that they can manage their own affairs in their own way, and develop their own political genius.

Sid Says:

Now That the Kaiser is Here --- How Do You Like Him?

(By John M. Sidal, Editor of The American Magazine.)

Take another look at Emperor William. We are beginning to see a great deal of him. It seems to me that I run into him everywhere I go. And whenever I see him, I find that he has a lot of new instructions to give me—orders to hand out—things that I shall or shall not do.

A few weeks ago, I thought I would go up to the golf club and get a little exercise. When I got there, I found that this bird had preceded me and closed up the place. The clubhouse looked like Belgium, cold and desolate. No more coal until further notice,—by order of German Willie.

It's the same way at home—heat turned off, lights turned down, sugar nearly gone. And the Emperor at the bottom of it all. If it weren't for his ambitions, things would be back where they were.

At the restaurant where I eat my lunch, William has taken charge of the kitchen and the dining-room. He tells me what I can have and what I can't have—mostly what I can't have. He has lowered the quality of the food, raised the prices and fixed it so that I have to yell my head off to get anything at all. Aside from that, he's a perfect host.

The old boy follows me to the office. Say, William, have a heart! It would require a couple of hundred thousand words to describe the help he is to me in my business—with all he is doing to upset the mails, the railroads, and the processes of manufacture and delivery. On the whole, it is more fun these days to sit at home and shiver than to go down to business and sweat.

Yes, sir, the Emperor is with us every waking moment. It took quite a long time for him to get over here, but he has arrived, bag and baggage. And he has established personal relations with each one of us. We are having extensive dealings with him, and we are not finding the relationship very satisfactory. He's a domineering, dictatorial nuisance. He's also extravagant. His present schemes have cost about seventy-five billion dollars and four or five million lives. He is the bull-headed promoter type that gets in wrong—and hang the expense! There's nothing to be done but to get rid of him. If we let him have his way now he will go right on rocking the boat. He loves authority, likes to boss. Give him the rope and there will be more wars and plenty of them.

John Bull has set out to fire this man. And we agree that the thing must be done. So rake and scrape every penny you can find and put it in toward finishing the job. Buy Victory Bond and take some of the arrogance out of this would-be guardian of the world. You will get all your money back—with interest at 5 1/2 per cent.

All join in the chorus—W-E D-O-N-T W-A-N-T T-H-I-S G-U-Y. We have had a taste of him—and we don't like his work. We have been monkeys once. The scientists tell us we were. But let's not allow this kind of a specimen to make monkeys of us again.

MATTER OF PLEBISCITE ON HARBOR COMMISSION

If it is found necessary to hold a recall election, and the labor men say it will, advantage may be taken of this opportunity to take a plebiscite on the harbor commission proposals at the same time, and thus save the expense of a separate vote. It is hardly likely, however, that the common council will be able to arrange this, as the city must wait for a fairly definite agreement with the government before submitting the matter to the citizens and this will take time.

In fact, Mayor Hayes said this morning the government may not wish to commit the dominion to the nationality of the port until the proposal has been ratified by parliament.

DEATH OF MRS. NANCY DANIELS

A highly esteemed old lady in the person of Mrs. Nancy Daniels, widow of Capt. Wm. J. Daniels of Hopewell, Albert county, passed peacefully to rest at the home of her daughter, Miss Aletia Daniels, and Mrs. Zetta, at 110 1/2 Hasen street, this forenoon, after a comparatively short illness, chiefly due to advanced age. She was in her eighty-eighth year.

Mrs. Daniels, despite her years, enjoyed her faculties up to a short while ago. She was able to attend to little household duties, but a local illness due to heart weakening caused a rapid decline. She was bereaved of her husband, who was lost at sea, when yet a young woman and when her children were mere toddlers. So throughout the remaining fifty-eight years Mrs. Daniels and her children were constantly together, excepting a son, William J. Daniels, whose home is in Whitman, Mass., but who visited his mother frequently or had her visit him. An adopted daughter, Miss Annie Rhoda, survives, along with the children mentioned. Albert M. Hoar of the Western Union staff of telegraphers is a grandson. There are three other grandchildren in the Daniels' home at Standard Oil Chinese trade.

Mrs. Daniels was a daughter of John Edgett, one of Albert county's pioneers, and after whose Edgett's Landing is named. She was of the sturdy stock of people who gave the neighboring county such impetus in the early days, and throughout her life, saddened as it was by the loss of her partner in a sea tragedy, she at all times exercised a kindly, charitable disposition towards all. Her adoption of a motherly home, who was brought to womanhood under her benign care and who helped care for her benefactress in her declining years, exemplified in one direction the character of the woman.

A private funeral will be held on Monday, at which Rev. D. J. MacPherson of the Central Baptist church will officiate.

THE RECALL

In connection with the recall proceedings a prominent official of the labor organization said today that they had now the names of 850 electors recorded and sworn to on their list requesting the recall of Commissioners McLellan and Hilyard and that 200 more names were in sight, but not yet handed in.

He said that just so soon as the health officials lifted the ban on public gatherings there would be held a public meeting for the nomination of candidates. While the labor organization was bearing the brunt of the work necessary to bring about the recall, he said, it was the intention that nominations should be made in open meeting by the public. Whether it would be on the floor of the house or through a nominating committee would be a matter to be decided at the meeting.

For Part Term Only.

There has been a little uncertainty in some quarters regarding the term for which a city commissioner elected by recall proceedings would hold office. The common clerk said today that the act shows clearly that a commissioner so elected would hold office only for the unexpired term of his predecessor and would have to face another election at the end of that period.

MACHINE SMASHED TO BITS

Finds Wounded Soldier While Making Way to Lines Over Shell Swept Land—An Iron Cross Gift From Hun Prisoner

In a letter home, written on September 28, Flight Lieut. W. A. Mildon Carter, son of Dr. W. S. Carter, superintendent of education, gives the following account of having his machine shot down while he was flying with his squadron over the German lines:

"I've been shot down—yes, but and in No Man's Land at that. But I'll try to tell the story decently.

"In our very successful advance yesterday, our squadron was doing low flying, shooting up Hun troops—(this is the worst job we have to do). I had done some very nice work among the blue uniforms with my guns and bombs, when that! I was hit in the engine and my petrol pipe shot away—and I saw a few Hun men with very little height, guide west to our lines. The ground was a honey-comb of shell holes and fresh ones were appearing faster than I could count them—a lovely place for a forced landing—I don't deny it. I saw that I must crash and, believe me, I did—no peach. My machine was match-wood and I was on my old head in the very middle of our barrage—just ahead of our tanks. I got out of my 'bus (or rather his wreckage) and started west, and you can take it from me it would have been a smart Hun that caught me. He luckily my middle name is Speed. Well, on my way west, I had occasion to stroll into several shell holes with my head well down. In fact, I was on my face in them. But in one of them I found a Tommy who was thinking about the same thing I was at that particular time. The trouble was, he was badly wounded. He faintly after we had gone a short way, and I had to put him on my shoulder. The Hun at this time appeared to have some particularly spite on me, for his shooting was close—oh so close. I heard a whistle overhead and a few men, then I heard a "wunk" and I looked over to see what it was, and there was only a cloud of smoke and no men at all.

After a while we got to a very deep Hun dugout, which was looking good to me. I took the Tommy down, and we stayed there for two hours. Then I got a Hun prisoner to carry my back. One of these Hun-ponies to my machine in the distance, and asked me if it was a beauty, made of silver, or of field glasses, three bayonets and belts, a flashlight, etc. etc.

Then I started west again. If I went on my face once on the way back, I did it fifty times. You know the way a shell comes—a whistle overhead and a "wunk"—well, when you hear that whistle it is an irresistible desire to break—fall flat, in fact. Well, I did. Now they tell me that once you have heard the whistle, it's no good to duck for the shell has already passed over. That's all very well, but I'll say this: Any man that says that and practices what he preaches is a damn brave man—and I'm not.

Eventually I got back to a battery, and they gave me—what do you suppose?—a glass of whiskey, and strange to say, I drank it—all.

I hopped on a lorry after walking about 100 miles, more or less, and eventually got back to the squadron in ten hours. They say I was a funny sight with the Iron Cross on my breast and all the aforementioned souvenirs decorated about my person. But they were glad to see me. They had wired to headquarters that I was missing—believed killed—one of them had seen me crash. But I'm all right.

This is a great war, but I'd rather be in the air than on the ground—after yesterday.

FINE AMERICAN TRIBUTE TO KING

His Majesty's Address to Inter-Parliamentary Delegates and Comments by Boston Transcript

(Boston Transcript, Editorial.) King George appears in an admirable light in his address yesterday to the inter-parliamentary delegates who visited him at Buckingham Palace.

WHAT DID YOU DO?

(By The Lumberman Poet, Douglas Malloch, a Native of New Brunswick) When the war has been won, When our duty is done,

When the years have gone by, And the pages are dry, That the story of struggle record; With democracy sure,

SURRENDER AFTER WILD GUN FIGHT WITH MONTREAL DETECTIVES

(Montreal Herald.) In a furious exchange of gun and revolver shots between several detectives and four men in an automobile at 2:40 o'clock this morning through streets in the north end, one of the most exciting man hunts in many days ended with the capture of three men, the escape of a fourth, the recovery of "jimmies," crowbars, cold chisels and other tools and three revolvers which the fugitives, it is said, threw away, after emptying every chamber at the detective pursuers.

To you from falling hands we throw The Torch—be yours to hold it high; If ye break faith with us who die, We shall not sleep though poppies grow In Flanders' fields.

Through all these dark, uncertain days, our soldiers have held aloft and brightly burning, the sacred torch of freedom

On Monday, for a space, it passes to our hands. Does it pass to hands less eager—hands less worthy?

The world shall know our answer!

On Monday we will be asked to buy Victory Bonds—the sinews of war.

Our obligation is clear. Our duty is unmistakable. Victory Bonds are the weapons with which we at home can strike and strive for freedom.

This solemn thought shall possess us: Until the Victory Loan 1918 is assured our duty is not accomplished—our task is incomplete.

From every province, city and town; from every county, township and farm of our country will come forth a mighty flood of money. The word will ring around the world that Canada's gold, no less than Canada's soldiers, is Germany's uncompromising enemy.

This surely will be our message to our sons—Carry on, brave souls! Canada's treasure is not a laggard in the fight. Eager hands are stretched to catch and hold aloft forever the Flaming Torch of Freedom!

The Victory Loan 1918 Opens Monday

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada

A Reuter despatch to the Canadian Press thus reports the visit referred to: King George today received at Buckingham Palace a large deputation of inter-parliamentary delegates, including the British, French, Italian and Belgian representatives. His majesty, speaking in French, recalled the earlier visit of the inter-parliamentary committee of the French chamber of deputies at the time when the French soldiers were sustaining with unquenchable valor the shock of enormous enemy forces at Verdun.

They were charged with attempted burglary at the tailor establishment of Alfred Lecclair, 684 St. Denis street, and pleaded not guilty. They were remanded for enquete until next week.

OF PRIESTHOOD IN THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND. The Rt. Rev. Bishop Cassels, D.D., ordained assisted in the service by Archdeacon Ku, Rev. C. H. Parsons and Rev. H. H. Taylor. On the same day Rev. D. R. Yang and Mr. Williston's assistant the Rev. C. A. Liao were admitted to deacon's orders.

TO FIGHT EPIDEMIC. Five Hundred Gallons Whiskey Turned Over to Omaha Hospitals by Court. Omaha, Neb., Oct. 25—Five hundred gallons of whiskey, held by county authorities as evidence against alleged "boot-leggers," was ordered turned over to Omaha hospitals, to be used in the fight against Spanish influenza. The order was signed by the entire district bench.

Wounded And Dead In Freedom's Fight

Dorchester, N. B., Oct. 24.—C. S. Elson, chief keeper of Dorchester penitentiary, has received a telegram from Ottawa informing him that his son, Charles Wesley Elson, has been officially reported killed in action on September 28. Mr. Elson was the first of many Dorchester boys to answer his country's call, enlisting with "Anderson's Battery" at gunner early in August 1914.

Previous to enlisting he was employed at the Royal Bank of Canada, Dorchester. He was only seventeen years old at the time, but very large for his age, and a fine specimen of young manhood. He had a kind, cheerful disposition and was liked by all. He crossed to France with the "Old originals" and was with his battery in all their engagements. His friends feel it was very hard that he should go through so much and get killed when victory was in sight. His home friends in Dorchester and elsewhere sympathize with the bereaved parents in the loss of their only son. Besides his parents four sisters survive. Mrs. Frank E. Meadows, Dinton (Alta.); Elizabeth E. Burns, Brookton (Mass.); Jeanie W. and Carrie D., at home, to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate brother.

That Captain Slader has shown his ability as a soldier is recognized. Going over as battery sergeant-major, he has been promoted on the field to the rank of captain. He has also won many honorable decorations. His many friends in St. John and throughout the province wish him a speedy recovery from his wound.

Private Albert E. Walker, adopted son of William T. Craig of Nashvassick is reported killed in action. He was gassed some time ago but returned to France. He crossed to England as a pipefitter with the 28th MacLean Highlanders.

Word was received by his relatives in the city that Private John Fletcher of McGivney Junction had died of wounds. Private Fletcher enlisted with the 140th battalion and later transferred to a well-known New Brunswick unit. He appeared in the list some time ago as wounded in the arm. He recovered and went back to France. On August 27th he was admitted to hospital at Boulogne suffering from gunshot wounds in the head. News has been received that he died of the wounds received. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. Fletcher, six brothers, William and James of Littleton (N. H.); Arthur of Napadogan; Albert in France; Norman of McGivney Junction and J. A. ### India's Great Problem

Nobody Knows How to Educate Her 300,000,000 People

(Christian Science Monitor)

For many years past, those who have known India best have recognized that one of her greatest, if not her greatest, problem was that of education. It is, of course, a problem recognized as ever more important in many countries, but in India, where it is a matter of educating more than 300,000,000 people, all but a few per cent of whom are still illiterate, the question seems peculiarly vast. It is, moreover, like everything else in India, a complex question, and one that does not lend itself to any short cuts or heroic methods. To the education enthusiast, who does not stop to consider the matter, there would appear to be no reason why the government should not, by a stroke of the pen, decree compulsory education for every child in India. But as Sir Harcourt Butler, perhaps one of the greatest authorities on the question, pointed out some time ago, quite apart from the question of money, which the enthusiast might insist should not enter into the matter, there is the question of teachers.

"Where," he asks cogently, referring to such a suggestion, "do we get the teachers to train the boys and girls of a people of 316,000,000?" In addition to this, there is the question of such a measure might provoke, a distrust which would largely defeat the purpose of the policy, for the natives are suspicious of reforms, and their conservatism is deep-rooted. Nevertheless, a characteristic of Sir Harcourt's attitude, as it is of all who come to know India well, is one of enthusiasm. "Those of us," he said, "who have seen what opposition has been overcome by the optimists for the future."

It is just this spirit of discerning optimism which characterizes that part of the Montagu-Chelmsford report on reforms in India dealing with the question of education. The paragraphs in which this subject is discussed are characterized by that same frank analysis of defects and shortcomings which is characteristic of the whole report. Space does not permit of course, nor permit any adequate consideration of the proposals contained in the report, but stress is there laid upon one point which is indeed worthy of emphasis.

There can be no question that, as the report insists, education in India has largely failed because, in the prize-worthy effort to avoid forcing "the mind of India" into an alien mold, education has been made far too much a question simply of intellect. So much has this been the case that the Indian has come to look upon Western education entirely as a means of "getting on"; not as something which will help him to a larger outlook and to opportunities for public service, but rather as something which will widen the gap between him and the masses. The result has been a class of the most pressing needs of India to foster more widely in the schools and colleges, those ideas of duty and discipline, of common responsibility and civic obligation on which a sound political life depends.

It is specially welcome to find that an increasing number of prominent Indians are beginning to recognize the truth of this contention, and the importance of securing for their fellow-countrymen an educational system rightly founded.

Grand Falls, Oct. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Estey received notice on Tuesday that their son, Private Hyman Estey, had received a gunshot wound in the thigh on October 14. Private Estey is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Estey. He enlisted in the 104th Battalion going overseas in June, 1916. Later he was transferred to the 98th and has seen much service, having been through a great deal of severe fighting. A brother, Private Richard Estey, fell at Vinny Ridge. The young soldier's many friends trust that good news may soon come from him.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott C. Merritt have been notified that their son, Signaller Allan P. Merritt, had been admitted to No. 7 Canadian Hospital, Leestonport, on October 4, suffering from shrapnel wound in the knee.

Signaller Merritt was, before enlisting, teller in the Royal Bank of Canada. He enlisted in the 140th Battalion, in 1916, being then but nineteen. After going to England he was transferred to a High-land battalion in which he was serving in France. Like many more of our heroes he has seen much service. About a year ago he was wounded in the leg, and in August of this year, was slightly gassed. In a recent letter to his mother he told that not long ago he and one of his friends found a piano which they took into their dugout and had music every night to keep their spirits up.

George Flanagan Killed.
That his brother, George Augusta Flanagan, had been killed in action, September 26, was the distressing news received from Ottawa by Daniel P. Flanagan, teamster Ungar's Laundry, yesterday morning.

Private Flanagan, aged about thirty-two years, went overseas with the 8th Field Ambulance, August, 1917, shortly afterwards was transferred to the infantry, and had been in France about six weeks. Before going overseas he had been employed by the firm of Gibbon & Co. and Ungar's Laundry. His mother resides at 28 Douglas avenue, in the city that Private John Fletcher of McGivney Junction had died of wounds.

Private Fletcher enlisted with the 140th battalion and later transferred to a well-known New Brunswick unit. He appeared in the list some time ago as wounded in the arm. He recovered and went back to France. On August 27th he was admitted to hospital at Boulogne suffering from gunshot wounds in the head. News has been received that he died of the wounds received. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. Fletcher, six brothers, William and James of Littleton (N. H.); Arthur of Napadogan; Albert in France; Norman of McGivney Junction and J. A. Fletcher of Vaneboro and by five sisters, Mrs. Thomas Harvey, Mrs. Arthur Quartermain and Mrs. Robert J. Baxter of this city and Mrs. A. Stewart and Mrs. C. Stewart, of McGivney Junction. He is also survived by four half brothers.

IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT FOR REV. ALFRED ROY
Father Alfred Roy, pastor of St. Thomas' church, Memramcook, has been appointed successor to the Very Rev. St. Dion, C. S. C., as taking over provincial superior of the order of the Holy Cross, who died on October 8. The new Canadian superior will be born in Quebec, but had spent the greater part of his life in New Brunswick and has been connected with St. Joseph's for a great many years. Few priests in the province are more widely known. Hosts of his friends will join with his parishioners in regretting his departure from the province, but all cordially congratulate him on a well-merited appointment.

India's Great Problem
Nobody Knows How to Educate Her 300,000,000 People

(Christian Science Monitor)

For many years past, those who have known India best have recognized that one of her greatest, if not her greatest, problem was that of education. It is, of course, a problem recognized as ever more important in many countries, but in India, where it is a matter of educating more than 300,000,000 people, all but a few per cent of whom are still illiterate, the question seems peculiarly vast. It is, moreover, like everything else in India, a complex question, and one that does not lend itself to any short cuts or heroic methods. To the education enthusiast, who does not stop to consider the matter, there would appear to be no reason why the government should not, by a stroke of the pen, decree compulsory education for every child in India. But as Sir Harcourt Butler, perhaps one of the greatest authorities on the question, pointed out some time ago, quite apart from the question of money, which the enthusiast might insist should not enter into the matter, there is the question of teachers.

"Where," he asks cogently, referring to such a suggestion, "do we get the teachers to train the boys and girls of a people of 316,000,000?" In addition to this, there is the question of such a measure might provoke, a distrust which would largely defeat the purpose of the policy, for the natives are suspicious of reforms, and their conservatism is deep-rooted. Nevertheless, a characteristic of Sir Harcourt's attitude, as it is of all who come to know India well, is one of enthusiasm. "Those of us," he said, "who have seen what opposition has been overcome by the optimists for the future."

It is just this spirit of discerning optimism which characterizes that part of the Montagu-Chelmsford report on reforms in India dealing with the question of education. The paragraphs in which this subject is discussed are characterized by that same frank analysis of defects and shortcomings which is characteristic of the whole report. Space does not permit of course, nor permit any adequate consideration of the proposals contained in the report, but stress is there laid upon one point which is indeed worthy of emphasis.

These days the worry and strain on the nerves is tremendous. Almost daily we are shocked by learning of the death of some prominent man.

The unusual strain has proved more than he could bear.

Many who have worked just as hard as standing the strain because of the attention they have given to keeping their vitality at high watermark.

Some are able to do this by outdoor exercise and a carefully regulated diet, while others find they cannot get back into condition without the help of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This is the most natural and most rational treatment imaginable, for it supplies in condensed and easily assimilated form the vital substances which go to form new, rich blood, and thereby feed the nerves back to health and vigor.

As an illustration of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is doing for business men just read this letter:

Mr. William H. Kennedy, Gloucester Street, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "For the last two years I have been suffering from run-down condition of the system, gradually getting worse all the time. Last summer, during the hot weather, doing extra work brought on the climax. I was taken with nervous prostration, feeling dizzy, sick at my stomach, the nerves in my arms and legs twitching so that I could not keep still, while at the pit of my stomach the nerves would beat quite perceptibly. I have given many remedies a thorough trial, patronized several doctors, and spent hundreds of dollars without getting any relief. I was even in the hospital for a short time, living on eggs, I was told that there was no hope. I could not eat nor sleep, with no ambition to get around very much. I was so bad that I could not even ride on a train. While at the store a traveler advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and give them a good trial. After the second box I saw that it was getting better, so I continued taking it according to directions, until now, when I am on my sixth box, I am feeling able to do my work, can eat well and sleep well at night. I feel that I cannot recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food too highly."

TWO LONDON POLICE

Exciting Man Hunt Over Garden Walls Follows and Ends In Arrest.

Milford Granger, a Canadian, although only eighteen, showed up as a powerful, fully-built fellow when he appeared at Lower Bridge police court in London. Stated to have been an absentee from his regiment for about three weeks, he was wearing a light-colored civilian suit, and was charged with the attempted murder of the two constables.

Inspector Storey said he saw Granger at the Cannon Row police station on Friday, Sept. 20, and charged him with the attempted murder of Constables Williams and Richardson of the Metropolitan police force, by shooting them with an automatic pistol at Waterloo station that day.

He replied, "It was an accident. I did not mean to shoot them."

Witness produced a statement which, he said, was made by Granger and signed by him, but which was not read to the court.

Answering the magistrate, the inspector stated that the constables were both wounded, and were at present in hospital. One was shot in the knee and the other in the thigh. The injury received by one of the officers was somewhat dangerous.

Granger's Statement.

In his statement to Detective Sergeant Farrant, Granger said he deserted from Wiley Camp about three weeks before. He went into a cottage just outside Guildford, and, having received permission to wash himself, he took some food. He explained that he was not in uniform at the time, as he had bought a suit of civilian clothes a week previously, and that he had the automatic pistol, having purchased it from a soldier who had just returned from France. Proceeding, he said:

"When I left the cottage where I got the food, I walked to the railway station, and left by train about 12 o'clock for London, and arrived at Waterloo station about 2 o'clock. As I was leaving the station I was stopped by two men, who I thought were constables. One of them said to me, 'We are looking for you,' or 'We want you.' I asked them to show me their cards, but they did not do so. There were two soldiers hanging on to the constables, and they (the police officers) threw me down."

"As I fell the revolver came into my hand. I picked it up, and it went off four times. One of the officers fell down. I afterwards saw them both lying on the floor. I think one of them got up and ran after me. I held the revolver in my hand all the time. I ran down out of the station into a road, and through the hallway of a house, into the back garden, and got into a shed. A cigarette case and a policeman's warrant card I threw into a tub of water outside of the shed. I was not there above ten minutes before I heard someone outside. I then came out and gave myself up to a sergeant of police. I am very sorry that this has occurred."

Another account says that the London police had received a telephone message from the police at Guildford stating that a man whose description they gave, was wanted for house-breaking, and was believed to be then in a train due shortly at Waterloo.

Constables Williams and Richardson were dispatched to the station to meet him, and awaited him at the barrier of No. 9 platform. They recognized him from the description given them, and told him he would have to accompany them to the police station for inquiries.

At first Granger made no demur, and walked with them until near the station exit. He then suddenly raised objection to his detention, exclaiming, "I want to see your authority."

The constables insisted, whereupon Granger stepped back, whipped a service revolver from his hip pocket, and fired at the legs of the constables, both of whom fell to the ground.

Before any of the startled passers-by could stop him, Granger had bolted down the approach slope of the station.

A corporal of the military police immediately gave chase, meanwhile blowing his whistle to summon the civil police, and a military police sergeant also raised the alarm at another place.

Revolver in hand, and with only two shots of the magazine expended, Granger raced his hardest, keeping up the advantage which his start had given him. He turned to the left into York street, and cut across into Lambeth square, which, unfortunately for him, has but one approach.

Finding himself held up, he crossed the square, and ran through the open doorway of No. 25, stumbling along through a passage, then descending half a dozen stairs, and entering the back yard, which is flanked by seven feet walls.

The sealed the wall to his left, tearing away a water pipe in his attempt to gain a footing; he crossed a similar yard at the rear of No. 24, and negotiated a second wall; and in the yard of No. 23 he fell foul of a clothes-line, and foundered into a tub of water. There Mrs. Dudley, the occupant, made a plucky attempt to hold him, clinging to his legs, but after threatening her with a revolver, he took refuge in a little wash-house, where he was found.

Inquiry Into Death Of Late George Kimball

Had no Explanation for Suicide When Arrested "Fell Asleep and Woke up in Hospital"; Doctors and Police Officials Give Evidence Before Coroner

"I could not tell you, sir, all I know is that I fell asleep and woke up in the hospital. It is all a mystery to me." Thus spoke the late George Hartley Kimball to Detective P. F. Biddiscombe in the guard room of the central police station on the morning of October 16, the day before he passed away, following a series of rather tragic circumstances and an investigation of which Dr. F. L. Kenney, coroner, last evening, held the first session of an inquest. Kimball attempted suicide in September, recovered, left the hospital, was arrested on October 16 and died the next day. Six witnesses were examined, Dr. H. F. Abramson, chief of the Provincial Laboratories of the Public Health Department, who made the post mortem examination; Dr. T. E. Bishop, who attended Kimball in the hospital previous to his discharge from that institution; Police Magistrate Ritchie, who allowed Kimball his freedom following the submission of a doctor's certificate that he was ill; James P. Cunningham, city turnkey, Dr. G. O. Baxter, who treated Kimball in the jail, and Detective Patrick F. Biddiscombe, of the local police force.

The evidence of Dr. Baxter probably proved the most interesting. He said that in his opinion Kimball's wounds in the throat had not been healed and his condition as he found him in the jail was such that it would not warrant his discharge from the hospital. "The jail was no place for a man in his condition," said Dr. Baxter. Speaking of the cause of death the witness said that the air passing in and out through the open cuts in the throat, which he had found, he considered would have something to do with his death.

Dr. H. F. Abramson, on the other hand who performed the post-mortem, testified that the wounds in the throat were sufficiently healed and that they had nothing to do with death. He gave the cause of death as heart trouble from which the deceased had been suffering.

The jury displayed unusual interest and attention throughout the entire session and questioned and re-questioned all the witnesses at length.

The jury is composed of Messrs. N. S. Springer, foreman, Thomas Armour, Ira Kierstead, Robert McAfee, W. A. Steiper, G. G. Wetmore and W. E. Craft.

Dr. H. L. Abramson, chief of Provincial Laboratories of the Health Department, was the first witness. He said that he held the post-mortem examination and that the heart showed small induration. The left side was particularly infarcted, which had probably been going on for some time. There was a perceptible feebleness of the heart muscle which was also diseased. The heart was of bad shape. The heart muscle was unable to pump the necessary blood into the heart. The lungs were spongy with evidence of chronic tuberculosis. The liver showed secondary phenomena which would follow from the heart condition. The kidneys displayed a chronic condition while the spleen also showed an acute condition and degeneration. In the brain, skull and covering there were no changes. On the outside there were no signs of any harsh or violent treatment. To the coroner the witness said that there was strong evidence of heart disease. The wound in the neck had healed, practically speaking, and was not the cause of death.

To Jurymen Steiper the witness answered that relative to the discharge from the hospital he had nothing to say. To Jurymen Steiper he said that the acute condition of the spleen might be brought on by excitement. Under ordinary conditions a man might live a long time with heart trouble. Some, on the other hand, go out quickly.

Dr. Bishop. Dr. T. E. Bishop said he was on duty at the General Public Hospital during the deceased's stay there. He was the surgeon who discharged Kimball from the hospital. He was suffering at the time of his discharge from a wound across the throat. This had been practically healed. His general condition was good, but he was somewhat weak. The patient had been out on the porch each day and had gained much strength. He did not remember the date of discharge. He gave him instructions to take perfect rest, especially out of doors. Witness had made no diagnosis of the deceased's heart. Kimball had been about the ward when he began treatment. There were no signs of insanity. He was bright and cheerful.

To Jurymen Steiper witness said he was doing public work at the hospital when he was treating Kimball. He was as to being telephoned from the police station, witness said that he had received a call to phone to the police station when he came in, but that there was nothing in the call to indicate that he was to see a patient there. He telephoned the police station when he returned to his office and got in conversation with the desk man, who informed the witness that he knew nothing whatever about the message and no word had been left there so far as he knew. This would be about 6.30 o'clock in the evening.

To Jurymen Craft witness said that heart trouble would not be noticeable even as bad as the post-mortem had shown. He had no cause to make a searching examination into Kimball's general condition.

Police Magistrate on Stand. Police Magistrate R. J. Ritchie, sworn, said that he remembered hearing of Kimball's illness and of his being brought before him and discharging him. "What day was that?" asked the coroner. "I can't remember," said the magistrate, "but I think it was yesterday week."

"Don't you remember seeing him before?" "No. Perhaps you had better not ask me how things are done here now," remarked the magistrate.

The witness said that he did not remember having seen Kimball before and brought there by Detective Duncan. "Well, how did Kimball get in jail in the first place?" again asked the coroner.

"In the ordinary way, if the man was arrested he would be brought before me and then remanded to jail. I can't remember that," retorted the magistrate. "The police sheet used to be able to tell that, but there is no police sheet nowadays."

The magistrate said that the first intimation he had of the man's illness was when he had seen a doctor's certificate, and upon the strength of this he discharged him. The police book was here produced in court, and the magistrate read from it of Kimball's arrest. It said: "George H. Kimball, arrested by Detective Duncan, 10 in the morning, forty-one years old, belonging to New Brunswick, charge, attempting suicide at his home, in Newman street, September (date of month undiscernible), 1918."

This was the record in the police book under date of October 16, which was Wednesday. "According to law," continued the witness, "the man should have been brought before me before noon of that

BLOOD-MAKING MEDICINE

It took centuries for medical science to discover that the blood is the life. Now, it is known that if the blood were always abundant, rich and pure, very few people would ever be ill. It was not until the end of the 19th century that an instrument was invented for measuring the red part of the blood. Then doctors could tell just how anaemic a patient had become, and with medicine to make new blood the patient soon got well. All the blood in the body is nourished and kept rich and red by the food taken daily, but when, for any reason, a person is run down and cannot make sufficient blood from the food to keep the body in health, then a blood-making medicine is required. The simplest and very best of blood-makers suitable for home use by anyone, is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When a course of these pills is taken their good effect is soon shown in an improved appetite, stronger nerves, a sound digestion and an ability to master your work and enjoy leisure hours. For women there is a prompt relief of, or prevention of ailments which make life a burden. As an all-round medicine for the cure of ailments due to weak, watery blood no medicine discovered by medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

day he was arrested. In all probability he was, but I could not remember this being done."

The magistrate here explained to the coroner and the jury what the course was when a man was arrested in years gone by. "But I tell you there has been no proper police sheet before me since Jones was arrested."

Being further asked about the arrest, etc., the witness replied that probably Duncan or some one else could answer the questions he was being asked. "I personally have no record but according to law all persons arrested should be brought before me," said the witness.

To Jurymen Steiper witness said that he had seen Kimball in the jail, but that he did not remember having seen Kimball before and brought there by Detective Duncan.

The magistrate explained that his clerk keeps the record and he presided as judge of the court.

In reply to a question, the magistrate said that it certainly would be the duty of a policeman to arrest a man for attempting suicide.

ball was when he had been told he was in jail by the deputy sheriff. Wm. J. Cunningham.

Relative to jail records witness produced two sheets, one read: "George Kimball, attempted suicide, remanded verbally, not exceeding three days." This was dated October 16, and was signed "By order of P. M. (Police Magistrate)," with the clerk's signature attached. This was dated October 17.

To the coroner the witness said that he would take it that Kimball was before the court on October 16 and remanded to jail and was brought into court again the next day when he was evidently allowed to go.

To Jurymen Steiper witness said he had felt the responsibility for the prisoner's safety. The man seemed nervous but he did not consider his condition serious and therefore he personally did not telephone for a doctor although there had been two calls put in for one.

He considered the patient to be in his right mind. There was no complaint from Kimball about Dr. Bishop not questioning the patient to be in his condition as serious. The heart condition of the man was not good. The pulse was beating rapidly and he would not consider the deceased to have been in a suitable condition to be discharged from the hospital.

"In fact I did not think he was discharged. I was under the impression that he was sent out to come back daily for treatment. But I guess he was sent out apparently to make room. However, I think he would be all right to go to his home as long as he did not go any great distance."

Questioned about the condition of the man's lungs the witness said this might develop in two or three days. He had requested his discharge from the jail as soon as he saw the condition of the man that he considered the immediate cause of death might be due to the condition of the lungs and the general heart condition and added that the shock of the arrest would, in his opinion, have something to do with his death. He was afraid his condition as he saw it in the jail might cause death. He did not make a very minute examination to come to

MESSAGE OF SIR THOS. WHITE TO THE PEOPLE OF DOMINION

We are offering to the people of Canada the Second Victory Loan. Its success is of the most vital importance to our continued prosecution of the war and the maintenance of prosperity among all classes of the Canadian people.

For what purpose is the money raised by this loan to be devoted? Firstly, for the noblest purpose to which money can be applied; namely, for the equipment, support and maintenance of Canada's forces at the front.

They are fighting today for you and for me. They must be kept supplied with food, clothing and ammunition, which can only be made available by the Canadian people furnishing the necessary money.

For what further purpose is money required? To furnish the credits with which Great Britain purchases in Canada supplies for her civil population at home and her armies in the field.

What does this purchasing mean for Canada? It means that the farmer finds a market which he otherwise would not have for his wheat, cheese, live stock and other products.

The proceeds of last year's Victory Loan caused an immense distribution of money in Canada. Without that loan our agriculture must have languished and hundreds of our workshops would now be closed.

The money raised by our Victory Loan will all be spent in Canada and will inure to the benefit of all classes of our population. We are asking you, not to GIVE, but to LEND your money.

I earnestly appeal to all to do their full duty. We are Canadians. We are engaged in the greatest war of all time. It is the national purpose and determination to "carry on." We shall NEVER let up until victory is ours, and the world is safe for liberty and civilization.

BUY VICTORY BONDS BUSHY WINTER FOR THE HARBOR

Prospects Point to Tremendous Increase in Steamer Traffic During Coming Season—New Schedule of Port Charges

Indications are that seventy-five per cent. more ships will call at the port of St. John this year than during the last winter port season. It will be remembered that St. John's export trade last year alone totalled $200,000,000.

For the last four years the export trade of the port of St. John has risen by leaps and bounds. In 1915 it totalled $84,000,000; in 1916, $120,000,000; in 1917, $190,000,000; and in 1918 the peak load was reached when the port's exports reached $200,000,000.

With a total of thirty-five ships per month this year in comparison with an average of twenty ships a month last year, or more than one ship per day, those who are conversant with the export trade of St. John feel that a conservative estimate of the export trade during the next winter season, allowing for smaller steamers now in the trade, will be $250,000,000.

Commissioner Bullock, of harbors, ferries and public lands, is in receipt of a report which would indicate that the number of vessels scheduled to make St. John their port during the coming winter season will justify the assertion that St. John will have a seventy-five per cent. increase over the preceding year in its waterfront activities.

The sheds at West St. John have been placed in good shape for the coming season and by the middle of next month it is believed that trans-Atlantic steamers will begin to call at this port. It will be remembered that last year the west side docks were worked to capacity and it will be only by the very best distribution of facilities this winter that the export machinery will be able to keep pace with the demand. The news, however, that St. John will enjoy increased waterfront activities this season will no doubt be received by citizens with no little degree of satisfaction.

New Harbor Rates. While the civic authorities were of the opinion that shippers in this city would not raise objection to the proposed increased rates of top and side wharfage by Commissioner Bullock, it was not until yesterday that their minds were settled on this point.

Commissioner Bullock yesterday had an interview with prominent shippers of this port during which he discussed with them his entire schedule of increased rates and asked them their opinion in this connection.

While it may be possible that Commissioner Bullock's interview of yesterday may result in the alteration of some of the details of his increased schedule, it will more than likely remain largely in its entirety as he first drafted it.

Commissioner Bullock has not yet made an estimate of the additional revenue which will accrue from his new schedule but if it is adopted by council many thousands of dollars additional will be received into the public treasury from the department of harbors, ferries and public lands.

The interview of yesterday would indicate that the shippers have been anticipating some such increase in freight rates for some time and that it will only be in an isolated instance that any objection will be raised to the new order of things.

At the after-noon disjunct precautionary regulations to prevent the spread of the disease are being put into effect. ONE MORE INCREASE FOR STEEL WORKERS.
Sydney, N. S., Oct. 25.—Official announcement was made at the steel works yesterday that all rates for employees whose earnings on August 31 last were less than forty-five cents per hour would be advanced two and one-half cents per hour and that all other rates would be advanced two cents per hour, and that these changes were retroactive to last September. This means that all employees will receive with their pay for the last half of October a bonus equal to the amount of the extra pay for two months. This is the third general revision of rates made during the current year in addition to or in many cases partial revision, the combined effect of which is to raise the average daily wage of all employees over the dollar above the corresponding average for the year 1917—equal to about 33 1/2 per cent. This follows an advance of 22 1/2 per cent between the years 1916 and 1917 and 15 per cent between the years 1915 and 1916 and makes the average daily wage of all the employees nearly double what it was in pre-war days. The minimum rate for unskilled labor has increased 114 per cent since January, 1916. —BUY VICTORY BONDS— G. G. R. Auditor, George N. Palmer, chief clerk to the late Charles F. Burns of the C. G. NEW SEAMS OF COAL DISCOVERED AT BEERSVILLE

Drilling Tests by Group of Capitalists Yield Excellent Results—New Shafts to be Sunk Eventually. Reports reaching The Telegraph are to the effect that several new seams of coal have been discovered at Beersville, Kent county (N. B.). It will be remembered that some months ago a group of Nova Scotia capitalists, headed by J. T. Cumming, of New Glasgow (N. S.), acquired this property and began its development. During the last few weeks prospectors have been on the ground, drilling in order to discover whether or not there exist outcroppings of coal in this area other than those which were partially developed by the parent company. The experiment proved highly satisfactory and the drilling process uncovered several seams of coal which with proper development should prove remunerative to the owners. It is understood that hoisting will begin on the old seam within the next week or so and that the quality of coal will be of a very high order. No new levels have been driven at the present time, but the owners state that they intend to sink new shafts and drive new levels on new seams within the next two months and the daily hoisting totals will be increased as rapidly as the labor market will permit. It will be remembered that the provincial government would not permit the dismantling of the railway line between Beersville and Adamsville, where the coal seams are located, and this road, together with its rolling stock, will be used in the development of these coal areas. SPORT NEWS OF THE DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

RING.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Cal Delaney, a Cleveland lightweight, was today selected as the final boxer to represent the Great Lakes Naval Training Station in the King's Trophy bouts at London next month. Ritchie Mitchell, Pat Moore, Dennis O'Keefe, Jack Heinen, and possibly Leo Schneider will be the other members of the Great Lakes team to make the trip.

Jess Willard to Box for War Work.

New York, Oct. 25.—In accepting the proffered services of Champion Jess Willard to help the war work campaign boxing division, the sports committee thanked him by telegram today. They suggested that the best financial results would be obtained from a six to ten round, no decision, bout in this city at Madison Square Garden, which would be available on November 16 or 23. The names of Dempsey, Lavinsky, Coffey, Mehan, Nisike and Fulton were mentioned from which Willard could choose an opponent.

Fleming to Claim Title.

Cleveland, Oct. 25.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, is reported to have retired. The featherweight leader intends entering business after the war. This report is credited to Jimmy Dunn, who as manager, piloted Kilbane to the title. Dunn has assumed the management of the title. He has assumed the management of the title. He has assumed the management of the title.

With Retirement of Johnny Kilbane, Frankie Fleming, Champion of Canada, who has met and defeated the majority of the candidates for the featherweight title, will lay claim to it. Fleming has proven his right to be considered as a claimant to the title, although he was beaten by Kilbane.

GOLF BALLS TO BE DEARER.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—The price of golf balls is to be advanced soon and the output for the coming year is to be limited by the government to 40 per cent of the production in 1918, according to manufacturers' agents here. It is said that leading makers now selling at $1 each will be advanced to $1.25 and those of a lower grade will be increased accordingly.

The local manager of one manufacturer said that he had been notified by his company to take no more orders for future delivery at present prices, while another manufacturer's agent had already been notified of the advance.

Concerning Bridge

Discussion of the Plea it Shouldn't Be Played in Wartime

(Hartford Courant.)

Is it wrong or improper or impolitic to play bridge in these strenuous times? This is the momentous question now agitating certain feminine minds. In the Chronicle, a New York society magazine, a symposium on this subject was appeared, likewise a pledge entitled "A Solemn Protest Against Bridge," signed by several persons of alleged social prominence added to the game. Among the letters composing the symposium is one from a Boston woman who heartily approves giving up bridge until after the war, and hopes that many will see the wisdom of renouncing it for all time. She thinks it a waste of precious time and "mentally narrowing."

The wife of a New York lawyer dissents from this extreme opinion, and thinks bridge should be treated like other amusements or diversions, as a rest and relaxation to the mind. The wife of a New England governor contributes a lively letter, from which it appears she is an expert player, not a "bridge-fiend" by any means, but one who finds it an absorbing game. She admits that just now intelligent persons can be much more profitably employed than in playing cards, but says very sensibly:

"If an occasional game of bridge, after the day's work is over, is a better tonic for the next day's work in some cases than a contest at golf, or a visit to the theatre, or a quiet hour with a book, I can see no reason to consider it idle or unpatriotic to indulge in it."

She makes the point that every "comfort kit" that we send to our soldiers in France contains a pack of cards, but we do not suppose that the soldiers will wish to use them in working hours, and the same rule should apply to ourselves. The editor of the Chronicle sides with the reformers, and gives his (or her) reasons, some of them curious, for interdicting the game. A woman of some literary celebrity cuts the knot with a clip:

"Of all the persons I have known who played bridge enough for it to interfere with the usefulness of their lives, there has been no one whose time seemed sufficiently valuable for it to matter what he did with it."

The reform has been inaugurated. A

French Cross Danube; Enter Rumania Again

London, Oct. 25.—The liberation of Rumania has begun by Entente forces after a year's occupation by the Germans. Crossing the northwestern portion of Bulgaria at Lom Palanka, southeast of the Iron Gates, French patrols have forced a passage of the Danube and entered upon Rumanian soil.

Huns Resist Stubbornly But Give Ground

New York, Oct. 25.—The Associated Press tonight issued the following: The Germans in Belgium and France still are stubbornly resisting the attempts of the Entente Allied forces to break through their lines and bring about a collapse of their defensive positions. On the whole they are succeeding, but nevertheless on all salient positions under attack the enemy line gradually, but slowly, is being forced backward. In the northern Italian battle front between the Brenta and Piave rivers the Austrians are being put to the test in a new attack by British, French and Italian troops, while in Mesopotamia the British again have gone on the offensive against the Turks and at last accounts were making considerable progress. In Albania and Serbia the operations of the Allied forces are tending toward the slow but sure evacuation of the invaded districts by the enemy forces. In the northern French theatre, the British are centering their efforts south of Valenciennes to cave in the salient between that city and Le Quesnoy and move on toward the important junction town of Maubeuge, with the two-fold purpose of finally encompassing Valenciennes and reaching the Belgian border. Everywhere the Germans are offering the stiffest of resistance but nevertheless they have been compelled to give up the town of Maing and most of the intervening points southward along the railway to Le Quesnoy, which are all but in British hands. Between the Oise and Sere rivers American naval gunners with sixteen inch guns have joined the French in their efforts to hammer their way northeastward toward Hirson, one of the important points in the German line. American shells from these guns are being hurled against both Verdun and Rozoy. Some further progress has been made by the French in this region, but only after the hardest kind of fighting. Likewise on both sides of the Meuse river the Americans have advanced their line notwithstanding the strong resistance of the enemy. North of Grand Pre, which lies in the valley above the famous Argonne Forest, several hills of the utmost importance from a strategic standpoint have been taken from the desperately resisting enemy machine gunners and artillery. Numerous violent counter-attacks have been launched by the Germans against the Americans but all these have been successfully repulsed. It is not unlikely that they soon will be compelled to readjust their entire line from the north of Vouziers to the region of Etain. —BUY-VICTORY-BONDS—

BRITISH FLEET HAS CARRIED 21,500,000

London, Oct. 25.—Figures made public today on the growth of the British navy during the war show that the fleet, including auxiliaries, increased from 2,500,000 tons displacement to 6,500,000 tons, and the personnel from 146,000 to 406,000. Since the outbreak of the war 21,500,000 soldiers have been transported by sea, of which 4,291 were lost. For the requirements of the British naval and military forces more than 86,000,000 tons of stores were transhipped, while more than 24,000,000 tons were taken overseas for Great Britain's allies. Transportation also was provided for 2,000,000 animals. The origin of convoys during the submarine warfare has been an important part of the work of the British navy since March, 1917, from which time there have been 75,929 sailings, with the losses numbering only a few hundred vessels.

Calling On Al

This is told in the Navy: In a baseball game at Constantinople between Turks and the crew of the Scorpion, an American Navy boat, the score was tied. With two men out in their half of the ninth inning, the hopes of the Turk centered on their star batter. As he came up to the plate, he raised his bat before his eyes, pointing it to high heaven, and with uplifted glance he murmured: "Oh, Allah! Give me a good eye!" "One strike," shouted the umpire, as the Turk missed the ball. Again the Turk raised his bat toward the sky. "Oh, Allah! Give me nerve!" he supplicated. "Two strikes," shouted the umpire, as the Turk missed again. A third time the Turk held his bat pointing upward. "Oh, Allah! Give me strength!" he begged. "Three strikes! You're out!" said the umpire. An American sailor came up to bat. He, too, raised his bat before his uplifted eyes. "You know me, Al," he murmured fervently. "And then he knocked the home run that won the game—Everybody's Magazine.
