Why? Butter-nut
Bread

Is Provoking Imitations. Because it is recognized as The Best Bread on the market. These imitations may be good in appearance, but when it comes to eating they seem to lack that feature of genuine Butter-nut Bread that "makes you happy down inside." If you want the real thing note well that the name Butter-nut Bread is printed on every label, and name, ROBINSON, is stamped on the bottom of every loaf.

NOTICE Those who are selling any other bread as Butter-nut should remember that they are liable to prosecution. Butter-nut Bread is registered under Canadian Patent Laws, Trade Mark Register No. 40, Folio 9522.

KERRIGANS IN COURT TODAY;
WILL BE TRED THIS AFTERNOON

Evidence Was Heard • This Morning in the Case Against O'Brien for Robbery and Assault.

When the county court opened this morning the Kerrigan brothers, whose account Judge Forbes had to adjourn the court on Wednesday, were present. The explanation given for their absence was that they were not aware when their trial came up, and when they appeared at the court on Tuesday afternoon they found the place closed. The case will probably be taken up this afternoon.

This morning the case against James O'Brien for robbing a man named Forsythe last Friday on the Shamrock grounds was heard. E. S. Ritchie appeared for the defence.

The first witness was Fred Armstrong, who said he worked for Taylor & White, coopers, on Elm street. He could see the Shamrock grounds from the shop, about one hundred yards away. He noticed three men in the Shamrock grounds. He saw two men take turns pulling the third man to the ground. They did not beat him. The man ran to a shed and the two followed him. Later on the man came back to the grounds with a policeman. The two others had left the grounds about ten minutes before the policeman came. He could not identify any of the three. Wm. Armstrong testified that he saw a strange man running from the grounds about the time of the alleged robbery.

James Adams the next witness said he saw the three men in question on the Shamrock grounds and one of the men was O'Brien. The other two, one of the men, who resembled Forsythe, ran from the grounds and called to witness and others to keep on eye on the other two men.

Sergeant Kilpatrick told of Forsythe's report of his loss and of identifying O'Brien as the thief.

The case was adjourned until Thursday morning to give the defence a chance to call witnesses.

The remainder of the morning session was taken up with a bastardy case. Geo. R. Vincent for the prosecution and Dr. A. W. Macrae for the defence.

Sandford Purchased $1,000 Instrument!

In Liverpool—Gift from Wife's Father

AUBURN, Aug. 30.—It was learned today that the reason Rev. F. W. Sandford of the Shiloh colony at Durham did not sail west at the end of his party on the barkentine Kingdom for the Holy Land was that he had previously taken a steamer for Liverpool.

Prophet Sandford's object in visiting Liverpool is to purchase a $1,000 harp which he will take to Jerusalem. He used in celebrating the feast of the tabernacle, to observe which the pilgrimage is made to Palestine.

The Shiloh "Elijah" could not find the kind of a harp he wanted in this country and so had to go to Liverpool. He had to pay for it was raised by subscription among the supporters of the Holy Ghost and the church.

It was this gift that made possible the purchase of the barkentine Kingdom.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Nothing short of the plainest meat products of labels which will not deceive the public was the ultimatum which Secretary Wilson delivered to forty representatives of various packing houses, who met here today. Hereafter, if the packers want their goods to be used for interstate shipment, they must bear labels more specific than those used in the past. It will not do, for instance, to state merely that a package contains sausage. The label must distinctly describe the article and plainly show that the sausage is made entirely of pork, or pork and beef combined, or of other ingredients.

SENSATIONS AT THE TORONTO FAIR.

Trained Lions Turned on Their Trainer.

He Was Out on the Head and Hand—A Fire in One of the Main Buildings.

CALGARY, Aug. 31.—The Calgary Milling Company has completed an order for 10,000 barrels of flour for China and 1,000 barrels for Japan.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 31.—When the halls of the Great Process Building, the pride of the exhibition of 1906 were congested with visitors last evening, a burst of flame came from one of the booths in the centre of the building and in a twinkling the flimsy decorations of two exhibits were blazing.

There was not a trace of panic in the crowds, although for a minute there was a danger that the fire might get along both sides of the long aisles and hem the people in. But the fire was quickly extinguished.

Patrons of the grand stand who missed the Process Building fire did not lack for a small sensation. Leslie's lions the feature of the vaudeville provided it, and Signor Cardoni, the trainer of the lions, was the principal performer. During the act in one of the feats Cardoni is to sit on one of the lions while another reposes on a pedestal beside him.

Nero, the lion on the pedestal last night, made a strike at Cardoni with his paw and one claw caught the trainer's scalp inflicting a flesh wound. Cardoni refused to quit and the act went on until near the end another lion, Romeo, turned on the trainer for a second and bit him in the hand.

The lions' teeth came together in the flesh part at the side of the hand and Cardoni was able to get away and escape from the cage. The exhibition of trained lions ended and Cardoni went to the exhibition emergency hospital where the wounds were dressed.

CHANCELLORSHIP WAITS TILL
PROFESSOR IS CHOSEN.

Government Will Accept Dr. Harrison's Resignation—Board of Health Matters.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 31.—The government was occupied all morning in hearing a delegation from York county council. The delegation asked that certain amendments be made to the local board of health act. The principal of which was that the chairman of the board in future be compelled to give bonds for the faithful performance of his duty and give every year a statement of accounts to the municipality. The government thought the amendment a good one and agreed to have the act amended accordingly. The delegation also asked the government to refund $184 paid to Dr. Harrison by the board of health for accounts paid him. The government did not see how this could be done but promised consideration.

The premier said that Dr. Harrison's resignation would be taken up this afternoon. Nothing more could be done than to accept the resignation. The government would not appoint a chancellor until the senate had filled the vacant professorship and then the administration would select from the professors.

GIRL IN HYSTERICS
AFTER READING NOTE

A Disturbance in St. Phillip's Church.

Allan Alberts Was Given a Scare—Police Magistrate Talks About Clean Streets.

In the police court this morning one drunk was fined $4 or 10 days jail. He said he was a sailor and lost his money while drunk. He did not have enough to pay his fine.

Allan Alberts, a young colored man, was before the court having been reported by Rev. Mr. Johnston, of St. Phillip's church, for causing a disturbance in the church. Mr. Johnston informed the court that during the service last Sunday evening Alberts was disturbing the service and sent a note to a young lady member who on reading it was so shocked at its contents that she went into hysterics.

Alberts acknowledged writing the note, said he did it before going to church, and did not write it for any particular person. The young lady was given the note as she had persistently requested him for introductions to men.

The magistrate told Alberts that he was liable to two years' imprisonment for writing such a note as he did, but as Mr. Johnston did not wish to press the charge he allowed Alberts to go with a warning and in the future if he attended church he was allowed to go.

Clifford Atkinson, of West End, and Philip Upton, of Montreal, two boys, were before the court on charges of throwing stones on Rodney street. Sergeant Ross said the boys were there for throwing stones at a cat. Upton claimed that he was allowed to go.

John Kindred, the employer of Atkinson, gave the boy a good recommendation and he was allowed to go. Sergeant Ross said the boys were there for throwing stones at a cat. Upton claimed that he was allowed to go.

BARTON GANDY KILLED BY FALLING FROM HIS WINDOW

He Had Been in Poor Health and While the Accident Was Not Serious the Shock Brought on His Death.

A very sad accident occurred at 11.45 o'clock this forenoon, in which Barton Gandy, one of St. John's best known citizens met his death.

Mr. Gandy was resting in his house on Wright street, and while in his room on the second floor of the house raised one of the windows. It is thought he was seized with a fainting fit just after doing so, and fell to the sidewalk below.

James McDonald, a carpenter, who was working on a house opposite Mr. Gandy's residence, witnessed the accident, and in company with one of his men ran over and carried Mr. Gandy into the house.

Dr. Andrews was hastily summoned, but before he arrived Mr. Gandy had breathed his last. One of the peculiar features of the accident, is that no bruises or cuts can be found on Mr. Gandy's body.

Mr. Gandy had been in failing health for some little time and it is believed that in his very weakened condition the shock occasioned by the fall brought about his death.

News of the accident quickly spread over the city, and it was with deep sorrow that many learned of Mr. Gandy's death.

Barton Gandy was a well-known shipping man here about twenty-five years ago. He owned a number of vessels which sailed to southern ports. In late years Mr. Gandy was fruit inspector at the port of St. John, and filled that office in a competent manner.

Besides Mrs. Gandy, who formerly was Miss Daniel of this city, six children survive. These are J. E. Chester of Gandy & Allison; A. B. Dean, of Brock & Patterson; Arthur, clerk in M. R. A's, and Maud and two younger children residing at home.

Mr. Gandy is also survived by three brothers who live in England. Much sympathy will be extended to Mrs. Gandy and the family in their hour of bereavement.

KAISER BOOMS

THE DIVINING ROD

Prince Converts Him to Faith in Its Efficacy.

Experiment in Finding Jewels Hidden by Empress and Princesses Were Successful.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—The Kaiser's latest advice to his nephew is to use a divining rod. He has been persuaded of its value by Prince von Carolath who experimented with his recent residence with the Imperial family. Prince von Carolath found articles of jewelry which has been concealed by the Empress and Princess Victoria Louise. They were located in a spring in the park, where the presence of water was not suspected. Following a subterranean course for some distance at the Kaiser's request, Prince von Carolath informed the Emperor that he had found several mineral springs in the neighborhood of the park, whereupon the Kaiser immediately ordered that a boring test be made. The Kaiser, the Empress, and other members of the royal family tried to discover water, but failed. Prince Carolath, however, discovered water deep in the sand where the Kaiser had been experimenting. The Emperor, after thanking the Prince, said he trusted the mysterious powers of the divining rod would be made generally known, as much public benefit might accrue.

MR. SPENCER BRINGS NEWS OF SUCCESS.

(Montreal Herald.)
C. F. Spencer, general manager of the Eastern line of the Mackenzie & Mann Railway system, who has just returned from an inspection of the system in Cape Breton and Nova Scotia, brings news of remarkable activity in the province and speaks with the certainty of the success of the company's coal properties at Inverness, in Cape Breton, as well as the line of operation throughout their entire length along the picturesque coast and beautiful Annapolis valley.

Mr. Spencer, in answer to the Herald's inquiry as to the output of the Inverness mine, replied that it is now being worked day and night. The force employed at the mine is being increased daily, and the general manager declares that the number of men employed will be increased from 800 to 1,000. The coal has been found to be of superior quality and the demand for it is far in excess of production. The railway in connection with the coal mine is in good condition. So far as the system between Halifax and Yarmouth is concerned, there are only three miles of track between Barrington Head and Barrington Pass to be built for the line to be complete all along the coast.

The line is to be in every sense a scenic route and its equipment and structural accommodation will aim at the development of that class of travel, although it will at the same time serve an important agricultural and industrial community.

There are already popular tourist resorts along the coast, are there not?

"Yes, there are many points such as Chester, Bridgewater, Liverpool and Shelburne on the new line, which will attract tourists from New England. In fact, the hotels are filled with tourists now. There is hardly a point on that rugged and picturesque coast where the ocean is not visible from the railway.

Then with regard to the Middleton and Victoria Beach line, the line running from Middleton Junction to Victoria Beach in the Annapolis valley has been completed and the train service will be in operation on the 15th September. This line passes through the famous valley of orchards from which nearly 1,000 carloads of apples were shipped last year.

ONLY TWENTY OUT OF 100,000 DID NOT DRINK.

Pauperism in England Largely Due to Liquor—Sir Victor Horsley's Statements Challenged.

LONDON, August 30.—The truth is, says the Morning Advertiser, that while there is no disputing Sir Victor Horsley's skill and ability in his profession, he, like many other clever men, has a tad. That tad is a dislike for alcohol.

The Westminster Gazette says Sir Victor's pronouncement has been widely challenged, and more will be heard when he returns.

Dr. Dodson, the Medical Officer for the Wadsworth Board of Guardians, says, in a report on the problem of pauperism, that during twenty years' experience 100,000 inmates of the workhouse have come under his observation, and of this number he has not come across twenty total abstainers from alcohol.

The two or three year old child of J. Boyce, of Fairville, had a very narrow escape from serious injury or death yesterday. A sloven was being driven rapidly along Strutt Street, road by Duke Fox when the little one in some manner fell under the horse's heels. The whiffetree struck the child, knocking it down and the sloven passed over its body. When picked up, though, the child was found practically unharmed.

BRITAIN'S PAUPERS.

The English poor law having grown to such unenviable proportions, its social and economic effect upon the nation can perhaps be best grasped by comparing its annual cost with the annual revenue and expenditure of some of the kingdoms and republics of the world. The annual cost of the poor law now exceeds £15,000,000. The expenditure of the following countries for 1904-05 was:

Argentina.....	£17,028,900
Belgium.....	21,164,094
Bavaria.....	22,632,947
Bulgaria.....	4,476,131
Colombia.....	9,031,153
Denmark.....	5,093,823
Egypt.....	10,588,473
Greece.....	4,649,255
Holland.....	15,142,532
Norway.....	5,280,045
Rumania.....	9,102,289
Spain.....	29,974,401
Sweden.....	4,086,800
Switzerland.....	7,529,100
Thailand.....	4,579,078
Wurtemberg.....	11,482,519
Australia.....	2,655,902

Hamburg, with a population equalling England's paupers in numbers, spends only £3,382,078.

We see England's paupers cost her as much as the entire public expenditure of Denmark, Greece and Norway, as much as the kingdom of Holland, with 15,000,000 of the kingdom of Belgium, and nearly as much as the entire Commonwealth of Australia and New Zealand combined.

THE DIFFERENCE

A correspondent to the Halifax Echo writes as follows:
I am one of many in Halifax who are inclined to doubt that the Exhibition Commission is advertising the coming Dominion Fair as extensively and as effectively as the importance of the event demands. Go where you will and find posters telling of the St. John and Toronto Exhibitions confronting you at every turn, but Halifax is not so much. I am told that the Dominion Fair is conspicuously displayed, while announcements about our own Fair, if they are there at all, are hard to find. If this be correct it is a change for the better and right quickly too. The depot as a vantage point for displaying posters can scarcely be excelled.

Again, a young man belonging to this city, who has just returned from an extended trip to the principal cities of Ontario and Quebec tells me that the St. John posters met him everywhere he went, but nothing about our own Fair, if they are there at all, are hard to find. If this be correct it is a change for the better and right quickly too. The depot as a vantage point for displaying posters can scarcely be excelled.

Since this appointment of a dog catcher by the city council has been something doing nearly every day among the canine population. Upwards of three hundred pups have paid their head tax, and nearly two score cur dogs have suffered the death penalty—Sydney Post.

Word was received in Charlottetown on the 28th inst. of the death at Edmonton of Charles A. Hyndman, of Charlottetown, of Charlottetown, P.E.I. The late Mr. Hyndman was the fourth son of the late Robert Hyndman, and was born in Charlottetown, P.E.I. He was first Superintendent of the Anglo-American Telegraph Co. of that province. Subsequently he carried on business in Charlottetown, retiring ten or twelve years ago. He resided at Brighton, near Charlottetown, up to 1904, when he removed to Edmonton. He had been in poor health some time before leaving. He was twice married, his second wife surviving, also four sons and one daughter. Out of a family of eleven, two brothers and two sisters survive him, namely—F. W. Hyndman, and Louis in Charlottetown; Albert in St. Peter's Bay, P. E. I., and Mrs. Duncan, widow of the late Dr. Duncan, a successful business man, and a most estimable citizen who had many friends in the city and province.

The Reid Co.'s slate quarry at Summerside, Bay of Islands, has started work under the supervision of Civil-Engineer Stewart, who recently came here from England to take charge of operations. He says the slate is as good as that from the Penryn quarry, regarded as the best in the world. The expert workmen he brought out with him are cutting 1,500 slates a day and within a fortnight the daily output is expected to reach 7,000. The company is building a wharf at the site with a depth of 25 feet of water and expects to make a first shipment of the slate to market this fall.—St. John's Herald.

IS THE COMMODORE JEALOUS?

A traveller complains that the car was stopped for five minutes at Chatham station the other day, by a hugging and kissing reception to fellow passengers by friends to whom he had met on the car platform. He should have joined in the kissing and thereby hastened the raising of the blockade. Country people who meet incoming friends should not begin to hug and kiss them and inquire after their relatives till they get on the station platform.—Chatham World.

FISHERMEN ADMIT NEWFOUNDLAND'S CLAIMS

ST. JOHN'S, N. S., Aug. 30.—It is understood that American fishermen now admit the right of Newfoundland to fish in the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and to enter and clear at the custom houses and pay light dues and obey the marine regulations in Newfoundland waters even where they possess treaty rights. This was disputed last season, but American fishermen now admit the right of Newfoundland to fish in the waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and to enter and clear at the custom houses and pay light dues and obey the marine regulations in Newfoundland waters even where they possess treaty rights. Mr. Harry Burnham, the comedian of the Robinson Opera Co., the attraction at the Opera House next week, is an artist who has become a great favorite during the past few years. Last season he was featured in the big Metropolitan production "Miss Bobbsey" in which his work was the biggest hit. Two years ago his excellent work largely contributed to make "The Strollers" the great success it was. In him St. John audiences will see the best comedian who has been here with a reputable opera company.—Adv.

THE ARMSTRONG CODE.

Tomorrow what is known as the Armstrong amendment to the insurance law goes into effect in the United States. One of the principal clauses in this makes it a misdemeanor for any insurance company or any individual to give or receive rebates, and in the definition of rebate a decision recently given by the Supreme Court is of importance. In Great Britain, under the income law tax, those persons who are subject to the tax are allowed to deduct from their taxable incomes the amount paid to British companies as premiums for life insurance. This does not apply to premiums on policies taken in foreign companies, and in order to compete in Britain most of the American companies have been in the habit of granting to the British policyholders rebates equal to the amount of the tax.
Mr. Cleveland, who holds the position of referee for the Equitable, Mutual and New York Life companies, has decided that these rebates come under the Armstrong code and must therefore be stopped.

The apparent result will be that the American companies will save a lot of money but on the other hand, being placed at a disadvantage under the British law, will suffer a decrease in new business. The same result will no doubt be found in the doing away with rebating by agents for one of the strongest inducements held out by the ordinary canvasser for insurance is the sugar plum of a reduction in the first premium. The agents will, however, be sure of their profits on whatever new business comes to them.

CANADIAN POLICY.

The Toronto Globe says: "Last year Canada bonused industries to the extent of $3,083,407. Some outsiders will think the Dominion a rather poor place when industries must be paid to that extent to keep their wheels turning.
Others will think Canada a strong country to be able to carry such a load without staggering. It all depends on the point of view."
The Globe should add the third thought, that some may realize Canada's appreciation of a common sense principle in helping along those industries which bring in the revenue to pay such bonuses. It is just like working up a newspaper. The Globe spent a lot of money in booming its circulation years ago and now it is all coming back in the form of big prices for advertising.

BRITAIN'S PAUPERS.

The problem for providing for the poor of England is one which is of ever increasing difficulty, and perhaps few people realize what an enormous expenditure is necessary for the maintenance of the paupers. The sum expended during the last fiscal year was considerably in excess of fifteen million pounds (sterling). This is four million pounds greater than the entire revenue total revenue of Canada, and equal to the total receipts of Denmark, Greece and Norway.

THEN AND NOW.

In view of the reception accorded William J. Bryan in New York last night, and when it is remembered that this is only the first of a series of such affairs, some of the comments made after Bryan's last defeat are amusing.
Here are a few—
"Dead and buried beyond hope of resurrection."
"Quick nostrum doctor."
"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."
"Lightning rod man."
"Safebreaker."
"Court jester."
"Anarchist."
"Artful dodger."
"Brazen footman to rapacious Tammany tiger."
"Blatant demagog."
"Constitutional pessimist."
"Gnat."
"Apostle of sedition and class hatred."
"Unscrupulous expounder of emotional popocratic politics."
"Buried under an avalanche of votes."
The organization of a new athletic club is an excellent move. Amateur sport, which has for some time been at a rather low ebb in St. John, requires some such stimulus, and it is to be hoped that the Marathon Club will receive general support.

There will be little sympathy for the dupes of the New York love radiators.
Any man who through the advertising columns of a paper seeks a wife, and especially a widow who has had experience in dealing with men deserves to be taken in.

It does not have life enough, that's the trouble with your hair! There is something wrong with the hair-bulbs. They are slowly starving!
Give them a regular hair-food—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It checks falling hair, keeps the scalp healthy and free from dandruff.
A little of it often does great things for the hair and scalp.

BUT GAINING FAST.

The attendant at a boys' club noted that a small negro who was a regular visitor at the reading-room, always turned to the same place, at which he would look eagerly and then laugh heartily.

The attendant's curiosity was arrived by a performance so many times repeated, so he followed the little fellow one night, and, looking over his shoulder, saw that he had opened the book to a picture of a bull chasing a terrified negro across a field. He was just about to ask what the joke was, for the laugh had again come rippling up to him, when the boy looked around and said:
"Golly, he ain't kotched him yet!"

SUFFRAGETTE'S PROUD MOMENT

Overheard during a conversation in which a flag carrying suffragette took part:
Suffragette. — The proudest moment of my life was when I was a assenger on an American liner and fell over the side.

Friend. — The proudest moment, but how do you mean?
Suffragette. — A sailor called out:
"Man overboard!"

GENEROSITY.

"My husband is such a generous man."
"Yes."
"Yes. I gave him a box of cigars for his birthday and he only smoked one.
He gave the rest to his friends."

SOMETHING GOOD.

Angry Customer.—Haven't you got something good at this hotel?
Clerk.—"Well—we have a minister."

A LONG SEARCH.

An old lady at Erie found a man's finger in a can of potted ham the other day and Don Wells says she has bought up all the canned potted ham in town fondly hoping to find the wife's man.

TRUE GENIUS.

"As American citizens, of course," remarked Uncle Alan Sparks, "we ought to be given the privilege of inventive genius of our people. There's no country on the face of the earth where they give make patents and genuine elder vinegar out of as many different kinds of things as we can."

IN KANSAS.

Stranger.—How's that?
Kansas Farmer.—Say, the ears have grown so high above the ground that they have to use trumpets to hear what's going on.

SYMPATHY.

"I presume you spend all you make?"
No, I don't spend any of it.
"Then you must have a nice little balance in the bank?"
"Shake, old chap, I'm married myself."

BAD CASE.

Stella.—A Bromide is a person who can be depended on to make obvious mistakes.
Bella.—Then George must be a Sulphurite; I led up to it ever so many times, but he was positively dumb.

A NEW, YET OLD CURLING TROPHY.

The McLeellan Cup, offered many years ago as a curling trophy by the late Hon. Mr. McLeellan, provincial Secretary of New Brunswick, and won by the Truro Curling Club, has not been in competition for years.
The association to which it was originally given became defunct, so there has been no real trophy.
It has been agreed among the curlers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick that the cup shall again be put in competition. This agreement has now been signed by the curling clubs of these provinces, so this winter the McLeellan Cup will be competed for, likely with three links of four players each.
The first game must be played in Truro as the Truro champions now hold this cup.—Truro News.

General Manager Cowans of the Cumberland Coal & Railway Company has had a notice posted saying that a crisis is impending in the affairs of the company and that unless the men work a little more steadily and increase the output, very materially a sweeping reduction will have to be made in the wages. The men are inclined to discuss the notice very good-naturedly and do not attach very serious importance to it. They state that it is a counter movement against the surface men, who, including the machinists and railway hands, are making a demand for increased wages. The impression tonight is, however, that there will be no strike.

A Man of Parts.

By GEORGE E. STREETER.

Charles Walcott, by reason of his dwarfish stature, rather large head, small body, and tapering legs, one of which was wooden, attracted a good deal of attention from his fellow-townsmen. His peculiarities gave him a certain standing in the community, which he might never have possessed had he been regularly formed and built according to the general rule of his fellows.

At an early age he went to the metropolis, and for a number of years he amused the patrons of a music-hall, as a comic singing sailor, an exceedingly fierce soldier, as well as a totally impossible and much too humorous patrolman.

It was also amusing and instructive to see the little man, dressed as a city cop, strutting up and down the concert hall platform, singing his own words under the captain of "Little Boy Blue." Or, as a soldier, in his gay uniform, melodiously telling the story of the "Charge of the Light Brigade." Or, yet again, as a brave sailor lad, with his songs of the sea.

When about forty years of age, he returned to his old home, as he thought, to a quiet life, but he became so much in demand by promoters of entertainments that he found himself almost as busy as before.

Now, Charlie Walcott had a cousin, Lydia Hunt by name, a lady of about his own age, with considerable means, though somewhat of a drug in the matrimonial market.

Miss Lydia very properly thought that even a small half-man is better than no man at all, and so she made up her mind to become the wife of the singing comedian.

As is always the case with her sex, she soon captured her prey, but expressly stipulated that if her future husband's exuberant humor must find vent in the representation of short policemen, soldiers, or sailors, such performances must be reserved for his own friends.

This condition weighed heavily on the mind of Mr. Walcott. On the one hand, there was the lady with her income, but the loss of his freedom; on the other, he viewed bachelorhood, with the privileges and emoluments of the stage.

Love triumphed, or more properly speaking, Lydia won out, and she soon became Mrs. Walcott, and Mr. Walcott became married, completely so, wooden leg and all.

The diminutive Walcott belonged to one of those secret societies (so convenient for married men) which are often assisted to promote harmony when the members met. He sometimes felt so good that he would forget his own marriage promises, and on one occasion he went home singing, "When I Was on the Floating Deep," ending up with a homp on his front steps.

This caused his wife first to rage, then cry, and finally to tell him that she would throw him out of her small size. Charles began to think that marriage was not such a good thing after all.

He came to the conclusion that liberty as a comic-singer was worth all the coming in the play was to sit at the head of a stage, and begin the immortal song relative to the death of Nelson, then toward the end of the last verse turn a somersault and reach the deck on one leg, flourishing a small sword.

It was dramatic, and very well done the first two nights, but on the third evening he slipped and broke his other leg.

Upon learning of the accident, his wife, who was to his mind, and indeed what was left of the little man, remarking sarcastically that he would probably yet be the comic-singer business alone in the future, reminding him that everything funny has its serious side.

Suddenly remarking that you should not hit a man when he's down, he turned over and went to sleep.

In discussing his case afterward, he said: "You see, I cannot dance with two wooden legs, like I could if they were made of rubber. There's going to be a great future for rubber, and legless men may yet be able to get a good springy step."

THE TRUTHS (OR MORALS) ARE:
(1)—You cannot think a submarine at all ship, down a happy man.

(2)—A level-headed legless man is better than one with both feet who cannot "get there."

(3)—The laughs we create are all entered up to our credit.

(4)—A wife's advice should be followed, especially when she supplies the daily bread.

(5)—Firemen! Let us all sing.

(6)—Rubber!

COMPLAINING OF WATER SERVICE

West End People Being Poorly Served

Trouble is Mainly on Higher Levels—Mayor Thinks Immediate Action Should be Taken

The city is likely to have a west end water question as well as the Loch Lomond extension which has so troubled City Hall and the citizens generally for many months. It was commonly believed that the people of Carleton had now a plentiful water supply, but it would seem that the houses on the higher levels are but poorly served, and continuous complaints have been received by Mayor Sears, who is chairman of the water and sewerage board, and by Engineer Murdoch, superintendent of the department.

When the improvements were made in the Carleton water system four or five years ago, it was thought that Spruce Lake would supply all the needs of the west end, and with its high elevation there would be no difficulty in getting water at the highest levels.

For this reason, the pumps which were previously in use were discarded and it was thought that this difficult question had reached a final solution. Superintendent Murdoch himself was hardly so sanguine, and at that time did not favor the discarding of the pumps.

Water from this system supplies the Cushing pulp mill, and it is said to be the large amount of water which is used by the mill is causing the shortage elsewhere.

Mayor Sears said last night that complaints were being made continually by people whose houses are on the higher levels. Director Murdoch has been making a study of the complaints, as the pumps were discarded against his opinion.

His worship said that he had discussed the matter briefly with Engineer Barbour, and his worship was of the opinion that if anything should be done to improve the system now in the time to do it, while Engineer Barbour is still connected with the city as consulting engineer and Engineer Hunter is in charge of the distribution system.

Engineer Barbour suggested to the mayor that the difficulty might be overcome by means of a stand pipe, which would collect the water during the night and thus be able to provide for the greater demand during the day.

Mayor Sears said that he had also considered the matter with Engineer Clark, who agreed with Engineer Barbour that the difficulty might be overcome by a stand pipe at no great cost. Instead, however, of placing the stand pipe on the high level, as suggested by Engineer Barbour, Engineer Clark thought that it would perhaps be better to build the stand pipe near the mill.

NEW JUDGES WERE APPOINTED YESTERDAY

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—At the meeting of the government today, Hon. Mr. McCormick was appointed to the superior court, succeeding the late Judge Andrews, Judge Lemieux of Sherbrooke was appointed successor of Judge Langelle, promoted. Dr. Demers, M. P. for St. John's and Iqerville, succeeds Judge Lemieux at Sherbrooke, and Eugene Lafontaine, crown prosecutor, was appointed to the superior court at Montreal in place of Judge Lavigne, appointed to the court of appeal.

Aggie Millstead, daughter of Mrs. Charles Millstead of 24 Brook street, is, like all other youngsters, enamored of the delights of sliding down bannisters. Yesterday, while indulging in this pleasant method of locomotion, she unfortunately fell off, and the result was a fractured thigh. The injured miss was taken to the General Public Hospital in the ambulance, where the fracture was set and she is now resting quite comfortably, but will be unable to slide down bannisters again for some weeks.

J. A. Clayton reported to the police yesterday that some one had broken a pane of glass in the door of his store on Brunswick street, on Wednesday night. It looked as if some one had been attempting to effect an entrance but had been frightened away before doing so.

BARLOW'S ELEPHANTS ON A RAMPAGE

Broke Away In Virginia and Were at Large Nine Days—Captured Yesterday says Telegram

F. G. Spencer's mental equilibrium was not quite as easy running last night as it usually is, due to an old New York newspaper and new telegram he was carrying about all crumpled up. The newspaper contained a double-headed news despatch from Washington, D. C., entitled: "Elephant Hunt Still On in Virginia," and the telegram made excuses for the delay in the arrival of Barlow's famous Hippodrome elephants, which are booked to appear at the approaching exhibition. Both messages dealt with the same subject, the escape of the Barlow herd, and really Mr. Spencer didn't know exactly where he was at.

A couple of days ago Manager J. F. Dockrill of the Opera House handed Mr. Spencer the New York Telegraph of last Sunday, on the front page of which appeared the following paragraph:

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The score of the Barlow elephant hunt in Virginia remains unchanged. Two caught, two missing. Jennie has not been seen since yesterday. Queenie was sighted only twice today, at the Episcopal Seminary this morning and then five miles distant five hours later.

Concluding that an elephant in hand is worth two in the bush, Barlow brought Tom in from the woods. The start was made this morning, and the telegram made excuses for the delay to avoid country dogs. Tom was walked four miles down the pike to Alexandria and thence to the power house opposite Luna Park, where Barlow's engagement should have ended tonight.

Instead of exhibiting, however, he has spent five days chasing his "pets" through woods and swamps and camping out every night. Unless the hunt is successful by Tuesday he will have to cancel his New Brunswick engagement.

Farmers Bill, however, had his elephant man send five heavy chains to Barlow, who rejoined his men in the woods tonight.

This was all news to the local amusement caterer, who nervously dashed off a half dozen wires to Barlow, and every other showman in New York whom he thought might be able to shed light upon the mysterious item in the newspaper. Two whole days passed before any reply arrived.

Last night, however, shortly after supper this despatch reached St. John:

"NEW YORK, Aug. 30, 6 p. m.

"F. G. Spencer, Concert Promoter, St. John."

"Barlow wires just captured elephants. Am arranging to leave for St. John as soon as possible."

"J. H. ALLEN."

No details of the elephantine escape are obtainable, but it is surmised the breakaway took place while the monsters were being loaded or unloaded. They were booked to show at a park in Virginia for two weeks, after which, as stated in Exhibition advertisements here, they were to be entrained for St. John, a long journey.

The absence of replies to Mr. Spencer's feverish telegrams are now laid to the activities of Prof. Barlow in hunting down his huge pets. It also transpires that New York and Southern newspapers have been publishing daily accounts of the recapturing efforts for over a week, as the elephants have been at large nine days. Strange to say, none of these items reached here.

The herd, which is valued at $30,000, is quite docile under the renowned trainer Barlow, but as any animal dealer will relate, the gentlest of these beasts are ramped up to the present type when mad, such as it is assumed they must have been for some time past in the Virginia woods.

Thus stands the whole thing as it affects St. John. Mr. Spencer is keeping the St. John-New York wire busy querying first this one and then another. He wants to know more of the runaway, and particularly more of the trip to St. John. He has been advising the elephants for next week's performance right up to the present, and naturally is anxious to have full information before he goes any further.

W. A. Duke, superintendent of the western division of the I. C. R., with headquarters at Lewis, Supt. G. M. Jarvis of Truro; Chief Train Despatcher H. H. Bray of Campbellton, J. T. Hollissey of Truro, E. Desjardins of Lewis, J. H. Bassard of River du Loup, and L. S. Brown of New Glasgow, made an inspection trip of the I. C. R. yesterday from Moncton to St. John. They left last evening on the 11:25 train for Moncton, where they will confer with Hon. H. R. Emerson, minister of railways, and Deputy Minister Butler today, chiefly with reference to the question of economy in the use of cars. At present enough cannot be supplied to meet the demands of the Dominion Steel Company.

COAL WILL ADVANCE IN PRICE VERY SOON

Twenty Five Cents a Ton May be Added at Any Time—The Summer Has Been Dull for the Dealers.

American hard coal will advance in the course of a few weeks. In Toronto, the coal dealers have been selling American anthracite for $6.00 until August 25th, when they raised the price to $6.25 per ton. This was probably on account of the wholesale price of anthracite increasing. Starting in May, there is a rate of ten cents per ton per month so that it would be cheaper to buy in April than in September, when the ten cent increase is cancelled.

The summer has been a very quiet one for the coal merchants of St. John, and no increase in the price of any grade of coal has yet been made.

The fall rush will commence in a few weeks and it is probable that an increase of twenty-five cents will be made. This is just half of the increase which the Toronto merchants have made. St. John is situated so that coal can be landed here cheaper than in Montreal or Toronto and consequently the dealers will not make an increase as large as the Upper Canadian merchants.

The large coal firms of the States have been encouraging consumers to buy during the dull season, so that the employees of the mines would not be left without work. The reason attributed for the slackness in the business this summer, is that people have been waiting to see whether or not the prices would drop as the summer ended. They looked for a decrease in the prices, because the market was so dull, and they expected that the dealers would make a cut in order to keep business booming. These persons, however, made a mistake, as they could have purchased coal the spring for less money than will be required when the fall rush starts.

A coal dealer informed the Star that a great many tourists have asked him, why coal can be bought cheaper here than in the States. The reason is that in large cities there is little rivalry, and in St. John the competition is so keen that prices are kept low. The increase in coal can be expected any minute, and when the people hear of this being made they probably will order their winter supply.

REV. R. W. FERGUSON IS LIKELY TO LEAVE ST. JOHN

Carlton Baptist Pastor Has Received a Call to River Glade Circuit.

Rev. R. W. Ferguson, of the Charlotte street Baptist church, West End, has received a call to the circuit of River Glade and Forest Glen, Westmorland county, and it is understood will accept. The River Glade circuit has been vacant for about three months, or since Rev. Mr. Kennedy, the former pastor, accepted a call to Sussex. Some two weeks ago the congregations met and decided on an unanimous call to Rev. Mr. Ferguson. He has been considering it for the past ten days, and is of the opinion that it would be best for him to make a change.

Mr. Ferguson has been in Carlton for about four years, and during this time the membership of the church has been considerably increased. It now numbers upwards of 100 and four or five candidates will be baptized on Sunday next. On the same evening new members will be received into the church.

The River Glade and Forest Glen congregations are small but active. The call to Mr. Ferguson expressed a desire that he should take charge of these circuits not later than the first of October.

THE SALE OF LIQUOR ON RIVER STEAMERS

Rev. J. J. Colter Brings This Matter Before the Methodist District Meeting.

At the Methodist district meeting in Fredericton yesterday Rev. J. J. Colter represented the York county alliance and addressed the district. His address was followed by an open conference in which the members of the district revealed the fact that they have their eyes open and are watching the violations of the law. He is preparing to take action at no great distance in the future. It was brought out in the discussion that the sale of liquor on certain boats on the river and the temperate habits of some of the officers and deck hands unless some action is taken will soon make it unsafe for travel on the river. Some members mentioned that persons are refusing to travel by the boats because of the sale of liquor on board. Certainly if the reports brought to some of the ministers are true it is time the managers of the boats began to investigate. The discussion closed with the following motion:

Resolved—That the district co-operate with the Temperance Alliance of York county in canvassing and holding meetings throughout the district in the interests of temperance and prohibition.—Carried unanimously.

BRIGADIER TURNER TO ARRIVE TOMORROW

New Army Commander Has Had Much Success in the Quebec District

Brigadier Turner, of the Salvation Army, who is to enter new field of labor in this city, will arrive here on the Atlantic Express tomorrow. The Brigadier's wife will accompany him, and it is probable that a reception will be tendered them at the depot.

Brigadier Turner delivered a number of farewell addresses at Montreal, where he has had his headquarters for the past five years. In one of his addresses the Brigadier said that the district composed of Quebec and Eastern Ontario had proved a most difficult field of operation. When he was appointed to that district things were in very bad condition. The number of soldiers has not increased greatly during his time, but the attendance of adherents is now 100 per cent larger.

Considerable progress has been made in the way of new purchases. In Montreal a new building has been erected, which cost $55,000. From a financial standpoint the work has made rapid strides, and today the army of that district is in a flourishing condition.

Brigadier Turner will probably deliver a number of addresses during the first few days here, and no doubt many will go to hear the district chief, as he is known to be a talented speaker.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON EXCURSION.

On Saturday, Sept. 1st, the steamer Elaine will leave her wharf at 1.45 p. m. for Westfield. A daylight trip of two hours on the river with orchestra. The steamer will be due in St. John at 4 p. m.

Warning to Exhibition Visitors.

We are obliged each exhibition year to turn away hundreds who come to St. John for the sole purpose of having their teeth attended to, but who neglect the main object of their visit until a few days before returning home. We would therefore advise all to call early and avoid the usual rush so that they may not be compelled to return home disappointed at being unable to avail themselves of our SUPERIOR WORKMANSHIP AND ATTRACTIVE FEES.

Parents should remember that the vacations are drawing rapidly to a close and that as they value the health and welfare of their own children and those of others they should see to it that their children's teeth are in proper condition. We can put their teeth in the condition they should be, without affording them any pain and we can do it reasonably. Call once.
