

LONDON IRISH CONFERENCE ON FREE STATE CONSTITUTION

New Constitution Must Conform Strictly to Terms of Anglo-Irish Treaty.

NO QUARREL OVER DE VALERA FACT

British Cabinet Ministers Regard That Agreement As Purely a Domestic One.

Dublin, May 26.—Michael Collins, head of the Irish Provisional Government, left for London tonight accompanied by William Cosgrave, Minister of Local Government in the Dail Eireann cabinet, and Dermot O'Donoghue, Secretary of the Provisional Government.

It is supposed here that the main subject of today's discussion at London was the text of the Free State constitution, which Arthur Griffith, the Irish president, took with him. This constitution must conform strictly to the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty and has been drafted with that object in view. The British Ministry are satisfied with it, and learn that it will be submitted to the Irish people in a referendum which will settle a quarrel with the Irish Republicans because they made a pact with Blanton de Valera.

Domestic Agreement

The view here among Sinn Feiners of both wings is that the pact, recently arrived at between Collins and de Valera, is, primarily, a domestic matter designed to keep both the longest possible time all enemies of the Sinn Fein party out control pass to other sections of Irish opinion identified in the past with a moderate policy.

This pact expressly admits the right of all other sections to contest the election, and this section was welcomed as an effective barrier against the possibility of a complete sweeping of all Sinn Feiners, but in some quarters, the probability is expressed that it may prove to be too effective and that the pact will insure the election is largely uncontented.

It is pointed out that the objections of the British cabinet to the completion of a new body growing out of the election will be met by the statement that it will not be a Treaty Parliament, which must come later, but merely a reconstruction of the Dail—no more than the body which has been operating ever since the treaty was signed and better able, by reason of the pact, to govern a moderate party.

No Breach Contemplated

The Provisional Government circles are pleased with the constitution and the Collins-de Valera agreement, the Irish cabinet at London are expected to raise the question, whether in these circles it is said that the delegates will complain that British support of Ulster, in men and money, is unfair and that it will prevent the coalition between the North and the South. They also will call attention to the Ulster Premier's announcement of his determination to resist the boundary commission, which is part of the treaty.

Mrs. Charlotte Despard, sister of Field Marshal Viscount French, former Lord Lieutenant and Governor-General of Ireland, has written an open letter to Premier Craig, of Ulster, denouncing the government's treatment of Catholics and concluding:

"On all you are doing—give your men to shoot, maim and insult their fellow countrymen and destroy their homes and leave thousands homeless and jobless as they succumb to the retention in an awful form will come to you."

Numerous releases are reaching Dublin from the six county area.

The political situation is notably unsettled, but there is no communist revolution, as has been reported from Vienna and Belgrade recently. RADIO BRINGING NATIONS CLOSER TO EACH OTHER

Geography Being Re-Made—Cities Thousands of Miles Away Brought Within Reach by the Mere Turn of a Knob.

Washington, May 26—How far is Paris—London—Berlin?

"The man in the street and the geography class answer in miles today," says a bulletin, issued by the National Geographic Society, "but in a year or even a few months, the answer may come in quarters of a little black knob. For radio is affecting geography as it is affecting many other fields. If you can hear voices and music and perhaps the hum of traffic in the streets of a distant city that city must be straightway less much of its remoteness.

"Even today when radio telephony is in its infancy and radio telegraphy is merely a slightly older brother, our own country seems to be shrinking rapidly, and nations seem to be gravitating closer together. Wave lengths are not an infallible index to the power of a radio station nor to its sending range, but they indicate comparative strength, at least roughly. The station which of all those in the world now regularly uses the longest waves—23,000 metres or approximately four thousand miles—is near Bordeaux, France. It is the Lafayette Station, built by the United States Navy to facilitate America's part in the World War, and since sold to France. This station, which until recently was unchallenged as the world's most powerful station, sends its telegraphic messages with ease—practically instantaneously, of course—over the 4,000 miles of water and land that separate Bordeaux from Washington; and it has been heard occasionally in French-Indo China, 6,000 miles to the east.

Wave Lengths of Twelve Miles

"Lafayette's title to first place is now challenged by a commercial station recently opened on Long Island, which if it is not yet more powerful, will be when additional units are added. This station sends on the second longest wave in use, 19,000 metres or nearly 3,000 miles, and is employed for transmitting messages to Germany, about 4,000 miles away.

"Although the United States Navy station at Annapolis, Md., is assigned a wave of 17,145 metres (roughly 18 1/2 miles), the third longest in use, it is easily one of the world's most powerful stations. For the station at Annapolis, operating on 17,145 metres. The Navy depends on the Annapolis station—which is operated incidentally, by remote control by means of keys in the Navy Building in Washington—to transmit messages day in and day out over a distance of about 6,000 miles. This range includes the extreme eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea, and the same territory can also be reached from the opposite direction by the Philippine station.

Some Powerful Land Stations

"The United States Navy has the most complete system of high-power land stations for radio telegraphy at all naval establishments. Southward

THE RADIO AIR POLICE

The United States Government is getting ready to take hold of the air. This is almost literally true, for within the last three or four months the atmosphere has become so cluttered up with hundreds of voices crisscrossing each other that Government action has been made absolutely necessary.

Of course, it is radio telephony that is responsible for all this disturbance. Everybody is doing it now. Dr. J. H. Dellinger, head of the radio laboratory of the bureau of standards at Washington, estimates that practically a million persons are nightly receiving messages in their homes. The air is packed with lectures, music and news items. Men who did not know a dynamo from a buzz-saw last Christmas are now glibly talking about such things as grid leaks, varicones, V7, amplifiers and microfoams, and understand what they mean. The youth of the land, especially the ubiquitous Boy Scouts, are perfect "sharks" on the subject.

In order to meet the demands of the enthusiastic listeners so much is sent out to entertain them that the air is a regular pandemonium. Government messages are being interfered with. Amateurs anxious to "test" their sets from one special station find another station sending a different program simultaneously on the same wave length, and instead of grand opera a sort of twelve-cylinder jazz comes in through the telephone. You can't hear the prize fight round by round because the public health service is sending out a lecture on the evils of taking patent medicine thrown on the door-step. A 14-year-old boy has a transmitting set with so much power behind it that even powerful Arlington has to tell him to get off the air.

There is only one solution to it all, and that is for the Government to unravel and snarl by assigning separate geographical areas to all concerned, and that is precisely what the Government expects to do. In future, discretionary licenses will be issued under the supervision of the department of commerce, which controls radio, and if you don't live up to your license Secretary Hoover, as judge of the fact, will take it away from you. There will be plenty of people to see that you are living up to the law. It sounds mysterious, but it is true. If the regular Government "air cops" don't get you the amateurs will for the department of commerce has already decided to impress them as special deputies at the recognized salary of $1 per year.

According to Dr. Dellinger, the distinguished radio authority, the wave band seems to be the main factor in the working out of the present jungle air control system. Summed up, air transmission is done on a meter percentage basis. For instance, being broadcasted at approximately 350 metres, a station is assigned a wave length of 350 metres. If, however, these stations were allowed a range comprising 310-350 metres, the inclusive message would contain the same number of waves. This principle, tentative regulations, drawn up by a technical committee at a recent conference in Washington, split wave-length meters into 25 classes of wave bands for priority distribution to almost every class of air transmission.

Broadcasting of amusement programs, lectures, news, Government instructions, like the fire, on which the amateur receivers feed, has been allocated to three-wave bands. Incidentally, the experts at Washington define broadcasting as "transmission to an unlimited number of receiving stations without charge at the receiving end," as contrasted with a "point-to-point" message from one place to another. After extensive study, Government broadcasting was tentatively assigned to wave bands of 1,850-2,450, 1,650-1,950 and 700-750.

The experts who met at Washington ranked Government broadcasting as primarily important, and next in order public, private and toll broadcasting, but the amateur was recognized throughout the discussions. This was no doubt due to Secretary Hoover. When President Harding authorized the conference, Government instructions to the effect that the secretary said he would be present as the special representative of the American small boy. There is a specific recommendation in the technical committee's report that amateurs be allowed to broadcast under the 160-370 wave band, and plans are also made for them to divide this band fur-

Wireless Music At Home

Bellamy's dream of a day when musical concerts could be played at distant centres and enjoyed in our own homes has been realized.

With apparatus less bulky and less costly than a photograph and surmounting all the difficulties of the wireless, we can listen not only to the world's sweetest singers, but also to its greatest orators, its most amusing vaudeville entertainers and its best reciters of children's stories.

The head of the family now stays at home in the evening. The youngsters gather round him with his turn a knob and let them hear delightful music coming from a city several hundred miles away. With a twist of the wrist, he switches at will from Chicago to Pittsburgh or to the Montreal to Newark, selecting the programme which pleases him most. It may be sporting news or after stock market reports, "edificatory" lectures, or what you will. All these he can get, but the children demand "bed-time" stories and their wishes must be satisfied. Accordingly, father "tunes" for some Uncle Remus broadens the doings of the animal kingdom for the benefit of countless sleep-eyed kiddies within an area of some two hundred thousand miles. Monday enjoys the sermons on Sunday evenings, and the choir voices chanting hymns. Receiving this by wireless is like entering a church with one's eyes shut, so close it seems, so "mystic, wonderful."

Mrs. J. H. Dooly reported the sum of $7 for the milk fund from the cans in the hotels.

Mrs. Green referred to the loss sustained by the Council in the death of Miss Edith Allen, a member of the taxation committee, and a letter of sympathy was ordered sent to Mrs. Mary Knox, sister of Miss Allen. On motion of Miss Estey, a letter of sympathy was ordered sent to Mrs. Millie Allen, mother of Miss Edith Allen, on motion of Miss Leavitt a similar letter was ordered sent to Mrs. K. Atherton Smith, who recently suffered the loss of a sister by death.

A reference was made to the recent musical exhibitions given by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. I. and the secretary was instructed to forward letters of congratulation to the players and instrumentalists on the splendid showing made by the children.

Mrs. M. Atherton Smith was nominated as provincial vice-president for the coming year.

Mrs. Hooper referred to the matter of "Mother's Allowances" and stated she was informed by Frederick Poole that a commission had been appointed to gather up necessary information in this connection.

Mrs. Hooper reported for the committee in connection with the furnishing of the recreation hut at the Lancaster Hospital, that the matron had suggested the Council undertake the furnishing of the kitchen, with stove, dishes, etc.

Mrs. D. P. Chisholm moved that the matron be ordered to purchase the kitchen and this was seconded by Mrs. J. H. Dooly. This carried.

The question of how to raise the money was taken up. Mrs. Long suggested that it might be subscriptions of the individual members of the Council and Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson suggested the giving of a midnight concert in one of the local theatres, if one could be obtained, at which films would be shown and a couple of songs sung. For this a charge of twenty-five cents could be made and she believed a good sum would be realized. After some discussion the Council decided to accept the suggestion of Mrs. Wilson. Miss Leavitt and Miss Tingey, appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

Tries Bed-Spring Aerial; Finds It Great Success

J. L. C. reports the following experience with a bed-spring aerial:

Even though so prosaic a household article as a bed does the voice of the world reach our humble household, and believe it or not, it is true. I live in an apartment house where I cannot have an outside aerial, so I have hooked up my home-made crystal set to a corner of my bed springs and an aerial and to the radio set on a ground, and got The Tribune very clear and distinct, even with the windows closed.

As I have not seen the above hooked up to a bed-spring, I thought, perhaps, it might be useful information to other "city dwellers" who cannot have an outside aerial.

A HUNDRED DOLLARS WORTH FOR THIRTY FIVE CENTS

When you are awakened from a sound sleep by change, who without a moment's warning gain supplies upon you, then you would readily pay a hundred dollars for the quick relief you could secure from a thirty-five cent bottle of Nerville's.

Nothing like Nerville's to relieve cramps, stomach gas, diarrhoea and indigestion. Nothing better for Nerville's, cold in the chest and sore throat, cold in the head, all sorts of ailments, no more, no less, in all stores where medicines are sold.

Although it may be seen that the division of message into wave bands will render great aid in clearing up the present disorder, additional regulation will be secured through relocation of house and power-range areas. It is proposed to allow Government broadcasting stations a transmitting power covering 600 miles, public stations 250-mile and private and toll stations 50-mile.

Reports from Various Committees Received—Continued Interest Taken in War Heroes.

Reports indicating the continued and active interest being taken in the war heroes of the C.E.F., who are still suffering from the effects of wounds received in the great conflict, were tabled in the reports submitted at the regular monthly meeting of the provincial Red Cross committee which was held in the Red Cross rooms, Prince William street, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. George S. Smith presiding.

Miss Ethel Jarvis, who acted as secretary, reported for the treasurer, Mrs. Scott, that all bills outstanding had been attended to, and that there was a cash balance remaining of $300.

Mrs. W. P. Bonnell reported that the missing barrels of apples for River Glade had been found, and that a letter of thanks from Dr. Carmichael had been received, and also a letter from Dr. Farris thanking the Red Cross for apples for soldier patients at East St. John.

Mrs. Ellis also reported visiting two soldiers, Mr. Clark and Mr. deWolfe, formerly patients in East St. John and Lunenburg, now in the Christie street hospital, Toronto, where they are receiving special treatment. Both men asked to be remembered to St. John friends.

A request for a flag staff and flag for Lunenburg was referred to Mrs. J. H. Dooly, and the case of a soldier needing assistance to Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Dooly reported that during the month fifty-four men had been enabled to take advantage of the motor drives. Through the kindness of Canon Armstrong, arrangements had been made for the seating of the hospital boys at the service in Trinity church when the flags of the 26th were laid at rest, and the men able to attend were driven to the church from East St. John.

The bills for the buying committee, presented by Mrs. Bonnell were accepted and payment ordered. The indent for supplies from Lunenburg hospital accepted as read.

Mrs. F. S. White suggested that an extra supply of tobacco and cigarettes be obtained, and on motion Mrs. Bonnell and Mrs. White were asked to attend to this matter.

Mrs. Lawrence reported the receipt of $5.00 from Netherwood Junior Red Cross toward the furnishing of the Lunenburg Recreation Hut. Those present were Mrs. George F. Smith, Mrs. G. Ernest Barbour, Mrs. R. E. Ellis, Mrs. C. B. Allan, Mrs. F. S. White, Mrs. H. Lawrence, Mrs. J. H. Dooly, Mrs. W. P. Bonnell, Miss Ethel Jarvis.

Never brood over your troubles; but don't crow about them, either.

Riches take unto themselves wings, but it is doubtful if they are the kind of wings fashionable in heaven.

Mrs. A. Gordon Coy held her wedding reception on Friday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Edgcombe, King street. Mrs. Coy received her guests, numbering about two hundred, in a beautiful gown of beige chiffon velvet, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Edgcombe, who wore a gown of black satin and silver lace, with diamonds and pearl ornaments, and by Mrs. James Coy, wearing a gown of black and champagne silk with French corsage bouquets. The drawing room where Mrs. Coy received her guests, was beautifully decorated with roses. In the tea room Mrs. John Neill and Mrs. Kenneth Chestnut presided over the dainty tea table which was centered with a silver basket of roses. They were assisted by Mrs. Howard Chambers, of St. John, Miss Frances Hawthorne, Miss Helen Crockett, Miss Grace Phillips, Miss Jean Van Buskirk, Miss George Marcell, Miss Marjorie Osborne, Miss Molly Barry, Miss Dorothy Peener, Mrs. W. Annual Meeting of The Y. W. C. A.

Reports Received from Different Committees Showed Good Progress—Addresses by Local Clergy.

Following reports from the different departments of the Y. W. C. A. characterized the annual meeting of that organization, which was held last evening in the recreational centre, King street east.

The Business Girls' Home report was read by Mrs. W. H. Lagadin, and among other things set out that the attendance, which averaged 25, had not been so large as hitherto.

The report of the Girls' Work Department was read by Mrs. J. D. Hunter, and the report reviewed the activities of the different clubs in the Y. W. C. A., including the Corona Club, which has a membership of 25.

The report of the treasurer's report, Mrs. T. H. Merrill, outlined the financial condition in which the association is placed, which is not of the best owing to the fact that there are heavy expenses incurred from maintaining three separate establishments.

The report of Miss Milligan, the financial secretary, also reviewed the general secretary, gave her report on the year's work of the association, which contained a clear exposition of the good the association was doing, and the difficulties with which they had to cope.

Mrs. E. C. Weyman gave the report of the physical department, making special reference to the splendid gymnastic exhibition presented last week in the Imperial theatre.

At the close of the business meeting, eloquent addresses were given by Rev. Canon Armstrong, Rev. Harry B. Clarke and Rev. H. A. Goodwin, who all paid a tribute to the splendid work of the association.

Idol Of Baseball Receives A Jolt

"Babe" Ruth is Fined $200 and Removed from Captaincy of New York Americans. Chicago, May 25.—Babe Ruth was fined $200 and removed from the captaincy of the New York American Club by Ben Johnson, president of the American League this afternoon. President Johnson gave his ruling after considering the reports of the umpire officiating in yesterday's game at New York between New York and Washington when Ruth disputed a decision of Umpire Hilderbrand and later climbed into the stand after a fan had made a remark to which he took exception. President Johnson's finding automatically removes the ruling that Ruth was ineligible to play, which was promulgated by the American League head pending an investigation. "The Ruth incident in New York on Thursday is much to be regretted," President Johnson's ruling said. "The player's conduct was highly reprehensible, but when all the facts are weighed there is a measure of consideration for him. Ruth has just finished a sentence of unprecedented severity, running through a period of 30 days of suspension, which disqualified him from practice with his team prior to the commencement of a game. Without this necessary work, the player lost his batting eye, and returned to the game in a great degree unprepared to match the skill of pitchers who have about reached the high water mark of proficiency. As a natural sequence he failed utterly in his prowess as a batter, much to the disappointment of an excited and non too indulgent public. The hero of a year ago was ridden by the fans, and at times sharply abused. "Ruth plainly did not possess the mental strength and stability to brave this sudden reversal of public adoration. It served to warp his playing ability, and for days he has been nervous and irritable."

Improvement In Hubbell's Condition

Philadelphia National League Pitcher Had Skull Fractured by Batted Ball Thursday. Philadelphia, May 25.—A marked improvement in the condition of Wilber Hubbell, Philadelphia National League pitcher, whose skull was fractured by a batted ball yesterday, was noted tonight by Dr. John A. Beger, the club's physician. Dr. Beger said there was no doubt of Hubbell's recovery unless unexpected complications arise. "He will be out of the hospital in a few weeks," said the doctor, "but it will be some time before he is able to play ball."

The Independents Declared Pros.

Efforts to induce Some Capital Stars to Forsake Amateur Standing Proves Unavailing. Princeton, N. H., May 25.—All players participating in the games of the York County Independent Baseball League will be declared professionals and barred from participation in amateur sports of all kinds by the Maritime branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, according to a statement of the president of that body. A. W. Covey, made here today. Each section, however, will have little effect upon other sports than baseball, it is said. Tommy Miller, who was the sensation of Maryville hockey team last winter, was the only athlete prominent in other lines of sport who took the plunge from the amateur to the professional arena in the opening baseball games this week. Absence of a number of well known players from the ranks of the Independent Baseball League shows that efforts to induce some of the stars to forsake their amateur standing had proved unavailing, although it is alleged, threats were made that there would be disfigurement if certain athletes attempted to appear as amateurs in the future. Myrtle—"Handsome as like cigars." Oweens—"How's that?" "Why, they're never any good if you let them go out."

Conflicting And Uncertain Moves On Stock Market

Trend, However, Among Leaders Was Upward—Low Price Rails Led Transportation Lists.

New York, May 26—Recent conflicting and uncertain movements in the stock market were resumed today. The trend among leaders and investment shares was mainly upward, however, on larger dealings, to which the shorts made enforced contributions.

Secondary or low priced rails again led the transportation list to materially higher levels. Striking features of that group comprised Lake Erie and West, Erie common and preferred, St. Paul, Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred and New Haven, coalers, notably Reading again moving upward.

Oil made substantial headway on the higher prices quoted for the crude product, Mexican and Pan-American petroleum scoring the largest advances with California Petroleum, but those issues, were among the first to give way under realizing sales.

Other individual features of strength included Studebaker, Baldwin, United Retail Stores, tobacco products and numerous unclassified specialties.

Foremost among these was Coco Cola, which retained the better part of its extreme gain of 3% points. Sales amounted to 1,350,000 shares.

Call money opened and renewed into next week at 3% per cent rising to 4 per cent at midday and five per cent in the last half hour, the advance being attributed to calling of loans by local banks. Time rates were unchanged but available supplies for the lower maturities were small.

GENOA AVOIDED OPEN RUPTURE

For This Reason Everybody is Happy—Many Feared European Explosion.

Genoa, May 26—The conference is dead! Long live the conference! Those are not precisely the "mastic words" with which France closed the conference, but they reflect the spirit which permeated most of the speeches. Everybody seems happy, though the taxpayers have not had their say, and the reason given for the joy is significant indication of the present situation in Europe, which is worth remembering. To use M. Barthou's words in addressing the press: "The conference could have been a great danger. It was not. It has been a success. It is a great thing. Thirty-four nations of Europe have been together discussing their problems for forty days, and part with better relations than before instead of a rupture."

Another thing upon which the delegates compliment themselves is the fact that they are not saying "farewell" but "ill we meet again at the Hague." The rift upon which the distressed mariners of Europe are clinging is still intact, though barriers have been erected separating the survivors in a manner which may, perhaps, save the craft by lessening disputes that might wreck it by destroying the equilibrium. All, however, are still aboard save the Germans, who, following the same metaphor, jumped overboard and washed overboard. No land in sight, but there are hopes that the American ship on the horizon will see the distress signal.

Messieurs the relations between the survivors are not so pleasant as they try to make them appear. That was evident even in the closing plenary session. The original disputes remain and they have the honest man's habit of not being kept down. The session, which was to have lasted two hours, would not have ended even in four had a steam roller been used to repress questions such as Vilna, found highly dangerous. Lloyd George managed to get in his reply to the Russian arguments, and though it was not as "sharp" as originally intended, it naturally brought an answer from Tchitcherin, so the conference ended on a controversial note.

The British Premier spoke of the incurable Western prejudice that the money loaned a neighbor must be repaid before more is loaned, and warned the Russians it was not diplomatic, whereas

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCES AS SEEN BY POLITICIANS

Mr. Harding's Action Fails to Evoke Applause of Either Republicans or Democrats—Random Notes.

Washington, May 26—Last week will be known in Washington as the "White House conferences." President Harding was busy with the steel and railroad managers in his effort to pave the way for improved business conditions throughout the country and he still is giving attention to these subjects.

Recognizing steel as a great basic industry, he first attempted to bring employers and employees together in a manner to insure harmonious co-operation, and was so pleased with his success that he did not hesitate to express his gratification.

"Just wait," his friends said, "until the President gets the railroad people on the carpet, and when you see how he tells them to get on and get off and how they obey, then you will have something to prate about."

The railroad conference also has come and gone, and sure enough the newspaper men are finding something to say. But not all of them are recording optimistic accounts of the meeting with the railroads. The President does not seem to have been so successful there as he was with the steel people. Already he has encountered cross currents. The railroad operators are finding fault with the executive interference in the matter of the more only a means of reducing wages.

The International Commerce Commission also is grouchy over the President's intervention. It reports that while the commission has been working on the problem for many months, and current report has it that after numerous reports it has reached a decision upon the terms of a report and even now is prepared to submit its findings. Naturally the commission considers the subject within its province, and while it has been favorably disposed to the President's action, it does not like to see a well-grounded general belief that they do not look kindly upon an effort which might deprive them of an important question.

Meantime politics is being brought into the question. With the 1923 election approaching, the Democrats see in the President's activity only a Republican move, while, on the other hand, Republican leaders apprehend that their chief may be playing with fire.

The most recent word from Woodrow Wilson's St. resident is that he is a very busy man. His visitors are few and far of the select of his followers. The majority come away with sealed lips, but occasionally a word is dropped. These scant expressions are made the most of, and many are enlarged into important statements. It is therefore, difficult to differentiate between fact and fiction in regard to the former president. The most recent account credits him with saying that he has before him a great work, and that the work is uncertain, but it is believed to mean that he still has hopes of bringing the United States into the League of Nations, and that it is his intention to try to keep the subject before the people of this asking a loan to take occasion to argue in support of the repudiation of debts. M. Tchitcherin suggested when the neighbor broke in the debtor's house, killed his sons, smashed the furniture and burned the house he ought at least to start by paying for the destruction.

That is what we heard when Genoa began and yesterday's repetition we might as well resign ourselves to hearing it again at the Hague. The famous non-aggression pact was accepted verbally with varying degrees of reservations ranging from Japan, which was "happy to accept" on the strength of the assurance that it did not mean in any manner with the position of Japanese troops in Siberia, to Belgium and France which could not accept, but agreed to recommend it to their respective parliaments.

Seventeen Powers, Italy, the neutrals, the Little Entente, Austria, Bulgaria and Hungary, accepted without reserve. Dr. Rathenau succeeded in leading a small tempest by allying to "the countries where public opinion is not yet demobilized," which led to M. Barthou's later remark on Rathenau's "unwise preference" and added that "France did not wish war and does passionately desire peace"—a statement which he told the press was a full meeting, and that France would not object to helping the debtor if she had a guarantee that Germany would pay.

Improved Export Demand Stiffened The Wheat Market

There Was Active Trading, With Steady Undertone and Higher Prices.

Winnipeg, May 26—With an improved export demand and some direct cable business being worked, there was a fairly active trade passing on the local market today, the undertone being steady and prices throughout the major part of the session slightly higher. There was quite a little changing of hedges from the May to the July going on shippers and spreaders appearing to be buying the May, while the selling was probably liquidating interests. At the close, May future showed an advance of 3-8 cent; July 3-4, and October 2-4 cent over Thursday's final prices.

Quite a little wheat changed hands at something under 1 cent premium for May over July. Besides this, foreign buyers displayed considerable interest in the new crop wheat.

The coarse future grains were all quiet and continue to be governed by the action of wheat in the cash markets there was a good demand for Numbers 1 and 2 northern wheat, but trade in other grades was flat. Farmers still continue to hold their wheat for higher prices. Premiums were unchanged at 5 1/2 cents over the May price for Number 1 northern and 1-2 cent over for Number 2. N. Y. Bond Market Featured By Greater Activity

Investment Group Firm and Speculative Issues Registered Highest Quotations.

New York, May 26—Greater activity and a fair degree of strength featured today's bond market. Investment offerings held firm while many speculative issues registered highest quotations of the year.
