SPEAK THE TRUTH.

Oh ne'er let falsehoo I stain thy tougue, Nor let thy lips betray The better reason into wrong, But truth's great law obey.

The way to fortune all inquire, But Truth's a nobler prize, For truth, -immortal as its sire, Still lives when fortune dies.

Then ne'er let falschood stain thy tongue, Nor led thy lips betray,

Thy better reason into wrong But Truth's great law obey. Tis truth that makes the bosom glow, With independent worth, It is a joy that angels know, And maketh licaven on earthy

Who first oxe step from nonor took. Took one step to DISGRACE, Who keeps the Truth-tho' poor The whole world in the face.

Then ne'er let falseleod stain thy tongue, Nor let thy lips betray But TRUTH'S GREAT LAW OBEY.

The Reese River Reveille, of the 27th ult., gives some account of the gen called turquoise, and of a turquoise mine existing in the Columbus district. The turquoise stone is susceptible of high polish and is much esteemed by conneissers of precious stones. The choicest specimens are of a pale blue with the faintest tinge of green; but in turquoise of an inferior kind the green predominates. In Persia this gen is most highly prized and the choicest specimens are obtained there.
