

ROJESTVENSKY SAILS SOUTH; TOGO AFTER NEBOGATOFF

Squadron of Fast Japanese Cruisers Seeking to Destroy Second Russian Division Before a Junction Can Be Made With Main Fleet—Neutrality-Breaking Again.

St. Petersburg, May 5, 1:55 p.m.—Admiral Rojestvensky, according to a high naval authority, has sailed south to meet the division of the Russian fleet on the Pacific coast, commanded by Admiral Nebogatoff. The admiral has information that a Japanese division of fast cruisers and torpedo-boats was sent south for the purpose of destroying Nebogatoff's ships before they could effect a junction with those of Rojestvensky, and there is reason to believe that they took a position in the Straits of Sunda, through which Nebogatoff originally intended to make the passage into the China Sea. There is also reason to believe that Nebogatoff first approached the Straits of Sunda, but finding them too well guarded, put about and headed north for the Straits of Malacca, his division lacking the protection of fast cruisers, and being at a great disadvantage in the meeting of torpedo attacks.

swift adversary, especially as the crews of his ships have not had the training in maneuvering, or the target practice, which Admiral Rojestvensky's crews while off the Island of Madagascar, and the anxiety here will only be completely relieved when it is known that a junction has been effected. The Russ today announced that Capt. Clado (who was Admiral Rojestvensky's chief tactician until the North Sea incident, and who recently was appointed to special service in connection with vessels navigating rivers in the theater of war), has been made a staff captain.

Did France Break Faith?

Tokio, May 5.—Popular attention is now centered on the present of the second Russian Pacific squadron in French waters. While the assurance of France relating to the Kamranh Bay incident was generally accepted, the later discovery that the Russian ships continued their stay at Kamranh Bay, and then entered other French ports, has created a feeling of keen disappointment, rapidly growing deeper and deeper. The local press charges France with bad faith. The conservative element is awaiting France's response in explanation, hoping that the Government will finally expel the Russian fleet from its waters.

TORTURED WIFE; SHOT HUSBAND

She Counted Ten and He Was Shot On Last Count by Enraged Bandits.

Parkersburg, W. Va., May 5.—A posse of officers accompanied by a large number of infuriated residents are searching Calhoun county for three masked robbers who at an early hour yesterday morning shot to death Charles Berkshire, a farmer living near Brooksville, after inhumanly torturing his wife. The family was aroused shortly after midnight by the robbers, who, after binding the wife, led the husband to the center of the room, turned up the lights, and ordered Mrs. Berkshire to count ten, stating that if her husband did not tell the truth, his money was that they would kill him on the tenth count. The couple insisted that they had no money, and the outlaws plinched and beat the woman and applied burning matches to the soles of her feet. Screaming in agony, Mrs. Berkshire finally consented to count ten and on the tenth count a shot rang out and her husband fell dead.

ST. THOMAS WISHES TO AVOID BURDEN

Mayor and Councilors See Mr. Whitney Re Control of Toll Roads.

Toronto, May 5.—Elgin County Council wants to abolish tolls on the London and Port Stanley gravel road, and will assume control of the highway with the exception of one mile within the limits of St. Thomas. It appears, however, that this mile of road has four ancient wooden bridges, needing immediate renewal at an estimated cost of $50,000. The road is not a main city street, but part of a through road, and the St. Thomas Council does not want to assume the burden mentioned. Up to 1857 the county operated the road, leasing it as a toll road in that year for a period of 99 years. A special act was secured, including the mile mentioned in the general scheme, and the city bases its case on that act. Mayor Moore and several aldermen of St. Thomas, waited upon Premier Whitney this morning and presented the foregoing as their side of the case, and a reason why a bill now before the Legislature on behalf of Elgin County should not be allowed to pass, unless it is amended to include the toll road, the company assumes the whole road.

ADDRESSED DEAD HEROES

The Japanese Crown Prince Attends Enshrining Ceremony. Tokyo, May 5.—The enshrining ceremony concluded today, the Crown Prince visiting the Shokonsha Temple at 11 a.m. A group of distinguished guests, including the crown prince, who entered the shrine, where he bowed himself in prayer and broke bread with the spirits of the dead. The prince, who entered the shrine, where he bowed himself in prayer and broke bread with the spirits of the dead. Quinn Declared Guilty Of the Crime of Perjury Acquitted On Charge of Impersonation, He Is Convicted On Second Count.

At 6:30 o'clock last evening, Martin Quinn was declared guilty of perjury by twelve of his peers in the assize court. Acquitted by a jury last winter of having impersonated Frederick Pat Palmer at both 7a, ward 4, on Nov. 3, Quinn now stands convicted of having taken the oath in Palmer's name at the same place and at the same time. Thus there is presented the almost unprecedented situation of a man being pronounced "not guilty" by one jury, and "guilty" by another, of practically the same crime and on practically the same evidence. The perjury trial was almost a duplicate of the former, with the exception of the verdict. The small amount of new evidence given yesterday was unimportant and was about equally divided between the two sides. George Talbot testified for the crown that Martin Quinn was wearing a mustache before the trial. John Shook swore that he met Quinn, the man who drove the impersonator to the jail, according to the evidence, and was sure that Quinn's witness, however, seemed rather confused when in the box, and the court suggested that he had been drinking. One former witness who did not appear at the trial was Cahill himself. Cahill explained that the reason for this was that Cahill's character was such that his evidence had become discredited. The absence of Cahill's evidence affected both sides almost equally. Cahill swore at the former trial that the man he drove to the police station was Quinn. But the crown might have used his evidence in rebuttal of several pieces of testimony presented by the defense. If the latter were not true when the case was closed, Mr. Justice Meredith expressed his surprise that Neither side had made use of Cahill this time.

Trial Occupied Whole Day.

Starting at 10 o'clock in the morning, the trial occupied just exactly one day's session of the court. The crown counsel, Mr. Sydney Smith, put the case for the crown clearly and succinctly, and the witness trial, and their replies to questions varied in no important particular. The same may be said of the case for the defense, conducted by Mr. John M. McEvoy. In fact, as Judge Meredith remarked, there was reason to doubt very little of the evidence on either side, so evidently were the witnesses sticking to what they considered the truth. The case was simply one of determining the identity of the man who committed the perjury, and witnesses had varying opinions upon the question. The evidence given by Quinn's three companions, used by the defense in an endeavor to prove an alibi, came out in much stronger relief at the present trial. Mr. James Meredith caused this part of the case to be examined closely, asking many questions of the three witnesses himself. The court suggested that, when the circumstances of time and place were considered closely, Quinn would have had time to leave the toll booth by the time the crown witnesses testified they saw him at the latter place. The court said there was no reason to doubt the evidence of these three men. It was given in a straightforward manner, but the court suggested that the witnesses would naturally lean a little in details to the side of the prisoner. Evidence Evenly Balanced. In addressing the jury, Mr. McEvoy brought forward every circumstance in Quinn's favor in a very impressive manner. The court remarked upon the fact that the evidence was extremely evenly balanced between the two sides. Continued on page 3.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE

Threat to Call in the Militia Quells the Rioters Somewhat.

Chicago, May 5.—Bluntly warned by Sheriff Barrett that riotous wenching for by simply of the police and deputy sheriffs together proved unable to control violence. Strike sympathizers were less in evidence about the many strikes Court stores, stable today. Chief O'Neill issued a general order to arrest all persons following police-guarded wagons. When the strike first broke out, said the chief, "persons followed the wagons out of curiosity. Now they follow them to incite riot. Hence will be discrimination by the police in such cases, in making arrests."

A SECOND "500" LINE

Will Go Through North Dakota Into Assiniboia. Winnipeg, Man., May 5.—Assiniboia will be enjoying important additional railway accommodation in the shape of a second 500 line branch within the year. The management has decided to push the Thief River Falls branch, to be constructed this year, northward into Canadian territory. The new branch will be a most valuable property. By this shrewd stroke the Soo connects eight branches of the Great Northern, serving the richest districts in North Dakota, five of which branches are in the Canadian branch. The Soo line, with a single big branch running east and west, and connecting with the Winnipeg-St. Paul branch, expects to divert a considerable percentage of the traffic handled by the Great Northern short branches.

UNION MONEY EXEMPT

Court Says Saving Bank Deposits Cannot Be Attacked.

Toronto, May 5.—The master in chambers this morning ruled at Osgoode Hall that the money which a labor union may have on deposit in a savings bank cannot be attacked by a creditor. The court said that it was a deposit in the Dominion Bank to the credit of the defendants in satisfaction of costs recovered by the plaintiff company.

WANTS PUBLIC HOUSE TRUST SYSTEM FOR THE DOMINION

Senator Beique Recommends Adoption of Earl Grey's System.

Ottawa, May 5.—The Senate having discussed the heavy mortality caused by tuberculosis, has entered upon a debate upon the adoption of Earl Grey's system. The prime mover in this is Senator Beique, a convert to the public house trust system, which he has introduced in the Dominion when in Britain. Senator Beique offers the following resolution for adoption: "That in the opinion of the Senate the British Gothenberg experiments and the establishment of public house trusts in England have materially advanced the solution of the temperance question and of the social reform problem, and that the time has arrived when like experiments should be made and like public house trusts should be established in this Dominion."

ANTIQUES AT AUCTION

High Prices Realized for Collection of the Renaissance Period.

London, May 5.—The Capel Cure collection of antiques was sold at auction yesterday. A pagoda shield of wood overlaid, painted and gilded, Italian, of the first half of the sixteenth century, sold for $300; an Italian inkstand, 16th century, $75; a knocker, formed as a figure of a woman, sixteenth century, $100; a chalice or throne, afterwards used as a confection box, of walnut elaborately carved, removed from the Palace of Versailles, in the early part of the eighteenth century, $520.

PULL WON'T GO

Applications for Militia Must Come by Official Channel.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, May 5.—The following militia order was issued today: "Honorable the minister in militia council regrets that he is obliged to call attention of officers of the permanent force to the unsoldierlike practice that prevails in several quarters of making, or permitting to be made, applications to him for changes of station, or special privileges, through unofficial channels. The minister desires it to be distinctly understood that he will only consider communications from officers of the permanent force, that reach him through the proper official channel, and he further desires it to be understood that if officers of the permanent force are dissatisfied with their stations or positions, they are at liberty at any time to forward their resignations, which will promptly be accepted."

Struck by Lightning

Dunroon, Ont., May 5.—During a severe thunderstorm early this morning the stable belonging to the late Charles McKay was struck by lightning and completely destroyed with all its contents. Charles McKay also perished in the building, having gone into the stable to save his brother's cow.

Barn Damaged in Storm.

Dutton, May 5.—About 8 o'clock last evening, lightning struck the barn of John Kearns, Dunwich Township, severely injuring a young lad, Edward Kearns, and doing considerable damage to property. Loss about $500. No insurance.

DOWN CAME FLAG POLE

Sixty-Foot Shaft Wrecks Roof of Adjoining Building.

Toronto, May 5.—A sixty-foot flag pole on the recently-renovated Yonge street building of the Gutter Percha and Rubber Company was blown down this morning and damaged adjacent to seventy thousand dollars done. The pole wrecked the new roof of the rubber company's building, and also that of the building next door, owned by the same company. No one was hurt.

THE GAYNOR GREENE CASE

U. S. Representatives Fighting an Application for Bail.

Montreal, May 5.—The legal conflict in the Gaynor-Greene extradition case was continued today, and resulted in another adjournment. A week ago the case had got to the stage where the prisoners were ordered by Judge Lafontaine (extradition commissioner) to put up their defense. In the meantime, their lawyers had appealed to the Quebec court on several grounds. The prisoners had secured adjournment until today in order to make the Quebec decision. The prisoners for the defense put up a strong fight for liberation on bail, which was strongly opposed. The United States Government, Judge Lafontaine adjourned the case until Tuesday, to give his decision on the application.

HAILSTONES INCHES THICK

Sudden Downpour Does Great Damage to Grand Rapids, Mich.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 5.—Damage estimated at over $100,000 was worked at noon yesterday by the most terrific hailstorm that ever visited Grand Rapids and vicinity. Thousands of dollars' worth of glass in greenhouses and in skylights and windows in down-town buildings was shattered by the downpour. The hailstones were larger than ever before fell in Grand Rapids. Many were picked up that measured several inches in diameter. Almost an inch of rain fell in the space of about eight minutes, and the thermometer dropped 13 degrees in as many minutes.

Near Hillsdale, Willis Swift and his 20-year-old son, Claude, farmers, who had fled to their barn on the approach of the storm, were killed by lightning. The elder victim's body was consumed with the barn, but the younger man's body was snatched from the flames by neighbors. Near Standish Joseph Southworth was struck by lightning and killed while walking along the tracks of the Canadian National Railway of the Michigan Central Railroad.

Says McGill Is Good College, But No University.

KEEP CANADIAN GIRLS HERE

Advices Graduate to Remain in Canada, and Says Professors Are Worked Too Hard.

New York, May 5.—"Don't work your professors so hard, but give them a little chance to think," was the advice of William Osler to the American universities in his speech as guest of honor at the tenth annual dinner of the New Graduates' Society of McGill University last evening, at the Hotel Imperial, says the Times. The most significant part of his response to the toast drunk in his honor grew out of the remark that, although McGill has grown to a first-class college, it is not a university. He continued: "To produce a great university you must have a sort of leisure class within the institute. A man who works six or eight or ten hours a day teaching and lecturing can do no great amount of original thinking."

FROM LONDON'S EAST END

Party of 300 English Immigrants Arrive at Toronto.

Toronto, May 5.—A special train with 300 English immigrants arrived here this morning. The party included about forty families, and among the many little children were about a dozen infants in arms. They are nearly all from the east end of London, and were assisted to emigrate by the Self-Help Emigration Society. The majority will be placed in farming positions though a few will proceed to the Northwest.

Austria and Italy.

Madrid, May 5.—Senator Garcia Alexts, Minister of Finance, is very much satisfied with the subscriptions to the new Treasury bill, which amount to 71,500,000 pesetas ($14,900,000). He says they show that the national savings are greater than they were believed to be outside of Spain.

FORECASTS.

St. Joseph, Mich., May 5.—A search possessing all the features of a novelist's tale, and telling the story of the spending of a fortune and twenty years in anxiety for the finding of it, has been ended in the finding of Fred Shepard, son of Albert Shepard, a millionaire, formerly residing in this city, at Portland Oregon, today. "Twenty years ago Shepard, then a lad of 18 years, after a reprimand from his father for some boyish prank, disappeared from home, and not until today has a word been heard from him. The story of the intervening years has been spent by the parents in traveling over the continent in an effort to get a trace of their boy's whereabouts. Thousands of dollars have been spent in employing detectives and in advertising in papers in every part of America. In ten years Mr. and Mrs. Shepard have traveled across the continent at least five times, each time following vague clues. Two months ago they went to the Pacific coast, partly for a sojourn but still searching. Two days ago Mr. Shepard picked up a Portland paper, and glancing at a notice of a beautiful woman mounted on a horse he saw beneath it the name, "Mrs. Fred Shepard." He immediately took a train for Portland and in two hours was reunited with his son. The son leaving home, had traveled west, established himself as a business, and today a prosperous man of income. His wife is one of the society women of Portland. Young Shepard, ashamed at his actions towards his parents, vowed after he left home, that he would not write to them, but would lead them to think that he had died. He will fall heir to several hundred thousand dollars at the death of his parents.

Ontario Government Stocks To Be Placed On Markets?

THOROUGHBREDS BURNED

Twelve Racehorses Perish in Fire at St. Louis Track.

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—Fire this morning destroyed 25 stables at the St. Louis Fair Exposition track and killed a dozen horses. The principal loss is Frank Gering, of St. Louis, whose entire string except Floral Wrenth was destroyed. Other St. Louis owners lost one or more horses each.

BULLS CHARGE A CROWD

Troops Called Out in Madrid to Subdue the Animals.

Madrid, May 5.—While three bulls were being taken to the bullring they broke from the cage in which they were confined and charged the surrounding crowd. One man was taken to a hospital in a dying condition. Another tossed a woman. The crowd sought refuge in houses and trees. The bulls charged the cab stand and gored three horses to death. A body of 400 men armed with loaded rifles hastened to the scene. One of the bulls charged the gendarmes, but received a volley that killed him. It was amazing that nobody was hit, although there were hundreds of persons on the street. Men from the bullring finally captured the two remaining animals.

NAN PATTERSON'S RELEASE

Depends on Vote of the Jury Says the District Attorney.

Albany, N. Y., May 5.—District Attorney Jerome, who has been here looking after certain legislation, said that the vote of the jury in the case of Nan Patterson would determine to a large degree his decision whether to put her on trial again for the murder of Caesar Young. If the jury was preponderantly against her he might try her again. If the majority was in her favor he might consent to her release. Judge Carter, in the court of general sessions, today, quashed the indictment charging conspiracy against J. Morgan Smith and his wife, Julia Patterson Smith. He gives the district attorney permission to resubmit the case to the grand jury. Nan Patterson's condition was much improved today.

Fire at Southampton.

Southampton, Ont., May 5.—There was a disastrous fire here last night, the blacksmith shop and carriage works of McLean & Tuppel being destroyed. The fire had gained great headway before being noted. The excellent waterworks system of the town did splendid service in the hands of the fire brigade, saving Mr. McLean's new brick residence and other buildings adjoining. The firm lost heavily on finished stock, tools, etc. Slight insurance.

Premier Whitney Plans Launching "Trustees' Securities."

Opposition Points Out Move Is Barred by British Act.

Legislature Cleans Up the Order Sheet—The Temiskaming Loan

—New Bills Read.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, May 4.—Such good progress with the session's business was made during the three days' sittings of this week that the order paper was exhausted before 6 o'clock this afternoon and there was no night sitting. As an example of the expedition with which the House is dealing with legislation this session, it may be mentioned that at Wednesday evening's sitting twelve bills were put through their own act in a ten minutes. If this rate is maintained, the Premier's promise to prorogue the House before May 24, may be fulfilled. Treasurer Matheson announced that the Province would shortly issue permanent stock, which would be listed in England as trustees' securities. It would be, therefore, a safe and much-sought-after investment. Mr. Harcourt and Mr. Ross, who in the past had each held the portfolio of the treasury, and were, therefore, entirely conversant with the subject in hand, pointed out that the Ontario Government could not issue permanent stock, but that the Province could create trustees' securities, only the Imperial Government having the power to designate what securities shall be known as trustees' securities. The measure, introduced by Mr. Matheson, was given its second reading. It enables the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to create a permanent provincial stock, known as the "Ontario Government stock," payable in gold and chargeable upon the consolidated revenue fund. The measure permits the Government to raise money by issuing debentures, or Ontario Government stock, by the granting of terminal annuities, by the issuing of exchequer bills or bonds or treasury bills. The securities may be payable in any currency, and the Government may from time to time direct that the whole or any portion of the stock may be redeemed in the United Kingdom and elsewhere. The result of the passage of this measure will be that investors may secure "Ontario Government stock" on the same terms as the purchase of British consols. The measure is designed to make Ontario known among the financial circles of the world as a government that will then be in a position to borrow money on much more advantageous terms than has hitherto been the case. The Temiskaming Loan. When the House went into committee on the Provincial Treasurer's resolution respecting the $7,000,000 loan to the Temiskaming Railway commission, Col. Matheson explained that it was proposed to raise the money on the direct credit of the Province of Ontario and the money would go into the consolidated debt. The benefits that would accrue from this were obvious. By raising the money on the direct credit of the Province it could be secured at a much lower rate of interest than if it were raised on the credit of the Temiskaming Railway commission, because trustees of estates, and others looking for an absolute safe investment, would invest their money in Government bonds where they would not or could not invest in anything else. Mr. Harcourt said that the Legislature could not make its securities rank as trustees' securities, as such securities were specified by the colonial stocks act of the British Parliament. In order to get its securities listed as trustees' securities the Government would have to apply to the Dominion Government to ask them to give the credit of the imperial act. The credit of the Province was beyond question, but unfortunately even well-educated English investors and financiers were ignorant of Ontario's standing. Mr. Ross repeated Mr. Harcourt's argument that only the British Government could rank its securities as trustees' securities. He agreed that it was desirable that steps be taken to have the British act amended. He objected that the amendment would be an indemnity of the purposes to which the loan was to be applied. Hitherto, the Province had paid for the public debt out of its revenue. The investor would naturally ask why it was necessary to raise a loan for the purpose. He contended that the Province should not borrow money unnecessarily. The resolution was then carried in committee. House in Supply. The House spent half an hour in committee of supply, and disposed of all the estimates, with the exception of three items. In the discussion on the estimates of the educational department, Mr. Preston (St. Brant), called attention to the unsatisfactory condition of the adult blind in the Province. The Brantford Institutions was not in any sense an industrial home. The only trades taught there were basket weaving and piano tuning, for neither of which was there much demand, and many of the homes for the blind were maintained, though of late the view had been expressed that these homes tended to pauperize the blind as a class. Mr. Preston suggested that a census be taken of the blind in the Province, and information secured as to their condition, and he intended to take it up. The blind, he considered, a deserving class, who should be helped. In considering the same law, Hon. Dr. Reaume stated that more game wardens would be needed to properly protect the game and fur-bearing animals of the Province. Mr. Ross having committed upon the item of $30,000 for gratuities, Mr. Hanna said that most of these had

TORONTO.
 Toronto, May 4.—Wealness dominated the cattle division of the city. Choice yearlings today, and prices had a lower trend in all lines, butchers showing the most pronounced reaction. A sensational break was recorded in the quotation for lambs, and sheep and calves were also lower, but in a lesser degree. Hogs were unchanged. Receipts were 100 loads, including 1,800 cattle, 200 sheep and lambs, 1,750 hogs and 312 calves.
 Butchers' Cattle—Marketed were excessive, and prices depressed under the weight of the burdensome supplies. The weakness seemed to be due to the heavy grades of poorly finished heaves, of which there were heavy offerings. Buyers had apparently accumulated too much of these on previous market days, and the demand being of such an unimportant character, they were compelled to make concessions of 1c to 2c below the level of Tuesday. Some of the buyers, however, maintained that prices were no lower, the quality of the cattle were offered sold readily, and as the offerings of this class were moderate, fully steady prices were maintained.
 Exporters—The trading in this division was of a rather pecuniary character. Buyers have accumulated large supplies of late, which they have been unable to ship out, owing to the delay in the arrival of the boats at Montreal, and they have been forced to feed these cattle for some days now, and see no chance of shipping them out. As a result, they are small late buyers, and they are not so eager to secure many additional hogs today, the movement towards the scales being slow. Anything very choice received some attention, but the less desirable grades were disposed of with some difficulty. The general run reflected about the same loss as butchers, when compared with the quotations on the last market day, though there were some sales at 5c again, but they were not by any means as plentiful as on previous market days.
 Stockers and Feeders—Trade was inclined to drag, particularly for the inferior grades, but prices on the whole are little changed from the previous level.

WANT LAND GRANTS

Veterans of 1865 Asking Provincial Recognition of Their Services.

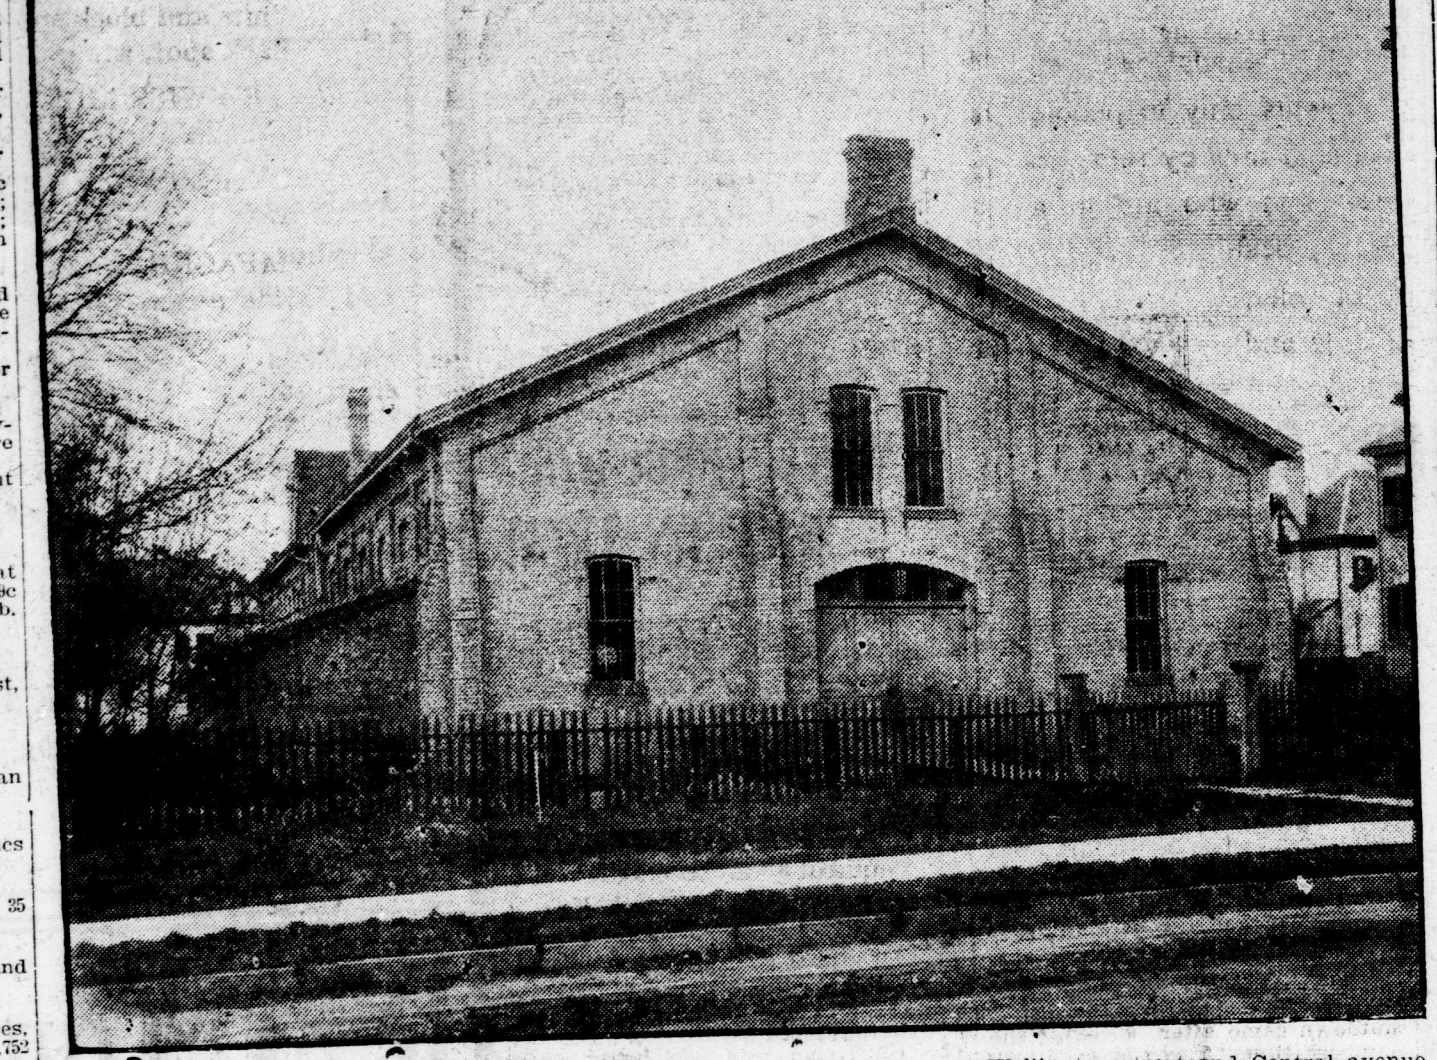

The members of the Northwest Field Force of 1865 are moving in the direction of securing a grant of land from the Ontario Government in return for their services in quelling the rebellion. The secretary of the Northwest Field Force Association, Captain Alfred Curran, of Toronto, has sent out a number of circulars, asking that meetings of the vets be called and that united action be taken to bring their views in the matter before the members of the Legislature for the respective ridings. Those of the Seventh who served in the Northwest in 1865 and are still resident in the city are to join heartily in the movement.
 Mr. W. D. Mills (Mills' Book store, Richmond street) has received a copy of the petition to be presented to Hon. J. J. Poy, the Ontario Commissioner of Crown Lands, and he desires that all members of the Seventh Regiment of 1865 should call and sign the document. It sets forth that at the close of the war the members of the field force were given grants of land by the Dominion Government, but the provision was made that the land had to be occupied inside of a year and all condi-

THE NURSE'S HOME

Committee Report Building About Complete Except Painting.

The Nurses' Home committee inspected the home yesterday. The building is practically completed, except the painting, and it is thought that this week a meeting will then be held, and if all the contracts are found to have been completed to the satisfaction of the engineer, the amount now due for the work, totaling $2,145, will be handed over by the city. Of this amount, the sum of $1,000 is for extra work, totaling $1,000, for extra work, Chairman Stevens, A. Carson, (Coop. Porristal and City Engineer Graydon made the inspection.

LONDON'S OLD DRILL SHED WILL SOON DISAPPEAR.

It was announced today that the old drill-shed property on the corner of Wellington street and Central avenue has been purchased by Mr. Ed Shea. The consideration, it is understood, was something over $13,000. The property, which is one of the finest in the city, has a frontage of 132 feet on Wellington street and runs back 230 feet on Central avenue. It will be immediately cut up into building lots and sold by Mr. Shea. Already several of the lots have been sold, the demand for property in this section, which is choice residential, facing and bordering on Victoria Park, being very keen. The old drill hall is to be at once demolished, and thus an eyesore which has long troubled the residents of Wellington street will be removed. Some very fine houses, it is understood, will be built on the property this summer.

GOVERNMENT STOCKS PLACED ON THE MARKET

 been pledged by the late Government, and white others were due officials who had voluntarily resigned. It was the intention of the Government to deal with these retiring officials as the value of their public service demanded. In response to a half-jocular query from Mr. Graham, as to the possibility of the Government reducing the salaries of the members, Mr. Whitney said that so long as he remained at the head of the Government, the Province's resources were unlimited, and the indemnity would be maintained at a proper figure.
 The following bills were introduced and read a first time.
 Hon. Dr. Willoughby—Act to amend the act respecting coroners.
 Mr. Gagey—Respecting the establishment of municipal institutions in territorial districts.
 Mr. Lucas—Respecting assignments by insolvent persons.
 Mr. Carscallon (Hamilton)—To amend the railway act of Ontario.
 Mr. Preston—Respecting the Central Ontario Railway Company.
 Mr. Crawford—To amend the registry act.
 Mr. Whitney—To amend the surrogate courts act.
 In reply to Mr. Craig, the Minister of Education said that the Government were not prepared to announce their policy with regard to the authorized school books.
 Hon. Mr. Foy has given notice of a bill to amend an act setting apart certain wild lands of the crown, in addition to those previously set apart for the University of Toronto, and also of a bill to amend the act to provide for the appointment of certain lands in Africa, and the volunteer militia who served on the frontier in 1866. The latter measure provides for an extension of the time in which those who are entitled to land grants may put in their applications.
 The bill to set apart additional lands for the university has been introduced because it was found that the four townships for the university women's residence, which were set apart a number of years ago, contain a number of small lakes, and portions of them have also been settled upon. The bill provides that the full four townships shall be set aside.

JOTTINGS FROM NEAR-BY PLACES

Furnished by the Special and Occasional Correspondents of the Advertiser.
CLANDEBOYE.
 Clandeboye, May 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Dorcy have moved to Emerson, Nebraska. Mr. Allan Blackwell of London, spent a few days with his mother in this place. Mr. Harry Schoff, of Toronto, spent a few days with old friends around the city.
 Mrs. Simpson, who has been visiting relatives in Bay City, has returned to her home here.
 Mr. S. C. Chown, of this place, spent a few days with friends in Belleville.
 Miss Patton, of London, paid a visit to her parents here.
 Mr. Edie Hodgson left on Tuesday for Ridgeway, where he intends purchasing a carload of cattle.
 Miss Denholm, of Blyth, spent a few days with her uncle, Mr. Cunningham.
 Mrs. T. Hodgins, of Kingsville, is visiting her parents here.
HYDE PARK.
 Hyde Park, May 2.—Mr. Charles Kennedy, of the fifth concession, has sold his farm to his brother William, and has moved to London, where he intends residing.
 Mr. John Macdonald spent the past week-end with his sister, Mrs. Donald Macmillan, and his mother, Mrs. Macdonald, who is in very delicate health.
 The cantata given in the Presbyterian Church on Friday evening by the organist, Miss McKendry, and the choir, assisted by Mr. J. T. Parkinson, London, was well attended. The numbers were beautifully rendered, and much admired. The readings by local talent were also enjoyed. Rev. Dr. Nixon filled the chancel in his usual humorous and genial manner, and a very pleasant and profitable evening was spent by those present.
 Mr. Harry Hall has removed to London, where he intends going into business.
 The anniversary services were held in the Lambly Memorial Church on Sabbath afternoon and evening, both services being well attended. Rev. Mr. Wallin, pastor of the Empress Avenue Methodist Church, occupied the pulpit at both services.
 The old man of unsound mind who was wandering around this village and vicinity on Friday, was driven by Dr. Ross at midnight to London, when he was taken care of by his friends, who had been anxiously searching for him and the farmers of the surrounding country are through seeding, and are busy preparing the land for the next crop.
 The teachers of school section No. 17 resumed their duties on Monday, having

BLIND'S SIGHT RETURNS

After Years of Suffering Returns As Suddenly As It Left Him.
 New York, May 5.—No happier nor more grateful man exists than David Brown, Jun. For he recovered his eyesight yesterday after a fortnight of total blindness following six years of suffering with his eyes and five operations on them. Oculists cannot explain the perfect restoration of Brown's power to see.
 He is a printer, living at No. 128 North Fifth avenue, Mount Vernon. A minute particle of rusty iron entered one of his eyes six years ago and produced intense inflammation, which soon involved the other eye. Three operations were performed on his eyes in a hospital in this city. At the last the surgeons intended to remove the eye, but the iron had penetrated. But Brown was so intensely nervous that the incision was postponed for 24 hours. In that time the atom of iron shifted position and eventually the eye was saved.
 A felon formed over the eye the iron

LIVE GIRL IN GRAVE
 It Was Dug for Another But Little One Fell In.
 Pittsburg, May 5.—Little Delia Laugherty, the 6-year-old child of Geo. Laugherty, of Homestead, in company with four other little girls, was picking flowers along the fence near the Homestead Cemetery, when they espied a new-made grave, just over the fence. They became so curious that they could not resist the temptation of going over to look into it. As they peered down into the big hole and pondered, awe-stricken, the ground slipped away beneath little Delia's feet and she slid down into the grave.
 The tombstones frowned, an owl hooted, and a dog howled in the distance. Terror-stricken, the four other little girls fled to their homes, and so badly frightened were they that they did not tell of the accident to their companion.
 Meantime, Delia struggled in vain to gain freedom, her every effort to climb to the surface met with failure, and no one answered her calls for help. Only the owl hooted and the dog howled. Then she became unconscious in her terror.
 Late in the afternoon a funeral procession arrived. The gravedigger went to the new-made grave and helped the undertaker's assistant unload the rough box. Just as it was about to be lowered into the grave they espied the little form at the bottom. The child was brought to the surface, and a dash of water soon revived her. Then, as she was being carried away, the body of the dead man was lowered into the grave she had just vacated.

THE first of May finds nearly every clothing stock complete. A few new and select patterns chosen late in the season are now on our tables and complete the best stock of men's clothes ever in this store at one time.
 But what is of still more importance to the careful dresser, the tailoring on these garments is so much better than ever before. Our collar makers and shoulder molders and other specialists are each just so much more expert in making their particular part of each garment than they were a season ago. The close-fitting collar and clean-fitting concave shoulders are two of the special features that make our men's new clothes so much better than you'll find in other stores.

$20 Fine Imported Black Vicunas and Blue and Black Clay Worsteds. These are extra fine goods, all tailor-made, and have the Sovereign Brand label, now so popular at this store.

$18 Fine black clay twilled worsteds and genuine Belwarp serges and undressed worsteds; also fine blue serges and dark fancy colored tweeds. These materials are the custom tailors' $28 to $30 suitings. Oak Hall price $18.

$15 English tweeds, Scotch and Canadian chevots, nearly one hundred patterns to choose from, in both light and dark colors; also navy blue serges and plain black uncut worsteds. The custom tailors' $25 suitings.

$10 Never have we shown such a strong range of tweed suits at this popular price; some of the nicest patterns, that look like suits at twice the price; also navy blue serge suits, and all cut from the American patterns for spring, 1905.

$8.50 A splendid range at this very moderate price. Stylish patterns, you would pay $10.00 for them, and then have good value; Canadian tweeds and chevots; blue and black serges; only $8.50.

$6.50 You'd be surprised to see the quality of tweeds and the new bright patterns we have to show at this very moderate price. These are nearly all Canadian tweeds and all in dark colors—good, honest materials that will wear well and retain their appearance.

Our Spring trade shows a splendid increase over the same period of last year. This is very gratifying to us. We thank our many customers who have helped us to make it so, and we shall try and hold your confidence by continuing to give you the best values to be found in the trade; all backed up by our guarantee.

ASK FOR Slabatt's PORTER

(LONDON)
 Proved to be the best by analysis of four chemists, and by awards of the world's great exhibitions, especially Chicago 1893, where it received ninety-six points out of a possible hundred, much higher than any other porter in the United States or Canada.

Are You Troubled in This Way?

Why can't you eat as you need to? Simply because your liver doesn't do its work properly. Its business is to take bile out of the blood, which acts as Nature's cathartic, but your liver is sluggish and the bile accumulates too fast, and you feel worn out, tired and lifeless, and each succeeding day brings no relief. The use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills will change all this. Try them and you will be convinced that these little pills are indeed a tonic and stimulant to the functions of the liver. Then your brain will be active, your mind clear, and health conditions again established. You can eat anything, get your liver right. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills act gently but surely on the liver, and cure headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. Price only 25 cents at druggists.
 All genuine signed W. F. Smith.

BIRDS WANTONLY KILLED

Charities Society Will Aid in Having Offenders Punished.
 Miss Selma Graydon, one of the vice-presidents, presided at a meeting of the Charity Organization in the city hall yesterday afternoon. A large amount of routine business was attended to, after which the destroying of birds by boys with catapults and air guns was taken up.
 In this connection the members put themselves on record as ready and willing to do all in their power to bring to justice the cruel lads who wantonly kill the birds. Inspector Sanders was instructed to do everything possible to locate boys who own catapults or air guns, and it was also decided to prosecute to the full extent of the law any merchant found selling such articles to boys or youths.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Decker, stock broker, Bank of Commerce building, 100 King street, by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today.

New York, May 5. — Noon. — Although London prices, according to the official report, were lower than our closing arbitrage houses after selling a few stocks, turned around and bought quite heavily. Local commission houses seemed to have as many buyers as they had sellers yesterday, and there was no pressure to sell. The result was an advance all round, in which some urgent short covering made its appearance. The general opinion of the floor is that many weak accounts were eliminated yesterday, and that stocks are now in better hands. Market response to a bullish manipulation. Consolidated Gas reflected the effect upon sentiment of the defeat of the gas bill in Albany. The rumors that some amendments, which would have a depressing effect upon prices, was pending, has wholly disappeared, and sentiment, on the whole, is cheerful, with the professional quite confident that the rally will go further. Sales to noon, 531,000.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Friday, May 5. — Although there were only a few orders for many loads of hay offered today yesterday, sales were not as brisk; prices were a shade easier, at $8 and $9 per ton for the best loads.

A couple of loads of straw were offered, at $3.50 per load.

There were but three loads of oats on the market, at prices, highest $1.00 on Thursday; sales were made at $1.27 to $1.33 per cwt.

There was no doubt a good demand at Saturday's market for butter, eggs and poultry, and dealers seem anxious to purchase these articles.

SWEET CAPORAL

CIGARETTES

STANDARD OF THE WORLD

THE PUPPET CROWN.

BY HAROLD MACGRATH.

[Copyrighted by the Bobbs-Merrill Company, Indianapolis.]

CHAPTER XXI.

At 8 o'clock of the following evening, that is to say, the 19th of September, Maurice mounted the Thalian Pass and left the kingdom in the valley behind him. He was weary, lame and out of humor; besides, he had a new weight on his conscience. The night before he had taken the life of a man. True, this had happened before, but always in warfare. He had killed in a moment of rage and chagrin a poor devil who was at most only a puppet. There was small credit in the performance. However, the rascal would have suffered death in any event, his act being one of high treason.

"In the long ride he had made up his mind to lock away forever the silly dream, the tender, futile, sweet dream. All men die with secrets locked in their hearts; thus he, too, would die. His fancy leaped across the chasm of intervening years to the day of his death, and the thought was a happy one! He smiled sadly, as young men smile when they pity themselves. He knew that he would never see over it in a day. But tomorrow, or tomorrow tomorrow . . .

He took the pass' decliner, the duchy spread away below him, saw the quarter of a mile below him the bay and the customs office which belonged to Madame Duchesse. The corporal inspected him. "It is all right, Monsieur Carewe," said his papers, spoke lowly to the customs inspector, who returned to his office.

"I ought to recognize the horse a mile away. You will arrive just in time." "Just in time for what?" "Ah, true. Her highness gives a grand ball at the chateau tonight. The court has arrived from Brussels. Some will reside at the chateau, some at General Duckwitz's, others at the Countess Heberberg's."

"Has the duchess arrived at last, then?" was the cynical inquiry. "She will arrive this evening," answered the corporal, "in a grand, a pleasant journey to you."

Maurice proceeded. "And that blockhead of an Englishman has not tumbled yet! The court here? A grand ball? What else can it mean but that Madame is celebrating a victory to come? If the archbishop has those consols, she will wage war; and this is the pretense." He jogged along. He had accomplished a third of the remaining distance, when he was challenged. The sentry came forward and scrutinized the rider.

"O, it is Monsieur Carewe!" he cried in delighted tones. He touched his cap and fell back into the shadows. A mile farther, and the great chateau, scintillating with lights, loomed up against the velvet sky. He felt a thrill of excitement. Doubtless there would be some bright passages before the night drew to a close. He would make friends here to the very end. He would be something in the way of relaxation. How would they greet him? What would be Madame's future plans? Would she be going to Fitzgerald? How would she get him out of the way, now that he had served her purpose? He hurried on.

"The future promises much," he said, half aloud. "I am really glad that I came back."

"Halt!"

Maurice drew up. A sentry stepped out into the road.

"O, it is Monsieur Carewe!" he cried. With a short laugh he disappeared.

"Hang me," grumbled Maurice as he went on, "these fellows have remarkable memories. I can never forget any of them." He was mystified.

Shortly he came up to the patrol. The leader ordered him to dismount, and he obeyed willingly, for he was longing to stand again. He shook his legs, while the leader struck a match.

"Why, it is Monsieur Carewe!" he cried. "Good! We are coming out to meet you. This is a pleasure indeed."

Maurice gazed keenly into the speaker's face, and to his surprise he found the baron whose arm he had broken a fortnight since. He climbed on his horse again.

"I am glad to see you at a pleasure, baron," he said dryly. "From what you imply, I should judge that you were expecting me."

"Nothing less! Your departure from Bleiberg was known to us as early as 2 o'clock this afternoon," answered the baron. "Permit us to escort you to the chateau before the ladies see you. 'Tis a gala night; we are all in our best bib and tucker, as the English say. We believed at one time that you were not going to honor us with a second visit. Now to dress, both of us; at ten Madame the Duchess arrives with General Duckwitz and Colonel Mollendorf, who is no relation to the late Minister of Police in Bleiberg."

"Underneath all this Maurice discerned a shade of mockery, and it disturbed him.

"First, I should like to know—" he began.

"Later, later!" cried the baron. "The gates are but a dozen rods away. To your room first; the rest will follow. 'The only clothes I have with me are on my back," said Maurice.

"We shall arrange that. Your guard-hussar uniform has been reserved for you, at the suggestion of the colonel."

And Maurice grew more and more distrustful.

"Were they courteous to you on the road?"

"Yes. But—"

"Patience! Here we are at the rear gates."

Maurice found it impossible to draw back; three troopers blocked the rear, the baron and another rode at his sides, and four more were in advance. The rear gates swung open, and the little troop passed into the chateau

HANDICAP DEAD HEAT; SYSONBY AND RACE KING DIVIDE THE MONEY EVENLY

New York, May 4. — The greatest crowd ever gathered to see a thoroughbred race in America was at Belmont Park today to witness the sensational running of the Metropolitan handicap, in which James R. Keene's 3-year-old Sysonby, and C. Richards' hardly 4-year-old Race King, finished so close together the judges were unable to separate them. Speculation was at once rife as to whether the race would be run off, but both owners soon announced their satisfaction, with the result as it stood and the rich purse, amounting to more than $14,000, was divided.

Sysonby, for whom Mr. Keene last year refused an offer of $100,000, was the favorite in the betting, his stable mate, Delhi, having been withdrawn. Race King was offered the public at long odds, and the broad betting, though highly of the tiny colt's chances. The time of the race was disappointing, showing that the Belmont track is still "fast" and slow.

Drawn by the dual attraction of the opening of the wonderful new racing track at the entrance to the guardroom, which occupied the left wing of the stables, stood a lieutenant of the hussars.

"This is Monsieur Carewe," said the baron, "who will occupy a corner in the guardroom."

"Ah! Monsieur Carewe," waving his hand cavalierly, "happy to see you again."

Maurice was growing weary of his name.

"Enter," said the baron, opening the door.

Maurice entered, but not without suspicion. However, he was in a hurry to mingle with the gay assembly in the chateau. But that body was doomed to proceed without the honor or the knowledge of his distinguished presence. Several troopers were lounging about. At the sight of the baron they rose.

"Messieurs," he said, "this is Monsieur Carewe, who was expected."

"Glad to see you!" they sang out in chorus. He bowed ironically.

Maurice gazed toward the door. As he did so four pairs of arms enveloped him, and before he could utter the slightest resistance, he was bound hand and foot, a scarf was tied over his mouth, and he was pushed most disrespectfully into a chair. The baron's mouth was twisted out of shape, and the troopers were smiling.

"My faith; but this is the drollest affair I ever had to do," said the baron, sitting on the edge of the table and held his sides. "Monsieur Carewe! Ha! ha! You are a little too stiff to dance, eh? Shall I tender your excuses to the ladies? Ass! did you dream for a moment that such canaille as you, might show your countenance to any save the scullery maids? Too stiff to dance! Ye gods, but that was rich! And you had the audacity to return here! I must go; the thing is killing me!" He slipped off the table red in the face and choking. "The telegraph has its uses; it came ahead of you. We are glad to hear you would not come! Men, guard him as your lives, while I report to Madame. I dare say she will make it droiler in the telling."

He stepped to the door, turned, looking into the prisoner's glaring eyes; he doubled up again. "We are quits; I forgive you the broken arm; this laugh will repay me. How Madame the Countess will laugh! And Duckwitz—the general will die of apoplexy! O, but you have done well; and how have you ever clipped your ears!" And into the corridor he went, still laughing heartily and joyously, as if what he had done was one of the finest jests in the world.

Maurice, white and furious, was positive that he never would laugh again. And the most painful thought was that his honesty had brought him to this pass—or, was it his curiosity?

PHILLIPS WILL RIDE FOR SEAGRAM STABLE

Toronto, May 4. — The feature work at the Woodbine track today was the trial of the Dymond and Hendrie plates, which will be ridden by Phillip King and Maid of Barrie worked with Heather Jock and Lorne Reel, from the Hamilton horse all the way, a mile and an eighth in 2:06. The plate distance was done in 2:24 pulled up. The work was better than that seen as that done by Inferno, the Seagram horse, but it was well done, and Will King had lots at the end. Lorne Reel and Maid of Barrie were the first three-quarters of the journey.

Johnny Dymond has been after H. Phillips to ride for him this year, but he has refused to do so. However, Phillips had signed with Seagram. This will give Seagram's stable two of the best boys at the track, as they have Jimmy Walsh's name, and were cleared on by a howling mob of fanatics. The parade wound up at the Hotel Regent, where the players were banqueting, the dinner and speech-making lasting until 11 o'clock. The club and prominent fans acted as hosts.

WASHINGTON ON TOP; JOY AT THE CAPITAL

Washington, May 4.—Joy that knows no bounds is the dominant feature of a large majority of the inhabitants of this burg, who are experiencing for the first time in fifteen years the extraordinary sensation of having the Washington baseball team occupy the highest position for two consecutive days in a major baseball league. The work was better than that seen as that done by Inferno, the Seagram horse, but it was well done, and Will King had lots at the end. Lorne Reel and Maid of Barrie were the first three-quarters of the journey.

The parade wound up at the Hotel Regent, where the players were banqueting, the dinner and speech-making lasting until 11 o'clock. The club and prominent fans acted as hosts.

THE RUSSIAN LION DEFEATED JENKINS

Tom Went Down Before Hackenschmidt in Two Straight Falls.

New York, May 4. — George Hackenschmidt won from Tom Jenkins, of Cleveland, tonight in their wrestling match for the world's catch-as-catch-can championship, at Madison Square Garden, in two straight falls. In the first bout the Russian took the aggressive, forcing the American to defend himself with a half Nelson after 31 minutes and 15 seconds of hard wrestling. The second and last bout was somewhat shorter, for Jenkins had weakened, and Hackenschmidt won in 22 minutes and 4 seconds with a half Nelson and body hold. Tim Hurst was referee. Before the match Frank Gotch, the foreigner, appeared and announced that he would challenge the winner.

WHITE AND BRITT TO MEET TONIGHT

The international battle between Jimmie Britt, of California, and Jabez White, of England, will be fought tonight at San Francisco. So little is known of White in this country, a comparison of his measurements with those of Britt, both authentic, will be of interest. The figures follow:

White. Height . . . 5 ft. 7 1/2 in. Weight . . . 133 pounds. Chest . . . 34 1/2 inches. Chest (normal) . . . 34 1/2 inches. Chest (expanded) . . . 37 1/2 inches. Neck . . . 13 1/2 inches. Biceps . . . 15 1/2 inches. Forearm . . . 10 1/2 inches. Wrist . . . 8 1/2 inches. Hand . . . 9 1/2 inches. Waist . . . 29 1/2 inches. Thigh . . . 20 1/2 inches. Calf . . . 14 inches. Ankles . . . 4 inches.

TORONTO TO OPEN THE HOME GAMES

Rochester's Aggregation Will Be the Opposing Team—The Line-Up.

Toronto, May 5.—The local Eastern League championship baseball season will open this afternoon at Diamond Park, when Toronto and Rochester teams will battle for the supremacy. The game will begin at 3:45 o'clock. With appropriate ceremonies, in which Premier Whitney will be one of the prominent figures.

SOLDIERS' FOOTBALL TEAM SCORES ANOTHER IN A FAST, CLEAN GAME OF FOOTBALL.

The Bathurst Street Football Club and the Wolsey Barracks team met in a friendly game of football at Curlew's Park, which was won by the former by a score of 6-5. The game was called at 6:45, and the score at the finish was 3 to 1 in favor of the Barracks. During the last part of the game it was almost impossible to see the ball. It would be a great help to all teams, if the members would be on the grounds on time, and thus have the game started at a proper hour. The fact that eight members were out to the grounds last night on time and then had to wait half an hour for the balance, was somewhat annoying to the spectators particularly. Managers of teams would do well to lay off the late comers for a few games and let them know that they are not the majority of the sport.

TURF MEMPHIS MEET.

Memphis, May 4.—The Western Jockey Club have decided to conduct a race meet in Memphis, to commence the day after the St. Louis season closes. Definite announcement of plans will be made after the meeting of the Western Jockey Club stewards in Chicago on Tuesday. The meeting, or a portion of it, will be held at Billings Park.

TURF MEN HEAVILY FINED BY BOARD OF REVIEW

New York, May 4. — E. E. Smathers, of New York, was fined $250 and Z. K. Travis, of Toledo, was fined $100 for the violation of the rules of the National Trotting Association. The penalties were imposed in connection with the case against George Hoy, of Binghamton, N. Y., presiding judge, and Homer J. Kline, of Lexington, Ky., and Howard Russell, of Boston, judges, which has also been considered and dismissed. The case grows out of the Massachusetts stake race at Readville last year, when Smathers, between heats of the race, purchased from Travis the trotter, Dr. Strong.

THE RING. BURNS AFTER BARRY.

Tacoma, Wash., May 4. — Tommy Burns, the former Detroit boxer, known in the east as Noah Brusso, won the middleweight championship of the Pacific coast by gaining the decision over Dave Barry, in their twenty-round contest before the Tacoma A. C. The bout was a hot one, some trouble during their training having caused bad blood between the men.

THE RING. LUCKY GUY GARDNER.

Bay City, Mich., May 4.—Jack Dougherty, of Milwaukee, and Gus Gardner, of Saginaw, went fifteen rounds to a draw tonight. The decision was decidedly unpopular. Dougherty proving himself the cleverer and faster all the way through. Dougherty's nose was broken in the first round.

Some interesting experiments in blasting tire butts with gellignite—a safety explosive—have recently been carried out at Lord Leitch's Stoneleigh Abbey estate, near Kennilworth, England. The usual boring was made and filled with the explosive. An electric detonator was used, which enabled the operator to retire under cover at a safe distance. The butts operated on were of various sizes and varieties, but in each case the method was found to give satisfactory results. It is also claimed to combine efficiency with economy.

Request of the Opera House Management at Last Granted.

Chairman Forristal presided at the meeting of the board of works last night. Mayor Campbell, Ald. Gerry, Garratt and Wyatt were also present. The petitions for bitulithic pavements on Richmond street between Horton street and the G. T. R., and on Richmond street, between Fullerton and Oxford streets, having been reported by the assessment commissioner as sufficiently signed, the engineer was instructed to have them advertised at once.

The assessment commissioner also reported that the petition against a sewer on Cynthia street is sufficiently signed; as is the petition for a cement walk on Empress avenue, Argyle street to the Wharfcliffe road. The petition against a sewer on St. George street, Oxford to Sydenham, is insufficiently signed.

The request of Manager John E. Turton of the Grand Opera House, to be permitted to erect a porch in front of the theater, for the convenience of patrons of the house, was granted.

The communications of Messrs. Purdom & Purdom, and J. W. Cunningham, re alleged wrongful notices, served in connection with the laying out of an asphalt pavement on Dundas street, Lyle street to the fair grounds, was filed, as the board is under the impression that the proceedings in regard to the initiation are perfectly legal.

The contract for a sewer on Oxford street, St. George to Richmond, was awarded to W. H. Gould, at $610, with side drains at 25 cents a foot.

TO START MUSEUM

Library Board Decides to Purchase the Necessary Cases.

The public library board had a brief session last evening, with Messrs. Gunn, Hazard, Labelle, Bland, Manigault and Macklin present. The long-talked-of showcases for the museum were finally decided upon. Mr. Macklin, who had been deputed to look into the matter, reported upon the plans on which the cases would be built. The board was agreed to buy the cases with scarcely any further delay, and a motion to that effect, brought in by Messrs. Macklin and Hazard, was adopted. The finance committee was instructed to get estimates on the prices of the cases and report at the next meeting.

The library committee's report, presented by Mr. Bland, was adopted. William Buchanan's tender for the coal supply was accepted.

The librarian's report for the month of April was as follows: Books in circulation, Fiction, 4,296; juveniles, 969.

SUING FOR $15,000

Mrs. Gibbs, Seriously Injured, Wants Damages From Street Railway.

The sum of $15,000 is being asked as damages from the London Street Railway Company by Mrs. Elizabeth Gibbs, of 421 William street, at the present address. Mrs. Gibbs met with an accident while getting out of a car on Dundas street near her home last fall, and claims that it was due to the conductor striking the car, and she had slighted. The case was started in court yesterday afternoon, with Faulds & Campbell for the plaintiff, and Ivey & Ivey for the defendants, and was continued this morning.

Mrs. Gibbs was the first witness, and she had to be carried into the box. She made a long and interesting story, and yesterday was her first day out of the house since the day of the accident—Nov. 17 last. She said that she did not rise from her bed to have the car until the latter had come to a dead-stop. She placed one foot on the step and was about to step on to the ground when the car suddenly started, and she was hurled violently to the ground, losing consciousness for some hours. Mrs. Gibbs awoke to find herself in a doctor's office, and was later removed to the hospital, where she spent some weeks.

Medical testimony showed that the plaintiff had been injured, and that her eyesight had been affected by the shock very seriously.

"I have not been able to read even a newspaper since the accident," declared witness with tears in her eyes. The court questioned the witness very closely with regard to the manner in which she got into the car.

"Most women," he said, "get off the wrong way."

Mrs. Gibbs admitted that she was not facing away from the car when she got off.

A SECOND SURPRISE

Employees of G. T. R. Freight Sheds Spring It On Mr. Jamieson.

A somewhat unique surprise was sprung on Mr. Edward Jamieson, foreman in the local G. T. R. freight department, yesterday. Just as the men engaged in the department assembled for lunch, Mr. Jamieson was called from his office and presented with a valuable suit-case and gold-mounted spectacles on behalf of the employees of the department. The gifts were accompanied by a beautiful engraved address, which expressed in fitting words the high esteem in which Mr. Jamieson is regarded by one and all, and their profound sorrow at his resignation. Mr. Jamieson replied in his usual happy manner, "The boys" declared him to be "a jolly good fellow," and gave three cheers and a hurrah, which made the large freight sheds ring.

Mr. Jamieson intends going to Windsor for a short time, after which he will engage in business at Carleton Place, some miles farther west in Manitoba.

MAY INCREASE THE SUBSIDIES

Finances of the New Northwest Provinces Up in the House.

Ottawa, May 4.—Consideration of the financial resolutions in connection with the autonomy bill in committee today led to a revival of the discussion on larger subsidies to the older provinces, instead of the present arbitrary grant based on population, as fixed in 1861. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the question would have to be taken up by the Government at an early date. He confessed he was unable to understand the position, and retaining a limitation on the population to which it was applied. Some progress was made in dealing with the resolution, and it is intended to go on with the bill until disposed of before the budget is brought down. The House records of last night's vote brought a protest from Mr. McIntyre, who said that as there was no vote on the main motion he, who intended opposing it, was placed in a false position. The House was thinly attended today, members being glad to get away after the long strain of the recent debate.

When the speaker took the chair this afternoon, the desk of the late Hon. James Sutherland bore a magnificent floral tribute, composed of lilies, azaleas and spirea, a silent tribute of affection from his fellow-provincials.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, replying to a question raised several days ago by George Taylor, stated he had made inquiries, and found there was no truth in the rumor that the Armours, of Chicago, had secured all the space for cattle on vessels sailing from Montreal this season. He gave the details of space still available.

DR. TALLING'S NEW BOOK

A Former London Pastor's Original Treatment of a Vital Problem.

"Inter-Communion With God," a new work from the pen of our former townsmen, has just been issued by the Revell Company, of New York. As the title implies, it is something more than an ordinary treatment of the subject of prayer. It aims to emphasize the inter-communication of the humanly dwelt in, and which the author believes is not sufficiently cultivated.

REASONED IT OUT

And Found a Change in Food Put Him Right.

A man does not count as wasted the time spent in thinking over his business, but he seems loth to give the same sort of careful attention to himself and to his health.

"For some years I had been bothered with my physical condition, investigating to find out what was needed, and then changing to the right food.

"I have been using it for some months, and am glad to say that it has given me an entire relief. I do not suffer any longer after meals; my food seems to assimilate easily and perfectly, and to do the work for which it was intended. I have regained my normal weight, and find that business is a pleasure once more—can take more interest in it, and my mind is clearer and more alert."

A LACK OF RECRUITS

May Keep Imperial Forces at Halifax for Two More Years.

Halifax, May 5.—Contrary to the Ottawa announcements, the Imperial forces are not likely to leave Halifax on July 1, and indeed they may remain here two years longer. The Fifth Royal Garrison Regiment of Infantry will be retained here owing to the inability of the Dominion Government to recruit sufficient men to take their place. The 150 men coming to Halifax from Pictou-Quebec will be stationed at Glace Bay Barracks, and will practically form the nucleus of a military school. Imperial troops will not all leave Halifax at the same time, but as the time of the men expires Canadian detachments will take their places until the whole garrison is made up of Canadians; thus the change will be made gradually.

An Imperial army officer practically corroborated the above facts. The report that the Fifth R. G. R. was to be replaced by a line regiment is also incorrect. The strength of the garrison at Halifax will be kept at 1,339 of all ranks. Canada will contribute about $550,000.

WHO WROTE THIS?

Somebody in Canada Raising Army to Fight for Independence.

Greenburg, Pa., May 5.—A money offer, together with the promise of a land grant of 100 acres, has been made an officer of Company I, Tenth Regiment, by a party of Canadians, who allege they are at the head of a movement to overthrow the power of Great Britain. The letter to the officer of the Tenth is as follows:

"For many reasons, impossible to state in limited space, the Canadians require independence, which is absolutely essential to the further progress and development of this country and our future welfare as a nation. Canada requires independence from foreign control, and must
