SMALL-POX

There are Nearly one Hundred Cases in the County of Brant at the Present Time.

Toronto, July 9.—Dr. Hodgkiss has returned from the scene of the small-pox outbreak in Brant county, and reports that in all the county there were 98 cases. Forty cases were those of children under ten years of age. The indifference of the people to vaccination, Dr. Hodgkiss says, is amazing. Of the 98 cases, 81 were of people who had never been vaccinated, while of 56 vaccinated persons in the houses under quarantine only 11 had taken the disease. Notwithstanding this evidence that vaccination, even at a remote period in the past, is of great value when an outbreak occurs, the younger generation in rural Ontario, the doctor believes, is largely unprotected.

INVITED

The Essex Fusiliers to Visit Toronto on the Occasion of the Visit of Duke and Duchess of York.

The officers commanding the different companies of the Twenty-first Essex Regiment are hard at work recruiting to full strength and report that many applications are being received. It is noticeable that many young men are enlisting who refused to do so in former years because the regiment did its drill in camp at London. Now that it is a city regiment, they are flocking in and the officers have the pick of the best built boys in Windsor. The committee appointed to inspect all recruits does the work in a thorough manner, which prevents any undersized men getting into the ranks.

Commencing next week all companies will start in at squad and company drills. When the men have become proficient in the manual, Lieut.-Col. Guillot will commence battalion drill, as he is desirous of having the men up to the standard by September. It is expected the new armory will be finished in September and the regiment will give a band tattoo, besides the annual drill. The regiment has received an invitation to be present at the reception at Toronto of the Duke and Duchess of York in October, and the colonel and his officers are anxious to have the regiment make a first-class showing.

HONESTY VS. DISHONESTY.

"In your police court report yesterday, you said that I charged a boy with stealing 10 cents," said Hugh Fitzsimmons to The Planet this morning. "While this is correct, it is somewhat misleading. Ever since the boy commenced to work for me he has been guilty of several petty thefts. I have often warned him about it and I would not have been so severe with him this time if he had not lied to me about it. I could not lay charges for each of the thefts as it would cause too much expense to prove each offence, while if I proved one of them it would serve my purpose just as well. It is very seldom that any of the boys I have working for me are guilty of theft. I had one boy who stayed with me for five years who never stole a cent, and he did a large amount of the collection and has been entrusted at times with as much as $20.

THE CAPTURED AMERICANS MUST STAY PRISONERS

State Department Thinks They Have Lost Their Nationality—Over 8,000 Boers put out of the War in Four Months—Invaders Near Richmond.

New York, July 8.—Americans who fight in the Boer armies and are or have been made prisoners by the British, will have to endure captivity until the close of the South African war, says the Herald's Washington correspondent.

Britain has declined to comply with the request of this government to release an American now confined in the island of Ceylon, and this refusal will probably prove a bar to further representations by the state department in behalf of Americans captured as belligerents in South Africa.

The test case was that of a naturalized American named Morgan, who claims residence in Virginia. Alfred Milner, the British high commissioner in South Africa, disapproves of the release of foreigners who fought for the Boers. He has announced that a person who serves as a belligerent with the Boer forces loses his nationality and must be treated as an enemy.

This view is concurred in by the legal officers in the state department. The department is satisfied, from investigation made by American consuls and the British authorities, that all reports that the British are ill-treating their prisoners are without foundation. The only hardship that Americans captured in South Africa will have to undergo will be that of confinement until hostilities cease.

London, July 8.—The financial secretary of the War Office, Lord Stanley, in the House of Commons to-day, in answer to a question, gave the total number of Boers killed, wounded or made prisoners from among the active commands recently as follows: March, 1,472; April, 2,434; May, 2,640; June, incomplete, 1,538.

A despatch received here to-day from Cape Town announced that United States Consul-General Stowe has resigned, and that he will sail from Cape Town on his return to the United States July 25.

INVADEES NEAR RICHMOND.
Cape Town, July 8.—A Yeomanry patrol came in touch with Malan's Scouts on the morning of July 4 a few miles outside Richmond. The Boers having the stronger force, the patrol retired. Latagan's and Malan's commands were then reported to be twelve miles from Richmond.

PROTECTING THE RAILWAY.
Blockhouses are being erected and everything possible is being done for the protection of traffic on the railway to Pietersburg, but the difficulty is enormous owing to the fact that the line runs between mountains, with thick bush on either side, affording excellent cover for the Boers.

THEY SHOWED SURPRISE.
Lately the Boers surrendering in Pretoria district were driven to the border. They were afraid to enter their own territory. When they surrendered they said they thought that they were the only ones still fighting. They showed surprise upon finding that the fighting was continued in other parts of the country.

TREKKING FROM THE SOUTH.
An enormous number of cattle and sheep are trekking from the south towards the Government farm near Pretoria.

Scheepers' Boer command has entered Murraysburg, Cape Colony, and burned the public buildings and residences. The town was not garrisoned. (Murraysburg is situated in about the centre of Cape Colony not far from the railroad leading from Cape Town to Kimberley, and 245 miles from Algoa Bay.)

THE CIVIC RATE STRUCK AT 23 1-4 MILLS FOR 1901

The Board of Works Allowance Reduced $2,500—The Estimates as Prepared by the Finance Committee—How the Rate is Allotted.

The City Council, at their special meeting last evening, struck the rate for the year 1901 at 23 1-4 mills as against 25 mills for 1900. The estimates as presented by Chairman Scane, of the Finance committee, were accepted. Chairman Marshall, of the Board of Works, objected to the $5,000 allotted his department. He said that in 1899 this civic committee had had over $9,000, in 1900 the Board of Works had spent $7,500. In his estimates he had reduced this amount $1,000 and had asked for $5,500, and he felt that his department was not being treated fairly in making a still further reduction of $1,500.

Ald. Scane explained that last year the city engineer's salary had been included in the Board of Works estimates, and this year it was in under the head of salaries. This satisfied the chairman of the Board of Works, who said that he was willing to get along on $4,000 if he possibly could. Ald. Scane presented the following estimates of money required for this year:—

Consolidated debt debenture, $17,753.84.
Queen and Thames St. debentures, $1,278.83.
Electric Light debentures, $1,153.14.
Waterworks debenture, first issue, $8,385.77.
Second issue, $1,734.89.
Free Library, $1,150.
Public schools, $1,200.
College Institute, $6,042.
Separate school, $1,363.14.
City portion of local improvements, $5,349.18.
Interest on current loans, $1,500.
Contingencies, $1,600.
Board of Works, $5,000.
Bridges, $500.
Parks and Cemetery, $1,000.
Street sweeping, $94.
Street sprinkling, city's portion, $205.
Fire Dept., $4,400.
Electric Light Dept., $4,600.
Police Dept., $4,500.
Printing and stationery, $500.
Administration of justice, $1,840.
Board of Health, $900.
Charity, $2,200.
Legal expenses, $500.
Salaries, $3,800.
Harrison Hall, $450.
Pounds, $115.
Gaol and Registry office, $432.
Total, $89,806.79.
Estimated receipts, $6,000.
Total amount required to be raised, $83,806.79.

Total assessment, $3,506,717.
The rate is divided as follows:—Consolidated debenture debt, 5 mills.
Queen and Thames St. debentures, 30 mills.

STRUCK A REEF

The Steamer Delmar Aground Near the Scene of the Lusitania Wreck.

St. John's Nfld., July 8.—The British steamer Delmar, (Captain Williams) from Dundee, June 29, is ashore at Renewa, on the east coast of Newfoundland, and a mile from the wreck of the Orient Steam Navigation Co.'s steamer Lusitania. The Delmar belongs to J. F. Wilson & Co. of West Hartlepool and London. She is of 1,511 tons net. The Delmar was caught in a reef off Black Head Cove. She struck amidships. Her bow and stern are free, and the crew are hopeful of floating her at high tide at midnight. She is carrying only a small cargo and no passengers except the wife of the captain the couple being on their wedding trip. A heavy sea is running, but the vessel is in no great danger, and the crew, realizing this, remain by her. She struck about four o'clock this afternoon. A dense fog prevailed at the time, and this, with the current, caused the disaster. The wind is freshening, and if the Delmar is not floated to-night, she may become a derelict. Two ships are being fitted out to her relief.

CANADA'S REVENUE

Returns for the Fiscal Year Published Increase Nearly $2,000,000

Notwithstanding This Fact There Will be an Addition of Nearly Two Million to Public Debt.

Ottawa, July 7.—The returns of revenue and expenditure for the fiscal year ended June 30th, as published in Saturday's Canada Gazette, represent the receipts and payments which have passed through the books of the Finance Department up to the last day of the month. It will be two months at least before all the accounts are in and a complete statement can be made for the fiscal year 1900-1. The figures available, however, indicate that the Finance Minister on the 14th of March made a pretty close estimate for the balance of the year. The revenue will amount to $52,750,000, the ordinary expenditure to $46,500,000, leaving a nominal "surplus" of six and a quarter millions on Consolidated Fund Account. This will be wiped out by the capital expenditure of $10,750,000 and necessitate an addition of between $1,500,000 to $1,800,000 to the public debt, notwithstanding that the revenue has been about a million and three-quarters larger than the revenue of the preceding year.

RAIN IN ESSEX.

The heavy rainfalls of the last week have worked havoc with the hay crop in Essex county. A majority of the farmers had their hay cut and lying on the ground when the first rainstorm came. It had not dried sufficiently to place under cover before there was more rain, and now it is feared that most of it will never cure properly, owing to the several wettings it received.

The wind and rain also did considerable damage to the wheat and barley crops, although most of the grain can be harvested. Both kinds of grain were nearly ready for the reaper when the storms came and, owing to the stalks having nearly ripened, the grain has not righted after being lodged so badly by the wind and water. Many fields will have to be cut one way, as the binders cannot pick up the grain from all sides, and this will mean a serious loss in the straw and the greater part of it will remain on the field. The corn and other spring crops were also roughly handled by the wind, but farmers are of the opinion that no serious damage has been done to these crops.

FOUR MEN DROWNED.

Sherbrooke, Que., July 8.—Four men were drowned on Saturday evening at Brompton Falls, near here, while driving logs on the Royal paper mills of East Angus, which had been carried away by the recent floods. A boat containing nine men was capsized and the occupants were thrown into the water. They made a hard struggle to reach shore, but only five were saved. The drowned are: Joe Labree, Geo. Waddell, Philip Thompson and Charles Doherty, all of East Angus.

NEARLY 1,000 DEATHS.

New York, July 8.—The official reports to the bureau of vital statistics of deaths from heat for the week ending July 6 show that the actual number in the five boroughs of Greater New York was 989. For the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx the number was 699; for Richmond, 42; for Queens, 24; for Brooklyn, 284. The records cover a period from 12 o'clock noon, June 29, this year, to July 6 at noon, practically covering the days when the heat was most intense.

THE RATE.

The rate for this year was struck by the City Council last night at 23-1-4 mills. The rate last year was 25 mills, so that for 1901 the rate is 13-4 mills lower. Chairman Scane, of the Finance committee, carefully considered the estimates before figuring the rate, and the Council are of the opinion that 23-1-4 mills will cover all expenditures. It is to the credit of the council that they have seen their way clear to reduce the rate, if not to a great extent, at least to an appreciable degree. While not commending the action of previous councils who kept down the rate and had a deficit at the end of the year, still it is our purpose to praise any body that practices economy, and there is a feeling abroad that the rate of 23-1-4 mills, as computed by Ald. Scane, will cover all necessary expenditures and enable the city to meet all obligations for the year 1901.

THE FASCINATION OF DANGER.

In a Michigan town an aeromant has been killed by falling from his balloon when it was about a thousand feet above the earth, says the Toronto Globe. His performance consisted in being shot from an alleged cannon which was attached to the balloon, and descending to the earth by a parachute. The cannon trick resulted disastrously. The fire burned the rope by which it was suspended, and it fell with the performer helpless within it. According to current reports, the cannon struck a floating sawlog in Lake Muskegon and was badly shattered, while the remains of the balloonist were terribly mangled. The ever-present possibility of such a result was the charm of the performance, and is the fascinating element in all spectacular balloon ascents. So long as crowds are eager to see a human life in jeopardy and are willing to pay for the satisfaction of that peculiar desire, men and women will be found willing to take the risk for the sake of the pay. The struggle for "leave to toll" is so keen that no occupation, however hazardous, disagreeable or destructive to health, is refused. And while the public taste demands that lives be exposed to danger in a fascinating way, there will be plenty willing to accept the risks. Balloons carrying fireworks are often used to make brilliant kaleidoscopic displays, but however beautiful or cleverly designed, it must be owned that they lack the attractiveness of the exhibitions which put human life in imminent danger.

The fate of the Michigan balloonist will not be a warning to others, for there will be plenty eager and willing to perform the trick that cost him his life. But it will add keener zest to all similar performances, for it will convince patrons that the danger is not imaginary, that there is always an open possibility of a tragic issue. If interest in such exhibitions wanes it is because the public get the impression that there is no real danger, and that they are being deceived by trickery into the belief that a life is in peril. A few months ago a performer sent up a balloon with some performing monkeys on an attached trapeze. The performance awakened but a mild interest, in now way comparable with what would have been aroused by the risking of a human life. But it is worthy of note humane officers made a thorough investigation and were fully assured that the animals were not subjected to cruel treatment. The taste for exhibitions of cruelty to the lower orders of creation is certainly on the wane, so much so that most civilized countries have stringent laws preventing cruelty, whether in contests, public exhibitions or in the treatment of domestic animals. But the popularity of the prize-ring and exhibitions that jeopardize human life shows that there is still room for wide changes in public sentiment regarding cruelty to man.

Baden-Powell is returning home. If the Boers hear that it may hearten them as much as did the news of the departure of the Canadian contingents.

PIRATES.

Letters of marque, issued by Mr. Kruger, would be simply invitations to their recipients to become candidates for the gallows on the charge of piracy. A belligerent State can turn out privateers to prey on an enemy's commerce. But Mr. Kruger is not a State, and besides, vessels preying upon a commerce protected by the British navy would have a lively time of it.

Prior to that he spent the summer on the St. Lawrence "inspecting." It is to be hoped that the holiday will not be too expensive.

MAY NOT RECOVER FROM SHOCK OF LIGHTNING.

George Wear, an old colored man residing on Tuscarora street, Windsor, was struck by lightning Friday evening and it is thought by the attending physicians that he cannot recover from the shock. Wear, who is 75 years old, was sitting on the front porch when the storm came up and when his daughter, Emma Wear, went to call him she found him lying unconscious on the stoop. She summoned a physician, who discovered that Wear had been struck by the lightning, there being a small hole around which the skin was badly burned. He was also paralyzed all through the body.

BACK FROM ENGLAND

W. E. Hamilton has an interesting Chat With W. Campbell of J. L. Scott's Office.

The latter has just returned from a Pleasant Tour Through the United Kingdom.

Mr. W. Campbell, manager for J. L. Scott, has returned after his tour in the three kingdoms, 20 pounds heavier than when he left us. His time was too short to allow of his calling on some friends of ours to whom we gave him letters. He left on the Elder-Dempster steamer Wassaw from Halifax, and returned by the Cunarder Etruria to New York. The States still take the bulk of the old country immigration. Out of 140 country cabin passengers, there were only two Canadians, one being a doctor returning from the Cape to Toronto. He had a good opportunity of observing Irish conditions, which show a surprising change for the better. He was at the Ballina races and with the exception of a few professional beggars, the people were all well dressed and apparently well fed. Farm help hard to get. Laborers paid 25c a day and their board, good board at that, not potatoes and buttermilk. Fifty years ago, they used to get 25c, a day or less and board themselves, and when an English landlord in Wicklow gave 7 shillings, sterling, per week, the other squires hooted him for "paying his men for Sunday." The Irish houses are also much improved, thatch roofs largely replaced by slate and the "pig under the bed," described by Miss Edgeworth, a thing of the past. Land working into large stock farms. In New Ross they were building a Roman Catholic cathedral, with polished granite pillars; cost $100,000. Col. Tottenham, Protestant, gave site and $500.

New Ross is about 5,000 and Ballina 4,500. There is a good deal of ignorant sympathy with the Boers among the common people, which means early antipathy to England. The dark lining to social prosperity is whiskey. In New Ross, about half as populous as Chatham, there are 99 licensed taverns. Such a tavern is a general grocery or other store usually, with liquor counter. Mr. Campbell spent the Sunday before embarking in Dublin. A large body of Lancashire and Yorkshire excursionists were fraternizing with the natives on the streets and a bedlam of drunken carousal. The country stores showed a much more modern appearance than formerly. The little panes had disappeared from the windows and in Ballina there was a boot and shoe store fully equal to any in Chatham. The Irish constabulary are a magnificent and soldierly body of young men. Much interest was taken by leading men in Mr. Campbell's description of our Kent peat compressing machinery, which bids fair to solve the problem of the possible establishment of Irish manufacturers in spite of remoteness from coal. Efforts have been made to utilize the millions of acres of Irish peat by compression, for the last 60 years, but vainly from an economical standpoint. The traffic of New York is great, but after all New York is not London. Mr. Campbell took a walk at 7:30 a. m. over one of the minor bridges, and even at that early hour such was the streak hurry-rush to Babylon from the country that he could hardly move against it. He would not live in such a crowded hive for its fee simple. Give him a neat, tidy little town like Chatham.

The Younger Brothers May BE FREE IN A FEW DAYS. St. Paul, Minn., July 6.—The board of pardons will on Monday consider a long list of applications for pardon or parole, the most important being the case of Jas. and Coleman Younger, who were sentenced in 1878 for life for complicity in a robbery and accompanying murders at Northfield, Minn. A special bill was passed by the late legislature making possible the parole of life prisoners, the Youngers being the intended beneficiaries. Such paroles are to be granted by joint action by the prison managers and the pardon board.

A program of sports has been arranged. The Detroit contingent will leave the hall at 47 Monroe avenue at 7 o'clock Friday morning.

Cheap! Cheap!

What a common phrase. Everywhere you see it. Everywhere you hear it. Every merchant halloo it in your ear. But there's a difference—an enormous difference between cheap, and cheap. Some merchants call their shoddy goods cheap because they sell them at low prices. They're dear at any price, because they are worthless. In other words low prices mean nothing if the goods are inferior. We carry none but reliable goods. On these, owing to our six store cash buying and strictly cash selling we cannot be undersold. Test these values for Wednesday.

A BOON TO MARINERS.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY TO BE USED IN REPORTING SHIPS.

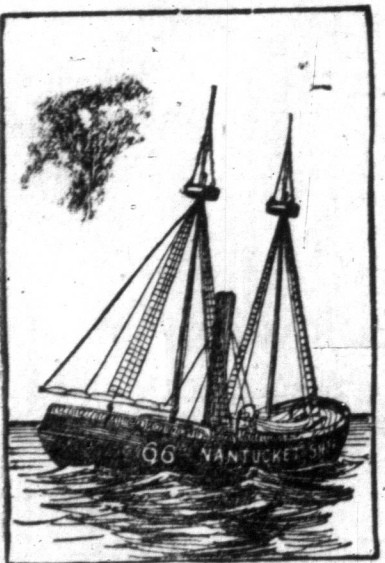

First Station to Be Located on Nantucket Shoals Lightship. Forty-three Miles Out at Sea—Proposed Plan Has Many Points of Advantage.

To all who are interested in transatlantic communication, and among them is included the major part of the American public, the news that a new system of reporting vessels toward bound to New York or outward bound from the same place will be of the greatest interest. With the system now in use incoming vessels are reported first at Fire Island, off the Long Island coast. Outward bound ships are also reported as "passing Fire Island," and that is the last heard of them, unless they are spoken in mid-ocean, until they reach the other side. The new system proposes the establishment of a wireless telegraph station on the lightship that is stationed on Nantucket shoals, off the Massachusetts coast. This vessel is known as the Nantucket shoals lightship, but is more usually called by mariners the South shoals ship. This vessel is moved farther from shore than any other lightship in the world, being 43 miles south of Sankaty point, Nantucket. There is no communication at present between the South shoals ship and the first to greet a cable is impracticable. Almost every season the lightship drags from her anchorage, and a cable would inevitably become fouled or broken.

The importance of the Nantucket shoals ship in connection with communication with steamers lies in the fact that it is the last bit of America seen by outward bound ships and the first to greet the eyes of home comers or visitors to our shores. It is, of course, possible to communicate with the lightship by means of signals on board ship in clear weather, but heretofore there has been no means of sending the tidings to land except by boat.

The New York Herald proposes equipping the lightship with apparatus to receive and transmit messages by wireless telegraph, according to the Marconi system. To Sankaty head, Nantucket, by wireless telegraph, will be the first relay of the new system. From Sankaty head news can be transmitted to the town of Nantucket by telephone. From Nantucket to the island of Martha's Vineyard by cable, across Martha's Vineyard by ordinary telegraph and to Wood's Holl by cable completes the first part of the line. Wood's Holl is on the mainland and has telegraphic communication with Boston and New York.

The plan of transmitting the news that a steamer has reached American waters is delightful in its simplicity. In clear weather the ship can be made out from the lightship, and the rest is easy. In the cloudy or foggy weather which prevails in those parts the situation is somewhat more complex. Vessels are to be fitted with wireless telegraph instruments, and these will record as soon as they come within the zone of influence surrounding the apparatus on the lightship. It will then be comparatively easy to establish communication from ship to ship, and so on to the mainland.

Arrangements to establish the apparatus on board the lightship have already been made with the government, which heartily approves of the project. The work is to be pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and it may be in working order on or before July 1. The only possibilities of the defeat of the plan lie in the facts that as yet 43 miles is quite a long stretch over which to send wireless messages and that the pitching and tossing of the lightship, which are considerable, may prove a serious obstacle. However, most experts believe that the plan will be very successful.

The advantages of the system are obvious. Incoming vessels will no longer have to deviate from their course to report at Fire Island. The news of the arrival of the vessel will reach New York about 13 hours earlier on an average, enabling those who expect passengers and merchants who await goods to make arrangements for their reception. Persons living hundreds of miles from New York can be informed in time to reach the pier before the vessel arrives.

To outward bound vessels the advantages to be gained are almost if not quite as great. For instance, they can learn what has occurred since their departure from New York many hours before. There are many other good results to be derived should the plan prove successful.

Mariners are enthusiastic over the proposed method. The New York manager of the great Hamburg-American line says: "The establishment of this station realizes for me a hope long entertained. It marks an epoch in marine reporting and will revolutionize the whole system as it exists at present. I feel sure that every steamship company and captain will hail with delight the opening of the station on Nantucket shoals."

The king of Italy as a boy was not allowed much pocket money. It was necessary for his father to exercise the utmost economy. One day the present king when quite a lad astonished his mother by asking her how much a silk dress would cost. She told him, whereupon he said: "I haven't quite so much as that, but if you'll let me go alone some morning I think I can go to some shop where they won't know me and get one. I want to give it to my nurse. Her best gown is really quite shabby."

The man who can hardly crawl, and has just strength to get through a day's work, has no strength left for family life. He wants to be quiet; to be alone, out of sight and sound of everybody.

What a difference between such a man and the healthy, hearty man, who romps with his children and rides his laughing baby to "Banbury Cross."

What makes the difference? Usually disease of the stomach, involving the entire digestive and nutritive system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When these diseases are cured the hindrance to the proper nourishment of the body is removed and strength comes back again.

"I am happy to say I am getting to feel fine," writes Mr. J. J. Vandewater, of 373 West Division Street, Chicago, Ill. "In all I have taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four or five of the little 'Pelle's'. They have done me worlds of good. These medicines have brought the great change in me from a slow motion of a man that could hardly crawl, tired and sick all the time, and could do no work. Now I can work, sleep, eat, and feel fine, and that tired feeling is all going away. I am very thankful that I wrote to Dr. Pierce. His 'Golden Medical Discovery' and his little 'Pelle's' have almost made a new man of me. I feel young as I did at thirty years. No other doctor for me, only Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

AN ARTISTIC HOUSE.

Fine San Francisco Home of Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson.

Looking out toward the beautiful bay of San Francisco, the city that he loved next to the ancient town that gave him birth, stands the new home of the widow of that gentlest of romancers, Robert Louis Stevenson. Stevenson loved San Francisco, although his sojourn there was filled with sickness and suffering, and, looking out toward the same ocean that is overlooked by his last resting place in Samoa, his widow has built a house that will be both a home for herself in her declining days and a shrine to the loved memory of the dead author.

In the Stevenson house that has just been completed are the books of the dead man which he loved so well and other relics. The house is a low, curious looking structure, built on a slope of what is known locally as Russian hill. It is one of the most artistic residences in San Francisco, although only two stories in height. It is a double house, made in a mixed style in which French renaissance

STRUCK A GALE

Shamrock II Outfooted Shamrock I in a Trial Spin This Morning off the Scottish Coast.

Special to The Planet.

Rothsay, Frith of Clyde, July 9.—In the first five miles of the racing trial between the Shamrocks this morning both yachts apparently sailing for all they were worth, the challenger beat the Shamrock I. quite a half mile.

The boats started to windward with a steady, gradually strengthening breeze, about sufficient to cover the American cup course.

The challenger has just come out of dock, where her hull was cleaned, and she showed immensely improved form, outstriking the Shamrock I. on every tack.

She led the latter by a half mile off Little Cumbræ, five miles from the start.

THE TAX RATE.

"The rate which the Council have struck," said Mayor Sullivan to the Planet this morning, "is lower than it has been for two years. I think that the Council deserve great credit for keeping it as low as they did. It is down now as low as it is possible to have it for running the expenses of the corporation. It is now lower than the rate on a great number of cities in Ontario of a similar size as Chatham. It is only by the practice of the most rigid economy that the Council have been able to keep the expenses so low."

GENTLEMEN WHO ARE BALD.

GOOD CROP

A Line's Latest Report of the Probable Harvest is Favorable for the Farmers of Europe.

London, July 8.—The Mark Lane Express to-day in its weekly crop report says it is doubtful if the recent rains will effect greater "transformation scenes" in the wheat crop of England. It thinks the yield may reach an average of 23 1-4 bushels per acre.

The Express considers that the enhanced price and big weekly market in Paris furnishes evidence that the French farmers consider the government estimate as being quite 10 per cent. too high. The agricultural press puts the yield as 35,000,000 quarters, 4,000,000 quarters below the government estimate.

Spain is reaping a magnificent harvest, estimated at 12,500,000 quarters. The Italian harvest promises to reach the full average, and the Roumanian harvest is estimated at 3,000,000 quarters, leaving 3,000,000 available for export.

The spring wheat in Russia is less promising. In several provinces the winter crops, however, are splendid according to the moderate standard prevailing. The rye will make an excellent harvest. The other autumn-sown crops are all above the average, but the spring barley and oats are below par.

They are not consumers in the same sense that white people are, and spend very little.

PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

The Problem of Caring For Those Who Visit Buffalo This Summer Solved.

It has been published broadcast that Buffalo lacks accommodation for guests visiting the Pan-American Exposition. The statement is utterly without foundation. It has been a point of honor with Buffalo, that all guests shall be accommodated properly and reasonably. For example, Dr. Pierce's Free Bureau of Information, has registered accommodations for one hundred thousand guests, in the most desirable homes and best locations in the city of Buffalo. Every room offered to guests has been inspected. Many rooms have been rejected by the Bureau because of location or some other unsatisfactory feature. The rooms offered by Dr. Pierce include the choicest rooms obtainable in Buffalo.

FULL OF GRIT

Woodstock Boy Calmly Climbed Upon Kitchen Table for an Operation.

Woodstock, Ont., July 8.—A touching case of juvenile pluck has developed here. Fourteen-year-old Jas. Pollitt, the son of a plumber, was taken ill with diphtheria Friday. The father is at Chatham working. There are ten children, most of them small, in the Pollitt family, and the family is poor. Dr. Melford went to see the lad. He left him some medicine. On Saturday the doctor called again. He found the boy much worse; in fact, he was almost choking. Dr. Melford hastened away and got Drs. Murray and Mearns. The mother of the boy seemed to be in a dazed condition. The result of caring for the sick boy and the other children. She did not seem to know what to do. So the doctors went into the sick room where young Jimmy was lying. They found him unable to speak.

"My boy, we must leave your case entirely to yourself," said Dr. Melford. "You are in a very serious condition. An operation is necessary. Your father is away and your mother is overcome. We must leave it to yourself. I must say the operation may be fatal to you."

He then explained what operation was necessary. At the conclusion the boy at once jumped up and ran out to the kitchen, and getting up on the table, laid himself out, ready for the knife. The doctor soon performed the operation, inserting a tube beneath the clogged larynx. When it was over the boy reached for a pencil in Dr. Melford's pocket and wrote on a piece of paper:

"I thank you." Then, with a smile and a nod to the doctors, he hastened back to his bed.

There is pluck in the Pollitt family. When the second draft of men were sent out from Canada to South Africa his oldest brother, William, aged 18, was a bugler in the dragon corps in Toronto.

The ranks of the dragons were so depleted by reason of the first call for men that no more dragons were allowed to enlist for Africa. Pollitt wanted to go very badly. He had been ill when the first contingent left. When they wouldn't let him go he left the barracks and by travelling by night got to Halifax, and stowed away on the vessel which was taking the troops to Africa. They took him on at Cape Town and he went all through the war.

A BAD STORM.

H. I. George, of Buffalo, is in the city to-day. Mr. George says that the storm at Buffalo last Friday night was the most severe that has been experienced there in ten years.

The thunder and lightning was terrific and the water came up over the curbs in some places and flooded the lawns. The exposition grounds were flooded and business was stopped there for a while.

THE 24TH REGIMENT BAND.

The services of the 24th Regiment Band were sought by the Orangemen to accompany them to Leamington on the 12th of July. The Band cannot make any engagement to play for any organization unless with the consent of the Commanding officer. His consent was obtained for the band to appear in uniform and accompany the Orange Lodge to church last Sunday in the same way as they have been accompanying other organizations in the city. The matter of the 12th of July is of a different character altogether, and the Commanding officer refuses to consent to them appearing in uniform on that occasion upon the ground that the militia authorities did not approve of it the government grant of $75 would be withheld from the band and the individual members of the band might be fined. Under these circumstances the Commanding officer instructed the band master that he cannot accept the contract to play in uniform on the 12th of July.

The band, however, will attend the celebration in the uniform which was formerly used by the City Band.

AN HUMBLE HERO

BY THOMAS P. MONTFORT

Copyright 1901, by Thomas P. Montfort

"Great possums are persimmons. I reckon I shorly would 'a' been skeered. Why, jest think—that feller mought 'a' got up some night an killed ever blame one of us."

"An he never cheeped a word to you 'bout nothin' he'd done nor nothin'?"

"Nary a word. If I'd been kinder inquisitive, like some folks, an had 'a' pried into him, I mought 'a' found out somethin'. But, Lord, I ain't no hand to ask questions, you know, an when a feller acts like he don't want to tell nothin' I jest let him alone."

"Didn't you ask him nothin'?"

"Scarcely a thing. When he come up that fust that day, I sorter sung out one or two little questions, but I see right away he didn't want to answer nothin', so I jest quit. Land, I ain't no hand to try to make people tell things anyhow whether they want to or not."

There was an oppressive silence after this, a silence during which there was much thinking. But Turner was blissfully ignorant of the trend of thought. He did not even suspect it when he saw a smile on more than one face.

"An 'bout that feller over to your house, Hi?" Hicks remarked questioningly.

"He ain't thar no more," Hi replied.

"Gone away?"

"Yes; went yistedy."

"I'd say 'L."

"Yes; he got so'd he didn't 'pear to be satisfied no more, so yistedy he packed up an put out."

"Wa'n't satisfied with the 'commendation you give him?" Turner asked.

"Them fellers mostly ain't satisfied with nothin'."

"Oh, it wa'n't that, I guess. Leastwise he never made no fuss 'bout his 'commendations'."

"What ailed him, then, you reckon?"

"I dunno, I'm shore. Jest seemed to 'a' got sorter restless an uneasy an couldn't be still nowhar. When he wa'n't asleep, he was all the time movin' about, either trapin' round over the woods or else walkin' back'ards an forwards across the yard. I've seed him walkin' out thar in the yard for hours, jest goin' to an fro, to an fro, till it wore me clean out."

"By grab, it was funny, wa'n't it?"

"Looked that a-way to me shore."

"What you reckon was the matter of him, Hi?"

"I ain't no notion, Jake."

"I bet it was that murder done it," Sam Morgan said. "Don't you all reckon it was?"

"Lord, I don't see how that murder could 'a' had anythin' to do with it," Hi replied. "The murder wa'n't nothin' to him noway, an he didn't know Melvin nor Sim Banks nuther. Guess he never see nuther of 'em 'less he see Melvin that day he was lyin' here a cawpse."

"He did see him that day," Sam said, "an he acted sorter queer too. I was a-watchin' him when he went up to war the cawpse lay, an, for all he'd been so cool out thar in the woods, the second his eyes' look on that dead face he turned right white an put his hand up to his heart, then looked round right quick, like he wondered if anybody'd seen him. Guess he must be one of them kind of people that's easy teched by anythin' like that."

"Must be if he done that a-way," old Hi replied. "My skin, it don't make no difference to me to look at a dead feller, an I'd jest as soon tech him as not."

"Lord, Hi, not if he'd been killed?"

"Yes, sir, even if he'd been killed."

"By grab, I wouldn't. They say if you tech a feller thar's been murdered, that a-way he'll come to you three nights hand runnin' an stan' by your bed an look at you."

"Wonder if that's so?" Jim Thorn asked.

"By grab, they say it is, shore, an I can tell you right now I don't want no dead fellers pesterin' round me of nights."

"Lord, you bet I don't. I don't want nothin' to do with them ha'n'ts an fixin's, an I ain't never goin' to tech nobody that's been killed, you bet, even if they never are teched."

"Shucks, you fellers don't know what you're talkin' 'bout. Say, you all jest wait till you've seed dead men as I've seed 'em, lyin' round on a battlefield jest ever'where." Thus spoke Ebenezer Sparks, the warrior bold.

"Lord a-mighty, I've fit into many a battle whar men were jest a-drappin' all round me so thick that I couldn't move 'bout steppin' on a lot of 'em. My land, I wa'n't skeered of techin' 'em, an they never come back of nights to pester round ha'n'tin' me, nuther."

"It wa'n't that a-way that time when you went into Hicks' cellar to whup the battle, was it, Ebenezer?" Jason Roberts asked.

Ebenezer flashed angry.

"Doggone it all," he cried, "ain't I never goin' to hear the last of that that burned old cellar? Ever' time I mention any a word 'bout when I fit into the war some blame fool has got to go to work an drag that dod blasted old cellar in."

"Waal, we want to show a intrust in your war record, Ebenezer, an that's the only battle we ever see you fight in, so that's all we got to speak 'bout."

"Waal, you needn't pester 'bout showin' no intrust, then. I'd rather you wouldn't."

"Say," Sam Morgan called, "don't you reckon Sim Banks has a ha'n't?"

"Of co'se he has," Thorn replied, "an, say, fellers, I bet it pesters him jest awful."

"To be shore," Turner agreed.

"Speakin' of Sim Banks' minds me of somethin'," Hi said. "Reckon ain't none of you us hear nothin' of Sim sense he went a-way?"

"Nary a word," Hicks answered.

"Quaire them officers don't find out nothin' 'bout him, ain't it?"

"'Tis so. Guess they've hunted round all over ever'whar most an they ain't found hair nor hide of him."

"S'pose he must 'a' gone clean off somewhar."

"Looks like it. You know he left a note for his woman sayin he war a-goin' away an wa'n't never comin' back no more."

"I hear he did."

"But she don't b'lieve it."

"Don't she?"

"Not now, she don't. She b'lieved it a right smart fun, but Pap Sampson kept a-talkin' till he got her to change her mind."

"Pap still stan's out that Sim never killed that feller?"

"La, yes, wuss'n ever."

"Quaire he'd git that sorter notion, ain't it?"

"'Tis shore. Pap's gin'rally putty level headed, but he got his nose p'inted wrong this time shorely."

"He thinks Sim'll come back, does he?"

"Jest knows he will."

"Waal, he'll be hung or sent up to prison if he does come."

"Pap's got a notion somethin' 'll turn up to clear Sim' fore he gits back."

"Don't see how he goes 'bout makin' that out."

"I don't see nuther, but that's his talk."

"How's Sim's woman a-doin'?"

"Kinder porely, I guess. She ain't livin' here no more."

"That so?"

"Yes; she left the fust of the week."

"Ward'd she go?"

"Down to the county seat."

"Ward's she 'lowin' to do down thar?"

"She reckon she'd git into some work of some kind."

"An jest 'bout manage to go through ever' thing she's got."

"She ain't got nothin'."

"Ain't? Why, I been hearin' Sim left her all the land as ever' thing."

"He did, but she won't tech it."

"Won't? Why, say, what's the reason?"

"She 'lows it's his'n an she ain't no right to live it up. Says mebbe some time he'll need it."

"Waal, I'll be smutched!"

"Then I guess she kinder wanted to git away from here anyhow. That 'bout her an Melvin started a good bit of talk, an I reckon she found it wa'n't none too pleasant a-stayin' here."

"Natrally. How'd she take it 'bout Melvin bein' killed? Did she carry on much?"

"Nary a bit that any of us seen. Guess she behaved plum nice."

"Did she come to see the cawpse?"

"Hicks hesitated for an instant. He knew from Pap Sampson about that night visit, but he had promised to keep it a secret."

"Waal, I didn't see her come," he said. "Any you fellers see her come?"

"They all shook their heads."

"Some folks 'lowed she'd take on a heap over him an mebbe give Sim fits too."

"Lord, she tuck right off for Sim. She jest acted for all the world like she skeered more for him than anybody."

"It would 'a' been a mighty good thing if she'd 'a' tuck off for him sooner 'stid of foolin' with that other feller, a-gittin' him killed an puttin' Sim into this mess."

"I reckon that's so, Hi, but I ain't never b'lieved Looesey Banks aimed to do nothin' wrong. She was jest sorter thoughtless, I guess."

"No, sir; it's jest like I've said time an ag'in, Jake. Whenever you go an send a gal off to them doggone colleges to come. By gosh, you jest as well take her out an knock her in the head. That's all in the world's the matter of Looesey Banks."

"No, I 'low her an Sim jest nat'rally didn't suit."

"G'ose they didn't attar she'd gone down thar an tuck up a lot of doggone fool notions. They'd 'a' suited well enough if it hadn't been for that other feller, like son, we have a power of them white shirt fellers or she couldn't never be happy. It's that dad burn college done it all."

"Sill, Hi, education's a pow'ful good thing."

"Not for a gal, it ain't."

"Why?"

"Waal, she ain't got no use for it, an it's jest plum shore to make a fool of her. Lord, a man, even, don't need so awful blame much education to git on all right."

"You think so?"

"I know it. Take myself, for instance. I ain't never had no education to speak of, yit see how I sot on to that jury that time. I managed 'bout runnin' that court jest as well as any of them fellers down thar. If a feller got it in him, he can git up in the world even if he ain't got no book larnin'."

"Lord a-massy," Turner exclaimed, "speakin' 'bout settin' on to a jury 'minds me of somethin'."

"What is it?" Jason asked.

"Why, if Sim's ever ketch'd they'll have to git a jury to try him, an I dunno but likely enough I'll git a chance to set on it."

CHAPTER XXII

SIM RETURNS.

Pap Sampson, older by four years, a trifle grayer perhaps, but as active and alert as ever, sat on a fence at the side of the road leading into Beckett's Mill from the south. His attitude was such as to denote that he was absorbed in earnest thought, which he was. He was recalling scenes and events of past days and was so lost to the present as to be totally oblivious of everything about him. So unconscious of his surroundings was he that he was not even aware of the approach of two men, dusty and travel stained, who wearily plodded their way along the hard, white road.

A MAN OF PRAYER.

He has the wise and merry heart, His laugh is real, his jest is glad, In quietness he does his part, If gay or sad.

He walks beside you in the street, His watchful eyes look out on men, And all whom he may chance to meet Love him again.

He does not talk of that he feels, But in his secret soul he knows How powerful is the faith that heals And brings repose.

He does not spend a day alone, For God is with him everywhere, And by his spirit he is known A man of prayer.

The storms may beat above his head, And the thick darkness shroud his way, But he is not uncomfortable, For he can pray.

He has two lives; and one he gives To daily duties as they come; The other tranquilly he lives With God at home.

And he is happy every day, Although the world is full of care, Because his heart through all life's way, Finds rest in prayer.

—Marianne Faringham.

HE REFUSED TO SIGN IT

Mayor Sulman's Name not Added to the Binder Twine Factory.

Geo. C. Rankin Heard From—John M. Northwood, new Welch Master—Council Meets Sept. 9th—Fire Chief's Report.

"I positively refuse to sign that by-law. You can put some one in the chair to do it, but I won't." Such was the expressed determination of Mayor Sulman, at the special meeting of the council last evening, when that civic body was in committee of the whole on the by-law granting the Binder Twine Co. the right to put a spur into their factory. "I am strongly opposed to giving out streets to railway corporations and I won't be a party to this scheme," continued the Mayor.

Ald. Taylor was appointed chairman by the council and he immortalized his name on one of the by-laws of the city of Chatham.

The city council will take a vacation during July and August.

Fred. Holmes resigns his position as weigh clerk at the market scales. John M. Northwood appointed in his place. Geo. C. Rankin asks for revival of charter of Chatham City and Suburban Electric Railroad.

Chief Pritchard presents his semi-annual report, showing 28 fire alarms during the past six months.

The T. H. Taylor Co. want to purchase a portion of Colborne street.

All the members of the council were present at the special meeting held last night.

Application to trim trees from T. H. Cade, Joseph street, and the Bell Telephone Co., was referred to the Chief of Police.

John A. Walker wrote notifying the council that he had sold the pound on Joseph street, to William Side. Received.

Chief Pritchard of the Fire Department presented his report for the past six months, which showed—Alarms 28, loss to buildings $1,236, chimneys 15, hot ashes 1, burning sulphur 2, incendiary 1, unknown 4, children playing with fire crackers 1.

This report was received.

Fred. Holmes resigned as weigh master. Ald. Taylor said that the city was sorry to lose an employee who had so faithfully performed his duties. Under the circumstances there was no option but to accept Mr. Holmes' resignation. Ald. Taylor, moved, seconded by Ald. Pritchard, that John M. Northwood be given the position.

Ald. McCoig didn't see the necessity for an immediate appointment. He had nothing to say against Mr. Northwood, but there were just as many good men, and he thought that the office should be declared vacant and applications received. Ald. McCoig moved, seconded by Ald. Cowan, that the appointment be laid over till the next council meeting.

The original motion, giving John M. Northwood the position was carried.

Ald. McCoig called for the yeas and nays on the motion.

The aldermen voted as follows:—Yeas—Ald. Marshall, Pritchard, Edmondson, Taylor, Fleming and the Mayor.

Nays—Ald. Cowan, Scane and McCoig.

The Cleveland Tannery Co. wrote that they were willing that their proposition re the establishment of a tannery factory here should be submitted to the electors at the municipal elections. Many voters are out of the city now and nothing could be done till next year anyhow.—Received.

A communication re taxes on a lot in the Roman Catholic Church survey was referred to the finance committee.

Alex. Stevenson's request re dog tax, was referred to Finance.

Angus McDonald's complaint re crossing at alleyway on Harvey St. was referred to Board of Works.

The T. H. Taylor Co. wrote as follows:—

To the Mayor and City Council. There is a strip on Colborne street lying between our property and the southerly side of the railway spur which is of no use for street purposes, and of no use in its present condition to anyone. We find we could utilize it to great advantage in the arrangement of our proposed new mill plant, and we desire to purchase same from the city at such a valuation as may be agreed upon. What we would like to obtain may be described as that portion of Colborne street between William and Adelaide streets, lying southerly of the line 3-1-2 feet from the southerly rail of the railway spur as at present located. Will you kindly give this matter your immediate attention.

There is another matter which we mentioned in our discussion with the Finance committee, but which was not disposed of by your honorable body, viz., the privilege of extending the present spur on Colborne street westerly across William street and along side of woolen factory. We would ask that this privilege be also granted.

THE T. H. TAYLOR CO.
Chatham, July 8, 1901.

Referred to Finance.

Geo. C. Rankin wrote asking the assistance of the Council in securing a revival of the Chatham City and Suburban Railway Charter. He offered to bear all the expense.—Referred to Finance.

Ald. Cowan asked if the street cleaners couldn't find some place else to dump the refuse from the street than close to the sidewalk leading to the Rankin dock. Ald. Marshall replied that boxes with sides were being made. Ald. McCoig called attention to the nuisance caused by the standpipes on William street.

The Mayor said that arrangements were being secured so that the water could be taken from the hydrants and the standpipes would be done away with.

A by-law was also passed changing the by-law regulating the meetings of the City Council. There will be no more meetings of that body till September 9th. When required special meetings will be called.

The by-law granting a spur to the Binder Twine factory was passed. The Mayor refused to sign it since he said that the Council was given Colborne street to the Lake Erie R. R. To run the spur into the factory from the east would necessitate the tearing up of the new macadam pavement. This both the Lake Erie R. R. and the Manson Campbell Co. refused to do, and the spur had to be run in from the west of the factory.

Ald. Taylor was voted to the chair and signed the by-law thus, G. G. Taylor, chairman.

The following four by-laws to consolidate debentures were also passed: By-law to consolidate $23,829.88, for 20 years; by-law to consolidate $6,978.65, 15 years; by-law to consolidate $4,076.47, 5 years; by-law to consolidate $3,093.53, 10 years, total, $28,578.53.

Ald. Scane moved that, since the Council wouldn't meet till September, that the request of the T. H. Taylor Co. be granted and the proper notices posted. Carried.

ACCOUNTS PASSED.

The following accounts were passed:—W. R. Baxter $8, Registrar of County of Kent $6.25, L. Douglas 30c, Bell Telephone Co. $56.28, C. P. R. $2.36, G. T. R. $13.75, S. Hadley Co. $5.21, John Morton $31.48.

The following accounts were referred:—Geo. Lamphard $9.50, Bell Telephone Co. $25.90, Con. Shea $66.24.

THE TOUCH OF GOD

Rev. R. J. Treleven Talks at Toronto on Regeneration.

Rev. R. J. Treleven, formerly pastor in the Park street Methodist church, preached Sunday morning the first sermon of his pastorate in Dunn Avenue Methodist Church.

The thought of his discourse was that regeneration was essential to acceptable service for God. The text was, "And there went with Him a band of men whose hearts God had touched." I Samuel, x. 26. He would feel very uncomfortable, he said, if he were not there by God's choice as well as by that of the congregation. A pastor, he said, needed such a body guard as Saul had. To be touched by God and to touch God were in effect the same thing, and proceeded to show how repentance and conversion were necessary in the men or women who would work for God in the church. Anyone who was in the world or the church, he asserted, for what he could get out of it was making the grand mistake of his whole life. They were not, he told his hearers, in the world or church for what they could get out of it, but for what they could put into it.

NOTICE TO WATER TAKERS.

E. B. JONES, Supt.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last year was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure of the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The Cause of Hay Fever.

It's a microbe that floats in the air, gets into the throat and lungs, develops rapidly, excites inflammation &c. The cause is as simple as a thistle in the finger. Extract the thistle, you've got the pain. Destroy the Hay Fever germ—you get well. That's why Catarrhazone acts so marvelously in Hay Fever. Its fragrant vapor to you brings cure, but to the microbe death. Catarrhazone is as quick to act on these microscopic organisms as lightning. Prevents as well as cures, and is always successful. ## Everything for Summer Wear

From crown to toe—everything a civilized man wears is here except shoes.

Most garments sold in the store are made in our own factory. Well made they must be, or the factory would not have grown so steadily from a small beginning—would not be able to pay the best wages and provide spacious, airy workrooms for its employees—but these things go with good work as naturally as growth goes with sunlight.

Other lines of garments and furnishings we buy, but our own ideas—and yours—are often worked into them. When you think of it, it takes about as much technical knowledge to buy right as to make the article yourself.

Between making and buying, this store has gathered for you the finest all-round collection of summer wear that Chatham men have ever been invited to choose from. If a thing is seasonable, sensible and stylish, we're showing it. Test us.

It is not known just what was taken. There are some clothing and some shoes missing. The police are sparing no pains to get track of the guilty parties.
