During the service the audience joined in the singing of "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God to Thee." Last night the answers to the questions asked were of absorbing interest. The Catholic view and belief were clearly set forth and lie and calumny refuted. Ex-priests, said Father Paar, acted on the principle of the infidel and infamous Voltaire, "Lie, lie, lie like the devil and something will stick." The greater number were imposters, Some were not. RECORD OF THE IRISH MARTYRS

In a recent issue of The Irish Ecdirected by the French Redemptor- Archbishop of Dublin gives a list of ists. Finally, having again touched Irish martyrs to the faith during the one will find still more numerous as well as in the time of Cromwell. This list is published in compliance with a suggestion of Cardinal Moran. "In Canada the Oblates of Mary The words "martyr" and martyrdom official sense. Every Catholic of Irish name must feel a deep interest in the perusal of this list, in confection with which the Archbishop says:

The proceedings that are in progress for the canonization of our Irish martyrs cannot but be viewed with sympathetic interest, especially by every Irish Catholic. They have now reached a stage at which it is possible to anticipate that before very many months have passed, the local tribunal charged with the judibrought before it, will have finished Altogether we may call this world, in the language of The Salve Regina, "a valley of tears." I may say no one escapes. If we live long enough sorrow is sure to overtake us. Riches, our happiness. A thousand annovnovances beset us under the most favorable circumstances-nothing can ward them off.

What remedy is there for them? Only one-religion. Religion is the only thing which gives us the explanation of this state of things. Religion is the only thing which tells us what to do. Religion is that holy instruction which teaches us that God is the Sovereign Ruler; that it is He who has ordered all things, and in His supreme wisdom ordered them well and for the best. We must submit and conform ourselves to this order or make ourselves a thousand times miserable in this life, and fail to find a remedy for our misery. If we submit and conform ourselves to it, we shall be enabled to bear all with patience and even with an inward gladness, knowing that all our trials

TEHLING THE TRUTH

Richard Harlow was a brave boy who possessed that true courage which enabled him to bear the sneers and ridicule of his companions, rath er than do wrong.

One morning, as he turned the corner of the lane, and brought the school house in view, he saw one of the boys put his head from the door, and look toward him; he immediately went in again, and soon another came, as though they were anxiously expecting some one.

When he entered the school room, he found several boys gathered about the blackboard, Richard, after depositing his books on his desk, went to see what the fun was. John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR-I am deeply grateful to the friend that suggested to me, when I was a cripple from Rheumatism, Benedictine Salve. I have at intervals during the last ten years been afflicted with muscular rheumation. I have experimented with every available remedy and have consuited I might say, every physician of repute, without perceivable nements. When I was advised to use your Benedictine Salve, I was a helplass cripple. In less than 48 hours I was in a position to resume my weak, that of a tinsmith. A work that requires a certain amount of bodily astivity. I am thankful to my triend who advised me and I am more than gratified to be able to furnish you with this testimonial as to the Yours truly, GEO. FOGG.

DEAR SIR-It is with pleasure that I write this unsolicited testimenial, and in doing so I can say that your Benedictine Salve has done more for me in one week than anything I have done for the last five years. My ailment was muscular rheumatism. I applied the salve as directed, and I got speedy relief. I can assure you that at the present time I am free of pain. I can recommend any person afflicted with Rheumatism to give it a trial. I am, Yours truly, (Signed) S. JOHNSON.

DEAR SIR-I have great pleasure in recommending the Benedictine Salve as a sure cure for lumbago. When I was taken down with it I called in my doctor, and he told me it would be a long time before I would be around again. My husband bought a box of the Benedictine Saive, and applied it according to directions. In three hours I got relief, and in four days was able to do my work. I would be pleased to recommend I am, your truly, it to any one suffering from Lumbago. (MRS.) JAS. COSGROVE.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR-It is with pleasure I write this word of testimony to the narvellous merits of Benedictine Salve as a certain cure for Rheumatism. There is such a multitude of alleged Rheumatic cures advertised that one is inclined to be skeptical of the merits of any new preparation. I was induced to give Benedictine Salve a trial and must say that after suffering for eight years from Rheumatism it has, I believe, effected as absolute and permanent cure. It is perhaps needless to say that in the last eight years I have consulted a number of doctors and have tried a large number of other medicines advertised, without receiving any benefit.

I suffered for nine months. I consulted a physician, one of the best, and he gave me a box of salve and said that if that did not cure me Iwould have to go under an operation. It failed, but a friend of mine learned by chance that I was suffering from Bleeding Piles. He told me he could get me a cure and he was true to his word. He got me a box of Benedictine Salve and it gave me relief at once and cured me in a few days. I am now completely eured. It is worth its weight in gold. I cannot but feel proud after suffering so long. It has given me athorough cure and I am sure it will never return. I can strongly recommend it to anyone afflicted as I was It will cure without fail. They said, of course, that the failure of what is called the 'Tenant Right'' movement was due to the utter unfitness of Irishmen for parliamentary and representative institutions. Gavan Duffy at least showed them their error in this regard. Going out to Australia he became the first statesman of those colonies to dream of a great commonwealth or Confederation of British states under the Southern Cross. Thus the Irish rebel became the colonial empire builder, and the government that had branded him as a felon in his native land was glad to honor him as a sagacious politician and leader Greater Britain.

The same aspirations that guided Gavan Duffy in Australia were brought to Canada by the late Thomas D'Arcy McGee, who also was one of the men arrested in 1848. Mc-Gee's name is honored among the fathers of the Canadian Confederation as Gavan Duffy's is by patriotic sons

We have before us the proof copy McLaughlin, of Blackpool, on the life of the late Thomas Nevins, a wellknown contractor of light railways in the United States.

Mr. Nevins was born in the little village of Mount Shannon, in County of Limerick, and at the age of twenty went to America to seek his fortune, accompanied by his young wife. We need not follow the narrative of his material success. The most interesting side of his character was his deeply religious spirit. His biographer says of him: "Riches-superabundant riches - produced no pride in him. He was humble in his beginnings, when he entered on the path that led him to triumph; and he was quite as humble, nay, humbler still, when he reached the golden goal and arrived at the highest pinnacle of material prosperity."

Mr. Nevins, we are told, never felt at ease in the company of those who sneered at sacred things. He avoided them and declined to associate with them. While he always took men as they stood, and never at any time interfered aggressively with any man's creed, he made it clear that he would not allow his religion to be travestied or ridiculed in his presence. More than once he was seen to rise from table when some pretentious coxcomb sought to air his sceptical views to the disparagement of the Gospel. As it happens the Irish trouble appears on the eve of settlement when the Boers find themselves entering upon a similarly dismal chapter of national history. It is to be hoped that the elder Chamberlain will not be more terrible than the late war.

HON. EDWARD BLAKE.

A Toronto daily paper supporting prosperous company, the North Amthe Government at Ottawa published during the week a report, stated to have good authority behind it, that Hon. Edward Blake intends returning to Canadian public life. Any description of report which a newspaper sees fit to publish can easily enough be said to have good foundation, so long as its authority is kept concealed. But anonymous warrant does not prevent the ordinary reader forming his own opinion on the subject. Now our upbuilding, which can be readily seen opinion is that Hon. Edward Blake has no immediate intention of leaving his Irish confreres in Westminster death. More than that his good works to finish up the task of winning Home Rule. ### A PROSPEROUS HOME INSTITU-TION

Last year was an exceedingly favorable one throughout the Dominion of Canada for business generally, and has been shown by the reports of our banks which have already been published. This successful state of fairs is further demonstrated by the great progress that has been made by our life insurance companies of late years, and among these is that highly erican Life, whose twenty-second annual statement is published in our columns to-day. The new business of the company was the largest in its history, exceedings any former year by one million dollars. In every department great progress was made, but this will be better illustrated by taking an extract from the able speech made by the President at the annual meeting. He said:

"During the past few years our company has made marvelous strides in all the departments tending to its by the following figures showing a COMPARISON OF THREE SEPTEN-

LITTLE VICTIMS OF THE TIMES.

(From The New York Sun.) Yesterday morning an automobile rolled up Fifth Avenue. A very young child and his nurse were the occupants. The fur-covered chauffeur kept the vehicle moving at a moderate rate. Only a short distance behind the first vehicle there rolled another private automobile. It proceeded with the same deliberation and it contained a child not more than three years old and her nurse. The two vehicles continued on their way to the park and an hour later were making down the avenue again.

Both of the children were born to wealth and position, The mother of the sable-decked youngster in one automobile is now in Europe living with her second husband, who is no relation to the child. He remains with his father when the father happens to be in New York. The father of the child in the second automobile has a second wife and this child lives with her mother-that is to say she lives with her when the mother is not at Aiken or in Florida in the winter and in Europe or at Newport in the summer. In spite of the servants, the furs, and the automobiles there was an undeniable pathos about the little procession of orphans-orphans of a new kind, but none the less bereft for that reason.

Severe colds are easily cured by the use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, a medicine of extraordinary penetrating and healing properties. It is acknowledged by those who have used it as being the best medicine sold for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs, and all affections of the throat and chest. Its agreeableness to the the miners who work in cold water taste makes it a favorite with ladies and children.

A BREAK IN THE DIKE

(Written for The Catholic Register.)

There is a story told of a boy in Holland who, returning from school noticed a small crack in the famous dike that keeps out the Zuyder Zee and that preserves the entire country from inundation. The boy knew that it would take but a few moments for that tiny hole to expand, and that once the waters commenced to rush in there would be but small chance of repairing the damage and of saving the country. He consequently actsed on the spur of the moment, and with a heroism worthy of the greatest of warriors, he pushed his hand into the hole, stopped it up completely, and kept his hand in that position, shouting all the time for assistance. At last a passerby heard his cries and came to the rescue. "Run," said the boy, "and sound the alarm; this breach must be mended at once." Rhen the workers came the boy had been there over an hour; he was relieved, although faint and exhausted by the fearful strain; yet he had saved the country. As it is with the Holland dike, so is it with the safeguards of a country's constitution. If the slightest breach is allowed to be made in that wall of security, none can ever tell where the destruction may end. The Zuyder Zee of confusion, strife and political chaos will deluge the landand not a mountain-top will be left Jor the Ark of nationality to rest

The Dominion of Canada, composed of its various Provinces and Territordes, depends for its future stability, prosperity and weight in the great world, upon its constitution. That constitution has for its basis the British North America Act. Prior to Confederation that paramount Act was studied and analyzed, discussed and considered by the most able minds of the period, and its passage was an effort of constructive statesmanship that would do credit to the fathers of any constitution on earth. Fince 1867, the advancements made, the changes effected, the developments witnessed, the augmentation in the number of Provinces included in the Dominion, the casting of a net-work of railways over the face of the country, the rise and fall of different poditical parties, the patchwork of pol cies attempted, rejected, resumed, neglected, as the case might be, and the wicker-work of interests - religious, racial, provincial, industrial and political - all these, and a hunared other tests may be adduced to establish the efficacy, adaptability, and national worth of the British North America Act. At no time in our history, since Confederation, do we find any serious desire to tamper with the safeguards that our constitution affords every element in Can-

THE MAIKET REPORTS.

The Latest Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, Feb. 10. Toronto St. Lawrence Markets.

Business on the street was quite lively today, but in the new market building things were rather quiet. Produce receipts were fairly large, the grain on the market amounting to 2,500 bushels.

Wheat—White wheat is ic easier, while red shows a steady market; 200 bushels of white and 500 of red sold at 72½c per bushel. Goose is about steady at 68c, 500 bushels selling at that figure.

Barley—The market is slightly easier on the poorer grades; 800 bushels sold at 47½o to 50e per bushel.

Oats—Continue steady; 500 bushels sold unchanged at 36c per bushel.

Dressed Hogs—Ouotations show a decline of about 20c to 25c per cwt. To-day's receipts were fairly liberal, and this, together with the decline in the prices of live stock, is responsible for the drop. Choice light weight butcher hogs are quoted at $7.85 to $8.25 per cwt and heavies at $7.50 to $7.75.

Butter—Business was rather quiet, not many farmers being at the stalls. Prices are easier at 18c to 20c per 1b for pound rolls and 16c to 18c for large.

Eggs—The market is about steady, with not much new laid stock coming forward. Quotations for both new laid and held stock are unchanged.

Hay—About 30 loads were on the market. Prices for No. 1 timothy are firmer at $12 to $15 per ton, and mixed or clover is higher at $5 to $10.

Straw—One load only was offered, and quotations are a little easier at $9 to $10 per ton.

Toronto Live Stock.

Trade at the Toronto Cattle Market today was rather quiet, with the movement in the principal lines of cattle only fair.
The run of stock was light, but of fairly good quality. The receipts amounted to 58 cars, including 970 cattle, 670 skeep and lambs, a... hogs and 14 calves.

Export Cattle—Trade in this line of eattle was rather duil, there being very little stock on the market and a demand more or less limited. A feature of the market was the presence of about 20 loads of cattle from Chicago, waiting to be shipped through to the coast, whence they will be sent on to England. These cattle are bought in Chicago much cheaper than they can be bought here, for which state of affairs dealers give but one reason. The corn crop in the northern States has turned out unit for export, and is being fed to the cattle, with the result that the latter are essler finished, better nurtured and more plentiful than Canadian cattle, or even than United States cattle were last year. The dealers say that the cattle there for which 7½c per lb was paid a year ago can now be bought for 4½c, and that they are cheaper and of better quality than Canadian stock.

Local prices to-day showed an easier feel-be bought for 44c, and that they are cheaper and of better quality than Canadian stock.

Local prices to-day showed an easier feeling, but there was no quotable change, about $4.50 to $4.75 was paid for the best stock on the market, while extra choice picked stock might bring a little more.

Butcher Cattle—Market conditions were about the same as those of last week. The run of stock was not large, aithough ample enough to fill the fairly good demand evident. Prices were unchanged, with a firm feeling which, however, would be dissipated by a large run of offerings. The best stock on the market brought about $4.40 per cwt. There was no very fine stuff offering and quotations are unchanged.

Milch Cows—There is a very fair demand for good stock. About 15 cows were offered to-day and all sold readily at prices ranging from $25 to $52 each.

Stockers and Feeders—The demand for good animals still continues and prices are about steady. To-day's offerings were a little heavier and of fairly good quality. About 4c per ib was paid for the best on the market.

Sheep and Lambs—The market' is about steady at quoted prices, and prospects are for continued steadiness in the market. Trade was good and everything sold fairly early.

Calves—The demand for yeal calves con-early.

Calves—The demand for veal calves continues fair and prices are steady and un-Hogs—Trade is dull and a drop of about 10c per cwt is noted on all lines. Prospects are for a dull market, with possibly still lower prices.

Bast Buffalo, Fec. 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 225 head; steady; veals steady; tops, $9.25 to $9.75; common to good, $5.50 to $9.
