

CANADA IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

Descendants in Canada of those who fought under Wolfe and of those who fought under Montcalm, . . . the grandson of a Durham and a grandson of a Papineau standing side by side in this struggle . . . in the Empire's battle line to-day. —Sir Robert Borden at Guildhall, London.

WORDS THAT WILL LIVE ON MEMORY'S PAGE MARK BORDEN'S SPEECH

Ceremony at Guildhall Inspiring and Soul-Stirring As Premier Receives Freedom.

London, July 30.—Not even a crowned head could have had a more magnificent reception than was accorded Sir Robert Borden when he received what has ever been prized as the highest honor, the freedom of the City of London.

Citizens assembled in large numbers outside the Guildhall to greet the Premier of the Dominion, while within the magnificent hall, that historic link with the past where monarchs have enjoyed the hospitality of the Empire's capital, and statesmen have proclaimed their policies, the highest dignitaries in the land assembled to honor Canada's Prime Minister and at the same time indicate the grateful recognition by the Mother Country of the splendid part taken by the Dominion in the present times of tumult.

When at three o'clock Sir Robert accompanied by the master and wardens of the Leathersellers' Company, of which he is a member, and by whom he was presented, arrived, the old hall, with its wonderful stately illustrative of heroic incidents which have led to Imperial expansion, rang with cheers. With that quaint picturesque ceremonial which the City of London continues throughout the ages, and which makes the past an inspiration for the present, the ceremony was immediately commenced.

In the centre of the platform at the east, wearing his crimson robe as the Lord Mayor, and on the other side were distinguished representa-

ASQUITH'S WORDS ARE COMMENDED ALL OVER BRITAIN

Time Nation Was Taken Into Confidence and False Ideas Dispelled.

London, July 30.—Throughout all the responsible press of England commendation is expressed of Premier Asquith's speech in the House of Commons on Wednesday. The Westminster Gazette reflects the universal opinion when it says: "We are glad the prime minister used the debate to make a clear and practical statement about the present condition of affairs and the contribution which this country is making to the present world struggle. We are glad, also, that he repudiated with indignation the idea which has been disseminated in some quarters that the people of this country have not risen to the height of this occasion."

"Asquith's words ring true and it was high time there should be a forcible and authoritative statement on this subject. All responsible men here and in France and Russia know the truth and there never was a moment when they more completely trusted each other, but there is an outside public in all countries which relies on half knowledge and half conjecture, and responsible men cannot, without peril, neglect their duty of informing them and keeping them in heart and confidence."

Premier Hearst returned to his work at the Parliament buildings.

Ominous Outlook

Gravity of Situation Must Be Realized Now; Onslaught on the West is Expected

Lloyd George's Warning Timely—Warsaw Must Fall, and the Germanic Avalanche on the West Will Try the Allies to their Utmost—A Period of Great Danger is Near—Nation Must Face This Fact.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 30.—Warsaw, the third city of Russia, and the goal for which the German armies in the east have been striving since October, is at last in the throes of abandonment. Germans in overwhelming numbers are at the gates of the Polish capital and despatches both from the city itself and from Petrograd say that further resistance would be unwise.

Discounted not only through France and Great Britain, but in Russia itself the fall of the city is expected hourly and the problem now is to move the Russian armies intact, threatened as they are from the south by the Austro-Germans and more seriously from the north where the German forces which have swept through Poland are aiming at the railway from Warsaw to Petrograd. This latter menace the British press admits is imminent and the hope in the allied countries now is not for the safety of Warsaw, but for the continued cohesion of the Russian army.

The Warsaw post office already has been shifted to some point to the eastward, the populace has been warned to remain calm and presumably for days Russian troops have been stripping the city of everything of military value.

HOVER OVER CITY German aviators are hovering over the city, and according to German advices, plans have been completed for the triumphant entrance of the German emperor, accompanied by his consort.

With Warsaw captured, whether or not it proves a conquest of lasting strategic advantage, a great wave of enthusiasm will sweep over Germany and Austria-Hungary, and it is predicted here that the armies of the central powers will then seek to force a period of trench warfare in the east, meanwhile throwing a great weight of men and guns to the west with the idea of restoring the battering towards Calais and perhaps towards Paris.

LITTLE OF NOTE In the west just now there has been little worthy of note to break the monotony of mining and bombing from the North Sea to the Swiss frontier.

The British public is not depressed with the events in the east. In fact David Lloyd George, the minister of munitions, in a speech yesterday, apparently thought it necessary to drive home the gravity of the situation into the minds of those inclined to over-optimism, reminding them that reverses in Russia would mean increased pressure on the western allies, and summing up his opinion with the admonition that "the situation is serious if not perilous."

HORSE DEALS IN THE DAVIDSON WAR CONTRACT TROUBLE

Liveryman Who Sold Eighty Horses Has Short Memory.

Summerside, P.E.I., July 30.—W. B. McNeill, liveryman of this town, who sold eighty-one horses for $18,420 to Major Anderson of Moncton for a battery of artillery, was called to the stand when the Davidson war contracts commission re-opened its inquiry here this morning. McNeill proved to have very little exact remembrance of the prices he paid for horses, or from whom he bought them, and it took John Thompson, K. C., Ottawa, over an hour of questioning to get from him the names of six horse sellers. The prices McNeill thought he paid for horses ranged from $165 to $210, as compared with the average of $227 per horse paid by the Militia Department to him.

Mr. Thompson's first question to McNeill was: "From whom did you buy horses for Major Anderson and what did you pay for them?" McNeill said he could not give the information. Mr. Thompson said he could not accept that answer. The witness replied that Mr. Thompson could please himself. Counsel then said he was going to stop there till he got the facts, and McNeill thought

SECOND DRAGOONS REACH THE TOTAL OF THIRTY MEN

The men of the Second Dragoons would be very grateful if some person would turn over to them some old sporting paraphernalia, such as old baseballs, bats, gloves, or soft balls, etc. Often when it is wet the men find time hanging heavily on their hands, so anything by which they can amuse themselves, even playing cards, would be of great assistance. The headquarters of the Second are on Dalhousie street, corner of King, in the old Masonic rooms.

Two more men joined them yesterday, bringing the total strength up to nearly 30. To-day Col. Zachary Fraser is in Brantford inspecting the detachment. The names: Isaac Weekly, C., 27, S., 33 Green- wich street, no previous experience. Alf. Gilbert, E., 25, M., 1 child, Eagle Place, no previous experience. 25TH DRAGOONS The Dragoons defeated the Thistles in football last night by 4 to 3. It was a good game, despite the high score and the soldiers are pleased at winning. One man was added to the ranks yesterday. His name is Horace Warden of Grandview, English, 28 years old and single.

U. S. MARINES TAKE OVER THE CONTROL OF HAITIEN AFFAIRS

Some Resistance to the Landing Force, But No Casualties.

Washington, July 30.—Dispatches to the navy department last night from Admiral Caperton, who landed a force at Port Au Prince, the capital of Haiti, last night show that the Americans were attacked, but without casualties. Admiral Caperton's dispatch is as follows: "Landing force was established in the city. There was some resistance during the early part of the night as the advance was being made. There were no casualties to our force. I am proceeding to disarm bodies of Haitien soldiers and civilians to-day."

This dispatch of Admiral Caperton reveals the extraordinary power given to him in his instructions from the state department. He has become absolute master of the city and has undertaken to disarm even the soldiers of the government. His disarming of the civilians is substantially a declaration of martial law. His dispatch does not show, however, that it was not yet necessary to interfere with the municipal government. Admiral Caperton and his forces will remain ashore both at Port Au Prince and at Cape Haitien until a stable government has been assured for the republic.

PRESERVE THE ARMY, NO MATTER WHAT THE COST IN TERRITORY

RUSSIAN DEFENCE IS STUBBORN, BUT MUST YIELD SOON

Interest Centres in the New Battle-Front to be Taken Up.

By Special Wire to The Courier. Petrograd, July 30.—Some of the military critics regard as the most notable feature of the latest official communication, the precise dating of the declaration that on July 28 the Narew line in general was unchanged in spite of the series of stubborn battles. The stubbornness of the Russian defence in the north and the south is favorably commented upon.

An incident that is causing much discussion is the fact that the struggle on the Narew in the direction of Serock and Pultusk has assumed the character of a pitched battle, each side having taken the offensive on both banks of the river and occupied Russian trenches, but were hurled back across the river July 28, losing 1500 prisoners.

Petrograd Prepares to Hear of Evacuation of Warsaw and Poland at Any Time.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 30.—A Petrograd despatch to the Times, dated Thursday, says: "The newspapers are preparing the public mind for a new withdrawal necessitated by the enemy's overwhelming superiority in guns and munitions. It is pointed out that further efforts to cling to the Vistula-Narew lines are attended with grave danger. The paramount consideration is to preserve the army, no matter at what sacrifice of territory."

"The hope is expressed in official circles that the public will receive calmly the news of the forthcoming retirement and evacuation."

MOST DANGEROUS MOVE YET London, July 30.—The Times' military correspondent in an article to-day says: "At present the great three months operation against Russia, which was planned by the German chief of staff General Erich Von Falkenhayn, is the most aspiring and in some ways the most brilliant piece of strategy the war has yet produced. When Von Falkenhayn in May set going the

"I AM INNOCENT," BECKER'S DYING STATEMENT TO THE PRIESTS AND EXECUTIONERS

Died With His Wife's Portrait Pinned Over His Heart.

Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N.Y., July 30.—Charles Becker was put to death in the electric chair here this morning for the killing of Herman Rosenthal, the New York gambler. The former New York police lieutenant retained his composure and protested his innocence to the last. He went to his death with a photograph of his wife pinned on his shirt over his heart. Three shocks were given before the prison physician pronounced Becker dead at 5:55 o'clock.

Becker led the way to his own execution. The condemned man sat up all night on the edge of his cot, talking to Deputy Charles H. Johnson. "I have got to face it," said Becker, "and I am going to meet it quietly and without trouble to anyone." The deputy warden left Becker about an hour before the time set for the execution, and when the priests, Father W. E. Cashin, the prison priest, and Father Curry, of New York, came to administer the last rites, they found the man who investigated Herman Rosenthal's murder with his face resting on his hand gazing at the prison floor. The priests remained with him to the end.

It was shortly after 5 o'clock when the first witnesses of the execution began to assemble outside the prison walls. Quietly their names were checked off by Deputy Warden Johnson, who directed them to take their places at a gateway that led directly to the execution chamber. Then the witnesses were led to the place of exe-

BALKAN STATES INTRIGUING IN NEUTRAL TALK

Many Deep Laid Schemes are Being Set For the Diplomats.

Athens, via London, July 30.—The newspapers are commenting freely on the reported Turco-Bulgarian convention. Those newspapers which are opposed to the former premier Venizelos, express the belief that it indicates the definite turning of Bulgaria to the Teutonic powers and argue that it ends the hope of re-forming the Balkan League, as favored by Great Britain. These newspapers urge therefore that Greece must maintain her neutrality at all costs. The organs which uphold the policy of Benizelos think Bulgaria has been assured important territorial additions, besides the cession of the Media-Emos line, and urge Greece to join the triple entente powers in order to assure herself of corresponding extensions of territory.

REMARKABLE OFFER Attention is called to the "Tip Top" advertisement elsewhere in this issue. ONE YEAR AGO SINCE OPENING OF EUROPE'S GREAT WAR

On July 28 a year will have elapsed since the opening of the war in Europe. It was on that date that the first declaration of war was made by Austria against Serbia, following the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, and it was that declaration, followed by others, which plunged the whole of Europe into what has been the world's greatest war. In the above illustration are shown the rulers of the allied nations who are lined up against the Teutonic allies.

JAPANESE CABINET IS SPLIT UP OVER DISPUTE ON USE OF ELECTION MONIES AS BRIBES

RUSSIA HINTS THAT NIBBLING SHOULD CEASE

Gigantic Offensive on West Alone Can Save Her From Defeat.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Montreal, July 30.—The Gazette has the following from London this morning: "All the newspapers here this morning give much prominence to an official statement from Petrograd that Russia awaits a Franco-British diversion which is interpreted as an intimation from the great eastern power that it is time to abandon the policy of 'nibbling' and deliver a general attack on the western front in order to force Germany to reduce her forces, estimated at two million, apart from the Austrians, fighting the Russians in the eastern theatre of war."

It is also believed to be an intimation that Russia hopes for a great battle at the Dardanelles, which will smash the Turks and allow provisions to reach her so Grand Duke Nicholas' army which has been bearing the brunt of the titanic struggle may resume the offensive and crumble up the Germanic allies in the east.

Attention is directed here to the fact that while Russia is fighting more than 3,500,000 men the German force, estimated at only 1,250,000 has

Count Okuma and Cabinet Tender Their Resignations to Emperor.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Tokio, July 30.—The Japanese cabinet, headed by Count Okuma, as premier has tendered its resignation to Emperor Yoshihito. This action followed the resignation yesterday of Viscount Kanetake Oura, minister of the interior, following an investigation by the Ministry of Justice into bribery charges resulting from the parliamentary elections last March. Viscount Oura's resignation was sanctioned by the Emperor after report on the situation had been made to him by Count Okuma. Premier Okuma, believing he should hold himself responsible for the acts of the members of his cabinet, was the first to tender his resignation. The other ministers immediately decided to follow the example of their chief.

After receiving Count Okuma, the emperor summoned the elder statesmen for a conference. A cabinet change at this time is unpopular with the public because of the war. Two cases have been mentioned as responsible for the crisis. The first was the charge that 10,000 yen ($5,000) had been offered Viscount Oura by a candidate for the House as the price for keeping a rival candidate out of the field. The minister of the interior denied having accepted this bribe, but K. Hayashide, chief secretary of the lower house, who was arrested Wednesday has been quoted as admitting receiving the money and distributing it for campaign purposes.

The second case involves two representatives charged with accepting bribes to desert the Seiyikai, or Conservative party, and support the

Sergt. Jones Has Lost Sight of the Left Eye

Mrs Charles Jones residing at 12 Walnut street received the following letter from Sergt. Charles Jones in Overcliffe Red Cross Hospital, Westcliffe on Sea, England. Sergt. Jones has been severely wounded and has lost the sight of one eye and had his hands severely injured. He expects to be discharged soon and will return home to Canada. His parents reside in England where he will spend his sick leave until ready to sail.

Overcliffe Red Cross Hospital Westcliffe-on-Sea, Essex England

16th July, 1915.

My thumb is a bit sore and as it has been bandaged again, I can't write, so that explains the different handwriting—one of the patients is scribbling this for me.

By the same mail I am sending you a copy of "The Sphere," containing a picture of the 4th Battalion Canadians in their charge at the Battle of Ypres—it shows very well the sort of fighting we have been through.

I had the bandages off my hands when that was done, but small pieces of shell coming out still make it necessary to replace them.

I am still having a good time here, and get out and about when it is possible. We get plenty of visitors and everyone is exceedingly kind. Last week a local Yacht Club gave us all a tea party. We went down in motor cars and spent a real decent afternoon, games, tea, etc. We still have one, and sometimes two, concerts every week in the hospital. They make a pleasant change—especially for those who cannot yet go out.

I don't know that I can give you any more news, as there isn't any. One day is much like another, weather is variable, one day warm and sunny and the next is the reverse, cold, dull and windy.

TRIBUTE TO MR. HENRY

Says the Kincardine Reporter: A visitor to town last week for a few hours was Mr. Robert Henry. He was known to some of the older men of Kincardine like the late Robert Baird, who has passed away. Robert Henry is a man well up in years now. He at one time was the foremost citizen in Brantford. In 1878-9 he was elected mayor of the city after serving in the council for a number of years. Again in 1887 the Conservative party forced him into the field to fight Mr. Charles Heyd for the mayoralty. It was one of the biggest fights Brantford ever experienced, and for many a day the ill feeling engendered in that election was not allayed. Heyd looked a sure winner, he being an able man but it was here that Robert Henry's resourcefulness came into play. Single handed he fought the combined money interests of the city of Brantford and won out by a majority of 97 votes. The great issue of the election hinged on the making of the wealthy man pay taxes on his personality. Henry promised the people that he would see that the rich did not "rob" them any longer. He himself was what might be termed one of the wealthy class, but he was the idol of the workingman whom he always met with a bright smile and cheery good day. From confederation South Brant had always been Liberal and it was the same seat of the Hon. W. Patterson who beat Sir Francis Hincks and many other worthy men for the seat. In 1896 Robert Henry was the choice of the Conservative party and after a hot fight he won from Mr. Peterson. It seemed to be his ill-luck to have won the year the Liberals came into power. Sir Charles Tupper personally asked Mr. Henry to run in that election, but the old war horse of the Chamberland was unable to carry the country. In the history of Brantford a quarter of a century and more ago no man played a bigger part than Robert Henry. He was a head of the big wholesale house of A. Watts and Co., and interested in the development of the west, where he lost much money, and all matters pertaining to his native town. He was a great patriot, a good judge of his audience, and a fighter when occasion and policy demanded. Years have mellowed all this and he now looks back and recalls with pleasure the fact that he left no political enemies. Sir John McDonald was a warm personal friend. Mr. Henry was accompanied on his trip by his son, Stuart, and Rev. Canon Jones-Bateman. The Henry family now live in Windsor, but are summering at Gosditch.

Lady postman are being employed in the Nenagh district. It is understood that the Postal authorities will not employ any auxiliary postmen this summer, presumably for the reason that it might interfere with recruiting. It is intended to employ ladies to do any extra work that may arise. Already in Nenagh three young ladies have been making the rounds.

The question was raised recently in the King's Bench whether an owner who was dispossessed of his property by the Crown in time of war had not a right to compensation. The matter came before the court by a "petition of right" from an aerodrome company who asked for a declaration that they were lawfully entitled to proper compensation—Mr. Justice Avory gave the following judgment: He had come to the conclusion that his Majesty, by virtue of his war prerogative under statutes, through the representatives, was, under the then existing circumstances, entitled to take possession of the land and premises, and was still entitled to do so without making compensation. In addition, the effect of the Defence of the Realm Act, conferred on the competent Naval and Military authorities during the continuance of the war, absolute and unconditional power to take possession of land and buildings and do any other act interfering with private property, wholly for the public safety, which enactment repealed any right of compensation, if it existed in time of war in earlier acts. The plaintiffs had, therefore, failed to establish any right in law, and judgment must be for the Crown. He thought, however, that the plaintiffs were entitled under the Royal Commission of Inquiry appointed in March, 1915 to apply for compensation in respect of any direct and substantial loss incurred and damage sustained by reason of interference with their property and business under the circumstances of the case.

Old World Notes

By a vote of thirty to twenty-two the Dublin city corporation refused to endorse a resolution demanding that "The home rule act shall be put into operation in the whole of Ireland on the 17th of September next." By the same majority the corporation adopted an amendment expressing confidence in John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist parliamentary leader, to select the proper moment to bring the settlement into operation.

The returns of the last half-year's business in connection with the Derry Savings Bank show that the appeal for thrift has fallen on sympathetic ears in the Maiden City. At the half-yearly meeting of the trustees and managers the actuary reported that at the end of May the total funds showed an increase of $32,000 for the half year. The number of depositors increased by 55 for one six months, the total now being $5479.

A warning has been issued by the British government through the board of trade to all British commercial firms that they will be expected to exercise the most scrupulous care in their transaction of their business abroad during the period of the war, so as to avoid any likelihood of making themselves agents for the supply of goods to hostile countries. "It is inadvisable," says the official circular, "that any new accounts should be opened by any British trader in neutral countries without the fullest inquiries as to the character of the business proposed by him." It explains that traders in neutral countries are in many cases engaged either directly or indirectly in trade with the enemies of the Entente allies. British firms, therefore, "must survey with great caution every opening for business which is offered them by neutral importers or exporters." It is added that "the proclamations relating to trading through neutral agents, and carelessness in transacting neutral business may involve traders in the severe penalties attaching to trading with the enemy."

BRANT THEATRE

The patrons of the fine vaudeville theatre are greeted by another good bill this week-end. The three dainty and versatile Higgie girls offer a splendid singing act and have a beautifully varied repertoire. Ruth Howell's trio give one of the best aerial exhibitions ever seen at the Brant and their feats are novel and very original, therefore they are entertaining. Eddie Adair proves himself to be one of the best entertainers that has been here for some time. His voice is very rich and his rendering of the most popular songs certainly made a hit.

An excellent photo-play in three parts completes the program. What is claimed to be the best act of the season, the Minstrels de Luxe, is coming to the Brant on Monday.

tion in a new death house which had been built adjoining the old execution chamber, where the four gunmen were put to death over a year ago for killing Rosenthal. When the witnesses were seated Deputy Warden Johnson nodded to Principal Keeper Fred Dorner, and they left the room through a small wooden door that led to the death cells beyond where Becker was praying with his spiritual advisers.

MESSAGE TO PRIEST

Becker arose to his feet when he saw Johnson, and took a crucifix from the hand of the prison priest. To Father Curry Becker gave his last message as he took his place at the head of the little file of men that marched to the room of death. Becker's message, which he uttered to the priest was:

"I am not guilty by deed or conspiracy, or in any other way of the death of Rosenthal. I am sacrificed to my friends. Bear this message to the world and my friends. Amen."

The one time police officer hesitated as he entered the execution room. It seemed to the witnesses as if he was startled that the little chair was so near at hand. He looked quickly at the double row of witnesses, glanced at the floor, swept with his eyes the whitened walls of the room and then suddenly, as if coming to himself walked briskly over the rubber mat and seated himself in the electric chair. Behind Becker followed the prison priests chanting the prayer of death which was repeated by the condemned man.

THREE SHOCKS

"Jesus, Mary, Joseph, have mercy on my soul," nervously spoke Becker as Deputy Wardens stepped forward and adjusted the electrodes. Hardly a minute elapsed before the electrode was applied to the right leg, a slit having been previously cut in the trouser leg from the knee down. After the electrode had been firmly adjusted against a shaven spot on the back of the condemned man's head, the state executioner looked at Deputy Warden Johnson who surveyed the figure that was still mumbling the death prayer in the chair. Johnson half turned his head and the executioner jammed the switch. The first shock lasted a full minute and the executioner said that it was 1,850 volts and ten amperes in strength. It came while Becker was still commending his soul to His Maker. The two prison physicians stepped forward to examine the collapsed figure that sat supported in the death chair by the thick black leather straps. The stethoscope was applied to the heart and Dr. Charles Farr, the prison physician pressed his finger against an artery in the neck. There was still a feeble fluttering of the heart. The physician stepped back from the rubber mat and again the electric current pulsed through the body. The shock lasted seven seconds and the current was then turned off. After a hasty examination, Dr. Farr asked that a third shock be given. This lasted five seconds. An examination that took several minutes followed.

Three physicians among the witnesses then made an examination, and Dr. Farr at 5:55 o'clock quietly announced: "I pronounce this man dead."

During the night Becker pencilled on a piece of paper what he captioned "My dying declaration." It was taken to the warden's office, where two copies were typewritten, which Becker signed with his fountain pen in bold hand. To Deputy Warden Johnson, who had charge of the execution in place of Warden Thomas Mott Osborne, who does not believe in the death penalty, the one-time police lieutenant gave his fountain pen as a gift.

"It is the last thing that I have to give away and I want you to have it. I want you to give this statement to the newspapermen." Becker's message, given out just before he went to his death, read:

BECKER'S MESSAGE

"Gentlemen: I stand before you in my full senses, knowing that no power on earth can save me from the grave that is to receive me. In the face of that, in the teeth of those who condemned me and in the presence of my God and your God, I proclaim my absolute innocence of the foul crime for which I must die. You are now about to witness my destruction by the state which is organized to protect the lives of the innocent. May Almighty God pardon everyone who has contributed in any degree to my untimely death. And now on the brink of my grave, I declare to the world that I am proud to have been the husband of the purest, noblest woman that ever lived—Helen Becker. This acknowledgement is the only legacy I can leave her. I bid you all goodbye. Father, I am ready to go. Amen.

(Signed) "Charles Becker."

After his wife had said farewell, shortly after midnight, Becker maintained a casual conversation with Deputy Warden Johnson, who sat beside the screen in front of his cell. Some times he smoked cigars, after which he would let his head fall upon his hand and gaze reflectively at the concrete floor for minutes at a time. Dawn found him seated on the edge of his cot carefully pinning a photograph of his wife on his white shirt, just over his heart. Then Becker put on a thin black alpaca coat which he tightly buttoned.

THE AUTOPSY

An autopsy on the body of Becker was performed according to law immediately after the execution. After Becker's body had been removed from the electric chair, Samuel Haynes, a negro murderer, was brought into the execution room and electrocuted.

One of Becker's last requests to Warden Osborne, was that he be put to death before the negro Haynes.

IN DEEP DISTRESS

New York, July 30.—Returning from her last visit to the death house at Sing Sing prison, where she had taken her farewell of her husband, Mrs. Charles Becker arrived at the Becker home in the Bronx at 2:40 a.m. today. She was accompanied by one of Becker's brothers who half carried her into the house. Mrs. Becker showed evidences of the deep distress she was undergoing. No effort was made to question her about her visit to Sing Sing. She was met by her sister, Miss Mary Lynch.

THE CRIME

New York, July 30.—Herman Rosenthal, the gambler for whose murder Charles Becker was sentenced to die in the electric chair, was shot to death by hired gunmen in the early morning of July 16, 1912, in front of the Hotel Metropole on Forty-third street, a few steps from Broadway. The murder was the swift culmination of sensational charges made a few days before by Rosenthal against Becker in which Rosenthal asserted that Becker then head of the Strong Arm squad of detectives, freely sold police protection and had accumulated thousands of dollars of graft money.

Rosenthal went further than that. He swore that Becker was his silent partner in a gambling enterprise that failed and that Becker, angered by losses where he had expected large profits, raided the Rosenthal establishment and drove Rosenthal out of business by stationing uniformed policemen on his premises day and night.

These charges were published and district Attorney Whitman began an investigation of them. He summoned Rosenthal to the criminal courts building and listened to his story. An appointment was made with Rosenthal for the next day. Before the time came Rosenthal was murdered.

THE LAST APPEAL

Mrs. Becker's last effort to save her husband was made yesterday when she appealed personally to Governor C. A. Whitman, who as district attorney of New York, had prosecuted the case against Becker, for a reprieve so that an appeal might be taken to the state court of appeals from the decision of Justice Ford. Missing the governor at Albany Mrs. Becker met him at Poughkeepsie. The appeal was fruitless and the untiring wife hurried to Sing Sing to bid her husband farewell. Mrs. Becker was with her husband for an hour, leaving the death house at 12:50 o'clock this morning. She left the prison at 1:15 o'clock for New York outwardly displaying no effects of the severe mental strain. John Becker, her brother-in-law, and John Lynch, her brother, accompanied her.

Becker met his death three years and a day after his indictment and arrest and slightly more than fifteen months after the execution of the four gunmen convicted of the actual murder of Rosenthal.

Becker is the first man who left the death house when granted a new trial to return there and suffer the death penalty. All others who have left Sing Sing's death house after being granted a new trial, have failed to return there for some reason or other.

Ossining, N. Y., July 30.—A statement credited to Mrs. Becker was given out here shortly after her husband's death. "I shall never rest," she was quoted as saying, "until I have exposed the methods which were used to convict my husband. Whether he was guilty or innocent, there was no justification for the means employed to convict him."

"I would rather lose all the other members of my family, as dear as they are to me, than lose Charlie. No one can take his place. In all of the ten years of our married life I never had occasion once to regret that I was his wife."

"Charlie was no angel. He made no pretense of being one. He was just an ordinary human being—and perhaps that is why I loved him so." Dr. W. O. Stillman of Auburn, who assisted in the autopsy, said that Becker showed unusual resistance to the electric fluid. After the autopsy, Dr. Stillman said: "I noticed no unusual effects upon Becker's vital organs. The way he resisted the strong current was remarkable, showing him to be an unusually powerful man."

It was expected that Becker's body will be removed some time today to New York, where funeral services will probably be held on Sunday. New York, July 30.—Mrs. Helen Becker, according to her brother John Lynch, was bearing up well today after the strain she underwent yesterday and last night. She is resting at her home today.

An undertaker was despatched today to Ossining to get the body of Charles Becker. The funeral, it was announced, will take place Monday. A solemn high requiem mass will be said at the Church of St. Nicholas of Tolentin by the Rev. Nicholas J. Murray. Interment will be at Woodlawn cemetery.

THE SITUATION.

Germany is the one country which went into this war under circumstances of complete preparation—years of it. France was in pretty fair shape, Russia in good condition regarding numbers of men, but not munitions, and Great Britain exceedingly shy with regard to troops and equipment alike. Italy during the months she kept out manifestly completed her outfitting in pretty good shape. Just as the cry in the Old Land is "Munitions, and more munitions," so with regard to Russia the explanation of a constant series of withdrawals is lack of them. Under the circumstances the forces of the Czar have been doing marvellous work. Now it is semi-officially announced that there will be no attempt to hold Warsaw, and that the plan will be continued of holding the troops well together in a still further falling back movement, the while every possible damage is inflicted on the foe. A despatch from London to-day says that Lloyd-George made the statement that Russian reverses would mean increased pressure on the Western front, adding that the "situation is serious, if not perilous."

THE REAL LESSON.

Controversial matters, from a party standpoint, are not very desirable at this period, but there was an editorial in last night's Expositor which, for sheer gall and rigid economy of the truth, cannot be allowed to pass without comment. The impudent effusion bore the heading, "An Object-Lesson for Sir Robert." Here are some extracts, not quoted for their intrinsic value, but as an evidence of how far political blindness can lead our cotem.

"Premier Borden has had the privilege of seeing many wonderful things during his trip abroad, and some of them have doubtless made a strong impression on his mind. It is to be hoped that in the latter category is the spectacle of the leading men of divers political beliefs sinking the differences which have in the past divided them in order that the Imperial Government may have the unity and strength necessary to deal efficiently with all the problems, both at home and abroad, which the war has created. "This is the sort of front the Canadian Government ought to present to the world at the present time. There is probably no need for a coalition of parties, such as has been formed in Great Britain, and was formed in Canada in order to bring about confederation, but there is need for a good working agreement between parties such as will enable Canada to do 'her little bit' to the best advantage and will prevent party wrangling and dissensions at a time when complete unity is an absolute essential."

How what are the facts? Sir Robert Borden, after a visit to the Old Country and personal conference with Premier Asquith and his colleagues, returned with the statement that there was a threatened "emergency," and that a contribution to the British navy would at that period be the most welcome form of co-operation. In accordance with that understanding he introduced and had a bill passed in the Commons, offering three dreadnoughts. Then, at a nod from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the servile Grit majority in the Senate gullioned the proposal. When such an act was talked of, even the Brantford Expositor protested that it should not take place. It did take place, however, amid the merry "Ha-ha's" of the Liberal papers and the local Grit organ also gulped the thing down.

Then, when the laughed at "contingency" became a fact, what was the course of the Laurierites? Did they co-operate with the Government as they should?

Not for a moment. They agreed to a war vote all right, but then turned round and objected to the manner in which the money should be levied, even to the extent of moving an amendment which, had it carried, would have been a vote of want of confidence in the Administration.

This was followed by the assertion that the purchase of war supplies had proved one huge carnival of graft.

That there was wholesale boodling, malfeasance, and all the rest of it. The Borden Government promptly inaugurated a wide-open enquiry. It was shown, as might have been expected, in the quick purchase of vast amounts of stores, etc., that there had been some irregularities—such transpired also in the Old Land—but there was no attempt at palliation. Premier Borden in the House publicly read two of his followers out of the party because of their connection with such matters, and then appointed an absolutely independent committee, so that every taint of possible wrongdoing could be eliminated. Did the Grit howlers give him any credit for that manly course? Not much. Meanwhile the local Grit organ entirely misreads the British lesson.

It is this: In Great Britain the Conservative leaders promptly lent all their aid to the Government. Balfour, ex-premier, placed his services entirely at the disposal of the Government, and the other Conservative leaders have since accepted subordinate offices on behalf of unity of purpose.

The contrast thus presented to the course of Liberal leaders in Canada is most pronounced, and the Expositor would show far more sense if it left the subject severely alone.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

A nice rain we had this morning. So much needed, too.

Brantford must have a good representation on the machine gun outfit at the front.

Becker has at last paid the penalty for a crime of which few who followed the evidence can doubt that he was guilty.

It appears that Premier Borden is a member of the Leather Sellers' Company in old Lunnon. As to that, he has had quite an experience in tanning his political opponents.

A report got around that Andrew Carnegie had died suddenly. When seen he remarked in effect that he had heard the rumor, but didn't believe it.

It is announced that at Kingston Penitentiary the convicts are to make boots for such Government services as the Dominion and Mounted Police. No doubt they would much rather do the foot act in a far different way.

The Mexicans have been adding to the worries of Uncle Sam by tramping on the stars and stripes and putting a U. S. despatch courier in prison. Our neighbors are certainly having some large-sized troubles of their own these days.

Proof has been adduced in Africa of an official German order for the contamination of water supplies. If there is any devilment the Kaiserites won't practice, it hadn't been heard of up to the time of going to press.

August 4th will mark the first anniversary of the war, and the number of orders which the Kaiser and the Crown Prince have given in Paris cafes do not require the services of an accountant for checking purposes.

very hard for about five minutes. He then said what he meant was that he could not remember all the people he bought horses from, some he did not know. Mr. Thompson sharply urged the witness to give at least some names and prices, and McNeill stated he had bought a horse from J. E. Perry, he was not sure how much he paid for him, but thought $165; he did not remember whether he paid for the horse secured by cheque or cash. He bought a horse from J. A. Morrison, for $210, one from Harry Silliphant for $180 and another from J. B. Callbreck for $90. He would not swear to any of these amounts. He had bought from Pat. Ryan of Summerside, but did not recall when the deals were put through or how much was paid. Douglas, agent at Summerside of the Charlottetown Navigation Company was recalled to produce contracts dealing with the shipment of horses by W. B. McNeill to Major Anderson. His books showed the following details:

"August 22, six horses, freight paid by McNeill; August 26, eleven horses, $21 freight; August 31, fifty-four horses, $775 freight; September 3rd, ten horses."

In the last three ships the freight was paid at Point du Chene, and the purser believed by Major Anderson. The August 26 shipment was at first billed at ten horses, but afterwards it was found there were eleven horses aboard.

government in its campaign for an increase in the army. The Elder statesmen will meet tomorrow and it is considered probable they will advise that Count Okuma be invited to retain the office of premier and reconstruct the cabinet. The name of Lieutenant General Terachi, governor-general of Korea, also has been suggested, however, for the post of premier.

OFFERS OPPORTUNITY Tokio, July 30.—Japan early this month just escaped a ministerial crisis which grew out of the boycott of Japanese in China. The Elder statesman assembled at Tokio and considered the advisability of certain changes in the cabinet including the post of foreign minister believing that the retirement of Baron Kato, the occupant might ease the situation in China and pacify those who blamed Baron Kato for the unfavorable situation in that country.

The fact that ex-premier Marquis Saionji came out of his retirement and was in frequent consultation caused a great stir and created the belief that he was returning to power.

The older statesmen, however, evidently did not desire to shoulder the responsibility of conducting Japan's future foreign policies and the danger of a crisis was temporarily averted by framing a series of measures for appeasing the Chinese who were so angry as an answer to what they termed Japan's aggressive political policy in their country.

Premier Count Okuma made a speech to encourage the business men of Japan, some of whom are losing heavily by the Chinese boycott. He declared that the existing war really offered Japan a rare opportunity to strengthen her economic situation.

"The end of the war which he considered still very distant would find the European belligerents exhausted. Japan's foreign trade would benefit even if Germany should be successful which he said was not probable.

The premier said he was not fearful of the coming of Germany, could not send troops to the Far East and he added, "it would not be impossible to make some arrangement with Germany to place the peace of the Orient on a lasting footing."

RUSSIA

produced a situation resembling a stalemate in France and Flanders. The effect of Russia's significant statement is expected to make the shirkers here realize that, as Lloyd-George said in his speech here yesterday, the situation is serious even perilous and that Britain will be forced as France is doing, to find all her strength to win the final victory, which Mr. Asquith and Mr. Lloyd-George both assert is certain if the workers of the land rally to support the country in its great life and death struggle for liberty.

PRESERVE ARMY

columns for the reconquest of Galicia, his aim was to place the German armies in the south in such a favorable position with regard to Poland that an enveloping attack upon the Russian central and northern armies could ultimately have taken place under conditions promising success.

This campaign in the south was efficiently carried out, clearing the way for a decisive operation in the north. The mechanism of this latter operation was modeled upon the Japanese attack on the German general simultaneous attack, but a succession of attacks of which Field Marshal Von Mackensen's move for a long time was believed to be the most important.

ARTISTIC ATTEMPT.

"How far the Grand Duke Nicholas was deceived by the artistic attempt to attract Russian attention in false directions we do not know, but the attack north of the Niemen now shows itself as most dangerous. It has been cleverly and unobtrusively assembled. It comes when the Russian reserves, to a large extent, have been used up and it is free to sail in with a great mass of cavalry on its left. If not promptly checked, it will clear a passage of the Niemen for the German Tenth army will march on Vilna and seek to throw itself across the lines of the Russian retreat.

"It is the most dangerous move made against the Russians since the war began."

PLAYING DOUBLE GAME

London, July 30.—A despatch to "The Morning Post" from Budapest says:

"Dr. Styanow, the Bulgarian minister of finance, is holding a series of conferences with Count Stephen Tisza the Hungarian premier; Baron Burian, the Austrian foreign minister, and other government ministers in Vienna and Berlin. In connection with his visit there is considerable talk about Bulgaria here. Dr. Styanow declines to be interviewed, but presumably his journey is connected with financial questions.

"Meanwhile the Bulgarian premier, M. Radoslavov, at Sofia, is issuing statements and interviews daily. To the journalists of the entente powers, he praises his army, while to the Teutonic journalists he diplomatically lauds his attitude of neutrality. The general belief here is that Bulgaria is trying to frighten the entente powers by despatching emissaries for confidential negotiations with Turkey, Austria and Germany."

Paris, July 30—2:35 p.m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a statement on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:

"In the Artois district, near Souchez and at The Labyrinth, there was all last night fighting from trench to trench with hand grenades and bombs.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne, on the plateau of Quenneviers, there was continued activity yesterday with artillery and bomb-throwers. Between Boureuilles and Vauquois and in the forest of Malancourt, the explosion of mines by the enemy did no damage.

"In the forest of Le Pretre a German movement of attack at La Croix des Carmes was easily repulsed.

"A German aviator yesterday threw down on the town of Nancy a total of four bombs, but no casualties or damage resulted.

"In the Vosges, at Barrenkopf, the fighting continued until midnight with great fury. A fresh German counter attack was repulsed. A curtain of fire maintained by our troops inflicted heavy losses on the enemy."

Among the razors received at the Courier office to-day was a parcel sent by a subscriber from outside the city. Now, then, look up that old blade and bring it to this office.

THIS AFTERNOON.

The discussion under the auspices of the Board of Trade, with regard to machine guns, from Brantford, is taking place this afternoon instead of to-night as previously announced.

CABLE RECEIVED.

A cable has been received from Lt. Leonard Bishop, announcing his safe arrival in England. Lt. Arthur Bishop who was so severely wounded has been given four months leave of absence.

LICENSES UNPAID

There are still a number of licenses unpaid, which should have been attended to at the first of the year. The city clerk is very desirous that these should be paid immediately. Several gasoline and amusement licenses are included.

SOFTBALL GAME.

Tutela Park will be the scene of a softball game to-night between the Wesley and Immanuel church teams. The game ought to be a good one, as both teams are out to win. The winners become the owners of a new ball, while the losers will have to pay for it. Fennell will likely pitch for the Methodists, while Mann will be in the box for the Baptists.

Mr. Douglas Jones, son of Major T. H. Jones, City Engineer, left this morning for Niagara camp, where he will be attached to the signalling corps of the 58th Battalion, under Colonel Harry Genet. Doug. was a student at the Collegiate Institute and was very popular in the school, both in social and sport life. He was a lieutenant in the B. C. I. Cadet corps, and was also a very efficient signaller.

"GLOCKENMANN" IS GONE.

Death Calls for John A. Rittinger, Berlin Newspaperman.

Berlin, Ont., July 30.—John A. Rittinger, a well-known German journalist of this city, passed away yesterday morning after a long illness and suffering from an injury in the right hip. He was born here in 1855, and attended St. Jerome's College. He was an apprentice in his father's printing office after which he followed his trade in Guelph, Toronto, Buffalo and Chicago. In 1875 he acquired an interest in the Ontario Glocke, published in Walkerton, which he conducted for 29 years. He was known as "Glockenmann" in Bruce and Grey counties. In 1904 the Glocke was combined with the Berliner Journal, and he joined the firm of Rittinger & Mott. He was a Conservative in politics, and for years was a valued member of the Berlin Park Board. He is survived by his wife, his aged mother, one brother, William, of this city, and a sister, Mrs. J. Badke of Brantford. The funeral will take place at Walkerton on Saturday. Mrs. J. Badke is the wife of the Rev. Julius Badke, residing at 22 Wells avenue, city.

CONSPICUOUS VESSEL

Quebec, July 30.—Among the vessels loading at Rimouski the Wavelet, from Leith, Scotland, is rather conspicuous. She was twice torpedoed in the North Sea by German submarines on the 13th of February last, but escaped, her cargo of wood keeping her afloat. Captain E. Hall of the Wavelet says that when she was hit by a torpedo his boat was seriously damaged, and he ordered all hands to the boats. One of these fell into the sea and his twelve occupants perished. Later, seeing his boat still afloat, he went back to her and steered her shoreward and then got another torpedo, but remained afloat. The Wavelet was later repaired at London, was sold to Charles Salvensen of Leith, who sent her to Canada for wood. She leaves next week.

Mr. Ira Scruton Meets With Bad Motor Mishap

Knocked down and dragged for a distance of some thirty feet before the wheels of an auto had passed completely over his neck and shoulder, was the experience of Mr. Ira D. Scruton, linotype operator on this paper. As a result, he very luckily escaped with severe bruises. Mr. Scruton had left the Courier at 4:30 and was crossing the road directly in front of Hawthorne's when an auto struck him, knocking him to the pavement. The brakes were immediately applied, but before the car could be stopped, three wheels of the auto had passed over him. He pluckily walked back to the office, where, after first aid was applied, he was sent to his home in a taxi. No bones were broken and he is to-day doing as well as can be expected. He was lucky to escape with his life.

Is Prisoner of War Now

A few days ago, a man who called himself Matthew Kallejuk, enlisted as a Russian at the recruiting office of the 25th Brant Dragoons. Investigations as to his real nationality have since been quietly conducted and after he had been examined in the police station this morning, by Chief Slemin, he was found to be an Austrian. "You are a prisoner of war and shall be kept in custody here until we receive official instructions from Ottawa as to your destiny," were the Chief's words.

Kallejuk is twenty years of age, single, and formerly resided at 11 Main street. But owing to the efficiency of Chief Slemin, his little plot was found out, and he will not in the future, have to worry about his lodgings; the government will attend to that. Thomas Mack, accused of vagrancy, was remanded for 10 days. The police are searching for evidence against him on a housebreaking charge. John Mathewson, on a charge of intoxication, was allowed to go.

SATISFY SCRUPLES OF YANKEES, SAYS "SPEC"

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 30.—What ever action the British government takes with regard to cotton—whether it merely be kept out of Germany or declared contraband—the Spectator in an editorial article to-day expresses the opinion that the southern cotton growers of the United States should be recompensed. The pressure, this newspaper goes on to say, which the enormous cotton industry of the American South is bringing to bear on a Democratic president is indeed the crux of the situation. It may be the British Government will find that a scheme which it is said to be considering, of compensating American cotton growers by buying a proportion of their crop over and above the British normal purchases is feasible. If this were thought possible and right it would be need hardly say, be an enormous satisfaction to Englishmen to feel that the scruples of the American government for a precedent and the grievances of the southern cotton planters had been satisfied.

FRANZ JOSEF FORGETS.

For First Time in His Reign He Fails to Congratulate Pope on Name Day. Milan, July 30.—London Daily News despatch.—On the occasion of his name day, Pope Benedict XV, received telegrams from all the European sovereigns except Emperor Franz Josef, of Austria, who for the first time in his reign of nearly 70 years, failed to send congratulations. The failure on the part of the Austrian Emperor, is causing animated comment in Vatican circles. Several of the telegrams received by the pontiff were of great political importance.

TURKISH REPORT

By Special Wire to the Courier. Constantinople, July 29.—via London, July 30.—An official statement issued to-day at the Turkish war office was as follows: "On the Caucasian front we vigorously pursued remnants of the enemy who had been defeated on the Brebad Heights, capturing great quantities of munitions and food supplies and a number of Russian prisoners. "In the Dardanelles Wednesday night a reconnoitering column from our right wing surprised part of a hostile trench, capturing many guns and much material."

CLOSE ALL CAFES

Paris, July 30.—Alarmed at the progress of the anti-alcoholic movement, a meeting of the Liquor Traders Association, has resolved to close all the cafes in France in the event of further restrictions being placed on their trade. The meeting also decided to form a new league, which will comprise wholesalers, retailers and the representatives of kindred industries to defend the liquor interests injured by recent legislation.

Admiral Caperton has taken possession of the city and is co-operating with the British, French and American legations in Haiti.

POLAND A TRAP FOR THE ENEMY

Chronicle's Correspondent Tells of the Situation.

London, July 30.—Harold Williams, the Petrograd correspondent of The Chronicle, cables to-day: "To-day's bulletins bring good news from many parts of the front. For days past the bulletins have not reported such a number of cheering episodes. Does this mean that the tide of battle all along the big front is turning in favor of the Russians, and that the Germans are on the eve of being driven back? Unfortunately no. These episodes just illustrate the amazing heroism of the Russian troops against enormous odds. They are the pledge of ultimate but not of immediate victory."

MUST FACE THE SITUATION

The fact must be faced that the Russian army in the present circumstances cannot advance, cannot develop its partial successes into a broad, aggressive movement. The mobilization of Russian industry for the munitions work has only just begun, and the army must be kept in being until supplied with means for throwing all its heroism into one big advance. The Russians, unable to advance, must try a fresh manoeuvre. They must again retire. They must foil the enemy's plan of cutting them off. The way to do this is to evacuate the Polish front, which they have held for a year. It is a hard sacrifice to make, but at this stage of the war there is no choice. The Polish front must be evacuated, and the enemy's country, and according to earlier strategic plans, it was to have been evacuated immediately on the outbreak of the war. The fact that the Russians have not only held it for a year, but have used it as a base from which to invade the enemy's territories, is an achievement which was quite unforeseen. When the enemy turned his whole strength against Russia, when nearly the whole Austrian army and seventy German divisions supported by artillery of unprecedented strength and by practically all the Austrian and German cavalry, flung themselves on Poland the defects of this theatre became obvious.

POLAND A TRAP

To defend it to the utmost would be to fall into the German trap to expose the Russian army to destruction and to bring the war so far as the eastern front is concerned, to a sudden and inglorious end. To avoid this catastrophe, to conserve its forces in order to pursue the war to a distant but triumphant close, the Russian command will temporarily withdraw its army beyond the Vistula, but before it does this, and while it does this, the Russian army will continue its work of wearing down the Germans, and the exhausting, when he does occupy the Polish theatre, will find it is not the granary that it was at the beginning of the war, but a desert from which supplies are withdrawn and a large proportion of the population has fled.

disputes between the company and its employees. Officials of the International Association of Machinists said the new agreement would have no effect on their demands for an eight hour working day. HEAVY RAINS Detroit, Mich., July 30.—Rain falling heavily early to-day, indicated a probable further delay for the $10,000 M. and M. stake which already has been postponed twice this week by unfavorable weather and track conditions. In addition to the stake event, the program arranged for to-day's grand circuit racing contained the Wayne Hotel sweepstakes for 3 year-old trotters, 600 added, 2:18 pace and 2:13 pace. However, the military critics are now less concerned with the details given out in the official bulletin than with the future area of operations to which it is expected the Russians will withdraw.

WAR NOTES

Russians charge the Germans with using bombs containing prussic acid. France has arranged for the annual importation of 120,000 tons of regu- lated metal while the war continues.

Antwerp was fined $50,000 for a popular demonstration on the Belgian tete day.

William H. Taft, ex-President of the U. S., is pleased with President Wilson's latest note to Germany.

Six hundred shells were fired in four hours during a bombardment of Rheims by the Germans.

Premier Botha received an ovation on visiting Cape Town. Ten thousand children sang the National Anthem.

France has refused to recognize American passports for German-born citizens of the U.S.

The allied nations are purchasing 20,000 portable houses in which to house refugees driven out of Belgium and Northern France.

Although Italy is at war with Aus- tria she is still nominally at peace with Germany and Turkey, Austria's allies.

Britain has allowed Sweden 55,000 bales of cotton now lying in British ports on a guarantee that no re-export of the cotton will take place.

Baron Michelham has offered $5,000 each for the first ten dirigible bal- loons destroyed by British airmen while the Zeppes are on the wing.

A thousand ship workers on the Clyde defied the government by re- fusing to work on a day following a holiday.

The Italian occupation of Gorizia is said to be near, as the invader's guns command all the city's defenses.

The city is said to be short both of food and water.

The Russians are holding their own at Warsaw against the German forces, but the climax has not yet been reached. The taking of the city is not thought to be the real object of the fighting, but rather the symbol of it.

The people of Macedonia, who suf- fered directly by the two Balkan wars, are suffering indirectly by the present one, are dying like flies of disease, and the harvests are being neglected.

A German report says that over 2,000,000 tons of copper is to be found in untold quantities in Germany and that this is sufficient to supply that country with one of the raw ma- terials for ball making for many years.

More than 30,000 foreigners, Amer- ican, Poles, Greeks, Spaniards and even Turks, have enlisted in the French army since the beginning of the war.

Thirty thousand men formed in themselves an entire army corps, and still new enlistments are reported daily.

The whole of London has produced only eighteen students for German classes in foreign languages started by the London County Council. In contrast with the "slump" in German, there is a small "boom" in French, for the number of French students in London, with 1,073 students, have been opened.

In one Anglican church in England the vestry has been turned into an ammunition factory, in which the rector and several members of the pri- estery are operators. In every city, town, and village of the United Kingdom, meetings will be held on Wednesday, August 4, the anniversary of the declaration of war, to reaffirm Britain's determination to fulfil her vows of victory. All the lead- ers of the nation are to meet at St. Paul's Cathedral on that day to in- voke Divine aid.

The allies may declare cotton, a raw material in the making of ex- plosives, contraband. That would, by preventing cotton exports to the Teu- ton League, be a body blow to Amer- ican cotton planters and it is feared it would be followed by the United States Government prohibiting the sale of American munitions to the allies.

FRUIT FOR OUR SOLDIERS

Some five thousand Niagara Penin- sula fruit growers are giving fruit at lowest cost, while Canadian woman- hood is asked to prepare it.

The Hamilton Canadian Club has started something; it is a movement which will spread throughout Canada.

This great movement gives the sweethearts, wives and mothers of our boys at the front an opportunity to do an "extra" bit. Dried fruit is needed at the front in the trenches. The kind that is wanted is the home-made—love made—product, dried on a screen on the sunlight.

Any home can provide a few pounds of dried fruit after the following man- ner:

After pitting or stoning the fruit wash and place out in the direct sun- light, spread thinly on a cheese cloth screen, say two and a half by three feet—a convenient size to handle in case of rain.

Shake the screen a few times daily in order to turn the fruit.

Peaches, etc. should be pared and sliced and spread as above, but turned oftener.

To keep flies off, simply spread a piece of mosquito netting over the screen, tying a washer at each corner to hold it down against any breeze.

When the fruit is perfectly dry make it up into packages of about seven (?) pounds weight in good

OFFICERS FOR THE AUGUST COURSE FROM THE DUFFS

Names of Officers to Report at Niagara Given Out To-day.

A provisional school for instruction is to be opened at Niagara camp in August and several Dufferin Rifles' officers have been authorized to at- tend.

Captains Dunlop and Newman to report to G. S. O. by 12 noon on Aug- ust 25th to take course for Field Of- ficer.

Lieutenants Sager, Secord, Bingle, Rowe and F. C. Thomas to report to G. S. O. by 12 o'clock noon, Aug- ust 4th, to take course for captaincy.

Provisional Lieutenants J. A. Mut- ter, W. J. Wallace, D. M. Andrews, Gee, H. Ryerson and G. E. F. Sweet to report to G. S. O. by 12 o'clock noon on August 4th for lieutenant's course.

The men of the overseas force would be much obliged to receive any old sporting articles by which they can amuse themselves during off- hours and rainy weather. These re- creations are a great help to the sol- dier as they work much better.

Seven more men joined last night. Their names:

Walter Nicholson, 32, S. 66 Oxford street.

Herbert Ferguson, 22, M. 102 Vic- toria street, Canadian Royal.

Albert Milton 23, M. 166 Erie ave, 3 years West Kent Territorials.

PROGRESSIVE MOVE

Levy's Limited Ready-to-Wear store, will move about Sept. 1st to 146 Colborne street, formerly oc- cupied by Brewster's.

Extensive alterations now being made will make it one of the most modern stores in Brantford. "High grade but not high priced" exclusive women's wear will be carried. The previous experience and financial backing of the firm speaks volumes in favor of their continued success.

United States last year imported nuts valued at $59,231,394.

THREE FULLY CONFESS

"Of the above, A. E. and J. have, since their arrest, made full con- fession of their misdeed. They will all be charged with attempting to communicate to the enemy informa- tion regarding H. M. fleet and mili- tary forces, with intention of assist- ing the enemy or with committing an act preparatory thereto.

"The trials will be in camera. It is not desirable in the public interest to give further details, but it may be stated that as far as is known none of these persons had been in this country longer than three weeks at the time of their arrest. Owing to certain measures adopted by the au- thorities their activities were cut short in the early stages."

Lieut.-Col. Stewart's 48th Battalion will be made up of quotas from the Governor-General Body Guard, the 10th Regiment, the 2nd Dragoons of St. Catharines, and the 25th Brant Rifles.

L. O. O. F. NOTICE DECORATION OF GRAVES

All Oddfellows of the city, as well as visiting Oddfellows and brethren are operators. The ancient pri- est at Oddfellows' Hall at 3.15 p.m., Sunday, August 1, for the purpose of participating in the annual decoration of graves. Each brother will please provide himself with a hand bouquet.

Some five thousand Niagara Penin- sula fruit growers are giving fruit at lowest cost, while Canadian woman- hood is asked to prepare it.

The Hamilton Canadian Club has started something; it is a movement which will spread throughout Canada.

This great movement gives the sweethearts, wives and mothers of our boys at the front an opportunity to do an "extra" bit. Dried fruit is needed at the front in the trenches. The kind that is wanted is the home-made—love made—product, dried on a screen on the sunlight.

Any home can provide a few pounds of dried fruit after the following man- ner:

After pitting or stoning the fruit wash and place out in the direct sun- light, spread thinly on a cheese cloth screen, say two and a half by three feet—a convenient size to handle in case of rain.

Shake the screen a few times daily in order to turn the fruit.

Peaches, etc. should be pared and sliced and spread as above, but turned oftener.

To keep flies off, simply spread a piece of mosquito netting over the screen, tying a washer at each corner to hold it down against any breeze.

When the fruit is perfectly dry make it up into packages of about seven (?) pounds weight in good

BRITAIN'S SPY PEST IS STILL SERIOUS

Ten More Germans Are Arrested by the Authorities—Three Have Confessed.

London, July 30.—Ten more al- leged German spies—one of them a woman—have been arrested by the British authorities. Three of them have confessed. These are in ad- dition to the five whose convictions already have been announced. Two more of the ten already have been tried by court-martial, but the findings have not yet been published. One of these latter is among those who con- fessed. None had been in the coun- try more than three weeks when their activities were cut short by ar- rest.

FIVE PREVIOUSLY CONVICTED

The Official Press Bureau to-night issued the following statement: "In addition to the five persons whose convictions or charges of espionage already has been an- nounced, the authorities have arrest- ed at various times recently the fol- lowing alleged German agents: A, a Dutch subject; B, a Dutch subject, a native of Uruguay of German origin; G, a Peruvian, suspected of German origin; H, a Swed; F, a German who claims to be a natu- ralized American; J, a British sub- ject.

C, a German, with a forged American passport; D, a woman of German origin, married to a natu- ralized British subject of Prussian birth, from whom she was separated; E, a Brazilian of German origin; F, a native of Uruguay of German origin; G, a Peruvian, suspected of German origin; H, a Swed; F, a German who claims to be a natu- ralized American; J, a British sub- ject.

Of the above, A. E. and J. have, since their arrest, made full con- fession of their misdeed. They will all be charged with attempting to communicate to the enemy informa- tion regarding H. M. fleet and mili- tary forces, with intention of assist- ing the enemy or with committing an act preparatory thereto.

"The trials will be in camera. It is not desirable in the public interest to give further details, but it may be stated that as far as is known none of these persons had been in this country longer than three weeks at the time of their arrest. Owing to certain measures adopted by the au- thorities their activities were cut short in the early stages."

Lieut.-Col. Stewart's 48th Battalion will be made up of quotas from the Governor-General Body Guard, the 10th Regiment, the 2nd Dragoons of St. Catharines, and the 25th Brant Rifles.

L. O. O. F. NOTICE DECORATION OF GRAVES

All Oddfellows of the city, as well as visiting Oddfellows and brethren are operators. The ancient pri- est at Oddfellows' Hall at 3.15 p.m., Sunday, August 1, for the purpose of participating in the annual decoration of graves. Each brother will please provide himself with a hand bouquet.

In every city, town, and village of the United Kingdom, meetings will be held on Wednesday, August 4, the anniversary of the declaration of war, to reaffirm Britain's determination to fulfil her vows of victory. All the lead- ers of the nation are to meet at St. Paul's Cathedral on that day to in- voke Divine aid.

The allies may declare cotton, a raw material in the making of ex- plosives, contraband. That would, by preventing cotton exports to the Teu- ton League, be a body blow to Amer- ican cotton planters and it is feared it would be followed by the United States Government prohibiting the sale of American munitions to the allies.

Sporting Comment

It can't be done. It simply can't be done. Six times have Brantford played in Guelph this year and six times have they lost. Guelph is our hoodoo, our jinx. No matter how good a game our pitchers hurl or how faultless the fielders play, or how many hits they make, Guelph gets more runs. The Brants have a team that can beat any other team in the league, but Guelph.

The only consolation is that the hoodoo hangs over the local heroes in Guelph. Not having played in Brantford as yet maybe things will be reversed and that Guelph can't win here. Anyway the curious phenomenon in baseball of certain teams not being able to beat certain other teams is too common a thing to be laughed at. Once let the idea get hold, and the jinx will last all season. So the Brants want to go right out and wallop Guelph to-day and twice to-morrow, if they don't they'll be trimmed by Guelph all season—and the people around here do want that pennant. Remember how London put it over us last year in that respect. At that the Brants have the edge slightly on Guelph in pitchers for the rest of the series. Auld, Kirley and Dorbeck are about the only ones Guelph can use while the locals have Close, Walker and Warner. Every one of the latter three is pitching splendid ball, for Guelph. Kirley is going bad, while Auld can scarcely get away with another such a lucky win as Tuesday's. Dorbeck is a stiff proposition but with the Brant's pitching going well, they ought to beat him.

Boston Braves won two games yesterday and at the rate they are going may repeat last year's feat of coming strong at the finish and winning out. The teams they will have to beat look like Brooklyn and Philadelphia as Chicago is sliding. There is a wonderful race in the National League, but reports say that Johnny Evers' ugly insinuation that the race is "fixed" has stuck somehow, and interest is not so keen as it might have been otherwise.

Not much interest is taken locally in the International League chiefly because Toronto has done so poorly. A number of Brantfordites saw Toronto defeat the Boston Braves in Toronto a couple of months ago, and their opinion was that Toronto then had a pennant-winning team. For some reason their manager broke up his winning combination and as a result the Toronto never have the same team long enough to get working together—with the further result of occupying 7th place in the standing.

Cincinnati, July 30.—Pitcher Ragan won two games for Boston yesterday by defeating Cincinnati 10 to 5 in the first and 7 to 6 in the second. The first game was an easy victory for Boston, but the second was an uphill fight, Cincinnati having a five-run lead at the beginning of the fifth inning. In the fifth Boston made four Outfielder Kopp Joins Griffith's Team at End of the Week.

St. Thomas, July 30.—President Rowley of the St. Thomas Canadian League club yesterday closed a deal for the sale of Outfielder Merlin Kopp to the Washington team of the American League. The price was not made public. Kopp, who has been in the Canadian League for four seasons, will play his last game with the Saints on Friday, after which he will join Griffith's team.

It is expected that "Poxy Griff" will use Kopp as a lead-off man, a position for which he is well fitted. He is fast and a good hitter and thrower. Last season he batted .293 in 105 games. His hits included nine doubles, seven triples and one home run. He stole forty bases and fielded .943. Scouts for the Washington team have been watching Kopp ever since the opening of the season.

WHERE WILL RED FISHER GO?

Guelph, July 30.—Robert Kelly, a first baseman secured by Manager Knotty Lee from the New York Americans, reported here on Monday, and was used for the first time, against Brantford. Kelly has been with the Yankees all season, but has not been used, as there has been no place for him. He ranks high as a fielder, and is said to be a first-class hitter. Manager Lee lines him up for another first-class pitcher. No other changes have been made in the team.

Diamond

Washington won a ten inning pitchers' battle from Cleveland by a 2 to 1. Johnson, after being struck out by Walker on his first three trips to the plate hit to deep centre with one on and two out in the tenth, winning his own game.

At Guelph the home team beat Brantford twice. During the opening game Dorbeck and Harkins of the Leafs were presented with gold lockets suitably inscribed. Kelly, a first baseman, and Kinsman, a pitcher, secured from the New York Americans, reported to Guelph.

Ottawa retained first place in the Canadian League by defeating Hamilton. Jones was knocked out of the box in the second inning, while Armstrong, who succeeded him, lasted one. Manager Cristall finished the game in the box for his team. Ross, on the other hand, pitched, great ball for Ottawa. He had eleven strikeouts.

Smithson, a Detroit recruit, was exceptionally stingy in allowing base hits at St. Thomas yesterday, but not so with his bases on balls. London won by 2 to 1, when Smithson was found for only two hits, but four bases on balls in succession kept him from blanking the locals in the 9th inning. Mulina relieved Smithson

HEAVY FINES IMPOSED ON FEDERAL ROWDIES

Chicago, July 30.—Fines ranging from $50 to $250 yesterday were imposed upon the three players who yesterday attacked Umpire Corcoran in the games at Kansas City between the Kansas City and Brooklyn Federal teams.

The players, with the amount of the fines, are: George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City team, $250; Lee Magee, manager of the Brooklyn team, $150, and Betsy Kauff, centre-fielder for the Brooklyn team, $50.

It is claimed that Stovall struck Umpire Corcoran after a decision in the first game, when the umpire called two of the Brooklyn base-runners safe.

Manager Magee objected to a decision on balls and strikes in the second game while Kauff was at bat, and attacked the umpire, who retaliated by hitting Magee. Kauff then went to the assistance of his manager.

The New York police quarterly report says gangsters are nearly suppressed in the city and bomb explosions are dying out.

Majority for Dufferin—5 points.

Football

The S.O.E. football club will meet the P. S. A. team on their home ground on Saturday next in the scheduled league game. All players and reserves are requested to be at the dressing room, Agricultural park, at 5:45 sharp. Referee, Mr. Cassells. The line-up will be: Goal, W. Short; backs, W. Johnson, F. Burns; half-backs, A. Baker, E. Hamilton (capt.); I. McGrattan; forwards, B. Plant, J. Hingley, W. Smith, A. Johnson, A.

tives of Church and State, many in uniforms of their office, which gave color to the brilliant scene. Sir Robert, having taken a position on the platform, Adrian Pollock, the chamberlain of London, addressed him in the name of the Corporation and handed him the scroll of freedom, at the same time offering him the right hand of fellowship.

A NOTABLE GATHERING

Amongst those present were Premier Asquith, Bonar Law, Austen Chamberlain, Walter Long, Earl Selborne, Henry Monaghan, Earl Herbert, the Bishop of London, Herbert Samuel, Lord Islington, Sir George Perley, R. B. Bennett, L. C. Christie, Dr. Pyne, General Hughes, General Steele, General Carson, W. L. Griffith, Grand Smith, Mayors of Metropolitan Boroughs.

The music of "The Maple Leaf" from the Lord Mayor's recruiting band heralded Borden's arrival. The vast for the first time a body and cheered the Dominion Premier as he entered the Guildhall. Amongst the quaint procedure following was the declaration by the compurgators of Sir Robert being "a man of good name and fame; that he does not desire the freedom of the city whereby to defraud the King or this city of any of their rights, customs or advantages, but that he will pay his scot and bear his lot and so forth as the Common Council, and he does not come down through ages, aroused something of a smile among the company. Addressing Sir Robert, the Chamberlain proceeded: "This ancient corporation in desiring to pay honor to you, and through you to the great Dominion whose mind and spirit you represent so finely, believe they are but paying honor where honor is due, and now as Chamberlain of the city of London, I have the honor and privilege of offering you the right hand of fellowship, greeting you as a citizen and a leather-seller. I have also the honor in behalf of the Lord Mayor, aldermen and members of the Corporation, to offer you to accept from them this casket, which will contain a certificate of your freedom, and to express the hope that your strenuous life may long be spared in health and strength for the service of the Empire."

HONOR FOR CANADA

Sir Robert, who was cheered again and again, said: "I am deeply conscious of the high honor conferred upon me, but am equally conscious it is not so much a tribute to me as to the brave men of my race, beyond the Atlantic which I have the honor to represent in this great testing time of our manhood. The love of liberty and insistence upon the rights of the people, memorable everywhere within the borders of the Empire, distinguished the citizens of London, nor do I forget that the same qualities characterize the people of the neighboring country within the quiet of whose churchyards sleep those whose blood runs in my veins. For a thousand years the progress and advancement of this great city have kept time with the march of civilization.

In the beginning in these islands the founding of the nation and the consequent necessity of orderly government compelled a system automatic in character and methods; then came the great charters of freedom and the will of the people to preserve their own laws and govern themselves.

Orderly government on the one hand and individual liberty on the other; justice, the equality of all men before the law—upon these essential foundations, have the British people built, and then, in these later years, there has come the not less noble ideal of democracy founded upon equality and of opportunity for all peoples.

In the dominions beyond the seas the same ideals of liberty and justice inevitably led to the establishment of self-governing institutions. That principle, which in the eyes of the world is destined to drive far-flung nations out of the Empire asunder has but united them by stronger ties than could be dreamed of under any system of autocratic government (freedom).

THE FREE NATIONS "For this I call to witness the events of the past twelve months, Australia New Zealand, South Africa, Canada, all these great free nations possessing full rights of self-government and enjoying parliamentary institutions. Living by the voice of the people, who have they joined in this conflict and why are their citizens from the remotest corners each fighting side by side with the men of this island home in the greatest war the world has ever known?"

"And why are descendants in Canada of those who fought under Wolfe and of those who fought under Montcalm, when contending for the possession of the northern half of the American Continent now standing together in the Empire's battle line today?"

"And to speak of later events, why do we find beyond the channel in France or in Belgium, the grandson of a Durham and grandson of a Papineau standing side by side in this struggle?"

Fifty against two, it is not reasonable to expect of us, in order to overcome the effects of fifty weeks of confinement, to take Hood's Saragatilla along with you, to make sleep easy and restful.

Bounties on 275 wolves cost the State of Michigan last year $9,039.57. Insects are said to devour $500,000,000 worth of American crops yearly.

GERMAN REGULAR IS ARRESTED IN STRATFORD

Had Letters in German, and Seems Posted on Local Matters. Stratford, July 30.—When Hans Gmilukousky, for the past year a farm laborer near Tavistock, came to Stratford to have a sore arm treated, and indulged in liquor, the police arrested him. He admits being a regular in the German army, also that if he could get back to his native land he would fight for the Kaiser. Gmilukousky says he was given two years' leave of absence in June, last year. He is a strapping fellow, twenty-seven years old, and walks with the familiar goose step of the German army. In his possession were letters in German, and as he proved surprisingly well informed on local matters the military authorities have been notified. The expectation is that Gmilukousky will be sent to Fort Henry detention camp.

The Prince Alexis Dolgorouki, whose death has just occurred at Paris, represents a very old and influential Russian family. The late Prince won the St. George's Cross in the Russo-Turkish war and became an influential man at Petrograd. He was almost equally well known in London as he was married to an English woman. The family name goes back to the very earliest time in Russian history and is mixed up with the wars, intrigues and other stirring events which make Russian history such interesting reading.

A SUNDAY SERMON BY PASTOR RUSSELL

EVIDENCES OF A TRUE HOLINESS

"If Any Man Have Not the Spirit of Christ, He is None of His."

Different Meanings of the Word Spirit—Consecration a Definite Contract With God—Sealed With the Earnest of the Spirit—Fruits of the Spirit of God—Necessity of Knowledge of the Divine Character—Justice the Foundation Principle—How Love Fulfills the Law—Proper Balancing of Character Necessary to Joint-Heirship With Christ.

Hamilton, Ont., July 25.—Pastor Russell is here today. We report his discourse based upon the text, "God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of a sound mind." (1 Tim. 1:7.) The Pastor spoke as follows:

Bible students have learned not to think of the different spirits mentioned in our text as different persons. When, for instance, an evil spirit or disposition is mentioned, we do not think of it as a person; and when a holy spirit or disposition is mentioned, we do not think of it as a person. A holy person has a holy spirit or disposition. The Holy Spirit proceeds from God. It is His spirit. It comes to us through the Truth; it is not another person, another God. (1 Corinthians 3:5, 6.) Likewise the spirit of fear is not a devil, a spirit being; and the spirit of a sound mind is not a God, nor an angel. Gradually we are getting the right focus on these matters, to see that God is a Spirit; and that as a Spirit, He has an influence—just as a human being has an influence. That influence, according to the character, according to the strength, according to the power to exert one's self.

Some have a power of evil-doing by which they could vanquish a hundred or a thousand, in one sense of the word. We have the Holy Spirit. Others have a spirit of bitterness, and can stir up evil in others. Still others have a spirit of kindness, gentleness, and love. But, by nature, we are all members of the "old man"; we have many of the qualities that belong to the wrong spirit.

When the disciples came to Jesus after the Samaritans had refused to sell them food, they said, "Lord, wilt thou that we call thee King, for thou hast said, 'Thou shalt sit on heaven to destroy them and their city?'" Jesus replied, "Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of. You should not have such a disposition. If ye had the Holy Spirit, ye would be an insignificant matter. If ye desire to have My spirit, ye must get rid of that disposition to render evil for evil, to do harm to others.

Our Lord was not talking about the Holy Spirit as a person, but as an influence. The Bible shows us that God, who is a Spirit Being, is not vindictive, but merciful, loving, and just. Therefore He is a good Spirit. The Holy Spirit is not a person; it is a holy disposition; He is not disposed to do anything wrong or unjust or unkind. All who receive His Holy Spirit receive the spirit of a sound mind, of justice, of gentleness, and so the Apostle, in speaking about this matter, says that the Holy Spirit is manifest—can be seen—in those who possess it.

St. Paul does not mean that we shall see another being set into a man, as once we believed, that the Holy Spirit, as a God, divided Himself up and entered into millions of people. Those who have the idea that God can be divided amongst millions of people are very much confused in their minds. Whoever receives the mind of Christ, the spirit of Christ, receives the spirit of holiness. Our Lord Jesus gave up His own will to do the Father's will, just in proportion as we give up our own fallen disposition and take instead God's way of thinking, God's way of viewing matters, God's Spirit of Love, to that same extent ours is a holy spirit, to that extent we have received the Holy Spirit.

All the human family are fallen; and when God received us into His family through Christ it was with a view to begetting us of the Holy Spirit to a newness of nature. This start of the new nature leads us to view every subject from God's standpoint, to say to ourselves, "Is this the mind of God on this subject? I will study the Scriptures and do what God has said on this matter. When I came into the family of God I agreed to give up my own will altogether, just as the Master did. If we receive more of the spirit of a sound mind, we see how foolish were many of the things which once we believed. There is now light coming into our minds, our appreciation of the lengths, breadths, heights, and depths of the Love of God, which passes all understanding. Whoever comes into relationship with God receives a begetting of love; that is the Holy Spirit. Love worketh no injury to his neighbor. Therefore the Apostle says, "Love is the fulfilling of the Law." God's Law is a Law of justice; whoever receives the Spirit of the Lord, the Spirit of Love, will at least render justice to others. No law requires more than justice. Whatever we do more than justice is that much of sacrifice on our part. But we cannot do all that we would like to do; for in our flesh dwells no perfection. Nor can we live up to the full Law of God. But we can see to it that we do nothing less than justice; and that if in anything we come short of justice, if in anything we have infringed the Golden Rule, it has been contrary to our minds. Then we shall not rest until we have made right the wrong act, word, or look—whatever was an infringement of the rights of others.

an invitation to do the same thing that Jesus did. The Master said, "If any man will come after Me [be My disciple, My follower], let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow Me." (Matthew 16:24.) To deny himself is to give up his own will. Whoever has given up his will has given his all to the Lord. As the Apostle says, we present our bodies a living sacrifice. (Romans 12:1.) We give up our wills entirely; our Lord Jesus accepts us and presents us to the Father. But before He can do this, He must impute to us His righteousness; for by nature we are imperfect through the fall, and the Father will accept nothing that is imperfect. As our Lord said, "No man cometh unto the Father but by Me." Again He said, "Him that cometh unto Me I will in no wise cast out."—John 14:6; 6:37.

After we have given ourselves through the Lord Jesus Christ, He imputes to us His righteousness. He us in such form that the Father can receive us as His children, and start in us the beginning of a new nature—a new creation. When we get a proper view of the transaction, we shall not think that we must repeatedly give ourselves to God. We shall be concerned about living up to the contract which we have made, and which God has accepted and sealed with His Holy Spirit. This seal is the earnest of our inheritance; it binds the contract which we made when we gave ourselves to God in consecration. (2 Corinthians 1:21, 22.) We have made a contract, giving our all to Him; we have received the earnest; the hand payment; and through the coming days we are to keep giving ourselves without cessation in harmony with the Lord's will.

When first we entered the School of Christ, we were babes and acted like babes. The Apostle says that we are not to remain babes. We are to put away childish things, to be no longer children tossed about by every wind of doctrine. As babes, we were fed upon the "milk of the Word"; we are to grow up to eat of the "meat of the Word." (1 Peter 2:2.) But, as grown men we no longer desire milk as a steady diet, although we enjoy a glass of milk occasionally. (Hebrews 13:9.) The Father's table, the table of His Love, and receive the Truth—the strong meat that belongs to such as are of full age, the meat that will make us strong in the Lord and in the power of His might.

The Holy Spirit is not a spirit of excitement. We have known people to be filled with the spirit of excitement who did not seem to have the Holy Spirit. It is the Holy Spirit which will manifest itself in meekness, gentleness, patience, brotherly kindness, love.

What God has been doing for His people during the past forty years is wonderful. To every one of them the Bible has become a new Book. More and more the old things are passing away. It was not sufficient that we should believe in the Saviour and should believe in Him; we were to have the beginning of our blessings. We still rejoice greatly to know that our sins have been forgiven. We still have the milk of the Word, as our dear Redeemer's sacrifice. But we are now living on a milk diet now. We need something stronger than the knowledge that our sins are forgiven. This is far from the end of the knowledge bestowed upon the people of God.

Growing in grace and in knowledge, we are learning more and more to see what the Divine will is and what the Holy Spirit is. Things which once we thought very consistent and reasonable are now very inconsistent to us. As we receive more of the spirit of a sound mind, we see how foolish were many of the things which once we believed. There is now light coming into our minds, our appreciation of the lengths, breadths, heights, and depths of the Love of God, which passes all understanding. Whoever comes into relationship with God receives a begetting of love; that is the Holy Spirit. Love worketh no injury to his neighbor. Therefore the Apostle says, "Love is the fulfilling of the Law." God's Law is a Law of justice; whoever receives the Spirit of the Lord, the Spirit of Love, will at least render justice to others. No law requires more than justice. Whatever we do more than justice is that much of sacrifice on our part. But we cannot do all that we would like to do; for in our flesh dwells no perfection. Nor can we live up to the full Law of God. But we can see to it that we do nothing less than justice; and that if in anything we come short of justice, if in anything we have infringed the Golden Rule, it has been contrary to our minds. Then we shall not rest until we have made right the wrong act, word, or look—whatever was an infringement of the rights of others.

Should some one say, "This is a hard rule," we reply, "You will never be ready for the Kingdom unless you have the right spirit, my dear brother." This principle of justice, which is the foundation of God's character. To do to others what we would have them do to us is the right thing to do—justice. If we cannot do justice in every act, we can at least do it in our minds. "With my mind I serve the Law of God," said the Apostle, even if he could not do so every occasion do it in every act and word.

POPE APPEAL OF WAR LETTER

Rome Believes Was Solicited by Austro-German

Rome, July 31.—The Pope Benedict's letter addressed to the people of the world, and the warmly appealing for peace. Pope eloquently describes the fratricidal war and affirms that it is the duty of all to join in his efforts to end the war. The Pope reiterates which he briefly recapitulated occasion of the first anniversary of the outbreak of the war. His voice above the din of warring nations, in the name of God, whom he implores to end the fratricidal slaughter which is Europe. The Pope eloquently on the ruin and damage of the war, the useless loss of wealth, and adds that the destruction of nations is since the vanquished, even pressed and humiliated, even revenge; hence, hatred is through generations.

The Pope then suggests indirect exchange of views settlement of the rights of nations, and invites all peace join in his efforts to end the war. The Pope reiterates God and the Blessed Virgin reconciliation of the war the restoration of the brotherly people and the end of the reign of equity a finally, he blesses all Catholics God to unite in bonds those outside the Church.

Pope Benedict's appeal very eloquent, contains proposals, but it is significant this appeal for peace was solicited by the Austro-Germans. Hence it implied the Pope's acceptance by the Austro-Germans. Pope Benedict merely bring the peace agencies ligenters into contact with even if only indirectly, a convinced that peace is possible and that the great difficulty in the negotiations is over
