Nassagaweya Township Show.

The above named Show was held at Easterbrook's on Thursday, Oct. 1st. The day being dry and bracing a large turnout of people, male and female, old and young, bent upon enjoying a day's pleasure, were in attendance. The show, however, was not up to what it usually is in this township in point of entries, although all exhibited was pronounced to be very superior. The township is not a large one, nor is it the best in the County of Halton for agricultural purposes, and the members of the Society appeared well pleased with the display made by their township on Thursday. The agricultural products were exhibited in the large granary adjoining Speirs' Hotel, while the ladies' work made a display in the room over Mr. Easterbrook's store, and the outside department occupied the field on the opposite side of the road.

The show of horses was very good, especially the young animals and the hackneys. Nassagaweya has been noted for the superior qualities of its horse flesh, and on Thursday the best in the township was on the ground. This department of the show was watched with lively interest, and considerable disputations arose as to the various points of merit in each animal. The labors of the judges was somewhat onerous, but we believe their decisions, as a whole, gave satisfaction.

In cattle Nassagaweya is making wonderful strides towards perfection. The variety of fine County Mr. A. Campbell, Mr. J. Norrish and Mr. Stranger are rearing a thorough bred stock, and the animals showed by them were fine specimens of "mountains of beef." The grade cattle were second to none we have ever seen. The fine marked points in the grade were visible to great advantage in the cattle put up for competition by their owners. The entries in this department were as large as ever and the stock much superior to what has hitherto been exhibited. The bulls, of various ages, and the steers were also superior.

The flocks of such sheep breeders as Messrs. Aitkens, Adamson, McPhadden, Easton and J. Norrish have gained Provincial notoriety and Thursday added much to the success of the show. In the various "pens" we observed some fine animals. A flock of merinos exhibited by Mr. Barabee were an object of considerable interest, and varied as well as amusing, were the comments made in reference to them. But the show was much behind what we have seen in the entries of the porcine race; yet the pigs shown were of good size and superior as to breeding.

Considering the very dry season we had last summer, and the light quality of the soil in this township, it is somewhat amazing that the samples of grain, roots and vegetables which were exhibited should be of such a superior quality. The grain was plump and large, and the yield throughout the township much better than appears at one time indicated. The roots and vegetables were in some instances prodigious. The competition in grain was very keen. Some fine samples of timothy and flax seed were exhibited.

As usual, the dairy department formed a prominent feature in the show, and the anxiety as to who should receive the ribbons was intense. The tubs and prints were, to our idea, all deserving of a prize. A prominent grocer from town informs us that the taste and qualities of all the samples were so near alike, that it was more chance work than anything else in awarding the coveted badges. Some samples of home and dairy made cheese, as well as home made bread, were also exhibited and said to possess rare merits. We had also strained honey and honey in the comb from Messrs. Ingie, Donovan and Kitching, and beautiful samples they were.

The dairy department was not near so good as on previous occasions. In fact as a department it is hardly worth calling it such, but we believe the industrious wives and daughters of our Nassagaweya friends are determined to go and do better hereafter, and next year a splendid display is promised in their department. A few specimens of mending, quilting and needlework were worthy of note and had ribbons attached to them, as also did the blankets.

The implements were few indeed, but select. The polished ploughs of Mr. Stephenson was much admired as also was the handsome ploughs of Messrs. Burrows & Moffat. A capital wagon was exhibited by Messrs. Stephenson, Campbell & Black, and was very creditable to its builders. In other articles under this head it was hardly worthy of being called a competition.

Everything passed off remarkably quiet and orderly. The judges and their worthy president, Mr. Thos. Elliot and courteous Secretary, Mr. John Kenn were untiring in their efforts to make the show a success in every particular. The judges were, for sheep, pigs and implements—Messrs. Ireland, Waters, Forsyth, Horses and Cattle, Messrs. Flat Hurd and Hartley. Grain, roots and vegetables, Messrs. Sprout, Phin and Campbell. Ladies Department, Miss Henderson, Miss Phin and Miss Dyce.

A French Canadian, named Minette, died suddenly at Hawkesbury, and his body, while on the way with the body to L'Original, was seized with paralysis, and also died in a few moments. The two brothers were buried together.

The Duke of Manchester, in a letter to a London newspaper, says: I should like to see the colonies obtain a share in the government of the empire, by means of a council composed of representatives of the United Kingdom and of the colonies in due proportions, and this council should be consulted on all questions which affect the colonies and the United Kingdom, or more than one colony.

Senator Aikens left Ottawa on Thursday. It is said he declines to enter the Cabinet unless another Reformer is taken in with him on the basis of the arrangement of 1867. This Sir John refuses. He holds that the Tory party must now have three places in Ontario—so there is a hitch.

The Montreal Daily News announces that in order to meet increasing demand it will henceforth issue two editions, morning and evening. The price for each edition is reduced to two cents a copy. The tariff of advertising is raised. We commend the News to our business men in Guelph.

THE INTERCOLONIAL.—The Government have at length done something on the railway question, and it is indeed time as everybody's patience was about exhausted. They have located the Intercolonial between Riviere du Loup and Rimouski about 100 miles; also the line from Dalhousie to Bathurst about 40 miles in New Brunswick; and the Nova Scotia division will probably be located by Saturday. The New Brunswick and Nova Scotia portions are heavy and will cost at least $150,000 a mile.

Despatches to the Evening Mercury

The Revolution in Spain.

MADRID, 1st, p.m.—The Marquis of Novaliches died in this city this morning from his wound. Gen. Calozas, while preparing to fly to France, was arrested and handed over to the revolutionary junta at Burgos. The city of Madrid is perfectly quiet. Gen. Prim and Serrano have not yet arrived here. Don Sebastian advised the Queen to inaugurate a civil war, but the Basque provinces refused to supply men or money for that purpose. The Basque provinces have since given in their adhesion to the revolution.

PARIS, 1st.—The bourse is buoyant, and rents are rising.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, 1st.—While the Viceroy of Egypt was visiting an illumination in a narrow street in Cairo an attempt was made to assassinate him by dropping a steel ball, armed with sharp barbs on his head. The Viceroy escaped uninjured. The perpetrator is unknown.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The success of the revolutionary movement in Spain, ending as it has in the expulsion of Queen Isabella, gives rise to much speculation as to her probable successor upon the Spanish throne. It is believed that the known daughter of the Emperor Napoleon to the Orleans family is fatal to the family of the Montpensiers, and that a Carlist will be chosen to rule over Spain is regarded as impossible. The ancient rights of the House of Savoy to the throne of Spain are beginning to be discussed. The Duke of Aosta, the second son of King Victor Emmanuel, is talked about as an available candidate.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—La France to-day discusses the prospects of Spain, and predicts that the present revolution will be followed by a violent civil war. Queen Isabella had an interview with the Emperor and Empress of France at Biarritz on the 1st, and after a brief delay left Biarritz for the Castle of Pau, which has been assigned to her most august Majesty as a residence during her sojourn in France.

MADRID, Oct. 1.—Gen. Prim and Marshal Serrano have arrived here. The citizens are arming themselves, and have occupied the guard house and the various military posts within and around the city. The city of Barcelona has joined the revolutionary Committee of Oporto. The French Government has sent deputations

ALAS, POOR ISABELLA!

As will be seen by our cable despatches to-day, the revolution in Spain may be regarded as virtually accomplished. The army has "gone over" and the Queen has fled. Of the three royalist generals in the field, Concha has deserted, Paiva been defeated, and Novales dead, and his troops hemmed in among the defiles of the Sierra Morena, with the airy track of the railroad torn up before and behind them, are left to contemplate the desamens of their position. Worse than all Count Girgenti is a prisoner, and the pretty Infanta consigned indefinitely to widowed pillows almost before the honeymoon has faded. And for all this Madrid is undutifully grateful, and the statue, which, from its pedestal between Ferdinand and Charles, overlooked the fountains of the Plaza Isabella Segunda to which it once gave name, has been dragged in insult through the streets. Amidst all which excitement the people are conducting themselves peaceably, and the Provisional Government commands unquestioning adherence. While Queen Isabella with the Prince of Asturias, to say nothing of the miserable Bourbon who is by courtesy her husband, has shaken the dust from off her feet, and from off the feet of Father Claret and of Sister Patrocinio as we may safely assume, and carried her sullied lilies to the refuge of the shadow of the Eagle. Now what next? Is the Duchess to be Queen? We hope so. Montpensier is a Bourbon name certainly, but it is one beloved through the whole peninsula, and he who knows Andaluca knows how justly. Meanwhile the ex-Queen is in a hard fix. She is recklessly improvident with a privity purse chronically empty. And her family are down in the world, and her reputation fatally damaging.

The agent of the New York Associated Press seems to devote his Sundays regularly to the worldly task of weighing the question of peace or war on the Continent in his contemplative mind. Every Monday morning the newspaper-reading public of America finds itself treated to his more or less elaborate treatise on this prolific subject. This eminent purveyor of intelligence is afflicted with an irresistible penchant for prophesy. But, unfortunately for his reputation, his predictions have been as variable as the weather on this side of the Atlantic during the last few weeks.

The scarcity of oysters in England is now so marked, that "an oyster refreshment," as Edmund Keon used to call a Haymarket supper, cannot at present be obtained without an expenditure of many shillings, as the reader may easily calculate for himself when he is told that oysters are being retailed at a cost of five halfpence each! Even in Edinburgh, where these molluscs could at one time be bought retail for 1s. the long hundred (120), the price in wholesale quantities on Newhaven Pier now ranges from 4s. to 5s. per 100.

THE SUZ CANAL.—Another great enterprise is near its completion. It is expected that the Suez Canal will be open for vessels of the largest size in course of October. Its depth is 26 feet, its width from 150 to 300 feet; it cost about $30,000,000, and it will shorten the navigation between Europe and India by about one-half. It belongs to a French joint stock company, and its construction is due to the energy, genius, and persistence of M. Ferdinand de Lesseps, a grandson of Lafayette. Much of the excavation has been done by machinery, and where heavy masonry has been needed to guard the canal against the influx of sand from the Mediterranean, artificial stone has been manufactured for the purpose out of sand and hydraulic lime. About 20,000 Europeans have been employed on the work, and are settled in new towns along the line.

THE OECUMENICAL COUNCIL AT ROME.—The five committees appointed to prepare the propositions to be debated by the Oecumenical Council are progressing more rapidly with their work than was expected. This has not been done without taking counsel with French, Italian, and German theologians, and in the course of October or November the report of the fathers will be submitted by the Pope to an international committee, composed of prelates of those nations, as well as of England, Spain, Portugal, Holland, Belgium and Poland. Finally the amended and elaborated propositions will be examined by a committee of cardinals, which will give them the shape in which they are to come before the Council. This list includes the following important subjects: 1. The policy of uniting the Catholic and the Greek schismatic Churches; 2. the regulation of the relations between Church and State, in view of the almost universal transformation of absolute into constitutional governments; 3. the position of the Catholic clergy in general, and particularly of religious communities of women, in presence of the revolution which desolates the Italian peninsula; 4. the best mode of providing religious instruction as a barrier against the atheism of the day, so destructive to faith and morals. Cardinal Pitra, Benedictine, is appointed to plead the cause of the Greek Church, and explain the differences which divide it from that of Rome.

A MASTER STROKE.—The Seaforth Expedition is surely a "local institution" worth encouraging. Here is his own account of what its editor did for the village he represents: "When in Toronto last week, we waited upon the general agent for Thayer & Noyes Circus at the Revere, and invited them to visit Seaforth, which was to be properly considered. This week you will see their advertisement for Wednesday next. They go back to St. Mary's, they do not go farther into the county, but make this their leading point. Seaforth shall never be behind!"

The St. John's Telegraph thinks that unless the local government of New Brunswick shall strengthen itself during the recess, it will have great difficulty in weathering the storms of next session. It cites a number of causes, either one of which might raise a breeze too powerful to be resisted, and counsels immediate steps for strengthening the Cabinet.

Also stone kitchen 40 x 24, with a steam boiler over 1000 barrels of water. It is situated in the best business part of the town, and is directly opposite the proposed site of the new Union Passenger Station of the Great Western and Grand Trunk Railways. It is the only first class building in the town that is capable of doing a first-class business. The hall runs through the centre of the main building; the rooms are well ventilated and none in the house dark. The furniture is nearly new, having been purchased only four years ago, and will be sold at a valuation. There is a stove stable, capable of affording accommodation for 100 horses; well arranged and runs through to back street.

Three barns and feeding stable and log house are on the farm. Also a running spring creek, and other springs that never fail. The fences are of board and new. The farm is laid out in ten acre fields. All the farm implements are new, and will be sold if desired at valuation.

The whole will be sold without reserve within three months, either the business separately, or the whole property as may be agreed upon to suit the purchaser.

Terms—For the hotel property, half cash down will be required, the remainder to be paid in six yearly instalments, or ten per cent. allowed off the second half, if paid at time of sale.

The Braes of Yarrow

An Historical Tale of the Sixteenth Century.

The silence was broken by Yetholm Will. 'Burn me, lads, but we may as well die at the hands of the witch here, as be swung up by the mainmast when we get home again, for being cowed by a woman and a single man. On them, lads, and doon wi' them.'

A shout was raised, and in concurrence with their comrades' advice there was a movement as if to renew the attack. 'Haud a wee; haud a wee,' interrupted the hoarse voice of Ding-a-Doon, 'my grown feeble as if the bulky form was exhausted at last.'

In surprise the men looked in the direction whence the voice came, and saw the giant lying, as it seemed helpless, at the feet of his horse. Yetholm Will and Craig with a growl of amaze and rage sprang to his side and tried to raise him from the ground.

'Ye neednae fash yourself about me, lads,' groaned the exhausted Ding-a-Doon, 'I'm bye wi' it. But it was in fair fecht, and damn it, but if he had killt me twenty times, I'll say he's a braw chiel an' didna get fair play.'

'I'm bye wi' it,' but let the chiel gang his gait and tell ye the maister I said it. Bid him, if he will, avenge me in fair fecht, but let ye the chiel gang—damn him, he's spoiled me.'

Ding-a-Doon's head fell heavily back on Craig's shoulder, and in the performance of the one really generous act of his blind stupidity and fidelity to his foster-brother permitted him to do in his life, Pate Scott, the giant, died.

There was gloomy dismay on the visages of the Borderers for Ding-a-Doon had been liked by them for his simplicity, and admired on account of his extraordinary strength and dogged courage. To see him die now by the hand of a mere youth—one who was the foe of their chief, and whose death they had been sent to accomplish—aroused their fiercest passions. Besides they had some reason to dread the wrath of the maister when they returned and told him what had happened.

During the brief lull Kursty Hyslop said in a hasty undertone to Gilbert—'Pick up your horn and wind a blast loud as your lungs will blow—there may be friends near by now.'

Gilbert picked up the horn which in the contest had fallen from Ding-a-Doon. 'What signal?' 'The call.'

He put the horn to his lips, and as the sound rang through the forest, Yetholm Will started to his feet. 'Lads,' he shouted, 'we manae vengeance the death of Pate Scott before we look again on Tushielaw Tower.'

The words were answered by a shout of assent, and the men rushed furiously at the witch and the man she was endeavouring to shield. Recognising that the spell of her authority was broken, and hearing the sound of a bugle at no great distance, she waved the torch round her head as if to serve as a signal to guide those who might be approaching, and then dashed it upon the ground extinguishing it with her foot.

Special Notices.

ITS EFFECT IS MIRACULOUS HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RESTORER

It is a perfect and wonderful article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any oil or Pomade. Softens brush, dry and wiry hair into Beautiful and Silken Tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR to its ORIGINAL COLOR. The whitest and worst looking hair resumes its youthful beauty by its use. It does not dye the hair, but strikes at the root and fills it with new life and coloring matter. The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and before you know it, the old, gray, discolored appearance of the hair will be gone, giving lustre, shining and beautiful locks.

Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Restorer; no other article is at all like it in effect. See that each bottle has our private Government Stamp over the top, and the bottle All others are imitations. Price $1.00. For sale by all druggists. H. P. HALL & Co., Nashua, N. H., Proprietors. Sept 23
