(Canadian Press.) New York, July 19.—Babe Ruth made his 22nd homer in yesterday's game with Detroit, when Waite Hoyt held the Ford City players to one run and the Yanks won the first game of the series in the mid-west city, 10 to 0. Of the four runs made by the New York team, three were non-stop affairs, one the Babe's and the others from the sticks of Dugan and Ward.

The Cardinals won a fast game from the Giants, 6 to 4, playing on the Polo Grounds, and the Reds, defeating the Dodgers, clinched the little nearer the top of the National League ladder. The Giants and Reds have each lost thirty games, but the Giants have won four more than Cincinnati. To the woman having the smallest feet a valuable prize will be given, and to the man who has the largest feet will also go a trophy.

Women will do the measuring in the women's competition, because, according to the Chairman of the committee, "when a woman judges a woman, or anything about her, you will get the exact facts about that particular female." Spent Her Money in Vain, Says London Resident

MRS. GEO. BELL

"If everybody knew what I know about Tanlac there isn't a home in Canada that would be without it," is the high valuation placed on the medicine by Mrs. G. Bell, of 817 Grey Street, London, Ont.

"Before I took Tanlac I spent enough money trying to get relief from stomach trouble to furnish a home, and had got to where I thought nothing could help me. Gas bloating, stomach pains, awful headaches, shattered nerves and bad pains in the back were among my troubles, and usually I felt too miserable to dress and go down town shopping."

"I began taking Tanlac last Christmas and stopped taking it in February, after my health was completely restored and my weight increased 11 pounds. Nearly every day some one remarks about how well I look and I am feeling better than I ever did before. Tanlac is just wonderful."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over of million bottles sold.

Tired Mother Kills Herself and Babies

Husband Out of Work, Debts Piling Up, She Gives Up Long Struggle—Asphyxiates 2 Daughters, Then Cuts Her Own Throat.

New York, July 19.—There was little money in the house. There was less food. The head of the family had been out of work for months and the prospects of employment seemed remote. Debts piled up. Each day was a struggle and wore down a little more resistance. Each day seemed harder to bear. Such were the thoughts in the mind of Josephine Annet Driggs, 16,709 106th Avenue, Jamaica, and she was too weary to carry the load. She took her two small daughters into a bedroom and turned on the gas. Then she had time to write a note to her husband returned in the late afternoon he found them dead.

The husband, Maurer P. Driggs, is an accountant. He left his last position on Jan. 1 of this year. Since then he has been unable to find work. He says after day, he declared, he has trudged the streets from one office to another, hoping to find an opening that he could fill, but he seemed doomed to failure. There appeared no place available to him, and as time went on the family resources dwindled. And besides his wife to care for there was a little Grace Theresa, 3 years old, and the 8-month-old baby, Marie Antoinette.

Until about a month ago he and his family lived with his sister, Johanna Driggs, at 8908 118th Street, Richmond Hill. Then they moved to Jamaica. Driggs said that the circumstances did not improve. More Than Wife Could Stand. Driggs said that in the meantime bills piled up which he could not meet. It was more than his wife's nervous system could bear, he said, and on a number of occasions she had been unable to hide her despondency. This had happened more often in recent weeks. He departed as usual to make his rounds in search of a position, and as usual found that it was in vain. But he had no idea that his two little girls would not run to greet him and that he would find some cheer at his own hearthstone.

Children did not meet him, but he had no thought of anything wrong. As he passed through the front door he caught the odor of gas, so he made haste toward the kitchen to learn the trouble. He found his wife's body stretched on the floor between the kitchen and the bedroom. Terrified at the sight and fighting a rising dread, he tumbled across the threshold into the bedroom.

He learned the source of the gas that permeated the house. The bedroom was stifling. He drew the curtains and threw open the windows. As he drew a breath of fresh air, he saw the girls lying on a bed.

His cries for help brought neighbors and the police. They carried the two children out of doors and to a small street car. While some did their best with their imperfect knowledge of artificial respiration, one raced down the street to a police booth several blocks away. The patrolman called an ambulance from the Mary Immaculate Hospital. Dr. Gondos continued the efforts to resuscitate the girls, but after a time said that it was useless to do more. He said that both the children and the mother had been dead for about two hours.

Members of a family which lives on the upper floor of the duplex home said that no odor of gas reached them until they had heard nothing that indicated anything untoward on the floor below. They noticed for some time that Mrs. Driggs was despondent.

Mrs. Driggs left a note for her husband, in which she said she was afraid such an achievement was still far off. "I do not say that wireless telegraphy will ever be an absolutely private means of transmission but I will say that in future it will be possible to make it much more difficult for anyone to get messages not intended for them."

Senator Marconi proposes to go on another experimental trip in a few weeks' time, and later to try the new system of long-distance wireless from the coast of the United States to Europe.

GIRL FALLS OFF PET ELEPHANT AS BOY PLAYS ON ITS HEAD

New York, July 19.—"Handstands" performed by Roger Richards, 8 years old, on the head of Alice, the Bronx Zoo elephant, before crowds of spell-bound children proved nearly fatal to Mildred Probst, 10, of Newark.

Mildred was one of several youthful passengers riding in a howdah-like saddle on the elephant's back who were properly carried away by little Roger's carryings on. She leaped too far in an attempt to see better, and fell to the ground, eight feet below and struck on her head. She was taken to Fordham Hospital, suffering from possible fracture of the skull.

Alice, a children's favorite at the Zoo, seemed to sense the accident for she stopped at once. Roger is the son of Dick Richards, the elephant's keeper.

Commenting on recent experiments conducted by American inventors looking to privacy in wireless telephonic conversation, Senator Marconi said he was afraid such an achievement was still far off. "I do not say that wireless telegraphy will ever be an absolutely private means of transmission but I will say that in future it will be possible to make it much more difficult for anyone to get messages not intended for them."

M'INTYRE SAYS DECISION WAS A WRONG ONE

Says He was Entitled at Least to a Draw With Healy in Halifax Bout.

Johnny McIntyre, who lost the Maritime welterweight title to Nedder Healy in Halifax on Tuesday evening, thinks he was the victim of a poor decision and wants another bout with his conqueror again in the Halifax, Chron. McIntyre thought he had the fight won by a "mile" and was greatly surprised when the referee gave the decision to the former amateur. McIntyre has held the title for five years, battling against some of the best boxers in the United States, and he thinks that Tuesday evening's decision was unfair and that he was at least entitled to a draw.

In his report of the bout the Chronicle says: "Doing practically all the leading, but being outboxed in the greater number of rounds, Nedder Healy clinched the Maritime welterweight championship when he accepted a decision from Referee Ted Power over Johnny McIntyre, in the fifteen round bout at the Arena last evening. Fully 1200 fans attended and were divided in their opinions concerning the decision, but the odds favored McIntyre to at least a draw.

"Although not a sensational mixup, the fight was a hard one from going to going with boxers on their feet at the end of the fifteen round bout, McIntyre practically 'all in.' Healy was the aggressor all throughout the fight but McIntyre landed the cleaner blows. 'Honest' Ted Power thought that the former amateur was entitled to the

SIKI RUNS RAMPANT AND LANDS IN JAIL
Senegalese Stages Free-For-All Fight in Paris Cafe—Two Suits Filed.

Paris, July 18.—(Associated Press)—Battling Siki, although impoverished because of legal attachments against his fighting income, is again running wild since his victory over Marcel Nilles. The Senegalese pugilist was taken to a Montmartre police station last Sunday night after a free-for-all fight in an all-night resort in which the batter made a great showing and caused much damage. The trouble arose when Siki's female companion claimed she had been robbed of 400 francs.

Siki's wife has gone to her home in Holland with her baby, and apparently expects to make a long stay, at the other household effects. Defremont, Siki's latest manager, said next morning that the batter had been entirely without funds of his own for months and that he had been dispensing food and money to Siki. Prospective managers hoping to sign the Senegalese for a tour of the United States have also been supplying the black man with money, Defremont said.

To add to Siki's troubles, suit for 40,000 francs damages has been filed by M. Meunier, who claims he was badly clawed by Siki's lion cub at the Neully Fair recently. An additional suit for 60,000 francs has also been filed against Siki by one of the promoters of his fight with Morelle, the plaintiff alleging that Siki adversely affected the gate receipts by writing a letter, which was published, saying that he would not appear for the fight. Siki appeared, but the majority of the fight fans did not.

Leonard and Tendler May Set New Record
Expected They Will Establish Receipts Mark for Lightweight Boxing Bout.

New York, July 18.—A new record in receipts for a world's lightweight championship bout is expected to be made at the Yankee Stadium on Jimmy Johnson, according to Matchmaker Jimmy Johnson, when Benny Leonard defends his title against Ted Tendler, Philadelphia southpaw. Johnson announced that in excess of $200,000 already has been collected for tickets to the bout. This sum represents $100,000 in direct sales from the Cromwell A. C., under whose auspices the bout will be conducted, and the distribution of tickets through various agencies. Johnson added that he expected a gate of between $800,000 and $900,000 when the lightweight square off.

Leonard and Tendler are proceeding with their training, unconcerned over the financial side of the battle. The boxers let their respective managers worry about money details, giving their undivided attention to training for whatever business develops inside the ropes. Leonard is doing his preparatory work at Tannersville, N. Y. Every convenience has been provided for Leonard, even to the employment of a private chef to prepare his meals. The champion yesterday entered upon the closing week of his preparation, confident that he will have little difficulty getting down to the 135-pound lightweight limit.

In anticipation of the difficulty he may encounter in the ring because of Tendler's unorthodox style, Leonard has enlisted the services of three southern boxers of the welterweight and middleweight classes to aid him in training. The champion pays these boxers liberally, for the sparring partners

Wunsch, 8 each; Sergt MacDonald, Sergt. Lonsdale, Staff-Sergt. Faddock, Private Caplin and Colonel T. Fugh, 29 each, and Major Deacon, 24.

Repairs to the cable of the New Brunswick Telephone Co., Ltd., in the vicinity of Burpee Avenue, were made last evening.

The Evening Times Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 19, 1923.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the New Brunswick Publishing Co., Ltd., J. D. McKenna, President.

ONE FARTHING.

When Lord Jellicoe visited St. John in his tour of the Empire the officers who accompanied him were still very bitter about the official bulletin on the Jutland battle, which figures in the news of this morning. A noble lord who has won much notoriety in the courts sued the Morning Post which attacked him for publishing the statement that Winston Churchill dressed up the first news from Jutland and so enabled speculators to pick up some $200,000,000.

When the Jellicoe party was here some of its members said that Balfour's bulletin, which was so conservative and lacked so many essentials that it sent a wholly wrong impression throughout the Empire. In the suit just closed the Earl testified that it was he alone who prepared the bulletin and that he and members of the cabinet had nothing to do with it. There is no one whose word is better or whose sense of honor is higher than Earl Balfour's, but many navy men who were at Jutland said his anxiety to make no statement which could not be absolutely confirmed later on produced some very awkward results. The British world was not told in that first bulletin that the British battle fleet had not been engaged, that the enemy fled before it and would not give battle, and that Jellicoe had swept the seas clear. This was not at all understood at first in Britain or the Dominion. When destroyers entered English ports with their dead flag-covered on their decks the populace hooted them as beaten men. And there were other scenes of like nature. In many places throughout the Empire the Jellicoe party were asked questions which indicated the doubt and depression caused by the first all too brief bulletin of the sea fight.

The suit against the Post and the charge that the news was manipulated in the interest of speculators recalls the story of Waterloo and Rothlischild who was said to have held the foundation of the family fortune by being the first man to reach London in advance of news of the victory and to have plunged heavily upon his knowledge. During the great war British secrets were well kept, and in the case of Jutland perhaps too well kept. The farting given Lord Douglas is a respect of contempt for him and is directed for those who met the greatest test in Britain's history.

LAW AND JUSTICE.

The courts are occasionally the subject of a witicism in striking contrast to the awe which the majesty of the law might be expected to inspire. The Montreal Gazette recalls a scene from a playlet of the Victorian era—"A judge is asleep in his chair. His servant rouses him, and the judge begins mechanically: 'Well, gentlemen of the jury, it is for you to decide.' The servant reassures him that he is at home in his own study. 'God bless my soul,' cries the judge, 'so I am. I was so comfortably asleep that I quite thought I was in court administering justice.' It is shrewdly suspected that this little satire of subconsciousness was aimed at a distinguished judge of the period."

LOOKING US OVER.

Many years ago an English tourist, not a representative one, breezed through Canada and made notes to write a book that would give the people of the Old Country a real acquaintance with us. When he got to Quebec he strolled about on the outskirts where he expected to find the untrodden snow. But it wasn't untrodden at all. There were tracks of enormous size, and many of them. The visitor was astounded. He measured some of the tracks and found that his eyes had not deceived him. After a while he encountered a French-Canadian whose English was worse than the visitor's French-Canadian. It was a desperate struggle. After a few hopeless exchange the native pointed to the tracks which pointed toward the city and then pronounced the word "snow-shoes" in his usual fashion. That didn't help. He pointed to the distant woods and then to the city. "They come from the forest and go right into the city" the Englishman asked. The Canadian quickly confirmed this, relieved at being understood at last. But from "snow-shoes" as pronounced by the native the inquirer was led to make a note in his diary, telling how beasts of a size exceeding any known elsewhere in all the wide world haunted the forests near Quebec city and at night even invaded the very streets. They were both good men; they meant well, but they didn't get it straightened out at all.

A former Lord Mayor of Cardiff, Mr. George F. Forsdike, who has been in Canada in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific debentures, has been writing his impressions for a Cardiff newspaper, and he is a skilled observer. He has made a good argument for a greater use of Welsh coal. He finds that Canada does want British settlers, and that we need a wider outlook in the matter of immigration. He decides that increase of population alone can make possible the economic salvation of the Dominion. He insists that we need British artisans as well as farm laborers and workers of many classes. Probably as to these things he is right. But he did encounter some snow-shoe tracks by meeting a few Canadian alarmists who convinced him that because of lack of immigration economic pressure and necessity will drive us into some sort of union with the United States. He suggests that such a movement will be slow and will come as the result of trade and labor conditions. He says he got these impressions from "passionately loyal Canadians," and evidently he should have seen more of them. It is true admittedly that we need more population, that we must have immigrants and retain more of our native stock. But we shall not always starve for population, and while we must be sharply awake to the importance of finding population to utilize our vast natural resources and make our unutilized acreage productive, there will be no commercial union or other union with the United States. This is no question of politics. In the hearts of the people there is a feeling for Canada and the Empire which will abide. Every land has its responsibilities. We have ours—and enough. But whoever their character they will never prevent us from holding and developing our share of this continent.

Mr. Angus McLean advises against any embargo on the export of pulpwood from private lands, pointing out how largely we depend on the American market in selling pulp and paper as well as lumber. Also he reminds us that our pulpwood is only a small factor in the American market. The Dominion Government will hear many protests against shutting off cutting on private lands upon which so many people depend, and this was pointed out by many members, including some Liberals, when Hon. Mr. Fielding won the right to act by this matter by order-in-council.

Crying out for immigrants on this side of the Atlantic will not help greatly. We must do our crying out in Britain, in Scandinavia and in the other lands whence we hope to draw settlers, says the Toronto Globe. True, but we must not stop there. An equally big or a bigger problem is to keep Canadians in Canada. This needs study in Ottawa, in every provincial capital, in every city, town and village, and by every captain of industry, every board of trade, every citizen.

Says an American writer who has an eye on our pulpwood: "Canada and the United States are neighbors who can well afford to live together on terms of commercial and industrial accord. It is altogether undesirable that Canada and the United States should engage in trade or tariff discriminations." He admits that the Fordney-McCumber tariff has raised new barriers. It surely has. Here is a gentleman who wants peace and concord but who says nothing about cutting the tariff on Canadian natural products.

"Britain has refused to acquiesce in the United States' suggestion for a substitution of the twelve for the three-mile limit," says the Montreal Gazette. "There is life in the old dog yet. Britain may be slow, but she is none the less sure or determined, and keeps muddling through somehow."

France will not have to import wheat after August—for the first time in many years. Paris talks but the country works. It is a tireless people working on what Kipling called a tireless soil.

As an impartial observer puts it: "The sailors on European boats won't work unless they get their wine every day, and some of them won't even after they get it."

BRITISH ARMEN DISPLAY SKILL

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

Probably Started Her. "John is everything but up for the night." "That depends on you, my dear. Everything else is."

Dancing Men. "Why don't you like dancing men?" "I find those who are light on their feet are usually light in the head."

Heiress. Perhaps. "Now young man, are you sure that these shoes for my little baby are well made?" "Madam, they will last him a lifetime."

Liked This One. Green—"Did you ever hear an afternoon speech that was really worth while?" Dean—"Only one. Last night I dined with an old acquaintance and he said: 'Walter, bring me the check.'"

Taking Precautions. "Know anything about music?" "No." "Got any views about the new development in art?" "Not any."

"Think you could settle the League of Nations problem?" "Believe you can pick out the next Derby winner?" "I don't."

"Know the true inwardness of the drama?" "Pshaw! Come over to my house some evening and we'll have a pleasant chat together."

A BETTER MARATHON.

(New York Sun) A better record than any established in non-stop dancing or knitting or dishwashing has been unearched by the pensions bureau in the course of examining the course of the bureau discovered was that Andrew and Catherine Wheeler, after having been married in Edgar County, Illinois, on December 9, 1848, when they had only six years, three months and nine days, Andrew and Catherine were already been married eleven years, Andrew marched away with the 28th Illinois infantry, in 1868, when the troops were ordered to Chickamauga and young people name There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town were getting ready to celebrate their golden wedding.

Hundreds of other couples have done this and have had their pictures in the local papers and their virtues mentioned and their children and grandchildren enumerated. But Andrew and Catherine kept on. When Taft had returned out almost a year after the end of the 60th anniversary. When millions of American boys were coming home from overseas, the Wheelers were probably thinking of their approaching 70th wedding anniversary. This beats the pycnophylic record of the marathon dancers and dishwashers. The grit and endurance that kept a girl girdling about a room for 70 hours at one stretch are nowhere better shown than in the character and affection that kept this couple side by side for more than a century. They both lived to a great age; whatever their inherent strength, they were here drawn still more from a perfect union.

STRENGTH OF BRICK PIERS.

(Engineering, London.) Whilt tests on strength of stone, bricks and other component parts have been numerous, there have been relatively few experiments on the strength of masonry constructed from these units. A notable exception was afforded by the tests organized by the Royal Institution of British Architects in 1885. A notable addition to the data thus secured has been made by Professor A. H. Beyer and W. J. Krefeld, at the Civil Engineering Testing Laboratories of the Columbia University, New York. In this research, 185 masonry piers were tested. All had the same section, viz., 12 in. square, but 115 were 40 in. high and the remainder 84 in. high. The materials used were clay bricks, sand-lime bricks, bricks made out of concrete, and there were also four monolithic piers of concrete. A 1 to 3 Portland cement mortar was used throughout. An interesting difference was found between the method of failure of the piers built with clay bricks and those built with concrete bricks. The latter failed generally by diagonal shear much as if they had been monolithic, which seems to indicate that the effectiveness of the bond between the concrete bricks and the cement mortar is comparable with that between the cement and the aggregate in the concrete. With piers of clay bricks, on the other hand, the first sign of failure was the appearance of a fine vertical crack either in the mortar or in a brick in line with a mortar joint. A number of such cracks developed simultaneously or successively on four faces of the pier, and in most cases the damage was confined to the middle two-thirds of the height of the pier, which failed by progressive disintegration of the component parts. The behavior of the sand-lime bricks was very similar. The tests on the 84-in. piers showed that the loss of strength due to increased height was greater the lower the strength of the masonry. Thus in the case of the clay bricks the average strength of the pier 40 in. high was 0.424 that of the single bricks. With the piers 84 in. high this ratio fell to 0.28. With the concrete bricks there was no material difference in the strength of 40-in. and of a 84-in. pier. Measurements were also made of the elastic modulus of the piers. After ninety days the clay brick piers showed an average elastic modulus of 1,400,000 lb. per square inch, which for the piers built with concrete bricks rose to 1,600,000 lb. per square inch, whilst the modulus for the monolithic piers attained 8,405,000 lb. per square inch.

A LESSON IN COURTESY.

(Montreal Gazette) At a literal translation, the version given of the Japanese rules for the guidance of motoring tourists is amusing—though a pointed illustration of the politeness of the Japanese. "Thank you honorably" bears the stamp of authenticity, for the policemen of Japan are as easily the most polite in the world. A story is told of how a party of Englishmen were watching a matinee at a quarter organized to determine with the usual contempt for authority of some Englishmen abroad—look their stand beyond the rope barriers which had been erected to keep the people off the bridges. The police were in the pole vault. Gorman will represent strong measures. What they actually did was to untie the rope on one side and pass it in front of the offending foreigners, with an apology in which the "honorable" persons were reproved by polite but firm Courtsey costs nothing. It is a pity it is not practiced more in some places.

Good Entries For Olympic Trials

Chance to Go in For Discus and Javelin Throw if Local Athletes Want to.

In the Olympic trials meet at Rotherly July 25 and 26, the events for the different days will be— Wednesday, 25, commencing at 8:30 (daylight time) on the Rotherly Collegiate school grounds—100 yards dash, 440 yards run, one mile run, four mile walk, pole vault, running broad jump, throwing the 56 lb. weight, throwing the discus.

The track and field meet will be in excellent condition. Several more entries have been received, and others are in sight. Charlie Gorman is training faithfully at the present for the sprints. Nase and Howard of St. George's Club will compete in the pole vault. Gorman will represent St. George's Club. A Rotary team will probably be on hand to represent St. George's. Entries entering the 120 yards hurdles. Competition is assured in every event. Five entries are in for the one mile walk; approximately a dozen entries are in for the 100 yard dash.

P. J. Legge, secretary of the M. E. B. A. U. of C., has wired for a discus. A sixteen lb. hammer is also being made. Mr. Legge also says that if there is any demand for the javelin throw, a javelin will be procured. Captain Bowie, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., is home now, and till the day set for the meet will assist in every way in coaching for these events.

RADIO DIGEST

For The Notebook. A rubber sponge under the socket will eliminate vibrations causing tube noise.

The "height" of an antenna is the distance above the ground of its "middle point."

Never attach radio aerials or anything else to poles carrying wires of any sort.

Radio inventors have produced practically nothing to eliminate static from the wave lengths for broadcasting.

A loud speaker is not an amplifier. Loud speakers that do not increase the strength of signals have power amplifiers in them.

The cost of constructing a simple crystal detector set is between $10 and $25, depending upon the grade of material used and the type of phone.

It is estimated by engineers that the current picked up by the antenna is about three trillionths of the energy broadcast from the transmitting station's aerial.

When the set does not respond while tuning in a station, do not blame the set, but try another station. Some broadcasting stations have poor modulation.

Radiograms. The mail aerial of the U. S. S. Leviathan, which is suspended between two top masts, is more than 600 feet long, and is 200 feet above the water level.

What is believed to be the first radio picnic in the United States was recently held at Marysville, Calif., by amateurs from Oregon, Washington, Arizona and California. No fewer than 1,600 persons attended the picnic.

With four big, powerful stations each operating on widely separate wavelengths, Philadelphia will make known to have the greatest broadcasting service in the country. With a $2,000,000 set, an aerial 1,000 feet long and three of the finest dance orchestras, as well as serious, university lectures, or hear the greatest pipe organ in the world.

New Races to Test Distance Runners

Total of $85,000 Offered for Thoroughbreds in Two Fall Events at Latonia.

New York, July 19.—With a renewal of the 1923 Latonia Championship, a gallop of a mile and three-quarters for three-year-olds exclusively, and the introduction of a new feature in the form of a $50,000 added money race of a mile and three-sixteenths for three-year-olds and over, Latonia racing will make a heavy draft in September and October on the East's stock of distance-running thoroughbreds.

Two years ago General Manager Matt J. Winn of the Kentucky Jockey Club created a new fashion in the year-old racing by raising the value of the Kentucky Derby to $50,000 in addition to the $25,000 prize. He has done another thing by organizing the Kentucky Special with an added money value of $50,000 for three-year-olds and over. There was a Kentucky Special of $25,000 added money value at Latonia last year. It was a gallop of one mile and a quarter organized to determine the question of supremacy between Piliory, winner of the Freshness; Whiskaway, winner of the Carlton at Aqueduct; Thibodaux and Surf Rider. Whiskaway won and became champion.

Whiskaway sold for $125,000, the seller being Harry Payne Whitney, his breeder, the purchaser C. W. Clark of Montana, because he defeated Thibodaux, Morvich, Piliory and Surf Rider in this Kentucky Special of last season. And Whiskaway, a great horse when right, may win the new race next fall. But there is no connection between the two races. The new is not to be a continuation of the old. Last season's race was restricted to three-year-olds. The distance of the new race, which is to be revived annually, will be a sixteen mile shorter than the route of the special of 1922.

The coming Kentucky Special will be the richest race for horses, three-year-olds and over, open to all colors, that will ever have been run in the United States, or on the North American continent. Counting subscriptions and starting fees in with the $50,000 added money the purse is sure to total $65,000. It will attract upward of 100 nominations. There will be fifteen to twenty starters.

The Latonia Championship is now four years old. Instituted in 1919, its first winner was gallant old M. H. Hatter, which, still a good distance runner, may bear the white jacket of the Rancocas stable in the coming Kentucky Special. Subsequent renewals have been won by Cleopatra, Sporting Blood and Rockmaster. Eastern owned three-year-olds that may go west for the fifth championship if they continue to train satisfactorily are few and his new stable champion Sunference; Rialto, Barbary Bush, Enchantment, Chickadee, Flagstaff, Vigil, Valador, Sandy Hatch, Messenger, Martingale, Hyperion and My Own.

Other attractions of Kentucky fall racing will be renewals of the Fort Thomas and Autumn Handicaps of six furlongs for two-year-olds and three-year-olds and over, respectively, and the Covington of one mile and a sixteenth for three-year-olds and over. These races will pay $5,000 in added money and each should be worth something more than $7,000 to its winner.

The Old Man of the Sea

Sinbad the Sailor took him on his back—and then couldn't get rid of him. National advertising addressed blindly to the map instead of being sent directly to profitable markets is an Old Man of the Sea on the backs of many manufacturers. Too often it stirs up odds and ends of business that the manufacturer cannot economically follow, but which he is obliged to handle at killing cost in the vain hope of "cashing in" on his advertising expenditure. It fails to tap intensively the well-defined markets where sales can be pushed in paying volume. The modern successful national advertiser makes his advertising work at the definite job of looking for desirable business in logical markets. He knows beforehand what he wants and where to seek it at reasonable cost. He invariably uses newspaper advertising which covers adequately every market in the land every day in the year.

MAY BUILD ON TO HOME OF INCURABLES

Subscribers Told That Increased Accommodation is Needed.

Institution Founded by W. W. Turnbull is 23 Years Old—Patients 80 at Beginning of July—Financial Report Shows Funds on Hand to the Amount of $155,483.40.

The annual meeting of the subscribers to the St. John Home for Incurables is being held this afternoon with J. S. Gregory, the president, in the chair. The reports of the various departments were presented.

The report of the president and Board of Directors was read by Mr. Gregory as follows:—
Throughout the year your board has faithfully carried on the work of the Home. The degree of prosperity that was founded by the late W. W. Turnbull in 1900 gives cause for deep thankfulness and reflects credit upon those splendid men and women who by service have brought this useful work to its present high standard and also reflects credit upon generous donations of various useful articles and sympathy. A continuance of this latter practical charity is looked for and will be most acceptable.

On July 1, 1922, there were thirty patients in the Home, fifteen men and fifteen women, July 1, 1923, there were thirty-one patients in the Home, fifteen men and sixteen women. During the year twenty-one applications for admission have been considered by the Board. Thirteen have been admitted, six men, seven women. Two persons left, one man and one woman. Twelve regular meetings were held by the Board.

The matron and nursing staff have had much hard work during the year; their duties have been performed faithfully and efficiently.

The Home inside and outside and the grounds will bear closest inspection and the same is invited.

To the medical staff we extend hearty thanks for invaluable services free. Their generosity is fully appreciated.

To all persons who have added by gifts large and small during the year we offer thanks. The kindly thought that prompted such gifts is gratifying to the members of the Board.

The Women's Aid Committee at the past has rendered most valuable services for which we desire to express our gratitude and thanks.

Through the kindness of the clergy and the chairs of the different churches Sunday services are held in the Home. We recognize our indebtedness and hereby express our sense of the obligation we owe and return thanks.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Canadian cattle shippers at England have sent to Hon. P. C. It is complained that store cattle are being classed as fat cattle and ordered slaughtered immediately.

SHORE LINE COMPLAINT.

A resident of Charlotte county has written to the newspapers complaining of the service on the C. F. R. Shore Line. One complaint seems to be that when passengers board the train at St. George for St. Stephen they are kept waiting at least half an hour, while freight is being shifted and at the pulpwood sidings delays are alleged which make the train sometimes two hours late. The correspondent suggested that the C. F. R. get a freight train to handle the freight and leave the passenger train for the passengers.

SUES HUSBAND OF GALLI-CURCI

Vocal Teacher Asks $50,000 Damages for Alleged Aspersions on His Ability—Charges Hatred, Spite.

New York, July 18.—Homer Samuels, husband of Mme. Galli-Curci and for many years her accompanist, is being sued in the Supreme Court for $50,000 damages by William Thorne, vocal teacher, who alleged that Mr. Samuels made false statements concerning him and the work he had done for Mme. Galli-Curci. The complaint was served on Mr. Samuels at Mme. Galli-Curci's summer home, Highmount, N. Y. Mr. Thorne said that before March 1st he had many friends and acquaintances in New York, Paris, Milan, London and elsewhere, and that he was a good reputation. He said he had trained pupils who became world famous as singers, including Mme. Galli-Curci, Rosa Ponselle, Tandy Mackenzie and Anna Pizzi. He styled himself "one of the most renowned voices of the singing voice."

Hampstead Home Of Lord Erskine Is Being Razed

In Famous Chancellor's Heyday House Was Scene of Gay Parties, Where Wit and Wine Flowed Freely.

London, June 10.—(By Mail)—Wanderers along the road between the Gate House Tavern and Jack Straw's Castle may have noticed, at the entrance to Hampstead Heath, that the house of Lord Erskine, the famous Lord Chancellor, is being demolished. The house, which has long stood vacant, even in the days when both rents and the activity of the bricklayers' trowel are under restriction; and not even the fame of the great advocate and Lord Chancellor was a sufficient lure to occupation.

WOMEN, POSING AS MAIDS, ROB BERLIN HOMES

3 Thieves Take Advantage of Servant Shortage to Gain Entrance to Houses and Steal at Leisure.

Berlin, July 18.—Berlin police are puzzled by the activities of three women who go about in the guise of servants, gaining entry into the homes of the wealthy and disappearing with silverware and jewels. And long-suffering housewives who employ any one of them, thinking that here at last is a prize, discover in a day or two that their gem is not genuine. She vanishes, and along with her some valuables from the bureau drawer. So acute is the servant problem in Berlin that housewives mourn the loss of the "good girl" more than the finery.

STRAY SHOT MISSES WOMAN BY INCHES

New Rochelle, N. Y., July 19.—A stray rifle shot from the woods in Upper New Rochelle nearly struck Mrs. Frederick K. Ebel in the foot as she was practicing golf with her husband on the lawn of her home here, at 241 Elk avenue, Forest Heights. The bullet plowed up the turf within inches of her. The police searched the woods, but found no one with a weapon.

"I do not know anything about the artistic world, for I am a business man, but if Mr. Thorne never taught the madame, how could he use her name in his advertisements?"

"The complaint asserted that Mr. Samuels did not try to tramp on his toes was that he got madame her first job."

Mr. Hand, it was alleged, then said: "I consider that one who has the influence and prestige to bring an artist before the public is certainly worth some recognition."

Mr. Thorne alleged that Mr. Samuels replied: "If your daughter wants to study

Bucharest, Joy City Of Europe, Revels In Wine and Mirth

Rumanians Eat Five Times a Day and Adore Liquor, Cards and Pretty Women.

Bucharest, June 10.—Bucharest is growing faster than any other city in Europe. It is spreading out in all directions over the neighboring plains in an effort to house its population of 1,000,000 which is still growing. In 1918 the capital's population was only 338,000 which included 38,000 Austrians and Hungarians and 45,000 Jews. Bucharest is the joy city of Europe. Love and laughter, song and wine, dancing and card playing are as dear to the Rumanian heart as to the gayest spirits in Bohemia.

The Rumanians eat five times a day and is ready for another repast at midnight. He dislikes going to bed. He loves his wine jug and his cards. And he would die without his rum-coffee and his gossip about the latest scandal of the town.

The Calle Victoriei, Bucharest's Fifth Avenue, is studded with pretty women in the latest Parisian gowns and jewels. Smart looking army officers in high patent leather boots and blue and gold uniforms strut along the riato, shedding smiles on Rumania's lovely femininity. Among these dashing Don Juans and Lotharios one sees motley groups of gypsy men and women with their numerous progeny, some of the children without a stitch of clothing. For this is the land of the gypsy fortune tellers and vagabonds of the United States claim descent. And the gypsy believes that beauty unadorned is adored the most.

Both sexes in Rumania use perfumery, rouge and cosmetics in profusion. The cosmetic business is one of the most profitable in Rumania. The Rumanian men are tall, handsome and dark, but are inclined to be effeminate. They wear form-fitting jackets, waistbands and affect monocles and spats. This, of course, does not apply to the peasantry, who are a sturdy, homely energetic lot, and constitute the backbone of the country and its chief hope for the future.

Although Bucharest prides itself on being the Paris of the Balkans, and French is spoken more than any other foreign tongue, there is a great desire on the part of the educated classes to learn English. American tutors are much in demand.

There are at present three newspapers printed in French, which is the court and society language, but it probably will not be long before a daily paper, published in English will be established. Queen Marie, who is an accomplished writer, has published all her books in English, and that is the language of the royal family, although both the King and Queen command facile use of half a dozen other tongues.

ONE MINER KILLED; ANOTHER IS INJURED

Springhill, N.S., July 18.—Jacob David, a Polish miner, was instantly killed at No. 2 slope this afternoon, and his working companion, Dick Walsh, was badly injured. The cause of the accident was a "bump" in the $400-foot level of No. 4 incline. The top and two sides of the shaft caved in with the force of an explosion and Walsh was thrown thirty feet. He was terribly injured and died almost immediately. Walsh was buried and had to be dug out of the debris. He is in hospital in a critical condition. The mine was idle tonight and will remain idle until after the funeral.

Faces 170 Years Staten Island Bank

Robert Magruder Convicted of Aiding Theft of $610,000 From National Depository at Mariners Harbor.

New York, July 18.—Robert Magruder was found guilty by a jury in Federal Court, Brooklyn, before Judge William B. Sheppard, of participation in the looting of the Mariners Harbor, S. I. National Bank. His guilt was established by thirty-four counts, each of which the penalty was a maximum sentence of 170 years in jail and $100,000 in fines. He will be sentenced by Judge Sheppard next Thursday. Meanwhile he was remanded in $65,000 bail.

Magruder was formerly president and general manager of the Johnson Shipyard Corporation. He was indicted on charges of aiding Sylvanus Bedell, cashier of the Mariners Harbor bank, to extract and misappropriate funds amounting to $610,000 from the bank during the years 1918, 1919 and 1920. Indicted with Magruder was his son, Donald B. Magruder, who is awaiting trial.

Magruder's counsel, Warren I. Lee, formerly a member of Congress, said he would appeal the case, which he said he considered meritorious though difficult.

The case for the government was presented by Assistant Federal Attorney Giaccone.

The jury reached its verdict after a debate of three hours and twenty minutes.

Magruder's demeanor during the final day of the hearing was repellent. During Judge Sheppard's charge his mind seemed to be far away from the matter in hand and he did not lose his self-possession when the jury returned to report its decision.

Frederick Laird had his hand crushed in an accident in McAvity's foundry about 9.40 last evening. The injury was dressed at the General Public Hospital after which he went to his home.

"Invisible Princess" Imposes Dry Law On Bopal—and It Works

New York, July 18.—Bopal, that rugged little native state of central India, has been ruled for three-quarters of a century by a line of "invisible" princesses, wielding the power of life and death over their subjects, has taken to prohibition—and likes it.

At least the present ruler, Her Highness Nawab Sultan Sir Jehan Begum, says she likes it. And, with her powers of life and death, what she likes is all right with her subjects, according to The Associated Press.

The spread of prohibition to faraway, mystical India is described in a letter from Nawab Begum herself, indited, at her royal direction, by her secretary in the political department (of undecipherable name), on an obviously venerable typewriter. The letter, bearing the Begum's royal crest, was made public by the committee on conservative action in advance of the council boards of benevolence of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"If I am directed by her highness," the missive read, "to convey to your board her highness's many thanks for their kind appreciation of her policy in prohibiting liquor manufacture and sale in the state. It may interest you to know that the measure has already met with remarkable success. Great as the loss of income is from this source, her highness feels amply compensated for it by the improved moral and material conditions of her dear subjects."

The Nawab Begum, who ascended the throne in 1911, succeeding in a line of women rulers started in 1844, when Sikander Begum was crowned and struck a blow for Women's Rights by changing the royal succession to the female line, has been noted since her coronation for the justness of her rule and her solicitude for the welfare of her 665,000 subjects.

Like her predecessor, she has rigorously enforced the rule of Islam requiring all women to veil their faces in public, and hence is known as the "invisible princess." She created a sensation recently when she received the Prince of Wales in her palace of Arabian Nights splendor with her regal features obscured.

At a dinner to the prince, then on tour in India, she announced a series of governmental reforms, including establishment of an executive council of state and a legislative council, all embodied in a new constitution.

The Nawab Begum first sprang into public note in 1911, shortly after her coronation, when she visited London and succeeded in losing her dashing young son, who subsequently was found disposing himself at Montmartre with a young dancer whose face was not veiled.

More recently she figured as donor of $50,000 for support of a school at Delhi for her veiled sisters. And again, two years ago, she broke into print by purchasing 2,000 watches, which she distributed among her subjects.

HAD GREAT TIME AT BOYS' CAMP

With the closing of the Y. M. C. A. boys' camp came the end of a wonderful two weeks spent by nearly forty boys under canvas at Chipman.

At the annual election of campers to the "Hall of Fame," the following boys were elected: Best looking boy, Harold Heaney; best natured boy, Stewart Allan; biggest eater, George Robinson; laziest boy, Maurice Fowler; best athlete, H. Heaney; best camper, S. Allan; camp humorist, Douglas Rodd; Heavenly twins, L. Fillmore, M. Lowe; fattest boy, W. Osgood; most popular boy, Stewart Allan; hardest worker, George Hare; most popular game, baseball; most popular ears, strawberry shortcake.

The competition for camp honors between the various tribes was very keen, the "Miamas" winning, with the "Troquois" in second place, the "Mohawks" third, and the "Chippewas" fourth.

The little chiefs of the various tribes were as follows: "Miamas", Stewart Allan; "Troquois", Harold Heaney; "Mohawks", Douglas Rodd; "Chippewas", A. MacInnis.

Work on tearing up the rails on the old C. P. R. bridge at the Reversing Falls recently led to reports that the Canadian Pacific would soon commence operations tearing down the structure, but enquiries at the local headquarters of the company yesterday showed that the reports were premature. If such a policy were decided on, it was pointed out, orders would come from Montreal. So far, it was learned, no such order has been received here. The opinion was expressed that no orders in this regard would be received until litigation in connection with the raising of the new bridge was settled.

ASSAULT AND ROBBERY CHARGED

Alfred Manning Arrested on Complaint of Mr. Doherty—A Case in Quebec.

On a charge of assaulting and robbing William Doherty and also of robbing him of $182 Alfred Manning was arrested about 9:46 last evening by Detective Saunders and Plainclothesman Kilpatrick. The alleged assault and robbery took place about nine o'clock in the Sand Cove road. Manning was arrested in the city. It was said that part of the money alleged to have been stolen from the victim of the attack was found on the person of the prisoner. This being city court day, Manning went through a plate glass window this morning before the Magistrate.

Auto Out of Control, Hits Rothsey Store Front—Tourists Injured Near Hampton.

About eight o'clock this morning a Ford sedan driven by Douglas Jamieson of this city, and occupied, in addition to the driver, by Herbert R. Markham, went through a plate glass window in the store of J. R. Robertson just opposite the Kennedy House at Rothsey. It appears that in turning in front of the store the driver lost control of the car and it struck the window, shattering it to bits. Mr. Jamieson agreed to pay for the damage. The incident was purely accidental. Mr. Jamieson was slightly cut by flying glass, but little other damage was done.

Another Accident.
A serious automobile accident occurred a few nights ago on the main highway about a mile and a half above Hampton on what is known as the "S" curve. A man and his wife, from Quebec, who were touring through the province, were proceeding along and succeeded in negotiating the first turn, but evidently being unfamiliar with the road did not know of the second one and the car went over an embankment. The driver sustained a laceration in his throat and his wife was also quite painfully injured. The injured couple were taken to Morrison's Hotel in Norton, where Dr. Gilchrist attended them.

Two Picnics Today

The annual Sunday school picnic of the Ludlow street Baptist church is being held today at Grand Bay. The committee in charge has prepared a programme that promises a full day of good, healthy recreation. Music was provided by the Carleton Cornet Band. Those in charge of the picnic are: Chairman, R. H. Parsons; vice-chairman, Rev. W. A. Robbins; secretary, E. P. Ring; treasurer, Miss M. E. Mullin; pay table, Mrs. George Price; children's table, Mrs. James Mitchell; ice cream, Mrs. George Belyea; and Miss Mae Robbins; candy, Mrs. Moe Harton; fruit, William Campbell; drinks, R. J. ASSESSMENT APPEAL IS OFF UNTIL FRIDAY

On account of the lack of quorum, the matter of the appeal of the McLaughlin Motor Car Co., Ltd., from the decision of the city Board of Assessors, fixing the assessment on income at $20,450, did not come before the Commission Council this morning, but tomorrow morning at seven o'clock was fixed for the hearing. Commissioner Thornton is absent from the city and Commissioner Bullock was delayed in coming to town from Westfield this morning.

POND STREET IS SUGGESTED FOR INCINERATOR SITE

Commissioner Frink has received from Roy Knight of Toronto, an expert on civic incinerators, complete plans and information regarding a proposed incinerator plant for this city. Mr. Knight was here recently and went thoroughly over the grounds and his report includes the estimated costs of materials, erection and operation. Mr. Knight, in his report, suggests the site hill between Pond and Carleton streets as the most suitable site for such an operation. Besides being central, he says, the fact that the material can be brought in and dumped from the Carleton street level will make the location the best from an economic and efficient standpoint.

DR. WEBSTER IS FOR QUICK ACTION

The Proposed Historical Memorials Here—Officers Chosen at Committee Meeting.

Owing to the absence of some of the members of the committee of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board a meeting held in the Mayor's office this morning adjourned without taking any action other than to elect a chairman and secretary and to name a time for future meetings.

Those present this morning were His Worship Mayor Fisher, Commissioner Frink, Commissioner Wigmore, Mr. H. O. McInerney and Dr. H. A. Powell, K. C. Commissioners Thornton and Bullock were unable to be present. Mrs. Albertson Smith, Henderson was engaged in court duties, and Dr. William McIntosh was in Sussex at the summer school.

The Mayor referred to some correspondence he had had with Dr. Clarence Webster of Shelburne relative to early action as possible. He had seen Dr. Webster about a week ago and at that time the doctor had drafted tentatively the inscription to be placed on the Loyalist monument at the head of the market slip. Other memorials would be placed on or near Fort Howe and on the site of old Fort Frederick, West St. John.

The Mayor said that the matter of the selection of types and inscriptions must be considered. Commissioner Frink suggested that copies of all correspondence be mailed to each member of the committee so that at the next meeting something could be accomplished through the members knowing what they were talking about.

On motion of Commissioner Wigmore Judge McInerney was appointed secretary. On motion of Dr. Powell the Mayor was appointed chairman. The meeting adjourned until next Tuesday morning at 10:30 in the Mayor's office.

2 MORE SUNDAYS WORK ON THE LINE

Current Likely Shut Off Between Here and Moncton Next Sunday—Pouring Concrete on Musquash Restoration Work.

It was announced by S. R. Weston, chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, this morning that the two more Sundays would see the completion of some work which has necessitated the shutting off of the current on the Moncton-St. John transmission line. It is expected that the power will be off again this Sunday.

The principal work now being carried out is the erection of permanent crossings in places where the electric current line and telephone wires come together, such as at road crossings.

Musquash Work.
Good progress is reported from the restoration work on the Logs Falls and West Branch head dam. About 200 men and some thirty-five teams are being employed by the three contractors on the work. Dexter & Richardson at the Log Falls site, are getting along well with the foundation work. The Allan Construction Co., working on the east side of the West Branch are pouring concrete at the rate of about 15 yards a day, while the N. B. Construction Co., on the west side, have a big steam shovel and a light engine with cars excavating material for the embankment work. They are also pouring concrete in the core wall.

Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, of Shadaco, chairman, and Hon. J. E. Michaud, of Edmundston, member of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, are expected to arrive in the city today to attend a meeting of the commission which is scheduled for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Further extension service and routine matters will occupy the attention of the meeting.

ST. JOHN LEADS IN CRICKET MATCH WITH TEAM FROM CHIGNECTO

A very interesting cricket match was played on the Allison Playgrounds last evening between members of the St. John Cricket Club and a team from the Royal Mail Steam Packet liner Chignecto. The latter team had their first innings and scored sixty-two runs. In the St. John team's half sixty-six runs were scored for five wickets and as the game at that stage had to be called on account of darkness the innings will be completed this evening. Stegmann, Mofford and Young bowled for the St. John team. Stegmann was the individual star taking eight out of ten wickets.

Gillespie, of Moncton, was elected president; Dr. Vaughan of Chatham, vice-president; Dr. E. A. Godsoe of St. John, secretary; Drs. F. A. Taylor and W. L. Gillespie, Moncton, and Drs. Godsoe and Savaya, of St. John, members of Council.

Mr. Skelton said that he was very sorry to leave St. John. He had been very grateful for their co-operation. The engraving on the silver case was as follows: Presented with best wishes from the members of the Bank of Montreal, St. John, N. B., office staff, July, 1923.

A. O. H. FIGHT WITH THE KLAN

Expected to be Pledged Today to Combat to Finish.

Judge O'Donnell of Chicago, at Montreal Convention, Tells of Work of American Unity League—Auxiliary Memorial Work.

(Canadian Press.) Montreal, July 18.—Declaration of the Ancient Order of Hibernians as an active militant force pledged to a fight to the finish with the Ku Klux Klan is confidently looked for today when it is expected a resolution based on Hon. Patrick O'Donnell's disclosures before the convention will be brought forward.

Judge O'Donnell, of Chicago, in an account of the work done by the American Unity League, an organization founded by him to maintain racial, religious and social tolerance, made a strong indictment of the Ku Klux Klan as a body treasonable to the state.

"Some of the most prominent men in the states of Illinois and Indiana have already been severely injured, if not ruined, through the publication of their names in our official organ, 'Intolerance,'" said the judge, in the course of an interview. "In these two states alone we have already published 22,000 names and we have as many more who have not yet published."

"We first created a department of investigation to obtain Klan secrets and the lists of members in the different cities. We work one city at a time and now have found nearly all the names in the larger cities of the two states mentioned. When a Klan has his name published, he is publicly exposed, ostracized socially, and is rejected in a political and economic sense; his business is ruined through the indignation of the community. In Indiana we have already published the names of such men as the secretary of state, treasurer of state, candidates for governor in both parties, judges on the bench, high officials in the police force, and men prominent in the banking and commercial world. Owing to our publicity campaign, no men of any fair name are now joining the Klan in either state.

"We are attacking the Klan because we claim they are a treasonable body to the U. S., on four indictments. The American constitution provides for the separation of church and state, but they try to fill the senate with Klans, who will legislate against Catholics, Jews, Negro and the foreign born; they undertake to destroy denominational schools and force attendance upon other than Catholic churches, thereby destroying freedom of conscience; they hold their secret courts, try men without sentence, convict and punish, according to their secret rules, going even to the extent of executing men; they undertake to degrade the negro by declaring against him and for white supremacy."

Montreal, July 19.—Erection of the $30,000 memorial to the nursing sisters who served in the war, on behalf of which a campaign was recently waged by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H., will probably commence in the fall, according to the National Secretary of the auxiliary, Miss Alice Ratigan.

The various national officers of the organization were all re-nominated without opposition.

Taken Ill Last Night; Died Today James Rathburn, said to belong to Hampstead, was brought to the General Public Hospital early last evening from Musquash, suffering from internal hemorrhages. He was operated on and died in a very short time. Witnesses at Musquash reported that Mr. Rathburn fell off one of a string of cars being hauled at the New Brunswick Contracting Company's plant.

Dr. J. A. McCarthy was called and ordered him taken to the hospital. Mr. Rathburn was an employee of the company at intervals for several years and was regarded as a very good man.

GIRLS FORCED TO CHOOSE DRESS OR JOB—YOU GUESSED WRONG!

Not One Undraped Arm Left Among Feminine Detachment in Worcester Title & Trust Co. After Order Goes Forth: "Dress Up or Get Out."

(New York Tribune.) One brave business man has at last stepped up in rebellion against the scourge of his employees' summer clothing. Daring the midday in eighty pairs of blue, brown and neutral colors, J. Crawford Stevens, president of the Worcester Title and Trust Company, took stock of his staff the other morning and decided that it didn't have enough on.

He picked out what looked like the worst case—or the best—and told the girl to go right home to her mother and get some clothes on. There was dead silence in the large banking office at White Plains as the girl slipped out, blushing crimson and her bare arms in her ears was the ring of a severe reprimand for not knowing better than to come to work in a sleeveless frock.

It was useless to explain to Mr. Stevens that nearly all the frocks and sweaters were sleeveless this year. Such attire may be all right on the laws of Westchester or on the streets of New York, but he simply refused to tolerate it any longer in his office.

There was fire in his eye. He had been thinking the matter over for days and wondered where it was going to end. The excessive heat did not seem to him an adequate excuse for the dwindling consignment of her bare arms.

"None in the world. It's quite all right, so far as I'm concerned. But the costumes—well, one had to do something!"

TONIGHT'S BAND CONCERT Mayor Fisher announced this morning that a band concert by the Fusilli's Band was scheduled for tonight in the King Square band stand, but that he had no response to a notice sent the management of the band to this effect. He added that he had the programme of concerts for the season completed, but was experiencing difficulty in locating those in charge of some of the bands to get their approval of the dates.

GASOLINE WAR ON IN WESTERN U. S.; PRICE 12 CENTS Los Angeles, July 19.—Predictions that the price of gasoline, reduced to 12 cents a gallon here yesterday by independent dealers, would fall to ten cents or less within a day or two, were heard today. The large companies still are selling at 19 cents. The smaller ones, in a race war among themselves, have reduced it to 12 cents. Rumors are afloat that the large companies are considering a plan to fix a price so low that the independents cannot meet it.

Longing For Hungary, Girl Hangs Herself

Homesick After Two Months in America—Wife Ends Life After Quarrel With Husband.

New York, July 19.—Domestic troubles and homesickness for Hungarian hillsides were causes which prompted three women to attempt suicide here, two being successful.

Mrs. Markovits, 18, came from Hungary two months ago. Saturday her husband, a chauffeur, told her that he had pinned a length of clothline to a gasp in the hall after climbing on a chair. A quarrel ensued. She was dead on arrival of Dr. Pallin of Lincoln Hospital.

Mrs. Anna Rahaley, 38, had a dispute over money matters with Emmet, her husband, a chauffeur. She was found dead from asphyxiation in a small room off the kitchen. Gas was flowing from open jets and door and windows were tightly closed. Dr. Dickering of Knickerbocker Hospital recommended investigation, but neither Detectives Fitzgerald and Courtney nor Assistant Medical Examiner found anything to warrant suspicion.

Rahaley surmised that her husband had merely intended to "scare" her and had overestimated her ability to withstand effects of the fumes.

Laura Keesher, 33, unhappy since separated from her husband three months ago, drank three ounces of iodine, at the Bronx where she lived with her brother, Edward. Administration of milk and eggs probably saved her life. Physicians at Fordham Hospital reported she would recover. The Keeshers have two children, a boy and a girl.

STORE EMPLOYEES CAN WIN $5,000 AND VACATIONS

The board of managers of the Gilchrist Company, in Boston, has issued a bulletin announcing the details of a summer sales campaign to be held during July and August for which $5,000 in cash and winter vacations are the prizes.

The plan as outlined was presented to the president of the Storeworkers' Association, known as the M. G. A. Prizes will consist of an extra vacation during winter months and a sum of money to be used by the association in its club and lunch rooms or for other activities.

To keep the enthusiasm through to the final day of the campaign daily bulletins inside the store will give the progress of the sale as well as show the percentage of increase over the same period last year. The bulletins follow:

"In order to provide an incentive to the members of the Gilchrist Association to unite as one body in an effort to increase sales during July and August, the board of managers offers the following plan of prizes to the association:

"First, $5,000 prize to the members of the Gilchrist Association, for its use as an association, if the sales for the entire store increase fifty per cent. or more.

"Second, $2,000 prize to the members of the Gilchrist Association, for its use as an association, if the sales for the entire store increase from thirty-five per cent. up to and including forty-nine per cent.

"Third, $1,000 prize to the members of the Gilchrist Association, for its use as an association, if the sales for the entire store increase from twenty-five per cent. up to and including thirty-four per cent.

"Fourth, $500 prize to the members of the Gilchrist Association, for its use as an association, if the sales for the entire store increase from ten per cent. up to and including twenty-four per cent.

"Only those in the employ of Gilchrist Company on July 1, 1923, may participate.

"In order to provide an additional incentive to individual members of the association, the sales force to be used as departments to increase their sales, the following winter vacation plan is offered:

"First, six days' vacation during January, February or March, 1924, will be given to every member of any selling department which increases its total sales for July and August 100 per cent. or more.

"Second, three days' vacation during January, February or March, 1924, will be given to every member of any selling department which increases its total sales for July and August fifty per cent. or more.

"Third, two days' vacation during January, February or March, 1924, will be given to every member of any selling department which increases its total sales for July and August twenty-five per cent. or more.

"Fourth, one day's vacation during January, February or March, 1924, will be given to every member of any selling department which increases its total sales for July and August ten per cent. or more.

"The weather this morning was fine. There were light variable breezes. Thirteen Canadians are among the three hundred marksmen who will go into the second stage of the King's prize competition on Friday, and this representation may be increased in the shoot-off for nineteen places by the sixty-four competitors who scored ninety-five in the qualifying stage yesterday.

There were more than 900 entries, and while obviously less than one-third of them could succeed in the qualifying stage, half of the Canadian contingent was successful. There are nine members of the team and four attached Canadians among the top three hundred.

PICTOU MINERS TAKING UP PICK

Siding With Lewis and are Resuming Work

MacLachlan Expected to Conduct Fight Against the Edict of the International President of Mine Workers.

(Canadian Press.) Springhill, N. S., July 19.—Miners at Westville went back to work this morning, and other mines in the Pictou field will follow suit according to a message received at Springhill today. It is expected that the majority of mines in the mainland will side with John L. Lewis, president of the International Union of Mine Workers, against the MacLachlan-Livingstone faction, John Foster, an International organizer from Indianapolis and a brother to Kent Foster, a well known Springhill miner, has gone to Cape Breton, where he will aid Silly Barrett, provisional president of District No. 26, in the effort to straighten out the existing tangle. MacLachlan it is expected will conduct a fight against the Lewis edict.

Going to Scene. Springhill, N. S., July 18.—Robert Foster, who was personal representative of John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America at the time of the Colorado dispute, passed through here this afternoon en route to Glace Bay. It is understood he is an official business of the international executive committee of the U. M. W. A. He will arrive in Glace Bay tomorrow morning.

Say Lewis Servant of Corporation. "We expected that Lewis would take the action he has taken," said Malcolm Bruce, editor of the Worker, when asked by the Star for his opinion of Lewis' action in making the charter of the Sydney miners.

"We know of a convention at Atlantic City when Lewis will be present, and he will be present at the meeting. He has decided to revoke the charter. He plans to send commissions but he will not succeed in getting them. Lewis has become an autocrat and the servant of corporations. The miners of America are sick of Lewis, but he has made for himself great powers and holds hand-picked conventions.

"The strikers will not be affected by his action."

To Raise Money for Miners. Toronto, July 18.—It is said here that a fund to assist the coal miners of Nova Scotia will be started under the auspices of the district Trades and Labor Council at one of its meetings. The council is recommending that the fund be raised by the miners with donations from their funds.

An effort will be made to obtain substantial assistance for the miners by the council through its affiliated unions and their members.

Sydney, July 19.—A resolution to continue the strike was passed by about four thousand Cape Breton miners at an open air meeting in Glace Bay last night. A feature of the meeting was an address by J. B. MacLachlan, who appealed for solidarity. Among other things he said, "Don't get divided. Fight to the last 'leaf of bread' and then go back to renew your strength. But don't get divided on any account."

JACKSON GRATTA FAVORED FOR RACE Frederickton, N. B., July 19.—Jackson Grattan, 201 3-4, the Houlton pacer, is an even money favorite against the field in overnight betting on the free-for-all, which features the closing day's card of the races here today.

With period in which there was some doubt as to whether he would start, Grattan, 201 3-4, and John H. Braden, 202 3-4, sold at $50 each in the pools, with Dan Hedgewood, 204 1-4, bringing $15. With Jackson Grattan in the there the Houlton people paid $100 and got little or no more than that on the other end. The other races on the card are the 216 trot and the 218 pace, with eight starters each.

KNOCKED HIM DOWN, SPED RIGHT ALONG. About 11:45 last night John Bauer, an employe of T. McAvity & Sons was knocked down by an automobile when near the gates of Fernhill in the Marsh road. The machine which struck him kept on going. His knees were scathed and his back hurt somewhat. An effort is being made to locate the driver of the automobile.

CAT GETS PIGEON AS PREY. The attacks on pigeons in the vicinity of the old court house and the police station continue. This morning about 11:30 one of the pigeons was squatted in the street near the door of the police station a cat, which claims the city water department as its home, swooped down upon it, seized it about the neck and carried it away before anything could be done. A fireman from Hook and Ladder Station No. 1 made after the cat but he was too late as the wary animal, clutching its prey, found a hole in the wall under the eaves of the building and disappeared. Men about the fire station said that every morning about five o'clock the crows create great havoc among the pigeons.

ST. JOHN MEN CHOSEN. The N. B. Ornithological Society in Fredericton yesterday elected A. C. Rockwell of St. John first vice-president, and E. Boyaner of St. John secretary-treasurer. J. A. Sharp of St. John was added to the executive.

QUEBEC MARKET

(Boston Commercial Bulletin, July 14) There are rumors of an earlier feeling in the market for dimension spruce and for some of them there is no doubt a solid foundation. It is, indeed, a fact that several easy frame orders have been placed within a few days at $48 base, and a retailer who knows just where to go can buy at that today.

The retailers are still very busy. So great is their activity that many of them are unable to keep up with the demand for lumber. The yardmen, in fact, must soon replenish their stocks to meet the calls made upon them by the many people constructing and proposing to construct homes for themselves or other people.

REPLY TO SHAREHOLDERS OF THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

Recognizes Obligation of G. T. and G. T. P. to Meet Debenture Interest When Earnings Justify - Discusses British Press Criticism.

Ottawa, July 19.—(Canadian Press.)—The reply of the Grand Trunk Pacific to the shareholders' committee on behalf of the G. T. and G. T. P. to meet the debenture interest charges when there are sufficient earnings, but does not recognize there is a claim before the Government, there being no Government guarantee. The reply observes that the authorized issue of the G. T. P. debentures was fifty million, of which there is outstanding $34,979,282.86 which the annual interest amount to $1,265,170.12.

UPWARD IN WALL STREET

Price Changes Relatively Small at Opening - Improvement in Montreal.

New York, July 19.—Price changes were relatively small at the opening of today's market but the trend seemed definitely upward. Several of the leading stocks were strong, including Atlantic Gulf, common and preferred, and Colorado Fuel. Houston Oil moved up on the strength of a report that the company had secured a contract for the sale of its oil.

OPINIONS ON THE STOCK MARKET

New York, July 19.—Price and Whitley.—Those who are holding to the idea that prices are going considerably higher should buy the Rails as there is justification for an advance in this group.

Block Maloney.—Attention has again been directed to certain rails with dividend possibilities but the moves at present are likely to be restricted to a few points and purchases should only be made on occasions when "dull."

Houseman & Co.—There is not a broad market for most issues. Trading is largely professional. Sentiment is extremely cautious but the immediate trend is in the rails and industrial stocks upward.

Fayne.—The market contains promise of a seasonal rally, and we expect to make good, these indications, as soon as any definite outlook on foreign situation can be obtained.

PRINCESS MARY AS SALESWOMAN

Annual Sale is Held at the Royal School of Needlework.

London, June 26. — (By mail.) — Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, wearing a black lace frock and hat and a black silk wrap, was present yesterday afternoon at the annual sale of the Royal School of Art Needlework, and sold goods for a considerable time at the silver table with the principal, Miss Bradshaw, and Dr. Pollock.

There was a large attendance, and as nearly everybody wanted to buy from Princess Mary, who seemed to enjoy her position as saleswoman, and was most businesslike, looking up prices and seeing that the items were entered to the right buyers, goods on the other stalls had to be requisitioned. Princess Mary herself bought several things, among them a Chinese jade mascot for her writing table, from Mrs. Max Mayer. Her own "clients" included Lady Yarborough, Lady Hobson, Lady Cooper, Lady Northcote, Lady Hambleton, Mrs. John Noble, Mrs. Nicholl, Lady Mond, and most of the stall-holders.

The Duchess of Wellington was selling beautiful examples of petit-point and cross-stitch chairbacks, chair seats and screens; Lady Eileen Stoppford and Miss Wells had embroidered blotters and little lace trays covered in glass; Lady Edward Churchill was also selling embroidered goods and had some lovely Queen Anne curtains decorating her stall; Lady Tree was selling knickknacks of many kinds, tiny embroidered boxes and quilt holders for hot tea-pot handles; Lady Deerpark was in charge of the lingerie stall, which had many new models designed at the school showing the beauty of fine embroidery on linen that was gossamer in texture; Lady Alexander was busy selling goods made from old and new embroideries; Mrs. Sterling and Mrs. Arthur Bassett were selling children's frocks. Others who were selling or buying included Lady Cecil, Lady Donington, Lady Cowley, Edith Lady Playfair, the Hon. Mrs. Henry Coventry, Lady Tritton and Miss Tritton, Lady Great Lady Herford, the Hon. Mrs. Sidney Marsham, Mrs. McGovern, Mrs. Sterling, Miss Croft, Mrs. Smithers, and Mrs. Charles King.

One of the pieces of old work which attracted a good deal of attention was a mustard-colored bedspread, said to have belonged to Queen Anne. Lady Patricia Ramsay and the Marchioness of Cambridge were present this afternoon at the second day's sale of the Royal School of Needlework. Exhibition-roads, S. W., and were personally responsible for much of the selling. There was again a large attendance, and among those buying or selling were Viscountess Deerpark, the Dowager Lady Rayleigh, the Hon. Mrs. Henry Coventry, the Countess of Hardwicke, the Countess of Yarborough, Lady Olga Montagu, the Hon. Lady Cecil, Lady Sinclair, Mrs. Raoul Fox, Lady Wells, Mrs. Arthur Bassett, and Miss Croft.

Silent Gangsters Baffle The Police

Fued Murders Often Are Unsolved Because Dying Victims Keep Own Counsel—Import Old World Fights.

(New York Times.) There had been a fight with gunplay in an east side neighborhood where such encounters are not uncommon. A fusillade had disturbed the early morning calm of the tenements. Above the sound of the shots could be heard the hoarse cries of the men and the thud of fleeing feet. Then all was quiet again. The tired tenement yawned and

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Viking, Alta.—"From the time I was 15 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. This kept me from my work (I help my parents on the farm) and usually I had to go to bed for the rest of the day. Or at times I would have to walk the floor. I suffered in this way until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very satisfactory results so far and am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends. I surely am glad I tried it for I feel like a different person now that I don't have these troubles."

DELLIA HOLMBERG, Box 58, Viking, Alta. Letters like this establish the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ill in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact. If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Oshawa, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it.

closed their eyes. It was a bad dream, a nightmare, at any rate it wasn't worth bothering about or decent cause for running. He found a man dead in the gutter and another, conscious, nearby who was gasping out his life. "Who shot you?" he asked. "Tell me who it was."

The wounded man opened his eyes and whispered weakly, "That's all right. I note tell; I get him some-time, maybe."

He was taken to the hospital, where he soon died without revealing his secret. Presently two detectives arrived and began to question the few stragglers who were standing in the street. But these were strangely ignorant of what had happened. They shrugged their shoulders and shook their heads, protesting they knew nothing of the tragedy.

It is not always easy to get at the bottom of such fights," experienced detectives say. "The belligerents seldom go to the police with their troubles, but their fights can be traced to those from alien shores, in special taking the law into their own hands. Most of their feuds are of long standing and resemble those of our Kentucky mountains, being handed down from father to son. If one could trace one of these feuds, one would discover some began years ago in remote corners of the Old World."

In the ordinary feudist murder the assassin lays in wait for his victim in concealment in a dark window or hallway. When the victim passes there is a sharp report and the aim is true that is the sorry end of the victim. But it is not always as simple as this. The victim not infrequently learns through some underground channel that his life is in danger and takes pains to protect himself. He keeps close to the house at night and avoids places where his enemies might surprise him. Some such men, if they can, employ bodyguards. The latter are, as a rule, desperate fellows, willing to risk their lives for a price. A certain man used to wear a vest of mail and never left his home without a bodyguard. At one time or another several of these protectors were shot down beside him, but he himself appeared to bear a charmed life. One night he visited a coffee house kept by his son, accompanied by his bodyguard. On arriving there he believed himself safe and dispatched his bodyguard on an errand. When his bodyguard had turned a corner several rough-dad men entered the place, extinguished the lights and shot him to death. "Several years ago there was a stable of ill-repute in a certain section of the east side. It was common report that one gang sought revenge upon another either have been killed in these gang conflicts or have been sent to prison for their crimes. Law-abiding citizens in neighborhoods infested by these criminals decreed a long time ago that the gangs should not be a menace to their communities and the police descended upon these criminal nests whenever they were unguarded. Feudist murders are by no means as common today as they were a few years ago, some detectives say. The spread of enlightenment and education into dark corners of the city has done much toward eliminating them. Most of the actors in the old criminal feuds in which one gang sought revenge upon another either have been killed in these gang conflicts or have been sent to prison for their crimes. Law-abiding citizens in neighborhoods infested by these criminals decreed a long time ago that the gangs should not be a menace to their communities and the police descended upon these criminal nests whenever they were unguarded. WHO FIRST FELT "LIKE A FIGHTING COCK"? HER BABY SUFFERED WITH SUMMER COMPLAINT

A fact most mothers face is that summer complaint with the prostration, often verging on collapse, which sometimes accompanies this disease, makes it one of the most serious and dangerous to contend with during the hot months. Thousands of infants die annually whose lives could have no doubt been saved by the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and it has been the experience of thousands of mothers during the past 78 years this valuable preparation has been on the market, that it is the safest and most effective remedy for use in all cases of looseness of the bowels. Mrs. S. Lafontaine, Great Desert, Ont., writes:—"My baby, when a year old, was suffering with summer complaint. Two doctors attended him, but nothing would stop the vomiting and diarrhoea. A friend told me to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and after the second dose the baby was better and I can say it saved my baby's life. I wouldn't be without a bottle of Dr. Fowler's in the house for untold gold." Price 50c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Leonard May Box Walker For Title

Gibbons Plans to Open Negotiations for Match After the Battle With Tender.

New York, July 19.—Confident of retaining his title against Law Tender, Philadelphia's southpaw challenger, when they clash next Monday night at the Yankee Stadium, Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, has instructed his manager, Billy Gibson, to undertake negotiations for a world's welterweight championship bout against Mickey Walker, Elizabeth successor to Jack Britton. Gibson, returning from a trip to Leonard's training camp at Tannersville, N. Y., made the statement: "Benny is eager to tackle Walker and is confident he can gain the welterweight title." said Gibson. "He is in great shape for the Tender scrap. The workouts up in Tannersville have done him a world of good. Right now Benny is in better shape than he enjoyed the last time he boxed Tender. He has been training for nearly a month and will be ready for the fight of his life Monday night. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if he stopped Tender inside of twelve rounds. He will make the 135-pound limit without hurting himself. After the Tender battle I intend to seek a match for Benny against Walker. I have plenty of offers for Benny's services, but I will delay action on these offers until I find out Walker's attitude toward a match with my champion."

Sues Wife's Mother As Home-Wrecker

V. C. Randolph of Colorado Springs Asks for $100,000 Damages—Husband Formerly Practiced Law in Detroit.

Colorado Springs, July 19.—Sensational charges are made in a suit for $100,000 damages for alienation of his wife's affections brought by Vernon C. Randolph of Colorado Springs against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Reed of Louisville, Ky. The case will be heard by Judge Corfirth in the El Paso District Court here. The complaint charges Mrs. Reed with unlawful and malicious interference with the marital affections of Mr. Randolph and his wife, Josephine Reed Randolph. Mrs. Reed is charged with the possession of a strong will and a dominating disposition. Ever since the marriage of her daughter she is said to have exerted her power over Mrs. Randolph in everything pertaining to her marital duties and relations. She is alleged to have "misrepresented, condemned and depreciated" her son-in-law to his wife while the couple lived in Louisville and to have brought about a final separation on July 8. The Randolphs were married in Louisville Feb. 9, 1922. They met first in Michigan ten years ago. Mr. Randolph is a graduate of Yale and of the Law School of the University of Michigan. training at Tannersville for the next five days, which is part of his campaign to reduce to the lightweight limit. Next Sunday morning the champion plans to return to this city. On the day of the bout Leonard's only exercise will be a jog through Central Park, according to present plans.

From the training camp of Tender at Delanco, N. J., comes the information that the challenger is rapidly whipping himself into fighting shape. The Quaker City lightweight, according to the reports received here, is hitting harder and more accurately than ever, and is faster on his feet and with his hands. Tender's daily program is equivalent to fifteen rounds under a plan he has followed since he entered upon strenuous work. Tender intends to continue hard training until Thursday, when the challenger expects to start the tapering off process. The bout continues to attract un-

DRECO RELIEVED HIS RHEUMATISM

Railroadman Gets First Relief in Ten Years—Now Enjoys Work, Free From Agonies of Rheumatism—Gives All Credit to Dreco.

Mr. Costley, of Fairville, N. B., a railroad fireman of several years' standing, suffered untold agonies from rheumatism of the joints and muscles and many a time he has dropped, almost exhausted, from his cab at the end of a hard run. Grit and determination alone kept him going until his fortunate discovery of Dreco, two bottles of which have driven the excruciating pains from his system and brought him the carefree happiness of a coal. "I strongly recommend Dreco to anyone suffering from rheumatism. Finally I tried Dreco. Now my pains are gone and I feel fine and frisky as a kid. It is a good thing I found Dreco. I know what it did for me."

Dreco is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King street. It is also sold by Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward street, and F. W. MARSHAL POUCH'S NEAT REPLY (From the Yorkshire Post.) While on his recent visit to the United States Marshal Pouch made a witty reply to a man who when one of the guests at a dinner party in Dewar given by a party of Americans, told him, "There is nothing in it but whisky," he said, with questionable taste, "Neither is there anything but wind in a pneumatic tire," retorted the glib Marshal, "yet it eases the joints along life's highway wonderfully."
