FORTY MILE GALE SWEEPS PROVINCE Temperature Takes Sudden Drop During Night, Bringing Back Winter Weather—Reports Indicate Weather Change Common to All Eastern Canada

A CHANGE from the spring-like weather of the last few weeks to a biting wind with the mercury traveling downward to zero, greeted the citizens of St. John this morning.

At 10 o'clock last night the mercury stood at 38 above and at 8 o'clock this morning it was down to 14 above. From that hour it started up and at 1:30 this afternoon had climbed to 20 above.

The wind was responsible for several interruptions to the electric light and power services, several times during the evening the wind blew the main wires of the hydro lines in the valley together and this resulted in momentary interruptions over the city.

The steamship Empress arrived in port at 11:45 this morning in a badly crippled condition after the roughest trip experienced in years.

It looked serious at first for the safety of the boat, but the former stevedore and Capt. McDonald was able to lay to for about an hour.

The storm did very little damage to the local waterfront. The long dredge Leonard at East St. John remained tied up at her berth instead of carrying on dredging operations.

The wind partially tore away the supports of an electric sign over the Royal Pharmacy in King street. The sign was blown down and the large concrete base was broken.

Damage in Fredericton. Fredericton was swept by one of the wildest storms of the season last night. At the exhibition grounds, the large concrete building used for the purposes of the automobile and poultry shows, was badly wrecked.

Long distance telephone service suffered heavily. The St. John connection went early and this morning the N. B. Telephone Company's men were fastened securely until permanent work could be done.

DEATH & CLAIMS
ELISHA COSMAN
OF ELLIOTT ROW

Formerly Was Hotel Proprietor in King Square Section.

WAS MEMBER OF LOYALIST FAMILY

Took Active Part in Work of Reformed Baptist Church.

The death of Elisha Cosman took place at an early hour this morning at his residence, Wentworth Hall, 45 Elliott Row. Mr. Cosman, who had been in failing health since Christmas, was a well-known resident of the city and for some time conducted an hotel in King square. He leaves one son, Dr. E. O. Cosman, of Minneapolis, Minn., and one daughter, Mrs. E. N. Davis, of this city; also one grandson, Dr. E. Cosman Dwyer, of the British Royal Navy, who is now on his way to a flotilla of destroyers in the Mediterranean; also a granddaughter, Mrs. H. S. Wanamaker, of this city.

Of Loyalist Family.

Mr. Cosman was the last of 13 children of James Cosman and Betsy Ann Goding. Loyalist. He used to tell his friends about the early days of St. John as related by his mother—days when King Square was merely a swamp and before Sydney Beach had mapped out the town. The Cosmans and the Godings were both of the original settlers and in this union two families identified with the beginning of the Maritimes a widespread circle of kinship was begun. The Cosman and Goding families of Kings and Queens counties are of this stock, with many families in St. John at present.

Hotel Keeper For Years.

Only one of the remarkable family of 13 years lived to an older age than Elisha Cosman, that was Peter of Midland, Kings county. All, however, lived to ripe ages. Mr. Cosman married Dianama O. Sharp, of Midland, and with their two children came to this city in 1869. He entered into hotel-keeping, and was for years proprietor of the Ottawa Hotel, King Square. Along with his enterprise Mr. Cosman conducted a commission business in country produce in the market. He was a citizen of the highest integrity and his wide acquaintance respected him for it.

Mr. Cosman retired from the active hotel business in 1901 and gradually relinquished hold upon mercantile work as his years accumulated. Christmas day last was his final visit out doors, that to take dinner with his daughter, grandchildren and great-grandchildren in the home of Hartley S. Wanamaker, Elliott Row. Mrs. Cosman died five years ago.

Prominent Reformed Baptist.

In the Reformed Baptist church he was a prominent figure. He was a man of deep religious conviction and led the full power of his exemplary life to that denomination, where he was a revered member.

Saturday the remains of Mr. Cosman will be removed to Midland for interment, following service at H. S. Wanamaker's home, Elliott Row, beginning at 12 o'clock.

A telegram from Dr. E. O. Cosman, of Minneapolis, Minn., son of the deceased, states the doctor cannot possibly arrive in time for his father's funeral services, so has been forced to forego the trip east.

WORK IS BEGUN.

Commissioner Frink said this morning that ground had been broken by the contractor for the new city stables in the Routhway avenue, and work on the structure would now be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

PEARLS ARE FOUND IN SEWER IN PARIS

Cleaners Bring up Valuable Necklace Stolen Fifteen Days Ago.

PARIS, Feb. 27.—A group of French lads were watching the cleaning operations of a sewer in Avenue Alphonse when they saw a cluster of glistening little balls. They snatched it up, tugging at it, and a string of pearls was revealed. Detectives at headquarters recognized the pearls as the property of Princess de Broglie. Her residence in the street where the pearls were found, was robbed 15 days previous and several articles of jewelry stolen. One cluster of diamonds was found under a rug in the hallway, and a pendant was picked up in the garden. With the recovery of the pearls only one article, a diamond ring, remains missing.

The theory of the police is that the robbers were surprised in their work and frightened away, felt they were about to be captured and got rid of the jewels as best they could to remove the evidence.

The Montmain Engineers' Club regret not being able to hold their usual dance, owing to the death of Sir Thomas Fisher, but intend having their farewell fancy dress dance in the near future.

GIVE THE CHILD MORE AIRINGS

Baby will go to sleep easier and save her crying for the morning hours if taken out oftener into the air and sunshine.

Infants that don't thrive any too well pick right up when wheeled about more outdoors. Others that seem to cry at the least trifle and take extra managing turn over new leaves when given the fresh air treatment.

Trot your little lump out around and you'll see those baby eyes trying their hardest to keep open and take notice. They thus work up a healthy, peaceful fatigue and go right off to sleep without a murmur. That peaceful doze becomes a habit and a blessing.

The spring showing of Baby Carriages at J. Marcus Ltd. is a whopper. A regular fashion parade. Walk by the middle window and see.

THE COUNTRY WAITS.

Not only the Maritime Provinces but the country at large which is backing the demands of the Maritimes for a chance to live on equality with the other provinces of Confederation, are waiting now—and they do not expect to wait too long—for parliamentary action which will satisfy the strong and convincing representations made at Ottawa yesterday by a delegation which evidently made a profound impression upon all those in whose hands the remedy lies.

The Maritime case was presented as never before. Its national character and the support it receives from the other provinces were forcibly shown. The whole movement, its scope and its purpose and the depth of the sentiment underlying it, were brought out with striking clarity and power. The movement, begun by The Telegraph-Journal and The Times-Star and taken up so quickly and so strongly in other quarters, has in this way accomplished a work of wonderful value and is amply justified in the eyes of the great majority which has given it support.

The delegation spoke not only to Parliament but to all Canada, and manifestly it was made clear that this is in every sense a Canadian question and that wrapped up in it there are grave possibilities concerning the future of the Dominion. It was made abundantly plain that the right action will give the country hope and confidence, whereas failure will surely result in increasing dissatisfaction from which grave consequences might flow.

The delegation went to Ottawa in no carping or threatening spirit, yet its motto to point out that while there is no actively organized movement for separation at this day, a continuation of present inequalities and injustices might well fan into a dangerous blaze currents of opinion which satisfactory action by Parliament might modify and check to the good of the whole country.

At the very time when the delegation was presenting its case, the Montreal Star pointed out editorially that if the Maritime Provinces, or any part of Canada, should be driven into serious consideration of separation from the Dominion, the result would be "to drive the trade of Canada into the north and south channels of transportation which are always open invitingly. It would mean either the disintegration or the absorption of a mutilated Canada. It would strike a blow at the heart of the Empire."

The Maritimes do not want to divide Canada. They are intensely anxious to unify it, and to add to its greatness and its prosperity. But they submit, firmly, that the provinces must march together, sharing equally the benefits of Confederation and of continued association, that there must be a well-rounded development, failing which there must arise a situation fraught with danger to the whole structure.

FIVE THOUSAND.

If Dr. Charles E. Saunders, formerly Dominion cerealist, were to receive from the public treasury a sum of money, or a pension, fairly remunerating him for the immense attention to the material wealth of this country for which he is responsible, the sum would be staggering. Indeed, as the gain is constant and permanent, it is beyond all reckoning. The Dominion Government, somewhat late in the day, has in some sense recognized Dr. Saunders' wonderful services by giving him an annual pension of $5,000, and as he is a man of modest life that will no doubt suffice.

Yet more and more Canadians should know definitely concerning what he did for Canada, and his work should continue to be an inspiration to others. Throughout the West for a long time past agricultural bodies have been passing resolutions calling upon the Government to reward the cerealist, and they have pointed out, rightly, that in many other lands a man who had done so much for his country would have received high distinction coupled with a large grant from the public treasury. Dr. Saunders, after many years of quiet and patient work, gave Canada a wheat meeting the two prime requirements of the West, a grain that ripens five or six days earlier than the famous Red Fife, and yet having the milling qualities which gave "Manitoba No. 1" a world-wide reputation. Not only does this new wheat have these two priceless qualities, but the yield is heavier than that of any formerly grown. It is estimated that Dr. Saunders added at least two bushels an acre to the average crop in the West.

This is Marquis wheat. The Canadian West, which had some 20,000,000 acres in wheat in 1924, sowed Marquis almost exclusively. The Manitoba Free Press says that "if the value of one bushel for every acre of the wheat seeded, at the top price of the market, had been paid to Dr. Charles E. Saunders, it would have been none too high a reward for the services he rendered in developing this wheat, and Marquis wheat is only one of the many good things he developed for Canada during his tenure of the office of Dominion cerealist, though it is as the originator of Marquis that he is most widely known and will be longest remembered. Every true citizen of Canada will rejoice that at last a measure of justice has been done to this truly great Canadian."

SIR JOHN'S LETTERS.

Sir Joseph Pope, who is retiring from the position of Under Secretary of State after nearly fifty years in the public service of Canada, is the subject of many pleasant references in the Canadian newspapers. Perhaps the most interesting period of his life was that between 1892 and 1891, when he was acting as private secretary to Sir John Macdonald. It is pointed out by the London Free Press that Sir John lived in the days when letter writing was in great art, that he wrote thousands of letters, and received thousands in return. It was his habit to keep everything of that sort, and it was found after his death that there were many boxes of letters and documents, many of them of the greatest public interest.

Sir Joseph Pope, during his leisure time, has been gradually examining this treasure house for a good many years. Only a year ago he published a new volume of the correspondence of Sir John, a work which was both valuable and interesting, and which threw a good deal of new light upon the life of the great statesman and upon Canadian history as well. In the opinion of the London Free Press these letters reveal Sir John as an even greater man and a broader statesman than Canadians had believed, high as they had already ranked him. The Free Press says, in speaking of Sir Joseph Pope's retirement: "Now that Sir Joseph is retiring from active work, he can do a service for students of Canadian political history if he can edit for publication further correspondence and documents on the life of the great Canadian statesman."

This is a line of work which would be bound to meet with public appreciation, and what he has already done clearly indicates that Sir Joseph is the man for the task, which with him will be in a very marked degree a labor of love.

Interest in local politics is stimulated somewhat by the announcement, or the prediction, that Hon. Dr. Baxter is to lead the Provincial opposition forces, and will take up that task when a provincial convention has been held, after the present session of parliament comes to an end.

This is Paardeberg Day. Twenty-five years ago the Canadians played their great part in the victory which ended with the surrender of Cronje and his Boer forces. Although that seems a long way back, and although the Boer war dwindles by comparison with the conflict which shook the world for four years, there are in Canada many still stalwart and active men who answered the call of duty when the trouble in South Africa arose, and who gave high proofs of courage and of patriotism. That was the first time in which a military force raised in this country and commanded by Canadian officers fought alongside the veteran regulars of the British army in defence of the Empire. The service rendered by the Canadians in that campaign reflected high credit upon them and upon their country.

The Premier of New Brunswick has been taking up with the Dominion Government the question of the Valley Railway, once more urging that it be taken over and incorporated in the Canadian National Railways. In view of the absorption of the Western railways by the Dominion, the New Brunswick request is reasonable. In considering a larger use of the Valley line by the C. N. R., particularly the proper employment of the McGivney connection, it would be well for the Dominion Government to consider how the interests of the Valley road, and of New Brunswick generally, would be affected by the proposed Kingsclear-Vancouver branch. New Brunswick, which paid its share of the cost of purchasing the Western railways, should be relieved of the bonds by which the Valley line was built, just as the other provinces were relieved of the bonds they guaranteed in connection with the lines taken over by the federal government.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."

Jacques Cartier. (By Thomas D'Arcy McGee.) In the seaport of Saint Malo, 'twas a smiling morn in May, When the Commodore Jacques Cartier to the westward sailed away; In the crowded old cathedral all the town were on their knees, For the safe return of kinsmen from the undriven seas; And every autumn blast that swept o'er pinnace and pier, Filled many hearts with sorrow and gentle hearts with fear.

A year passed o'er Saint Malo—again came round the day, When Commodore Jacques Cartier to the westward sailed away; But no tidings from the absent had come, the way they went, And tearful were the vigils that many a maiden spent; And many hearts were filled with gloom, and gentle hearts with fear, But no tidings came from Cartier at the closing of the year.

But the earth is as the future, it hath its hidden side, And the Captain of Saint Malo was rejoicing in his pride; In the forests of the north—while his townsmen mourned his loss, He was rearing on Mount Royal the fleur-de-lis and cross; And when two months were over and added to the year, Saint Malo hailed him home again, cheer answering to cheer.

He told them of a region, hard, iron bound and cold, Nor seas of pearl abounded, nor mines of shining gold; Where the wind from Thule freezes the wind upon the lip, And the ice in spring comes sailing almost the early ship; He told them of the frozen sea until they thrilled with fear, And piled fresh fuel on the hearth to make him better cheer.

But when he changed the strain—he told how soon he'd seen the land, and the forest of the feters that hold the waters fast. How the winter causeway, broken, is drifted out to sea, And the rills and rivers sing with pride the anthem of the free; How the magic wand of summer clad the landscape to his eyes, Like the dry bones of the just, when they walk in Paradise.

He told them of the Algonquin braves—the hunters of the wild, Of how the Indian mother in the forest rocks her child; Of how, in the soul's fancy, in a spirit good or evil, that claims their worshipping; Of how they brought their sick, and made a forest for him to breathe upon. And of the wonders wrought for them through the Gospel of St. John.

He told them of the river whose mighty current gave Its freshness for a hundred leagues to ocean's briny wave; He told them of the glorious scene presented to his sight, What time he reared the cross and crown on Hochelaga's height. And of the fortress cliff that keeps of Canada the key, And they welcomed back Jacques Cartier from his perils o'er the sea.

They Run Together. (Winnipeg Free Press.) Farmers in Alberta are in doubt as to whether they should mix their corn organizations with politics. Of course, it would be much easier to prevent this if economics and politics could be locked into watertight compartments and kept from running into each other.

The Evolution of Slang. (Edmonton Journal.) In John Galsworthy's latest novel, "The White Monkey," which has made a large sale in Canada as elsewhere, Soames Forsyte asks his son-in-law what is the meaning of the expression "get one's goat." The boy's man replies that it was in use before his time, but he undertakes to explain it. How slang changes from generation to generation is the subject of a readable article in an American newspaper which furnishes a list of expressions which were familiar to present day grandparents in their youth and of those of a similar meaning used in turn by their children and grandchildren. We are informed, for instance, that what grandmother knew as "hot-air" mother called "poodling," while the contemporary flapper speaks of "apple-sauce." A "wall-flower" of two generations ago has become in turn a "dead-one" and a "fat tree." The person who was successively a "heart-breaker" and a "lady-killer" is now a "sheik." The mid-Victorian youth spoke of giving a person "the laugh." Later it was the "merry hi-ho" that was given and now it is "rasberries." "Four-flusher" gave place to "sponge" and then to "lounge lizard." "Poor sport" evolved into "tight-wad" and "cheap skate."

A whole page is devoted to the subject and these are but a few of the examples taken at random. Many of us, on perusing the article, and noting the expressions which are said to be in common use nowadays and with which we are quite unfamiliar, must feel that we are honestly behind the times as Mr. Forsyte.

The Little Fir-Tree. (Jan Struther in Westminster Gazette.) There are a thousand children on the hill, Slender, green-limbed, in strength and beauty growing; They toss their heads and talk, as children will.

And many a night and day, Sleeping and curled and still, the children lay Within their mother, the brown and splendid earth.

One says: "My father was a gallant tree; He gave his life for Man When the great War began. For then they slew the fir-trees one and all, And the whole air was thunderous with their fall.

A Poor Financier. He—"We'll have to give up our intended Florida trip. My funds in the bank are too low." She—"Oh, John, why don't you keep your account in a bank that has plenty of money?"

Pat and Mick were trying their new door lock. Mick stayed inside the house and Pat outside. After a good rattling at the door Pat shouted, "Mick! let me in." "Well, let me out," shouted Pat, "and I'll open it for you."

Not His Trade. Patient—"I'm rather hard up, doctor. Would you be willing to take out your bill in trade?" Doctor—"Yes, it might be arranged. What is your business?" Patient—"I'm a cornet player."—London Passing Show.

"Who was the first man, Bobby?" asked the teacher. "George Washington," answered the young student promptly. "Why, no, Bobby. You ought to know better than that. It was Adam."

"Oh, well," said Bobby, determined to prove himself right, "I wasn't counting foreigners." Mr. Stocks (slumming on the East Side): "Well, well, poor boy; so your father is dead. How did he die?" Urchin—"Aw, he strangled to death. He was stutin' in a lunch room eatin' some horse meat when some guy yelled 'Whoa,' and the stuff stopped in his throat."

Modern Service. "We get things done quicker these days," remarked the thoughtful guy. "Yes," replied the boob, "you don't even have to wait until the next morning to get your headache after drinking our up-to-date brand of liquor."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mail Car Fire Gives Postal Officials Puzzles To Solve

Postmaster Alexander Thompson is having considerable difficulty in finding owners for the partially consumed mail matter burned en route from Montreal to St. John a few days ago. He is giving this matter his personal attention and little by little addresses of the charred envelopes are being deciphered. Owners are either being communicated with or furnished with the damaged mail matter.

Harder Than Crosswords. Some of the letters are almost whole though bearing charred marks and water-stains. Other pieces are more than half consumed and it is with these with their partial addresses the postal people of struggling. They beat the crossword puzzle idea all hollow, says the Postmaster. Cheques for one of the Government departments had the ends burned off but the bank has honored them just the same, under the circumstances. A family in Sussex received a remittance in American paper money more than half destroyed by fire but sufficient of the currency was left to make restitution possible. The address on the envelope was deciphered through personal acquaintanceship with the people who were to receive the matter. In fact the postmaster is using his own wide acquaintanceship to very good account in hitting upon clues to the names and addresses of people to whom the damaged mail was addressed.

Asking For Duplicates. Local concerns who have been receiving letters, money conveyances and other mail matter from the burned bugs, are wiring to the senders for duplicate copies.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—It is understood here that Foreign Secretary Chamberlain, shortly before Ambassador Kellogg returned to the United States, impressed upon the Ambassador the advisability of joint Anglo-American action in China.

INDEPENDENT BILL READ SECOND TIME

Motion to Establish Equality of Sexes in Cases of Divorce Heard.

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—The first recorded vote of the session came tonight when a bill sponsored by J. T. Shaw, Opposition member for West Calgary, to establish equality between husband and wife insofar as grounds for divorce are concerned, received second reading by a majority of 46.

The Prime Minister and leaders of the Opposition and the Progressive party united in support of the bill, which had the approval of the great majority of members of the Conservative and Progressive parties. Opposition came chiefly from a portion of the Liberal party.

$21,319,300 FOR AIR ESTIMATES VOTED

Secretary Declares System Will Make Enemies Hesitate in Attacking.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The House of Commons tonight passed the air estimates presented by Sir Samuel Hoare, Air Secretary, and involving an expenditure of £21,319,300.

The secretary declared that a system of air defense would probably be established so as to make the risk of attacking Great Britain a very serious consideration in the mind of any country.

Premier Baldwin, speaking later, said the Foreign Office estimates would come up for debate March 5, when, if the question of disarmament was raised, Mr. Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary, would give all information possible.

QUEBEC DEFERS ACTION ON N. B. HYDRO-ELECTRIC BILL

Member of Bills Committee Wants to Consult Residents of Parishes Where N. B. Would Put Dams

MICHAUD TELLS GRAND FALLS PLAN

Describes Project to Use Natural Reservoirs in Sister Province in Drainage Basin of St. Francis and Madawaska Rivers to Store Water for Plant in New Brunswick

QUEBEC, Feb. 26—Consideration of the bill which would permit the Government of New Brunswick to carry out the work in the province of Quebec necessary to the development for hydro-electric power of Grand Falls on St. John River, was adjourned today by the private bills committee of the Quebec House of Assembly until next week.

The bill would incorporate Premier P. J. Veniot of New Brunswick, Hon. Dr. Ernest Smith, president of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, and Hon. J. E. Michaud, minister without portfolio in the New Brunswick Government, and members of the commission, into a company to do the work in Quebec. Hon. Mr. Michaud sat with the committee and explained the objects of the bill.

New Brunswick, through its commission, is developing at Grand Falls, a waterpower development, and to that end it is necessary that storage reservoirs be created in some of the lakes and rivers tributary to the drainage basin of the St. John River. To be Expropriated.

These reservoirs in Quebec would be constructed in Kamouraska, Temiscouata and Rimouski counties under the ordinary provisions as to expropriations applying to private companies. The dams would be built on Lake Temiscouata, on the Madawaska and its tributaries.

Jules Langlais, Conservative M. L. A. for Temiscouata, said that since New Brunswick was going to worry the farmers of five parishes in his county the New Brunswick authorities should furnish the five parishes in question with power. He was asked to prepare an amendment, but laughingly said that he first wanted to know if the parishes in question wanted to get the power for nothing before he drafted the amendment, and, therefore, suggested adjournment of the bill until next week. This was agreed.

Total Head of 115 Feet. Hon. Mr. Michaud, in explaining the New Brunswick project, said that the only feasible site for power development was at Grand Falls, at which point there was a sheer drop of 74 feet, supplemented by rapids which make available a total natural head of over 115 feet.

The power to be developed at this site would be delivered by the agency of a high voltage transmission system to all settled sections of New Brunswick, and it was anticipated that not only would the entire population benefit thereby through the supply of electrical energy for light and domestic services, but that the energy thus made available would stimulate industrial development through the province.

Storage Necessary. St. John River was subject to very large variations in the rate of flow, the minimum flow near Grand Falls being about eight hundred cubic feet per second, while the maximum flow was 135,000 cubic feet per second; consequently, any scheme for the development of power on the river on a scale commensurate with its natural possibilities, would require adequate storage in the upper reaches and the river as its tributaries.

The watershed above Grand Falls amounted to 8,700 square miles, of which 4,420 miles was in Maine, 2,830 square miles in Quebec and 1,450 square miles in New Brunswick; therefore, the friendly co-operation of Quebec and the State of Maine was needed.

Dam Across Boundary.

Hon. Mr. Michaud added: "The most important natural reservoirs in the Province of Quebec which may be used to advantage in connection with the Grand Falls project, lie in the drainage basin of the St. Francis and the Madawaska Rivers.

"The St. Francis River in its lower courses forms the boundary between Maine and New Brunswick, and the upper reaches of this river form the boundary between Maine and Quebec. It is proposed to develop the storage capacity of this basin by the agency of a dam, to be constructed across the international boundary between the State of Maine and the Province of New Brunswick.

"This dam will have the effect of creating a backwater condition above the inter-provincial boundary between New Brunswick and Quebec.

"No head is available in the Province of Quebec for development of power on this section of the river.

Madawaska River.

"The Madawaska River in its lower courses, lies within the Province of New Brunswick.

"The river crosses the inter-provincial boundary at a point about 14 miles above the confluence of the Madawaska and St. John Rivers.

"The upper reach of the river within the Province of Quebec drains Lake Temiscouata and a number of smaller lakes within the drainage basin.

"The commission proposes to maintain the level of Lakes Temiscouata at a height somewhat below the present high water mark, and by this means to afford storage which may be drawn upon as required to supplement the natural flow of the St. John River.

"For the whole length of the Madawaska River below Lake Temiscouata, there is a fall of only twenty feet and this river cannot be adapted to the development of power within the boundary of the Province of Quebec.

Under Control of Quebec.

"Some of the small lakes in the upper portions of the basin are capable of furnishing storage as auxiliaries to the principal reservoir to be developed in

These trying conditions may be easily overcome and such symptoms controlled by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will interest women to know that in a recent canvass among over one hundred and twenty-one thousand women, ninety-eight out of every hundred reported benefit from its use.

GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Feb. 27.—A grasshopper plague similar to the famous invasion of Kansas in its early history is reported in the northern part of New South Wales. One farmer said the grasshoppers were so thick he couldn't ride through them without cracking his long stock whip continually. Over a large area not a blade of herbage escaped a weed known as lawnine remained.

Since this commission does not propose the development of power outside the limits of the province of New Brunswick, all such sites will be under the control and management of the Government of the Province of Quebec.

MRS. REDBREAST'S ALARM CLOCK.
Mister Peg Leg, the fairy pedler, Mrs. Robin. "If he wore ear muffs, knocked on Mister Robin Redbreast's door, or rather he shook it, for it was only a twig of green leaves. Mrs. Redbreast chirped out, "Come in," and so in walked Mister Peg Leg, followed by Nancy and Nick, his companions.
"Their magic shoes were most useful, not only in climbing trees, but also in making them small enough to call on their tiny friends such as Mrs. Robin Redbreast, without alarming her."
"Please excuse me for not getting up," said Mrs. Redbreast. "But I have the hunting worms. Have a chair, please."
The visitors sat down and Mister Peg Leg started to open his pack. "Would you like to buy something?" he asked.
"What do you have?" asked Mrs. Redbreast politely.
"Everything from cough drops to overshoes," said the little pedler man.
"My, my!" exclaimed Mrs. Redbreast. "I never need cough-drops, Mister Pedler, and as for overshoes, why, I don't need them, either. Robins love to go where it is damp."
"Could you use nice soup-spoons or pickle-forks?" asked Mister Peg Leg.
"I'm afraid not," said Mrs. Redbreast. "But, I'll tell you something, Robin's birthday is coming and I was just wondering what I could give him."
"Would he like a nice pair of ear muffs?" suggested Mister Peg Leg. "It often snows even as late as this and it would save him the trouble of tucking his head under his wing," exclaimed "That wouldn't do at all!" exclaimed

UNCOOKED VEGETABLES.

PUTTING soda in the water to help soften cabbage, string beans or other vegetables in cooking is a bad practice, Mrs. Mann learned.
One of the most valuable food elements in vegetables is vitamins, and these vitamins are more readily destroyed in an alkaline medium, such as is produced by soda. Cooking destroys so much of the best in many foods that it is well to eat some uncooked food every day.
In addition to green leaf vegetables, such as lettuce, young carrots may be grated and served with dressing as a salad.
This is but one suggestion. A resourceful housewife will be able to prepare many dishes from uncooked vegetables.
Vegetables should be cooked with the skins on as much as possible, and the skins eaten when convenient. The skins of baked potatoes are useful in helping to overcome constipation.
Water in which vegetables are cooked should never be thrown away. It contains much food material and health-giving quality. Save it for soups and gravies.

MAKES PLEA FOR HANDICRAFTS IN THIS PROVINCE

Miss Louise Wetmore Gives
Lecture in N. H. S.
Course

SAYS "FANCY WORK" IS TIME KILLER

Interested Audience Hears
Talk on Utility of Work.

Miss Louise Wetmore, of Clifton, whose work for handicrafts in this part of New Brunswick is well known, in the course of her lecture on handicrafts under the auspices of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society yesterday afternoon, made a plea for those who had knowledge of the arts to help those who had not that knowledge in the task of reviving home crafts throughout the province. She declared that "fancy work" was a time-killing occupation, was utterly demoralizing and that the true object of handicrafts should be making useful things beautiful. She spoke of the wonderful heritage of New Brunswick people in beauty of country and in the handicrafts of those of other days, making her plea for the handicrafts of today to be true art, that is the natural utterance of the present time and of our own country.

New Interest to Homes.
She referred to the remarkably far-reaching good which Miss Helen Mowat had achieved in the Charlotte County Cottage Crafts which had brought new interest to many homes and had developed a distinctive type of hand work.

Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, president, was in the chair and in introducing Miss Wetmore paid a warm tribute to her work for the people of this province.

Mrs. Richard Hooper voiced the deep appreciation of her audience to Miss Wetmore, and told of her own efforts in developing home crafts through the Women's Institute in St. John.

Mrs. Hooper spoke of difficulties experienced in obtaining the desired materials for making a blue and white linen counterpane and then related how the manufacture of chamois leather gloves had been started successfully.

Examples of Work.
Miss Wetmore illustrated her lecture by means of a number of fine examples of handicrafts in quilts, rugs, lace, weaving, embroidery, cross-stitch work, bead work and jute work. Some of the pieces of work were as much as 100 years old and some were of quite modern make.

Miss Wetmore spoke of the lack of appreciation of the fact that beauty in surroundings is an asset and told of the efforts being made in many countries to raise the standards of public taste. In this connection she mentioned the work of the Handicraft Guild in Montreal and urged that those of foreign birth should be encouraged to continue the craftsmanship of their native land in Canada, their new home. She spoke briefly of the importance of color and of the effect of color upon people, saying that people of today had become hardened to color feeling through being faced with the screaming colors too much and she spoke of the vivid colors of billboards and of shop window displays particularly.

Samplers.
When speaking of the samplers which she was exhibiting, Miss Wetmore pointed out that these also were useful things made beautiful as the samplers were not made for framing and hanging on the wall but were to be the backing of articles for the girl who made them. In the days of samplers, Miss Wetmore said, there were no embroidery books to be had for a small sum at the nearest store, and the samplers were to serve as a guide in later years for the marking of household linens. When dis-

Clinton Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kennedy, Miss Eleanor Smith, Mr. George Smith, Miss Janie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. David Franke, Mr. Ernest Everett, Mr. Thomas Donahoe, Miss Donahoe, Mr. John Duncan, Mr. Roscoe Vincent, Mr. Frank King, Miss Nettie Garrick, Miss Hattie Withers, Miss Violet Salunwhite and Mrs. Catherine Haley.

Mrs. Roland H. L. Skinner, who was obliged to undergo an operation at the playing quilted and woven bed coverings, she gave some of the quaint names of patterns such as "dove-in-the-window," "rocky glen," "chariot wheel," and "monk's bell," and while showing examples of coarse linen cloth made from New Brunswick flax, she said that experiments were being made to see whether the linens might not be made from flax grown on this continent. Her plea for an interest in handicrafts in the Maritimes, she thought, might well be part of the present movement to bring the Maritimes to the fore.

CITY YOUNG WOMEN MODELS AT REVUE

Demonstration of Women's Wear is Made on Pythian Castle Stage.

Local young women participated in the interesting demonstration put on last evening in the Pythian Castle, when a revue was staged of special concern to women. Mrs. Charles Harrison Gibbons, of Toronto, conducted the display, with Mrs. P. H. Pierce, as model for her demonstration of co-ordinating and similar wear for ladies. Local firms took the opportunity to show various dainty lingerie, which is to be worn this season by the fastidious women of St. John.

The new complete step-in corset, made up in black with rich satin top, was shown as a great boon to stout women and many modes were produced in pink and white that will adapt themselves or mold the forms of women who are not in the slim class.

For tiny misses or young women, there was a bewitching display of brassieres that resembled lace handkerchiefs, with ribbons attached and altogether fascinating. For the bridal array were shown dainty corsets that had frills of finest Valenciennes at the bottom and dainty ribbons at the top. Silk undies of every description were also shown by the St. John firms entering the show. There was a good audience of women only.

Pretty Setting.

The revue was made more effective by the pretty setting on the stage, which was arranged to resemble a richly furnished lady's boudoir with flowers and lovely cushions giving a cosy atmosphere. Music was played on the piano and enhanced the charm of the scene, as the models walked about the stage. Mrs. Gibbons gave a short talk on healthful mode of arranging the garments she exhibited with many hints on matters that produce healthful conditions, along with the good lines necessary for feminine charm.

Mrs. Gibbons received a bouquet of red roses from the class she has taught here.

SAYS DIVERSION OF WATER IS ILLEGAL

T. L. Church, M. P., Raps Canadian Procedure in Drainage Issue.

Canadian Press Despatch. OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—T. L. Church, Conservative, North Toronto, proposed a resolution in the House of Commons tonight that the Government should take some definite and immediate steps to prevent illegal diversion of the waters of the Great Lakes through Chicago drainage canal. "You have a treaty," he stated, "and there is a way to enforce a treaty. There should be some relief from this disgraceful state of affairs."

Detroit and other cities on the Great Lakes were all in league against Chicago's illegal action, he said. Mr. Church said he would like to know what action had been taken in calling upon the British Government to protect Canada's interests, and what steps had been taken by the British ambassador, if any, and who had appointed individuals to represent Canada at hearing in the United States. Canada had adhered to the letter of the treaty in every respect. Government Replies. Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, declared that Canada's stand was that Chicago was not entitled to one foot of this diversion. All official communication from the Canadian Government to the United States had passed through the hands of the British Ambassador. "So," he stated, "We have been using British channels in protesting this illegal diversion."

ILLUSTRATED ANGLES ON PEOPLE AND EVENTS IN WORLD NEWS

WHERE FIFTY-ONE MINERS LOST LIVES

Here is a closeup view of the City Coal Mine, near Sullivan, Ind., where 51 miners lost their lives in a gas explosion. A large crowd gathered nearers waiting word of their loved ones. At the right can be seen mothers and daughters of the ill-fated min went into the workings in an effort to rescue miners trapped by the explosion. Ambulances are drawn up before the shaft waiting to carry away the dead and injured.

WARMING UP TO THE RACE

Harry Beauvais, driver of the Chateau Frontenac dog team, who handled the La Porte Martin team in the Eastern International Dog Sled Derby, is enjoying a "preliminary carter" as he makes his way to the starting point. This team made a good showing but the heavy weather prevailing at Quebec at the time gave advantage to the husky breed, the honors going to St. Goddard and the Franquelin Pulp team with the famous "Yukon" at lead.

BARONESS "HIDES" ON STAGE

Hunt for Baronesse Meyendorff, Continental beauty, ended when the searchers attended a theatre. There, on the stage, they saw the missing noblewoman playing as "Stella Arbenina" and she informed them she would continue her stage career.

GOVERNS ALASKA

PROTEST TO WHITE FATHER

Indian chiefs of the Yakima tribe of the state of Washington have journeyed there to protest to the "Great White Father" that they have been deprived of hunting rights on their own reservation, rights guaranteed to them under the treaty of 1855. President Coolidge is shown between two of the chiefs on their visit to the White House, Sis-Elit-Palm-er (left), and Youkosh Owhi.

GERMAN PLANS?

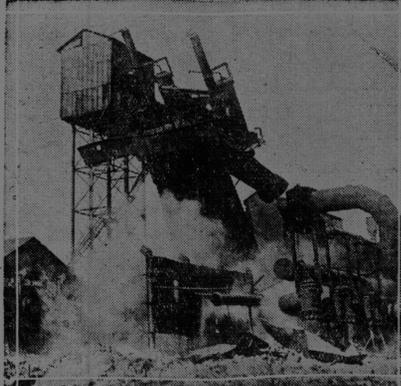

What Germany may be planning, none can tell. But deprived by the peace treaty of her formidable high-powered war planes, the German Government has turned its attention to the development of low-powered planes and gliders, and in furthering this, has offered huge rewards for successful flights. Photo shows a Junker low-power plane, flying over Mt. Zupplitz, the highest peak in Germany.

WHAT DYNAMITE DID

That much tumbled many tons of steel and iron to the ground when the furnaces of an iron company at Troy, N. Y., were purposely destroyed.

FAR FROM SUBWAYS

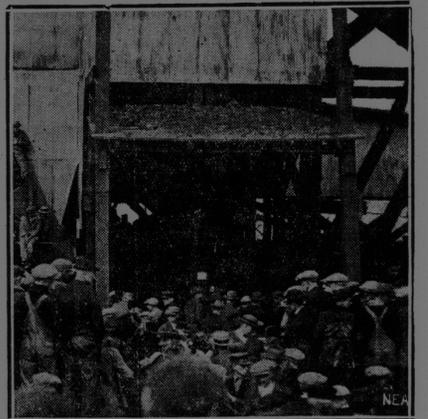

While the entire blame for the subway congestion of New York was being placed on his head by Judge McAvoy, who has been investigating the causes of the terrible conditions of New York City's transportation system, Mayor John F. Hylan was enjoying the warm waters of the surf at Palm Beach, Fla. He is shown holding little Alfred Coyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coyle.

HAS BEEN FREED

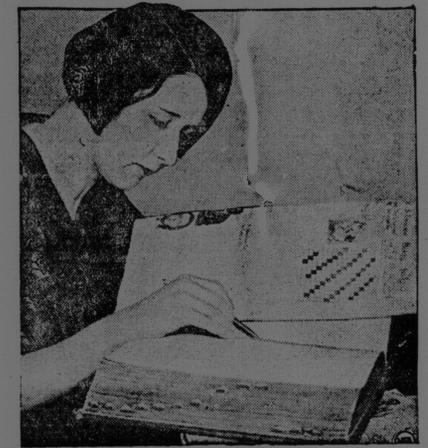

In a new form of unwritten law, Mile Stanislawka Uminska, young Polish actress, appearing before a Paris court on a charge of murdering her fiance, was freed on the ground that her victim, suffering from an incurable disease, had begged her to kill him to end his sufferings.

CROWD GATHERS AT SHAFT

CONVINCE OTTAWA OF CLAIMS OF EAST

SPOKESMEN DEMAND POLICY THAT WILL GUARANTEE EAST FULL MEASURE OF PROSPERITY

Impress Upon Both Government and Parliament Canada's Obligations to Fulfill Confederation Pledges to Seaboard

WILGRIMAGE IS UNIQUE IN OTTAWA

Premier Veniot, J. D. McKenna, Mayor Murphy, Halifax, Mayor Samson, Quebec, J. E. Walsh, R. A. Macaulay and J. E. Tighe and Others Confront Parliamentarians for All-Canadian Policy

OTTAWA, Feb. 26—A deputation, whose size and whose mission are unique in the annals of this Parliament Hill, waited upon the Government of Canada this morning and this evening, respectively, and without hat in hand and in no begging or carning spirit presented a compelling case for the Maritime Provinces.

For an hour and a half this morning they addressed a full representation of the Federal Cabinet, and for the same length of time this evening their spokesmen delivered convincing arguments to an almost complete representation of the House of Commons and to many members of the Senate.

GOVERNMENT CONVINCED OF JUSTICE OF CASE

It was a history-making day for the Maritime people who may now be assured that those who legislate for the people of Canada and those who are now responsible for the government of the Dominion are not only completely apprised of the demands of the Maritime Provinces but are also convinced of the undeniable justice of their case.

LEAVE SATISFIED WITH RESULTS

At 11.30 this morning, as arranged, the interview with the cabinet in the capacious railway committee room commenced; then tonight at 7 o'clock in the same meeting place the delegates met the 200-odd members of Parliament and the Senate.

At the morning meeting, the speakers addressing the Government were J. E. Walsh, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Toronto; Mr. Lafoye, of the Montreal Board of Trade; a representative of the Vancouver Board of Trade; Mayor Sampson, of Quebec City; Mayor John Murphy, of Halifax; and R. A. Macaulay, of St. John.

At this evening's meeting the speakers were J. D. McKenna, J. L. A., of St. John; Mayor Murphy, of Halifax; Mayor Sampson, of Quebec City; L. W. Sims, president of the St. John Board of Trade; Premier P. J. Veniot, of New Brunswick; and J. E. Tighe, of the Longshoremen's Union, St. John.

FEATURES OF MORNING CONFERENCE

Seated on the platform at this evening's meeting were, amongst others, Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons; Robert Forke, leader of the Progressives, and Hon. T. A. Crerar. George W. Kyte, chief Government whip, acted as chairman.

Outstanding features of the morning conference were: The eloquent appeal of Mayor Murphy for deeper consideration of the problems of the Maritime Provinces and emphasis upon the fact that their problems were really national, not sectional, problems; assurance of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, through Mr. Walsh, of Toronto, that that organization would do all in its power to help the Maritime people; the expression of heartfelt cooperation from the people of British Columbia and from the people of Quebec; the important pronouncement of policy made by the Prime Minister of Canada.

PREMIER'S PRONOUNCEMENT OF POLICY

Premier Mackenzie King, in his reply this morning to the delegation, following the reading of a short resolution urging the ending of all traffic possible, east and west, through Canadian ports, said this idea was contained in the Speech from the Throne, a most identical words. The equipment of the Canadian ocean ports, he said, was specially mentioned.

As to the restriction of the British preference to Canadian ports entirely he said that the 10 per cent. discount provision of the former plan might invite retaliatory measures from the United States or some other nation.

MIGHT INVITE RETALIATION

"We could," said the Prime Minister, "adopt the policy of specific exclusion but it would make the United States and United States ports think they had been injured and it might invite retaliation."

He also stressed the point that the proposal of the Government regarding the efforts to reduce ocean freight rates would also go far toward meeting the needs of the Atlantic ports. He declared that Canadian ports could not hope for greater traffic so long as there was discrimination against them and in favor of New York of 4 cents a bushel on grain, and similar discrimination on other goods.

"We feel that the time has come to make the one and only effort to cope with a situation that has done great injury to Canadian ports."

He declared that no policy could be laid down that would help every part of the country at once.

HIGH LIGHTS AT EVENING MEETING

A big feature of this evening's proceedings was the eloquent and lucid statement of the Maritime situation by J. D. McKenna, of St. John.

"I am not here to plead along sectional lines," said Mr. McKenna tonight at the outset. "The time has come for all the people of Canada to get together and take the broadest possible national viewpoint in order that we may have a united Canada."

"During the last few weeks I have addressed many meetings in Ontario and our newspaper has sent a representative out to the western provinces and to the Pacific Coast and back again. We have received a very flattering hearing. Today and tonight we are here to speak for all Canada."

Crow's Nest Rate Judgment Raises New Problems

JUSTICE FOR MARITIMES IS N. S. DEMAND

Throne Speech At Legislature Opening Says Attempt Will Be Made

SAYS TRADE RULES SHOULD BE MODIFIED

Declares Federal Gov't Have Not Carried Out Confederation Terms.

HALIFAX, Feb. 26—A thick fog and intermittent downpours of rain detracted from the brilliancy of the ceremonial opening this afternoon of the last session of Nova Scotia's fourteenth Parliament since Confederation. Nevertheless it was attended by a record number and the scene within the historic building lacked none of the pomp and dignity that has marked Parliament's assembly for years.

The speech from the throne, read by His Honor Lieut.-Governor J. Robson Douglas, was featured by a forcibly worded section by which it was conveyed that a strenuous attempt will be made to obtain for the Maritime Provinces in full measure the benefits that were to accrue from participation in Confederation.

Address in Reply. It also mentioned the fact that steps are to be taken toward a freer exchange of commodities between the provinces of Canada through an equalization of freight rates.

R. Henry Graham, Liberal, Pictou, made the address in reply to the speech from the throne. In doing so, he deplored the conditions that have followed the formation of the British Empire Steel Corporation and urged that some measure be taken to "unscramble the egg."

Differences Over Federation. Stressing the differences between different parts of Canada and Nova Scotia over the terms of Confederation, the Speech from the Throne indicated that the Government of Nova Scotia have endeavored to ameliorate the conditions brought about by the terms of union, the following words being used: "The Government should be so minded as to take various steps in order to meet the interests of the Maritime provinces against the Crown against the terms of Confederation as they affected the interests of this province."

Should Be Modified. "This Government and Parliament, while declining to annul the union compact, nevertheless recognized that the arrangements respecting taxation and the regulation of trade and fisheries should be so modified as to meet the interests of Nova Scotia and of the Maritime portion of Canada would not be prejudicial. No action has yet been undertaken by the Federal Government or Parliament to carry out in their full letter and spirit the instructions of the British Government in this respect."

Both Losing Money. It was learned from other sources that both the Federal and the New Brunswick Governments are losing money from the operation of the road. By the old arrangements the New Brunswick Government got 40 per cent. of the gross receipts and the Federal Government 60 per cent., the former Government having built the road and the latter operating it. It is stated by those in the east that at the present time the two Governments are losing about $250,000 each annually in the maintenance of the St. John Valley Railway.

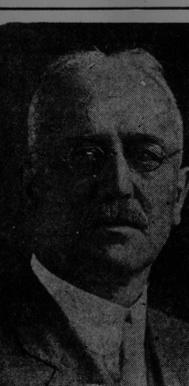

Berlin Aiming At White Way Light

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—Berlin belatedly is trying to drop Broadway. With coal restrictions dropped, the electrical works are selling more and more light to establishments in the centre of the city, which aims to have a white way as light as Broadway. The new flashing advertisements signs are just as much a novelty to the Berliners as the Broadway signs are to the visitors from Umpalooosa, Arkansas.

Friedrichstrasse, one of the main thoroughfares in the business section begins to look light and clean. It used to be said of Friedrichstrasse that it contained "more vice and less temptation" than any other street in the world. It still has much vice, perhaps a dash of temptation, and now plenty of light.

"Dauber calls this latest work of his a 'Portrait of a Lady.' The critic says it isn't a portrait and the women say she's no lady."

N. B. Spokesman

HON. P. J. VENIOT, Premier, who yesterday assisted in presenting the Maritime case to the Federal Cabinet and members of the House of Commons and Senate.

VENIOT ASKS VALLEY ROAD BE TAKEN OVER

Federal Cabinet Promises That Request Will Get Careful Consideration

OTTAWA, Feb. 26—Premier P. J. Veniot, of New Brunswick, had a conference this afternoon before the opening of the House of Commons with the Federal Government on the question of the taking over by the latter of the St. John Valley Railway.

He was received by the Prime Minister, Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. Arthur B. Copp, Secretary of State.

The present financial condition of the road and the results of its operation were, it is understood, dealt with by Premier Veniot in his representations which were promised careful consideration.

Both Losing Money.

It was learned from other sources that both the Federal and the New Brunswick Governments are losing money from the operation of the road. By the old arrangements the New Brunswick Government got 40 per cent. of the gross receipts and the Federal Government 60 per cent., the former Government having built the road and the latter operating it.

"We could," said the Prime Minister, "adopt the policy of specific exclusion but it would make the United States and United States ports think they had been injured and it might invite retaliation."

He also stressed the point that the proposal of the Government regarding the efforts to reduce ocean freight rates would also go far toward meeting the needs of the Atlantic ports. Former W. U. Head Dies on N. Y. Train

RUSSIA IS SEEKING JAPANESE SETTLERS

Make Offer to Welcome Settlers to Siberia Without Restriction.

TOKIO, Feb. 27.—The surplus population problem of Japan may be solved if the Japanese wish to take advantage of an invitation, regarded as coming from official quarters in Moscow to all Japanese who wish to immigrate to Russia.

S. Slepach, head of the Rosta news agency in Tokio, speaking to members of the Pan-Pacific Club here, declared that other outlets for the Japanese may be barred, but that Russia will gladly welcome them without restriction. He said there are vast unexploited regions in his country, including Siberia, open to immigrants.

The speaker remarked that his subject was inspired by the Russo-Japanese agreement signed at Peking January 20.

Climate Unsuitable

Comment here in this address indicates that it is doubtful whether this virtual invitation to the Japanese to settle in Russian territory would mean very much. Siberia and Russia in Europe are not countries with climates suitable to the Japanese, if past experience be any criterion. The Japanese Government has a standing offer similar to the homestead offer in the United States to any and all who will colonize in the Hokkaido, the large island just north of the main island.

Neither the climate, there about like Minnesota, the Japanese refuse to migrate, declaring it is too cold most of the time.

Neither will they colonize in any appreciable numbers in Formosa. The climate there is too hot.

The main island, on which Tokio is situated, has a climate that has an excess population problem.

BELIEVES BECKER WAS NOT SLAYER

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 27.—At a hearing on his bill providing for a referendum on the abolition of capital punishment, Assemblyman Hackenburg of New York expressed the opinion that Lieutenant Charles Becker of the New York Police Department, who suffered death in the electric chair several years ago, "was an innocent man."

"I have good reason to believe, because of certain things that have come to my attention in the last few years, that Lieutenant Becker went to his death in the electric chair an innocent man," said Mr. Hackenburg.

"The question of abolishing the death penalty is as old as civilization itself," said Mr. Hackenburg. "There is only one reason for retaining it, and that is to prevent murders. If the death penalty falls in this, then it ought to be abolished."

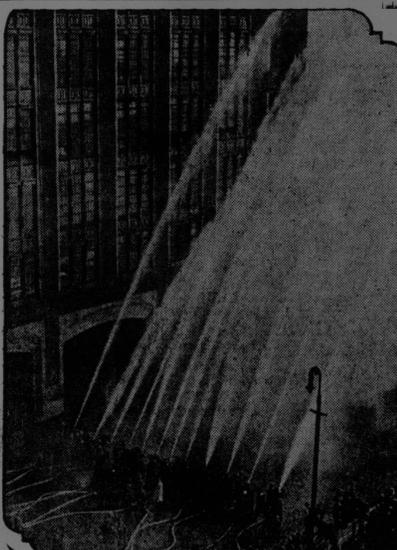

"We have tried cruelty for thousands of years and we have not accomplished anything. It is almost impossible to get a jury to convict in capital cases. Public opinion is against this barbaric relic of old ages."

turn for the constitutional powers and advantages which were yielded by us in order to make possible the confederation of the British possessions in North America.

To Facilitate Trade.

The speech notes with gratification that definite steps are to be taken towards a freer exchange of commodities between the provinces of Canada by an equalization of freight rates and for which the construction and operation of the Intercolonial Railway was constructed as an essential condition of Confederation to enable the people of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to replace the loss of markets they then enjoyed for their coal, fish and other natural products.

REMOVAL OF TROUBLE LEFT TO PARLIAMENT

Chief Justice Anglin Brings Up Question of Rates to St. John

IS ONE OF MATTERS TO BE SETTLED LATER

Rates Apply to Traffic Between Points Which Were on C. P. R. in 1897.

Canadian Press Despatch. OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—Yesterday's ruling of the Supreme Court of Canada in the Crow's Nest Pass case has raised some new and difficult problems. It settles the legal point that Crow's Nest rates are binding on the Board of Railway Commissioners, but it leaves removal of discrimination in the hands of Parliament.

In brief, the courts' ruling finds that:

1—The Board of Railway Commissioners is bound by the maxima of the Crow's Nest westbound rates, but

2—These westbound rates apply only to points in existence on the C. P. R. in 1897. To other points they do not apply.

But what of the eastbound rates on grain and flour? These rates have been in effect on all points for a couple of years, and yesterday's judgment rules that the Crow's Nest rates eastbound are binding on the Board of Railway Commissioners.

St. John's Case.

Chief Justice Anglin says: "There remains to be noted, a point raised by counsel for the provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, namely that the C. P. R. in tariffs disallowed by the order of October 14, has fixed Megantic, P. Q., as the most eastern point to which it applied the Crow's Nest rates, whereas it is contended those rates should be extended to the port of St. John, New Brunswick, the easternmost point on the C. P. R. as it existed in 1897."

Settled Later.

"Of this matter it need only be said that it does not fall within the scope of questions of law and jurisdiction submitted, and as indicated in the opinion of the learned chief commissioner, it would appear to be one of the other manifold subjects remaining for consideration after the settlement of the main question and undetermined by the present decision of the board it is not before the court on the present appeal."

Discrimination Question.

"As to any resulting discriminations, Chief Justice Anglin, in his reasons has this comment to make: 'The alleged fact that, if applied to the limited extent for which clauses D and E distinctly provide, the maintenance of the Crow's Nest Pass rates will produce discrimination and inequality which would ordinarily be in clear violation of the anti-discrimination sections of the Railway Act, would not justify an exclusion of their application such as the appellants press for. Discriminations so authorized by parliament itself cannot be regarded as unjust or prohibited.'"

"We therefore think it clear that the application of the Crow's Nest rates is confined to traffic between points which were on the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1897."

The Garden Needs Weeding; Tares Must Be Uprooted

EDITORIAL, MONTREAL STAR

The Montreal Star in its editorial columns yesterday carried the following:

THERE has been wild talk in the Maritimes of secession. Such talk is, we believe, only the petulant outburst of irritation. The only secession which the Maritimes ever regard seriously would have to involve remaining within the Empire, and such a move would ring the death knell of this Dominion. It would make the "East and West" policy, for which the Maritimes have fought so persistently, a mere phrase, wholly impracticable. It would drive the trade of Canada into the north and south channels of transportation, which are always open so invitingly. It would mean either the disintegration or the absorption of a mutilated Canada. It would strike a blow at the heart of the Empire.

The Maritimes have put up a gallant fight, but the odds were against them and in later years the cards have been stacked against them because other sections of the Dominion have been able to offer more in return for the benefits they have received. Today, it is not a question of political bargaining, but of doing something to save the structure of Confederation.

First and foremost, Canada as a whole must give clear evidence of real sympathy with the Maritimes and must be prepared to make sacrifices to aid her, without demanding compensating benefits for their own bailiwicks in return.

The ports of St. John and Halifax must have preferential treatment over Portland. Freight rates must be adjusted so that there is a profitable market for Eastern coal and fruits and fish and other products in Ontario and Quebec. The immigration policy of Canada must be viewed through a lens that is not always fixed immovably towards the Western Prairies. The Maritimes want British sons and daughters to replace the British stock that the short-sighted policy of politicians has robbed them of. It will not need any gigantic outlay, but it will need the expenditure of certain sums which must be given ungrudgingly and prudently.

The fathers of Confederation realized that the only policy under which Canada could grow to greatness was an "East and West" policy knitting together the contiguous provinces and using the great ports at the extremities of the chain as outlets and inlets for Canadian trade. One of the pivots of that East and West policy is the Maritimes, the garden of the Dominion. The garden needs weeding and the tares of selfishness and sectionalism must be uprooted. That is being rapidly done and the gardeners come today to Ottawa to ask for seed from richer neighbors, with tools to hoe and, till the soil again. They must not ask in vain.

Not a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

The millions of tiny active yeast plants in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion—clear the skin—banish the poisons of constipation. Where cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active.

THIS FAMOUS FOOD tones up the entire system—banishes constipation, skin troubles, stomach disorders.

"I AM AN EX-BRITISH NAVAL MAN and I have lived in Canada eighteen years. Soon after my arrival I commenced to suffer from indigestion. For days I only drank water or soup. Commenced taking your famous yeast cakes three daily. Result: No indigestion—three square meals a day, splendid appetite, and feeling fit as a fiddle."

"AS OWNER AND MANAGER OF A BEAUTY SALON, I come in daily contact with all manner of skin disorders. I unhesitatingly recommend Fleischmann's Yeast. About five years ago I was generally run down and unable to work. I was suffering from chronic constipation, indigestion, loss of vitality, and skin eruptions. I began taking Fleischmann's Yeast, three cakes a day. At the end of two months all skin eruptions had disappeared, and as if by magic I found all other troubles disappearing also. At the end of three months I was well and back at work."

SPOKESMEN DEMAND POLICY TO ENSURE EAST GETS RIGHTS

DID NOT GET CONFEDERATION BENEFITS

"I am not going to speak about the history of Confederation, but when the Maritime Provinces entered that pact they hoped for advantages that have not been theirs. Our industries have largely been transferred to Quebec and Ontario. That was largely the outcome of economic conditions over which we had no control.

"As to secession, I am not here to preach it or advocate it, but the burst of applause that this morning greeted the reference to a suggestion of such a course shows that there is some real talk and feeling of this kind at this time. It must be recalled that in 1886 Mr. Fielding carried an election in Nova Scotia on the issue of the repeal of the British North America Act, and three years ago Hon. William Pugsley, as Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, speaking in St. John, said that if Canada persisted in spending millions of dollars to build up United States ports it was time for the Maritime people to get out.

MAY BE PRAIRIE FIRE IN MARITIMES

"The Members of Parliament should understand that prominent men have uttered such sentiments, and if those sentiments are given encouragement you may some day have a prairie fire in the Maritime Provinces.

"We have been told that we had no sympathy in the rest of Canada. Let me say that the little missionary work done recently has shown this is not true. We have uncovered a very strong feeling in favor of justice to all the Canadian ports in the Maritime Provinces and on the Pacific Coast. In this mission we have dealt with the transportation in the broadest possible spirit.

"I must here state that when our representative was in Montreal, E. W. Beatty, President of the C. P. R., assured him that that railway was ready to haul freight in the winter to St. John as cheaply and as efficiently as it could to any United States port. Now, if that privately owned road can do this I am here to say for Canada that if the Canadian National Railways, a publicly-owned road, cannot do this, they should be told that we expect them to do so.

"The Maritime Provinces have spent millions of dollars in helping to build the transportation systems and the canals and to develop western lands. Now in turn, we expect our due consideration."

After referring to the interview with the Ford Company at Windsor, as a result of which the Ford people diverted their export trade from New London, Conn., to Halifax, Mr. McKenna said, "I believe that the Parliament of Canada, having expressed in the statutes of Canada, through the Grand Trunk Pacific Bill and the loan to the Canadian Northern, that all possible freight should be routed through Canadian ports, should now tell the former employees of that Grand Trunk Pacific and the other affiliated lines that Portland and New London are not in Canada and that St. John and Halifax are in Canada.

"Parliament should tell those men that they are working for Canada and that goods can be handled as well through Montreal, Quebec, St. John and Halifax as through United States ports."

SHOULD FORMULATE NATIONAL POLICY

He argued that it was better to think of doing some really national service than for the Canadian National Railways simply to have a favorable ledger balance. "It is far better that Canadian goods should go over Canadian roads to Canadian ports. That is the better Canadianism. We are reminded once a year that we are shareholders of the Canadian National Railways. We would like to see some advantages from that relation to that road."

In conclusion Mr. McKenna said, "all the parties in Canada should unite to formulate a national policy by which Canadian ports can be given the advantages in return for the hundreds of millions of dollars that have been spent on our transportation system."

Mr. McKenna was loudly applauded on resuming his seat.

After Mayor L. W. Simms had both spoken heartily endorsing the remarks of Mr. McKenna tonight, Premier Veniot made a strong plea for better consideration to the Maritime people.

"Two years ago," said the Premier, "when we tried to make the Maritime Provinces better known to western Canada we received some adverse criticism from the press of Ontario and Quebec, but now that has ended and we are able today to consider all sections of Canada as a whole."

Came in First

"We tell the rest of Canada tonight that we from the Maritime Provinces do not come here with any begging spirit or to get on our knees. We came into Confederation first, and we feel that all the hopes of Confederation have not been realized. Nevertheless we are as loyal to Canada as any other section. Our dissatisfaction may have caused suspicion in the other provinces but there is no question of secession with us. We are working for the general interest of Canada."

Other Problems to Settle

"When you are talking of the problems of St. John and Halifax, you are not talking of the problems of all of those two Maritime Provinces. There are other ports in the two provinces. There are other problems to settle than those of the winter ports. I feel that this Dominion should not hesitate to bond its credit for development of interests of national concern. Canada's credit is good."

"If we cannot get the money out of current revenue to develop our Atlantic ports then bond our credit and let the people of the future who will enjoy the benefits also help to pay for them."

adlan trade through Canadian ports, when such discrimination is allowed to exist," the Premier asked the delegation, after quoting from a report which showed that ocean rates were lower from New York to Liverpool, than from St. Lawrence ports to Liverpool, during the grain movement season. If the government could find some method for controlling these ocean rates, the problem of directing Canadian trade through Canadian ports was all but solved.

This had been the idea which had prompted the government in making the agreement with the Petersen interests, to operate a line of steamships on the Atlantic, the Premier said.

"We have given the subsidy on one condition, that the Government of this country would be on the vessel," Mr. King declared.

Something Must Be Done

The Government felt that the time had come when something must be done to cope with a situation which was causing grave injury to Canadian ports.

"The only serious consideration at present, is that of ocean rates. The suggestion that the British preferences be confined to Canadian ports had been made, said Mr. King. He pointed out that there were two phases which must be considered, when this suggestion was under review. There was the international as well as the national side of the question.

U. S. Goods Through Canada

If specific exclusion of goods coming through American ports and over American railways was adopted, then the natural result would be some measure of retaliation on the part of the United States. On the other hand, the Government had already taken steps toward encouraging trade to flow through Canadian ports in the adoption of a discount of 10 per cent. from the British preference on such goods. The result of this legislation had been that in the fiscal year 1923-24 all but a small fraction of one per cent. of the total imports from the United Kingdom had come through Canadian ports. Mr. King warned the delegation that millions of tons of American produce was now moving through Canadian ports, and that it would be unwise to take any action which would discourage this business.

Mr. King said that the Government would be pleased to receive the written memorial which the delegation proposed to present, and would give it careful consideration.

Mayor of Halifax

On behalf of the City of Halifax, and the Province of Nova Scotia, Mayor John Murphy declared that certain things were due to the province of Nova Scotia, and that study and consideration should be given to the eastern and western parts of Canada, in order that they might enjoy a fair share of benefits and progress.

The extreme eastern parts of the country should be placed in a position, with respect to rates and transportation facilities, so that they would receive a proper share of Canadian trade. Halifax was suited to handle a large export trade during the close seasons in Quebec and Montreal, and the ports of Halifax and St. John should be given special consideration in this respect. A study must be given the situation so that eastern manufacturers and others in the Maritimes might be enabled to deal with central Canada on a fair basis.

Eastern parts of Canada must not be allowed to wither and industries suffer.

Shipped via New York.

The Premier closed with a brief reference to the fact that 1,250,000 barrels of Canadian flour were being shipped via New York to Russia. This reflected on the enterprise of Canadians who should exert greater efforts to make use of their own industries and their own transportation facilities.

Mr. Figue, of the Longshoremen's Union, of St. John, representing Labor generally in that province, made a moving appeal for the consideration of the needs of Labor.

Hard to Sing "O Canada"

"It is hard," he said, "to sing 'O Canada' when your stomach is empty." He said Labor would strongly support every move to develop Canadian ports and send more traffic through them. Scarcity of food and coal for working people in December and January last showed the need of more business in the Atlantic ports.

"We feel that the right way to handle the situation is to see that we are able to take care of more freight at Canadian ports and to keep it from going to United States ports."

He told of the exodus of Maritime workmen to the United States and added, in regard to this: "We feel that the members of the Federal Parliament have not taken the right view on this question."

Mayor Murphy

Mayor Murphy this evening, in a final summing up of the Maritime case declared: "If we cannot justify our demands on sound grounds we do not want those demands met." He wanted it known that this morning he did not use the word "secession," but that it was used by Mr. Macaulay, of St. John, but added: "If after our problems have been entrusted to the best hands in this country and dealt with on their merits and it is discovered that they cannot be solved without injuring some other section of Canada then we say that we want to be relieved of your fiscal system and be free to deal elsewhere where we can deal more advantageously."

He said today there were 500,000 Nova Scotians in Massachusetts, practically a duplication of the population of Nova Scotia. That was a problem and must be met. In conclusion, he stressed the need of seeing that Canadian exports went through Canadian ports as well as Canadian imports.

While Prince Edward Island was not heard at the two interviews today, that Island was represented in the delegations by A. E. McLean, M.P., for the Summerside Board of Trade, and by H. H. Shaw and S. A. MacDonald, of Charlottetown.

Premier King

Unfair and discriminatory ocean rates were the chief difficulty to be removed if Canadian trade is to move freely through Canadian ports. This was the declaration of Premier King, to a great delegation from the Maritime Provinces and other points which waited upon the Government this morning.

"How can we hope to develop Can-stagnation. It was a national question and Canada, from Sydney to Victoria, should work hand in hand so that the whole of the country would prosper and good-will prevail among its citizens.

The manufacturers and importers of this country, maintained Mayor Murphy, owed it to the Eastern provinces, to find out the maximum extent to which they could bring Canadian trade through Canadian ports. The problems of the city of Quebec should be studied, and it was only by proper investigation into the situation in the Maritimes, and on the Pacific coast, that the whole matter could be worked out along lines satisfactory to Canada, as a whole.

Position of Maritimes

If after study was given, the Eastern Provinces were told that, because of their geographical location, and cost of transportation, they could not be assisted, then there should be no feeling of ill will. The Maritimes asked, in regard to the fiscal policy, that "you grant to us a free hand. We must trade and live, and go to markets with which we can trade to the best advantage."

"In His Quiet Moments"

A True Story

Always 'the life of the party' everybody admires Ted Carruthers for his breezy good nature and winning personality. He is a real man through and through.

But in his quiet moments—

Poor Ted has his personal problem from which he cannot shake himself free when alone. A recent illness, the price of overwork, left his health impaired. The doctor says it is only a matter of time.

He now has only a few short years in which to provide for Mary and the children. What is he to do? He is not able to get life insurance and cannot save much more than $300.00 a year. In five years this will be but $1,500.00—not nearly enough!

'Tis now he realizes just what it would have meant if he had insured when able, to provide for his wife an income of at least $100.00 a month ($1,200.00 a year) as long as she lived. At his age (35) $6.40 a week with the London Life would have guaranteed it, and worry would not now be further sapping his strength, killing any chance he may have had of recovery.

The future may easily be made safe for loved ones by insurance, and worry removed from those who have dependents.

One of our trained representatives will be glad to advise

EXPECT MARITIME RECORDS WILL BE BROKEN IN RACES TONIGHT

A. W. CONVEY SAYS ONLY 4 MARKS ARE RECOGNIZED

Events Tonight Will Be Run Off Strictly To Rule

According to an announcement given out by A. W. Convey, honorary president of the Maritime Branch of the A. U. of C. there are only four recognized amateur skating records in the Maritime Provinces. They are the 440 time 47 3-5 and 1:38 1-5 seconds; the mile, made by J. D. Leadbetter of Waterville, N. S., time 2:24; and the three times by P. Bouche of Springhill, N. S., time 10:38. He explained that while these events may have been skated in much faster time, no applications were ever made to the amateur authorities to have them recognized.

Expect to Break Records. At the New Brunswick championship meet in the Victoria rink tonight, these records are expected to be broken by wide margins. The track has been surveyed by an engineer and a certificate presented to the authorities. Every precaution will be taken to have the various events run off strictly according to rule, and the time, if lower than the recognized records, will be submitted to the amateur authorities for ratification.

Ice Reported Firm. Reports this morning said that the ice in the Victoria rink was firm after the cold snap and that everything was in readiness for the Maritime League amateur skating championships, which are to be held tonight under the auspices of the North End Amateur Athletic Association.

The entry list is well filled and it is expected that some new records will be witnessed. Skaters from Newcastle, Bathurst and Moncton are in the city and will compete in several of the classes. Judging from the advance sale of tickets a large number of fans will be in attendance.

Visiting Skaters Here. Out of town skaters from Newcastle, Bathurst and Moncton, arrived in the city yesterday, and are remaining over to try and win a title tonight.

Charles Gorman will try and break the 220 yards and 440 yards in competition with Edgar Snodgrass and Roy Lawson, while Frankie Logan, the 12 year old International champion, will be seen in exhibition sprints, while his brother Willie Logan, International and Canadian National junior champion will take part in the senior events.

FAVOR SUSSEX TEAM Maritime Champions Picked to Win in Play-off With Summerside.

The Summerside Crystal hockey team, winners of the central and Island section of the Maritime League, will cross sticks with Sussex, the champions of New Brunswick, at the dairy town tonight and a real fast game is expected. The winner of this play-off will stand up against the winner of the Nova Scotia section for the championship of the Maritime Provinces. The odds are in favor of the Dairy Kings, whom fans believe will retain the title again this season.

CURLING Cold Snap Puts Ice in Condition For Resumption of Match Games.

The local curling rinks have now been silent for several days as the mild weather has been responsible for wet ice and accordingly the curling game has been at a standstill. Now, with the prospects of colder weather, the curling game is expected to start up again tonight. There are several matches to be played by the three local outside clubs, as well as the finishing up of the Thistle-St. Andrew's series, and Carleton and Thistles.

MEETING POSTPONED. The meeting of the Martello Athletic Club, which was to be held tonight, has been postponed until Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

BIG BILL WAYNE, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, is starting to reap the reward of his victory over Ed. "Strangler" Lewis. He is considered a big attraction and has received an offer of $100,000 to meet three of the leading contenders for the title. Munn is from Nebraska, the home of many of the Stecher brothers, Charley Peters, John Pesek and Farmer Burns. Joe Stecher was one of the best of the lot and by his famous scissors hold won the title a few years ago. He and his brother Anton own a big ranch near Dodge, the corn belt of the middle west, which they bought with their earnings from the mauling, hugging, twisting, squeezing game.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that some kind of a title will be bestowed on the survivor of the elimination tournament organized by the New York Boxing Commission to find a successor to Benny Leonard, who relinquished the lightweight crown. It is hard to realize how the winner can be considered a legitimate champion even in New York State. There is no denying that Sammy Mandell is one of the leading lightweights of the country and would have been a good bet to win the title from Leonard if the latter had been a good bet. As this was practically a physical impossibility Mandell should have been awarded the crown when Leonard arrived. It will be recalled that Mandell refused to enter the tournament for several reasons. Before the draw was made he asked the privilege of being given a bye in the first round because in a few hours later he was to meet Sid Terris. The Commission refused his request and he retired. Mandell won the Terris fight in convincing fashion, but unfortunately injured his left shoulder quite badly. Aside from George Chaney of Baltimore it is doubtful if there is a contender in the tournament in Mandell's class. It will be interesting to fans to watch the developments.

WILLIE HOPPE is certainly making an impressive showing in the 152 billiard balls tournament in Chicago. In his match against Walker Cochran he made two high runs, the second of which was close to the 200 mark. His work is a surprise because he practically deserted billiard play for three-cushions and for several months was practicing for a special match with Canefax. Those who understand billiards will appreciate that there is a big difference in the stroke; billiard requiring a lightness and smoothness while the three cushion game contemplates a hard drive to carry the cue ball around the table. In billiard there is much nursing and it was only natural to expect Hoppe to develop what is known as a "heavy hand" and lose some of his proficiency in this regard. However, his work to date has been impressive and his next big match will be against Jake Schaefer. One of Hoppe's greatest assets is his nerve. Although he has been competing in big contests for many years he is apparently as cool as he ever was and whether or not the breaks are with or against him he performs without any demonstration of temperament.

PLAYERS EAGER TO PRACTICE AS WINTER PASSES

Outlook Is Bright For Advance in Quality Of Game

Since "King Winter" seems to have shot his bolt and the grayish green of the grass in the Squares discloses the very first suspicion of spring, golf enthusiasts have taken the fever and the sporting thermometer is starting to climb. Sid W. Lingard, professional instructor of the Riverside Golf and Country Club, tells The Times-Star that he looks for a marked advance in golf this coming season, particularly in the quality of the game. Old-timers, who showed considerable form in last season's matches, seem bent on standardizing their golf; the younger element are anxious to begin with a smart game, and youngsters of the Junior classes are not content nowadays with a mere juvenile score, but take as their objective the early 40's and 50's hung up by cup winners.

TROJANS WIN Combination Playing Too Much For Plaster Rock Boys—Players Entertained.

Special to The Times-Star. PLASTER ROCK, Feb. 27.—The Plaster Rock basketball team suffered a defeat here last night at the hands of the St. John Trojans, the score being forty-seven to eighteen. The game was clean and fast, being particularly free from fouls, only eight being called during the whole game. The exceptional combination work of the Trojans gave them an advantage, which the supreme effort of the Plaster Rock team could not overcome. Of the visitors, Wittrien, Wilson and Malcolm showed up splendidly, while Paul Lewis, Chase and Hersey started for the home team.

World's Billiard Records Broken

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Jake Schaefer, former world's 152 ball line billiard champion broke all records last night when he ran 400 from spot in his match with Eric Haenschler, German cue artist, winning the seventh match of the 152 ball line championship without giving his opponent a chance to play.

WORLD SWIMMING RECORDS SMASHED

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27.—Five world swimming records went down yesterday to oblivion under the combined assault of Arne Borg, of Sweden, and his fair companions of the Women's Swimming division. Arneborg lowered the three metre back stroke record by nine and four-fifths seconds, making the new mark 3:35 1-5, while the women swimmers shattered the 800 yard relay, 220 yard free style, 300 metre free style, and the 440 yard breast stroke records, making a total of 12 new marks established in three days at this meet, another record in itself. The new records were 880 yard relay: team composed of Gertrude Ederle, Allen Riggin, Ethel McGary and Helen Wainwright. Time 11:22 2-5, 220 yard free style records: Miss Ederle, 2:44 3-5, while the old mark was 2:55. 300 metre free style swim: Martha Norellus. Time 4:12 1-5. 440 yard breast stroke: Miss Agnes Gersgely. Time 7:20 1-5. 800 metre back stroke: Arne Borg. Time 3:35 1-5.

Wins Skating Honors

Walter Hagen is one of the very few leaders in golf who are ever consistent. Hagen is the one champion who for years has lived up to his title. Speed skating is almost as fickle with its champions as the gold old Scottish game of golf. Each year some new flash buds up. Upsetting the dope is a favorite pastime among our best ice skaters. The latest phenom is Francis Allen, holder of the international amateur outdoor speed-skating championship. Recently Allen added further laurels by winning the American diamond trophy and the national title at Lake Placid, N. Y.

New Glasgow Team Arrives For Hockey Match Tonight

The drop in temperature last night brought joy to the hearts of hockey fans, who have been looking forward to the big game carded for the Arena tonight between the St. Johns and the fast New Glasgow team. The visitors are expected to be very fast on hard ice and are reputed to keep up a terrific pace from the face-off until the termination of the game. It may be the last appearance of the locals on home ice, as pending the result of this game, no definite arrangements have been made for any other teams to come here. If the attendance warrants it, however, efforts will be made to have the Crescents of Halifax, and possibly other fast teams come to St. John before the season closes. With Bidlake the stone wall goal of the Fredericton team especially brought here for this game the locals are going in with all kinds of confidence. Those who have seen both teams play this season consider that it should be a mighty close game with a possible edge in favor of the locals. The team that won the championship of Nova Scotia last season is not an easy proposition for the St. John team to stack up against and realizing this was the cause of strengthening the locals for the game. Here is a list of the players as they will appear tonight with the numbers in shown on their sweaters: New Glasgow. (1) Bidlake (2) Bubar (3) B. Gilbert (4) Nicholson (5) McKay (6) Short (7) Williams (8) McLeod (9) Boudreau (10) Chisholm (11) Kiley (12) Ford (13) Monthey (14) MacCarron. Payne of St. John will handle the whistle.

JACK DELANEY IS WINNER OVER TIGER

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Jack Delaney, Bridgeport, Conn., light heavyweight, knocked out Tiger Flowers, of Atlanta, Ga., in the fourth round at Madison Square Garden last night. It was Delaney's second knockout victory over the negro within two months. It was furious fighting from the start and Flowers was doing well, giving and taking hard punches, but it was noticed that Delaney was having an edge in the first three rounds. In the fourth round Delaney went after Flowers fast and furious, weakened him with severe blows and finally put over a swing that knocked the colored fighter to the floor for the count.

BABE RUTH WILL TRY TO BREAK HIS OWN RECORD

Bambino Aspires To Head Both Major Leagues

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Babe Ruth's ambition this year is to eclipse the record season's home run harvest of 59, which he established in 1921, and to lead both major leagues in batting. This is uppermost in the mind of the favorite son of swat, as he bolts out the off-season's excess tonnage at Hot Springs. Ruth starts his 13th season in the majors this year. Giants Sign Up. Manager John McGraw took camp of practice at the Giants training camp at Sarasota, Fla., yesterday, and came out of several conferences with the signed contracts of Jack Scott, Jack Bentley, and Art Nehf, all pitchers. Frankie Frisch is expected to sign up today. Take Out Kinks. The pitchers unleashed some speed yesterday at the Yankee camp in St. Petersburg, Nick Cunniff, who appears to have made a deep impression on Manager Miller Huggins, continued to hit far and wide. Waite Hoyt, Joe Dugan, Lou Gehrig and Whitey Witt will join the camp in a few days. The advance guard of the Boston Braves arrived at St. Petersburg yesterday. The only batterymen missing were catcher Michael O'Neil and pitcher Benton and Graham. Have Sore Arms. Several veterans of the Cleveland Indians staff are suffering from sore arms according to reports from the training camp at Lakeland, Fla. The Cincinnati Reds leave tomorrow for the South to begin spring training. Manager Hendricks says the team will be a real contender this year. Manager George Sisler and the St. Louis Browns, went through their first workout at Tarpon Springs, Fla., yesterday. The only absentees being pitchers Bush, Girard and Danforth, and catchers Dixon and Porter. A heavy fog at Stockton, Calif., prevented the Carlingham, but they made a good showing at batting practice in the afternoon.

ST. JOHN VALLEY TO BE LEADER IN APPLE GROWTH

G. H. Vroom, Inspector, Speaks Highly of N. B. Fruit

PROVINCE BOASTS SOME OF WORLD BEST

Crops Now 30,000 to 50,000 Barrels — Speaks of Potato Situation.

The New Brunswick Red Macintosh apples are the finest of its kind in the world, was the opinion expressed last evening by G. H. Vroom of Middleton, N. S., district fruit and vegetable inspector for the Maritime Provinces under the Federal Department of Agriculture.

Fruit Growers.

Mr. Vroom came to the city yesterday from Fredericton, where he attended the meetings of the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association. The association was doing a great deal of good for the growers, he declared. It aided them greatly in buying supplies, having stocks on hand all the time and buying in quantities so that the members could avail themselves of the opportunity to get what they needed quickly and at wholesale prices.

New Brunswick Apples.

The New Brunswick growers were now raising between 30,000 and 50,000 barrels of apples yearly, and were packing them in an exceptionally good manner. He had been informed in Montreal that the apples from New Brunswick were the best packed that were received in that city.

The St. John Valley was now producing some of the best apples in the world, he said, while the amount raised was not large as yet it was being increased. He had predicted several years ago that the valley would some day be the greatest apple growing district in Canada, and he believed the prediction was some day to be fulfilled.

Best of Its Kind.

The Macintosh Red apple, raised in the valley, was the best of its kind he had ever tasted, he declared, and he believed it to have the finest flavor of any apple that had come to his notice. He had eaten apples from Australia, Tasmania and many other parts of the world, and had never met anything better than the New Brunswick ones.

The market for Nova Scotia apples had been very fair all season, he said, about 1,000,000 barrels having already been exported. There were now only about 100,000 barrels still in the province. The prices had been good, ranging from $3 to $5.50 and $6 a barrel, and in some cases being even higher.

A great many of the culls were being taken care of in the evaporators, which had been usually busy this year. He believed that, by the end of the season, about 250,000 barrels would have been used in the dehydrator, evaporators, cider mills and vinegar factories.

Loss Money.

He greatly regretted the fact that growers insisted on shipping No. 3 apples. They were losing money on them on the average, he thought, as the cost of packing, freight, shipping and other items of transportation, exclusive of the actual value of the barrel, totalled about $2.40 and they received only about $2.75 a barrel for them.

He had had a number of barrels packed by an expert for a test and had found that the average net loss on No. 3s was 22 cents a barrel.

IS GIVEN SHOWER.

On Wednesday evening friends invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonnell, 49 Main street, and showered many beautiful and useful gifts on their daughter, Mrs. Harry E. MacMurray, who was married recently. The evening was spent in games and music. Dainty refreshments were served.

PUP FIGHTS SNAKES.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 27.—A young pup here is the terror of snakes. It has been bitten at least 10 times by poisonous snakes, but the venom has no effect on it. The pup tries to kill every snake it sees, and after each fight it runs for a small pond, plunges in and stays there for a few minutes. This process seems to give the dog immunity from the poisonous bites. The pup has killed at least 20 snakes and is only a year old.

N. B. GETS 99.42 FOR $808,000 IN BONDS IN BOSTON

Interest Charges Will Cost Public Treasury Less Than Last Issue

FINANCE DEPT. IS HIGHLY GRATIFIED

Comptroller General Compares Prices With Those of Other Provinces Got.

FREDERICTON, Feb. 26.—The Provincial Treasurer's Department of New Brunswick today accepted the bid E. H. Rollins and Sons, of Boston, for a bond issue of $808,000 bearing interest at a rate of 4-3-4 per cent, and payable in the United States or Canada at the end of 10 year term. The bid was 99.42, which is but slightly below par, and is equivalent to an interest rate of 4.82.

The highest bid for the issue at the same rate and payable in Canada at the end of 20 year term was a group bid from J. M. Robinson and Sons, Nesbitt, Thompson and Company, Cochrane, Hay and Company, Fry Mills, Spence, Ltd., and J. C. McIntosh and Company, for 98.835.

In all 18 bids were received, some for one offer, some for the other and some for both.

For Various Uses.

The bond issue is for permanent roads to the amount of $500,000 and for the St. John and Quebec Railway to the amount of $298,000.

The reception given to the bond issue by the market is most gratifying to the Provincial Treasurer's Department. W. A. Loudon, provincial Comptroller-General, said that the last issue of $1,161,000 was made in July, last, at about five per cent, so that interest charges on today's issue are less.

Mr. Loudon also compared the issue with that of the Province of Quebec, which sold $100,000,000 worth on a 25 year basis at 4.75 per cent, which, he maintains, is not so good as New Brunswick's sale, when the longer term is considered.

Bidders' Figures.

The recent issue of $750,000 in five per cent bonds by the Province of Alberta, was sold at 99.63, making an interest rate of 5.034, considerably higher than that paid for New Brunswick.

The bids for the New Brunswick issue were as follows:

MILK DECISION ON SUPPLY AND PRICE REACHED

Kings Farmers Determine on Project as Was Outlined Yesterday.

WILL MEET DEALERS HERE NEXT WEEK

Session Here Likely on Tuesday or Wednesday—Minimum Price 50 Cents.

A decision to go ahead with the milk project sold in The Times-Star yesterday and the appointment of Clarence Hayes and N. W. Eveleigh to place the demands of the producers before the St. John dealers were the features of yesterday afternoon's meeting at Norton.

Meet Dealers Next Week. The producers, who also appointed Mr. Hayes as the man through whom all their milk will be shipped, decided to have their representatives inform the dealers that 50 cents for an eight-quart can (a. b. shipping point was the minimum they would accept, Mr. Eveleigh said.

Some discussion took place at the meeting concerning the possibility of shipping to two plants only, but this idea did not meet with favor, it was said, as it was asserted that this would work an injustice to the smaller dealer.

Alternative Discussed. The meeting considered the action to be taken, Mr. Eveleigh said, if the dealers did not accede to their demands. He declared that a short time would be given the dealers to consider the question and then if the producers was not agreed, the members felt that there would be no other course to take but to tie up the city's milk supply. However, he continued, the general idea was to secure a reasonable return for their milk without being forced to take such drastic steps if it was at all possible.

The programme included piano solos by Miss Isabelle Jamieson and Miss Winifred Ross; vocal solos by Mrs. Hugh Miller and readings by Miss Marion MacPherson and Mrs. Miller.

PRETTY SEA PICTURE.

Residents of Manawagonish Road were given a fine display in the bay this morning, when the high winds sent the waves far into the air over the large rock, called the "Half-Tide Rock" near Taylor's Island and about one that is carefully avoided by mariners. It is often almost entirely bare and projects many feet high at low tide, and can be reached from Taylor's Island. Today it was unapproachable, being barricaded with waves that sent to great height and fell in glittering spray.

NEW TRUCK GIVEN TAXICAB CASE IN POLICE COURT

Commissioner Harding to be Called as Witness For Defence.

STATUS OF BOARD UNDER INQUIRY

Interest Develops in Matter of Cecil Wiggins and License.

Commissioner W. L. Harding will be called as a witness for the defence in the city ordinance case against Cecil Wiggins for operating a taxicab without a city license, according to J. Starr Tait, appearing for Wiggins, prior to adjournment this morning in the police court, until Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. Several witnesses for the prosecution were examined this morning.

Detective Saunders said that a little after midnight of Feb. 18 last, Wiggins solicited business with his automobile on the north side of King Square. Corroborative evidence of this was given by Policeman Spiny and Sergt. Joseph Scott. In reply to Mr. Tait, all three witnesses said they did not see any money pass between Wiggins and passengers.

The License Board. Robert Harris, license inspector, said that the license board was composed of the Chief of Police, Commissioner of Public Safety, Robert Carson and Maurice Garvin. To Mr. Tait, he said he sent applicants for licenses to the board. After cross-questioning, he said he sent these applicants to the Chief of Police and sometimes to Commissioner Harding. About 30 licenses of this nature had been issued this year, he said. No new badges had been issued this year, but the numbers were changed around, he said. He had changed the badges for Thomas Wiggins, for whom Cecil Wiggins was working.

Member of Board Heard. Mr. Tait then wanted to call Chief Smith as a witness, but the chief asked that the case be postponed until next week, when Commissioner Harding could be present. Mr. Tait then asked if he might call Mr. Garvin and was allowed to do so.

Never Called On.

On the stand, Mr. Garvin testified that he had never been notified to attend a meeting of the board, although Robert Carson and himself had been elected to represent the taxi men. He said that at the time of the election of representatives there was a proposal that the board be composed of five men, the Mayor, the Commissioner of Safety, the Chief of Police and two taxi men. When the by-law passed council, this number was cut down to allow only one taxi representative. After the by-law was passed, no election was held by the taxi men to elect such a representative, although he always understood that Robert Carson was the representative. Carson, he said, was not selected under the new law. The case was then set over until Wednesday, Mr. Tait announcing he would call Commissioner Harding.

CLEAN-UP OF LOGS

Prediction of Full Sawing Season in N. B. Mills is Made.

Those in close touch with the lumbering industry of New Brunswick, says the Fredericton Mail, forecast a clean-up of logs in the various saw-mills of the province during the sawing season of 1925. The opinion is based on the facts that few logs were carried over in any section from last year and that logging operations in general have been carried on generally on a scale which will prevent any glutting of the market. Full Sawing Season Anticipated. The anticipation is that there will be a sawing season throughout the province which will be as long as the average and which will employ the usual number of people.

PAY DAY.

Today was taxicabmen's pay day at City Hall. The sum of $8,936.14 was paid out, as follows: Public Works, $3,756.76; water and sewerage, $3,548.10; harbor, $1,318.78; ferry, $817.50.
