SIR CHARLES TUPPER HONORED—We perceive by our Halifax exchanges that the excursion on Halifax Harbor given in honor of Sir Charles Tupper on Thursday last was a great success. He spoke eloquently to 1,000 persons at Hosterman's picnic grounds in the afternoon, where an address was presented to him by the Liberal-Conservatives of Halifax. In the evening Sir Charles addressed a large audience in the Lyceum.

FIRE AT BATHURST—On Sunday last fire broke out in Hickson & Co.'s store in Bathurst on Douglas street, through the furnace igniting some clothing near the pipe. FIRE IN KENT—A fire at Notre Dame, Kent County, on the morning of Thursday last destroyed James Cobham's hotel and a fine dwelling house recently erected by Edwin Smith, millman, and occupied by his partner, Charles Lott, together with all outbuildings. Smith's loss is about $3,000; one thousand insurances. Cobham's loss fifteen hundred; no insurance. The fire caught in an all of Smith's house, nearly all the contents of both houses were saved.

THE FRONT STOCK CO. opened a week's engagement in Masonic Hall on Monday evening, in "The Gipsy Girl of Cuba." There was a full house and the different acts acquitted themselves creditably. They presented "Mabel Heath" on Tuesday evening to another good house. Miss Forry, as Mabel, was very graceful and took her part well and was frequently applauded. Wednesday evening "Nava Equivocosa" and "The Rough Diamond," 2 comedy acts were given. The company is reliable and honorable in their dealings and deserve the public patronage.

PERSONAL—Rev. Canon Forry left on Tuesday morning, to attend the Triennial session of the Provincial Synod at Montreal. There will be the usual services on Sunday evening next at St. Mary's Chapel at 6.30 o'clock.

The Exetermouth Examiner of Thursday last says: Mr. Howard S. Macghegan, of Chatham, N. B., formerly connected with the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, has been in town for the last few days. Always popular in social circles, he received a warm welcome from his many Peterborough friends.

Rev. D. Henderson, last Sabbath evening, preached, we understand, on Prohibition and the approaching Philistine, to a very full congregation, who listened with great attention and apparent relief. Mr. Henderson took a strong position on the Prohibition question.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT—A terrible shooting accident took place at Fredericton, on Saturday afternoon. Three ladies named Thomas and David Owen, and Julia Martin, all ages ranging from 12 to 18 years, were playing with powder and shot, loading cartridges and firing them from a rubber wad gun pistol made by themselves. They successfully fired one shot, but the second exploded. A large piece of the flying shell struck young Martin in the left eye, and several shots lodged in the knee of one of the Owen boys. They were at the time three miles from the city. Martin suffered great agonies before surgical assistance could be procured. He was brought to town and taken to the hospital, where the surgeons found the eye so badly injured that they had to remove it. He is doing well, and it is not thought that any more serious results will ensue.

WEDDING IN CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—We copy the following from the Cambridge Chronicle of Sept. 10th. Both parties are well known in Chatham. Mr. Stikeman was, while in Chatham, a junior clerk in the Bank of Montreal and Miss Murray at the oldest daughter of Mr. William Murray at one time doing a dry goods business here. We wish them joy and happiness in their new state in life.

"On Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, 100 Emma street, Miss Mabel Sutherland Murray, formerly a teacher of the Paterson grammar school, and Mr. Walter C. Stikeman, of the Bank of Montreal, Toronto, Canada, were united in marriage. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Reuben A. Heard, D. D., pastor of the Prospect Street Congregational church. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a lovely gown of organdy and carried a bride rose. The maid of honor was Miss Edith M. Murray, and the best man, Mr. C. W. Murray, sister and brother of the bride. The wedding was a quiet one, only the immediate friends and relatives being present. Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held, after which a sumptuous collation was served.

progress is being made in bringing these streets into the angle, apartment and tourist to general public notice.

Town Council Meeting. The Town Council met on Monday evening last, Mayor Winslow in the chair. After the reading of the minutes by the Town Clerk Mr. J. Fred Benson was assigned a seat at the reporter's table on motion of Ald. Maher.

The following petitions were read:— From Joseph L. Shea, captain of a coasting vessel between Chatham and P. E. I., praying reduction of a fine imposed for selling live stock without license, and claiming that all he sold was a pig, after which he left, while the fine imposed took in all that he had for sale. The matter was deferred until later in the evening.

From Alex. Christie, praying the Council to have a fence replaced on the parcel of property on Wellington street, which was removed when the street was widened. Referred to public works committee with power to act.

From a number of the taxpayers in Duke's ward claiming that the distance to the school was too far and praying the council to act in the matter.

The Mayor said this was under the jurisdiction of the Board of Trustees and did not come within the power of the council. The petition was referred to the Board of Education on motion of Ald. Robinson.

Ald. Robinson, chairman of the fire committee, reported that the new fire bell had been placed in the tower of the town hall, and notices placed in different parts of the town with regulations for ringing the bell. The fence around the square and near the Masonic Hall had been removed, the benches again painted and the walks repaired. The square was now much improved in appearance. Dr. Baxter had donated a quantity of cannon balls to the square committee and they were being in pyramid fashion.

The report was accepted. Ald. Snowball, from the public works committee reported that work on the streets was closed for this season, except in the case of a cargo of gravel, which would be used. Through the generosity of getting spiritedness of Senator Snowball and his Lordship Bishop Rogers, the street near G. G. Traer's would be continued through to Hill St. Street signs were painted and placed on the corners designating the names of the different streets. Mr. Desmond had the Grimm building removed from the public wharf property and a fence erected dividing the property on the east side. Mr. Coffin, the water works engineer had surveys made for the purpose of a water works system, and from what had been done there was every encouragement of getting a good source for the supply of water.

The report was adopted on motion of Ald. Maher. Ald. Snowball moved, that as his lordship the Bishop, had given the land for the opening of the street near Traer's, the public works committee have a fence erected on the south side of the roadway, a fence being already on the north side. Carried.

Ald. Snowball also moved that the street be called Victoria St., and as suggested by the Mayor, the street to be opened to Hill St. be known as Aberdeen St. Carried. The Mayor, speaking in reference to the survey made by Mr. Coffin said that gentleman had given every encouragement of getting a water works system for the town. The site had been selected for the Morrison Mill brook and a pier has been erected there and experiments and measurements made by Mr. Coffin, and it was found that had already been done a supply of one million gallons a day was got and pronounced excellent water. The estimated need per day for the town is 300,000 gallons, and the supply already in hand is 100,000 gallons. It is not to be understood that this undertaking is binding, but it is better to know it beforehand. There will have to be a public meeting called and permission granted before a water works system can be undertaken. Mr. Coffin is considered one of the best engineers for this kind of work in the Eastern States, and is now making a similar survey in Texas, and we ought to congratulate ourselves in having secured such an efficient man.

The finance committee reported as follows: That the Mayor was served in a suit brought in the county court against the committee and the county disclaimed all liability therefor. The Mayor put in defence. Finance committee recommended reduction of treasurer's bond from $10,000 to $5,000, the latter being considered sufficient security. The committee also recommended the sum of five dollars be paid, and the Mayor preparing the Governor-General's reception address.

The finance committee also reported that the Mayor was served in a suit brought in the county court against the committee and the county disclaimed all liability therefor. The Mayor put in defence. Finance committee recommended reduction of treasurer's bond from $10,000 to $5,000, the latter being considered sufficient security.

When order had been obtained the president delivered the opening address. He was followed by Sir Charles Tupper, who at the close of his able and eloquent address, declared the exhibition open.

Hon. H. R. Emerson then made a few brief and highly appropriate remarks.

THE LIVE FISH EXHIBIT. The live fish display made at the Exhibition by Fishery Commissioner D. C. Smith, is very attractive. It is one of the exhibits which required more than usual time for preparation, as every part of it has been specially prepared for the show. The patterns for the castings of the iron portion of the tanks were made personally by Mr. Smith, and from that beginning he devised, made and put together the whole plant, with its complicated water and aerating system and its artistic imitation rock-work covering its miniature water-fall, brook and pond, its natural touches of moss and lichen, crown and background of trees, sleeping-tenet and other appropriate features. It is one of the displays that was ready and in working order at the hour of opening, although, after installing the plant last week, the commissioner had to go back for all his live fish, excepting the salmon, to the North Shore. For the loan of the salmon he is indebted to the courtesy of the Fisheries Department at Ottawa, through the good offices of Fishery Commissioner Prince, and the assistance of Overseer Joseph O'Brien in making the transfer from the west side point to the Exhibition Building.

This exhibit is on the main floor at the right hand corner of the entrance to the south wing, opposite the band stand. At first sight it seems to be a bit of solid sandstone ledge about eight feet high with irregular face, in semi-circular form, and an oval's attention is attracted to it, perhaps by the water which splashes down its side and into the little pond at its base, it is observed that a part of the face is composed of five plates of glass through which the live fish are seen moving about in their native element. The whole occupies a frontage of about twenty-five feet, and it is, in all its details, a creditable mechanical, scientific and artistic feature of the Exhibition.

Taken together with the display of stuffed birds and animals from the Crown Land office of Fredericton, and that of mounted fish from Ottawa, it shows that substantial for sale within the town of Chatham be amended as follows:— sheep 15 cts. cow, 20 " pig, 25 " mare, colt, foal or filly, $1.00 ram, 2.00 lamb, 10 cts.

That the master of the vessel bringing cattle, or other live stock, to Chatham for sale shall be the owner thereof liable to pay the above tax or license. That the by-law shall come into force on the 1st of October next, and that the by-law shall be in force until the 31st of March, 1899.

It was ordered that Capt. Shea be refunded the fine over and above the amount now set forth in the new by-law. Bills in connection with Fire department were passed as read by the council. Ald. Robinson said there was a bill of $232.16, handed to him by Messrs. Wait and Benson, for the flag-staff in the park. The cost of erecting it was in the vicinity of $100 and the flag-staff was paid by voluntary subscription. All the subscriptions had been paid and there was still a debt of $232.16 and the parties to whom the debt was owed threatened to put the matter in a lawyer's hands and pay it.

The Mayor disapproved of paying out money in such a way without either contract or any writing showing where the money goes. The proper way to bring this matter before the council was to get a bill for the amount of the debt, and have it referred to the finance committee. Still he thought it hardly reasonable for these gentlemen to pay for public property.

The bill in connection with the flag-staff was passed, but he understood there were other bills connected like this that might be brought before the council in the same way, and care should be taken in not making a precedent.

Ald. Robinson said in future a guarantee should be insisted on that the town would not be responsible for any costs for anything erected in this way on public property. The report was accepted.

Finance committee bills were passed as read, among them being one for $75.00 from R. A. Lawlor, for fees as counsel for the town in Scott Act case. The dog tax collector handed in his returns showing $187.00 had been collected and asking for another month to collect the amounts still due. The report passed.

The proposed road near the Wellington St. school was brought up. The council board of 1896 had ordered the opening of the road from the Wellington St. school to the Cape Breton coast and the cost would not exceed $150. The public works committee had arranged with the McLaughlin family and also Mr. Thomas Murray, and there was a Miss Kelly who owned a lot at the junction of Lydia St., and before final arrangements had been made she left for the United States. The matter was then dropped.

The street is very much needed for the opening of the street near Traer's, the public works committee have a fence erected on the south side of the roadway, a fence being already on the north side. Carried. Ald. Snowball also moved that the street be called Victoria St., and as suggested by the Mayor, the street to be opened to Hill St. be known as Aberdeen St. Carried.

WELLS & RICHMOND CO. Gentlemen—For two years I was in a low condition of health, suffering from nervousness, fainting spells, pain in the head, stomach troubles and loss of appetite. I was under the care of two doctors, but received no benefit from their treatment. I also used two bottles of a recommended medicine, but no good results came. I was then advised by a neighbor to use your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The result of this marvelous preparation has produced the very best results. I am pleased to report that my health is improved in every respect; I am stronger, sleep better, and my appetite is good and natural. I am pleased to recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sick people, as I believe it is the best medicine in the world. Yours truly, A. FORSYTHE, Mariners, Ont.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. reduced to 40 cts. VANCOUVER, Sept. 11.—New Westminster the chief city on the Fraser river presents a fearful scene of devastation this morning. Fire has wiped out the whole of the business portion, and there is not a public building standing in the central portion of the city. Fanned by a fierce wind, the fire which started on the water side by sparks from a steamer, spread with such awful rapidity that the streets were blazing only three hours when the smoking ashes marked where the houses were. Handsome blocks, banks and churches went up in smoke. Hundreds of people are homeless and relief is being sent from Vancouver. Two newspaper offices are gone. The C. P. R. station, three river steamers, the railway bridge and a number of private houses are destroyed. It is feared some lives were lost. It is known one woman, who had just been confined, is dead from the shock and also a woman who had typhoid fever. The loss of property is estimated to amount to $2,500,000.

Lola. This last thrust roused the woman...

CHAPTER XXVII. AFTER THE STORM. "Thank God for his mercy in this!"

Beryl first threw her arms round Lola in the excitement of the removal of the strain, and then, sitting still, gave full vent to her tears of pleasure.

"I don't understand it all now," said Beryl, "but I do not want yet to understand more than that you are cleared. Curiosity will come when I am not too agitated to think."

"I think I can give another clue," said Lola slowly. She had drawn away from Sir Jeffrey and was sitting again by Beryl, hand in hand.

"Don't, Lola!" exclaimed Sir Jeffrey. "I have been through worse trouble than that," she said quietly.

"What do you mean?" "I will not go away twice without saying good-bye. I am going now, Good-bye. I have done what I came back to do."

"May I come in, Sir Jeffrey?" he asked rather hesitantly. "Well, what is it, Mr. Clifford?" said the hardest of the interruption coming at such a moment.

"And now," said Lola, shaking hands with him as well, "and without any reservation as to your methods. I don't know how you did it, and don't care. The result is enough for me."

"How did she arrange a meeting with the Frenchman?" "He argued it with her, unfortunately for him. He wrote her that letter which I found. I expect that as a matter of fact he didn't know what to make of her and what she'd do.

him with a wife devoted that elicited the sympathy and admiration of all who witnessed it. Many of the ladies interested themselves in her, and she repaid them with grateful gratitude, but it was to the five members of the pardoning board that she addressed herself most earnestly.

A PRISON BREAK.

In the early days of its existence the Nevada state prison was so constructed as to be a very suitable institution. The warden's apartments, the guards' quarters and the convicts' cells and dining room were all under one roof, and the whole constituted a long two-story stone building, which in itself formed the front wall of the quarry and workyard.

"What let her ever reach the dock alive, the reply was 'This shock in this room nearly made her heart leap out of her body, and as she lies up stairs it's pumping away its strength at a rate that is dreadful to see. I think she's dying, and I believe the doctor thinks so too."

"I wish to leave the country for—say for a time—there would be no reason why I should not?" Lola asked. "So far as that matter is concerned, none whatever, absolutely none."

"This must not be. I know what Lola thinks to do—to go away. You must not let her go, Jeffrey. There is a reason which I will tell you—her cheeks began to flush as she said this, while Lola's flushed like fire—she has not yet finished telling all her secrets, and this is one which, instead of parting you, must hold you two together for always. There is no bar between you now, and in this place is a die. You must not part for what of a plainly spoken word. I am going up to the mother, Jeffrey, to tell her all of this strange story."

"The first intimation that any of the guards had of their escape was through the wall separating them from the outside. It was the work of only a few moments more to climb to the top of the upper tier of cells and out through the wall separating them from the other part of the building."

"I must be," he whispered, "for the home of the future. Who should a child's mother rest save on my heart? Come, sweetheart—wife, come!"

"The alarm of the community may be better imagined than described. There were muttering and arming in haste, the militia was called out, and the telegraph wires clicked the night long, sending the warning to all parts of the country."
