The Atlantic disaster created a profound sensation here, and all ower the country, and intense interest is felt to learn the names of those who were lost. The agents of the line expect a duplicate passenger list by another steamer now about due. The Atlantic and cargo were valued at about $850,000. The London despatch of to-day says: "The announcement of the wreck of the steamship Atlantic, and the appalling loss of life thereby, created a profo and sensation in this city and Liverpool. The disaster is the universal topic of conversation. The offices of the agents in both cities were thronged all the morning with people. The friends of the passengers in the ill-fated steamship are all anxiously inquiring for the news of the survivors."
