Provincial Parliament.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Monday, March 25.

The House went into Committee of the whole in consideration of a Bill to repeal all laws relating to old Soldiers engaged in the Revolutionary War, and their widows—Hon. Col. Shore in the Chair.

Hon. Col. Wren asked if the Bill went to prevent old soldiers from getting the £10 pension, that came into the Province since the year 1830, if that was the case he was directly opposed to it, for there were many persons who had come to the Province since that time, who deserved the pension as well as any others, and to prevent those poor old soldiers from receiving the pittance sum of ten pounds as a pension, when they had been so long as to fight for their Country during the Revolutionary struggle and had left their comfortable homes on account of their loyalty, and come and settle in this country when it was a mere wilderness—it would be a most shameful thing. He thought the old law entered a very good purpose, and if there had been any imposition practised, it was the fault of the magistrates, who granted them the certificates. He was for rewarding all those who served their country during the war, particularly those who sacrificed their best and dearest interest for their Country's welfare. As to the widows of old soldiers, he thought they also should receive the pension; there were a number of them in Charlotte County (here the hon. gentleman referred to the list in the Statute Book, and it appeared that their ages averaged about ninety years) and some of them depended on the pension for support. He hoped no law would pass to deprive them of it; he would much rather increase the sum than diminish it, and not let the poor old soldiers go down with snow to the grave. They should not be put on the same level with paupers, but should be respected, and not only be respected but protected also; and he felt proud, and had reason to be thankful, that he belonged to a County that provided for the faithful services of old soldiers.

Hon. Mr. Botsford thought there should be some alteration in the old act, as many persons had received the pension in the Province that had no right to it. When the old Law passed, it was not the intention that any person should receive the pension unless they were in indigent circumstances. Hon. Capt. Owen would object to pass a Bill to render the situation of those old soldiers worse than what they were before; they should not only give them the £10 but give it in the most cheerful manner. He was very sorry to hear that there had been any abuses and thought it was in a great measure the fault of the Magistrates.

Hon. Mr. Saunders most fully concurred with what had fallen from the hon. and gallant Captain, that if there were a class of men in the Province that claimed their attention it was those who were engaged in the Revolutionary War.

Hon. Mr. Hatch would oppose any Bill that went to take a penny from those brave and meritorious old soldiers, who had fought their country's battles, and on account of their loyalty had left their homes and come to dwell in a wilderness. He felt proud that he lived in a Country that provided for such deserving men, and considered it would be the height of cruelty to repeal the old law, and hoped such would not be the case.

Hon. Col. Shore thought the old law provided fully against abuses, and considered whatever the circumstances of those men that were engaged in the war might be they were justly entitled to the small pittance of ten pounds, and thought it would be a most disgraceful thing to deprive them of it after having spent the best of their Country, he would therefore move that the further consideration of the Bill be postponed for 3 months.

The hon. Col. Shore's motion for the motion for the postponement of the Bill for 3 months was then put and carried, and the house adjourned.

The hon. Mr. Wilnot laid the following Despatch, before the House of Assembly

The weather for the last week has been fine, the snow has disappeared from our streets, and they are drying very fast. The ice in the River at St. Stephen took its departure on Friday night last, and vessels can now proceed up to the wharves.—There is yet in the woods upwards of three feet of snow.

Exclusion of Officers.—A Bill has been introduced into the Legislature of Nova Scotia, and read a first time, to prevent certain persons being elected to, or sitting in the House of Assembly.—This Bill refers to officers connected with the Customs and Excise departments.

The Hon. H. Hatch, and the Hon. Thomas Wier returned from their Legislative duties on Saturday evening last. The House of Assembly it is said would rise on Friday next.

The customs receipts at New York between 1st and 19th ult., were $1,128,000. These added to the amount of the two previous months, make the total of $5,178,726, received in New York alone from the 1st January up to the 19th ult.

The Civic Elections took place in Saint John for Charter Officers, only our new Member was elected.

Disease of Tracadio and Yeguar.—The Miramichi Gleaner of the 3d inst. says:—In compliance with instructions from the Lieutenant Governor, a Commission, consisting of Drs. Key, Skene, Toddard and Gordon, and the Rev. Mr. LaFrance, left Chatham on the morning of Thursday last, for the purpose of investigating the nature, origin, and extent of the frightful and loathsome disease existing in Yeguar, Tracadio and Tabisnoche. They returned on Sunday evening, and from them we gather the following information.

The disease is the Greek Elephantiasis, the Leprosy, not the Elephantiasis of the Arabians, but the Leprosy of the Middle Ages; the Lepre Tuberculose of the French, or Tubercular Leprosy, which raged over nearly every district of Europe, from the tenth to the sixteenth century. It is the decided opinion of the gentlemen composing the commission, that the disease is contagious, and so far as they could ascertain, no person in the above districts, who contracted it, were ever cured. They discovered upwards of twenty cases, all of which can be traced to one source.

The disease is rapidly approaching our more densely populated districts, and is now only twenty four miles from Chatham.

The New York Express of the 26th ult., says, six hundred and twenty dollars was the amount received at the collection of the O. Council rent, last night, in Washington 13th. It was principally in small sums, gathered from the very poorest and hardest labouring portion of the community.

A late New York paper says: Steam vessels, with submerged screws, are very rapidly taking the place of both "canvas back" vessels, and the big wheel-horse steamers. There are at this moment, between 50 and 100 steamers, ranging from 200 to 900 tons each, in service in the country, propelled by the Ericsson screw. They have spread from Maine to Louisiana, and over all the Northern Lakes.

In less than five years we shall see steamers, driven on the submerged principle, entirely monopolizing our coasting trade.

SPRING WORK.

We copy from the Cultivator, the following judicious remarks, which are well worth the attention of all who are engaged in Agricultural pursuits:—

There is no season of the year in which energy, activity, and good calculations are more requisite than the present. Animals of all kinds, young and old, and particularly those intended for labour, demand increased care and attention. March is one of the most trying months for animals, as they are, as the saying is, "between hay and grass;" and too often the supply of either they can obtain, is barely sufficient to support life. If farmers would consider the much greater quantity of milk a cow would yield in a season, that is in good condition in the spring, than one that has "been on lift" through March or April, we are confident there would not be so many skeleton cows on our farms as there now are. If they would for one moment reflect that a large part of an animal's power of draft lies in his weight, and that where this is wanting, and the whole is thrown on muscular exertion, the animal must soon give way, they would feel the necessity of having their working stock, horses or cattle, at this season, in good heart, their flesh sound and durable; and we should be spared the mortification of seeing so many poor and miserable teams in the field, at a time when all should be life and activity. To work well, an animal must be kept well; and the work, in nine cases out of ten, will be found best done, where the teams are in the best condition. You might as well expect that an Asiatic team, of a jacks and a woman yoked together, would break up the ground to the proper depth, as that a pair of scarecrow horses or oxen can do. It never undertakes to see on how little food your team can subsist. No better criterion is needed of the nature of a man's cultivation of his grounds, than is afforded by his animals; and he who starves them, will soon find his land will starve him. At this season of the year sheep require much attention, and will well repay it. Sheep are among our most profitable animals, and on the whole, require less care than most others, if the little they demand is given at the proper time. Look out for the lambs and the weak ones of the flock, and do not suffer a drove of hardy wethers to pick over and trample upon the fodder, before the ewes and lambs can get a taste.

It is an important point in commencing work in the spring, that every implement necessary should be at hand, and in first rate condition, when wanted. The good farmer has his house for his farm implements, as well as for himself or his stock; and is careful that all shall be put in their place, as fast as the season throws them out of use. In the winter, all are carefully examined, and the necessary repairs are made. The farmer who permits this work to pass until the implements are wanted in the field, will find he must lose many valuable hours, if not days, at a time when one, if lost, is with difficulty overtaken.

There is a very great fault among farmers, and we feel justified in reprobating it in strong terms, because we have been sometimes guilty of it ourselves; and that is, laying out more work than can be done by the force on the farm, timely and properly; and experience has convinced us that if work cannot be done as it should be, it is better not to meddle with it at all. Never is this fault more observable, or more injurious, than in putting in the crops of the season. There are some cultivated plants, which we may be certain will not mature unless the seeds are in the ground at about such a time—a time, it is true, varying in different latitudes, but generally well understood at any given place; yet we find some farmers, so negligent, and what is worse, making an assumed trust in Providence an excuse for their laziness, as to be weeks behind the proper time of getting in the seed. Indian corn may serve as an example of such plants. As a general rule too, spring wheat, barley, oats, &c., if the sowing of them on any cause is delayed beyond the proper time, although by chance a pretty fair crop so far as regards bushels, may be produced, yet the quality will be found inferior, the grain light, and the danger from blight or rust greatly increased.

Do not entertain the idea that your farm work can go on successfully, unless you give it your personal supervision. The merchant, the lawyer, the doctor, must attend to their business personally, or all will go wrong, and it is not less so with the farmer. Poor Richard never drew from his stores of wisdom a better maxim than that "he who by the plow would thrive, himself must either hold or drive." Labourers may be faithful and careful, but they cannot enter fully into all the intentions and plans of the farmer; and he must be the guiding and directing head of the whole, or much ill-directed effort will take place. The good farmer will be in the field with his labourers. He never says to them go, but come; and he knows that in the management of a farm, example is far better than precept.

The introduction and the propagation of good fruit, is one of the many things that must not be overlooked in any estimate of the spring labours. The man who neglects to plant fruit trees, when he has a rod of ground to plant them on, avows his intention of becoming a nuisance to his neighbours; for depending upon it, the man who is too lazy to plant, will not be too proud to beg, or above allowing his children to steal the fruit of his more industrious and careful neighbor. Every man who has cultivated a fruit garden is well aware of this state of things; and has found that fruit, instead of adding to his enjoyment as it should, has only served as a signal of gathering, to these ill-omened plunderers. The only remedy is for every farmer to endeavor to make the best fruits abundant; to plant enough for himself, and some to spare. —Cultivator.

Charcoal for Manure.—Charcoal is recommended as a manure, because it is an absorbent of ammonia, and it is supposed that by spreading it on the soil, it will absorb the ammonia from the atmosphere, and transmit it to the growing plants as they require. That it is an absorbent of ammonia, may be known from its taking away the odors from tainted meat or fish. So completely will it do this, that we have known meat that had considerably taken hurt, made good and free from disagreeable taste or smell, by being repacked with charcoal between each layer. It is called an excellent manure for onions, and it is particularly valuable for stiff, sour soils. It is stated that 40 or 50 rocks have gone out to bring Guano from the rocky islands on the west coast of Africa. If it be true that guano only disposes of excreta where there is little or no rain, the speculation is like to be a losing one. —London paper.

Dreadful Explosion!—On Friday morning, says the Petersburg (Virginia) Intelligencer, a locomotive with a train of thirty-two burden cars, left the depot of the Petersburg and Roanoke road at about nine o'clock. After passing the first curve, it was discovered that one of the cars had got off the track, and the engine was of course immediately stopped, the engineer getting down to see what was the nature of the difficulty. As soon as the car had been placed on the track, the engineer returned to his post, and put the engine in motion. No sooner had he done so, than the boiler burst, tearing the engine to atoms, and the engineer literally to pieces, at the same time killing a coloured fireman, and very severely injuring another. One piece of the boiler, weighing at least 200 pounds, was blown more than two hundred yards.

Mexico.—By the way of Havana, we have received intelligence from Vera Cruz, to the 2nd ult. Little of importance has occurred. Mr. Bankhead, the new English minister, had not yet arrived; but an English steam packet was in sight, and it was believed to be the Inconstant, with the Minister on board.—Nothing positive is known of the relations between England and Mexico.

The intelligence from Mexico is about fourteen days later. The republic was reported to be quiet and slowly recovering from the evils of the late internal commotions. Santa Anna had arrived in the capital, assumed the reins of government, and received in state the felicitations of the foreign representatives near that republic. The French minister being the senior of the diplomatic corps present, acted as spokesman on the occasion.

The most flattering accounts were received daily from emigrants lately gone to the California; and preparations were making to accommodate the increased numbers intending to emigrate thither in the ensuing spring.

The Mexican papers continue to comment with much warmth on the idea of Texas being annexed to the U. States.

HAVANA.—A private correspondent furnishes us with the following intelligence. "The Slave trade is carried on with great activity, in consequence of the interested tolerance of the Captain General."

Growth of New York.—From the report of the City Inspectors made to the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening, we learn that the number of buildings erected in the City during the year 1843, was 1,273 of which 842 are brick dwelling houses. The number of buildings erected in the city in 1842, was 912, showing an increase the last year of 361.

The King.—The missionary on the behalf of the Free Church of Scotland is very successful among his American brethren. In Baltimore one sermon produced $2000, in Philadelphia more than $2000. In the church in Wall street, in New York, a collection was also made, probably not less than either of the others. The ladies of one Scotch Pre-byterian family of New York forwarded in a letter nearly $2500.

POETRY.

THE PROPHECY OF BAALAM.
Amid the distant rounds of time,
A dazzling Star appears;
Whose cloud—dispelling rays shall shine,
Through all revolving years.
What though now dark and dim it seems,
To Judah's chosen race;
Yet soon shall its enlivening beams,
Both doubt and darkness chase.
And doubt and darkness now do flee,
Before the Saviour's voice;
He might the Nations all do see,
And in his strength rejoice.
For he the Mighty hath laid low,
And raised the Poor on high;
The humble he hath filled full,
The proud before him fly.

New-Brunswick, Provincial Parliament.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

From the Journals.

27th March.
Mr. Brown moved for leave to present a Petition from John Wilson, Wm. Babcock, and 33 others, Merchants and Shipowners of St. Andrews, praying that measures may be adopted for allowing Foreign Products, acquiring a Colonial character by manufacture, to have admission into the United Kingdom, as the growth and produce of this Province, and the Order of the House, limiting the time for introducing Petitions, being in this instance dispensed with, leave was granted, and the Petition then read, and ordered to lie on the Table.

The Committee to whom were referred sundry Petitions for allowances to Teachers of Schools who have not received any part of the Provincial Grants, recommended that they be granted:—

- To Isabella Coulter, the sum of £3 6s 8d, for having taught a School in the Parish of St. David's, in 1840.
- To Theodore Winchester, Grand Manan, the sum of £3 6s 8d, October 1842.
- To Cecilia A. Turner, Parish of St. George, the sum of £3 March 1842.
- To Michael Griffin, St. Stephen, the sum of £10, April 1842.
- To George Fitzgerald, St. Stephen, the sum of £20, July 1843.
- To Henry Coulter, St. Stephen, the sum of £10, October 1841.
- To Flora McKenzie, St. Stephen, the sum of £10, December 1842.
- To Samuel McCurdy, St. Andrews, the sum of £20, September 1843.

In reference to the Petition of Timothy F. Harley, your Committee would recommend the usual Grant to the Managing Committee of the Roman Catholic School in the Town of St. Andrews be continued, but cannot recognize any interference between the Managing Committee and the Teachers.

Degradation and Sufferings of the Women of India.—The birth of a son is regarded with inordinate pleasure and satisfaction, but that of a daughter is esteemed a misfortune and disgrace; and this cruel and unjust distinction is adhered to in all, even the most trivial, circumstances of life. The boy is caressed, indulged, educated, and loved; but the girl is despised, depressed, and neglected—a slave in her father's, and afterwards in her husband's, house; employed only to minister to the wants and pleasures of the other sex. If she has sons, she is the object of their unrestrained abuse and tyranny; if she has none, she is despised by all for not being so fortunate; and compelled to give place to a second, and, perhaps, a third wife. And when she becomes a widow, her head is immediately shaved; her ornaments are laid aside for ever; her dress must be of the meanest and coarsest kind; she must sleep upon the bare floor; repeat daily a tedious round of mantras, or prayers; eat only once a day, and then only about as much as a child of seven or eight years is allowed; and suffer many other privations which do not now occur to my mind.—From the circumstance of their being betrothed about eight or nine years of age, and no second marriage being allowed to a Hindoo female, the number of widows among them is almost incredible.—Mrs. Sewell's narrative.

Will Potatoes make a Milch Cow Poor?—

It is a very prevalent notion that milch cows do not gain flesh on potatoes.—many think they grow poor by eating them. Does any one doubt that cows will be poorer in the spring for being milked through the winter, instead of going dry for four months? Yet we milk them.

There is much difference in cows in this respect. Some will convert but a part of it, and the rest goes to sustain, or to fatten the cow. But suppose that all cows become poorer for eating potatoes while in milk, it by no means follows that we suffer a loss by giving them potatoes.

The celebration of Capt. Tyler's Birth day was celebrated in New York by a couple of hundred office holders and office beggars;—though many of the former were taken suddenly sick, and like "spirits in the vastly deep," they "couldn't come." It is said to have been quite an amusing spectacle to look at the difference in the appearance of those who want office; and also to witness their efforts to outdo each other in glorifying Capt. Tyler! What a world of humbug this is!

This District of Columbia seems to be overrun with burglaries and incendiaries. An attempt was made fire the African meeting house in Georgetown, the benches and carpets having been heaped together in the middle of the house, and set fire to, but was fortunately discovered in time to be extinguished. The National Intelligencer says, on Sunday night an unsuccessful attempt was made, by probably the same burglars, to rob the house of Mr. C. Ritchiehouse, situated on the heights of Georgetown.
