They Do Not All Know

That it is a wasteful policy to in vest money in anything but reliable goods.

Everybody knows there's a world of difference in clothes. But only those who have had the experience are conscious of the fact that any old thing looks good when it is new. Some suits of clothing will outwear three or four others, and they will look better than the fourth that is made of shoddy. It pays, and pays well, to invest in good clothes. The so-called cheap article is seldom cheap. It is when a reliable firm, such as Deeks & Munson are known to be. offer to sell at largely-reduced figures in order to make room for the coming season's goods, that real bargains may be had.

The Hague, July 24.—The third committee of the international peace conference held a session Saturday under the presidency of Leon Bourgeois, of the French delegation, and adopted article 9 as modified. The article now reads:

"In international disputes, involving neither country's honor nor essential interests, arising from a divergence of opinion on points of fact, the signatory powers deem it advisable that parties which are unable to agree by diplomatic means shall institute, so far as circumstances will permit, an international inquiry, whose duty it shall be to facilitate the solution of these disputes by clearing up the questions of fact by means of an impartial, conscientious examination." SCHEME AS A WHOLE ADOPTED.

After adopting article 9 and passing the second reading of the five articles dealing with commissions of inquiry, the committee adopted, with slight verbal modifications, articles 36 to 56 of the arbitration scheme, and then adopted the scheme as a whole, bringing the labors of the committee to a successful conclusion.

Count Nigra, head of the Italian delegation, on behalf of his colleagues, thanked M. Bourgeois, who, Count Nigra said, had directed the discussion, "with distinction, authority and impartiality, and in a conciliatory spirit."

The committee will meet formally on Tuesday next to read the minutes of its proceedings, and afterwards a plenary meeting of the conference will be held for the final acceptance of the arbitration scheme. The entire proceedings are expected to be brought to an end by the latter part of this week. leaving.

MANY DEATHS BY LIGHTNING. Berlin, July 24.—The past week has been unusually hot and humid. Heavy rains and hailstorms have occurred in various parts of the country, inflicting much damage to the crops. Many people have been killed by lightning, two such cases having occurred in Berlin. A number were also injured in Berlin. The River Havel at Pots-dam was filled to its banks for several days, and thousands of fish were killed by lightning. Floods are reported in the Spreedwald and in the lowlands of the Vistula the hay crop has been ruined for the second time this season. In Wurtemberg the crops have been almost totally destroyed. The thunder at Hanover was the most severe experienced for 30 years. Many people in that province were struck and killed by lightning. In Riesengebirge, Silesia, some deaths from sunstroke were also reported. One hundred draft dogs in Berlin were sunstruck during the week and brought to the veterinary station by the police.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S CASE. London, July 24.—A question will be asked in the House of Commons today with regard to Mrs. Maybrick, undergoing sentence of life imprisonment for the poisoning of her husband, and whether, seeing her conduct has been uniformly good, Sir Matthew White Ridley, the home secretary, will not recommend the exercise of royal clemency in her case.

LAST DAY AT BISLEY.

Bisley, July 24.—Saturday was the closing day of the annual meeting of the National Rifle Association, and witnessed the conclusion of the shooting for the Queen's prize and the St. George's challenge vase. Three Canadians have been left in the final stages of each competition.

O. M. Mundzen won the St. George's, adding 46 to his score in the morning. The Canadians, Huggins and Fleming, added 42, and Graham 40, to their consists of ten shots each at 800, 900 Mr. Evans has generously offered and 1,000 yards. The shooting at 800 scored 251 and 248 respectively. The final for the Queen's prize resulted in a tie between Sergt. Jones, of the Welsh Fusiliers; Pte. Priault, of Guernsey, and Sergt. Anderson, of the Fourth Lanark, with 236 each. On shooting off the tie Priault won, and therefore became the prize man.

The captain of the Canadian team, Wilson, wins a bicycle, the first prize in the Kynoch. For the Queen's prize the completion of shooting at 900 yards found Sergts. Black, of the Lanarkshire Regiment, and Jones, of the Welsh Fusiliers, leading, with an aggregate of 299 each. Of the Canadians, Crowe had 289, Bertram 267, and Fleming 283. At 1,000 yards Bertram scored 37, Fleming 36, and Crowe 41. Bertram's aggregate for the match was 324; Crowe's was 330, and Fleming's was 329.

CRISIS IN SIGHT. London, July 24.-The Times' Pretoria correspondent says the Uitlanders have been given to understand that no abatement of the demands made by Sir Alfred Milner will be acceptable to the imperial authorities. A crisis is therefore, now held to be in sight.

At a meeting of Uitlanders in Johannesburg there was decided upon and dispatched a strongly-worded cablegram protesting to the British Government against the acceptance of the seven years' franchise as the basis of a settlement of the Anglo-Boer dispute. The charges against the persons arrested some time ago for alleged conspiracy against the government have been reduced from high treason to creating disturbances. Premier Schreiner, of the Cape Colony, absolutely denies the London Standard's accusation that he telegraphed to President Kruger, exhorting him not to yield to the demands of the Uitlanders. He says he merely telegraphed to President Kruger, advising him not to be premature in passing the franchise law. There is great indignation on the part of the English and anti-Boers against Premier Schreiner, who is under their deep suspicion. CABLE NOTES.

WHEAT PROSPECTS

Inactivity in the English Market-An Average Crep Looked For.

London, July 24. - The same general tone of inactivity as last week prevails in the wheat market, the demand from the limited attendance of buyers being restricted and confined to immedlate wants. Operators, in the face of the ample supplies both on hand and coming forward, combined with the favorable crop prospects, are acting very cautiously. The supply of home-grown wheat on offer has not increased, but business has been practically at a stand-still, the rates being nominally easier, Foreign sorts have been offered to a fair extent, and with no revival in inquiry a very flat state of affairs is characteristic. Even a general de-preciation of 6d per quarter is not leading to any appreciable increase in the volume of trade doing.

The Mark Lane Express, from the latest reports to hand, says: "The season in England has been, by any means, an ideal wheat one, but it still promises well, and will certainly prove the crop of the year. "The reports from the various districts are conflicting, but should wheat experience favorable weather until the harvest, it will not fall much below the average. There is nothing to add to what I said last week re-garding the foreign prospects, which remain just as they were.'

SHALL THERE BE MORE POLICE-

MEN? The city council tonight will have to consider the question of increasing the police force to protect the street railway company's cars. The company has failed to comply with the council's order for a full seventeen hours' service. This order was to have been carried into effect July 19, but at no time has the company given a full night service. Saturday night they had only five cars running after 9 o'clock, and none traversed Rectory street after 8 p.m. The full quota, 21 cars, are being run in the daytime. Chief Williams says the company is unwilling to run their cars at night unless they get police protection. He cannot furnish two or three men for each car, he says, and therefore the council is asked to increase the force. Some members of the council hold that the company is liable to a penalty of $10 per day for ignoring the council's order. TWO SIDES TO A QUESTION. A combination of employing manufacturers cannot reasonably refuse to recognize that combination of their employes which is called a union. With less reason can a combination of employers undertake to destroy the organization of their combined employes by punishing with arbitrary dismissal the officers or other representatives of the workmen's association. Public opinion will not support an attempt of combination at the top of an industry to prevent or destroy combination at the bottom by dismissal or other punshment.-New York Independent.

CROOKEDNESS. There is a great furore in Ottawa. Thirteen aldermen, by a snap vote on Thursday night, rushed through a by-law, giving the Ottawa street railway company a 22-year Sunday franchise. The minority were so indignant that they walked out of the council chamber before the vote. The council had previously agreed on a three-year franchise, and the meeting was a special one called to pass the third reading of the 3-year bylaw. The 22-year fran-chise was suddenly sprung on the meeting, and carried by the thirteen aldermen whom the Ottawa Citizen calls the company's henchmen. Aldermen who are out of the city have been telegraphed for, and another meeting will be held to try to frustrate the deal. Charges of crookedness are op-

CASES IN COURT

Aftermath of the Disturbances on the 8th Inst.

Post-Proclamation Cases All Laid Over Till Next Monday.

Riot cases arising out of the street railway troubles on Saturday, the 8th inst., pretty nearly monopolised the attention of the police court this morning. One case was dismissed on the preliminary examination. Two men were committed for trial at the assizes, and one case was emerged till Thursday. All cases of alleged disturbances after the riot act was read were postponed till Monday, 21st inst.

Alfred Deardon was charged with throwing three stones at a street car on Saturday afternoon, near the corner of Dundas and Lyle streets. P. C. Woolway testified that he had known the defendant for some time, and he had seen him throw the stones. Deardon admitted having been in the crowd on the afternoon in question, but swore most positively that he had not thrown a stone or any other missile during the day. He had gone to the corner of Dundas and Lyle streets, because of a rumor that the non-union men would go on strike at 2:30 in the afternoon. Mr. Magee, cross-questioning him for the prosecution, said: "You were one of the striking employes of the the

"No, sir," replied the defendant.
"When did you work for the street railway company?" asked Mr. Magee. "Never," was the reply. Mr. Magee looked puzzled, and having no other witnesses ready, the case came to a standstill. Mr. Judd, for the defense, asked that the hearing be made a trial, the defendant having been put on the stand upon that understanding. The magistrate was disposed to agree, but Mr. Magee objected, and the magistrate discharged the defendant upon the examination, remarking that his story had been very straightforward, and it might easily have been a case of mistaken identity on the part of P. C.

Woolway. Horace L. Lamotte was up on a similar charge. P. C. Black testified that he saw him throw one stone and break a car window. P. C. Woolway testifled to having seen the defendant throw three stones, one at one car and two at another, from the corner of Dundas and Adelaide streets. There were only about a dozen people around at the time, which was 3:10 p.m. He had not attempted to arrest Lamotte, preferring to summons him. Lamotte was committed for trial at the assizes, bail being fixed at $400.

A rioting case against George Terry was enlarged till Thursday. Isaac Downey was charged by P. C. McDonald with having thrown stone at a car on Dundas street at about 6:30 p.m. Downey claimed to have been on the opposite side of the street at the time with his wife and child. He denied having thrown anything. He was committed for trial. Bail was fixed at $400. Elizabeth Black, a semi-occasional visitor to the police court, arrested for being drunk, was discharged. Mary Wilkinson, examined for insanity, was committed to the asylum. Cases against John Pendergast, O. M. Finch and A. Borland, for not having dispersed when ordered to do so, af-

UNDER TWO FLAGS THE ALASKA

Hen. George W. Ross Makes an Able Speech.

At the Opening of the New Suspension Bridge Across Niagara's Gorge.

An account of the opening of the new suspension bridge over the Niagara River, spanning the channel at a point a little above Queenston and Lewiston, was given in The Advertiser on Saturday. Hon. W. Caryl Eley, of Buffalo, who was chairman at the banquet that followed the formal opening in proposing the health of Queen ing, in proposing the health of Queen Victoria and President McKinley jointly, which was enthusiastically honored, referred to the meeting under two flags, and said that the poet's definition of "the white man's burden" had thrilled the Anglo-Saxon race all over the world, and had struck a responsive chord. It was upon the present hisoric spot. continued the chairman, it was thought wise to ask the representatives of the two countries to join together the two peoples by one more artery of communication. It had been a pleasant task for his associates and himself to do that much towards binding together the broken bonds, that they might be united for the benefit of mankind. The Americans appreciated and loved the Canadians, and he hoped the new bridge would be the means of constant and daily communication between the two peoples.

HON MR. ROSS' SPEECH. Hon. G. W. Ross, who was received with loud applause, said: Permit me to join in the congratulations of those who preceded me on the happy completion of the great enterprise, the formal opening of which we are celebrating today. As we look upon the tremendous chasm which is now spanned by the airy structure over which so many of us have passed in safety and which answers so perfectly the pur-pose for which it was intended, we are at a loss to determine which is greater, the natural forces which hewed their way through the flinty rocks beneath our feet, or the genius of man which suspended in mid-air those mighty cables which bear without a quiver the heaviest burdens which the commerce of two nations can impose upon them. Permit me also to join in the congratu-lations which this event has suggested to previous speakers with respect to the harmony existing between the two nations which are so happily engaged in the ceremonies of the day. The bridge which we have just opened is in itself a practical illustration of that Anglo-Saxon alliance so devoutly wished for by all good men, and which, I believe, now fills the hearts of many millions with brighter hopes as to the future of our race. There was a time, not so very long ago, either, when certain of the people of the United States and Canada assembled on this very spot, but for a different purpose from the meeting of today. There was a time when those hills which surround us reverberated with shouts and cheers, but they were not the shouts and cheers of mutual friendship. There was a time when the flags of the two na-tions, so gracefully intertwined today, floated over the green sward on which we now stand, but not as emblematic of national good-will. Thank God, we have bridged the terrible chasm which then separated us-bridged it, I trust, with cables stronger than those which side of the rock on either Niagara River. Thank God, peace hath victories more renowned than war. As the rainbow in the early days arched the turbulent waters of the deluge as a sign that God's wrath for the wickedness of men was appeased, so may this arch over the turbulent waters which separate two nations be accepted as a token that the angry passions which stained these hillsides with the blood of a common race will never again be aroused, either for aggrandizement or retaliation. Accursed be the man on either side of the line who first cries "havoc" or lets slip the dogs of war. (Cheers.)

And here is an anomaly. While two nations by their enterprise have established commercial relations with the vorld, and while with one hand they have spent millions to improve the facilities for such trade, even to the building of bridges and tunnels to make trade easy, with the other hand they have erected commercial barriers against each other which baffle enterprise and thwart the laws of commerce as well as the laws of nature. Let me say that nothing but Anglo-Saxon enterprise could survive under such de-pressing conditions. May we hope that the good sense of the two nations which today rejoice in freer intercourse with each other by means of the coning will henceforth unite in establishing freer intercourse through the partial disarmament at least of the custom house keeper and the director of alien labor laws, so that the Anglo-Saxon on both halves of this continent may have free course and be glorified. Having accomplished so much in fetters, what could he not do if he were a free man? Permit me, therefore, as a Canadian, as one who loves his coun-try, and who has unbounded confidence in its future, in words of deepest sincerity to express the hope that the unity established between us today will never be disturbed by the lust of conquest, the greed of avarice or the pride of prosperity; that the appeal of the demagogue will not divert either nation from the path of honor, and that the glamor of national greatness will ! not hide from us the great law of universal brotherhood. "Behold how good and pleasant a thing it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." (Cheers.)

BOUNDARY

Important Statement Made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Arbitration the Only Way Out of the Trouble-Defeat of the Yukon Railway by the Senate Was a Crime-Sir Charles Tupper Admits Making Ill-Advised Speeches.

[Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.] Ottawa, July 24.-In the House of Commons Saturday morning, Mr. Sifton introduced a bill respecting roads and road allowance in the Province of Manitona. This bill is for the object of countenancing certain acts of municipalities in that province.

When the orders of the day were reached, Sir Charles Tupper brought up the Alaska boundary question. He proceeded to point out the unjustifiable course which the United States had pursued in connection with this case, which led him to come to the conclusion that the Americans knew that a just tribunal would decide against them if the boundary question was referred to it. While the United States was pursuing this course, their newspapers were engaged in laying before their readers that Britain, and the United States would have long ago settled the question, but that Canada was standing in the way of settlement. This was not correct. He asked why it was that in all cases of this kind Britain would not deal with the United States as she would with any other country. He had been for a long time high commissioner, and in his negotiations with the British Government he discovered that this was the case. There was no country in the world that would refuse or have tried so hard to prevent arbitration when they saw that their neighbor was when they saw that their neighbor was standing upon just ground. There was, he said, a limit to our endurance with the United States. If Britain had done the same thing with France as she has been doing with the United States she would not today be in possession. she would not today be in possession of the Nile. The Nile would have been lost to England. The United States should be dealt with as all civilized countries were treated. It would never do to leave matters as they were before the house rose. He trusted the government would take definite action. There were just two ways that this could be son; that the act to do so should only come into force by proclamation of the governor-general in council, and that the rates on the railway should be controlled. trolled by the governor-general in council. The second was to pass a law that only British subjects should obtain licenses to do mining in the Yukon; this also to be put in force by the governor-general in council. During his remarks Sir Charles said that in his Toronto speech, and in his speech on the address, he was not in full possession of the facts, or he would not have taken exception to what the government had done in this matter.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, said that the leader of the opposition was in a position to speak more frankly then he was. Sir Charles Tupper-Hear, hear.

which the leader of the opposition had spoken, and was prepared to admit that if the two speeches-the one in Toronto and the other on the addresswere excepted, the honorable gentle man was entitled to the credit of having done his best to facilitate the important question of the boundary award. However, it was not always wise to speak before the full facts were known. As leader of the government and member of the commission, he was not so free to speak as Sir Charles. Canada had, from all that could be ascertained, the right of justice on her side in this case. There were, however, only two ways of settling this question. The one was by war, and the other by arbitration. War was out of the question, so that the only thing left was arbitration. As for a settlement by compromise, which was at one time possible, that was out of the question at his moment. He had no hope of that, but he did not despair of a settlement by arbitration. What we had to do was to be patient. There was nothing else for it. In regard to the other propositions, he would take them into consideration.

While he did not want to raise any controversy, he was compelled to say that the defeat of the Yukon Railway of two years ago was a crime. that been passed, this year would have seen a railway on its way to the very part which Sir Charles now proposed to build it to. (Liberal cheers.) As to shutting American miners out the Yukon, that was also a serious question, which would be sure to provoke retaliation, and while the negotia tions were on that was not advisable. Still, he would promise Sir Charles to consider it.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Saturday's Doings at the Big Convention in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24.—Saturday was the big day of the Epworth League convention. Every minute of time was occupied by business, beginning with three sunrise prayer meetings. About 14,000 visitors were in the city. Junior league meetings were held in Robert Park and Meridian Street Methodist Churches in the morning. The regular convention began at 9 o'clock. Bishop W. X. Ninde, of Detroit, presided in the tent; Bishop Chas. A Farmer Tells How He Was B. Galloway, Jackson, Miss., presided in Tomilson Hall, and Bishop Hurst was at the opera house. The same topics were spoken upon at each of the three meetings. "Methodism, Its Evangelical Genius," was discussed by the Rev. W. A. Spencer, Philadelphia; Rev. C. B. Spencer, Denver, and Rev. H. G. ROBERT INGERSOLL'S REMAINS. New York, July 24.—Seemingly in peaceful slumber the body of Robert G. Ingersoll lay on an improvised bier yesterday in the bedroom in which he the home of Walston H. Many men of all sorts and conditions, but mostly humble toilers, made the pilgrimage to Dobbs' Ferry in the hope that they might be permitted to gaze once more upon the noted agnostic. In no instance was the request refused. No arrangements whatever have yet been made concerning the funeral. Mrs. Ingersoll and her daughters, Mrs. Brown and Miss Maude Ingersoll, are, still too much overcome with sorrow to consider the matter.

Street Car Blown Up With Gun-Cotton or Nitro-Glycerine.

Several Persons Hurt-Company Decline Arbitration.

Cleveland, July 23. - The rioting, which continued throughout last night, was renewed today, and there were several serious outbreaks of violence, but no clashes between the mobs and the troops.

Soon after 10 o'clock a thousand or more persons gathered on Burton street on the south side and proceeded to obstruct the track. When a car came along with two policemen on board it was attacked with a shower of stones, and the non-union motorman and conductor were roughly handled. One of them, named McDermott, had two ribs broken, and the other was badly bruised. One of the policemen fired at the mob, the bullet striking a man named Wennick. The mob assaulted the officers, both of whom were struck repeatedly with stones, and but for the intervention of a priest of the Catholic Church, near at hand, the officers might have been lynched. There was a disturbance on the Broadway line at the corner of Petrie street, where a mob of three thousand assembled in the forenoon and ob-structed the track. Finally a car came along from the Wilson avenue barns, having on board Sergt. Burrows and a private of militia and Detective Kelso. There was a sharp fight for a few minutes but no one was seriously hurt, and after arresting two of the Hoters and placing them on the car, it was returned to the barns. The police afterward charged the mob, making several arrests. Three men were sent to the hospital with wounds made by policemen's clubs at the end of this riot.

As a result of the shooting of the driver of a grocery wagon in South Brooklyn yesterday afternoon by a non-union conductor the mayor of that village today issued an order to the marshal to arrest all non-union conductors who carried concealed weapons. Every car was stopped and each conductor found with a revolver was ar-rested. All were subsequently bailed out by the company.

A small riot was started at the corner of Pearl street and Franklin avenue when a young woman struck a man who asked her to board a nonunion car. A crowd of union sympa-thizers stoned cars and a squad of police finally cleaned the street.

COMPANY WON'T ARBITRATE. The company today sent a note to the state board of arbitration, declining to arbitrate the differences, in which it says: "This company, fully appreciating the sincerity of your desire to bring about a readjustment with its former employes, begs to say that the men who went out on Monday last are not in the employ of the com-pany, and there is nothing to negotiate about or to arbitrate.

CARS WRECKED.

A Euclid avenue car, loaded with passengers, was wrecked by an explosion of nitro-glycerine or gun cotton, shortly before 11 o'clock tonight. Four persons were badly hurt, the names of the in-jured being: Mrs. E. C. Martin, 79 Alanson street; E. C. Martin; Mrs. Catherine Harris, 25 Cornell street; F. A. Smith, 69 Vienna street; Albert E. Fassett, 12 Wallace Place; Dora Schessler, 11 Oakdale street.

Late tonight it was learned that Mrs.

Martin, one of the injured, would probably die. She suffered a compound fracture of the skull, had one ar mbroken and was otherwise injured. She was with her husband, who was also badly hurt.

The explosion tore out the front end of the car, smashed all the windows and destroyed the brake. The motor-man, William Draggers, who came from Cincinnati, was dazed by the shock, but the conductor escaped injury.

BROOKLYN STRIKE OVER. New York, July 24.-The Brooklyn trolley strike has practically collapsed. THE ASHTABULA STRIKE.

Ashtabula, O., July 24.-There is little change in the strike situation on the Hanna docks. Nothing was accomplished at the conference of the strikers with Manager L. C. Hanna, and the men will now take their grievances to the headquarters of the 'Longshoremen's Union at Cleveland for consideration. This will consume two or three days. STRIKE AT SUDBURY.

Sudbury, Ont., July 24.—Quite a sensation was caused here Friday by all the men employed in the mines of the Canadian Copper Company, about 900 having gone on strike for higher wages. The men in the smelters will wages. also go out. The wages of the miners and surface men have been cut down twice in the past ten years, first by 10 per cent, and the second time by per cent. The men now demand a raise all round of 15 per cent, or the wages paid at the start. The cost of living, they claim, has increased, with schools and churches to keep up, and men of families especially find it hard to live decently on the scale-of wages now paid and keep out of debt There is no disturbance, and negotiations for a settlement of the trouble are going on. QUIET REIGNS. Cleveland, July 24.—The scenes of wild disorder and violence witnessed in this city throughout yesterday and last night in connection with the street car strike were succeeded this morning by market quietness. Cars are running on at least a dozen different lines of the Big Consolidated system. They, however, carry but few passengers. BUSSES RUN. Bus lines are in operation over many of the Big Consolidated lines, and these are well patronized. The city authorities were in conference at the city hall nearly all night, and as a result a call has been sent out for additional troops.

GARMENT WORKERS GO OUT. New York, July 24.-Six hundred 'pressers," employed in the garment trade, struck work yesterday and or-ganized a union. They claim their number will be doubled today, and that 7,000 more garment workers will strike for higher wages. The piece workers demand an increase of about 20 per cent, while the week workers want an increase of 15 per cent. An interest-ing point of the strike is the demand of the men that they may work 59 hours a week instead of 50 as at present. They say they want to work up to the limit of the ten-hour law, as they can make more money in this way.

The crops look better in Michigan than in Lambton, if you keep away from the railways, which generally goes through the worst part of the country. It seems probable that Messrs. Ickes and Armstrong, the Pennsylvania men who are negotiating with Wood-stock, looking for the building of a street railway there, will accept the terms offered by the council. The British-American Hotel, Windsor, was sold on Saturday to John Clarke, of Hamilton. The price is said to be in the neighborhood of $10,000. Clarke will take possession some time during the present week. Sarnia and Plympton will soon have more oil wells than Enniskillen, at the present rate of sinking them, and every little way you see the gas burning to keep down the smell. They don't require firewood there.

James Gormican, of Brantford, has received a letter from Charter Oak, Iowa, telling of the tragic death of his son, Michael Gormican, who left Brantford two years ago to seek his fortune in the west. Gormican, who had been working on the railway, fell off the top of a fast-running freight train, beneath the cars. His body was horribly mangled. Dr. McTavish, Florence, was recently consulted by Thomas Gannon, lot 20, con 10, Dawn township, as to a disease among his cattle. Upon examination the doctor found that a four-year-old heifer was badly affected with tuberculosis. He immediately informed the government of the disease, and the government veterinary slaugh-tered the animal and held an examination, which resulted in finding a clear case of tuberculosis.

Mrs. Johnson was one of the earliest residents of this county, and if she had lived three months longer she would have been a centenarian. Two months ago Mrs. Johnson was seized with paralysis. Up to then she had been well and strong, considering her great age, and was possessed of a marvelous intellect, which increasing age did not seem to dim. When, however, destroyer, paralysis, came Mrs. Johnson rapidly sank. The remains were taken east to Grafton for burial.

JOTTINGS FROM NEAR-BY PLACES

Dr. William E. Macklin, an old Middlesex boy, writes from Nankin, China, to his uncle that he is translating the works of his late personal friend, Henry George, into Chinese, for a serial in that city. He says the single tax theory appears to be gaining ground in China. The doctor's many Lobo friends will be glad to hear that the hospital of which he is the head is prospering. Reports from Lobo, Adelaide and other townships lead to the belief that an organized band of cattle thieves are operating in Middlesex county. three weeks ago four head were taken from the premises of Colin McKinley, lot 5, con. 5, Lobo, On Saturday, the 15th inst., the field of John McArthur, lot 14, con. 7, Lobo, was invaded, and four head were driven off. On Wednesday last thieves secured 5 head at Michael Oke's place, in Adelaide township. In this case the fence was pulled down, so as to let the cattle on to the road, and the rails afterwards carefully replaced. Several other parties report the loss of cattle recently. In every instance the cattle stolen were fat animals, fit for the butther. Thus far no clue to the thieves has been obtained.

A very sad accident occurred near

resulting in the death of Stewart, the seven-year-old son of Mr. Milton Moorhouse. The lad accompanied his father to the barn, while he did the milking. The little fellow stood in the barn door, and when the cow had been milked, she made a dash out to her calf in the yard, striking the boy. The poor little fellow died in his father's arms while being carried to the house. Mr. and Mrs. Moorhouse will have the sympathy of all in this bereavement, the death of their only son.

BASEBALL

Hamilton, July 22 .- (Special.)-Ham-11ton infielders could not play too good games of ball in succession, and today their yellow work almost cost them the game, in spite of Hagerman's good pitching. Phillips and Hagerty particularly bad, and Hagerty's base-running sacrificed many runs. Mohler and Franck played poor ball for London, but their many errors did not give the Hamiltons many runs. Seiver was hit heavily all through the game, and with careful base-running the home team might have easily made half a dozen more runs. Two hits, two bases on balls, an error, and a sacrifice hit were good for only one run to Hamilton in the first. An error, two bases on balls and a two-base hit gave only one in the third. An error, Hag-erty's double, and McCann's home run yielded three in the fourth, and a base on balls, Phillips' single and Franck's error one in the fifth. Up to this time London had not score: a hit or a run. In the fifth, however. Franck got a charity, and an error by Hagerty and two by Phillips followed. With two out McFadden and Schwartz hit safely, and four runs scored. Schrail's three-bagger and Elton's single gave Hamilton one in the eighth, and then London hit Hagerman heavily for the first time, Schwartz getting a single and Jones a home run. Mc Kevitt's and Conwell's singles and Mohler's error gave Hamilton one in the ninth.

Then came the play of the day. London needed three runs. Seiver got first on an error, and the next two men went out. McFadden hit safely, and Schwartz made what looked like the eafest possible home run. Schrall, however. made a magnificent left-hand running catch, and Lohman had to be carried off the field. Score:

People who suffer from dyspepsia or indigestion soon lose flesh, become weak and run down. The food they take instead of being converted into blood, bone and flesh, goes undigested through the system, poisoning the body, instead of nourishing it.

Those who desire a permanent cure of dyspepsia-who want their stomach made right so that their food will give them strength, should take Burdock Blood Bitters.

Miss Emily Howard, Port Hope, Ont., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for indigestion and it worked with me like a charm.

"Before I started taking it I was thin and run down in health, as I could get little strength from my food. Two bottles of B.B.B. have completely cured me, 'B pounds in weight. I BB strongly advise any one troubled with indigestion to use B.B.B."

THE AMATEURS. Following the bicycle paces at Tecumseh Park Saturday a ball game was played, of which the score was: R. H. E. Greene Manufacturing Co....20 15 5 Struthers & Co......14 14 7 Batteries — Berry and Wilson; Struthers and Noble. Umpire—Bert

The Columbia Handle and Lumber Company baseball team went to Glencoe on Saturday and defeated that team by a score of 8 to 10. Had the Columbia team given the pitcher any support Glendoe would have been shut out, as they only secured 4 hits, and the Columbias had 17 errors. Batteries -Glencoe, Depew and Miller; Handle Company, Phillips and Steele. The feature of the game was Tom Steele's batting. He was 5 times to bat, had 2 home runs, 2 three-base hits and a sacrifice. About a thousand persons witnessed the game.

KNOX STILL WINNING. This time it was the famous Irish Nine of Lucan, that, on Saturday last, met defeat at the hands of the Knox baseball club. The game was played on the Lucan diamond, and almost at the start developed into a merry-goround for the boys from London. They batted the ball to all parts of the field, and also the adjoining roadway, throughout the entire game, and at its close the score stood, Knox 33, Lucan 10. Notwithstanding the severe defeat of the home team the spectators and players were very good-natured, and evidently enjoyed the game greatly. The members of the Knox Club and their friends, who attended the game, were treated with most gentlemanly courtesy, and the game was totally devoid of kicking or unpleasantness of any kind.

BICYCLE RACES

Good Sport at Tecumseh Park Saturday Afternoon.

Entries Were Numerous and Attend ance Large-Higley of Brenheim Carried Off the Honors.

The big bicycle meet at Tecumseh Park was a decided success. The entries were numerous, the racing keen, the weather perfect, the track well officered and the attendance numbered over 1,500. Credit for the success of the meet is chiefly due to the energetic secretary of the Tecumseh Track Club, Mr. James McCormick. The harpers furnished delightful music during the afternoon.

T. Higley, of Blenheim, was the hero of the day, and Colin Campbell, a 16-year-old Goderich boy, crowded him close for honors. In the mile novice and half-mile for boys, Campbell made a great showing. Among other riders from outside places were F. A. Moore and N. Sheffer, Toronto; A. Sherrit, Ralf Axton, Lawrence Smith, M. Yates and McLean, of Brantford; Geo. Collier, Rochester, N. Y.; E. E. Wil-son, Springfield; H. D. Stratton, Strafson, Springheld; H. D. Stratton, Straffordville; R. Mitchell, Guelph, and Cameron, of Blenheim. The local men included A. W. Mähler, R. Ingram, Archie MacMahen, W. Montgomery, Harry Edwards, J. Duncan, S. Simon, J. Flynn, P. Horton and H. McCullough. lough.

Louis Rubenstein, of Montreal, champion skater of the world, and president of the C. W. A., happened to be in the city in the interest of the coming world's meet at Montreal Aug. 7 to 12, and to the delight of the promoters of the meet here officiated as referee. The other officers were: Starter, J. F. Cairns, Toronto; timers, T. F. Byrne, Toronto, and James Pyne, Woodstock: judges, H. B. Donly, Simcoe; Roy Routledge, London, and J. Ferguson, St. Thomas, issuer of racing permits, Dr. Burns, St. Thomas; clerk of the course, John J. Foote, London; official scorer, Walter Mann, London; assistant scorers, D. A. Breckan, J. C. Drake and Geo. Justason, London; umpires, Geo. B. Dayton, Frank Hobbs, Frank McCormick, E. R. C. Struthers and W. J. Portwood.

Referee Rubenstein dealt severely with the loafers, and in consequence of the time being over the limit, two events, the mile open and the 2:40 class—were called off. In the last heat of the mile, open, Sherritt finished first, Moore second and Higley third, all the riders having come down the stretch close to each other. A limit of 2:25 had been put on, and the first, Collier second and Mitchell third in the 2:40 class, the time being 2:54. The results:

One mile, novice-Mahler, Campbell, second; Yates, Brantford, third. Time, 2:85½.

Half-mile, open—Higley won; Sherritt, second; Ingram, third. Time,

Half-mile, boys of 16 years-Campbell won; MacMahen, second; Mont-gomery, third. Time, 1:15. One mile, handicap, members Tecum-seh Track Club only—Mahler, 50 yards, won; Duncan, 75 yards, second; Mc-Cullough, 100 yards, third. Time, 2:19½. Two-mile lap race-Axton won, with fourten points; Mitchell, second, with nine points. Time, 5:18%.

Two-mile, tandem—Higley and Stratton won; Yates and McLean, second; Smith and Mitchell, third. Time, Pursuit race, five miles-Higley and McLean were the only entries. Higley won, gaining 100 yards in the five miles. Time, 12:53%. Team race, three miles—Higley, Mahler and MacMahen won, with 12 points; Ingram, Edwards and Duncan finished third, four and fifth respectively and secured nine points. An extra mile race, put on in place of the events called off, was won by Axton, with Moore second. Ingram, the only other competitor, did the pacing, and was awarded the second

MAUNA LOA.

May Have Collapsed-Peculiar Experience of a Steamer From Honolulu.

San Francisco, Cal., July 24.-The officers of the steamer Australia, which has arrived from Honolulu, say it would not surprise them to hear that there had been a fearful explosion at the great volcano, and that Mauna Loa is no more. After leaving Honolulu the ship ran into a remarkable cross sea, which the crew thought was caused by a submarine disturbance of unusual force. A bluish vapor hung over the water for days, and a heavy cloud shaped like an umbrella came from the direction of the volcano. When talking about the eruption of the volcano, Chief Officer Lawless said: "The afternoon we left Honolulu the evening papers contained the news that the lava flow was within ten miles of Hilo and traveling steadily. The inter-island steamers were crowded with passengers. Some of the people were going to view the eruptions and others were going to see how their families and relations were faring. In my opinion the whole crest has been blown off, and if the waters in the sea have found their way into the crater then the whole island has been shattered. In no other way can I account for the peculiar experience we had after leaving Honolulu."

Weary of Experimenting With salves, suppositories and ointments, and dreading a surgical operation, scores and hundreds have turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment and have found in it an absolute cure for piles. The first application brings relief from the terrible itching, and it is very seldom that more than one box is required to effect a permanent cure.

A sound mind goes very seldom without a sound digestion, and nothing contributes toward it more than the use of ANGOSTURA BITTERS, the world-renowned appetizer and invigorator, manufactured only by Dr. J. G. B. Sie-

For over fifty years this wonderful remedy has proved itself the best, safest and surest antidote for pain in the world.

The True Relief,

Radway's Ready Relief

For Internal and External Use. In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Merphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RAD-WAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least danger in either infant or adult.

It instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays inflammation and cures congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stemach, Bowels or other glands or mucous membranes.

PAIN CURED IN AN INSTANT

No matter how violent or excruciating the pains the Rheumatic, Bed-ridden, Infirm, Crippled, Nervous, Neuralgie or prostrated with disease may suffer.

Radway's Ready Relief Will Afford Instant Ease. A CURE FOR Summer Complaints.

Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus.

A half to a teaspoonful of Ready Relief in a half tumbler of water, repeated as often as the discharges continue, and a fiannel saturated with Ready Relief placed over the stomach and bowels will afford immediate relief and soon effect a cure.

No bad after effects (which are invariably the sequel of dosing with opium, etc.), will follow the use of Radway's Ready Relief, but the bowels will be left in a healthy, normal condition.

A haif to a teaspoonful in half a tumbler of water will, in a few minutes, cure Cramps, Spasms, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Sick Headache, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Flatulency and all internal pains.

MALARIA,

Chills and Fever, Fever and Ague Conquered.

Radway's Ready Relief

Not only cures the patient seized with this terrible foe to settlers in newly settled districts, where the Malaria or Ague exists, but if people exposed to it will, every morning on getting out of bed, take twenty or thirty drops of the Ready Relief in a glass of water, and eat, say, a cracker, they will escape attacks.
This must be done before going out.

There is not a remedial agent in the werld that will cure Fever and Ague and all other malarial, bilious and other fevers, aided by RADWAY'S PILLS, so quickly as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

Till Kruger Yields the hanging of Mary Anselt, who murdered her insane sister by sending her a poisoned cake through the post. Up to the very last a reprieve was hoped for and expected, for over 100 members of parliament strove to get the girl off. A special deputation of influential gentlemen went to Windsor the day before the execution, to try to see the Queen, but all was of no avail. Everybody thought the girl, who was only 22 years of age,

Great Britain's Firm Grasp on the Transvaal Will Not Be Released --- British Naval Maneuvers---Better Gunnery Necessary.

British Liberals Lose a Good Chance-Might Have Appealed to the Country With Success-German Criticism of the Philippine Campaign -Abolition of Capital Punishment Advocated-How Dreyfus Was Tortured.

Kruger declined to yield to the petitions of the Uitlanders and the arguments of the British high commissioner of South Africa, Sir Alfred Milner, he seems inclined to yield to more vercible hints of the war office, comprised in unobtrusive but obvious military preparations. The sudden change of front by the volksraad in adopting the seven-years' franchise proposition on last Tuesday is a forcible demonstration that President Kruger can and does yield when the proper pressure is applied, but not otherwise. As Mr. Chamberlain stated in the course of his speech in the House of Commons on Thursday regarding the modifications of the franchise law in the Transvaal, the concessions do not end the difficulties, but merely offer the basis for a specific settlement, and former experiences with the Transvaal have taught the government that it is unadvisable in any way to relax pressure until the contract is concluded. The military preparations therefore have been in way relaxed. PLAYING AT WAR.

The mobilization of a huge fleet engaged in the present maneuvers is carrying out a plan of operation of the most interesting character. The plan supposes Great Britain to be at war with a continental power, and a convoy of British merchant ships carrying food and supplies is crossing the Atlantic from Halifax under a small escort. The enemy sends a fleet to intercent the convoy and Great to intercept the convoy, and Great Britain sends a fleet to intercept that of its adversary. The enemy, however, relies upon numerous torpedo boats issuing from Irish ports for the purpose of harassing the British while he captures the convoling upon Britain, on the other hand, relies upon torpedo boat destroyers to cope with the torpedo boats and give free play to the sea-going ships. The real battle is thus torpedo boats against torpedo boat destroyers. The result must be most interesting, and must largely control the future policy with regard to the building of torpedo boat NAVAL GUNNERY NEEDS TO BE IMPROVED. The determination of the admiralty to improve the gunnery of the navy has come none too soon, in the opinion of experts, and there is a general satisfaction that the authorities have decided to follow the example of the United States navy and double the allowance of ammunition for firing practice. The recent "unpleasantness between the United States and Spain, demonstrating the admirable gunnery of the American navy, coupled with official returns just issued, and showing that the best British gunners failed to hit the target 70 out of every 100 shots, has awakened the admiralty to the necessity of mending matters. In his statement in the House of Commons, relative to the shipbuilding vote, Right Hon. George J. Goschen, first lord of the admiralty, practically corroborated the recent statement of an admiralty official to the correspondent of the Associated Press, "that for its size the American navy is as fine a navy as ever existed, and much could be learned from it," and that meanwhile he hoped that naval intelligence would be enhanced.

LIBERALS LOSE A GOOD CHANCE. The close of one of the most dreary sessions of parliament within the memory of men now living is in sight. The members of the House of Commons expect to flit about Aug. 10, in time to reach the moors for the opening of grouse shooting, which begins Aug. 12. The government have met many rebuffs in both houses of parliament, and the reduced majorities with which they have carried some pet measures have constituted moral victories for the opposition. The Conservative leaders, in short, have displayed their usual vacillation, indecision and feebleness in resting the demands of the "classes against the masses," Lobbying has been more prevalent than ever before. Unfortunately for the success of the Liberal party, the leaders on that side have shown little aptitude to score off the numerous shortcomings of the Tories, or to profit by the rebelliousness that several government measures awakened in the ranks of Lord Salisbury's adherents. In short, the Liberals have shown themselves rather dogmatic opposers than initiators of a new line of policy. Other-wise it is believed they might more than once have forced a dissolution of parliament and appealed to the country with success.

THE PHILIPPINE CAMPAIGN. The Philippine campaign has been alluded to frequently during the past week in the German press. The Kreuz Zeitung says the Americans are making no progress in spite of exertion. The Tageblatt says the campaign looks for the present like a farce, because the Americans have not sufficient troops in the Philippines to undertake any serious operations.

The Boersen Courier, referring to efforts made in Washington to raise new troops says: "The United States s apparently developing into a military state, after the example of European countries."

Berlin newspapers print a letter from a German at Manila, giving an account of things there: "American officers hold brilliant receptions in private houses and in the Casino at Malate, to which they invite prominent Filipinos...

FRATERNIZING AND FEASTING. The last week in June there was a ball and fireworks. Four-fifths of the guests were Filipinos. All the ladies were invited to appear in picturesque native costumes. But while the American civil officials are leading the Milpinos into fraternizing and feast

IMPOTENCE OF THE AMERICANS. "How helpless are the Americans, outside of Manila, is shown by the capture of two officers of the hospital ship Relief. This vessel took a short sail under the protection of the cannon of the warship off Paranaque, and was suddenly surrounded by native boats and the officers captured. The Monad-nock got up steam rapidly, but though she opened fire, and raked the shore and forest the rescue of the Relief's officers were not accomplished. The Filipinos led the prisoners quietly away. When marines landed they were received so warmly that they were forced to return hastily to the

SAYS THE CRISIS HAS PASSED. London, July 24.—The Transvaal question is not yet settled, but it is in a fair way to be adjusted if the seven years' franchise can be granted without equivocation and reserve. Mr. Chamberlain insists upon receiving positive assurances respecting the good faith of the concessions which President Kruger and the raad are prepared to make, and moral pressure is still applied with a resolute determination to secure justice for the Uitlanders; but it is evident, from the feeling in the stock exchange, from the gossip of the smoking-rooms of the Houses of Parliament, from the judicious leaders in the Times, and from Mr. Rhodes' speech in South Africa, that the outlook has decidedly improved, and that what has been described by alarmists as a grave crisis in imperial affairs, has passed. PEACEFUL SOLUTION IN SIGHT.

Mr. Rhodes would not have spoken plain sight; he has been acting with public sympathy in France. Matthieu great discretion in keeping in the background and allowing Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Alfred Milner to manage the delicate affair without assistance or device from the statesman who was responsible for the Jameson raid. When peace was assured he delivered an adroit speech, which would help restore good feeling between two jealous white races in South Africa. Lord Salisbury evidently threw his influence strongly at the cabinet council in favor of accepting the seven years' franchise, but Mr. Chamberlain emerges from this complex and delicate affair with increased reputation. He has been a full match for the wily Kruger, and will score heavily as a politician if adequate justice be done to the Uitlanders in consequence of his laborious campaign. Warlike and theatrical as the tone of the press has been during the last few weeks, it would be difficult to find any sane Englishman today in favor of an aggressive campaign in defiance of treaty law, for the sake of a difference between a seven and a five years

CHAMBERLAIN'S PLAN. Another correspondent cables: Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's statement in Parliament that the mere granting of a seven years' franchise law will not settle the Transvaal crisis, excites no new apprehension. It is evident that a struggle, possibly prolonged, will take place on the question of guarantees, and this will probably take the matter over the prorogation of parliament. There is the best reason to believe that Mr. Chamberlain's object is to obtain guarantees in black and white from the Boer Government, and at the first violation of any of them, to hurl an ultimatum at President Kruger. One of the guarantees will be an undertaking not to initiate legislation altering the franchise and representation laws without previous notice to the paramount power. The Boer executive and parliament will in all probability detect in this an abroga-tion of the republic's independence in international affairs, and upon this question the decisive fight may take

WARLIKE SHIPMENTS. A brisk business is still done at the Italian ports in making warlike shipments to South Africa en route to the Transvaal. The German steamer Konig is taking on at Naples a miscellaneous cargo designed to Delagoa Bay by the Austro-Italian Trading Company. It includes several hundred mules, surgical instruments and medical comforts, and, in addition, several million cartridges. It is impossible to prevent the ship sailing, but whether the cargo gets beyond Delagoa Bay is quite another matter. England at present is on particularly good terms with Portugal, and there will not be much difficulty in arranging matters so that the Portuguese authorities will be able to indefinitely delay the business at Delagoa Bay without implicating the Lisbon Government. Moreover, it is known that the negotiations for British purchase of the Portuguese possessions in South Africa, commenced nearly two years ago, have not been dropped, and it is quite on the cards that one of these days an announcement will be made that the deal is completed. German consent was secured long ago, and that of France is not considered indispensable France is not considered indispensable in these post-Fashoda days.

EVERYBODY CRIED "SHAME." How long will capital punishment last in England? That is the leading not exceeding $2,000, discretion in the topic of discussion in London. The matter being given to the board of whole country, in fact, is in a of no avail. Everybody thought the girl, who was only 22 years of age, was an imbeelle. Everybody cried "Shame!" People are now comparing the Anseil tragedy with others. Here is a young girl, evidently of weak intellect, who is hanged; but not so very long ago, there was that field Prince who coulty and deterfiend Prince, who coolly and deter-minedly planned the murder of Ter-riss, the actor, and made sure of his victim by driving his knife home again and again. Nobody had pity on that bloodthirsty brute, yet he was reprieved because the doctor said he was not responsible for his actions Then there was Darcy, belonging to that notorious band of garrotters, the Hooligan gang, he was reprieved. These and many similar instances have been revived. Indignation against the home secretary knows no bounds. Everybody is disgusted, and the papers echo the feeling. Never in the general opinion has cap-Ital punishment, received a severe blow than this week, and as the very hot weather is not helping to improve people's tempers, the agitation is not likely to be allowed to die down, It will not be surprising, judging from opinions expressed in the lobbies of the House of Commons, if some attempt is not made next session to introduce new legislation with regard to capital punishment.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS.

The parliamentary select committee on old-age pensions is laboring earnestly with a view to present a report before the prorogation of parliament. It is understood that the committee has arrived at the determination to recommend a pension of 5 shillings weekly to all attaining the age of 65 years, who have never received parish relief. The expense is generally estimated at £10,000,000 yearly, which, it is proposed, will be divided between the imperial exchequer and London houses.

OVERWORKED. Concurrent with the enormous increase in the expenditures by the British Government on the army and navy, word has gone forth from the treasury the chiefs of all civil departments to exercise the most rigid economy. This has naturally been interpreted to mean that the economics must be effected at the expense of the rank and file. Everywhere, inthe rank and nie. Everywhere, in-stead of increasing the staffs to meet the prodigious and ever-increasing amount of business, the additional burdens are constantly placed upon the already over-worked men and women until they actually break down under the strain. The greatest scandal is in the postoffice, and the workers of that department are preparing for a big conference next month in order to devise means of bringing the facts before the country. Matters are almost as bad in the inland revenue and cus-

FIENDISH TORTURE. The latest stories of the fiendish mental torture inflicted upon Dreyfus on Devil's Island, despite the official denials, have considerably aroused the telegram was shown to his brother, stating that Mme. Dreyfus had been delivered of a child two years after her husband's imprisonment on Devil's Island. M. Decrais, minister of the colonies, denies the sending of any such dispatch to Devil's Island. It has come to light that the Quiberon fishermen had plotted to throw Dreyfus into the harbor when he landed at that place on his return from Devil's Island on board the cruiser Sfax, but that the terrific rainstorm and the late hour of his arrival prevented the carrying out of the plan. According to local opinion the military present would not have opposed the fishermen in their design. One soldier shouted: "We have come to guard him; we hoped we had come to shoot

Maccabee Delegates Sang National Songs-Closing Hours of the Biennial Review.

Port Huron, Mich., July 24.—The eighth biennial review of the supreme tent, Knights of the Maccabees, was concluded Saturady evening, having been one of the most important conventions in the history of the order. The close of the convention was marked by a feast of felicity, in which the delegates from Canada joined those of the United States in expressions of goodfellowship, and both "America" and "God Save the Queen" were sung enthusiasm. The expression of good feeling between the representatives of the two countries was induced by the presentation of a testimonial of eulogy and appreciation of the services of those members of the Knights of Maccabees who entered the service of the United States army at the call for volunteers for the late war, and a memorial to those who sacrificed their lives for their country. The testimonial was warmly seconded by Dr. A. E. Mallor, of Ontario, who spoke of the warm sympathy of the sister nation during our late struggle, and eloquently paid tribute to the volunteer soldiers. He was followed by other speakers who dwelt on the faternal relations of the two countries and the sentiment of cordiality ended in a patriotic outburst of song. A national banner was provided for to be awarded each year to the tent having the largest membership. By resolution the action of the board of trustees in the purchase of the Maccabee temple was indorsed and con-

SALARIES INCREASED. The compensation of supreme officers was fixed by the review on Saturday, and several increases made from the salaries heretofore in force. Supreme Commander D. P. Markey received an increase from $5,000 to $6,000 per annum. That of Supreme Counselor D. D. Aitken was fixed at a definite figure, $5,-000, insted of $2,500 with a $25 per diem when employed on matters referred to The salary of Supreme Advisor him. Major Boynton at $5,000, as previously agreed on, was ratified, and the supreme medical examiner's salary fixed at $5,000. The supreme record-keeper's salary remains at the old figure, $5,000, as does that of the finance keeper at

$1.500. The salary of the editor of the Bee Hive, the official organ, was fixed at trustees. Compensation of the supreme auditors was changed from a per diem ste of tremendous excitement over to $250 per annum, with traveling ex-

ATROCITY IN LOUISIANA

Lynching of the Italians May Cause International Trouble.

Demand for Indemnity May Come Later On.

Washington, July 24.—The lynching of five Italians at Louisiana on Friday promises to assume an international aspect through the action of the Italian Government. Count Vinchi, the Italian charge d'affaires, called at the state department at an early hour Saturday morning and made representations to the officials concerning the atrocity in Louisiana. In order to get full information as a basis for action by this government, Secretary Hay thereupon telegraphed the governor of Louisiana, requesting all the facts in the case. Count Vinchi's ac-tion was predicted on reports from the Italian consular officials in Louisiana, and by the press reports. There is reason to believe also that the Italian foreign office is already fully informed on the occurrence.

The affair is considered in official Italian quarters as much like that in the Mafia cases at New Orleans, while Mr. Blaine was secretary of state. At that time the Italian minister, Baron Fava, called for his passports and left the country. Baron Fava left the country. Baron Fava is now in Rome on vacation, and during his bsence Count Vinchi has charge cf Italian affairs in this country.

Count Vinchi's representations to the state department were based on a brief dispatch from the acting Italian consul at New Orleans, Mr. Pabini. Count Vinchi at once directed that special inquiry be made as to whether the victims of the lynching were Italian citizens, who had not yet become naturalized. In submitting the matter to the state department Count Vinchi recited the telegram reinforcing it with an expression of the lope that steps will be taken to ascertain the facts and extend protection to the Italians in the neighborhood.

He saw Secretary Hay and also Assistant Secretary Hill. Mr. Hay was about to go to the White House, so that the representations made by the Italian charge were communicated to the president. Throughout the conference the most agreeable spirit was shown, and there was no intimation from Count Vinchi that his government was disposed to make a serious issue of the affair. Neither personally nor in the note which he submitted was there any protest or demand for indemnity. Any steps in this line are likely to come when the facts are fully established.

VIEW OF AN ITALIAN PAPER. Rome, July 24.-The Fanfulla, commenting upon the lynching of the Italians at Tallulah, in Madison parish, Louisiana, yesterday, recalls similar cases which have occurred in the past and, while stigmatizing such savage acts, deplores the indifference of the United States Government which, Fanfulla says, has not the strength to vanquish fanatical prejudices and sometimes, as in the case of the shooting of miners at Hazleton, refuses all explanation. The paper expresses the hope that the Italian Government will demand and insist upon an explanation of satisfaction for the lynching. Other papers make no comment upon the incident.

CHICAGO, July 22.-Wheat on the board of trade today lost about half sales. of an early advance of 14c on predictions of relief from the hot weather in the Northwest; September closed %c net higher, at 70%c to 70%c. Corn, oats and provisions closed unchanged. Wheat opened strong on reports of exheat in the Northwest, a condition injurious to spring wheat in its present state; September began at an advance of 1c, with the bulk of trading at 70%c. A further advance was scored immediately to 71%c. A cool wave was sighted by the weather prophet in the far Northwest, but unheeding that shorts rushed to cover. The average maximum temperature reported from South Dakota and Minnesota were 100 degrees. There were also reports of damage from rains in parts of the west and southwest. Sailing against calls and official predictions that the cool wave would move southward soon checked the advance. Shorts recovered from their fright and resumed selling, with such success that at the end of the session %c had been clipped off the September price. Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: 'I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetitegradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up, Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fall to try them. Partial Failure of the Monsoon Creates Anxiety in India.

eaning Against a Wire Fence in a Storm Proves Terribly Disastrous-Three Persons Killed and Twenty Injured.

London, July 24.-Commenting upon the debate in the Canadian Parliament on Saturday regarding the Alaskan boundary question, the St. James' Gazette says today: "The brisk air of the United States and Canada is conducive to strong words, which would never pass the lips of a European statesman until an order to mobilize was on the point of issuing. Nobody thinks of war in connection with the Canadian-American dispute. Yet since it is we who will have to fight if Canada makes a quarrel, we must plead with one of our fellow-subjects to use a quieter style. If Sir Charles Tupper's words mean anything, he desires the presentation of an ultimatum, which could only mean war. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, though calmer, was tolerably emphatic. As things are going now, we are drifting to a very serious diplomatic collision with the United States, which Great Britain is earnestly anxious to avoid.'

Grain Elevator Destroyed by a Tremendous Explosion.

It Contained Nearly 1,000,000 Bushels of Wheat Well Insured.

Toledo, Ohio, July 24.—Shortly before 8 o'clock last evening, elevator B, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Elevator Company, was fired by a tre-mendous explosion, which seemed to ignite the immense building at all making a loss of about $650,000. The building was the most recently constructed in the city and cost close to $300,000. The wheat loss is well covered by insurance, one local firm covering over $500,000. Nearly all of the large grain firms in Toledo have suffered losses, which, however, are well protected. The elevator was owned by eastern parties, M. D. Woodford, the well-known railroad magnate, is president of the company, and T. E. Ferguson, of this city, is secretary and treasurer of the company. Watchman John Walsh is badly injured by a fall in getting out of the building, but not fatally. The insurance carried on the building was $185,000. In addition to the loss in the elevator, there were nearly 100 cars of grain in the yards surrounding, all of which were ruined, making a total loss of over $1,000,000.

The Eddy and Huron, laden with 175, 000 bushels of grain, cleared for Buffalo from the elevator wharf less than an hour before the explosion.

The quickness of the fire leads to the opinion that some of the grain will be saved in a damaged condition. The fire department claims spontaneous combustion was the origin of the fire.

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR BUSINESS

Bradstreet's Report of Trade Prospects in Canada.

The volume of trade for the past week at Montreal shows that business is fully up to that of the past two or three months, the effect of the favorable weather on the crops is having a good influence on business. Prices in most staple lines are strong. Cheese is firm. Hardware is very firm, with an upward tendency in many lines. Dongola leather is higher, and considerable shipments of sole leather to Great Britain are being made. Payments are very good, and old debts, in a number of instances, which the wholesalesrs expected to get little or nothing for, are being paid off. The money market is firm, with a good demand on commercial paper. Call loans are quoted at 5, and mercantile discounts at 6 to 7 per cent.

Crop reports from Manitoba continue favorable, and every indication at present points to a larger crop of wheat than last year. Trade at Win-nipeg continues very good, and the retailers, being confident of the prospects for trade, are buying freely, the large influx of immigrants this year will increase the retail business at various centers, and as the new settlers brought in a good deal of money the demand for various staple lines for the fall should show a large increase over last year. Building operations in Winnipeg are active, and a large amount of public work is being done, so that labor is well employed and well paid. Bank clearings are larger. Last week they increased $439,000, and this week were $401,000 more than last year.

Trade at the coast has been active. The crops are looking well and promise good results. There has lately been an unexpectedly large run of sock eye salmon, and the catch has increased considerably. The building boom in Victoria and Vancouver continues and is keeping the demand for many lines, such as lumber, plumbers' supplies,

The demand for fall goods is steadily expanding at Toronto, the sales so far in most lines this season, being better than for several years at this time. Crop prospects, with the exception of fall wheat, and in some localities of into hay, are favorable. The prospects for Pills retail trade throughout the province are bright, and as the summer sales are large, retailers are in a good position to prepare for the autumn and fall business. Remittances are good for this season; better than usual for July, which is usually a dull month.

Values continue firm. The prices of cotton and woolen goods show marked strength, and one or two lines of the former have been advanced. Sales of sugar by the jobbers have been larger, and there is more business being done in canned goods. Hog products are in active demand and firmer, in sympathy with the advance in live

Hamilton, July 24.-Further confirmation of the report that A. D. Stewart has perished on the terrible journey to the Eldorado of the far north was received in the city on Saturday. The found in an unconscious state by a steamer Tees, with a number of goldseekers, had reached Victoria, B. C., from Dawson City. The steamer brought 61 passengers, but not more than $15,000 in dust. John Wilson, exmayor of Kalgoorlie, West Australia, arrived in Dawson City early in July from a long trip via the Edmonton route. The party of nine English and Canadians left Edmonton about July 1, 1898. They arrived at Kat River about the first week in September, and were frozen in at McDougall's Pass until June 5, 1899. Four or five men of different parties died at Rat River of

A. D. Stewart, ex-chief of police and ex-mayor of Hamilton, Ont., died at Peel River of this disease. The Wilson party prospected the Peel River, but found nothing. They sent up Mr. Mc-Callum, and another man, an Iroquois Indian, Thomas Leo, to prospect old Crow River as far as Davidson Mountains. McCallum was frozen to death, and the Indian had both feet frozen solid, so that they had to be amputated.

Seattle, Wash., July 24.-From the steamer Brunswick's passengers, just arrived from Alaska, it is learned that a man is on his way from Kotzebue Sound to Washington, in behalf of 1,000 miners said to be stranded in the Kotzebue district. He will ask the government to send revenue cutters to Kotzebue Sound, and is provided with proof that unless government help is given, many lives will be lost. Twelve hundred people went into the Kotzebue country well outfitted for the search for gold. Two hundred succeeded in getting over the snow last winter. Many died en route. There are now nearly 1,000 people on the shore of the sound waiting for a chance to come home. If the miners had the means of getting home it is doubtful if they could buy their passage. Many of them have been sick with scurvy and are going to float down the several streams running into the sound with the intention of waiting for government help.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bot. tle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly, and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

WEST HURON

Privilege and Election Committee Hear More Evidence in the Case.

[Special to Advertiser per C. P. R.] Ottawa, Ont., July 24.—The privileges and elections committee resumed the examination of witnesses in the West Huron election case again today. Mr. Malouin was chairman in the absence of Mr. Fortin.

Hamilton McManus was the first witness. In reply to Mr. Borden, the witness said that he voted for McLean at the election in West Huron. He handed the ballot to the returning officer, and he thought that the returning officer put it in the box, but he was not very particular about it.

To Sir Louis Davies witness said that he had no doubt but the returning officer put his ballot in the box. He had no doubt then and had no doubt about it now. Witness said he signed the declaration as to how he voted, because Mr. McLean wanted to know who voted for him.

William McConnell, the next witness, said that he voted for McLean. As far as he could remember, the returning officer was tearing the counter foil off the paper when he passed, handing it to him, and he did not take any notice what was done with it. If he had thought it was not all right he would have waited to see it put in the ballot box. He was known to be a Conservative, and was not canvassed.

H. Zoeller voted for McLean, and took no notice of what was done with the ballot. He just voted and passed right along. He had known Mr. Cummings, the returning officer, for about twenty years. He had no dealings with him, but knew he was an honest

The witness was examined at length. He swore that he voted in the square opposite McLean's name. He was just as satisfied that it was a square space as he was that he voted for McLean. To his belief the space where he voted was square. He admitted being canvassed by Mr. Chisholm for Holmes. Edward Shaw, the next witness, voted for McLean. He marked his ballot in the round white space in the usual HON. ISRAEL TARTE'S CONDITION. A cable was received today stating that a successful operation was performed on Hon. Mr. Tarte and that he Brownsville, Pa., July 24. - An explosion of gas and fire-damp occurred today in the mine of the Red Stone, Coal, Oil and Gas Company, at Grind-stone, five miles from here, in which 70 men were entombed. Three are known to have been killed, and it is feared that many more are dead. Two bodies were brought to the surface at noon, but owing to their blackened and mutilated condition they had not been identified. The explosion occurred in entry No. 10, and the force was so great that eight men who had just descended into the shaft, were knocked down and seriously injured. All escaped, however, but a boy named Solomon, who had an ugly cut across the throat, but who went back, refusing to leave the mine until his father and brother could be gotten out. The mine is operated by a shaft, and there is no other way of escape for the entombed miners. The work of rescue is being pushed vigorously, but so far only two bodies have been recovered There is intense excitement about the mine, and the wails of the wives, mothers and children who surround the mouth of the pit, is frightful to wit-

The seven men who escaped were sent to the Conellsville hospital. They were badly burned. No names have been obtained as vet.

DEADLY STORM

Number of Persons at a Bicycle Meet Either Killed or Seriously Hurt.

Berlin, July 24. About 10,000 persons were in attendance at the races, when a violent thunderstorm swept over the town. A flash of lightning struck the flagstaff, and many colored flames ran down the guy rods, giving it the appearance of a fery Maypole. From the guy rods the lightning passed into the spectators' stand, where a horrible scene took place. Two women and a man in one of the stands were killed outright, and their bodies horribly burned by the electric fluid, while flames played over the bodies until they were burned to a crisp. A tremendous panic followed, as almost everyone in the stands near the Maypole was temporarily prostrated, and it was thought for a time that all were killed. Besides those killed and seriously hurt, 25 persons were slightly injured during the panic.

NO INDIAN LUNATICS

Only When They Mix With Whites Do They Go Crazy.

A full-blooded Indian lunatic never lived, according to United States Commissioner William A. Jones, of the Department of Indian Affair. The statement was surprising, inasmuch as the commissioner had just finished specting the site recently purchased by the government near Canton, I. T., for an Indian insane asylum. Mr. Jones said:

"The occupants of the hospital soon to be opened will all be mixed breeds. Even among them the number of patients is small in proportion to the Indian population of 256,000. The exact number I do not know. Probably there never was a case of insanity in any tribe until the malady was introduced by mixing with the whites. Oddly enough, diseases of all kinds are creating the greatest havoc among the best-cared-for and richest tribes. Those who have to rustle for themselves are gradually increasing in numbers.

"Among the Osages, in Oklahoma, for example, the death rate is something startling. The nation comprises 16,000 Indians and has $9,000,000 to its credit, drewing interest, in the United States Treasury. The reds live in nothing short of luxury, but early in life the braves grows fat and flabby, then contract consumption and die. The Sioux, numbering about 20,000, are on the increase. They have no such nest-eggs as the Osages, and have to work harder for their living It agrees with them."

THE SITE OF EDEN. Located in the Indian Ocean East of Africa. The following are the reasons for the theory that the Garden of Eden is at or near Seychelles. I could even put it at Praslin, a small isle twenty miles north of Mahe. Allow that Genesis is not allegorical, that Eden, its garden, its two trees, did exist on this earth. Eden is a district, the garden is a spot chosen in that district, the trees were actual trees. imbued for a time with spiritual qualities; these trees, the bush, the ark, the tabernacle and temple differed nothing from the same things in the world except for the time during which they were spiritually consecrated or set apart for manifestations of God, or Satan. God's consecration made things which were equally clean, clean and unclean; therefore I see no reason for doubting that God did set apart the two breas to be one of life, the other of knowledge; or that God, when these two trees had fulfilled their purpose, should have relegated them back to their former ordinary tree position. Where was the Garden of Eden? And first came the information that Seychelles is of granite, and all other isles out here are volcanic, granite being the more ancient formation. Then the Rev. D. Bury mentioned casually that the verse Genesis ii. 10, could be read that the four rivers flowed into Eden, not out of it. I have been at the source of the Euphrates, Tigris, etc., and unless the rivers were forced to flow backward, no spot could agree to a central basin in those lands, while a flood does not change features of 10,000 feet high. So I took the rivers Euphrates—as Euphrates, on which is Babylon; Hiddekel-as Tigris, on which is Nineveh (vide Daniel). They meet and flow into the Persian Gulf. Babylon oppressed-Nineveh oppressed Israel. Required two other rivers connected with oppression of Israel-Nineveh oppressed Israel.

The question of whether ever a river came down the valley of Jordan into the Red Sea is one which has been much discussed. That an immense crevasse exists from the source of the Jordan to the Red Sea is the case; the depression of the Dead Sea is the difficulty; the ravines of Kedron and Gihon are very deep. Taking my ground spiritually, and the similarity of the name Gihon, with the brook of Jerusalem, I think that they are the same. The Pison, or Nile, flowed into the Red Sea, the Gihon, or Gihon Brook, flowed into the Red Sea, joined, flowed down, met the Euphrates and Tigris. united near Socotra, and the soundings shown end in a deep basin 2,600 fathoms deep which is close to Seychelles. Cush is written in margin for Ethiopia. Cush was son of Nimrod; his land was probably near Babylon, now Bab el Mandeb. Perim means Bab (gate) el (of) Mandeb (the world). Pison means overflowingthe Nile overflows. Egypt cppressed Israel. The Nile is believed now to flow into the Red Sea; the Blue Nile encompasses Gojam, a province of Abyssinia, in which there is gold. Havilah, son of Joktan, son of Shem, went with Sheba and Ophir to Mesha (Sale's Koran says) and spread along the Red Sea. The Sea of Zugla. opposite Aden, is called Sirius Havilah Sheba, and Ophir is generally connected with Abyssinia, so think Pison is Nile. Gihon means "bursting forth"; the brook Gihon is southern side of Jerusalem; it meets Kedron and flows, when it does flow, to the Salt Sea (Dead Sea), by the Valley of Fire; it is Tophet, Hinnom, the Valley of Slaughter, the sewer of Jerusalem, the site of all abominable sacrifices; it is connected with Jerusalem in an evil way: it has the same name as Genesis.-

Is Unequaled. JESSAMINE.

Already Mrs. Wyllys had been heard to say that, "if Mrs. Fordham were worth a million in her own right, she could not look more haughty and indifferent to people who were richer and better bred. When, as everybody knew, she was a poor preacher's daughter with just money enough to buy her wedding-clothes. Though, pity knows, they couldn't have cost much. Was there ever such awful taste, as not to lighten her mourning to suit the cir-cumstances? Who ever heard of a bride's wearing crape?

There were red spots upon Roy's cheeks when he saw who his visitor was-probably hectic, for his demeanor was natural. With instant thought of her probable embarrassment, he put out his hand, smilingly.

"Ah, Jessie, dear, good, morning. You are very good to visit a poor fellow in ction. For such a throat and head as I have are an affliction. I seldom strike my colors to a common

This seems to be an uncommon one.' said Jessie, feeding his pulse with the practiced touch she had learned in her parish visiting. "You have fever. You ought to have medical advice. Who is your physician?"

"I have never had occasion to call in one since I came to Hamilton. Suppose we 'bide a bit,' as our worthy president says, and if I am no better in the course of an hour or two, we can send for Dr. Bradley. I had a trying day yesterday. Prof. Fairchild is sick, and I had some of his classes in addition to my own. It is well this is Saturday. I can sit still, and rest my throat with a clear conscience. Provided," smiling in her grave face, "provided, you do not let me trouble you."

"Trouble me! You should know better than that. But," hesitating, if you will let me say it---' "Go on; there is nothing you may not say to me," he said encouragingly. I do think it would be better to see Dr. Bradley at once-if only as a precautionary measure."

He started-looked at her intently. 'You are thinking of diphtheria! You ought not to have come in until that point was settled. There may be danger to you. If, through my careless-

He turned his face away, unable or unwilling to finish the sentence.

"I never thought of that!" said Jessie simply. "If I had, I should have come all the same. Whatever may be the doctor's opinion, I shall stay here and take care of you. It is my place." Roy's hearing, ordered her to go for the doctor. She would not have her charge suspect that she was unduly alarmed, or believe there was occasion for a hasty summons. Then she brought a sunshiny face to the bedside, and put a fresh pillow, under the hot, heavy

"You don't know what a famous nurse I am," she said, bitthely. "My father," her voice sinking with the word, "used to say that nursing was a talent, and that I was born with

She set to work, forthwith, without waiting for permission. Roy, regarding her silently from his bed, heartily indorsed Mr. Kirke's verdict. Not Eunice herself could have moved more soundlessly, wrought more efficiently to alleviate, so far as she could, the pain and discomfort of his situation. The doctor was at home, and obeyed the call promptly. Roy glanced inquiringly at Jessie when he was announced.

Show him up," was all she said, and when he followed Phoebe into the chamber, she met him with high-bred ease as the lady of the house; as the patient's wife discussed his symptoms; heard, with marked gratification, that her fears of diphtheria were unfounded, and received his directions gratefully and attentively.

"A fine woman, and a most devoted " pronounced Dr. Bradley, at his luncheon table that cay. "Let me hear no more gossip about her, girls. Re-noon, and was conducted by Phoebe, by warrant of the relationship, into Roy's presence. The chamber was heated usually by the furnace register, but Roy lay in bed gazing at the glowing pile of coals in the grate. There was a happy ray in his eye, spontaneity in the galety with which he welcomed his guest, that did not accord

"You look like an invalid, don't you?" was Wyllys' second remark. "This is the cheeriest place I have been in to-day. It is what the English call beastly weather, out of doors. I don't blame anybody for keeping his bed. I thought you showed me the room across the hall as yours when you took me through the house, that night, 'the last of your quasi widowerhood.'"

"We changed the arrangement afterward," recined Roy, carelessly. "But it is a luxury, isn't it, to he still on a stormy day, and stare a fire like that out of countenance; especially on a holiday, when there are no phantoms of unsaid lectures to torment one's reveries? I am enjoying it amazingly. I hadn't the remotest conception that being sick was so delightful."

"By Jove! I should think you would luxuriate in it, unless you have less brains than I give you credit for! With an houri for head nurse, too! I say! get out of that! I can play the sentimental sufferer as well as you, and I have a native blas for lazy luxury, which you haven't, I dare say, you cunning dog! if all were told, there is some dainty mess preparing for you below stairs—a triumph of conjugal affection and culinary skill, that should be tasted by none but an educated appetite. A Teuton like yourself would be as well suited with pretzels and sauerkraut, washed down by a gallon of lager. I am a devout predestinarian, and here lies the case. I have a canine hunger on me. I am on my way home to luncheon. Without 'the day is dark and cold and dreary.' I am led to this corner of cosiness and comfort and fairy fare to dispossess you. Impostor, how dare you lie there and grin at my emptiness and agony! Confess! what did you have for breakfast? What do you mean to devour for lunch? What you hope to consume for dinner?

Roy could never resist the infection of this merry banter, seldom indulged in by Orrin except when with him. brought back their early days-"when you thrashed the big boys for bullying me"-he liked to remind the other graver fault or so, but he was his friend, as he told-Dr. Baxter, and the boyish love for his gallant senior was still strong upon him. His laugh was now hearty and mischievous. "Such a breakfast," he said. "Gotten up in strict conformity with the injunction, 'Feed a cold.' "

"And you will have a fever to starve," interjected Wyllys. "That would be poetical justice. But go on."
"Imprimis," resumed Fordham,

Roy was in a paroxysm of laughter; Wyllys, scowling horribly, had snatched the poker and was making adroit passes at him, like the cunning master of fence he was, when Jessie, ignorant of the liberty, Phoebe had taken, and supposing her patient to be alone, entered. She had a waiter in one hand, containing a silver pitcher and goblet, and a plate in the other, heaped with hothouse grapes. Transfixed with as-tonishment at the spectacle within, she face with a handkerchief.

"A victim of covetousness," exclaimed Roy, trying to check his merriment. "Of misplaced confidence," uttered Orrin, removing his cambric, and arising with a show of metancholy composure. "I hope I have the pleasure of seeing you quite well, Mrs. Fordham! I should judge so from your blooming appearance, but having just had a notable lesson in the deceitfulness of outward seeming, I am skeptical as to the evidence of the senses and human rea-son."

HER SON'S DISGRACE.

Chatham, July 24.-Friday morning, before Judge Houston, at county court, Fred Thibodeau, of Chatham township, was convicted of the larceny of a pocketbook containing $30 in money. It appears the young man picked up the pocketbook and afterwards denied having it, and spent its contents. He was remanded for a week for sentence.

There is a sad sequel to this case. Since the young man's arrest last Sat-urday, his widowed mother, whose only support he has been, has been much troubled and worried over the case, and the news of his conviction this morning was too great a shock for her. The unfortunate woman, though apparently enjoying her usual strength, swayed and fell, and in a few moments life was extinct.

Rapid Growth of the Pressed-Steel Car industry_Plant for Prescrying Tie Timber.

The cost of cars ordered in the first six months of the year aggregated about $12,500,000. The Wabash will receive a lot of new Baldwin locomotives Aug. 1. They are very large and powerful. The Black Diamond Express on the Lehigh Valley Railroad recently made the run from Sayre to Buffalo (178 miles) in 158 minutes.

The interstate commerce commission has approved a project to hold in Chicago next month a conference of railway officials, representatives of mer-cantile and manufacturing interests, and members of congress, to frame a compromise pooling bill and remedy the defects in the insterstate commerce 12.W.

Experiments are being made with electric headlights on engines, fitted with a mirror, which deflects upward part of the rays issuing from the light. It is claimed that this beam is visible from a great distance, and gives an indication of the approach of a locomotive often before the ray sent straight ahead is seen.

One of the questions discussed by the American Society of Civil Engineers at their convention at Cape May, N. J., recently was: "What are the economic conditions under which electricity may be profitably substituted for steam in the operation of branch lines, and what when they slept, played and studied are the engineering requirements to be together. Orrin had his fotbles, and a considered on such substitution?" The considered on such substitution?" The result of the discussion was that in the opinion of members electricity was more expensive than steam where the traffic is spasmodic, but where it is continuous electricity may be used more cheaply. There are few, if any, branch lines where the use of electricity is practicable. Oberlin Smith, one of the participants in the discussion, said that it will not be long before rubbertired locomotives will be running be-tween New York and Philadelphia, making the distance in half an hour. He said it is merely a question of designing proper rails.

A plant has been established at Mount Vernon, Ill., for preserving tim-ber for cross-ties. It began operations on Monday on 100,000 ties. The process of preservation is thus described: The ties are first placed in a large retort, where they are steamed for a period of several hours for the purpose of expelling the sap. They are placed next in a vacuum, and thence chloride of zince is forced into the air cells by means of heavy pressure, the solution containing about 4 per cent of zinc, and being injected into the ends of the ties exclusively. After this treatment a preparation of gelatine is forced into the ends of the ties, and afterwards one of tannin, the two latter forming a sort of tough substance by chemical reaction, which prevents the zinc from being washed out of the tie, as the chloride of zinc is a very delequescent salt, and requires something to retain stopped on the threshold. Her amaze- it in the wood. The gelatine and tanment was not lessened when Orrin, re-placing the weapon on the hearth, threw the tie. An ordinary tie weighs about himself into a chair and covered his 157 pounds, and after treatment about 190 pounds.

Three years ago the pressed steel car industry was in its infancy; two and a half years ago it employed 1,000 hands; today 10,000 men and boys are earning their living at it. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has bought 6,000 cars, the Pennsylvania Railroad 3,000, the Lake Shore 2,000, and nearly all the eastern roads have given orders for some of the cars. The rise of the pressed steel car has benefited the steel rail and bridge material manufacturers, as railroads are laying heavier rails and strengthening bridges to prepare for the revolution in the freight traffic system that the new car has produced. To reproduce the dead weight and yet increase the load-bearing capacity of the part was a problem that was not solved until the adoption of steel pressed into shape best calculated to bear the strain of heavy loads. The wooden cars of 70,000 pounds capacity weighed 35,000 pounds, the ratio of the light weight or weight when empty of the car to its carrying capacity being 50 per cent. The pressed steel car of 80,000 pounds capacity weighs 28,000 pounds, a ratio of 32.27 per cent. In brief, the wooden car that carries 70,000 pounds of coal weighs 35,000 pounds; the pressed steel car that carries 110,000 pounds of coal weighs only 500 pounds more. The wooden car carries coal equal to twice its weight; the pressed steel car carries three times its own weight, with 3,500 pounds to spare.

Electric Headlights on Engines PRESBYTERIAN

A Circular Sent to Every Minis. ter and Missionary,

In Promotion of the Scheme-Response Desired by August 15.

In connection with the century fund launched by the Presbyterian Church, it was felt to be of the utmost importance that the hearty sympathy and co-operation of every minister of the church should be secured. The importance of this was felt to such an extent by the executive that, when they had held their first meeting, ten days ago, they resolved before proceeding further to issue the following circular. A copy of this was mailed last week to every missionery in the

"Dear Brother,-You will have already noticed with what unanimity the general assembly launched the Twentieth Century Scheme. It was deeply impressed on all who were present that God was manifesting himself in the midst of his church. and guiding and urging her to this movement, so quietly, so earnestly and so harmoniously was the scheme accepted by both ministers and elders.

"Having confidence that he has said 'Go, and I will go with you,' it seems to the committee that appeal should he made first of all to each minister of our church, seeking hearty and continuous co-operation and asking each and every one of them to become an active and untiring agent and advocate of the scheme and the leader of the movement on its behalf in his congregation; in the Sabbath school and in every other organization connected with the congregation. appeal is made to you to take your rightful place as one of the captains of the Lord's host, and the committee confidently expect that your answer to the urgent call of your church will be in the spirit of that made by Amasai

when he said for himself and for all the captains: Thine are we, David, and on thy side, thou son of Jesse: peace, be unto thee, and peace be to thine helpers: for God helpeth thee."

"Above all, the committee are assured that if the ministers become the first, and a very helpful, class of contributors to this scheme, the influence of such action on the church will be of very great value. Reasons for such a course easily suggest themselves; but we lay special stress upon this fact, that the whole idea of the fund is, that under God's blessing, it may be the means of spiritual revival and uplift to the church. For such an end the ministers must be in all things in the forefront and, feeling that, will be ready to make large sacrifices. The committee, therefore request you to make this a subject of serious consideration and of advisement with God. so that as soon as possible you may be in a position to name the amount that, in your circumstances you may be warranted in subscribing to the Century scheme. It will be understood by you that part of this subscription may be for the help of a movement to remove debt in your own congregation where there is debt, and part for the common fund, and, as there may be uncertainty as to the local movements as yet, you will not be required to make allocation at present, but are only asked to name the gross amount and to give any indication you may see fit as to the time when installments would be paid, leaving allocation to be fixed later on. "Such is the appeal, and it may be suggested that the ministers should unitedly subscribe, say $100,000, which, on the whole, is one-tenth the amount of stipends paid last year, and which, spread over two years, will make one twentieth of income, on an averagethe amount to be given additional to your present contributions. If this should be done the foundations would be laid on which, under God's blessing and guidance, the scheme would be carried on to assured success. It can be done if only each and all will realize that as watchmen on the towers of Zion, the ministers must lead their people to this movement. Sacrifices will have to be made in order to the accomplishment of this suggestion but in this case it may easily be expected that the strong-those who have abundance-shall lighten the burden of those who are cramped in their resources. Let there be only movement together as brethren, with such a sense of stewardship as every minister has often impressed others, and there will be no that the ministers' tenth for which the committee appeal, will certainly be forthcoming.

"It is exceedingly desirable that this ministerial subscription list should be completed before Aug. 15. It is hoped, therefore, before that date every min-ister will fill out the blanks on the accompanying fly-sheet and return the same to Rev. Dr. Warden, Toronto. While Dr. Morrison, of Halifax, and Dr. Warden are joint treasurers of the fund, it is requested that the intimation of the amount you subscribe be made to Dr. Warden as convener of the executive." It is encouraging to know that al-though only a few days have elapsed since the circular was sent out, following responses have already been

p.m. on the 27th. THE ADVERTISER LEADS AGAIN. Friday evening Mr. John McArthur, of Lobo, called at The Advertiser and advertised for four head of cattle, strayed or stolen from his farm, lot 14, con. 7 Lobo township. Mr. John A. Campbell, of South London, who lost a horse last week, met Mr. McArthur on Sunday, and he told him the cattle had been found. The advertisement was inserted in The Advertiser and Free Press. A subscriber to the Advertiser, living in Caradoc township, found the cattle in a bushy place, in a very lonely locality, and had driven them to his home. This was about eight miles from Mr. McArthur's farm. The thieves had evidently taken them to the place where they were found for a temporary hiding place. Securing his copy of Saturday's Advertiser, the finder saw the advertisement, and immediately advised Mr. McArthur, who drove to Caradoc and had the cattle in his barn before Sunday morning. The cattle belonged to four joint owners, and when giving in the advertisement an arrangement was proposed in the office between Mr. McArthur and another of the owners, who were opposite in politics, that whichever paper found the cattle the other was to turn his political belief. Mr. McArthur is the Reformer. Everybody reads The

Father, Mother and Child Narrowly Escape With Their

Witnesses Say the Gong Was Not Sounded-Other Accidents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Chambers and daughter, of London Junction, while driving west on Dundas street, Saturday afternoon, were struck by a street car , and narrowly escaped serious injury. The collision occurred at 4:30 o'clock opposite Dreaney's livery stable. Mr. Chambers was driving on the north side of the road, and in order to pass two G. T. R. lorries, tried to cross the street car tracks. Car 54,, in charge of Motorman J. Talbot, and Conductor Fitzsimons, was approaching from the east, and struck Chambers' rig broadside. Ald. Dreaney witnessed the accident, and says it was almost miraculous that the occupants of the rig escaped with their lives. The buggy was smashed to pieces, hardly a whole spoke being left in any of the wheels. It was shoved about twenty feet in front of the car, and when the latter was stopped the wrecked rig was partly under the fender. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers and their little girl were held in by the buggy-top, otherwise they would doubtless have gone under the car-wheels. The horse was freed when the rig was struck, and ran away. P. C. Green caught it.

Ald. Dreaney is positive that the motorman did not sound the gong before the rig was struck. Mr. Chambers says the same thing.

The little girl, 2 years of age, received several slight wounds. Her dress was badly torn. Mr. Chambers was slightly scratched and bruised.

The horse and rig were the property of McAdam & Ferguson, liverymen. A little girl was struck by a trolley car near Kensington bridge Friday evening. Her face and arms were badly bruised.

E. C. Brown, who was struck by a trofley Thursday evening, is making little progress towards recovery at the hospital, and is not yet out of danger. His advanced age makes the outcome doubtful. Conductor Murphy, who was injured in the rear-end collision on Dundas street, Wednesday, is getting better. His back was hurt. Motorman Bar-tell is also better. He has been suspended from duty. PREPARING A

About 50 prominent citizens met at the city hall Saturday night to complete arrangements for the entertainment of the London Old Boys, when they take possession of the city Aug. 5. Ald. McPhillips presided. All the committees reported favorably. One important question on which the reception committee has had to decidethe general place of meeting-still remains in question. If it were not for the street car trouble, Springbank would be the unanimous choice. As an alternative, many favor Queen's Park, but some consider that restricted use of the street cars should put it out of consideration also. Mr. W. J. Reid offered the free use of Tecumseh Reid offered the free use of Tecumseh

THAMES CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

Little Jack Hevey, Son of Mr. Chris. Hevey, Drowned Near Black friars Dam.

Jack, the ten-year-old son of Mr. Christopher J. Hevey, of the postoffice department, lost his life in the Thames. Saturday evening. He went into the river below Blackfriars dam to bathe about 6 o'clock, and got beyond his depth close to the apron of the dam. Some companions about his own age saw the little fellow sink, and being unable to save him themselves hastened for assistance. The search for the body was a long one. Grappling hooks and a boat were used, and several divers scoured the deep hole where it was supposed the boy had gone under. After about two and a half hours' anxious work the body was discovered by one of the swimmers 30 feet away in three feet of water, where it had been carried by the under-current.

Mr. and Mrs. Hevey will have the sincere sympathy of the community in their sudden bereavement. Jack was a bright little fellow, very popular with his comrades.

TWO FAT MEN

Complicated Things at a Port Stanley Pionie Ball Game.

The employes of Lawson & Jones held their annual picnic at Port Stanley on Saturday last, which was largely attended by their families and friends. Immediately on arriving at the grounds a game of ball was played between the single and married men, resulting in a score of 13 to 5 in favor of the former. Batteries-single, Dale and Wood; married, Allinson and Vanstone. Both batteries did good work. A notable feature of the game was Dale's home run by a long drive to center, with two men on bases. The married men had a very stout man playing first base, and the single men had a man of about the same proportions coaching for them near the same place, and it was amusing to see the married men throw to the wrong man, who would just move to one side and let the ball ly over to the fence, resulting in several runs being scored.

After dinner the races were the center of interest on the hill. The results were as follows:

One hundred yards race, open—H.

Dyson 1, F. Pike 2, F. Blackwell 8.

Three-legged race—W. Tomlin and H.

LOST IDENTITY

Every Fit-Reform Suit has the maker's brand and price sewn in the left breast pocket.

If that brand and price should happen to get CUT, LOST, STRAYED or STOLEN, then the garment ceases to be Fit-Reform, and may be sold at any old price.

We have about two dozen suits which lost their identity last night, and some of them appear in our window today looking for an owner. Most of these unhappy suits are made of Scotch tweed from Scotland and a few are of the best

Canadian stock. Some of this nameless lot are in slender and stout shapes in medium sizes, and some are in normal shapes, large and small sizes.

A few are in pronounced Scotch effects, which win favor every time with Londoners.

There is not a suit in the lot worth less than $22 made to order, nor less than $15 judged by Fit-Reform standards.

Every one of these garments bears our full and unequivocal guarantee and comes under our "money-back-if-dissatisfied" clause.

Our tailors make such alterations in the fit as you request, free of charge, and as cheerfully as if you were paying us the value of the garments instead of the vanishing price.

We have a few pairs of trousers which are equally unfortunate in having lost their labels.

Now who will own these daring exceptions to Fit-Reform?

DEATH OF CECIL SIPPI

Indirectly Due to the City Hall Disaster-He Was the Fourth Son of Dr. C. A. Sippi.

Cecil Sippi, aged 24 years, died suddenly about 1:30 p.m. yesterday, at his father's residence, Dundas street east. Heart trouble was the cause. Deceased was the fourth son of Dr. Chas. A. Sippi, bursar at the London Asylum for the Insane. He was injured in the city hall disaster a year ago last January, and never fully recovered, although having the appearance of being in good health. Recently he paid a visit to friends in Guelph. The seriousness of his condition was not generally known, and it will be a shock to many friends of the family to learn of his death. Cecil was much liked by all who knew him.

Cyclers and athletes who have tried the delicious Grape-Nuts, lately placed on sale with our grocers, are loud in recommendations of them as a condensed food that builds flesh, strength and muscle, while at the same time is easily digested.

It is an undeniable fact that more hard work, physical or mental, can be done on a meal of Grape-Nuts than upon any food in existence. Proof of this is to be found among those who use Grape-Nuts and have the experience. Add to this its delicious flavor and its popularity is understood.
