The Western Real Estate Exchange.

781/2 Dundas Street, London, Ont.

A minute description of every farm that is for sale or exchange in Western Ontario should be sent to us at once. We intend distributing before the 1st of March over 20,000 of the lists of farms that are in our hands for sale or exchange. These lists will give minute descriptions of the farms, their size, location, kind of soil, price, buildings, etc. Over 50,000 of these printed lists will be distributed throughout Canada, United States and Great Britain before the 1st of August. Every farm can be sold at a fair price in a reasonable time if you take the proper means to advertise it. Drop us a postcard and get full particulars. Nothing to pay for two years unless the farm is sold. Every farm placed in our hands should be sold in a few months at the most after the snow goes off the ground, if offered at a fair price. We can refer you to over 100 men whose farms were sold off our list during the past year, and over 100 purchasers of farms on our lists as to the satisfactory manner in which our business is done. The seller gets a ready sale for his farm, and the buyer gets the kind of farm he wants and in the proper location, with little or no expense in hunting for it. If you want to buy farm, city, town or suburban property in Western Ontario, send for our printed lists. JAMES BURROWS, Manager.

KING AND QUEEN SENT PRESENT There was a great gathering of members of the aristocracy at the wedding of the earl of Wicklow to Lady Gladys Hamilton, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Abercorn here yesterday. Life guardsmen be-longing to the bridgroom's regiment lined the aisles and the band of the regiment furnished the music. The Archbishop of Armagh officiated. The presents were magnificent, diamonds predominating. King Edward and Queen Alexandra gave a diamond bracelet, as did the Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. Cecil Rhodes present was a diamond necklace with Large Output of Pine Logs Probable This Winter.

Toronto, Jan. 15.-The crown lands department has received from the timber inspectors estimates of the output of pine logs this winter. They anticipate that the cut will be sufficient to yield 800,000,000 feet of lumber, board measure. This will be the greatest cut in recent years. Last season, which was a very prosperous one, resulted in a cut of 631,000,000 feet, although it was expected that it would be 700,000,000. The falling off was due to the smallpox difficulty. The big increase this year is 100,000,000 feet in Sault and Webbwood districts. Parry Sound still leads with a total of 168,000,000 feet, the Webbwood district is second with 139,-

Manchester, N. H., Has a $500,000 Fire-Blaze at Kingsville.

Manchester, N. H., Jan. 15.-The destruction of the Kennard, a granite structure, considered to be the finest business office building in New England north of Boston, last night proved to be the worst fire here in many years, the total loss being a round half-million. Beside the Kennard, on Elm street, the Smith block, on the opposite side, was practically ruined, and considerable damage was done to the home of the Derryfield Club, in the rear of the Kennard. In the Smith block is the Park Theater, occupied tonight by J. Z. Little's Dramatic Company, presenting "The World." The fire started about 9 p.m. in the clothing store of Allan & Kimball, and was followed by an explosion that resounded through the city like a cannonading. At the time the board of trade was by an in session, and the moment the explosion was heard a great rush for the exits was made. All got out safely. The chief figures of loss are as follows: The Kennard, $250,000; tenants, $200,000; Smith block, $20,000; tenants, $10,000; Derryfield Club, $10,000; the other property, $10,000; the loss to the Second National Bank, in the Kennard, cannot be determined until its vaults can be opened.

Kingsyille, Jan. 14. — At 2:40 morning an alarm of fire was sounded, a blaze having been discovered in a small stable adjoining Gilkinson's livery. It contained Mr. Chas.

$ How to Make a ROUGH SKIN SMOOTH

There are some whose skin is naturally very tender, so much so, that a slight change in temperature, either heat or cold, will cause it to become rough and scale. This is very annoying, whether it makes the skin sore or not. A trouble of this kine is due to the skin being too dry, the underlying glands not giving it food enough. It must, therefore, be fed artificially. This may be done by using OLA CREAM, a scientific skin food. OLA CREAM is not a thin. watery fluid, but is of a creamy consistency. Prepared from a valuable formula, consisting of healthful ingredients, which feed the skin, building up the tissues, supplying to the glands that which they lack to prevent roughness.

Anyone who is troubled with roughness of the skin or chapped hands will find OLA CREAM a sure preventative. We are receiving many testimonials for OLA CREAM. We have made a study of the care of the skin, and will be glad to give any in-

Mr. Cowan, town solicitor, appeared for the complainant, Chief Sarvis, and Mr. Pardee for the ferry company. The evidence of Chief Sarvis and Police Constable Wismer showed that on Dec. 27 and 28 only one ferryboat was running, and half hour showed that on Dec. 27 and 28 only one ferryboat was running, and half hour trips only were made. The magistrate decided that the charge of failing to comply with the conditions of the bylaw had been proven, and that a fine of $2 and $6 costs be imposed upon the company, to be levied by distress, and, failing sufficient distress, a term of fourteen days in the county jail.

Sensational Scene in a Church in Trades and Labor Council Elects Detroit.

Warrants Out for Two of Its Members Who Tried to Break Up the Service-The Minister Assaulted.

[Detroit News, Jan. 14.] There was a lively time Sunday evening at the Bethel A. M. E. Church, and as a result of a consultation be-tween Pastor Robert Seymour and the elders, complaints were made this morning for Elmer Johnson and Sam Timbers, members of the congregation, who have been arraigned before Justice Sellers on the charge of disturbing religious services. Rev. Mr. Seymour, the pastor, came down to the police court this morning to take out the complaints. He said that Elmer Johnson has long been a scoffer and a thorn in the side of the cherch militant, but that Sunday evening he and Timbers came to church and opened a rapid and disturbing fire of irrelevant observations. They started in with comment on the members of the congregation in their immediate vicinity, relative to dress, general appearance, family history, and probable future. They then raised their voices and made some candid statements about religion in general, with satisfaction of all present, and with special reference to its administration in the hands of Pastor Seymour, at that moment in deep exhortation in the pulpit. One of the church us came down the aisle and made su

Sam extended invitations to the which not only could never be access ed by a church usher, but reflected a good deal upon the church and the Sunday school. Then Pastor Seymour addressed Elmer and Sam from the pulpit to attract the attention of the entire congregation in their direction.

But this, it is said, did not phase Elmer and Sam. On the contrary, it is said, they arose in their pew and, walking right up the aisle to the pulpit, turned their fire of criticism to

Elmer, it is alleged, even ascended the steps of the chancel, and released a right-hand swing at Pastor Seymour that, had it landed, would have left the flock shepherdless for an indefinite period. But the clergyman duck- that it lacked plot and continuity of ed and sidestepped, and the best Elmer interest. The same criticism might could do was to slap the pastor's cheeks with his finger tips in a highly objectionable manner. Some members of the congregation then rushed up the aisle to the assistance of their pastor. Elmer and Sam were hustled out of the church.

Mr. Seymour said this morning that he had given Elmer many positions in and out of the church in the effort to reclaim him, but now that he had attempted, half successfully, to knock the pastor's block off, he was going to leave the reforming business to someone who can wallop with both hands. Elmer Johnson lives at 475 Beaubien street, while the Timbers boy lives on Eliot street.

The ceremony was performed at Rosedale, Cape Town, by Canon Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart will visit many of the historic spots and battlefields in Natal and Cape Colony before taking up their residence in Johannesburg.

Both Major and Mrs. Stuart are well known, socially, in this city, the former being known as an able lawyer and public-spirited citizen. Before accepting his ommission as captain of B Company, first Canadian contingent, he was a member of the well-known legal firm of Stuart, Stuart & Ross. The gallant officer commanded the company at Dornkop, where, it will be remembered, the Canadians had to rush through the burning veldt, and where the Gordon Highlanders were almost annihilated. Major Stuart experienced most of the hardships which the company went through. He was not present at the actual fight of Paardeberg, but arrived before the regi-ment left. He witnessed the annexa-President, Win. Burleigh; vice-president, W. Burdick; recording secretary, R. Ingram; corresponding secretion of the Transvaal to Britain at Pretoria, shortly after which he was sent to England on sick leave. Major Stuart had special attention paid him by Lord Roberts, and when he arrived in England was the guest of King Edward at Sandringham for two weeks. Major Stuart stayed at the reat of war when the first contingent left for home, and was in command of the Boer camp at Green Point for six weeks, after which he was appointed receiver of revenue at Johannesburg, and lately was oromoted to be assistant registrar of the mining rights of the Transvaal.

LONDON, ONTARIO

London, Wednesday, Jan. 15. European and British News in the United States.

The Saturday Review thinks something better in the way of cabled accounts of matters European, and particularly of matters British, in the telegraphic columns of Canadian newspapers, is to be desired. Much of the news comes through leading of the United States, and like the pies described by Dickens is capable of being seasoned into any kind of meat. These dispatches are often flavored to suit supposed tastes in New York, Chicago and Buffalo. I may be at once admitted, therefore that it is desirable to have European news dispatches, and British news dis patches especially, stripped of all col ering whatever, so far as Canadian news columns are concerned.

But a special cable news service of any length is a very expensive affair and the bulk of cable news in Canadian newspapers, as we have intimat ed, is prepared in Europe primarily for the use of the United States press, and is then passed on to Canada. We must not be understood as decrying the splendid enterprise and the marked ability often manifested in the United States news service, of which we speak. Much of it is truly admirable; but candor compels us to say much of it is exaggerated, distorted and sensationalized.

If Marconi's discovery of wireless telegraphy comes up to expectation, and transmission rates become cheapened to some nominal figure, the time may not be distant when every leading Canadian newspaper that now re- indeed a demonstration of the swiftness tains its own regular telegraphic cor- with which the speed record has been respondent at Ottawa, Montreal, or clipped. The Saturday Review in the main is right as to the need of a more reliable and extensive Canadian cable service from Europe in general, and Britain in particular.

We believe that a way will be found.

How Britain Lives.

The following paragraph from The Graphic, one of England's leading illustrated journals, casts light upon that which many people persist in regarding as a mystery: "At the close of every year, as of every half year, the advertisement columns of the daily papers afford what should be very comforting reading for British patriots. Long strings of notices appear, announcing that at certain times and places, the interest due to the English creditors of this or that foreign country will be paid. Nearly the whole civilized world finds representation in the list of debtors, and in many instances very heavy sums have to be paid. There are, too, large British investments in loans issued and managed on the continent, and the interest comes to London in due course, and that is how this country manages collecting materials, that married perto pay her way in spite of being handicapped by an adverse balance of The death rate among married persons trade. Our foreign debtors supply us with goods and raw materials instead of making cash remittances, and so balance the trading account to the extent of what they owe. So far as can be judged, there is no reason to suppose that we are approaching the time when we shall have either to diminish our purchases, or to pay partly for them out of our resources of capital. If that danger threatened, it would be full time to adopt remedial measures to stop the exhausting process. Happily, all leading financial authorities agree that the adverse balance of commerce is more than equalized by the favorable monetary balance. In other words, this country has a large sum in cash to receive from her debtors after paying for the commodities with which they supply the requirements of her ever-growing population." This does not mean that Britain has no financial or commercial problems, but it does show a healthy condition. It throws light on the phrase, "adverse balance of trade," a phrase which refers merely to the excess of imports over exports. From this point of view we see that a nation may expert largely, and by that be simply paying debts of the past, not necessarily laying up riches for the future. If we look upon such a statement with pride, it must be not pride in muscles, but dence who have gone before. What we need in Canada and England is to cultivate the same sterling qualities.

The future of the automobile is discussed in an interesting manner in the January number of Outing by Mr. R. G. Betts, who tells of the remarkable achievements of the new method of locomotion in recent trials of speed. Racing machines with a record are chiefly French build, because other countries have not seen fit to enter into the construction of the very heavy automobiles used for racing purposes only. Only in the fall of 1900 did the automobile establish a track reputation. In that year, five race meetings were held; last year, eight meetings were conducted. The results, coupled with a mile in 1 minute and 11 seconds, made in France, afford the only comparisons on which the speed development of the vehicle may be based. Here

Mr. Betts points out, however, that the truest measure of speed development is furnished by the records of the classic Paris-Bordeaux road race, 3271/2 miles, of which four have been held, as

1895 ...... 22 hours 25 minutes 1898 ...... 15 hours 15 minutes ...... 11 hours 42 minutes ..... 6 hours 11 minutes

This is a really remarkable development. From 22 hours 25 minutes in 1895 to 6 hours 11 minutes in 1901 is may be wise for the reader to read gas stands for unlimited pace and power and range of action; steam is best described, perhaps, as the middle layer in the automobile cake.

The first thing that the public look for is a moderately priced, safe vehicle, which shall be an improvement on the old horse and wagon means of locomotion. They are not specially concerned in the development of the racing brand of automobile, though many more than professional sportsmen must be interested in a new vehicle, that, by its recent record, is shown to have great and sensational possibilities. Who knows but that we may live to see main automobile lines, on which Fournier's prophecy of a mile in 35 seconds may be realized, though we are by no means anxious to be participants in the trial trip at that gait?

The Ottawa Citizen is somewhat perplexed in regard to what it calls the vagueness of the clause, "Build up Ontario." It thinks Premier Ross should be more specific, and explain precisely how he is going about it. Better than any explanations, Mr. Ross has demonstrated his methods by not only bringing that newer part of the Province into prominence, but by affording every possible facility for its development. The fact that New Ontario has made remarkable progress within the past few years, proves the efficiency of Premier Ross' methods.

Dr. Filz, the leading German statistician, is satisfied, after many years of sons live longer than single persons. between 20 and 30 years of age is 6.7 per thousand, unmarried 8.4; between 30 and 40, married 9.1, unmarried 15.8; between 40 and 50, married, 14.2; unmarried, 26.5; from 50 to 60 and 70 the proportions are, married 45, unmarried These figures prove that the deaths of married persons between 30 and 70 are three-fifths less than of unmarried. The average life of the unmarried person who passes 31 is 58.6, of the married 64.4.

Chancellor Burwash, Principal Caven, Rev. Dr. Potts, and Rev. Dr. Warden are among leaders in religious thought who think that prohibition could be effectively carried out only if adopted by the most pronounced majority. Chancellor Wallace, of McMaster University (Baptist), says that a two-third majority in a referendum ought to be required. Principal Caven, of Knox College (Presbyterian), thinks that three-fifths of the votes polled are necessary to the adoption of a prohibition measure. Chancellor Burwash, of Victoria University (Methodist), says: "The referendum, to be satisfactory, should first of all call out a substantial vote, say two-thirds of all the voters, and then give prohibition a majority of all the votes cast." Rev. Dr. Potts says: "I would regard prohibitory legislation on a bare majority vote as demoralizing

Beating the Railway Locomotives. be in favor of prohibition at least twothirds of the vote polled, which should mean considerably more than fifty per cent of the voters of the province.

The Inter-Imperial Conference.

'An Inter-Imperial Conference is to be held in London next June, at the time of the coronation ceremonies. It is expected that Sir Wilfrid Laurier minion Cabinet will be present. Perhaps there is no better way of fostering the great imperial idea than frequent personal contacts between the King's Ministers, whether their sphere of action be at home or in the colonies. Great good was the result of the former conference held in London in 1897. The Canadian Gazette suggests that an inter-imperial conference should meet every year, and that the places of meeting should be the various capitals of the Empire-Ottawa next year; the third at Melbourne; the fourth at Cape Town, and so on. The conference next June will be presided over by the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain. Conjectures are being ventured in regard to the probable programme. It is thought that the trade relations of the Empire will claim first place. A subject likely to receive a good share of attention is that of postal and cable matters. Letter postage has been so lowered as to prove almost entirely satisfactory. Postage on newspapers and other periodicals, however, remains so high as to be almost prohibitory. The cost of cable communication between Canada and the mother country is very high. The subject of state-owned cables should receive the consideration of this conference. Sir Sandford Fleming, in Evening Bulletin. an open letter, addressed to the Hon. Mr. Mulock, explained the possible advantage of cables under Government ownership and control. Cheap cable communication would greatly assist in the dispatch of trade, as well as prove a valuable factor in the dissemination of news.

Another subject of importance is that of the population of the Empire. The advantage is palpable of encouraging emigration from the mother country to the colonies, instead of permitting the surplus population to drift A Tilsenburg Swain Unbosoms Himself to to foreign lands.

The Springfield Republican points out that one of the greatest obstacles to the disarmament of the nations is the economic objection to doing away with the vast industries that are dependent upon war and preparation for war. It is illustrative of this that the new figures published in Germany show that by far the wealthiest subject of the Kaiser is Herr Krupp, the cannonmaker. The fact was known before, but it is news that his wealth is more His income is rated, in a class by it-self, with many classes below it vac-from her for over a month, and I feel self, with many classes below it vacant. The yearly income is $5,000,000, the next in order being only $1,250,000. It is more difficult to get at such figures in the United States, but there are several Americans credited with a larger income than $5,000,000.

Taking an Interest in Employes.

[Springfield (Mass.) Republican.] An encouraging sign of our times is the effort put forth by some of the large employers of labor hereabouts to improve the condition and increase the happiness and general welfare of the wage earners and their families. This work is quietly done, and does not receive the public notice accorded to a wage trouble between capital and labor, but the results in every instance show the wisdom of the endeavor. The Ludlow manufacturing Company, at Ludlow, is probably doing more than any other concern in this region in the way of social betterment, and no observing person can visit the village or large mills and fail to be impressed with the improvements over those places where the mills are run solely for gain, and where men, women and children are of little more account than the machines they tend. The rows of neat, modern cottages the Ludlow Company, and rented to its employes for a very reasonable price, stand out prominently as evidence of the concern's wise phi anthropy, and during the past week has come the announcement of another step in a broad plan for improvement. The company has established a free cooking school in its old office building, in charge of a cominstructor, who will have for pupils the women and girls of the families whose members are employed n the mills. This is said to be the first step towards an institute for employes which would be a great uplifting influence in the village. It is practical work, conceived and carried on by a practical man, whose modesty forbids his assuming any prominence in its direction. In this line of helpful interest on the part of the employer is the provision for serving luncheons or dinners to employes in several of the large factories in this vicinity, and the recently established for instructing the Chicopee Poles in the English language also de-

Goldwin Smith on Toronto's Municinal Elections.

[In Toronto Telegram.] "We have had three successive mayoralty elections, on the first of which it is unnecessary to comment. In the second a political party carried its candidate by a strategy such as in a long and tolerably varied experience of elections I have never before seen employed. The third seems, from the lightness of the vote and the indifference of the press, to have been largely the outcome of apathy, while the majority was swelled, we are toid, by conscientious women casting a retrospective vote against street cars Since I settled in Canada, thirty years ago, our progress has certainly been downwards. What is the moral? moral is the necessity of a complete change of organization. Nothing less apparently will suffice. It is possible that for the election of aldermen a change from the ward to the city at large might, as many think, be an improvement. But no modification

The system of popular and periodical election may be right in politics. Applied to the administration of cities, it has everywhere broken down. The has everywhere broken down. The business of great cities calls for a skilled, stable, systematic and really responsible administration. In this flux of ephemeral rulers you can no more have real responsibility than you can have skill, stability or system. The people gain by the present system nothing but the phantom of electoral power. None really suffer from inefficient government more than the working class. The money irresponsibly wasted on such things as the Don improvement, the block pavement and the city hall, might, if expended by a responsible and for seeing pended by a responsible and far-seeing government, have added to the wellbeing and attractions of the city, and the franchises would have been owned by the city instead of being aliento private corporations. More might also have been done for the beauty of our city, whose residential attractions are her richest dower. It will be difficult no doubt to bring about the necessary change. It will be impossible unless our leading men recognize their responsibilities and do their best for the city. But public opinion is moving and persevering effort may prevail.

AS A CURE FOR PILES

Dr. Chase's Ointment Never Disappoints-It Has Won Worldwide Fame on Account of Its Magical Control Over the Most Severe Cases of Itching, Bleeding and Protruding Piles.

Doctors may tell you that nothing short of a surgical operation will cure piles. In this they are mistaken, as we can prove in a host of cases where Dr. Chase's Ointment has been used. It is not infrequent that people tell us Dr. Chase's Ointment has succeeded in effecting a cure after erations had failed. There is much risk in a surgical operation, too much suffering, and too much pense. If you take the advice of and hundreds of your friends and neighbors, you will avoid operaalmost at once. It will thoroughly cure you in a remarkably short time. Mr. J. Wolfe, Arnprior, Ont., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles, and can assure the public that there was never anything on the market to equal it. I was disappointed time and time again when trying remedies for the ailment, and you can an effective and thorough cure for this ailment. From the first application this magical ointment gave me relief, and a few boxes perfectly cured me. Since being cured of piles I always keep Dr. Chase's Ointment in the house, and find it useful in scores of ways as a treatment for every form of itching skin, chafing and skin irri-

Dr. Chase's Ointment is indeed useful in scores of ways, as Mr. Wolfe says, and people who once make the acquaintance of Dr. Chase's Ointment are loath to be without it in the house. For pimples, blackheads, eczema, salt rheum, chapped hands and face, chilblains and each and every form of raw, itching and chafed skin, it is an incomparable treatment. It is especially recommended as a cure for piles, because it is, so far as we know, the only actual and guaranteed cure for every form of this wretched and loathsome disease. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates &

ENCROACHMENTS ON THE INCREASE.

Address by Principal Cavan on the Work and Present Position of the Dominion Lord's Day Alliance.

Toronto, Jan. 15 .- Before the Toronto Ministerial Association, the address of the day was given by Rev. Principal Caven, of Knox College, on the subject of "Sabbath Desecration and the Work of the Lord's Day Alliance." In opening he referred to the former Dominion Lord's Day Alliance, and to the reorganization of that body in Hamilton last year. He was sorry to say that the encroachments on the Lord's Day were not diminishing, but were rather on the increase. Manufacturing, transportation and selling of commodities were the chief reasons tions, and resort to the use of Dr. for this increase. The development of Chase's Qintment. It will relieve you New Ontario was responsible for the disturbance of the peace of the Lord's day in that country. Many men, strong business men, have gone there to open the country, and had carried with them the American idea of the The haste to develop the district had kept these men and their employes from observing the Lord's scarcely imagine my gratitude when I day, but strong efforts had been put found that Dr. 'Chase's Ointment was forth there, with some degree of success, to bring about a discontinuance of the Sabbath desecration. There was also a tendency on the part of some manufacturers in Hamilton and Toronto to work their employes seven days a week; the reasons given were that the dividends would be larger and that fires could be maintained, machinery given its full use, etc. did not think the law could be interpreted to permit of such practices. There was a great deal of traffic on the railways, principally because of connections with American roads. The electric roads, with their Sunday trafwere also giving trouble, but it was satisfactory to know that this evil would not be increased. The selling commodities, particularly in To rente, and the opening of stores in Montreal on Sunday had called for earnest work on the part of the alli-ance, and in Montreal the Roman Catholic archbishop had ably seconded the efforts of the Protestant ministers The search for pleasure and enter-tainment was another cause of Sabbath desecration. WORK OF THE ALLIANCE. If one dared to raise his voice agains these practices he was called a Pher-isee, but they did not wish to invoke the law against the private behavior of any man. It was against the open violations of the Lord's day act that they protested. The Lord's Day Alliance had been acting with a good deal of vigor and some measure of success. The number of branches had increased from 110 to 170, and the finances were in better shape than ever before. It had been misunderstood by its friends and misrepresented in regard to its sphere of influence. It was designed to act on the moral and religious sentiment of the country. The speaker had no hope of any moral reform being carried out, unless it had Christian people at the bottom of it, and this was particularly true in regard to the preservation of the Sabbath. It was necessary as a day of rest, as a day of religious recuperation and stimulation, and should be encouraged as such. Caven entered into a brief dis-of the relation of the church te, during which he said that he lieved, in common with the Roman Catholics, that religion ought to rule the world. He pointed out that the Sabbath question had two distinct aspects. With the religious aspect, relating purely to the worship and observance of certain forms, they had no concern. With the civil aspect, however, regarding material and mundane affairs in relation to the Lord's day, they were deeply interested. They vere entirely exempt from the critcism that thy were attempting to force religion on mankind. The speaker referred to the support which the alliance was receiving from the principal labor bodies, and closed with a discussion of the legal decisions affecting the legislation.

Paine's Celery Compound Saves the Life of a Montreal Ladu.

A Work Done That Doctors and the Use of Ordinary Medicines Could Not Accomplish.

Mrs. Legault Says She Is Positively Cured.

Every weak, sleepless, nervous and discouraged woman should be aware of the blessed truth that Paine's Celery compound is the only true and healthgiver. If other treatments have failed to give you health, let your faith be centered on Paine's Celery Compound. It cures nervous prostration, insomnia, sleeplessness and irritableness-serious troubles that often lead to insanity. Mrs. A. Legault, St. Andre street, Montreal, says:

cannot help telling all sufferers what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I would have been a lost woman had I continued six months longer in suffering. My case was a bad one. Headache, insomnia, nervous prostration and loss of memory nade up my troubles, and I feared they would lead to insanity. I went to several doctors who treated me with all their skill, but I did not get any better. My friends advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. first bottle gave me little relief, but the second began to work miraculously on my nerves. I continued using the compound, and after using nine bottles I can positively say I am cured.

IN AN ACCIDENT. The Actress and Her Husband

Thrown From a Sleigh.

Wife Was Knocked Senseless and Severely Bruised

Boston, Mass., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Ben-jamin P. Cheney, who was known as Julia Arthur when upon the stage, would cost from $18,000 to $20,000, acwas injured in a runaway accident at cording to the price of steel. This about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. would make provision for a bridge 1,-At the Parker House, where she and and a 5-foot sidewalk. From the view Mr. Cheney live, her husband engaged a low open sleigh. The two had just seated themselves in it when the horses suddenly started. They dashed down School street at a breakneck The driver held back on the reins with all his might, but the horses had the mastery, and did not let up their pace. When the team reached Washington street an electric car was just coming up to Newspaper Row. It mittee of investigation yesterday into blocked any chance of turning to the left, and the driver made every effort plow that, on a certain memorable octo turn his team to the right. The sleigh swerved and Mrs. Cheney was thrown out against the car. She was carried, unconscious, into a neighboring store, and taken thence in a cab back to the Parker House. The horses, without checking their speed, had meanwhile made straight for the wall on the opposite side of Washington street. The pole crashed through pane of glass and the head of the off horse followed it. Mr. Cheney escaped without injury. The driver, though hurt in the leg. was able to help unharness his horses and lead them to the stable. Dr. Frank M. Johnson, the physician of the Parker House, was in attendance on the injured woman within a very few minutes after the accident occurred. Dr. Johnson said: "Mrs. Cheney is suffering from severe bruises on the left side of her and body as the result of striking against the electric car. No bones are broken and there are apparently no internal injuries. Naturally, she is much affected by the shock, but the next 24 hours will have a great deal to do with her condition, and until then there is really nothing more that

NO BRIDGE THIS YEAR

Unfavorable Reception Foretold for the Wellington Street Scheme.

Ratepayers Petitioned for It in Ignorance of Result

City Engineer Gravdon's Statement to Board of Works-The New Etiquette at the City Hall.

The members of the board of works, when they meet Thursday night, may possibly tackle the proposal to build an overhead bridge to connect the parts of Wellington street severed by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The matter was, of course, first brought up by a number of petitioners living to the north of the tracks, but will again be drawn to the committee's attention by the city engineer, who has sent to the board a letter upon that subject. Upon this question it is expected that action will be long deferred. It belongs to a class that is avoided by the aldermen as consistently as possible. In two ways it involves chances to play to the grand stand—with the economists, who object to the bridge construction, and with the people to the north, who desire it. Concerning the proposition as it stands, however, there exists a very positive opinion that the bridge will not be built-not this year, nor for many years to come. The matter of expenditure is the first consideration. Providing even that the Canadian Pacific must supply a certain portion of the funds, it is felt that the advantages to be derived by the remaining expenditure are questionable, and the nconvenience at present existing, too trifling to warrant it. Mr. Graydon's etter shows that in other respects also t would be unwise to construct, at least, an overhead bridge. It must of necessity be at least 1,200 feet long. That length would mean that it must begin at the north limit of Hyman street and extend beyond the north line of Piccadilly, the grade being approximately one foot in ten, or similar to that of the hill on Dundas street below Ridout. It is manifest that this would seriously affect the value of proportions. perty between Hyman street and the railway. Added to this would be the depreciation of value on Piccadilly street, which would be practically blocked by the approach to the bridge. Many ratepayers on Piccadilly street will have most to say as to its adoption or rejection, there seems to be noimmediate reason for anxiety the property-owners north of Hyman Mayor Beck, Ald. Jolly, the city engineer, and a few others, were a comthe merits of the Jolly snowplow-the casion, was the inspiration of remarks that led to an even more memorable bout in the ante-room of the council chamber. The mayor, the plow and its godfather did their stunts in Victoria Park, where much snow and many of Chief Williams' worthies are said to be. The result was that at eventide when the poor but honest workers of this city of toil went to cut across the park, they did not find it necessary to do the Blondin act on the straight and narrow paths, in dire fear of losing their equipoise and falling into the unwelcome clutch of the minions of the law. The test was thorough, and the plow stands approved, but will be advanced to still further perfection. The idea of its construction is taken petitioned for the bridge, apparently in ignorance of what its construction really meant. City Engineer Graydon believes that the granting of the peti-tion would start a flow of claims for damages from property owners on both sides of the track-most certain-

200 feet long, with a 16-foot roadway, that is taken of the idea by those who

In the hall adjoining Mayor Beck's office at the city hall today there was a small bunch of visitors who. through long experience in the past, had a beautiful faith in a certain memory of childhood, which led them to believe that all that was necessary was to "knock at the door, lift the latch and walk in." Sad as it seems, this touching faith in the trite sayings of childhood was rudely shattemerity, they tested only the first portion of the infantile ballad. They knocked; but they that were within heeded them not. They lifted the latch, but an unsympathetic and unyielding lock held the door fast. Vanquished, they retired; but returned to the attempt at another time and vet another. When it dawned upon them that this was a portion of a new etiquette at the hall, they would have relinquished their hope of gaining admittance to the inner court. But once again they tried-and successfully.

The chief pumping engineer of the siderably improved, and at the end of Duluth, Minn., waterworks, Mr. Wiltwo weeks it was as well as ever, and son Palmer, was a visitor at the city hall today. He is the guest of his cousin, Mr. Oliver Ellwood, secretary of the waterworks department.

Over 8,000 persons have petitioned the French Chamber of Deputies against the order of M. de Lanessan, the min-ister of marine, abolishing the Good Friday ceremonies in the navy. American furniture is being introduced in Constantinople, being better and cheaper than that from Italy and France, but it does not meet the taste of the Turks. The French have coined the word Aluminothermy for the process of get-ting very great heat quickly and in-expensively by the oxidation of alum-inum.

Thursday-Fair; not much change in temperature. WEATHER NOTES.

There is nothing of particular importance this morning. Moderately cold weather prevails in the larger portion of Canada, but the general tendency is for higher rather than for lower temperature. The Northwest keeps unusually mild.

LATE LOCAL ITEMS

-Mr. Harry Carter, of the Union Pacific Railway, is in the city today. -Mr. T. H. McGuigan passed through the city this morning in his observation car, St. Lawrence. -Mr. W. F. Hier, formerly of West London, has enlisted in the American army for service in the Philippines. The young man is well known in this

-Mrs. M. Fonger, of Delaware has returned home after spending her Christmas holidays at the residence of her cousin, Mrs. D. McLeod, London township.

-The Women's Christian Association very gratefully acknowledges the following donations: Home for Incurables, from a friend, per Mrs. H. Boomer, $2 50; to Home for Aged People, from Mrs. Fox, two sets of men's underwear.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEETING. The January session of the county council, which meets on Tuesday, Jan. 28, does not promise to be of special importance. After the election of the warden for the year, the chief business with which the council will wrestle will be the letting of tenders for the proposed new bridges. WEEKLY SITTING SATURDAY. of justice will be held on Saturday.

Mr. Justice Falconbridge is slated to preside, but if the assizes last till Friday, Mr. Justice Ferguson may stay over and take the weekly sitting. JESSIE MACLACHLAN TONIGHT. The Jessie Maclachlan concert in the New Grand Opera House, London, tonight, will be a great success. There are still a number of good seats to be had, but they are being rapidly taken up. The programme is a great one, and everybody will be there. SIR JOHN BOURINOT'S LECTURE. An unfortunate error crept into the advertisement of Sir John Bourinot's lecture, which appeared in yesterday's daily papers. The lecture is to be delivered at the city hall tomorrow night, Jan. 16, not on the 23rd, as advertised. Sir John will speak on the subject "What We Owe the United Empire Loyalists," a subject in which every true Canadian should be deeply interested. RED CROSS SOCIETY'S WORK. Mrs. Boomer, the president of the London branch of the Red Cross Society, has had the following messages from headquarters at Toronto, with reference to her inquiry as to the reladies of London for their continued kind interest in the Red Cross Society. As a preliminary grant, the treasurer of the Provincial Red Cross Society has sent $500 to Col. Evans, with the promise, if necessary, of another remittance." The treasurer adds: your local branch has any funds to spare we shall be very glad to receive a contribution." As there seems no immediate need for the London branch to take action, the proposed meeting will be postponed until further notice. Meanwhile there should be no slackening of interest on the part of Canadians in those now representing them in the battlefields of South Africa.

DEATH OF PETER B. ABRAY. 7, lot 23, London township, of an internal illness of several months duration. Mr. Abray was born at Dorchester Station and was a member of the county council of 1901. Besides his wife, he leaves 3 small children, 2 boys and a girl, four brothers, William, of Denfield; George, London township, and Jackson and Nonus, of British Columbia; and four sisters, Mrs. Andrews Transfer of States of State derson, Toronto; Mrs. Edwards, Woodham; Mrs. James Nixon, Arva, and Mrs. Charles Carrothers, Westminster. Mr. Abray conducted a sawmill business at Denfield some time ago. The funeral takes place from his late residence on Friday, at 10 o'clock, to Woodland Cemetery. THE great lung healer is found in that excellent medicine sold as Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages, and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

Never before has there been such devotion to Mohammedanism as in India at this time under British rule.

STOLE BOYS FROM COURT.

Judge's Divorce Decree.

She Did Not Wish Her Children To Be Placed in Husband's Parents' Custody.

Detective Egelton, accompanied by Sheriff Mains, of Port Huron, Mich., yesterday afternoon took charge of two children-boys, aged 5 and 7 yearswho, with their mother, Mrs. Clark, have been inmates of the Mount Hope Orphanage since early in the month. Armed with authority from the Michigan courts, the sheriff took the children to Port Huron. The mother insisted on accompanying them, although the officer had no authority to take her with him.

Some time ago, the husband of Mrs. Clark, who resides in Port Huron, instituted divorce proceedings in the Michigan courts. He was granted a decree of divorce, one of the provisions of which gave the custody of the children to his parents. As soon as the decision was given, however, Mrs. Clark quietly left Port Huron, taking the children with her.

Sheriff Mains arrived in London yes terday on her trail. With Detective Egelton he discovered that she had registered at the Tecumseh House on Jan. 2 last. From there she was easily traced to the Mount Hope institution.

UNANIMITY AND DISPATCH

Marked the Annual Meeting at the Court House

Of East Middlesex Agricultural Association-Reports Read and Officers Chosen.

The annual meeting of the East Middlesex Agricultural Association opened at 1 p.m. today, at the court house. There was a large attendance of members, and the proceedings throughout were marked by dispatch | The total population is 5,369,666. By and unanimity.

The chair was occupied by President Wm. Moore. Secretary Chas. Trebilcock was present, but Treasurer R. Oke was absent, being in New York. In his annual address, President Moore said the past year had been a fairly good one. Owing to adverse conditions of weather and the competition of the Pan-American, the Western Fair had not been as successful as in past years. The association had sustained a loss in the death of Mr. A weekly sitting of the high court John Durand, for many years a member and director. Mr. Moore also referred in a congratulatory strain to the marriage of Mr. Allan Bogue. The treasurer's statement showed receipts of $461 92, with expenditures the same. The secretary, in his report, referred to the Western Fair and the death of Mr. Durand, along the same lines as pursued by the president. The poultry exhibit at the fair had been a noticeably excellent one. The members of the association had reason to be thankful for the blessings of the past and the promises of the future. Crops had not been as good as usual, fall wheat being a failure owing to the ravages of the Hessian fly. This failure of crops is not now such a loss to the farmer, as he now depends more on stock raising and dairy products. A great improvement in the latter is noticed. The shipping of horses to South Africa has raised prices and cleared the way for the breeding of a higher class of animals. Messrs. Aitken and Tozer were appointed scrutineers. The election of officers was then proceeded with, re-President-Allan Bogue, Westmin-

First Vice-President-Wm. Moore, London. Second Vice-President-John Kennedy, Ilderton. Board of Directors-London town-South Africa. "Kindly thank the Hardy Shore and James Murray. West Nissouri township-Geo. Scatcherd and John Hobbs. Dorchester-Henry Jackson and Richard Vining.

The board is the same as last year's, with the exception that Mr. Henry Jackson succeeds the late Mr. John Durand. Directors on the Western Fair Board -A. Bogue, Wm. Moore, J. T. Shore, John Kennedy, George Scatcherd, C. Trebilcock, re-elected. Delegates to annual meeting of Western Fair-Wm. Fleming, R. Venning, John Hobbs, re-elected.

Auditors—Elisha Ironsides and F. Elliott, re-elected.

In assuming the chair, Mr. Bogue thanked the members for the honor done him. Speaking of the secretary's reference to the Western Fair, he said Peter B. Abray, aged 44 years, died the fair was not supported by the faryesterday at the family residence, con. mers of Middlesex as it should be. Although not so financially successful as were $28,993,687—an increase of $1,437, past fairs, the fair is in a position to 311. In the same periods the Canago on and prosper. He cited the instances of Ottawa Fair, with a deficit $29,944,000 for 1900, and $34,053,000 for of $23,000, and Toronto Fair, with a 1901—an increase of $4,109,000. The net deficit of $150,000, while the Western Fair is out of debt, while $40,000 or $50,000 has been spent in improvements. The Western Fair had thus been more successful than either of the others.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring president, Mr. Wm. Moore, for the manner in which he had fulfilled the duties of his office during the past year.

A communication from D. C. Creelman, secretary of Farmers' Institutes, suggested the improvement of agricultural fairs by the obtaining of better judges and the introducing of more educational features instead of the spe-cial attractions. The association was invited to send a delegate to a convention to be held in Toronto. After discussion the communication

The meeting then adjourned. The board of directors met subsequently and elected Mr. R. Oke treasurer and Charles Trebilcock secretary.

> Official Census Figures for the Whole Dominion-Number of Canadians in the United States.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 15.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier received the following cablegram from Sir Gordon Sprigg, premier of Cape Colony:

"Cape Town, Dec. 31.—Sir W. Laurier, Ottawa: Heartiest New Year greetings. May your efforts with ours insure that it be a year bringing peace to South Africa. (Signed), Sir Gordon Sprigg."

Sir Wilfrid replied as follows:
"Dec. 31, 1901.—Sir Gordon Sprigg,
Cape Town, South Africa: With all my heart I reciprocate your greetings. I hope that the new year will see reestablishment of peace, harmony and good-feeling among all classes in South Africa. (Signed), Wilfrid Laur-

CANADIANS IN THE UNITED STATES.

A return prepared by the Dominion statistician from the United States census returns shows that there were 1.181.778 Canadians in that country in 1900. In 1890 there were 980,938.

The increase from 1880 to 1890 was 263.781, and from 1890 to 1900 was 200,-840. The increase between 1880 and 1890 was 30.8 per cent and between 1890 and 1900 was 20.5 per cent.

Of the 1,181,775 persons who had transferred themselves from the Canadian side of the line to the United States, 786,581 were English-speaking Canadians, and 395,197 French-speaking. In the last ten years the increase of English-speaking Canadians in the United States was 16 per cent, and of French-speaking 30 per cent. The attraction for Canadians has been largely in border cities.

From 1885 to 1890 about 12,050 Canadians left Canada every year to take up their residence in Massachusetts

Official Census Figures.

The census department gave out today the official figures of 1901 for the day the official figures of the census of of 1901 for the whole Dominion.

REPRESENTATION. The unit of representation is therefore 25,367. It is found by dividing 65 the number of representatives in Quebec, into the population of that province. The representation by population will therefore stand as follows: Province. British Columbia ..... Northwest ..... Manitoba ..... 10 Ontario ..... Quebec ..... New Brunswick ..... Nova Scotia ...... Prince Edward Island .....

This shows that British Columbia will gain 1 member, the Northwest 2, Manitoba 3, while 1 goes to the Yukon. The losses are, 6 members in Ontario, 1 in New Brunswick, 2 in Nova Scotia and 1 in Prince Edward Island. The representation in the present parliament is 213. In other words, while will be added after the redistribution, 4 will have to be deducted, making a difference of 3 less than at present.

THE NEW CHALLENGER.

London, Jan. 14.—Wm. Fife, of Fair-lit on the Clyde, is to build Sir Thomas

Lipton's next challenger for the America's cup. At a conference just held between Sir Thomas and his advisers, definite arrangements were made for the construction of the Shamrock III., and an order for the new yacht was given to and accepted by Mr. Fife. In view of the probability of a big revival of British yachting, and the fact that designing and superintending a cup challenger necessitates constant work for at least a year, Mr. Fife was somewhat disinclined to accept the big job. But Sir Thomas found means of overcoming his objections. George L.

Watson has promised to assist Mr.Fife

in every way by handing over to him the details of the construction of the Shamrock II., and all the calculations and details of the tank experiments made at Denny's yard. With these, and the experience gained with the Shamrock I., Mr. Fife starts with a distinct advantage over his first ef-

In spite, however, of this vague disquietude of spirit, still the smooth rapidity of the pace, his fatigue, the aimless wandering of his thoughts, and the warm stillness of the air, had nearly succeeded in sending him to sleep in reality when the bugle of the guard sounded, as was the invariable practice when the mail arrived within sight of the long and magnificent avenue of beech trees that led up from the park to the highroad. Lester rapidly gave up highroad. Lester rapidly gave up reigns to their rightful owner, and e more sank to the level of a mere That was a pretty fair run, wasn't it, asked, as he began to col-sticks, and other miscellaneous small articles preparatory to leaving the coach. "Well, old fellow, as I suppose "e are to be neighbors for some days, at any rate—how long do you stay in Denethorp?".

'I don't quite know what my movements are for the present, but I don't suppose I shall be off again in a very great hurry." suppose I shall be off again in a very great hurry."

"How do you think of spending the long? I beg its pardon: one must say the autumn, now we have both done with longs and shorts?"

"But I have not done with longs and shorts. I shall be up again next term, I expect. I have got a pupil or two, you know; and I have some idea of getting some men to read with in the long."

You shall coach them in Homer and Euclid, and all that, and I'll see after their other lines and angles. You can't say I'm a bad coach, after that spurt. Tow here shall give me a testimoulal Tom, here, shall give me a testimonial. But here we are. I'm always glad to look up the beeches again, though it is a bore to come down just now. Good-bye, Warden—we'll see how the trout lie bemany hours are over. So look me

"You're very good-I shall be delight-Good-bye. ed. Good-bye."

By this time the coach had stopped at the great iron gates that were flanked by the lodge, and that bore above them the arms of the Clares, with their motthe arms of the Clares, with their motto, "Non solun nomine clarus." The old woman who acted as porteress had run out on hearing the first blast of the bugle, and now stood with a broad smile of welcome on her face to receive the young squire. In a few seconds more, the horses, freed from the very respectable weight of Lester and his trappings, were again on their way.

Almost as soon as he was left to himbelf, Warden forgot the shy restraint that the other's presence had caused; and his mind, relieved from the incubus of Earl's Dene and its belongings, soon and his mind, relieved from the incubus of Earl's Dene and its belongings, soon began to busy itself about more real and personal matters, while his eyes were occupied with recognizing each particular point of the road which he had not traveled for so long; but, as will be remembered, the remainder of the journey was extremely short in respect of both time and distance. Indeed, the tower of Denethorp Church was plainly visible, and, when the wind was in the right quarter, its peel of bells was often audible from the lodge gates; and so, in a very little while, he in his turn was descending from his seat at the door of the King's Head, and looking at his own not very large amount of lugdoor of the King's Head, and looking at his own not very large amount of luggage. Then, leaving his portmanteau to be sent after him from the inn, the new fellow of St. Margaret's walked across the market place and down one of the principal streets until he came to a brick house standing in a small garden at the edge of the town, the door of which bore a tarnished brass place bearing the name "Mr. Warden, Surgeon."

CHAPTER II. To return, however, to him who was certainly the more important personage of the two in the eyes of the world, if not in those of his traveling companion. The traveler whose destination hap-pened to be Earl's Dene would, in those days-and, for that matter, in these days also-pass through the iron gates al-ready mentioned, and then proceed three-quarters of a mile, more or less, along the magni cent avenue, having on his left hand an inclosure called the Lodge Park, which was well stocked with deer, that have not, even now, had to yield their old domain to a more useful if less picturesque generation of sheep, until he arrived at the lawn and circular carriage-drive in front of the house itself. This was a plain, square building of dark red brick, pierced with many windows symmetrically arranged in even rows, and altogether of a far more modern appearance than the park and grounds would have led one to expect. The fact is that, while the park is of great antiquity, the house is not older than the hideous reign of George and bears conspicuously upon its the date of the memorable year of It had been built as a substitute some ruinous ecclesiastical buildings for some ruinous ecclesiastical buildings that had cumbered the ground ever since the dissolution of the monasteries. For Earl's Dene had of old been called Abbot's Dene, and had been a sort of offshoot of the great Abbey of Redchester, in the same county, until King Henry made a grant of it to the then Earl of Wendale. Of course, like most of the monastic estates that underwent this fate, its ownership was long looked upon as of necessity associated with the punishment appointed for the sin of sacri-lege; and there was a prophetic fingle about it, of which the usual form ran thus: "Abbot's, King's and Earl's Dane, Never thrice the same again";

which is, indeed, rather obscure, but means, according to traditional interpretation, that no family should ever be able to hold it farther than from father to son—that is to say, for more than two generations. As is usual in such cases, for reasons sufficiently familiar to students of popular expressition, singularly dents of popular superstition, singularly fulfilled to the letter; but inasmuch as the saying was supposed to be of the nature of a curse, and to prognosticate evil, it had been anything but fulfilled to the spirit. The possessors of Earl's Dene invariably prospered. From the great Earl of Wendale, the original grantee it passed in due course, when great Earl of Wendale, the original grantee, it passed in due course, when the title became extinct for want of male issue, to his grand-daughter, who made a rich and advantageous marriage. From her it again came to a grand-daughter; and her grandson changed his name in order to inherit another great estate in another part of England. One more lapse into the female line brought it into the possession of the grand-mother, and then of the father, of Madame Clare. Before her grandmother's time the place had been uninhabited and time the place had been uninhabited and neglected, its owners having always possessed other seats in better repair elsewhere; but Miss Langton, not being elsewhere; but Miss Langton, not being in this position, came to live there soon after her marriage; and it was by her and her husband. Colonel Clare, that the present plain but comfortable and convenient house was built. It was by them also that, to the eternal sorrow of antiquaries, the monastic rulns were entirely removed, so that there is searce left of them so much as a trace to mark the ground on which they once stood.

While Warden was traversing the short distance that lay between Earl's Dene While Warden was traversing the short distance that lay between Earl's Dene and Denethorp. Lester strolled quietly along the avenue towards the house, wondering what could possibly be the meaning of this sudden and unwelcome summons from Miss Clare—his aunt, as he always called her, although she really was his coustn. In no long time, in spite of his leisurely pace, he had crossed the lawn, passed through the hall, and reached the drawing-room, where Madame Clare, to give her her popular title, was seated in a large armchair reading, or sleeping, or both, or neither. Nothing is so difficult, or rather so impossible, as to say of a man or woman that he or she is absolutely young or old. Youth and age are assentially relative terms. Twenty years are not seldom in reality more than eighty—eighty less than twenty. To resort, however, to the device of calling a person middle-aged is as meaningless a makeshift as Farrell. to the device of calling a person middle-aged is as meaningless a makeshift as to use the term mezzo-soprano to describe a voice. It does not in the least say what the person is—it only means that it is impossible to say what he is. Now, about half-way between fifty and sixty is not a great age; and yet Miss Clare certainly looked, and therefore was, old; for a really young woman, whatever the number of her years may be, never looks old. She was tall, and of a commanding although not upright figure, which was large, but not full; her features, still handsome, were prominent and strongly marked, and wore, when, as they were now, in repose, an expression made up of sadnes sand severity. Her dark eyes had grown dull and her hair gray. Her complexion was fair, but—what is seldom the case with fair complexions—inclined to be sallow. Her dress was plain, but of costly work and material, the prevailing color of it being that of lavender. But this was by no means the only part of her expression, and certainly not the most pleasant part of it. When she spoke, her face lighted up wonderfully, and its signs of sorrow and severity were lost in a kind and almost gentle smile, which went far to prove her to be young, after all, and that the contrast between her and Lester was to be measured by a standard power, not of age.

THE WESTERN LEAGUE. Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 14.-The Vestern League held its first open session of the present meeting this afternoon. P. T. Powers, president of the National Association of minor leagues, was presented and addressed the meeting. Previous to the meeting conference attended by President Powers and other members of the National Association and President Whitfield had been held at which it was decided that the National Association should remain loyal to the Western League in its fight with the American Association, giving the Western League financial aid, if necessary, and moral support at all times. In his address President Powers reiterated this sentiment and formally pledged the support of his association to the Western League. He took occasion to denounce Thomas J. Hickey, former president of the Western League, who, he said, had proven himself a traitor, and he ridiculed Hickey's statement that the American Association could become a member of the National Association of major leagues. President Powers assured his hearers that players in his association who failed to show up with his club at the beginnig of the season would be fined and that no individual club would be permitted to reinstate

H. Farrell, president of the New York State League and secretary of the National Association of minor leagues, followed, and after scoring Hickey indorsed President Powers' plan of support to the Western League. He announced that there were now fifteen leagues in the National Association. W. H. Sexton, president of the

Then there came a surprise when Thomas F. Burns, of Colorado Springs, made a motion that A. B. Beall, of Minneapolis, be expelled from membership in the Western League. No charges were made, but the motion was seconded and immediately carried by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Beall arose to speak, but was promptly declared out of order and refused a hearing by President Whit-field. Beall left the meeting. Later President Whitfield stated that the charge against Beall was that of aiding an opposing league by transferring his Minneapolis Park and improve-ments to Geo. Tebeau, of the American

The election of officers for the year 1902 resulted as follows: President, T. J. Hutchinson; first vice-president, Joseph Herriot; second vice-president, T. Tuxford; secretary-treasurer, Wm. Reid; auditors, S. Sercombe and T. J. Rogers; trustees, Alf. Tory and J. Phillips; librarian, Wm. Allister; executive committee, J. Laughlin, J. Fitzgerald, T. Beattie, C. Barrett, R. Moule, G. Childs and E. Graham.

Questions Answered.

O. K., NILESTOWN.-Father and son are partners in a farm. The son is empowered to do all business, the father now being too aged for such a responsibility. In the absence of the son, an agent, after a good lot of bantering, succeeds in selling another member of the family certain goods. The agent was told there was no money in the house, but nothing loth, he drew up a note for amount of purchase, and asked the father to sign it. The father told the party for who the goods were bought to sign his (the father's) name. Is such a transaction legal? Can the agent collect the amount of note, the son, the acting partner, not being consulted in the matter? Ans.—The facts are not sufficiently stated. The transaction is prima facie legal. The son is not liable in any event. The father is liable, unless it can be shown that he was imposed upon by fraud or advantage ta-ken of his incompetency. Although the note may not be collectable, the value of the goods may, if not return-ed promptly. You had better con-

HE HITS HARD

Good, Old King Coffes.

People don't realize what a savage tyrant coffee is. It gets the upper hand and one of the reasons it maintains its power is that people do not believe that coffee is doing the deadly work, but they wake up once in a while. A lady in Norfolk, Va., writes an interesting experience. "Some months ago a friend who was calling asked if "I found she was a coffee drinker and insisted that she quit the coffee and take Postum Food Coffee with some Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food. I had gone through a worderful experience myself and knew the value of both Postum and Grape-Nuts. "I went right to work and made her cup of Postum the first thing, which she drank and liked it wonderfully well. She made the change and began to improve in a few days. She has gradually gotten better and better, and, of course, I have been much interested in her recovery.

"A short time ago I met her daughter-in-law and asked how her mother was getting on. She said, 'Wonderfully well. She is a new woman. She has entirely recovered her health and spirits, and just to think it was by the simple act of leaving off that poisonous coffee and taking on Pos-tum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food."

This letter was written by Mrs. M. L. Eggleston, of Post Norfolk, Va. There is a wonderful lesson that thousands of people can learn, that of leaving off narcotics and poisonous drugs like coffee and using plain, natural liquid and solid food containing the elements the Creator intended for man's use.

Establishment of a Branch of British Empire League.

Formed by the Efforts of Major Denison, C.M.C.—Outlining of Its Objects-The Officers.

Through the efforts of Major Septimus Denison, C.M.G., a branch of the British Empire League was formed last night at the city hall, and the enthusiasm which prevailed throughout the meeting points to success. Many of the city's military men were present, besides a large number of representative citizens, and they were unanimous in the opinion that the organization would help much to further the warm feelings of the mother country towards the colonies, and vice versa. The league is not the growth of a mere sentiment, but, rather, of a practical

Bishop Baldwin occupied the chair, and spoke strongly of the generally acknowledged loyalty of Canada to the mother land, and said that to show this loyalty some society should be formed. He likened Canada to the living vine holding in a never-dying grasp the solid living stump of oak, and as our country had grown older, its love would be stronger. Bishop Baldwin stated that he believed there

The following are resolutions which relate to the object of the league: First, that it is a primary object to secure permanent unity of the empire; second, to promote trade between the kingdom and colonies and to hold meetings for commercial interest to determine the best means of expanding trade; third, to form direct intercourse between the countries. Major Denison read several interesting and helpful articles from British journals, pointing to how strong a factor the colonies were to be in the future of the empire. Sir John Carling said he was overjoyed at the enthusiasm manifested, and was pleased to second a resolution for the formation of a league. Mayor Beck and Dean Innes also made pointed and short speeches. The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary chairman, Sir John Carling; honorary vice-chairmen, Dean Innes and C. S. Hyman, M.P.; honor-ary secretary, Major Septimus Denison; honorary executive committee, R. Shaw-Wood, James Magee, K.C., Dr. Moorhouse, J. H. Flock, K.C., John Labatt, Talbot Macbeth, K.C.
