IN RE CODFISH.

LONDON, April 3 .- The Foreign Office announces that the recent order withdrawing codfish and other similar products from the privilege of free duty applies to all countries, including Cuba and Costa Rica.

GIVEN UP AS LOST. MADRID, April 3.-Admiral Beran-

ger, Minister of Marine, told Congress today that the Government had abandoned hope of the missing cruiser Reina Regente, and had ordered an inquiry to ascertain the causes of the disaster.

DEATH OF MRS. L. W. JEROME. LONDON, April 3 .- The funeral of Mrs. Leonard W. Jerome, who died at Tunbridge Wells of influenza, will be held on Friday. Mrs. Jerome's three daugnters-Lady Randolph Churchill, Mrs. Frewen, and Mrs. John Leslie-were at her bedside when she died.

WON'T LET THEM RESIGN. CHRISTIANA, April 3.-King Oscar has sent a message to Premier Emil Stang refusing to allow the Norwegian Ministers to resign, as he does not see any possibility of maintaining a Cabinet otherwise. He expressed regrets that his efforts to settle the question of otherwise. He expressed regrets the union have not been attended with

THE LAHN DISABLED. SOUTHAMPTON, April 3 .- The American liner Paris, from New York, March 27, which arrived here tonight. reports that on March 30 she passed the North German Lloyd steamer Lahn with her engine disabled. The Lahn reported all well on board. She sailed from New York on March 26 for Bre-

BALFOUR ON BI-METALISM. LONDON, April 3.-Mr. A. J. THE CHITRAL CAMPAIGN.

LONDON, April 3.-The Times correspondent in Calcutta says: The Chitral expedition stormed Malandri Pass on March 3. There was sharp fighting for five hours. The enemy, who were 1,200 strong, lost heavily, and ever since have been in full retreat. The British loss was slight. The first brigade has crossed over into Swat.

> HOVAS DEFEATED BY THE FRENCH.

PARIS, April 3.-The French merchants of Morondava, Madagascar, have been expelled by the Hovas. The French squadron, co-operating with the land forces, has captured Morovoay, Lis-pisca, Mahambo and Belsiboka. The Hovas' commander-in-chief was killed. There were no casualties among the French forces.

NO NEED OF MILITIA.

LONDON, April 3 .- The Times' correspondent in Melbourne says: South Australia has decided to abolish her militia, thus saving $50,000 annually. The colony will rely in the future for defense on the gunboat Protector, the forts, and the artillery and naval brigades. This course is justified while England commands the sea. The only danger is from foreign cruisers. SPEAKER PEEL'S SUCCESSOR. LONDON, April 3.-The Morning Post is informed from an authoritative source that William Gully, Liberal M. P. for Carlisle, will be nominated for the Speakership of the House of Commons on April 10, with the approval of the Government. If he should not get a majority the Unionists will pro-pose the name of the Conservative, Sir Ridley, Lord Tweedmouth's brother-in-law.

A CLOSE CALL. CONSTANTINOPLE, April 3 .- The

United States Minister to Turkey, Mr. Alexander W. Terrell, narrowly escaped being shot today. A man who was being pursued by the police drew a revolver on the Place Traxim and fired shots at his pursuers. Mr. Terrell happened to be passing across the square in his carriage as the man fired, and was in great danger of being hit. This caused the Minister's cavass to jump from the carriage and seize the man who was firing. The latter tried to stab the cavass, but was overpowered and ar-

TUSCANY TREMBLED.

ROME, April 3.-Tuscany has been shaken by earthquakes several times this week. At Tredizio a dozen houses collapsed. Seven dead bodies have been removed from the ruins and eight persons are missing.

At Montepulciano, in Central Italy, roofs were shaken down and three buildings were wrecked. Two persons were killed and ten or twelve were injured. The earthquakes have been accompanied by heavy rains. The Government has sent a geologist to visit the places where the shocks were most Deputies. He said that two ironclads would be launched this year and six in 1896, including three of more than 10,000 tons. The number of first-class cruisers would be increased soon. The Government did not think of reducing armaments in any way. The people must be prepared for fresh sacrifices, inasmuch as soon the North Sea and Baltic Canal would be opened, and France would be compelled to maintain on the northern coasts a fleet e al to the one in the Meditteranean.

THE "AEGIR." KIEL, April 3 .- The new German ironclad, which until today was designated simply by the letter "T," was this morning christened by name, "Aegir," with great pomp and oeremony by Emperor William. There were anchored in the harbor eight ironclads, four training ships and two cruisers, all dressed with flags and bunting, and the town was profusely decorated. In christening the new ship the Emperor said: "This ship shall remind us always of the dark prehistoric times when the powerful god Aegir was feared and worshiped by our Germanic, seafaring anesters, and of their might upon the ancestors, and of their might upon the

BANEFUL "PROTECTION."

LONDON, April 3.—Commenting on | finally carried by a vote of 61 to 27. Sir Joseph Crowe's report on French trade, the Times in its financial article today says: "The report shows that the export trade is steadily shrinking owing to France's protection policy. Altogether, according to Sir Joseph Crowe, France has spent about 5,000,000 francs in the last decade in protecting her sugar trade, yet her sugar growers are unhappy, and demand further taxes on foreign and colonial sugars. Protection in France, as in the United States and Canada and elsewhere, by withdrawing the trades protected from the full influence of competition, insures a constant over-supply of their NEWFOUNDLAND AFFAIRS LONDON, April 3.-A Parliamentary blue book just issued contains further communications with Newfoundland in regard to the financial conditions in that colony. The correpondence includes the refusal of the Government to assist banks which are still solvent, and authorizes the Colonial Govern-ment to draw from the Imperial Government $25,000 for the purpose of relieving urgent cases. The communica-tions also announce that the sum of $75,000 has been placed to the credit of Mr. Herbert Murray in the Bank of Montreal at St. Johns, Nfld. The decision of Mr. Murray, formerly chairman of the customs department, who has gone to Newfoun and for the purpose of distributing relief, is to be final in regard to the disposition of this fund.

A Central News dispatch from Shanghai says that no fighting in Formosa has been reported. It is believed it is the intention of China to surrender the island as part of the peace programme, and the prospects for peace are regarded as promising.

According to a Washington dispatch, the close of the peace negotiations between China and Japan is near at hand. So rapidly are the negotiations proceeding that it is believed that they will be terminated by Saturday or Sunday next. While no details have reached Washington, it is understood that Japan will secure practically everything she has asked for—the possession of Formosa, a war indemnity of 400,000,000 yen, the independence of Corea and the possession of that part of the Province of Shan Tun which includes Port Arthur and a sufficient amount of territory surrounding that place for military and strategic purposes—at least, until the indemnity shall have been paid. It is again asserted that Russia will make no interference with these

The Legislature Says They May Practice at the Bar.

Mr. Wood's Bill Carried by a Vote of 61 to 27.

The Parties Divided on the Measure-Ontario's G. O. M. Favors the Ladies -Mr. Haycock's Bill in re Railway Passes Killed.

(Special to the "Advertiser." PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TO-RONTO, April 3 .- In the House today the most interesting occurrence was the bill which Mr. Wood introduced to allow women to practice at the bar. It was debated with great spirit, and

Mr. Wood of ened the ball with a spirited speech, the first words of which were drowned in the mingled cries of "Carried!" and "Lost!" from the supporters and opponents of the measure. His argument was that it was the logical outcome of the act allowing women to practice as solicitors, and he made a sharp attack on the argument that such permission would injure the home life of women,

When he had concluded his argument there was a pause, and then, on Mr. Whitney asking if he were not going to speak, Sir Oliver Mowat rose and gave his adherence to the bill. If women were to be allowed to act as solicitors, he said, there was no reason why they should not practice as barristers, and he devoted a moment to maintaining that there was nothing wrong in women appearing in the courts. There would be no harm done by the passage of the bill, and he thought they had no right to refuse to pass it, the Premier concluded.

Mr. Awrey vigorously opposed the bill, and rallied Sir Oliver Mowat very nappily upon the soft place which he had in his heart for women; arguing against admitting them to the sterner walks of life, and pointing out that the logical outcome of this would be that women should be allowed to be judges and legislators.

The discussion lasted for some time Messrs. Richardson, Stratton, Haycock, Ryerson and Howland supporting the bill, and Messrs. Biggar, Chapple, Whitney and German opposing it.

Hon. Mr. Ross closed the debate in a effective onslaught upon the arguments of the more conservative members. All the parties were divided in the vote except the P. P. A., both of whom voted against the bill. The Government was divided, Mr. Dryden and Mr. Bronson voting against it, and Mr. Hardy abstaining from voting at all, while the rest of the Cabinet sided with the ladies. Mr. Marter voted with the majority, and Mr. Whitney with the minority. The balance, however, was heavily with the friends of the women. Immediately after the carrying of this, Mr. Howland moved the second reading of his bill to prevent the docking, remarking that it was a propitious moment for the introduction of such a measure. It did not meet with equal good fortune, for it was withdrawn after Mr. Dryden had pronounced against it, on the ground that there was no need for such interference. It was then nearly 11 o'clock, but Mr. Haycock moved the second reading of his bill to prohibit the use of railway passes by members of the House. The leader of the Patrons gave a very brief Murray, Essex. speech in favor of his bill, making a bare statement of the arguments against the acceptance of passes by

Mr. Wood opposed the bill, claiming that the independence of the House was not in the slightest degree affected by the acceptance of the passes, which were sent to them out of courtesy, and not with any ulterior motive. Dr. Willoughby followed, saying that the railways received scant justice from the House, instead of influencing the members by their passes.

Sir Oliver Mowat made a very fair statement of the case of members who favors are gained by the railways in return for the passes. Dr. Baxter also opposed the bill, and Mr. Caven briefly defended the Patrons' position. Mr. Barr spoke briefly against the bill, and then Mr. Whitney made a vig-orous attack upon the Patrons and the false pretenses on which he said they had been elected.

Mr. Haycock made a sharp retort, and after some further discussion the bill was beaten just at midnight by a vote of 74 to 13. Mr. M. Y. McLean voted with the Patrons and Mr. Pardo against them.

In the afternoon Mr. Howland moved his resolution to appoint a select committee to consider the question of the old Upper Canada College square in Toronto, which he claimed should belong to the city. Sir Oliver Mowat and Mr. Ross opposed the resolution, which was beaten by a vote of 57 to 31, after legal argument. One Conservative, Mr. Beattie, of Parry Sound, bolted and voted with the Reformers, while the Patrons divided. The bill to permit of local option in the use of the single tax was introduced by Dr. McKay, and withdrawn by him after opposition to it had been manifested by Hon. Mr. Hardy, Mr. Whitney and Mr. St. John.

Grand Spring Display

Will continue all this week. We have prepared seventeen additional cases of late novelties, and extend a cordial invitation to all who take an interest in the most elaborate display of style and fashion ever made in London to come and see us. What our former efforts have been in this direction our patrons know, and when we say that this season our preparations have been to excel anything previously attempted by any establishment in Western Ontario, you know what to expect. We have spared no labor in search of the newest, nobbiest and most exquisite goods to be found in the British and Foreign capitals. Everything that experience, capital and skill could do has been done, and in asking your attention, do so with the confidence that the time spent in inspecting here, will result in mutual profit.

The Practical Question of the Day

And one that should be considered by all persons is economywhere to get the best for your money. While we do not propose to sell goods at a loss, we think that on account of our superior facilities we can save you something. Being the largest importers in this district, and buying direct from the makers, thereby saving all middlemen's profits, we are able to sell goods often at a lower price than other houses have to pay the wholesale for them.

The Newfoundland delegates have arrived at Ottawa. Premier Greenway is still very weak Novelties in Laces. THE THE PERSON OF THE PERSON O

There is no department which offers greater variety than laces, which are to take a most important part as dress trimmings this season. We have every new make, and all the old ones, in every color to match our dress fabrics at prices that will surely please.

Novelties in Dress Fabrics.

Look to your hearts content, shop where you please, inquire where you may, you'll find us always in the lead. It would be a pleasure to us, and repay you, to show you our novelties in this department. In plain colors we show 32 different lines, ranging in price from 12c to $3 50 a yard. Lack of space prevents us from enumerating the different lines, all we can say is come and see for yourself.

Novelties in Millinery.

The success of the millinery opening encourages us to continue the display of patterns, hats and bonnets all this week. Last week we wrote

The opening was a success, both in point of enthusiasm and sales. But we never know what it is to rest on our oars. We have the facilities to make and trim, the capital, command and skill to collect smart hats and bonnets, and each day will see some new oddities added to our imported collection of French patterns. The present collection is unequaled by any store in this neighborhood, so we're told and believe.

strong things and true concerning our headwear and millinery finery.

Busy months are ahead of us in this department, but we have the facilities to supply your wants. Intending purchasers who are dissatisfied with the small and imperfect stocks of carpets and house furnishings kept elsewhere, should visit our carpet warehouse, Nos. 130 and 132 Carling street. From a York shilling hemp carpet to the most costly coverings will be seen there. Carpets of the most elaborate design, of the most modest colorings. We import for the trade of Western Ontario, and do not propose carrying a stock of FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS IN CARPETS ALONE to be approached in price by any petty dealers in this part of the province. Our sales during last month are an evidence that our prices are unapproachable. All railroad charges prepaid on pur-

THEY ARE BEAUTIFUL.

The New Quarters of the Seventh Battalion.

In the McCue Property-Reading Rooms and Ample Pastime Pleasures Provided-May be Opened on Monday.

The interior of the three story building situated at the southeast corner of lishers. Richmond street and Princess avenue presents an appearance very different from what it did a few weeks ago. The place was for a long time occupied as a the Attitudes," by Mrs. Robert P. Porter, hotel by Mr. Patrick McCue, but a few illustrated with a number of reproductions years ago McCue lost his license. The place has since been empty. The Seventh officers not long since decided to secure a club house for the battalion, and a more suitable building—both seregards situation and convenience could not be found. So they leased It is entitled "Three Chapters," and is place. During the past few weeks painters, carpenters, piumbers, tin-smiths and decorators have been at work on the interior, and the result is that the officers of London's famous Seventh have got one of the nicest club houses in Canada.

The lay-out of it is decidedly pretty. Of course, the officers had the choice of rooms, and they took the one on the front lower floor. It has been beautifully carpeted, papered and painted. The windows are adorned with pretty curtains, while around the walls are hung pictures of military scenes. In one cor-ner stands the massive silver cup presented by the late commanding officer, Lieut.-Col. Tracy, to be competed for by the companies at the rifle ranges. No. 2 Company has had the honor of holding it for the last season. On the east wall are hung the ragged colors of the battalion in the form of a St. Andrew's cross, and immediately above them is a heavy silver snield, with black ebony back, and a silver cup. These were won by the battalion's crack marksmen at the Dominion Rifle matches at Ottawa in 1893. A billiard table and equipments complete the furnishings for the officers' room.

The sergeants' room is also situated on the first floor, to the rear of the officers' quarters. The sergeants, besides other things, intend having a piano, not merely for ornamental purposes, but to allow them to display the musical abilities they possess in a high

The poor privates! If they are not high in the ranks they are in this building, for they have been allotted the greater part of the second and third stories. Every room has been neatly furnished. The second floor will be used for reading and card rooms and a refreshment booth; the third floor as a billiard and pool parlor, with the quarters of the caretaker, Mr. Rollins, and family, in the rear.

Great Britain Wishes No Advice From the United States.

Clash in Venezuela May Occur Any Time-No Arbitration.

NEW YORK, April 4.-The Herald's Washington dispatch says: Great Britain will not tolerate any interference by the United States in the boundary dispute with Venezuela. This is the reply of the British Foreign Office to Ambassador Bayard's representation of the desire of the United States to bring about a settlement of the boundary dispute by a conference.

It is understood the British Government informed Ambassador Bayard that it would insist upon the boundary line surveyed in 1841 by Sir Robert Schomburg, and would not submit to arbitration in any form that would bring that line into question. It is claimed on behalf of Venezuela that the British position practically amounts to a declaration that if Venezuela will admit the claim of Great Britain to all the territory on the British side of Schomburg's line, arbitrations may be resorted to to determine whether still more territory shall not be taken by Great Britain. The United States Government has practically made the cause of Venezuela here own. A great deal will now depend upon the action of the two Governments in the disputed tertwo Governments in the disputed ter-ritory. Both Venezuela and Great Brit-ain have established small outposts along the Guyuni, which flows through the center of the territory in controversy. These outposts overlap each other, some of these established by Venezuela being nearer the territory which is admittedly British, than are some of the British outposts. The situation is such that a hostile clash may be brought on at any time.

CORROBORATIVE TESTIMONY. The Recent Recovery of G. H. Kent, of

Ottawa, Discussed in Minneapolis. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 4.-The details of the case of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, Canada, have been followed with great interest by a number of our citizens. The lengthy interviews re-cently published in the Ottawa newspapers have been widely read, not only on account of the very unusual nature of the case, but for the reason that there is a considerable Canadian colony here, more than one among whom is personally acquainted with Mr. Kent, and is able to speak highly of his character for truth and probity. There are also many in our community, both Canadians and Americans, who have made personal trial of Dodd's Kidney Pills for various forms of kidney complaint, and claim that everything Mr. Kent said about their efficacy is absolutely FIXING FREIGHT RATES. NEW YORK, April 4.—Representa-tives of the Trunk Line Association, the New England roads, the Canadian lines, the Northwest lines and the lake lines, met in conference yesterday and adjusted rates to apply on west bound New York to Chicago via lake and rail. STIRRING UP RELIGIOUS STRIFE. LINCOLN, Neb., April 4.-The Legislature has passed over the Governor's veto a bill which places the Omaha police and fire departments in the hands of the American Protective Association and which will result in the discharge of about every Roman Catholic in both departments. It is rumored that Chief Seavey, of the Omaha police, who is not a Catholic, will resign at once, and a thorough demoralization of the police force and fire departments is imminent. All the leading Omaha business men have denounced the new law.

The Latest Good Things in Books and Magazines. "The American Jewess" is the latest addition to contemporary literature. It is handsomely printed and illustrated, and contains much that will interest our Hebrew population, among whom it will doubtless be largely circulated. One dollar a year. Rosa Sonnesghein Company, Chicago, pub-

The April Cosmopolitan contains amongst its leading articles one on "The Nymph of of famous paintings. George Frederick Seward discusses the subject of "China and Japan," and Lady C. Campbell contributes "English Country House Parties." One of the best short stories we have seen in any of the magazines is by Gertrude B. Stanton. exquisitely illustrated by Alice Barber Stephens, "Picturesque Papua" is the title of an article by O. M. Spencer. New York: Cosmopolitan Publishing Company.

.... The April number of St. Nicho'as will be doubly welcomed by the little folk, as it contains many interesting stories. Brander Matthews writes of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, and gives a splendid sketch of his life and works. Gustav Kobbe contributes a paper on "Along Newfoundland and Labrador."

The Century for April contains an article of strange timeliness on Nikola Tesla and some of his discoveries, by Thomas Commerford Martin. The article is valuable in itself, and owing to the recent destruction of Mr. Tesla's workshops, is immeasurably so because it contains many details, the original notes of which have been lost. Prof. Sloane's "Life of Napoleon" is continued; the serials by Mrs. Harrison and Mr. Crawford run their course interestingly; and the other articles in the number are what one looks for in the Century. The Century is handsomely illustrated.

The Atlantic Monthly for April contains installments of the two serials now running: "A Singular Life," by Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, and "The Seats of the Mighty," by Gilbert Parker. Fiction is further represented by the second part of "Gridou's Pity," by Grace Howard Peirce, and a touching single-number story by Annie Trumbull Slosson, entitled "Dumb Foxglove." An atmosphere of spring is given to the issue by a delightful paper on "Flower Lore of New England Children," by Alice Morse Earle, Two papers of educational interest are "The Expressive Power of English Sounds," by Prof. Albert H. Tolman, and "The Basis of Our Educational System," by James Jay Greenough. One of the most appreciative tributes to Robert Louis Stevenson which has yet appeared comes from the pen of C. T. Copeland, and is printed in this issue, together with a short memorial poem, by Owen Wister. (Boston: Houghton, Mifflin & Co.)

The Forum for April has for its leader a brilliant essay entitled "The Real Quintessence of Socialism," by Mr. W. H. Mallock, the eminent English student of Socialism, Mr. Justin McCarthy, the Irish journalist, politician, historian and novelist, contributes an article of uncommon interest on "Lord Rosebery" as sportsman, after-dinner speaker and politician, and thinks he need only depend on himself to become a great English Prime Minister. Prof. John Bach McMaster, the historian, puts the question:
"Is Sound Finance Possible Under Popular Government?" Mr. Alvin F. Sanborn contributes another interesting sociological study, entitled "A Study of Beggars and Their Lodgings," a companion piece to his article in the January Forum, "The Anatomy of a Tenement Street," which attracted so much comment. The number, a very interesting one, closes with a paper by Mr. Richard Burton, the New England poet, on "The Healthful Tone for American Literature." (New York: The Forum Publishing Company.) In the Arena for April Miss Adeline Knapp, a well-known journalist of San Francisco, who has an especial aptitude for political writing that is already widely recognized, writes on "The Civic Awakening in San Francisco." She presents the whole lurid picture of San Francisco politics, and shows how the exploits of Tammany have been duplicated on the Pacific coast. The paper is valuable, for it is another indication that there is a turning of the tide in American municipal politics. Marietta Holley, "Josiah Allen's Wife," contributes a bright and breezy sketch to the same Arena, called "Beyond the Shadows." And there are many other interesting articles. A fine edition of "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush" has been issued by the Fleming H. Revell Company, 140 Yonge street, Toronto. This work is having a great run. It is the literary sensation of the day. $1 25

The April number of the Authors' Journal (New York) is a particularly interesting one, containing much information and many valuable hints for writers. Among the practical articles are "The Qualities That Sell Manuscripts," by Tndor Jenks: "Experiences With Publishers," by Mary J. Holmes, the popular author, and "A Contributor's Trials," by Leander S. Keyser. There is a sketch with portrait of Richard Watson Gilder in the series "American Magazine Editors," and much other interesting information.

Little's Living Age continues to be par excellence, the busy man and woman's agency for getting acquainted with the cream of old and new world literature.

We cordially invite you to Our First Millinery Opening, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 2, 3 and 4.

We take great pleasure in announcing to our customers and the public generally, that we have secured a first-class milliner for the present sea-

Our styles are taken from New York, Paris, and London, England, and are such as you will not see anywhere else but at Whiskard's.

We are showing a large assortment of Jet Ornaments, Rhinestone, Jet and Pearl Buckles. Some of these lines we have had to repeat already.

We also show a very large variety of Flowers, at all prices. Call and see them.

In Untrimmed Hats we show a very large range. In these lines we sell hundreds of dozens during the season. end it will be well worth your while to come and see Our New Stock.

We need not say here that our prices are right, as that is an established fact, or we could not sell as many as we do every season. Buying in be necessary to have a paid agent in the society—one who has had experience in the work in other places. It would such large quantities as we also be requisite to approach the poor do, it enables us to sell at person could apply for relief without very close prices.

PREMIUM UPON MURDER.

The Defense of the Insurance Companies for Not Paying the Policies on Young Hendershott's

Life. TORONTO, April 3. - One of the most interesting civil actions ever tried in Canada is likely to be brought before the courts as a sequel to the murder of W. H. Hendershott at St. Thomas, for which crime John Hendershott and W. D. Welter are now under sentence of death at St. Thomas. was proven at the trial that the murder of young Hendershott was merely the final act of the conspiracy entered into by the two prisoners, when the $11,000 insurance was placed on the life of the wictim a few weeks before. The premiums were made payable to John Hendershott, since convicted of the murder. David Hendersnott, the father of the dead youth, has now notified the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association of New York, and the Covenant Mutual of Galesburg, Ill., of his intention to enter suit for the amount of the policies. It is also understood that suit will be entered by the relatives of John Hendershott. The companies have de-clined to pay the policies, claiming that when the premiums were paid the moval" of the insured man had been decided upon, and that to pay the policies would be to place a premium upon murder.

CATHOLICS BECOME BAPTISTS. Unique Ceremony in Quebec-The Crowd

Orderly. QUEBEC, April 3.-Rev. Mr. Graham. pastor of Grace Church, Montreal, delivered his address on "Jesuits, Their Origin, Etc.," in the Baptist mission, St. Roche, last night. The church was filled with French-Canadians who had gathered to see the baptism of two candidates, A. DesJardines and his sister Alice. Rev. Mr. Graham and Rev. Mr. Fulton delivered eloquent addresses and were attentively listened to. Rev. Mr. Cote, of Sorel, a French Baptist minister, addressed the meeting in French. The proceedings were conducted in perfect order. Rev. Mr. Burwash, after the ceremony, thanked those present for their gentlemanly behavior. On leaving the mission DesJardines was escorted by the ministers and followed by the crowd, who called him names and jeered at him.

TRAGEDY IN KINCARDINE. KINCARDINE, April 3 .- Frank D. Sexsmith, a very respectable young farmer of Huron township, who cut his throat on Saturday night last, died tonight. Mr. Sexsmith was in good circumstances and with everything that goes to make life happy, and his rash act was a complete surprise to his many friends and acquaintances. Temporary insanity was doubtless the cause of his action. He leaves a wife and two small children.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE.

Meeting of Interested Persons in the City Hall.

Charity Organization Society to be Formed-Public Meeting Decided Upon-What it Will Do.

The work carried on in London for charity's sake promises to be conducted on a more systematic plan in the near future. For some time a movement has been on foot to form a charity organization society, and to decide on some definite plan a meeting was held in the City Hall yesterday afternoon. Among those present were: Mrs. Morphy, Protestant Orphans' Home; W. C. L. Gill, St. George's Society; Charles R. Sayer, Young Men's Christian Association; T. C. Thornhill and H. B. Ashplant, Trades and Labor Council; Miss A. Long and Mrs. P. Mulkern, Children of Mary; Mrs. Peter Smith, Mrs. J. H. Bowman, Mrs. T. B. Escott, Miss Cora Beattle and Mrs. Tilley, King's Daughters; Adjutant Miller and Mr. Buller, Salvation Army; Mrs. Talbot Macbeth, Mrs. E. W. Hyman, Mr. T. R. Parker and Prof. Harrison, Children's Aid Society; Mrs. E. N. English, Local Council of Women; Mrs. Zimmerman, Ladies' Aid of St. John's Church; Mrs. Callard, Mothers' Meeting, St. Paul's; Mrs. Woonton, Ladies' Aid of Colborne Street Methodist Church; Miss M. A. Moore, Women's Christian Association; Rev. D. M. Mibell Adelaide Street Bentist, Church; hell, Adelaide Street Baptist Church; Rev. John Berry, of St. Paul's; Mrs. Flora Carson and Mrs. J. W. Jones, W. C. T. U.; Mr. R. K. Cowan, St. Andrew's; Mrs. D. Levine, Miss Carling, Mrs. H. Moore, Mrs. Cosford, Mrs. Rowell, Mr. Thomas McCormick, Miss Kingsmill, Mr. O. Labelle, and Mr. Joseph Sanders. Mayor J. W. Little intended to be present, but on account of important city business was unable to do so.

The above represented nearly every society or body in the city which dispenses charity on a large or small scale. They appeared to be imbued with the idea that a charity organization society would be a good thing, and they are desirous of pushing it along. Similar societies exist in many large cities, and they have done great good, the main object being to cure rather than relieve poverty. Such an organization will therefore be formed in London in a very short time, and will be entirely free from all questions of religious belief, politics or nationality. Mrs. Tilley was chosen to preside in the absence of Mayor Little. In a short address she pleaded guilty to a lack of thorough knowledge as to the aims of the society. It was generally felt, however, that the charities of the city overlapped each other; and the idea was to have a bureau of information, where all cases would be recorded, and everything done in the line of relief accounted

Mrs. Talbot Macbeth said it would it becoming widely known throughout the city, as was apt to be the case now.

Expressions of opinion in the matter were freely given by Prof. Harrison and others, and all seemed impressed with the one view—that the charity organization would do a noble work in the city. The proposed constitution was read by Mrs. Tilley. A few of the most important clauses (which will give an idea of the society's work), are as fol-The name of this society shall be "The Charity Organization Society of Every department of its work shall be completely severed from all quesreligious belief, politics and nationality.

The society shall not directly dispense alms in any form. To promote the general welfare of the poor by social and sanitary reforms, and by the inculcation of habits of providence and self-dependence. To lift up the needy above the necessity for relief, and through friendly intercourse, advice and sympathy, to help the poor to help themselves. To accomplish these objects it is designed to establish:

An Information Bureau.—Where societles and private persons of benevolence may obtain the fullest information as to the help being given by others, and if they require further help, and of what nature. A Labor Bureau.—To provide as far as possible employment for applicants and to make all relief, whether by alms or charitable work, conditional upon good conduct and progress. A Savings Bank.—Branches of which will be established in various parts of the city, and where all sums of one cent and upwards may be deposited. After a little discussion on the constitution, Mr. Ashplant moved that a public meeting be held for the purpose of organization. Mr. C. R. Sayer seconded and the motion carried.

Mr. T. R. Parker suggested that a committee be named to prepare for the public meeting. The following were named: Mrs. Macbeth, Mrs. Morphy, Miss Carling, Prof. Harrison, Mr. F. Matthews and Mr. O. Labelle.

Kidney complaint, piles and heart disease were fast dragging Mrs. Wales to the grave. The treatment of physicians and the medicines usually prescribed for those terrible troubles were of no avail. Hope was almost gone when Paine's Celery Compound was urgently recommended. The marvelous life-giving mediciae was used, and another victory was added to the thousands already won by the medicine that never fails to "make people well."

Mrs. Wales writes as follows: "I consider it a duty to tell what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I am now 70 years of age, and for ten years have been a sufferer from kidney disease, piles and heart trouble. I had tried everything that doctors could prescribe, but never was relieved until I used Paine's Celery Compound. All pains have left me and I now sleep well—a blessing that I had not enjoyed

C. P. R. ANNUAL MEETING.

How the Road Has Pulled Through the Hard Times.

Large Decrease in the Profits, but the Company Free from Floating Debt.

MONTREAL, April 3.-At the annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company today the annual report was unanimously adopted and the old board unanimously re-elected. Sir W. C. Van Horne, the president, was in the chair. The net result of the year's operations will be seen from the statement given below, and showed a deficiency of nearly $600,000, but the surplus carried over from last year helps to make a palance of over $2,000,000 yet to the company's credit. The financial statement for the past year was as follows:$18,752,167 71 Gross earnings....$18,752,167 71

Working expenses. 12,328,858 63 Net earnings $6,423,309 08 Interest earned on deposits and loans, $206,012 50. Interest due Duluth and South Shore, $584,000. Less advances, $456,186 59. Deduct direct fixed charges accrued during the year, including interest on land bonds and on consolidated debenture stock, issued against Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic consolidated bonds held by the C. P. R., $6,589,378 82. Deduct contingent liabilities, interest paid on 1894 account, guaranty Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie bonds, $694,487 49.

Surplus earnings account, Dec. 31, 1893, was $7,261,213 14. From this there has been charged Deficiency, $526,731 32.

Add to this dividend and interest on land bonds, $4,521,420 61. Surplus earnings, as per balance sheet,

$2,739,792 53. The working expenses were 65.75 per cent of the gross earnings. The only branch in which there was an increase of profit was the Pacific Steamship Line, where it amounted to $186,467. In all the other branches there was a

In land bonds alone there was a depreciation of value, amounting to $656,-618 32. Thanks to the policy of keeping $4,000,000 deposit with the company's bankers, unexpected expenditures were provided for, and the company is free from floating debt, while it is hoped that the money invested in the Duluth and South Shore and Minneapolis and St. Paul Railways will yet prove of great value.

In his speech Sir Wm. Van Horne denied that the directors had been using inside information and selling stock on the strength of knowing that it was going to fall. Sir W. C. Van Horne admitted in discussion, with reference to the special reserve fund of $4,000,000 deposited in the Bank of Montreal, that there was but one million and some odd thousands of it left in consequence of drafts upon it

Sir Donald Smith said that holding out his stock had made a difference to him during the past few months of over $600,000, but he held his stock out of loyalty to the company. John Morrison, who is an attendant at all stock company meetings around Montreal, thought the president and vice-president of the road should hold enough common stock in the company to compensate them for the work they did, instead of bleeding the company by drawing large salaries. He claimed that when men became possessed of such salaries they became too much educated, and that lots of men could be found who would do the work performed by these individuals for from $500 to $1,000 per year.

After the adoption of the report the old board of directors was re-elected. They are: Sir Donald A. Smith, Sir W. C. Van Horne, T. G. Shaughnessy, R. B. Angus, E. B. Osler, Sanford Fleming, Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, Gen. Sam. Thomas and George R. Harris. At a meeting of the board subsequently held, Sir W. C. Van Horne was re-elected president, and Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy vice-president. The following were appointed the executive committee: Sir W. C. Van Horne, Sir D. A. Smith, T. G. Shaughnessy, R. B. Angus, Richard K. Cross, Wilmot Matthews, Hon. Donald Mac-

Innes, Thomas Skinner and John W.

MacKay.

The list of shareholders shows that directors hold shares of the company's stock as follows: Sir D. A. Smith, 10,000 shares; Sir W. C. Van Horne, 1,500; Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy, 250; R. B. Angus; 2,000; E. B. Osler, 500; Sanford Fleming, 3,000; Lieut.-Gov. Kirkpatrick, 250; Geo. R. Harris, 300; Hon. D. Mac-Innes, 550; John W. MacKay, 500.

The honorable gentleman has taunted us with not seeing that it was our interest. I never failed to perceive that it was possible to secure the conciliation of certain manufacturers by imposing protective duties two or three years ago; but, sir, I would rather go out of Parliament as well as out of power, than adopt a principle so affecting the near, as well as the remote, interests of my country. The honorable gentleman was a protectionist in 1870, denounced protection io 1871, and in 1874 denounced us on the ground that we were introducing the thin edge of the wedge of protection. -Sir Charles Tupper now says there was "nothing" in the recent reports of his kicking. He blames it all on the "disgraceful correspondents" at Ottawa. Considering that the "resignation" news was first set on foot by the correspondents of the Toronto Mail-Empire, Toronto World and Montreal Gazette-all stalwart Conservative papers -his denunciation is somewhat remarkable, and scarcely chivalrous. It is becoming altogether too common for sorebeset politicians, who foolishly "fly" off the handle," to deny that they have done certain things or said other things, for which, on mature consideration, they are sorry. As between the correspondents and the irritated Minister, in this case, most people will be inclined to believe them, and to view Sir Charles Hibbert's denunciation of them as an attempt to run away with the least possible explanation from the foolish position in which he placed himself.

THE C. P. R. ANNUAL REPORT. The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian Pacific Railway, held in Montreal yesterday, was chiefly remarkable for the lucid explanations of the condition of the company by the president, Sir William Van Horne. He asserted that the reason why the company had paid no dividend for the past half year arose from the great depression of trade, which affected the traffic from every one of the 1,338 stations on the company's lines. The president also made the important statement that, as a consequence of the low price received for farm products, there was a curtailment in the purchase of merchandise, and thus there was a big decrease in the best-paying freight carried by the line—that sent to the west in exchange for the shipments of western products to the old world. Could there be a stronger plea for a low tax on imports, so as to encourage the sales of Canadian produce abroad and enable the settler to get full value for his exports, while at the same time providing the railway with the most profitable of freights?

It is some consolation to the shareholders that, bad though the times have been for the railway, other great lines have suffered by the depression even more seriously, and it will rejoice both the shareholders, the employes of the line, and Canadians generally, if at an early date, as the president of the C. P. R. confidently asserts, a long period | Fodderty, Ross-shire, some years ago Dominion. When the great lines of ring fry; also that herrings of a larger railway have reasonable prosperity. traffic, it is one of the best evidences that the people are making a decent living. If the railways suffer it is an evidence that the large majority of the people find it hard work to get

The necessity for a speedy change is demonstrated by the experience of the C. P. R. Company during the past two years with regard to the sale of its lands in the Northwest. In 1893 the company sold 107,348 acres of land, for ony of young frogs (a very juvenile which it realized $352,847; last year it frog is not much heavier than a leaf) sold 49,467 acres for $159,631. As the be lifted up by a whirlwind or cyclone? company has yet 17,275,000 acres, besides town sites, to dispose of, a change change for the better, in which not be reached by a frog by the ordinary only this railway, but every other legitimate interest, will be benefited.

FAMOUS LIBEL SUITS ENDED. Mrs. Beaton, the Burlington woman who sued several Canadian newspapers for publishing an alleged libel against her, failed to establish her right to damages at the Wentworth assizes

A verdict was given for the defendant in each case, and we have probably heard the last of this woman and her male friend, over whose mysterious death the whole trouble arose. Mrs. Beaton made a mistake. She should have accepted the ample apologies tendered by the newspapers for printing the telegraphic report relating to her. Then she would have saved herself the terrible exposure that an examination into her past career laid bare, and she, or someone else, would have avoided the large expenditure of money incident to the promotion of bootless suits for libel. No reputable newspaper desires to wrong anyone by the publication of news that is ill-founded, and when, as in the case of the journals sued by this plaintiff, ample explanation and apology were made the moment the telegram was alleged to be untrue, jurors take a proper view of the matter when they refuse to grant damages, and thus impair the legitimate liberty of the

A DIFFERENT GAME THERE. At the meeting where a Conservative candidate was brought out for Vercheres, Que., the other day, Hon. Mr. Ouimet, one of the leaders of the party, was the principal speaker. Among other foolish statements made by him was

"God forbid the day when the interests of Catholic education shall be entrusted to the mercy of the Liberal party, which has never been in favor of religious education."

This is in Quebec, remember. Up here in Ontario the Conservative party, dominated by the James L. Hughes, the Madilis and the Esserys, are continually representing that the Liberals are altogether too favorable to religious education of the special brand of which Mr. Ouimet desires to have himself and his associates regarded as the sole conservators. And thus the two-faced game is played!

SIR OLIVER'S LUCK. Sir Oliver Mowat is in special luck this session of the Ontario Legislature. When the Patrons are not voting with him against the Conservatives, the Conservatives are voting with him against the Patrons.-Montreal Gazette.

Yes; Ontario's Grand Old Man has been well supported this session, and much useful legislation has been promoted with unexampled celerity. So much so that, with a session on Saturday next and other special facilities her to get at large for doing work, it is possible that pro-

It is too transparent.

PECULIAR SHOWERS.

Can any of our readers account for the phenomena which caused the fall of ink-colored rain in the vicinity of Wilton Grove, Westminster township, recently, as detailed by the "Advertiser" correspondent? There was a similar experience in Middlesex county twenty years ago, when black snow fell. We will be glad to hear from correspondents who have observed similar to be 'mutilated.' His Royal Highness strange occurrences in other parts of has always been opposed to this practhe country.

From time to time there have been showers of a most peculiar character in various parts of the world. A correspondent of the Glasgow Herald writes that on the road at Lassodie, near Dunfermline, he had been overtaken about noon by a shower and had sheltered himself at the side of an unpointed stone wall by the roadside. The shower finished, he found on the road a considerable number of the smallest frogs he had ever seen. Another correspondent, evidently the captain of a steamer, states that, when four days out from Aden on his voyage to Bombay, his officers drew attention to a dark cloud which was coming in their wake. A part of the cloud struck the ship, when it was found that from stem to stern the ship was covered a foot deep with live locusts.

The newspaper in question winds up the correspondence with a leading article on the subject, in which the writer states that Major Forbes Mackenzie, of of revived trade is soon enjoyed in the found a field partially covered with hergrowth had been found at Skye and arising from plenty of fair-paying other points some distance from the sea. It is also recorded that, during a severe gale, a quantity of herrings was transferred from the Firth of Forth to Loch Leven, and that fish three inches long fell before an English officer in 1839 within the space of a cubit at a spot not far from Calcutta.

The writer of the leader in question considers that such a phenomenon as a shower of frogs is not impossible, for why should not a young frog or a col-"The unfortunate thing," he adds, on the roof of a house or down a chimney, or on some spot which could not peripatetic means."

Not only will the advertisemeents be much larger than they are now, but people will see the necessity and advantages of using the newspapers." ROBERT BURNS.

It is amusing to learn that Burns, when just emerging from obscurity, jocularly anticipated that his birthday would become to be noted among other remarkable events. In a letter to his early patron, Gavin Hamilton in 1786, he says: "For my own affairs I am in a fair way of becoming as eminent as Thomas a Kempis or John Bunyan, and you may henceforth expect to see my birthday inscribed among the wender-ful events in the Poor Robin and Aberdeen Almanacs, along with the Black Monday and the battle of Bothwell -Philadelphia Ledger. A TIGER HUNT IN CANADA.

Exciting Time Among Prince Edward

County Farmers. BELLEVILLE, Ont., April 3.—Yesterday a tiger was killed in Prince Edward county. The animal measured 9 feet 8 inches from tip to tip, and was a beautiful specimen. For weeks the farmers have been missing hogs and sheep, uneaten portions of the carcasses showing that a wild animal had done the killing. Saturday one farmer found two cows killed and partially eaten, and a party of hunters tracked the beast to a thick swamp. The first shot wounded and enraged the tiger, which attacked the hunters. As he jumped a hay fork was buried in his side, whereupon five shotguns were emptied into him and a club did the rest. The from some menagerie, will be stuffed.

CROPPING DOGS' EARS.

The Example Set by the Prince of Wales.

in Canada.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser": In view of the fact that the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is making a strong effort to induce the kennel clubs in this country to follow the example of the English club, and decline to give prizes to cropped dogs, the following may be of

"Sir,—I am desired by the Prince of Wales to acknowledge the receipt of your communication, and to inform you in reply that he has kept dogs for many years, and frequently sends some of them to exhibitions, but that he has tice, which he considers causes unneces sary suffering, and it would give him much pleasure to hear that owners of dogs had agreed to abandon such an objectionable fashion

"I am, sir, your obedient servant, (Signed) FRANCIS KNOLLYS." 2. Extract from article appearing in the Nineteenth Century Magazine, contributed by Dr. Fleming, C. B., at one ime principal veterinary surgeon to ner Majesty's forces: "Ear-cropping is another brutal and disfiguring operation to which dogs have been subjected for two or three centurles, and though it is forbidden by law it is still practiced somewhat extensive-ly, as the number of animals seen with lipped ears at dog shows and elsewhere testifies. It was probably first introduced when bull-dog fighting became fashionable amusement, and the ear flaps were almost totally removed to prevent their being torn and mangled by the fangs of contending dogs-for the same reason, in fact, as were the combs of fighting cocks and the hair cropped close from the heads of the pugilists. But this discreditable pastime is now abolished, so there is no oceasion for ear-cropping, even in the case of bull-dogs, and certainly no valid excuse can be offered for this exhibition of depraved taste with regard to other breeds of dogs, and especially terriers—animals which, as their name implies, have need for the pendulous ear to guard the entrance to the auditory canal while burrowing.

"The operation is a protracted and horribly painful one, as it generally happens that piece after piece of skin and cartilage have to be clipped away in order to make the portions remaining of the same length. But this is only the initial part of the business, as it is necessary for several days afterwards to pull the ears, or what is left of them, to make them stand erect, and unwrinkled; meanwhile the piercing yells of the poor dogs while all this is being done is terrible evidence of the agony they suffer. a most delicate and sensitive breed of dogs, are, perhaps, those which are now most frequently mutilated in this way. ROMANTIC ELOPEMENT.

A Deaf and Dumb Bride Deserts Her Deaf Mute Lover.

TOLEDO, April 3.-Nelson Godi, a resident of West Toledo, came to town very late in the evening. With him came a young deaf mute who works for the Central Chandelier Company. Their mission was a sorrowful one. It was to report to the police the elopement of a daughter and a sweetheart. The pair called at the central police station at 11 o'clock and told their story to Detective McGinnis. They had driven in from West Toledo through the rain and mud, and were a very dejectedlooking couple.

Godi related the story and his mute companion corroborated it in writing after he had finished. Godi stated that his daughter Delia, who is also deaf and dumb, had eloped with a man named Lyman Saulsbury. It seems that Delia had been working for Mrs. Armstrong, at No. 1,601 Bartlett street. She disappeared very suddenly and mysteriously, and it developed later that she had packed up all her worldly belongings, or as many of them as she could get into a big square grip, and met Saulsbury, and the two had gone off together, ostensibly to be married. A romance was added to the case by the fact that Delia left another lover the deaf mute who accompanied Godi to town to report the matter. The unfortunate young man had been in love with Delia for some time, and it was understood that the two were engaged. But lately Saulsbury has been playing gallant around Delia, and he seemed to succeed in winning her affections from the start. When the fact of the elope ment became known the rage of Godi and the grief of the mute lover were pitiful to behold. The mute penned the most passionate sentences of love on the paper which he showed the detective. He said that he had lover Delia for years, and had taken a dislike to Saulsbury at first sight.

Both Godi and the jilted lover begged the officer to prevent the marriage, if it had not yet taken place. The hotels were all searched and several ministers seen, but no trace of the eloping couple could be found.

To Anyone Who Tries Dr. Chase's Ointment for Itchy Piles

Saying It Will Not Cure or Relieve.

Itching piles is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worse at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore, ulcers and tumors form, excessiv moisture is exuded. Females are peculiarly affected by this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of itching piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

The Magic Touch She Lost the Suits.

Opening of the Spring Assizes at Hamilton.

The Beaton Libel Cases Took Up Two Days' Time,

And the Result Was a Verdict for the Defendants in Each Suit-Synopsis of the Story that Led to the Prosecutions.

HAMILTON, April 3 .- The spring assizes opened yesterday afternoon before Judge Ferguson, with 26 civil and two criminal cases on the list. The Beaton libel suits were first taken up, and occupied the time of the court until 8 o'clock last night and nearly all of today. These suits are being brought by Mrs. Beaton, of Burlington, against the Toronto Globe, St. Thomas Times, Guelph Herald, Stratford Herald, Strathroy Dispatch, Central Press Agency and Toronto World. These cases were tried together, but each newspaper has a separate counsel, and there was a great array of lawyers in the suit.

The Globe was sued for $25,000, and the others for $5,000 each. Geo. L. Staunton appeared for plaintiff and B. B. Osler for the Globe.

In the case against the Toronto World and Central Press Agency the plaintiff failed to prove publication of the articles complained of, and these actions were dismissed with costs.

THE STORY.

Mr. Staunton produced the article complained of, which was published in the New York World of August, 1893, and reproduced by defendants. It is to the effect that on June 30, when the old Dominion line steamship Wyandotte arrived in New York it was reported that a wealthy old gentleman, named Cicero Harrison Case, of Norfolk, Va., had been lost overboard. A woman who said she was his widowed daughter -Mrs. Oliver-was with Case on the voyage, but disappeared on the arrival of the steamer at New York. The body of the old man was found on the Virginia coast, and although he was known to have a large sum of money on him when he left Norfolk, Va., there was none found on the body.

A New York World reporter stated that he had traced Mrs. Oliver and identified her as Mrs. Beaton, of Burlington village. The old man had previously lived in Burlington, having retired with a fortune of $25,000, which he made at carriage building.

THE ALLEGED LIBEL. The article alleged that Mrs. Beaton obtained an influence over Case, and used to visit him in Norfolk to extort large sums of money from him. In subsequent interviews with the New York World reporter and Toronto Globe reporter, Mrs. Beaton denied having been on the steamer with old Case, and having visite been at all intimate with him

PLAINTIFF'S ADMISSIONS. In her examination before B. B. Osler a few days ago, Mrs. Beaton admitted having been criminally intimate with Case, and said the father of her last child was Case. She also admitted living with him in Norfolk and other places as his wife, and having been on the steamer with him when he was lost

SHE BLEAKS DOWN.

Mrs. Beaton Loke down in her examination before Mr. Osler this morning, and had to be removed from the court while weeping hysterically.

Mr. Osler made a lengthy and impressive address to the jury, in which he arraigned the plaintiff in the most scathing terms. Mr. Staunton, for Mrs. Beaton, made a powerful address, and said that the Canadian papers in their comments on Mrs. Beaton's connection with old man Case, had insinuated that she had led the old man to his death, and that she had murdered her child.

Judge Ferguson summed up the case in a very impartial manner, and the jury retired about 3:30 p.m. A verdict was rendered for the defendants in all the cases.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED OF $8,000. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 3.-The Springfield postoffice was robbed of $8,000 today, and there is no clue to the perpetrators. The amount taken, with the exception of about $30, was in stamps abstracted from the vault in Postmaster Ridgley's private office while he was absent for luncheon. Ready to Scoop in Hawaii, Cuba and to Whip All Creation.

LEWISTON, Me., April 3 .- The Lewiston Journal prints an interview with Senator Frye an foreign relations. The Senator closes as follows:

"I would not submit to any insult, to aggressions on our rights, to any violation of the Monroe doctrine, to any interference with Hawaii or Samoa, so far as our interests are concerned, or with our project of constructing the Nicaragua Canal."

"What would be your policy as to the future?" "I would annex the Hawaiian islands at once, improve and fortify Pearl harbor, lay a cable from there to the Pacific coast. I would maintain our coaling station in Pagoa against the world. I would reach out to take whatever in our opinion might be necessary to our future commercial supremacy, being careful not to violate the laws of nations, and able to justify our conduct. If Spain by her actions at any time justified us in so doing, I would seize and hold Cuba against the world. This island has been nothing but a sponge to be squeezed by Spain, utterly regardless of the interests of the people living there. Annexed to our country it would soon become a paradise. As the residents are entirely fit for American citizenship, I regard the acquisition of Cuba as imperatively demanded, commercially and politically. John Quincey Adams, Secretary of State in 1823, said: 'It seems scarcely possible to resist the conviction that the annexation of Cuba to our Federal republic will be indispensable to the continuance and integrity of the union itself."

"I would accept Canada as soon as she was ready to come to us, and I would not offer her inducements to stay away, as the last Democratic congress. They made her a present of a million dollars annually as a bonus to remain under the protection of Great Britain to insult and to abuse us. Even if England forced us into another de claration of war, I would promptly seize Canada, and make her forever a part of the United States."

QUERIES ANSWERED.

Apple Tree.-My neighbor has apple trees planted near the line, the limbs of which extend over into my ict. Is it legal for me to cut them off at the line if he refuses to do so after due notice?

Parent.-Is a teacher allowed to use a piece of a threshing machine belt to whip children? Ans.—Not necessarily, but he may use such discipline as a kind, firm and judicious parent under similar circumstances. 2. Can a teacher give a child from 45 to 75 lashes and say he was justified in doing it without a just cause? Ans.—No. 3. Is a teacher allowed to call the children nick-names? Ans.-No.

Kerwood.-Is it necessary for all wills to be registered? If so, how can a will be registered that does not state the locality or the position of the property mentioned therein—that is, number of lot, concession or township? Ans.—The probate of any will disposing of real property must be registered when the property is not described. The probate is registered in the general registry of the registry division in watch the lands

Sport.-A and B have a dispute. says that a descriter from the British army can be taken back to England if caught. B says that he cannot; that once in Canada he cannot be claimed. Ans.—The Imperial regulations for the army are in force in Canada and all other British dependencies and colonies. To facilitate this enforcement, the Canada criminal code provides for the arrest of suspected deserters and their confinement in jail until claimed by the military or naval authorities.

Ignoramus—A and B own adjoining wild forest lands, but inclosed by a joint fence. There runs through B's portion a large Government drain, on which A is as large a ratepayer as B for construction and maintenance. A set some steel traps for mink on that part of the drain running through B's land. B found a mink in one of A's traps, took it and sold it, knowing fill the same time that A had traps set on the drain to catch mink. Can A bring action against B for theft, and would A be liable for trespass? Ans.—B had a legal right to the mink found on his property, and is therefore not liable either criminally or for damages to A, in whose trap it was caught, but A is liable to an action for damages, if any, sustained by his trespassing on B's

Tax Collector .- A lot in an unorganized township was duly assessed, passed the revision court, and was confirmed in the year 1893, but the owner would not pay the school tax. The lot is paid and has changed hands since the tax for in the Crown Lands Departmen't .. was due. Will it be legal for me to seize on whatever I may find on the place and sell to get the taxes and what costs can I collect? Ans.-Yes, if in the possession of the occupant of the premises. You have all the powers of a collector under the Assessment Act. which provides that the costs chargeable shall be those payable to bailiffs under the Division Court Act, which vary as to the amount involved.

Cockburn .- A bought a farm and left it. It was then sold for taxes, B buying it, and wishing to clear a piece of land cut several loads of wood, which he sold to C. Then both B and C were notified by D that they must not cut, remove or sell a stick of timber, as he (D) had a claim on said property for money loaned to A. What must B and C do about it? Ans.-Until the expiry of a year from the certificate of sale for taxes, timber cannot be cut or removed, as the land may be redeemed by D, who will then have a cause of action against

"SUPERB" Is the Word.

That explains the whole matter. Superb weather, superb Millinery, superb store, superb department, superb crowd. That's the tale in a nutshell. Everybody was delighted with what they saw. Every lady visitor to our millinery display was more than pleased. The fair sex generally, had evidently been waiting for our opening days. They knew what our former openings were like, and had the utmost confidence that this year's would excel all others. So it did, and the visitors were not slow in saying so.

YOUR TURN NOW

Those who have not yet looked at the season's fashions in millinery as we present them, should not fail to do so this week. You will be pleased with all you see, because everything is new and quite up-to-date. Novelties in hats and bonnets to suit every face and complexion. Our milliners are sufficiently skill ful to please the most fastidious. We pride ourselves on having the cleverest millinery experts in London, and with the best and newest stock they cau work wonders. Consult our milliners when you want to secure something to suit your style and your purse. Consult them now while the assortment is at its best.

B and C, and can be liable for damages for any timber cut or removed. Until B obtains a deed he is not the absolute owner of the land. Screens.-A and B exchange farms. There were screen doors belonging to A's house, but taken off and put away, and replaced by storm doors when the exchange was made. B did not know there was any at that time, and there was nothing said about the screens Now they are moving, and A was going to take his screens with him. B claims that A had no right to take them, that they belong to the house. A claims the screen doors are a luxury and the house is complete without them. and that he has the right to take them as movable property. Who is right? Ans.—Upon the facts stated, in our opinion B is right in his contention. The ownership of the screens would, however, be different had the question arisen between the landlord and tenant who had provided the screens during his tenancy for his own convenience.

THE C. P. R. PROTEST. MONTREAL, April 3.—It is understood that the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway have passed a resolution in the shape of a protest against the Gov-ernment of Canada giving the bonus pro-posed, and already ratified by the Privy Council, to the Hudson Bay Railway project. They contend that the line if ever built will divert traffic from them, that nearly 200 miles of road parallel their road west of Winnipeg, and that the road is not required. It is also stated that if the Hudson Bay road is added the C. P. R. will ask for an additional allowance on account of transportation of mails to different parts of the country, so that, besides the other questions, there will be a railway question before the members at the coming

thus described: "The churn consists of an oblong vessel with a circular bottom, in which a disk of hard wood revolves vertically in the cream. Over this disk is a hood, or 'splash guard,' so that when the disk is revolved the cream picked up by it is dashed into this cover and then returned to the churn at the other end of the vessel. The speed of the disk is multiplied by gearing, so that considerable concussion is given to the cream, and the butter is brought in an incredilby short time.

"Unchurned cream is characterized by great amount of viscosity. Now, this viscosity is the feature which has been utilized in this churn, for by reason of it the disk, revolving perpendicularly, half in the cream and half out, gets coated with a layer of cream, which is thrown off by the tangent force of the revolving disk. Thrown violently into the hood which covers the disk, it receives its concussion there and immediately returns to the churn. When, however, that change takes place which the dairymaid knows as the 'breaking of the butter,' the viscosity of the cream disappears, and the disk immediately clears and shows the bare wood once more. When this is observe ed, the diarymaid ceases and thus prevents 'overchurning.' "

The churn is open so that the cream can be constantly watched.

What Delicate Flavor is Due to. As a rule, the supposed delicate flavor of fresh butter just from the churn, says the New York Times, is due to the small quantity of buttermilk left in it, for perfeetly fresh butter is wholly insipid and without any marked flavor at all. Very soon the buttermilk develops the usual strong flavor, and this is found in the butter, unless it has been thoroughly washed free of buttermilk. Then the true butter flavor develops itself in a few days, and at first it is very pleasant, and has a delightful aroma, but this soon becomes strong by the development of the fatty acids of the butter, and gradually increases to what is called rancidity. It is best to wash thoroughly, if it is to be kept more than two or three days, but for immediate use it will not need se much washing.

The cream must be thick to churn at any temperature below sixty degrees. If it has fifty per cent. of butter fat in it. it may be churned at forty-five degrees, if it has been properly ripened by the use of a oint of buttermilk from the previous churning, kept in a close jar, to each gallon of cream, and well stirred in it. In twelve hours the cream is ready for the

The residence of Mr. Thomas Reycraft, assistant superintendent of the London Street Railway Company, 408 Rectory street, was besieged by a company of about 75 persons last night. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. Reveraft's eldest daughter, Miss Mabel, to Mr. Martin H. F. Cowan, a successful young farmer from con. 10, Caradoc. The bride was becomingly attired in white silk, with pearls and lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Winnie Reycraft; her aunt, Miss Jennie Reycraft, of Glencoe, and Miss Emma Cowan, of Strathroy, as bridesmaids; and Mabel Pearl Tull as maid of honor, and Lorne Clifford Tull as page. TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

Want an Alien Labor Law Passed by Parliament,

Similar to that of the United States-Assessment Roll Publication Demanded-Dr. Campbell Criticised.

The regular meeting of the London Trades and Labor Council was held in Labor Hall, Dufferin avenue, last Tuesday evening. President John Cummings took the chair at 8:15 o'clock. The roll call was responded to by delegates from the Bricknayers', Cigarmakers', Tailors', Machinists', Shoemakers', Carpenters' and Typographical Unions, the Retail Clerks, Railroad Trainmen, Industrial Brotherhood, etc. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. organization purposes; also that the becoming affiliated. The committee meeting of the amalgamated engineers and request that body to appoint delegates and affiliate with this council. The committee appointed to consider the advisability of publishing the In-dustrial Banner weekly in future (with a paid editor and business manager, who could devote all his time to make the official organ of the Trades and Labor Council a commercial success) reported that a sample special issue of 5,000 copies of the proposed new form of the paper would be issued by May 1; also that a provisional editor and special advertising collector had been appointed, and the prospects of floating the proposed new weekly at an early date were very good.

The relief bureau committee reported the receipt of a contribution from Ald. Heaman; also that provisions on hand would not last more than one or two weeks from date.

The municipal committee reported that they were informed by delegates from the Tailors' Union that Messrs. Boyd, to whom a recent contract for suits had been let by the City Council, were not paying the union scale, and further reported that proper steps would shortly be taken to obtain the passage of a standard wage bylaw for city contracts, similar to those existing in London, Eng., Toronto and elsewhere. The cigarmakers reported that an investigation had been made into the reported use of the union label by George Kelly, and it was satisfactorily proved that Mr. Kelly had not used the label as complained of.

A communication was received from the Charity Organization Society asking the appointment of a delegate from the Trades and Labor Council to attend a meeting in the council chamber on Wednesday, April 3. The president being unable to attend, Bro. T. C. Thornhill was appointed.

The matter of assessment roll publication was discussed, and the council was unanimous in an expression that the roll should be published according to the terms of the ratepayers' vote at last municipal election. In response to a question, "Who pays the taxes?" a delegate from the Typographical Union was unanimously carried:

Accounts presented were ordered to be paid, and the meeting adjourned, to meet on Tuesday, April 16.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY

Will Be a Gala Day for the Boys' Brigade.

Companies Are Expected From Sarnia and Hamilton-A Bugle Band Organizing-Ambulance Drill.

It is the intention to make the Queen's Birthday a gala day for the different companies of the Boys' Brigade in London, and the Earl of Aberdeen, who is honorary the Earl of Aberdeen, who is honorary president of the world-wide organization, has been invited to attend. Negotiations president of the world-wide organization, are on foot between the commandants of the Church Lads and Col. Lindsay and others having in charge the military celebration of that day, whereby the little uniformed laddies may be included among the attractions, However, as it is not definitely known whether or not the Kilties will come, these negotiations cannot be carried to a finality as yet.

It is proposed to hold a concert in the Opera House on the evening of May 24, in aid of Newsboys' Hall, which now has a regular brigade in connection. The work done for the advancement of the boys costs money, and the concert is in aid of a worthy cause. Ten boys who would otherwise be homeless sleep at the hall, and an average of 60 meals a week are supplied. A drum and buglerent city companies, ized among the promised to give the boys and a dector has promised to give the boys instructions in ambulance drill. A company from Sarnia and a company from Hamilton from Sarnia and a company from Hamilton are expected to visit London and take part in the celebrations of the day.

BIG BLAZE IN GODERICH.

The Loss $30,000-Insurance Compara tively Light.

GODERICH, April 4.-A disastrous fire proke out here this morning shortly before 8 o'clock, which destroyed the Grand Opera House, the large general store of C. G. Armstrong, with millinery store adjoining, and the book and stationery store of D. B. Calbick. In addition the drygoods store of James Robinson was completely gutted, the larger portion of the goods having, however, been removed. The total loss will be about $30,000. The fire originated from furnace in the cellar of Armstrong & Co.'s store and spread so rapidly that little opportunity was given to save much of their stock, which had lately been increased greatly by spring importations. The loss by fire is only covered partly by insurance, so far as Armstrong & Co., James Robinson and Geo. Acheson, the proprietor of the block, are concerned. In the case of D. B. Calbick there is no insurance, During the fire Mr. Calbick in endeavoring to save a portion of his goods fell through a trap-door in his cellar and sustained severe injuries, two of his ribs being broken. It was with difficulty that he was enabled to get out, owing to the heat and smoke.

"Oh, poor little thing, as well as one sould expect," said Hannington, accepting the situation. "Feels it very much, of

"Is it true that she will have no money

"Quite true, poor girl. Going out as a governess, I believe." "Then"-Lady Val's eyes flashed-"there was no truth in what Donald said? You are not going to marry her?"

"Certainly not," suid Mr. Hannington, tranquilly. "I always told you I should marry for money."

A dinner-table which holds a large party is not at all a bed place for confidential communications. After an interval, in which the servants were performing their usual offices, Lady Val resumed, with her eyes on her plate-

"She's not disappointed in you then?"
"My dear Lady Val! What cause could she have to be disappointed in me? Old friends like yourself may, of course, have good reason to feel that I don't always come up to their standard, but I have only a casual acquaintance with Miss Raeburn.

Lady Val tossed up her chin and looked skeptical; but as Hannington's tranquillity was perfectly unmoved, and he began almost immediately to talk of other things, she acquiesced and spoke no more of "the little Dundee girl." But she did not forget her for all that.

Meanwhile Stella was pouring out her heart on paper as she had never poured it out before. She wrote to John Hannington that she was afraid that she had vexed him; that she would do his bidding and would renounce her scheme of becoming a governess, if he wished it; that all her desire was to please him, and that she was not afraid of poverty so long as he loved her. In short, she wrote as a woman only writes when she is devoted heart and soul to the man who receives such an expression of her feelings; and yet there was not a single word in which she might be held to outstrip the bounds of maidenly modesty and refinement. Her love was implied throughout, but it did not thrust itself into words. It was a letter which would have brought a true lover to her side at once to comfort and console. But Hannington had never loved her as she believed; and her words embarrassed him so terribly, that he could not undertake to reply to them without deliberation. In a couple of days he sent her some half-dozen lines, assuring her, coldly enough, that she had not offended him, and that he would write again or visit her at Dunkeld, if she would only send him her address, and the date of her departure from Dundee. He did not want, in fact, to do or say anything too definite before she left the neighborhood.

Stella sent a timid little note, which breathed in every line of a wounded heart, to say that she and her aunt were leaving Dundee on the Thursday of that week. She inclosed her address, and ventured to add a sorrowful hope that he would write to her

"The sooner the better, perhaps," said Hannington to himself. The task was a hard one even for him, and he had some difficulty in performing it. But the letter was written and dispatched on the Friday. Some delay occurred in Miss Raeburn's arrangements, however, and it was not until Saturday afternoon that Stella and her aunt arrived at Dunkeld, and were met by their friends at the railway station. Mrs. Sinclair was not a constant resident in Scotland, but she had lived at Dunkeld when she was a girl, and was exceedingly fond of the place. She and her husband had taken a house for the season, and, as they were much attached to Stella, they had determined to keep her and her aunt with them for as long a time as they would stay. Mrs. Sinclair was almost an invalid, and Mr. Sinclair had bookish and scientific tastes. They had not many acquaintances in the neighborhood, and were able to promise entire seclusion to the

Stella looked admiringly at the hills and the beautiful old town as she was driven from the station in an open carriage towards St. Anselm's-the house which Mr. and Mrs Sinclair occupied. For a little while the shadow of her great grief seemed to lift itself as she looked at the exquisite landscape around her and heard the historic names of hill and vale. They drove slowly along the road until they came close to the bridge which spans the river Tay—here only a brawling stream in comparison with its majestic volume as it nears Dundee, but far more beautiful, in its swift career over rocks and stones, under the arches of the bridge, beside the wooded banks and glades and heather-covered hills, than almost any other river in the world. Mr. Sinclair knew the place exceedingly well, and was in his element while naming the different points of interest to a stranger. Stella usually full of intelligent attention, listened rather languidly. What had he been telling her? she wondered afterwards. "The Cathedralthe Duchess—salmon fishing—Duke John— Birnam wood that came to Dunsinane"—it was all confused and mingled in her ear. Only the beauty of the scene remained clear. They halted by the bridge, so that she might see the view. She was struck by the golden color of the water as it lay in shallow pools beneath the san-the water was low, and the stream looked very narrow between its banks—by the beauty of the rowan-trees of the throat, to which the young are and the woods that were beginning to color | especially subject.

beneath the autumnal touch. She had no conception that the moment was big with

Their course did not lie over the bridge, but along the road beside the river for some distance. Just as they started again, Mrs.

Sinclair uttered an exclamation.
"I declare if I hadn't forgotten it till now! There has been a letter waiting for you since yesterday, my dear Stella. I brought it with me, in case you might like to have it at once. Open it or not, just as you please."
She handed the girl an envelope, addressed in Hannington's handwriting.

Stella hesitated, with the letter in her lap. Then seeing that Mr. Sinclair was speaking to the coachman, and that Mrs. Sinclair was attending closely to Miss Jacky's crisp sentences, she ventured—in spite of the beating of her heart—to open the letter and all charm for her. On her right hand flowed the gleaming river, on the left rose a bank of woody ground. The shadows of the trees lay across the road, in pleasing mosaic work of alternate light and darkness. The air was as fresh, the sky as clear and blue as ever. But for many a long day Stella had only to close her eyes and bring back a vision of that lovely scene beyond the Dunkeld bridge, in order to renew the sensation of bridge, in order to renew the sensation of deadly sickness, faintness and utter despair. It was as if she had received her death warrant upon that pleasant road beside the Tay. For in his letter John Hannington had not minced matters. He could not marry a poor woman: he would not-could not—ask her to wait for him; he renounced all pretension to her hand. In short, he gave her up, utterly and entirely—because she was poor. And that was how Stella's love letter was answered.

CHAPTER VII.

Stella did not faint or cry out. She sat perfectly still, the letter crushed in her hands, her face white to the lips. Before long, Mrs. Sinclair was struck by her extreme pallor, and drew Aunt Jacky's attention to it by an exclamation of horror. "Why, my dear child! Look at her, Miss Jacky. Is she going to faint?"

"Not at all," said Stella, essaying to smile, and slipping the letter quickly into her pocket. I have a little headache; that "You must lie down when we get home, and I'll send you up a cup of good strong tea," said Mrs. Sinclair, with a friendly nod. "Poor dear, you've had a deal to try you lately."

But the allusion to her recent sorrow was too much for Stella to bear. She drew her veil down and said nothing, but Mrs. Sin-clair saw that her hands were trembling and the tears dropping from her eyes. She turned delicately away, and for the rest of the drive confined her remarks to Miss Jacky, who had been going about, ever since the terrible day of her brother's death, with red eyes and a persistent habit of sniffing, but with undiminished energy and a sharper tongue than ever. Stella was for the present left alone.

The carriage presently left the main road and turned up a very narrow lane to the left. Here slow and careful progress was necessary, as the ruts were deep and an occasional stone lay in the way, but if Stella had been in her accustomed mood, she would have enjoyed the drive by this narrow ascent, where the trees met overhead and afforded only an occasional view of the distant water and the towering hills round fair Dunkeld. St. Anselm's stood on high ground, and overlooked the town and river; it possessed a splendit site, and the only thing to be regretted was the fact that the house itself was square, commonplace, and not particularly large. But Stella saw nothing; her eyes were blind with

There is no more annoying trouble of a chronic nature nor a more stubborn one to deal with than pimples, the remote cause of which is known to be nutritive debility. While rapid growth, improper food, errors of hygiene and mental exhaustion may tend to favor the development of these disfigurements, the cause must be dealt with to effect a radical cure. Though time may be necessary for the curing of this trouble it has been proved conclusively that the continued use of Eseljay's Liver Lozenges will accomplish the desired result. Makers-Inspectors' Meetings Arranged.

"During the past few years a large share of the work of the association has been along the line of educating the patron in the best method of caring for milk and preserving it in a pure condition for cheese making. This is important, as it is impossible to make a really first-class article of cheese without a pure raw material to begin with. This fact, however, does not lessen in any way the important duties de-volving upon the maker. The maker peep at the contents.

Then she looked up. The scene was what it had always been, but it had suddenly lost it had always been, but it had suddenly lost are not up to the standard, he alone gets the blame. Therefore he should gets the blame. Therefore he should gets the blame. thoroughly understand his business and avail himself of the many opportunities now afforded for acquiring a knowledge of the best methods of making cheese.

"We are led to believe, from reports regarding last season's work, that too many of our makers do not fully realize the importance of their work, and neglect many of the little things that have to do with turning out clean, well-made and well-finished goods. In fact, we have it on the authority of some our prominent cheese buyers that several lots of cheese were rejected last fall because the faces were cracked and open, the bandages pulled down and the cheese altogether presented such an unsightly appearance as to decrease their market value from one-half to one cent per pound. No maker should be guilty of allowing badly faced, badly bandager, or badly fin-ished cheese in his curing room. These defects are caused by conditions he has under his control. These are plain facts, stated in a plain way, and it is hoped that our makers will receive them in the spirit in which they are given. They are given in a kindly spirit, feeling that if cheese makers once realize the importance of these little things they will be given more attention in the future. Until our cheese makers and dairymen fully understand the conditions affecting milk and the manufac-turing of cheese and fully understand and are able to put into practice the very best methods of making fine ched-dar cheese we shall never reach the highest pinnacle of success in regard to a uniform quality of goods.

"Mr. T. B. Millar, who has so ably filled the position of traveling instructor and inspector for the association dur-ing the past four years, will be retained for this work during the coming season. During April, May and part of June Mr. Millar will spend two days each at the following factories on the dates given below:

The instructions to be given are along the line of making early spring cheese, summer cheese and operating the Babcock tester, and are given by the association free of cost. "After the completion of this tour of instruction Mr. Millar will begin his work as traveling instructor and inspector. His services for this work can be secured by applying to the secretary of the association. The charge for such services will be $7.50 for the first visit to any factory, and $5 for each additional visit during the season, with the understanding that when an additional visit is required sufficient notice will be given, so that the visit may be made when Mr. Millar is in the locality of the factory. The secretary of the association will be available to render assistance to makers in testing milk and to secretaries in making up patrons accounts in factories where the system of paying for milk by the percentage of butter fat has been adopted. His services may be secured by the payment of necessary traveling expenses from Lon-

"A list of cheese makers in western Ontario with their addresses is kept in the secretary's office. The list for 1894 was published in the programme announcing the Stratford convention. Makers whose names do not appear in that list or are not correctly given will confer a favor by notifying the secretary, as it is desirable that a complete list should be kept on file.

"The secretary of the association is always open for communication with cheese makers and dairymen desiring information on any phase of dairying. If he cannot supply the desired information himself, he has the means of getting t from other sources. "There is one important' duty which every cheese maker and every dairy-man should not neglect to perform and that is to become a member of the association. The annual fee is only 50 cents. This amount can be sent to the secretary in stamps or by a money or-der, and he will be pleased to place the name on the list for the receipt of the annual reports of the three dairymen's associations of the Province, besides the various reports and bulletins sent out by the Department of Agriculture for Ontario and by the dairy commissioner and experimental farms, Ottawa.

James Fitzgerald acted as referee most satisfactorily. There were 1,300 clay pigeons used during the day.

It is alleged that there are evidences of foul play in the death of the late Michael Potter, of Chatham, who was found dead on Monday morning on the C. P. R. tracks at Chatham. The post-mortem disclosed wounds which, it was stated, though the cause of death, could not have been inflicted by the train, in view of the position of the remains. Further, the doctor stated, the two wounds could not have been occasioned by a fall, and must have been the result of a blow. Crown Attorney Douglas concurred in the opinion that the unfortunate man must have met with foul play. The police are working on the case.

More forgeries by the absconding St. Thomas piano agent, James Crocker, have come to light. Many residents of the city mourn the loss of sums estimated from $5 to $110, which they loaned to make up this amount. He not only borrowed from unsuspecting business men, but even fleeced a well-known clergyman out of the sum of $110. Mr. McIntyre, of Lawrence Station, has a receipt for $175 he paid Crocker, but notwithstanding this the Karn Company hold a note against him for that amount. The consensus of opinion is that Crocker took little or no money with him; that he had little or nothing when he came to S. Thomas, and that he tried to do an extensive business, and not having the funds to do so, was badly handicapped, and paid the bulk of his spoil in interest.

The father left this country in 1863, and has traveled ex-tensively through the States and other countries, finally settling down in Dakota, where he is an extensive landowner. The family formerly lived in Hamilton, but all efforts of the father to find the family, or the family to hear of their parent, were fruitless until a short time ago, when the long absent parent heard of one son, James, in Duluth, Minn.; Joe, in Brantford, and the daughter, Mrs. Cole, in Toronto. He immediately started out to visit them, and has been spending some time making, as it were, the acquaintance of his sons and daughter.

Tenders Will Be Called for Both Steel Bridges and Earth Embankments

The Port Stanley Railway Board decided last night to call for tenders at once for the new bridges over the L. and P. S. R., north and south of St. Thomas. Tenders will be called for both steel bridges and earth embankments with stone arches. As far as can be learned there is very little difference be learned there is very little difference in price. Mayor Little, as president of the board, presided at the meeting last night, and associated with him were Ald. Carrothers, Ald. Parnell, Ald. O'Meara, Ald. Wm. Heaman, Mr. Frank Leonard, Mr. M. Masuret and Engineer De Gurse and Solicitor Leggett, of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company. The resolution dealing with the bridge question appointed the city engineer to act on behalf of the board, according to the agreement detailed in section 24 of the lease. The section provides for the renewal of the bridges in wood, iron, steel, stone, embankment or otherwise, within six months after the receipt of the notice, and also provides that the plans shall be settled between the engineer appointed by the board and the lessee's engineer. In event of them failing to agree, a third engineer may be called in, and the decision of any two of them shall be con-

It is not thought that Engineers Graydon and De Gurse will have any dif-ference of opinion, but a third engineer has been mentioned in case they have. To please certain members of the board tenders will be called for both steel bridges and embankments, although Engineer De Gurse intimated last night that his choice was steel. It is thought that the embankments and masonry would cost $70,000, and the steel bridges perhaps a little less.

The tender of C. Wilson & Sons, of Toronto, to place in position at Port Stanley a 50-ton railway track scale was accepted. The price was $585. On motion of Ald. Carrothers and Ald Heaman, the city clerk was appointed secretary of the board, without additional salary. This relieves Ald. Par-nell, who has filled the position acceptably since the beginning of the year.

DIED FROM FRIGHT. BUFFALO, N. Y., April 3.—While the Music Hall at Lockport, N. Y., was burning last night, Mrs. Alberty, an aged lady, whose property adjoining was endangered, died from fright.

-Messrs. Burt and Armstrong, students of J. H. Wilson & Son, of this city, have returned from Toronto, where they were at 'tending the Ontario Veterinary College. They succeeded in graduating with high honors, Mr. Burt capturing honors in five subjects. This is the greatest number of honors ever secured by a student from London.

—For some time past the Attorney-General's Department has been considering the advisability of changing the title of its detective department. An order has been iasued that the word "detective" shall be known no more forever. In futare the detective branch will be known as the Ontario Criminal Investigation Department. The head of the force, Mr. J. W. Murray, will, of course, be chief inspector, and the other officers will be known as inspectors.

The trustees of the Dundas Street Center Church met last evening at the residence of the pastor, Rev. E. B. Lanceley. Architect King, of Toronto, whose plans had already been accepted, was present with the few amendments required by the trustees. The meeting was harmonious, and there were no differences between the members over the acceptance of the plans. Mr. King will have specifications ready to tender on by April 18.

-The supreme high chief ranger of the I. O. Wednesday, April 10. While local play-goers are inclined to rely upon their own udgment as to the merits of a play, it is not out of place to state that "In Old Kentucky" last season enjoyed a genuinely successful run of seven months at the Academy of Music in New York. The work treats of Kentucky life as it actually exists, and has the true Blue Grass flavor permeating its every scene and situation. The faithful reproduction of a famous race on the celebrated Lexington track, participated in by five Kentucky thorough FUNERAL OF MRS. ANSON STRONG

The remains of the late Mrs. Anson Strong, who for nearly 70 years was one of London's best citizens, and for many years a member of the Queen's Avenue Methodist Church, were in-terredo in Mount Pleasant Cemetery yesterday. The funeral took place from the late residence of deceased on Queen's avenue, and was well attended. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. Dr. Sanderson The pall-bearers were Messrs. C. W Andrus, R. Kirkpatrick, Samuel Mc Bride, John Christie, A. B. Powell and Hewitt Fysh.

A FORMER LONDONER'S SUCCESS. The firm of T. B. Cryer & Co., of this city, was yesterday awarded the contract for heating and ventilating the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Tremont street, Boston, Mass., with hot water. This church was formerly heated with steam, and when it was decided to change to the hot water system estimates were taken from a number of leading firms in the heating line in different sections of the country. It was decided to award the contract to the Newark firm, although there were several lower estimates. Cryer & Co. will use two of their largest Royal heaters and over 6,000 feet radiation. The contract price is $5,300.—
[Newark, N. J., Call.

Mr. T. B. Cryer, who is at the head of the above named firm, is a former well known resident in this city, and nephew of Mr. Law. In his United States home he has had splendid success, his early training standing him in good stead. The instance above given shows the reputation which the firm has attained. Some of the most prominent heating engineers of the country entered the field with Mr. Cryer's firm, but the church managers, taking other work done by them as their guide, gave them the preference by $1,000. The firm claims that their system is a most economical one in point of view of saving of fuel and giving the best results, hence its success.

RHEUMATISM SUBDUED.

Mr. William A. Kelsey, Local Manager of the Bell Telephone Co., Burk's Falls, Tells How He Obtained a Cure.

Mr. Wm. A. Kelsey, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company at Burk's Falls, Ont., is one of the most popular citizens of that town. Mr. Kelsey has been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and relates as follows how he found a cure. He says: "In 1892 I was attacked and used rheumatic remedies, which were highly recommended, but without avail. In connection with these remedies I also tried the rubbing process, but never obtained more than temporary relief, and I began to fear that I would not find a cure. In January or February, 1894, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me, and I decided to give them a trial. I soon began to experience relief, and could easily raise my hand to my head, something I had not been able to do without great pain for many months. From this out I improved rapidly, and for more than seven months past have not had a pang of the trouble. I know Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to be very effective, and can highly recommend them." These pills are a specific for all troub les due to bad or impoverished blood or weakened nerves, and as a spring medicine have no equal, as they rapidly clear the blood of all impurities, give it renewed richness and ward off disease. At this season of the year everyone should fortify the system by a course of Dr. Wiliams' Pink Pills. Re member, the genuine pills are sold only in boxes bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." All others are worthless imita-

E. S. Miller, Esq., secretary of the P. P. I., St. Thomas: Dear Sir, -- Permit me to thank your in stitution for the prompt payment of the $2,000 insurance on the life of my late husband, Mr. Wm. Burnett, who was one of earliest members of the P. P. I. in this section, his policy, No. 647, having been issued nearly ten years ago. The cost of the insurance was so low as never to be burdensome, and the settlement of claim has been prompt, business-like and in every way satisfactory. Your generous treatment of claimants must attract the insuring public to your company. Yours truly, (Signed.) SARAH BURNETT, Benificiary.
