EXPECT WILSON TO WIELD ECONOMY AXE

NEW POPE MAY NOT BE ONE OF ITALIAN BIRTH

Selection of Pontiff Expected To Depend On Attitude of Foreign Cardinals.

MAFFI BOOM DIMINISHES

Cardinal Von Rossum of Holland Prominently Mentioned As Neutral Candidate.

Rome, Jan. 27.—With the body of the late Pope Benedict laid away beneath the flagstones of St. Peter's, the interest of the Sacred College and the Vatican household turned today to the election of his successor. A conclave has been called for Feb. 2, to choose the new pontiff.

The question of rapprochement between the church and the Italian government enters into the election. A thorough canvass of opinion in the Vatican shows that the peace party or those opposing a rapprochement with the government are virtually deadlocked with the irconcilables, or those opposing a rapprochement in the number of votes each faction can muster. A two-thirds majority is necessary for election.

Twenty-nine cardinals headed by Cardinal Gasparri, the camerlengo or acting head of the church, are known to favor continuance of Benedict's policy, which was understood to have been directed toward a resumption of relations with the Quirinal; twenty members of the Sacred College are thought to be just as strongly opposed, while nine are classified as neutral.

Maffi Boom Declines.

The attitude of the United States cardinals—O'Connell of Boston and Dougherty of Philadelphia—is unknown at the Vatican, but the opinion is expressed that, unless a compromise is reached, never has there been such an opportunity for a foreign cardinal to be elected pope. The majority enjoyed by the Italian members of the Sacred College is so evenly divided that Vatican officials admit all depends upon the attitude of the foreign cardinals.

The boom for Cardinal Maffi, archbishop of Pisa, who was mentioned as favored by the Government, appears to be on the decline, while Cardinal Gasparri and Cardinal Archbishop Merry Del Val, respectively leaders of the peace party, and the irconcilables, are again being favored by the supporters to have little chance of being elected themselves.

Dutch Cardinal Mentioned.

The candidate of the Gasparri party is Cardinal Ratti of Milan. While Merry Del Val's faction, after a test of strength in the conclave, will switch to Cardinal Laurenti, the newest created member of the Sacred College, stationed in Rome, Laurenti presided for many years over the Roman Catholic world missions, and is well known to all the foreign cardinals. Cardinal Van Rossum of Holland is most prominently mentioned as a neutral candidate, should a deadlock be reached in the conclave. He is 67 years of age and was raised to the purple by Pius X. in 1911.

For the first time in history women will be permitted to be present in the quarters occupied by the conclave. They are the Sisters of Mercy, who will reside over the destinies of the cardinals' kitchen, which heretofore have been supervised by monks.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF CARRYING WEAPON

Hamilton, Jan. 27.—Earl McCoy, Toronto, was arrested last night charged with carrying a loaded revolver. When he appeared in court this morning he claimed he was a liquor detective employed by the provincial license department. He was remanded to give the department a chance to claim him.

Veterans Forget $300,000 Canada Owes Them

RETURNED MEN FAIL TO CLAIM BALANCES DUE

Nearly 1,000 Heroes of Great War Are Creditors of Government.

NAMES WILL BE POSTED

G. W. V. A. Arranges for Publication and Wide Circulation of Lists.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—Although more than three years have elapsed since the conclusion of the Great War, nearly 1,000 accounts of soldiers and dependents in the department of militia of defence at Ottawa, remain unsettled, with credit balances, due principally to the lack of proper addresses, to which closing-out checks could be forwarded. More than $300,000 is involved, covering balances of pay and allowances for war services, soldier's gratuity, which was payable upon discharge from the army, separation allowance and assigned pay, due to dependents of ex-service men, as well as dependent's portion of war service gratuity. More than half of the amount is payable to dependents.

Result of Campaign.

These particulars were brought to light through a campaign, undertaken recently by the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada, to secure final adjustment of all claims arising from war service. Since last October this organization has succeeded in securing settlements in hundreds of cases, not only in the Militia Department, but also of pensions, for hospital treatment and other matters under the jurisdiction of the department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment; besides claims in other government departments, and matters outside government circles.

The Great War Veterans' Association has decided to publish the names in the press of all those whom credit balances are due on the books of the militia department in the hope that the proper addresses may be secured and settlements effected.

Will Publish Names.

Starting Jan. 28, the official magazine of the association, The Veteran, will publish a fresh list of the names every week. All former soldiers have been requested to scan the lists and report the addresses of any of those they may know. The lists will be posted in G. W. V. A. club houses named in prominent places elsewhere, and everything will be done to provide every opportunity so that the ex-soldier and dependents may be connected with the money due them.

The G. W. V. A. is undertaking this service without remuneration, and asks for the general co-operation of the public in locating those whose names are listed.

CUT BRICKLAYERS' WAGES IN LONDON

Commencing February 1, the Journeymen Will Be Paid 85 Cents Per Hour.

Commencing Feb. 1, journeymen bricklayers of London will be remunerated at the rate of 85 cents an hour, a decrease of 15 per cent. Working conditions remain unchanged from 1921, however, and the men will work eight hours as formerly.

An agreement to this effect was reached at a conference on Thursday night, the regular session of the mason contractors' association, at which attended a representation of bricklayers. The discussion lasted several hours, following which the agreement was prepared and signed by both parties. The utmost friendship prevailed on all sides, and employers and employees appeared quite willing to co-operate with one another.

Vice-President Izzard of the International Union of Bricklayers attended from Toronto.

FIND INADEQUATE SUPPLY OF BABIES FOR ADOPTION

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Prohibition and what it termed the "independent attitude of modern women" have resulted in such a scarcity of babies that the Child Welfare League of the United States for the first time is unable to meet the demand for babies to be adopted. C. C. Carstens of New York, director of the organization, said in an address at the league's conference last night.

"There are fewer babies being born in the better class homes because of the independent attitude of modern women," Mr. Carstens said. "After a girl has been married for a while, however, she realizes that there is something missing in her home. Then she turns to adoption as the easiest way out, but finds that prohibition has so decreased the number of dependent babies by improving conditions in lower class homes that the demand far exceeds the supply."

Pines To Be Just a Plain Girl!

Princess Yolanda of Italy and Her Little Sister, Princess Maria.

ROME, Jan. 27.—If you were a royal princess would your great desire in life be to have a little home of your own, make your own clothes, cook your own meals—be just a simple housewife?

How many young girls who have to perform those services have dreamed of the joy of being a royal princess?

And yet the most beautiful princess in the world, as Yolanda of Italy is known, is credited with being just a simple girl.

All she really wants, so she tells her intimates, is to live quietly just like a simple middle-class girl.

Devoted to Parents.

First of all she is devoted to her father and mother, her sisters and brothers. Of course all the world is talking about the rumor of Yolanda's engagement to the heir of the Belgian throne.

The Italian royal family is noted as being the most democratic, the most "bourgeois" in its happy home life of all kingly circles.

Queen Helena, who has brought up her children just as any unroyal mother of the middle class would, has never considered being a regular housewife. King Victor Emmanuel doesn't mind letting the world know that his greatest joy is in the simple home pleasures.

As for Princess Yolanda, she trims her own hats, makes her own blouses, her own underwear. Her greatest delight is when she plays at mothering her favorite sister, little Princess Maria, and is permitted to make her clothes for her.

Likes Real Picnics.

Yolanda can cook spaghetti better than a chef. Her happiest days are when the royal family, free from servants, motors to one of their country places near Rome and has a real "picnic."

Yolanda is a little princess who doesn't want to grow up even to become a queen.

Northwestern Co-eds Are Blamed For College Losing 'At Sports

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The distracting influence of co-eds on athletes at Northwestern University is responsible for the consistently poor showing of the school's teams, according to the university's newspaper, the Daily Northwestern.

"There are other schools with more women and a gliding social whirl, yet where successful athletic teams are a tradition. The difference lies in that they have such an abundance of athletic material any athlete can be dropped if he persists in falling in love."

"If the success of athletics is measured, as suggested, more material will have to be attracted to allow for cupid's fatalities or the influence of the co-ed automatically curtailed by reduction in numbers to avert the trouble."

REGARD INSURANCE RATES LOW ENOUGH

Toronto, Jan. 29.—That the rates on dwelling houses are now about as low as it is possible to make them, and that the Canadian Fire Underwriters will be able to demonstrate this fact, was the effect of a statement made today by J. A. Robertson, secretary-treasurer of that organization in reference to the intimation that the committee of the Legislature investigating the matter would recommend a decrease in the premium unless it received evidence that it was not justified.

"They are speaking about something on which they received very little information," said Mr. Robertson. "They heard one or two witnesses and immediately came to certain conclusions. Of course, we will reply to them."

Will Employ More Help To Speed Up City Assessments

An effort is to be made this year to clean up the assessment of the city much quicker than has been the case heretofore, and especially quicker than last year, when the work, on account of the revision and new scheme, was delayed until August.

To accomplish the work much more quickly, Mayor Wilson announces that not only will all the old assessors and clerks of last year be re-appointed, but a number of others will be added to the force, and an effort made to cover the whole city in a much shorter time.

The work of the assessors will be somewhat changed this year on account of the re-division of the city subdivisions and the increasing of the number of subdivisions from 77 to 90.

When the assessors have their work under way, they take the city by subdivisions, and hence carry only one book at a time. When a subdivision is complete, they must return to the city hall to get another book.

LONDONERS TO HEAR ADDRESS ON WATERWAYS

Canadian Club Will Entertain Oscar Fleming, K. C., of Windsor.

TO DEEPEN ST. LAWRENCE

Lake-To-Sea Scheme Also Appeals to Chamber of Commerce.

In order that Londoners may obtain a closer insight into the proposed St. Lawrence deep waterways lake-to-sea scheme, which has within the past month attained such prominence, following its endorsement by President Warren Harding of the United States, Oscar E. Fleming, K. C., of Windsor, president of the Canadian Deep Waterway and Power Association, will address a joint meeting of the London Canadian Club and the Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 12:30 p.m.

After a thorough investigation of conditions from the sea to the western extremity of the Great Lakes, the international joint commission embodied in its lengthy report several recommendations. Canada's advantages in the matter will form the basis for the president's address in London.

As ample proof that the scheme is rapidly gaining favor in both countries, a report was recently transmitted to congress by President Harding, recommending negotiation of a treaty by the United States and Canada, looking toward construction of a waterway between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic through the St. Lawrence River, by which seagoing craft can enter the lakes and load for foreign ports at points like Chicago, Duluth, Port Arthur, Port Star, etc.

Another recommendation by the commission was that Canada should proceed with the work undertaken on the Welland Canal. The cost of the entire improvement from ocean to lake shall be apportioned by the two governments.

WANTS DELEGATE TO PRESENT CASE

Dr. Downham Asks Trades and Labor Council To Define Complaint Against Dentists.

It is the desire of Dr. Downham, public officer of health for the city, that the trades and labor council send a delegation to the next meeting of the London Board of Health, Feb. 14, to explain their recent application to the provincial officer of health for a general inspection of local dental parlors.

A communication to this effect was received by officers of the trades council Thursday, following close on a former notice that no action could be taken by the board of health.

It is the belief apparently of the latter body that the labor delegation will name some specific instance in the city where the proper sanitary conditions do not prevail.

24 INDUSTRIES IN YEAR SECURED BY HAMILTON

HAMILTON, Jan. 27.—Hamilton's board of control looks upon it as highly creditable to both the city and its commissioner of industries and publicity that 24 new industries located in Hamilton during the past year, in the face of the many difficulties which beset the path of most new industrial ventures. Four new companies established their headquarters here also, but have not yet started manufacturing.

The controllers received this morning the annual report of the commissioner of industries and publicity, C. W. Kirkpatrick, setting forth the facts that Hamilton's industrial growth during 1921, and containing a wealth of information as to the department's activities during the year, as well as numerous valuable suggestions for the city's industrial betterment, which the board of control will seriously consider.

DEFENCE NEARS END AT TRIAL OF ARBUCKLE

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—The defence in the second Roscoe Arbuckle manslaughter trial was near the end of its side of the case today. Only part of the testimony of Dr. George Franklin Shields remained to be taken and counsel had announced they would call no other witnesses.

Dr. Shields late yesterday said a ruptured bladder, which caused Virginia Rappe's death, might be caused by coughing, sneezing or by immersion in cold water, if the bladder were overdistended. Under cross-examination he admitted he never had heard of a bladder rupture caused by cold water.

The prosecution charges Miss Rappe was injured as a result of mistreatment by Arbuckle at a party in his rooms at the St. Francis Hotel last September, and the defence contends the injury was the result of an unhealthy condition.

Arguments by attorneys were expected to begin today.

King Gustaf III

STUDENTS ISSUE "U" DIRECTORY

25-Page Booklet Outlines the Activities of Western Pupils.

The directory of Western University, publication of which was announced last week, is now in the hands of the students and faculty of the above institution. This directory is in the form of a 25-page booklet, and is the first to be published at Western.

The information includes the numbers of all university phones, names, addresses and phone numbers of all university officers of instruction, department officers of administration and instruction, Huron College officers of instruction, medical school executive committee, and arts, medical and Huron College students. It also provides information regarding arts, medical and combined organizations and class executives.

The directory presents a complete list of all student activities, and is a credit to the committee responsible for its publication. Following the lead of the Hippocratic Society at the medical school the students' council at the arts' college has decided to defray the expenses of the directory.

The publishing committee comprised representatives from all departments of Western University. The committee is as follows: Arts—Helen M. Davey '23 (convener), Geo. A. Wainwright '23, W. C. Beamer '23, Brant Thomas '24, Grant Wiley '25, Winston F. Harrison '27, Med.—T. Ormie Smith '22 (convener), Malcolm D. Campbell '23, Hugh G. Fletcher '23, W. R. Heard '24, George S. Gibson '25a, A. N. McKillop '26, and F. S. Kipp '25b.

DOLLS FOR ADULTS NEW PARIS CRAZE

Paris, Jan. 27.—Dolls for grown-ups, dolls that are from three to five feet in length, that hang limp, with trailing limbs, are the latest craze in fashionable Paris.

A favorite is a pale-faced Pierrot, with wide-staring eyes and bright red bow-shaped lips. He is placed in the corner of a settee and his white face and black silk costume produce quite an artistic effect.

Another type is a shock-headed peasant, a grotesque leer on his rubicund face, and dressed in a blue blouse, red and white striped trousers and wooden sabots.

SEEK TO IDENTIFY UNKNOWN POILUS

Paris, Jan. 27.—France has six living "unknown poilus."

The men, their memories a complete blank as the result of horrors undergone during the war, are being cared for by the government, which is seeking to establish their identities.

They have been visited by thousands of people, but none recognized them, and the minister of pensions has decided to send their photographs and detailed descriptions to the metropolitan and provincial press in hopes that their relatives can be found.

ARREST MEN FOR AIDING NIAGARA FALLS BANDITS

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Leopold Kuts, 65 years old, and his son, Stanley, were arrested last night, charged with having aided in the escape of the bandits who held up the Niagara Falls Trust Company's office on Oct. 31.

Larry Hirsch, arrested in Pittsburgh last week, and charged with complicity in the holdup in which four persons were shot, led the police to the home of Kuts.

Kuts, according to the police, admitted that the men were driven to Tonawanda by his son, and that he had failed to report it to the authorities.

MOTOR COMPANY IS ROBBED.

Hattiesburg, Miss., Jan. 27.—The Girault Motor Company of this city was robbed of $180,000 in bonds and commercial paper early today by two men who held up the night clerk, according to a report to the police.

CITY OFFICIALS FEAR GENERAL CUT IN WAGES

Every Pay Envelope at City Hall To Bear Scrutiny of Mayor.

MAY REDUCE STAFFS

Ald. Drake Hears Utilities Commission Owns Twenty Motor Cars.

A proposal for a general reduction of the salaries or wages of every civic employee is to receive the weighty consideration of the present city hall administration.

A scheme with this end in view is being worked out at the city hall. It is still in the stage of preparation, and no definite lines have been laid down.

It is stated that when Mayor Wilson heads together this will be one of his proposals. His scheme is to try and cut the heavy expense of civic administration.

It may also be that there will be a reduction in the number of employees. It is said that the city forces are manned to handle a maximum of business, where the call for maximum effort is confined to a short period and never hits two departments at the same time.

The mayor is bound to face considerable opposition in his efforts, said one alderman. The bodies that do not come under council control may be the hardest to negotiate with.

Ald. G. B. Drake, the dean of the council, believes that the time is near when a survey of the city's property must soon be made. He thinks that a special committee, appointed from the two council committees, with the mayor as chairman, should make a survey of the whole situation, securing information from all the bodies. In this way, a complete understanding of how matters stand would be arrived at, and at the same time a knowledge of just what the city owns would be gained.

Ald. Drake stated that he had been told that the utilities commission owns twenty cars. This would be under the most adverse, if correct. He thought that it would be a good idea to secure a knowledge of these facts.

MUST DECIDE CAR TRACK PROBLEM

1922 Council To Consider the Question of Paving Between Rails.

The new council must take some action between now and spring towards reaching a solution of the vexed problem as to what they shall do with the street railway tracks in carrying out the city's paving plans.

Hamilton road, Wellington street, Central avenue, Dundas street east, are four main arteries of traffic to the city which have been held up in connection with the city's paving plan because of the street car tracks.

Engineer Brazier hopes that by the time the spring comes around the council will have decided one way or another in regard to this problem so that the work may be proceeded with.

In this connection, the interesting Stanley street experiment may be a guiding star. The tracks on this street were covered with broken stone, oiled and rolled. This part of the road may stand the winter, but it is feared that the frost will get down under the pavement, and when the thaw comes in the spring cause all kinds of upheavals in the pavement.

THE COUGH WITH THAT TICKLING SENSATION

A little tickling in the throat; now and then a dry, hacking cough; you think it is not bad enough to bother about, but every tickle makes a breach in the system, strains the lungs and prepares the way for more serious trouble. How many people have lost a good night's rest by that nasty, tickling, irritating sensation in the throat? The dry, harsh cough keeps you awake, and when you get up in the morning you feel as if you had had no rest at all.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

Is just the remedy you require to stop that irritating, tickling cough on account of its soothing, healing and expectorant properties.

Mrs. P. Johnson, Port Alberni, B. C., writes: "I have suffered for years, off and on, with a tickling cough. I could not sleep nights and had to sit up in bed to get relief. In fact, I coughed so I used to vomit. I tried different doctors' prescriptions until I heard of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I tried it and found great relief after I had taken the first bottle and have not been troubled since. I shall always keep it in the house."

Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Price, 35c and 60c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv't.

"Cascarets" 10c If Sick, Bilious, Constipated

You're bilious! Your liver and bowels need a thorough cleansing with Cascarets, then the headache, dizziness, bad breath and stomach misery will end. No gripping—nicest physic on earth for grown-ups and children. 10c a box. Taste like candy.

There is Strength in Every Tablet

One dose often helps convince you to enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves. Nuxated Iron is organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach. It is so prepared that it will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. It is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while some physicians claim metallic iron which people usually take is not absorbed at all. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron—three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again. You will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.

NUXATED IRON Enriches the Blood—Strengthens the Nerves

Stop that cough!

Don't let it master you, for a continuous cough is "dangerous." Attack it with a remedy that will quickly stop irritation of the respiratory organs and at the same time build up the body for permanent resistance. Ask your druggist or dealer for—

WIRTH REVEALS GERMANY'S NEW TAXATION PLAN

Wants To Fulfill Treaty Obligations To Allies To Best of His Ability.

PLEADS FOR AID OF WORLD

Desires To Satisfy France To Limit of Republic's Resources.

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—The German chancellor, Dr. Wirth, announced in the Reichstag today the government's new taxation proposals.

First, a compulsory loan of a billion marks gold, bearing interest only after three years, intended to cover the budget expenditure for 1922, not relating to posts and railways.

Second, abandonment of the tax on post-war profits.

Third, a 2 per cent business tax.

Fourth, the duty on coal raised to 40 per cent; duty on sugar to be 50 marks per 100 kilograms.

The Reichstag, including the public galleries, was crowded today to hear Wirth's statement on the general situation in the republic.

The chancellor began by defining his foreign policy as embracing the fulfillment as far as possible of Germany's treaty obligations, with the conviction that only actual deliveries could render it possible to ascertain Germany's paying capacity, and that only the economic consequences of such deliveries could enlighten the world as to the real nature of the obligations on account of reparations assumed by Germany.

Revealed True Facts.

"At Cannes we were enabled for the first time to set forth freely and not by way of question and answer, Germany's true situation," Dr. Wirth said. "We hope that a more searching investigation of the world's economic problems at Geneva will result in increasing the appreciation of the real significance of reparations, and that a more practical solution of the question of reparations, which we are carrying out loyally and sincerely, will be advanced, not merely to our benefit, but to the profit of the countries entitled to reparations."

"We are not going to Geneva with a dagger under our cloak and perfidious intentions, but with our vizor raised and with a device representing the program of the conference—an entente of all nations, rich or poor, victors or vanquished, with the common aim of re-establishment of international economic relations."

Asks Practical Politics.

The chancellor said that the German policy should be imperatively inspired by a clear and positive estimate of the respective positions of Germany and France and carried out from the standpoint of practical politics, with a view to satisfying French interests to the limit of German capacity.

Rebutting the accusations of "fraudulent bankruptcy," Dr. Wirth expressed regret that enemy interests had only made a superficial survey of the situation in Germany and lacked knowledge of political economy. The German reply to the reparations commission tomorrow, he said, would refute the mistakes made regarding the German budget.

WINNIPEG SHOPS TO CLOSE 11 DAYS

WINNIPEG, Jan. 26.—Between 2,000 and 3,000 men will be idle when the Canadian Pacific Railway shops at Weston close tonight for eleven days, due to lack of shop work. The shops will reopen Feb. 6.

WANT ESSEX TO BEAR OWN COST

WINDSOR, Jan. 26.—Contrary to general belief, hearing on what are known as outside cases in Windsor police court do not cost the city one cent, according to Crown Attorney George Urquhart.

The cost of prosecuting offenders from rural centers is shared by the county and province, the crown attorney said. Windsor, however, he further said, receives no remuneration for providing police court and other accommodation in new police building.

Some of the city aldermen Thursday afternoon asserted that the city should maintain its own jail and have no further dealings with the county so far as administration of justice is concerned. The city may do this, City Solicitor F. D. Davis said today.

ORDER DELORME STATUS SIFTED

MONTREAL, Jan. 26.—An audit of the financial affairs of Raoul Delorme, murdered Ottawa student, and of his estate has been ordered by the attorney-general's department at Quebec. The audit, it is understood, began this morning. Rev. Father Delorme, half-brother of the deceased student, will be asked to produce all the books relating to the estate, of which he is administrator.

When the father of Father Delorme died in 1916, Father Delorme was appointed administrator of the estate. He testified before the coroner's court that when the father died in 1916 the estate had been assessed as valued at $165,000. As the bulk of the estate comprised dwelling-houses, and in view of the increase in rentals and property valuations, the estate is now considered to be worth nearly three times that of the original assessment.

From the estate, Father Delorme stated, he would receive in the neighborhood of $7,000 annually. Raoul, the murdered man, would receive about $10,000, as his share was greater than that of his brother.

SHILLINGTON IN JAIL, CONFESSES
CABLE REPORTS

London's Chief of Police Advised of Recovery of Bulk of Missing Bonds.

ARRESTED AT NEWHAVEN

Attorney-General's Department Asked To Speed the Prisoner's Extradition.

BULLETIN.

P. J. Wall, superintendent of the Toronto Police, and Superintendent Rogers, of the Ontario provincial police, will arrive in London late this afternoon to confer with the local police and the officials of the London and Western Trust Company, in connection with the arrest in Edinburgh, Scotland, of Harold R. Shillington, former accountant of the latter institution alleged to have misappropriated securities exceeding $70,000.

The officers will secure the necessary evidence to be used to prepare papers to be forwarded overseas to facilitate the return of the former Londoner.

Should Shillington fight extradition proceedings, officers from Canada must proceed to the old country to appear in court, should he decide to waive all preliminary proceedings and be returned in charge of the officers now with him.

While dispatches from London, England, this morning reaffirm the original report that Harold R. Shillington, former accountant of the London and Western Trust Company, arrested Thursday in Scotland, has confessed to the misappropriation of negotiable securities to the value of more than $50,000, no definite report had been obtained at noon today as to whether he will combat the necessary extradition proceedings to facilitate his return to this country.

In the meanwhile preparations for his early trial have already commenced locally. J. B. McKillop, crown attorney, announced on Friday afternoon that a special private session has been scheduled for early next week, when representatives of the crown and the London and Western Trust Company will receive and complete all available evidence.

It is particularly significant also that while persistent reports from both the police overseas and in Canada that Shillington, after his arrest, broke down and made a full confession, implicating an alleged confederate, nothing has since been heard concerning the latter.

While local officials of the trust company refuse pointblank to furnish the London Advertiser with any information on the case, it is alleged in other quarters that there are others involved with Shillington, a rumor being general that one of the former accountant's chums assisted in the coup.

The fact that Shillington actually sent letters to a Londoner, residing temporarily near Chicago, to be forwarded here as a "blind," naturally gave rise to the general belief that the strange disappearance from the company's vaults of such a valuable amount of securities was the work of at least two or more individuals.

"Referring to Pinkerton circular of November 21 last, Shillington—turn to Column 2, Page 15.

Mayor Encounters Some "Rough Spots"

MAYOR J. Cameron Wilson is beginning to learn some of the joys and sorrows of being mayor.

A communication received Friday morning rather set him on edge.

It was a complaint from some one of the Orange lodges censuring the mayor for appointing two Catholics to the position of assessment clerks. The news must have got out quickly, as the official announcement of appointments will not be made until Monday, according to Assessment Commissioner Grant.

"Here I have the Orangemen after me for this and the Catholics are saying that I put Mayor Murphy off the board of governors of the Western University because he was a Catholic," said the mayor.

"I am trying to act fairly, and that is the best I can do," said the mayor. He said that the two appointments to the assessment task are young men who have been acting before.

FINAL DRAFT OF DOMESTIC CODE

Y. W. C. A. Girls' Federation Hears Address On "Furnishing the Home."

CASH BUYING ADVISED

Mrs. Lucas Counsels Young People Against Installment Payment Plan.

The final draft of the code for husband, wife and home of the federation of girls' clubs of the Y. W. C. A., was accepted at a largely attended meeting held Thursday evening. The subject for consideration on this occasion was "Furnishing the Home," Mrs. Lucas giving a paper crammed with helpful suggestions, and Miss Walsh, of the Girls' Canadian Club, an able title address on "Beauty in the Home."

Mrs. Lucas disliked the old-fashioned idea of a girl looking forward to a home of her own. It should be the ambition of every young couple getting married, she held, to have a home of their own, however humble. The house was the first factor in making a home, but the home was bigger than any house. A house became a home when life was rightly lived in it.

Advise Cash Buying. Concerning the furnishing of a home, she emphasized the point that the furniture should be suitable to the home, and in keeping with the means of those dwelling there. She warned against the buying of goods on the installment plan. "Wait until you can pay for things," was her advice. "Accumulate your furniture piece by piece. It is necessary to get good things, which does not necessarily mean expensive things."

The necessary things, she pointed out, should receive first consideration, "not the things you want, but the things you must have." The necessities for a poor man's home and a millionaire's were just the same, cooking utensils, sleeping accommodation, bedding.

"Provide a corner for mother," was her final word. "If it is only a davenport or couch in the living-room."

Sees Value in Books. The value of books and flowers in making a home was dwelt upon. Miss Walsh referred to the manner in which the furnishing of a home reflects the personality of the home-maker, and reacts in bringing about peace and order and beauty in the home dweller.

"Have your furnishings beautiful if it does not interfere with their usefulness," she said, touching upon the folly of having china so fine that it cannot be used.

Mrs. Steele, a former member of the Toronto Y. W. C. A. board, was present with her daughter, Mrs. Eberhard, whom she is visiting, and both spoke briefly. Miss Gertrude Parker and Miss Elsie Chambers presided in the absence of the president, Miss Lucas.

LABOR DELEGATES
AWAITING DEBATE

Considerable interest is still manifested in labor circles regarding the scheduled joint debate at the next meeting of the trades and labor council relating to the suggestion that disposition of farm laborers throughout Western Ontario be accomplished by an office in this city in lieu of Toronto.

As proposers of the move in question, the London Chamber of Commerce is sending a representative to the next gathering of the council to explain the suggestion, contending that considerable misunderstanding has ensued.

Indicating that the matter has not been entirely lost sight of by them, labor delegates explained on Friday that the Women's Labor Party also had taken an unusual interest in the question, and would accordingly be represented at the next meeting by a strong committee.

On Friday the officials of the Chamber of Commerce reiterated their original stand, and pointed out that their delegate was ready to attend the last gathering, and would have been in attendance except for a misunderstanding.

LECTURES ON LANGUAGE AT CITY LIBRARY

Professor J. Spenceley Addresses Western University Extension Class.

SAYS DICTIONARY UNSAFE

Declares Speech Greatest Determining Factor of Human Race.

Prof. J. A. Spenceley delivered a most interesting lecture Wednesday night at the Public Library, under the auspices of the Western University extension department, the title of the lecture being "Our Mother Tongue and Some of Its Ways."

Most students today, said the lecturer, were very much interested in the subject of literature, but their interest was centered on modern literature, and very little enthusiasm was shown for the literature of former days. "The mother tongue meant as much to a nation as mother earth, and even more so, because the language was one of the greatest determining factors of a race."

Tracing the English language back, the speaker claimed that it was about the year 1300 that the English language was established in England. Then it was only added by the lower classes, French being used by the nobility until about 1362, when English became the official language of the law courts.

Referring to the English language today, the lecturer pointed out that the two greatest nations of the world spoke the same tongue, which was increasing in popularity every day until one might look forward to it eventually becoming a world language.

It was owing to this fact that the American and British nations could understand one another so readily, and accomplish so much for the betterment of the world at large.

There was no set standard of speech for the English-speaking people, because they were so distributed around the world that each had their own way of pronunciation, and even the best dictionaries disagreed on the question. A dictionary could not safely be used as a last resort.

Several questions for the foreigner puzzled the method of spelling the words of the English language, but with very little result. It was very difficult for a native of the British Empire to learn how to spell correctly, as was often evidenced at spelling bees, and it was a matter of utter distinction for the foreigner who was trying to learn to spell the different words of the language. Several instances were given where words were pronounced in the same manner, but had two or more ways of being spelled.

Grammar, in connection with the English language, was taught only after 1800. Previous to this time the only grammar taught was Latin grammar. While slang was not considered proper in theory, it had its place, and words that were thought to be nothing but slang had in time come to be part of the language and therefore necessary.

Prof. Spenceley interspersed his lecture with touches of humor.

EXPECTS DANCE AT OPENING OF SCHOOL

Principal Mooney of the Collegiate To Abide by Committee's Decision.

W. H. Mooney, when questioned today concerning the proposal to make dancing a part of the program at the official opening of the new collegiate institute, merely stated that No. 3 committee had given their consent, and as far as he had been informed dancing would be a part of the opening celebration.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh, chairman of the committee appointed by the Ministerial Alliance to investigate a rumor that dancing was to be a part of the opening ceremonies of the collegiate institute, announced that the committee will meet this afternoon to consider the report which they will give to the alliance. Mr. McIntosh asserted that the object of the investigation was not confined strictly to dancing, but rather to advise the placing of restrictions upon the amount of social activity among students. He claimed that the social side of the lives of young people in the city was emphasized to such an extent that study was bound to suffer.

However, Mr. McIntosh added, "decidedly that does not apply to schools and colleges alone. Our churches are as much to blame as any other institution."

Rev. Judson Kelly reiterated his statement that a public building such as the collegiate institute should not be used for a purpose concerning which ratepayers held such conflicting opinions. The building was maintained solely by public funds for the purposes of education, and if it were to be used for any other purpose the ratepayers should be consulted.

DELIGHTED WITH WORK OF OIL BURNING SHIP

St. John, N. B., Jan. 27.—General delight was expressed by both passengers and crew with the seagoing qualities of the new C. P. O. S. oil-burning liner, which arrived here yesterday from Liverpool on her maiden voyage across the Atlantic. High winds and heavy seas on the North Atlantic combined to make the trial voyage of the liner an exciting test upon her as a sea boat. According to reports she appears to have come through with flying colors.

Penny Bank Will Try to Hold Savings Patronage of Pupils

It appears that the Penny Bank of Toronto is disinclined, without a struggle, to allow the Huron & Erie Corporation relieve them of the patronage of the pupils of the London city schools.

M. A. MacKenzie, managing director of the former institution, has applied through the secretary of the board of education, for permission to present the trustees with their side of the case, while incidentally a representative of the local financial concern is also expected to do likewise. It is more than probable that the trustees will hear both parties at their next regular meeting.

The 1921 board of trustees had late in the year practically decided not to renew their arrangements with the Penny Bank, and considered at some length a proposal from the Huron & Erie. The department of education in Toronto was eventually approached relative to the suggestion, and it was explained that the change would not be opposed there.

The claim was made that the old system rendered considerable work and worry to the teachers, while janitors had to be taken from their important duties, especially during the winter, to take the weekly collections to the bank.

AUGURS WELL FOR FUTURE OF
SUNDAY SCHOOL

Large Attendance Marks the Opening of Church Workers' Training School.

EXPECT SUCCESSFUL TERM

W. R. Plewman Addresses Gathering On "Strategic Place of Church School."

"It augurs well for the future of the Sunday school work in London that so many came here to study, that they may teach the better," said Rev. N. S. McKeechie, the chairman at the opening banquet of the Evening Normal Training School for Church Workers, held in the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. Those in charge of the course had been rather doubtful whether a second term in the course would prove a success, it being their opinion that it might be best to leave well enough alone, but the attendance at the opening night demonstrated that the course would be just as successful in the second term as in the first, observed Mr. McKeechie.

W. R. Plewman, secretary of the Ontario boys' work board, Toronto, the principal speaker of the evening, addressed the Sunday school teachers on "The Strategic Place of the Church School."

"After all," Mr. Plewman stated to the teachers, "the work that you and I are engaged in—church work—is the greatest work in the world, the work of making Christian men and women."

Home once upon a time was the very source of family life, but the modern home is a place which in the children's opinion was often only a place in which to hang their hats.

"The modern home is a place where parental control is reduced to a minimum," he said, and continuing to speak of the home, added that the modern home had to depend on the school, the church and the church school, to do what it used to do itself.

"Our public school system was very efficient," he said, "but it lacked religion, or that motivating and dynamic force that we think of in terms of religious training, a lack which the church school must provide."

"The strategic position of the school, as I see it," he asserted, "is to get folks to live the Jesus way. If you can do this you can transform society."

After showing that the church school must supply the lack of religious training which neither the modern home nor the public school provided, Mr. Plewman said that the teachers must supply it by the investment of their personalities in the work and by a veritable passion to serve.

Immediately after the address of Mr. Plewman the first classes of the school began.

BELIEVE PLENTY

Utilities Commissioners Expect Early Report On Test Wells.

Whether the Ohio well diggers, who have been probing since last fall for an underground river in the London district, will have their full report ready for the public utilities commissioners early next week as anticipated, is somewhat problematical at this moment.

While engaged the past week at their site near the river in Broughdale, the experts were unexpectedly handicapped by a scarcity of heavy pipe that could only be obtained at one point, and which necessarily caused a delay.

Although the commissioners have declined to make any detailed announcement of the findings to date, the diggers are bound by contract to do likewise until they submit a report, it has been admitted nevertheless that prospects are now excellent that London will soon have a supply of fresh water that will last for years to come.

With the present open weather it will be possible for the drillers to proceed with extensive boring directly they bring the necessary equipment from Ohio.

Most treacherous animals to deal with in captivity are said to be jaguars and black panthers.

SOCIETY FINDS WIDE FIELD FOR HUMANE WORK

Inspector Tustin Tells Many Distressing Incidents of Animals Suffering.

NEED LETHAL CHAMBER

Members Appoint E. H. McKone To Secure Data On Equipment.

Many distressing cases which have come to the notice of the London Humane Society inspector were recounted at the meeting of the society in the city hall, Thursday evening. Particular mention was made of one case where the inspector was called out at 12:15 a.m. to render first aid to a tiny fox terrier, which was found on a doorstep near the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets in great agony. The dog appeared to be well-cared for and fed but at the first touch of the inspector's hand, it fell dead. It had been frozen to death.

Members of the society were gratified to hear that citizens are making a general practice of calling the Humane Society for first aid for animals which are discovered in pain or under distressing conditions.

Want Lethal Chamber.

The fact that a lethal chamber is a dire necessity in the city was self-evident. The inspector's report showed that he had found it necessary to destroy 5 horses, 21 dogs and 14 cats during the past month. These figures are moderate compared with other monthly reports of cases which require drastic measures. In the space of a month, Inspector Tustin has inspected 428 horses, 216 cows, 72 cats of poultry, 32 dogs and 72 cats. Eleven warnings have been issued to men who are inclined to brutal treatment of their cattle, and one case of prosecution has occurred.

Edward McKone was appointed to find out whether or not a lethal chamber, similar to the one in operation in Toronto, could be installed in London.

Owing to great interest taken by school children in the Humane Society's work, a special effort is being made to get Mr. Craven of Boston, to deliver his illustrated lecture on "Animals in War and Peace," in one of the city schools, next Tuesday evening. Twenty-five children in Simcoe street school have expressed a desire to join the society, and so great is the interest taken by the Boy Scouts of St. Paul's Cathedral that they have asked for a special lecture, to be given them some time in the near future.

Junior Officers Attend. Officers and members of the Junior Humane Society were present at the meeting. Though their report was very short, the businesslike manner in which it was given, called forth great admiration from the more mature members of the association.

The following officers were appointed for the ensuing year: Honorary president, Dean Tucker; president, Col. Reid; first vice-president, Miss Jane Elliot; second vice-president, Wm. Vallis; secretary, Mrs. Brown; treasurer, Mrs. Clement; executive, Mrs. E. M. King, Miss M. E. Kibby, Miss Dunstan, Miss Fawkes, E. H. McKone, Miss Annie Elliot.

The financial statement for 1921 showed a balance of $417.07.

CITY GROCERS PREDICT WAR ON SUGAR MARKET

That a sugar war is in the offing is the opinion of certain local grocers, who can see something of the kind coming.

One large sugar company is trying to tie up grocers on contracts, guaranteeing a price of 25 cents per 100 pounds below the market value of sugar for the life of the contract.

G. B. Drake, grocer, states that it is a fact that one of the large companies is making such an offer, and while a counter-offer has not come from the other companies as yet, he expressed the opinion that there would be action along this line in the future.

Ample Ice Supply For City in Sight

ALTHOUGH the temperature has not this year dropped as low as in previous years there is apparently an abundance of ice. George Arthurs, of the Arthurs Ice Company, stated that present indications show an ample supply for London this year.

For the past two weeks the Arthurs Ice Company has been cutting ice on the first and second coasts, and have been rewarded with ice eight to thirteen inches thick. Mr. Arthurs does not believe that there will be no ice shortage anywhere in Canada in 1922.

CHOOSE NAME FOR NEW GOLF CLUB IN LONDON

Organization Will Be Known as "The Highland Golf Club."

TO ISSUE PROSPECTUS

Company With Capital of $100,000 Authorized Under Ontario Companies Act.

"The Highland Golf Club" will be the name of the new golf course to be laid out shortly in South London. A company has already been formed, incorporated under Ontario companies act, with an authorized capital of $100,000 to promote the project. Those behind the scheme will hold an organization meeting some time during next week, possibly on Wednesday, to elect the directors and appoint the officers of the club.

Shortly after the meeting a prospectus will be issued by the company laying bare the details of the plan as they propose to have it. The company has been fortunate in securing property admirable for the purpose, not only on account of its beauty and accessibility but for its splendid possibilities of golf, comprising as it does both high rolling land and small wooded swamps. It was on account of the nature of the location of the club that the name of "Highland" was thought by the promoters to be singularly appropriate.

The course contains over 100 acres, and is at the south end of the city, half a mile from the Ridout street car line. This position makes it most convenient, being easily and quickly reached from all parts of the city. There are situated on the property a large two-story brick house, which can be easily converted into a clubhouse, and two small houses, with barns, which are so situated that they will be most useful in the operation of the course.

COUNTY VOTES AGAINST CUT IN TAX FOR ROADS

Council Stands 31 to 8 in Favor of Three-Mill Rate.

BIBLE STUDY INDORSED

Western Fair Deputation Asks Grant For Calf-Feeding Competition.

Middlesex county councillors want Middlesex roads to be kept in proper repair, and this fact was amply demonstrated at the evening session on Thursday, when only eight councillors of the 31 present deemed that half a mill should be cut off the 3-mill rate recommended by the board of road directors.

Councillor Thomas Elliott moved that the rate be 2 mills, declaring that ratepayers' finances had been reduced, and that some people had a hard time to pay their taxes. In some places the taxes had not yet been all collected.

Councillor Alton Ryckman declared that it would be impossible to keep up 450 miles of road on a 2-mill rate. It was not a good policy to let the roads go back.

Opposes Reduction.
C. C. Henry agreed with Mr. Ryckman. It was a poor time to reduce road expenditures, and with the increased auto traffic it was almost impossible to keep the roads up to the standard.

Warden Cousins declared that the road between Belmont and Glanworth was so bad last fall that motorists had to detour through Elgin County.

George Lewis of Strathroy declared that he would like to hear what County Engineer Talbot had to say. He had great faith in the opinion and recommendations of the county engineer.

Mr. Talbot declared that even with the 3-mill rate there would probably be a small overdraft. The 3 mills would, with the government grant, finance operations to the extent of $217,000. To maintain the roads it would cost $152,000, while there were a number of bridges that needed attention. He gave a resume of the other costs in connection with the work.

The town of Parkhill will not get a grant of $3,000 towards building a road there, nor will Dorchester village receive any support in laying a pavement through the village.

Approves $9,000 Grant.
The councillors approved of a $9,000 grant towards the work of the suburban area commission.

Warden Cousins and Councillor A. C. Hodgins will represent the county on the Western Fair board.

No action was taken regarding the request of Hon. Manning Doherty to have an advisory board appointed to work in conjunction with the agricultural representative.

The Western Fair was granted $250 towards prizes for the calf and yearling competition for boys and girls.

As a result of a communication from Mrs. Joseph Marshall, County Solicitor J. C. Elliott, K. C., will represent the county at the performance in the Allen Theatre on Feb. 6, when the proceeds will be donated to the Children's Hospital.

County Engineer Charles Talbot and County Clerk John Stuart will represent Middlesex at the good roads convention in Toronto and the meeting of the county roads superintendents.

J. E. Harrison moved a vote of thanks to the mothers' pensions committee of the county, who had done such good work during the past year. Mr. Stuart, chairman of the committee, Seeks $2,000,000 in Bullion At Bottom of Sea!

TWO MILLION dollars in gold bullion!

That's the prize the trawler Ripple, equipped with the most scientific devices, is out on Virginia Capes seeking. It's the treasure that sank with the ship Merida ten years ago.

Aboard the trawler is Frank Criley, world's champion deep sea diver.

Before Criley goes down the Ripple will search the sea bottom with scientific devices.

One of these is a length of iron chain, insulated by a 10-foot section of cotton rope attached to a copper wire that leads to a delicate relay on the trawler's deck.

When the chain touches any conducting surface, as the iron hull of the treasure ship, it will cause a bell on the deck of the Ripple to ring.

tee, reported that 21 mothers received pensions, the county's share being $2,774.50.

Indorse Bible Study.
Hilderton Continuation School was made an examination center, and the resolution of the York county council regarding a simple form of Bible study in the schools was indorsed.

It was "deputation" afternoon, as far as the county council was concerned Thursday. A large deputation from the Western Fair board was present to ask for a grant of $250 towards the prizes for the calf competition at the fair.

Secretary A. M. Hunt declared that it was through such competitions that boys and girls became sincerely interested in farm work. The fair board hoped to be able to give $1,000 in prizes in the calf and yearling competition.

W. E. Grieve thought that Col. McEwen, in asking for a grant of $250, was "most modest." The money could not be spent in a better way.

E. S. Little, I. B. Whaley, J. H. Saunders and Capt. Tom Robson were the other speakers. All referred to the election of Warden Cousins, and stated that the council could not have chosen a better leader.

The warden told the deputation that he hoped it would get every cent and more. The matter was referred to the agricultural committee.

R. J. Stevenson of Thorndale asked a grant for the West Nisour Continuation School.

Humane Society Appeals.
Lieut.-Col. Eric Reed asked for a grant to the Humane Society. The representative had done much good work in the county during the last six months. The matter will be considered later by the council.

Eight applications for the position of caretaker of the county buildings and courthouses were referred to the council.

In connection with the request of the C. A. S. for the annual grant, County Clerk John Stuart, who represents the county on the board, stated that the cost of running the Children's Shelter last year was $13,474. The county had 26 children in the shelter, and the city only 15. The county had paid but $1,577, the balance coming from the city of London.

The city was beginning to feel that the county should pay more, and Mr. Stuart agreed that it was only right. G. Fearless was appointed trustee of the Lucan High School to complete the term of B. Langford, deceased.

M. Penn was appointed trustee of the Parkhill High School for three years.

Discuss Hospital Costs.
The total cost of hospital patients, whose maladies had caused them to be taken to the hospitals at the bounty of the county, amounted in 1921 to $5,115.50, as shown by the report of the hospital trustee, W. J. Laidlaw, to the council. The time of all the county patients sojourning in the hospitals totaled 3,513 days.

The next important item of business was the first jail report, which contained two noteworthy recommendations. The first was that no action be taken in the recommendation of Governor B. Dawson re the jail and the turnkeys' salaries, No. 2 was the recommendation that no action be taken concerning the account of R. G. Wilson for the time lost investigating the Murrell escape. This report received unanimous adoption.

Presentation of the petitioning committee evoked no discussion, and the report was accepted. The committee urged in the report that the recommendation of the Cornwall county council be indorsed regarding persons convicted under the O. T. A. and that the memorandum be filled and forwarded to the attorney-general.

As the final business dealt with at the afternoon meeting, the report of the road boards provoked, and promised to provoke, a considerable amount of discussion. Finally this matter was laid over until evening.

REPORT $10,000 FIRE.
ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 26.—The barn, stock and implements of D. E. Cord, near Vineland, were destroyed by fire today at a loss of $10,000, partially covered by insurance.

Current of four-tenths knot, an hour will move sand at the bottom of the sea.

SOLDIERS HOLD SKATING CARNIVAL

Royal Canadian Regiment Stage Fancy Dress Event At Wolseley Barracks.

The Royal Canadian Regiment held a fancy dress skating carnival at Wolseley Barracks rink on Thursday night.

More than 300 couples spent an enjoyable time on the ice, to music supplied by the regimental band.

The rink was decorated with red, white and blue bunting, and with the fancy dresses of the skaters presented a very striking sight.

The judges declared it was very hard to choose the winners of the prizes, as there were so many excellent costumes.

The ladies' prizes were won by Mrs. A. W. Leeson and Mrs. Bird, Bandman Richard and Pte. Turcotte carrying off the men's prizes.

Two prizes were won by L. Spence and Lulu Pushman.

The first prize for couples was won by Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell and the second prize by Mr. and Mrs. Warmington.

The judges were Major-Gen. Panel, Mrs. (Col.) C. H. Hill and Rev. Quinn.

Money prizes were given in every case and amounted to $65 in all.

ST. ANDREW'S RINK FORMALLY OPENED

Schedule Arranged To Provide For Enjoyment of All.

Thursday evening, about one hundred members of the young people's organizations and older members of the congregation attended the formal opening of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church rink, a fine sheet of ice in the rear of the church.

After a cup of coffee and doughnuts proved most acceptable, served by the Ladies' Aid, under the conership of Mrs. D. A. Curle.

The rink will be open each Thursday and Saturday evening to the congregation as a whole, a schedule having been arranged for the other days.

Monday afternoon, it is the special property of the Outlook Mission Band and King's Own for two hours; from 5-6 it belongs to the marian Keith Girls' Club; from 8-10 the St. Andrew's Young Men's Club have it as all their own. Tuesday it is reserved for the Trail Rangers from 2:30 to 4 o'clock and from 7-10 for the Tuxedo boys. Friday from 4 to 6 the Pathfinder girls are in possession, and the St. Andrew's Club again for the evening.

ASSETS OF INSURANCE COMPANY SHOW GAINS

The Continental Life Insurance Company's annual meeting was held Tuesday, when the president and general manager, George B. Woods, pointed out 1921 had been in many respects the best year the company had had. Insurance in force increased over $1,000,000, to the sum of $18,616,461. Assets rose to a new high mark of $3,357,755. A further increase in reserves was effected, bringing these to $2,936,244. The comparative figures show the steady growth of the company.

CITY FIRM ISSUES WRIT AGAINST WINDSOR MAN

Three county court writs have been filed at the courthouse.

Laurie Ross of Moseley, through his solicitor, J. C. Hegler of Ingersoll, is suing H. A. Ballard of the township of North Dorchester for $500 for defamation of character.

Johnson & Barbour, through Gibbons, Harper & Braden, are suing Joseph M. Soble of Windsor for $228.50, the price of goods sold and delivered.

ST. MARY'S REMAIN LEAGUE LEADERS

St. Peter's Lose to St. Martin's and Stay On Bottom Rung.

STANDING

Team	Won	Lost
St. Mary's	2	0
St. Peter's	1	2
St. Michael's	0	2

St. Mary's and St. Peter's locked horns in the first game of a double-decker at De LaSalle rink last night, the tallenders losing 2 to 1.

Although beaten, they showed a complete reversal of form from Monday night's game and had their share of the play throughout. Kilgallin, a new man, should be a comer.

The play was fast, close checking featured. B. Ashwell finally beat Dandeno with a wicked shot from the corner. B. Clarke scored three minutes later on a nice piece of stick handling.

In the second frame St. Peter's broke away and repeated, outskated the southerners. Conney scored on a dazzling end to end rush.

The third period of the play evenly divided, St. Martin's working their combination more effectively. E. Clarke combined with Barne and scored. Game ended 3 to 1. Line-up:

St. Peter's: Goal—J. Fethick; Defence—J. B. Ashwell, J. Devereux, Centre—B. Clarke, C. Conney, Wings—E. McGreener, Cook, Doan, McDonald, Dickson, W. Mahan, Referee—E. Slattery.

St. Mary's 3, ST. MICHAEL'S 1. The second game was also fast, the two teams being evenly matched. St. Mary's had the confidence and worked well together. McDowell took a pass from a high shot from right wing. With minutes of play. In the second period Joe Burns made a lone rush and scored on a high shot from right wing. With the score a tie St. Mike's took on new life, but the leaders would not be denied. Burns beat Burns on a shot from close in. Period ended 2 to 1.

In the third period the pace grew faster, with the whole St. Mike's team on the attack, but the yellow and black settled down to combination. Donohue combined with Joe Murray for the final score.

The line-up: St. Mary's: Goal—Jas. Burns, Gracey, Defence—B. Wand, Murray, M. Ryan, McDowell, Centre—R. McKenough, Ferris, Wing—Joe Burns, Donohue, Fitzmaurice, M. Pirrie, Referee—E. Slattery.

LOUGHEED'S RETURN SWITCHES LINE

Alerts Will Take No Chances Against Saints Tonight.

The London Alerts will be switched around again tonight, as Lougheed will be back after two weeks illness, and as this is the line on which dependence will have to be placed the rest of the journey, what the various combinations do against St. Thomas out at the Lyle street rink will decide which one will be regularly used. It will probably be found that Gilles will be switched between the defence and forwards, and that Conney will be used to spell off Burns.

The Alerts are not going to take any chances with the Saints, as in most of their games this year the men from the Railway City have had the breaks against them. Their showing in Ingersoll in their last game showed this clearly enough.

Arthur's wrist is still in splints, and his return is a matter of time, though he ought to be available for the games needed to break the three-cornered tie in prospect for the group. Charles Lightfoot of Stratford has been ordered to handle tonight's game.

A Better Way Than Diets and Exercise For Reducing
Diets and exercise are sometimes helpful for reducing. But they are inconvenient and unpleasant, and usually produce only a temporary result. The too, they are merely corrective measures. A better way is to aid the digestive organs to turn food into muscle, bone, and sinew, and not into corpulent tissue. This method allows you to eat many kinds of food which others eat and does not require strenuous exercise.

Thousands have found that Marmola Tablets give relief from obesity in just this way. Marmola Tablets are made from the same formula as the famous Marmola Prescription. If taken after meals and at bedtime, they retard the development of fat by helping the digestive system to obtain full nutrition from food. When the accumulation of fat is checked, reduction to normal, healthy weight soon follows.

All good drug stores the world over sell Marmola Tablets at one dollar per box. Ask your druggist for them, or order them direct and they will be sent in plain wrapper, postpaid.

"Y" QUINTET WINS FROM BRANTFORD

BRANTFORD, Jan. 26.—London O. B. A. intermediates won from Brantford in a regular scheduled basketball game here tonight. The score was 23 to 12.

The visitors were heavier, and used their weight to advantage, making their way through to a roughshod victory. It was decidedly rough in spots, and Referee Bert McKay of Hamilton was kept busy, more particularly in the second half. At half-time the score was 15 to 5. The teams:

London—Gilles and Duffield, forwards; Lightfoot, center; Reid and Johnston, guards; Jackson and Douglas, spares.

Brantford—Buckborough and Lambert, forwards; Hurley, center; Whitaker and Siemin, guards; Jeffries, spare.

AGED KITCHENER MAN DIES.
KITCHENER, Jan. 26.—Mr. Fredrick Rogers, for many years a well-known piano tuner of this city, died at his home here today following a brief illness. He was 72 years old, and was born at Birmingham, England. Mr. Rogers had resided here about 15 years. He is survived by a wife and two daughters.

Elgin Council Votes $75,000 To Be Spent On Roads During Year

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 26.—Estimates to cover expenditures on the county roads during the ensuing year, amounting in all to $75,000, were passed at Thursday's session of the Elgin County council. This amount, requested by the good roads committee, was divided as follows: Construction, $20,000; maintenance, $35,000; machinery, $5,000; gravel, $5,000; bridges and culverts, $10,000. If in the June session the committee finds that additional money to carry on the road work is needed, it will request an additional grant. In addition to the amount for the good roads, estimates for $12,000 for the designated suburban area roads of 1922 were passed.

The council granted the warden power to borrow $200,000 to cover the current expenses of the year, at the request of the finance committee. All requests for grants, of which there were a large number, will be referred to a special committee.

The council will make still another appeal to the Dominion government for assistance in repairing or replacing the present stationary bridge at Port Stanley, which it is alleged has been in dire need of repairing for several years.

Three years ago the county council voted the sum of $20,000 towards the replacing of the present structure with a swing or lift bridge, provided the federal government would assume the construction of the work. The federal government failed to act, but it is quite likely that the council will renew the offer.

The council voted in favor of co-operating with the county council of Perth in petitioning the provincial government to assume the entire costs of constructing and maintaining the provincial highway systems and relieve the municipalities of the 20 per cent. costs for which they are liable under the present scheme. The resolution was passed following a lively discussion, the petitions and legislation committee having brought in a recommendation "that no action be taken." The council was divided about eight to thirteen on the matter.

A delegation consisting of County Solicitor C. St. Clair Leitch, K. C. W. A. Galbraith, Dunwich, and James Bruce, Dutton, chief of the Canadian Society, waited on the council Thursday morning and made application for a grant to the different municipalities contemplating war memorials of various forms in proportion to the estimated cost of each.

The members of the delegation, while appealing for the grant, drew special attention to the village of Dutton which has voted $18,000 toward the erection of a community hall under the Ontario government community hall scheme, but requires $7,500 to complete the purchase of the memorial park and a connection with the hall, which is a connection with the provincial act. The delegation suggested that Dutton's share of the requested grant be $7,500.

A strong appeal for co-operation on the part of the Elgin County Council in eradicating the scrub hells from the county was voiced Thursday morning by C. R. Buchanan, the provincial agricultural representative; R. A. Penhale, president of the Elgin County Board of Trade, and W. Gardhouse, a lecturer at the Elgin winter course. Culture now in progress here, when they attended the council session in a body.

OPEN FIGHT FOR KINGSTON SEAT

KINGSTON, Jan. 26.—W. F. Nickle, K. C., Conservative, and R. F. Elliott, Liberal, were nominated today for the vacancy in the Legislature caused by the resignation of Brig.-Gen. Ross to enter the federal election. Voting in the by-election takes place on Feb. 6.

Mr. Nickle referred to the statement that he had been too independent in the past. "Constituted as I am," said Mr. Nickle, "and being of the temperament that I am, it has been impossible for me to be led about and on a matter of principle I must be allowed to cast my vote for what I think is right and in the best interests of the community. If you don't want that kind of a man, then don't vote for me."

FORMER ALDERMAN OF GALT DIES IN HAMILTON

GALT, Jan. 26.—The death took place early this morning at the Hamilton General Hospital, to which he had been confined for the past two weeks of George Hancock, Sr., one of Galt's best known citizens. He was in his 69th year, and was born in the village of Sheffield, but had lived here for 52 years. For a number of years he was in the dray business, and, selling it, entered the contracting business in partnership with G. H. Thomas. He retired about five years ago. He had served in the council as an alderman, and was a lover of sports, especially curling, and was one of the original shareholders of the Galt rink. He also was a prominent lodge man, a member of the Masonic Order, I.O.O.F., I.O.E. and S.O.E. A widow, four sons and one daughter survive, namely, J. H. and George, city; F. F., of Detroit; W. N., of Toronto, and Mrs. (Rev.) H. Storey, of Port Huron.

TORONTO PLANS FARMERS' CLASS

TORONTO, Jan. 26.—The farmers of the province will have another opportunity to taste the higher instruction meted out by the University of Toronto, when the second short courses for farmers begins on Feb. 6. This time there will be two courses, one for those who took the course last year, and one for those who are entering for the first time. The university is making preparations for a large enrollment, 114 having registered to date.

On your next trip to Ottawa travel "The National Way." The train service of the Canadian National Railways between the "Queen City" and the capital is unexcelled. The "Capital City" leaves Toronto 12:01 noon, arriving Ottawa 7:15 p.m., daily except Sunday. Excellent dining and parlor car service on this train. The night "Ottawa Express" leaves Toronto 11:10 p.m. daily, arriving at Ottawa 7:45 a.m. Standard sleeping and club compartment cars, all-steel equipment, are operated on this train. Close connection is made with both these trains for Montreal and Quebec.

January 28 to February 4, is Canadian National Winter Carnival Week at Ottawa.

Standard Drug Stores ARE EVER YOUR ONE BEST BET

In war and in peace, in prosperity and in depression we have steadfastly endeavored to uphold our well-known slogan to "Save You Money."

During the period of inflation of value, we, by booking ahead and stocking heavy, endeavored as far as lay within our power to protect you against higher prices. We passed on to you the benefit of our buying. During the last year, with a declining market, our aim was to ever be first in giving you the benefit of these reductions. That this is still our aim is well pronounced by the exceptional low prices you will find among this big list of

FORMER ENSIGN GIVEN FAREWELL RECEPTION

INGERSOLL, Jan. 26.—Many friends of J. A. Pace, former ensign of the local corps of the Salvation Army, gathered in the Baptist Church tonight at a farewell service. Mr. Pace, who recently joined the Baptist Church, has decided to enter the ministry, and has accepted a call from the Baptist Church at Cannington, where he preached on Sunday last. He will leave for Cannington tomorrow to begin his pastorate. During the meeting tonight, Mr. Pace received a number of articles from members of the congregation and others.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HAS TWO CALLS THURSDAY

Rags around the furnace plate in the home of J. K. McDermid, 508 William street, caused a blaze sufficient to bring the fire department to the scene Thursday night at 9:17 o'clock. No damage was reported. In the afternoon at 1:45 o'clock the department also had a run to 20 Edward street, the residence of W. Coles, when a fire of unknown origin partially destroyed sections of the garret, kitchen and roof. About half the land area of Japan is forest.

Judge Duncan Ross.
DUNCAN C. ROSS, K.C., of Strathroy has been appointed Judge of the county court of the county of Elgin, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge ERMA-TTER.
Judge Ross possesses all the qualifications necessary to make a first class judge. He has a good natural disposition, strong common sense, a long experience in practice, and a firm hand knowledge of human nature. As a student he took high honors at Toronto University. These qualifications have been rounded out by several years experience both in the Ontario Legislature and the House of Commons at Ottawa.
Judge Ross' appointment will receive universal approval. The County of Elgin is one of the best in Canada. Port Stanley, in the summer, is the joint home of the people of Elgin and Middlesex, Loudon and St. Thomas joining in making Port Stanley one of the best summer resorts in Canada.
The Middlesex Bar adds another to the long list of appointments to the bench from among its members.
A couple of days ago THE ADVERTISER referred to the fact that the Bar of Middlesex was beginning to increase in numbers. We gave the list of appointments by the bench, but omitted the name of JUDGE ALEX-ANDER D. HARRY of Brantford. JUDGE
HARRY spent his student days in London, and practiced in the firm of Jarvis & HARRY for several years. In those days he was an excellent stump speaker and a very popular member of the Bar.

Canada's Big Chance.
FROM OTTAWA comes a little book issued under the authority of the "Honorary Advisory Council for Scientific and Industrial Research." Handicapped as it is by that title, the book gets right down to business and talks.
In brief: Canada has a chance to go out and meet the competition of the world, having in mind the wonderful resources of the Dominion, but what is the use of these resources if we do not know better than any other nation how to make the very best use of them?
The man who is going to win in the industrial race is the man who has the most knowledge of the question in hand.
To get down to business—not theories—what does Canada want to know that would justify the expenditure of a good many hundreds of thousands of dollars?
If the stake is big enough, then the money is wisely spent—if not,
let's quit now.
Here are some of Canada's right-now problems, the solution or non-solution of which draws the line between progress and stagnation:
Who knows the secret of exterminating wheat rust? No one. Yet by organized and perhaps long sustained research it can be discovered and meantime lack of this knowledge costs Canada and her farmers millions of dollars per year.
What should a black fox eat?
How can this precious little fur-bearing be protected from the ravages of worms? In the answer lie millions of dollars for Canada, and important steps towards the solution of the question have already been taken.
What use can we make of our tremendous supply of Helium? It was greatly needed during the war as a gas for filling balloons. It will not burn—and at war-time prices Canada is wasting $50,000,000 worth every day of the week.
It is contained in our natural gas and escapes unused into the air.
Can we find another use for Helium besides the filling of balloons? Here is enough money to wipe off our railway deficit.
How can Canada be put into a position to meet its own heavy and increasing demands for fuel?
How can the great supplies of lignite in the west and of peat all over Canada be utilized for this purpose?
What practical way can be found at developing and using the enormous quantities of low grade iron ores that exist in Canada?
What can be done with our straw?
What can be done with our sawmill waste?
What should be done with our liquor from sulphite mills?
What about making artificial fertilizers by the use of our water-powers?
The solution of these questions has everything to do with the future of Canada. They must be solved through a collective agency, backed by collective funds.
The work of the Research Council is not spectacular, neither does it make a strong appeal to popular imagination. When the real merit of the undertaking is realized it is hard to see what explanation can be made for holding back sympathy or support.

Cutting At Ottawa.
MY move HON. W. S. FRIELING is prepared to make for simplifying the system of administration in Canada and for making it less costly from a financial point of view is bound to be favorably received.
If any man or woman is working in a government department and performing a useful service, in this way giving value for value received —the government has no reason to complain.
The trouble is that there is a very widespread impression that many of the government departments are over-manned.
In some cases this has gone past the point of an impression, because the GRIFFENHAGEN commission told the MEIGHEN government there was need for revision, and showed how it should be done. The MEIGHEN ministry knew what it should do, but failed to do it, and as a result the country dealt with the case.
The King government has no easy task before it in bringing efficiency out of the mess it inherited. There are no less than 45 various sorts of commissions, and commissions cost money, and nearly always duplicate work that could be, or is being done by a regular government department.
It is not expected that Mr. FRIEL-ING can go in there in a few weeks and weed the drones out of the civil service, and all at once announce that things are down on the basis of efficiency.
It has taken several years to pile up the expensive machine now in operation at Ottawa, and it can hardly be stripped of its surplus weight in a few weeks.

LITTLE 'TISERS
One wag pens: United we stand —divided we pay alimony.
One way to get along—always laugh heartily when the boss tells a joke.
Funny, when a man gets married he has two hands to drive an automobile.
People born in January, says an astrologer, are leaders. Having a month's start, they ought to be.
Ex-kaiser is slated to marry a rich widow. Bill might just as well have taken his place in the front line trenches.
A scientist finds women were pouting in the Middle Ages. And right now pouting in the middle ages are still painting.
White River is having its annual tunings in the zero league. At last reports it was 43 below with four poles to hear from.
A strong man has arrived in the States, but is grieved because he cannot do his favorite stunt, viz.:
Lift nine barrels of beer at once.
We always knew some person would do it. Now the Kitchener Record refers to the Stratford Beacon as the Stratford Bacon. Side or back?
One year ago a New York man got on the street car without money and a young lady paid his way. They were married this week, and they won't be able to say she's marrying him for his money.
Somebody was complaining that members of parliament only work three or four months a year. And, after looking at the country's expense account, we're powerful glad they called it a year's work then and quit.
There is no better citizen than the employer who, in defating wages, keeps in mind that the woman wage-earner has a more difficult time than a man, and that she must be given a safe margin. "Minimum" is the danger-point.
Mobs in United States killed 63 people in 1921. Four were burned

view is bound to be favorably received.

alive, the rest were lynchings. Two women were victims, and six of the men were whites. And yet U. S. contributes a pretty fair sum each year for foreign missions.
The Y. W. C. A. in Brooklyn needs cash, and a levy of 10 cents is made on every male visitor. No charge has yet been made on the thrifty young chap who meets his girl on the corner and afterwards says goodnight to her in the front porch.
Must be something wrong around the office of the Brantford Exportior. Behold this touch of sackcloth and ashes:
"The men who are willing to carry you on their shoulders today are ready to trample you under their feet tomorrow."
The habit seems to be gaining ground in Canada of using a rubber stamp in some cases to sign letters.
No matter how carefully this is handled it can't get by. Even the signature of a man's secretary lacks the close personal touch of a letter signed by the man himself. And after all it doesn't take so very long to answer a lot of letters.
"The city of London which is selling commission-built houses at less than cost might ship a few down to this growing municipality. No trouble here to fill them all."—St. Catharines Standard.
Now, look here, that's just where the trouble comes in. A lot of folks have the idea that these houses wouldn't stand the rumpus of being shipped out of town.
The papers have surely had their round out of AGNES McPHAIL, since she was elected to parliament. First it was as to whether or not she would wear a hat in the House, then what sort of hat. Now the latest is that she'll wear a serge dress two years old. Rubbish! A woman who knew enough to get elected will probably know enough to dress in keeping with the occasion.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY
TODAY'S word is DAWDLE.
It's pronounced—with accent on the first syllable.
It means—to idle, to loiter, to waste time.
It comes from—old English, to toddle like a child.
Companion word—dawdler.
It's used like this—"Instead of working, the workmen dawdled about all day."
READ YOUR CHARACTER
(By Digby Phillips.)
NO. 104—PERSUADING THE FAT MAN.
You will find that, making allowances for the difference in sex, the methods which are efficacious in influencing the fat man are pretty much the same as those which affect the fat woman.
But remember that when you speak of a "fat" man or woman in discussing character reading, you do not necessarily mean a person who actually is fat. You are referring to the type of mind which is most generally associated with fat people, and which always is associated with roundness of face and a tendency toward roundness of figure, even when the person is not fat.
Another name for this type of temperament is "vital."
The vital man or woman is the one whose tendency is to get all the profit and enjoyment out of life that there is, both physical and mental. He is, in a sense, a compromise between the man who is dominantly physical and active and the one who is dominantly mental and ascetic. This compromise produces a set of characteristics so different from either of the others as to constitute a complete and definite type.
It is the type of the judge, of the weigher, of the practical profit gauger.
If you want to persuade a "fat" or "vital" man in a business deal of any sort, show him the profits, and prove them to him. If it's not a business deal and the profits can't be measured in dollars and cents, show them to him in terms of his interests whatever they are.
And if you love a "vital" girl, don't rely upon your noble thoughts alone,

or her admiration of your brain, or
of your physical prowess. Don't
"spout" to her on "highbrow" subjects, or think that moonlight sails or tramping her through the country are going to win her. Prove your affection to her by your thoughtfulness, consideration and generosity. If possible, make a sacrifice for her.

NOAH'S POETRY
BEIN' A DIPLOMAT.
I used to have an awful time when plumbers came unto my shack, and row and scrap about the bill, while anger chased along my back.
I always knew for certain then their bill was costin' me too much,
and that they didn't have no call for taxin' me with such and such.
In later years I've changed my ways, the diplomatic smile I wear, I've noted how these things are done and chalked them on the wall with care.
I went unto my plumber friend who'd pitched them lengthy bills at me, and asked him if he'd bend a bit and come unto our hut for tea.
And there we fed that bird on hash, and gave him sixteen cuts of pie, he simply smiled and ate our chuck, and never asked us when nor why.
Then afterward I steered him out and took him on a little trip, and in the kitchen halted where the tap had sprung a little drip.
I showed him through the cellar, too, at things down there we had a peek, and halted also at the spot where pipes were boasting of a leak.
There wasn't nothin' he could do when all fed up to beat the band, but peel his jacket from his back and say to me he'd lend a hand.
I'm planning to extend my list to tailors and cobblers, too—I find, by heck, it pays me well to join the diplomatic crew.
—NOAH.

coat on the woman sitting in front of you this morning?
Husband—E-oh—no. Afraid I was doing most of the time.
Wife—Um. A lot of good the service did you.

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL.
Milk Has Values Other Foods Can't Give SCIENCE has long known the value of milk as a food, but it is only in recent years that it has been learned that milk contains health-giving vita-mines that cannot be found all together in any other food. It is for this reason that dietiti-cians are advising the use of milk in cooking and preparing foods. It is not only to be used as a drink. There are many easily prepared combinations in which milk and cream may be easily used.
Nutrition clinics are advising that children be given a quart of milk to drink each day. Adults should have at least a pint daily.
Then it is possible through the use of milk to strengthen the body, and
or her admiration of your brain, or
of your physical prowess. Don't
"spout" to her on "highbrow" subjects, or think that moonlight sails or
tramping her through the country are going to win her. Prove your affection
to her by your thoughtfulness, consideration and generosity. If possible,

Rundle's None-Such Liniment for Rheumatism Aches and Pains At Your Dealer's

What is YOUR Condition?

Ill-health is no one's fault but your own. "Pep energy, the spirit to be up and doing—all follow in the footsteps of good health. Loss of weight, loss of appetite, grouchy spirit, loss of energy, ambition and nerve force, as well as dyspepsia, is man's nemesis. They make men and women feel homeless, despairing, despondent and blue, struggling and rebelling against fate—a failure in their chosen work. Few people realize the terrible agony caused by the depletion of nerve force and poor blood. Many suffer its tortures. But thousands of people are escaping its terrors, are restored to the unlimited joys of youthful health by REDMAC, the great tonic of herbs, roots and bark. Both a blood and nerve force, it feeds strength to your body and brain cells, restoring these forces to you like electricity to a storage battery. Positive in its effect, proven in its benefits—it is acclaimed throughout all Canada as a boon to men and women. Make yourself fit to take your rightful place in life's work, be a weakling no longer, right this moment GO and secure a bottle of REDMAC. In your city it is sold only by Taylor's Drug Store, 390 Richmond street.

FAVORS LOWER INSURANCE ON ALL DWELLINGS

Select Committee of Legislature Believes Strong Action Is Warranted.

ASK UNDERWRITER'S VIEW

Sees Great Discrepancy Between Ontario Costs and That of New York.

TORONTO, Jan. 26.—Unless the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association can show good ground why the select committee of the Ontario Legislature respecting insurance should modify its views, that committee will make very strong representations to the House when it meets next month.

The recommendations that the committee is unanimously disposed to make are as follows:

That there should be an immediate substantial reduction in the rates fixed by the fire underwriters for the insurance of private dwellings and their furniture contents.

That mutual companies should be admitted to membership in the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association.

That insurance maps and plans should be made available to un-associated companies at a reasonable price.

That the commissions paid to fire insurance agents are too high and are inequitable, and should be regulated by the associated companies if action is not to be forced on the Legislature.

On instruction from the committee, Attorney-General Raney, the chairman, is giving the fire underwriters the opportunity to say why the committee should not report as above. The committee wants the answer to be in writing.

The committee intimates to the underwriters, through J. A. Robertson, their secretary-treasurer, that it has been impressed by the information submitted by the superintendent of insurance, showing the great discrepancy in cost of insurance of private dwellings and their furniture contents between Ontario cities and towns and the cities and towns of New York state, and in particular between Toronto and Buffalo. The committee desires the associated companies to submit details of actual experience of premium income and losses paid on private dwellings and their furniture contents in Ontario towns and cities, in order to enable the committee to form an opinion as to whether the rates at present charged by associated companies are justified by the circumstances.

The committee desires to know the views of the association as to whether or not it might reasonably be required that all licensed insurers undertaking fire insurance in Ontario should be required to keep a record of premium income and losses experienced according to a uniform minimum classification to be determined by the department of insurance in conference with insurance company representatives and that such records should be available to the Legislature and the government if and when required.

RE-ELECT DEAN TUCKER AS HEAD

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—The three-day annual meeting of the Social Service Council of Canada was brought to a close this afternoon, Dean L. Norman Tucker, of London, Ont., and Dr. J. G. Shearer being re-elected president and general secretary, respectively.

Resolutions respecting mothers allowances, prohibition and gambling were passed.

All provincial governments should collaborate on matters of administration to make the standard of mothers' allowances uniform throughout the Dominion, it was urged.

Regarding gambling, it was claimed the government protected race-track betting, which was deprecated.

REJECT SHORTER WORKING PERIOD

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 26.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—Reuters' Sydney, N.S.W., correspondent cables that the coal miners there a majority of 4 to 1 have rejected a proposal to limit the working fortnight to nine days instead of eleven. When the proposal was advanced last autumn the mine owners contended that its adoption would bring disaster upon the coal mining industry of Australia.

Of 1,500,000 homes destroyed in Poland during the war, about 600,000 have been rebuilt.

Labels Conditions in Schools Of Elgin County As 'Miserable'

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 26.—J. A. McRae of Alborough, president of the Elgin County Public School Trustees' Association, along with all other officers of that organization, was re-elected unanimously for the ensuing year at the final meeting of the annual convention Thursday.

Delegates to Toronto, representing the various municipalities were selected as follows: Aldborough, J. R. McRae; Dunwich, Inglis Ripley; Southwold, R. Ferguson; Yarmouth, T. D. White; Malahide, C. W. Wonnacott; Bayham, Ira Stilwell; South Dorchester, J. A. Moore; Rodney, D. M. Campbell; West Lorne, Alex. Patton; Dutton, Rev. Mr. Pollock; Port Stanley, W. B. Hocken; Aylmer, E. Smith; Springfield, Tyler Leeson; Vienna, Charles Hazen.

Public schools of Elgin County in regard to accommodations and fittings were criticized unmercifully by Inspector J. A. Taylor of St. Thomas. In opening his address, Mr. Taylor said he wondered how much of the juvenile crime, about which so much has been said, was born in "some of those 'miserable' buildings called schools."

He claimed that the walls of some of the schools were filthy. He had begged, beseeched and prayed trustees to remedy conditions, but conditions were just the same today as in the past.

Mr. Taylor expressed the hope that he could live long enough to see the establishment of the consolidated schools, which he believed would prove a remedy to such conditions. One of the greatest needs of the schools was a janitor to keep things clean and sanitary.

He condemned the lighting of certain schools, stating that there were eight eye-specialists in London who were getting rich looking after the eyes of Elgin and Middlesex children. The seats also came in for the inspector's condemnation, suggesting that the Humane Society pay a visit of inspection, and he declared that while the schools were asked to subscribe money for a sanatorium, the schools themselves were creating future patients.

He also stressed the need of water and other conveniences, being provided indoors, declaring that much money was wasted because children caught colds and contract illnesses which kept them away from school.

President McRae stated that in his opinion no one not yet 21 years of age, should be granted a teaching certificate. In all excepting a few instances, he said it would be found that the mental development of the younger teachers was not equal to the task. It would be a much safer course, he said, if we should wait until all candidates were mature in age.

The value of religious training in schools was the subject of an address by Rev. W. F. Gaetz of this city. Mr. Gaetz expressed doubt whether the present system of education really was efficient.

VICTORIAN ORDER GETS NIGHT NURSE

May Attend Contagious Cases, Says Dominion Superintendent.

With a view to giving more efficient district nursing service to the community, and in order to relieve the nursing staff in a measure of the very heavy burden that has been resting upon it, the London branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses is taking steps to secure another Victorian Order nurse at once. One nurse, in consequence, will be available for night duty alone.

This step was unanimously decided upon by the executive board at the annual meeting held on Thursday afternoon in the home of the president, Miss Harris, "Edison House," when the Dominion superintendent, Mrs. Hannington, of Ottawa, was present to give advice, and elucidate any points in connection with the work not clearly understood.

The present staff of nurses, under the supervision of Miss Mabelle Symington, who came to the city from Winnipeg in October, has been working frequently twelve or thirteen hours a day, doing bedside nursing, and giving public health instruction in the homes, and also instruction to the public health students of the Western University taking field work with the Victorian Order.

The funds in sight of the order will not permit of such extension, so it was decided to dispose of a reserve in the shape of a $2,000 bond, the money, as far as needed, to be applied to the proposed development.

Dr. H. W. Hill, dean of the faculty of public health of the university, who was present, pointed out that the small cost of visits of the V. O. N. nurse, $1.00 would provide about 2,000 extra visits.

Mrs. Hannington strongly commended both the decision to engage in extra nurse, and to dispose of the bond. An endorsement, she declared, however small, was a handicap when it came to asking for money to carry on a cause, however worthy. The engaging of an extra nurse would mean that the nurses present on duty can give more time to their cases, and not be obliged to go on duty in the mornings fagged out and unfit for service, owing to night calls.

The order, further, she declared, had always given night, as well as day service, and should be prepared

Her definition of district nursing was borrowed from Florence Nightingale, "nursing service to the patient, home, family and district," involving the thorough knowledge of public health technique and social service methods, as well as the high standard of trained nursing skill, which is the equipment of the Victorian Order nurse.

Touching upon the maternity nursing side of the work, Mrs. Hannington voiced the view that the greatest national service that can be rendered is to see that Canadian mothers have every care in the bringing of children into the world.

Take Radical Step.
One of the many advance steps taken at the annual meeting was the decision, on motion of Mrs. J. S. Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in; about a teaspoonful of Mulsified is that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh-looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure you get Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.—Advt.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

A. Y. P. A. OUTING.

A much-enjoyed event of this week for the members of Trinity Church, Chelsea Green, A. Y. P. A., was a "bus party" to the home of Mrs. W. H. Oliver in Thamesford. The drive proved most pleasant, notwithstanding the cold, and a very warm welcome awaited the guests at the home of the hostess. At the close of the evening, Mr. Bruce Clarke, president of the A. Y. P. A., expressed the thanks of the society to Mrs. Oliver, Rev. J. Hale, rector, presenting her with a beautiful bouquet.

GIVES MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM.
F. Linforth Willgoose is arranging the program for the next fortnightly recital of the Women's Music Club, to be held at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening, Feb. 2, in the Normal School. He will give violin to thus co-operate with the doctors of the city.

Same As Doctors.

"Should the Victorian Order of Nurses look after contagious cases?" was a question that was raised by a member of the board.

"Why not, if there is no one else to nurse them?" was the answer of Mrs. Hannington. "Unless there is something in the city's health regulations to prevent."

Dr. Hill was authority for the statement that there is no such restraint imposed by the city, notwithstanding the fact that nursing of patients suffering from contagious diseases has been against the policy of the local branch, from the time of its organization nineteen years ago. The idea was that to do so might endanger other cases, particularly the maternity, which make up a large part of the work of the V. O. N. nurses.

"That was the idea originally as specifically stated in the royal charter," said the Dominion superintendent, "but it has been discontinued long ago." Take a small town, for instance, where there was a case of scarlet fever, with no one to nurse it skillfully but the Victorian Order district nurse. Certainly it would be the duty of the nurse to take that case. The visiting nurse can go into cases of contagious diseases just in the same way as the visiting doctor. If her technique is good there is no more danger of her carrying disease from one patient to another than there is of a doctor carrying disease. If her technique is not equal to this emergency then it is a scandal.

With regard to the place of the Victorian Order activities in London, where public health is what she termed "highly specialized," Mrs. Hannington's ruling was: "The work of the Victorian Order here is an intensive piece of district nursing."

Her definition of district nursing was borrowed from Florence Nightingale, "nursing service to the patient, home, family and district," involving the thorough knowledge of public health technique and social service methods, as well as the high standard of trained nursing skill, which is the equipment of the Victorian Order nurse.

AID JEWISH DISTRESS.

In order to raise money to aid needy and destitute among Jewish people in the city, a benefit concert has been planned for Sunday evening next by the local branch of the Jewish Immigration Aid Society. Outstanding features of the concert will be musical tableaux, arranged by Miss Topley-Thomas, depicting the life of Esther, Mr. A. D. Jordan providing the musical accompaniment, and also other numbers. Yiddish folk songs will be sung by a choir of girls; Miss Rhea Harris is singing a group of Hebrew selections, and others who are assisting are Mrs. Frederick Schofield, soprano; Carmen Leman, baritone, and Frank Kennedy, violin.

Niven, to do away with honorary patrons and patronesses and the advisory board, and to have only an active board, made up of people really interested in the work of the order, who will attend the quarterly meetings.

A resolution of sorrow over the death of a valued member of the board, Miss Norah Bullen, was passed by a standing vote.

Mrs. F. F. Harper, who has resigned from the office of treasurer after nineteen years of service, was made one of the vice-presidents. Mr. A. H. Graydon will be asked to act as honorary solicitor to fill the place made vacant by the death of Mr. F. Harper.

The following were named for the board: Mesdames Ronald Harris, E. B. Smith, R. W. Puddicombe, Sherwood Fox, Moorehouse, Cl. T. Campbell, F. P. Taylor, R. M. Graham, A. C. Joseph, J. S. Ashplant, A. E. Miller, B. McCann, Wainwright, W. D. J. Jarvis, A. E. Whitman, Miss MacKlin, Miss Martin, Miss Annie Macbeth, Dr. Alice Jameson, Miss Hill, Miss Isabel C. Armstrong, Dean Sherwood Fox, Dr. Paul McKibben, dean of the Medical Faculty of the Western University; Dr. H. W. Hill, Dr. F. W. Hughes, president of the Western Ontario Medical Academy; Dr. W. J. Tillmann and Dr. Tew.

A pleasant little interlude was enjoyed in the meeting, when the hostess served afternoon tea from a table inviting with spring flowers.

GIVE OYSTER SUPPER.

In order to raise money for a community hall fund, the members of the Maple Leaf branch of the Women's Institute gave an oyster supper this week in the Bunyan Baptist Church.

Supper was served in the basement, and, in addition to the oysters, tea, coffee, cakes and pies were served in abundance. The program which followed was given on the main floor of the church. Rev. Mr. Rathby acting as chairman. Quartets by the Miller brothers, solos by Mr. Isaac Miller, readings by Mrs. S. Menzies, Miss V. Strangeway and Miss H. Ellnor, and numbers by a string trio constituted a most enjoyable entertainment.

The institute is planning to present a play the latter part of February to raise more for the community hall fund.

KINTORE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The Kintore branch of the Women's Institute, at the January meeting, appointed a committee composed of Mesdames Chalmers, Oliver and Armstrong, to see about using money left from the Red Cross for buying goods to make up for the War Memorial Children's Hospital. Another committee, consisting of Mrs. R. A. McDonald, Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. Borland, will see about helping the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. An address on "Educational Progressiveness" was given by Rev. Mr. Butt, Rev. Dr. McDonald also giving a short talk. A solo was sung by Mr. Butt, Mrs. P. Thornton delighting with a piano solo. The new president, Mrs. McDonald, was in the chair.

BY MARIAN HALE.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—French brocade upon which exquisitely toned and figured women pose gracefully is quite the newest material for purses. The dim backgrounds against which these lovely figures move are usually landscapes dotted with high-turreted castles. The Nouveaute purse in the center is of beautifully colored silk, from which a single woven band extends. The latter has an adjustable clasp so that the purse can be carried on the arm.

Quite an unusual model is the bag which is framed in ebony and clasps with a dragon. The beading is a queer old Chinese design done in soft colors.

Occasionally one sees lovely old-numbers, and others taking part are Misses Edythe Vann, soprano; Miss Nettle Jones, contralto; and Miss Laura Kirkwood, pianist.

Yiddish folk songs will be sung by a choir of girls; Miss Rhea Harris is singing a group of Hebrew selections, and others who are assisting are Mrs. Frederick Schofield, soprano; Carmen Leman, baritone, and Frank Kennedy, violin.

Niven, to do away with honorary patrons and patronesses and the advisory board, and to have only an active board, made up of people really interested in the work of the order, who will attend the quarterly meetings.

A resolution of sorrow over the death of a valued member of the board, Miss Norah Bullen, was passed by a standing vote.

Mrs. F. F. Harper, who has resigned from the office of treasurer after nineteen years of service, was made one of the vice-presidents. Mr. A. H. Graydon will be asked to act as honorary solicitor to fill the place made vacant by the death of Mr. F. Harper.

The following were named for the board: Mesdames Ronald Harris, E. B. Smith, R. W. Puddicombe, Sherwood Fox, Moorehouse, Cl. T. Campbell, F. P. Taylor, R. M. Graham, A. C. Joseph, J. S. Ashplant, A. E. Miller, B. McCann, Wainwright, W. D. J. Jarvis, A. E. Whitman, Miss MacKlin, Miss Martin, Miss Annie Macbeth, Dr. Alice Jameson, Miss Hill, Miss Isabel C. Armstrong, Dean Sherwood Fox, Dr. Paul McKibben, dean of the Medical Faculty of the Western University; Dr. H. W. Hill, Dr. F. W. Hughes, president of the Western Ontario Medical Academy; Dr. W. J. Tillmann and Dr. Tew.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Helen.—Many thanks for copying the recitation, but you were just a little too late, as another Boxite had already sent it in, but I have placed it on file for future use. Why don't you write a letter next time.

CINDERELLA EXPRESSES THANKS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am writing to thank Leona and her two little boys, who so kindly sent shin-plaster for my little girl. I did not get the rocking-chair for Christmas as I didn't have enough money, but I am going to as soon as I can. I also received a lovely parcel from a little girl in Bridgeton, Ont., for which I thank her very much. I wrote her a personal letter, but I don't know if she received it or not. Would "Mother of Six in Distress" please write and let me know if she received the parcel I sent her just before Christmas, and if she is still in need of clothing for the little stranger. If she would let me know what she wants probably I can help her.

Will write no more now as I am in a hurry.

CINDERELLA.

It is lovely of you, Cinderella, to help "Mother of Six in Distress," and I hope you will soon have sufficient funds to buy the rocker for your little one.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am coming in for a little help. I wonder if any of the Boxites could give me a real good dependable recipe for a soft brown sugar frosting for a cake, one they have tried themselves, also a nice white cake recipe. I would be glad to get these.

MRS. HOOPLE.

This is a splendid opportunity for our housewives to give out some of their pet recipes. I am sorry, Mrs. Hoople, but it is impossible for us to print letters of an advertising nature.

Dear Miss Grey,—I would like to get that old song which runs something like this:
I had a banjo made of gold,
And all de strings were two,
And all de tune that I could
Was 'I wish dat gal was mine.' N

Would be greatly obliged if you have the words to this or could get same. Inclosed find stamp, and thanking you, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
DIXIE.

The piece you referred to is not on file, Dixie, but there is always someone in the Mail-Box willing to send songs and recitations along just as soon as they see the request. I have placed your name on file, and as soon as the song wanted is sent in I shall forward it to you.

MARTHA OFFERS PATCHES.

Dear Miss Grey,—I noticed in Wednesday's paper where Truly in Need would like to get some print quilt patches, and would give 25c to the hospital fund for her. If she will send me her name and address I will send her some; also a good number of quilt block already made if she cares to have them. I have some underwear which would fit a boy about seven or eight years of age, which I would send anyone who could make use of it. I will leave my address with you.

MARTHA BY THE DAY.

How good of you to offer your quilt patches and blocks to Truly in Need, and the underwear for some poor little boy who is suffering from the cold! Isn't it just this spirit of helping that keeps the Mail-Box a live thing year after year and the Boxites a big family circle?

TOADY SENDS WORDS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw in Monday's paper where Blue Bell No. 2 wished to correspond. If you will send me her name and address I will write. I am twelve years old, am in the senior fourth class. I saw where someone wanted the words of "Feather Your Nest," so I am sending them. Well, I guess I had better run away. TOADY.

The words have been forwarded to Country Lass No. 5. If you will send a stamped addressed envelope repeating your request, I will be pleased to forward you the address. It was good of you to respond so quickly to the request for the song. Do you know the old saying, "He who gives quickly gives twice?"

Personals

Miss Annie Saunders has left for Ottawa to visit in the home of her brother, Dr. Charles Saunders, at the Dominion Experimental Farm.

Mrs. R. W. Puddicombe, who has been in Scotland during the past year with her daughter, Mrs. Biggar, is returning to Canada in April. London friends are hoping that she will take up her residence here again.

Through the courtesy and kindness of Capt. F. M. Fisher & Co. and Mr. J. R. Minihnick of the Grand Theater, tickets were provided for 100 of the patients and staff of Westminster Hospital for the matinee on Thursday afternoon, the guests evidencing very keen enjoyment of the treat.

Thursday afternoon the principal and teachers of the Alexandra school entertained at tea at the De Luxe Cafe in honor of two former popular members of the staff, Miss Beckett and Miss Ethel Teasdale, who have been transferred to other schools, and Mr. Corbin Brown, who has been a member of the Alexandra school staff since the beginning of the year.

Artists of the Brantford Woman's Music Club, accompanied by the president, Mrs. Leeming, are coming up on Feb. 16 to pay a return visit to the London Woman's Music Club, when they will present the program at the regular recital. Some of the officers are entertaining them at high tea, following the recital. Mrs. Ethel Jamieson-Ivey, violinist, and Miss Mabel Stevens, pianist, recently played for the Brantford club.

The STEP on the STAIRS

ISABEL
OSTRANDER

"We are not criminal lawyer's!" the other stammered. "My father is a paralytic, chained to his wheel chair. What can be known of any crime, especially one committed in New York?"

"Because his memory doubtless reaches back, let us say, fourteen years. Have you heard of the recent murder of the celebrated portrait painter, Mrs. Vane? Does 'Vane' suggest a substitute for that of your father's late partner, Vener?"

The young attorney gasped and seized the edge of his desk.

"Heavens! You don't mean that creature who ran off with Vener's son? I was only a schoolboy at the time, but I remember the scandal! Young Mrs. Vener herself died soon afterward."

"It is odd under the circumstances that Matt Vener's wife's family didn't come forward and claim her body when she died insane from the mental suffering she had endured at his hands," Barry remarked. "Who was she? Where did she come from?"

"Her maiden name was Barrows, Irene Barrows, but I never heard that she had any living relatives; that is, none of them came forward during any phase of the tragic affair," Philip added. "I remember hearing that she was an orphan, a school friend of one of the debutantes of that time and that the marriage wasn't a particularly advantageous one, according to the senior Vener, from the standpoint of either money or social position."

"We have learned that she was a stranger in Cleveland, but not where she came from," Barry repeated. "Can you tell me? Perhaps your father can help me," Barry rose.

"I doubt it. But I will take you to him."

In Philip's roadster they soon reached the fashionable suburb.

On a terrace stood a wheel chair in which reclined a solitary figure wrapped to the chin in steamer rugs.

Philip began:

"I came to bring a friend out to see you, a prospective client, Mr. Barry. This is my father."

"Glad to see you, Mr. Barry, glad the old man isn't altogether forgotten at the office—Philip, run along."

Philip shot a warning glance at the detective and departed.

"Now fire away, Mr. Barry. I presume you have your proper credentials."

"Social?" Sergeant Barry's tone was innocent.

"Professional, sir! My son is a fool, but I've handled enough criminal cases in my time to know a detective when I see one, and your visit isn't altogether a surprise."

Miss Haskins, my nurse, wouldn't read the latest news of the Vane case to me. I made her do so yesterday before she realized what she has strayed into, and when I learned that that old clerk of ours, Griswold, was mixed up in it, I rather expected that the old scandal would be raked up again."

Barry laughed with boyish frankness.

"I won't try to lie to you, sir!" he exclaimed. "We have reason to believe that the woman who was killed was some connection of the unfortunate Mrs. Matthew Vener. We know that the latter was a comparative stranger here, and we thought you might be able to tell us where she came from and who her people were."

A faint flush had come into the withered cheeks and Barry could see that he was shaking excitedly.

"Irene Vener," Barry prompted quietly. "Her maiden name was Irene Barrows, and she was visiting a school friend here—"

"Ada Johnson," the quavering voice supplemented. "I suppose she took pity on Irene. Irene came from Wheatfield, and I guess her guardian sent her to finishing school as a last resort to get her in with rich folks and marry her off. Anyway, Ada Johnson brought the girl home and the trouble started."

"Do you know anything about this guardian of Irene Barrows, sir?" the detective asked. "Did you ever meet him?"

"Yes, he came on for the wedding, but somehow I can't recall his name. I remember the man himself, though, because I've met so many of his type; hard-fisted, hypocritical president of a small country bank. He died soon after, I understand."

"Please, Mr. Scully, it is time for your drops now." A nurse approached the invalid. "If the gentleman will excuse you, I'm sure you have talked enough."

The invalid took the medicine and roused himself to peer at the small car chugging up the driveway. "Who's coming?"

"It is Mrs. Tyrrell," the nurse replied and turned to meet the stout lady who had descended from the runabout and was crossing the lawn toward them.

"Ada on one of her duty calls!" the old man grumbled. "She may be able to give you more information than I, however, for she was the girl I told you about who brought Irene to Cleveland in the first place."

Barry rose and the old man cackled as he extended his hand.

"My dear Ada!" he responded. "You were never more welcome than at this room."

CHAPTER XXI

"LET me present Mr. Barry, Mrs. Tyrrell," said the invalid. Mr. Barry thinks he knows a relative of a dead friend of ours. I was just telling him that you were the one person who could give him the information he desires."

"This has been a most fortunate meeting if you compare me a few minutes," Mrs. Tyrrell, smiled Barry. "For I must catch the next train back to New York."

"I was about to suggest that I give you a lift in my car!" she beamed upon him. "We must not tire my dear old friend here and I confess that my curiosity has been aroused. Good-bye, Mr. Scully."

Barry escorted the lady to her runabout.

"Who was this old friend of mine whose relative you know?" asked Mrs. Tyrrell.

"I believe when you knew her first that her name was Irene Barrows, afterwards Mrs. Matt Vener," Barry replied steadily.

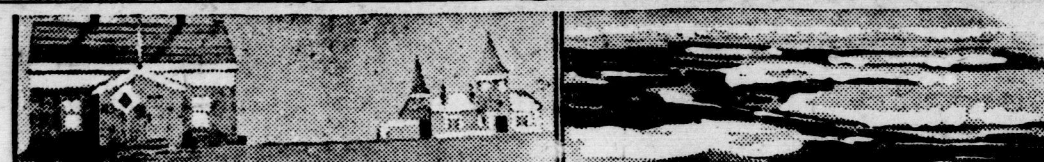

All the color vanished from his companion's face and the little car swerved as she gripped the wheel.

"Irene!" she gasped. "Oh, don't remind me of her! Do you know the whole wretched story, Mr. Barry?"

"All except the details of your friendship with her and what you may know of her family."

"When she was seventeen and I a year older I brought her home here to give her a real good time, and she met Matt. I'm not going to say any-

Wages Five-Year Fight For Lives of Arctic Babies!

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 26.—How would you like to live in a place where—

You give the grocer an order in November and get the delivery the following August.

You feel warm when the temperature rises as high as 25 degrees below zero.

Butter costs $1.65 a pound and coal $100 a ton.

The mail boat comes once a year?—

A former Winnipegger and his wife liked it so well that they stayed over an extra year or two.

Their names? Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Spence.

The place? Point Barrow, Alaska. It's on the map—at the top of the world—600 miles above the Arctic Circle.

There the Spences operated a mission house and hospital—at the jumping-off place of the continent.

It is cold there—

"But the people there are so warm."

Mrs. Spence smiled kindly.

This frail woman had just reached here after five years at Barrow. She had weathered northern storms and had suffered innumerable hardships.

Loyal to Husband.

"But I had to stand by my husband, didn't I?"

She was reluctant to talk about herself.

Prompted by the doctor, she finally told their story.

"We spent several years in Unalakleet, in the Aleutian Islands—the tropics of the north."

"We came back to Vancouver. We thing about him for he's gone, too, but the whole thing turned out to be a mistake. In a month they were married and two years later his father took on that miserable sneak of a clerk, and of course, his wife came to Cleveland, too."

Her lip tightened.

"Mrs. Griswold, you mean? The one who ran away with Matt Vener?" Barry asked.

"Yes, she was fascinating, I'll say that for her, even though I never liked her."

"Curiously enough, Irene did, and that makes what happened all the worse. She was brilliant and different, somehow, and, besides her, poor, delicate little Irene was like a dull, grey moth to most people."

"And you never heard that she had any relatives in Wheatfield or elsewhere?" Barry asked.

"Why, yes! How stupid of me! There was a younger sister that some people on a farm near Wheatfield were taking care of. I forgot about her, for she wasn't at the wedding, and I never saw her except once, long after Irene's death."

"A sister?" Barry exclaimed. "When did you see her? What was her first name? Please tell me about her, Mrs. Tyrrell; perhaps she is the relative I know of in New York."

"Well, about seven years after Irene's death and I don't know, either."

"I heard her say she needed new clothes the other day, and some of the softest feathers have run away. They know where to come!"

A whole flock of feathers came blowing in at the windows and doors of the factory, so the storks waited. (To Be Continued.)

wanted to get out of the cold.

"But it wasn't for long. Doctor got the call to go up to Point Barrow—the natives were in need."

"We talked it over—and decided to go."

"It took us six weeks to get north. There we found a white school teacher and his family and four Eskimos. The rest of the folks were Eskimos."

"The mission house had been vacant so long—it had to be rebuilt. Doctor fixed up his hospital."

"It was the only hospital within a radius of a thousand miles. There is no other hospital in the world so far north."

"He had to be physician, minister, undertaker—and coffin maker."

"Many of the natives have tuberculosis. They live in quarters that are cramped. Fuel is scarce and they crowd to keep warm."

"The babies suffered mostly."

"We used to take the sick ones into our own home—but there were so many of them."

"One time doctor was called to a village a hundred miles away. He was as old as the hills."

"For what purpose had she come to you?" Barry looked away as he spoke.

"That was the strangest part of it, his companion exclaimed. "I supposed, naturally, that she had come to talk of Irene, but instead she asked innumerable questions in a horrid, eager sort of way about—about the Griswold woman. She didn't give any first name, simply announced herself as 'Miss Barrows.'"

"Had you ever heard your friend mention a younger sister?" Barry's tone had quickened.

"Yes, at school. She had mentioned her by some silly nickname. I gathered that they came of pretty good old stock, but had become reduced in circumstances."

"I know she wanted her little sister present at her marriage to Matt, but that guardian of hers put his foot down and said he wasn't going to have the child's head filled with notions that would make her discontented; that she would have to stay where she was till she was eighteen."

"Irene went to see her regularly after her marriage, but never said anything about those trips, nor brought her to Cleveland."

"Did Irene's sister tell you anything about herself or her plans for the future?"

"I believe she did mention something about being on her way east."

"What sort of questions did she ask you about Miriam Griswold?" Barry urged. "Think, Mrs. Tyrrell; this may be more important than you know."

She glanced quickly at him in amazement.

POLLY AND PAUL—AND PARIS

CHAPTER VI.—"YOU ARE MY WORLD"

By Zoe Beckley

upon the rail as the great British ship, whistle ascream, slowly moved out from the pier. Grimy deckhands shouted, flung ropes and ran to and fro. Half a dozen tugs, their blunt noses pressed against the liner's sides, pushed and strained noisily to get her into midstream, headed toward the sea.

The little bride held tightly her man's arm. Her eyes swept the vanishing pier where not one familiar face smiled her a good-bye. She thought of her wedding four days ago in the pretty church at Edmonton. Of her girl friends, fussing ecstatically about her, "envying her" the super-fortune of such a husband and such a honeymoon! Of Aunt Sue, stern to the last, and full of warnings about "that aris," but affectionate and dependable. And of her mother, whose love she knew would follow her everywhere—though sorrow seemed too remote to think about now. She thought back to that gay dinner on the eastbound train. And of the darling drawing-room—the first Polly had ever seen—with their new bags in it, and the Pullman porter grinning sympathetically at the rice that fell out of their hats.

Then there was the marvelous hotel with the room done in rose, and the shaded lamp, and Paul's flowers everywhere, and the smiling maid who called her "Madame."

Polly could not shake off the feeling that she was in a dream and must wake up and find herself in the claphouse on Hill street, or typing away at stuffy old Canby's letters.

She squeezed Paul's arm, and he promptly put it around her shoulders—and who cares what the passengers think!

"Look at it, dear, that sky-line! How can buildings be so tall and not fall over? See the way the sun flashes on the windows, and oh, Paul, look at that church steeple stuck in amongst those giants! It's just a toy! Isn't it all too wonderful!"

"I carried on—alone."

"But the natives said 'ong'—peace be with you—and I was happy."

Both Break Down.

Under the strain both Dr. and Mrs. Spence broke down.

They had to come home. But they wouldn't leave until another came to take their place.

In the meantime they had started building a new hospital. But it takes $15,000 a year to run it.

"During the last year," Mrs. Spence continued, "we ran short of fuel."

"We had but one fire in our house. We used the room for kitchen, bedroom, hospital ward, dispensary, drug store and storage house."

"It was hard work—but so worth while!"

The weather is so cold that even fir trees do not grow near Point Barrow.

At Christmas time Mrs. Spence was smiling again. "Doctor built a tree of wood and paper—it was a fine one, too."

"Some day, perhaps, we may go back and build another—"

Spare Time Jobs for Father

WHEN cracks appear in furniture it is a common custom to fill them up with putty. Then, folks who do it, find that putty cracks and makes the crevices look almost as bad as in the first place.

The next time try beeswax. This will fill up the cracks and hold its form. You can wash or varnish over it. Careful varnishing over beeswax-filled cracks will hide the cracks completely.

BEECHAM'S

Sweeten the Stomach PILLS

What's the difference between a jumping-jack and a baby?" asked Mr. Crane.

The storks thought and thought about the riddle Buskins had asked them, the riddle being, "What's the difference between a jumping-jack and a baby?"

Mr. Crane, looking more solemn than ever, went down the row. "What's the answer?" he asked the first stork.

"I—I confess I don't know," said

the stork, looking foolish.

"Next!" said Mr. Crane, sharply, turning to his neighbor.

"Me either!" said the second stork, shaking his head. "I don't know."

"Next!" said Mr. Crane.

"Well, I don't know, either."

And so it went on down the line until at last Mr. Crane reached an old, old fellow who looked as though he was about to go to sleep.

"What's the difference between a jumping-jack and a baby?" asked Mr. Crane.

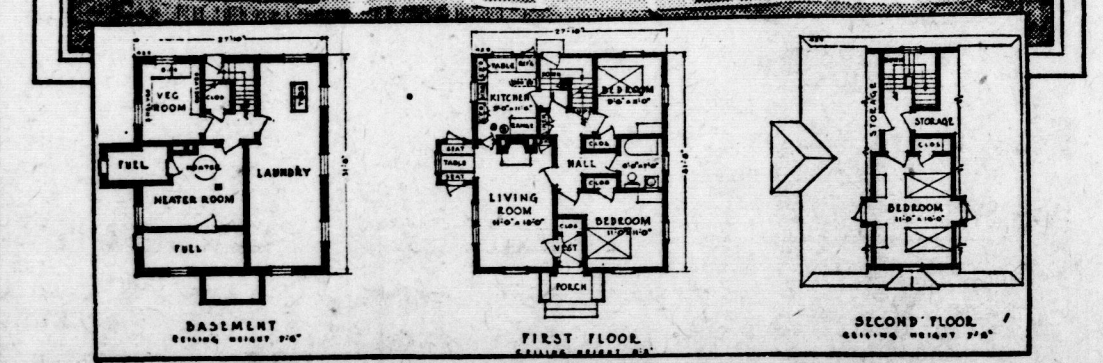

"Well," answered old Daddy Stork, slowly. "There's enough difference so that I should never mistake one for the other."

"Aha!" smiled Mr. Crane. "That's the answer, Daddy. You get the nice soft, pinky-blue silk comfort. I'm afraid if I gave it to some of these other stupid fellows they might wrap a jumping-jack up in it to deliver to a family on earth, instead of a nice, soft, pink baby. Now, begone, all of you. There won't be any more comforts made until goose-plucking time is over, and more soft down comes flying up to the sky for my fairy workers to use. Well, well, I do believe there's more coming now. Mrs. Brown must be having a plucking. I heard her say she needed new bolsters the other day, and some of the softest feathers have run away. They know where to come!"

"A QUEER RIDDLE"

(By Olive Roberts Barton.)

"What's the difference between a jumping-jack and a baby?" asked Mr. Crane.

The storks thought and thought about the riddle Buskins had asked them, the riddle being, "What's the difference between a jumping-jack and a baby?"

Mr. Crane, looking more solemn than ever, went down the row. "What's the answer?" he asked the first stork.

"I—I confess I don't know," said

the stork, looking foolish.

"Next!" said Mr. Crane, sharply, turning to his neighbor.

"Next!" said Mr. Crane.

"Well, I don't know, either."

And so it went on down the line until at last Mr. Crane reached an old, old fellow who looked as though he was about to go to sleep.

"What's the difference between a jumping-jack and a baby?" asked Mr. Crane.

"Well," answered old Daddy Stork, slowly. "There's enough difference so that I should never mistake one for the other."

"Aha!" smiled Mr. Crane. "That's the answer, Daddy. You get the nice soft, pinky-blue silk comfort. I'm afraid if I gave it to some of these other stupid fellows they might wrap a jumping-jack up in it to deliver to a family on earth, instead of a nice, soft, pink baby. Now, begone, all of you. There won't be any more comforts made until goose-plucking time is over, and more soft down comes flying up to the sky for my fairy workers to use. Well, well, I do believe there's more coming now. Mrs. Brown must be having a plucking. I heard her say she needed new bolsters the other day, and some of the softest feathers have run away. They know where to come!"

STRATFORD LOSES TO KITCHENER 5 TO 3Latter Cinch Group On Classic City Ice.

STRATFORD, Jan. 26.—Simon Pure hard luck, coupled with too much Zuber, proved the undoing of the intermediates tonight, and, as a result, Kitchener trimmed them 5 to 3, and practically clinched for the visitors the district honors. Played on the keenest of ice, tonight's game was a push from start to finish. The play was strenuous, and at times the old-time rivalry between the club found vent in the healthy heckling. However, in spite of the close checking, there were comparatively few penalties. The locals used a new goalie, Malone, in the first. It was his first game in some years, and the visitors beat him four times. With Norfolk in the nets, only one got by in two periods.

Penalties—Kitchener: Schell 2, Erb 1, Gidner 1, Stratford: Morenz 2, Richards 1, Tripp 1.

Berger	L. D. Karges

Now that Ed Walsh, former star pitcher on the Chicago White Sox, is to be an American League umpire, an interesting story, in which Umpire Tommy Connolly, is recalled. Walsh was a difficult pitcher to umpire for. He had a deceptive spitball which he used almost exclusively. A spitball is most effective when kept low. Likewise, a low ball is the hardest for an umpire to judge.

Walsh had uncanny control of his spitball. It was his favorite delivery, even with two strikes and three balls on the batter. At such a time most pitchers wouldn't think of using that style delivery because of the difficulty in controlling it.

Walsh Had Great Control.

It seemed that Walsh could keep throwing the spitball all day and have it constantly break over the plate at the knee. Every ball he pitched was just a strike or just a ball, so far as height was concerned. During a game in Chicago in which Tommy Connolly was working the plate, it so happened that Mr. Walsh was taking considerable objection to the official's rulings. Connolly stood for his almost constant objections until his disposition gave way. Then with all the dignity possible, he stopped the game, removed his mask, and, turning to the grandstand, said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I desire to beg your pardon for not knowing that Mr. Walsh throws nothing but strikes."

Connolly's shot of sarcasm had the desired effect. Walsh was quiet the rest of the day.

The St. Louis Club secured Danforth by giving eleven players to the Columbus Club. No money figured in the transaction. Danforth's contract called for one-tenth of the cash purchase. The question is, where does Danforth get off?

Danforth is a pretty swell fellow. He says that $200,000 is a conservative estimate of the value of the eleven players turned over for him. That would make Danforth $20,000 to the good. Dave says he must get that amount before he signs.

Possibly Dave is only kidding, and that he will sign as soon as the St. Louis club sends him a contract. The desire to get back into the big show, at a salary much in excess of what he received in the minors, may overcome his demands for part of the purchase price.

Business Manager Bobby Quinn of the St. Louis club is quoted as saying, "It is a question that Danforth must settle with the Columbus club, as St. Louis is in no way involved."

It is a peculiar situation. Technically Danforth hasn't come coming to him, since his contract called for a part of the cash involved, and no actual cash was passed between the two clubs. A fair interpretation of his case, however, would entitle him to a tenth of what the players really were worth. It may prove to be a case for Judge Landis to arbitrate.

Glenn Killinger, athletic star of Penn State, has signed his contract with the New York Americans.

It is announced that Killinger will be a candidate for third base. Frank Baker cannot go on paying forever. Sooner or later a successor must be found for him.

Just at present no third baseman is being exploited more than Joe Dugan of the Athletics. All the major league clubs are bidding for his services. Dugan came from Holy Cross to the majors and made good from the very start. Jack Barry hailed from the position on the Penn State nine, he has always been partial to third base. He is to be given his opportunity to show at that position.

The fact that Killinger is to make his debut at third, recalls the number of collegians who have made good in the major leagues at that position.

Arthur Devlin, one of the greatest third basemen of all time, came to the Giants from Georgetown. It didn't take him long to win a berth as a big leaguer. In National League circles, when discussing third basemen, comparisons are always drawn with Devlin.

Frankie Frisch, who has already proved his greatness, and will go down into the records as one of the greatest of all third basemen, came to the Giants direct from Fordham College. He made good as soon as he was placed in the regular lineup.

Larry Gardner, who is still playing a brilliant game at third base for Cleveland despite his many years of service, got his early training at the difficult corner at the University of Vermont.

Gardner came to the Red Sox. He was sent to the New England League for a bit of seasoning. He returned after a year of play in that organization ready to deliver in the majors.

The late Eddie Grant, one of the heroes of the world war, and who was one of the best third sackers in the National League for years, prepared at Harvard.

George Sisler, one of the greatest first basemen of all times, got his early training at University of Michigan. Sisler also starred as a pitcher while at that institution. He made good as a pitcher in the American League, but was transferred to first base because it was believed he would be of more value to his team by getting into the game every day.

Eddie Collins, who for 12 years has shown the way to the second basemen of both major leagues, learned the rudiments of the game at Columbia. Connie Mack, after much experimenting, decided second base was Barry's forte. A then there was Jack Barry, who for years starred at shortstop, and later at second base, in the American League.

Just at present no third baseman is being exploited more than Joe Dugan of the Athletics. All the major league clubs are bidding for his services. Dugan came from Holy Cross to the majors and made good from the very start. Jack Barry hailed from the

OFFER BIGGER PURSE FOR CARP'S SECOND CHANCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—A purse "equal to the one he received for the Jersey City fight last summer" has been offered by Jack Dempsey for a second bout with George Carpentier in London in July.

Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, announced tonight. Dempsey's share in the championship fight with the Frenchman on July 2 was said to have been $200,000, the largest stake ever offered a pugilist. Carpentier's share was $200,000.

The London offer was made by a syndicate of sportsmen, Kearns said. It came on the heels of a message from William A. Brady, expressing his desire to match Dempsey and Harry Willis in London.

PICK SCOTTISH TEAM.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The Scottish team which will meet Wales in the international soccer match at Wrexham on Feb. 4 will consist of the following:

Campbell, Partick; Thistles; Marshall, Middleborough; McKinley, Liverpool; McKeljohn, Glasgow Rangers; Gilhooley, Hull City; Collier, Bath Rovers; Archibald, Glasgow Rangers; White, Albion Rovers; Wilson, Middleborough; Walker, Third Lanark; Morton, Glasgow.

SAMUEL CRAWFORD has just signed a contract to play with Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League during the season of 1922. He will be in right field, and he says he will be the first man to report for spring practice.

Recently Crawford received a letter from a man unknown to him. A 25-cent piece was inclosed in the envelope, and the letter read:

"Mr. Crawford,—This is from a man who knew you in Cincinnati when you played with the Reds. You gave me 25 cents one day, and I feel I should return it. Kindly accept the inclosed 25 cents as payment for the same. Ever yours, and hoping heaven will save you."

Crawford has been in baseball more than 25 years. He played with Cincinnati 22 years ago. He is the marvel of sports, for not another athlete, whether in football, baseball, track, tennis or any other competitive sport, can equal Crawford's stretch of competition.

Although he has slowed up a trifle, Crawford is still able to hit a ball as hard as ever and just about as often. Year after year he has batted .300 or better.

Thirteen years ago Hughie Jennings shifted Crawford from Detroit's center field to right field, Crawford giving way to Ty Cobb, the southern streak from Georgia, who was then on his meteoric career.

In baseball they tell you that when you are finally shifted to right field you are facing the exit sign. Crawford a few years later passed through the gate of the major leagues.

He went to the coast and has been there ever since, a slugger among sluggers, and a man whose eye is still keen enough to retain his job for him while many youngsters are clamoring for the position he holds.

Pat McDonald was the wonder of track athletics for the number of years he performed; Cobb in baseball, Thorpe in football, and Jack Britton in the ring, have all competed far beyond the allotted time, but Crawford was competing when these men were children. What is more, Crawford still is, and threatens to continue doing that very thing.

GEORGES CARPENTIER still has a good right hand.

George Cook, heralded widely as Australia's best fighting machine, proved little more than a setup for the Frenchman.

Some of the dope printed about Cook referred to him as the "Australian Bushier."

In the States a "busher" is an athlete who lacks big league class, a minor leaguer.

In his fight with Carpentier, Cook lived up to the title as it is viewed over here. He certainly was a "bush league fighter."

The fight with Cook, as far as getting a line on Carpentier, proves nothing. No one seems to know much about Cook. If he really is a worth-while fighter, then Carpentier will must be reckoned with as a light heavyweight.

The statement made by Carpentier's manager that he is getting the European champion ready for another bout with Dempsey must not be taken seriously.

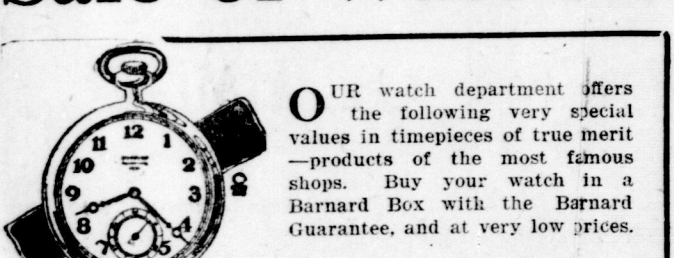

I saw the bout between Carpentier and Dempsey. It was a great fight while it lasted. Carpentier showed some wicked right hand.

Those who argue that he didn't have Dempsey in trouble in the second round don't give the Frenchman proper credit. That right-hand punch delivered flush on Dempsey's jaw certainly hurt the champion.

When a fighter drops his arms to his side, if only momentarily, as Dempsey did, he certainly feels the effects of the punch. It was the big chance for Carpentier; he was unable to make the most of it. Never again will he have such a chance to detract the champion.

Dempsey is far too big a fellow for Carpentier. If Carpentier seeks action on this side, Tommy Gibbons or Harry Greb should be able to provide plenty of excitement.

LAUD VERSATILITY OF GREW PLAYERS

Large Crowds Praise Majestic Comedy-Drama, "The Brat."

"The Popular Players" at the Majestic Theater are drawing a large crowd this week with their presentation of Maude Fulton's comedy-drama, "The Brat." Miss Gertrude Gustin plays the title role, the Brat, a young girl, whose days, when she had been in the chorus of the Hippodrome, had been the happiest of her life.

Friendless and out of work, famished for want of food, she attempts begging, and this swiftly brings her into the night court. In this unfortunate situation she is discovered by Macmillan Forrester, a famous novelist, who is seeking types and atmosphere for his book. The action of the play commences when the untutored waif, with her very original and unconventional views on life in general, becomes an inmate of Forrester's home and is brought into contact with the very elegant and sophisticated ladies of his family. Love interest and stirring action are not lacking in "The Brat." The splendid acting of Duncan Penwarden as Macmillan Forrester should not be missed, as well as that of Ricky Secrest, as Steve, Forrester's younger brother, in whom the Brat finds a firm friend when the tension of society life threatened to become too much for her. Wm. Malone, as the butler, who has a tendency to imbibe not wisely but too well, is the source of much merriment throughout the evening. The play is excellent in every detail and well worth seeing.

SURE BUSINESS CLOUD WILL LIFT

Sir John Aird, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the recent annual meeting of the shareholders of the bank, summed up the present condition of business as follows:

"The position has undoubtedly improved in many respects. The doubt as to the future, so widespread a year ago, has largely disappeared. The stocks of goods produced at a high cost have been steadily reduced by consumption, even if often disposed of at a loss. The problem of production at lower costs, which for a time seemed so baffling, appears now in a fair way to be solved.

"If business seems at present to be more or less in a condition of suspended animation, any change which takes place must surely be for the better, and at any moment it may awake to new life and prosperity. Granted a favorable harvest in the coming year, we may confidently look for a steady return to more normal conditions."

The general manager referred to the satisfactory showing of the Bank of Commerce under last year's conditions, and to provisions made to maintain ample reserves at all times.

He was frank with the shareholders as to precautions taken to surround the administration of trusts committed to the bank with safety. The system of auditing was carefully explained to show that care was taken to safeguard both the bank and its patrons.

"Three Live Ghosts" Is An Exceptionally Clever Movie

Anna Q. Nilsson and Norman Kerry in a scene from "Three Live Ghosts," adapted from the stage success of that name.

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26. — We are sitting far enough from the war now to laugh at the comedy fashioned from its shambles. But even the film version of "Three Live Ghosts," like the stage version, is touched with tragedy, a touch that one seeks to disregard even as he disregards the ludicrous mendicant whose very appearance amuses him.

The story, as you will recall if you are familiar with Frederic Ibsen's stage play, deals with the fortunes of three Tommies, who learn upon returning to England that they are officially dead.

In the trio is a Canadian, involved in a love affair and a villainous plot to keep him from his beloved. Spoofy who lost his memory through shell-shock and Jimmy Gubbins, a Lime-house rough-neck.

These three are as loyal to each other as the famous three musketeers in their fortunes and misfortunes, which range from the hospitality of a Whitechapel hovel and arrest for robbery and kidnapping to a reunion in a lord's mansion.

All of the situations are developed with rapid-fire comedy. The first audiences to see the film at the Rivoli were a-titter from start to finish. Many of these laughs sprang from a spritely set of subtitles.

To tell the story in detail might mar its effect for those who will learn it for the first time when they see it on the screen. However, the writer recommends "Three Live Ghosts" as one of the finest comedies ever projected upon the screen.

George Fitzmaurice produced the film in London. The scenario is the work of Ouida Bergere, and the photography by Arthur Miller, ace of cameramen.

One of the best touches to "Three Live Ghosts" is the use of Tower Bridge, Rotten Row, Scotland Yard and Pall Mall as the background for exterior action. This gives the picture a tone of realism. It makes it a true story of London. The thing about "Humoresque" that appealed to this writer more than any other feature was the exterior scenes of

New York's East Side. They made the Jewish mother and her children seem as though they were of flesh and blood, people that one has seen in such settings in real life.

DO YOUR BOWELS Move Regularly, or Do They BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt, at once, from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS. will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N. S., writes: "For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicine, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

Price, 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv.

MEIGHEN WINS IN BY-ELECTION BY 1,620 VOTES

K. Patterson Polls But
2,818 in Grenville County Contest.

LIBERAL INTEREST SLIGHT

Progressive Candidate Leads in Only Two of Rural Divisions.

PRESCOTT, Ont., Jan. 26.—(Canadian Press.)—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen was returned to Parliament by a majority of 1,620 votes over his only opponent, A. K. Patterson, the Progressive nominee, in the voting in the Grenville County by-election today.

The complete returns gave Mr. Meighen 4,438 votes, and his opponent 2,818.

In the recent federal election in the riding 8,733 electors voted to the Liberals, and on that occasion A. C. Casselman, the successful candidate, obtained a majority of 2,313 over P. McIntosh, the Liberal candidate, and 1,935 over G. A. Payne, the Progressive standard-bearer.

Throughout the riding the vote was lighter than the previous election. This was particularly true of the urban centers, such as Prescott, where only 932 votes were cast, as compared with 1,375 in December last; Cardinal, where 474 ballots were signed, as against 650 in the previous election, and Kemptonville, 632, as against 714.

The reason given for the comparatively small vote throughout the riding, is that the Liberals, not having a candidate in the field, took very little interest in the election, and failed to cast their votes. The majority of those Liberals who did vote, threw in their lot with the Progressives. This was particularly noticeable in Kemptonville, where they voted almost solidly Progressive.

Mr. Meighen secured his largest majority in the urban centers, and also ran well in a number of the rural districts. Mr. Patterson led in only two of the rural polling divisions.

Before the complete returns were in, but when it was definitely known that Mr. Meighen's lead was a safe one, the former premier wired A. C. Casselman, from Ottawa, expressing deep appreciation for the splendid services rendered by his supporters throughout the riding.

PLAN CLASSES FOR BACKWARD SCHOOL PUPILS

Stratford Board Members Have Conference With Inspector S. B. Sinclair.

SPECIAL METHODS USED

Catholic Women's League Forms Club To Study Canadian History.

STRATFORD, Jan. 26.—Dr. S. B. Sinclair, inspector of auxiliary classes for Ontario, is in the city making a survey of pupils in the public schools, with the intention of forming a class of children who are backward for some reason and would do better work if placed in a small class with a specially trained teacher and given more manual or technical work.

He met members of the board of education informally tonight, and tomorrow afternoon will give an illustrated address in the normal school, explaining how such pupils are examined and what special treatment is given them in the schools.

The Catholic Women's League elected officers for the year as follows: President, H. A. Blair; vice-presidents, Mrs. T. S. Tobin, Mrs. P. J. Kelly, Miss R. Kennedy; recording secretary, A. McCaffrey; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James Lavelle; treasurer, Mrs. J. P. Mallow. A literary club to study Canadian history will be formed.

The officers of the Ladies' Country Club have been elected as follows: President, Mrs. R. J. Moffatt; vice-president, Mrs. D. M. Ferguson; secretary, Mrs. W. J. Thurston; committee, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. A. C. McLeod, Mrs. T. Simpson, Miss Agnes Pail.

On Thursday and Friday the first aid competitions for the Wallace Nesbitt trophy are being held at the G. T. R. shops by two teams from the shops and one from the transportation department. Col. Dr. A. Hodgkiss of Ottawa is examiner.

GRANT PASTOR INCREASE.
WOODSTOCK, Jan. 26.—At the annual meeting of the congregation of Chalmers Church the pastor, Rev. D. Wallace Christie, was granted a substantial raise in his salary. Mr. Christie has been pastor for five years, and during that time there has been an increase of 114 in membership. During the present year the envelope offerings increased by $612. The total revenues from all sources during the past year was $10,000. Wm. Stalker was re-elected treasurer.

WANT COUNTY TO PAY PUPILS' COST

Woodstock and Ingersoll Board Members Ask Aid of Oxford.

[Special To London Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 26.—At the Oxford County Council this afternoon G. F. Mahon and J. J. McLeod of the Woodstock and Ingersoll boards of education, asked that the county pay 100 per cent of the cost of educating speakers pointed out that the colleges were becoming greatly congested and in a short time it would be necessary to bar the county pupils to make room for the city pupils, unless the county would assume more responsibility in the matter of helping defray costs.

W. W. Dunlop, inspector of prisons, strongly recommended that renovations be made at the Woodstock jail, which, he said, was in a very unsatisfactory condition. "Remember, you will always require a jail," he said. "And you might as well fix it up properly."

County officials whose reappointments were ratified by by-law at today's session included: County auditors and auditors of school moneys, salary $50 each and no expenses, H. B. Sproat and B. McCallum, jail surgeon, Dr. Andrew McKay; trustee of Norwich high school, C. Fry; member of the board of auditors, I. Holton; manager and matron of the industrial farm and house of refuge, Mr. and Mrs. F. Parker; surgeon to the house of refuge, Dr. D. Sutherland; member of the board of management of the industrial farm and house of refuge, Hugh Cunningham; messenger to the council, Alex. Matheson; trustee, Tillsonburg high school, G. W. Hare.

Bullock Gets Permission From Ottawa To Remain in Dominion

OTTAWA, Jan. 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—Matthew Bullock, the North Carolina negro, held in Hamilton by the immigration authorities, and who is fighting deportation to the United States, has been given permission to remain in Canada.

This decision was announced by Mr. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior and immigration department, following a cabinet meeting this evening.

Bullock was given his liberty immediately. Mr. Stewart reviewed the evidence taken by the board of hearing in Hamilton immediately after his return from Alberta, and his recommendation to the cabinet was confirmed. It is said here that while Bullock may have entered the country under conditions contrary to the immigration laws, that since his arrival he has proved an exemplary citizen.

DECLARES UNITY OF NATION VITAL NEED OF CANADA

S. R. Parsons Makes Eloquent Plea in Address At Empire Club, Toronto.

DEPLORES LABOR NEEDS

Asks Employers To Cultivate Spirit of Goodwill Toward Workers.

TORONTO, Jan. 26.—S. R. Parsons made an eloquent plea for national unity at the close of an address to the Empire Club here today on "The Third International Labor Conference at Geneva."

After paying a worthy tribute to the soldier dead in Flanders' Fields, Mr. Parsons said: "Dying for principle is all right, but living for principle is both harder and better."

There was no way to realize national unity, the speaker continued, while French-Canadians, English-Canadians, foreigners, protectionists and free-traders, Protestants and Roman Catholics, farmers and manufacturers, employers and employed, socialists and constitutionalists, and men and women were all arrayed against each other, unwilling to get together around the national table.

"What we need in Canada is a voice ringing through our national life calling us to that united purpose and sentiment and enabling us to stand unitedly on a platform as broad as our vast Dominion. This is the time to build up, and not to tear down; the time for co-operation, and not opposition; the time to act unselfishly, and not to be moved by greed; the time for national unity, and not discord; the time to fight our battles bravely, and not lose faith in God that right, and not might, shall rule all the world."

Asks Labor To Get Back.

Organizations were losing members rapidly, especially on this continent, continued Mr. Parsons.

"We must get back, it seems to me, to the condition which characterized industry a great many years ago, when the employer, knowing his men, met with them and was friendly with them. As long as we have organizations of employees and employers we have two standing armies facing each other ready for the conflict. We have got to get together in each individual unit of industry, and the employer who does not cultivate spirit of goodwill towards his men is making a great mistake. The only way in which we will bring about industrial peace is the working of each individual unit of industry in such a way that the men and the company are not opposing each other, but are together, and that can be brought about."

Unemployment Insurance.
The number of unemployed in Great Britain approached two millions, a large number of whom were said to be unemployed, and another large number were said to be leaning more or less heavily on the state unemployment insurance fund. When the question of unemployment insurance for agricultural workers was brought up at the Geneva conference the British delegates could not supply, and on ground that the nation's burden for unemployment insurance could not possibly be increased.

"I mention this particularly because there is in Canada a feeling on the part of some that the governments of the provinces, and of Ontario particularly, should bring in some measure of unemployment insurance. Now while we are passing through times which are altogether exceptional, when the whole world is necessarily out of joint owing to war conditions, it seems to me a poor time to bring in any such measure, for in a new country like Canada, generally speaking, men who are anxious to work can find it."

Cost of High Taxation.

Touching on the fact that Great Britain recently obtained no part of a contract for three or four million dollars worth of railway supplies for the Chinese government despite the fact that the commissioners desired Great Britain to get the order, Mr. Parsons ascribed the reason to high taxation owing to the high rates of wages and restrictions of output, etc. Notwithstanding these things and the large army of unemployed he had no doubt that Great Britain would weather the gale, but a time must come when labor unions and employers would work together to enable the old land to obtain her fair share of the world's business, because unless she was great in her export business she was not great anyway, and she must maintain her business in order to maintain her government, as one of the world's great producing and manufacturing countries. Already there was a great scheme for stimulating trade and industry, for Great Britain was guaranteeing the principal and interest on £25,000,000 for organizing new industries.

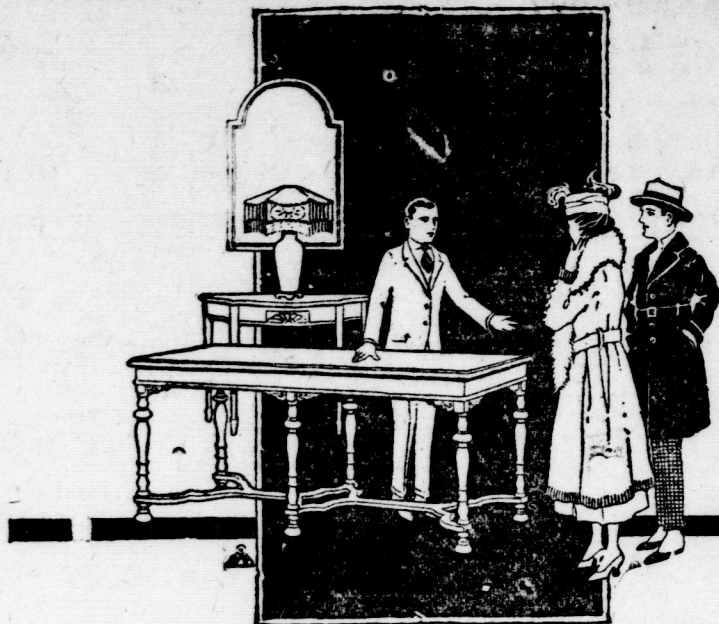

Fill Long-Felt Want.
The new Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London would, the speaker declared, fill a long-felt want in making Canadian products known in England.

Mr. Parsons then ventured the opinion that the pending resignation of the Canadian high commissioner was an opportune moment to separate the diplomatic branch of that office from the business end. Canada must wake up if she was going to receive the trade obtained by the other dominions and must emphasize the need of her products reaching the old land.

ORDERS YOUTH TO REPORT WEEKLYMagistrate Renews Bail of Boy Lowman Charged With Assault.

George Jones, the 16-year-old boy who was charged in police court some time ago with striking L. E. Lowman, the child welfare inspector of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, across the face, was allowed to go on bail for one month when he appeared before Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett in police court Thursday.

Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop stated that according to a medical examination the youth had received it was alleged that he had the mentality of a boy of 10 years.

Albert M. Judd, counsel for the defence also tendered a doctor's certificate which showed that the boy was all right mentally.

Deputy Magistrate Bartlett warned young Jones to control his temper in the future, and instead of taking the law into his own hands, to lay his grievances before the police.

He was ordered to report to Chief Birrell once a week for a month.
