

TODAY'S WEATHER
MODERATE WINDS
FAIR AND WARM

The London Advertiser

KAISER'S MEMOIRS IN THIS EDITION OF
THE ADVERTISER.

59TH YEAR. NO. 23459

LONDON, ONTARIO, THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 5, 1922.

PRICE, THREE CENTS

SCORES PERISH AS FIRES SWEEP NORTH

SHAWKEY TRIES TO STOP GIANT BATSMEN TO REDEEM YANKEES IN SECOND GAME OF BIG SERIES

Huggins' Baseball Machine Works Desperately to Beat the Fighting Spirit of Giants, Which Upset Dope in Monday's Contest—Jess Barnes, Hero of 1921 Series, Opposes American League Champions.

THE SCORE BY INNINGS

GIANTS 3 0 0
YANKEES 1 0 0

Batteries:
GIANTS—BARNES AND SNYDER.
YANKEES—SHAWKEY AND SCHANG.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 5.—Bob Shawkey, curve ball flinger extraordinary of the New York Yankees faced the Giants this afternoon in the second joust of the world's series tournament. Jesse Barnes stood ready to take up the Giants' burden in the box.

The Yankees threw off the gloom this afternoon of yesterday's defeat and hoped to emerge from the batting slump that has gripped them since the beginning of the last five games of the American League season.

Some thirty odd thousand folks came out to see the sport, but the early rush for the unreserved sections was missing, and the crowd filtered into the upper stands and bleachers slowly. October had resurrected a day from July's hot wave, and another sultry afternoon gave the pitchers an incentive to turn on their speeds.

Dope, like bowls of milk, can be upset, as proved by the nine of McGraw in taking the first game of the world's series from the Yankees 3 to 2. Huggins, mite of a man who leads the Americans, hopes to salvage some of the split opaque fluid, and has nominated Bob Shawkey for the twirling start today.

Men called experts declared that the Americans, with Bush, one of the most highly-rated pitchers of the season, would be invincible. Sportsmen accepted that dope and bet on it. Bush was noted from the pitching mound by McGraw's pumblers, and now the dope bowl is upended.

Bob Shawkey's name has been heard and applauded during other world series. He is in form this year. He wears a red undershirt just like that worn by Mr. Bush. But red undershirts neither win nor lose ball games. McGraw has chosen Jess Barnes, the rangy Kansan, who brought the Giants out of the depths of defeat in the championship games last fall, to work against Shawkey.

Hold Reserves.
Should Shawkey falter, Carl Mays, of the underhand delivery, probably will be called upon to relieve him, while "Deacon John" Scott was told to keep warmed up ready for action in case Barnes needed relief.

There was every prospect at 10 o'clock this morning that the second game of the series would be played under fair weather conditions. The day had dawned clear and slightly cooler, and during the morning the sun warmed up the atmosphere almost to summer temperature.

"The Yankees, even with Shawkey at his best, will need to bring to bear some of their hitting ability to win today," said Huggins. "We know," he added, that the Giants are fighters, and that the only way to beat them is to waste in and play their game.

"A smooth, beautifully-working machine is my team, but even a good machine will stop running if somebody hits it with a sledge. We'll have to pound them so hard they won't be able to overcome us."

Used Speed Entirely.
The Yankees hit Neph yesterday for a certainty; but they didn't hit him hard enough. Bush got through seven innings, luckily, without a run being scored against him. His curves weren't working, and he fooled the Giants for those seven frames with speed. McGraw—he of the gray eyes—discerned this.

"Stick out your bats," he told his men, "and just meet those smoky offerings. Don't swing at them."

Four Giants went to the plate; four Giants stuck out their bats, and they didn't swing. Four base hits went into the Giants' credit column, and the score was tied.

Waite Hoyt relieved Bush on the mound. The winning run came when Young sent a long sacrifice fly to Whitey Witt. Hoyt fanned the next two batters.

Today the Yankees are home bodied, wearing their tidy light uniforms and resting on the home bench, while the Giants sit in the visitors' dugout.

The batting order:
NATIONALS. AMERICANS.
Bancroft, s.s. Witt, c.f.
Groh, 3b. Dugan, 1b.
Frisch, 2b. Ruth, r.f.
E. Meusel, l.f. Pipp, 1b.
Young, r.f. R. Meusel.
Kelly, l.f. Schang, c.
Stengel, c.f. Ward, 2b.
Snider, c. s. Scott, s.s.
J. Barnes or Shawkey or Scott, p.
Mays, p.
Umpires—Hildebrand (American) at plate; McCormick (National) first base; Owens (American) sec-

Queen of Greece

PRINCESS ELIZABETH has become queen of Greece through the accession of her consort, Prince George, who mounted the throne when King Constantine abdicated. She is of Rumanian birth.

PROTEST TESTS ON DAIRY HERDS

Local Dealers to Meet at the County Buildings Friday Night.

Denounce Wholesale Slaughtering of Cows in District.

Protesting against the manner in which the tubercular test of dairy herds is being conducted, certain London milk dealers have called a special mass meeting at the Middlesex County building Friday at 8 p.m., when they will consider what concentrated action, if any, should be undertaken.

A local milk dealer, who admits that he has declined to allow the provincial inspector test his cattle, declared Thursday that it was time to protest against this measure when so many cattle were being subsequently slaughtered. He voiced the complaint that the sum of $40, allowed by the authorities for each animal destroyed at the Toronto abattoir, after revealing signs of tuberculosis, was totally inadequate.

In the interim the testing of all cattle in the district proceeds as directed by the members of the city council, who Monday night last endorsed the license bylaw to effect that hereafter all milk dealers would be granted licenses only after their cattle had been tested and their milk labelled accordingly.

It is ruled that two types of licenses be issued, Class A, denoting those milk dealers who to date have declined to accede to the regulations. They must bear the consequences he warns and with little delay.

While many of the milk dealers have submitted to the new ruling, Dr. C. S. Tamin, inspector of herds and dairies, reports that there are those milk dealers who to date have declined to accede to the regulations. They must bear the consequences he warns and with little delay.

CLAIMS BRITISH PEOPLE BEWILDERED OVER WAR

Daily Express Declares England Prepared to Fight But Cannot Police the Earth.

London, England, Oct. 5.—Canadian Press Cable.—The Daily Express, Lord Beaverbrook's paper, in an editorial says the British people are bewildered because they do not know the truth about the Near East matter. Their position is simple. Although they are weary and tax worn, they are prepared to fight for the freedom of the straits of the Dardanelles. Beyond the freedom of the straits they do not care a straw for Balkan politics.

"They cannot police the earth," the Express continues. "They are incapable of solving the racial problems of the Near East as of abolishing the Bolsheviks from Russia, or extirpating the murders in Ireland. The British people are at last thinking of their own salvation. All they now want is to save their sons and sell their cotton goods."

BOMB WRECKS HOME OF ITALIAN AT HAMILTON

Hamilton, Oct. 5.—The second bomb outrage inside of three weeks took place early this morning, when an explosion partly wrecked 26 Simcoe street west, the home of an Italian family. Two weeks ago on Sunday a neighboring house, 32 Simcoe street west, was badly damaged by a bomb. The outrage is attributed to the Black Hand, as threats of violence had been made if money was not handed over.

RAPS SECRECY OF COMMISSION ON STREET CARS

Ald. Holmes Thinks Press Should Be Admitted to Meetings.

SEES DANGER IN DELAY

Believes Public Will Be Ignorant of Facts For Voting.

Denouncing Mayor Cameron Wilson's special transportation commission, members of the city council Thursday questioned whether the ratepayers would be presented before municipal election day with the true facts of the case respecting the contemplated purchase of the London street railway.

Itching and chafing under what he terms as inexplicable delay, certain of the aldermen, notably Ald. (Dr.) Holmes, have declared that the meetings of this commission should be open to the press.

To Favored Few.

Claiming that at the present moment all knowledge of what may be transpiring or attempted is confined seemingly to a favored few of the council, principally those who are members of the commission itself, they reason that every publicity should be given to the entire project. They add that from present indications it will be impossible to prepare an adequate statement for the public if greater expediency and dispatch is not shown in the meanwhile. "We don't know about it at the present," Ald. Holmes declared Thursday, "but we understand that one meeting was staged, and it was impossible to gain a quorum."

"Under this commission I fail to understand just how the citizens will be able to hear the true facts of the case," continued the councillor. "As I see it, the members of the commission have but one objective in view, and I believe that absolutely no consideration will be given for anything but the trackless trolleys as in vogue in Windsor under the operation of the hydro-electric commission."

"The chances are that no consideration will be given for the possible inauguration of city bus lines, either privately or publicly owned, or for any other solution that may be presented."

Order Removal of Tracks.
Alderman Holmes contends that the London Street railway has, to date, sufficiently violated its agreement with the city of London to enable the city council, legally and without fear, to order the removal of the tracks, cars and entire rolling stock from city thoroughfares. After that was done, a good bus service could be instituted, which, properly managed, would give satisfaction to the citizens.

He cites, as an instance, the city of Saginaw, Michigan, where busses have been in local operation for about two years, he says, while the ivy clings to the walls of the car barns. Entire satisfaction has been registered by the citizens, he states.

Assailing the traction trolley system, as in vogue in the border cities, members of the council, including Alderman Holmes, deride their efficiency for a community the size of London. "Go to Windsor," suggests the latter, "and you will see the people in line for blocks waiting to get on."

POTESTS THRACE RETURN TO TURK

London, England, Oct. 5.—Canadian Press Cable.—The letter of Premier Venizelos of Greece in the Times yesterday, protesting against the return of Thrace to the Turks is discussed, not unsympathetically in several morning papers today. No where, however, is there an inclination manifested to allow the Greeks to continue to administer east Thrace pending the peace conference, while the Daily Mail and the Express strongly repudiate any idea of Great Britain being inveigled into a holy war against the Crescent in the interests of Greece.

"The Daily Mail says the sooner the Greeks retire the better."

WILL AID INDIAN FLOOD VICTIMS

London, Oct. 5.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Reuters' Calcutta correspondent cables that at a public meeting Indians and Europeans were resolved to organize immediate relief for the sufferers from the floods caused by the monsoon rains last week in North Bengal, which caused widespread havoc. It was stated that 800 square miles in the vicinity of Bogra were inundated. Many villages were demolished and thousands of people were rendered homeless. It is feared that many lives were lost. The government has already started relief work, but private effort is also necessary.

FRENCH APPOINT BARTHOLOMEU

Paris, Oct. 5.—The French cabinet this morning approved nomination of Louis Barthou, minister of justice, as president of the reparations commission and French representative on the commission in place of Louis Dubois.

News of Northern Ontario Fires Brings Anxiety To London Homes

NEWS of the Northern Ontario forest fires which reached London early Thursday morning brought with it anxiety to many London homes. Scores of well-known citizens have relatives in the fire zone, and not a few in the towns reported to have been totally destroyed. While refugees from the devastated area are reported to have reached Cobalt, no definite news of relatives' safety has, as far as is known, been received. The Advertiser has been besieged with phone calls, as has been railroad offices in the city, but as yet no casualty lists have come in.

Particularly pathetic is one instance. Mrs. M. Noble, of 51 Ada street, is anxiously awaiting word from her daughter, Mrs. James McFarlane, who with six children, one of whom is confined to bed with a broken leg, lived directly across from the Catholic church in Haileybury. Haileybury is reported to have been totally destroyed.

OBJECT TO ONE-MAN CITY CARS MAYOR BOLDLY ANSWERS LABOR

Councillors Contend Bylaw Prevents Use of Vehicles in London.

Statute Provides That Two Men Must Be Employed.

There are members of the city council who contend that the London Street Railway Company can be prevented from its proposed operation January next, of one-man cars in this city.

They claim that bylaw 916 of the city of London pertaining to the operation and maintenance of the London Street Railway provides that all cars must be manned by a motorman and a conductor or the agreement is violated.

Addressing the Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night, Alderman John Ashton, while deploring the fact that the entire proposition passed by the council with but scant and insufficient consideration, declared frankly that there remained but one means of rebuttal.

"There is only one way to stop them," he asserted, "and that is by terms of the bylaw respecting the number of men employed on each car."

Alderman Ashton contends that the issue was "sprung" unexpectedly upon the councillors by the railway management, and while he moved that the proposal be granted closer consideration at the committee session, the motion was lost.

The question now raised in civic circles is whether the action of the council in this respect was not illegal in view of the claim that the act provides that more than one man be employed on the cars.

If so, the contention is that Mayor Cameron Wilson and his associates have overlooked or ignored the necessity of amending the street railway bylaw.

BECOMES SILENT ON WAR SITUATION

The Chief Government Organ Makes No Comment, While Daily Chronicle Lends Support.

London, England, Oct. 5.—Canadian Press Cable.—The Daily Telegraph, chief organ of the coalition government, is editorially silent today on the Near East situation.

The position it has taken all along has been the attitude of the government has been obscured by the spirit of faction in England, which would have had Great Britain show subservience to French reactionaries.

It has accused independence of Labor, only in order to defend the straits only if Britain's allies were ready to help her, and has declared that as a matter of fact the allies did refuse to help defend the shores on which such freedom depends.

A special article in the Daily Chronicle, which gives its allegiance to the coalition government, refers to the league of nations as an instrument "which would have played its wheezy harmonium in vain to 'soothe the savage breasts'."

The Daily News has taken umbrage at this statement. The News stands for the old Liberalism, and regards the Chronicle as a shameless renegade since it came under coalition control.

FLOOD SUBMERGES TOWN OF BELLA COOLA IN B. C.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 5.—Bella Coola, a town of 175 inhabitants on the north coast of British Columbia was completely submerged in a flood from the Bella Coola River last Friday, and is now under a blanket of four to six feet of mud and water, according to officers of the steamer Camosun, which has arrived here. Many of the residents are homeless.

NINE PAIRS OF TWINS BORN

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—The birth of nine pairs of twins were registered at the city hall during September, constituting a new record in vital statistics for this city. The month also showed a large number of marriages, closely rivaling June.

DEATH STALKS AS TOWN AFTER TOWN BURNS IN RAGING FOREST FLAMES

Government Rushes Aid to Thousands of Homeless Victims in Timiskaming District—Fear Many Dead at Haileybury, North Cobalt and Other Centers—T. and N. O. Railway Partly Destroyed.

Cobalt, Oct. 5.—(By Canadian Press).—The town of New Liskeard has not been destroyed by the forest fires, as stated in an earlier bulletin from Mattawa. Latest advices this afternoon indicate that the ravages of the fire in that town were confined to the western side of the Timiskaming Railway tracks, and the damage is estimated at only $25,000 in that town. The hospital was not touched, according to latest reports.

KNOCKED DOWN BY RUNAWAYS

W. Emery, Bryanston, Hurt When Horses Rush From Market.

Animals Stop Mad Dash by Entanglement in Tree.

William Emery, 50 years old, of Bryanston, had a miraculous escape from death today when he was knocked down by a team of runaway horses at the corner of King and Talbot streets at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Although the wheels of the wagon passed over both his legs and he was struck by a bag of oats which was thrown from the wagon when the team bolted, Emery escaped with a number of bad bruises.

Emery is employed as a hired man by C. Hudson, R. R. No. 4, Iderton, the owner of the runaways. He was taken into the Harrison House, where he received medical attention.

The team was standing on the market square, when it suddenly took fright and headed for King street, turning west. The seat and several bags of oats were thrown from the wagon. As the horses raced madly down King street, the wagon swerved to the curb and struck a runaway owned by C. Levels of King street, smashing the hood and crushing one of the wheels on the curb.

At the northwest corner of King and Ridout street the horses ran on to the sidewalk and crashed into a tree. One horse ran on one side of the tree and the other on the other, the whiffletree receiving the full force of the blow. The tree swayed and was almost uprooted, but held the frightened animals until the owner arrived.

Four men tried to hold the horses when they started away from the market, but failed.

It was claimed that the bride was not on one of the horses when the team was standing on the market, but a few minutes before the run away and found it in good condition.

There is another story that refugees crowded the Catholic Church in Haileybury and that when the flames hit it, a panic followed, in which a number were hurt, and one man insisted that some were killed.

The T. and N. O. is selling transportation with the proviso that they will take the people only as far as the rails are passable. The burning freight cars twisted the tracks so that the motor scooters sent out to explore the devastated district are unable to make much progress. A dense smoke covers the entire area.

T. J. Meagher, clerk of the court at Haileybury, which was in session, with Mr. Justice Oude presiding when the fire broke out, stated that P. A. Cobbold and his wife were trapped in a burning building in that town and lost their lives. The judge Turn to Page 5, Column 1.

FEAR REBELLION THROUGHOUT INDIA

Reports From Punjab Show Akali Agitation Assumes Dangerous Proportions.

London, Oct. 5.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The Daily News of Allahabad, India, according to a Reuters dispatch, states that the daily reports from the Punjab show that the Akali agitation is rapidly developing into a formidable religious movement.

The gravity of the situation was recently increased by selective broadcast propaganda throughout India, including the Indian regiments.

Although heretofore no call has been openly made on the Sikhs, a most undesirable impression has been made on them, and this is the cause of much anxiety to the authorities.

The implacable attitude of the Indian Moslems, led on by Hindu extremists and a venomous anti-British press, is adding to the seriousness of the situation.

The Allahabad Daily News says it understands that the All-India Central Khilafat Committee is visiting the governments of Ankara, Constantinople, Egypt, Persia and Afghanistan and other Muslim countries to send delegates to a Khilafat conference at Gaya, Bengal, in December.

WILLIE'S HIKE TO LAST SIX YEARS

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—After a walk of 18,000 miles, and with six years of walking ahead of him, William J. Conroy of Hollywood, was arriving in Ottawa, Conroy is on a walking tour of the world which must end in California in seven years. On completion of the tour, he stated, he would receive $25,000 from picture interests.

AUTOS WITH MACHINE GUN GUARD BORDER IN WEST

Regina, Oct. 5.—Automobiles equipped with machine guns, operated by the Saskatchewan provincial police, will patrol the international boundary following the murder yesterday of Paul Maroff at Belfair, Sask., the robbery of $8,000 from his body, and the seizure of a truckload of liquor by "high-jackers," it was announced last night.

THE WEATHER

FORECASTS.

Today—Moderate to fresh winds; fair and warm.

Friday—A few scattered showers, but mostly fair.

Pressure is high in the South Atlantic States, and shallow depressions cover Minnesota and the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Rain has been fairly general in the Western Provinces, and showers have occurred in Eastern Quebec and the eastern portion of the Maritime Provinces.

Temperatures.

The highest and lowest temperatures during the 24 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were:

	High.	Low.
Victoria	60	50
Calgary	40	36
Winnipeg	60	40
Pt. Arthur	50	40
P. Sound	76	52
Toronto	51	59
Kingston	63	61
Quebec	70	56
Montreal	70	56
Quebec	62	46
P. Point	46	40
Halifax	58	48

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

The highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night were: Highest, 50; lowest, 49.

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 72; lowest, 62.

Barometric Readings.

Wednesday—5 p.m., 23.11.

Today—8 a.m., 23.12.

6,000 SEE FAIR AT DORCHESTER

Donnybrook Fair Retains Old-Time Popularity For Crowds.

Exhibits and Races Provide Best Entertainment in Years.

(By Staff Reporter.)

Favored as they were with excellent weather, the directors of Donnybrook (Donnybrook) Fair threw open their gates to crowds of pleasure-seeking people and exhibitors Wednesday afternoon. The fair was conceded by officials to be the best and largest in the history of the exhibition, and all officers were jubilant over the interest shown in what they had tried to do and were successful in making a wonderful success.

Early in the day throngs of spectators began to wend their way through the turnstiles, and before the afternoon had hardly commenced the grounds were crowded. Comparing the gate receipts of this year, which were estimated at about $1,200, with those of last year, which were $1,135, it can be readily seen that this year's fair is by no means behind that of last year in attendance. It must also be remembered that a reduction of 10 cents was made in the admission price this year, which means a great deal in the totalling of the gate receipts. At the time when newcomers were not to be seen it was estimated that more than 6,000 people were in attendance.

The races before the grandstand provided an attraction of intense interest. The grandstand was packed to its utmost capacity and hundreds of people were to be seen taking in the sights from the grounds bordering the track. The Springfield Citizens' Band provided music during the whole afternoon.

Many Exhibits.
The exhibits on the grounds were many and varied. Some fine farm machinery was shown. Many of London's leading clothing dealers and manufacturers had exhibits of small value, and were a source of much interest to everyone. "Hotdogs and hamburgers" and plenty of other tasty refreshments were to be had at the many booths. Novelties for the kiddies found a ready sale.

One of the most interesting features in the exhibits was the art display, the results being as follows: Oil paintings of flowers from nature, Mrs. V. J. Kennedy, Mrs. G. R. Miller, Donald; oil paintings, copies of scenes, George Hunt, Mrs. V. J. Kennedy; sepia study, Miss Louise B. Fisher; pencil drawing, original, Harry Eathough; hand-painted china, Mrs. V. J. Kennedy, Mrs. G. R. Miller, pastel study, Mrs. L. Kester, Mrs. L. Kester, Mrs. J. S. Henderson.

The splendid exhibits of horses and cattle were a source of congratulation to the ones who had the raising of them. A good class of sheep and swine were shown and the entries were large. A fine quality of fruits was shown and the entries were more plentiful in this class than anything else. This is accounted for, the officials say, because of the enormous fruit supply and crop this year. Many of the farmers and their wives were proud of their dairy products on exhibition, and they had no cause to be otherwise.

Horses Prove Attraction.
Western Ontario is not behind other provinces in the raising of horses, which was proved by the splendid exhibit. Following are the results in this:

Class A, heavy draft horses—Foal, Thomas Delaney, Sims Bros.; span of horses, Sims Bros., S. P. Charlton. Class B, agricultural—Foal, J. C. Henderson, J. C. Henderson, Orval Grose; span of horses, Alex. Smith, J. C. Henderson, Bruce Patterson. Class C, general purpose horses—Foal, Andy McGregor, Lorne Beacham; span of horses, George Nicols, A. Belore, Dennis Demary & Sons.

The ladies' work on exhibition drew a tremendous crowd of onlookers. The finest of needlework was shown, and the keenness of the young ladies in this display was surprising as well as interesting to note. Some of the articles that brought first prizes were sold quickly and returned a handsome amount to add to the prizes.

The prize-winning animals were led before the grandstand, and the spectators evinced much interest in them. The grandstand was filled to capacity, spectators congregating on both sides of the track. The live stock parade was easily the feature of the afternoon.

ANNOUNCES PROGRAM OF VISITS TO MASONIC LODGES

RL Worshipful Bro. Benjamin Noble, D. D. G. M., of London Masonic District No. 3, proposes to visit the following lodges on the said dates: St. George's, 42, London, Oct. 5; King Solomon's, 373, London, Oct. 12; Middlesex, 279, Brynston, Nov. 1; Merrill, 344, Dorchester, Nov. 2; Belmont, 190, Belmont, Nov. 3; Corinthian, 380, London, Nov. 7; St. Paul's, 107, Lambeth, Dec. 6.

C. P. R. CONDUCTOR KILLED.
FORT WILLIAM, Oct. 4.—E. E. McLaughlin, one of the senior passenger conductors of the Canadian Pacific railway here, was instantly killed at Dorchester station when he slipped beneath the wheels of a train while alighting from one of the cars. He leaves a widow and five children, two sons and three daughters.

Scenes At Famous Donnybrook Fair At Dorchester

WEDNESDAY was the day of days at Donnybrook Fair. The top picture shows a group of the fair sex engaged in their favorite sport of "eating hot dogs" with plenty of mustard. Center picture shows a portion of the record crowd of 6,000 people on the grounds, taking in the exhibits. The lower picture was snapped before the grand stand, showing old and young viewing the spirited horse races with pleasure.

CATTLE DEALER IS ATTACKED BY BULL

W. W. Ballantyne of Downie Tossed Bodily Out of Box Stall.

Special to London Advertiser.
STRATFORD, Oct. 4.—W. W. Ballantyne, prominent Ayrshire cattle dealer of Downie, is receiving congratulations today following his narrow escape from an angry bull. He was repairing a box stall in which the bull was quartered and was attacked by the bull, and only escaped when he was tossed bodily by the bull out of the stall. He escaped with only a few bruises.

Evidence was completed today in the three actions of G. McKewin, Jas. Hislop and L. Dunneith against Stillman Creameries for $307,556 and $150, respectively. The cases will be argued tomorrow.

OPEN INQUEST ON RUSSIAN'S DEATH

Alcohol Blamed For Sudden Death in Kitchener Sunday.

KITCHENER, Oct. 4.—An inquest started today into the death of Frederick Hanreichuck, a local Russian, who died apparently of alcoholic poisoning, was adjourned until October 18, pending the analysis of the Russian's stomach. The Russian visited on Saturday at the home of some of his fellow-countrymen on the border of the city and was taken sick while at the house.

Two Chinamen With Fortune in Opium Unable To Pay $200 Fines

Special to London Advertiser.
SARNIA, Oct. 4.—Two transient Chinamen, Chan Ging Hung and Chue Fong, were fined $200 and costs by Magistrate J. J. Jarvis in court police court Wednesday afternoon for being in possession of opium without the necessary license. Opium was found in the cabins occupied by the men on a steamer moored at Point Edward.

Although the value of the opium is stated to be $1,000 and sufficient in quantity to put a man to sleep for every night in a year, the two men had no money with which to pay their fines, and as an alternative will spend six months in local jail and be deported at the termination of sentences. The seizure, which was made by Dominion Constable Thomas Lynch and Detective James Byrley of city police force Tuesday night, included two tins of liquid opium, pipe, bowls, heating lamps and other apparatus.

Tom Gree was also fined $50 and costs for selling two .38 caliber revolvers without a permit to other Chinamen, and in addition received one month's imprisonment.

Grows Second Crop of Potatoes This Season in County of Kent.

Special to London Advertiser.
BLENNHEIM, Oct. 4.—Neil Watson, mayor of Mull, was in town a few days ago, and Neil always has something new to tell or show. This time he had a "later" in his pocket. This particular potato was one he had grown as a second crop in his garden at Mull. Neil naturally was boasting the soil of his village that would grow two crops of potatoes in one season.

Of course, there is no doubt that the work bestowed upon this particular lot had much to do with producing the crop. Whether or not the genial mayor should have credit for all this is not known, but in any event he is telling that he grew two crops of potatoes this season in his garden in Mull in Kent County.

the proprietor, who called medical aid. The man died on Sunday. He was 52 years of age and leaves a family in Russia. While it is not thought there was any foul play, two bruises found on his head were investigated in a post-mortem.

The report of the physician who performed the autopsy will be read at the resumption of the inquest, when it is expected the report of the analyst will be available to show the contents of the man's stomach.

Following a mix-up in the fire alarm which occurred in Waterloo Monday night in connection with the garage fire, a thorough investigation of the system was made today by Fire Chief Karges and Superintendent Grosse of the light commission.

BRANTFORD MEN PROFIT IN OIL LANDS

Messrs. O'Reilly and Vandusen Advised That Holdings in Oklahoma Worth Millions.

Special to London Advertiser.
BRANTFORD, Oct. 4.—Lloyd Harris, former Brantfordite, seems to be not only one who has profited by oil in the United States, according to James O'Reilly, another former Brantford man, who is spending a few days in the city looking up old friends. Mr. O'Reilly and C. Vandusen, of this city, leased 100 acres of land in Grady County, Oklahoma, and 640 acres in Brewster County, Texas, on July 15 last. At that time the land was merely a prospect, but the past few days Mr. O'Reilly has received word to the effect that oil has been found in Grady County, and his land is now worth some millions of dollars. The partners leave tonight for Oklahoma, where they will take an active part in drilling for oil. They have already received a number of offers for the property, but are not yet willing to sell.

William Vandusen was this morning fined $200 and costs, with an alternative of three months in jail, when he appeared before Magistrate Blake in the police court charged with a breach of the narcotic drug act. The fine was paid.

Robert Lake appeared in court with a breach of the dog bylaw. He was ordered to get a tag for his dog and pay the costs of the court. The case of Frank Kitter, charged with B. O. T. A., was laid over until Friday.

FARMER VIOLATES TRAFFIC BYLAW

WATERLOO, Oct. 4.—Because he left a team of horses standing in front of a Waterloo store today without tying them, and because they later became startled and ran away, a Waterloo Township farmer will be hauled into police court Friday morning and charged with a breach of the traffic regulations. Fortunately no damages resulted from the runaway.

AMERICAN DESTROYER BOMBARDED BY TURKS

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Reuters has received the following from a semi-official source in Athens: "According to the newspapers, an American destroyer engaged in embarking refugees at Atalvi was bombarded by the Turks."

REVISION OF TARIFF FOR DOMESTIC PRODUCTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—New customs regulations making effective the provisions of the tariff act of 1922 with respect to domestic products exported and reimported were issued last night by the treasury.

PLEADS GUILTY TO STORE THEFT

Leslie King Admits Burglaring Hespeler Business Houses Saturday.

Will Complete Galt-Hamilton and Galt-Preston Highways This Fall.

Special to London Advertiser.
GALT, Oct. 4.—Pleading guilty to charges of robbing W. Rutledge's and A. Lang & Co.'s stores at Hespeler on Saturday morning last, Leslie King was this morning remanded by Magistrate J. J. A. Weir in the Hespeler court for a week for sentence. King, who is 19 years old, is a fine looking young chap. He said he made the trip to Hespeler in an automobile, which had been loaned him, and was accompanied by a 15-year-old lad, whose name he did divulge. He declared he did not see any of the goods, and admitted that he had been tipped off by a man he met in Toronto that Hespeler was a good spot to work in. The only way he could account for the stolen goods being found in a field below Galt was that they must have been carried out of the vehicle by the wind. King has a record in Hamilton, having been convicted on several charges of theft.

Hon. F. C. Biggs has announced that the Galt-Hamilton highway and the Galt-Preston highway will be completed this fall, and the contractors, the Brennan Paving Company, are prepared to put on night gangs to finish the roads. Today Galt City Council awarded the contract to the Brennan Paving Company for paving Dundas street from Hunter's Corners to the golf links to connect with the highway, which, when completed, will mean that there will be one continuous pavement from the north of King street, Preston, to Hamilton. It is expected the opening of the Galt end of the Hamilton highway will be made in less than three weeks.

A. D. McTier, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and president of the L. E. and N. and G. R. Railways, with J. J. Scully, general manager of the C. P. R., and other officials today made a trip of inspection over the local radial lines. While the tenders for the $300,000 addition to the Galt Collegiate have been opened, no action has been taken to let a contract, the figures being referred back to the building committee for a revision of the plans.

SIX ARRESTED IN RAID AT CHATHAM

Maple City Clubs Open Season With Enthusiastic Meetings.

Special to London Advertiser.
CHATHAM, Oct. 4.—One woman and five men were arrested in a liquor raid by city police last evening. Information was given to the police that a drinking bout was going on in a Colborne street residence, and the raid was subsequently made, with the result that Mrs. Mary Maynard of the O. T. A. in the city police court this morning by Magistrate Arnold. Sentence was deferred for one week. James Jackson of this city was one of the participants, and paid for being drunk. The other defendants were Howard Wilson, Ivan Watson, John Jackson and A. B. Lee, of Leamington. They paid fines of $100 each for "consuming liquor in a public place." Jeanne Gordon, famous contralto of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, accompanied by Giulio Crimi, Caruso's successor, and by Bevie Williams, noted pianist, will appear in this city on Monday evening next in a repertoire of grand opera excerpts. Miss Gordon, who is the wife of Ralph being given by J. G. Kerr, K. C., Past President C. E. Beeson and the Reverend (Captain) D. H. Marshall. Ambitious plans for the season were outlined by Secretary C. F. Wright.

A person weighing 120 to 140 pounds has about as much blood as might be contained in five quart milk bottles.

Ontario Tobacco Growers Enthusiastic Over Season's Crop.

Special to London Advertiser.
CHATHAM, Oct. 4.—The splendid condition of the 1922 crop augurs well for the future of the Ontario tobacco-growing industry, stated a well-known tobacco grower in the city today. He declared that it was the consensus of opinion among tobacco growers that the 1922 crop, however, would be nearly five million pounds short of the five preceding years.

They declare, however, that the quality will be much better than that of previous years owing to the fact that the plants are being much better taken care of than in the past two years.

To Inform Parents of Their Children's Intelligence At McGill

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—Montreal parents will be able to ascertain if their children are of average intelligence, below normal or are budding geniuses at a psycho-educational clinic which is to be opened immediately in connection with the psychology department of McGill University. The clinic, which is a new venture in Montreal, will be under the direction of Dr. W. D. Tait.

BANDITS KILL AND GET $6,000

Shot Employee of Liquor Company in Robbery At Bienfait, Sask.

Pursued by Provincial Police, But Make Good Their Escape.

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 4.—Paul Matoff, an employee of a Regina liquor company, was shot and killed and his body was robbed of $6,000 by a band of desperadoes, supposedly from across the international boundary, in the railway station at Bienfait, Sask., early this morning.

The bandits escaped in a powerful car pursued by a smaller car containing three provincial policemen. Matoff was in the station for the purpose, it is stated, of endeavoring to release a shipment of liquor supposed to be destined for the United States side of the boundary. In his pockets was $6,000, said to be payment in advance for the liquor. A motor car drove up in front of the station, one shot was fired through the window, and Matoff dropped dead. Two of the party entered the station and robbed the body.

A few minutes later a provincial police night patrol driving east of Bienfait observed a big car with six men approaching at a furious pace and ordered its driver to stop. The command was unheeded, and the bandits passed the officers at 60 miles an hour. Shots were exchanged without effect.

MINE OWNERS AND WORKERS CONFER

Will Discuss Plans To Preserve Solvency of English Coal Fields.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(Canadian Press Cable).—How to save the English coal fields from their present virtually insolvent state will form the subject of a conference tomorrow of the national joint wage board, comprising employers and workers. Frank Hodges, secretary of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain, advocates an advance of three shillings per ton in the price of coal. The summer price, which is being withdrawn this week, means an increase in price to the householder of three shillings.

After the strike last year the national joint wage board agreement awarded in wages 83 per cent of the profits to the workers, and 17 per cent to the coal mine owners, this resulting in a surrender by the mine owners of $3,000,000 profits. The owners declare that they have had to call upon their own proportion of earnings to pay the guaranteed minimum wages, and the miners admit the serious position for the owners of the conference, but the West is demanding a superintendent for the West. It is also urged that nominations be

BETTER FURNISHED HOMES WEEK SOON

Merchants of London Enthusiastic About Exhibits To Be Staged Next Monday.

"Better Furnished Homes" Week will be held in London commencing Monday. The local committee is at present completing all details and plans to stage several attractive novelties, for which beautiful prizes will be offered.

During the week every furniture store will be a veritable furniture exhibit, on a scale never before attempted in London.

The announcements of the merchants will be instructive in the beautifying of the home, and the public will be invited to visit the several stores.

It is anticipated that through the growing made an even greater love of home will be created in the minds of citizens, not only of London, but throughout the district.

CANADA REPRESENTED AT COUNCIL MEETING

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Twenty states, including Canada, are represented at the meeting of the council of the International Parliamentary Commercial Conference to draft a plan for next year's conference at Prague, says a Reuter cable from Venice. Senator Pavia of Italy is presiding.

WILL NOT ADMIT WOMEN PASTORS

Methodist General Conference Votes Down Proposal Admitting Women.

Move To Have Two General Superintendents Started—Dr. Chown Favored.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—The Methodist Church of Canada will see to it that future generations know something of the courage, devotion and self-sacrifice of the "saddle-bag" preachers, a term applied to the pioneer ministers who worked over sparsely settled stretches of this country in the early days. The Methodist Conference this morning decided to rally to the support of the archivist, Rev. Dr. MacLean, with a view of building up archives worthy of the records of these servants of the church of other years. "We must either drop this department altogether or make it worthy of the church, for the support we are giving Dr. MacLean is no credit to this denomination," said Rev. Dr. Chown. "A church that is headless of its traditions does not deserve a future," said a delegate. This work of building up archives will be gone ahead with whether church union comes or not.

It is understood that an effort will be made to have the church union draft bill debated by the conference on Friday. The committee has its report ready, which, with minor alterations, adopts the draft.

Today conference listened to appeals for greater support to the deaconesses of the church and a report on the work these sisters are carrying out. It was warned that unauthorized and uncontrolled outside missionary organizations were too often getting contributions through the medium of Methodist churches which should have been given to church bodies over which conference had control. A move to have two general superintendents of the conference instead of one was started.

The resolution respecting the Near East situation was to have come before the conference today, but room could not be made in the program to admit it, so it will probably come up tomorrow.

At the opening of the general conference today notices of motion were submitted in relation to the election of delegates to general conference and election of general superintendents. The notices of motion were moved by Rev. Dr. Young, Toronto.

One set provided that at the election of general conference delegates by the annual conference both ministers and laymen should vote together alike for the ministerial and lay delegates. Discipline at present provides that the ministers elect the ministerial delegates and the laymen elect the lay delegates. The other set of notices of motion, also moved by Dr. Young, would make provision for two or more general superintendents.

At present Rev. Dr. Chown is the sole general superintendent in the conference, but the West is demanding a superintendent for the West. It is also urged that nominations be presented before the superintendent are elected. The superintendent in the past have been elected direct without nominations. Then seems to be no doubt that Rev. Dr. Chown will again be the unanimous choice as general superintendent, and if the conference decides to have more than one he will be the senior.

Women Pastors Voted Down.
Once again the women have lost out in their efforts to gain admission to the Methodist ministry. By a vote of 17 to 16 the discipline committee has decided against recommending their admission to the pulpits of the Methodist Church. They were three women on the committee and they put up a vigorous fight to allow the women to become pastors but just failed by one vote. One of the arguments advanced before the committee was that it would tend to rob the cradle. Previous to the fight before the committee the district meetings throughout Canada voted against the proposal, although only a comparatively small portion of the districts reported on the question. The plea for women pastors will come up again on the floor of the conference.

Rev. P. C. Stephenson, head of the forward movement of missions, in a speech which aroused the enthusiasm of the conference, urged support to the church missions. He warned against missionary giving to bodies over which the church had no control. For example, a man asked permission to address a meeting in the Metropolitan Methodist Church, explaining that he would talk on missions, but would ask for no collection. It was allowed, and the young man shipped in a lot of mission boxes which he distributed among the hearers, with the result that he took over $1,000 out of this one church, which went to an uncontrolled body. Another man raised $700 posing as a missionary, who never went to foreign lands at all, but was always raising more money. He urged the delegates to keep the missionary giving of the Methodist Church people within the activities of the church organizations. Mr. Stephenson made an appeal to stir up enthusiasm for missions in the congregation. "We want enthusiasm from the cradle to the grave," he said.

He explained that a member of the congregation had by his will provided a bequest that will keep four missionaries in the foreign field in perpetuity. Another wealthy farmer had made provision in his will for a missionary in perpetuity.

EMPLOYEES' VOTE MAY AVERT TRAMWAY STRIKE

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(By Canadian Press Cable).—The tramwaymen's dispute with the employers over the proposal to reduce the men's wages by 12 shillings a week in three instalments, seems likely to be settled by the men's ballot agreeing to a cut of 4 shillings a week. The tramwaymen's union will keep four shillings in force. The present wages of the tramwaymen are as follows: Motor-men, £3 5s 8d per week; conductors, £3 2s 3d. There are 65,000 men employed in the tramway service throughout the country.

The greatest platinum field yet discovered is located around the San Juan River in Columbia.

The crow apparently knows what a gun is, according to authorities on the bird.

"THE GLORIA"

Dame Fashion reveals herself in the Beautiful Footwear

featured at the "Style Revue," Grand Theatre, by the J. P. Cook Co., Limited.

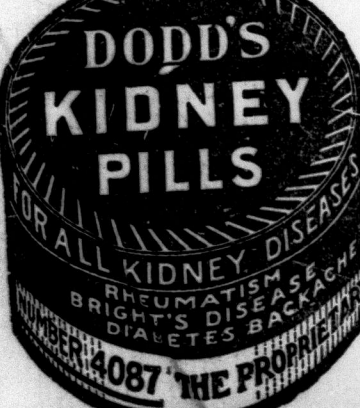

The Revue proves an added triumph for this exclusive and fashionable shop.

Discriminating women know that "Cook's Beautiful Shoes" follow Fashion's every precept, and although the styles are very exclusive, they are always reasonably priced.

All models at Style Revue are wearing our footwear exclusively.

The J. P. Cook Co. Limited

"Beautiful Shoes"

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES

BRONCHITIS, NEURALGIA, DIABETES, GRAVEL, etc.

4087 THE PHARMACY

WOULD APPOINT ADVISORY BODY

Professor Morrow Suggests
Chamber of Commerce
Heads Be Included.

Thinks Business Course Will Be Finest in Any School.

Received with much favor at the Chamber of Commerce noon meeting in the Tecumseh House Thursday was the suggestion from Professor E. H. Morrow of the staff of the Western University, that the presidents of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Western Ontario be appointed to act as an advisory body in matters pertaining to the teaching of commerce at Western University.

The aid of businessmen of the city as an all-important factor in conducting the department of commerce at Western University with a view to developing the student along practical lines, and giving him insight into the problems presented by the business world, was given strong emphasis by Professor Morrow in his address.

Furthermore, in outlining the courses of study which he followed, he indicated clearly that the classes in commerce might be of as much value to the businessman of the city as to the student enrolled.

"To the end that we may turn out trained executive men, with a knowledge of the problems and facts of the business world," Prof. Morrow said. "We shall ask that businessmen of the city devote a small space of time to the discussion of their particular line of commerce or trade with the classes, present their problems and leave the class to consider and discuss them and the discovery of a possible solution."

"We have not the intention of giving a specialized technical training along any one particular line. That may be done by business courses, or better still, from business experience. Our aim rather is to get away from theorizing and turn out students who have the capabilities of good businessmen and executives."

Coming into Prof. Morrow's address, Dean Spencer of Western University, advanced the statement that at the present time, the course in commerce given at Western University ranks equal, and in some cases, better than that given at the other Canadian colleges, and that given time for full development, it will rank with the finest schools of commerce on the continent.

The plan followed in the teaching of commerce at Western will be, it was stated, very similar to that followed at Harvard University, which acknowledged as foremost authority in the training of commerce and business management.

IS SENTENCED ON FORGERY CHARGE

Duncan Black Gets From Three Months to Two Years in Reformatory.

Duncan Black, a middle-aged farmer, of South Dorchester, was sentenced to not less than three months, and not more than two years, less one day, in the Ontario Reformatory, after pleading guilty to a charge of forgery in police court this morning. He admitted forging the name of Levi Willis to a promissory note. The note was cashed at the Home Bank, about $500 being obtained on it.

"Have you anything to say as to why I should not impose sentence on you?" asked Magistrate Graydon. "Well, I expected to get $250 this morning, and I could get another $250 if I got out, and make it good," replied Black.

"The crime you have committed is a very serious one. I have always looked upon it as a very cowardly one. A robber who enters a place takes a chance on physical injury and the possibility of being shot to death, but there is no risk in that regard in this offense. This offense is regarded as serious, because business has to depend on signatures. If it was allowed to go on, business would not go on."

On behalf of the prisoner, Ashton R. Douglas, his counsel, asked for leniency, stating his client was suffering from an open wound in his side and was in very poor condition physically.

Magistrate Graydon could not see why the man's condition should deter him from sending him to an institution, as he would be given medical attention there, he pointed out.

HAS MANY APPLICATIONS FOR DOMESTIC SERVANTS

Salvation Army Hostel Reports Big Demand for Maids From England.

So great is the demand for capable domestic servants in the city that the Salvation Army Immigration Hostel, "Midfield Lodge," at the corner of King and Ontario streets, has continually a long list of applications on hand.

A party of girls from England, who come to Canada with the intention of seeking employment in domestic service, is expected to arrive at the end of the week, and applications are already in for their services, with the demand expected to exceed the supply.

The last party came two weeks ago, five girls and a widow with three children. All were found positions, and are reported as going on well satisfied with Canada as a whole and their new homes in particular.

Town Topics.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord; and he will teach us his ways, and we will walk in his paths.—Isaiah 2:3.

SEE this last and hammer (said the poor cobbler); that last and that hammer are the best two friends I have in the world. Nobody else will be my friend because I want a friend.—Oliver Goldsmith.

BANK CLEARINGS for the week amounted to $3,185,814, in contrast to $3,823,592 for the corresponding week last year.

JAMES MALCOLM, M.P., of Kincardine, will address the Kiwanis Club on Friday, "Better Furnished Homes Mean Greater Happiness." The entire meeting will be in the hands of furniture men who are members of the club, and the furniture dealers of the city will be the guests. Arthur B. Keene will be the booster. The club has made home furnishings and happiness the business of the day, in connection with the "better homes" campaign in the city to be put under way next week.

EXPECTED TO ADDRESS the delegates of the Trades and Labor Council, Wednesday night, Hon. Walter Rolfe, minister of labor, failed to appear. A communication from him revealed the information that he would be unable to be present until the next regular session, two weeks hence. The minister of labor is coming here to discuss the "fair wages" clause with the local union men.

CONTENTED WITH POLICE SYSTEM

Mayor Disapproves of Putting Commission Under Municipal Control.

Unlike civic administrators in St. Thomas and other Ontario municipalities, who are urging government legislation to place the police commission under municipal control, Mayor Wilson disapproves of the present procedure, the "old-fashioned way," as he terms it.

At this moment the London Police Commission consists of Mayor Cameron Wilson (chairman), Police Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, Judge Talbot Macbeth, Chief of Police Robert Birrell and secretary.

There is a noticeable movement in other communities to change this arrangement in such a manner as to place the commission directly responsible to the people. In short, there are those who state with growing emphasis that the police commission, as a public spending body, should be elected by the ratepayers who have to shoulder the expense.

Mayor Wilson is decidedly against this plan, and infers that the proposal would receive no favor while he occupies the mayor's chair.

"I would not desire that the police commission should be made into a political affair," he declared Thursday.

"We have two good members," he added, "in the person of the police magistrate and the county judge. They are entirely competent as commissioners, and I can say that anything that I have had to suggest has always been received with very consideration. Of course, the mayor may be a fool, but he changes from year to year, in any event."

PICK CANDIDATES IN OPEN MEETING

Labor Organization Decide to Select No Representatives
Behind Closed Doors.

Aspirants for civic honors in December next must receive their nomination in public convention at the Labor Temple, if they choose to face the voters on a straight labor ticket. This is the ruling from labor headquarters.

Representative members of the political labor movement give assurance that, everything will be conducted in the open, and there will be no selection of nominees at special sessions behind closed doors.

Plans for the forthcoming contest will be prepared at special sessions of the London Labor Party and No. 1 branch of the organization, throughout the month.

Prominent labor men believe at this moment that there will be a labor candidate in the mayoralty field, as it is their determination that no municipal honor shall go by default. It is proposed that suitable candidates be placed in the aldermanic race in greater numbers than at any previous election, while a special effort will be made to elect a full representation to the school board.

In the Argentine, farms isolated from any town are better kept than many British country houses.

The greatest breeding ground for water fowl in the United States is in the state of Nebraska.

Criticize Members of City Council Absent From Special Traffic Meet

Sharp criticism was registered at the city hall Thursday in connection with the special session held there the previous evening, attended by Hon. Frank C. Biggs and representatives of civic organizations, to discuss the standardization of traffic regulations.

It was quite noticeable, according to certain persons who were present, that certain organizations supposedly interested in events of this nature, were quite "conspicuous by their absence."

URGES CAMPAIGN ON ANNEX TAXES

Ald. Ashplant Plans to Lay
the School Question Before Ratepayers.

Will Hold Meeting to Advise Electors on Issue.

The annexed school question is by no means a dead issue, according to Ald. Henry B. Ashplant, who explained Thursday that arrangements are practically complete for a series of public mass meetings, at which qualified speakers will address the electors in that respect.

It is proposed that a meeting should be held in the downtown area, at which may attend all citizens interested in this issue, which created such dissension in the city council earlier in the year, and was terminated only after the question had been sent to the court of revision and two labor aldermen had been voted out of the London Labor Party. Ald. Fred R. Watkinson and Ald. John Ashton.

Although their colleagues, Ald. Ashplant pressed for the collection of certain additional school taxes from industries in the annexed districts of East London, the latter did not support him, and Ald. Ashplant's efforts drew the assistance of one lone councillor Ald. (Dr.) Leonard Douglass.

The court of revision has said that the issue should claim the attention of a higher judiciary, and Ald. Ashplant proposes that a campaign be instituted by ratepayers to compel the city council to pursue this question to a logical conclusion, by a writ of mandamus.

Other public meetings will be staged from time to time throughout the annexed district, it is explained, where interest in the school tax issue has by no means abated, if all reports are correct.

LIBERALS PROMISE GREAT ACTIVITIES

Program for Year To Be Announced at Opening of Club.

Liberal activities in London during the fall and winter season are already showing signs of outliving all of the other years, C. C. Ferguson, secretary of the Liberal Club, announced Thursday morning.

The program for the present season will be introduced for the sanction of the members at the opening meeting of the season to be held in Hyman Hall at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Preparations are being made to accommodate a number of the largest crowds in the history of the club, as the season's program is said to be the most extensive and interesting ever attempted by the London organization, and Secretary Ferguson is confident that that alone is sufficient to draw out every member of the club.

Dr. A. B. Rankin, a prominent Liberal of this city, will address an assemblage on "Organization," and among several added features on the program is a vocal solo by F. S. Ashplant.

It is the intention of the executive to inaugurate a vigorous campaign for new members at an early date. Although the membership at the present is extremely large, the officers of the club are of the opinion that there is always room for one more. Plans for the campaign will be formed at a subsequent meeting.

POLICE CAPTURE 2 RUNAWAY BOYS

Youngsters Escaped From Shelter Said To Have Stolen
Horse and Buggy.

Police captured the two 10-year-old boys who escaped from the Children's Shelter yesterday afternoon and returned them to that institution.

The boys were reported to have stolen a horse and buggy. The outfit was found on the corner of Trafalgar and Rectory streets, a few hours after their escape. It was the property of George Oxford, a district farmer, who reported his loss to the police shortly after the report of the boys' escape was made.

Theft of an overcoat, which the boys had in their possession when they were arrested at the corner of King and Clarence streets at 10:20 o'clock last night, is charged against them.

"What are you in for?" asked an official of one of the boys, shortly after he was taken into custody. "Highway robbery," the boy said with a smile, as he was taken back to the shelter.

Magistrate Graydon this morning in juvenile court decided to remand the pair for a week.

As a result of contact with a wire cable, trailing from the rear of an automobile, the driver or owner of which has not yet been ascertained, is suffering from injuries to her right leg, and is constantly under the care of a physician lest blood poisoning set in.

Mrs. Essery claims that the cable as it crossed the street car tracks on Dundas street, on its journey south, was giving off sparks. As she stepped off a street car, the cable grazed her leg, as a result of which the stocking was partly burned away and the flesh badly burned.

It will be some days yet before all danger from blood poisoning is past. Mrs. Essery has given word to the police that the car bore a Toronto license, of which she obtained the number.

I SPIED TODAY

PRIZE FOR BEST ITEM DAILY.

YOU must see something going on every day. Perhaps not a big thing, but interesting. The Advertiser wants you to send it for use in the "I Spied" column. Every reader a reporter is the idea behind the plan. The items must not be written to "take a stab" at any person. If so, they will not be published.

In order to create interest in the column, the GRAND OPERA HOUSE has donated two seats each night as a prize for the best item of the day. Your name and address must accompany the item, and it can run with only your initial attached if you desire. The contest is on. WHO WANTS TO GO TO THE GRAND?

If "W. B." in Wednesday's "I Spied" column will call at The Advertiser office today or Friday he will be given two tickets for the Grand Theatre Friday.

A CERTAIN scavenger wagon on a certain street displaying a large umbrella advertising a certain brand of ice cream.

THE SAME LITTLE finger and grease marks that graced the drinking fountain at Richmond street a month or more ago still marking its one-time whiteness.

A LONDON SOUTH merchant was cleaning some machinery with gasoline and struck a match to light his cigar. The gasoline got busy and burned his fingers.

A CLERGYMAN in a local Anglican church who first shook one leg and then the other, and gyrated his arms at frequent intervals. To a choir member standing next to him he imparted the information: "A bee! A bee!"

A WOMAN getting on a west-bound car with a dime in her hand. Thinking she would get a free ride, she said to the conductor: "I'm sorry, but I haven't the right change." The conductor, with an amused smile on his face, said: "I'll soon make it right!"—W. J. K.

LUMPS OF asphalt sprinkled thickly over the pavement and car tracks for several blocks on Hamilton road by passing

FORM ASSOCIATION TO BOOST EAST END

London East Merchants Organize for Mutual Benefit and Protection.

Every class of business will be represented in the new East London Businessmen's Association, which was organized Wednesday evening at an enthusiastic meeting held in Child's Drug Store.

The organization meeting was marked by large attendance, and officers were elected and committees chosen from active and representative East London businessmen. Chas. Ross acted as chairman, and M. Agronov as secretary.

The officers elected are: President, Norman Ross; vice-president, Geo. Burdick; secretary, W. E. Armstrong; treasurer, P. S. Farquhar. "This organization has been talked about for some months," said Mr. Armstrong, "and now it is here. It will mean a big boost for the east end."

"We have adopted the slogan, 'It Pays to Shop in the East End,' and cards inscribed with this slogan will be placed in all merchants' windows. There is bound to be an increase in business, and the result is going to be seen in more than one way."

Mr. Armstrong pointed out that merchants will be closer together, and will co-operate. Greater sales will bring about lowering of prices. Arms average overhead expenses will be lowered. The plan is one of mutual benefit, both to the merchant and to the purchaser.

The following committees were chosen, with power to add:

Membership—Convenor, Fred Simmons; Alfred Arthurs, Wm. Agronov, Thos. Shaw, Frank Jones.

Entertainment—Convenor, Stuart Huyck; Messrs. Fitton, N. K. Wanness, G. Huddleston, M. Agronov, and Goodyear.

Publicity—Convenor, Chas. Ross; Messrs. Armstrong, Morrison, Gray, Holmes, Thomas, Ross McKay and Harry White.

MRS. A. T. ESSERY IS SEVERELY BURNED

Contact With Wire Cable,
Trailing From Car Is Cause of Accident.

As a result of contact with a wire cable, trailing from the rear of an automobile, the driver or owner of which has not yet been ascertained, is suffering from injuries to her right leg, and is constantly under the care of a physician lest blood poisoning set in.

Mrs. Essery claims that the cable as it crossed the street car tracks on Dundas street, on its journey south, was giving off sparks. As she stepped off a street car, the cable grazed her leg, as a result of which the stocking was partly burned away and the flesh badly burned.

It will be some days yet before all danger from blood poisoning is past. Mrs. Essery has given word to the police that the car bore a Toronto license, of which she obtained the number.

CHARGE WILSON BETRAYS LABOR

Trades and Labor Council Incensed At One-Man Car Approval.

Members Select Committee
To Convey Sentiments To City Council.

Charging point-blank that Mayor Cameron Wilson has betrayed the common people, delegates in attendance at the regular session of the trades and labor council Wednesday night moved to co-operate with street railway employees in a formal protest against the inauguration in London of one-man cars.

By a majority vote a strong committee was selected to act with a similar deputation from the street railwaymen's union, and the members of both groups will present their views at the next council meeting.

"It is just a question, in my mind, whether there will be any use for this council to take up the question of one-man cars with Mayor Wilson and the city council," declared ex-Ald. John Colbert, president of the street railwaymen's union, in addressing the subject at the direction of the members of that organization.

"Mayor Wilson has betrayed labor," continued the former councillor. "I don't know whether there will be any use if we do go to the council about this matter. Never once this year has any visit to the council by labor's representatives resulted in anything."

Granted Permission. "You are well aware that the city council several weeks ago granted the street railway company permission to operate five one-man cars in this city."

"Going further back, you will remember that at the first of the year the company moved to reduce wages. At the same time application was made to the provincial legislature for an increase in the rate of taxation."

"The city sent Mayor Wilson and certain aldermen to Toronto to oppose this bill, but it passed eventually. Subsequently I was in Toronto when the minister of labor, Hon. Walter Rolfe, told me that he had advised Mayor Wilson that the bill would pass and that it behooved him to return to London and see what he could do to obtain consideration from the council for the citizens at large and the company employees."

"Then Mayor Wilson came back and said that the government were playing a 'put-and-take' game. He got away with that apparently and then gives the company permission to operate one-man cars without demanding any consideration for the people. This one-man car scheme will mean in addition to the danger and inconvenience placed upon the citizens, the release of fifteen men. I claim that it is up to us to get into the political labor movement and elect a new mayor next December."

Charges Junketing Trip. "I understand," commented Delegate Ballard, "that the mayor and council are now going down to Windsor on another 'junketing' trip at the city's expense to view these cars. What is the idea of that after they have granted permission? I understand that certain of the council are actually opposed to the scheme."

The issue was argued back and forth for several days, developing into a general free-for-all discussion, until finally Dr. Weir brought the affair to the authorities for a "showdown." The trustees in general session expressed reluctance to deal with the problem, and delegated the task to a special "star chamber" committee.

While it was subsequently reported that Dr. Weir was still the chief and Miss Radcliffe an assistant, Miss Radcliffe stated most emphatically Thursday that "she had heard nothing about it, and as far as she was aware the forces were about evenly divided, in their opinion."

"Their is the next move," she commented, "will wait for that before I say anything."

BLAMES CONGESTION AT MAIN CORNER ON CITIZENS

While there has been considerable criticism and abuse directed at the police force respecting traffic direction at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, Ald. Dr. Douglass holds that a great portion of the burden of responsibility rests upon the citizens, both drivers and pedestrians.

He points out that they do not seem to want to wait for even a fraction of a second in order to allow the traffic officer to direct movements with the slightest degree of satisfaction. All traffic should be compelled to wait until the constable gives the signal, as in other communities, he declares, and would include the walking public as well.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST
AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

OCTOBER 5, 1897. Weather mostly fair and warm. The council met last night, and in the absence of Mayor Little, Ald. Parnell was unanimously voted to the chair, and due to a force of habit was invariably addressed as "his worship" by the members. The liveliest discussion of the evening sprang from the report of the jubilee committee. The financial clause stated that the committee's total receipts, exclusive of the $250 obtained to pay current expenses by certain members discounting their promises for that amount, were $2,017.79, and the total disbursements were $725.70, leaving a balance of $1,292.09, which the committee apportioned by paying Mr. Roselle Peacock $100 for musical services, $1,000 to the Victoria Jubilee Hospital Company, and $192.09 to the special fund being raised for the erection of a children's pavilion in connection with the proposed new hospital.

Mr. Orvie St. John, son of Rev. W. E. Scott of Ridgeway, has passed a successful entrance examination at Berkeley Divinity College, Middletown, Connecticut, and was awarded a classical scholarship with $125.

Fireman A. Borland has entered upon ten-days' holidays. Mr. W. R. Meredith of this city was successful in passing the recent supplemental examinations of the first year at Toronto University. There were no other Londoners among the candidates.

Mr. Pringle, manager of the Bank of Toronto, who has been holidaying in Atlantic City, has returned home.

Obituaries

WILLIAM FRASER. The funeral of William Fraser, aged 23 years, who was shot and instantly killed while proceeding to his home in Windsor, was conducted from the residence of F. W. Leathorne, 96 Egerton street, on Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, under the auspices of St. Andrew's Society and the G. W. V. A., to Mount Pleasant Cemetery for interment.

The pallbearers were all members of the A. and N. V. and the local branch of the G. W. V. A. They were as follows: Messrs. Davidson, Paulger, C. B. Carter, F. L. Watts and S. Peters, of the G. W. V. A.; also Mr. Leathorne, of the Army and Navy Veterans.

FIRST METHODISTS BANQUET PASTOR

Congregation Holds Reception in Honor of New Minister.

Large numbers of the congregation of the First Methodist Church attended the delightful reception held in honor of the new minister, Rev. J. E. Reynolds, and Mrs. Reynolds, and their four children, Margaret, Dorothy, John and Max.

Dr. Wallace Crawford, at present home on furlough from his work in China, has not yet returned from the Methodist General Conference in Toronto, and consequently was unable to attend, but Mrs. Crawford was present as one of the guests of honor.

John S. Burnard delivered the address of welcome, in which he reviewed the long and successful career of the late pastor, and successful men who have at one time been in charge of the First Methodist Church, and assured Mr. Reynolds of the confidence the congregation felt in him that he had a worthy successor to their former pastors.

A short musical program consisted of solos by Miss Hilda McMillan, Miss Ruth Betts and Carmen Learn. A committee of the Ladies Aid Society, under Mrs. T. W. McFarland, served refreshments during the evening.

W. N. Manning acted as chairman. A short musical program consisted of solos by Miss Hilda McMillan, Miss Ruth Betts and Carmen Learn. A committee of the Ladies Aid Society, under Mrs. T. W. McFarland, served refreshments during the evening.

SEEK WAY TO GET MEMORIAL FUNDS

Executive of Army and Navy
Veterans Meets to Discuss Means.

Enthusiasm over the project of a war memorial for the city of London to honor the memory of those who died in the conflict of 1914, was more than manifested at a special executive meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, held Wednesday night, at which suitable methods of raising funds for the purpose were discussed.

Although the meeting was an executive one, a large number of the members were present, and secretary J. A. Glennie expressed himself with being more than pleased at the interest displayed by all the veterans in the city.

The site for the proposed memorial has not been selected as yet, but the committee has in view several locations in the central part of the city upon which the monument could be erected to advantage.

Aware of the fact that almost every city and town in the Dominion had a suitable memorial to their fallen heroes and feeling that London, a city of more than 60,000, which moreover is a military center, make special efforts to honor the boys from the Forest City who gave their lives in France.

The Army and Navy Veterans decided some time ago that a memorial would be erected if that organization had to finance the scheme alone. Since that time, however, the returned men as a whole have become enthusiastic over the scheme, and have pledged their support almost to a man.

It is the intention of Mr. Glennie to call a mass meeting of all the ex-service men regardless of the fact whether they belong to a soldiers' organization or not, in the near future, when the project will be discussed from every angle.

It has not been decided what form the memorial will take, but if the generosity of the veterans warrants it it will probably be similar to the one in Victoria Park erected to the memory of the heroes of the South African war.

STEWART TAKES BAD TURN. Montreal, Oct. 5.—It is reported early this morning that the condition of the Hon. J. A. Stewart, former minister of railways, who has been a patient at the Royal Victoria Hospital for several weeks, is not so favorable.

Instruction

TAKE THE FIRST STEP TOWARDS THAT AMBITION
OF PLACING YOURSELF IN A BETTER BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL POSITION.

FOR IN THE CLASSIFIED ADS UNDER THE CARD "INSTRUCTION," YOU WILL FIND THE CHANCE AWAITING YOU.

READ THE CLASSIFIED ADS EVERY DAY.

WOULD CHANGE COUNTY POLICE

Hon. F. C. Biggs Declares
Middlesex Needs Reorganization of Constabulary.

States More Complaints From District Than From Rest of Province.

"More complaints are received by the department of public works regarding the alleged poor administration of the speed laws in the County of Middlesex than from all the rest of Ontario," was the startling declaration made by the Hon. F. C. Biggs, provincial minister of public works and highways, while receiving suggestions regarding the amendment of the Ontario motor vehicles act from local organizations Wednesday night.

"However, we have no jurisdiction over the abolition of the fee system for paying county constables," he asserted, "but in my opinion I think that the police department is sadly in need of reorganization."

For more than three hours the minister of public works and highways and the parliamentary constables received suggestions from the London Motor Club, police department, representatives of motor truck owners, license distributors and prominent men in local automobile circles.

At motor cars in the province have jumped from 26,000 in 1916 to more than 250,000 this year, the motor laws which were drawn up five or ten years ago are now found to be inadequate, and in an effort to correct this condition the Ontario Legislature adopted a special committee to tour the province and receive suggestions from every part of Ontario, so that when the bill for amendment is presented at the next session nothing will be omitted.

C. E. Bernard, on behalf of the London Motor Club, strongly condemned the present fee system for paying county constables, and also urged a definite form of hand signaling that could be standardized throughout the province.

S. Rowed, a prominent automobile dealer, expressed himself as favoring the use of a spotlight on a car, pointing out that many times it has saved a motorist from driving into a ditch at night.

Chief Birrell of the London police department also figured prominently in the discussion, and was called upon by Hon. Mr. Biggs and various members of the parliamentary party to explain the bylaws governing motor traffic in force in the city. The chief stressed as his opinion that strong headlights should be legal, maintaining that they were necessary for night driving in the country.

Members of the parliamentary committee present at the meeting were: Hon. George S. Henry, East York; M. M. McBride, Bramford; K. K. Hume, Preston; M. MacVicar, East Elgin; J. B. Johnston, Oshawa; A. M. Rankin, Frontenac; Col. S. P. Biggs, collector to the department; and J. P. Beckill, registrar of motor vehicles; John M. Freshman, M.P.P.; J. W. McLeod, M.P.P., and R. L. Bracken, K.C., M.P.P.

Among those representing local organizations were Messrs. Rowed, Keene, McCormick, Chief Birrell and Mayor Wilson.

REPRESENTS LONDON AT DEANERY MEETING

Bishop of Huron and Miss A. Smith
Address Bayfield Conference.

Right Rev. David Williams, bishop of Huron, and Miss Adelaide Smith were representatives of Anglican churches of London at the largely-attended meeting of the deanery of Huron, held in Bayfield Wednesday.

Addressing the deanery, Bishop

London Advertiser

Published by
THE LONDON ADVERTISER
COMPANY, LIMITED,
London, Ontario.

MORNING. EVENING.

TELEPHONE NUMBERS.
3670 PRIVATE BRANCH 3670
From 9 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. and holidays
call 76. Business Department; 73, Editors and Reporters; 1174, Composing Room
7, Circulation Department.

London, Ontario, Thursday, October 5.

Prefers "Liberal."

DISCUSSING the use of the words, "Reformer" and "Liberal," W. G. RAYMOND, M. P., of Brantford, expresses a preference for the word, "Liberal," and in so doing brings considerable historical evidence to bear on the point.

"As far as I can recollect," starts Mr. RAYMOND, "without making reference to authorities or opinions, the term 'Liberal' was first generally applied to the party when it met in the great convention in June, 1893, and elected as the chieftain, who was to lead the party to victory three years later, the late lamented Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who formulated that policy which proved to be the foundation of the fifteen most prosperous and progressive years that the country ever saw. Previously the term 'Reformer' seemed to be in almost universal use. Its origin is easily seen and understood; the native love of liberty and justice rebelled against the oppression and inequities of the 'Family Compact' and Tory misrule generally, as it existed in Canada previous to 1840. Those who were fighting for responsible government, WILLIAM LYON MACKENZIE, LOUIS PAPINEAU and other patriots called themselves 'Reformers,' because they sought those reforms in the constitution of the country which led to the establishment of responsible government in Canada. The work they performed in their day and generation was the work of reforming abuses as they then existed, and hence they were rightly called 'Reformers.' The name 'Reformer' was applied to the party in 1874, when it was led by Hon. ALEXANDER MACKENZIE, whose election to power was the nation's rebuke to those who had originated and managed what was known as the 'Pacific Scandal.' I believe the name was applied generally to the Mowat administration in Ontario until the convention of 1893 referred to. Since that time and since the success of the party in 1896 the term 'Liberal' seems to have almost entirely superseded that of 'Reformer.'

"In my opinion it is well that it has done so, for while the term 'Reformer' was applicable at the time when it was used, it seems to me that the term 'Liberal' is more correctly applied to the general principles which are espoused and professed by the party, and this is the term by which the principles that govern the party are known to all students of history. Hence I prefer 'Liberal.'"

Old Age and Poverty.
AS THINGS shape up now, we'd probably call him a poor old man. He stood on the corner of one of the city streets, and stopped a passer-by to inquire where to get to a certain doctor's house. He wanted to see this doctor, as friends in the town he came from had told him he could help him recover from a physical disability that had overtaken him in his declining years.

He was poor, and admitted it, and yet he was certain if he got the proper treatment he would be able to go to work again, and earn his way at a trade of which he was master, and which had stood him in good stead as long as he was able to work.

Then, as though to show his credentials, his hand went deep into the inside pocket of his coat, and he drew forth a parcel wrapped in a handkerchief. Inside the handkerchief was a paper wrapping, and further inside in a little bag was tucked away a medal given for service in the Fenian Raid.

Yes, in his prime, he was able to put a musket on his shoulder, and he had a heart brave enough to go out and face the enemy that threatened the country at that time. There was a touch of pride in the voice as he lovingly held the little medal with its ribbon, in a hand that shook from the passing of years and that had been made hard by the toll of time.

He had done his part, he had tried to make a living, and he had done fairly well at it, but old age came on, and in this fast pace at which we travel there seems to be so many places where an old man doesn't fit in. We are so hundred per cent efficient in all our ways that it's very easy for the man who has not youth, energy and power at his disposal to get shoved off to one side, and once he gets off to one side he finds that he is in the company of a large number of others who have committed the crime of living to the point where they can't measure up to 100 per cent efficiency.

No, it's not a pleasant thing for old age and poverty to walk hand in hand. We're in such a hurry to get things done that we claim we have no time to stop and listen to the troubles of those on whom poverty and old age have come at the one and the same time. In too many cases they sacrifice all their chances when in their best years in order that their children may have every chance, and one of the saddest commentaries ever written on this is the fact that we had to place a law on our statute books to compel children to care for their parents.

Some of them may carry medals showing their willingness to serve in war if necessary, while others carry the medals of sacrifice in the interests of others. Their want at times and their privations and loneliness is a rebuking monument to our stinginess and our mad chase after the almighty dollar.

Near East History.

AFFAIRS in the Near East are having the effect of making many people brush up their knowledge of the history of past decades in that territory, which for years has had wars, massacres, pillage and loot.

There can be no doubt that the Turk draws much of his courage from his knowledge of war in medieval periods. The Turk remembers that Britain came to their rescue when Russia invaded the Crimea, and again when Russia threatened to capture Constantinople in 1878.

The Turks of Asia are an old race. They make slight progress from generation to generation. To them the invasion of Europe by Moslem armies in the seventeenth century place only yesterday. For three centuries they sent army after army from Stambul by the Bosphorus to invade Central Europe. All these invasions were, in a great measure, successful. They were for the purpose of collecting booty rather than to secure territorial advantage. And the warriors never returned from those wars empty-handed. Rich districts in Austria-Hungary and even Poland were always sacked, and the number of slaves secured at times exceeded 50,000.

But a stubborn resistance was invariably encountered in Hungary. The Magyars were then the most redoubtable warriors in Eastern Europe. Always led by their princes, they fought with incredible fury. The last Moslem invasion, that of 1683, reached Vienna and that city was invested and its fall daily expected. But the Magyars harassed their backs, captured their booty trains, broke up their lines of communication with Stambul, and wrought such havoc generally that the Turks decided the booty which they would secure in Vienna would not recoup them for their losses.

For more than 200 years over half the princes of Hungary died on fields of battle fighting the Turks. The memory of the prowess of the Magyars is still fresh in the Moslem mind; and there was great rejoicing in the tents of Islam when it was learned that the fortresses of Hungary had been dismantled by a western foe and the Magyars were no longer permitted to organize and equip great armies.

One of the early caliphs made his prayer to Allah that the apple of discord might be given to the enemies of Islam to divide and confound them. And the Turks, still living in the past, credulously believe that prayer has been answered.

During the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Austria-Hungary stood athwart the Moslem path. Now this empire has been divided. Austria is only a phantom of its former power, and Hungary is unarmed. The Turks refuse to believe that there are powerful enough people in Western Europe to turn them back.

If the Turks persist in their present course they are due for a rude awakening. They will find a force come out of Western Europe beside which that of the ancient Magyars compares as a cat to a brook. But, when cogitating on the sins of the Magyars in connection with the World War, it is but fair to remember that for centuries they gave lavishly of their blood and treasure to turn back the crescent when it threatened to float above the overturned crosses of Christian Europe. Their stubborn defense was dictated by self-preservation; but it was nevertheless a defense; and it is possible that, if the lives and treasure they thus expended could have been devoted to building up their industries and enlightening their people, they would not have been found in a condition of semi-ignorance that made them easy victims of Pan-German propaganda.

The Christian peoples of the world owe them a debt that has not yet been discharged. Bismarck wrote in his Autobiography that, if Austria-Hungary did not exist as a state, it would have to be created, because it was an absolute necessity as a buffer between the Turks and Central Europe. As a defensive force it no longer exists, and this fact may account in part for the successes and the present arrogant attitude of the Kemalite forces.

University Population.
WESTERN UNIVERSITY threw open its doors in all departments for the commencement of the fall term Tuesday. To many citizens of London this announcement means no more than that the institution is open and classes are in full swing. However, for those who wish to consider the matter for a moment, it means more to the Forest City than that which appears on the surface. With approximately five hundred students attending Western University, the opening day is one of the biggest events in their young lives.

Aside from this fact, whether noted or not, it is a big event in the yearly life of London. Granted that ten per cent of these students are permanently located in London, 450 young men and women on the university roll are out-of-town people, which means that 450 persons have come to London in search of education.

These 450 students must be fed and clothed during the seven months of the academic year, and as their needs are available in the Forest City, merchants of London benefit by their presence. That is to say, the population of this city is increased by 450 with the opening of Western University, and trade pro-

Midnight Meditations.

SOMETIMES when maist a'ither folk
He's drapp'd intae a blissfu' snooze,
A' by mase' I lie awake
On pleasant things tae calmly muse,
I dinna let a worry sair
Molest my meditations sweet;
When ither folk ha'e happy dreams
'Tis nae a time for me tae greet.

IN meditation I'm impressed
Oor favours here are nae a few;
God proved his love for a' his
Or saints, I'm sure, far at hame;
By tokens like a' ane:
Sae I wad rather lie awake
Tae meditate an' oor or twa,
Than sleep frae e'en tae rosy morn,
But ne'er think seriously awa'.

AFT' rec'd my schule-lad days—
They're noo a muckle space awa',
Yet, vividly I see wi' joy,
Maist like a' an' lassie braw,
As tae oor studies we repaired,
Or sported on a grassy green;
Oh! let me hae these scenes o' youth
Till life has reached her gowden e'en.

VISION aft' you lan' o' cakes
Ayeon't a briny, bonnie e'en;
I think on burnies, far at hame,
Which ne'er awa' can drumble be,
I fancy him wi' heather clad,
Sae bonnie tae my Scottish e'en;
Nae ither hills are rob'd as they,
Mang a' majestic hills I've seen.

I SEE a shepherd in his plaid—
Wi' lamies cuddled at his feet,
Whyle frae his pipes, which weel he plays,
They listen tae his music sweet.
Nae wonder gentle lamies lo'e
Tae cooie by their shepherd near;
Yon music frae his bonnie pipes
Dispels their deepest, like fear.

AWA' mang Judah's ancient hills
Oor ain' Guid Shepherd still I see;
Love's manifested on his face;
There's pity in his matchless e'e;
Sae aft' I reckon wi' mase',
There're compensations that I
For meditations that I choose
Instead o' Nature's bonnie sleep.
—MACK.

gress usually accompanies increased population.

In addition to purchases of food and clothing made necessary by the presence of these out-of-town students, there are scores of other things which they need and which are obtained in London. Books and other university supplies are required, and they spend money on recreation, and myriads of extras known only to the Freshman or Sophomore.

The annual opening of Western University each fall really corresponds to the advent of a new industry to London, which would employ at least 450 people. The Forest City is proud of Western University, and other educational institutions, and the above facts review one angle only of the value which they can bring to a community.

LITTLE 'TISERS

This mothball season is a great alibi for the man who has managed to find a drink.

Guides who are going to the north woods should start right now looking as little like a deer as possible.

A lot of wild birds can be seen going south for the winter, while others go in the same direction in autos and trains.

A New York policeman shot a robber. It is explained that he is a new man on the force and didn't know any better.

All this talk about the world's richest man seems to center around the idea that wealth consists only of dollars and cents.

Many a young man who was afraid to bluster his hands on the lawn mower at home is ready to break his neck now on the football field.

Since war clouds blew up in the Near East there hasn't been so much talk about scrapping the British navy.

Eskimos, say explorers, are the happiest people in the world, because they live honestly. The rest of the world could do the same thing, but it won't.

We've just read a half column of doctor talk on how to start the day right. No need of so much space. It can all be said in these words—buckwheat cakes and honey.

To what will bootleggers resort next? Officers stopped a hearse in Brooklyn and took out 250 quarts of liquor. When a traffic goes to the poor depths of fouling the emblems of death to evade the laws of the land it ought to make the officers take a fresh grip on their batons and look to see if they have a good supply of trustworthy ammunition.

"It seems to be a sort of comfortable feeling that we do not belong to the League of Nations."
—Los Angeles Times.
That may be the attitude of some writer on the Pacific coast, but right now many of the biggest businessmen of United States are in session at New York discussing the advisability of helping Europe to get back to work, and also of participating in European conferences for this purpose.

TO THE EDITOR

THE RUSSIAN CHURCH.

Editor Advertiser:
Sir,—I have read several letters in the Canadian and American newspapers deploring the present status of the Russian Church, and branding the Bolsheviks as persecutors, anxious to abolish religion. It is quite evident that many correspondents have no real knowledge of the facts of the case. For instance, one writer denounces the Bolsheviks for confiscating the treasures of the church. According, however, to the special correspondent of the New York Times, the majority of the Russian clergy are in favor of confiscation of church jewels, etc., in order to relieve the famine victims.

Unfortunately, although many of the leading bishops are willingly co-operating with the Bolsheviks, the metropolitan of the Russian church is violently opposing the requisitions. Apart altogether from the question of famine relief, the Russian clergy deserve sympathy, even if they have suffered many injustices. The answer is, "a thousand times, no."

Volumes of historical facts could be cited to prove the apathy, the ignorance, the stupidity of the Russian clergy in the czar's palmy days. One need only turn to Count Tolstoy to learn how the church invariably backed up the state in all its abominable cruelties, murders and unspeakable injustices. The church was always ready to back up the czar, the hangman, the royal floggers, the torturers, and the whole prison system in Siberia and throughout Russia.

Unfortunately, as in Russia and in France before the revolution, the established church has too many times represented the forces of reaction, of oppression and injustice. The best they have ever done has been to remain neutral, or apparently neutral.

Everyone who knows anything about Russian history knows that all the atrocities perpetrated by the Bolsheviks or by their adherents are a mere drop in the bucket compared to the atrocities committed by the czar and the Russian church. If now the two men whom the czar once called his "right hands," the heads of the government, the old Russian regime and the moribund church have only themselves to blame.

I hold no brief for the Bolsheviks, any more than for the methods of the French revolution, but today nearly all Frenchmen are agreed that the revolution was a blessing to France, and to Europe, and in the near future the same credit will be given to the Russian revolution.

Thousands of aristocrats and politicians were beheaded during the French revolution, but for hundreds of years they had, by their actions, brewed the storm that at last broke over their heads. History, said Henry Ford, is bunk. Without a knowledge of history, however, it is impossible to understand modern problems or their probable outcome, and a knowledge of history, French, Italian and Russian, would have prevented the publication of reams of utter nonsense concerning the Russian revolution and the terrible events succeeding it.
CHARLES LUSH.

THE ADOLESCENT ACT.

Editor Advertiser:

Sir,—One great Englishman said: "The law? The law is an ass." Mr. Editor, may I ask: Is the legislature of our beloved country getting in the breeding line? Are most of our representatives in parliament fitted only for this class of legislation, or are they only the catspaws of a pedantic hierarchy subservient only when the "dollar giant" gives them the entrancing wink in the lobby? Do we know our legislators? I know a few personally. Are they educated men or trained men? Are they there for an honest purpose, or for the purpose of making good laws and good citizens—not only of this country, but of the whole world—to make our children respect the laws, not only of our country but of God? God's laws we cannot break. They are inviolable. The laws of men are broken with impunity. Witness the prohibition laws. Why are laws disrespected and ignored so flagrantly? Because there is something wrong fundamentally. Laws should be based on justice and equity, respecting neither color, race, nationality, person, sex, affluence or poverty.

Now let us examine the adolescent school act on the above basis. Is it just? No! Why? Because it fails to understand the variations of nature and the fundamental social status of our present civilization. As a certain trustee said: God—or as he should have said—nature never intended that we should all be race horses, etc.; and thereby hangs a tale. We cannot all be big game lawyers. Heaven forbid. Or they try the stenographers and typists; editors or musicians; priests or nuns. After all, we are just as God made us; the creatures of environment and desire. Every well-meaning man and woman is here to do his or her best. The laws of the world are framed by a set of caucus experts of club dominions.

Now let me get down to the plain aspects of the adolescent act. Is it just? It would be if conditions were different. What are the conditions? The wealthy can well afford to give their offspring every possible advantage of the governmental gratuity in the way of education. It is ease and nothing else. But what of the comparatively poor parents with a family of six children? Can they have any respect for a law that is diametrically opposed to their immediate welfare? The act is taking from them their chief hope—the hope of the eldest being a lawyer, a doctor, a stenographer, or a typist, and the hard worked mother, and is therefore liable to be a check upon the population.

Of course, if the economic conditions were different so that it would not be such a hardship for the industrial workers to maintain a family, the act would be a blessing. As it stands it is something like a positive infliction and a rank injustice to the working classes. I venture to state that if those well-to-do so-called educationists who cradled this hot-potch of an act were in the same position of the many thousands of families whose whole life is a struggle from birth to death, their opinion of the act would be of the most unmentionable kind. Why did they not include in the act some kind of compensation or aid to those who have large families? Yes, why? Because their heads are so crowded with this pedantic nonsense, which they confuse with education, that there was not room to think of either justice or the rights of the people. In fact, they believe the people have no rights except by the powers that be. This has been demonstrated in many instances since 1914, when the era of orders-in-council became the rule, and the rights of the people to be consulted have been studiously ignored. We were supposed to be fighting the Germans for freedom, but I have my doubts. We have less now than ever; just about as much as a canary has in a cage. We have no longer any real control over our children. The government has taken that over. It is they who in future are to mold our progeny; as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is to be a teamster, fisherman, carpenter, farmer or gardener, or to mold our progeny, as to what they shall eat and drink, what profession they shall enter, irrespective of taste or desire. One is forced to believe that the government is determined to make a purely professional nation of people. If this is not so, why should they waste his strong youth in learning Latin, Greek, French, mathematics, Euclid, geometry, Biblical history, etc., if his simple desire is

WOMEN'S HOME AND MAGAZINE PAGE

COUNTRY WOMAN PHILOSOPHER ADDRESSES CANADIAN CLUB

Vina Moore Jamieson Opens New Vistas To City Sisters, Discovering for Them Dignity, Educational Value And Poetry of Rural Life.

Poetry in stables and philosophy as well as humor in wheeling a wobbly old calf home in a barrow was what Mrs. Moore Jamieson, homemaker and author, discovered for the members of the Women's Canadian Club on Wednesday afternoon in the central Collegiate auditorium, as she told the story of life in the country there boys can "jump, run and play" to their hearts' content, where children develop resourcefulness because of the constant demands upon their initiative.

Simply and without the assistance of dramatics or platform tricks she managed to convey to her audience something of the romance of the farm and its associations, very real to herself, the significance of simple and humble tasks. So unostentatiously that the import almost passed without being fully appreciated, she dealt with the fundamentals of child training and the big problems facing the nation, as viewed from the standpoint of the country woman, trained thinker, and born philosopher.

Apart from the open spaces in which to play "without danger of falling down front stairs into the street, or down back stairs into the arched can," the country, in her estimation, develops character in boys and girls, because of the tasks that all to their lot, the difficulties confronted in acquiring education, and constantly arising problems to be solved.

"When children come home from school," she said, "there is no question of what is to be done with the boy's hours. The fact that he has a team of horses to water, feed and care for develops in him a sense of responsibility."

"Solves Riddle With Broom." "What would you do with a big broom in a stall standing on three legs, its fourth caught over a chain, so that it could not be pulled out?" was a question which provoked mirth as she put it to the women of the Canadian Club.

When nobody could answer the riddle, "My boy showed me," said Mrs. Jamieson, amid still more laughter. "He hit it with a broom handle and the horse jumped forward, rearing the front foot, and saving his leg from becoming lacerated on the chain."

"That was one of the kind of tests which a boy in the country is continually being called upon to face, discovering as he meets them new resourcefulness to bring home the cows, for which a subscription campaign has been inaugurated. Announcement was further made that during national laundry week one of the large city laundries will give 10 cents for the War Memorial Children's Hospital for every woman who pays a visit of inspection to the laundry during the week. She further drew attention to the course for household assistants, commencing Thursday, Oct. 6, which is being organized in connection with the industrial extension department of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Joan Rowat is visiting in Ottawa and Montreal. In her honor, Mrs. Gilbert Doan of Ottawa is entertaining this week.

REPORT REVEALS CLEVER FINANCING

W. C. A. Ends Satisfactory Year—Generous Bequests Received For Good Work.

The annual meeting of the Women's Christian Association, held on Wednesday afternoon, was an occasion for thanksgiving that, due to careful financing, it was possible for the treasurer's report to show a balance in the bank, notwithstanding the heavy responsibility of carrying on the Victoria and Aged People's Homes.

The latter home, with 42 city patients, out of a total of 72, receives only 60 cents per day from the city per patient.

General satisfaction was also expressed over the excellent condition of everything in both institutions, and deep appreciation of the generous bequest paid in from the estate of the late Dr. J. B. Campbell as a memorial to his mother, who was one of the most active workers in the association. Sorrowful reference was made to the passing of a former beloved president, Mrs. Helen Marshall, who also remembered the W. C. A. most generously.

A much-appreciated addition to the equipment has been a beautiful reading desk, the gift of the City Union King's Daughters, as a memorial to the late Mrs. Tilley. It was decided to hold a dedication service for this in the near future.

Votes of thanks included the legal adviser, Mr. J. P. Moore, and the press, and the many who have helped along the work in various ways.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. John Currie (re-elected); first vice-president, Mrs. C. B. Hunt; second vice-president, Mrs. Joseph Marshall; third vice-president, Mrs. J. S. Barnard; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Peter Macdonald; fifth vice-president, Mrs. Henry Meek; secretary-treasurer, Miss Christine McIntosh (re-elected). Convenors of committees were also named: Purchasing, Mrs. C. B. Hunt; supplies, Mrs. B. F. Brighton; investigating, Mrs. W. E. Kelly; relief, Mrs. Max Lerner; visiting, Mrs. J. S. Cummings; fuel, Mrs. J. K. McDermid; improvements, Mrs. B. F. Brighton; religious services, Mrs. McCaechern.

ADDS TO CLUB FAMILY

Y. W. C. A. Arranges Interesting Weekly Program For Household Assistants.

The opening of the fall season for the Y. W. C. A. extension department is marked by the introduction of an absolutely new idea in the way of clubs and courses, to be known as the "Household Assistants," the first meeting to take place at "Lenmore," the King street residence, at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Oct. 5th.

The program, prepared with the guidance of the resourceful industrial extension secretary, Mrs. Mattie Rose Crawford, provides for talks on personal efficiency each Thursday from 4 to 5 o'clock from people in a position to know, time allowed for discussion at the close. From 5 to 6 o'clock will be devoted to visiting departments in large stores, picture galleries, libraries, etc., with leaders to conduct and explain. Supper will follow at 6 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A., "served as supper should be served."

From 7 to 8 o'clock there will be singing and games, and from 8 to 9 the class as a whole or divided into groups, will consider subjects chosen by the girls.

Invitations are being extended to household assistants throughout the city to take advantage of the educational, recreational and social advantages of the new club, which may be formed independently or in affiliation with the Federation of Girls' Clubs.

Prof. Williams served for some time with the P. P. C. L. I. and is writing a history of the exploits of that famous regiment.

He has a very pleasing platform presence, it is said, and carries his hearers with him in whatever subject he chooses.

BRINGING HISTORIAN OF PRINCESS PATS

Women Teachers' Guild Secures Prof. Hodder-Williams For Lecture Course.

The Women Teachers' Guild has engaged Professor B. Hodder-Williams of Toronto University to give a series of three popular lectures, early in November. The teachers had the pleasure of hearing Prof. Williams in 1914, but this will be his first public lecture.

Prof. Williams served for some time with the P. P. C. L. I. and is writing a history of the exploits of that famous regiment.

He has a very pleasing platform presence, it is said, and carries his hearers with him in whatever subject he chooses.

Hold One-Cent Sale For S. C. H. Fund.

DOROTHY HILL, Jean Todd and a few of their young friends last Saturday afternoon carried on a successful business enterprise, a "one-cent sale," wherein they realized $8.02. They promptly turned over the entire proceeds to the honorary treasurer of the War Memorial Children's Hospital, Mrs. Cl. T. Campbell, who makes this comment: "They have given a practical illustration of their interest in the hospital and in children unfortunate enough to be sufferers. Perhaps their example and success will suggest original efforts for others."

SEND TWO DOLLARS. Dear Miss Grey, Glad to see the Sick Children's Hospital fund is slowly but surely growing. I hope to see this in print soon, and will be glad of any help, no matter how small. Keeping my old pen-name, I will sign as before.

A WORRIED MOTHER, NO. 2. It is good of you to help in any little way you can those who are also in need. Thank you, too, for the enclosed hospital mite. Anyone wishing the clothes "A Worried Mother" is offering may have her address from the Mail-Box.

Smart Autumn Society Wedding Happy Sequel To Fine War Service

Tinted autumn leaves, palms, ferns and Mary lilies formed the setting for the Norman-Fisher wedding, one of the smartest society events of the season, which took place Wednesday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church. Clusters of lilies marked the guest pews, and were also used on the white satin pre-dieu, tied with long satin streamers.

It was the occasion of the marriage of Enid Fisher, eldest daughter of Justice R. G. Fisher, to Lieut. Evelyn Norman of the P. P. C. L. I. and son of Rev. A. G. and Mrs. Norman of Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by the minister of the church, Col. (Rev.) William Beattie, D. D., C. M. G.

Promptly at 4:30 o'clock, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, played by Mr. George Lethbridge, the wedding party entered the church. The bridal procession was led by the bridesmaids, William Bartlett, Verschoyle Cronyn, Douglas Weld and Ernest Little.

Miss Constance Fisher, sister of the bride, was a winsome flower girl, wearing a shell pink crepe de chine smock, with a bandeau of leaves in her hair, and carrying an old-fashioned nosegay of cornflowers. Following her came the trio of attendants, Mrs. Patrick Hare of Nassau, Bahamas, as matron of honor, and Miss Katherine Cronyn and Miss Margaret Lind of Toronto, as bridesmaids. Their gowns were fashioned alike with batteau shaped necks, short sleeves, and a drape falling from the right shoulder, to the hem of the skirt. They wore black velvet hats trimmed with monkey fur. The gown of the matron of honor was of apricot georgette, and she carried blue larkspur. The bridesmaids wore flame shade, with slippers and stockings to match and carried bouquets of cornflowers.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white chiffon velvet, falling in straight lines, with a court train lined with sea green georgette falling from the shoulders. Rose point lace was gathered at the neck. Her sleeves were short, and she carried on Mary lilies tied with white satin streamers. Her veil of old Brussels lace, a family heirloom, fell from a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms.

Mr. Grant Fisher, brother of the bride, acted as best man. At the signing of the register, Mr. Norman sang, "Beloved, It Is Born." Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride in Albert street. Mrs. Fisher received with the young couple, wearing a gown of sand crepe de chine, embroidered in green, and a brown hat trimmed with feathers. The rooms were massed with dahlias, "mums" and autumn leaves.

Miss Fisher had an interesting record of post-war work overseas, under the Red Cross, and Lieut. Norman was on active service with his regiment for four years.

Lieut. Norman and Mrs. Norman left by motor on a honeymoon, the bride traveling in a smart suit of navy blue cloth, a navy blue toque, with touches of grey, and a grey neckpiece. They will take up their residence in Winnipeg, where Lieut. Norman is stationed.

The guests numbered 150, and among those from out-of-town were Mr. W. R. Hobbs, grandfather of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, Holly of South Africa; Miss Yvonne Hobbs, Miss Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lind, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, and Dr. and Mrs. Allen Brown, all of Toronto.

WITH THE BRIDES Personals

MADDOX-NICHOL. The wedding took place quietly at the First Presbyterian Church, Westminister, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride, when Miss Isobel, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Nichol, Glanmadox, B.Sc., of the Department of Geological Survey, Ottawa, and son of Mr. and the late J. S. Maddox of Shipley, England. The church was artistically decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers. Mrs. A. M. Nichol and Mr. D. McGill attended the young couple, and Rev. J. W. M. Crawford performed the ceremony. The bride looked charming in her traveling suit of navy, trimmed with sequins, with hat to match, and a smart fur neckpiece. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Maddox motored to London, and from there went on a honeymoon, which will be spent in eastern points.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddox will reside in Ottawa.

ARNOTT-WILLIAMSON.

The marriage of Margaret McAlpine, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson of Wingham, Ontario, to William James Arnott, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Arnott, 512 Simcoe street, London, was quietly solemnized at Dundas and Front streets, at 2:30 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 3, by Rev. J. Garbutt officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Ella Arnott, sister of the groom, and Mr. Harold Clarke of this city was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnott left in the late afternoon for Wingham.

CYNTHIA GREY'S MAIL-BOX

OFFERS HELP IN RETURN. Dear Cynthia, I thought I would try my luck again in your Mail-Box of this time, and going to try and aid some dear one in distress like myself.

I can well understand a mother's trouble as well as sympathize with her, for I certainly have had a big share myself, and to bear myself, too. I understand the worry of raising a young family alone, without a father's support, but still my heart is good to aid someone else, if I can.

I have a few articles to pass on to someone which my children have outgrown. My eldest is a girl of 10; my second, a boy aged 5; my baby, a boy, aged 2. Some poor mother may be glad of this help. I have different things I noticed in your page my address was asked for, but I have received no help, only from "A Lancashire Lass," who has been real good to me, and a friend to me as well, and I appreciate very much the help. By sending postage or calling to this address anyone may have these few articles. Miss Grey, I will inclose a small mite for the S. C. H. along with my address. I wish I could do more for you. I hope to see this in print soon, and will be glad of any help, no matter how small. Keeping my old pen-name, I will sign as before.

A WORRIED MOTHER, NO. 2. It is good of you to help in any little way you can those who are also in need. Thank you, too, for the enclosed hospital mite. Anyone wishing the clothes "A Worried Mother" is offering may have her address from the Mail-Box.

SEND TWO DOLLARS. Dear Miss Grey, Glad to see the Sick Children's Hospital fund is slowly but surely growing. I hope to see this in print soon, and will be glad of any help, no matter how small. Keeping my old pen-name, I will sign as before.

A WORRIED MOTHER, NO. 2. It is good of you to help in any little way you can those who are also in need. Thank you, too, for the enclosed hospital mite. Anyone wishing the clothes "A Worried Mother" is offering may have her address from the Mail-Box.

SEND TWO DOLLARS. Dear Miss Grey, Glad to see the Sick Children's Hospital fund is slowly but surely growing. I hope to see this in print soon, and will be glad of any help, no matter how small. Keeping my old pen-name, I will sign as before.

A WORRIED MOTHER, NO. 2. It is good of you to help in any little way you can those who are also in need. Thank you, too, for the enclosed hospital mite. Anyone wishing the clothes "A Worried Mother" is offering may have her address from the Mail-Box.

SEND TWO DOLLARS. Dear Miss Grey, Glad to see the Sick Children's Hospital fund is slowly but surely growing. I hope to see this in print soon, and will be glad of any help, no matter how small. Keeping my old pen-name, I will sign as before.

A WORRIED MOTHER, NO. 2. It is good of you to help in any little way you can those who are also in need. Thank you, too, for the enclosed hospital mite. Anyone wishing the clothes "A Worried Mother" is offering may have her address from the Mail-Box.

ASKIN STREET CIRCLE ADDS THIRTY MEMBERS

Hears Report of Toronto Convention At Crusade Meeting.

Mrs. R. S. Heard was the chief speaker at the crusade meeting of the Askin Street Mission Circle, held Tuesday evening. Mrs. Heard, who is the London Branch Mission Band secretary, gave a report of the 21st annual meeting of the W. M. S. of the Methodist Church, held recently at the Central Methodist Church, Toronto. Among those present at the meeting in Toronto was Miss Cartmell, the first missionary sent out by the Methodist Church to Japan.

Other missionaries, she stated, were present from Japan, China, and the home field. Mrs. Heard spoke of the way the various candidates were introduced, and also told of the two-minute talks given by the missionaries on their greatest experience in the mission field.

Thirty new members joined at the meeting, and the collection amounted to $50, the vacation offering totaling $30.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Herbert Childs. At the close a dainty supper was served.

The musical program was in charge of Miss Belle Brown, and Miss Florence Hammond gave an interesting reading.

URGES NEED OF FAITH

Col. Beattie Addresses Victoria Alumnae on Spiritual Side of Nurses' Work.

The mission of the nurse in ministering to the spiritual needs of a patient facing eternity, as well as soothing distress and pain, and providing a greater degree of physical comfort, was dwelt upon by Col. (Rev.) W. Beattie, D.D., addressing the October meeting on Tuesday evening of the Nurses' Alumnae of Victoria Hospital.

He emphasized the importance of a firm faith in the overruling power of a supreme being, else eternity must seem chaos. Such faith the nurse needs who would point the way to peace and rest to the sufferers under her care. Instances were given of men on the battlefield, who went forth to face death, calmly confident with regard to what lay beyond.

Miss Anna MacKenzie presided in the absence of Miss Agnes Malloch, and the chief business of the evening dealt with plans for a bazaar to be held Nov. 13, for the Canadian nurses' memorial fund, of which the local objective is $1,200.

DON'T THROW YOUR OLD CARPETS AWAY!

They Make New REVERSIBLE "VELVETEX" RUGS Send for Velvetex Leaflet. Canada Rug Co., London, Ont. jw

Music With Meals

For lunch, dinner and special hours, McCauley-Russo Orchestra in attendance.

Wong's

434 Richmond Street, "Where Appetite Meets Satisfaction." jw

Good Luck

is thought to go a long way, but Good Judgment goes farther. TO USE

"SALADA"

IS GOOD JUDGMENT. "The Tea that is always Reliable."

CLARK'S ECONOMY STORES

CASH AND CARRY Your money refunded if not satisfied with your purchase.

SHELLED WALNUTS

Special—Just arrived a shipment of Shelled Bordeaux Walnuts. The kernels are slightly broken, but they are bright in color and of extremely good flavor. They would be good value at 75c per pound, but on Friday and Saturday we will sell them at

PER POUND 45c
PER HALF POUND 25c

SWEET POTATOES

Special Friday and Saturday only, 5 POUNDS 25c

Kelllogg's Cornflakes, pkg. 10c
Krummel Bran, pkg. 30c
Roman Meal, pkg. 30c
Pastry Flour, best quality, 25c
12-lb. bags 45c
24-lb. bags 89c
Seeded Raisins, large pkg., 2 for 20c
Valencia Raisins, lb. 20c
Jolly Super, 8 1/2 lbs. 25c
Domestic Shortening, 3-lb. pails 49c
Pure Lard, 8-lb. pails 55c

N. P. SOAP—SPECIAL The old reliable laundry soap, in long bars. Each 21c, 5 BARS $1.00 Friday, Saturday or Monday.

SUNSWEEP PRUNES

In dustproof packages holding two pounds each. Very choice quality. Per package 40c

Oatmeal, superior quality, 6 lbs. 25c
Cream of Wheat, 4 lbs. 25c
Golden Cornmeal, 6 lbs. 25c
Cream of Barley, pkg. 30c
Shredded Wheat, 2 pkgs. 25c
Toma's Catsup, large bottles 25c
H. O. Oleomargarine, lb. 24c
Tuna Fish, per tin 20c
Kipperd Herring, tin 15c
Eagle Salmon, large tin 25c
Brunswick Sardines, 4 tins 25c

CLARK'S SPECIAL BLEND TEA

The quality is right, the price is low. Try a pound this week. If not pleased with the flavor return it and we will refund the money. Per pound 49c

CHOICE CREAMERY BUTTER, per pound 38c

CLARK'S ECONOMY STORES

719 RICHMOND ST. 169 ADELAIDE ST. 754 DUNDAS ST.

Many Uses—

Shirriff's MARMALADE

is splendid for puddings, cake-filler, tarts, sandwiches, toast—always delicious, always enjoyable.

Real marmalade made from the original recipe. Cheaper than jam or butter.

Fall Housecleaning Sometimes Requires the Help of Real Renovators

Years of prosperity have served to learn a trade, and even then only a few become near perfect. What we can do with a faded rug, portieres, housefurnishings or garments is unbelievable unless you let us show you. We will dry them any shade. Just call 584 today and an expert will call at your home and give you an estimate.

A bundle from every home. A laundry plan for each pocketbook, SOME WAY AND SOME HOW.

The Parisian Laundry

Laundries, Dry Cleaners, Dyers and Rug Cleaners.

IF SICK, TAKE "CASCARETS"

Clean Your Bowels! End Headache, Biliousness, Colds, Dizziness, Sour, Gassy Stomach

To clean out your bowels without cramping or overacting, take Cascarets!

You want to feel fine; to be quick-free from sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, bad breath, acid, gassy stomach, constipation, or two Cascarets, anytime, will start the bowels acting. When taken at night, the bowels work wonderfully in morning.

Cascarets never sicken or inconvenience you next day like pills, calomel, salts, or oil. Children love Cascarets too. 10 cent boxes, also 25 and 50 cent sizes. Any drug store—Adv.

What a generous mite, Flaxie. Everyone who could spare it was as kind-hearted as you, our cot would have been paid for long ago. Won't you come again soon, and stay longer.

Why do thousands of Women say this about Nemo Corsets?

"I would never think of wearing any other corset than a Nemo. I used to 'shop around' buying different makes of corsets. Then, one day, a friend suggested that I try a Nemo and I did so. I know the style I like, now, and have had complete corset comfort ever since. My gowns fit better too."

The above expression of opinion is echoed daily by thousands of Canadian women in cities, towns and villages across the Dominion. They have personally experienced the day-in-and-day-out comfort and satisfaction of a scientifically designed modish corset—made in the Nemo way.

Read carefully the brief descriptions that follow. You, too, can be properly fitted in any of the styles described—for there is a Nemo Corset to meet your exact individual needs, no matter what type of figure you possess.

Nemo CORSETS

Kop Service Corsets—Designed for that large class of women who are over-developed in hips and thighs. The reduction of these parts is accomplished by bands of patented semi-elastic Lasti-Kops Webbing, which will not lose their elasticity, and are guaranteed to last the life of the corset. A Nemo Maternity and Convalescent Corset is also furnished in this Service. 5 models, 20-36, $3.00 to $10.00.

Self-Reducing Service Corsets—For women of medium-full figures. The patented Nemo Self-Reducing Straps—slightly tighter than the portion of the corset they cover—afford a constant gentle massage which softens superfluous flesh and allows it to be carried off in the circulation. Other features combine to make these corsets ideal for reducing any excess fatty tissue. 11 Models, 22-44, $4.50 to $8.50.

Wonderlift Service Corsets—Intended for women of all types, their secret lies in the Wonderlift Bandlet, a band of Lasti-Kops Webbing, adjustable to the exact individual lines of the wearer, yet cleverly concealed beneath the corset-skin. The firm uplifting support of this Bandlet is invaluable to women who suffer—even slightly—from weakened and flabby abdominal muscles and organs. In several Models, 22-44, $7.75 to $8.50.

Nemo Corset Service is furnished by most better-class stores and shops. If, however, you have any difficulty in obtaining the exact Nemo Corset you need—communicate with us direct and we will see that you are supplied through our nearest dealer.

"Once try a Nemo and you'll never change."

Made by KOPS BROS. LIMITED • Toronto

The FLAMING JEWEL

by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS
©1922 GEORGE H. DORAN COMPANY

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

For two years, Fate, Chance and Destiny had been too busy to attend to MIKE CLINCH. Now the malevolent influence which had hung over each possessor of the priceless Flaming Jewel ever since it was stolen from a refugee countess of Esthonia, gathered like a fog about the disreputable hunting camp which Clinch owned in the Adirondacks. Here, among the criminals and riff-raff of the North Woods, Clinch lives with his beautiful step-daughter.

EVE STRAYER, JAMES DARRAGH learns from the countess that the Flaming Jewel was originally stolen from her by QUINTANA, a great international thief whose New York agent is EMANUEL SARD. Darragh robs Sard of a code letter from Quintana, which states that the Flaming Jewel is now in the possession of Mike Clinch. Darragh heads for Clinch's cabin at Star Pond and on his trail are two State Troopers, seeking to arrest him for the holdup of Sard.

Go On With the Story.
CHAPTER III
CLINCH, in his shirt sleeves, came out on the veranda. He had little light gray eyes, close-clipped gray hair, and was clean shaven.

"How are you, Clinch?" inquired Lannis affably.
"All right," replied Clinch; "you're the same, I hope."

"Trooper Stormont, Mr. Clinch," said Lannis in his genial way.
"Pleased to know you," said Clinch, level-eyed, unsmiling.

The troopers dismounted. Both shook hands with Clinch. Then Lannis led the way to the barn. From the care of their horses they went to a pump to wash.

Lannis said in Stormont's ear: "Here she comes with towels. She's pretty, isn't she?"

A young girl in pink gingham advanced toward them across the patch of grass.

Lannis was very polite and presented Stormont. The girl handed them two rough towels, glanced at Stormont again after the introduction, smiled slightly.

"Dinner is ready," she said. They dried their faces and followed her back to the house.

It was an unpainted building, partly of log. In the dining-room half a dozen men waited silently for food. Lannis saluted all, named his comrade, and seated himself.

A delicious odor of Johnny-cake pervaded the room. Presently Eve Strayer appeared with the dinner. There was dew on her pale forehead.

head—the heat of the kitchen, no doubt. The girl's thick, lustrous hair was brownish gold, and so twisted up that it revealed her ears and a very white neck.

When she brought Stormont his dinner he caught her eyes a moment—experienced a slight shock of pleasure at their intense blue—the gentian-blue of the summer zenith at midday.

Lannis remained affable, even became jocose at moments:
"No hootch for dinner, Mike? How's that, now?"

"The Boot-leg Express is a day late," replied Clinch, with cold humor. Around the table ran an odd sound—a company of catamounts feeding might have made such a noise—if catamounts ever laugh.

Stormont had finished dinner. He heard a low, charming voice from behind his chair:
"Apple pie, lemon pie, maple cake, berry roll."

He looked up into two gentian-blue eyes.
"Lemon pie, please," he said, blushing.

When dinner was over and the bar-dining-room empty except for Clinch and the two State Troopers, the former folded his heavy, powerful hands on the table's edge and turned his square face and pale-eyed gaze on Lannis.

"Spit it out," he said in a passionless voice.
Lannis crossed one knee over the other, lighted a cigarette:
"Is there a young fellow working for you named Hal Smith?"

"No," said Clinch.
"Sure?"
"Sure."

"Clinch," continued Lannis, "have you heard about a stick-up on the wood-road out of Ghost Lake?"

"No."
"Well, a wealthy tourist from New York—a Mr. Sard, stopping at Ghost Lake Inn—was held up and robbed last Saturday toward sundown."

"Never heard of him," said Clinch, calmly.
There was a pause.

"We heard you had a new man named Hal Smith working around your place."

"No."
"He came here Saturday night."

"Who says so?"
"A guide from Ghost Lake."

"He's a liar."
"You know," said Lannis, "it won't do you any good if hold-up men can hide here and make a get-away."

"Gwan and search," said Clinch, calmly.
They searched the "hotel" from garret to cellar. They searched the barn, boat-shed, out-houses.

While this was going on, Clinch looked out for Harrod's patrol, too.
"All right, dad," she said. "If I have to be out tonight, don't worry. I'll get word to Smith somehow."

Half an hour later Lannis and Stormont returned from a prowling around the clearing. Lannis said the reckoning; his comrade led out the horses. He said again to Lannis:
"I'm sure it was the girl. She wore men's clothes and she went into the woods on a run."

About three o'clock the two State Troopers, riding at a walk, came to the forks of the Ghost Lake road.
"Now," said Lannis to Stormont, "if you really believe you saw the girl beat it out of the back door and take to the woods, she's probably somewhere in there—" he pointed into the western forest. "But," he added, "what's your idea in following her?"

"She wore men's clothes; she was in a hurry and trying to keep out of sight. I wondered whether Clinch might have sent her to warn this hold-up fellow."

"All right. Take your bearings. This road runs west to Ghost Lake. We sleep at the Inn there—if you mean to cross the woods on foot."

Stormont nodded, consulted his map and compass, pocketed both, unbuckled his spurs.

When he was ready he gave his horse a kick.
"I'd just like to see what she's up to," he remarked.

The forest was open amid a big stand of white pine and hemlock, and Stormont traveled easily and swiftly. He had struck a line by compass that must cross the direction taken by Eve Strayer when she left Clinch's. But it was a wild chance that he would ever run across her.

Far away in the open forest Stormont heard the shot and turned in that direction.
But Eve already was very near when the young man who called himself Hal Smith fired at one of Harrod's deer—a three-ping buck on the edge of the dead woods.

Smith had drawn and dressed the buck by the time the girl found him. He was cleaning up when she arrived, squatting by the water's edge when he heard her voice across the swale:
"Smith! The State Troopers are looking for you!"

He stood up, dried his hands on his breeches. The girl picked her way across the bog, jumping from one tussock to the next.
When she told him what had happened he began to laugh.
"Did you really stick up this man?" she asked incredulously.

"I'm afraid I did, Eve," he replied, still laughing.
The girl's entire expression altered. "So that's the sort you are," she said. "I thought you different. But you're all a rotten lot—" went into the kitchen.

"Eve," he said coolly, "the State Troopers are after that fellow, Hal Smith, who came here Saturday night. Where is he?"

"He went into Harrod's to get us a deer," she replied in a low voice. "What has he done?"

"Stuck up a man on the Ghost Lake road. He ought to have told me. Do you think you could meet up with him and tip him off?"

"He's hunting on Owl Marsh. I'll try."

"All right. Change your clothes and slip out the back door. And your medicine. Creep into that cave and lie down."

"What do you intend to do?" he demanded, interested and amused.
"If it's one of Harrod's gamekeepers," said the girl dryly, "it only means a summons and a fine for me. And if it's a State Trooper, who is prowling in the woods yonder hunting crooks, he'll find nobody here but a trespasser. Keep quiet. I'll stand him off."

(Continued in Our Next Issue)

CLUB NEWS
What Women Are Accomplishing in London.

SOLDIERS' WIVES LEAGUE.
The first meeting of the season of the Soldiers' Wives League is being held Thursday afternoon in the officers' quarters at the armories. Plans for raising funds to carry on the relief work will be made, and the reports of the assistance given during the summer will be presented. At the close of the meeting tea will be served.

WIND UP WITH BANQUET.
Following the final games of the Y. W. C. A. Girls' Baseball League it is proposed to hold a banquet as a wind-up for the season. This will probably take place Friday evening, Oct. 13.

ARE FRIENDS OF S. C. H.
Mrs. C. L. Campbell, honorary treasurer War Memorial Children's Hospital fund, gratefully acknowledges the following contributions:

Rodney Women's Institute . . . $ 9.00
St. George's Church, I. O. O. F. D. E. city . . . 25.00
Mrs. W. J. Reid, city . . . 25.00
Mrs. Hugh McAlpine, Walkers, Ont. . . 1.00
Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. O. F. D. E. city, for material . . . 200.00
Eric Avenue Club, city, on cash . . . 250.00
Proceeds of a one-cent sale held by Dorothy Hill, Jean Todd and little friends, city, Sept. 30th . . . 8.02

STILL WORK FOR KIDDIES.
Arrangements for a rummage sale in the near future will be made by the Abigail Becker Chapter I. O. O. F. D. E. city, on Oct. 25, at a meeting to be held this week in the home of the regent, Mrs. T. C. Duncan. Sewing will be continued this year for the War Memorial Children's Hospital, and the social service side of child welfare work.

START COURSE THURSDAY.
October sixteenth is announced as the date of the opening of the course in invalid cookery, which Miss Mary MacPherson is to conduct for No. 28, Lord Kitchener Nursing Division, in the new Central Collegiate. The interest aroused in the course is evidenced by the fact that already fifteen have registered for the class limited to nineteen. The course will include six practical demonstrations and two lectures.

Dr. F. R. Clegg gives the first lecture Thursday evening this week, to the class which the division is organizing in first aid for the autumn months. Though twenty have enrolled, there are still a few openings.

With the classes under way, Miss Ella Davis, lady superintendent, and other members of the division are busy with preparations for the visit of inspection of the assistant commissioner for Ontario, Dr. C. J. Copp, on October 12.

ST. JOHN'S M. U.
A very pleasant evening was spent this week, when Mrs. LaFrance, president, and Mrs. Newman, vice-president of St. John's Mothers' Unit, entertained at a progressive euchre party at the former's home. Members were present from the different units of the separate schools. During the evening Miss Agnes Harrison and Miss Genevieve Durkin rendered several musical selections, and Mrs. Haines gave a reading. The first prize was won by Mrs. F. Galbraith, and the consolation prize went to Mrs. John Mueckler.

MISS BROWN PROVIDES PROGRAM.
As in former years, Miss Belle Brown, of the Institute of Musical Art, provided a charming program at the annual crusade meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of Askin Street Methodist Church held Tuesday evening. The program was artistic and reflected great credit on Whetter.

the young artists, including Misses Eva Metcalfe, Madeline Sharratt, Mildred McGuffin, Grace Crouse, Cora Carson and Muriel Atkinson.

NEVER FORGETS MILK FOR CRECHE.
Meeting this week the Day Nursery board made arrangements for a rummage sale to be held in the course of a few weeks.

The average attendance of children at the present time was reported to be 26 daily.

Grateful appreciation was expressed of the continuous generosity of the Day Nursery of Mr. George H. May, 345 Wharncliffe road, who during the past year has never failed to leave a daily donation of two quarts of milk. Other donations for which thanks were expressed were: Canned fruit from Mrs. A. J. Murray, Wellington street; a treat from Mrs. Fitzgerald, King street; 5 gallons maple syrup from A. M. Smith & Co.; fruit and vegetables from Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church; canned fruit, Mrs. O'Dell, Queen's avenue; a treat, Social Service Club, through Miss Keene; three baskets of fruit, a friend; a treat, Dundas Center Methodist Sunday School; high chair, Mrs. Frank Whetter.

tractively designed with a tucked front and suspender shoulder pleats. The materials most used are the crepe silks and such fabrics as silk duvetyne. As both blouse and skirt are often made of the same material the costume has much the appearance of a dress.

Get acquainted with the daily possibilities of the Want Ads. Want Ads are at your service every day.

Radio Radiations
World's Best by Radio.

These are the three developments in radio which I can see near at hand, says Major-Gen. G. O. Squier. First, the simplification and standardization of the receiving set.

Second, the use of light and telephone wires as aerials for every body.

Third, the use of local power systems for local broadcasting.

Through these three developments there will come to every man's home a stream of the best things of the world—a stream to be tapped and enjoyed when he wishes, to be shut off by the simple turn of a switch when he does not.

Thus will the radio engineer provide a new cultural background for humanity, a new and powerful agency for the advancement of mankind.

With the classes under way, Miss Ella Davis, lady superintendent, and other members of the division are busy with preparations for the visit of inspection of the assistant commissioner for Ontario, Dr. C. J. Copp, on October 12.

As in former years, Miss Belle Brown, of the Institute of Musical Art, provided a charming program at the annual crusade meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of Askin Street Methodist Church held Tuesday evening. The program was artistic and reflected great credit on Whetter.

the young artists, including Misses Eva Metcalfe, Madeline Sharratt, Mildred McGuffin, Grace Crouse, Cora Carson and Muriel Atkinson.

NEVER FORGETS MILK FOR CRECHE.
Meeting this week the Day Nursery board made arrangements for a rummage sale to be held in the course of a few weeks.

The average attendance of children at the present time was reported to be 26 daily.

Grateful appreciation was expressed of the continuous generosity of the Day Nursery of Mr. George H. May, 345 Wharncliffe road, who during the past year has never failed to leave a daily donation of two quarts of milk. Other donations for which thanks were expressed were: Canned fruit from Mrs. A. J. Murray, Wellington street; a treat from Mrs. Fitzgerald, King street; 5 gallons maple syrup from A. M. Smith & Co.; fruit and vegetables from Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church; canned fruit, Mrs. O'Dell, Queen's avenue; a treat, Social Service Club, through Miss Keene; three baskets of fruit, a friend; a treat, Dundas Center Methodist Sunday School; high chair, Mrs. Frank Whetter.

tractively designed with a tucked front and suspender shoulder pleats. The materials most used are the crepe silks and such fabrics as silk duvetyne. As both blouse and skirt are often made of the same material the costume has much the appearance of a dress.

Get acquainted with the daily possibilities of the Want Ads. Want Ads are at your service every day.

Radio Radiations
World's Best by Radio.

These are the three developments in radio which I can see near at hand, says Major-Gen. G. O. Squier. First, the simplification and standardization of the receiving set.

Second, the use of light and telephone wires as aerials for every body.

Third, the use of local power systems for local broadcasting.

Through these three developments there will come to every man's home a stream of the best things of the world—a stream to be tapped and enjoyed when he wishes, to be shut off by the simple turn of a switch when he does not.

Thus will the radio engineer provide a new cultural background for humanity, a new and powerful agency for the advancement of mankind.

With the classes under way, Miss Ella Davis, lady superintendent, and other members of the division are busy with preparations for the visit of inspection of the assistant commissioner for Ontario, Dr. C. J. Copp, on October 12.

As in former years, Miss Belle Brown, of the Institute of Musical Art, provided a charming program at the annual crusade meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of Askin Street Methodist Church held Tuesday evening. The program was artistic and reflected great credit on Whetter.

the young artists, including Misses Eva Metcalfe, Madeline Sharratt, Mildred McGuffin, Grace Crouse, Cora Carson and Muriel Atkinson.

NEVER FORGETS MILK FOR CRECHE.
Meeting this week the Day Nursery board made arrangements for a rummage sale to be held in the course of a few weeks.

The average attendance of children at the present time was reported to be 26 daily.

Grateful appreciation was expressed of the continuous generosity of the Day Nursery of Mr. George H. May, 345 Wharncliffe road, who during the past year has never failed to leave a daily donation of two quarts of milk. Other donations for which thanks were expressed were: Canned fruit from Mrs. A. J. Murray, Wellington street; a treat from Mrs. Fitzgerald, King street; 5 gallons maple syrup from A. M. Smith & Co.; fruit and vegetables from Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church; canned fruit, Mrs. O'Dell, Queen's avenue; a treat, Social Service Club, through Miss Keene; three baskets of fruit, a friend; a treat, Dundas Center Methodist Sunday School; high chair, Mrs. Frank Whetter.

tractively designed with a tucked front and suspender shoulder pleats. The materials most used are the crepe silks and such fabrics as silk duvetyne. As both blouse and skirt are often made of the same material the costume has much the appearance of a dress.

Get acquainted with the daily possibilities of the Want Ads. Want Ads are at your service every day.

Radio Radiations
World's Best by Radio.

These are the three developments in radio which I can see near at hand, says Major-Gen. G. O. Squier. First, the simplification and standardization of the receiving set.

Second, the use of light and telephone wires as aerials for every body.

Third, the use of local power systems for local broadcasting.

Through these three developments there will come to every man's home a stream of the best things of the world—a stream to be tapped and enjoyed when he wishes, to be shut off by the simple turn of a switch when he does not.

Thus will the radio engineer provide a new cultural background for humanity, a new and powerful agency for the advancement of mankind.

With the classes under way, Miss Ella Davis, lady superintendent, and other members of the division are busy with preparations for the visit of inspection of the assistant commissioner for Ontario, Dr. C. J. Copp, on October 12.

As in former years, Miss Belle Brown, of the Institute of Musical Art, provided a charming program at the annual crusade meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of Askin Street Methodist Church held Tuesday evening. The program was artistic and reflected great credit on Whetter.

the young artists, including Misses Eva Metcalfe, Madeline Sharratt, Mildred McGuffin, Grace Crouse, Cora Carson and Muriel Atkinson.

NEVER FORGETS MILK FOR CRECHE.
Meeting this week the Day Nursery board made arrangements for a rummage sale to be held in the course of a few weeks.

The average attendance of children at the present time was reported to be 26 daily.

Grateful appreciation was expressed of the continuous generosity of the Day Nursery of Mr. George H. May, 345 Wharncliffe road, who during the past year has never failed to leave a daily donation of two quarts of milk. Other donations for which thanks were expressed were: Canned fruit from Mrs. A. J. Murray, Wellington street; a treat from Mrs. Fitzgerald, King street; 5 gallons maple syrup from A. M. Smith & Co.; fruit and vegetables from Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church; canned fruit, Mrs. O'Dell, Queen's avenue; a treat, Social Service Club, through Miss Keene; three baskets of fruit, a friend; a treat, Dundas Center Methodist Sunday School; high chair, Mrs. Frank Whetter.

tractively designed with a tucked front and suspender shoulder pleats. The materials most used are the crepe silks and such fabrics as silk duvetyne. As both blouse and skirt are often made of the same material the costume has much the appearance of a dress.

Get acquainted with the daily possibilities of the Want Ads. Want Ads are at your service every day.

Radio Radiations
World's Best by Radio.

These are the three developments in radio which I can see near at hand, says Major-Gen. G. O. Squier. First, the simplification and standardization of the receiving set.

Second, the use of light and telephone wires as aerials for every body.

Third, the use of local power systems for local broadcasting.

Through these three developments there will come to every man's home a stream of the best things of the world—a stream to be tapped and enjoyed when he wishes, to be shut off by the simple turn of a switch when he does not.

Thus will the radio engineer provide a new cultural background for humanity, a new and powerful agency for the advancement of mankind.

With the classes under way, Miss Ella Davis, lady superintendent, and other members of the division are busy with preparations for the visit of inspection of the assistant commissioner for Ontario, Dr. C. J. Copp, on October 12.

As in former years, Miss Belle Brown, of the Institute of Musical Art, provided a charming program at the annual crusade meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of Askin Street Methodist Church held Tuesday evening. The program was artistic and reflected great credit on Whetter.

the young artists, including Misses Eva Metcalfe, Madeline Sharratt, Mildred McGuffin, Grace Crouse, Cora Carson and Muriel Atkinson.

NEVER FORGETS MILK FOR CRECHE.
Meeting this week the Day Nursery board made arrangements for a rummage sale to be held in the course of a few weeks.

The average attendance of children at the present time was reported to be 26 daily.

Grateful appreciation was expressed of the continuous generosity of the Day Nursery of Mr. George H. May, 345 Wharncliffe road, who during the past year has never failed to leave a daily donation of two quarts of milk. Other donations for which thanks were expressed were: Canned fruit from Mrs. A. J. Murray, Wellington street; a treat from Mrs. Fitzgerald, King street; 5 gallons maple syrup from A. M. Smith & Co.; fruit and vegetables from Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church; canned fruit, Mrs. O'Dell, Queen's avenue; a treat, Social Service Club, through Miss Keene; three baskets of fruit, a friend; a treat, Dundas Center Methodist Sunday School; high chair, Mrs. Frank Whetter.

tractively designed with a tucked front and suspender shoulder pleats. The materials most used are the crepe silks and such fabrics as silk duvetyne. As both blouse and skirt are often made of the same material the costume has much the appearance of a dress.

Get acquainted with the daily possibilities of the Want Ads. Want Ads are at your service every day.

Radio Radiations
World's Best by Radio.

These are the three developments in radio which I can see near at hand, says Major-Gen. G. O. Squier. First, the simplification and standardization of the receiving set.

Second, the use of light and telephone wires as aerials for every body.

Third, the use of local power systems for local broadcasting.

Through these three developments there will come to every man's home a stream of the best things of the world—a stream to be tapped and enjoyed when he wishes, to be shut off by the simple turn of a switch when he does not.

Thus will the radio engineer provide a new cultural background for humanity, a new and powerful agency for the advancement of mankind.

With the classes under way, Miss Ella Davis, lady superintendent, and other members of the division are busy with preparations for the visit of inspection of the assistant commissioner for Ontario, Dr. C. J. Copp, on October 12.

As in former years, Miss Belle Brown, of the Institute of Musical Art, provided a charming program at the annual crusade meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of Askin Street Methodist Church held Tuesday evening. The program was artistic and reflected great credit on Whetter.

the young artists, including Misses Eva Metcalfe, Madeline Sharratt, Mildred McGuffin, Grace Crouse, Cora Carson and Muriel Atkinson.

NEVER FORGETS MILK FOR CRECHE.
Meeting this week the Day Nursery board made arrangements for a rummage sale to be held in the course of a few weeks.

The average attendance of children at the present time was reported to be 26 daily.

Grateful appreciation was expressed of the continuous generosity of the Day Nursery of Mr. George H. May, 345 Wharncliffe road, who during the past year has never failed to leave a daily donation of two quarts of milk. Other donations for which thanks were expressed were: Canned fruit from Mrs. A. J. Murray, Wellington street; a treat from Mrs. Fitzgerald, King street; 5 gallons maple syrup from A. M. Smith & Co.; fruit and vegetables from Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church; canned fruit, Mrs. O'Dell, Queen's avenue; a treat, Social Service Club, through Miss Keene; three baskets of fruit, a friend; a treat, Dundas Center Methodist Sunday School; high chair, Mrs. Frank Whetter.

tractively designed with a tucked front and suspender shoulder pleats. The materials most used are the crepe silks and such fabrics as silk duvetyne. As both blouse and skirt are often made of the same material the costume has much the appearance of a dress.

Get acquainted with the daily possibilities of the Want Ads. Want Ads are at your service every day.

Radio Radiations
World's Best by Radio.

These are the three developments in radio which I can see near at hand, says Major-Gen. G. O. Squier. First, the simplification and standardization of the receiving set.

Second, the use of light and telephone wires as aerials for every body.

Third, the use of local power systems for local broadcasting.

Through these three developments there will come to every man's home a stream of the best things of the world—a stream to be tapped and enjoyed when he wishes, to be shut off by the simple turn of a switch when he does not.

Thus will the radio engineer provide a new cultural background for humanity, a new and powerful agency for the advancement of mankind.

With the classes under way, Miss Ella Davis, lady superintendent, and other members of the division are busy with preparations for the visit of inspection of the assistant commissioner for Ontario, Dr. C. J. Copp, on October 12.

As in former years, Miss Belle Brown, of the Institute of Musical Art, provided a charming program at the annual crusade meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of Askin Street Methodist Church held Tuesday evening. The program was artistic and reflected great credit on Whetter.

the young artists, including Misses Eva Metcalfe, Madeline Sharratt, Mildred McGuffin, Grace Crouse, Cora Carson and Muriel Atkinson.

NEVER FORGETS MILK FOR CRECHE.
Meeting this week the Day Nursery board made arrangements for a rummage sale to be held in the course of a few weeks.

The average attendance of children at the present time was reported to be 26 daily.

Grateful appreciation was expressed of the continuous generosity of the Day Nursery of Mr. George H. May, 345 Wharncliffe road, who during the past year has never failed to leave a daily donation of two quarts of milk. Other donations for which thanks were expressed were: Canned fruit from Mrs. A. J. Murray, Wellington street; a treat from Mrs. Fitzgerald, King street; 5 gallons maple syrup from A. M. Smith & Co.; fruit and vegetables from Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church; canned fruit, Mrs. O'Dell, Queen's avenue; a treat, Social Service Club, through Miss Keene; three baskets of fruit, a friend; a treat, Dundas Center Methodist Sunday School; high chair, Mrs. Frank Whetter.

tractively designed with a tucked front and suspender shoulder pleats. The materials most used are the crepe silks and such fabrics as silk duvetyne. As both blouse and skirt are often made of the same material the costume has much the appearance of a dress.

Get acquainted with the daily possibilities of the Want Ads. Want Ads are at your service every day.

Radio Radiations
World's Best by Radio.

DECLARE VIEW OF CHESTERTON IS WRONG ONE

Ministers Contend That Protestantism Assumes Stand On Moral Issues.

CANON D. HAGUE SPEAKS

Anglicans Make Their Church Absolutely Clear On Divorce.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—The sweeping criticism of Protestantism in general and of the Church of England in particular by which G. K. Chesterton, noted English writer, explains his turning to Roman Catholicism, has brought a searching of hearts in Toronto, mingled with indignation and surprise.

Chesterton, brilliant writer and lecturer, in a published interview in London, England, has explained that he joined the Roman Catholic Church because "The Protestant churches are in utter bewilderment on birth control, divorce, spiritualism and suicide. He further stated that he holds no brief for a church which is not militant."

He mentioned Dean Inge of St. Paul's Cathedral, the Bishop of Durham and other Protestant church leaders in England as men whose utterances on doctrine have led him to seek the Roman Catholic Church for spiritual solace.

Among prominent Anglican authorities approached this morning, the most noticeable feeling seemed to be one of incredulity that Chesterton, with his knowledge of history and natural sciences, should believe the statements which he makes both regarding the Church of England's relation to the Roman Catholic Church, and the lack of militancy in the Anglican stand on moral questions of the day.

"Camouflage," one Anglican expressed himself, "it sounds like camouflage. I don't believe that Chesterton has given his true reasons for the change which he has made."

Bishop Sweeney, silent, perhaps of Anglo-Catholic controversy arising in his diocese during the last few months, declined to make any reply to the Chesterton charges.

Rt. Rev. W. D. Reeve, assistant bishop of Toronto, declared that "Mr. Chesterton is entirely wrong in each of his statements. The Church of England has taken a firmer stand on moral questions than has the Roman Catholic Church. The difference is that we do not attempt to dictate to the individual. This is made possible in the Roman Catholic Church by the practice of confession, by which the private conduct of the individual is discovered. But our stand on moral questions is clear. No Anglican clergyman, for example, is allowed to perform a marriage ceremony for a divorced person. Again, our keeping of the second commandment is something not followed by the Roman Catholic Church. The Bible states that there shall be no worship of graven images, yet the Roman Catholic erects and worships images of the Virgin Mary. There is no basis for Mr. Chesterton's statements."

Canon Hague speaks. Canon Dyon Hague was definite in his contradiction of the Chesterton charges. "How can any man of Chesterton's intellect," he asked, "hold such opinions regarding the Church of England's relation to the Roman Catholic Church? Chesterton must know that the Anglican church is a separate entity and wholly Protestant. He must know that the official title of the Anglican church in the United States, for example, is the 'Protestant Episcopal Church,' and that is similarly mentioned in English legal statutes, and its Protestantism made equally plain in the coronation oaths of British monarchs. 'We are a branch of the Catholic church,' Canon Hague explained, 'but not of the Catholic church as Chesterton means it—not right of the Roman Catholic church. By 'Catholic church' the Anglican means all people professing Christianity. The Church of Rome's claim to the word is unhistorical and it is unfortunate that its meanings have become so vague."

"Chesterton infers that Protestantism falls through lack of militancy," it was suggested, "that the church evades moral issues."

"I can't think that he really believes that," replied Canon Hague. "Has there ever in history been a church

Denies Report That Lockjaw Was Contracted From Instruments

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—"It is all nonsense. There is nothing in the instruments that can produce tetanus," said Dr. C. L. Starr, when asked his opinion of a report made in one of the papers yesterday of the illness of Dr. Norman Allen, who was operated on two weeks ago for gall stones and is now suffering from lockjaw, caused, it was thought, by a germ on the instruments.

"Tetanus may be due," said Dr. E. A. McCulloch, "to infected catgut used in surgical work, which, if it is infected, is entirely unavoidable. more militant against wrong than the Church of England is today? The difference is that we are a free church. We do not order the individual as to what he must do in such matters as Chesterton mentions, birth control for example. We can not do it. I can not go to a member of my church and say that you must do this and you must not do that, because our church is free. We have no Pope, as the central and absolute authority, shaking the big stick over our heads. But in its stand for what is right, in the questions Chesterton mentions and in all the moral questions of the day, the church's position is definite and clear, and it never has been more aggressive in its effort to establish what is right and to defeat what is wrong."

Liberty of Thought. "The principle of Protestantism is that of liberty of thought," said Rev. Dr. W. R. Young of Toronto. Chesterton has the wrong idea. The Methodist people are just as straight on moral issues as the Roman Catholics, if not more so. The Methodist Church defines its attitude on moral issues quite clearly, but it does not attempt to exercise the priestly authority that the Roman Catholic Church does."

Rev. C. L. McErvine of Winnipeg declared that the Methodist Church attitude on moral issues was well defined, but liberty of thought and action was left on such matters as amusements.

Rev. T. E. Hollings of Ottawa said: "The principle of Protestantism is directly opposed to the idea of Chesterton. Protestantism stands for liberty of conscience and action within reasonable limits, of course."

Rev. Alfred Sharpe, fraternal delegate from British Methodism to the General Conference, and a former president of the Wesleyan Methodist Conference in Britain, said that Chesterton's remarks were "as ignorant as they are insolent."

"Mr. Chesterton has not been a Protestant and has never understood the principles of Protestantism," he said. "If he desires an authoritative church he has perfect right to choose the Roman Catholic Church. But to suggest that the Protestant churches are in bewilderment in regard to cannibalism, baby murder, etc., is as ignorant as it is insolent." "The principle of Protestantism is that of liberty of thought," he said. "If he desires an authoritative church he has perfect right to choose the Roman Catholic Church. But to suggest that the Protestant churches are in bewilderment in regard to cannibalism, baby murder, etc., is as ignorant as it is insolent."

Authority of God's Voice. "Mr. Chesterton may speak for the church with which he has been identified, but he has no right or equipment to deal with the Free Churches, of which he is utterly ignorant. He gets his authority in the church, and chooses the Roman Catholic Church. But to suggest that the Protestant churches are in bewilderment in regard to cannibalism, baby murder, etc., is as ignorant as it is insolent."

Canon H. P. Plumptre of St. James Cathedral said: "If I held the views that Mr. Chesterton confesses he has held for twenty years about church organization, it would not have taken me twenty years to join the Church of Rome. If Christ left as His chief legacy an organization, depending upon a particular ministerial type, then probably the Roman Catholics are right. But did He?"

"If, again, Mr. Chesterton thinks that the pronouncements of that church during the long centuries of its existence have always promoted the cause of moral and social reform, he is right to join it. There could be no better test of the 'true Church' than the pronouncements of more than two hundred years against war and slavery and all anti-social conditions. But the Quakers' type of Christianity is the opposite to that of the church which Mr. Chesterton has joined."

Clear on Divorce. Dr. C. A. Seager, provost of Trinity College, said: "I can, of course, speak only for the Church of England in Canada, but on the question of divorce, our church is absolutely clear. It has legislated through the general synod that no Canadian clergyman of the Church of England may under any circumstances marry a person who has been divorced. Nothing is clearer than this prohibition. This expression of the mind of the church is followed absolutely by the clergy, and I do not know any Anglican clergyman who would perform the marriage ceremony for a divorced person."

"As to other moral questions, such as birth control, the Church of England in Canada, both corporately and through the individual clergy, has expressed over and over again the opinion that anything of this kind is not only un-Christian but also unsound."

When Dr. Seager read the quotation "Can I go in for cannibalism or the murder of babies to reduce the population?" he commented, "It sounds like Chesterton doesn't it?" When it was suggested that many people made a distinction between prevention of conception and prevention of birth, Dr. Seager replied: "That distinction is a matter for the state and not for the church."

Can Take Choice. "As to the 'church militant,' said

The catgut may be from the intestines of animals which have the lockjaw germ. It is very rare that this is so, but it occasionally happens."

Prof. J. P. McMurrich of the medical department of the University of Toronto, stated that it was no fault of the surgeon who performed the operation, for all instruments are properly sterilized.

Dr. George Stewart Wilson, who performed the operation on Dr. Allen, when interviewed this morning, declined to make any statement regarding the operation.

Dr. Seager: "Mr. Chesterton or anyone else is at perfect liberty to take his choice; that choice is between a rigid military system such as that of Roman Catholicism, or that which is surely sounder, wiser and more worthy of free men, namely, free obedience to moral principles."

Continuing to Chesterton's other charge, Dr. Seager stated: "The Church of England does not claim to be the descendant of the mediaeval Roman Catholic Church. It claims to be the continuation of the Church of Christ planted in England 1,500 years ago. British Christianity was originally distinctively non-Roman, and there has always been a struggle in the church against Roman absorption and aggression. The first great conflict in England was between the Celtic Christianity and Roman Christianity. The former, he said, came from Gaul, and it is from this conception of Christianity that the Church of England takes its origin. Only gradually did the aggression of Rome succeed. For example, it took 200 years for the Roman service books to replace the old British ones. As against this Roman absorption and aggression the Church of England has been distinctly Protestant, as well as in the reconstruction of its doctrines at the Reformation."

Dr. Seager, when questioned, said that Dean Inge certainly did not express the mind of the Church of England in Canada.

REFUSE AMERICAN MONEY AT MONTREAL

City Treasurer Accepts Money At Par in Small Amounts Only.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—For the first time in many years American money was at a discount at the city hall today, when tendered in payment of taxes.

Assistant City Treasurer Collins made the following statement: "Having been notified by the banks that they were making a small discount on American money, amounting to 1-32 of 1 per cent, or one cent on every $32, I instructed the city tellers to refuse American money, as the city would lose this discount."

"However, when the taxpayer has no other money, we accept it in small amounts at par, but in several instances when American money was tendered in payment of large accounts it was refused, and Canadian money was insisted on for payment. The city of Montreal does not regret to see this change, as the city has been paying during the last few years high premiums on remittances to New York. In several instances the premium of exchange was as high as 15 per cent, which amounted in one year to $85,000."

OFFERED AMNESTY TO RESTORE PEACE

Irish Government Issued Proclamation To Prevent Further Bloodshed.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—It was in the hope of restoring peace without further bloodshed that the Irish government offered full amnesty to all offenders who surrender their arms by Oct. 15, says the proclamation to this effect.

The document sets forth the government's knowledge that many persons have been forced to participate in rebellious actions "against their will and better judgment, while have in truth put their hands to the ruin of their motherland."

"The government," adds the proclamation, "moved by the hope of restoring peace without further bloodshed and loss, has decided that opportunity be offered even now to those who are willing to throw in their lot with the majority of their countrymen and to withdraw from this rebellion with immunity for themselves."

PROMINENT SURGEON DIES FOLLOWING OPERATION

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Dr. Norman Allen, well-known physician and surgeon of Toronto, died at St. Michael's Hospital tonight following an operation for gall stones. The patient was making excellent progress towards recovery until noon on Tuesday, when symptoms of tetanus developed, the cause of which is a mystery to the doctors in charge.

Dr. Allen was a prominent figure in the life of the city for more than thirty years. He was a talented physician and clever surgeon, and his services were frequently requisitioned by his fellow-practitioners.

LONDONER ON LONG HIKE TAKEN CRITICALLY ILL

KINGSTON, Oct. 4.—After walking twenty-six miles while suffering intense pain from acute peritonitis and appendicitis, David Saunders of London, Ont., hiking across the continent with his wife and a friend, was taken ill by Dr. C. Carruthers, Tweed, this afternoon, to the general hospital, where he was operated upon by Dr. L. G. Bogart. He started out from Charlottetown, P.E.I., on May 28, to walk across the continent.

STEWART WILL VISIT INDIANS

Reception To Minister of Interior by Six Nations Tribe Friday Doubtful.

Allege Move On Foot To Convert Natives To Pagan Faith.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 4.—Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior and superintendent-general of Indian affairs, will be a guest at the Six Nations fair at Ohsweken on Friday afternoon, and it is announced will speak there.

Naturally there is a good deal of speculation here as to the reception he will get, not personally, for as the guest of the day his welcome will be a cordial one. But what will the Indians say of his reiterated statement that law enforcement on the reserve will be backed by the federal authorities, and that the question of the status of the Six Nations will be settled by reference to a Canadian tribunal, but not to any international tribunal or to the League of Nations?

What is really behind the movement for a separate status on the part of the Six Nations? It was stated by an authority here that the movement is not so much one on the part of the Six Nations as Indians, but by one section of the Six Nations and that the pagan section. It was declared that some of those behind the present movement had declared hostility to every white person on the reserve, missionaries, and school teachers, and to the Christian Indians, who would be either ostracized or "converted" back to paganism.

Half the Population. It is officially reported that there are over two thousand pagans on the reserve, or half the population, approximately. These, through the hereditary system of chiefships, have control of the Six Nations council.

Within the past two years the complexion of the council has changed very radically, particularly with regard to the posts which carry with them authority. Chief Levi General (Deskenah is his Indian name, which he uses by preference) is at the head of the malcontents, it is alleged.

Is law enforced on the reserve? The attorney-general of Ontario has officially informed the Six Nations that it is not, that law officers are not supported by the council, and further, that they have been prevented from carrying out their duties.

The Brantford Methodist district, in convention here within the past two weeks, specifically cited cases where it was impossible to get a warrant for their issued on the reserve or at any of the neighboring towns, for a warrant could not be enforced.

Fest of White Dog. Pagan ceremonies are carried on. Last year it was reported that the fest of the white dog was carried out. The explanation came from the reserve that the white dog was killed before it was sacrificed. At the pagan longhouse Sunday lacrosse games and celebrations are carried out, with Brantford well placarded with advertising matter.

County police officers decline to carry out judgments since they can be enforced only by the use of force. In the meantime, the Six Nations carry on without interference from district court officials, and, according to the official statements on record, there is little enforcement of Canadian law on the Six Nations reserve.

APPOINT NEW MEN TO GUELPH COLLEGE

J. E. Steckley and Oswald McConkey Added To O. A. C. Staff.

GUELPH, Oct. 4.—Announcement has been made of the appointment of Mr. J. E. Steckley of Newmarket to succeed Prof. J. P. Sackville, who recently resigned as assistant professor in the department of animal husbandry at the Ontario Agricultural College. Mr. Steckley, who has had considerable experience in animal husbandry work, has for many years been agricultural representative for York County. He arrived in Guelph on Monday to assume his new duties.

Another appointment recently made at the college was that of Mr. Oswald McConkey, formerly of Illinois State University, as assistant professor in field husbandry, to succeed the late Prof. C. R. Clinck, who died in February last. Prof. Sackville leaves for Edmonton where he has accepted a position as head of the animal husbandry in the Alberta Agricultural College.

TARDY PASSENGERS PUT ON BIG LINER VIA TENDER

QUEBEC, Oct. 4.—(By Canadian Press).—The Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of France, which cleared from here yesterday for Southampton, Cherbourg and Hamburg, had gained the middle of the river when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Premier Drury Leaves To Render Assistance To Fire Victims.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Seized with the seriousness of the situation in Northern Ontario, where forest fires are ravaging districts and rendering thousands of persons homeless, Premier Drury in Toronto tonight made hurried preparations and left for the scene of devastation.

During his absence Attorney-General W. E. Raney will be acting premier.

Palmer, two second-class passengers, with their luggage, reached the pier in an automobile. Sir Edwin Fisher, European general manager of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, noting the plight of the belated passengers, signalled to the Empress to stand to, and had the passengers taken out to her in a tender. A Quebec citizen, who had boarded the vessel on business and had failed to disembark before the ship cast off her moorings, was brought safely to shore on the tender.

REPORT DEFICIT FOR 1921 IN RAILWAY EARNINGS

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Official returns from the railway companies of the United Kingdom for 1921, just issued, shows gross receipts of £246,000,000 and expenditures of £256,000,000. There was a net deficit in the earnings of 1921 totaling £5,000,000, compared with a credit balance of £5,500,000 in 1920.

A special electric machine to detect lies is the latest invention

McCormick's
Jersey Cream
Soda Biscuits
Creamy flavor—Nourishing food

Henry Ford

"It Shall Be So Low In Price—"

that the man of moderate means may own one—and enjoy with his family the blessings of happy hours spent in God's great open spaces.

On September 26th a reduction in price took effect on all models of Ford Cars in Canada.

And now this ideal of Henry Ford, expressed in the above quotation, has been more fully realized than ever before in the history of the Ford Car in Canada.

Buy from THE HOME OF THE FORD, where you are assured of Responsible Ford Service

THE NEW FORD PRICES:

STARTER EQUIPPED	LESS STARTER
CHASSIS	$521	CHASSIS	$433
RUNABOUT	$604	RUNABOUT	$512
RUNABOUT (Light Delivery)	$612	RUNABOUT (Light Delivery)	$524
TOURING	$646	TOURING	$555
TRUCK-CHASSIS	$676	TRUCK-CHASSIS	$588
COUPE	$869
SEDAN	$966

All Prices F.O.B. London Including Government Taxes

Orders will be filled in rotation. Cash or Time Payments

MIDDLESEX MOTORS, LIMITED
HOME OF THE FORD.

781-3 Dundas St. E. (Temporary Location). Phone 1840-1841

A Special Message to Women

Who Own Electric Washing Machines

You know how hydro banished the drudgery of washday; how completely satisfactory the electric washer is and how inexpensive it is to have the heavy work of housekeeping done by this veritable gift of the fairies.

The electric washer solved one big problem, but linked up with it has been another—ironing day.

The Hydro Shop wants to show you this week a machine you need to complete your home laundering equipment—

SIMPLEX ELECTRIC IRONER

The Hydro Shop's easy payment plan made it easy for hundreds to buy their electric washers. Now you can obtain your electric ironer by the same convenient means.

The Hydro Shop
ELECTRICAL LABOR SAVERS
Dundas and Wellington Sts. Phone 7000

See The Simplex demonstrated every day this week, on real ironing, in the Hydro Shop Window.

you and 3 others may pay the price

Nature sends a warning of Pylorrhea—bleeding gums. Only one person out of five past forty escapes. Thousands younger are subject to it as well. Be on your guard.

Brush your teeth with

Forhan's
FOR THE GUMS
More than a tooth paste—it checks Pylorrhea
35c and 60c in tubes

The Kaiser's Memoirs

By WILHELM VON HOHENZOLLERN,
(Former Emperor of Germany)

Copyright, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate. Entered at Stationer's Hall, London. Publication and translation rights reserved, including Scandinavian. Reproduction in whole or in part without permission prohibited.

AFTER my return home from England I was able to report to the chancellor on the good impressions I had received, and particularly that opinion in England was apparently in favor of an understanding and of closer relations.

Bulow expressed himself as satisfied with the results of the journey, after we had talked at length about it at Homburg and consulted as to how the situation created by the journey should be put to use. I suggested that we should unquestionably come to a good agreement, if an alliance—which I preferred—could not be brought about. In any event, a firm agreement would suffice, I said, and would suit the English; in any event an alliance might always develop from it.

The opportunity for such an alliance came with unexpected promptness. While I was at Homburg von der Hohn in the spring of 1901, Count Metternich, who was with me as representative of the foreign office, brought me a notification from Berlin that Mr. Chamberlain had inquired there as to whether Germany was ready for an alliance with England, whom?—since if England so suddenly offered to make an alliance in the midst of peace it was plain that she needed the German army, which made it worth while to find out against whom the army was needed and for what reason German troops were to fight, at England's behest, by her side. Thereupon the answer came from London that they were needed against Russia, since Russia was a menace both to India and to Constantinople.

The first thing I did was to call London's attention to the old traditional brotherhood-in-arms between the German and Russian armies, and the close family ties between the reigning dynasties of the two countries; in addition, I pointed out the dangers of a war on two fronts, in case France came in on the side of Russia, and also the fact that we had acted jointly with France and Russia in the Far East (Shimonoseki, 1895) and that there was no reason to suppose a conflict with Russia at this time, when we were in the midst of peace; that the superiority in number of the Russian army on a peace footing was very great and the eastern frontier of Prussia seriously threatened by the grouping of the Russian forces; that England would not be in a position to protect our eastern provinces from a Russian attack, since her fleet could accomplish little in the Baltic and would be unable to sail into the Black Sea; that, in case of our making common cause against Russia, Germany would be the only one who would be in great danger, quite independently of the possibility of the entry of France into the fight.

Chamberlain then informed us that a firm alliance should be made, by which England would naturally lend herself to come to our aid.

British Alliance Fails. I had also pointed out that the validity of an alliance could only be as sured when the English Parliament had passed its approval upon it, since the ministry might be driven from office, by the will of the nation as expressed in parliament, whereby signature of the ministry might be rendered null and void and the alliance, Chamberlain said, that we could look upon the Chamberlain suggestion, for the time being, merely as a purely personal project of his own.

To this Chamberlain replied that he would get backing from parliament in due time and would find the way of winning the Unionists over to his idea; that all need now was the signature of Berlin. Matters did not progress as far as that, because parliament was not to be won over to Chamberlain's plan; therefore the "plan" came to nothing. Soon afterward England concluded her alliance with Japan (Hayashi). The Russo-Japanese war broke out, in which Japan—owing to the fact that it fitted in with her schemes—played the role of pawn for England's interests, which role had originally been reserved for Germany. By this war Russia was thrown from the east bank of the Pacific, where she might concern herself again with the Balkans, Constantinople and India—which was to Japan's advantage—leaving to Japan a free hand in Korea and China.

In 1905 came my journey to Tangier, undertaken much against my will. It came about as follows: Toward the end of March I intended, as in the previous year, to take a Mediterranean trip for the sake of my health, for which I proposed to avail myself of some ship running empty from Cuxhaven to Naples. The Hamburg was destined by Ballin for this purpose. At his request that I take along some other guests, since the steamer was quite empty, I invited a number of gentlemen, among them Prince Radolin, Count Puckler, Admiral Mensing, Count Puckler, Admiral von Varnbühler, Professor Schiemann, Admiral Hollmann, etc.

Soon after the proposed trip became known Bulow informed me that there was a strong desire at Lisbon to have me stop there and pay the Portuguese court a visit. To this I agreed. As the date of departure approached, Bulow expressed the additional wish that I also stop at Tangier and by visiting that Moroccan port, strengthen the position of the sultan of Morocco in relation to the French.

This I declined, since it seemed to me that the Moroccan question was too full of explosive matter and I feared that such a visit would work out disadvantageously rather than beneficially. Bulow returned to the attack without, however, persuading me of the necessity or advisability of the visit.

Again Kaiser "Gives In." During the journey I had several talks with Freiherr von Schoen, who accompanied me as representative of the foreign office, and he advised me to accept the invitation. We agreed that it would be better to drop it. I telegraphed this decision to the chancellor from Lisbon. Bulow replied emphatically that I must take into consideration the view of the German people and of the Reichstag, which had become interested in the project, and that it was necessary that I stop at Tangier.

I gave in, with a heavy heart, for I feared that this visit, in view of the situation at Paris, might be considered as a provocation and cause an inclination in London to support France in case of war. Since I suspected that Delcasse wished to make Morocco a pretext for war, I feared that he might make use of the Tangier visit for this purpose.

The visit took place, after much difficulty had been experienced in the open roadstead of Tangier, and it met with a certain amount of friendly participation by Italian and Southern French anarchists, rogues and adventurers. A lot of Spaniards stood upon a small square, amid waving banners and the loud cries, these, according to a police official who accompanied us, were an assembly of Spanish anarchists.

The first I learned about the consequences of my Tangier visit was when I got to Gibraltar and was formally and friendly received by the English, in marked contrast to my cordial reception the year before. What I had foreseen was justified by the facts. Embitterment and anger reigned in Paris, and Delcasse tried to rouse the nation to war; the only reason the war did not succeed was that both the minister of war and the minister of the navy declared France was not ready.

The fact that my fears were justified was also corroborated later by the conversation between Delcasse and the editor of Le Gaulois, in which the minister informed an astonished world that, in case of war, England would have sided with France. Thus, even as far back as that, I ran the risk, through the Tangier visit forced upon me, of getting blamed for the unchaining of a world war. To think and act constitutionally is often a hard task for a ruler upon whom in every case responsibility is finally saddled.

In October, 1905, the Paris Matin reported that Delcasse had declared in the council of ministers that England had offered, in case of war, to land 100,000 men in Holstein and seize the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal. This English offer was repeated once more later on, with the suggestion that it be affirmed in writing. And the well-known factures, who was murdered in accordance with the political ideas of involuntarily upon the outbreak of war in 1914, knew beforehand about the statements by Del-

KAISER'S FAMOUS INTERVIEW.

ONE of the most startling incidents of the Kaiser's reign was the interview with him printed in the London Daily Telegraph of Oct. 28, 1905. In it he said that "Englishmen, in giving rein to suspicious unworthiness of a great nation," were "mad as March hares," and "that the prevailing sentiment among the sections of the middle and lower classes of my own people is not friendly to England. I am, therefore, so to speak, in a minority in my own land, but it is a minority of the best elements, just as it is in England with respect to Germany." German opinion was, he admitted "bitterly hostile" to England during the Boer war, and that the German people, if he had permitted Boer delegates in Berlin, "would have crowned them with flowers." He asserted that he had formulated a plan of campaign in South Africa, which Lord Roberts adopted in substance.

The Kaiser was quoted in this interview as declaring Germany needed a large fleet chiefly on account of the Far Eastern situation. The interview was republished in official German organs, and caused as great a stir in Germany as in England. There were many debates on it in the Reichstag and one or two "investigations."

cases published in the Matin. The downfall of Delcasse and the accession of Rouvier to his post are to be ascribed partly to the influence of the Prince of Monaco. During the regatta week at Kiel the prince had assured himself, by talks with me, of the imperial chancellor and government officials, of the sincerity of our desire to compromise with France for the purpose of enabling us to live at peace with each other. He stood well with the ambassador, Prince Radolin, and worked actively toward a rapprochement between the two countries.

The Prince of Monaco himself was of the opinion that Delcasse was a menace to the maintenance of peace and hoped that he would soon fall and be replaced by Rouvier, a prudent politician thoroughly acquainted with Germany. The prince said that he was on good terms with Rouvier personally, and would willingly place himself at the disposal of the German ambassador as a go-between.

Negotiations Fruitless. Then came Delcasse's fall, and Rouvier became minister. At once I caused the initiation of the measures wherein I could count upon the support of the Prince of Monaco. The chancellor was instructed to prepare a rapprochement with France. And I particularly told Prince Radolin, who personally received his instructions in Berlin, to make good use of the Rouvier regime for the purpose of eliminating all possibilities of conflict between the two countries. I added that the reports of the Prince of Monaco, with whom he was well acquainted, would be useful to him in relations with Rouvier. Prince Radolin proceeded with zeal and pleasure to the accomplishment of this worthwhile task.

At first the negotiations went well, so much so that I began to hope that the important goal would be attained and the evil impression caused by the Tangier visit effaced by an understanding. In the meantime, the negotiations concerning Morocco were continued; they were concluded, after endless trouble, by the summoning of the Algeiras conference, based upon the circular note of Prince Bulow, which pointed out that the Most-Favored-Nation Clause No. 17 of the Madrid convention should remain in force and that the reforms in Morocco, for which France alone was working, should be carried out, so far as necessary, only in agreement with the signatory powers of the Madrid conference. These events, which riveted general attention upon themselves, relegated the special negotiations with Rouvier to the background.

With regard to domestic policy, I had agreed with the chancellor that his main task was to be the restoration of order in the relations between the parties in the Reichstag, which had got into a bad way under

Hohenlohe, and, above all, to rally the Conservatives, who had been won over to the opposition by the Post-Bismarckians, once more to the support of the government. The chancellor accomplished this task with great patience and tenacity. He finally formed the famous "bloc," which arose from the great electoral defeat of the Socialists.

The Conservative Party had many members who had direct relations with the court, and also with me personally, so that it was easier for this party than for any other to become informed as to my plans in political and other matters and to discuss my ideas with me before they took shape in projects for laws. I have not the impression that this was done to the extent that was possible; I might perhaps have come into agreement with the gentlemen, through informal conversations, in the question of the building of the Central Canal—opposed, as is well known, by the Conservatives—as well as in the less important matters of the construction of the cathedral and the Berlin Opera House, in which I was deeply interested for the sake of the church and of art.

I am saying nothing new if I remark that it was by no means easy to deal with the gentlemen of the Conservative Party. Through their traditional services to the state they had acquired great experience and independence of judgment, and had thus formed firm political convictions, to which they held faithfully and in a genuinely conservative manner. From their ranks great statesmen, eminent ministers, a brilliant officer corps, a model body of officials, had largely been produced. Therefore, the consciousness of their own merit was not without justification; in addition, their loyalty to their king was unshakable. The king and the country both owed them gratitude.

Their weakness lay in the fact that they were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Let me add that in discussion I was able to endure the truth, even when it was uncomfortable and bitter, better than people are aware, provided it was told to me tactfully.

So that, when it is maintained that I and the Conservatives did not get along in dealings with each other, the same reason was at the root of the difficulty on both sides. It would have been better to arrive often at an understanding with me in private conversations, for which I was always ready. And in the canal question, on which we could not agree, who was better qualified than the Conservative to understand and appreciate the fact that I have never subscribed to the pretty couplet, "Unser König absolut, wenn er unsern Willen tut"? (Absolute our King may be, if he does what we decree.) For, had I acted according to that principle—a very comfortable one for me—the Conservatives, in view of their belief in a strong king who really governs, would logically have been forced to oppose me. Surely the Conservatives must have respected me for having matched their honorable axiom of manly pride before the thrones of kings with mine of kingly pride before the Conservative party's throne, just as I did with regard to all other parties.

In any event, the occasional differences with the Conservative party and with individual Conservatives cannot make me forget the services rendered by men of this very party to the House of Hohenzollern, the Prussian State and the German Empire.

It has been found that salts of lead, in very small amounts, will stimulate plant growths.

Getting Chances

You've often heard it said, "If I had just the right chance I know I could make good."

Many who seek opportunity find it through Want Ads.

The Wants outline opportunities for workers in every line of endeavor. They tell of chances to buy and sell; they carry the message of the landlord and tenant; they have to do with every activity of modern life.

The Advertiser Want Ads are bristling with chances for those who are awake to opportunity. Make full use of the Wants today.

They were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Let me add that in discussion I was able to endure the truth, even when it was uncomfortable and bitter, better than people are aware, provided it was told to me tactfully.

So that, when it is maintained that I and the Conservatives did not get along in dealings with each other, the same reason was at the root of the difficulty on both sides. It would have been better to arrive often at an understanding with me in private conversations, for which I was always ready. And in the canal question, on which we could not agree, who was better qualified than the Conservative to understand and appreciate the fact that I have never subscribed to the pretty couplet, "Unser König absolut, wenn er unsern Willen tut"? (Absolute our King may be, if he does what we decree.) For, had I acted according to that principle—a very comfortable one for me—the Conservatives, in view of their belief in a strong king who really governs, would logically have been forced to oppose me. Surely the Conservatives must have respected me for having matched their honorable axiom of manly pride before the thrones of kings with mine of kingly pride before the Conservative party's throne, just as I did with regard to all other parties.

In any event, the occasional differences with the Conservative party and with individual Conservatives cannot make me forget the services rendered by men of this very party to the House of Hohenzollern, the Prussian State and the German Empire.

It has been found that salts of lead, in very small amounts, will stimulate plant growths.

Getting Chances

You've often heard it said, "If I had just the right chance I know I could make good."

Many who seek opportunity find it through Want Ads.

The Wants outline opportunities for workers in every line of endeavor. They tell of chances to buy and sell; they carry the message of the landlord and tenant; they have to do with every activity of modern life.

The Advertiser Want Ads are bristling with chances for those who are awake to opportunity. Make full use of the Wants today.

They were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Hohenlohe, and, above all, to rally the Conservatives, who had been won over to the opposition by the Post-Bismarckians, once more to the support of the government. The chancellor accomplished this task with great patience and tenacity. He finally formed the famous "bloc," which arose from the great electoral defeat of the Socialists.

The Conservative Party had many members who had direct relations with the court, and also with me personally, so that it was easier for this party than for any other to become informed as to my plans in political and other matters and to discuss my ideas with me before they took shape in projects for laws. I have not the impression that this was done to the extent that was possible; I might perhaps have come into agreement with the gentlemen, through informal conversations, in the question of the building of the Central Canal—opposed, as is well known, by the Conservatives—as well as in the less important matters of the construction of the cathedral and the Berlin Opera House, in which I was deeply interested for the sake of the church and of art.

I am saying nothing new if I remark that it was by no means easy to deal with the gentlemen of the Conservative Party. Through their traditional services to the state they had acquired great experience and independence of judgment, and had thus formed firm political convictions, to which they held faithfully and in a genuinely conservative manner. From their ranks great statesmen, eminent ministers, a brilliant officer corps, a model body of officials, had largely been produced. Therefore, the consciousness of their own merit was not without justification; in addition, their loyalty to their king was unshakable. The king and the country both owed them gratitude.

Their weakness lay in the fact that they were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Let me add that in discussion I was able to endure the truth, even when it was uncomfortable and bitter, better than people are aware, provided it was told to me tactfully.

So that, when it is maintained that I and the Conservatives did not get along in dealings with each other, the same reason was at the root of the difficulty on both sides. It would have been better to arrive often at an understanding with me in private conversations, for which I was always ready. And in the canal question, on which we could not agree, who was better qualified than the Conservative to understand and appreciate the fact that I have never subscribed to the pretty couplet, "Unser König absolut, wenn er unsern Willen tut"? (Absolute our King may be, if he does what we decree.) For, had I acted according to that principle—a very comfortable one for me—the Conservatives, in view of their belief in a strong king who really governs, would logically have been forced to oppose me. Surely the Conservatives must have respected me for having matched their honorable axiom of manly pride before the thrones of kings with mine of kingly pride before the Conservative party's throne, just as I did with regard to all other parties.

In any event, the occasional differences with the Conservative party and with individual Conservatives cannot make me forget the services rendered by men of this very party to the House of Hohenzollern, the Prussian State and the German Empire.

It has been found that salts of lead, in very small amounts, will stimulate plant growths.

Getting Chances

You've often heard it said, "If I had just the right chance I know I could make good."

Many who seek opportunity find it through Want Ads.

The Wants outline opportunities for workers in every line of endeavor. They tell of chances to buy and sell; they carry the message of the landlord and tenant; they have to do with every activity of modern life.

The Advertiser Want Ads are bristling with chances for those who are awake to opportunity. Make full use of the Wants today.

They were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Let me add that in discussion I was able to endure the truth, even when it was uncomfortable and bitter, better than people are aware, provided it was told to me tactfully.

So that, when it is maintained that I and the Conservatives did not get along in dealings with each other, the same reason was at the root of the difficulty on both sides. It would have been better to arrive often at an understanding with me in private conversations, for which I was always ready. And in the canal question, on which we could not agree, who was better qualified than the Conservative to understand and appreciate the fact that I have never subscribed to the pretty couplet, "Unser König absolut, wenn er unsern Willen tut"? (Absolute our King may be, if he does what we decree.) For, had I acted according to that principle—a very comfortable one for me—the Conservatives, in view of their belief in a strong king who really governs, would logically have been forced to oppose me. Surely the Conservatives must have respected me for having matched their honorable axiom of manly pride before the thrones of kings with mine of kingly pride before the Conservative party's throne, just as I did with regard to all other parties.

In any event, the occasional differences with the Conservative party and with individual Conservatives cannot make me forget the services rendered by men of this very party to the House of Hohenzollern, the Prussian State and the German Empire.

It has been found that salts of lead, in very small amounts, will stimulate plant growths.

Getting Chances

You've often heard it said, "If I had just the right chance I know I could make good."

Many who seek opportunity find it through Want Ads.

The Wants outline opportunities for workers in every line of endeavor. They tell of chances to buy and sell; they carry the message of the landlord and tenant; they have to do with every activity of modern life.

The Advertiser Want Ads are bristling with chances for those who are awake to opportunity. Make full use of the Wants today.

They were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Let me add that in discussion I was able to endure the truth, even when it was uncomfortable and bitter, better than people are aware, provided it was told to me tactfully.

So that, when it is maintained that I and the Conservatives did not get along in dealings with each other, the same reason was at the root of the difficulty on both sides. It would have been better to arrive often at an understanding with me in private conversations, for which I was always ready. And in the canal question, on which we could not agree, who was better qualified than the Conservative to understand and appreciate the fact that I have never subscribed to the pretty couplet, "Unser König absolut, wenn er unsern Willen tut"? (Absolute our King may be, if he does what we decree.) For, had I acted according to that principle—a very comfortable one for me—the Conservatives, in view of their belief in a strong king who really governs, would logically have been forced to oppose me. Surely the Conservatives must have respected me for having matched their honorable axiom of manly pride before the thrones of kings with mine of kingly pride before the Conservative party's throne, just as I did with regard to all other parties.

In any event, the occasional differences with the Conservative party and with individual Conservatives cannot make me forget the services rendered by men of this very party to the House of Hohenzollern, the Prussian State and the German Empire.

It has been found that salts of lead, in very small amounts, will stimulate plant growths.

Getting Chances

You've often heard it said, "If I had just the right chance I know I could make good."

Many who seek opportunity find it through Want Ads.

The Wants outline opportunities for workers in every line of endeavor. They tell of chances to buy and sell; they carry the message of the landlord and tenant; they have to do with every activity of modern life.

The Advertiser Want Ads are bristling with chances for those who are awake to opportunity. Make full use of the Wants today.

They were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Let me add that in discussion I was able to endure the truth, even when it was uncomfortable and bitter, better than people are aware, provided it was told to me tactfully.

So that, when it is maintained that I and the Conservatives did not get along in dealings with each other, the same reason was at the root of the difficulty on both sides. It would have been better to arrive often at an understanding with me in private conversations, for which I was always ready. And in the canal question, on which we could not agree, who was better qualified than the Conservative to understand and appreciate the fact that I have never subscribed to the pretty couplet, "Unser König absolut, wenn er unsern Willen tut"? (Absolute our King may be, if he does what we decree.) For, had I acted according to that principle—a very comfortable one for me—the Conservatives, in view of their belief in a strong king who really governs, would logically have been forced to oppose me. Surely the Conservatives must have respected me for having matched their honorable axiom of manly pride before the thrones of kings with mine of kingly pride before the Conservative party's throne, just as I did with regard to all other parties.

In any event, the occasional differences with the Conservative party and with individual Conservatives cannot make me forget the services rendered by men of this very party to the House of Hohenzollern, the Prussian State and the German Empire.

It has been found that salts of lead, in very small amounts, will stimulate plant growths.

Getting Chances

You've often heard it said, "If I had just the right chance I know I could make good."

Many who seek opportunity find it through Want Ads.

The Wants outline opportunities for workers in every line of endeavor. They tell of chances to buy and sell; they carry the message of the landlord and tenant; they have to do with every activity of modern life.

The Advertiser Want Ads are bristling with chances for those who are awake to opportunity. Make full use of the Wants today.

They were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Let me add that in discussion I was able to endure the truth, even when it was uncomfortable and bitter, better than people are aware, provided it was told to me tactfully.

So that, when it is maintained that I and the Conservatives did not get along in dealings with each other, the same reason was at the root of the difficulty on both sides. It would have been better to arrive often at an understanding with me in private conversations, for which I was always ready. And in the canal question, on which we could not agree, who was better qualified than the Conservative to understand and appreciate the fact that I have never subscribed to the pretty couplet, "Unser König absolut, wenn er unsern Willen tut"? (Absolute our King may be, if he does what we decree.) For, had I acted according to that principle—a very comfortable one for me—the Conservatives, in view of their belief in a strong king who really governs, would logically have been forced to oppose me. Surely the Conservatives must have respected me for having matched their honorable axiom of manly pride before the thrones of kings with mine of kingly pride before the Conservative party's throne, just as I did with regard to all other parties.

In any event, the occasional differences with the Conservative party and with individual Conservatives cannot make me forget the services rendered by men of this very party to the House of Hohenzollern, the Prussian State and the German Empire.

It has been found that salts of lead, in very small amounts, will stimulate plant growths.

Getting Chances

You've often heard it said, "If I had just the right chance I know I could make good."

Getting Chances

You've often heard it said, "If I had just the right chance I know I could make good."

Many who seek opportunity find it through Want Ads.

The Wants outline opportunities for workers in every line of endeavor. They tell of chances to buy and sell; they carry the message of the landlord and tenant; they have to do with every activity of modern life.

The Advertiser Want Ads are bristling with chances for those who are awake to opportunity. Make full use of the Wants today.

They were at times too conservative—that is, they recognized too late the demands of the time and began by opposing progress, although it might be progress advantageous to themselves. One may understand this in view of their past, but the fact remains that it worked to the detriment of their relations with me, especially during my reign, when the development of the empire, particularly of industry and commerce, pushed rapidly forward; and I desired—and was obliged—to place no obstacles in the way of that development, but to promote it. When I said that it was not always easy, for the reasons adduced, to deal with the Conservatives, I am well aware that the same thing is maintained about me. Perhaps this is because I stood close to the Conservatives on account of my traditions, but was not a Conservative for party reasons. I was and am, indeed, in favor of progressive conservatism, which preserves what is vital, rejects what is outworn and accepts that portion of the new which is useful.

Rally In the 8th Blows Bush Off Hill and Giants Win 3-2

NEHF PITCHES SUPERB BALL, BUT LOSES CREDIT FOR WIN WHEN RELIEVED BY RYAN IN EIGHTH

Groh Led Fighting Attack of McGrawmen With Perfect Day At Bat—Ruth's Single Scores One of Yank Runs

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The unconquerable spirit to keep on trying when success doesn't come at first, carried the New York Nationals to a victory this afternoon in their first clash with the VANQUISHED. New York Americans for the 1922 title of world baseball champions. The score was 3 to 2.

To overcome a two-run lead the Yankees had acquired the Giants, turned back in all their previous assaults upon the American Leaguers' defense, crashed out four singles, one right after another, in the eighth inning, and then crowned their furious attack with a sacrifice fly. The four hits crushed Joe Bush, the Yankee speed-ball pitcher, and tied the score. Waite Hoyt succeeded Bush, and on his fourth delivery yielded the sacrifice fly which scored the deciding run of the game.

The winning machine climbed up the hill in low speed. Early in the game while Bush and Neff were fighting a scoreless duel the Nationals couldn't score with two successive singles. In the seventh they banged out three one-baggers in a row and couldn't score. The Giants simply went back in the eighth inning and kept on pounding out one-baggers until it was impossible for the stubborn Yankee defense to prevent them from crossing the plate.

Babe Ruth, the celebrated homerun swatter, swung violently at the ball all afternoon. Nothing that even left the impression that he could hit a homerun came from his heavy bat, but he did bang out a single that broke through the monotony of the early scoreless innings which Neff and Bush imposed upon the batters.

Ruth's timely clutch came in the sixth inning. Whitey Witt, the Yankee center fielder, had slammed a triple into left field and had been run down when he tried for home on a blow to short from the bat of Joe Dugan. As Witt lost out in his dash to second base, Dugan galloped on to second base, and from there he was sent in with the first rally on Ruth's single right field hit. In the seventh Neff singled past Helme Groh, the Giants' third baseman. Schang laid down a bunt, and Neff picked up the soft tap that Schang laid down in front of the plate, tried to catch Neff at second base, but Neff was able to finish the job he began.

For six innings it appeared that, like Achilles, they had only one vulnerable spot, but appearances did not deceive the men hired to hit for John McGraw and Miller Huggins, managers of the Giants and Yankees.

Neff, in mixing his slow ball with his speedier service in a baffling medley, had the Yankees pretty well subjugated until Witt broke through with his triple. McGraw removed him in the seventh for a pinch-hitter, Earl Smith, who went to bat after the Giants, with one out, had filled the bases on successive singles by Kelly, Stengel and Snyder.

Stop Giant Threat.

At this point came one of the big moments of the game. Smith, crouching down like a golfer about to putt, bided his time, until he counted stood three balls and two strikes. The Giants were two runs behind. Bush fung the next ball straight over the plate. Smith hit to Scott at short, who threw to second, starting a double-play that once more smothered a Giant assault. It was from this setback that McGraw's men—Bancroft, Groh, Frisch, Meusel and Young—came back in the eighth inning and pounded out the hits and sacrifice fly that brought victory.

In the field the Yankees played perfectly from start to finish, in a smooth, steady manner. The Giants were different. Their defense was made up of flashes and flaws alike. Young made two errors, one of them costly, but he also heard the cheers of the crowd for his catch and throw of Scott's hard line drive that came in the fifth inning with Young sliding to the ground as he caught the drive at his shoestrings, but, rising quickly, he threw it to second, where a mere touch of Frisch's foot to the bag was enough to complete a double-play, as Bob Meusel, thinking Scott's blow a clean hit, had never stopped racing toward home after leaving second. There it was fumbled by Bancroft, too, was a hero in the field. In the third inning he ran into center field and, with his back to the diamond, gathered in a fly from Bush's bat. Later, after Witt's triple, he was a quick return to the plate, enabled the Giants' catcher and third baseman to trap Witt.

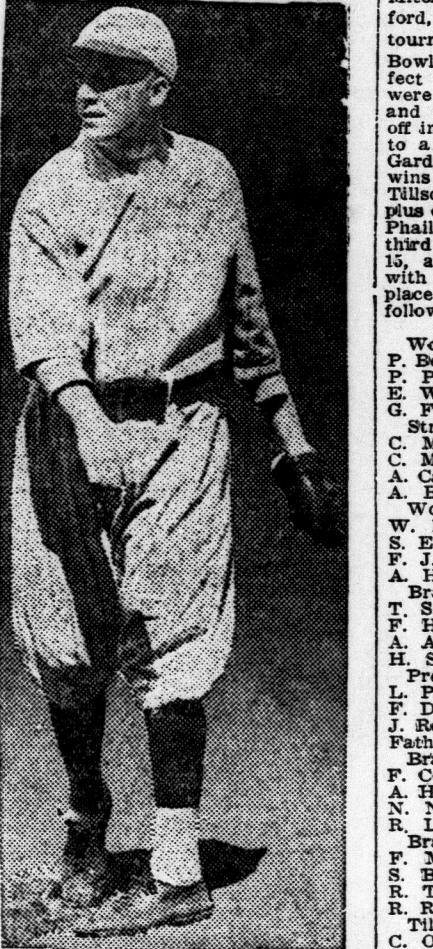

Figures Tell Story of McGraw's Fighting Spirit Asserting Itself

Yankees	A.B.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.	E.	Giants	A.B.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Witt, c.f.	4	0	1	0	0	0	Bancroft, s.s.	4	1	3	1	0	0
Dugan, 3b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	Groh, 3b.	3	1	3	2	3	0
Ruth, r.f.	4	0	1	0	0	0	Frisch, 2b.	4	2	2	2	4	0
Pipp, 1b.	4	0	1	0	0	0	E. Meusel, l.f.	4	0	0	1	0	0
S. Meusel, l.f.	4	0	1	0	0	0	Young, r.f.	4	0	0	1	1	2
Schang, c.	3	0	1	0	0	0	Kelly, 1b.	4	0	0	0	0	1
Ward, 2b.	1	0	0	5	4	0	Stengel, c.f.	4	0	1	4	0	0
Scott, s.s.	3	0	0	0	0	0	Snyder, c.	3	0	0	1	6	1
Bush, p.	3	0	0	0	0	0	Neff, p.	2	0	0	0	0	1
Hoyt, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0	Smith, p.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	30	2	7	24	9	0	Totals	32	3	11	27	11	3

Score by Innings:
YANKS 000 001 100-2
GIANTS 000 000 03X-3

SUMMARY.
Three-base hits—Groh, Witt.
Sacrifices—Schang, Ward, Young.
Double play—Snyder and Bancroft; Young and Frisch.
Left on bases—Yankees 4, Giants 7.
Base on balls—Off Bush 1 (Groh), off Neff 1 (Ward).
Struck out—By Bush 3 (Kelly, Young, E. Meusel); by Neff 3 (Ruth, Pipp, S. Meusel); by Hoyt 2 (Witt, Stengel); by Scott 1 (Groh).
Hits—Off Neff, 6 in 7 innings; off Ryan, 1 in 2 innings; off Bush, 11 in 7 innings (none out, 2 on bases); off Hoyt, none in one inning.
Passed ball—Schang.
Winning pitcher—Ryan.
Losing pitcher—Bush.
Umpires—Kien, National, umpire-in-chief, at plate; Hildebrand, American, 1st base; McCormick, National, second base; Owens, American, 3rd base.
Time of game—2:08.

Ryan To Rescue

GIANT RELIEF HERO. Held Yanks to one hit while McGrawmen got out to get enough runs to win in great rally.

ORIOLES BANG OUT FIFTEEN HITS

Overtake St. Paul's Lead in Opener of Little Series.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 4.—Banging out fifteen base hits and overcoming a three-run lead which St. Paul secured in the first three innings, the Orioles, champions of the International League, crushed the American Association flag-winner in the opening game of the "Little World Series" here this afternoon, 9 to 4.

With the score standing 4 to 4 in the seventh inning McAvoy of the Orioles, broke up the game by crashing a home-run into the right field bleachers, scoring Bentley, who had doubled, and Soley, who had walked, ahead of him.

In an effort to check the slugging of the Orioles, Manager Kelly of St. Paul, called out five pitchers.

Jack Bentley, Oriole southpaw, pitched the entire game. The Saints piled up an early lead by hitting him hard in the first three innings, but after the Birds tied the score in the fourth, he settled down and held the visitors safe.

The score:
St. Paul 201 000 000-4
Baltimore 002 110 32X-9 15 1
Hall, Martin, Merritt, Sheehan, Rogers and Gonzales; Bentley and McAvoy.

PARIS FOUR WINS AT WOODSTOCK

Twenty-Four Rinks Enter Farewell Turney of Season.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 4.—Twenty-four rinks, including players from such distant points as Petrolia, London, Mitchell, Preston, Guelph and Brantford, participated in the one-day tourney held today by the Woodstock Bowling Club. The greens were in perfect condition and some keen games were witnessed. Play was continuous and as a result the tourney was run off in record time. The first prize was won by Paris, who had a score of four wins plus 23. Spencer MacDonald's Petrolia rink with four wins and a plus of 20, won second place. Tom MacPhail of Brantford was skip of the third place rink, with three wins plus 15, and R. Stevenson's Brantford rink, with three wins plus 13, was in fourth place. The complete scores were as follows:

First Place	Second Place	Third Place	Fourth Place
Paris, P. Bowmen	Spencer MacDonald, Petrolia	Tom MacPhail, Brantford	R. Stevenson, Brantford
Score: 4 wins plus 23	Score: 4 wins plus 20	Score: 3 wins plus 15	Score: 3 wins plus 13

Announce Local O. R. F. U. Group Dates Within Few Days.

SARNIA, Oct. 4.—London, Wallaceburg, Petrolia and Sarnia will comprise the schedule for this season's intermediate rugby series, according to word received in Sarnia today. It is also stated that Elgin Hicks of Wallaceburg has been appointed convener, and that the schedule will be announced in a few days.

S. & I. THISTLES WIN CITY TITLE

Shamrocks Thrill Fans With 12-Run Rally in 9th.

Smallman & Ingram Thistles won the Girls' City Softball honors last night by defeating Shamrocks, 44-41, in the second game of the championship series. A thrilling 12-run rally in the ninth inning in the ninth inning fell three runs short of tying the score. Eight of these counters came over before any were scored.

Shamrocks	A.B.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.	E.
H. Woolley, p.	5	5	3	1	3	1
F. Fetherburgh, 1b.	5	6	7	10	0	2
M. Hayes, l.f.	5	6	1	0	1	1
K. McAvoy, s.s.	6	3	2	2	3	1
M. Lindsay, 2b.	8	1	1	0	2	0
L. Garrett, c.	8	1	1	0	2	0
M. Clarke, c.	8	6	6	4	1	0
T. Fetherburgh, 2b.	4	4	4	3	0	0
H. Watson, r.f.	8	4	4	1	0	0
Totals	59	41	38	24	9	6

Tom Sims Says:

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 4.—Hurray! Wheel! Wow! Wham! Yell, whistle and several noises! You have a world's series game.

Pardon our Greek, but multiply this racket by 40,000 for two hours and you have a world's series game.

This Polo Grounds is really a football field where they play baseball instead of tennis or ping-pong.

First thing noticed about Babe Ruth is that he is getting fatter. He can almost punt a home run with his stomach.

Inside information has it that Babe eats enough to feed an army. When he misses a meal there is an army of unemployed waiters.

If you want to know how a hit sounds, explode a keg of dynamite in a phone booth; a two-bagger, two kegs.

Only safe bet so far is on New York.

You have heard about noise and fanfare—well, fan-fare is hogwash, pop, ice cream and peanuts.

The Yanks were leading with seven hits, but the Giants made seven come eleven, try high, for the Giants beat the Yanks' doze.

Odd money is being bet. One man had another arrested because his money was so odd it wouldn't spend.

SHELBURNE KIDS TRIM ALERTS 11-8

St. Marys Could Stop North-erners' Attack At Last.

ST. MARYS, Oct. 4.—Shelburne juniors defeated the local Alerts 11 to 8, in the first home-and-home game in the third round of the semi-finals in junior lacrosse here today.

The first spasm looked all St. Marys. Directly after the face-off Heather scored. Cluridge was coasted out of the nets and Heather tallied a second time. With some nifty combination by Heather and W. Louch, Heather scored a third. Graham led a merry chase and scored for Shelburne. Score 3 to 1 for St. Marys.

The second period was Shelburne's, as they netted four during the period, although St. Marys defence worked hard. Heather was penalized for a slight offence. The good work of Louch and Nethercote netted one for St. Marys. The third period opened with Shelburne tallying. Heather scored. States came up from the defence and making the odd man, passed to Ellobes, who tallied. Shelburne came back brilliantly, tying the period 2 to 2.

The line-up:
St. Marys—Stevens, goal; Yates, point; Richardson, coverpoint; Moesip, 1st defence; Riddell, 2nd defence; White, center; Hobbes, 2nd home; D. Louch, left home; Heather, outside home; W. Louch, inside home; sub: Russell, Dunne, Nethercote.

Shelburne—Cluridge, goal; Mathews, point; Grey, coverpoint; McBride, 1st defence; McKelvey, 2nd defence; Graham, center; Lindsay, 2nd home; Sick, 1st home; White, outside home; Kilpatrick, inside home. Sbs., Hughes, Murray, 2nd home.

Referee—Dr. Zinn of Shelburne. Judge of play—Hugh Stewart of St. Marys.

KITCHENER CREW BETTER

Rugby Squad Will Take On Guelph Saturday As Opener.

KITCHENER, Oct. 4.—Kitchener will have a rugby aggregation this year that will be much stronger than the aggregation that represented the city on the gridiron last year in the O. R. F. U. series. They will take on Guelph here Saturday in the first game of the series. There are reasons behind the statement that the team will be stronger. The majority of last season's players are back again with a year's experience to the good; the team has been working out faithfully and are equal to the requirements of the first game, and several newcomers have greatly added to the strength of the team, at least on paper. Among the newcomers are two high school teachers, Croll and Bryce, both peppy players, and Knight, who was formerly with Queen's University. Paddy Far-mer, whose work with St. Joseph's is remembered from past seasons, will likely fill quarter position. Hall will play center half with Hemphill and Zinger on either side of him. All three are crack men.

DUNLOP TIRES.

Cheapest in London. Imperial covers, $2.50; Imperial tubes, $1.25; Tread tubes, $2.50; Traction Tread tubes, $1.50.

BROCK'S

The Sporting Goods Store of London, 111 Dundas St., corner of Talbot.

WESTERN CONFIDENT OF WIN SATURDAY NEXT

Western's Captain

VIC TRAYNOR. One of best kicking halves in game. Traynor's appointment as captain was more or less expected. He's had a good deal of experience and played on St. Mike's two seasons.

Victor Traynor Elected Captain of 1922 Campaigners Again At Directorate Banquet.

Vic Traynor, star punter of Western University, captain last year of the rugby team, was again elected to lead the attack of the Purple and white on the field this year, at a banquet tendered the griders by the athletic directorate of the university last night in the De Luxe Cafe.

The directorate took occasion to compliment the students on the spirit shown this year in rugby, and emphasized the fact that Western was out to create a tradition for Western Ontario's university on the gridiron, and the spirit in which the game was carried on this year would have much to do with whether success in that direction could be expected.

In the absence of Coach Reid, who was away on a tour of the United States, the team was led by Vic Traynor, who was named captain of the team. The team leaves Friday night for their opening game with Varsity Blue and White at the Varsity stadium, and they are confident they will be able to trim the team. They have one victory to their credit against the U. of T. on their own ground, and they are confident they will be able to repeat the feat in a repeat match at all in the future.

FORM SCHOOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE AT LAMBETH

DELAWARE, Ont., Oct. 2.—A meeting was held in Delaware on Saturday morning to organize a basketball league. Representatives were present from Melbourne, Mount Brydges, Lambeth and Delaware. Each school agreed to enter a girls' and boys' team, and to play home and home games. Mrs. Dr. Routledge of Lambeth has offered a trophy for the girls' team, winning the greatest number of points.

The meeting was called at the suggestion of Lambeth, and was presided over by Miss La Pierre.

6 GOOD USED CARS

McLAUGHLIN, Model 35, four-cylinder touring five good tires, runs fine	$525
McLAUGHLIN, five-passenger Sedan, just repainted, five good tires, motor overhauled	$1,050
FORD SEDAN, 1921. This car has been well cared for	$725
OVERLAND, Model 90, five-passenger touring car, four good tires, car in fine shape	$390
OVERLAND, Model 75, five-passenger touring, five good tires, paint good, motor fine	$250
McLAUGHLIN, 22-63, special five-passenger touring, only a few months old, driven less than 2,500 miles, five cord tires	$1,150

Terms on our own easy payment plan.

McLaughlin Motor Car Co., Ltd. Richmond Street, at Corner of Bathurst Street.

BEEMER & CO., Limited

REBUILT CARS

When we sell a rebuilt car, that's a guarantee it has passed through a rigid inspection and worn parts replaced.

Many of our best customers of today made their first purchase from us of a rebuilt car.

We want you to be as satisfied as they are.

CHALMERS COUPE
OVERLAND TOURING
CHEVROLET TOURING
FORD COUPE

BEEMER & CO., Ltd.

127-133 Queen's Ave. Phone 5669-5670
Distributor for Cadillac, Reo, Reo Speedwagons

OUR BOARDING HOUSE.

DOES ANY OF YOU BOYS WANT TO STEP INTO A SET OF SEATS FOR TOMORROW'S GAME? - I CAN'T MAKE IT AN' I'LL LET YOU GUYS GRAB 'EM UP FOR $4.50 A SEAT!

THAT PRICE MEANS WE CAN TAKE TH' SEATS HOME WITH US AFTER TH' GAME, EH? - WHAT KIND ARE THEY - GILT? $4.50 - YOU'RE SURE THEY AIN'T SEATS IN TH' STOCK EXCHANGE?

YEE WE'RE STRANGERS IN N'YORK, AN' WE JES' DROVE IN - DO YOU KNOW WHERE THEY'S A FEED STORE WE CAN GET SOME HAY FOR OUR HOGS?

DON'T BUY THEM HIRAN - REMEMBER WE PROMISED THAT NICE MAN WITH TH' HONEST BLUE EYES WE'D BUY TH' PARADE RIGHTS FOR 5TH AVE. OFF'N HIM!

GRAND STAND

RUBBING SOME SKILL TONIC ON A TICKET SCALPER

PLAYER'S NAVY CUT CIGARETTES

Package of 10 - 20¢
Enamel Tin - 50 - 35¢
Enamel Tin - 50 - 90¢
Enamel Tin - 100 - $1.75

"Superb Quality"

AMUSEMENTS, LECTURES

GRAND Fall and Winter Fashion Revue

Complete Change of Costumes. Many Parisian Evening Gowns.

Big Screen Picture Feature, CONWAY TEARLE "THE REFUGEE."

HAROLD LLOYD "IN THE TIP."

BIG TIME VAUDEVILLE

STRAID AND LEGATE
FRANK ROSS
Songster Comique
JOSEPHINE VICE
The Caldwell
BERT CALDWELL, Baritone.

SPECIAL DANCING ACT. CONWAY AND WEIR, in their own creations.

Mats. daily, 2:15, 15c, except Sat. Evenings, 7:30, 15c, 25c and 35c. Get Seats in Advance.

Two Nights Only MONDAY AND TUESDAY MARC KLAU INC.

THE MAINTAINING BEAUTIFUL LOVE STORY

NOT A MOTION PICTURE. Exactly the same production as played at the 48th St. Theatre, New York.

A comedy of love, laughter and suspense in superb settings. With an excellent cast of sterling players.

"I especially guarantee Sonya." J. R. Minihnick.

Prices: 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.15. Seat sale tomorrow. Mail orders now.

One Night Only! 25c Ladies Only 50c

Mat. and Night, Wednesday, Oct. 11. Matinee for Ladies Only. Seats Now Selling. No Children Admitted.

Nights, 25c to $1.00. Add Tax For Every One Over 16.

THE UNLOVED WIFE

Why Are There So Many Divorces?

GIRLS SEE THIS PLAY BEFORE YOU MARRY. Not a Picture.

ARTHUR B. RANKIN, M.D. Address on

Organization

HYMAN HALL, FRIDAY, 8 P.M. Auspices of Liberal Club. All Welcome.

FINANCIAL

GLADMAN & Stanbury, barristers, money loaned. Bank of Toronto. Y.W. PRIVATE and trust money to loan. Lowest rates. T. W. Sandford, Solicitor, 39 Dundas St. E. Phone 324.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER

CLASSIFIED ADS. Standardized and Indexed for Quick Reference.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER reserves the right to classify properly all advertisements submitted for publication. Not responsible for errors in publication. Not responsible for errors in publication. Not cancelled after 10 p.m. Ads. for morning paper must be in by 10 p.m. Ads. for evening paper by 1 p.m. noon.

CLASSIFIED RATES.

Line	Charge	Cash
1-3	10c	15c
4-6	15c	20c
7-9	20c	25c
10-12	25c	30c
13-15	30c	35c
16-18	35c	40c
19-21	40c	45c
22-24	45c	50c
25-27	50c	55c
28-30	55c	60c
31-33	60c	65c
34-36	65c	70c
37-39	70c	75c
40-42	75c	80c
43-45	80c	85c
46-48	85c	90c
49-51	90c	95c
52-54	95c	1.00
55-57	1.00	1.05
58-60	1.05	1.10
61-63	1.10	1.15
64-66	1.15	1.20
67-69	1.20	1.25
70-72	1.25	1.30
73-75	1.30	1.35
76-78	1.35	1.40
79-81	1.40	1.45
82-84	1.45	1.50
85-87	1.50	1.55
88-90	1.55	1.60
91-93	1.60	1.65
94-96	1.65	1.70
97-99	1.70	1.75
100-102	1.75	1.80
103-105	1.80	1.85
106-108	1.85	1.90
109-111	1.90	1.95
112-114	1.95	2.00
115-117	2.00	2.05
118-120	2.05	2.10
121-123	2.10	2.15
124-126	2.15	2.20
127-129	2.20	2.25
130-132	2.25	2.30
133-135	2.30	2.35
136-138	2.35	2.40
139-141	2.40	2.45
142-144	2.45	2.50
145-147	2.50	2.55
148-150	2.55	2.60
151-153	2.60	2.65
154-156	2.65	2.70
157-159	2.70	2.75
160-162	2.75	2.80
163-165	2.80	2.85
166-168	2.85	2.90
169-171	2.90	2.95
172-174	2.95	3.00
175-177	3.00	3.05
178-180	3.05	3.10
181-183	3.10	3.15
184-186	3.15	3.20
187-189	3.20	3.25
190-192	3.25	3.30
193-195	3.30	3.35
196-198	3.35	3.40
199-201	3.40	3.45
202-204	3.45	3.50
205-207	3.50	3.55
208-210	3.55	3.60
211-213	3.60	3.65
214-216	3.65	3.70
217-219	3.70	3.75
220-222	3.75	3.80
223-225	3.80	3.85
226-228	3.85	3.90
229-231	3.90	3.95
232-234	3.95	4.00
235-237	4.00	4.05
238-240	4.05	4.10
241-243	4.10	4.15
244-246	4.15	4.20
247-249	4.20	4.25
250-252	4.25	4.30
253-255	4.30	4.35
256-258	4.35	4.40
259-261	4.40	4.45
262-264	4.45	4.50
265-267	4.50	4.55
268-270	4.55	4.60
271-273	4.60	4.65
274-276	4.65	4.70
277-279	4.70	4.75
280-282	4.75	4.80
283-285	4.80	4.85
286-288	4.85	4.90
289-291	4.90	4.95
292-294	4.95	5.00
295-297	5.00	5.05
298-300	5.05	5.10
301-303	5.10	5.15
304-306	5.15	5.20
307-309	5.20	5.25
310-312	5.25	5.30
313-315	5.30	5.35
316-318	5.35	5.40
319-321	5.40	5.45
322-324	5.45	5.50
325-327	5.50	5.55
328-330	5.55	5.60
331-333	5.60	5.65
334-336	5.65	5.70
337-339	5.70	5.75
340-342	5.75	5.80
343-345	5.80	5.85
346-348	5.85	5.90
349-351	5.90	5.95
352-354	5.95	6.00
355-357	6.00	6.05
358-360	6.05	6.10
361-363	6.10	6.15
364-366	6.15	6.20
367-369	6.20	6.25
370-372	6.25	6.30
373-375	6.30	6.35
376-378	6.35	6.40
379-381	6.40	6.45
382-384	6.45	6.50
385-387	6.50	6.55
388-390	6.55	6.60
391-393	6.60	6.65
394-396	6.65	6.70
397-399	6.70	6.75
400-402	6.75	6.80
403-405	6.80	6.85
406-408	6.85	6.90
409-411	6.90	6.95
412-414	6.95	7.00
415-417	7.00	7.05
418-420	7.05	7.10
421-423	7.10	7.15
424-426	7.15	7.20
427-429	7.20	7.25
430-432	7.25	7.30
433-435	7.30	7.35
436-438	7.35	7.40
439-441	7.40	7.45
442-444	7.45	7.50
445-447	7.50	7.55
448-450	7.55	7.60
451-453	7.60	7.65
454-456	7.65	7.70
457-459	7.70	7.75
460-462	7.75	7.80
463-465	7.80	7.85
466-468	7.85	7.90
469-471	7.90	7.95
472-474	7.95	8.00
475-477	8.00	8.05
478-480	8.05	8.10
481-483	8.10	8.15
484-486	8.15	8.20
487-489	8.20	8.25
490-492	8.25	8.30
493-495	8.30	8.35
496-498	8.35	8.40
499-501	8.40	8.45
502-504	8.45	8.50
505-507	8.50	8.55
508-510	8.55	8.60
511-513	8.60	8.65
514-516	8.65	8.70
517-519	8.70	8.75
520-522	8.75	8.80
523-525	8.80	8.85
526-528	8.85	8.90
529-531	8.90	8.95
532-534	8.95	9.00
535-537	9.00	9.05
538-540	9.05	9.10
541-543	9.10	9.15
544-546	9.15	9.20
547-549	9.20	9.25
550-552	9.25	9.30
553-555	9.30	9.35
556-558	9.35	9.40
559-561	9.40	9.45
562-564	9.45	9.50
565-567	9.50	9.55
568-570	9.55	9.60
571-573	9.60	9.65
574-576	9.65	9.70
577-579	9.70	9.75
580-582	9.75	9.80
583-585	9.80	9.85
586-588	9.85	9.90
589-591	9.90	9.95
592-594	9.95	10.00
595-597	10.00	10.05
598-600	10.05	10.10
601-603	10.10	10.15
604-606	10.15	10.20
607-609	10.20	10.25
610-612	10.25	10.30
613-615	10.30	10.35
616-618	10.35	10.40
619-621	10.40	10.45
622-624	10.45	10.50
625-627	10.50	10.55
628-630	10.55	10.60
631-633	10.60	10.65
634-636	10.65	10.70
637-639	10.70	10.75
640-642	10.75	10.80
643-645	10.80	10.85
646-648	10.85	10.90
649-651	10.90	10.95
652-654	10.95	11.00
655-657	11.00	11.05
658-660	11.05	11.10
661-663	11.10	11.15
664-666	11.15	11.20
667-669	11.20	11.25
670-672	11.25	11.30
673-675	11.30	11.35
676-678	11.35	11.40
679-681	11.40	11.45
682-684	11.45	11.50
685-687	11.50	11.55
688-690	11.55	11.60
691-693	11.60	11.65
694-696	11.65	11.70
697-699	11.70	11.75
700-702	11.75	11.80
703-705	11.80	11.85
706-708	11.85	11.90
709-711	11.90	11.95
712-714	11.95	12.00
715-717	12.00	12.05
718-720	12.05	12.10
721-723	12.10	12.15
724-726	12.15	12.20
727-729	12.20	12.25
730-732	12.25	12.30
733-735	12.30	12.35
736-738	12.35	12.40
739-741	12.40	12.45
742-744	12.45	12.50
745-747	12.50	12.55
748-750	12.55	12.60
751-753	12.60	12.65
754-756	12.65	12.70
757-759	12.70	12.75
760-762	12.75	12.80
763-765	12.80	12.85
766-768	12.85	12.90
769-771	12.90	12.95
772-774	12.95	13.00
775-777	13.00	13.05
778-780	13.05	13.10
781-783	13.10	13.15
784-786	13.15	13.20
787-789	13.20	13.25
790-792	13.25	13.30
793-795	13.30	13.35
796-798	13.35	13.40
799-801	13.40	13.45
802-804	13.45	13.50
805-807	13.50	13.55
808-810	13.55	13.60
811-813	13.60	13.65
814-816	13.65	13.70
817-819	13.70	13.75
820-822	13.75	13.80
823-825	13.80	13.85
826-828	13.85	13.90
829-831	13.90	13.95
832-834	13.95	14.00
835-837	14.00	14.05
838-840	14.05	14.10

ARMIES AGREE TO GIVE TURKS THRACE AREA

Mudania Conference Expected To Reach Agreement On All Points.

DEFINITE LINE SET

Gathering of Delegates Is Marked by Conciliatory Attitude.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—The Mudania Conference, it is understood, will probably reach an agreement on all points of the Turkish proposition, upon which Mr. Franklin Bouillon secured Kemal Pasha's pledge to suspend military movements during the negotiations with the exception of the provision relating to the occupation of the western line of the Maritza River by allied troops.

Argument on this point is still proceeding.

The allies have agreed to turn over Thrace to the Turkish army in thirty days.

News received this evening that Mr. Franklin Bouillon, the French envoy, and Hamid Bey, Nationalist representative, had decided to return to Constantinople from Mudania immediately, strengthened the hope of the successful issue of the conference.

The delegates agreed this afternoon to establish a definite line of demarcation between the British and Kemalist forces in the Chanak zone. The space between the opposing forces will be sufficient to place them out of rifle shot, thus lessening the danger of immediate conflict.

Conciliation thus far has marked the conference between the allied generals and the Turkish representative at Mudania, Ismet Pasha, who speaks for Mustafa Kemal Pasha, leader of the Turkish Nationalists, and also for the Ankara government. He has announced that the government accepted the allied proposals in principle, and he took occasion to explain at the opening of the sessions that the Turks "had no intention of creating incidents with the English."

At today's meeting Ismet Pasha, for a settlement of the Turkish administration of Thrace, and requested that Thrace should be freed from allied control, but he felt that at least one month would be required to effect the transfer. He also suggested that there should be an allied covering force on the Maritza River and that a neutral zone should be created west of the river.

The allied generals explained that the proposed administrative measures must all be subject to the approval of the government of Ismet Pasha, who expressed willingness to meet the Greek delegates.

At the opening of the proceedings on Tuesday General Harrington, commander-in-chief of the allied forces, said that the object of the conference was three-fold. First, to obtain a cessation of hostilities; second, to fix a line in Thrace behind which the Greek troops could be invited to withdraw, to arrange the details of evacuation, and to transfer the administration to the Turkish hands of which would be submitted to the powers; third, to pave the way for a future peace conference.

The Turks at first showed apathy with regard to the details of the administration of Thrace, until they had tested the sincerity of the allies' desire to restore peace to them. It was then pointed out that the restoration depended upon the acceptance by the Turks of the joint allied note from Paris.

Ismet Pasha declared definitely that the note had been accepted in principle by the Ankara government. It was, therefore, thought best to consider administrative arrangements without delay.

General Charpy thereupon drafted a proposal on which the discussion began.

Thrace Issue Settled.

The Smyrna correspondent of the Official News Bureau of Smyrna, an official agency of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, publishes a dispatch from Mudania saying that according to official information obtained during Tuesday's conference General Harrington raised from the beginning the question of the Straits and the concentration of Turkish troops at Gallipoli, and replied that the Turks had no intention of creating incidents with the Greeks in Thrace, and that orders to avoid incidents had been given, and had been repeated.

The question of Thrace was then taken up and for two hours Ismet Pasha explained the Turkish position. He submitted various documents dealing with alleged excesses by the Greeks in Thrace. General Harrington declared that he considered the charges unfounded.

Ismet Pasha said that Turkey could not accept any condition, nor any peace, until assured of the fate of the Aegean, and above all, of the status of the Turks in that region.

"I am in the moderation of General Charpy," Mombelli and the conciliatory attitude of General Harrington," the account continues, "the conference rose at 8:20 o'clock, leaving in general a most satisfactory impression."

Later information from Mudania reported that the Turkish proposal that all British military movements in the direction of Constantinople and the Straits should cease. General Harrington answered, accepting this proposal, provided the Nationalists agreed that all British troops now en route should be allowed to proceed to their destination.

2 BROTHERS VICTIMS OF THIEVES IN SAME NIGHT

One Loses Wheel, While Other Suffers Loss of Light From Bicycle.

Apparently the civic ordinance, which provides that all vehicles, including horse-drawn and bicycles, must carry proper lights when on the city streets at night, is the cause of thefts of lights from bicycles parked in public places, police say.

Last night, while a bicycle owned by a small son of Arthur Kennedy of Sherwood avenue was parked in front of the Y. M. C. A. the light was stolen. It is believed someone who had not complied with the law and needed a light was responsible.

During the same evening a bicycle owned by another of Mr. Kennedy's young sons was stolen from in front of a dental office in the business section.

PLANS VOTE ON POLICE STATION

Chief Birrell Arranges to Put Question Before the Electors.

Present Building Built to Supply Need in 1881.

Chief of Police Robert Birrell will confer with Mayor Cameron Wilson, City Clerk S. Baker and other city officials regarding arrangements for bringing the question of a new police station before the electors in January, within a few days.

Windsor and a number of other places which had better quarters than the London police department has at the present time, built new stations during the past few years it was suggested.

Building Inadequate.

All police court and police station officials and many other officers of the city are convinced that the present building is inadequate.

The present building is far too small, they say. Its provision is made in it for the storing of articles held by the police, nor even for a crown attorney's office. The Carling street edifice was a first-class one when built in 1881, but it was intended for a police force of 16 men. The force numbers 36 at present, and it is likely to be augmented within a few years.

Police Court Clerk John Moulde finds his office far too small, not being large enough for the carrying on of his duties in an efficient manner. The court has been declared small in it for the storing of articles held by the police, nor even for a crown attorney's office. The Carling street edifice was a first-class one when built in 1881, but it was intended for a police force of 16 men. The force numbers 36 at present, and it is likely to be augmented within a few years.

No Room for Additions.

Every department is overcrowded, and there is no room for the additions of new departments so necessary in modern police work.

The new building, it is estimated, will cost about $150,000, and will be almost similar in size and appearance to the Peter's Parish Hall.

If the people vote in favor of the new building, Chief Birrell intends to provide space for a photograph and a finger-print bureau, as he has an officer on his staff who is well versed in this line of police activity. He also intends to provide for a crown attorney's office in the building, a place for stolen articles and other goods seized by the police, and to enlarge the detective department, and the uniformed men's quarters.

For Parade Ground.

Chief Birrell also believes there should be sufficient property at the rear of the station for a parade ground, so that the men will not have to block the city streets when being inspected.

Many other improvements which other cities, having smaller populations than London boasts, will be made if the people favor the new building. Chief Birrell intends to provide space for a photograph and a finger-print bureau, as he has an officer on his staff who is well versed in this line of police activity. He also intends to provide for a crown attorney's office in the building, a place for stolen articles and other goods seized by the police, and to enlarge the detective department, and the uniformed men's quarters.

GRANTED COMMERCIAL DIPLOMA AT CAMLACHIE

Special to London Advertiser.

CAMLACHIE, Oct. 4.—Miss Jean Brownlie, a student of the Private Business College conducted in Camlachie by Miss Anna Cochrane of Davenport, Iowa, has successfully completed the full stenographic course. This course covers junior high school, shorthand, typewriting, applied English, penmanship, commercial arithmetic, rapid calculation, etc. The time assigned for this course is from nine to ten months, and as Miss Brownlie passed the necessary requirements in less than eight months, she is to be congratulated. She has secured a position in Detroit.

ADVISE SEASON'S PACK OF CANNED TOMATOES LARGE

Special to London Advertiser.

BLENHEIM, Oct. 4.—The local Dominion Canners Company factory finished yesterday their season's run of tomatoes. They have had a very steady and successful run this year. The crop came in with a rush at times, and they had to work day and night at times. The season's output is about the same as last year, which was a good one. They may in a few days begin on pears.

WHEN An electric iron burned through a table and the floor at Dobbin's grocery store, 1195 Dundas street, it started a fire which caused $75 damage at 10:20 o'clock this morning.

New Guinea has an area equal to that of France and the British Isles combined.

Wanted

Heavy Live Hens Wanted.

We have a big demand and will pay special prices for HEAVY HENS and BARRING ROCK COCKERELS over 3 lbs. each.

C. A. MANN & CO.,
79 King Street, W. London, Ont.

DOUBTS BOARD WILL GET FEES

Resident at Springbank Intimates Letters Will Bring No Action.

Think Trustees Should Let School Charges Go by Default.

If the school trustees expect to receive payment of school fees from Springbank residents whose children attend the Riverbank public school, they will have to get busy and do more than pen a letter to the parents in question, declared one of the city's employees down the river at the pump-house, in explaining on Thursday that he had just received notice from the board of education that he was to be assessed the regulation fee for his children who are students at that school.

He intimated that he did not propose to do anything definite about the matter at this moment, preferring to wait until the school board board instituted further action, such as the possible ejection of his children from the South London institution.

He considers that under the circumstances the school board can wait to go to law to allow the payment to go by default. He reasons that if he came into the city to live (which he would do if he were allowed by the public utilities commission), and assessed to the same proportion as other residents, he would be better off than at present. He is not residing at Springbank, because he prefers to do so, he adds.

The Springbank resident calls attention to the fact that there are more than 40 children attending schools from within the city limits whose parents do not pay the tax in question. He cites the students at Knollwood Park, and ventures the suggestion that there are others living just outside the city, for whose tuition the school board receive no remuneration.

LONDON RED CROSS TO HELP FIRE AREA

May Call Meeting Friday to Give Aid in Big Emergency.

"The Red Cross has never failed to do its part for the mitigation of suffering, and I know we will do whatever is required for the fire sufferers of Northern Ontario," was a statement made by Mrs. J. M. Slater, first vice-president, when asked with regard to any proposed action of the London branch, following the reports of the fire disaster.

Mrs. A. E. Cooper, president; Mrs. C. H. Zeigler, and other leading members of the executive were out of town, hence it was impossible to call a meeting during the day. Mrs. Harris returns Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

"I will get in touch with her as soon as she arrives home," said Mrs. Slater, "and then we will call an executive meeting for tomorrow morning. I am sure all the women who worked in the Red Cross in the war will only be too glad to work again now for those in their own province who have lost homes, everything, in the fire. Indeed, I'm sure the women who did the Red Cross work in war time will be glad to give their services now, if they are needed."

At the time of the Halifax explosion in the midst of the war, the London Red Cross was mobilizing supplies to forward within 24 hours. Mrs. Slater further stated that a number of supplies are on hand to be used for emergency such as this, a national disaster, coming under the peace time program of the Canadian Red Cross and League of Red Cross Societies.

HIGHGRADING CHARGED AGAINST TORONTO MEN

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—A story of a few in gold concentrates stolen from a Northern Ontario gold mine was told in the police court today by Detective William H. Nichols, giving evidence against Rousseau Kleiser and Leslie Donnelly, who were committed to trial on statements made at the time of their arrest.

"The men arrested," said Nichols, "were admitted that they had gone from Toronto to Halleybury on several occasions to receive gold from Edward Dean, manager of the Vendome Hotel there. Dean met him at the station platform with the gold ready in a black leather bag, which Donnelly would bring to Toronto. This story was stolen from the 'Kirkland Lake Mine' said witness.

Dean is now in custody.

"This has been going on since 1920," said Nichols, "and the value of the gold amounted to about $20,000."

A third man, John Shaw, was committed to the asylum as insane a week ago.

"The gold concentrate ran about 25 per cent, and was worth $41 a pound," said an assayer. Bail was fixed at $3,000 each.

SEEK BRITISH MARKETS FOR AUSTRALIAN FRUITS

LONDON, England, Oct. 4.—Canadian Press Cable.—A Reuter dispatch from Sydney, Australia, says it is understood a delegation of fruit growers, accompanied possibly by Premier H. S. W. Lawson, will proceed to England about the end of this month to plead for a preference for the British markets for dried and canned fruits from the dominions.

ADVANCE BRITISH COAL PRICES.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Announcement was made yesterday that coal prices in London had increased three shillings per ton.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES HELD IN SALEM CHURCH

Methodists Gather For Supper and Concert on Wroxeter Circuit.

Special to London Advertiser.

WROXETER, Oct. 4.—On Sunday anniversary services were held at Salem Methodist Church, Wroxeter, and were marked by large congregations, excellent sermons, good music and generous contributions.

Rev. Mr. Barnard of Fordwich was the preacher, and gave two well-pleased, and the demand was unusually good. The offerings of new coats were decidedly small, but the prices were not affected.

Once again the famous lions' roar was heard by Wroxeters, when at Thursday noon the London Den Luncheon was held at the Teumseh House for the first big luncheon meeting of the season. The gathering was by far the best attended for some months, and the officials of the London Lions' Club are to be congratulated for the heartiest enthusiasm instilled into each and every club.

NORFOLK COUNTY HOLDS 78TH FAIR

Spacious Buildings and Improved Grounds Afford Opportunity For Well-Arranged Displays.

Special to London Advertiser.

DELHI, Oct. 4.—Today saw the successful close of the 78th annual county fair held in Norfolk.

The first meeting was held in 1844 under the auspices of the Talbot District Agricultural Society, with Philip Austen as president and J. C. Convent as secretary. About 1860 the present fair grounds were purchased, and from that time scarcely a year has passed without the fair.

The elevated position attained by the Norfolk union fair in 1900 is indicated by a speech made by Hon. John Dryden, provincial minister, who in his address referred to it as the cleanest and most successful fair in Canada. In 1905 the superintendent of fairs in Ontario sent delegates from all parts of the province that they might get an inside view of its activities.

During the 78 years which have elapsed since its inception the officials have built up in Simcoe an institution of which the community may well be proud. Up-to-date poultry, dairy, agricultural and horticultural exhibits, in which latter class Norfolk County has obtained a Dominion-wide reputation. The women's department has received great attention, with great benefit to the fair.

Many unique features have gradually been added, among them the Norfolk County championship school fair. The exhibits produced by the school children are often specimens of beautiful work which would do credit to their elders. This event has created great enthusiasm among the young exhibitors and has given added stimulus to better production along agricultural and stock-raising lines.

The late date of the fair has proved a boon in that the farmers have been enabled to prepare innumerable exhibits which would have been impossible had the fair taken place earlier in the season.

This year's gathering has proved a success for the farmers of the fair, and the exhibits were larger and better than ever.

TEESWATER FAIR BEST IN HISTORY

Attendance and Exhibits Beat All Records For Fall Exhibition.

TEESWATER, Oct. 4.—Teeswater Fair broke all records today, both in point of attendance and exhibits, and was the best fair in Bruce County. The fine weather brought people from as far as Kitchener, Listowel and other distant points.

Autos lined the streets in every direction, and the weather had the biggest crowd within its borders since the reunion of 1919. Only one minor accident occurred throughout the day, when Mr. Harry Hinnell was knocked down by an auto at the corner of Clinton and James streets. A driver of the car escaped.

In the horse races, following were the winners:

2:30 class—Nelle C. Chittick, Teeswater; My Spring, R. Colvin, Teeswater; Bill Bingen, Geo. Gray, Mount Forest.

2:15 class—Pacing Paton, Redman, Jim Hall, Moly McKeown, 100-yard dash—Alex. Kier, H. Hall, 200-yard dash—H. Hall, Alex. Kier, Half-mile—Walter Thompson.

No fairs were allowed on the grounds, but three of them put up stands downtown and did a flourishing business. A concert by the Larry O'Brien Company of Toronto, and a dance following concluded the day.

BLENHEIM MAYOR ERECTS STORE

BLENHEIM, Oct. 4.—Mayor J. B. Little's new store building is being rapidly constructed. It will be an added improvement, not only to the main street, but also to the mayor's other building adjacent to it, and when completed it will become a part of the present structure.

REPORT LAWSON SAFE

Southwest Harbor, Me., Oct. 5.—Thomas W. Lawson, for whom some anxiety was expressed by Appleton friends in Boston, is safe and well, according to word received from him by Miss Mary B. Lawson, his sister residing at Somerville.

TALKS TO LIONS ON TAXATION

City Clerk Delivers Instructive Address at London Den Luncheon.

Points Out Difficulty of Arriving at Actual Property Values.

Once again the famous lions' roar was heard by Wroxeters, when at Thursday noon the London Den Luncheon was held at the Teumseh House for the first big luncheon meeting of the season. The gathering was by far the best attended for some months, and the officials of the London Lions' Club are to be congratulated for the heartiest enthusiasm instilled into each and every club.

"City Taxation."

Featuring Thursday's program was an address by City Clerk S. Baker on "City Taxation." The speaker pointed out the enormous amount of work entailed in arriving at a fair taxation basis and reminded his hearers that the business of running a city is far different from any other business, as there cannot be a profit and loss account as there can be no competition.

Provincial laws state that the tax rate of a city is not to exceed 25 mills exclusive of school, local improvements and hospital taxations, and London is at present on the line at the present time.

You tell a person that the tax rate this year is two mills lower than last, he is inclined to think that his taxes will be lower, but it must be borne in mind that the mill is increasing all the time. In 1892 the mill was 15.00, in 1912 it was $25.00, but this year it has jumped to $63.00.

"One of the biggest problems we have to deal with is to divide the taxation so that every ratepayer will pay for the services received."

"Another difficult task is to arrive at the actual value of a piece of property. A house might be worth $5,000 today and $7,000 tomorrow, but if you try to sell it the actual value might only be $4,000, but if a man is anxious to buy the property the actual value may be $10,000."

Upholding the road policies of City Engineer Brazier, Mr. Baker defied anyone to find another city or town in Ontario that had better streets in proportion to the size of London.

The city clerk explained that London only collects $190,000 each year, and the deficit has to be made up by taxing the people. Out of the taxes collected the debenture debt must be paid first, and then the citizens are to enjoy lower taxes.

Mr. Baker declared that the only solution was to wipe out the debenture debt or to find other means of raising money than by direct taxation.

RELIEVED OF MONEY BOARDING TROLLEY

Pickpocket Secures $80 From Brantford Man Returning From Paris Fair.

Special to London Advertiser.

Paris, Oct. 4.—As he was boarding the street car at the Grand Valley station, among the crowds returning home after the Paris Fair, William Drone of Brantford was relieved of $80 by a pickpocket, who is believed here to be one of the men who stole from several people at the Milton Fair on Saturday. Mr. Drone was mounting the steps of the car when he felt himself jostled.

When the conductor started to collect fares, the victim began to feel his pockets only to discover that his money was gone. The stolen bills were of various denominations. A complaint has been laid to the local police, and the matter is being investigated.

NEW BRUNSWICK TOWNS MENACED BY BUSH FIRES

FREDERICTON, N. B., Oct. 4.—Twelve forest fires in different parts of New Brunswick, and all attributable to hunting parties, are raging today, according to reports reaching the department of lands and mines here. During the month of September, half a million of rain fell according to the records of the Dominion meteorological station here, and conditions are favorable for a great conflagration similar to the memorable Miramichi fire in 1823, which occurred in October following an exceptionally dry September.

Several towns have been menaced by the bush fires during the last 24 hours, including Campbellton and Newcastle, and between McGivney and Moncton forest fires have burned down telegraph poles and posts along the railway, cutting off communication.

THOROLD MAN CONVICTED OF ROBBING PAYMASTER

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—John Vulcutt, arrested at Thorold, charged with holding up the paymaster of the Dominion Textile Company on July 7 last and stealing from him the sum of $27,000, was found guilty this morning by Judge Cusson, who will pronounce sentence Oct. 10.

Princess Yolanda, the eldest daughter of the king of Italy, is declared to be the most accomplished horsewoman among all the women of European royalty.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

POTATOES DECLINE ON LOCAL MARKET

Grapes in Good Demand at 35c to 40c Basket.

The attendance at the local market was small on Thursday morning. Only a few loads of hay were offered, although the demand was unusually good. The prices remain firm.

The offerings of new coats were decidedly small, but the prices were not affected.

One load of wheat was sold on the market and brought $1.10 per bushel. Peas and some of the best grades of grapes were the feature of the fruit market. The latter were in good demand at 35c to 40c per large basket.

Potatoes registered a slight decline in price and it is said that the reason for this is because of the large quantity offered on the market. The new price quoted was 70c per bushel, and $1.10 per bag.

Barley, per cwt., $1.09 to $1.15
Oats, per cwt., 1.10 to 1.15
Wheat, per cwt., 1.66 to 1.75
Hay, per ton, 1.10 to 1.15
Grain, per bushel, 45 to 60
Corn, per bushel, 30 to 40
Clover, per bushel, 20 to 30
Soybeans, per bushel, 20 to 30
Peas, per bushel, 20 to 30
Lentils, per bushel, 20 to 30
Mushrooms, per lb., 25 to 30
Onions, green, per doz., 40 to 50
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Peaches, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Pears, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Watermelons, each, 10 to 20
Quinces, 11 lbs., 40 to 50
Beets, per bushel, 45 to 60
Cabbages, each, 10 to 20
Crab apples, each, 10 to 20
Citrons, each, 10 to 20
Grapes, 11 lbs., 4

NEWEST VOGUE In Ladies' Dress Accessories

Artistic Neckwear, Faultless Gloves, Perfect-Fitting Hosiery and Blouses that are the acme of becoming designs.

Describes the unique character of the goods displayed in this department.

Experience coupled with natural ability for timely selecting this merchandise from a market overcrowded with inartistic and unsuitable articles is most essential to success in this line. The department is under the control of this expert talent.

For the following three days our window display will give a showing of the latest specially interesting styles.

BLOUSES

- Yellowstone Canton Crepe Overblouse, with round neck. Navy Radium lace sleeves and finished with sash trimmed with fringe. Price $15.00
- Honey Dew Crepe de Chine Overblouse, has side jabot effect and sleeves of cut work embroidery of Navy and Gold. Price $18.50
- Carman Crepe de Chine Overblouse, round neck, short sleeves, embroidered in Navy conventional designs. Price $15.00
- Habutai Silk Blouses, with tailored and tuxedo collars. Price $2.50, $2.98, $3.75 and $4.25
- White Voile Blouses, tucked and lace trimmed, with convertible necks. Price $5.50
- Dimity Peter Pan Blouses, with long and short sleeves. Odd sizes. Special to clear $1.50

GLOVES

- French Chamoisette Gloves, in plain, gauntlet or fancy turn-back cuff effects in Mastic 75c, $1.25, $1.50 or Grey. Price
- Gauntlet Cape Gloves, with fancy scalloped trimming and buckle effect, in Beaver trimmed with Brown, and Navy with Brown trimmed with Tan. Price $4.50
- Suede Gauntlet Gloves, in Grey and Mastic Price $3.00

HOSIERY

- Silk and Wool Hose, plain and clocks, in Black and White and Brown. Price $1.85 and $2.25
- Wool embroidered hose, in Champagne and Fawn. Price $1.50
- Heather Wool Hose with contrasting clocks in Grey, Blue, and Beaver and Lovat. Price $1.75
- Special Silk Hose, in odd sizes and colors, in drop-stitched and clock effects. Regular $3.00 for $2.25
- Silk Hose, in all shades. Price $2, $2.25, $3 and $4.25

SWEATERS

- Silk and Wool Pullover sweaters, in Grey, Scarlet, White, Black and Sand. Price $8.50
- Tuxedo Wool Sweater Coats, trimmed with contrasting stripes. White with Black, Black with White, Navy with Red, Sand with Red and Green with Sand. Price $7.50

NECKWEAR

- Hand-drawn and real lace-trimmed collars, sets and vestees. Price $1.50, $2, $3.25, $4.50 and $5
- Irish and Silk Lace collar and jabot for Suits. Price $7.50
- Venetian and Filet lace collars. Price $1, $1.25, $1.50, $2, to $4.50

SCARFS

- Silk Scarfs in all shades, plain and drop stitch. Price $2.25, $3.75 to $6.00

ROSS' LIMITED

MANUFACTURERS.

Phone 1319. 196 Dundas St.

5 CASES
Ladies' Hats
Just in from New York.
BELTZ & CO.

FOR
9
CENTS

Twenty-four ounces (a pound and a half) of the finest and most nourishing bread possible to make.

PARNELL'S
ASK YOUR GROCER.

DIAMONDS
A Diamond for an engagement ring. Beautiful Blue White Diamonds set in Platinum, white, green and yellow gold. Rings from $25 to $1,250.
C. H. Ward & Co.
Diamond Merchants, Jewelers and Opticians.
326 RICHMOND ST.
Phone 1084.

TREBILCOCK OPTICIAN
233 Dundas St. Phone 2351.
Two Doors East of Majestic.

English Rheumatism Capsules for the quick, safe relief of rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica. They work quickly, and are harmless. Will not upset the stomach. 50c box. Sold in London by

TAYLOR'S Drug Store
390 RICHMOND STREET.
Half Block South of Dundas.
Established 1868.
Mailed anywhere on receipt of price.

Wray's Jewelry
LIMITED.
have the stock of Jewelry and Photographs at prices to suit all purchasers.
234 Dundas St., London, Ont.

Quality Vulcanizing Only.
ART WILKES
London Tire Repair Depot,
354 WELLINGTON STREET,
Opposite McClary's. ywt

GEO. E. LOGAN
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER.
418 Richmond St. Phone 1968.
Finest Motor and Horse Equipment. ywt

N. J. GRIFFITH
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER.
101 Dundas Street, London.
Residence on premises. Phone 453.

J. FERGUSON'S SONS
176-178 KING STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers.
Handsome Motor Car or Hearse Equipment.
Day or Night Service.
PHONES:
Office 543. Residence 2056W-6563

The London Loan Company of Canada
MORTGAGES AND REAL ESTATE AGREEMENTS PURCHASED
M. J. KENT, Manager.

ROWAT'S TEAS
From the Better Gardens.
65c, 75c, 85c, $1.00 and $2.00 Pound.
T. A. ROWAT & CO.
250 Dundas Street. Phones 2051-2052.

NAME SIR HENRY THORNTON NEW HEAD OF C. N. R.

General Manager of English Railway Appointed by Order-in-Council.

MERGE FEDERAL LINES

Government Names Eight New Directors of Canadian National Railway System.

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—(By Canadian Press).—Major-General Sir Henry Thornton, K.B.E., general manager of the Great Eastern Railway of England, is the new head of the Canadian National Railways. An order-in-council appointing him and the other members of the board, and formally creating the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Lines into the Canadian National Railway system passed cabinet council today, and was approved by the acting governor-general this evening.

Sir Henry arrived in Ottawa this morning, and final arrangements for his appointment were then made. He leaves again tomorrow for New York, and will return almost at once to England to settle up his affairs there, returning to Canada to take over the direction of the National Railway System within about a month.

A contract was signed this afternoon, extending over three years, under which he is to be paid $50,000 per annum. (Clauses in the contract, it was stated, give protection to the government and to the new president and general manager of the railways, in the event of either side wishing to terminate the agreement before the end of three years.)

The resignations of the existing board of directors of the Grand Trunk System were accepted by the government today, and the new board was appointed to administer the joint system. The board consists of the following, in addition to Sir Henry, who is president of the system and chairman of the board of management:

John H. Sinclair, K.C., New Glasgow, N.S., former member of Parliament for Antigonish.

Richard P. Gough of the firm of Sellers-Gough, Toronto and Montreal.

James Stewart of Winnipeg, former chairman of the Canada wheat board and now general manager of the Maple Leaf Milling Company.

Ernest R. Decary, ex-president of the Montreal Civic Commission, Montreal.

Frederick G. Dawson, wholesale merchant of Prince Rupert, B.C.

Tom Moore, president of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, Ottawa, representing labor.

Graham A. Bell, deputy minister of railways.

Gerald G. Ruel, general counsel.

The vice-presidents in charge of traffic and operations are to be appointed after the new general manager returns and has time to size up the situation.

The matter of deciding where the headquarters of the system are to be is left to the incoming board. The new board, however, will make the annual inspection of the system together with officials of the road. This will take place before the return of Sir Henry from England, arrangements to this effect having been made by the new president immediately after his appointment.

Resignations Accepted.
The former directors of the Grand Trunk system, whose resignations were accepted today, are: Sir Joseph Flavelle, Major G. A. Bell, H. C. Dupuis, E. L. Newcombe and A. J. Mitchell. The resignations of the old Canadian Northern board are automatically accepted, the order in council creating the Canadian National system having been the first action taken under legislation passed some time ago to provide for creating the joint system. Until today's order in council was approved it was said the Canadian National system had really been but a name.

The objections which had been raised to the government going outside of Canada to secure an executive head of the National system were answered by the prime minister in the course of his speech to the Canadian Press following the appointments. The government, he said, had been faced with a difficult problem in regard to taking a man from one of the Canadian roads. If a man from the C. N. R. had been chosen there probably would be a charge that the National system would continue to be under Mackenzie and Mann influences. On the other hand, if a man from the C. P. R. had been appointed the charge would have been one of C. P. R. domination. These among other reasons had caused the government to look about for the best man who could be secured outside, and finally the choice had fallen upon the president appointed today.

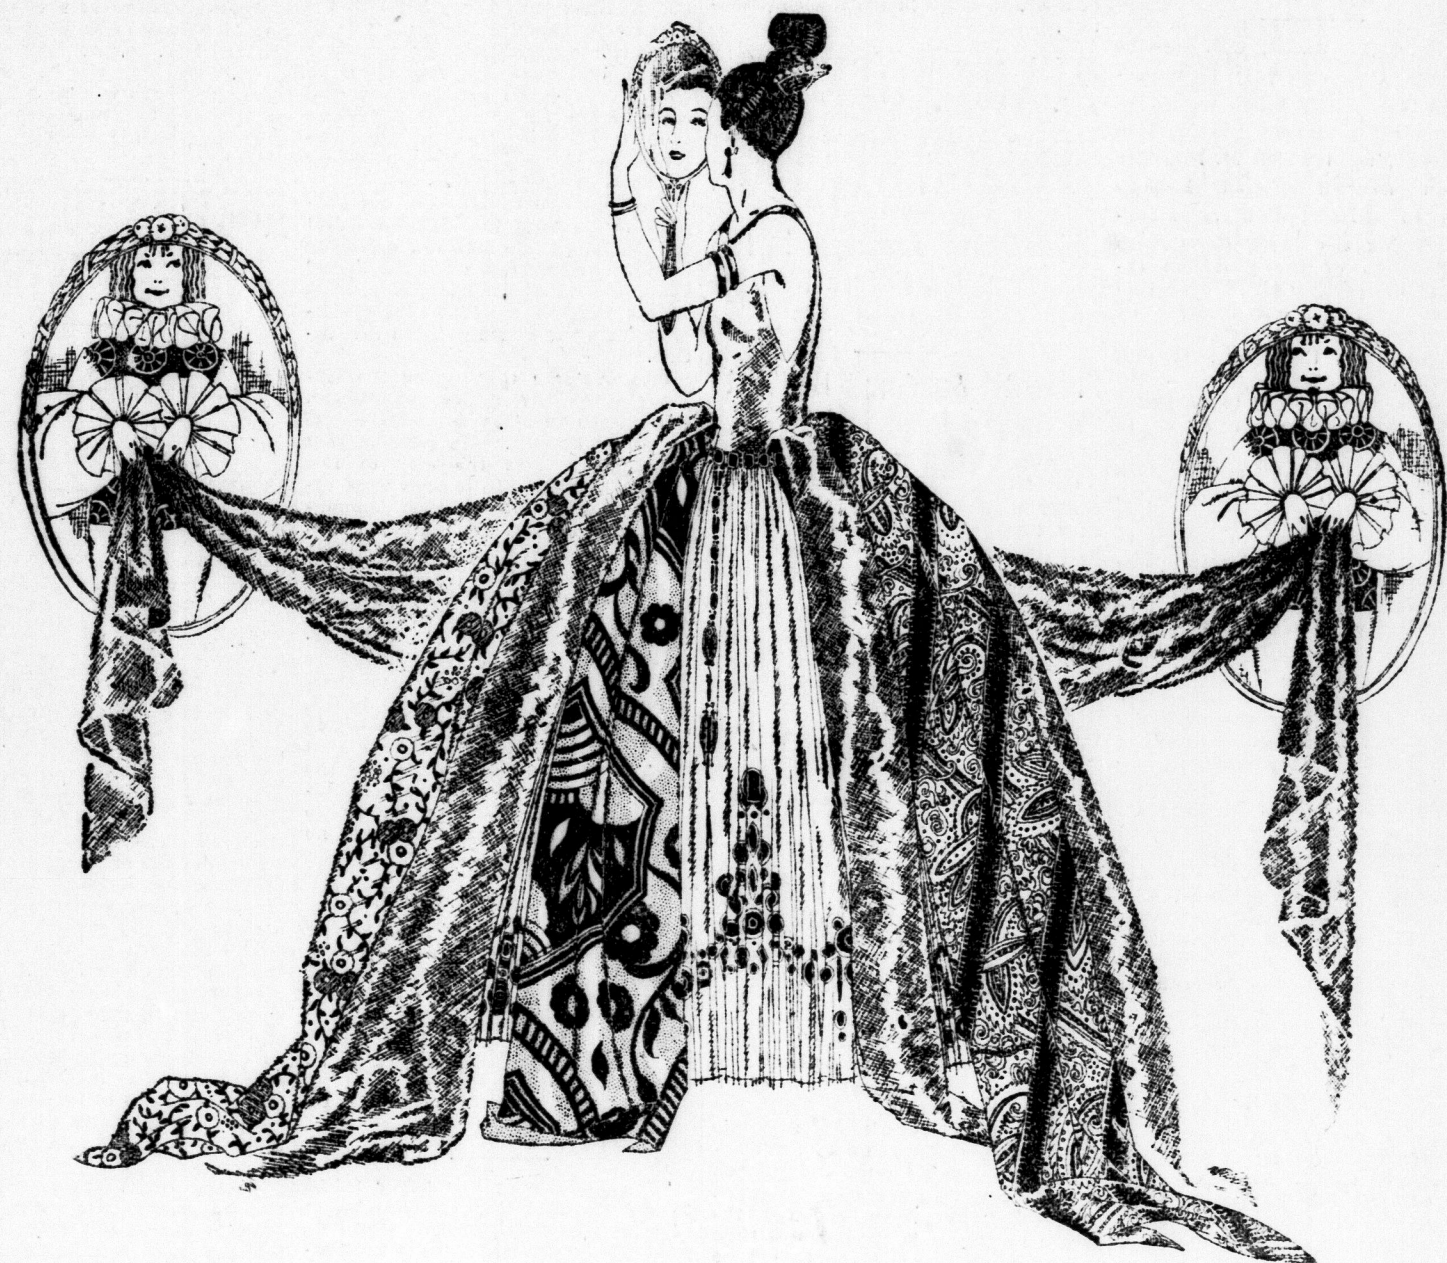

"What the system really needs," declared Right Hon. Mr. King, "is a big, capable man from the outside to act as an umpire and to see that the whole thing is properly administered. I think we have found that man in Sir Henry Thornton, who has an excellent record as a railroad, and whose integrity is highly praised everywhere."

Confident of Success.
The new president of the system, who was in the east block when the prime minister announced his appointment, was afterwards introduced to the newspaper men present and talked briefly with them.

"I would rather let my deeds speak than my words," he said in answer to one of many questions asked of him. "We all must tackle

These Autumn Silks Will Make Up So Beautifully

The pattern makers have made the making of dresses so easy—they have made the directions so simple that most women can make their own clothes with complete success. The new Belrobe system of cutting is embodied in every new Designer Pattern. And what glorious fabrics this season has produced for this purpose! The weaves are so impressive, the colorings so winsome, the patterns so original, and prices so moderate. We'll be glad to give you any help you may need about selecting the proper one.

French Silk Canton Crepe, Special $3.75 Yard.

Special purchase of this very popular Silk Dress Crepe—the silk that imparts the correct and charming soft drapes. On sale in navy and black; 40-inch. Special $3.75 yard

Beautiful Fancy Tinsels, $4.00 and $4.50 Yard.

Newest French designs in rich brocade figures of gold and silver metal thread work. There are colors in the many shades of blues, also canna, tan, gold, gray, fuchsia, prunella, green, etc.; 18-inch $4.00 and $4.50 yard

A Wonderful Collection of Newest Silk and Satin Brocades for Coat Linings, $1.98 and $3.75 Yard.

SILK AND SATIN BROCADES, $1.98 YARD
Rich and attractive color grounds in canna and gray, with contrasting brocade pattern in gold and rose; 36 inches wide. Special $1.98

FUR LINING BROCADES, $3.75 YARD
Our finest importation in heavy quality Brocades, worked out in two colors, the ground of one and pattern in rich contrasting shades. Some of these new colors shown are—canna, marigold, rose, helio, shrimp, gray, periwinkle, old gold, etc.; yard wide $3.75 yard

Black Velourlaine for Coats and Capes, 54 inches, $3.50 Yard.

A soft velour nap, almost suede-like finish; rich dye; soft and clinging; 54-inch $3.50 yard

Restaurant, Fourth Floor.
Quick Service.
Course Dinners, 40c and 65c.

SMALLMAN & INGRAM
LIMITED

The Fashion Show

Fall, 1922
Last Performances
Tomorrow, 10:30 and 3.

An overflow attendance is expected tomorrow.
Tickets at Millinery Parcel Desk—Second Floor.

Admission Free.
Orchestra in Attendance.
Third Floor.

Newest Sequin Embroidered Silk Net Overdresses Direct From Paris, at Silk Dept., Main Floor.

Just a few left, but each one a French model in the new long lines. Colors white, canna, all black and black with blue. $15.00 up to $22.00
Not all prices in each color.

French Imported Black Satin Dress Duchesse, 35 Inches Wide, Special $1.98

We suggest securing a dress length of two of this excellent quality at such a special low price. A rich black pure Silk Satin Duchesse for fine dresses; 35-inch $1.98 yard

Taffeta Silks for Petticoats, $2.50 Yard.

Something new in Petticoat Silks. A sturdy woven pure silk shot Taffeta with a rich satin stripe of ground color. This variety to select from—henna, tiger lily, cerise, sapphire, orchid, old blue, navy and black.

Black Bolivia Mariano Coating, $8.00 Yard.

Bolivia Mariano, $8.00 yd.—For coats and capes. A rich pile-like coating (silk finish), soft and supple, as well as charming and cozy; 54-inch $8.00 yard

Soda Fountain, Main Floor.
For Sundaes, Sodas, Light Lunches, etc.

REPORT CONDITION MORE ENCOURAGING

Hon. W. C. Kennedy Believed To Have Better Chance For Recovery Tuesday.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—An Ottawa dispatch to the effect that "the condition of Hon. W. C. Kennedy is very discouraging, and recovery is very doubtful," is discounted by a telephone message received last night from Charles S. King, ex-mayor of Walkerville, and a close business associate of the minister, Gordon D. Wickett, that Mr. Kennedy's condition at that time was slightly more encouraging. Mr. King is at the bedside of the minister in Montreal.

Since Mr. Kennedy's illness noted surgeons and diagnosticians from the United States have been in attendance, the first to be called being Dr. Lowell Barker of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. Dr. Barker was called in after Mr. Kennedy had failed to rally from the first operation, and he agreed that the only course to take was to open up the gall bladder in order to resume the flow of bile which had become restricted.

REPORT CONDITION MORE ENCOURAGING

Hon. W. C. Kennedy Believed To Have Better Chance For Recovery Tuesday.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—An Ottawa dispatch to the effect that "the condition of Hon. W. C. Kennedy is very discouraging, and recovery is very doubtful," is discounted by a telephone message received last night from Charles S. King, ex-mayor of Walkerville, and a close business associate of the minister, Gordon D. Wickett, that Mr. Kennedy's condition at that time was slightly more encouraging. Mr. King is at the bedside of the minister in Montreal.

Since Mr. Kennedy's illness noted surgeons and diagnosticians from the United States have been in attendance, the first to be called being Dr. Lowell Barker of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. Dr. Barker was called in after Mr. Kennedy had failed to rally from the first operation, and he agreed that the only course to take was to open up the gall bladder in order to resume the flow of bile which had become restricted.

REPORT CONDITION MORE ENCOURAGING

Hon. W. C. Kennedy Believed To Have Better Chance For Recovery Tuesday.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—An Ottawa dispatch to the effect that "the condition of Hon. W. C. Kennedy is very discouraging, and recovery is very doubtful," is discounted by a telephone message received last night from Charles S. King, ex-mayor of Walkerville, and a close business associate of the minister, Gordon D. Wickett, that Mr. Kennedy's condition at that time was slightly more encouraging. Mr. King is at the bedside of the minister in Montreal.

Since Mr. Kennedy's illness noted surgeons and diagnosticians from the United States have been in attendance, the first to be called being Dr. Lowell Barker of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. Dr. Barker was called in after Mr. Kennedy had failed to rally from the first operation, and he agreed that the only course to take was to open up the gall bladder in order to resume the flow of bile which had become restricted.

REPORT CONDITION MORE ENCOURAGING

Hon. W. C. Kennedy Believed To Have Better Chance For Recovery Tuesday.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—An Ottawa dispatch to the effect that "the condition of Hon. W. C. Kennedy is very discouraging, and recovery is very doubtful," is discounted by a telephone message received last night from Charles S. King, ex-mayor of Walkerville, and a close business associate of the minister, Gordon D. Wickett, that Mr. Kennedy's condition at that time was slightly more encouraging. Mr. King is at the bedside of the minister in Montreal.

Since Mr. Kennedy's illness noted surgeons and diagnosticians from the United States have been in attendance, the first to be called being Dr. Lowell Barker of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. Dr. Barker was called in after Mr. Kennedy had failed to rally from the first operation, and he agreed that the only course to take was to open up the gall bladder in order to resume the flow of bile which had become restricted.