HYMENEAL

DAVIDSON-FOSTER

The marriage took place at Montreal on Tuesday, April 10th, of Miss Ruth Ann Beardsley, daughter of Mrs. Loviah Beardsley Foster, to Mr. Waldo Benjamin Davidson, of Wolfville. The ceremony was performed at noon at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. D. J. Fraser, Ph. D., principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, and formerly pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Wolfville. The double ring service was used. The bride was attended by Mrs. Herbert Mould, and the groom by Mr. W.G. Mould, of Montreal. The bride looked very charming in a three piece costume of Poiret cloth with upper part of tulle, and wore a French hat of bleu marin milan and Canton, with Egyptian ornaments. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the Windsor Hotel where a dainty luncheon was partaken of. After spending a brief honeymoon in Upper Province cities the happy young couple are expected to return to Wolfville about the end of the month.

The romance connected with this marriage began before the groom, who is the junior member of the firm of Davidson Bros., publishers of this paper, went overseas to serve in practically all the big engagements during the last year of the war with the 11th Canadian Siege Battery. A native of Berwick, although for much of her life absent from the county, the bride is an exceedingly attractive and talented young lady who will be a decided addition to the social life of our town.

ACADIA ALUMNI AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, April 15—The fourth annual banquet of the Acadia University Alumni Association, Ottawa branch, was held here Saturday. A number of members of MacMaster Alumni were guests. Rev. F. W. Patterson, D. D., L. L. D., responding to the toast to the "University of Acadia", of which he is President, referred to the convention held at Moncton on April 11 when it was decided to reject the proposal that Acadia University amalgamate with colleges in Canada. He pointed out that the institution had its own individualism and did not need to amalgamate. The institution had a brilliant future and he was pleased to know that it would continue to carry on without any affiliation with other colleges. Rev. Dr. Patterson's remarks were warmly received.

WOLFVILLE LADY SINGS FOR RADIO

(The following taken from the Atlanta (Ga.) Journal will be read with interest by Miss Curry's many Wolfville friends. Miss Curry is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Elias Curry of this town.—Ed.)

The following detailed log, along with an especially friendly letter, has reached WSB from John A. Yarker, Toronto, Canada, who seems especially impressed by the splendid program given recently under the direction of Lewis H. Johnston, head of the vocal department, Agnes Scott college:

"As 'WSB'—The Atlanta Journal, Atlanta, Ga., came into 135 Silver Birch avenue residence, in Toronto, Canada, on Good Friday eve, March 29, 1923.

"I had been out the earlier part of the evening. Came in about 10.30 or so, and sitting down ran into WSB as always. Only yesterday I wrote acknowledging the previous evening's fine program from WSB, particularly Kimo Kalebi and his Hawaiian guitar and ukulele class recital, Mr. Ed. Ackers, Mr. Walker, Mrs. Marian Leslie Boswell and Dennis Barnhart.

"Then tonight:
"Artists—Miss Eunice Curry, contralto soloist of All Saints' Episcopal church, Atlanta. As restful, easy, clear and resonant vocal treat an ever came over radio from the Mississippi to the seaboard.

"Mr. Lewis M. Johnston, tenor, particularly delightful in Bartlett's 'Little Woman o' Mine', and 'Nightingale'.

"Mrs. Lewis H. Johnston as accompanist and in the 'Slumber Song'.
"The witticisms of 'Old King Tut, the Radio Nut,' as he supplied for the Journal's regular 'Lambdin Kay' is it? The chap for whom, with one Leo Fitzpatrick, of Kansas City 'Nighthawks' fame, Tut expressed fears about the Hotel Pennsylvania, NYC, etc., etc.

"In order:
"Oh, That We Two Were Maying, Miss Curry and Mr. Johnston; Mrs. Johnston at the piano.
"Nightingale, Mr. Johnston.

"Introducing your Rochester visitor who pitched a 2 to 1 trimming to the University of Georgia yesterday and hopes to treat Georgia Tech similarly this afternoon.

"'Lassie o' Mine,' Miss Curry. Is she a Nova Scotian?
"The Little Irish Girl, Mr. Johnston,
"Slumber Song, Mr. Johnston, with Miss Curry at the piano.

"Introducing E. J. Koster and W. L. Daniels, of the Crown Cork and Seal Co. Incidentally, the Toronto manager I know very well. I'll bet they were down there arranging contract terms with Coca-Cola.

"Values (?), by Vanderpool, Miss Curry.
"Tut's 'Peachtree Street' challenge, but he hasn't seen Yonge street, Toronto, during scenographers' luncheon hour.

"'Little Woman o' Mine,' Mr. Johnston. Very, very fine.

"At Parting, duet, Miss Curry and Mr. Johnston. In this Miss Curry was particularly pleasing. Her 'The Sweetest Flower that Grows I Give You as We Part,' etc., lovely.

"An Irish song Tut forgot to name, Mr. Johnston. It starts out 'Oh, the time I talked to your mother, Mary,' etc.

"Since You Went Away, Miss Curry.
"Roses, duet, Miss Curry and Mr. Johnston, Mrs. Johnston accompanist.

ACADIA WILL CONTINUE TO DO BUSINESS AT THE OLD STAND

The future of Acadia University, which for some months seemed to hang in the balance, was settled last week by a vote of the United Baptist Convention, meeting in special session in Moncton, and settled in such a way as to leave no doubt that Wolfville is a place dear to the hearts of Maritime Baptists and will continue for years to come the centre of their educational activities. The proponents of University Federation, ever since the Carnegie Foundation Report became public, carried on such a continuous and insistent propaganda that the public were half inclined to believe that a large number of Baptists throughout the bounds of the Convention were convinced that Acadia could best serve the cause of higher education by removal to Halifax. But when out of the large and representative delegation, in which every section of the Maritime Provinces was represented, only four votes were cast for federation (and these four from one church in Halifax), it became manifest that the propagandists had become intoxicated with the exuberance of their own extravaganzas.

The recommendation of the Carnegie Foundation that all the Colleges of the Atlantic Provinces unite in Halifax and form one great University had its attractive features. It was based upon a survey made by two educational experts. These experts surveyed the ground and saw the inadequate equipment with which our educational work was being done. They forthwith recommended a merger of Colleges with an offer of generous financial aid as the solution of our educational ills. The educational life of the Maritime Provinces seemed to these experts much like the map of which they had manifestly made a careful study: they saw nothing beneath the surface, and so long as moving expenses were met and a liberal allowance made to set up housekeeping in Halifax, there could surely be no objection to moving. If University life in these Provinces were just starting, such proposals might have been sound, but the psychology of these experts was mainly materialistic, and therefore unsound. They saw the struggling educational plants, but took no account of their roots nor of the soil in which their roots were nourished, governmental, religious, social, sentimental, lying beneath the surface. It was a lack of insight similar to that which the German intelligence staff showed when their military experts made surveys and submitted their reports concerning Canada and other parts of the British Empire before the war. They made their deductions from what they noted on the surface and never saw the subtle ties of loyal affection which hold the Empire together. Messrs. Learned and Sills, the Carnegie Corporation experts, brought to light many important facts concerning the educational life of Eastern Canada; but in making their recommendations it did not seem to dawn upon them that the Province of New Brunswick might have a sense of Provincial pride and that Acadia and St. F. X. had certain ties which bound them to their own constituencies and certain spiritual ideals which are their most cherished heritage. The roots of Maritime College life are vastly deeper things than the Carnegie Federation realized; and it is because of the soil in which these roots are nourished—a soil enriched with sacrifice—that our educational life, defective as it may be otherwise, has its own peculiar flavor and moral worth.

The report of the Board of Governors to the Maritime Convention was an excellent setting forth of the case. It pointed out that federation would bring about a decrease of students while the cost of education to the individual student would be greater. It showed that the cast-iron uniformity of standards outlined in the scheme of federation would not be in the interests of education, that Acadia by entering the merger would separate herself from a most loyal constituency. It also pointed out that even with the generous offer, federation would cost Acadia more than remaining in Wolfville.

But while this crisis is past, it does not follow that Acadia has sailed out into the open waters of tranquility. The largest campaign in her history is just now before her. President Patterson, who is at present in New York, will no doubt have an important announcement to make concerning it on his return. It is understood that ground will be broken for a new Chapel this spring and that a new Science Building will be next in order.

FARMERS GO TO POLLS

Premier E. C. Drury, who has headed the first farmer government of Canada for the past three and a half years in Ontario, has announced his intention of going to the polls in June. This announcement followed charges of disloyalty on the part of the Premier to his party by Andrew Hicks, U. F. O. whip, who has resigned.

Wallace, A. J. McKenna and I. B. Oakes. After the ceremony refreshments were served and a social hour spent with music and good fellowship.

EASTER CONCERT AT TABERNACLE

The Easter concert which was given by the children of the Baptist Tabernacle on the evening of April 8th was one of the best in the history of the Sunday School. The concert was postponed a week on account of the absence of one of the teachers but everyone agreed that the postponement was fortunate since the weather was much more springlike than on Easter day, making the allusions to birds and flowers seem more appropriate. About 20 children took part in the program which included recitations, songs and drills. From little five-year old Russell Best, who made his first speech at the Christmas concert, to Elsie Weatherby, who has many well-delivered recitations to her credit, the children all showed that they had spent much time in preparation and had been well trained. The exercise at the end of the program was particularly effective. The children, holding streamers of crepe paper formed a rainbow around a cross while a recitation was given which was followed by a verse from the hymn "In the Cross of Christ I Glory", sung by Miss Amy Prescott. The vocal solo by Miss Dorothy Duff and her instrumental trio by Gertrude Phinney, Verne Graham and Harold Phinney added much to the program. The concert was ably directed by Mrs. H. W. Phinney, assisted by Miss Margaret Sylvester, a Senior at Acadia. The children's very evident enjoyment showed that they appreciated the services of their teachers.

RECENT DEATHS

MRS. EVELYN STARR BOGGS

The news which reached Wolfville on Sunday last of the death at her home at Woodstock, N. Y., of Mrs. George Boggs, one of Wolfville's most popular daughters, was received with very sincere sorrow by a host of friends.

Before her marriage the deceased was Miss Evelyn Starr, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. H. Starr, of this town. She was educated at Acadia Seminary where she gave evidence of much musical talent and excelled in the department of violin. Of a charming personality she won friends everywhere and was a general favorite. In company with her mother she spent six years in Germany and Russia studying with distinguished masters of the violin, returning in May, 1914, just before war was declared. This prevented her return to Europe to fulfill engagements there. For two years she gave brilliant recitals in Toronto, Boston and New York and ranked among the foremost of Canadian violinists. Her early demise ends a career of great promise.

In addition to the bereaved husband she is survived by her sorrowing parents, one brother, Richard, at St. Catharines, Ont.; two sisters, Mrs. Fitzhugh, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Miss Helen Starr, of St. Louis, Mo.; for whom much sympathy is felt by all. Mr. Starr left on Monday morning to be present at the funeral.

FRANK LESLIE FITCH

Frank Leslie Fitch died at the hospital Kaslo, British Columbia, on Friday, April 13th, 1923. He was born Dec. 20th, 1859. He was the only son and eldest member of the family of the late George Edward Fitch, who died in 1874, and Irene Z. Armstrong, of Wolfville, grand-daughter of Father Harding, for sixty years pastor of the Baptist church, Wolfville. He is survived by his mother, his second wife, Alex Fournier, and his three sisters, Mrs. H. F. Laflamme of New York City, Miss Annie E. Fitch of Wolfville, and Mrs. B. W. Wallace of Yorkton, Sask.

In 1880 Mr. Fitch went west to follow the adventures of that great host of pioneers who penetrated the wilderness of the Pacific Northwest. Previous to his death he resided at Ainsworth, in the Kootenay mining district of British Columbia, as a miner and prospector. He also engaged in building, was a law officer for a time and in the early days set many a broken limb and nursed the desperately sick back to life.

He had boundless faith in the Canadian West. The dogged devotion of such men as he has developed that land to its present state of promise and will cause it to win out in the long and difficult struggle through which every new land must pass before it makes good.

MRS. LEON THOMPSON

Nwes was received on Saturday last by Mrs. Robert Bauld, of the death of her sister, Mrs. Leon Thompson, which occurred on the previous day at Washington, D. C. The deceased was formerly Miss Mildred Harris, daughter of Mr. Joseph W. Harris, of this place, and in former days was held in high regard by many friends in Wolfville and vicinity. She is survived by a sorrowing husband and three small children, her father, three sisters, Mrs. J. L. Eaton of Lower Canada, Mrs. (Dr.) Babcock of Castine, Me., and one brother, Edward, of St. Catharines, Ont.

A FITTING TRIBUTE

In announcing the death of Mrs. Evelyn Starr Boggs on Sunday evening, Dr. MacDonald paid a brief but fitting tribute to her talents and worth. By common consent she was recognized as one of the most talented and accomplished violinists Canada ever produced; the embodiment of artistry and the soul of music, whose exquisite playing had charmed vast audiences of music lovers on both sides of the Atlantic. Mrs. Boggs had grown up in our midst and was beloved by everybody who knew her. She had a winsomeness as all her own and was as radiant as the light. Her personality was even more attractive than her music and that is saying a great deal. During the past few years her vitality, as been silent owing to an affection of her arm and shoulder, but the conviction had been borne in upon the speaker ever since hearing the news that had so shocked the community, that her passing must mean the release of her pent up music in a sphere where physical limitations are unknown. Such is the glory of the immortal hope. The Pastor took occasion to express to the stricken family the heart-felt sympathy of the church and congregation who sorrow with them.

BUS SERVICE SHOULD BE PROTECTED

People of this vicinity are naturally interested in a bill recently introduced by the Provincial Secretary and now before the legislature of the province, which if permitted to become law will strike a vicious blow at an institution, the success of which is much to be desired. This bill is the proposal to exact a heavy provincial license from all motor bus lines and to place them under the direction of the Public Utilities Board with all the objectionable features which that involves.

The bus line, which was started so enterprisingly last year to connect the different sections of Kings county with satisfactory transportation, and which is about to begin the present season much improved, is more deserving of a subsidy than a handicap of this nature. A vigorous protest should be made in the interest of this most worthy undertaking by the residents of the section interested, and such action should be taken quickly in order to protect what is bound to be of great benefit to the public.

ADVERTISING APPROPRIATIONS

In these "dull times" do we find the average merchant saying to himself, "Well, I must rustle harder for business. I'll pay more attention to my advertising to see that I get a message 'over' to the public. I'll back my advertising up with window displays. My prices will be such as to bring the people to my place of business."

No, the diffident merchant says, "Times are hard. I can't afford to advertise. I'll just wait till the people get more money in their pockets and then I'll receive my share of it in the usual way. Advertising is an expense, so I will have to cut it out."

Business experts declare that business of the ordinary proportions should spend two per cent. of its gross total annually for advertising. Some businesses spend up to five per cent.

If the business men of Wolfville all spent anything like two per cent. of their gross turnover in telling the public what to buy and where and how, they would aid greatly in cutting off the flow of money to Eaton's and Simpson's and incidentally the home town paper would be twice as big as now and, we hope, twice as interesting.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT

Such a radical action as the change in the rule of the road which went into effect on Sunday last in this province should certainly have been better prepared for by a campaign of publicity such as was carried out in our sister province of New Brunswick under similar circumstances. The aid of every newspaper in the province should have been evoked to give the public the most complete information and direction. On the contrary practically no information was officially given out and the public were left to their own devices to take what precautions were possible to guard against likely accident. About the only attempt apparently to give the necessary instruction in this vicinity has been through individuals providing their wagons with a card warning drivers to "keep to the right". It is said that the government has provided posters to be placed on the wind-shield of automobiles, but as the law prevents the use of these vehicles for the first two weeks of the new system, this means of advertising must necessarily be wholly ineffective. It is a perfectly plain case of blundering on the part of those entrusted with the management of provincial affairs, and the legislature will naturally be held responsible for any accidents that may be expected to result therefrom.

Making short cuts to save a few steps may be a good policy from an economic point of view, but it is bad ethics to pursue in dealing with one's fellows. At this season of the year the temptation to avoid the muddy by-paths by trespassing on a swarded lawn where the walking is good should not be allowed to prevail if the rights of property owners and the community welfare is to be properly regarded. Corner lots in particular, which the owners spend time and money in beautifying, are frequently sadly disfigured by this species of thoughtlessness on the part of pedestrians.

The decision of the Council to publish for the information of citizens the detailed report of the auditors will, we feel sure, meet with public approval. Such a statement has not been handed out during the past six years. The report makes up a neat little pamphlet of twenty pages, the contents of which should be carefully studied and will be found interesting.

DECLARES ADVERTISING WILL CURE CONDITION

Toronto.—Advertising is the cure for the deplorable seasonal condition of the painting and decorating business, according to Mr. Peter Gyden, of Minneapolis, who addressed the annual convention of the International Master House Painters and Decorator's Association, here. Mr. Gyden pointed out that the association in Minneapolis came to the conclusion that the trade was suffering greatly because the bulk of the work was being done in the spring and fall seasons, leaving many months of the year when the master painters and decorators had to carry on with practically no work.

corators had to carry on with practically no work.

There are two real big reasons for a woman to be happy—an electric washing machine and a loving husband. Second reason first. Because if she has the loving husband she's pretty sure to have the washer. You pay for it as you use it and it pays for itself and we can prove it.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TRACK MEET

College Athletes May Compete Early Next Month

(From the Morning Chronicle) Possibilities of an Intercollegiate Track Meet early in May are now commencing to present themselves to the various student bodies of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick Colleges. St. F. X., Acadia, Kings, Dalhousie, Mt. A., U. N. B. are all interested. Ivan McDonald of St. F. X. is the chairman of a committee to investigate and report and it is very likely that the Meet will be held. It is understood that both U. N. B. and Mount Allison are desirous of having the Meet held at their grounds, but the Nova Scotia colleges do not seem to be particular where it is held as long as it is held.

Dalhousie track and field athletes are all in favor of holding the Meet. The locals have some good track men and are confident that they could do well against the other institutions of learning.—It is understood that if the Meet were to be held after Convocation the graduates of this year would be eligible. The Maritime Colleges play football and hockey against each other and many followers of college athletics would like to see them engage in track and field sports.

THE RIBSTON PIPPIN

Each leading apple has its story, and one may be given, that of the Ribston Pippin. For it we have to thank a diplomatist, who was made a baronet by Charles I., Sir Henry Goodricke, who planted "three pips" sent him from Normandy, at Ribston, Yorkshire. Two came to nothing, but the third flourished, and from it, says Brewer, "came all the Ribston apple trees in England". Sir Henry was a considerable sufferer in estate during the Civil War and his character in Parliament, was that his speeches were "brief, pithy, and to the purpose". He was buried at Ribston.

LADY HENRY SOMERSET

Lady Henry Somerset, for many years president of the World's W. C. T. U., devoted herself to bettering the conditions of her tenantry in the several counties where she had estates, signing the temperance pledge at her castle gates with forty of her tenants. In the famous Herefordshire country, where Eastnor Castle is situated, meetings were held in the farming districts, Lady Henry going often on cold stormy days over the hills to the cottage gatherings of her people.

For years a mission was supported by Lady Henry in one of the poorer districts of London, and here it was that she came in closer touch with the degradation caused by the liquor traffic. She personally visited house after house, going among the criminal and the outcast, helping, comforting, and cheering them with a love and patience which brought to them life and hope.

In 1889 she was elected President of the British Women's Temperance Association, which office she held until 1903. Much of the progress made by the Association is due to the wise, liberal and forceful policy which she inaugurated. No speaker in England drew larger audiences than did this gifted orator. Her logical reasoning, keen analysis, vast fund of information, and full understanding of political conditions, made her of all speakers, the best equipped to present the great theme of total abstinence. The thorough knowledge which Lady Henry had of the drinking habits of English women, and the hold which it has upon their lives, led her to found "The Industrial Farm Colony", where women were treated for drunkenness. The Colony, situated in Duxhurst, consisted of 200 acres of beautiful grounds. Gardening, fruit cultivation, care of bees, of raising poultry, seed sorting, basket making, linen weaving, and laundry work, were the avocations which furnished the patients out-door exercise and employment. A particularly interesting feature of Duxhurst was "The Nest", a permanent home for children rescued from vicious homes and from intemperance. A beautiful church, decorated with work modeled by Lady Henry, and a well-equipped hospital, formed part of the Colony buildings. Out of 144 inmates treated in one year, 125 were women who were entirely cured and who later lived industrious lives. Lady Henry devoted time, money and strength to building up the splendid work of this Colony, which, through her untiring efforts, was recognized as a powerful factor in helping to solve the drink habit in Great Britain.—Union Signal.

The weekly press has been flooded this winter by the Presbyterians with "stuff" in favor of church union, and last week the Methodists appointed R. F. Stauffer, a Toronto newspaper man, as their publicity man. Fortunately for the public, newspapers keep large wastepaper baskets and paper balers for most of the propaganda matter sent out from numerous sources.—Digby Courier.

As we contemplate the worries of the Allies, it occurs to us that the hateful Germans may have lost the war on purpose.

2 IN 1 Shoe Polishes More and Better Shines to the Box

LUBRICATION OF AUTOMOBILE IS ESSENTIAL CARE

Lack of proper attention to the lubricating system of an automobile motor has cost more money than all accidents or breakdowns in the entire use of a motor car.

When a motorist sees a tack or a nail in his tire he pulls it out, if the steering gear shimmies he has it tightened, and if there is a piston slap he gets it corrected, but too many are inclined to let the oil take care of itself and do little else other than add a quart or two when the spirit moves them.

This is the worst possible practice. The automobile motor is a highly refined mechanical product. Close fitting, accurate machining, and the necessity for "sealed" pistons if the car is to develop its full power are all necessary to secure what the average owners mean by a good running motor.

Lubricating must be right or everything goes wrong. In the circulation of lubricating oil through the motor it must run up along the piston walls, some of it goes by the piston rings, a little gets on top of the pistons. The heat in the cylinders causes carbon. Look at the oil gauge of any car with a sight feed indicator. When the new oil is put in, after the crank case has been drained it runs through as a clear stream for a short time. Then it starts to darken until it finally gets black. If it were not for carbon and other dirt in the cylinders and lubricating system the oil would stay clean and hold its original color.

After 500 miles of running, with a new motor, and after each 750 to 1,000 miles of running with a motor that has been thoroughly worked in, it is absolutely necessary to drain the oil and replace it with fresh lubricant. Not only is draining necessary, but the lubricating system should be washed out. This can be done by pouring a quart of fresh light oil into the crank case and running the motor on the starter or turning it over with the crank for a few minutes. Then this oil should be drained out and the regulation amount of new oil put in.

This clearing process is necessary on account of the accumulations of dirt and carbon in the oil grooves, in the crank shaft bearings and in the oil leads through the motor. The fresh oil, run without heat in the motor, washes these accumulations out.

Proper attention to lubrication will greatly lengthen the life of any motor and add immeasurably to the satisfaction of owning a car.

The same kind of attention should be paid to the transmission and the rear axle. Dirty oil acts like a grit compound, grinding and wearing on the working parts. Loose chattering gears, noisy transmission and rear axles can usually be traced to improper lubrication.

CANADA ATTAINS OFFICIAL NATIONHOOD

With the signing of the recent fisheries treaty with the United States, Canada has officially achieved nationhood. For, so far as can be learned, this is the first time in history that Canada has consummated a treaty with a foreign power and has done so entirely on her own responsibility and over her own signature.

From the standpoint of constitutional law this fact indicates that Canada is a sovereign power, absolute control of foreign relations being the distinguishing factor in defining a sovereign power. It is well that this should be so. And it is well that Canadians should thoroughly understand it.

Canadian affairs cannot be directed from England any more than English affairs could be directed from Canada. To recognize this fact (cannot by any stretch of the imagination be construed into a declaration of unfriendliness towards Britain. Canada is bound into the Empire by economic interest which is more powerful than blood, friendship or any sentiment. Nor does such recognition need to lessen the gratitude that Canadians must feel for the protection and interest with which Britain has guided Canada's destinies in regard to foreign relationships in the past.—Vancouver Sun.

RECEIPT TAX TO GO; CHECK TAX REDUCED

Important Changes in Stamp Taxes Are Being Forecast for the Budget

Rumors of two or three more or less drastic changes in business taxes are discussed in an Ottawa special to Canadian Grocer. These are said to be:

- 1. Cancellation of the Receipt Tax.
2. Cancellation of the Excise Tax on beverages and confectionery.
3. Change in stamp tax on cheques, documents, etc. This change would be maintaining the present 2c. stamp on cheques up to $100 and above that, 4c. only, instead of the present graded scale.

The government has secured a much greater revenue from the Sales Tax than it anticipated, which leaves it in a position to make some changes in those taxes that have proven more or less of an annoyance to business men.—Financial Post.

THE SCHOOL NURSE

An informal meeting of the members of the Council and medical men of the town was held at the Council Chamber on Monday evening to confer with Dr. Jost, the Provincial Health Officer. An effort was made some time ago to have the work of examining the children of the public school done by Miss Harry, the Victorian Order Nurse, thus relieving the County Nurse for more effective work in other parts of the county. Up to the present time it has been impossible to have the necessary arrangements made with the provincial department of public health, and last year no examination was made of the public school pupils.

At the meeting on Monday evening the whole situation was thoroughly discussed and Dr. Jost agreed to give permission to have our schools looked after by Miss Harry, on the condition that the program of the District Nurse would in no way be jeopardized in consequence. Because of the very decided advantage which Miss Harry will have for follow up work the concession obtained will materially ensure more effective care of the health of the school children of this community during the coming year, and at the same time release the District Nurse to more effectively carry on her work in the rural sections of the county.

At a special meeting of the Council on Monday evening Councillor Eaton was appointed a member of the Clinic Committee for the county, in place of Dr. Elliott, whose appointment was discovered to be illegal.

Alcott's world-famous story, in four acts by Marion De Forrest, will be presented by the Department of Expression of Acadia Ladies' Seminary, under the direction of Miss Evelyn Cogswell and Miss Evelyn Smallman. "Little Women" was produced with tremendous success by Wm. A. Brady at the "Playhouse", New York, under the stage direction of Jessie Bonstelle, where it enjoyed a long run, and was afterwards toured for several seasons. The play is as charming and sweet as a day in June and breathes freshness and purity in every line. THE ACADIAN predicts for its production in Wolfville a generous attendance.

"THE CROWN (THE LIQUOR VENDORS COMMISSION) CAN DO NO WRONG"

(From our Special Correspondent.)
Press Gallery, House of Assembly, Halifax, April 11th.—No, this is not a quotation from the latest Irish joke-book or coon yarns. It was a solemn declaration made by the Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, in the House of Assembly on the evening of Monday, April 9th, 1923.

The House had gone into Committee of Supply and the question of salaries to J. A. Knight came up.
Mr. Corning objected to any one man drawing two or more salaries from the Government. He said that this had been objected to year after year, yet it continued, particularly with reference to Mr. Knight, who is drawing a salary of $1,500 as Inspector in connection with the Nova Scotia Temperance Act, and another salary of $3,500 as Game and Forest Commissioner. Mr. Corning said that if the two posts were necessary they should be held by two different men. He also said that he could not understand what Mr. Knight did to earn the $1,500 as Inspector in connection with the Nova Scotia Temperance Act.

The Attorney-General said he was a Deputy Minister and only getting the same salary as other deputies such as Mr. Mathers, Deputy Attorney-General, and Mr. Barnstead, Deputy Provincial Secretary.

It transpires however that J. A. Knight, K. C. only devotes part of his time to the duties of his $5,000 job, giving as much time as he desires to his private business.

Mr. Corning then asked the Attorney-General what the duties of Mr. Knight were in connection with the enforcement of the law. In case of a person or company wishing to import or export liquor, would they deal with the Dominion Government or Mr. Knight? The Attorney-General replied, "The Dominion Government". Mr. Corning further enquired who had jurisdiction in case of sale within the Province. The Attorney-General answered, "Mr. Knight".

Mr. Corning referred to the business of the Atlantic Import & Export Company, whom, he stated, had a legal right to import and export liquors; but that they had no legal right to sell within the Province. It was common knowledge that this company sold liquor to the Liquor Vendors Commission and that Mr. Knight was aware of it. "Why did Mr. Knight not take action?" asked Mr. Corning.

"Then came a most astounding reply.

CONSIDER THE ACORN

The Attorney-General, Mr. O'Hearn, asserted with the greatest composure. "It was not necessary as the Liquor Vendors represented the Crown and the Crown (The Liquor Vendors Commission), can do no wrong". What the people of Nova Scotia will think of this amazing declaration by the "New Broom" Attorney-General, with reference to the Liquor Vendors Commission remains to be seen.

With what hope influential bootleggers will now be inspired. If they have a little pull, they can sell to "The Liquor Vendors Commission who can do no wrong" according to the Attorney-General, and Presto—All parties are absolved from the operations of the Act.

THE VALUE OF SPRING CULTIVATION

It has been found by experience that the cultivation of the surface soil early in the spring is a very desirable practice. Not only does it destroy many of the hardier weeds and grasses which begin growth early, but it gives the air freer access into the soil, warming it up much more rapidly than if it were left compact, and thus favouring early growth of the plant, whether it be a fruit tree, bush fruit, or herbaceous perennial.

By cultivating the soil early in the spring, also, moisture will be conserved, and later in the season the moisture saved in this way might make a difference in the value of the crop. Moreover, the loosening of the soil early in the spring makes it possible for rain to sink rapidly into the ground and so prevent much evaporation of it which otherwise might take place. By cultivating very early and then cultivating again after spring rains conditions should be favourable for growth. Sometimes just at blooming time, or as the fruit is setting, there is a very dry period. If there is a good supply of moisture in the soil and the surface is loosened by cultivation the chances of a good set of fruit will be much greater than if the conditions were just the reverse.

Because of the great transpiration of moisture from a growing cover crop in an orchard in spring, it is of importance, where the soil is liable to get too dry, to plough under the cover crop early in spring rather than to wait until there is a large crop of green material to plough under, as by that time much of the precious moisture supply will have gone into the air. Plan then to begin cultivation as soon as it is possible to get on the land.

WHAT MADE ME HAPPY

"I was congratulating myself that I had passed the winter without catching a cold, when I got one at the beginning of last May. It was because I was run down. Being run down I had some trouble in getting rid of this cold. I was a nervous wreck. I would wake up regularly mornings feeling that some terrible calamity would take place. Although we were comfortably off, I felt sure my husband was going to lose everything. The children worried me, if they made the least noise, I would get into a terrible temper. I would scold them so that I am sure they hated me. I would be mad with myself after it was over and make up my mind never to let it happen again. I would go to bed at night and begin to think and picture dreadful things which might happen to me and my family. I would lay awake for hours, sometimes until daylight, until I was so weak that I could scarcely raise my head. I would waken next day just as tired as when I laid down. After a while I got so that I didn't care what happened. The children annoyed me and I wouldn't have cared if they had left me for good. I felt that it was only a matter of time before I would lose my mind. I knew that my symptoms were due to a run down condition and that if I could only get something to build me up, I might be all right. I knew that there must be some good tonic but most of them made such foolish claims that I was afraid of them. Happening one day to run across a leaflet about Carnol, I was impressed with the moderate way this preparation was described, so I made up my mind I would try it. I did and lo and behold I am the happiest and healthiest woman living. I haven't a care in the world. Instead of running away from me, my children are now with me all the time. My husband tells me that my disposition is as near an angel's as any human being's can be, but of course he is prejudiced. I don't believe I have a nerve in my body now."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 6-822

KNOCKS HIS OWN CONSTITUENCY IN PARLIAMENT

(From our Special Correspondent)
 Press Gallery, House of Assembly, Halifax, April 11th.—It is seldom such a sorry spectacle has been witnessed in the legislature of this Province as that which occurred recently, when the New Provincial Secretary, Hon. D. A. Cameron Member for Victoria County, in his subservience to the Premier, found it necessary to back him to the extent of joining in an onslaught against his own constituency of Victoria and the adjoining County of Inverness. It remained for the member from Richmond, Dr. John McDonald, to champion the cause of Victoria.

The House had gone into Supply and the Government was rushing through the estimates. The Crown Lands Department came under consideration when Mr. Corning said he had asked important questions concerning the Crown Lands of Victoria and Inverness to which no replies had been given, and he objected to further consideration of these items until his questions were answered.

Mr. Corning pointed out that in the questions asked, was a copy from a recent prospectus of the American Company holding that vast domain of 600,000 acres of Cape Breton Crown Lands, stating that they contained six million cords of the finest pulpwood or enough to run a sulphite pulp mill of the size proposed for over a hundred years. If this were true it would be a perpetual supply, as the natural growth of the wood would more than keep itself reproduced in such a period of time. Yet the Government was permitting this wood to be exported to the United States, contrary to the terms on which these lands were granted.

The Premier, Mr. Armstrong, stated that it was impracticable to establish pulp mills in Victoria or Inverness. The country was inaccessible for the greater part of the year, and chemicals and supplies for such a mill could not be gotten into the country except in the summer, and that sufficient chemicals could not be stored as they would spoil. Besides, he said, there was no means of transportation by land or sea, as there were no harbors on these coasts, there was no water power and coal could not be gotten to such mills. Altogether in the opinion of the Premier it was a most barren and God-forsaken country. The Premier contended that a good bargain had been made with the company and that the only thing to do was to export the pulpwood to the United States, which he considered was good business. The Government was getting a rental of $6,000 per year and that this winter there were some 350 men and 200 horses in the woods.

Dr. John McDonald, the member for Richmond County, then took up the cudgels for Cape Breton. Dr. McDonald said that when the lease of these vast Crown Land areas in Victoria and Inverness had been given to Mr. Barnjum, Mr. Barnjum had an experienced pulp and paper expert go into the whole matter. As a result of this investigation it was considered thoroughly feasible to establish pulp mills and manufacture pulp and paper there. Dr. McDonald expressed great surprise that the government by an Order-in-Council, had taken upon itself to break this agreement, if it were entered into in good faith on behalf of the people of Nova Scotia, to establish pulp and paper mills in our own Province and give employment to some thousands of our people, instead of exporting the wood to the United States to give employment to thousands of people across the American border.

Hon. D. A. Cameron, the member for Victoria County, then arose in his place, not to advocate the interests of his own constituency and the adjacent County of Inverness; but at once declared that he endorsed every word that the Premier had said concerning the inaccessibility of the country for the greater part of the year, and its unsuitability for the establishment of pulp and paper mills. He said there was no water or other power and that all the harbors were frozen up during the whole winter, there was no coal near and not even enough water for the manufacture of sulphite pulp. If anything, he painted even a blacker picture of that desolate country than Mr. Armstrong.

On being plied with questions by Dr. McDonald concerning the nature and whereabouts of the leases of these Crown Lands and their not being available in 1913, Mr. Cameron finally threw up his hands and said that he was new to the office and was not yet familiar with all the details.

Dr. McDonald said it was incomprehensible how the Provincial Secretary, Mr. Cameron, could try to lead this House and country to believe that Victoria and Inverness Counties were such desolate and desperate sections, that mill supplies could not be gotten into it and that there was not even coal or other means of generating power near the place. Was the Honorable gentleman not aware that the great Sydney coal mines were within 40 or 50 miles and that there was an abundance of the best coal to be found in Nova Scotia in Inverness.

Was neither the Premier or Mr. Cameron aware that there was a splendid harbor at St. Ann's, and also harbors at Ingonish, Neil's Harbor and Bay St. Lawrence? There is also a water power on the St. Ann's River and an abundance of water in the Margaree River and numerous other rivers in the north. At Sydney there were also extensive chemical works from which abundant supplies for a sulphite pulp mill could be had, and the sulphite is the finer and more expensive product. Had they also lost sight of the magnificent harbor at Sydney?

Dr. McDonald said he could not understand how Mr. Cameron could stand up in the House and defend the action of the government in trotting a large industry in his own constituency. The original lease given of these lands required that the material be manufactured in Victoria County and about 1900 an Order-in-Council was passed making the lease 99 years instead of 30 years. The government now enters into a species of jugglery. Observe the progress. First an innocent short lease and a guarantee to manufacture the material on the ground, then a long term lease in 1900, then in 1904 another Order-in-Council is passed enabling the company to export the pulpwood by merely stripping the bark off, which for the purpose of evading the terms of their lease would be considered as manufactured product.

This was very wrong and should never have been permitted. As a result of it the Counties of Victoria and Inverness have been robbed of an important industry which might now be employing several thousand people, and these counties be increasing instead of decreasing in population as they have been doing for 30 years, and the trade of Nova Scotia as a whole would have been correspondingly enriched.

Ex-Attorney Daniels who has been in the limelight before, on the question of Crown Lands, took a hand in the debate. Mr. Daniels stated that these lands were practically nothing but a great barren plateau with a few streams running through it and a few trees along their banks. He considered that he (Mr. Daniels) had made a good bargain when he leased these lands at what equals one cent per acre per annum.

Dr. McDonald replied that it would be more profitable if Mr. Daniels would read the report of that great timber expert Dr. Fernow rather than rehearse the arguments used in the House in 1912 and 1913. While the Ex-Attorney General, Mr. Daniels, was in office, Dr. McDonald said, pulpwood enough was floated down St. Ann's River in one year to manufacture about $5,000,000 worth of pulp.

According to Dr. Fernow's report; Dr. McDonald stated, there are between 50 and 60 cords of pulpwood per acre on this land. This would give a total of 36 million cords. Surely a handsome donation to the industrial life of the United States, which if kept and manufactured into pulp and paper in our own Province would have kept home some thousands of our young men and women.

The Belleville, Ont., Weekly Intelligencer discontinued publication recently on account of the scarcity of experienced help.

Ridgetown, Ont., is the latest place to join the ranks of one-newspaper cities and towns, the Plaindealer having been taken over by the Dominion. The same old reason—increase in the cost of paper, machinery, type, and the scarcity of experienced help.

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

Miss Muriel Starr, of Starr's Point, has returned to Montreal, where she will again take up her training for a nurse, in the "Royal Victoria" Hospital. Margurite Taylor, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Taylor, is quite ill with a cold.

Prof. Blair, of Kentville, gave an interesting and instructive lecture in Temperance Hall, on Thursday evening, to the farmers in and around Port Williams, subject, "Care and Protection of fruit trees girdled by mice."

The house belonging to J. W. Harvey, and lately occupied by Ray Fraser, is again occupied, by a Mr. Wilson and family, late of England.

Rev. O. N. Chipman, Deacons T. J. Borden and Aubrey B. Rand, attended the meeting of the Maritime convention held in Moncton N. B. re "Federation of Colleges."

The "Lily of the Valley" Division, No. 440, had an unusually busy session last Monday. During the evening four new members were initiated.

The "Diggers" Sunday School class (Mr. H. R. Holding) was entertained by the "Sunshine" class (Miss Laura M. Hanson) at the latter's home. A very pleasant evening was spent in playing games and working out puzzles. The "Diggers" won in the puzzle contest, the prize being a box of chocolates, which they promptly shared with the Sunshine Girls. After this refreshments were served of ice cream and cake, and at 10 o'clock they all scattered to their different homes, feeling happy, but tired.

News reached here on Thursday of the death of one of our esteemed residents, Mrs. Annie Chase, who has of late been residing in Bridgetown with her niece Mrs. Ralph Donaldson. Mrs. Chase had been feeling not well all winter, and had the misfortune of breaking her hip during the winter, yet the news of her death was a great shock to the community, which extends sympathy to the bereaved ones.

St. John's Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, April 18th, at 7.30 o'clock, when Mr. Ralph Regan and Miss Jessie E. Garland were joined together in the bonds of holy wedlock by the Rector, Rev. Gordon C. Brown. The church was packed to its doors to witness the ceremony. The surpliced choir preceded the bridal party, which came in to the strains of Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Lucy Cogswell. The bride and groom were attended by Dixon Regan, brother of the groom, and Mattie Regan, sister of the groom. The bride was given away by Mr. George Foote, of Kentville. After the ceremony a reception was given Mr. and Mrs. Regan and friends, in Parish Hall. When this was over they left with hosts of good wishes for their own home on Belcher street, where they were again welcomed by the Sunday School classes of the Bride and Groom. We wish them long life and happiness.

FINED FOR SHOOTING WILD GEESE

On April 9th one of the local officers apprehended four men who were hunting wild geese on the Starr's Point marshes. The four guns were seized and on Monday the offenders appeared in the court room at Wolfville before Stipendiary Harris and plead "guilty" to their charges. According to the law they were liable to a penalty of from $10 to $300 for each offence but in view of the fact that this was their first infringement the magistrate imposed the minimum in each case.

In their northward flight the wild geese are being held up at many points on account of the ice conditions which are being encountered farther north and it is reported that the birds are exceedingly poor.

NATIVE OF GRAND PRE PROVIDES MUSICAL TREAT FOR HALIFAX CONGREGATION

Those who attended the services at St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church, Halifax Sunday last enjoyed a musical treat. St. Matthews, it is said, possesses the best organ east of Montreal, and the organist at both services was Prof. Hiram Ball of Charlottetown, P. E. I. Prof. Ball also gave an organ recital at the close of the evening service.

But St. Matthews had another attraction on Sunday; in the person of the New York tenor soloist, Mr. Austin M. Beattie, who had come to Halifax to hear some of his friends and fellow artists from New York, who were singing at the Philharmonic Concerts.

Mr. Beattie who is a native of Grand Pre, has studied under some of the best teachers in New York, Milan (Italy), and London (England), and possesses a voice of great range, power, and beauty.

At the morning service, Mr. Beattie, who was in fine voice, delighted his audience with the solo "Open the Gates of the Temple". His high notes were sung in clear, ringing tones, and his Mezza Voce in the concluding strain—"I, too, shall live"—was a thing not easily forgotten.

The obligato tenor solo in Roberts' "Seek ye the Lord" was sung by Mr. Beattie in a beautiful legato style, and in the phrase "He will have mercy" the singer's voice was full of pathos.

In the evening the church was packed to the doors, and many had to be turned away for lack of room. At the close of this service, Prof. Ball gave an excellent programme consisting of selections from the works of Handel, Rossini, Gullmunt, Greig, and Thomas, and Mr. Beattie rendered the tenor solo, "Be thou faithful until death", (from Mendelssohn's Overture "St. Paul") in a fine dramatic style, which showed him to be an artist in the realm of Oratorio.

MISS ARCHIBALD SPEAKS AT TRURO

TRURO, April 16—The Assembly Hall of the Colchester County Academy was overtaxed to capacity this evening when Miss Rosamond Archibald, of Acadia University, fired the first shot in Truro of the better English week campaign, the outcome of the new method of teaching English by means of daily drill which was discovered by Miss Archibald, who made an appeal to a representative body of schools and citizens with pleasing results. She challenged the teachers and parents to throw off the old methods which have brought but indifferent results in the matter of daily speech, and to use the drill method for one month and discover marvellous results.

ASSESSMENT

It is very unfortunate to have in any town a large number of people, calling themselves citizens, who are determined not to pay their just share of the town's expenses. We have such a class in Wolfville, namely the merchants, who have so manipulated the municipal powers as to get clear of the income taxes justly assessed to them. Now the law states (we are sorry to say) that income derived from property liable to taxation shall not be assessed. The assessors for this year have not assessed any income so derived. The assessors cannot assess any goods that the merchant has not got when the assessment is made; but income, derived from goods bought and sold before the assessment is filed; is certainly liable to taxation. There can be no income derived from goods on hand, except perhaps they have been marked up in price while on the shelves which did not happen this year. Now for any town councillors to so interpret the law as to exempt merchants from taxes on their income, is to leave only two explanations possible: they are either managed by outside suggestion or they do not understand their mother tongue.

"THE GLORIOUS FOOL"

Drama and comedy have been excellently combined in the new Mary Roberts Rinehart picture, "The Glorious Fool", a Goldwyn picture, coming to the Opera House next Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Rinehart, whose stories have appeared in all the larger American magazines, expressed her delight with the photoplay version of her story that was directed by Mr. E. Mason Hopper. The action of the story takes place in a hospital, and so realistic are the scenes, that when Mrs. Rinehart saw them she exclaimed:

"Why, it is unbelievably perfect. And isn't Helene Chadwick delightful?"

Those who are fortunate enough to see "The Glorious Fool" will understand the author's enthusiasm upon seeing her story on the screen.

The sympathetic little nurse, the rich patient she marries to prevent his despair, the head nurse, the "dummy", the head interne, the wards—every detail,

GREENWICH NEWS

Congratulations are again in order, this time to Mr. W. Davidson, the brother Editor of our paper, THE ACADIAN. We extend to Mr. Davidson and bride true congratulations and wish them the best in their future together.

With the cold weather and frozen ground of last week end, the big snow storm also hail on Monday morning, we think old winter thought we had asked for encores.

Mr. Philip Bishop arrived home last Wednesday afternoon, from Norwich, Connecticut, where he has spent the last six weeks. Philip arrived in Yarmouth on Tuesday, but owing to the freshets on the D. A. R. in Annapolis County, he had to stop over in Annapolis until the next day.

Mrs. Frederick Baker, of Wolfville, accompanied by her sister Miss Hawley, of St. John, N. B., who has been her guest for a time, visited here last Wednesday, at the home of their friend, Mrs. George L. Bishop.

Mrs. T. A. Pearson entertained a number of the ladies at "afternoon tea" last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Forsythe and family moved into Mrs. Ada Forsythe's house last week, which they have rented for a year, Mr. Forsythe having sold his farm on "the Ridge" to a Mr. Gough, of Halifax, who we understand has taken immediate possession.

Mr. Dexter Forsythe, who very recently sold his residence and a part of his farm to Mr. Orr, of Avonport, plans to build a house for himself and family just west of his old home.

in fact, is true to life. It would be unfair to disclose the charming plot of Mrs. Rinehart's story. That is a surprise which the patrons of the Opera House will enjoy from beginning to end.
