DAIRY COWS.

C. P. Goodrich Tells How to Feed Them For Profit.

(From Farmer's Advocate.)
I believe that the true way to feed dairy cows for profit—and profit is what we are all after—is to feed the proper food for the production of milk to the full capacity of the animal power to digest, assimilate and manufacture these foods into milk. This way of feeding or "forcing," as some term it, is objected to by some on the ground that this cow machine will sooner be worn out. Suppose for a moment that position is correct. Is there a sensible man who would think of running any other machine that takes a certain number of hours to attend, and a certain amount of power to get up speed enough to do any work at all, who would run his machine at one-fourth or one-half its capacity, for the sake of making his machine last a little longer?

PROFITABLE FEEDING.
Then suppose you had a steam thrasher that could do first class work up to 1,500 bushels a day as its limit. Is there any man who would think it economy to run such a machine with only steam enough to thresh 500 bushels a day for the sake of prolonging its life a year or two? It would take nearly as much fuel to get up steam, the same engineer, the same feeder and the same attendant, but his machine might last 11 years instead of 10. Such a man would undoubtedly pronounce foolishly, but in my opinion he would be wise compared with the man who would run his cow machine at anything less than its full capacity. The cow, unlike the thrasher, improves by use, for animal nature has the faculty to adapt itself to the stress to which it is put to a certain limit. In other words, the more the better milk you manage to make a cow give, the more and better milk she can give until that limit is reached, as you develop her capacity to do so, and this improvement will be, in a measure, transmitted to her progeny. In other words, the more the better milk you manage to make a cow give, the more and better milk she can give until that limit is reached, as you develop her capacity to do so, and this improvement will be, in a measure, transmitted to her progeny. ## HAD TWO WIVES.

Thomas Gough Had a Wife at Halifax and Another at Chicago.

Some two decades ago, Thomas Gough came to Halifax from Chicago and traveled about the city, peddling goods. Afterwards he went into the retail liquor business in Halifax and later on became interested in gold mining ventures throughout the province.

He was believed to be a single man, and when he was a widowed lady of Halifax named Proulx, and eventually she had been a widow but two weeks.

Two months ago Gough died, and since it has developed that all these years there has been living another Mrs. Gough, who could claim him as her husband, for when Gough went away from Chicago he left there his wife and son and two daughters. These four are still living, and now comes the strangest part of all. When Gough died his brother came on here from Chicago and accidentally learned that one of the girls living in this city and is married to a respectable young man. Her people in Chicago thought the young lady was living in England with an aunt, but it appears her father was in some way getting possession of her and brought her to Halifax. Gough has it that the wife of Gough knew nothing about Thomas. Gough having been a bigamist until her brother-in-law's return there after the funeral in this city, though it is said that wife No. 1 once visited Chicago and was induced to go back to Chicago without exposing her husband.

The son is a machinist, and has a lucrative position in Chicago. By the second wife Gough had no children, and his legitimate family are taking steps to get possession of the woman here, and to this end have written here that legal talent will be secured to ascertain what can be done.

Gough evidently expected something like this for his wife's precautions to secure the custody of the woman here, he called his wife, for most of his property was placed in her name, and he made such provision that the cash he had, went to her also. Shortly before his death he transferred to another party his interest in a small business, and his share of the sale of which was $17,000. There has been some talk about the will having been made and a well known saloon keeper in this city, who was supposed to know something about it, was written to but he refused to say anything about the matter at all.

Here the affair rests for the present, though what further action may bring litigation remains to be seen.—Telegraph.

IN THE ROLE OF JONAH.

Lowered into an Elephant's Stomach to Remove An Indigestible Iron Bar.

Propos to the incident of the death of Zipp, the big elephant at Baraboo, Wis., from having swallowed a chain weighing 90 pounds, a reminder was called up and recalled by Dr. Hume of Denver, who registered at the Lindell.

"Just prior to the demise of the lamented Phineas T. Barnum I was touring in Connecticut and called upon the great showman at Bridgeport, who invited me to see the circus animals in winter quarters. On arriving at the great extravaganza where the wonders that tour the country year after year are stored, the illustrious owner was informed that Beta, the prize trick elephant was ailing. All the symptoms of the poor beast pointed to the fact that she was suffering from acute gastritis and means had been tried to relieve her without avail.

"It was finally discovered that Beta had been smothered with an iron bar from her stall, and as it could not be found it was surmised that she had swallowed it, and which accounted for the gastric irritation of the valuable pachyderm.

"Mr. Barnum saw that poor Beta must soon succumb to the inflammation caused by such a large foreign body and with ready wit resorted on a unique plan to remove it. Attached to his large winter stable was a small corner by which went by the name of Nigger Joe. He was a little larger than a full-grown possum, and P. T. sent him and explained that he must take a rubber tube in his mouth to breathe through, and with a rope round his waist, must go down into the elephant's stomach to get out that iron bar.

"Joe rolled his eyes and demurred, but he knew his employer too well to refuse. Accordingly Joe was appointed with a pound of vaseline and Beta being safely gagged, he was gently pushed down the giant's esophageal head first, a smooth stick well oiled leading him to the bottom. According to instructions, the boy soon gave three tugs at the rope to be pulled out again, and sure enough, tightly clasped in Joe's hands, was the offending iron indigestible iron bar. It was needless to say that Nigger Joe was handsomely rewarded for his cure of the valuable elephant's indigestion."

BLANKETS.

TO PRODUCE MILK as economically as possible, try to provide the necessary variety in the food which will cost the least, having due regard also to the health of the cow and the quality of the milk. It is not necessary to feed her on corn and bran; but if two tons of oats will buy three tons of bran, then I make the exchange. Chemical analysis seems to indicate that good clean wheat bran is fully as good as the milk produced, but my observation seems to prove that oats are, at least, a little better. Corn is usually a very cheap grain food, but it is too carbonaceous and should not be used for more than about one-third of the grain ration. Corn on the cob makes a very well cared for cow; but it is not of itself a perfect ration, and needs to be balanced up with bran or oats or clover hay.

CAREFULNESS IS PROFIT.
I have been trying to show you how I feed my dairy cows, but I am sensible that I have failed to give you more than a slight glimpse of it, for each cow has her own individual capacity, which differs from every other cow, which must be studied by close observation and acquaintance, before the feeder is able to do the best that can be done. I never could tell anybody just how to feed my cows. I never saw any instructions to have as much grain fed as I feed, for no one who is not intensely interested in it and in full sympathy, I might term it, with the cows, will be able to feed just right. Some cow might be fed a little too much grain, and it is not observed until she refuses to eat, when it will probably be too late—her digestive organs permanently injured. When I wish to instruct anybody how to feed my cows, I have to go, taking him with me, and show him, and show him more than once, too.

I will see what I can do to further give you an idea of how I feed. If I only had my cows here I believe I could show you. If I only had you down there it would do as well, and I will have to take you there in imagination.

You may just say to yourself as you have a mind to, if you only take the cows well. Now just imagine yourselves all down with my house three years ago, before I had a silo, because silos are not very plenty here, and I want you to know how I fed them then. You will have to get up at half past five in the morning, and go with me to the stable. I shall take some good clover hay and put it in the manger. You observe that I give more to one cow than I do to another. I know just about how much they will eat, and I want to give each cow all she will eat up without leaving any to breathe on.

TURNIPS FOR DAIRY CATTLE.

I formerly thought I could feed turnips of any kind to dairy cattle in moderate quantities without injuring the quality of the milk or butter. My method was to begin with one or two turnips per cow daily from day to day as the cows became accustomed to them. I did this many years with seldom any ill result. If I overfed or fed irregularly giving large quantities at first before the cows had become accustomed to them, there would sometimes be a perceptible turnip taste in the milk. Some persons are strongly prejudiced against turnips, and I have heard of many instances where the taste was wholly in the imagination of those who thought turnips were being fed when they were not; I have heard too of a few cases where turnips have been fed unknown to the customers of the milk or butter, and the consumers have specially prized the goods and knew they were no turnips at all.

With sufficient care in beginning in a moderate way I should not hesitate to feed turnips to dairy cattle that were producing milk for market, yet when I was selling butter at two or three times ordinary prices I did not dare to take the risk of any possible mistake in feeding, and so gave up turnips entirely. Could I always have done the feeding properly I might have continued their use. I have known the quality of butter to be injured by turning cows directly from a lush and juicy rank pasture feed without accustomed them to the change. I have also known the same result to follow the use of green, ripe, and clover. To have milk perfect the health of the cow must be perfect. It is not necessary to feed her by irregular feeding or by over feeding or by too sudden changes. Some men succeed in almost everything they undertake, others never do anything well. These last can never feed turnips safely.—New England Farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, of Victoria Corner, Carleton court, stopped here on their way down river last week to visit the friends at their former homes in Carleton Place and Woodville.

George and Wm. D. Jones, of captain David Weston, are home at present. The former has been in Texas for some time and the latter has been spending the winter in Boston.

Rev. Joseph Noble preached in the F. C. Baptist church here yesterday.

William McGowan, an old resident of Greenfield, passed away on Saturday. The burial took place at Pine Grove today, rev. A. C. Dennis officiating.

The Willing Workers have a ticket sale on Tuesday evening, the 28th inst. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Baptist church.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

When leaving his home at Springfield, Ill., to be inaugurated president of the United States, he made a farewell address to his old friends and neighbors, in which he said, "NEIGHBORS GIVE YOUR BEST A CHANCE."

These words come to us as much force today as they did then.

How then should we live? We should live in the Northwest is a great empire waiting for young and sturdy fellows to come and develop it and "grow up with the country." All over this broad and fertile land, the boys that Lincoln referred to, seeking to better their condition and get on in life.

The country referred to lies along the Northern Pacific R. R. Here you can find pretty much anything you want. In Minnesota, and in the Red River Valley, or North Dakota, the finest of prairie lands fitted for wheat and grain, or as well for diversified farming. In Western North Dakota, and Montana, are stock ranges limited in extent, clothed with the most nutritious of grasses.

If a fruit farming region is wanted there is the whole state of Washington to select from.

As for scenic delights the Northern Pacific Railroad passes through a country unparalleled. In crossing the Rocky, Bitter Root and Cascade mountains, the greatest mountain scenery to be seen in the United States from the car window is found. The wonderful bad lands, wonderful in graceful form and glowing color, are a poem. Lakes Pend Oreille and Clear Lake, are alone worthy of a trans-continental trip, while they are the fishermen's Ultima Thule. The ride along Clark's Fork of the Columbia river is a daylight dream. To see the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone, the far-famed Yellowstone Park.

To reach and see all this the Northern Pacific Railroad furnishes trains and service unsurpassed elsewhere. The most approved and comfortable Palace Sleeping cars; the best Dining cars that can be made; Pullman Tourist cars good for both first and second class passengers; easy riding Day coaches, with Baggage Express, and Postal cars all drawn by powerful Baldwin Locomotives, make a train fit for royalty itself.

Those seeking for new homes should take this train and go and see the land. To be prepared, write to

ALLEGED CASE OF BIGAMY.

The Halifax Evening Mail publishes the particulars of a case of bigamy.

Julian Fielding who is now in St. John with his wife and three children, has another wife, who is living with her parents in Dartmouth, across the harbor from Halifax, at present. He married wife No. 2 on July 29, 1892, rev. Mr. Moore, Methodist, officiating. Wife No. 1 knows of this second marriage, and the way she discovered it was this: One day, about four months ago, her husband gave her a pair of pants to mend. While making the repairs, she discovered a letter in the pockets written by wife No. 2. It began, "My dear Mr. Fielding, I was signed, 'Your ever loving wife Min.' Wife No. 1, armed with her letter, called on wife No. 2, when a scene ensued. On Saturday, Fielding tried to persuade wife No. 2 to accompany him to St. John, but failing in his purpose he took wife No. 1 and his three children. They can now be found at twenty-six Winter street. Fielding married wife No. 2 under the assumed name of Sedgewick.

A reporter called at 26 Winter street at noon yesterday. A young man named Fielding was questioned concerning the bigamy story. He told the reporter that the right name of the man was Joshua Sedgewick, but that he had been brought up by his (Fielding's) parents and was often called Fielding. The young man admitted that he had been married Saturday last, bringing a woman and three children with him. He knew that some trouble had occurred, but declared that Sedgewick had only one wife, the woman now in Dartmouth. The other woman, who is living with her parents, had never been married to Sedgewick, though they had lived together for years and had three children. Sedgewick is a watchmaker by trade and a native of Halifax. He has been in the city several times, but never worked here.

FREDERICTON, FEBRUARY 25, 1893.

MR. PITTS AND THE GRAND LODGE.

The grand lodge of the orangemen of New Brunswick has been in session in this city during the week. A large amount of interest centered in the meeting of the grand lodge this year, as it was understood that several matters of more than ordinary importance would come up for consideration. During the year the Bathurst school question, so called, had been brought prominently to the front, and an effort had been made in certain quarters to work up a religious war between the Catholics and the Protestants, on account of the refusal of the government to interfere in the management of the public school in Bathurst, where it was alleged certain abuses of the free schools act existed. The agitation took the form in York county, of a violent crusade against the government in the provincial election. One H. H. Pitts, the county master, Mr. Wood, assisted by a few other equally ignorant and excitable individuals, worked upon the weaker minded orangemen of this county to such an extent as to secure for himself a nomination. Once nominated he flooded the county with religious and false literature of an inflammatory nature; and in company with others of his class, made a house to house canvass as the champion of protestantism, alleging that the Blair government was in league with the pope, and had promised the Catholics to establish separate schools if returned to power. To their everlasting disgrace the opposition candidates for York allied with Pitts and took him on their ticket. With the assistance of an unlimited supply of rum and money the "religious city" carried the day in York, and attorney general Blair and his colleagues were defeated at the polls.

Mr. Blair, satisfied that the cry which had been raised against him in York, and which he had not had an opportunity to meet and answer, was a false as well as a dangerous one to the peace and happiness of the province, and with a desire to meet the enemy in fair fight and to vanquish or vanquished, went to Queens, the hotbed of orangemen, and sought election. Pitts and his gang immediately followed him and again tried to stir up the feeling of the people of Queens by the same methods he had resorted to in York, in the interest of his nominee, Mr. Neales, the county master of Queens. The people, however, after hearing both sides of the story, refused to listen to the inflammatory speeches of the gang that went down from York, and Neales lost his deposit.

Pitts, who had sneaked home in the shades of the evening preceding the election, was understood to be waiting for the grand lodge to meet, when he intended to take charge of the whole business. He was going to call upon the grand lodge to condemn those members of the order, who being members of the house of assembly, had refused to present to the house the petition of the protestant minority of Bathurst; the government was to be censured for dismissing an incompetent official who belonged to the order, and then totally annihilated for their alleged persecution of the protestants of the province; and above all, he said Pitts was to be elected grand master, with all the powers of a dictator.

But before the grand lodge had been many hours in session a change passed over the spirit of Herman's dream. The great crowd that gathered when the vote was taken which was to consign brothers Wilson and Colter to the ante room. Scarcely a decent corporal's guard rallied to support of Pitts's resolution, while the great body of the lodge stood by the men who had stood by the principles of the order when Pitts was in his cradle. He began to realize about how large a man he was in the opinion of his brother orangemen when the election for grand master was over. Outside of the baker's dozen of leaders who were trusted in from the city, only three men in the whole grand lodge wrote his name on their ballot. The resolution which was to bind up brother Lipsett's broken wounds was mournfully removed from the files of the lodge, and the great vote of censure on the government failed to materialize.

It is said that Pitts has been going around in a dazed kind of a way ever since. He was badly set upon. In all the province there will be no tears and no regrets at his severe punishment. It was well deserved. To satisfy his desire for revenge he wilfully misrepresented brothers whose honor he was in duty bound to protect; to advance his own selfish ends he deliberately prostituted the order whose principles he was sworn to uphold, and trailed her banner in the dirt.

The members of the orange grand lodge will win the approval of all right thinking men in their refusal to tolerate the existence of the Pitts element among them. They had a different way to deal with, but they did their duty like men who felt that a responsibility rested upon them. Their prompt action in the matter has undoubtedly done much to remove the rapidly growing impression that the orange order was degenerating into a dangerous element to the existence of organized society.

AFTER A "SNAP."

We take the following Ottawa despatch from the Halifax Recorder:
OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Thos. Temple, (M. P. for York, N. B.), is making a big effort to secure a position for Wm. Lipsett, who was recently in the local government employ at Fredericton. As there is no vacancy here or in Fredericton, he proposed to retire or discharge a Fredericton employee to make room for Lipsett.
If there is any truth in the above, what could the job be? We understand Mr. Temple himself wants to be senator. Perhaps Lipsett is Pitts's nominee for rector. If we mistake not, the Reporter recently stated that Messrs. Pitts and Temple had an interview. In the meantime we understand good wages are paid for steamdrivers and men are in great demand.

The Hon. Edward Blake, judging from the reports that come from over the sea, is rapidly forging his way to the front ranks in the arena of imperial politics. He is already spoken of as the leader of the Irish national party. He would, no doubt, make a good leader as long as he had fairly smooth sailing, but would he stand by the ship to the west, in the face of cross waves and adverse winds? His record as leader of the liberal party in Canada would naturally suggest the question.

A COOLNESS.
The attempt made by Messrs. Weldon, Wood, and other ultra loyal members of parliament to interfere with the lieutenant governor of Nova Scotia and the legislature of that province in regard to the coal legislation, seems to have brought about a considerable amount of friction, but in a different quarter and between different parties than was intended by these meddlesome gentlemen. In fact the only visible result of the effort made by these gentlemen to interfere with other people's business is a decided coolness between Sir John Thompson, the premier of Canada, and some of his prominent supporters.

This coolness is very like that which freezes apart two or more gentlemen who have accused one another of swerving from the truth in their story. It all came about in this way: When the matter was referred to on the floors of the house, and the impropriety and indelicacy of the attempt by these gentlemen to approach his excellency in this unheard of way, was being called to the attention of the government, Sir John Thompson, who readily saw the ridiculous and humiliating predicament in which his followers were being placed, came to the rescue, and with a desire to let them down easy, explained to the house that they were merely making an informal call upon his excellency, and in the course of ordinary conversation the matter was referred to. This ingenious explanation, which was the only hole through which the offending gentlemen could decently crawl out of the embarrassing position in which they were placed, unhappily lacked the essential element of truth. In place however, of letting the matter rest there, and gracefully thanking their stars for their preservation, Mr. Weldon and Mr. Wood took the first opportunity of relieving the house of the false impression left by Sir John; and insisted that they called on his excellency for the express purpose of trying to induce him to withhold his consent from the act passed by the Nova Scotia legislature. This was very honest in Messrs. Weldon and Wood, but it was decidedly ungrateful, and terribly rough on Sir John; hence the coolness.

The demand among the people for tariff reform is beginning to bestow itself at last on the conservative side of the Government of Canada. It is getting hurt through the expressions of dissatisfaction that are heard now and then from the right of the speaker since the budget speech. The people are not as well satisfied with Mr. Foster's speech as Mr. Foster himself.

SOUTHAMPTON.
Feb. 20.—THE HERALD is rapidly increasing in circulation in this upper end of the county, and the people are going to try, by generous subscriptions, to make it one of the liveliest newspapers in the province.

Dr. Revelry, of Canterbury Station, is now attending Mrs. Abram Schriver, of Campbell Settlement.
The report—together with his lonely mode of life and place of burial—that hon. Richard Bellamy, whose demise has already been duly chronicled in these columns, gave instructions that "no monument or headstone of any kind" should be placed at his grave, brings to mind a stanza copied some years ago from an old manuscript. It runs thus:

"Here let me live—unseen, unknown,
And undisturbed let me die;
Steal from the world, and not a stone
Tell where I lie."
Charles Dunham put up last fall, and has nearly completed, one of the finest barns in the county. It is 40 x 50, and built so as to hold both horses and cattle in the manner shed running between. In the spring the shingling and painting walls will be finished, and then the total cost will be not less than $500. The water is brought in pipes from a beautiful spring on the hill-side. Mr. D.'s buildings and farms present the picture of an independent New Brunswick farmer.

Among his stalls of fine horses there is a beautiful bay colt rising four, and weighing 1300 lbs., that has been stone blind from birth. She is a fine animal and goes to make up one of his teams in the woods. When asked to work a blind horse, Mr. Dunham laughingly replied: "She depends entirely upon the bit, and will go wherever you run her, if it's right in a brush heap." A visit to Mr. D.'s place, where the warmest hospitality abounds, is a pleasant day's outing. In politics Mr. Dunham is a liberal, both of the old school and the new. He has always been, and is now, an ardent supporter of the Blair government.

Mrs. Byron Cronkite was taken suddenly ill with very severe cramps one morning last week, which confined her to her bed for several days. Dr. Turner, of Eel River was called.
Hull, who for more than a score of years carried on the tanning business at Middle Southampton, left this morning for Boston to take a situation as courier in one of the shops of that city. Mr. Hull was an off-handed, public spirited man and a kind and obliging neighbor. In sickness or trouble no horse was so ready or so fleet as "Tom's." It looks hard for a man at his age of life to strike out with bare hands and begin the world anew. He met with bad luck in business here, and now he goes to woo the fickle "goddess of fortune" in another land. We are sorry to lose him; but wish him success wherever he may go.

Perhaps there is no section of the province so much in need of railway communication as this upper section of the county of York. Teams are hauling hemlock bark all the way from Campbell Settlement to Benton. They go one turn a day; and spend about three quarters of the four and twenty hours on the road. Does a condition of affairs like this have anything to do with the "exodus"? We will have to get our local M. P.'s to see that the York county section of the St. John valley road is in process of construction the coming summer.

At the young people's "social club" a few evenings ago, Miss L. M. Grant repeated from memory the whole of Tennyson's "Locksley Hall." "Dip into the future as far as human eye can see" is now very pat with nearly all the members of the club. Miss Grant's explanation of Tennyson's forecast of the "air ship," in this poem was ingenious as well as interesting. Her natural taste for reading has made her familiar with the standard authors of the day. In memoriam will be read by the president, Mr. Brown the last of the month. Messrs. Cookery and Johnson, of Woodstock, were present one evening, and clearly showed the club that they had not forgotten the polka and quadrille.

Rev. Mr. Gravel preached most acceptably last Sabbath evening in the Reformed Baptist church at Middle Southampton.
A Mr. Whitlock is holding evening meetings at Clark's Corner. He was formerly a salvation army soldier.
Charles Munroe has started a blacksmith shop at Lower Southampton in order to accommodate the people of that section. Charlie is "one of the boys" and will be a good help to the trade.

A. E. Barnham has lost colt—a pacer. She is four years old in the spring.
The wife of Churchill Fox presented him with a fine baby boy the first of the month. Congratulations Church. You must train him up in the way he should go.
Aunt Ann Nevers, (famously so called by everybody) one of our highly respected old ladies, who has been ill during most of the winter, is, we are pleased to learn, convalescent and able to leave her room.

FUTURITY STAKES.
The Nomination for the Hotel Brunswick Futurity Stakes Closes March 1st.

The horsemen and breeders of the Maritime Provinces added to the excitement of the first payment in the Hotel Brunswick Futurity Stakes falls due on Wednesday next, March 1st, when nominations close. Payments must be made to the manager, George McSwenny, at his office, 100 St. John street, Moncton, personally or by registered letter bearing stamp of despatching office of no later date than that above given, March 1st. The conditions of these stakes are, briefly, as follows: The Hotel Brunswick Futurity Stakes, for trotting foals of 1889, 1890, 1891 and 1892, are open to all eligible animals owned in the maritime provinces on or before January 1st, 1893. The fee in each stake are $12.00, payable as follows:—$3.00 on March 1st, when nominations close; $4.00 on June 1st, when animals nominated must be named, and breeding, sex, color and ownership filed; and final payment of $5.00 one week before the race. Any owner can nominate any number of eligible colts and fillies in each or any stake, but can start only one animal in any one class. Fifty dollars will be added to each of the named classes, the purses consisting of the entrance fees and this added money, divided according to the practical and satisfactory conditions laid down in the advertisement. There should be a very large list of well worth contending for, in addition to the prestige attached to any colt or filly deemed sufficiently speedy to take part in such important stakes.

We need not reiterate the advantages to owners of promising young animals of making nominations in these stakes, as they are well aware of the enhanced value of every animal, whether male or female, that is sufficiently speedy and well developed to come to the starting post in this meeting, which is to take place on Moncton driving park on August 20th and 31st next. There should be a very large list of nominations in these stakes, as the purses are sure to be large, the conditions and terms of payment are easy, and there are large sums of eligible colts and fillies through out the numerous breeding sections of the maritime provinces, that should be entered. There are scores of finely bred sires now doing service in Lower Canada, and breeders look for the nomination of the progeny of these stallions in such stakes as those inaugurated and promoted by the general proprietor of the Hotel Brunswick, who is leaving nothing undone to make the meeting a success.

That Mr. McSwenny will make the Hotel Brunswick Futurity Stakes of 1893 a complete success, is guaranteed by the excellent and thoroughly satisfactory manner in which he handled the Futurity Stake of 1892, on the Moncton track, and his enterprise and pluck in continuing these stakes are highly commendable, and deserving of the practical encouragement and support of every horseman in the Lower provinces. We hope to be able, shortly, in publishing the list of entries, to present to the public the largest and most representative list of nominations ever seen in the Maritime provinces since the inauguration here of that extremely popular form of racing, and we hope that New Brunswick's contribution will not be the smallest.

CIVIL WAR IN IRELAND.

The Orange Societies in the North of Ireland Preparing for the War.
BELFAST, FEB. 21st.—A manifesto issued on behalf of the Grand Orange lodge of Belfast contains the following words: "We are fast and with a stupendous crisis as if we had lost one hundred battles of the Boyne, and surrendered as many Londonderrys with helters around our necks. More disastrous or humiliating terms could not be dictated to a conqueror than those which the Home Rule bill has imposed. We have not, however, lost a single battle of the Boyne, nor have we surrendered. Therefore we do not mean to accept any humiliating or disastrous terms. We demand legislation, and to play into the hands of our enemies, but to direct our own course among the free people of the world; there is no half way house. The experience of nearly a hundred years has proved the first to be the greatest means of social and material advancement that Ireland has ever seen, and we accept the other sorrowfully, but courageously as the only alternative left to deserted and betrayed people. But any attempt to force upon us a bastard combination of the two, we declare before God we will resist by every means in our power, even to the death. A great mass meeting will be held in Ulster hall on the evening of March 2, at 8 o'clock, to give expression to your views and to embody them in a grand and noble resolution. Meanwhile it becomes our duty to warn you and everyone who is in sympathy of the danger there is of a community whose feelings are exasperated and outraged as ours are of being betrayed and sold out to the enemy. We earnestly caution you, therefore, to be very generous in the maintenance of order and peace, and so far as in your power lies to give no offence. Be slow to take offense yourselves, look upon the granting of peace as your enemies, but as friends. The flower of the police and of the military are at heart in fullest sympathy with you. Be careful then not to alienate a single man from our just and patriotic cause. We bid defiance to the bombs of dynamites and the big battalions of criminal conspirators directed by Gladstone against our joint inheritance with England, Scotland and Wales in the United Kingdom. By our demeanor, peaceful and orderly as firm and undaunted, we show the men who are marching through rapine and murder that we are not braggarts, but free men who know their rights, and with the help of God are determined to maintain them. (Signed) "Richard K Kane, L. D., grand master, and Thomas McCormick, grand secretary."

LONDON, FEB. 21st.—It is reported from Belfast that the Orange societies in the north of Ireland are preparing for forcible resistance to the Home Rule parliament should one be established. Excitement is running very high among the Ulster loyalists and many declare in the event of the enactment of the Home Rule bill civil war will inevitably ensue.

HARVEY STATION.

FEB. 21st.—News has been received of the death of Wilmet Embleton, at Bangor, Maine. He was a native of this place and left about three years ago for Bangor, where he made his home. Mrs. Stephen Robinson, jr., died on Sunday at Little Settlement, where she had gone to attend her father (the late John Little) in his last sickness. The weather this week has been very boisterous. We had a heavy fall of snow on Monday, accompanied by a high wind, which blocked up the roads; there was another fall of about eight inches on Wednesday.

Sans Leroy from the indictments charging the two former with corrupting members of the chamber of deputies and the latter with receiving a bribe while a member of the chamber. The trial of Charles de Lesseps and his fellow defendants will proceed in the assizes court.
In the Cameron poisoning investigation the court met at Bridgetown Wednesday, and by consent of counsel a further adjournment was held till Wednesday, the 1st of March, when it is expected the analysis will be completed. The prisoner appears much better than when in court last week. She maintains considerable composure in the belief that her innocence will be established, and partakes heartily of food. Unless poison is found the case will be dropped.
Hilton Barker, one of the principal members of the firm of G. Barker & Co., London, Eng., who failed June last, committed suicide in a railway carriage near Wuxey. The failure created a great excitement, being for the sum of $3,250,000. The Barkers were under arrest on charges of fraud. Hilton Barker had been despondent. He claimed his intentions had been honest, and that he was simply unfortunate. He provided himself with a revolver before taking the train, and put the revolver to his head, blowing out his brains, while a member of the public, a telegram addressed to the official reporter, saying, "Come and fetch your victim."

BEAR IN MIND.—Horsmen must bear in mind that entries for Hontun Brunsvich race, to be held at Hontun Aug. 30th and 31st, 1893, close on March 1st.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The Columbian concert company, a very celebrated musical organization, will give an entertainment in the city hall on the evening of March 17th.

FROM THE WOODS.—The lumbermen are beginning to come out of the woods. A batch from Richard's and Fairley's camps on the north side of the river have arrived in town the other evening.

FOR HEALTH'S SAKE.—Dow Vandine, of the custom house, left for Boston last Monday to consult physicians regarding some head trouble which has been afflicting him for some time past.

AT THE QUEEN.—Customs inspector McLean, of St. John, was in town during the week and registered at the Queen Hotel. Inspector Waters, of the bank of Nova Scotia, was also at the Queen.

FIRE AT WOODSTOCK.—The Queen hotel and the Victoria hotel at Woodstock were badly damaged on Thursday by fire. The loss on the Queen is quite heavy. But on the Victoria it is fully covered by insurance.

MOVED TO ST. JOHN.—John A. Wisely, the noted telegrapher formerly of this city, has left the employ of the Commercial Union telegraph company, Bangor, and has accepted a position in the C. P. telegraph service at St. John.

REMOVAL.—R. Blackmer, jeweller, is intending to remove his place of business to the premises at present occupied by Merchant's bank of Halifax, which will take up its headquarters in the new building of Messrs. Howard & Crangle.

OFF THE TRACK.—A freight train outward bound from St. John on Tuesday night, got off the track at Chardon station. One car rolled down an embankment. As a consequence the express trains were delayed at Welsford till daylight the next morning.

IMPROVEMENT.—The Fredericton board of trade have decided to petition the Dominion government for permanent improvement of the river channel between this city and Oranoc so as to allow unimpeded navigation for vessels drawing twelve feet of water.

KILLED.—Geo. L. Edgett, school teacher at Humphrey's Mills, while walking on the track near Moncton, was struck by a train and instantly killed. He was a member of the Masons, Oddfellows and Foresters societies, and had a life insurance in the two latter.

DOES POISON.—Some of the residents of the upper end of Charlotte street, are mourning the loss of some of their canine domestics. Some evil disposed person has had the tenacity to administer an overdose of poison. Strenuous efforts are being made to discover the culprit.

STILL BOOMING.—The Marysville cotton mill is now running alternate nights in addition to the day work. New machines, consisting of four ply frames six English carders, and one picker are to be put in, in addition to the two new nappers imported from France the other day.

BARBER.—The inhabitants of the celestial are promised a treat. The Knights of Pythias intend to have the new building of Howard & Crangle struck by a train. They will have the whole building from top to bottom occupied and decorated. A pleasant affair is expected.

TO RESIDE IN FREDERICTON.—It is reported around town that the hon. P. G. Ryan, late chief commissioner of the board of works has purchased the house at present owned and occupied by Judge Fraser. It is believed that Mr. Ryan intends to make Fredericton his permanent home.

IN THE MASONIC HALL.—The drive and dance of the University boys was a very pleasant affair. After the drive around the town in the Colossus, they repaired to the masonic hall. Mrs. Hat and others were there to do the honors. Refreshments were passed around and the dancing kept up till the wee sma' hours.

TRAINING FOR THEIR SPORTS.—Although the present weather does not remind one of our outdoor sports, yet the students of the college have their annual sports and field day in their minds, and are taking time by the forelock. Practice in the gymnasium is the program every afternoon. The students wisely realize that much practice will be needed to keep up the fame of the U. N. B. in athletics.

FIRE AT ROSNEY.—The inhabitants of Sussex are mourning the loss of their best two storey grammar school house. The fire occurred during school hours, but all the children were gotten out without accident and much of the school property was saved. The fire caught in a defective flue. All efforts of the town people were unavailing. The building which was utterly destroyed was erected in 1875 at a cost of $8,000 and was insured for $5,000.

HONOR.—Prof. C. G. Roberts, of King's college, Windsor, has been selected as one of the literary examiners at the world's fair, Chicago. The degree of distinction in this selection can be realized when it is considered that there are only twelve examiners. Prof. Roberts is the only one selected from Canada. The hon. Mr. Gladstone is among the other selected. Prof. Roberts is a son of Rev. Robert Roberts, of this city and a graduate of the U. N. B. His Fredericton friends congratulate him warmly on the deserved recognition to his literary abilities.

A NEW JOURNAL.—The students of the Normal school have put out the first issue of their journal The Normal Light. It is a very presentable sheet. Some of the original poetry of the students appears in this number. Among so many students, a diversity of talent should be found that would make The Normal Light a success. At any rate it is an evidence of a spirit of enterprise. The students are contemplating a mock parliament to be held next week.

NEWS NOTES.—The Supreme court stands adjourned until March 10th. Alderman Everts left on Wednesday for a ten days trip to Boston. Rev. Mr. Nobles and Rev. Mr. Crawley exchanged pulpits on last Sunday. The twelfth of July celebration of the orangemen will be held in this city. The contractors for ploughing of the sidewalks have to earn their money now. Dr. Lunn, dentist, of this city, was at Bath for a few days in the practice of his profession. It is rumored that John B. Gunter has instructed his attorney to issue a writ against Progress, St. John, for libel.

Races at Marysville.

The races at Marysville were not as well patronized as they should have been. The spirit of enterprise shown by the managers of the rink in this giving the inhabitants of Marysville and Fredericton an opportunity of seeing the fastest skater in the world, was but poorly appreciated, owing probably to the short notice available to announce the race to the public. Gillespie, the champion backward skater of the world, Norway and Dingee, of St. John, and the great Hagan were there.

At 8.30, Hagan, Norway, and Gillespie skated a few times around the rink, and Hagan commenced the exhibition by fancy skating to slow waltz music. This was indeed a fine sight. His twirling, sliding, broadside down the rink and his skating on one foot drew forth loud applause. When came the races of the evening. With the exception of two local races, all the races were skated singly and against time. The first race was Gillespie in a backward spurt for one mile. This was without doubt one of the finest things of the evening. To the astonishment of everybody he did the mile in 3.091 beating his former record of 3.11.

Norway then made his appearance in the two mile race. At the word he started off at a rapid gait but owing to the short and quick turn of the track, he was compelled to slacken his pace in order to save himself from falling at the turn. His time for the two miles was 6.33. It was potent to everyone that both he and Hagan could give no real exhibition of their speed. They seemed to be entirely incapable of turning at the ends. Then Hagan came on in the three mile race. He found himself badly handicapped and felt much annoyed at not being able to turn the sharp corners and was not pleased over his attempt to give the audience a fair estimate of his speed. It will not be wondered at, however, when it is considered that he is used to a five lap track, on the third lap he was better and skated the first mile in 3.14, the two miles in 6.16 and the three miles in 9.21.

Then came Dingee, of St. John, who skated a half mile 1.34; one mile in 2.26. This is just one second behind McGormick's time on the same rink some years ago.

Two young lads, Bubar and Markee, of Marysville, had a contest of a mile. Markee, who is only fourteen years old, gave him a fine promise for future speed. Black and Barber were the next to try conclusions. Bubar dropped out and left Black to skate against time. His 3.13 clock astonished everyone. This was the last race and closed the entertainment. Marysville people are proud that the records of their young skaters showed so favorable a list of men whose reputation is world wide and ascribed to everyone.

Important Supreme Court Decision. The supreme court on Saturday last gave judgment on the decision of Judge Steadman in the case of Andrew Inches against C. H. B. Fisher. This case arose out of a dispute regarding whose was the right to pay the taxes on the leasehold property at the corner of Queen and York streets, the lessor or the lessee. This property was leased by Mr. Inches to Mr. Fisher for a term of years. The covenant of the lease is such that Mr. Fisher was to pay all taxes on the property. In the years 1890 and 1891 the city assessors assessed Mr. Inches a certain sum in addition to what was assessed on Mr. Fisher. This Mr. Inches paid and Mr. Fisher refused to pay. Mr. Inches then brought an action against Mr. Fisher, who since he had paid the assessment freely and willingly, had no right to recover. But Judge Steadman decided that the landlord is liable to pay the taxes on the property; that the assessment which Mr. Inches had paid was an assessment on the interest of the tenant, or in this case of the lessee, and since the lessor had paid out money in discharge of the taxes on the lease, he was in duty bound to refund it; in other words that Mr. Fisher should refund to Mr. Inches what he had paid out in his behalf against Mr. Crisp. These the committee took up separately. The charges were as follows:

That the rev. Robert Crisp was guilty on or about August 3rd, 1894, of committing adultery with a certain woman living at Scotchtown, Queens county, N. B.

That being accused in November or December of the same year of being the father of the unborn child referred to, he conspired with Dr. Gardner to conceal and deny his connection with the woman and in concealing and denying his correspondence with Dr. Gardner in relation to the above charges.

On the first charge Mr. Crisp was acquitted by a vote of 3 to 2. On the second charge the vote was unanimous in clearing him. On the third charge, however, the acquittal was only on a vote of 3 to 2.

Rev. Mr. Howie, the formulator of these charges, thinks that to entirely free Mr. Crisp the acquittal should have been unanimous on all three; that where so much division of opinion exists that matter should be referred to the full conference, which was done about one hundred ministers. In this he is understood to have the support of the committee, who are of the opinion that if Mr. Crisp is innocent, the endorsement of the committee's action by the full conference will be far in removing the stigma that is attached to serious offences.

Meeting of the Baptists. The meeting held in the vestry of the Baptist church last night to decide about the pastorate was largely attended. Nearly every church member was present. It was decided to retain Rev. Mr. Crawley in his position as pastor of the church. Only eleven votes were cast against him, and these were against not on account of any thing that has been said against him, but because they were of the opinion that a change would be advisable. The tone of the meeting was entirely in favor of Mr. Crawley, and should go a long way in erasing the unpleasant circumstances of the past from the mind of the people.

A Branch in Fredericton. The Canadian mutual loan and investment company of Toronto have opened a branch office in Fredericton. Mayor Beckwith is the secretary-treasurer for the Fredericton branch. As will be gathered from the title of the company their business is to loan money on real estate. They also issue shares of stock which are paid for by instalments. The management of this branch is: John M. Wiley, president; B. H. Torrens, vice-president; Mayor Beckwith, secretary-treasurer; J. Limerick, valuator; Chas. W. Beckwith, solicitor; Jas. D. Fowler, J. A. Edwards, J. D. McPherson, W. Tilley, directors.

Joined Together. James Kirk, of Prince William, was married to Mrs. Mary Hallet, of Queensbury, last week. The many friends of Mrs. Ella Randolph, so well and favorably known in this city, will be interested to learn of her marriage to Albert J. Gross, postal clerk. The marriage was performed by the rev. M. Gross, father of the groom. The sportsman Gross was for a long time a resident of Fredericton, and her many friends here wish her all possible happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Gross will reside at Amherst for the winter.

GRAND LODGE, L. O. A.

Large Vote for Non-Consent of the Orange Members of the Lodge. The provincial head of this organization opened its annual session in the Oddfellows' hall on Tuesday evening. The session was well attended, and more than usual interest was indicated. Over 120 delegates were present from the various county lodges.

Grand master Geo. W. Fowler called upon the chair. County master H. H. Pitts, on behalf of the association in York county, read an address in which he alluded to the report by grand master Fowler.

Then came the annual report of the grand master. The report showed that the order had made large advances in strength and influence, that to-day Orange had become strong foothold in places where it was before unknown. The report spoke of the Bathurst school matter and gave a short sketch of the late of that matter, which was a trouble, and stated that the orange members of the house had not been as active in the matter as they might have been. It closed with a spirited appeal to the members to be true in their deliberations to the spirit and aim of the order.

The following standing committees were then appointed: Credentials—Wm. Rossborough, I. A. Walters, W. H. Barton. Correspondence—Dr. E. O. Stairs, D. C. Gamblin, D. McArthur, W. Ferguson, A. Morrison. Finance—D. F. Merritt, J. A. Moore, Jas. Kelly, H. H. Pitts, G. H. Parker. Suspension and expulsion—David Burgess, John Hewison, John Corbett, W. J. Hunter, Samuel Barie. Petitions and appeals—Joseph Walker, Wm. Rogers, J. E. McLean, A. Delaney, J. Richardson. Constitution and law—A. V. Cruikshank, Robert Miles, A. J. Armstrong, G. F. Currie, I. Tracey. County master Pitts gave notice of a motion dealing with the Bathurst school matter and the grand lodge of W. W. L. Lipest, to come up at 11 o'clock next morning. Nothing further was done that evening.

On the following morning, the business session having been got through with, Mr. Pitts moved for a postponement of the proposed resolution until the report of the grand master came up for discussion. This was carried.

After the transaction of some further business deputy grand master Colter called the grand lodge's attention to certain reports appearing in the public press, particularly the Fredericton papers, which were derogatory to the association or the character of any of its officers, shall be suspended or expelled. He signified his intention of demanding an investigation of the charges thus publicly preferred. If they were true he was no longer walter to retain his position as an officer of the lodge; if they were not his calculator, a member of the association, should be constitutionally dealt with.

Just here the grand master interrupted him to suggest that his statement would come up in natural order through the committee on natural order and appeals. In this Mr. Colter acquiesced and the matter was deferred.

The remainder of the morning was occupied in listening to the reports of the county masters.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock grand master Fowler again resumed the chair. More reports were received. The report of the finance committee showed a balance of $381 on hand. The committee upon the grand master's address presented the following report: To the officers and members of the grand lodge of New Brunswick:

Your committee desire to congratulate the grand lodge on the successful institution of our orange lodge in the town of Bathurst. We recommend that a general petition be circulated for signatures throughout the province of New Brunswick, praying that the school law of this province be carried out in its entirety as originally enacted.

Your committee recommend that in the event of the government failing to comply with the prayer of the petition, a petition of minority of Bathurst appeal to the courts of this province, and that the grand lodge may render any assistance it may deem necessary in the premises.

We regret that the petition of the protestant minority of Bathurst was not presented to the legislature of the province at its session by the brethren to whom it was given in charge.

We desire to congratulate this grand lodge upon the evidence of increasing prosperity of the order throughout the Dominion and especially of the increased membership, and the institution of five new lodges in New Brunswick.

Your committee agree with the grand master that it is a matter of congratulation that our most worthy and able visitation officer, Wallace, our grand master and sovereign, had been elevated to the position of compurgator of customs.

We are pleased to know that our grand master was in a position to visit his lodge more frequently during the past year, than he was in the previous year.

In conclusion we note with pleasure the act of the brethren in their unanimous clearing him from the city of St. John, which will supply a want long felt by the order, and the dedication of other new halls throughout the jurisdiction.

An animated discussion took place on this report. Sections two and three were passed quietly, but the fourth was productive of much talk. It seems that at the meeting of the grand lodge in St. Stephen last year, a committee was appointed to present the views of that body on the Bathurst school question to the local legislature.

H. A. McKewen made a remarkable fine address, denouncing the action of the members of parliament from an omission of duty. He explained that the petition of the protestant residents of Bathurst had been left with A. A. Stock who had a conversation regarding it with Mr. McManus, said of the trustees. Mr. McManus said that the grievance, if there was any, would be closed at the end of the term which was close at hand. After a consultation with his friends, Mr. Stockton decided not to present the petition. This was how the petition was not presented. Mr. McKewen thought that no blame could be under the circumstances be laid to the orange members of the lodge, therefore he would move that the words "not desiring to censure anyone" should be prefixed to section four of reply.

Messrs. Colter and Wilson, also members of the late lodge, took the opportunity of defending themselves and the government from the charges that had been so publicly made against them lately. Their remarks were clear and conclusive; they had the meeting with them from first to last.

Unable to see this, H. H. Pitts moved as an amendment to the amendment that a clause censuring the orange members of the house for dereliction of duty be inserted in this section of the reply. This was followed by a very hot discussion which was participated in by Messrs. Vincent, Wilson, Thomas, Neales, Brown, Pitts and others. Before the vote was taken, grand master Fowler took the opportunity to explain the stand which he had taken in the matter. His object and aim for which he worked was to present the petition to the local legislature. The vote was not reached until a very late hour. The amendment to the amendment was lost, and the amendment itself was carried by the large majority of 48, the vote being 40 to 18. Even rev. A. F. Thompson, who was responsible for the whole agitation, voted for the amendment. It speaks highly for Messrs. Wilson, McKewen and Colter that their conduct has been such as to gain them so large a majority of the representatives of the orange order from all parts of the province.

Monday night witnessed the passing away of one of the old residents of the town, John Neil had been troubled with enlargement of the heart for some time, and this culminated in his death. Mr. Neil was of Scotch descent, having been born in Perth, Scotland. Landing in this country, he had at first taught school, but afterwards engaged in the hardware business as one of the partners in the firm of Neil & Co. He was successful in his business and was admired by all who knew him. Of late years he has retired from business and has lived in Gibson where his death occurred. He was a bright little fellow of five years ago, and was the father of two sons and five daughters. Being Scotchman, Mr. Neil, it may be known, was a prominent member of the St. Andrew's society, and his enthusiastic carrier, and has been honored with the title of father of the Fredericton curling club. The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was very largely attended, considering the inclemency of the weather. A service was held at the house, and the funeral procession was formed at 2.30 o'clock and proceeded from the house down through Gibson and across the St. John river to Fredericton at Temple's landing. The Fredericton curling club in full force, headed the procession. At a meeting of the Fredericton curling club, held in the rink, resolutions of the death of Mr. Neil were passed and ordered to be sent to the family and inserted in the local press.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Millican have the sympathy of the community in the loss of a daughter, a bright little girl of five years who died on Friday last of quick consumption. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from their residence, King street, at four o'clock.

INJURED IN THE WEST.—Advice from British Columbia is to the effect that Geo. McKel, formerly of Harvey, York Co., was badly injured in a recent accident on the Victoria & Nanaimo railway. Some cars were derailed and upset on account of the heavy snow. Mr. McKel, who was the conductor, was severely injured by the cars. His escape was miraculous. The doctor reports him as doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.
