It Is Not the Correct Thing

To read any and everything that may happen to fall in one's way.

To forget that to people of sense and intellectual resources the time given to pass all too quickly without any assistance in its flight from lurid or trashy books.

For girls to spend money for candy and toilet accessories and nothing for entertaining and instructive reading matter.

For young men to indulge in every luxury excepting a library.

To forget that the frivolous girl is out of date now and that the cultivated one is to the front.

To imagine that age and ugliness are necessary adjuncts to learning.

To read anything which one would blush to be discovered in the act of reading.

To forget that those who lend or recommend bad books are accessory to another person's sin.

To believe that a body fed on adulterated food will become ill, but that a mind can be gorged on all sorts of trash and yet escape intellectual dyspepsia.

To forget that one is judged by the company one keeps, and that books are one's most constant companions.

To forget that the poison in some books is insidious and not easily discoverable to the novice.

To consult milliners and dress-makers about one's attire, and yet not consider it worth one's while to consult anybody about the books to read—the attire furnished for the mind.

For Catholics to be ignorant of the great books written by representative Catholics.

To imagine that Catholic periodicals can take a high rank without support.

To consider it no lack of cultivation to be ignorant of what Catholics have written and said about the great questions which agitate the intellectual world.

To expect the savant and the sage, the scientist and the writer, the tired matron and the frivolous girl, the mechanic and the clerk—all to be interested in the same class of books.

To imagine that one who reads everything that comes out is very brilliant or deeply learned.

To read a book because it happens to be the fashion to do so.

To read without any system.

To keep no account of the books read.

To imagine that a person who extends the circulation of a bad book is not to blame for the damage done.

To flatter one's self that one can read with impunity all sorts of books without experiencing any evil effects from the indulgence.

To forget that a mind can be kept healthy easier than it can be restored to health after once diseased.

To forget that a mind not already inclined to evil would take no pleasure in suggestive books, but would, on the contrary, be disgusted.

Religious Maxims.

(Sacred Heart Review.)

SUNDAY.

Let us show ourselves worthy of our Catholic title and privilege by making the teachings of our holy faith the guide of our daily lives. We must be so "full of grace," that it is so pleasing to God, that we shall make His service loving and lovable. This will come from prayer.

—Bishop Bradley.

Thou unbegotten God the Sire,
And Thou the sole-begotten Son,
Who, with the Spirit's holy fire,
Art everlasting, Three in One,
To Thee no mortal calls in vain,
Nor doth the lover of the light
Lift up unheeded a prayerful strain,
Nor blindly seek Thy holy height.

Our thoughts are usually centered on what we read or hear, hence, if our reading and conversation have been edifying, our thoughts are ordinarily good. Idle thoughts tend to weaken the strength of our will and our resolution. God has as much claim to our thoughts as to our words and acts.

Reminded by the rising sun,
Our grateful hearts to Thee we bring
With praise and thanks and orison,
In hymns and canticles we sing.

TUESDAY.

The old rule, "Bear and forbear," is a very excellent one: bearing the defects of others, giving them nothing to bear from us.

Would you make some saddened heart
Just a little lighter?
Would you make some burdened life
Just a little brighter?
Drop a word of hope and cheer;
Set the sobbing ringing
With your notes of love and joy,
As you go a-singing.

WEDNESDAY.

When you have nothing else to offer to the poor or the suffering, say gentle comforting words of them: kindness means more than gold to them.

Would you smooth the rugged path
Down along life's highway?
Would you plant the rose of faith
In some lonely byway?

Just a deed of kindness done
Clears the path before us,
And the lilies of God's love
Bloom and blossom o'er us.

THURSDAY.

We can not serve God by nervousness. When we have done what we could, let not our peace be disturbed. We must not so give ourselves in one direction as to be unmindful of what is due in other directions.

Such intensity is a needless exhaustion or expenditure of strength.

Lord! lead us out though weak and pressed with sorrow,
We shall not faint if we but feel Thy arm.

Through the bleak night unto a smiling morn
Keep Thou our souls from danger and from harm.

FRIDAY.

We often weary about the care of our souls, and why? It is because we are not in earnest about being saints. Earnestness in the pursuit of sanctity does not tire; it exhilarates.

Let no crosses vex or tease,
Meet them all with peace and ease.
Mark the faults of every day;
Mark them in a cheerful way.

SATURDAY.

We have a tower to build, the tower of our salvation; and we should raise it so high that we shall be able to step, as it were, from its summit right into heaven.—Bishop Bradley.

Lord, let the day be one of light,
And build our labors unto Thee;
Thou who hast brought us out of night,
Keep us in strong sincerity.

Items of Interest.

The Calendar of the Parish Church, Orleans, in an article of the way in which some people take up a number of devotions, says: "The truth is, too many devotions for one person destroy piety, by inducing distraction of mind. And too often the devotee of many saints is a favorite of none. 'Too many lions in the fire,' is another phrase with a spiritual application. Try fewer devotions and be more devout. Say fewer prayers and pray more; that is no paradox, for prayer means thought, reflection, meditation; and many people are so busy saying prayers that they have no time to pray."

Quoting the opinion of the Church that God made woman the helpmate and the equal of man, the Catholic Sentinel says: "Of course it does not follow from the equality of woman with men that their functions in society are identical. Each has a work to do which the other can not do. The right or rather the privilege of voting does not flow necessarily from the fact of equality. Nor is its direct effect on society the most important consideration in the question of equal suffrage. The chief question is, what would be the influence of equal suffrage on womanhood first, and indirectly on society? It may well be doubted whether the general participation of woman in the contests of the political arena would have a tendency to elevate and realize the ideals of the truest womanhood. Most Catholic women do not think so."

"Americans," says the Chicago New World, "are commonly criticized by Europeans for valuing quantity more than quality. Mere bigness apart from intrinsic worth captivates our attention and respect. The man whose wealth runs into seven figures is a person of importance in the community, although he may be oologically ignorant and utterly destitute of everything that enriches human life in the true sense of the word. This admiration for mere bigness is conspicuously evident in the popularity of our Sunday newspapers. When the Saracens captured the city of Alexandria they burned the priceless books and manuscripts of its famous library on the ground that their contents, if in the Koran, were useless, and if not in the Koran, were harmful. The entire library of the average Chicago citizen consists of the daily, and especially the Sunday paper."

About forty members of the Society of the Holy Ghost were ordained priests at Paris on Oct. 28 by Mgr. Le Roy, superior general of the order.

Various Roman newspapers, and finally the "Osservatore Romano," but in an unofficial column, have published a report that Padre Ferrini, of the Congregation of St. Camillus of Lellis, parish priest of the Church of Santi Vincenzo ed Anselmo and the Confraternity of the Anima Purganti, whose church of San Nicola in Arcoione is to disappear, are on the point of purchasing the entire property of the Irish Augustinians in Rome, namely, the foundations for the spacious church, the adjoining large convent and the enclosure in front of this. Their plan, according to this report, is to combine all the moneys at their disposal, buy out the Irish Augustinians, complete the erection of the unfinished church, have it dedicated under another invocation and make it parochial for the Ludovisi quarter and at the same time the confraternity shrine of the Anima Purganti.

The position of the Holy See in relation to the next peace conference at The Hague is exciting a good deal of interest. It has been stated that Pope Pius X., is anxious that the Vatican should be represented, and in this relation it will be remembered that when the first conference was convened, in January, 1899, the Czar sent the circular note which explained his intentions to the Holy See as well as to all the powers. The Pelloux Cabinet, which was then in power, objected to the presence of a Papal representative, which might be construed into a recognition of the temporal power of the Pope. It is believed, however, that at present there is a more friendly feeling between the Vatican and the Quirinal, and that the present Italian Government would like to find some justification for removing the opposition of six years ago.

In France the school teachers, who are State servants, have of late been giving a good deal of trouble. Since the expulsion of God and of His ministers from the public schools, the education of the youth of the country has been entrusted to the civil element, not having before their eyes the high ideals of the clergy and of the religious organizations, have become dissatisfied and have turned towards advanced Socialism as likely to offer them a state of society which alone can improve their position. The whole of the teaching body—especially in the preliminary and secondary schools—is notoriously Socialist, and its doctrines are so advanced as to constitute a positive danger. A number of school teachers' associations have lately been formed, and the scandal of their proceedings and of the public declarations of their members has been so great that the Minister of Education, M. Bienvenu-Martin, has sent the teaching body a circular stating that such associations could not be allowed. The teachers, however, have refused to obey, and have appealed to the Conseil d'Etat, which will finally decide whether the associations are legal or illegal. Verily France is reaping the whirlwind.

"There is not a saloon-keeper in this city," says the Monitor of San Francisco, "who will not admit that the number of drinking places here can be cut to half or less with advantage to the public. There is no one who will not admit that the multiplication of saloons is a multiplication of the temptations which confront youth. No one will venture to deny that it is the business of the city to throw its protection as fully as it can around its young people, shielding them to the best of its ability from every form of vice. Not only solicitude for the moral and social welfare of youth demands this, but it is exacted by regard for its own well-being. No city can afford to encourage that which tends to deprave its young, and no city can practise indifference to their character and habits without ultimately paying the penalty."

"What a beautiful and consoling doctrine this of purgatory is!" exclaims Our Parish Calendar of Lawrence, Mass. "Our dear ones do not go entirely beyond our reach, even after Death's cold hand has been laid upon them. For by our prayers and good works we may shorten or alleviate their punishment. And, they in turn, although not able to aid themselves by prayer, may pray for us. Let us not then, at least during this month of November, forget to intercede for the poor, suffering souls, and let us not only remember our own dear ones, but also the souls of those who have no one to pray for their release from suffering."

Minard's Liniment Cures everything.

WEAK TIRED WOMEN

How many women there are that get no refreshment from sleep. They wake in the morning and feel tired than when they went to bed.

They have a dizzy sensation in the head, the heart palpitates; they are irritable and nervous, weak and worn out, and the lightest household duties during the day seem to be a drag and a burden.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the very remedy that weak, nervous, tired, sickly women need to restore them the blessing of good health.

They give sound, restful sleep, tone up the nerves, strengthen the heart, and make rich blood. Mrs. C. McDonald, Portage la Paire, Man. writes: "I was troubled with shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and weak spells. I got long boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking them I was completely cured."

Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A Harvard sophomore was reciting a memorized oration in one of the classes in public speaking. After the first two sentences, his memory failed, and a look of blank despair came over his face. He began as follows:—

"Ladies and Gentlemen: Washington is dead, Lincoln is dead," then, forgetting, he hesitated a moment and continued, "and—I—I am beginning to feel sick myself."

Sprained Arm

Mary Ovington, Jasper, Ont., writes: "My mother had a badly sprained arm. Nothing we used did her any good. Then father got Higard's Yellow Oil and it cured mother's arm in a few days. Price 25c."

Telescope Proprietor.—Step up, ladies and gents, and view the planet Mars. One penny, mum.

Old Lady.—"Oh, lor! Hain't it round and smoth?"

Telescope Proprietor.—Will the bald-headed gent please step away from the front of the instrument?

Minard's Liniment cures Dandruff.

"Papa, what is a veterinary surgeon?"

"One of those fellows at the Pension Office, my son, who examines the veterans for pensions."

Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders give women prompt relief from monthly pains and leave no bad after effects whatever. Be sure you get Milburn's. Price 10 and 25 cents all dealers.

Wool.—How do you like your new digging?

Van Pelt. All right, except that the man across the hall is learning to play the flute.

"You ought to get an accordion." "I did; that's why he got the flute."

Beware of Worms.

Don't let worms gnaw at the vitals of your children. Give them Dr. Low's Pleasant Worm Syrup and they'll soon be rid of these parasites. Price 25c.

Theodore C. Weeks, the banker and broker, once went into the office of the late Irving A. Evans, and said: "I wish you would lend me $5 until Monday."

Mr. Evans, who was somewhat hard of hearing, said, "What?"

Mr. Weeks, taking courage, said, "I wish you would lend me $10 until Monday."

Mr. Evans handed out the money with the remark: "I wish I had heard you the first time."

LIVER COMPLAINT.

The liver is the largest gland in the body; its office is to take from the blood the properties which form bile. When the liver is torpid and inflamed it cannot furnish bile to the bowels, causing them to become bound and constive. The symptoms are a feeling of fulness or weight in the right side, and shooting pains in the same region, pains between the shoulders, yellowness of the skin and eyes, bowels irregular, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

are pleasant and easy to take, do not grip, weaken or sicken, never fail in their effects, and are by far the safest and quickest remedy for all diseases or disorders of the liver.

Price 25 cents, or 5 bottles for $1.00, all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE HERALD

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 29th, 1905.

SUBSCRIPTION—$1.00 A YEAR, PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY JAMES MCISAAC

Editor & Proprietor.

Please send in your subscriptions.

It is now definitely announced from Regina that the Provincial elections in Saskatchewan will be held on Wednesday, December thirteenth, instead of the twenty-third as previously stated.

We must once more remind our friends who have not yet sent in their subscriptions that the time for discharging this obligation has fully matured.

REVELATIONS of the operations of a wholesale grocers combine formed the sensation at the tariff inquiry in Hamilton, on the 24th, when H. W. Sealand lifted the lid just little with the promise to bring documentary evidence.

The election in the third district of Queen's County on Wednesday last resulted in the return of the Commissioner of Public Works, over Mr. McCourt, by a majority of 75.

Mr. BORDEN, Leader of the Opposition, took part in the Wentworth election campaign, and no doubt the success of the Opposition candidate, in the face of very great odds, was due in considerable measure to the Leader's assistance.

LATE advices from London indicate extraordinary activity in political circles, consequent upon the report that Premier Balfour was about to tender to the King the resignation of the Government.

ment when appealing to the people at a general election. This idea does not seem to hold good in the old country, at least as a general rule, and just now the Balfour Government seem to consider it good tactics to resign office and allow the Liberals to form a Government and then fight the new ministry as an opposition.

The ceremony of unveiling a monument to the late Francis Bain, the Island Geologist, took place in Queen Square, under the auspices of the Natural History and Antiquarian Society, on Saturday afternoon last.

Francis Bain, Naturalist, 1842-1894. Erected by the Natural History and Antiquarian Society of Prince Edward Island.

At the general election in Antigonish, Mr. McIsaac had a majority of 810 over his Conservative opponent. In the election of Wednesday last this was reduced to 237 by Gerrior, Conservative, who ran against Chisholm.

The fiercest wind storm in years prevailed on the Great Lakes last Monday night and Tuesday and caused much damage to shipping and other property. The lighthouse on Milwaukee breakwater was battered to pieces.

which have been passed upon them would it seemed to him, have lost very much of their force and of their effect. So far as the indemnity to the members of Parliament is concerned, he ventured to say that if the Members do not attend at the next session of Parliament more regularly and diligently than they did at the last session of Parliament not one dollar of additional burden would be imposed upon the people of this country.

The Federal By-Elections.

Four elections for the House of Commons were held on Wednesday last, and the result was the capture of one seat by the Conservatives and a sweeping reduction of the Liberal majorities in the other three constituencies.

In North York, Mulock had a majority of 962 at the general election a year ago. In last Wednesday's election, Mr. Aylesworth, a member of the Government, holding the same office as Mr. Mulock was elected by a majority reduced to 450, less than half of last year's majority.

The most interesting of all the contests was the one held in Wentworth, as it was the closest constituency. At the general election in November last, the Liberal candidate was declared elected by a majority of 27.

At the general election in Antigonish, Mr. McIsaac had a majority of 810 over his Conservative opponent. In the election of Wednesday last this was reduced to 237 by Gerrior, Conservative, who ran against Chisholm.

Fierce Storm on the Lakes.

The fiercest wind storm in years prevailed on the Great Lakes last Monday night and Tuesday and caused much damage to shipping and other property. The lighthouse on Milwaukee breakwater was battered to pieces.

Heroic Action of a Michigan Life Saver.

Wherever the story is told of the wreck of the passenger steamer Argo, from Chicago, which struck a sand bar at Holland, Michigan on the 24th, while attempting to enter that harbor in the early hours of the morning, the name of Life Saver Robert Smith will be held in veneration.

For hours the life savers had vainly tried to row their lifeboat to the wreck and had after repeated efforts been compelled to desist and resort to the cannon and the life line, it being impossible for a small boat to make headway in the fifty-mile southeast gale that raged on Lake Michigan during the morning.

During one of the return trips of the buoy the cable parted, worn in two by friction against the rail, and it was nearly noon then and only eight or nine had been sent ashore.

Fatal Railroad Disaster

The most disastrous railroad wreck in Massachusetts, for many years occurred at 8 15 o'clock Sunday at Baker's bridge station, a mile and a half west of Lincoln, on the main line of the Boston and Maine railroad. The Sunday night express, which left Boston at 7 45 o'clock for Montreal via the Rutland system, crashed into the rear of a local train which started from Boston at 7 15 for points on the main line and Marlboro branch.

Russias Troubles.

The spirit of revolution seems to be still rife in Russia, and no sooner does order appear to be gaining ground in one part of the country than troubles of the most serious character present themselves in another.

Friday eight sailors at the barracks seized, disarmed and expelled their officers. They then assembled a great meeting. Rear Admiral Piazewski, commander of the practice squadron, supported by a company from the Great Regiment, went to the meeting, and when it refused to disperse, ordered the troops to fire.

Turkey's Threat May Be Serious.

Constantinople, November 24.—The Porte's reply to the demands of the powers is not only a categorical rejection of the demands, but contains thinly veiled threats that the pressure of Europe will possibly excite the Turkish population to reprisals on the Christians.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

The schooner Mary Joseph, Captain Clopas Arsenault and three others of crew, went ashore on Friday at Sandy Hook, Magdalen Islands. The Captain and one of the sailors managed to save their lives. The Mary Joseph had a cargo of merchandise from Souris for the Magdalen.
The Mary Joseph was a vessel of forty-three tons and was built at Margomah in 1877. She was owned by Matthew & Mc-Lean, of Souris.

Judge Burbridge, of the Ekobquer Court of Canada, and his auditor, were here last week. The Judge held court and considered the matter of damages to the different persons whose lands have been expropriated for the new railway site. The case of Patrick H. Byrne vs. the King, to recover $150, the value of a horse killed as the result of injuries sustained in crossing the railway track near Georgetown was also argued. Mathieson and MacDonald appeared for the applicant and Hester and Gandet for the defendant, the King. Judgment in all cases reserved.

The schooner "Antelope" employed by M. J. Haase, while building the Hillsborough bridge was recently lost on Lake Huron. The crew were saved. She was commanded by Peter McMahon, of Charlotteton and there were three other Charlotteton men on board. The news of the wreck reached this city in a letter from
Mr. James McJee to his wife. Mr. Mc-Jee writes from Toronto November 20th
as follows:—"I write you to let you know that I am living, but had a close call. We lost the Antelope on Lake Huron and we got out with what we stood in."

The annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Provincial Exhibition Commission took place at Halifax last Wednesday evening.
The president said that the deficit of this year was $10,932.56; and in view of the fact that there had been $5,000 of a falling off in the receipts, he was surprised that the showing was so good. The expenditures had been $34,704.51, and the receipts $23,771.95. The deficit of last year was $8,230. The expenditure this year was $34,704.51, as against $34,381.30 last year.
The Dominion Exhibition next year will open September 24th and close October 7th.

The sale which was regarded as the final passing of Cresceus from the race track was witnessed by breathless thousands who crowded every inch of Mallison Square Garden, New York the other day. When the beautiful chestnut stallion was led into the space reserved for him he was cheered so heartily that the racket frightened him and the auctioneer requested silence in behalf of the famous trotter. The bidding was brief. P. H. Maguire opened with $20,000 and after a short silence Mr. S.
said "Twenty-one thousand." With in five minutes more Cresceus was sold at this figure.

The steamer Marina returned to Yarmouth last Thursday evening from the scene of the wreck at Black Ledge on Friday. She confirms what few doubted, that the steamer which went to her doom was the Turbin. The Marina stopped at Mud Island and picked up half a dozen men who witnessed the Turbin's close proximity to the dangerous ledge, three miles away, and who had seen the steamer disappear. They then repaired to the spot indicated by the men. On their arrival there they found the gulf and near it a broken spar. Under the water the hull could not be seen, but probably it will be when the water is calm.

A terrible fatality occurred at the head of Toronto, near Murray Harbor on Wednesday last, the victim being a six year old girl, daughter of Isaac Bell. She and her two little brothers were playing in a bay barrack, which was closed in on all sides and used instead of a barn. One of the boys and the girl climbed to the loft, the other boy set a fire below. The boy escaped from the loft with his hair burned off and one arm badly burned, but the little girl was burned to a crisp only the head remaining. The fire started from the woods and the frantic father had to go and hunt for them, fearing they would perish with cold. The mother died about two years ago.

A Halifax despatch of the 24th says:
There is some probability that the question of discontinuing the modes vivendi as to fishing rights between Canada and the United States may be introduced into parliament next session by the minister of marine and fisheries. The Sydney Record in an article today, which is believed to be inspired, raises the question as to whether the time has come for discussing the question and compelling the fishermen of the United States to exercise their calling in Cape Breton waters under the provisions of the treaty of 1818. It is learned that Hon. Mr. Prefontaine has already taken the matter up and has instructed Alex.
Johnston, M. P., to ask the fishermen of the province to express their opinion as to whether or not the treaty should be continued.

A bold attempt was last Friday night
made to rob the Trust Bank of Bridgburg village on the Canada side of the Niagara river, opposite Buffalo. A gang of six to eight men, after fastening all the doors of the nearby houses with ropes, scoured a heavy stick of timber and proceeded to batter in the front door of the bank. Ralph C. Young, an 18 years old boy, was the only person in the bank when the robbers opened their attack. Armed with a revolver he went to an upstairs window and opened fire upon the thieves.
They replied with revolvers and shot guns.
With his face streaming with blood from shattered glass and splinters of wood caused by the fusillade from the street, Young kept the robbers back until, finally alarmed
by a shot from up the streets, the thieves fled.

Perhaps it may be news to Easterners to learn that the Indians of the Yukon have regarded themselves at war with whites ever since their arrival there in 1897. This remarkable information is contained in a report from the Police Superintendent at White Horse, just received at Ottawa.
However the officers in question add some further news of a reassuring character. At time of writing the Indians were assembling at White Horse from Taku, Tayin, Allen, Little Salmon, and Dalton House
for the purpose of holding intertribal dances and entertainments. This would be followed by a gathering at Little River where the hatohel would be formally buried. The same mounted police officer reports that at Windy Arm the vein of rich silver in the Montana Mine, proves to be a mile and a half in length. It is one of the Conard consolidated group of mines,
the owner of which claims to have $12, 000,000 worth of ore in sight by actual measurement.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

Capt. Charlie Townsend of Sydney fell from aloft on the ship Ekakosa which arrived at Portland, Oregon Monday.

Primo Louis of Hattingsberg, with the second cruiser squadron arrived at Gibraltar yesterday.

Arthur W. Root, a lad of thirteen years, died at the Salem, Mass., Hospital Saturday, as the result of internal injuries received in a football game a few weeks ago.

William McRae, aged sixteen years,
of Canoe Cove was drowned by the upsetting
of his dory, while shooting off St. Peter's Island on Saturday afternoon last.

By the explosion in the mining house and in one of the packing houses at the Keystone Powder Works, at Enon, Penn., yesterday, the entire works were destroyed, killing nine men and injuring several others.

George Bahrot and George Henderson,
while driving across the bar from Minister Island to St. Andrew's, N. B., Monday, were overwhelmed by the incoming tide.
Henderson was drowned, but Manager Oiler, of St. William Vanborne's farm who saw the occurrence put off in a boat and saved Bahrot. Henderson's body was recovered later in the day.

The S. S. Halifax arrived in port yesterday morning with a large inward cargo but no passengers. On her return today she had a full outward cargo including 4000 bags potatoes for Boston and sundry merchandise for Halifax and Hawkebury.
The ship's house that was badly damaged
during the storm of a week ago has been repaired.

According to Abbe Ladamme's report
Canada possesses nine tenths of the flow of Niagara Falls and one fourth at the Soo.
Canada's share at the two Falls is 214,900
cubic feet per second and the United States 167,300 feet. The Canadian Commissioners rejected the rather cool proposal of their American colleagues for an equal division of these Falls.

Without formality the final chapter in the bloody war between Russia and Japan was enacted in the diplomatic room of the state department
Saturday afternoon when at 4:05 o'clock,
Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador,
and Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister,
on behalf of their respective sovereigns, exchanged ratifications of the treaty of Portsmouth, which was signed Sept. 5th
last.

The new King and Queen of Norway
made their state entry to Christiania Saturday afternoon, and were received with very demonstration of goodwill. Fog delay their arrival several hours. Members of the Norwegian parliament greeted their Majesties on their arrival at the Castle.
In reply to the president's speech of welcome, King Haakon said he hoped the splendid reception accorded him and his consort would be a good omen of further relations between himself and the people of Norway.

George Clevayde, of Massachusetts, returned to Lunenburg, Scotland, the other day
from a whaling expedition in Davis Strait, bringing news from Eskimo sources that Capt. Adams' Arctic expedition ship has been crushed in the ice at Boothia Felix (the northern most part of the mainland of North America) and that the explorers escaped and have been living with the natives. The Dundee whalers who were appointed to meet Capt. Adams with stores, have not been able to trace him.

The remains of James L. McDonald, a native of Kelly's Cross, who died at the Boston City Hospital on Friday last, arrived at Charlottetown Monday evening, accompanied by his widow and his two brothers. Deceased lived in Charlottetown some time before going to Boston, and his wife was formerly Elm Edith Gallant of this city. Interment took place at Kelly's Cross today.
Deceased was a member of Branch 216 C.
M. B. A. A delegation from the Branch met the remains at Summerside and the Branch turned out in large numbers yesterday and escorted the body to the railway station, whence it was taken to North Wiltshire en route to Kelly's Cross.

Division No. 1 A. O. H. of this city, at its recent meeting passed the following resolution of condolence on the death of the late Thos. Hagan: "Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to take from our midst one worthy and esteemed brother, Thos. Hagan. Resolved that we, the members of Division No. 1, A. O. H., do hereby extend to his bereaved relatives our heartfelt sympathy in the loss they have sustained, and further, Resolved that a copy of this resolu-

A sad and painful accident occurred at the home of Mr. Michael Budge, Five Houses, Fortune Road on the morning of the 9th, inst., by which his youngest daughter Irene, a bright little girl of four years' and nine months lost her life.
While in the act of putting some wood in the kitchen stove her clothing caught fire and she was scalded and burned on the time attracted by the screams of the little girl came rushing into the kitchen and was horrified on meeting the little one at the door with her clothing in flames. With the intention of smothering the fire in her clothing, the mother enveloped her in a rug or mat and succeeded in smothering it to a certain extent, but the fire already had reached the quivering flesh and when the clothing was removed the left arm was found to be almost burned to a crisp. Her life side, face, and neck were also badly burned and notwithstanding tender care and the best medical skill she passed quietly away on the evening of the 10th,
about 38 hours after the accident occurred.
Mr. Budge and family has the sympathy of the community in their sad and tragic affliction. Examiner please copy.—Com.

The longshoremen's strike at St. John came to an end last night. The men have agreed to work for last years rate of wages.
A large party of shipbuilders from Mon-real arrived yesterday and work on all the ships in port was carried on without delay. This brought matters to an end, so far as the strike was concerned.

Speaking at Bodmin, Cornwall, England
last Monday night, Lord Rosebery reproduced the lead taken by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, leader of the party in favor of home rule for Ireland during his speech at Strirling Tuesday night, thus emphasizing the split in the liberal party.
Speaking deliberately Lord Rosebery said
he objected to raising the banner of home rule on account of high constitutional objections, and also on account of the well-fare of the Irish people, but mainly because it impaired the unity of the free trading empire and indefinitely postponed the task of educational reform.

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning that extremely hazardous conditions are impending.

They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

Head's Sarsaparilla

Cures kidney and liver troubles, relieves the back, and builds up the whole system. It is a powerful purgative, and cleanses the system.

Told of a Negro Convert.

(From the Ave Maria.) It was at a dinner in the presbytery, and toward the end the conversation turned on Negroes. A Bishop among the guests, who once had charge of a colored congregation, in answer to the question, "Can converts among them be trusted to persevere longer than a month?" told a little story "right fair and sweet," as Caxton in "The Golden Legend" frequently describes such narratives. The Bishop is not one of those who imagine that the action of divine grace is restricted in the case of people whose skin is not white, and he prefaced his story with the remark that he would cheerfully exchange his diocese for the little colored parish which he organized—

DYSPEPSIA AND STOMACH DISORDERS

MAY BE QUICKLY AND PERMANENTLY CURED BY BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

Mr. P. A. Labella, Maniwak, Que., writes me as follows: "I desire to thank you for your wonderful cure. Burdock Blood Bitters. Three years ago I had a very severe attack of Dyspepsia. I tried five of the best doctors I could find but they could do me no good. I was advised by a friend to try Burdock Blood Bitters and to my great surprise, after taking two bottles, I was so perfectly cured that I have not had a sign of Dyspepsia since. I cannot praise it too highly to all sufferers. In my experience it is the best I ever used. Nothing for me like B.B.B. Don't accept a substitute for Burdock Blood Bitters. There is nothing 'just as good.'"

"I want to complain of the flour you sent me the other day," said Mr. Newlied, severely. The grocer assumed an anxious expression, and inquired what was the matter with it. "It was tough," replied the housekeeper accusingly. "My husband simply could not eat the biscuits I made with it."

There is nothing harsh about Laxative Liver Pills. They cure Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache and Bilious Spells without griping, purging or sickening. Price 25c.

"Ah!" remarked Mr. De Robinson, "my wife is a great collector of curiosities." "Indeed!" replied his friend, "Has she been at that long?" "Oh, bless you, yes; for years," "Before she married you?" "Oh, yes."

Muscular Rheumatism.

Mr. H. Wilkinson, Stratford, Ont., says: "It affords me much pleasure to say that I experienced great relief from Muscular Rheumatism by using two boxes of Milburn's Rheumatic Pills." Price 50c a box.

"Your marriage was the result of love at first sight, wasn't it?" "Yes," replied the near-sighted friend. "I never will forget that day, the only time in my life I was ever known to forget my glasses."

Mrs. Fred Laine, St. George, Ont., writes: "My little girl would cough so at night that neither she nor I could get any rest. I gave her Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and am thankful to say it cured her cough quickly."

"Do you know a good tonic for nervous persons, Simpkins?" "No; what I want is to find a good tonic for people who have to live with them."

Minard's Liniment cures Colds etc. "Why," asks a Missouri paper, "does Missouri stand at the head in raising mules?" "Because," said another paper, "that is the only safe place to stand."

Every place you go you hear the same question asked. Do you know that there is nothing so dangerous as a neglected cold? Do you know that a neglected cold will turn into Chronic Bronchitis, Pneumonia, discharging Catarrh and the most deadly of all, the "White Plague," Consumption. Many a life history would read differently if, on the first appearance of a cough, it had been remedied with

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. This wonderful cough and cold medicine contains all those very fine principles which make the pine woods so valuable in the treatment of lung affections. Combined with this are Wild Cherry Bark and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other powerful herbs and barks. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pain in the Chest, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. You will find a sure cure in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Mrs. G. N. Loomer, Berwick, N. E., writes: "I have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for coughs and colds, and have always found it to give instant relief. I also recommended it to one of my neighbors and she was more than pleased with the result."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup 25c. per bottle at all dealers. Put up in yellow wrapper, and three pine trees the trade mark. Refuse substitutes. There is only one Norway Pine Syrup and that one is Dr. Wood's.

Blessed are the Dead Who Die in the Lord.

Blessed are they who die in Him, Who sleep Death's tranquil sleep!

And yet our longing eyes are dim, Our hearts with sorrow deep, Grow faint and weary by the way As, one by one, they go; Blessed are those He calleth, ye! His best beloved, we know.

Blessed are they who die in Christ! He is their Judge—but He Who for their dead souls sacrificed Himself on Calvary Will, like a loving parent, greet And gather to His breast Earth's children who, with weary feet, Have sought in vain to rest.

Blessed are they who in Him die! Life's troublous journey o'er, Within their Father's arms to lie, In peace forever, and escaped Our human hearts ne'er understand His mercy—so we weep When leading loved ones by the hand He giveth them sweet sleep.

America's First Cardinal.

In Northwestern France, in the chief town of a department little visited by tourists there is a statue by one of the most renowned modern sculptors of a great churchman whose twenty-eight years in Boston during the formative years of our country should have given him full naturalization, says a correspondent in the New York Evening Post. The statue is of Cardinal de Cheverus, the friend of Channing, one of the first Catholic priests, and the first bishop of the still Puritan city, and at his death, a cardinal and archbishop of Bordeaux.

The sculptor was David d'Angers; and the exquisite bronze reliefs with which he delighted to adorn the pedestals of his statues are in this case a veritable human document of what America was thought to be by the children of the French Revolution. The town where this treasure of art and monument of our history gives its name to the Place Cheverus in Mayenne, one hundred and eighty miles from Paris on the road to Brittany.

AN HISTORICAL CITY. The town, with its 10,000 inhabitants, occupied at thirty industries, sprinkles its gray old houses which saw the Revolution along sloping and tormented streets all the way up the hillside. Steam engines in the factories, railways, and now automobiles have changed the aspect of the town, but the stone of Mayenne tells about the same story as when Cardinal de Cheverus was born here under Louis the XV. After William the Conqueror threw his battle over the walls and burned the original wooden houses, each century has left its mark in these streets. The church, built by successive generations, shows all the varieties of architecture from the beginning of the eleventh century through Romanesque, Gothic, Renaissance down to Restoration spick-and-span enough for a cathedral in Boston itself. The great blunt towers of the chateau still loom darkly above the walls now serving as a State prison. Church and chateau still dominate all; and the gates ajar in the high walls which surround jealously the great houses of the town give glimpses of equally old gardens, formed with clipped box and old-fashioned flowers telling of the vested rights of centuries.

A MAGNIFICENT STATUE. I reached the top of the hill and found the oblong Place Cheverus running down toward the old gray houses to the rear of the Mairie. Half way down is the statue—a dig-

A MAGNIFICENT STATUE. I reached the top of the hill and found the oblong Place Cheverus running down toward the old gray houses to the rear of the Mairie. Half way down is the statue—a dig-

An Army Surgeon's Work for Poor Churches.

The approaching exhibition of vestments and altar furnishings by the Association of Perpetual Adoration and of Work for Poor Churches to be held at Notre Dame Academy, West Rittenhouse Square, on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 26, 27 and 28, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., brings to the minds of some of those most deeply interested in the work incidents which show not only the universality of the Church, but the Christian charity that binds its members to each other, no matter how far separated by distance.

One of the incidents goes further, since it reflects credit on those who are not of the body of the Church and bears American Protestant testimony to the character of a Spanish missionary.

Previous to the last exhibition a retired surgeon of the United States navy, accompanied by a local physician, both non-Catholics, called upon Monsignor Turner. The surgeon in the course of his duty found himself in a remote corner of the Philippines in Bishop Hendrick's diocese of Cebu. There the surgeon met a Spanish missionary who had grown old among semi-civilized people, but he had not lost his culture, having not only retained a knowledge of several modern languages, which he spoke fluently, but had acquired English by his own unaided efforts. The surgeon was taken ill and the priest had him brought to his own humble home, where he was tenderly cared for by the priest and others. The officer formed a strong friendship for the missionary and an intense admiration for his gentlemanly character and self-sacrificing spirit.

A severe tropical storm had destroyed the little mission chapel attended by the priest and ruined the vestments and altar furnishings. The surgeon on his return to this country immediately interested himself in placing the needs of the missionary before Catholics and others and had the Philadelphia physician referred to introduce him to Monsignor Turner as director of the Tabernacle Society. This organization sent complete sets of vestments and furnishings for the new chapel by the next United States transport, and the surgeon interested Father Wynne, S. J., and others in raising funds for the erection of the new chapel, and while so doing liberally, both of his time and means, left to Catholics the handling of the funds. The local society also came to the aid of the churches suffering by the earthquake in Calabria. Italy, making a cash donation of $100, which, because of the cheapness of material and labor there and the premium on American money, was of much greater use than the amount itself would indicate.

The Philippines will again figure among the distant localities benefited by the coming exhibit. Bishop Dougherty was formerly director of the Children of Mary at the Convent of Notre Dame, and the Tabernacle Society, which has a large representation of the Children of Mary in its ranks, will send a complete outfit for the chapel of the convent and school just established by European nuns in Bishop Dougherty's diocese of Nueva Segovia.

Instances of the kind noted above should awaken a widespread interest in the work of the poor churches. Philadelphia Catholic Standard and Times
