One in a Thousand, BUT TRUE TO THE LAST

CHAPTER II.
HE NEVER CAME!

When we awoke on the following morning, Theo is gone! It does not occur to either of us that she has taken the irrevocable step, and passed the rubicon which is to land her in married life. Although she has not actually told us what are to be the details of her flight, we both conclude that it will take place during the free hour; and so unsuspecting am I of the truth that, as I look round the room, I say:

"Where's Theo?"
"Gone down already," Loys answers, yawning.
"How early she is! I suppose she wants to get her work done early, particularly that for to-morrow," I say, satirically. "What time is it?"
"Ever so late, I think; but Theo has her watch on."

"Oh, goodness, there's the bell!" exclaims Loys, a few moments later. "We have overslept ourselves; that's with talking so late last night. I wonder Theo was down so early; but I suppose she was too excited to sleep at all."

We literally scramble into our clothes, and run down, buttoning our dresses as we go, with rough heads and a great scarcity of ornaments.

"Where is Theo?" says Miss Burleigh, as we take our seats.
Loys looks blankly round.
"I don't know," she stammers.
"Isn't she in the schoolroom?"
A cold shiver runs through me, for I guess that Theo will be like the lady in "Jock o' Hazeldene," not forthcoming. I make an inward vow to corroborate whatever Loys says; and, if she does not keep strictly to the truth, I must follow her into the region of fiction.

"Go and see if she is in your room," says Miss Burleigh.
I do not move, and Loys volunteers in a quavering voice, that Theo was already gone down when we awoke.
"Well, go and see if she is there now."
I do her bidding, but return, with a blank face, to say that my search has been fruitless.

Could Not Digest His Food

Suffered For Years From Indigestion Until Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. J. D. S. Barrett.
If you suffer from chronic indigestion, forget about the stomach and pay attention to the condition of the liver and bowels. Ten to one that is where the real trouble lies. The liver gets sluggish and fails to filter the bile from the blood, the bowels become constipated and the whole digestive system is upset. As to cure, you cannot do better than to read of Mr. Barrett's experiences with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. There is no treatment so prompt and thoroughly effective. Mr. J. D. S. Barrett, Nelson, B. C., and formerly of Twillingate, Nfld., writes: "For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. The least bit of food caused me considerable trouble and often I could scarcely eat a meal a day. The many remedies I tried proved futile until in 1908 I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using about eight boxes I was completely cured. Since that time I have not been troubled with indigestion, which I consider a great blessing. The man tells us, 'There won't be another till eleven-ten, and then you must change at Monkswood.'"
Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

"Very strange!" is Miss Burleigh's comment. "Mary, have you seen anything of Miss Luttrell this morning?"

"No, miss," answers the maid, who has just entered the room; "but cook she told me that the front door was wide open when she came down."

"Good gracious!" ejaculates our governess, using what she, in a calmer moment, would term an excessive vulgarity. "The child has never run away?"

"At this moment I feel that I would give all I possess if Theo was but sitting opposite to me, sipping her weak tea and munching the thick bread and butter we grumbled at so sorely; but, instead, I hear only a buzz round the table, and Loys suddenly buries her face in her hands and bursts into tears.

"Do you know where she is?" says Miss Burleigh, hastily.
Loys shakes her head, and weeps afresh; and the teacher goes out of the room, evidently thinking it of no use to question me. She is perfectly right, though I know more than she thinks.

"The one leaving Frampton at seven," she replies.
"No, mum; I wasn't here then. My mate could tell you, maybe; but he's one home."

Mrs. Dickenson sighs.
"You'd best inquire at the waiting-room," suggests the man. "Most all ladies go in there."

"Thank you," she answers, slipping something into his hand. "I will do so."

So the waiting-room we go, and find a civil woman, who listens to our enquiries, but shakes her head.

"You see, ma'am, this room isn't open until nine o'clock; but if you get over to the other side, I've no doubt you'll hear something there."

We walk away in the direction pointed out, and I began to wish Theo had not been such a fool. I really believe I like saying lessons best. As I open the door, my heart gives one great throb, and seems to stop suddenly, for sitting at the window, on the opposite side of the room, is Theo—and alone! She is sitting turned from us, her arm resting on the back of her chair and supporting her head. She neither moves nor looks round as we cross the room, nor does she even start when Mrs. Dickenson lays her hand upon her shoulder.

"What are you doing here, Theo?" she says, severely. Then she looks up.
"He has never come," she says, in a strange, mechanical voice, and resumes her weary, meaningless stare out of the window.

Mrs. Dickenson shivers.

Items of Interest

New York, June 19.—S. S. Imperator, the biggest ship afloat, reached quarantine on her maiden voyage at low tide last night. She brought over 3,000 passengers. Her average speed across the Atlantic was 22 knots an hour. So great is her height that it was found necessary to remove a portion of the roof of the pier before she could come alongside.

There is a patient in Barming (not Barmy) Asylum, London, Eng., who is a wonderful carver. During the past seven years he has done work valued at $5,000, including a chancel screen, a communion table, a reredos and a lectern, all of which have been placed in the church attached to the institution. The oak he used was recovered from the old asylum brewery, and not the most rigid teetotaler can object to this sanctification of profane materials.

Superior, Wis., June 18.—"Rube" Schauer, the sensational pitcher of the Superior Club of the Northern League, was sold to-day to the New York Nationals for $10,000, delivery to be made Aug. 15. Dick Kinsella made the deal for the Giants after watching Schauer on the present road trip. Schauer leads the league in strike-outs, has pitched three one-hit games this year, and was robbed of a no-hit performance by a scratch without two in the ninth inning. He is playing his first year in organized baseball, having joined the Superior team as a recruit this spring.

Paris, June 16.—There is much talk in Catholic circles here of the death of one of the most picturesque religious figures in Europe, the "Holy Nun" Sister Maria Benta Frey, who breathed her last recently near Rome after having been bed-ridden fifty-two years.

Sister Maria is said to have made many predictions which were fulfilled with absolute accuracy which gives a sinister significance to her last utterance dictated on her deathbed to the nuns:

"Before two years are past—about the end of 1914—yellow invaders and negroes will be throwing dice for the fate of the last American girl in Central Park, New York, amid the smoking ruins of the great city given up to the idolatrous cult of the Golden Calf."

Liverpool, N. S., June 19.—Liverpool had its fill of electrical storms this week. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday contributing its share of west-split, rocks ploughed out, and immense holes torn in the earth. To-day came in with its contribution that terminated in its setting fire to the Corbin Island lighthouse, that well-known coast mark first lighted in 1812, and then under control of the Imperial Government.

This building was struck near the lights that are 50 feet above the ground, and the lightning tore through the whole side of it, coming out near the ground, and setting the structure on fire.

James Wentzell, the caretaker, called for assistance, and crowds of men put off from the mainland in motor boats to assist in saving the property. The intense heat from this 65 foot structure made it impossible to approach it, and in a short time the home of the keeper and oil house were also doomed, the only building being saved was the barn, situated some distance from the heat. Wentzell's loss will be considerable, chiefly in nets, tools, etc. During the progress of the fire, Fort Point was crowded with sight-seers, getting a four mile view of the spectacular fire.

3 Nuns Chosen Cable News.

At Montreal to Spend Their Lives Among the Lepers.—Will Never Return—Fifteen in all were Anxious to go There.

Sister St. Francis of Assisi (Miss Clara Hebert, of Montreal); Sister Marie Bernadette (Miss Alma Legor, of Alexandria, Ont.); Sister Raphael, (Miss Melina Biron, of Montreal).

These are the names of the three Nuns, chosen to go to the leper colony on the Island of Sheklung, nine miles from Canton, China.

It was a dramatic moment at the little convent of the Immaculate Conception, on St. Catherine's Road, when the fifteen volunteers assembled in the community room to hear Archbishop Bruchesi announce the choice of the Rev. Mother. The ceremony was simple, but none the less impressive. The chosen three throbbed with joy, while the disappointed ones tried to hide their disappointment.

The Archbishop quietly explained the great sacrifice that was expected. They were left free, as the mission work among lepers was foreign to the work. He quoted from a letter of one of the sisters in Canton, who had visited the Island of Sheklung: "Faces swollen out of all shape; hands without fingers; feet without toes, and some with their bodies more than half decayed. A young man had just been brought in, who had a large hole eaten in the sole of his foot. We could see the bone and the poor chap was suffering terribly."

His Grace told them they would have to leave home and kindred, the land of their birth and their beautiful little cloister to labor for life in a barracks, nursing the most loathsome of diseases. They were to go out of a world of brightness and health and gladness to an island of wailing, thronged with the anguished who were afflicted with a life-long illness. His Grace then asked if any were willing to withdraw their names. But all remained firm in their resolve. Then His Grace read out the three above names.

"The enthusiasm of the martyrs is still with us, my dear sisters," continued His Grace. "Your heroic act of self-abnegation, of prolonged martyrdom is a lesson to the materialistic spirit of the age. Heaven will reward you. I have seen the Sisters of Charity at the bedside of the sick in the pest-house; I have seen the sister of the contemplative life at the foot of the altar of God; I have admired the strength of the soul of the martyr and the bravery of the soldier in the firing line of battle, but these are not so touching, nor so tender as the sublime spectacle of a whole community eager and anxious to leave forever, father, mother, brothers and sisters, home and country to nurse in a far-off land victims of a dreaded and loathsome disease, without any vacation or rest until roses creep around their names above their graves."

His Grace showed the great reward that awaits those who sacrifice their lives for others. "Greater love than this no man hath than to lay down his life for those he loves."

"Out of love for humanity," he concluded, "you will leave your dear cloister, crushing the natural shrinking from the contamination of a loathsome disease. You will encounter with splendid courage an avalanche of duties, you will take your place with joy born of fraternal love, by these outcasts, nursing them through all phases of leprosy, keeping unflinching to your post till death closes the scene."

The Island of Sheklung was made famous through the ministrations of Rev. Father Connarty, more frequently called the second "Father Damien."

The three Sisters will be allowed to visit their parents' homes and will leave Montreal for ever early in July.

WHERE ARE THE MEN?

"There was one subject of moment touched upon the last day of the Scottish Church General Assembly," says the Glasgow News. "How are the men to be got back to the churches? As was pitifully remarked by one speaker, the churches to-day are pretty largely manned by women. Where are the men? The same speaker maintained that the ministers are not responsible for their absence. The minister of to-day was a sort of universal provider. He had to run all sorts of agencies, from supervising a laundry club to taking charge of a baby's club. It is difficult to believe that because so many ministers are puny, 'side shows' the people, particularly the men, are running out of the churches, but the synchronisation is peculiar. It would be interesting to know what would happen if ministers were to keep a little more closely to their prime vocation."

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, June 24. President Poincare will not see real London during his visit which begins to-day. London will be a metropolis masquerade, full of Venetian masts, draped with banners, shields and trophies. The State banquet at Buckingham Palace to-night will be a brilliant event. The King will propose the health of the guest in French, and the same language will be spoken throughout the banquet. The famous service of gold, which weighs between four and five tons, and is worth $5,000,000, will be taken from Windsor Castle for use at the buffets and tables. Needless to say wines of the best vintage will be put before the President of the great wine-producing country, but it is a curious fact that neither he nor any other guest will know exactly what brand he is drinking unless he is a marvelous connoisseur, for the rule of the Royal table decrees that all labels be removed from all wine bottles, so that no particular brand will be advertised. The menu will be printed in gold on ivory paper with embroidered edging. When the procession enters the State dining room the band will play the Marseillaise, as well as the National Anthem. The fact that M. Pichou, Foreign Minister, accompanies the President, and Sir Edward Grey will be with King George during his stay here, convinces many that important political developments may be decided within the next few days. The President will be the guest of the King and the British nation until June 27th. He arrived off Portsmouth this morning, after passing in review the most modern British war vessels, and landed at the dockyards, where he was met on behalf of King George by the Prince of Wales.

LATER.

President Poincare was entertained by the King at a State banquet tonight with as great a display of pomp and magnificence as ever shown in honoring a royal guest at Buckingham Palace. The President sat between the King and Queen at the central table, at which were also seated other members of the Royal Family and Ambassadors. The King in proposing the President's health referred to the cordial relations between France and England as a great factor in the preservation of European peace. The President made a felicitous response in a similar strain.

NEW YORK, June 24.

It became known yesterday that King George had conferred the honorary rank of Commander in the Royal Navy on Captain Turner, of the Mauretania. He will rank after commanders on the active list, but will be of senior naval rank among his own officers, who are all lieutenants in the Naval Reserve. When King George boards the Mauretania on July 11th at Liverpool, the Royal Standard will be hoisted at the main truck; Capt. Turner and his officers will wear cocked hats and swords, and the crew will be in naval reserve uniform. Capt. Turner is the first captain, not a reserve man, to receive the rank of honorary commander in twenty years.

HOBOKEN, June 24.

A thousand members of the crew of the giant German liner Imperator held a meeting here late last night, and adopted resolutions denouncing the working conditions of the vessel, demanding better food, better sleeping accommodations, and a nine hour day. The resolutions will be presented to the Imperator's commander to-day. The protesters include stewards, pantry-cooks, coal-trimmers, and firemen. Speakers said the men had been treated like pigs, poorly fed and overworked; their quarters were crowded, and a 16-hour day was not unusual; whilst the sanitary equipment was inadequate.

Special Notice.

We take pleasure in announcing the appointment of Mr. Richard C. Power as our Newfoundland Representative for the sale of one of the most attractive securities that we have marketed during the long period of forty years in which we have served the investing public.

We refer to the 7 per cent. Cumulative Preferred Stock of the Maritime Navy Company, Limited, a prosperous corporation operating at St. John, N.B., with the largest output of any single mill of its kind in Canada.

This issue is unusually well secured by assets appraised at $160 for every $100 share of Preferred Stock, exclusive of the amount covering the Bonds outstanding. The earnings record of the issuing Company is alike exceptionally strong and rapidly expanding under the present efficient management. Two other desirable features are the 50 per cent. Common Stock Bonus and the alternative plans of payment, cash or installment.

A fully descriptive circular has already been mailed to our many Newfoundland patrons. We advise these friends of ours and all other interested persons to immediately get in touch with Mr. Power, from whom additional copies of the circular and further particulars may be had. His office address is given below.

Tourist Traffic.

The S. S. Stephano is due to arrive tomorrow morning from New York and Halifax, having left the latter port yesterday. On board the ship, we hear, are a hundred tourists, some of whom are making the round trip and others to spend some time in the country.

Not a single berth will be available on the Florizel after leaving New York on Saturday next as those who have booked passages ahead already will fill up the saloon accommodation so that when the ship reaches Halifax there will not be a room vacant.

More "Scenic" Effects

The "freak" man this morning in the News says he never mentioned "scientific effects" and corrects the Telegram. If his memory would serve him he must remember that the Herald ran "scientific effects" like a serial story for 14 years, and it takes that time for the "freak" to make this correction. The "hicrotypic sounds" he hears of late has added him and caused him to imagine a great "influx." He has not answered our query about that slander of a prominent gentleman. He had better not.

Notes and Comments.

The editor of the Herald seems to have realized at last that it is idle to attempt to fob off the "smuggling" on the Southern Shore as a simple shebeening case. The articles seized included sugar and tobacco, which have no connection with shebeening. Moreover, a conviction was obtained in the shebeening case months ago, and yet the inquiry is going on, not by the police, which would be the case if the matter was shebeening, but by the Customs official, Inspector O'Reilly. According to the Herald the trouble has been the identity of the owner of the goods. Well, the investigation is still going on and there is still hope that the Customs Department will not fail to get the evidence Mr. McGrath says is required. The seizure caused much comment in the neighbourhood, and had it not been for the references to smuggling in the Southern Shore in the Evening Telegram it would appear that the public at large would have been left to wonder what the Customs were doing in the premises. The Evening Telegram has at last elicited the fact that the Department is carrying on a protracted inquiry which commenced months ago.

The Daily News, this morning, is boasting of the surpluses of the Morris Government, and the economy of the administration, save the mark. It is an insult to the intelligence of the people to characterize so the Morris Administration in the face of the wild expenditure that is going on all over the country. This everybody knows and people are appalled. We would like to ask why the surplus was not allocated in definite sums to definite objects, and not in a lump sum to election expenses, roads, etc., leaving the Executive in the face of a general election, to distribute the sum just as that body pleased. We would ask further, whether the Agricultural grants have been administered economically and whether it was an economical proceeding to engage three non-experts with big wages and travelling expenses to form an Agricultural Commission? The Gibbs organ calls one of the Commissioners an annual pensioner of the Government, and makes the serious charge that the bond of gold militated heroically against his usefulness as member for St. George's. If Mr. Dowley can be called an annual pensioner by the Government, what about Mr. Devereaux? Would the Daily News call the Gibbs organ charge muck-raking? As to the series of surpluses many people wonder why some reduction in taxation was not made in the early part of the Morris term, and Canvass torn, and Contents Stolen.

Since June came in, Messrs. Griffin, Garland, Jeans and other young men have erected camps near the sand pits, living and sleeping in them nightly and closing them by day, while they were at work in the city. Monday evening on returning to their tents they were amazed to see the canvass split open in several places, the poles which held them upright smashed, the pegs torn up and general havoc wrought. Nor was this all, for the authors of the outrage forced open boxes and other packages in which bread and groceries of various kinds were kept and appropriated the whole. The locks were broken off some of the boxes which were cracked and clothing which was not stolen was thrown about the place. The matter has been reported to the police who will do their utmost to capture the perpetrators of this outrage.

Boy Drowned.

Not long ago a sad accident occurred at Elliott's Cove. Random Island, P. B., when a little boy named Smith, aged 6 years, the only son of Mr. Norman Smith, was drowned in sight of his own home. The boy was last seen standing on the public wharf, and when he did not put in an appearance at tea, the surprise of his parents changed to alarm as a search made proved fruitless. The water was scrutinized and the lifeless little body was found lying on the bottom with only a few feet of water covering it. His bereaved parents are broken hearted over the little fellow's untimely death.

New Machinery.

Since taking charge of the Globe Steam Laundry Mr. Porter has made some great improvements to the place and it is now one of the finest and most up to date institutions to be met with anywhere. New machinery costing at least $4,000 has been set up including a collar ironer with a capacity of 300 an hour or 3,000 per day. The work done by this is excellent and the material though without the gloss has a neat, clean and bleached appearance. An ironer for heavy work on the most improved American principle has also been added, turning out 5,000 pieces per day of 10 hours. Shirts and other work is turned out at shortest possible notice by this, and the superior character of the work turned out has already largely increased the number of patrons of this fine laundry.

S. A. Revival Services.

Another large audience attended the revival service at the S. A. Citadel last night, and the same deep interest which has been manifested in previous meetings was evidenced in last night's meeting, and it is perhaps safe to say was one of the most impressive yet held. All the city corps were united and the service was in the hands of Adjutant Blackmore. The Citadel band was reinforced by members of the No. 2 band, and their playing was most inspiring. The Young People's Band was also present and took part in the opening hymn. After some whole-hearted singing on the part of the large congregation, and a few short addresses by well known members of the different corps, Adjutant Blackmore addressed the meeting, taking her text from Judges 3: 20—"I have a message from God unto thee." As the speaker from the word of God presented to her hearers a multitude of invitations and promises, all present felt that indeed she had come with a message from God unto thee. At the close of the service a number went forward to the mercy seat. On Thursday night Mr. R. K. Barnes will address the meeting. Mrs. Harzgrove, who possesses a fine soprano voice and is also a splendid musician, will sing, with guitar accompaniment. All are welcome.

THE RIGHT TO DIE.

German Professor's Plan for Incapable Invalids.—New Law Demanded.

Professor Ostwald, winner of the Nobel Prize for Chemistry, demands the legal recognition of "Euthanasia," in that Germany should pass a law permitting the putting to death of persons who have no desire to live. In the "Monatliche Jahrbuch," of which he is editor, Dr. Ostwald expounds his views. He holds that anyone who is seriously ill and suffering pain has the right to declare for "Euthanasia," and that his relatives or friends have the right to hasten his end.

Professor Ostwald finds this question ripe, and he publishes a draft proposed amendments to the Criminal Code. These begin with the proposition that "A person who is incurably ill has the right to be helped towards death."

TAKEN AT HIS WORD.

Old Johnson had realized the dream of his life, and taken his only son into partnership in the business he had worked up himself. There was great pride in the old man's heart the first day they were installed in the office together, and he was looking forward to the projects they would work out, and how the young blood would stimulate the firm. As the days went on, however, all did not work as old Johnson had expected, and the youngster's overbearing manner annoyed him considerably.

"Look here, young man," said he one morning, "let's have a little less of the 'I,' and a little more of the 'we' in this business. Remember I'm still here, and that you're only junior partner!"

The youngster "lay low" for a week and the father thought his few words had struck home. A few days later, however, his son appeared looking just a trifle anxious. "I say, dad, we've been and done it now," he remarked. "Done what?" asked his alarmed parent. "Well—er—we've been and married the typist!"

Scores "Free Fish" Tariff.

Thomas O. Marvin, secretary of the Gloucester Home Market Club, has submitted a report to the Senate Ways and Means Committee, stating the danger entailed in Paragraph 490 of the free list bill now pending ratification.
 The report says in part: "Under the terms of the new tariff bill, H. R. 3321, paragraph 490 of the free list, our Government proposes to grant to Canada and other countries the privilege of shipping their fish into our markets free of duty, a policy which, according to the 'Halifax Chronicle,' will place the fishermen, particularly of the western shore of Nova Scotia, in practical control of the New England market for fresh fish; and without any abandonment or national rights or any reciprocal concessions of fishing privileges to Americans in Canadian waters."
 "What this 'grant of free fish' means to the Maritime Provinces is boldly proclaimed in their own words: 'The advantages which will follow from this transformation of the industry will be enormous and will grow as the years advance and opportunities for us in Newfoundland are such as never existed before.'"
 "Advantages for American fisheries that historic American industry which was established on Cape Ann before Endicott landed at Salem, and which has been the nursery of our naval force in all our wars, are now abandoned with a haste and heedlessness which have caused consternation in all of our fishing ports and extreme jubilation in the ports of our rivals. This proposition to abandon historic rights appals the students of our diplomatic negotiations of a century, during all of which time Great Britain has unceasingly manoeuvred for the advantages and privileges which we now propose to surrender without any return whatever. One feature of the free fish policy which merits the serious consideration of the Congress of the United States is this fact that an annual bounty amounting to $160,000 is paid to fishing fleets of the Atlantic Provinces and Quebec.
 "On page 363 of the Canadian Annual Review for 1911, I find this pregnant sentence: 'During 1910-11, $332,300 was spent by the Dominion on fish breeding establishments and the usual $160,000 of fishing bounty was paid in the Atlantic Provinces and Quebec—a total since 1882 of $4,550,204.'
 "The very tools of the trade, the vessel and its equipment cost only about half as much in Canada as they do in the United States. A Gloucester fishing vessel which cost $15,500 was duplicated in every particular in Lunenburg for $9,400. The provisioning and outfitting a vessel are 30 to 40 per cent. cheaper in Nova Scotia.
 "Captain—Gloucester, Mass., $100 to $125; Lunenburg, N.S., $60 to $65. Cooks and Mates—Gloucester, Mass., $60 to $70; Lunenburg, N.S., $35. Men before the Mast—Gloucester, Mass., $30 to $35; Lunenburg, N.S., $22. Sailmakers—Gloucester, Mass., 18c. per yard; Lunenburg, N.S., 8c. per yard. Carpenters—Gloucester, Mass., $2.50 to $3; Lunenburg, N.S., $1.75.
 "It is not a condition of free and equal competition which will be brought about by a free fish policy. The American fishing industry will be forced into competition with Maritime Provinces which will not only possess the advantage of lower construction and operating costs, but they have also the advantage of a government bounty and can well afford to undersell our fishermen until our fleets are driven from the deep sea fishing grounds and then we will be at the mercy of foreign purveyors of a staple food product.
 "The present duty is three-fourths of a cent per pound, equivalent to an ad valorem duty in 1912 of 13.52 per cent, and for seven years the unit value of fresh fish, as given in the statistics of imports has increased only one-thousandth of a cent per pound, plainly showing that the duty has not appreciably increased the cost of living.
 "The production of mackerel, hal-but, and salmon, which have had a duty under the present law of 1 cent per pound, amounted, in 1910 to $1,691,053, and the imports were valued at $1,651,199.02, an almost equal amount. Practically 50 per cent. of our mackerel, halibut and salmon are now imported under a duty of 1 per cent per pound, equivalent to an ad valorem rate of about 16 per cent. The unit value of mackerel, halibut and salmon in 1905 was 6 cents; in 1912 it was .062, an almost imperceptible increase in seven years.

 "There is nothing in the statistical record of the fishing industry to warrant a radical reduction in the duties, and the only effect of a free fish policy will be the annihilation of the deep seas fisheries of the United States, without any benefit in lower prices to the consumer.
 "The amount of the duties collected on fish imported in 1910, was $236,584; in 1912, $225,417. Therefore our present rate of three-fourths of a cent per pound does not much more than offset the Canadian bounty of $160,000 per year."—N. Y. Fishing Gazette.

PRESCRIPTION "A"
 CURES INDIGESTION & DYSPEPSIA IN ALL ITS FORMS.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart exert myself, and at times I care for nothing."
 I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.
 Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Prescription "A". A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

Fashions and Fads.

Bandeaux are adorned with butterflies.
 The fichu is again revived on lingerie gowns.
 Pink and blue is a favorite combination for summer.
 Jabots of crepe tulle have cravats of colored moire or taffeta.
 The sac mantel coats of lace and tulle have much success.
 Light-weight cloth suits are trimmed with bullet buttons.
 Win fashion's favor and wear a butterfly on your hat or gown.
 Some of the newest lingerie from Paris is actually made of tulle.
 New materials have butterfly borders in all its gorgeous colorings.
 Sashes of flowered mousseline de soie are used on many lingerie gowns.
 Hats are larger, and the drooping garden variety are most prominent.
 Jackets of moire are worn with skirts of charmeuse or crepe de chine.
 The suit of cloth has been replaced by the semi-tailored coat suit of silk.
 With evening costumes, scarfs of Bohemian, chantilly and duchess lace are worn.
 A new skirt has a long oval side panel, weighed down by a long silk tassels.
 The most effective trimming on the cotton crepe dress is the soutache braid.
 Some of the new tulle ball gowns for girls are trimmed with white swansdown.
 Ostrich plume trimming is effectively introduced on many tulle and chiffon dresses.
 For canoeing, the Balkan blouse, belted round the hips, has replaced the straight middy.
 Very smart long silk gloves are elaborately embroidered or trimmed with bands of lace.
 Dark blue chiffon forms a charming drapery over ivory charmeuse or crepon soie dresses.
 The best dressed women in Paris are wearing aerial tulle illusion and chiffon draped robes.
 Coats of crepe de chine or flowered taffeta are seen with skirts of contrasting color and material.
 The most elaborate fichus are made of real lace, chantilly, Bohemian, alencon and Valenciennes.
 Pleated flounces of tulle and fine plisse flounces encircle the charmeuse, crepon or lingerie skirts.
 Flowers are very much used to adorn the hats of straw, chiffon or lace planned for dress occasions.
 White tulle tunics are bordered with ostrich plumes and worn over draped ivory white charmeuse skirts.
 The French crepes in plain and embroidered designs are charming and cool, and will be very much worn on hot summer days.

Play to a Draw.

The third football match for the season of the Brigade division was played off last evening on St. George's Field, the opposing teams being the C. L. B. and C. C. C., and the game resulted in a draw, no goals being scored. Weather conditions were all that could be desired and the attendance was the largest, without exception, for the season. The exhibition on the whole was good. It was a clean game and a hard fought one too. To sum up, neither team could say they had the best of play, as during the hour that the game lasted spectators could see that both sides took sports of aggressiveness in turn. Experienced footers said after the match that never in the history of Newfoundland football were two teams witnessed that were so equally matched and well balanced as last night's brigade men. At the opening of the game the C. L. B. who won the toss and kicked eastward, began the attack and worried their opponents. Excitement commenced amongst the on-lookers and a fast game was the outcome. The C. C. C. made a few runs but were driven back. In the second half of the match a splendid contest was witnessed and enthusiasm was high amongst brigade supporters, but neither side succeeded in finding the net. The personnel of the teams were:—

C. L. B.—Goal, F. Marshall; backs, Bradbury, Ryall; halves, Newman, Wiseman, Trebble; forwards, Keats, Rendell, Andrews, Hunt, R. Marshall. C. C. C.—Goal, H. Phalen; backs, J. Walsh, Thompson; halves, Christopher, W. Hart, Kavanagh; forwards, Boardigan, Hart, F. Phalen, Evans, Woods.

Died at Avondale.

There passed peacefully to the great beyond at Avondale, June 18th, fortified by the rites of Holy Church, Ellen, the beloved wife of Michael Hennessy, and daughter of the late Michael Devereux, aged 56. The deceased had been ailing for some time. She contracted a heavy cold a year ago which proved fatal. She was patient in suffering and resigned when the dread summons came. She passed away with her husband and eight children by her bedside. Her death was but a passing from this world to a better, to reap the reward of a good life. She was an exemplary Catholic, being charitable and kind to the poor and with all who knew her. She was noted for her generous hospitality, always having a kind word and helping hand for the poor and afflicted. She was an affectionate wife and mother. High Mass and Office for the repose of her soul was celebrated by Rev. Mons. Veitch, assisted by Rev. Dr. Murphy of Brigus as Deacon, and Rev. Fr. Sheehan of Harbor Main, Sub-Deacon, whilst three daughters of the deceased—Mrs. M. Walsh, Mrs. T. Moore and Mrs. J. Moore—at her request, sang the High Mass. She was the mother of fourteen children. Twelve are living, three sons—Lawrence M., Michael B. and John F., and nine daughters—Mrs. Eugene Surtette and Mrs. Lawrence Furey, residing in Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. M. Walsh, Mrs. T. Moore and Mrs. John F. Moore, residing in Avondale; Miss Frances, teacher in Bar Haven, Placentia Bay, and three living at home, Nellie, Mary and Maud. Besides these she leaves four brothers—John, Cornelius, Jas. and Michael Devereux, and one sister, Mrs. Patrick Doyle, and a large circle of friends to mourn their sad loss. R. I. P.—Com.

Cable News.

ESSEVAN, Sask., June 24. Many buildings were wrecked and several people injured by a cyclone, which struck this town last night. The people were watching a ball game, and hurriedly fled, just before the cyclone, wrecked, lay on the ground, soaking in the rain, to avoid being carried away. The lighting plant was put out of business, and the telephone wires were damaged. Burns in the country were wrecked. The total loss reaches over $25,000.

Workman Injured.

A workman named Cullen, engaged discharging the s.s. Beatrice, was struck on the head with a piece of coal that fell from a gangway, on Monday night. A bad wound was inflicted and Dr. Roberts, who was summoned, had to insert several stitches to close the cut. The man lost much blood and, as a result, became very weak. He was unable to resume work and had to be driven home.

Wedding Bells.

CLARKE, FRY. Wesley Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. Enos Clarke, of Messrs. Ayre & Sons, and Miss Lillian Fry, formerly in the employ of the Hon. G. Knowling. A large gathering was present to witness the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. F. R. Matthews, B.A. The bride was handsomely attired in a dress of cream duchesse satin with shell and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of carnations and was given away by her father. The bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Miss Beatrice Fry, and the groom's sister, Miss Elsie Clarke, both of whom were dressed in green satin covered with net. The groom was assisted by Messrs. Thos. Hopkins and Douglas Joyce. Mr. Pratt presided at the organ playing Mendelssohn's Wedding March. After the service was performed the wedding party drove to Smithville where a reception was held and the health of the happy pair heartily drunk. The toasts proposed were "The King," Mr. T. Hopkins; "The Bride," Mr. J. Giles, resp. the groom; "The Groom," Mr. E. Taylor; "The Bridesmaids," the groom; "Bridesmaids," Mr. Wm. Horwood; "The Parents," Mr. Geo. Grimes, resp. Mr. Wm. Fry; "The Guests," Mr. Douglas Joyce, resp. Mr. Wilson Clarke. After the reception the party drove to Waterford Bridge when amid the well wishes of many friends the happy couple boarded the train for Holyrood where they will spend their honeymoon. They were the recipients of many useful presents. The groom's present to the bride was a purse of gold, while the bridesmaids, Miss Fry received a ring and Miss Clarke a gold locket.

CLARKE, FRY. Wesley Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. Enos Clarke, of Messrs. Ayre & Sons, and Miss Lillian Fry, formerly in the employ of the Hon. G. Knowling. A large gathering was present to witness the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. F. R. Matthews, B.A. The bride was handsomely attired in a dress of cream duchesse satin with shell and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of carnations and was given away by her father. The bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Miss Beatrice Fry, and the groom's sister, Miss Elsie Clarke, both of whom were dressed in green satin covered with net. The groom was assisted by Messrs. Thos. Hopkins and Douglas Joyce. Mr. Pratt presided at the organ playing Mendelssohn's Wedding March. After the service was performed the wedding party drove to Smithville where a reception was held and the health of the happy pair heartily drunk. The toasts proposed were "The King," Mr. T. Hopkins; "The Bride," Mr. J. Giles, resp. the groom; "The Groom," Mr. E. Taylor; "The Bridesmaids," the groom; "Bridesmaids," Mr. Wm. Horwood; "The Parents," Mr. Geo. Grimes, resp. Mr. Wm. ### Wanted, a Job.

The men who have been making the Panama Canal will soon be wanting a job. Here is their application for it as written by Berton Braley in the "American Magazine". Here we are, gentlemen; here's the whole gang of us. Pretty near through with the job we are on. Size up our work—it will give you the bang of us. South to Balboa and north to Colon. Yes, the canal is our letter of reference. Look at Culebra and glance at Gatun; What can we do for you—got any preference. Wireless to Saturn or bridge to the moon? Don't send us back to a life that is flat again. We who have shattered a continent's spine; Office work—oh, but we couldn't do that again! Haven't you something that's more in our line? Got any river they say isn't crossable? Got any mountains that can't be cut through? We specialise in the wholly impossible. Doing things "nobody ever could do!" Take a good look at the whole husky crew. Engineers, doctors, and steam-ship men! Taken together you'll find quite a few. Soon to be ready for trouble again. Bronzed by the tropical sun that is history. Choicest of energy, vigour, and tang. Trained by a task that's the biggest in history. Who has a job for this Panama gang?

There is one thing that I have noticed among you boys and girls and that is the kind disposition and agreement that you seemed to manifest between each other. During my three years stay among you I have seen very little quarrelling and you have shown a very cheerful spirit in your work which must be said to your credit. I trust you will still manifest this same spirit and try your utmost to please those around you; that is what we are living for to love and help one another.

A great deal of the success of our school work I attribute to the co-operation of your parents; and I would here take this opportunity of thanking them for their help and the many kindnesses which they have shown me.

I would also say that perhaps I have said some hard things to you which you probably thought you did not deserve, but allow me to say that I have said to you only for your benefit and to show you your duty, and not because I had the least dislike or hatred against any of you.

In a few days I shall be leaving you, and I esteem it a great pleasure to take with me your kind wishes, and wherever I go I shall still be interested in the boys and girls of Musgrave Town, and I hope my success or that his stay among you will be even more successful and pleasant than mine.

Presentation and an Address.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Mr. Editor.—Please allow me space in your valuable paper for a few remarks concerning a very pleasant occurrence which took place here on the 19th inst.

On the afternoon of the 19th inst. Miss Flora B. Brown presented our teacher, Mr. Charles Garland, a note from his scholars asking him to close school at 2.30 and meet them in Mr. R. S. Oldford's field.

At 4 o'clock we all assembled in the field, where a most enjoyable time was spent by all. Tea was served on the grass after which an address was presented to the teacher accompanied with a valuable "fountain pen," as a slight token of his scholars esteem and regard for him.

The address reads as follows:— "Dear Mr. Garland.—We wish to take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your faithful work during your stay among us, also our regrets that you are so soon to sever your connection with us.

In view of these facts, please accept this small token of our esteem, and also our sincerest wishes for success in your future and chosen vocation.

PUPILS OF MUSGRAVE TOWN SCHOOL.

Dear Scholars.—I am sure this is a very pleasant surprise to me this afternoon, and my heart is full of gratitude to you for such a useful present.

Do you know I always thought that boys and girls could not keep a secret, especially when so many were connected with it; but it seems that you have kept this among yourselves, and nobody has told me anything about it, so in the future I shall have to change my opinion.

There is one thing that I have noticed among you boys and girls and that is the kind disposition and agreement that you seemed to manifest between each other. During my three years stay among you I have seen very little quarrelling and you have shown a very cheerful spirit in your work which must be said to your credit. ### "Bonfire" Night.

In keeping with the time honoured custom of celebrating the 24th, or St. John's Day, bonfires blazed on the South Side Hill last night. A large fire was also lit on the top of Gibbet Hill and was reflected in the waters of the Harbour. In bygone years the fire lit on the summit of Robinson's Hill afforded the greatest spectacle to the liagers. Each year the boys of the King's Road and neighbourhood would be supplied by the late Mr. F. C. Cornick, of Harvey & Co's., with what tar barrels were required, bought were cut and hauled from the woods in great quantity and from the yards of the old tannery near the dried hair, horns and bones from defunct cattle would be gathered and the fire when kindled would light up the surrounding country and often last till 1.30 next morning. The fire always presented a fine spectacle.

The address reads as follows:— "Dear Mr. Garland.—We wish to take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your faithful work during your stay among us, also our regrets that you are so soon to sever your connection with us.

In view of these facts, please accept this small token of our esteem, and also our sincerest wishes for success in your future and chosen vocation.

ALL LOST MONEY.

VICTORIA SPORTS BET ON J. E. STARR MAKING RETORT.

Methodist Minister Not Only Caused the Gambling Fraternity of Pacific Coast City to Lose Their Money, But He Also Had the Last Word When He Delivered the Benediction.

Once upon a time a fearless judge of the Supreme Court sitting in Victoria was brave enough to manhandle the Rev. J. E. Starr, who was appearing as a witness in a case. The Rev. J. E. was fearless himself. If there was anything he was noted for in the fair coast city it was for the dauntless way in which he denounced things of which he disapproved. Busy young reporters let the citizens in on the court incident, and speculation was keen as to the nature of the revenge the fire brand young Methodist preacher would take.

Red Rubber Report.

Censure of British Directors.—"Employees a Gang of Murderers."

The report was published yesterday of the Select Committee of the House of Commons which was appointed to inquire into the atrocities in the Putumayo district of Peru, South America, alleged to have been committed by agents of the Peruvian Amazon Company.

The crimes with which the men were charged included "murder, torture, violation, constant floggings of a barbarous nature, and other acts of unspeakable cruelty," and the cases were said to be not isolated but part of a system.

The following are the chief findings of the committee: "The reality and gravity of the atrocities have been confirmed by the inquiry.

The directors did not direct, and are deserving of severe censure. Senator Arana knew of and was responsible for the atrocities of his agents.

He did not communicate his knowledge to the British directors before the Truth revelations.

He subsequently repudiated all knowledge of them.

Four British Directors.

The four British directors, Mr. H. M. Read, Mr. J. Russell Gubbins, Sir John Lister-Kaye, and Mr. T. F. Medina, cannot be held responsible for anything occurring before September 1907; the date of the formation of the company to take over Senator Arana's business, and their individual responsibility begins at different dates.

Many of the company's principal officials were unquestionably guilty of the most revolting atrocities against Indians.

Joseph Pulitzer's Ideals.

On the celebration of its thirtieth anniversary of becoming the property of Joseph Pulitzer the New York World printed a retrospect of the economic, social, political and governmental regeneration of the United States in that period and how present day conditions are singularly in harmony with the announced policies of Mr. Pulitzer when he became owner of the world on May 10, 1883. Its ideals are the same to-day.

Here is the World's article in full: "Thirty years ago to-day Joseph Pulitzer became the editor and sole proprietor of the New York World.

"That day marked the beginning of a new journalism in the United States—a journalism that was to be independent of individuals, of private interests, of personal ambition, of political factions and of parties—a journalism devoted unreservedly to public purposes and public principles regardless of all other considerations.

"The World began its new career with a platform of policies that were freely denounced as revolutionary and communistic:

- "Tax luxuries.
- "Tax inheritances.
- "Tax large incomes.
- "Tax monopolies.
- "Tax the privileges of corporations.
- "A tariff for revenue.
- "Reform the civil service.
- "Punish corrupt office holders.
- "Punish vote buying.
- "Punish employers who coerce their employees in elections.

"To-day that platform would be regarded as mildly and innocuously conservative in most of its planks. The last remaining issues embodied in the declaration of political faith are in progress of actualization in the Congress of the United States.

Thirty Years Ago.
"When Mr. Pulitzer took over a discredited newspaper that had been the

HUSBAND TIRED OF SEEING HER SUFFER

Procured Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which made His Wife
a Well Woman.

Middletown, Pa.—"I had headache, backache and such awful bearing down pains that I could not be on my feet at times and I had organic inflammation so badly that I was not able to do my work. I could not get a good meal for my husband and one child. My neighbors said they thought my suffering was terrible. "My husband got tired of seeing me suffer and one night went to the drug store and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me I must take it. I can't tell you all that your medicine has done for me. I was greatly benefited from the first and it has made me a well woman. I can do all my housework and even helped some of my friends as well. I think it is a wonderful help to all suffering women. I have got several to take it after seeing what it has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA ESPENSHADE, 219 East Main St., Middletown, Pa.

The Pinkham record is a proud and honorable one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

plaything of Jay Gould, America was in a state of transition.

"The war issues were still alive.

"The Bloody Shirt was a familiar feature of every campaign.

"The Federal troops had been withdrawn from the South only six years before, and Northern Republicans regarded that unhappy section of the country as a conquered province.

"Nowhere, North or South, was there genuine freedom of elections.

"The ballot box was protected by force, not by law.

"Vote-buying was an established practice.

"Employers coerced their employees and marched them to the polls on election day to vote according to orders.

"Elections were commonly carried by fraud.

"Seven years before, the Presidency itself, had been stolen. Corporations were without restraint.

"Railroads were the prizes of Wall street piracy.

"Corruption was a recognized system of government.

To-Day.

"In the course of these thirty years an Interstate-Commerce law has completely established the authority of the National Government over railroads engaged in interstate commerce.

"An Anti-Trust act defines and punishes conspiracies in restraint of trade.

"A secret ballot has been secured, with an honest count.

"Corporations have been forbidden by law to contribute to political campaign funds.

"Both parties and candidates have been compelled by law to publish a full list of their contributions and expenditures.

"The assessment of office-holders for political purposes has been made a crime.

"The spoils system has been largely eradicated.

"The standards of public service and public duty have been created.

"A new patriotism has arisen that refuses to be shackled within party lines.

"Trade, finance and industry have undergone a revolution that is no less moral than material, and the Nation has attained a unity in aims and ideals beyond anything heretofore achieved.

"In the course of these thirty years Democracy has fought its fight with Plutocracy and triumphed.

"The supremacy of human rights over property rights has been established.

"Nothing that has taken place in these three decades is more remarkable than the change in the attitude of the country's captains of money and industry toward the public at large. Wall street itself would not now tolerate a Jay Gould or a Jim Fisk.

Corporation Control.

"The greatest corporation in the United States, with its thousand million dollars of capital, would not assert a right to manage its affairs regardless of the public interest or regardless of the welfare of its employees.

"Property has moved forward to the advanced ground that radicalism once held and radicalism has moved on to fields once undreamed of.

"No man can study the history of the American people during its various epochs without being profoundly impressed by their steady mental, moral and political progress.

"Each generation has a higher code and a higher standard than its predecessors. Each has a firmer grip upon fundamental principles and a broader understanding of the issues presented to it.

"There have been nominal reactions in American politics, but none endured for long.

"This is not merely a richer or a more numerous people than it was in 1883. It is a more intelligent people and a more ethical people. It has a saner public opinion, a more alert national conscience and a finer sense of justice.

"And the World ventures to say, in no spirit of boasting or self-glorification, that the inspiring history of these thirty years might have been vastly different but for the new American journalism that Joseph Pulitzer created thirty years ago to-day.

The World in 1913.

"Human progress, remarked Lecky, rarely means more than a surplus of advantages over evils. It will always be so. The struggle for liberty is mainly a struggle against the abuses of authority.

"Oppression is always Privilege, buttressed by law of one kind or another. Progress is less the enactment of legislation to promote popular welfare than the repeal and modification of legislation which sacrifices the many to the advantage of the few.

"Issues change, but principles remain eternal, and there is no truce in the battle for human rights.

"Thus regardless of changing conditions and changing issues, the World stands to-day where it stood thirty years ago, fighting the same fight for the same principles, keeping the same faith, dedicated to the same ideals of public service and public duty."—Fourth Estate, May 14.

Nature's Cinema.

Father Bernard Vaughan in Poetic Mood.—A Ravishing Sunset.

At the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Farm Street, recently, Father Bernard Vaughan, fresh from his American tour, began a course of sermons on "Our Lord's Table Talk as Guest and Host." The subject for the day was "At the Marriage Feast."

In the course of his sermon Father Vaughan said: "Not many weeks ago I was standing on the deck of a vessel ploughing her way on the Pacific from Honolulu to Yokohama.

"The sun was sinking, and divided the waters to starboard and to port into seas of silver and gold. From horizon to zenith there was a rainbow, penetrated, pierced through and through by the golden shafts shot up by the sun in its sinking. It was a great, motion picture.

"I stood ravished. A multi-millionaire traveller who was travelling for the sake of his unhinged mind, and who had spoken to few but me on the voyage, came up to me, and tapping me on the shoulder, said, 'What are you so enchanted about? It is only a ball of fire sinking below the horizon. I see nothing in it; it's got no money in it. What's the good of it?' I said: 'Friend, do you know there are ten million of your countrymen who are paying their dimes every day to see a cinematograph incomparably inferior to this, for which we pay nothing? Your picture-shows change every week; God's sunsets for millions of years have changed every day, with no two sunsets alike and no sunset even two minutes alike.

"What you want is a little more poetry and a great deal more religion."

Which is Success?
 By RUTH CAMERON.

We were talking this morning about the human selfishness of a doctor who, because he disliked the probable publicity, refused to accept an emergency patient who was suffering agony from a painful accident.

"Well, I don't know as I blame him after all," said the doctor's critic finally. "When you come right down to it, it's the selfish people who get on in this world, and people like them just as well too. If you are unselfish, people use you and then throw you aside. They don't seem to care any more for you, and you never get ahead. I don't see where it pays. I guess after all it is about as well to be selfish. It's the selfish people who succeed in the world."

"That is a familiar philosophy, isn't it? But do you believe it?"

Sometimes I'm tempted to. And then again, I realize what a flimsy fallacy it is. They say selfishness pays, and unselfishness doesn't. And when anyone denies that statement they point to plenty of instances in which selfish people have forged ahead in the world while unselfish folk were still at the bottom of the ladder. But the fallacy lies in the questionable nature of the coin in which payment is made. One must decide whether that is artificial or real before one admits the statement.

Throwing aside all your preconceived ideas on the matter, try to start right at first principles and think hard—what does pay in this world? What is success? And, mind you, I do not mean in any limited sense, but in the sense of getting most out of life.

Is it to go speeding about the country in high power machines, dining at expensive taverns and meeting expensive people? Is it to always have your clothing cut in that particular line and made of that particular weave of cloth which happens to be approved at the present moment? Is it to have more rooms in your house than your neighbors have, more servants in your kitchen, more books in your library, more food on your table, more invitations in your mail, more automobiles in your garage?

Or is it never to lose your joy in simple pleasures or your interest in big issues; to keep always alive in your heart that thrill which awakens to beauty or nobility wherever found; to do your share of the world's work as well as it lies in you to do it; to learn to really think about everything instead of accepting your thoughts ready-made; to try to remember that "things" are not the whole of life; to love justice and logic; to go on loving and serving others just because you want to, even if it doesn't seem to "pay"; to have a few real friends, and best of all to have the right to be friends with yourself because you have kept faith with yourself all through the burden and heat of the day?

After all what is success?

Denied Explorer's Charge.

Stefansson Attacked.—Missionary Tells Anglican Synod of Work Among the Eskimos—Bad Influence of Traders.

Charges that must, if believed, utterly discredit William Stefansson were made by Rev. C. E. Whitaker, missionary to the Eskimos in the connection with the session of the Anglican Synod, last evening.

Before the Canadian Club at Ottawa, Stefansson had declared that the missionaries were preaching too much gospel and too little hygiene, and Mr. Whitaker stated that as there were no other missionaries in the district, the charges must have been intended for the Anglicans.

Standing on the platform before the Synod, flanked by the Bishop and other dignitaries, Mr. Whitaker made his charges. He had hesitated long before making the charges against a man whom he had befriended and who had befriended him in that far distant country, but when the explorer impeached the mission work the people of Canada should know the character of the man.

Once Theological Student.

"Stefansson once was a theological student," said Mr. Whitaker, "but he became tangled with the new criticism and threw over theology and religion alike and adopted science as his religion. None of the Ten Commandments have any binding effect upon him. He has in that country a wife and child without the pale or sanction of the Church, yet he holds up the work of missions in contempt. I have at last decided to make this statement, behind which I am willing to stand with my reputation.

"We know the life that Stefansson has led. Now he is going out into the very same region. We know the lives that abandoned men live away from law and public opinion. They don't care a fig for missions or the people among whom they live."

No Licensed Doctors.

With regard to the explorer's charges, Mr. Whitaker stated that it was true that there were no licensed medical missionaries in the district.

"This is as far as the charges go, however," he declared, "I am not a medical doctor myself, but I have studied a great deal of medicine, and I have practised medicine among these people for seventeen years."

He then stated that the missionaries did not spend all their time in preaching salvation of the soul. They thought of the bodies of the natives as well, and seized every opportunity to teach hygiene and sanitation.

Hundreds Baptized.

With fervor Mr. Whitaker dealt with the mission work among the Eskimos and what had been accomplished under most disadvantageous circumstances. During the past three years 250 people had been baptized into the Church in the Mackenzie River district alone and had given $700 themselves toward the mission work. Disease had entered through the whalers and traders, and the missionaries had found it on their arrival, and had done much to stamp it out and improve the native habits of life.

 Dear Sirs—Nearly one year ago I had my first order of "Mathieu's Syrup" from you. It was not known in this country, and I gave samples to several families whom I knew would use it. After a few weeks I began to have a call for it, and made has increased wonderfully since. I have not the least doubt but that it will soon be the best selling remedy for coughs, colds, etc., on the market. In my store here sales are good and our people ask for it. Several stores in this county now keep it in stock and report sales increasing. I have bought from you since August 18th, 1907, 4 Gross and have only three dozen on hand at this date, and which I am holding for retail trade in my store.

Statements Not True.

The missionary then reverted to the criticism of Mr. Stefansson. "His statements are not true," said he, amid applause. "His inferences are not true." The epidemic of disease which had afflicted the people was due to ill habits, fostered by liquor sold them by traders and others. These scourges, said Mr. Whitaker, came by way of the Klondyke and through the trading posts. Traders had also been responsible for the wholesale destruction of the caribou. He instanced one case where a single whaler had taken 30,000 pounds of caribou meat which meant the slaughter of five hundred animals.

Mr. Whitaker referred to the fact that the Government had backed the explorer to the extent of $75,000 to discover yet uncharted country in the great north. He believed that even more important was the necessity of getting up into the country of the Eskimo and establishing and spreading the news of the gospel. "We should care as much about the salvation of souls as Stefansson cares about the bodies," he declared.

Work Among Jews.

The Rev. W. E. Jackson, recently returned from Japan, gave an interesting address on the opportunities that offered themselves to the missionary there, and Canon Marsh and Dr. Lindsay also spoke.

In the report of the M.S.C.C. it was stated that a new policy with regard to work among the Jews was to be inaugurated. The Canadian Church concentrating its labors among the Jews in this country. The last census showed 75,000 Jews here, and they were increasing so rapidly that there were probably now 150,000.—Toronto Telegram.

El Dorado.

There is a land of pure delight, remote from vulgar storms, where people stay up day and night, inviting new reforms. The natives have no feet or hands; they all have run to jaws; because their blessed isle demands no other thing than laws. They nothing do but legislate and frame new laws each day, and no one has to pay the freight; there is no freight to pay. There talksmiths aye are in the van, and lawyers are in swarms, and he is held the greatest man who springs the most reforms. There no one plows and no one sows or weeds the making laws to govern t'other chaps. No smoke from factory or mill is seen upon the breeze; reformers come along and kill such industries as these. If any fellow strains and racks his form to gain a roll, they hit him with an income tax and put him in the hole. "You have," they say, "no earthly right to money you have earned, and to the lawyers, foolish wight, it all must be returned; for what you call prosperity we don't care seven straws; there's always sin where such things be and all we need is laws." And so beneath their uplift flags they argue, rant and rail; goe half the population drags the other half to jail.

Facts For The Weatherwise.

WEATHER SIGNS.

The sun is bright, the sky is clear. But grandma says a storm is near. And when I asked how she could know she said the peacock told her so. When, perching on the old fence rail, he screamed so loud and dropped his tail!

And the shy cuckoo on the wing repeated over the same thing: And "More wet!" all the bob-whites cried.

That in the grassy meadows hide; the soot that from the chimney fell came down, it seems, this news to tell!

The kettle sang the self-same tune when it boiled dry so very soon; the grass this morning said so, too, that hung without a drop of dew; and the blue swallows, flying low across the river, to and fro.

So all these told her very plain that ere the evening it would rain; but who told them, and when, and how?

That's what I want to find out now. St. Nicholas.

WEATHER PROVERBS.

The absence of dew for three days indicates rain. Heavy dew indicates fair weather. Clouds without dew indicate rain. If there is a heavy dew and it soon dries, expect fine weather; if it lies long on the grass, expect rain in twenty-four hours.

With dew before midnight, the next day will surely be bright. If you wet your feet with the dew in the morning, you may keep them dry for the rest of the day.

If it rains before seven, 'twill clear before eleven. Rains from the south prevent drought, but rains from the west are always the best. It rains before sunrise, expect a fair afternoon. It rains when the sun shines, it will rain the next day. Rain is likely to commence on the turn of the tide.

Marry the rain to the wind and you have a calm. If rain commences before daylight, it will hold up before 8 a.m.; if it begins about noon, it will continue through the afternoon; if it commences after 9 p.m., it will rain the next day; if the wind is from the northwest or southwest, the storm will be short; if from the northeast, it will be a hard one.

HOW TO USE A BAROMETER.

The following rules are those which are used by the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club in their very successful attempts to forecast the weather with the aid of the barometer.

A Rising Barometer.—A rapid rise indicates unsettled weather. A gradual rise indicates settled weather. A rise with dry air and cold air increasing in summer indicates wind from the northward; and if rain has fallen, better weather may be expected. A rise with moist air and a low temperature indicates wind and rain from the northward. A rise with southerly winds indicates fine weather.

A Steady Barometer.—A rapid fall indicates stormy weather. A rapid fall with westerly wind indicates stormy weather from the northward. A fall with a northerly wind indicates storm, with rain and hail in summer, and snow in winter. A fall with increased moisture in the air and best increasing indicates wind and rain from the southward. A fall with dry air and cold increasing in winter indicates snow. A fall after very calm and warm weather indicates rain with squally weather.

The barometer rises for northerly winds, including from northwest by north to the eastward for dry or less wet weather, for less wind, or for more than one of these changes, except on a few occasions, when rain, hail, or snow comes from the northward with strong wind.

The barometer falls for southerly wind, including from southeast by south to the westward, for wet weather, for stronger wind, or for more than one of these changes, except on a few occasions, moderate wind, with rain or snow, comes from the northward.

COWS TELL RAIN.

A sign of coming rain or strong wind is evident when a herd of cows gather together at one end of a pasture, with their tails to windward. Again, when cows are unusually frisky—so that sedate old grandmothers caper about the field and butt imaginary objects with their horns, while they fling up their heels—often storms are in the air.

FIRE AS A BAROMETER.

Willsford, in his "Nature's Secrets" (1658), tells us:

"When our common fires do burn with a pale flame, they presage foul weather. If the fire do make a huzzing noise, it is a sign of tempests near at hand. When the fire sparkleth very much, it is a sign of rain. If the ashes on the hearth do clodder together of themselves, it is a sign of rain. When pots are newly taken off the fire, if they sparkle (the soot upon them being incensed), it presages rain."

"When the fire scorcheth and burneth more vehemently than it useth to do, it is a sign of frosty weather; but if the living coals do shine brighter than commonly at other times, expect then rain. If wood or any other fuel do crackle more than ordinary, it is an evident sign of some tempestuous weather near at hand; the much and sudden falling of soot presages rain."

A Paris Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair.

In Paris the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is due entirely to this new discovery.

It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-sought-for article is proven every day.

The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant dressing, and is sold by your druggist. A large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50 cents.

Miscellaneous.

The tax collection made by the city of Sydney on Saturday amounted to $22,914.44. The amount taken in on Friday was $17,358.66, making a total for two days of over $41,000. Some money!—Sydney Record.

"Sydney was dry, very dry, on Sunday," said Liquor Inspector Prescott Anthony to the Record this morning. "Why, I visited more than a dozen places on Sunday and found each one with their doors locked and barred. One liquor dealer in talking to me, said: 'Your efforts to dry up this place have been so successful that on Sunday I had to send to North Sydney to get a half case of whiskey.'"

'Farm and Fireside' gives an account of remarkable records made by exceptional hens. One hen, Lady Showyou, laid 59 eggs in 59 consecutive days. Her production for the year was 281 eggs, and she was recently sold for $800. A group of five hens exhibited in the Connecticut egg-laying contest laid an average of 218.18 eggs during the year they were tested.

Paul Nicholas, a farmer of Benton Harbor, Mich., is a human aquarium. For weeks he has been suffering from a serious stomach ailment. Recently he was seized with a violent coughing attack and emitted a four-inch fish. Other coughing spells have been attended with like results. Attending physicians say Nicholas swallowed tiny minnows, which lived and grew in his stomach. He is recovering rapidly. He kept the fish and has it in a glass jar. He calls it "Jonah."

A Scottish Highlander recently walked through Europe, India, Ceylon, Australia, and New Zealand in his picturesque native costume. In Ceylon he came near being murdered at a religious festival where he was taken for a devil. The chief of a wild New Zealand tribe offered him a native bride in return for the costume. His bare knees were fiercely assailed by mosquitoes in Australia, and he spent large sums of money purchasing cologne water with which to bathe his knees, in order to keep off the insects.

Muscle.

By H. L. RANN.

Muscle is a successful imitation of Para rubber which is used to upholster the human arm. When the upholstering is well done, as is usually the case with blacksmiths, the muscle can be turned into a concealed weapon and used to produce black eyes and other facial adornments. One of the nicest things about muscle is that people who have it seldom are obliged to put up with any back talk from those who have never grown any.

Muscles are caused by two or more pugnacious nerves coming together head on and tying themselves in a bow knot. When a number of these knots locate in the upper story of the right arm, they give the owner a very impressive appearance and prevent people from questioning his veracity until he is several blocks away.

It is a generally recognized fact that the Japanese kimono was invented for the benefit of combative wives who are so endowed with muscle that they can't double up their fists without splitting a pair of $7 kid gloves from the second joint of the middle finger to the apex of the crazy bone.

As a rule, men have more muscle than women, although appearances are deceptive. Sometimes a mild, 90-pound helpmeet who is too feeble to button the back of her dress will astonish the neighbours by committing assault and battery upon her husband with a bevy of flatirons or beating him into a helpless condition with a hat pin. This is a criminal and perverted use of muscle which cannot be too deeply frowned upon.

Muscle is, sometimes given to people who have no use for it whatever. A man may have a muscular development like a sugar-cured ham and still be totally incapable of pumping a pail of water for dinner. It is very discouraging to see a robust husband with swelling muscles lying around the house in a colored shirt and allowing his wife to canter up and down the lawn in the rear of a stiff-jointed lawn mower, yet this revolting spectacle is all too common.

A great deal of muscle, centers in the jaw and is passed out in the form of small talk, and as a general thing the more muscular and vivacious the jaw the smaller the talk.

Football on Bell Island

Difficulty Settled.—Games Soon Start. The difficulty in football circles on Bell Island, has, we learn, been amicably arranged, and the League games there which are behind time this year, will soon be started. Two teams the Nova Scotia's and Dominions competing. The outstanding trouble, which arose at the annual meeting of the League about a month ago, was satisfactorily settled at a meeting of the B.I.F.L. on Saturday night when an interesting session was held, it being at last decided that the rule dealing with players being resident on the Island three months before the first game, stand over until next season. As this cleared the atmosphere, satisfactory to all concerned, the series will soon start, and judging by the high standard of football on the Iron Isle last year, we may expect this year to hear of under's meetings was a representative one, the chair being occupied by Mr. C. F. Taylor, Chairman of the County Council, and President of the B.I.F.L. and the following representatives being present: Mr. Maine, President S.A.A.; Messrs. Cahill, Eagan and Connors, of the S.A.A.; Messrs. B. Butler and Thompson, of the W.A.A.; Dr. Guthrie, President D.A.A.; Mr. J. M. Greene, Vice-Pres. D.A.A.; Mr. L. C. Murphy, Secretary D.A.A.; and Messrs. Noonan and Pine, of the D.A.A.

RECORD MANOEUVRES.

340 Warships but only 3 Waterplanes. That the coming naval manoeuvres will be upon the largest scale is shown by the list of ships that will take part in them, issued by the Admiralty recently. In all there will be 340 vessels engaged, of which 41 will be battleships, 5 battle cruisers, 27 armoured cruisers, 44 unarmoured cruisers, 27 mine layers, depot and repair ships, 134 destroyers, 20 torpedo boats and 42 submarines.

It is not a little disappointing, in view of Mr. Churchill's statement that the Navy would have 75 waterplanes ready for service by July, to find that only three of these craft are to be engaged.—Daily Mail.

Penco,

Dealers, Builders, Architects and Engineers, who want the BEST, insist that their Metal Roofing, Ceiling or other Metal Products bear this mark of quality.

PENCO Sheets are the kind that are used on the warships of the U. S. Navy—the kind that you will find East-West-North or South—even in the mountains of Asia.

They cost no more than cheaper grades. Let us quote you.

Have You Read "SPANISH GOLD"?

(By Geo. A. Birmingham.)

The most delightful novel we have read in ten years. You simply cannot help becoming enthusiastic over it, for the red-headed Curate of Ballymoy (the principal character) is one of the most droll and lovable characters in recent fiction, for ever getting his friends into trouble, and for ever laughing at them and blarneying them out of them.

A sure cure for the blues and a tonic. The book is bound in cloth and the price is 50c. Post paid 52c.

Not Stuck-on Itself.

The built-in—not stuck-on—tire like Dunlop Traction Tread is the only successful Anti-Skid. Manufacturers of the stuck-on type dare not make the corrugations big enough to prevent skidding without fearing to make them so big that they will destroy resiliency.

The Cheapness of Satisfaction.
The cost of the safety which you obtain by purchasing Dunlop Traction Tread tires is insignificant in comparison with the price of neglect.

Takes a Grip on the Road.
Dunlop Traction Tread grips the road. It doesn't matter where the road is or what it is made of.

Success is Always in Evidence.
We predict that Dunlop Traction Tread will become the standard Anti-Skid tire of this country. Watch the tires as the cars go by.
