CHAPTER XVII.
 A MADWOMAN'S REFRAIN.

"It is about your sister. Pray excuse the apparent impertinence of the inquiry," he returns, "but I have grave reasons for wishing to know whether she is engaged to Mr. Warden? Believe, in asking this question, I am not actuated by mere idle curiosity."

"Then I am puzzled to understand what can actuate you," I reply, with a touch of hauteur that surprises myself. "I am not in the habit of discussing my sister's affairs with any one, least of all with a comparative stranger."

"I cannot blame you for resenting what must have struck you as a strange inquiry," my companion replies, with a grave bow, and an indescribable something in the kindly, patient face that disarms my resentment in a moment. "Believe me, I had wise reasons for asking it; and allow me to beg your pardon."

"It is granted freely!" I return, impressed, in spite of myself, by the earnestness of his manner, and sorry from my heart that I have spoken so sharply. "By the way, Mr. Smiles, you seem to be greatly interested in Mr. Warden. Have you remembered yet under what remarkable circumstances it was that you first met him?"

Without a word, he turns and looks thoughtfully into my face, as if doubtful what to say to me.

"Yes," he says, at last, a strange, impressive earnestness in his manner. "I have remembered!"

"Well, and where was it—or do you mean to keep that important event a secret?" I ask.

"Yes—no—it will depend upon circumstances. Believe me, my dear Miss Kendrick, I shall strive to do my duty as soon as I see it clearly," is the enigmatical reply.

CHAPTER XVIII.
 THE TANGLED WEB OF TROUBLE.

"THE one thing in this business that puzzles me is the secrecy that has been maintained about it."

It is Len who speaks, and there is a tone of suspicion in his voice very unusual with frank, easy-going Len, who is generally only too ready to take people exactly at their own valuation.

"If that poor soul's friends—and, by the way, who are her friends?—choose to shut her up in that little cottage, yonder, instead of sending her to an asylum, well and good; but, for Heaven's sake, why make a mystery of it?" he adds, as we sit chatting together for a few minutes in the parlor at Deepdene before separating for the night.

"Who has made a mystery of it?" Addie inquires, her brows contracting as if with some secret pain, and her delicate, sensitive, little face paling and changing as I have never seen it pale and change before.

"Warden and Mrs. Martin, to be sure," Len goes on, unconscious, perhaps, of the pain he is giving. "That woman has been in and out this house almost daily, yet has she ever dropped a word that could lead any one to suppose that the mysterious inmate of Ivy Cottage, about whom we have all been so intensely curious, was a poor, crazy creature over whom she was keeping guard? If that isn't secrecy, pray, what is it?"

"If there has been any secrecy, Ernest—Mr. Warden, I mean—must have had his motives for maintaining it," Addie replies, loyally anxious to defend her lover from even a suspicion of wrongdoing.

"Undoubtedly; but the question is: what are those motives? Mystery does not always presuppose wrong, but, at the same time, I'm not fond of it," Len returns, with very unusual gravity; "but come, girls, it is getting late. We are losing our beauty sleep. It is time we went to bed, I think; and you may bless your lucky stars as you go upstairs to-night that there is no longer any danger of meeting the ghost!"

That mystery has been, rather summarily knocked on the head, at all events," he adds.

I go up to my room this evening with a good deal more confidence than I have ever felt since we first came to Deepdene. The dread of that mysterious apparition, which has haunted me since the evening of our first arrival, is dispelled at last.

I know now that the weird figure which puzzled me so much—is mere commonplace flesh and blood like myself, and quite as incapable of creeping through keyholes and solid masonry; and, under any circumstances, I have nothing more to fear from its visitations.

"I little thought, until Len told me about her startling Lesley and Doctor Fuller in the garden that night, that poor Maud, Lennox had become a source of alarm to my friends at Deepdene," Mr. Warden remarked, as he walked home from Forton rectory with Addie and me a little earlier in the evening. "I am sorry it should have happened," he added, rather hesitatingly, as if in doubt as to the light in which we might be disposed to regard the affair; "but it is one of poor Maud's fancies to wander about in that spectral way whenever she can manage to give her attendant the slip, and Mrs. Martin will have to be more careful for the future. I'm afraid she has been rather neglectful of her duties of late; but why did you not tell me of her startlingly uncomfortable visits?" he asks, speaking to Addie rather than to me.

"I did not know of them until now. I never saw her myself; and neither Len nor Lesley ever mentioned the subject to me until to-day," she replied, a little coldly and constrainedly, I thought. "Who is this Mrs. Lennox, Ernest? Poor thing! how shocking to be bereft of reason! Has she been so long? But what did she mean by—by talking and clinging to you like that?"

"Mean!" he repeated, with a short, uneasy laugh; "good heavens, Addie! you do not expect me to explain a madwoman's vagaries, surely? Lunatics seldom know what they mean themselves; nor are they very clear, as a rule, either as to their own identity or other people's. There is no knowing for whom she took me."

"Yet she seemed to know you—she called you 'Ernest,'" she persisted.

"Yes, for five minutes. The next time she sees me I may be his satanic majesty or the Prince of Wales in her eyes. The only way to treat a lunatic's flights of fancy is to ignore them altogether. But suppose we change the subject. I did not wish to alarm you by the knowledge that you had a madwoman for a neighbor; but now that you know it, there is nothing more to be said; and I'll take care that she does not annoy you again."

The explanation is simple enough, surely; and yet, like Len, I am still disposed to regard the affair with a good deal of secret suspicion.

Alas! what a tangled web of trouble and mystery I seem to have got into since we came to Deepdene. I think, as standing before the glass in my own room, I brush out my hair and reflect over all that has happened to us since we left London; at Leonard's situation, with Miss Clitheroe—the secret marriage to which Addie stands pledged—and of my own very dubious prospects, with a sudden sinking of my heart as I wonder what and how it is all to end!

But that is a question time alone can solve, I conclude, with a sigh. And then, having set up my little night light on the dressing table—somehow I have such a dread of the darkness of late—I prepare to retire to the bed that looks so big and solemn with its old-fashioned tester top, and heavy curtains of dull red, shrouded just now, like everything else in the dusk-laden room, in dull gloom.

It is not a cheerful apartment by any means, even with the broad light of day streaming down through the queer, little diamond-shaped panes of the drafty old window, that is so deeply sunk into the thick masonry of the wall that the sill is like a table—a quaint, stone-set window that looks like the window of a church, and that really belonged to the little chapel of the monks in the old days when Deepdene was a monastery.

Nor do I like it any the better for Great Skin Cure Stirs Country.

A new scientific discovery for skin diseases is attracting the attention of all doctors in Newfoundland and Canada. This discovery gives instant relief to the most aggravated cases of Eczema and allied diseases and brings about permanent cures in a fortnight. It is called the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema.

Apparently no case of eczema can stand against this simple remedy, D. D. D. Prescription. As soon as the first few drops of this cleansing, soothing liquid are applied, the itch is gone.

D. D. D. cures because it penetrates the skin and washes away impurities, unlike greasy salves which merely clog the pores and aggravate disease. D. D. D. penetrates to the disease germs, kills them and then soothes and heals the skin.

D. D. D. is being used with great success for all forms of Eczema, Bad Leg, Pimples, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Barber's Itch and in fact all skin diseases.

Test this great cure; don't delay. Get a bottle of D. D. D. Prescription to-day. Sold Everywhere.

The fact that it is separated from that part of the house in which Len and Addie's rooms are situated, by a long passage that cuts me off from every body, and impresses me with such a terrible sense of loneliness, at times, that nothing save my dread at being laughed at as a believer in ghosts has ever induced me to occupy it at all.

In London Addie and I were always compelled, by the limited accommodation of lodgings, to share the same room; but since we came to Deepdene we have had what I am secretly disposed to regard as the very doubtful advantage of a separate chamber; and no one but myself will ever know how often of a night I have crept into bed with a little creepy shudder, to life there preternaturally wide awake, listening to the hair and mice holding demonic revels behind the wainscoting, with the horrible feeling that something was lurking among the shadows of the old-fashioned curtains and furniture, ready to walk out upon me like a pale ghost in the still watches of the night.

For many reasons I have striven to be very brave, but somehow the old house, with its queer noises, its romantic history, and shut-up rooms—in one of which the body of Mrs. Erroll, with her half-written confession in her hand, was found one dreary winter's day many years ago—have not been altogether without its effect upon my mind; and, tired though I am, I lie awake for a long time thinking of the afternoon in Friary Wood; of my new-found friend, Mr. Denton; of Mr. Smiles' strange manner; of the crazy lady at Ivy Cottage; and last, but not least, of Doctor Fuller and his singular display of emotion at the sight of that weird figure in the garden that night.

But at last, in spite of the confusion of my thoughts, and the squeaking and scratching of the mice in the wall, I drop off into a quiet, dreamless sleep, from which I am brought back, as with a sudden jerk, to perfect consciousness.

Something—a touch or sound, perhaps, I cannot tell what—has aroused me, and, wide awake as ever I was in my life, I open my eyes, surprised, but without a shadow of fear, to behold a motionless figure standing in the dim light by the side of my bed.

"Addie!" I exclaim, never for an instant doubting that it is my sister, who has come to call me for some reason; "what is the matter, dear? Are you ill? Do you want me?"

There is no reply; but, turning away, the figure glides round the foot of my bed, passing between me and the dim night light on the dressing table opposite, toward the door.

"Addie, what is it?" I repeat, springing up from my pillow, as, having gained the door, the figure gives me a backward glance from over its shoulder, and vanishes.

Grease spots can be removed from the floor by means of alcohol. Save all celery tops; they will give a delicious flavor to soup. Perennials are better than annuals to plant in most gardens.

DELCO-LIGHT

Brings City Convenience to the Country!

DELCO-LIGHT consists of an engine, generator, switch-board and set of batteries. Electricity is stored up in the battery by means of the generating unit. Wires lead from the light and power connections to this storage battery, from which electric current is used as desired for light or power.

You will find DELCO-LIGHT to be a model of simplicity, the engine is started by merely pressing it on the starting switch located on the switch-board, and the engine starts running on its own power in a few seconds, and when battery is completely charged, engine stops automatically.

DELCO-LIGHT is air cooled. As a result there is no water to carry, no danger of freezing, and fewer parts are required.

DELCO-LIGHT has not been built to meet price. It has been constructed to give satisfactory electric service year after year, and the only reason it is possible to sell DELCO-LIGHT at the price we do is the big production, making possible a saving in the purchase of raw material and in manufacture. Consider the advantages of Electric Light. With DELCO-LIGHT you can distribute any number of lights about your house and outbuildings, no danger from fire, no disagreeable odors, plenty of bright electric light which protects the eyes when reading.

In addition, DELCO-LIGHT will furnish sufficient current to operate a motor from the smallest up to one-half horse-power size. Most light farm work can be accomplished with a one-sixth horse-power motor. A motor of this size will do the churning, the cream separating, the washing, and will operate an electric water pump and pressure system.

WAR REVIEW.

Evidently it is not in the plan of the Entente Allies to leave the Germans secure in their possession of the line they are now holding in the region between the Somme and the Oise. Although the front from the south of the Somme past Chaumes and running through Roye to Noyon has been studded with fresh reinforcements and innumerable gun emplacements in order to keep back the Allied troops the Germans nevertheless again have been forced to give ground and at points where seemingly their defenses seem most crumpled and the retreat eastward be resumed. French and Canadian troops on Friday night, between Gouyencourt and Lanouart, a front of about three miles, had fought their way west of Roye until they were virtually knocking at the doors of the town, which is one of the key positions of the German defense in Picardy, while to the immediate north British troops fighting alone were still in possession of Danery and Parvillers, following heavy counter attacks made by the Germans to dislodge them. West of Roye the Allied line is now only a scant mile and a quarter distant, adding materially to the danger of Roye by direct assault on the part of the French and Canadians at its western gates, and from a flanking movement by the British on the northwest. The French have carried out successfully an advance five miles in the south, which seemingly lays the town open to a turning movement from the Oise valley which has been penetrated deeply. Not alone, however, is Roye menaced by this latter advance, but debouching from the woods south-eastward the French are in a position to outflank Lassigny, and with the French troops in the Oise valley near Ribecourt, also strategically placed to begin a rolling up process, which if successful, would obliterate the hill and wooded country, now standing as a barrier to the capture of the town of Noyon. Taken together the position of the Allied troops on the Somme Oise salient is materially better than it has been for several days past. The retirement of the Germans on parts of the northern front continues, but these manoeuvres as yet lack definite explanation. Following closely upon the evacuation of front line positions north of Albert which were taken over by the British, has come another voluntary relinquishment of trenches in the Lys sector. The village of Viesperquin has been given up, and ground over a front of about nine miles to a depth of about one to two miles has been ceded without fight.

WAR REVIEW.

Identically it is not in the plans of the Entente Allies to leave the Germans secure in their possession of the line they are now holding in the region between the Somme and the Oise. The French have carried out successfully 3 advance five miles to the south, which seemingly lays the town open to a turning movement from the Lodges wood which has been penetrated deeply. Not alone, however, is Roye menaced by this latter advance, but debouching from the woods south-eastward the French are in a position to outflank Lassigny, and with the French troops in the Oise valley near Ribecourt, also strategically placed to begin a rolling up process, which, if successful, would obliterate the hill and wooded country, now standing as a barrier to the capture of the town of Noyon. CANADIANS CAPTURE PARVILLERS.

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES, Aug. 15. (By K. F. E. Livesey, Canadian Press Correspondent.)—The Canadians captured the village of Parvillers in a smart operation which enabled them to straighten out their line in that sector of the front. A number of machine guns and prisoners were taken. The latest report was that our troops were holding the village and reinforcements have gone in support against the strong post the enemy has in the vicinity. Enemy artillery activity indicates a stiffening of resistance. Hostile aircraft have been considerably strengthened on the whole of the Amiens-Mont Dore front. Some thirty-four enemy divisions have been engaged, including fresh divisions from his reserve. The enemy has used up every battalion of the two of the four divisions holding his line in front of the Canadians, these being the 7th and the 118th.

DEFENSIVE BREAKING DOWN.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE VESLE, Aug. 15. (By the A.P.)—The sustained pressure by the French and Americans on the line between Soissons and Rheims appeared to-day to be having the expected result. Information from behind the German front obtained by observers indicated the withdrawal of one or two enemy divisions. In addition the counter actions of the Germans have been notably reduced of late. Moreover the enemy's reply to American guns which never have ceased their punishment has been appreciably less prompt and the falling off in the enemy's aerial activities has been especially noticeable.

IMPORTANT GAINS.

PARIS, Aug. 15. French and Canadian troops have made progress against the Germans over a front of more than three miles, between Goyencourt and Laucourt, west of Roye, according to the French official communication issued this evening. The Bols. Nos Loges, five miles south of Roye also has been penetrated deeply by the French.

GERMAN MAN-POWER DWINDLING.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 15.—Germany has acknowledged that her man power once so freely wasted, now is dwindling in proportion, great enough apparently to cause considerable anxiety to the high command. The toll taken particularly in recent fighting by the Allied armies and the prospect of being confronted by ever growing American forces has caused General Ludendorff to issue most imperative orders for a vigorous immediate comb out in the German army.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, Aug. 15. Yesterday evening the enemy again launched a strong counter attack against our new positions at Damery. His troops were everywhere repulsed with great loss, leaving over 250 prisoners and a number of machine guns in our hands. To-day our advanced troops in this locality have pushed forward in co-operation with the French and have made substantial progress in the direction of Fresnoy, Les Roye and Fransart. We have taken prisoners. On the remainder of the British front there is nothing to report except artillery activity on both sides.

WITH THE AVIATORS.

LONDON, Aug. 15. In spite of bad weather, British aviators have bombed enemy organization and concentration points in the Struna Valley. On Aug. 15th our crews dived or put out of action 25 enemy machines. Thursday night our bombing squadrons made several ex-

Other expeditions flew over the valley of the Aisne and the region east of it, and obtained excellent results. Four tons of explosives were dropped on the railroad station at Thionville, and on the region of Mesieres and Charleville. A total of twenty-five and a half tons was used.

THE MODEST GERMAN PRESS.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 15. German newspapers comment bitterly of the manifesto issued by Great Britain in recognition of the Czech-Slovak nation. It is the height of hypocrisy when England gives those notorious traitors a testimonial that they are waging legitimate warfare, the Cologne Gazette says.

NEEDS MUNITIONS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. The pressing need for arms and ammunition by the people of Western Siberia who have arrayed themselves against the forces of German and Austrian prisoners, and the German influenced Bolsheviks, is being considered in the Allied capitals, according to information received to-day. The answer of the Allied nations to this appeal has not been disclosed, but it can be stated on high authority that the United States Government is anxious to be of whatever possible assistance.

MINES ON AUSTRALIAN COAST.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 15. The finding of additional enemy mines along the Australian coast, is announced.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 15. Fire to-day destroyed three of the mills of the French and Ward Woolen Co., engaged on government work and a big stock of cloth for army uniforms. The loss was estimated at $40,000.

HELPING THE BRITISH.

LONDON, Aug. 15. A curious coincidence comes to light in connection with the arrival of the British at Baku. The garrison of the place consisted largely of Bolsheviks who, with Armenians, were opposing the Turks, thus the British while fighting the Bolsheviks in the north are co-operating with them in the south.

IN THE EASTERN THEATRE.

PARIS, Aug. 15. (Army of the East, Aug. 15.)—In Albania, east of Porogans the enemy renewed for the third time attacks, which our troops repulsed. In the region of Gramst the enemy suffered severe losses in the course of fruitless reconnoitering.

ANOTHER NEW GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, Aug. 15. (British Wireless Service.)—The Government of Northern Russia has been formed with M. Tchalkikowsky as President and Minister of Foreign Affairs. The other members of the Government include Socialists of various parties. The political program of the new Government which has just been issued contains the following clause: First, the creation of a Russian Democratic power; second, the re-establishment of local Government on a basis of universal suffrage; third, the recreation of the Russian national army and a renewal of the war on the eastern front; fourth, the expulsion of the German invaders to be carried out with the aid of and in co-operation with the Entente Allies.

AMERICAN AIRMEN'S WORK.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 15. (By the A.P.)—American aviators successfully bombarded the railroad yard at Dommarcy Baroncourt in the Verdun-Metz area this morning. Longuy on the north of Verdun and Thiescourt were attacked Wednesday. Several bursts were observed in the central and southern parts of the yard at Damery-Baroncourt and the installations. These are believed to have been wiped out. Three direct hits were made on the track in front of the station at Longuy and 23 bombs fell on surrounding warehouses. Certain military objectives were bombed at Thiescourt.

PRETENDER DEAD.

PARIS, Aug. 15. (Havas Agency.)—Cair Malmid Glauout who was prominent as a supporter of Mulai Mohammed, pretender to the Moroccan throne ten years ago, is dead, according to an announcement by the Temps. Cair Malmid Glauout was friendly to the Entente cause in the present war.

ARMY RAILROADING.

PARIS, Aug. 15. (Havas Agency.)—A railway, more than 130 miles in length behind the French front has been built in less than one hundred days, and yesterday was opened for traffic. Its purpose is to improve the communications between the northern and southern parts of the northern railway systems. The construction of the line involved the building of two important bridges and a tunnel some 375 yards in length.

ENDOWING PROFESSORSHIPS.

LONDON, Aug. 15. Several large sums of money have been given recently to leading English universities for the establishment of Professorships in aeronautics. It is announced. The University of London made the announcement Thursday that it not only had accepted a gift but proposed to start almost immediately systematic work in the science of aeronautics.

GERMANS HAVE LOST INITIATIVE.

LONDON, Aug. 15. The withdrawal on the Western front by the Germans in the past few days, it is believed here, indicate that the enemy intends to abandon the offensive. It is said to be doubtful whether he will be able to resume the offensive since 35 divisions now are necessary between the Oise and the Ancre, of which 15 are from the reserves. There are now only 16 fresh enemy divisions in reserve on the entire Western front, and only eleven of these belong to the army group of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria. Military observers say that there is every indication that the Germans intend to stand on their present line. There is a possibility, however, that they will fall back to the Divette, a small tributary of the Oise and which joins it south of Noyon. The French now hold all the high ground in that region. It is said that the British are so close to Chaules that the enemy cannot use the town. Almost all their communications in Peronne have been rendered useless by the Allies.

DOMINION REPRESENTATION.

LONDON, Aug. 15. In order to provide for the continuity of the deliberations between the representatives of Great Britain and the Dominions, the Imperial War Cabinet, says the Times, has decided that each Dominion shall be represented by a Minister stationed permanently in London. The Imperial War Cabinet will meet from time to time with these Ministers as members.

IMPORTANT ADVANCE BY FRENCH.

PARIS, Aug. 15. The French have made an important advance on a front of two and one-half miles west of Roye according to the War Office statement to-day. The progress was in the region of Villers Les Roye, about two and one-half miles west of Roye Staurit and Armancourt.

WELCOMES THE BRITISH.

LONDON, Aug. 15. The population of the Murmannsk region received with joy the British force that landed there recently, according to an Allied diplomat who has arrived in London from Petrograd.

NOTED FRENCHMAN DEAD.

A PACIFIC PORT, Aug. 15. Albert Metin, head of the French Economic Mission now in the United States, former Minister of Labor in France and Minister of Blockade, died here at midnight last night from a stroke of apoplexy. Metin was stricken early in the evening, shortly after his arrival here with the mission of General Paul. General Paul, the noted French military leader, was the joint head.

EARTHQUAKES RECORDED.

VICTORIA, B.C., Aug. 15. One of the most severe earthquakes that ever has been recorded on instruments was registered on the seismograph at the Gonzales Heights Observatory to-day. The registration started at 5:30 a.m. and lasted for three hours. The quake centre probably was 8,000 miles distant.

LABOR LEADER ARRESTED.

CUMBERLAND, B.C., Aug. 15. Joseph Naylor, formerly President of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, was arrested here to-day and taken to the county jail for safe keeping. During the day the military police who made the arrest refused to say on what charge they arrested Naylor. Naylor was prominent as a sympathizer during the recent trouble over the shooting of Goodwin, a draft evader.

CRUISER SUBS.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 15. The German submarines carrying out raids in American waters are of the cruiser type, very probably converted merchantmen like the Deutschland, which made two peaceful trips to the United States before this country entered the war. They are low speed craft, with great cruising radius, carrying large crews, 53 guns and mines laying equipment, as well as torpedoes.

FURTHER WITHDRAWALS.

LONDON, Aug. 15. Further slight enemy withdrawals from the Lys salient were announced in London to-day. The enemy has evacuated the village of Vieux-Berquin, south of Merris, and has retired between one and two miles on a front of nine miles.

GERMAN CASUALTIES 600,000.

PARIS, Aug. 15. The total of German losses from the beginning of the war to the end of July, 1918, are understood to be six million, according to the morning papers. The figures include 1,400,000 killed up to the beginning of the German offensive last March. From March 27th to June 17th the Germans are said to have lost 150,000 killed alone.

The Victory Loan.

The remarkable success which has attended the raising of Newfoundland's first loan at home, is as much an indication of the patriotism of the people of this Dominion as anything they have yet done in the war. For it must be understood that when it was proposed to raise a sum of money at home to help cover the increasing expenses in connection with our participation in the struggle, there were many who did not take kindly to the suggestion, and it was not favourably looked upon. Yet when the lists were opened the response to the invitation to purchase was so prompt and liberal that within a week applications taking up the two million dollars asked for had been received, and these from St. John's alone. In order, therefore, to give the outpouris an opportunity to show their confidence in this initial venture, the sum of the loan to be taken up in Newfoundland was enlarged, and with the following month subscriptions for One million five hundred and nine thousand dollars had been forwarded, making the total amount of Bonds purchased by our own people reach the magnificent sum of Three million, five hundred and nine thousand dollars. Following the closing of the lists on July 27th applications were sent in for one hundred and fifty-six thousand dollars, which had to be refused. Had it been possible to accept these, the sum total of subscriptions would have been Three million six hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars or nearly equal to the amount of Bonds purchased by Canadian investors in our Loan. The average per head of population figures out at fifteen dollars, a most remarkable showing, as comparison with the loan raised in other British Dominions and the United States will bear out. The number of actual subscribers being one thousand, eight hundred and thirty-eight, gives an average individual investment of approximately two thousand dollars. It is impossible to have a better illustration of the confidence which our people have in their country, and it is more so a splendid manifestation of patriotism and determination to continue the war to a victorious end. If the German people have a vision at all, it will be of the endless wealth which is being poured into the maelstrom of war by a united civilization. In a supreme endeavour to rid the world once and for all of militarism and autocracy. And in this effort Newfoundland has not fallen short of the standard set. Rather has she excelled it, and we can surely congratulate ourselves to-day on the magnificent performance which will win for the oldest daughter of the Empire a place in the council of nations.

The most significant feature of the Bond purchases arises from the fact that very little of the money of the people on deposit in the Savings Banks of the country was distributed or drawn on, the larger proportion of the subscriptions having been taken from the current accounts of the applicants. What better evidence is needed to show the stable financial condition of Newfoundland. We have been abundantly blessed and the liberal response to the Victory Loan appeal serves as an assurance that the future financial needs of this Dominion for war or domestic purposes are secure. The Telegram thanks its contemporaries for their reference to the part it played in having this loan placed at home.

Notes and Comments

You cannot judge a man's religion by his actions in an auto-trail.

The New York World says that the report that the German Crown Prince is in need of help shows that he is running time to form. Not much else has been heard from him since he took the field.

Germany, according to the geographers, is not an exceedingly mountainous country, but all the same, the Vancouver Daily Sun is convinced that it is not on the level.

Rumour originates, sometimes without foundation, and to trace them is difficult. At the same time there is no need for any person to get angry with a newspaper reporter who hearing certain reports endeavours to get to the bottom of them for the sake of the persons involved. Verb sap.

Germany is now furnishing its citizens with paper trousers, and all we have to say is that we hope there are many and frequent rain storms in that country.

The United States Fourth Liberty Loan will open on Saturday, September 8th. The amount will be something like $6,000,000,000, and the interest rate 4 1/2 per cent. The Great Republic of the West is in the War to win.

"Why did Jones name his daughter Margaret?"
"Because he hadn't any but her."

Dance for Sailors and Soldiers.

The energetic ladies of the "Thursday Wanderers" are making big preparations for the dance to be given the returned sailors and soldiers which is being held in the C.C.C. Hall, King's Beach, on Aug. 22nd. Every sailor and soldier may bring a lady friend. Tickets for the ladies can be secured on application to ex-Sergt. Mitchell. The C. C. C. Band will furnish the music and all are welcome. This is another popular move to be inaugurated by the "Thursday Wanderers."

Rebuilding Addition to Store.

The enterprising firm of Bishop, Sons & Co., Ltd., who have taken over the store recently vacated by Mr. Jesse Whiteway, on the western end of their already big departmental store, are having the front and basement of the building rebuilt; the windows and doors are to be fitted to correspond with those of the departments already in use. Mr. Geo. Herder is in charge of the job and expects to have the building ready for the fall trade. When completed the greater part of the new department will be for gent's furnishings while a portion of the store will be used as a ladies' showroom.

Band Concerts.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—The last several band concerts given by the C. C. C. Band in our parks were so well enjoyed that one hears with regret that the concert given on Friday night last was the final one. This is a pity, particularly as it would seem that only now we are getting our summer and surely no more pleasant couple of hours could be passed anywhere of a fine summer's evening than in either of the parks listening to the lovely music of one or the other of our bands. For the remainder of the present and September months the evening is always the best time of the day, and with an attractive musical programme (which our people always appreciate) hundreds will be only delighted to visit those recreation grounds and not only enjoy the "Daylight Bill" but possibly a view of Mr. George Keough's meteoric star.

I remain, very truly yours,
Aug. 17, 1918. P. J. K.

Well Cleaned Fish.

A few days ago, a banker arrived in port for repairs, and as she was being fixed up several hundred quintals of her catch were landed. Each fish taken from the hold was as white as snow, there not being a particle of blood left on the bone, or around the nape, and her cargo was stowed and salted in a most uniform manner. The catch on board totals about 2,500 quintals for two months work.

Dangerous to Shipping.

The following special notice was posted up in the Board of Trade Rooms this morning: "Voyages to Sydney, Halifax and United States ports are for the present attended by the greatest danger to ships. Ship owners that commission their vessels to go to sea after this warning do so at their own risk."

Vimy Ridge

APRIL 9, 1917.
I.—The Victory.

It was twelve months ago. The April 9th.—The Victory.
Was not yet risen from his cloud-girt bed; And many a sentry stood with nodding head that night's watch was done; When suddenly from every deep-voiced gun Broke forth a savage, raucous roar and sped. The shrieking shell, and over all there spread Confusion and destruction, sparing none. It was twelve months ago. The April stars Withheld their radiance from that stricken field. Wharston's insatiate, gory hand of Mary Had gazed so swift, so plentiful a So might it seem that on the Vimy Ridge Brave lust of Empire reaped its heritage.

II.—The Victors.
Away such thoughts! O God, it cannot be! Did Justice perish here, when Mercy Is Reason buried with the uncounted dead. On this unhalloved ground, where all we see To-day proclaims it one vast cemetery. Who, then, were they who charged, and fought and bled, Triumphed or found a last, a stony bed. On Vimy slopes? Far o'er the western sea Their galleons came, for they had heard the call. Of duty they had heard the distant cry Of martyred Belgium in her agony. They fought that Freedom's banners might not fall. Nor she be crushed from out the hearts of all Mankind, beneath the yoke of Tyranny.

—R. B. C. in the London Chronicle.

A War Prediction.

Mr. Bhattacharji, an Indian astrologer, of Calcutta, has issued a war forecast which has, at any rate, the merit of definiteness not always forthcoming in predictions of the kind. He predicted that vigorous battles would be fought at Mons on April 15th, 1918, at Namur on June 9th, and at Brussels on August 13th, in all of which the Germans will be defeated. The whole of Belgium will be freed from the hateful presence of the German invader before December 2nd, 1918. Rhenish Prussia will be occupied by the Allies before April 27th, 1919. The Allies will dictate terms of peace on July 1st, 1919, and an armistice will begin from Sept. 5th, 1919. So long as Saturn remains in Cancer, Mr. Bhattacharji thinks peace is not likely to be concluded, so that with the present winter we may look forward to at least two more Christmases in the field.—Family Herald.

A Disgrace.

It is nothing less than a disgrace the way the monument in Government House grounds has been allowed to go to wreck and inscription to become defaced and undecipherable. It does not speak well of our gratitude to herosim and bravery, that we allow the monument of a brave man, who died in an attempt to save the lives of others, to be in the dilapidated condition it now is. There has been some talk of erecting a huge monument to the memory of those of the Newfoundland Regiment who have died, but it would be far better if the monument already existing be kept in a respectable condition.

The British Navy.

Unless British Admirals have lost their skill and British seamen their traditional valor, the German Grand Fleet would have, were it to come out, only a forlorn hope of defeating the expanded British Navy alone. With the addition of America's powerful dreadnoughts now in British waters, the Allies are invincible under conditions the most propitious for Germany; in short, it is not conceivable that the Allies could be taken by surprise, suffer even a minor reverse, or lose ships without inflicting far greater losses. The Premier drew a graphic picture of the multifarious and never-ceasing work of the navy "on a vast wilderness of sea over hundreds of thousands of square miles." Four years of vigilance and duty: "No darkness arrests it. The Navy never goes into winter quarters."

Germany, as Mr. Lloyd George said, cannot possibly triumph. Success on land would be abortive, since failure on the sea is inescapable. The Allied navies have a strangle-hold on Germany that she can never tear from her throat. Mr. Lloyd George does not boast nor exaggerate when he says that "in the main this deciding struggle is carried on by the British Navy." That is what our own Mahan would say, if he were alive to-day.—New York Times.

Leave of Absence to Men in Class 1 Under Military Service Act 1918.

On the recommendation of the Military Service Board, leave of absence without pay until Tuesday, the 15th day of October next, is granted to all men in Class 1 who have been ordered by the Registrar under the Military Service Act, 1918, to report at the Armoury for duty on September first.

NOT UP TO SWEDEN.

LONDON, Aug. 16. According to a Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph, Professor Eden, the Swedish Premier, replying to a deputation from the Swedish organizations of Good Templars, who asked whether one of the neutral States could take the initiative regarding peace negotiations, said that as there was no reason to believe that the belligerents were willing to consider mediation, Sweden could not commence negotiations. Sweden, the Premier added, was following the present developments with great interest, and was at the disposition of the warring powers, had any desire for mediation been expressed.

AMERICANS HOME ENEMY.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 16. (By the A.P.)—An American bombing squadron, commanded by Lieut. Gundlach, dropped twenty bombs on the railway yards at Couffans yesterday. Eighteen direct hits were observed in the center of the tracks, in the east portion of the yard, and two on the round house. The squadron was pursued by eleven enemy planes, six of which were speedily left behind. One of the remaining five was hit by the American machine gun fire and forced to descend.

PREPARING TO EVACUATE.

PARIS, Aug. 17. (Havas Agency.)—The Germans are preparing to evacuate the Roye-Lassigny-Nonvion salient, says the Echo de Paris. It is indicated, the paper adds, that German pioneers and laborers are at work behind the German front lines on a new Hindenburg line. The German position in Roye is serious as not only are the Allies a mile and one quarter west of the town, but the roads leading out of it, towards Peronne, Nesle and Nonvion, are under the fire of the Allied guns.

GERMANS SEIZE KRONSTADT.

PARIS (Bulletin), Aug. 17. (Havas Agency.)—Reports are in circulation in Finland that the Germans have seized the Russian naval port of Kronstadt, according to a Stockholm despatch to Lazzarini.

GENERAL TALKS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 15 (by the A. P.)—The Commander of the French Third Army, General Humbert, on receiving the correspondents just after the German rush toward Compiègne had hope to do better. General Humbert talked to the correspondents to-day after the capture of Ribecourt. He modestly refrained from references to his previously expressed hopes, saying simply that he had got back on the Lassigny Massif and would stay there until he went further on. He described graphically the work of his men. The operations of the Third Army, which resulted in the wiping out of the Montdidier salient, was subordinate to the attack of Field Marshal Haig's forces north and south of the Somme. It was impossible for the Third Army to attack until the operations elsewhere had produced results, as there was serious terrain difficulties facing it. As soon as the Germans began to give way before the combined French and British forces, the Third Army began to advance on August 10.

MORE GROUND GAINED.

LONDON, Aug. 17. British troops have gained further ground in the neighborhood of Vieux-berquin, at the apex of the Lys salient, says the last statement of Field Marshal Haig to-day.

1.30 P.M.

BUT NOT FOR BELGIUM.

LONDON, Aug. 16. According to a despatch to the Daily Mail, from the Hague, Germany has demanded that Austria send ten to fifteen divisions to the western front. Austria assented to talk, the despatch says, on condition that Germany would accept Austria's solution of the Polish question and make a strong peace move including the evacuation and restoration of Belgium. Germany promised to concede to Austria's solution of the Polish question, including the naming of an Austrian Archduke, as king, the despatch asserts.

FRENCH WHEAT CROP.

PARIS, Aug. 16. (Havas Agency.)—The total production of wheat in France, this year, is estimated at 183,000,000 bushels, being an increase of twenty-five per cent over last year's crop.

SENATE TO INVESTIGATE.

PARIS, Aug. 16. (Havas Agency.)—The Temps says to-day that it is able to confirm that the case of former Premier Cailhau, who is charged with treason, will be referred to the Senate, sitting as a high court of justice. The newspaper adds, that it is on the initiative of the Government that the Senate will investigate the charges against M. Cailhau.

NAVAL AIR OPERATIONS.

LONDON, Aug. 16. British aviators working with the navy from August 8th to August 16th, dropped sixty tons bombs on German docks and airdromes in Belgium, says a statement issued by the Admiralty to-night. Their activities also include the bringing down of a German airship, previously reported, and a direct hit on a German destroyer. Sixteen German airplanes were brought down during the period covered by the report. The statement follows: "During the period of Aug. 8th to 16th, Royal Air Force contingents, working with the navy, have carried out a large number of bombing raids on military objectives with good results. In all, approximately sixty tons of bombs have been dropped on the Zeebrugge and Ostend Docks, the Varasseaers airdrome, the La Brugse works, the docks at Bruges and on Bliankenberg and Middlekerke, as well as on many enemy batteries and billets. As a result of the attack on the Varasseaers airdrome, six machines that were lined up were set on fire, and a fire started among the hangars on both sides of the airdrome. Two Gotha hangars were demolished and large petrol tanks also were set on fire. The first were observed burning three hours later. On the 15th as previously stated a German airship was sighted in the North Sea, and attacked by one of our machines. After a short engagement the enemy airplane fell in flames from a great height. Enemy shipping also have been attacked successfully.

AIR REPORT.

LONDON, To-Day. Measured by the number of machines engaged, the intensity of the fighting and magnitude of the losses inflicted on the enemy in the fighting in the air during the past week was the most formidable of the war. Some of the most severe conflicts occurred on August 8 in the sector between Albert and the Amiens-Roye road, where the German air forces were increased considerably shortly after the opening of the Allied offensive.

The air fighting resulted in the destruction of 48 enemy machines while 17 others were driven down out of control; fifty British machines did not return. During the succeeding days 188 enemy airplanes were destroyed, and 89 driven down out of control, making a total of 339 German machines for the week, compared with 122 British airplanes missing. In the same period British bombing squadrons continually attacked enemy airdromes, railway and other military objectives, dropping more than 320 tons of bombs and causing great damage.

Low flying scout machines raided the enemy's congested roads of retreat with machine gun fire inflicting many casualties. A notable feature of the aerial operations was the virtual continuous night and day bombing of the enemy bridges over the Somme. This greatly hampered the supplies and reinforcements of the German troops. The week's work also included a number of destructive raids into Germany.

THE JUKE'S SEAM: Which is the best in the section, averages 4 ft. 8 inches of good, bright, clean coal; but at one point it was found to widen out to 14 ft., containing 8 feet of coal. This seam has been traced a quarter of a mile along the line of strike.

THE HOWLEY SEAM: 4 ft. 2 inches thick has been uncovered a distance of 120-feet along the line of strike, and a solid block of good coal is in view.

THE CLEARY SEAM: 2 ft. 2 inches thick has been opened 102 feet along the line of strike, showing coal of excellent quality.

THE MURRAY SEAM: 5 ft. 4 inches thick is also considered a fine seam of coal.

The areas containing the above seams of coal have been estimated by geologists of repute to contain 26,000,000 tons of coal to the square mile.

A dense virgin forest covers these areas and has already been reserved by the Government for the development and operation of the property.

Relevant Clothes.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

Do you wear relevant clothes? The other night at a gathering of young women in their best bibs and tuckers, I asked the woman beside me, a woman of unusually discriminating taste (she is by vocation an interior decorator) and by avocation one of the best dressed women I ever knew) whom she considered the best gowned woman in the room.

She took leisurely stock of the many pretty gowns, glancing casually to left and right. The occasion was one of the major social events in the life of the guests, and was sure to bring out the prettiest frocks in their wardrobes. Indeed many had new gowns for the occasion. To my surprise, the woman in a rather simple black evening gown two tables from me.

"Why, she's had that gown two years," said the woman on the other side, who had been listening in on the line after she discovered the all-absorbing topic we were talking of. It Made Her Eyes Look Large and Black.

The interior decorator smiles and held out her hands in a gesture equivalent to a Frenchman's "What 'd'you say?" "What of it?" she said. "That gown is of lovely material; it is cut on fine, simple lines and, above all, it is relevant to the personality and appearance of the woman who is wearing it. I don't know of anything that could bring out the beautiful white pallor of her face and make her eyes look so big and black as that black velvet does. And that deep V-neck is perfect for her. The trouble with so many of these dresses," she indicated them by letting her eyes rest briefly upon two of the most striking and expensive gowns, "is that they are totally irrelevant. If either one of them had been on just the right woman I should have called her the best dressed woman; but, to my mind there isn't a single gown so handsome in itself, and at the same time so perfectly relevant, as that black velvet."

She Was That Sort of a Woman. At that moment someone across the table called to the interior decorator to ask her a question and conversation passed to other topics, but I saw the woman who had listened in on the line looking down at her gown thoughtfully. She was evidently questioning whether it were relevant or not. I'm sure she decided it was. She was that sort of a woman.

Of course, relevancy in gowning is not a new ideal. But I think we do not need to be constantly reminded of its importance.

Also of its feasibility. Almost Anyone Can Be Relevantly Gowned.

We cannot all be expensively gowned or gowned in the latest fashion, but anyone who will cultivate taste and discrimination and self-knowledge can be relevantly gowned. Whether she chooses to exercise her faculty of selection in picking out, from the infinite variety of readymade gowns offered her, those which harmonize with her type and figure and coloring (and also her purse), or whether she creates, or has her dressmaker create, the relevant gown out of the profusion of good patterns and beautiful colors found in even the least expensive materials.

THE PARENTS OF THE SOLDIERS.

There's a common bond between them; they have seen their sons depart.

They've felt the self-same aching in the region of the heart;

They've seen the self-same visions, and they've worshipped at a shrine.

Where a boy has talked of duty in a language that was fine.

And they understood the meaning of the flag and all the strife.

For they're parents of a soldier who is offering his life.

The fathers and the mothers of the boys who've marched away.

Are a little nearer Flanders than the rest of us to-day;

They are closer to the cannon and the guns that loudly roar;

And they're neighbour with each other as they never did before.

And, as parents of the soldier, more of war they've come to know.

Than the loyal men and women who have had no son to go.

You can feel it when you're with them, feel they know far more than you—

What it means to live for service, and to die for what is true.

From the boys that they were proud of, they have caught a vision rare.

And have seen the real meaning of the struggle over there.

And they know the heart of absence and the pain of sacrifice;

For the parents of the soldiers are the ones who pay the price.

They are standing on the hill tops as the tide of battle runs;

Night and day, they watch the struggle, for in their hearts they've sent their sons.

Though it's our joy when they conquer, and our sorrow when they fall.

They know more of grief and gladness, for they're closer to it all.

They are closer to the glory and they're closer to the we.

And I think we're missing something who have had no son to go.

American War Women

By ANNIE S. SWANN.

(In the Manchester Weekly Times.) There is nothing in war to appeal to the instinct of womanhood. The Creator intended her to be a builder and conservator, and the waste of war is opposed to all the tenets of her creed and kingdom.

Yet, all the world over, womanhood is presently converted to war service. How do we explain such an anomaly? It is quite simple when you get close to it. There is something worse than war, even worse than its cruelty and waste, and that is a peace based on dishonour and deliberate shirking of responsibility.

American womanhood has not lagged behind in the splendid crusade against wrong and injustice. I was inexpressibly touched to discover very soon after I landed in New York that the mobilization of American womanhood was almost complete, and, further, that great sections had been quietly getting ready long before their country actually entered the war. So when the trumpet-call came, all they had to do was to fall in.

Club life occupies a far larger place in the American woman's life than it does with us. Every city has its clubs—of course, of different types and grades, so also has every country town and rural community.

Thus, scattered across the entire continent were large bodies of capable and thoroughly organized women, waiting the chance to serve their country.

The cities have innumerable Red Cross Chapters, at which the members meet regularly, and turn out an incredible amount of the material of mercy required by the hospitals, as well as comforts for the troops.

The Birth of the War Spirit.

The war spirit of America was somewhat difficult to awaken. Only those who have visited that vast country and taken personal note of the conflicting problems of race and distance, and other forces too numerous to mention, can fully appreciate the gigantic task the President had in front of him before he could get the country solidly behind the Government for war.

I have no hesitation in saying that the war spirit was born first in the hearts of the women, and that they have helped, beyond any power of words to describe, to render the President's task easier.

I can never forget the enthusiasm I encountered at these Red Cross meetings, at the women's clubs, in the homes of the people; and when they heard the story I had come to tell them of British womanhood's achievement, sacrifice, and glory, they were melted to tears.

But though remote from the horrors of war, they are not shrinking from the suffering and sacrifice inseparable from it.

IN THE HOME.

Now that the boys are pouring in thousands across the ocean to take their places beside their brothers in the fighting line, American homes are beginning to be shadowed by the dread possibilities involved.

I never could keep back the tears when at patriotic meetings they sang with might and fervour one of their favourite war songs, which has this haunting refrain:—

"And we won't come back till it's over, over there!"

Many of them, alas, will never come back; and though the women don't talk about it, they know it. In some respects they have a harder task than we British mothers; for them there can be no leave trains.

But they don't flinch. How often did they look into my eyes and say, with just a little beak in the voice: "My only boy is over there," or "just going, or getting ready."

But they are upheld as we have been upheld by the holy flame within, which is higher and deeper and more selfless than any other passion in the world. It will recreate America as it has recreated all the other fighting nations.

Marching to Victory.

I wish I could make the whole of England, Scotland, and Ireland see the picture I saw of American womanhood of all classes, ages, and creeds absolutely dedicated to war service. They are standing solidly behind the fighting men, and when a nation is so equipped and inspired, can there be any doubt but that it is marching to victory?

I never in any community, environment, or place heard of the faintest hint of doubt as to the ultimate issue. They have the high confidence, and buoyancy of youth. It is more than hope, it is certainty. It was the very force the old world, worn with its incredible sorrows, needed to trace it for the final round. Born, I believe, and nursed in the hearts of American women, it is now bearing them triumphantly along the Via Dolorosa, which is modern war.

THE KAISER'S DREAM.

The Kaiser dreamed that he would reign from Naples to Alaska; his subjects would be found in Maine and up in Athabasca. He'd ride in state through Boston town and swagger in Toronto, and see the peoples kneeling down—where has the vision gone?

Oh, Wilhelm ate some liverwurst one night before retiring, and saw himself in splendor burst upon a world admiring. He had a throne set up in Cork, another one in Lansing, he saw through Rochester, New York, his retinue advancing. The nations bowed to hail their lord, reward a salute sublime and regal. Oh, Wilhelm sought his slumbers; a lot of heavy dreams like these he had in endless numbers. If you eat goose before you sleep, and dream you're Alexander, you say, "Hereafter I will keep away from goose and gander." But Wilhelm thought his dreams were sane, and not the fruit of sausage; and so he spoiled with bloody rain the age of peace, the boss age. May he be reigning on a rock, when this grim war is ended, some lonely crag where sea-gulls flock and all the woes are blended.

Household Notes.

Chamois mittens, worn while doing housework, are a great saving to the hands.

When preparing pickles a wooden spoon or fork should be used; never a metal one.

A boiled custard with crushed berries added to it after cooking is a delicious one.

A boiled custard with crushed berries added to it after cooking is a delicious dish.

Put a thimble on the curtain rod when slipping it through the hem of the curtain.

Whatever fruit is in season should be made the most of, especially for desserts.

Candied fruits, flowers and aromatics leaves can be made at home at small expense.

"Why Our Milk Macaroni is so Delicious"

The first thing you notice about this New Milk Macaroni, is its rich flavor. It is so different from the ordinary imported Macaroni. Because—Catelli's is made only from the famous Semolina flour and milk.—CATELLI'S Milk Macaroni has a richness, a smoothness, a bright yellow color, entirely different from the dull insipid unwhitening imported kinds. Catelli's Milk Macaroni is so rich in gluten that it never breaks up in boiling, but retains its form and consistency perfectly. Ask your Grocer. This accounts for its wonderful food value—its flesh and strength building properties. Eat more Macaroni—Our book tells how to prepare it in more than a hundred different styles.

German Who Sank Lusitania Is Dead.

London, August 16.—Lieutenant Commander Schwelger, who commanded the submarine which sank the Lusitania, is dead. His death occurred in September 1917, but has only been admitted by the German Admiralty, according to reports received here.

Last September Schwelger, in command of the U-boat 38, was in sight of Heligoland, with another submarine. Both U-boats submerged and the other commander felt a chain sweeping along the side of his boat and believed he had run into an unknown British mine field. A terrific explosion under water followed. The second boat rose rapidly and signalled for the other. There was no reply. A vain watch was kept for the U-88 and she has not been heard from since. There is little doubt, the reports say, that she sank.

The Episcopal Visit To Grand Falls.

His Lordship Bishop White, arrived from Botwood by the morning train, on Tuesday, Aug. 13th, accompanied by his Chaplain, Rev. A. G. Bayly, and Rev. M. K. Gardner, Incumbent of Botwood.

Grand Falls had united to pay respect to the distinguished visitor, and a principal feature of the decorations was an electric device, "W. N. F. L. D." near the Church, which, at night, could be seen all over the town.

His Lordship was met at the train by the Rector, Rev. H. V. Whitehouse, and the representatives of the congregation, where an address of welcome was read, and presented to him. He was then escorted to the residence of E. H. Breen, Esq., who had kindly consented to act as host, during the Episcopal visit.

In the afternoon, the Bishop and suite motored round the town and vicinity, and a welcome opportunity was afforded him of viewing the magnificent scenery on the River Exploits.

Two very impressive and dignified services were held in the tastefully decorated Church, the chancel and transepts being consecrated, and the sacred rite of Confirmation administered to thirty-five candidates.

On Wednesday morning, His Lordship was accompanied over the Mill, and in the afternoon a reception was held in the Town Hall, an opportunity being afforded the citizens of meeting the Bishop. The building had been artistically arranged and beautified, and a handsomely coloured electric device expressed the hearts of the people. "Welcome to our Bishop." At the end of the reception, His Lordship expressed his appreciation of the kindness and courtesy of Grand Falls in a few well chosen words.

The Bishop left for St. John's by the night train.

Altogether the Episcopal visit was greatly appreciated and the citizens of Grand Falls did their best to make the Bishop's stay a pleasant one.

The members of the Reception Committee acknowledge their deep sense of obligation to the A. N. D. Co., for their extraordinary generosity and cordial co-operation.

The Back Aches

Possibly you do not realize that this indicates derangement of the kidneys. Neglect usually means the development of Bright's disease. You know how dreadfully painful and fatal this is.

There is quick relief for the kidneys in the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This medicine is known in the great majority of homes as the greatest of regulators.

A Word in Season.

Editor Evening Telegram.

"Dear Sir,—I would crave space as an ardent admirer of the grand old game, to make a few remarks, as to last Wednesday's match. Cricket, they say died out, but I am of opinion that it was killed. Last Wednesday's match is a sample, of how the killing was done. The game was advertised to begin at 1.30 p.m. and those of us, who are ardent fans, and who arrived at St. George's Field at the appointed hour, were not at all impressed, nor even interested, in the spectacle presented by those who were then preparing the ground. It was not until well in to 3 p.m. when the game began. Now I am not writing this in a spirit of fault finding, but only to show why it is that Cricket has died out. If the ground could not be got ready in time why was the game advertised for 1.30? True, when the game did start, it was pretty good, when one considers that all the players are a bit rusty, a fault which a little practice would remedy. I am glad to hear that another game will likely take place next Wednesday, and I sincerely hope that it will. The good old game is not dead. All it wants, is to be played, and our city can put in the field two or three elements that can give a good exhibition of the noble game. Let us have the game next Wednesday and every Wednesday until the holiday season closes. I am quite sure if the ladies who are connected with some of the war funds, would take this matter in hand, a goodly sum would be secured for a worthy object.

Trusting, Mr. Editor, that those interested will take the remarks I have just penned, in the spirit in which they are written, and hoping we shall have the pleasure of seeing a few more games before the season closes.

I am, yours etc.,

SPEAKING FROM EXPERIENCE

STEEDMAN'S SOOTHING POWDERS
Contain no Poison

Only a Letter.

A printer once made a prospectus for a gold-mine—speak the truth by accident for it read: "Issue of one hundred thousand shares at one pound each." The writer meant "shares" of course, but it was true as it stood.

An Irish paper some time ago in the course of a very laudatory article on the late Mr. John Rodmond described him as "The greatest Irish Ireland had known since O'Connell." The compositor had lifted a "t" for a "c," that was all.

In the days before the Liberal and Tory truce, the Conservative organ of a big provincial paper got a nasty strangle-hold on the chances of the Liberal candidate at the bye-election, and all through a single letter of the alphabet! The Liberal paper was describing a Tory meeting; and in the course of the article it said: "The arrival of the candidate on the platform was greeted by the great uplifted snouts of the entire audience, the ladies making themselves particularly prominent."

But probably the climax was reached in the case of the Archbishop who was credited with saying "he had been on the drink for a month," when he had only said "brink."

Milady's Boudoir.

HOW TO HAVE PRETTY ANKLES.

Pretty ankles are a rarity and not the rule. It is a pity too as nowadays a woman's ankle is quite prominent because of the short skirts and low shoes mode of dressing.

If you want your ankles well shaped don't stand on the sides of your feet. If you have any inclination to do so, your feet need more support than your shoes are giving them. Get a pair of arch supporters and wear them until the inclination no longer exists.

Further corrective treatment includes a twice daily foot bath. Bath feet in tepid water upon arising. Use a pure white soap, dry the feet quickly with a soft towel, and if there are any calloused spots on heel or sole rub them with a piece of pumice stone.

At bed time sponge the feet with clear warm water to which a little powdered borax has been added. Then let them soak in cold water for from fifteen to twenty minutes. Rub briskly with a coarse towel and repeat the alcohol application.

"CANTON"
Account Registers!

Merchants everywhere realize that to be successful, and to get best results from their business, they must do the largest possible volume of business with the least help. This is the reason why so many Computing Scales, Cash Registers, Oil Tanks, Meat Slicers, Cheese Cutters, etc., are being sold. All these specialties are expensive and it pays to buy the best made. Bookkeeping in any business is an expensive proposition. Any system which will make bookkeeping easier and avoid mistakes is of great value. Many Account Registers of various styles have been placed on the market, they have proven very valuable in saving time and avoiding mistakes. It was found however that in order to be of real value, any account register must be kept in a fireproof cabinet.

At present the market is flooded with so-called "fireproof" cabinets containing Account Registers. The walls of most of these cabinets are so thin, they cannot possibly resist an ordinary fire. Some of them have glass covers which are easily broken. Some have different compartments requiring transfer of accounts from one compartment to the other, all of which takes time.

The "Canton" Register has recently been placed on the market which overcomes most of these difficulties. It consists of a strong, well-made metal cabinet. The walls are made of special heat-resisting material, and are double, with one inch air space between; this gives much better fire protection. It contains receptacles in which may be filed account slips or in which a separate book may be kept for each customer. No index is required and only one writing is necessary. These cabinets are made in different sizes. For instance: our one hundred account cabinet contains space for one hundred steady customers, also for an equal number of transient or occasional customers. This cabinet occupies a counter space of 13 1/2 by 20 inches and is 24 inches high. They are built in six sizes at following prices delivered to your store:

100 account	24 inches	$137.00
200 "	28 "	$188.00
300 "	32 "	$232.00
400 "	36 "	$295.00
500 "	40 "	$346.00
600 "	44 "	$390.00

To give an idea of the substantial construction of these registers we might state that our 200 Account Register weighs about 265 lbs. This Register was patented November 21st, 1916, and is the last word in fireproof cabinet construction. Any standard pads or sales book can be used.

If you are interested in the simplest and safest Account Register on the market, write or wire

Proven By Scripture
Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Canon Smith states that the Bible does not show where the Almighty wishes the destruction of any nation. God, through Samuel, says to Saul, "Now go and smite Amalek and utterly destroy all that they have and spare them not; but slay man and woman, infant and suckling, ox and sheep, camel and ass," 1st Samuel 15th chapter, 3rd verse. Now although our revered Canon has fired that bomb at his people for this past half century, still like Saul, he would spare the fallings. Now if God wished that done to Amalek because they laid in wait for the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt, what would he wish for Germany who has planned and waited this past fifty years, studying every diabolical device in league with Satan himself, who says to the Kaiser, "All this will I give thee and the German people if thou wilt fall down and worship me."
This war has got to be carried into German territory, and the treatment accorded to the Serbians, Belgians, French, Roumanians and others, got to be brought home to the people of Germany. This war has got to be a war of extermination of all nations who do not believe in democracy and the Golden Rule, "to do to others, as I would that others do to me."
I am glad America has come in at last; better late than never. But we have got to thank the British Navy for our and the U. S. existence up to the present, for if it was not for that bulwark where would the nations of freedom be but either in hades or worse, German slavery. They are well named Germs, but they should not be cultivated. The man who employs them are just as bad as they are. Some of them are called patriots in this and other countries.
When I see the treatment of German prisoners in our hands, and the treatment accorded our men in Germany, then my blood boils with indignation, and I say can such things be? Peace treaties with Germany are only mere scraps of paper to be torn up at her will, but now the U. S. is in it to the end, yes even to Berlin.

The Best Fumigant
FOR DESTROYING RATS ON SHIPS.
Dr. R. H. Creel, of the N. S. Public Health Service, has made a report on the relative efficiency of fumigants for rodents on ships, as determined by subsequent intensive trapping over a period of one year. Sulfur dioxide was used on 62 vessels and hydrocyanic gas on 182 vessels. With a much shorter period of exposure, the latter resulted in the destruction of 95 per cent. of the rodents, and the sulfur of only 77 per cent. Dr. Creel concludes that "sulfur fumigation is not effective for the destruction of rats on loaded vessels or in superstructures."

Cot Fund!

So generous have the people of Newfoundland been in every direction touching the War that it must seem almost unnecessary for the Committee of the St. John Ambulance Association to publish any reminder as to the needs of the Cot Fund. Indeed, the way in which the Districts outside the Capital are at the present time already remembering the requirements of the Fund is gratifying to the Committee. Nevertheless it may be desirable to array a few brief facts for general information.

It would seem from the report of the Committee which was published in the Press on the 27th of June, 1918, that the activities of the Association and its helpers have been for the last two years devoted to the establishment of what is now known as the "COT FUND."

The COT FUND was established for the purpose of discharging Newfoundland's liability for the care of our wounded soldiers. Newfoundland did not, like other Dominions, establish its own Hospital, but its Cot Fund is recognized by the Military Authorities in the United Kingdom: it endows beds in hospitals already existing.

The voluntary effort of the people of Newfoundland has distinguished itself by establishing 600 beds (2 Newfoundland Wards) at Etaples, near the French front.
233 beds in various hospitals in England.
22 beds in the Convalescent Hospital, Waterford Hall.
It will be seen from the report referred to that the upkeep of these beds now requires an expenditure of more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) annually.

The following extract from a letter from Lord Ranfurly may be of general interest:
"I am sorry to say that the St. John Ambulance Brigade Hospital, Etaples, has been severely bombed on three consecutive nights and the Government have ordered the evacuation of the small part remaining whole."
"It is a great pity that the Newfoundland Ward 'A' is not damaged, but 'K' is seriously damaged, though we may be able to erect it partially on whatever new site we re-open."
And he has since written to describe the extra expense thrown on them by the German attack on the Hospital.
Further, the recent fighting clearly makes more and more of a demand upon hospital accommodation.

The Committee confidently hope that the work undertaken in the name of the people of Newfoundland and in a manner personally touching them will be carried on with undiminished vigor during the coming year and as long as the War lasts.

As Patron of the St. John Ambulance Association, Newfoundland Centre, I have pleasure in endorsing this appeal and stating that subscriptions may be sent to Mr. L. E. Emerson, Treasurer of the Cot Fund, St. John's, or to the nearest Stipendiary Magistrate.

Electric Light For Output

For a number of years there has been a satisfactory electric lighting system. There are dozens of so-called "cheap" market. Almost without exception they are a steady flickerless current, without batteries and then taking the lighting current in using this system they are using batteries of fair capacity are expensive attention. When they are new, about 1000 is lost when passed through batteries; this proportion rapidly increases; this portion of the current is wasted; battery current are very expensive, therefore most battery systems use what is known as a low-voltage system, which is close to the battery. If the current is close to the battery, a short distance away, a great deal of energy is lost.

Low-voltage systems cannot use the same lamps as lamps, electric fans, etc., but require special low-voltage factory.

After comparing the various lighting systems we found one that overcomes all these as the Uniflic Electric Machine, which of its kind makes possible a new system for electric lighting purposes, directly dynamo and electric governor. The output flickerless 110 volt current without batteries; it will use all standard equipment; can be run from the engine in any direction without change.

Three of these lighting machines have been found from one to two years ago and facton, Monsignor Reardon, Plaintiff, Presbytery, Rev. Father Maher, St. Lawrence, Presbytery, Convent and School; C. C. Light their shop, office, fish stores, saw and ship yard. We have also ordered lighting machine to be run by current from the Fred used in shipbuilding.

We are now installing the Uniflic Electric Engine in his country residence. The station of Detroit are doing their best to get these machines, but do not expect to get at present prices except for a very short time in promptly.

Anyone interested in the best current made will receive one of our catalogues by writing us.

The Uniflic Engine is built for 5000 engines is equipped with the building for use for five years.

Electric Lighting
For Outports!

For a number of years there has been a growing demand for a satisfactory electric lighting system for use in the outports.
There are dozens of so-called "farm lighting systems" on the market. Almost without exception they are unable to produce a steady flickerless current, without first charging storage batteries and then taking the lighting current from the batteries.
In using this system they are up against many difficulties:—
batteries of fair capacity are expensive; they require constant attention. When they are new, about 15 per cent. of the current is lost when passed through batteries; after one or two years this proportion rapidly increases; this means that a large proportion of the current is wasted; batteries that will produce 110 volts current are very expensive, therefore the manufacturers of most battery systems use what is known as low-voltage. A low-voltage current will only give a satisfactory light when used close to the battery. If the current is carried by wire to other buildings a short distance away, a great deal of energy is lost and it gives a poor light.

Low-voltage systems cannot use standard lighting equipment such as lamps, electric fans, electric irons, electric toasters, etc., etc., but require special low-voltage apparatus from the factory.

After comparing the various lighting systems on the market, we found one that overcomes all these difficulties. It is known as the Unielectric Lighting Machine, which is the only machine of its kind made. It consists of an engine specially designed for electric lighting purposes, directly attached to a special dynamo and electric governor. This outfit will produce a steady flickerless 110 volt current without having to depend on batteries; it will use all standard equipment in common use. Wires can be run from the engine in any direction up to two thousand feet without change.

Three of these lighting machines have been in use in Newfoundland from one to two years and are giving perfect satisfaction. Monignor Reardon, Placentia, Lights Church and Presbytery; Rev. Father Maher, St. Lawrence, Lights Church, Presbytery, Convent and School; G. C. Fearn & Son, Placentia, light their shop, office, fish stores, saw mill, blacksmith's shop and ship yard. We have also ordered for them an electric boring machine to be run by current from Unielectric machine and to be used in shipbuilding.

We are now installing the Unielectric Lighting System for Mr.
Fred Ayre in his country residence. The Unielectric Corporation of Detroit are doing their best to supply the demand for these machines, but do not expect to be able to furnish them at present prices except for a very short time. They have promised us three more machines at present prices if orders are sent in promptly.

Anyone interested in the best country lighting system ever made will receive one of our catalogues and full information by writing us.

The Unielectric Engine is built for continuous service. The engine is equipped with the sliding sleeve valve and is guaranteed for five years.

A small inexpensive battery can be attached to wires to allow the use of a few lights when machine is not in operation.

BASEBALL PROBLEMS.

There seems to be a lot of talk these days over the finding of the Executive of the League on the B. I. S. protest in the Cuba-B. I. S. game last Tuesday.
The Editor of this Column has taken the liberty of writing to Mr. F. C.
Lane, Editor of the Baseball Magazine, who is perhaps the next best authority in the United States to the National Commission on Baseball itself. He has been asked to solve the following problems, and his answer when received will be given prominence in this Column:—

1. With bases filled and one out, catcher drops third strike on batter. Man on third runs in and touches home plate without being tagged. The batter is automatically out, but should the runner from third be called safe at home plate, or is the ball out of play by reason of the batsman being out?

2. With bases filled and two out catcher drops third strike on batter.
Runner on third runs in and catcher touches him with ball, but does not throw to first to retire the batsman. Is the run to be scored, or does the tagging by the catcher of the runner from third base constitute the third man out? Has the batsman to be retired at first or tagged before he reaches there to complete the play?

3. With a runner on first, batsman hits grounder to fielder who throws to first and retires batsman. First baseman throws to second who touches base, but runner comes back to first without being tagged. Was the runner on first forced to go to second after out was made at first, or does force cease to exist after batsman was thrown out at first.

Should any reader like to give an opinion on these plays he may do so and his solutions will be published for the benefit of readers.

"Public Ownership." Last Evening's Footer Game.

Dear Sirs—Briefly in reply to A Citizen in your issue of last evening re the Public Ownership of the Street Railway and the Electric Lighting of St. John's.

Yes I fully believe that the City should own and run both. But not as they are run at present. The Street Railway System is only for tired people and wet weather.

It is not even an apology for a joyride. St. John's should have a efficient street railways all round the suburbs of St. John's if the city is to increase East or West, especially in connection with the great housing scheme. It has been stated by some of our writers that a run round the town twice in a street car is a good cure for indigestion.

Yes, Mr. Citizen, I fully approve of the Public Ownership of useful utilities like the Street Railway and Electric Lighting of St. John's and suburbs for miles around. If both are run, as they should be, as a business proposition and modelled after the city of Glasgow, we will have nothing to fear.

As the purchase of the present system from the Reid Nfd. Co. will entirely be a matter of debts and credits it may be cheaper to have every thing brand new and up to date.

Yours truly,
JOHN ANDERSON.

Why The Change.

The dismissal of Capt. William Bartlett who for the past ten years has been master of the dredge "Priest-man," and who during that period has given general satisfaction, requires some explanation. The appointment of Capt. Jacob Kean, late master of the Newfoundland Produce Company's steamer "Cabo" to succeed Captain Bartlett shows that there are wires being pulled.

THE MACHINER'S REFRAIN.
I remember—I remember—one year ago to-day.
When we were rushing to the front
along the winning way.
But now it gives us little joy—in fact it makes us so sad.
To know we're getting farther from the pennant every hour.

I remember—I remember—our rose embowered fate.
When Carey in a happy vein was winning a home run straight.
Alas! then were the happy days!
Alas! and then alas!
For now the other three ball clubs are roosting on our back.

NOTHING MISSED.
They arrived hurriedly at the fifth inning. "What's the score, Jim," he asked a fan. "Nothing to nothing," was the reply. "Oh, goody," she exclaimed, "we haven't missed a thing!"

ADVICE TO ROOKIES.
It is no longer good form to permit the ball to become unburned in your

DAYTON
Money Weight Scales!
After deciding to locate in Newfoundland, we wished to obtain agency for the best computing scale made. We visited all the leading cities of the United States and Canada as far west as Chicago. We visited three computing scale factories, all of which offered us their agency. We talked with hundreds of users of various types of computing scales. The result of our investigation showed us that the Dayton Money Weight Scale was absolutely the best computing scale made, and that it would outwear any two computing scales of the swinging pendulum type.
We therefore closed the contract for the sale of Dayton Scales and have sold a number of them in St. John's and the various outports. Every scale sold is giving perfect satisfaction.
We are also agents for the Dayton Silent Meat Slicer and Dayton Cheese Cutter.
