To-DAY is Good Friday and the Christian world will commemorate the most solemn anniversary of the year, the anniversary of the great tragedy of Calvary. The day will be observed by a large proportion of the people as a holiday, while others will reverence it as a holy day, a day of penitence and of sadness because of the suffering and death. ness, because of the suffering and death of Him who five days earlier, according to tradition, rode into Jerusalem amid the strewing of palm branches and the acclamations of the people, hailed as the King of the Jews and the Saviour of men. While the tragedy suggests a solemn observance of the day, three-fourths of the people will hunt for worldly pleasure and pursue a course similar to that of any other holiday. any other holiday.

THE KINGSTON WHIG passes on some same advice to those desiring to stop a sane advice to those desiring to stop a subscription to a newspaper. It says there is probably no man engaged in the newspaper business in Ontario who is not acquainted with a man whose excuse for discontinuing his subscription is that he already "has more newspapers than he can read." It is only an excuse offered to ameliorate the presumed lacerated condition of the editor's feelings. It has no such effect for in the first place. It has no such effect for in the first place It has no such effect for in the first place the editor never worries over the loss of a subscriber except when he leaves the country without paying up arrearages. But why not be truthful and say to the honest newspaper man just what you feel in your beat. But why not be truthful and say to the honest newspaper man just what you feel in your heart? Go into his den and ask him how much you owe, pay the delinquency and tell him frankly that you dou't want his disreputable blackguard sheet any longer. Say to him in a sorrowful tone of voice that you deeply regret his mability to publish a newspaper worthy the name and advise him to sell his plant to some man with a thimbleful of brains and seek some occupation which does not require much pation which does not require much wear and tear on the mind. Do this and then you can go away with the comfort-ing assurance that the newspaper man respects you for your candor and will cherish no hard feelings because you choose to borrow his paper instead of buying it.

THE KNUCKER AND THE BOOSTER

When the Creater had made all the good things, there was still some dirty work to do, so He made the beasts and reptiles and poisonous insects, and when He had finished He had some scraps that were too bad to put into the Rattlesnake, the Hyena, the Scorpion and the Shunk, so He put all these together, covered it with suspicion, wrapped it with jealousy, marked it with a yellow streak, and called it a KNOCKER.

This product was so fearful to contemplate that He had to make something to counteract it, so He took a sunbeam and put in the heart of a child, the brain of a man, wrapped these in civic pride, covered it with brotherly love, gave it a mask of velvet and a grasp of steel and called it a BOOSTER; made him a lover of ields and flowers and manly sports, a believer in equality and justice, and ever since these two were, mortal man has had the privilege of choosing his associates.

(The Simcoe Reformer.) Writing to a newspaper, a farmer's wife, who was a city woman up to three years ago, and now has two babies to look after, condemns her country sister who writes fault finding letters about city people. In part she says: 'I am a young farmer's wife with babies, and am not sending my own to this war to fight; but, oh, how I want to make up to those city mothers and country mothers for what they are giving. We have no help at all, but I am a good farmerette. I do all the light farm work, such as rolling the fields, discing, seeding on a riding drill cultiviting, etc. I prepare the dinner, make the beds, sweep, feed my hens, ducks, chickens and wash the dishes and separator, while my husband gets the team ready and the calves. pigs, etc., fed. Then I take a few toys for my babies and so we all go back to the fields.

"I can get the dinner at noon while he attends to the horses We all lie down for a nod after dinnerhe and I never taking more than ten minutes, but it rests us well again. The babies sleep two or three hours and I hoe in my garden or bake, iron or sew, or do any of the thousands of things needed to be done until they awaken. Then away we go again. We are never in bed-my husband and I-before 11 p.m., and always up at 5.30. I am stronger than I have been for years, as I was Preferring to take chances with always doctoring up to three years ago. My garden is a beauty, too."

Doubtless there are other examples in rural parts of the Dominion where women have taken up added burdens and are bearing them successfully without complaining. Women of that spirit, whether changing from town to country, or from country to town, can be of immense service in helping forward the additional work which falls upon all. Fault-finding with farmers will not do much good, neither will fault-finding by farmers with city people do much good. spirit of mutual helpfulness will be of far more benefit than fault-finding on the part of either those in the city or country.

People of Great Britain and U. S. Still Saving Though Fighting is Over

The people of the leading Allied countries who, under the pressure of the war began to save, fortunately have shown no marked tendency to discontiune since the actual fighting ceased. In the United States the per capita sales of War Savings and Thrift Stamps during December were about 83 cents.

In the United Kingdom during the week ending February 1, 2,308,810 war Saving Certificates were sold. More than 500,000 buyers took single, or £1, Certificates. In a recent statement the National War Savings committee of the United Kingdom says:-

"These figures prove that while a number of investors, including many wealthy people, buy larger denominations, the small investor, for whom these Certificates were primarily intended, continues to respond week reap the benefit of the movement, of ordinary people.

Si Klone on Keeping Hens

The difficulty about keeping hens in a city is the difficulty of "keeping" them. Hens are sociable creatures: they love to visit the neighbors and see what they have planted in their gardens. When a hen isn't going some place where she is not wanted, she is equally unwelcome. It doesn't matter whether a neighbor's garden is filled with lettuce beds or lumber piles, he doesn't greet the coming of his neighbor's hens with effusive cordiality. Hens have contributed more to upsetting the harmony of neighborhoods, and communities than any other known factor One able-bodied hen, in full possession of all her faculties, can instigate more bad feelings and develop more traits of petty meanness among erstwhile harmonious neighbors than all the Italian vendettas and Kentucky feuds that ever existed. It is from the busy and officious hen that talkative and migratory ladies of uncertain years derive the designation of "old hens" from their propensity to wander about stirring up strife and illfeeling The main difference is that the hen makes trouble with her claws, and her prototype with her jaws.

Unfort mately, when the latter he come too toublesome, it is against the law to good them by the feet and seperate their jaws from their claws by one fell stroke of the family axe.

Insects and Their Young

 N some wasps' nests the cells will sometimes contain five caterpillars and sometimes ten. Why the disproportion? Because the female is twice as large as the male, and nests containing eggs which will hatch females contain twice as much food. But the egg is laid when the larder is stocked. The mother knows beforehand the sex of the egg she is about to lay. This occurs more strikingly among the osmiae, solitary bees. The female here also is twice as large as the male. The mother places her egg in almost any cavity of suitable size to accommodate the offspring in its larval stages. In captivity, if she is larval stages. In captivity, if she is given nooks large enough, half of her eggs will be male, and half female. But if the receptacle is only large enough to accommodate the small male larva, she will lay eggs from which males will lissue. Her anatomy is such that only one egg at a time is fully formed, and only that one can be deposited. In a roomy receptable the egg may be either male or female, but if the mother be given a space restricted to the size of the male larva, the egg which she immediately lays will develop a male. To the last moment the egg has not yet a fixed sex. "To meet the condition of building, which is often the work of another, or else a natural retreat that admits of little or no alteration, she lays either a male or a female egg as she pleases! The distribution of sexes depends upon herself."

While with the bees, let us have a scene of insect love-making. The newly-hatched comiae come out into while with the bees, let us have a scene of insect love-making. The newly-hatched osmiae come out into the light. The males emerge first, and they skirmish around awaiting the females, one of which presently appears. "She is covered with dust and has disordered toilet that is inseparable from the head work of desergation."

separable from the hard work of de-liverance. A lover has seen her, so has a second, likewise a third. All crowd around her. The lady responds to their advances by clashing her mandibles, which open and shut sev-eral times in succession. The suitors forthwith fall back! and they also, no doubt to keep up their dignity, exe-cute savage mandibular grimaces. Then the beauty retires into the ar-bor and her wooers resume their place on the threshold. A fresh ap-pearance of the female, who repeats the play with her jaws; a fresh re-treat of the males, who do the best they can to flourish their own pincers.

yokels in their moments of gal-The fly deposits her newly-born rubs on some bit of animal matter, whence come the infamous maggots, the larvae of the fly. In this unpleasant business may be found a strange development through maternal instinct. The flesh fly will drop her eggs from a height on to meat; the uselessness of wire screens to cover meats is apparent. In an experiment, a flesh fly dropped her to cover meats is apparent. In an experiment a flesh fly dropped her grubs into a meat-containing test tube, opening covered with screen, for a twenty-five inch fall. How great a drop will she make? A tube of forty-six inches is set up in company with shorter tubes, in such a way that their relative depths are not apparent. It is dark, and one tube is like another, all emitting the odor of meat. The fly persistently drops her offspring into every tube except the deep one. She seems to make no exploration as to the depths of tubes exploration as to the depths of tubes except to hover over them.

Can she be apprised of the depth except to hover over them.

Can she be apprised of the depth of the chasm by the comparative faintness of the odors that arise from it? Can the sense of smell measure the distance and judge whether it be acceptable or not? Perhaps.

The mother passion is the source par excellence of striking insect life pictures. The Black Bellied Tarantula has wrapped her eggs in a silken cloth. She attaches the precious burden to her body, and goes about her business dragging it at her heels.

The tarantula's usual habit is to sun herself, the front half of her body outside the lair; but in fulfilling her maternal duties she reverses this posture. With her hind legs she holds the bag of eggs to the sun, turning it over and over to warm it evenly. This is repeated daily with exquisite patience for three or four weeks.

The torantula then carries her

The torantula then carries her swarm of youngsters on her back; they form a veritable mantle. Nowhere can we hope to see a more edifying domestic picture than the Lycasa clothed with her young.

- But according to all seeming the young spiders while at this stage eat nothing. No feeding on their part can be observed. How can this be? It is true thar during this stage they do not grow, and so need no building materials. But they skip about quite actively, and must have food to burn for energy. It must be that these little creatures are able to derive heat energy directly from sunlight, instead of through the usual combustion of food. The mother tarantula spards long hours basking in the sunlight with her young. Wen, this bath of life which awakened the germs, is prolonged to keep the tender babes alive. The spider's infants are dining on sunlight!

SOLDIER ENTERS COMMONS.

Another Canadian In Public Life of Great Britain.

The interesting information comes from England that among the successful candidates in the British election is a brilliant young Canadian soldier, Col. Weldon McLean, who has been returned by three thousand majority for one of the Lincolnshire ridings. Col. McLean is a son of Gen. Hugh McLean, member for the new New Brunswick riding of Royal. This is without doubt the first time in Imperial history that a father and a son have sat in an over-sea and Imperial Parliament at the same time

When Canada was raising its first contingent for South Africa among the recruits collected at St. John was the recruits collected at St. John was a boyish cadet from the Royal Military College, Lieut. McLean. He served through the war with credit, and after finishing his military course launched out on a military career by obtaining a commission in the Imperial army. He served for some time with the artillers in India and was with the artillery in India, and was on hand with the Contemptibles when the war began. He is now a colonel, a D.S.O., an M.C., and bars in addition. He comes by his military career naturally, as his father all, his life has been an enthusiatic military man. He has been actively associated with the militia for fifty years. He served in the Northwest Rebellion and offered his services for South Africa. When the great war broke out he was past the age when he could persuade the authorities to allow him to see the authorities to allow him to see overseas service. He gave himself up to the work of recruiting and organization. He was first commander of the 7th Infantry Brigade at Valcartier Camp, and later was appointed commander of the New Brunswick Military District. In 1917 he was proposed to be melor-general.

As far as Ottawa is aware there are in all six Canadian-born members of the new Imperial Parliament. Besides Col. McLean there are Rt. Hon. Bonar Law, Dr. MacNamara, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Mr. Donald Mac-Master and Col. Grant Morden.

The Soldier Problem.

Rev. Lawrence Skey, who recently eturned from France, says that the uestion of the returned soldier was ne that would require great deliacy in handling.

The men who are returning could be divided into three classes: Firstly: The men who had gone overseas and had done their bit, and overseas and had done their bit, and who are coming home with the idea that they should receive everything from everybody, and were not willing to work for what they received. These men, he said, wanted to run affairs, and thought that because they had been overseas and had done their "bit" they should be given soft jobs, with no work and hig pay

Secondly: Another class were those who went overseas with the spirit of doing their best when they got there, and who would do their best when they got home. These men were and are a credit to their and are a credit to their ountry.

Thirdly: The third class may be spoken of as those who have been partly and totally disabled, and these men should receive justice and more consideration than those of the first wo classes. At the present time imployers and capitalists do not eem to realize that it is necessary or them to be imbued with a spirit for them to be imbued with a spirit of leniency toward these men whom they have in their employ. A partly disabled man cannot be expected to do as much as a man who has the full use of all his mental faculties and physical strength. Of course, business is a practical undertaking, and employers could not be expected to give a man full wages for half o give a man full wages for half

The Government should look after hese men: train them and fit them for positions similar to those which they held before they went overseas. In case that there should be any

The Meat Trade. The war stimulated the export trade in Canadian live stock pro-ducts to a degree deemed well nigh ducts to a degree deemed well nigh impossible five years ago. Exports of beef increased 6,795 per cent. and of bacon and pork products 571 per cent. Total exports of live stock products in the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1918, were valued at $172,743,081, as compared with $53,349,118 in 1914. Canada has the opportunity of holding this trade and increasing it, for our meat products won a splen-did reputation in Europe during the war, and Canada is in the position The price of feed has been high, and the cost of producing live stock and the cost of producing live stock has been correspondingly high. But the market price of finished animals has also been high. The price may decline gradually, but the price of feed will decline also, and the percentage of profit to the farmer should thus remain about the same. Indeed if the cost of feed declines first, the profit to the farmer will be increased.

J. E. Brethour, of Burford, Ont., who won the first prize for export bacon hogs at the Winter Fair at Guelph, says that with the relative prices of feed and bacon then pertaining there was a good profit.

"With standard feed at $57 a ton "With standard feed at $57 a ton and hogs at $16 live weight, I make a profit of over 20 per cent.," said Mr. Brethour. "It is the profit that counts, not the selling price, and profit depends upon the relation of the price of feed to the market price of the finished animal."

The matter was brought up by the president of the society, Mr. W. D. Lighthall, K.C., at the annual meeting, in which connection Mr. Lighthall said: "One of our duties is to record the deads of our men by a collection the deeds of our men by a collection of war records, pictures and por-traits, of library material and of war relies." The proposal met with un-animous approval and a committee was appointed to take the matter up with the Dominion Government

We have now ready for delivery the Ford car with the new motor in it, to which can be attached the new LIBERTY STARTER, which the U. S. Government used on their tanks. The production of these starters is not large enough yet to supply all Ford cars but will be in a few weeks and when obtainable can be mounted here in very little time. This starter is one of the best and most simple and most enclosed from dirt of any made.

One strong feature of the Ford car with the starting and lighting outfit is that it is in no way connected with the ignition system. Easter, The Glorious Day

Easter is the Emancipation anniversary of the Christian world—the one day of all the year, next to the advent, that is the most glorious and worthy of signal remembrance. It brings with it a new inspiration of faith in God and of perfect rance in His love for the children of Every swelling bud and sprouting leaf reminds us that the life which conquers death in nature's realm has its parallel in the Resurrection—that great central fact of Christianity in which we have the assurance of our own spiritual revivifica-tion. Christ in us becomes the vitalizing force which lifts us from the darkness of sin and death into light and life ever-

This old world of ours needs more This old world of ours needs more Easter cheer. It needs to realize that the risen Christ and the empty tomb have for the whole race a grander and higher significance than any other event since time began. It needs to feel that the defeat of King Death and the triumph of King Jesus over the grave have thrown open the gates of life and happiness to all who will enter therein. It needs to grass the imperiabile tent that when all who will enter therein. It needs to grasp the imperishable truth that, when the son of God burst the bars of death and the grave, He revealed the way of life eternal to all who accept Him and follow in his footsteps. His resurrection was the divine pledge of our own, and the soul that rests upon Him has already risen from the deadness of sin and began the life everlasting. For such the grave risen from the deadness of sin and began the life everlasting. For such, the grave is not an abiding place, but the vestibule of the greater and nobler life beyond.

Therefore, at this joyous Easter time, when all nature is rejoicing, let our hearts joi in the song of praise and gladness. Around us we see the woods adorning themselves with the living green and the air is resonant with the song of birds. Over all the earth whersong of birds. Over all the earth wher-ever the name of Jesus is known, it is the glad emancipation time: 'Tis the festival of all creation.

Most Unpopular Woman in Canada

Port Colborne, Ont., April 15.-Fem-Port Colborne, Ont., April 15.—Feminine flutterings, culminating in consternation, swept the plumage-bedecked Pullman and passenger coaches of trains crossing the International bridge at Bridgeburg yesterday. A bright, busy and vivacious little lady stepped abroad. She was Mrs. White of the Customs Department, and she manifested keen interest in the many alluring millinery novelties on display est in the many alluring millinery novelties on display.

Mrs. White, however, had a mercenary way of appraising these picturesque "creations." The lady passengers, resplendent in new Easter hats, were called upon to pay duty on them—or forfeit them. But the worst was yet to come. The unabashed feminine official required the women to stand while she daintily lifted their skirts and inspected their feet to see that no new footwear walked in without being declared. Seventeen of the giddiest pairs of number threes, or fours, or fives, or even sixes, are reported to have been taxed.

Mrs. White was cordially voted to be "a horrid thing."

Poultry on Chantry Farm

Mr. de Gex in changing his ad. wishes to draw attention to the superior merits of the Black Leghorn as a farm fowl. As several of his customers state, "they are regular egg machines." They are descendants of the celebrated Belta strain, bred for years for show, winners of cup at London winter show the last two years in succession. Also the Silver Grey Dorking, the national English barnyard fowl, probably the oldest and purest bred in existence. There is no branch of agriculture so much neglected as the poultry industry. The average Canadian hen produces less than 80 eggs per annum; by selection this can be increased to 280. Apart from the profit in well-bred poultry the pleasure of attending to a good uniform flock insures better care and attention.

Miss Levera Muxworthy, will teach in Bosanquet, S. S. No. 2, after Easter. F. F. Pardee denies the rumor that he may lead the Liberal party in the provincial Legislature.

Over $600 has already been subscribed over 5000 has already been subscribed in Woodstock for a memorial drive. The proposed drive will have a row of English oaks on each side. On each tree there will be a bronze tablet in memory of each of the 150 Woodstock soldiers wha made the supreme sacrifice is the one that completely harmonizes with the design and finishing of the house. For this reason there is a steadily increasing demand for Brantford Asphalt Slates for the modern style of homes.

The Most

Brantford Asphalt Slates have a surface of crushed slate embedded into our asphalt coating, the base of the roofing being felt saturated with asphalt. They are cut the size of shingles, and their beautiful soft colors of reddish brown and dark green give a roof a most artistic appearance. The colors are the natural shades of the slate as it comes out of the quarries. Brantford Asphalt Slates are, therefore, unfadeable -never require painting.

Brantford Asphalt Slates

are accurate in size and pliable, which makes them very easily handled and quickly laid, saving time and labor, and therefore costing less to lay.

Brantford Asphalt Slates make an artistic, durable and economical roof. Booklet describing them mailed

Canada Uses Japanese Toys

TAPANESE toys now find their largest sale in Canada, Great Britain and the United States. No department of Japanese industry has made more progress since the outbreak of the great war than the toy trade. The Japan Mazagine has an article on the subject that will interest every Canadian who buys tops for his own or other people's children. Its author, Mr. S. Kamiyama, is an authority on the subject and shows why the European upheaval has transferred the toy market of the world from Germany to Japan. He says: "Four years ago, the export of Japanese toys was limited to a few varieties, such as dolls, bamboo models and the like. A great change has taken place. Last year the total value of toys exported from Japan amounted to $4,200,000, and in 1918 will exceed $5,000,000! Thus the 'land of dolls and flowers. Japan has been so charmingly called, has been transformed into a country creating playthings of every descripcreating playthings of every description for the children of foreign lands, as well as for its own. One might have supposed that, owing to the cheapness of labor in Japan, it long ago would have become the largest source of supply for the toy trade; but until the shutting off of the German supply, the toy-makers of Nlppon never attempted seriously to enter foreign markets. Present increase ter foreign markets. Present increase in exportation is due wholly to efforts of government authorities to find markets for Japanese toys in foreign markets. And only a beginning has been made!

"Officials in the department of for-eign trade saw that great possibili-ties lay in the toy business and stimulated the manufacturers in every possible manner. They supplied samples from all parts of the toy-making world, most of which have been successfully imitated. In addition, the workmanship which is peculiar to Japan has been encouraged and im-proved. The largest export has been proved. The largest export has been sent to America, amounting in value last year to $1,216,030. Great Britain comes next, taking a total value of $659,462 in 1917. The value of exports to British India and the Straits Settlements was $457,485, and to Australia, $447,664.

"Japanese toy-makers have risen to their opportunity with remark-to their opportunity with remarkable promptitude and efficiency. In another year they will meet the demands of western markets which they cannot wholly supply at present. In 1907, extent of the exportation of toys from Japan was only $394,904; in 1917, as stated above, it exceeded $4,200,000—ten times what it was ten years ago!

"In addition to common toys made of earthenware, wood and cotton, the Japanese now fashion them from rubber, metal and celluloid. They are especially apt in mechanical toys. The story of imports of toys is in reverse order. From a value of $54,406 in 1976, imports decreased to 406 in 1906, imports decreased to $21,045 in 1916, and the figures for the year 1917, though not yet available, are much less. Japan may regard herself as one of the leading toy countries of the world, and it is a trade that may be expected to continue. In various other lines Japan has also gained a leading place during the war; but whether this prosperity will continue when competiperity will continue when competi-tion revives after the war is another question. In toys, however, Japan is not likely to have any serious rivals. The toy trade has been created for Japan by the war, but it will not be destroyed by cessation of the war. The reason, as already suggested, is that material and labor are much cheaper in Japan than in any west-

"Some complaints have been received as to the comparative frailty of Japanese-made toys. Every attention has been paid to remedying this defect, and in future no such complaints will be justified. Toys are now made in more durable manner and of better materials, with great improvements in designs and finishings. The value of exports in toys sent from the various ports is as follows: Yokohama, $2,307,595; Kobe, $1,349,586; Osaka, $264,514; Nagasaki, $1,171 and others, $250,392.

"Viewing the destination of exports of toys from Japan more in detail it may be said that the largest supplies have gone to the following countries: British India, Straits Settlements, China, Dutch East Indies, Great Britain, France, United States,

Great Britain, France, United States, Canada and the Argentine Republic. Australia, New Zealand and South Africa have also taken considerable quantities of Japanese toys. It is requantities of Japanese toys. It is remarkable how the tastes of various countries differ as to the kinds of toys. Europeans like best such toys as bamboo flutes, dolls, earthenwares, fans, wooden toys, cotton birds and animals, while the Americans prefer Christmas toys, such as birds, baskets, celluloid and paper, toy chairs, furniture suites and wooden dolls. Australia likes flutes. lear work, grass toys, ruoper dolls, toy mirrors, musical instruments. Dutch India imports chiefly such toys as metal leaf ornaments, paper and celluloid goods. Investigated Our Minerals.

Although the United States De-partment of the Interior has been working almost since the beginning of the war for an appropriation and authorization to assist in and stimulate the reduction of necessary min-erals and metals, which by being pro-duced at home would save precious ship tonnage for immediate war uses and make America independent of outside supplies, it was not until the last days of September that Congress finally passed and the President approved a bill for those purposes, carrying with it an appropriation of $60,000,000 for capital and $500,000 for administrative expenses. Congress did, however, early appropriate $150,000 for the Bureau of Mines to use in making a survey of developmental possibilities and for co-operative work with private producers. With this small fund the bureau created an investigating corps of about fifty scientists, engineers, and helpers, supplemented by occasional cooperators. Directly or indirectly the mineral possibilities of the country were minutely examined from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Can-ada to Mexico. Investigations even included Canada and Cuba, and Alaska was not overlooked. As a result of this work and the natural response to high prices the spirit of adventure has been aroused prospec-tors have swarmed to the mountains and plains, and there has been an amazing increase in the production of some of the rare minerals essen-tial in the manufacture of war materials, such as tungsten, molybde-num, mercury, magnesium, and mag-nesite.—American Review of Re-

Hun Dignity (?)

Back from the line during the Argonne battle a lieutenant came, look-ing groggily for a first-aid station. A piece of shrapnel had torn its way through his helmet and, once inside had spun around and around with-out so much as scratching his skin or cutting his hair. But it had given him a bit of a start and he wanted a rest. Yet all along the route, emerg-ing from scores of little hidden dug-outs, scared Germans had come and surrendered to him, gathering behind him in a dejected caravan like the children of Hamelin behind Pied Piper. By the time he was back on the crest of Hill 272 they numbered 67, and there a German rushed forward, impressive with the important tidings that deep in the deepest dugout of them all, the lieutenant-colonel commanding the regiment that had defended the hill was waiting for some one to come down and be sur-rendered to. "Any one who wants to be my prisoner this day has got to come to me." Thus said the weary lieutenant as he limped on his way, and so the lieutenant-colonel stayed hungry in his dugout and was obliged to surrender next morning to two privates passing by on their way for Canada's Effort Now Being Shown at Royal Academy.

Dealing with the exhibition of Canadian war pictures which opened at the Royal Academy of Arts in ondon on January 4th, a contributor to the Pall Mall Gazette says it is a unique spectacle of a nation's supreme endeavor portrayed, not in retrospect, but during its accomplishment by her artists. The seventy leading painters of Canada, including some famous British ones, have risen gloriously to the task set by their Government when it took them out to the trenches in France and Flan-From the landing of the first 33,000 men at Plymouth to the cap-ture of Mons on the last day of the war, no phase of Canada's war activity has been neglected. There are nearly 400 paintings illustrating the career of the Canadian corps in France, including the magnificent paintings of the landing of the Third Canadian Brigade at St. Nazaire, by Edgar Bundy, A.R.A., and the giant canvas by Major Richard Jack, A.R.A., "The Second Battle of Ypres." Major Jack has also a fine painting of "The Battle of Vimy Ridge." In the same way the historic Canadian battles are dealt with each in their turn. Ontario's War Effort.

The record of Ontario in giving almost half of Canada's total in men and money to the war was reviewed with pride by Sir William Hearst in an address to the Engineers' Club a few weeks ago. The Premier said that Ontario with thirty-one per cent. of the country's population, had produced forty-three per cent. of the recruits, or 231,191 of the 538,283 total. The total voluntary contributions by Ontario for patriotic purposes, he said, amounted to $51,691,000, while for all Canada the amount was $90,000,000. To the Paramount was $90,000,000. To the Paramount was $90,000,000. few weeks ago. The Premier said amount was $90,000,000. To the Patriotic Fund Canada had given forty-two millions and Ontario twenty-one millions of that amount. Ontario had contributed five millions to the Brit-ish Red Cross, and to the Canadian Red Cross three millions in cash and four millions in kind. To the Navy League Ontario gave $1,000,000, and to the Belgians $1,100,000. The war tax of one mill on assessable property had realized the sum of six millions, but up to the end of the last financial year the Provincial the last mancial year the Provincial Government expended nine million dollars for war purposes. Ontario had given 250,000 bags of flour to Britain, valued at $780,000; food and other supplies to the Belgians, apples to the Bengians. other supplies to the Belgians, apples to the men in the Royal Navy and the Canadian forces, and 500 Lewis machine guns to the Canadian infantry. To the Patriotic Fund the province gave $1,000,000 in 1917 and $1,-200,000 in 1918, plus grants to various municipalities; recruiting grants had been made to many regiments, and there had been votes to the Navy League and the Maple Leaf Clubs. Christmas boxes costing $170,000 had been sent to Ontario soldiers, and thousands of dollars' worth of athletic goods; there had been grants to tuberculosis sanitaria, grants to stimulate aviation, to the increased production movement and the sufferers in the Halifax disaster. The Orpington Hospital had cost $1,250,000, salaries to civil servants with the forces amounted to $250,000. HOW A NURSE HANDLED A HIGHLAND SOLDIER

Believed He Was in Hands of Germans Trying to Poison Him

A Highlander lay in a hospital ward, refusing all food or drink. was delirious, and believed that he was in the hands of the Germans. and that they were trying to poison him. The nurses were in despair, one of them remembered a Highland woman, a nurse in one of the other wards. She went to her, and enlisted her help in behalf of the wounded man.

Went into the ward," relates the nurse, "and found a handsome lad muttering uneasily, his eyes bright with fever, and a defiant expression on his face. "I'll starve before I'll take your drink," he kept repeating. He eyed me with suspicion.

'Och, och! Duncan Dalziel, it's a sick man you are the naw." I accentuated the Highland drawl, over which I had been unmercifully ragged by my fellow-nurses. The suspicion faded quickly.

SEED IMPORTATION REGULATIONS

Canadian farmers and gardeners are protected from the evlls of planting inferior seed of many kinds of crops imported from other countries. By an order-in-council that came into effect in the autumn, importation is prohibited of unfit seed of clovers. es, vetches, rape, other forage plants, field root and garden vegetables in lots of ten pounds or more. In Pamphlet S-12 of the Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, and obtainable from the Publications Branch, unfit seed is described as that which does not comply with the Seed Control Act requirements respecting the sale of seed in Canada, or if it has been refused admittance into any other country on account of low vitality. The regulations will be carried out through the Custom's officials who are required to take and forward to the Dominion Seed Labratory for examination, sample of lots of seeds of the classes named entered for consumption in Canada. Seed that has arrived in Canada and found to be unfit shall be deported under Customs supervision. The penalty for failing to comply with these regulations is $500 for the first offence and not exceeding $1000 for the second and each subsequent offense.

THE DOLLAR IN YOUR TOWN

Just a dollar on a mission sent, makes lots of people glad each time a coin is spent. You pay it to the butcher for meat to give you strength he takes it to the grocer from whom it goes at length, some pretty lace or cloth his better half to buy, or help to get her winter hat to make her rival sigh. The drygoods man sent on the coin to pay the market bill, and through the coin is often spent it stays a dollar still, and every time tis spent at home, some act of good is done, in booming local industries it's bound to make them run. But if you take the shining coin and break the local chain, the chances are that from afar 'twill not return again. If once it passes out of town the butcher and baker, the grocer and the dry goods man, the furniture man and carpenter, the wagon man and blacksmith, the shoeman and the printer, every one will lose the chance to touch the coin ere the setting of the sun. Secret of the Tanks

(London Daily Chronicle)

How the mystery of the tanks was kept until their arrival in France has new been revealed. They were packed in such a way that it was impossible for anyone to tell what they were. The railway staff, of course, knew, but they kept the secret.

The 2,166 tanks were conveyed on the London & Southwestern system from Southampton to Dieppe and Cherbourg by means of the train ferry, the construction of which was begun in February, 1917. The first ferry boat to make the crossing to France left Southampton on November 13, 1917. The train ferry of Southampton, and that at Richboroogh in Kent, were constructed about the same time, and are the only two train ferries in this country.

SUDDEN PASSING OF J. M. MACKAY, B.A.

(Galt Reporter)

The sad news of the death of John Malcolm MacKey, B.A., mathematical master at the Collegiate Institute, which occurred shortly after four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, will be received with the greatest regret by all classes of citizens. Deceased had taught his classes as usual Tuesday morning and left the school at noon accompanied by Mr. G. P. Keys and crossed the campus to Water street. As they reached the sidewalk they were about to part to go to their respective homes, when Mr. Keys noticed Mr. McKey drag his leg and gradually sink. (Galt Reporter) homes, when Mr. Keys noticed Mr. Mc-Kay drag his leg and gradually sink. Mr. Keys immediately went to his assistance and grabbed him, Mr. McKay remarking "I feel strange," and then collapsed completely. Some school buys were summoned who procured a stretcher and the prostrate man was carried to his home at 38 Samuelson street. By this time he had become unconscious. Principal Gundry immediately summoned medical aid, but in spite of eyerything possible being done, he passed away shortly after 4 o'clock. The immediate cause of his death was paralysis. paralysis.

Deceased was born in West Zorra near Embro, and began teaching in East Nissouri, afterwards in Middlemiss and Dutton. He became principal of the Kincardine High School, from which place he came to the Galt Collegiate Institute four years ago as mathematical master, a position he has filled with the greatest efficiency and satisfaction to the greatest emciency and satisfaction to the Board. In religion he was a Presbyterian and a member of Knox Church. It was his custom to spend his vacation with his brother William, on the farm in East Nissouri, being a man who was fond of country life and a lover of nature. He was married eleven years ago to Miss Edith Humphries, of Watford, who survives him: also two children. Florsurvives him; also two children, Florence Isabel, 3 years, and Muriel, 17 months. Three brothers and two sisters also survive—William, of East Nissouri, Archibald of Detroit, Donald of Ottawa, Mrs. John McKenzie in the west and Miss Annie at home. With every tribute of respect the remains were laid at rest in Kintore cemetery on Thursday afternoon. Many friends were present at the funeral ser-vice, which was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. F. Fraser at the family residence, 38 Samuelson street, at noon. Among those present were the members of the Collegiate Institute Board and the teaching staff. A double file of students stood in line from the house to the hearse as the casket was carried out. The following members of the Collegiate Institute teaching staff acted as pallbearers: Messrs. L. C. Fleming, R. S. Hamilton, G. P. Keys, F. J. Phelan, J. G. Althouse and Principal A. P. Gundry. The funeral took place by motor, two cars being occupied by students. There was a large attendance of friends at the burial service in Kintore, which was also conserved. line from the house to the hearse as the service in Kintore, which was also conducted by Rev. Dr. Fraser.

SHORT COURSES IN

FOREIGN TRADE

An absence of preparatory work in Canadian schools and colleges for the study of foreign trade service has been brought prominently before the in the middle of summer. There are the blood is much in need of Canadian Trade Commission in its parts of Canada where the former purifying and cariching, and every investigations into possibilies for in-conditions obtain, as a rule, and it is creased Dominion export trade. It from such places that the most vigor-new, red blood. In the spring one is felt that a permanent expansion of our trade abroad must be undertaken if manufacturers are adequately to share in meeting the burden which the great additions to the national debt will impose for many years to come. Extension of home markets will not meet the needs in the same

As a first step to bringing before the public the importance of means for the training of younger men to take up foreign trade work, the Trade Commission has written to all the Canadian universities asking if they can give their immediate support by establishing, this summer, short courses for business men and students featuring especially aspects of foreign trade.

It is believed this matter will be enthusiastically taken up by younger men and women anxious to secure an opening in life which will apparently not be overcrowded and which will develop in importance as trade of the Dominion increases. There appears to be a decided quickening of opinion in Canada as in Great Britain and all the British overseas dominions in the study of modern languages for the securing not mereof the trade which formerly fell to German and Austrian merchants, but in the wider fields of China, the East Indies and South America.

The one thing which the Commission insists upon is that the present reconstructive work in Europe must be regarded as only showing the way to what Canada can do abroad in export trade, and it emphasises the fact that expansion on absolutely permanent lines in the whole of the world's markets must be undertaken by manufacturers if our natural resources are to be util-

The yield of potatoes throughout Canada would be very much increased if everyone who grew potatoes used seed of the strongest vitality, free from desease, While the variety used is important, the quality of the seed often makes much more difference in the yield than the variety.

Seed potatoes from a crop which grew vigorously until the tops were cut down by frost in Autumn usually | with impurities as a result of the ingive much better returns than those from a crop where the tops dried up ous seed is usually obtained.

In 1918 the best seed of the Green Mountain potato yielded at the rate poorest seed yielded only 57 bushels per acre at Ottawa. In the case of at the rate of 616 bushels per acre while poor seed yielded only 26 boils-Dr. bushels per acre, a remarkable difference. Just as striking differences have been obtained in other years.

Each grower of potatoes should the field and to have every plant a vigorous and healthy one. There is potato fields and a still larger proportion of weak and diseased plants which lessen the yield enormously.

Experiments have been tried in mine the best time to plant potatoes for highest yields, and from these experiments and the experience of the best grower, the following dates are Edward Island, June 1-7; Nova Scotia, June 1-15; New Brunswick, June 1.15; Quebec, May 15 to June 15; depending on the part of the province; Ontario, May 1 to June 15, depending on what part of the province; Manitoba May 10-15; Saskatchewan, May 10-24; Alberta part of the province. The tendency plant later than is desirable for highest yields. From results obtained,

CLOG THE BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine is a Necessity at This Season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all-year-round tonic, blood-builder and nerve restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded door life of the vinter months. There is no other searn of the year when feels weak and tired-Dr. Williams Pink Pills give new strength. In the spring the appetite is often poorof 387 bushels per acre while the Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach, aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that Irish Cobbler, the best seed yielded poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, erysipelas and aim to have a full stand of plants in many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time, when all nature often a large proportion of misses in takes on new life, that the blood most seriously needs attention. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually renew and enrich the blood, and this new blood reaches every organ and every different parts of Canada to deter- nerve in the body, bringing new health and new strength to weak, easily tired men, women and children.-Here is a bit of proof: Miss Anna Patterson, R. F. D., No. 1, suggested as being the best:-Prince Thorold, Ont., says:-"My trouble was one of general weakness, which thinned my blood and gave me at times unbearable headaches, loss of appetite and also loss in weight. I tried several medicines, but without success. Then I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a fair trail. The result is May 10-24; British Columbia, April | that I feel like a new person. My 1 to May 15, depending on what appetite improved, I gained in weight my blood is thoroughly purified, and has been in most places in Canada to my face cleared of some unsightly pimp'es which had troubled me, If one good turn deserves another then the following general recommendation I have much pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.'

Where the spring is early and autumn frosts early, plant early. Where the spring is early and summers dry, plant early, Where the spring is late, early planting is not so important. Where the spring is early and autumn frosts are early, plant as soon as soil is dry enough. If you need a medicine this spring
