To the Editor of the Monitor: Accept my apologies for tronbling you with a reply to an anonymous correspondent; it is not generally worth while—life being so short, with so much to do—but it just occurred to me to say to him that the meet-ing he referred to was a special meeting of the ahareholders of the Nova Scetia Pork Packing Company. If he was a shareholder he must have been pecunarily siding a scheme in which he had no faith, which, to say the least, is rather bordering on lunacy; if he were not a shareholder he had no bus-iness there. As to his objections, they were fully and ably answered by practical farmers at the meeting, but there are none so deaf as those who won't hear. E. D. DAVISON, Bridgetown, N. S., Jan. 9th, 1899. raveled in the steerage of a sailing ship, the voyage occupying thirty-six days, and he pore the name of Denald Smith. The other day, with his staff of secretaries and his retinue of servants, he occupied the finest babins on board the osean greyhound Teuenic, crossed the Atlantic in six days, and he bears no longer the name of Donald Smith, but is known as "the Right Honorable Lord Strathcons and Mount Royal of Glencoe, these mystic letters indicating that he is a Knight Grand Cross of Queen Victoria's Order of St. Michael and St. George. Donald Smith landed in America, at six teen years of age, and working his way up he eventually entered the service of the Hudson Bay Company. Beginning at the very bottom of the ladder he worked his way up to the very top, step by step, undergoing all sorts of hardships while in charge of the outlying posts of the company. At one time when in charge of a station in the most distant and deselate portion of Labrador, he was smitten with snow blindness and threatened with the loss of his sight.

The nearest doctor was hundreds of miles distant, but the sufferer determined to reach him. In company with two half-breed guides he successfully accomplished the journey, and obtained the needed medical aid. On his return the weather became so bad that both guides succumbed to the cold. But young Smith struggled on alone arriving at his destination more dead than alive. It was the knowledge of the capabiliti of Canada which he obthined while acting as an officer of the Hudson Bay Company and subsequently as its governor, that en abled him to see the value of the country a a field for settlement and to lay the founda tion of his immense fortune. At a momen when the entire C. P. R. enterprise seeme practically out of the question. According to my opinion. I should say that the anima now being brought to light would weigh in life about sixty tons, that he had a neck thirty feet in length, and a tail perhaps sixty feet in length. His ribs are about nine feet in length and the cavity of his body with lungs and entrails out, would make hall thirty-four feet in length, sixteen feet in width, and arched over probably twelve feet in height. Such a space, if properly arranged, would seat at least forty people.

A round steak taken from the ham of the animal would have been at least twelve feet in diameter, or more than thirty-five feet in cence, and would have had a solid bone in the middle 12x14 inches, with no hollow for mairow. It can be lessened in extent by feeding nutritive material in small bulk, and more frequent rations. All coarse feed should be avoided such as timothy, millet, and clover hay. The best wild hay is preferable and it should be fine cut and given in small quantities mixed with mill feed or steamed food. Feed everything wet. Food and water should be consumed at least an hour before the animal is used for work. A horse with the heaves is only capable of doing light work and it is cruel to use him othe Clipping Horses.

The idea that a horse's indigestion and general condition are improved by clipping his coat is an absurdity. A horse cannot digest his food if he is constantly shivering, and blankets cannot take the place of hi hair for warmth. The greatest exponents of clipping are grooms who are too lazy thoroughly to groom a horse which has a long coat of hair. It is utterly useless to try to improve on nature in that respect, and clipping should be discontinued as a barbar

And we suffer this as if it were somehow the order and law of nature that somebody should be allowed to prey upon us. A very small pro-portion of our fellow citizens require us to live in this species of terror. We live under the surveillance of these rascals who seek to injure us in property and in person, and yet we not cheerfully but thoughtlessly pay the taxes for police, for courts, for sher-iffs, for taking care of a comparatively few
