GERMANS OCCUPY SOISSONS THEM NOW HARD PRESSED

French Troops, After Fierce Street Fighting, Are Forced Out of Important Town, While Germans Now Threaten Rheims and Head Toward Marne, Where Famous Stand

Was Made by Allies in 1914---Allies Make Gallant Fight on Plateau South of Vesle River, But Are Forced Back by Over- whelming Numbers---Foch Sets Reserves in Motion at All Points Towards Battlefield---Germans Claim 25,000 Prisoners.

LONDON, May 29.—The British people have received the serious events in France with their characteristic quiet and confidence. Their morale appears not to have been affected and there is not the slightest semblance of excitement in London.

After digesting the late editions of the morning newspapers the people went quietly about business as usual. Their grave and solemn manner, however, indicated that they appreciated the seriousness of the battle situation. Wherever the latest developments were discussed the predominant view was that the allied reserves would turn the tables on the enemy at General Foch's chosen time, and that there was no reason for alarm.

In their violent attacks on the thirty-mile battle front running from Soissons eastward to the region northwest of Rheims, the German armies are continuing to drive the French and British forces before them on nearly every sector.

The fortified town of Soissons, the extreme left flank of the allied battle line, has been occupied by the enemy, although the French are still holding tenaciously to its western environs, through which emerge the railway lines leading to Paris and Compiègne.

According to the German official communication 25,000 prisoners, among them a French and British general, have been taken and numerous additional towns and vantage points all along the front have been captured.

Seemingly Rheims, like Soissons, also is doomed to fall into the hands of the enemy, as the French war office reports that the troops covering the famous cathedral town, which almost daily for several years has been the target for shells of hate from the German guns, have been withdrawn behind the Aisne Canal northwest of the town.

On the sector directly to the southeast of Soissons the Germans now are fighting relatively twelve miles from where they started their drive Monday from Vauxaillon, while further east, near Loupeigne, and in the centre in the vicinity of Savigny, wedges have been driven in to a depth of approximately 15 miles.

FRESH MEN THROWN IN.

The Germans continually are throwing fresh divisions into the battle, but the British and French troops are keeping up their tactics of giving ground only when it is impossible longer to hold positions under the tremendous pressure of the enemy. Heavy casualties are being suffered by the army of the German crown prince, while the losses of men to the allied forces are described as relatively light.

Also unofficial reports have mentioned the rushing up of reinforcements from the south, there has as yet been no official statement that Gen. Foch is sending in his reserves.

Of almost as great interest as the Aisne battle is the situation around the little town of Cantigny, where the Americans made a notable gain in their first "solo" attack against the Germans Tuesday. Numerous counter-attacks have been launched against the Americans holding Cantigny and the outlying positions, but all of them have met with the same result—failure and the loss of many men killed or wounded.

In Flanders and Picardy the Germans are heavily bombarding French and British positions on various sectors and raiding operations are being carried out by both sides. No big battle has been begun. The British transport Leasowe Castle has been sunk by a submarine in the Mediterranean with the loss of 101 persons drowned.

FRENCH Soissons Occupied by Enemy

Paris, May 29.—After desperate resistance and fighting in the streets, lasting several hours, the French have evacuated Soissons, which the Germans occupied, according to the official announcement from the war office tonight.

The text of the statement reads:
"The troops covering Rheims have withdrawn behind the Aisne Canal, northwest of the town."

"The battle took on particular violence on our left wing. In the region of Soissons, after stubborn resistance and fighting in the streets, which held back the enemy for several hours, our troops evacuated the town, the western outskirts of which we occupy."

"Southeast of Soissons the battle extended to the plateaux marked by Belleu, Septmonts, Ambrief and Chaerise."

"In the centre, under the pressure of the enemy, we gave ground in the region of Loupeigne, north of Fere-en-Tardenois. The Franco-British troops further to the east maintained their positions on the line of Brouillet, Savigny and Tilloy."

"On the right the troops which are covering Rheims have withdrawn behind the Aisne Canal, northwest of the town."

The German drive is not yet completely stopped, but nowhere were our lines broken. All parts of the front remain solid, and the Germans have obtained nothing to be compared with what took place in the first days of the March offensive, all critics assert. La Liberte says the high French command is absolutely convinced it can overcome the serious difficulties which it has to meet. Its confidence is founded on the power of resources and the morale of its army, which remains intact.

The Temps says that in the face of the formidable and tragic battle, France has no fear for the future, and stands erect in the confidence that the allied cause will triumph over the methods of terrorism of an enemy devoid of nobility of soul. Weariness of mourning cannot turn the nation away from its sacred duty.

Premier Clemenceau, who has just returned from the battle front, declared the morale of the allied soldiers was admirable. French and British soldiers, the premier said, went singing into battle. M. Clemenceau paid a high tribute to the allied commanders, who, he said, were worthy of all praise. During his trip, the premier, with his usual temerity, went near the front lines. A general was killed at a crossroads where the premier had passed only three minutes before.

Allies Retire With Great Precision

With the French Army in France, May 29.—The Germans advanced against the French lines again today after throwing further masses of troops into the battle. Both flanks of the battle line were the scene of very heavy fighting by inferior numbers against superior with the result that the allies were obliged again to cede ground at several points.

Besides Von Boehm's and Von Below's armies, many divisions of Von Hutier's troops were engaged. These especially trained units had participated in the first rush on March 21 and had since then been reconstituted.

An enormous number of light machine guns were employed by the Germans as well as a large fleet of tanks and much heavy and light artillery, while the German aviators were extremely active.

From the plain towards Juvincourt, Ville-aux-Bois, Pontavert and Berry-au-Bac, numerous tanks came into action. For a considerable time the thin allied line held out, but as the enemy debouched, wave after wave, the French and British, almost submerged, fell back slowly, getting across the river. Several British officers afterward sacrificed their lives in destroying the bridge.

Almost simultaneously overpowering enemy forces made their way to the top of the Chemin des Dames ridge and also to the western end of this road, in the neighborhood of Chavignon and Malmaison, and the troops holding these points were obliged to recede.

The allied movement to the rear was executed with the greatest precision; there was no disorder and all the units kept in constant liaison.

BRITISH STICK TO POSITIONS.

Further east other British divisions, amalgamated with French colonial troops, held fast and are still firmly sticking to their positions, although they have been compelled to rearrange part of their front in order to keep alignment with their retiring comrades.

In the direction of Soissons a readjustment of the front line also became necessary, in consequence of the falling back of the centre where the Germans were pushing hardest.

The fighting has been continuous for two days, thru a country composed of a series of chalky plateaux, with winding valleys, whose slopes are half clothed with trees, and containing many caverns. Along the top of one of the principal ridges runs the famous Chemin des Dames, from which valleys spread angularly towards the Aisne. The allied possession of this ridge compromised the security of the German southern flank.

The enemy's torrent of divisions, rolling forward, found only the thinnest line of allied troops facing the advance. These fell back before the irresistible pressure, retiring, but struggling valiantly. The torrent as it moved forward became even stronger, for the Germans added new forces to it. Even the Aisne did not stay its rush.

The Germans followed the allies across the river and at the same time spread along the sides, the allies having decided that it was useless to sacrifice men in efforts to hold these positions with too few defenders.

The southern slopes of the Aisne valley offered good ground to the allies to stand, had they been in sufficient force. But the Germans were in immensely superior numbers, and the allied commanders chose to retire to the plateaux beyond and thus give an opportunity for the reserves to concentrate. It is probable, before the advancing German torrent weakens, that further territory will fall into the hands of the enemy. That, however, in the opinion of French officers, will not affect the strength of the allied forces, which retain their striking power for the future.

The French and British kept in the closest touch thruout the battle, working together as a single unit. The spirit of comradeship was touching. Both in the ranks and along the roads wounded men of both nations, when able to walk, were helping each other toward

ALBANIAN HELD FOR MURDER OF C.P.R. LABORER

Some of Tucker's Property Found Among Belongings of Man Now in Custody.

SOME OTHERS DETAINED

All Belonged to Gang of C.P.R. Laborers Who Had Gone on Strike.

Following the efforts of the provincial police since May 19, Hassan Nevy, alias C. George, a man claiming to be an Albanian and giving his address as 541 West King street, was arrested on a charge of murder last night.

George is alleged to have murdered George H. Tucker of Orangeville, a member of the Canadian Pacific bridge construction gang, as he slept in his bunk in a boarding car on the siding of the Roman Stone Company's plant, near Weston, on May 19. The tragedy was discovered by William Hill, also a member of the gang, who returned to the car from a visit to Toronto about 10 o'clock on the night of the murder.

The crime from the beginning was characterized by the police as baffling. While the murderer had thoroughly ransacked the dead man's clothes and had removed all articles of value from the boarding car, the theory of robbery alone did not seem very substantial in face of the evident fury with which the murder was committed.

Witness Describes Man.
The first clue was offered the police at the coroner's inquest when one of the witnesses called was partially able to describe the man now held, as a man he had seen leaving the scene of the crime shortly after the murder is thought to have been committed.

George, the man held for murder, is said to be one of a gang of Albanians who had been working for the Canadian Pacific Railway, but had gone on strike for a higher rate of pay. The men demanded $2.75 a day, and the company refused to accept, and the railway discharged the entire gang.

Find Tucker's Wallet.
After ascertaining where the gang was living Inspector Miller and Inspector Greer, of the provincial police, Inspector Kennedy of the city police and Detectives Mitchell, Cronin, Mulholland, Stewart and Maurer went to the house at 569 West King street about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and entered the building armed with search warrants. When they entered there were three men in the building. After searching the personal effects of the men a pair of field glasses which were removed from the boarding car, and the dead man's wallet with an identification card issued by the Merchants' Casualty Company, bearing the number 32725, and bearing the name of George H. Tucker, Orangeville, were found in George's belongings.

George arrived at the house at 5:15 and was immediately placed under arrest on the charge of murder. Several other members of the gang giving their names as G. Assan, M. Demo, J. Ali, G. Galt, C. Sam, Bemo Assan, M. Ali, A. Galt, E. Assan, George Ali, C. Man, and Sam Ali, were also detained by the police and questioned.

George, when questioned by the police officials, flatly denied having anything to do with the murder. He also denied working at any time for the Canadian Pacific Railway. This he stoutly maintained even in the face of his endorsed checks being presented to him. Inspector Greer and Miller of the provincial police also advised him that his last check in the C.P.R. building at the corner of King and Yonge streets, when the men were finally paid off. The man even said that the club bag in which the murdered man's articles were found was not his. Some of the clothes the man was wearing when he was apprehended matched with clothing found in his suitcase by the police. An en-

PERUVIAN VISITOR MEETS WITH SURPRISE

Antonio Grana Comes North to Learn How Canada Carries on Agri- cultural Work.

Down in New York they told him Canada was a pretty good agricultural country, and that Ontario could show him some things he wanted to see, so he came, he saw and he is being conquered. "I had no idea you had such a wonderful country," he said yesterday. His name is Antonio Grana. He is special commissioner for the Peruvian Government, department of agriculture, and his mission to America is to study its agricultural pursuits and its live stock industry.

What he has seen has been a revelation to him. He has visited the Niagara fruit belt and expects to inspect the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph within a day or two. Yesterday he was in conference with W. B. Roadhouse, deputy minister of agriculture, when the organization of the department of agriculture was explained.

"Everything is splendid; I am surprised," he said, "but oh! your winners."

DEFENDANT RELEASED; WITNESS IS ARRESTED

Harry Cohen Tries to Shield Girl Who Later Admitted Taking Things.

At the close of the trial of Harry Cohen yesterday afternoon in the criminal court, when he was acquitted by Judge Winchester on the charge of supplying drugs to Jean Duncan, the principal witness, and who was supposed to have been the girl to whom Cohen gave the drugs, was placed under arrest by Detective Kerr of the morality department on the charge of purchasing and supplying drugs to herself. The girl, Jean Duncan, swore that she had purchased certain pills at a down town drug store, but could not say which one.

"Why did Cohen say he had given you the pills," asked Crown Attorney Greer.
"To shield me, I suppose," answered the girl.
"You surely would not have her arrested," protested T. C. Robinette, K. C., who appeared for Cohen, but as the girl left the court Detective Kerr followed and arrested her.

NOEL MARSHALL GOES ON VISIT TO FRANCE

With Party of Four He Will Visit Front on Behalf of the Red Cross.

Noel Marshall received notification last evening to be ready to leave with a party of four on Monday for France to make a tour in the interests of the Red Cross. Mr. Marshall does not know as yet from what port he is to sail or who will compose the party.

A special meeting of the executive of the Canadian National Exhibition has been called for Friday afternoon when Mr. Marshall, who is the representative of the Red Cross, will be presented with a silver service in recognition of his faithful efforts.

GOLD DISCOVERY ON ALGOMA CENTRAL

Special to The Toronto World.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 29.—Gold has been found near Goudreau, 177 miles north of the Soo on the Algoma Central Railway, and indications point to large deposits in a porphyry dike five miles long and a mile wide. The property is largely owned by D. J. McCarthy of the Soo, and J. P. Cline of South Porcupine. Many have gone to the new gold find. Examinations of the claims have produced gratifying results.

RETIRE FROM KIRKUT.

British Withdraw Southward in Mesopotamia, Turks Occupying Towns.

London, May 29.—A Turkish official communication received here today says: "On the Irak front the Turkish left wing has occupied Kirkut, the British withdrawing southward."
A envelope given to George by another man in the gang was also found in the bag proving without doubt that the bag belonged to him.
Since the men had been discharged by the C.P.R. they had been working in the John Inglis munition factory, West Toronto.

OFFICIAL PAPERS NOT A NECESSITY

Certificate Signed by Two Reputable Persons Will Satisfy Law.

APPLICATIONS POUR IN

Thousands Apply for Official Documents of Birth or Marriage.

Only those who may be suspected of being in class one of the Military Service Act will be required to carry certificates of birth or marriage according to an announcement posted in the department of the registrar-general at the parliament buildings yesterday. It is also stated that a certificate signed by two reputable citizens, residing in the same community, will satisfy the law, thereby doing away with the necessity of having an official certificate.

This latter clause is the only alternative for thousands of applicants, for judging by present indications it would be impossible to meet all demands before June 1. Possibly the largest crowd that has been seen in the department was there yesterday, and the number of applications ran into the thousands. In spite of the fact that the augmented staff is kept working until midnight there is a heavy surplus, which keeps growing and which could hardly be cleared up in time.

The clauses in the regulations posted ed yesterday to which attention was drawn stated that if it be claimed that a person is not within the clause of age signed by two reputable citizens residing in the same community in which he lives and who are acquainted with the fact will suffice. The same holds good in respect to claims for exemption from class one by reason of marriage.

Farmers and Conscription.

W. F. Maclean is Not Resigning in South York Nor Dr. Steele in South Perth.

A constituent called on W. F. Maclean, M.P., to see the petition from farmers in Markham asking him to resign his seat if he did not oppose conscription of farmers. Mr. Maclean said he was not going to resign; that on the contrary, he told the electors, farmers included, at all his meetings in the late contest, that he was for conscription and would support its enforcement. Ninety per cent of the voters of South York, who included were for conscription; and if he had not kept his pledge these would be the people who had a right to ask him to resign, not the minority. But where undue hardship occurred in case of farmers conscripted he had done all he could to have relief afforded.

Stratford, May 28.—Replying to a letter from the Cronarty Farmers' Club in respect to supporting exemption for farmers under the Military Service Act, Dr. M. Steele, Unionist M.P. for South Perth, declared his stand in no uncertain terms. After pointing out that the decision of the government was arrived at after serious consideration and referring to the great need of men, he declares:

"My duty, as I see it, in the situation is perfectly clear. I intend to continue to do my duty and I will not be deterred from that course even by your threat that my resignation will be requested. The man who were to refuse further reinforcements to our gallant boys at this time is not worthy to represent any British constituency."

H. H. Williams Seriously Ill As Result of Train Accident

H. H. Williams is seriously ill at his home, 545 Avenue road, as the result of an accident received on the train en route to Ottawa. Mr. Williams was in the washroom of the Pullman when a slight collision occurred. The jar of the colliding cars threw him violently against the sharp edge of the basin, injuring him. The doctor is allowing no one to see him at present.

the dressing stations, while all the soldiers indiscriminately gave aid, when possible, to the civilian refugees.

The reserves are moving, proceeding towards points where they can oppose the German rush. Among the allied troops of whatever nationality, in spite of their lost positions, confidence is great that the desperate effort of the Germans will not succeed in inflicting more than a glancing blow on the allied forces, and that the present situation is only temporary.

Entering on Crucial Stage of Battle

French Army Headquarters, May 29.—The expansion of the enemy's wings has enabled him to bring his right within a short distance of Soissons while his left has reached an alignment which forms practically a semi-circle around Rheims.

Last night the position of the Franco-British holding the extreme right of the line became difficult. They were under fire from three sides from the old German line between Coucy and Rheims and from the new lines which the Germans had established in passing them to the south, so they were now obliged to face east, north and west.

We are entering upon the crucial stage of the battle, but the issue is awaited calmly. Our reserves are hastening up and the morale of our armies is superb.

The Germans had the choice of the point of attack and were able to concentrate their masses against a thinly held sector. The choice of the real line of resistance will be ours.

The new battle is spreading over the ground of the battle of the Marne where the enemy's triumphant rush was broken in September, 1914.

The omens are good.

BRITISH Hostile Raiding Party Driven Back

With the British Army in France, May 29.—Further enemy counter-attacks against the American troops, who yesterday stormed their way into Cantigny, have been repulsed, and at latest reports the overseas men were holding their positions in the shell-torn village strongly.

London, May 29.—"A hostile raiding party was driven back during the night in the neighborhood of Beaumont-Hamel," says the British official communication issued this evening.

"A local attack made by the enemy north of Kemmel was completely repulsed by the French troops.

"There is nothing further to report from the British front."

AMERICAN Another Gas Attack at Luneville

With the American Army in France, May 29.—The enemy launched another heavy gas attack against our troops in the Luneville sector early this morning and attempted to reach our line at three places. They were repulsed with comparatively heavy losses.

Washington, May 29.—Consolidation of positions taken yesterday by the Americans in the Cantigny salient and the repulse of renewed counter-attacks is announced in General Pershing's evening communique issued tonight by the war department. It also tells of the repulse last night of three raids in Lorraine in which several prisoners were taken and a number of the enemy killed.

The despatch follows: "In the Cantigny salient we have consolidated our positions in spite of heavy artillery and machine gun fire. Renewed counter-attacks broke down under our fire.

"In Lorraine we repulsed three raids during the night, taking several prisoners and killing a number of the enemy. There and in the West the artillery of both sides has been continuously active.

"It is established that on May 27 our aviators shot two hostile machines instead of one, as reported."

Report from German Headquarters.

Berlin, via London, May 29.—The official report from headquarters tonight says: "Near Soissons and between Soissons and Rheims we made fresh progress."

The number of prisoners taken by the Germans on the Aisne battle front has increased to 25,000. The prisoners include one French and one English general. The text of the communication follows:

"On the battle fronts from the Yser to the Oise the increased fighting activity continued. French local attacks south of Ypres failed.

"West of Montdidier the enemy during a local advance penetrated into Cantigny yesterday.

"The armies of General Boehm and General von Below, of the army of the German crown prince, have victoriously continued their attack. French and English reserves rushed up were defeated.

"The right wing divisions of General Larisch, after repelling a French counter-attack, captured the Terny-Sorny Ridge and the heights northeast of Soissons. After hard fighting the troops of General Wichura also broke the resistance of the enemy on the plateau of Conde. Fort Conde was taken by storm. Vregny and Misy also were taken, on the southern bank of the Aisne, and the Vesle heights to the west of Ciry were occupied.

"The corps of Gen. von Winkler, General von Conta and Gen. Schmetow have crossed the Vesle. Braine and Pismes have been captured and we are standing on the heights due south of the Vesle. The troops of Gen. Ilse have taken the hills northeast of Prouilly by storm and captured Villers Franqueux and Courcy, and now are fighting for the heights of Thierry.

"The indefatigable advancing infantry, artillery and mine-thrower detachments are being closely followed by balloons, anti-aircraft guns and despatch riders.

"The energetic labors of the pioneers and railway equipment and construction troops have rendered possible the conquest of the field of attack and the bringing up of fighting men by columns uninterrupted. In self-sacrificing activity doctors and stretcher-bearers are looking after the wounded on the battle fields.

"In spite of the changing weather our aerial forces are attacking the enemy again and again with bombs and machine guns, while aviators have surveyed without interruption our progressing attacks and effort of our artillery fire.

"The number of prisoners has increased to 25,000, including one French and one English general."

AMERICA SYMPATHIZES WITH SLAV ASPIRATIONS

Washington, May 29.—The United States Government views "with earnest sympathy" the nationalistic aspirations of the Czech-Slovaks and the Jugo-Slavs, Secretary Lansing said today.

"The secretary of state desires to announce," said the secretary in a statement, "that the proceedings of the congress of oppressed races of Austria-Hungary which was held in Rome in April, has been followed with great interest by the Government of the United States, and the nationalistic aspirations of the Czech-Slovaks and the Jugo-Slavs for freedom have the earnest sympathy of this government."

WILL PROBE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

London, Ont., May 29.—The finance committee, at a meeting tonight, recommended to the city council that Judge McBeth be asked to conduct a thorough investigation into the city fire department. Charges were received regarding matters of discipline by the Trades and Labor Council and an investigation asked for.

LEGS WERE FRACTURED.

Woodstock, Ont., May 29.—Louis Harwood Hickson suffered a broken leg when the load of which he was riding on top of a truck overturned today when his bicycle struck an obstacle on the road.

PRISONER RECAPTURED.

Young Man Who Breaks Jail Must Answer More Charges.

Special to The Toronto World.

Belleville, May 29.—J. G. Seldon, the young man who on Sunday last took French leave from the county jail here, whilst undergoing a sentence for theft, was recaptured last night at Point Anne, and three more charges are being preferred against him. He is accused of breaking into the C.N.R. station at Thurlow on Sunday night and stealing a suit of clothes, some money and articles; also two bicycles from employees of the Point Anne Cement Works.

Seldon was wearing the stolen suit when arrested. The prison guard he wore when he escaped was found in a bush near the Thurlow station.

PRISONERS' TREATMENT.

Germans Behaved Just as Bad to Allied Prisoners as to British.

London, May 29.—In the house of lords yesterday Lord Newton, under-secretary of the foreign office, asserted there was not the slightest vestige of truth in newspaper allegations that the inactivity of the war office had resulted in worse treatment of British prisoners of war than others. He said that no government had been more solicitous of the welfare of its prisoners and was of the opinion that British soldiers in German prison camps were treated better than others.

OUR WHIZZ BANG

To You Today Is Brimful Of Suggestions for Your Summer Comfort

A soldier calls a postcard a whizz bang because it's short and to the point and that's the way we want this ad. to read, short and to the point.

We are selling more good clothes today than ever before and the one best reason is because we did not try to inflate cheap materials to double their worth.

We are showing beautiful suits and fabrics at $28.00, $30.00, $35.00, $38.00, $40.00 and $45.00. Suits that have quality even if you do pay more than you formerly did in normal times.

One line Dark Green Suits with belt at $30.00 is a hummer, another grey all wool English worsted in two shades at $35.00 cannot be equalled in town. We have these in single and double-breasted styles.

While we like to talk about the better grades we haven't forgotten the man who pays $25.00, $20.00, $18.00 and $15.00. and tho' it's hard getting materials of worth in the lower grades we can honestly say there are no better suits to be had at these prices than we are showing.

MORE PASTORATES THAN MINISTERS

Hamilton Conference Leave Supplying Them to Chairmen of Districts.

CHURCH STATISTICS

First Report of Charges Presented by the Stationing Committee.

Special to The Toronto World.

Guelph, May 29.—Nearly all of the preliminary meetings in connection with the Hamilton Methodist Conference, the general session of which opens tomorrow afternoon in Dublin Street Church, were held today and this evening. The delegates have all arrived and there are present about 250 ministers and the same number of laymen. The stationing committee completed their work, so far as the first draft of stations is concerned, at noon today. The changes in the pastorates of the various circuits this year are more numerous than usual, and the task of the committee has been an arduous one. One of the features this year is the fact that there are more stations than there are ministers to fill them, and several are left vacant, the supplying of them being left to the chairman of the district. In one instance a place paying a salary of $1100 a year is without a pastor. This condition of affairs is due entirely to the war as many of the ministers are on active service, and the theological students attending the colleges have been greatly depleted, owing to the Military Service Act.

Serving Their Country. There are quite a number of ministers in the Hamilton Conference who are serving their country in a military capacity, a few as chaplains and some in the ranks. The list is as follows: Major A. E. Lavell; Chaplains Gordon R. Jones, A. D. Robb, W. G. Watson, D. Robb, W. G. Martin, W. R. Caswell, H. D. Taylor; Lieutenants Geo. T. Shields, Ralph Wilson, Milton J. Aikens, H. O. Rogers, J. H. Kerr. Other ranks: Lieut. G. F. Cameron, Corp. John Ward, Elmer S. Sinclair, W. A. Atkinson, Frank Crighton, David A. Lane, C. W. Chis, S. R. Fallick, Corp. A. E. Elliott, James S. Hyde, Joseph A. Campbell, Arthur Hampson, David Dyson, Sidney B. Stokes, Fred. M. Ellis, John A. Dill. The first session of the laymen's association was held at Norfolk street this afternoon, and was presided over by C. P. McGregor of Burlington, the president. An excellent report of the year's work was presented, especially along the line of missionary work, this report being dealt with by J. M. Denyes of Milton. At the evening service a splendid address was delivered by Prof. A. J. Johnston, B.A., of Toronto, on "Social Service and Evangelism."

The ministerial session of the conference took place in Dublin Street Church. The chief features of this meeting were the addresses of Rava, Robt. Davey, George Hartley, John R. Isaacs and John W. Sanderson, all of whom have just completed fifty years of active work in the Methodist Church.

In the case of W. A. Terry of the Simcoe district the report of the trial committee was adopted by the conference. Mr. Terry was charged with leaving his home and work, of borrowing money under false pretences and of embezzling certain amounts of trust funds of the church which were paid to him for non-secular purposes. After a thorough trial he was found guilty of all the charges, and was ordered deposed from the ministry, and expelled from the membership of the church.

Following is a complete list of all the pastoral changes as contained in the first report of the stationing committee:

- Hamilton district: Hamilton Wesley Church, H. S. Douglas; Hamilton Chanton Avenue, Frank M. Wootton; Hamilton Calvary Church, A. E. Marshall; Hamilton Lake Church, R. W. Scanlan; Glanford, T. M. Forthright; Millgrove, C. R. Albright; Wesley, Thomas Boyd; Castorville, A. G. Philpotts.
- Guelph district: Guelph Paisley Memorial, A. Hurburt; Acton, L. M. Moyer; Rockwood, P. Thornton Meek; Ponsonby, A. W. Guild; Belwood, J. P. Barbaree; Erin, J. A. Jervitt.
- St. Catharines district: St. Catharines, St. Paul St., D. E. Martin; St. Catharines, Niagara St., J. J. Liddy; Thorold, R. S. E. Large; Niagara Falls, Morrison St., J. Edgar Todd; Niagara Falls, Lundy's Lane, H. L. Roberts; Niagara-on-the-Lake, Geo. Smitherman; Queenston Heights, Gordon C. Tlaymer.
- Brantford district: Brantford, Wesley Church, S. E. Marshall; Mount Pleasant, E. S. Moyer.

The Careful Motorist Provides His Car With the Very Necessary Accessories

Steel Tool Box, size 22 x 9 x 7,
$2.75.

Ford Accelerator, $1.00.

A. C. Plug, 75c.

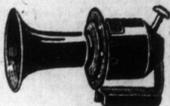

Oil Gauge, 30c.

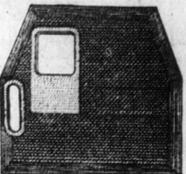

Combination Measures,
quart size, 85c; half-gallon
size, $1.00.

Yankee Running Board Pump,
$6.50.

Mechanical Hand Horn, $3.25.

Ford Rubber Mat, $1.50.

At last the motorist comes into his own. Long months of glorious summer weather lies before him, which means many hours with the joyful purr of the engine to his ears, the cool breeze in his face, and long stretches of beautiful countryside flashing past.

Those who are contemplating such pastime will, no doubt, be re-stocking their car with those very needful accessories which at all times the careful motorists keep handy. To the ardent motorist, therefore, this list of articles will be very timely and ought to prove very helpful—suggesting accessories which he had by some mischance overlooked.

Now a Dust Coat is a Very Necessary Accessory

When you're way out in the country and the dust leaves the roads in clouds, when you're "puttering" about the car—maybe changing a tire or making minor repairs to the engine—it's on such and many other like occasions that you can appreciate a good dust coat. The purchase of one is really an investment, for the protection it affords your good clothes means actual savings in dollars and cents. Investigate the following values—the prices are really low, and you'll find the coats to be serviceable and cut along smart, stylish lines:—

New American Models

The first type of Motor Dust Coat in this season's stock is a single-breasted one, buttoning up close, with a knife tab, patch pockets and full skirt. The material is of linen shade and very serviceable. Sizes 34 to 44. Price, $2.75.

A Single-breasted Motor Duster, in a grass-colored linen effect, comes next. It has convertible lapels and full-sweep skirt. Price, $3.50.

In a double-breasted style, with full skirt, there is this Light Grey Coat, with wind straps on the sleeves and convertible lapels. Priced at $4.00.

A grey chambray of fine finish, also, comes in double-breasted style, with half belt and slash pockets. Price, $7.00.

There are other lines, also, of finer materials—mohairs and Palm Beach—in the newest American style at $10.00, $12.50 and $13.50.

—Main Floor, Queen St.

A Raincoat is Almost Indispensable

But often they are unwieldy and hampering. Not so with these coats, however, for they are made of oiled silk, and hence are very light. They may be folded up into a very small bundle without injury in any way to the coat. So that if you are going on a camping or a cycle trip, one of these Raincoats will be just the thing to add to your outfit.

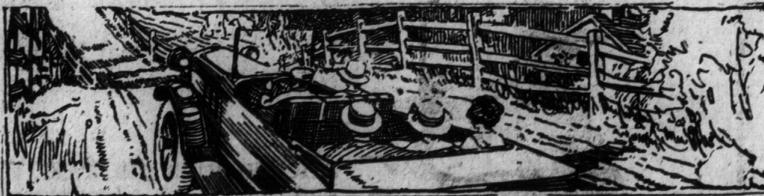

They come in amber and smoke shades, are double-ply throughout, have fly front, buttoning to neck, with low collar and wind straps on the sleeves.

If you are undecided about the matter, come in and see them, and your doubts will vanish. Price, $18.00.

PUPILS GO FARMING.

Pape Avenue School is helping in food production. Many of the senior pupils of Pape Avenue School have gone out on farms to help in food production this season, said W. G. Morrison, principal, yesterday. "We have given out $30 worth of vegetable seeds in packets to about 500 of our pupils for their home gardens and $125 has been given to date in connection with the Queen Mary show by the children and teachers of the school. "Our honor roll contains the names of former pupils who have enlisted and gone overseas, whom Mrs. E. M. Symons and Willie Bullocks, were killed."

WANT SUB-POSTOFFICE.

Pape Avenue Section Wants Area Slow, According to Merchant.

Considerable inconvenience is at present being experienced by the business men and residents of the Pape Avenue section in the erratic delivery of mails. "Business people have to wait until 11 o'clock for the morning delivery of letters," said H. Massie, real estate broker, 679 Pape Avenue, who stated that formerly the morning mail was delivered about 8 o'clock. The same trouble exists regarding the second delivery in the afternoon, which is considerably later than being delivered than some months ago. "The trouble seems to be the want of a postoffice sub-station in our district and the distance from which the mail is distributed," he said.

WILL CULTIVATE BEANS.

W. W. Noble, principal, and teaching staff of 19, connected with Bolton Avenue school, will co-operate with other teachers in the district in the food production campaign and will cultivate a portion of the ground secured at 22, Kingston road. They have decided to grow beans as their contribution.

PAPE AVENUE WINS TRO.

The honor of winning the double trio in the singing contest on Empire Day in connection with the food production falls to Pape Avenue School, corner of Langley and Pape, Riverdale. One boy and five girl pupils.

HELPING IN PRODUCTION.

East Gerrard Street Methodist Are Doing Their Share.

The members of East Gerrard Street Methodist Church congregation are working strenuously in connection with the food production campaign. Rev. A. P. Brace, pastor, stated that, owing to lack of ground in connection with the church, the members were unable to take action as a body, but plants and slips of various kinds have been distributed to the young people for planting in their home gardens. The contest will be held at the best results. The adults are growing vegetables on vacant lots and in their own grounds.

WAR ON STRAY DOGS.

Owners in Riverdale Section Are Being Taken to Court.

The stray dog nuisance in the Riverdale and Danforth sections is still prevalent and is being steadily grappled with by the police. Many summonses have been served on dog owners, and a number of dogs are caught daily and disposed of in the lethal chamber.

STRADER-RYDING.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Hilda's Anglican Church, Fairbank, yesterday afternoon, when Miss Mabel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Strader, C.E.R., of Hastings Avenue, who was killed in the battle of Zeebrugge, is now being installed in St. Clement's Anglican Church, corner of Gerrard street and Jones Avenue, and will be unveiled with special ceremony on Sunday next, the second anniversary of the battle, by Bishop Sweeney, and Rev. John Bussell, rector, will assist. The memorial is erected by his mother, Pte. Ratcliffe was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ratcliffe, and lived with his parents previous to enlisting in the C. M. R. All returned members of his late regiment and other veterans are expected to be present.

North Toronto

ALLIN CLUB MEETS.

The postponed annual meeting of the Allin Club of St. Clement's Anglican Church, North Toronto, was held Tuesday evening, May 28. The officers elected were as follows: President, Bertram Day; vice-president, Horrell Sanderson; secretary-treasurer, Norval Waddington; convener of membership committee, Frank Worth; convener of sports committee, Gordon Sanderson. Group games, under J. Macdonald of Central Y.M.C.A., were participated in by the members present. Regular meetings will be held during June.

East Toronto

COMPLAINS OF ROADWAY.

J. Brown, 2217 East Gerrard street, again complains of the state of the roadway opposite his place of business. He thinks the city is courting a case of criminal negligence, he says, because it is sure to be an accident to some automobile or horse and wagon when attempting to turn out on account of the deep hole. Conditions are made worse, he says, that the old worn car tracks, which have lain there unused for years. Mr. Brown says that even some travel or cinders would help materially.

BOY'S PHOTOGRAPH ARRIVES.

Malvern Collegiate Institute, East Toronto, has just received a photograph of Andrew Barrere, the little French boy whom it has undertaken to adopt. He is a bright looking little fellow, whose father has been killed in the war.

West Toronto

WEST TORONTO MAN DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Alexander Hay died yesterday morning at 5 Caledonia Avenue from pneumonia, after an illness of only a few days. Mr. Hay was a life-long resident of West Toronto, having lived on Orlow Avenue, and for seven years chief of police in Toronto Junction, from which position he retired ten years ago. He was a member of the I.O.O.F. and was a Mason. The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock at St. David's Methodist Church, Harvey Avenue, of which Mr. Hay was a member.

REBEKAHS PAY VISIT.

Havina Rebekah Lodge, No. 124, was visited by about thirty members of the sister lodge of Allison, to whom supper was served upon their arrival. Four interesting and edifying addresses were given and several speakers were heard, among them being Grand Master Mann, of Hamilton, Deputy Grand Master, Thomas Love. Refreshments were served.

ROSE OF KENT ANNIVERSARY.

Rose of Kent, No. 21, Daughters of England, celebrated its 25th anniversary last evening with a social, to which friends were invited. Songs and recitations were heard and Mrs. E. B. Grand vice-president, presided. Refreshments were served and a silver collection taken in aid of the contingent fund.

SECOND EXHIBIT GIVEN.

The West Toronto Young Women's Christian Association second physical culture exhibit was given last evening as successful as the one of the previous year. It attracted an audience that again taxed the seating capacity of the hall. A. B. Rice presided. Mrs. J. T. Anderson and Velma Temple, accompanists, were given rose and Helena Whilton, who is in charge of the branch, was given a large silk Union Jack by four clubs of the association—W. B. A. Onchota, senior Pollyannas and junior Pollyannas.

Beaches

HORSE REPEATS TRICK AFTER BEING SHOT

Shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon a horse belonging to R. J. Edwards, grocer, corner of Lee Avenue and Queen Street, took fright at something and dashed thru the large plate-glass window of the store. Mr. Edwards, who was behind the counter at the time, jumped over and caught the horse's head, holding it till the animal calmed down and neighbors detached it from the store. The horse then fell on the floor and the animal was very seriously injured. Dr. J. B. Stevens, 7 Hambly Avenue, a veterinarian, was called, and the horse would have to be destroyed, and a $5-calibre revolver from the bank in the other corner of the street side of the shop, when a second shot killed it.

FOREST SCHOOL WORK BENEFITS ALL PUPILS

H. P. Eckardt, owner of Victoria Park, has given permission to the children of the Forest School to cultivate a vegetable garden there, and about fifteen boys were very busy yesterday afternoon, under the supervision of Ed. Edmond, director of the school, turning soil and putting up a wire fence. There will be about 100 small plants and boys to work at the Forest School, and Mr. Edmond stated that, despite the fact that activity, there was an average gain in weight of the pupils recorded of one-half pound a week and as a result of the open air and good food. They are also cultivating a flower garden around their pavilion. The children sleep three hours during each day.

GAS LEAK IS FIXED.

In an endeavor to find and stop a leakage of gas in the main on Victoria Park Avenue, the Consumers' Gas Co. has opened up the main at every joint, which was twelve feet apart, and caulked every one. Some were found to be leaking badly, and a few trees were killed and some lawns spoiled as a result.

TANK TO BE DEEPENED.

Another ten inches in depth is to be added to the swimming tank now being erected at the Eaton camp on Victoria Park over the original plans. There will also be a springboard 15 feet long at about $400, but the plan is to have a diving board, which was approved by the board yesterday, expressed the opinion that the tank should be at least eight feet deep at the diving board to ensure safety to amateur divers. The depth originally was six feet six inches.

Earlscourt

EARLSCOURT WOMAN AS HOUSE PAINTER

Citizens in Earlscourt are asking the question: "Are women more plentiful in this northwest section than men?" The local excitement was caused by the appearance of young woman perched on the top of a ladder painting the gables of a house on Anson Avenue. The fair painter seemed to be able to wield the brush as cleverly as a regular painter. She was attracted in the foot of the ladder a man was standing to keep the ladder in position.

EX-SOLDIER'S STORE ENTERED BY NIGHT

Ex-Private D. E. Jones of Earlscourt, who has done his "bit" at the front, and now breeds white mice for the United States Government, lost a clock and some pigeons when his store was broken into during the night. The back door of his premises on St. Clair Avenue was smashed in, and when Jones arrived in the morning he discovered the theft. The intruder tumbled up the stairs, turning things over, and probably looking for other portable valuables to take away with him.

ST. CLAIR NEIGHBORHOOD ASSOCIATION MEETS

St. Clair District Neighborhood Association held a meeting in the parish house of St. Michael and All Angels, Bracon, St. Clair Avenue, on Tuesday evening, May 28. Rev. J. J. Brain, rector, presided. After local reports had been submitted, the meeting was addressed by Rev. F. M. Stapleton on "The Development of Social Work." He predicted that the next ten years would result in the greatest era for social service throughout the world. Rev. Peter Bryce was present. Clergymen of all denominations are represented in this association. At the close of the meeting Mrs. W. J. Brain was hostess to the members, and refreshments were served.

TORONTO IS THANKED.

J. J. Gibbons has received the following telegram from the Summit County, Ohio: "Total amount subscribed to war chest two million four hundred thousand and still going up. Number of subscribers eighty-five thousand. Tell good news to Somerville, Abbott, Dinnick and Alderson and thank Toronto for the inspiration of her splendid courage and sacrifice."

BOARD OF TRADE ASKS INJUNCTION

Judgment Reserved in Case Over Removal of York Radial Tracks.

In the non-jury made yesterday Sir Glenholme Falconbridge reserved judgment in the case where the board of trade of New Toronto and George D. Scott, the former clerk, are asking an injunction restraining the Town of New Toronto, the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission and the Toronto and York Radial from carrying out an agreement to move the tracks of the railway from their present location on the Lake Shore road within the limits of the municipality. By a franchise granted in 1890 the railway were given permission to lay their tracks at a point ten feet from the north limit of the roadway, and to build three switches, none of which, it is alleged, was to be longer than 100 feet, within the town limits, which extends for a mile and a quarter along the Lake Shore road.

By an agreement made between the defendants last fall the tracks were to be moved so that the south rail would be four and a half feet from the north limit of the pavement constructed by the commission. The estimated cost was $24,000, of which the railway was to pay $5,000, the town 45 per cent, of the remainder, and the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission 50 per cent.

It is also claimed that permission was given for the railway to build three new switches of approximately length of 425 feet, which, the plaintiffs claim, is equivalent to giving the company permission to double track their line for two-thirds of the distance on the Lake Shore road.

NO CAUSE TO WORRY OVER COAL SITUATION

Regarding the coal delivery outlook in the Danforth-Danforth district, there is little cause to worry at the present time, according to the statement of W. D. Rogers, secretary-treasurer of the Harris Coal Company, Limited, Danforth Avenue. "I do not think the situation is in any way serious. Coal is coming in quite freely and deliveries are being made to customers as quickly as possible, considering labor conditions," said Mr. Rogers. "It is necessary, however, in these abnormal times for people to conserve, and if householders would use more of the 'buckwheat' coal in banking fires at night, other grades of coal would be conserved. In the rural districts the residents should lay in stores of wood, which is easy to procure, and no doubt this winter has been a very successful one. I think we can supply all our customers and a few more, and winter is long way off yet," said Mr. Rogers, who added that he had not heard of any advance in the price of coal in connection with the strike of the miners. "It may be only a rumor, but it is as well to be prepared," he said.

Eglinton

TELEPHONE OPERATORS' MOTHERS ENTERTAINED

A very pleasant time was spent yesterday when the mothers of the operators of the Belmont exchange, Bell Telephone Company, Eglinton Avenue, were entertained by the company. The guests were received by Miss McCreedy and Miss Parker, and were shown expressed themselves as greatly pleased at the agreeable surroundings and the use of the employees.

NINE APPOINTMENTS GIVEN CONSIDERATION

Management Committee, Board of Education, Place Returned Soldier Back in Position.

Nine appointments of principals were considered at the meeting of the management committee of the board of education yesterday. After the list had been prepared by the board of inspectors notification was received that Melvin Eydell, who has been on active service at the front, had returned, and would be able to resume his duties as principal of York street school in consequence his name was substituted for that of George P. Richardson, who will be promoted in due course.

NO FAVORS SHOWN BY MOTOR COURT

Chairman of Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission Fined for Speeding.

It was the irony of fate that overlooked George H. Gooderham, chairman of the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission, when he was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Sheldrick in the motor court at Oakville yesterday morning for speeding on the highway at 23 miles an hour. The conviction was made on the evidence of Constable Sidney Hunter, when he favors this road.

There were 66 cases on the list and of these 29 were Toronto motorists. The following paid fines of $10 and costs: Auto Livery Co., 197 Victoria street; E. Armstrong, 48 High Park Avenue; F. Bratty, 597 Lansdowne Avenue; E. G. Brownie, 229 Grenadier Road; H. A. Britton, 74 Harbour Street; D. Cooper, 181 Seaton Street; Canada Representatives, 125 Spadina Avenue; M. J. Crawford, 247 Danforth Street; T. H. Harris, 19 East St. Clair Avenue; W. Harris and Co., 294 Danforth Avenue; Imperial Munitions Board; R. MacDonald, 248 Heath Street; W. H. Oulster, 21 Melbourne Avenue; W. H. Peacock, 219 West Dundas Street; L. Rosefield, 42 Baldwin Street; Smith Motor Truck Co., J. H. Winters, 22 Fairview Boulevard; C. H. Woodliss, 23 Wilson Avenue; Major Windeyer, 215 Bedford Road.

It was a smaller number of speeders that concerned Magistrate Gordon in the Port Credit motor court, there being only twenty-eight cases. Of these only two appeared in person, the others being Daniel Mahoney of Hamilton, and Wm. Gardhouse of Weston, whose cases were adjourned two weeks ago, had their cases dismissed. John A. McDonald, of Oakville, a returned soldier, was let go on $1000 bail for a second offence. The following were fined in the following cases: A. E. Bennett, 215 Sherbourne Street, $10 and costs; J. Y. McDonagh, 12 Spadina Street, $10 and costs; J. M. C. A., 510 Arthur Parks, motorcycleist, $50 and costs; J. Y. McDonagh, 12 Spadina Street, $10 and costs; Angus Sinclair, 5 North Sherbourne Street, $10 and $5 on each charge; Frank W. Murphy, Port Credit, $10 and costs.

Another ten inches in depth is to be added to the swimming tank now being erected at the Eaton camp on Victoria Park over the original plans. There will also be a springboard 15 feet long at about $400, but the plan is to have a diving board, which was approved by the board yesterday, expressed the opinion that the tank should be at least eight feet deep at the diving board to ensure safety to amateur divers. The depth originally was six feet six inches.

EXHIBITION OF DANCES IS WELL RECEIVED

Beauty, skill and grace combined to make the exhibition of dances presented by the pupils of Miss Starnberg at Massey Hall last night a decided success. The proceeds of the affair will be used to endow cot for children in local hospitals. About 150 pupils took part and the various dances and groups were well received.

The opening number was a fairy pantomime, in which a stage full of flowers took part. One dainty dance was that by Margaret Franklin and Thekla Munday called "Rendezvous" during which Madeline Stratton sang. The groups of national dances included those of Scotland, Russia, Spain and Italy. A beautiful and graceful dance was one to the music of "The Rose Tree" by Lella Charlton. Ballet work was well done by several of the girls, the work of Helen Codd being especially deserving of mention.

The dances, however, which took the heart of the audience, were those done by the littlest pupils of all, the baby dances and nursery rhymes. The "Little Boy" and "Miss Mary's" took six little girls with pantalo dresses, while the very littlest ones especially deserving of mention.

New York, May 29.—The board of education voted unanimously tonight to discontinue teaching of German in the public schools for the duration of the war.

The Railway Revolution is Simply Sweeping Over United States—Express Companies Will Merge Into Parcel Post

From Washington comes the news that all the big express companies of the United States have pooled their business and resources into one big merger, under the direction and control of the Hon. Mr. McAdoo, the national director-general of American railways. Hereafter there will be but one express company in the United States. The very names, like "Adams," "United States," "Wells, Fargo," will disappear as soon as the wagons wear out and the machinery is used up. In the American city there will be one express office instead of four or five, and all goods sent by express will be routed in the most direct way. Rates will be fair and uniform, but high enough to pay employees decent wages. Fifty per cent. of the gross receipts of this company will go to the railway companies, or, rather, to the United States Treasury. Any child can see that within a short time the whole express business in the United States will be nationalized and probably linked up with the parcel post.

Six years ago the express companies of the United States were entrusted with what seemed to be an important position. A postmaster-general was dismissed from office for advocating parcel post. The parcel post itself came in by the back door, the vote for its establishment being tacked on as a "rider" to the postal appropriation bill so late in the session that it had to be accepted. But the parcel post grew apace, and the express business done by the private corporations diminished. Public investigations have shown that the express companies were parasites of the railways, and that they gave poor service and charged extortionate and discriminatory rates. The recent railway revolution in the United States, which has brought all the transportation facilities of the country under the direct control of the government, could not be checked by the claims or pretensions of the express companies. They are for the moment brought into one federal corporation, under the government control. Before long they will be a thing of the past, and their functions will all be performed by the government.

The express company is peculiar in this continent. We borrowed the institution from the United States, and more sensibly in this country, the railway companies got the profits from their own express business, instead of permitting them to be creamed by the middleman. With the acquisition of the Canadian Northern Railway, we acquired the Canadian Northern Express Co. With the acquisition of the Grand Trunk, we acquired the Canadian Express Co. Within a year or two the Canadian Pacific will be conducting the only express business on this continent in the hands of a private corporation. The latter will be true of its telegraph and of its railways.

Can anyone seriously believe that, all the railways, express and telegraph utilities of North America will be state-owned except as to those owned or controlled by the Canadian Pacific? Is it not plain that all these utilities will be in the hands of Canada, as well as in the United States? Do not our papers and our people see that we are passing thru a great economic revolution?

Yet some of our papers are entirely silent. They see the whole economic structure of the continent undergoing radical change, amounting to a revolution, and yet do not appreciate that it makes any difference, that it requires any attention, that it should receive any help or direction. Indeed, some of them hope to stem the advancing tide of public ownership. The Montreal Star warns the ocean to come and conquer the Canadian continent. The London Advertiser says it is Prussianism, and the Montreal Gazette hews diamally. All three of these journalistic "Mrs. Partingtons" have their brooms and mops ready to stem the tide and sweep the ocean back to its place!

Lord Shaughnessy will find his broom and mop unable to turn back the tidal wave now sweeping over the United States. The United States Government has taken over one-fourth of his railway and will make short work of his express companies. That government is running the railways on a business basis. They have cut out all the frills, lawyers, high cost city ticket offices, subsidiary companies, freight solicitors, round-about profits, sleeping car percentages, etc. They have jacked up the rates 25 per cent. and about the same, but with a word to say later on, but by doing so they have put to flight the argument that no government-owned railway would ever be run on a business basis, but would constantly be soliciting votes by operating at a loss. The whole revolution in the United States has come about so silently, so swiftly and with such resistless energy that we in Canada have failed to realize its world-wide significance. But the big financial men and the big financial papers know that it is an accomplished fact.

The other day in the house of commons a new member for the maritime provinces kept constantly interrupting the honorable member who had the floor—kept "butting in" as it were. The Speaker called him to order several times and each time he dutifully said: "Mr. Speaker, I bow to your ruling." He was rising for about the fourth time when the Speaker saw him first and ordered him to his seat. An opposition member highly delighted shouted across the floor: "Keep on bowing!"

This member, who bowed to the inevitable and had to keep on bowing, recalled the prayer spoken on behalf of the players when they were presented to the court of Denmark in Hamlet. They made obeisance with the famous lines: "For us and for our tragedy, We bow into your decency."

Col. Maclean; so does the financial press of London; they have all got to bow and keep on bowing.

Wall street and the Wall street bankers who manipulated the railways, the trust companies, and the banks that have been exploiting the stock market and financing stock margins, the whole crew of buccaners who have looted railways, robbed stockholders and plundered the public must bow and keep on bowing to the new order that is setting things right that have been wrong in the civilization of our western world.

Sir William Mackenzie had to bow to the inevitable and Lord Shaughnessy must do the same. The Canadian Pacific is a big corporation, but it can no more stand up against the combined governments of Canada and the United States than could Mrs. Partington with a broom and mop protect her cottage from the onrushing might of the Atlantic Ocean. He must not sacrifice his stockholders to placate the prejudices of a few octogenarians who happen to be on his directorate. He should make terms with the people in a mood to make terms with him. When they become aroused in Canada as they have become aroused in the United States his road will be taken over in twenty-four hours and he will have to sit around the prime minister's ante-chamber waiting for a chance to present his claim for compensation.

Now just a word on behalf of the railway shareholder. He has suffered as much as the public by the looting of the roads. Rates have to be advanced in the United States because the roads are a wreck and have to be reconstructed. They need rails, terminal facilities and equipment. The money that should have gone into these things was stolen by the men that ran the roads and plundered alike the public and the shareholders.

Take the New Haven for example, where thousands of worthy people owning stock found themselves ruined. The road was simply looted by that famous buccaner, the late J. P. Morgan. The Rock Island met a similar fate at the hands of the late E. H. Harriman. The Grand Trunk is in its desperate position today because wholesale grafting characterized the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific as well as the construction of the National Transcontinental.

The American roads had to be taken over by the government because they could no longer function; they were many times ready for the scrap heap. Raising rates would not have helped them under corporate management because the additional earnings would have been used to boost stock flotations, to pay unearned dividends, and to make a few insiders rich. The government simply had to intervene because private ownership had created a mess that only public ownership could clean up. The advance in freight rates will be cheerfully paid by the people because the money thus raised will go into the enterprise. Any surplus a road earns now goes back into the road itself. True, part of it goes to pay higher wages, but higher wages will improve the plant by making workers more cheerful, more loyal and more efficient. Public ownership means better service for the public and better wages for the workers.

American railroads will hereafter be run by public servants for the welfare of the public. They will no longer be run by high-salaried but weak-kneed officials for the benefit of Wall Street banditti.

And now to revert for a moment to the press of Canada. We are glad to observe that "The Globe" in its issue of yesterday woke up to the fact that the people of Canada now own the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company. The Globe quite properly argues that a big telegraph system owned by the nation should be treated as a national utility and be administered by and thru the post-office department. Referring to the threatened strike of G.N.W. operators the Globe says:

The way out is not by a strike, but by the immediate taking over of the Great Northwestern lines by the people of Canada, who own them, and the operation of the system as a public utility. The company is a C.N.R. subsidiary. It is now the property of the Dominion Government.

FARMERS RECOGNIZE HELP OF FARMERETS

The great and pressing need today at the Ontario Government employment bureau is women and girls to do mixed farm work. This work includes, besides general housework, work, two hours in the house, assisting at getting the meals and clearing away afterwards. At the beginning of the season the farmers were not very gracious in their offer of help, and when the 30 farmerets graduated at Guelph some difficulty was experienced in placing them. However, by careful selection and training of these and other experienced farm women, much work of an educational nature has been accomplished. The women have gone where there were women before, showing that they are changing their minds by placing orders for women themselves. Now that the tables are turned and the girls are doing the work of farms but rather of farmerets, the plea goes forth from the headquarters at 15 East King street: "Come over and help us."

"There are loads of girls and women willing to go picking fruit," said Miss Hazel Martin, superintendent of women's farm work and fruit picking, "but so far few of them seem to realize the great need for general farm help. Surely there are lots of girls in Toronto who can milk a cow or drive a team. If these girls would only consider it a great patriotic duty to come forward and take the place of one of these farm boys who has been called a uniform, a great deal of our worry would be over."

Twenty-seven lecturers from the women's institute department have started their regular summer series of institute meetings which will be held in 700 centres throughout Ontario. They will speak on production, conservation and home-winter cookery and teach methods of saving beef, bacon and wheat.

Some of these lecturers are nurses and doctors; they will give special attention to health subjects and child welfare.

INDUSTRIAL FARM FIGURES ARE GIVEN

The complaint of the grand jury that Toronto's Industrial Farm was not being sufficiently cultivated is answered by figures handed out yesterday by Property Commissioner Chisholm. The farm consists of 999 acres, and the following crops are being raised:

- Milk's Farm—Acre: Barley, 52; oats, 158; wheat, 22; corn, 50; pasture, 25; roots, 15; hay, 146; pasture, 81; total, 558 acres.
- Women's Farm—Acre: Pasture, 25; wheat, 14; corn, 30; wheat, 25; corn, 14; potatoes, 6; roots, 7; hay, 29; total, 156. Grand total, 712 acres. Area not cultivated, 188.

GOES ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE

John McMahon was found guilty by Judge Winchester in the criminal court yesterday on the charge of stealing and receiving three cases of oranges, the property of the C. P. R. On account of his previous good record, his honor took a lenient view of the case and allowed him out on suspended sentence.

INCREASE OUTPUT OF CANNED GOODS

Six Canning Centres to Be Operated in Ontario This Season.

It is expected that there will be six canning centres throughout Ontario this season instead of one as last year, three of these having been decided upon and the balance to be chosen in the near future. Parkhill, the one operated last year, has been considerably enlarged and will turn out about $4000 worth of goods as compared to $4,000 worth last year. Additional equipment is being installed, and already plans are being laid for the season's output.

Barrie has been chosen and will undertake to turn out a supply of canned fruit, vegetables, pickles and chicken for the Red Cross Society and the military hospitals. Parkhill, as is the third centre definitely decided upon, and in their enthusiasm to help in this work the people have volunteered to overcome some trying obstacles.

Volunteer Transportation. There are no railway transportation facilities although it is a prosperous and thriving community. Many of the farmers and townspeople have motor cars, however, and have volunteered to undertake the task of transporting the goods to St. Thomas.

For this work the department of agriculture has furnished the necessary equipment and an expert to oversee the operations while the community supplies the building, running water, fuel, and other necessities. The volunteer labor, George A. Putnam stated yesterday.

Twenty-seven lecturers from the women's institute department have started their regular summer series of institute meetings which will be held in 700 centres throughout Ontario. They will speak on production, conservation and home-winter cookery and teach methods of saving beef, bacon and wheat.

Some of these lecturers are nurses and doctors; they will give special attention to health subjects and child welfare.

GIRL GOES FREE.

Pearl Gladdell, who was found guilty at the seasons of the theft of a necklace, a skirt, and $7 from a hotel, was yesterday allowed to go on suspended sentence by Judge Winchester, with a warning by his honor not to do it again.

OFFICIALLY OPEN SOLDIERS' HOSTEL

Old Krausann Hotel Affords Splendid Accommodation for Uniformed Men.

The official opening of the soldiers' hostel at the corner of King and Church streets took place at noon yesterday, when the mayor, controllers, council and many citizens were the guests at luncheon of Commissioner W. I. Richards and the Salvation Army. The hostel is the old Krausmann Hotel, and has been remodelled and completely overhauled, many pleasing changes having been made. The building is equipped with reading rooms, sitting rooms, dining room, cafeteria, shower bath, dormitories and bedrooms. Here any soldier may stay for from 30 cents a night up. Semi-private rooms, containing three beds with a private bath, may be had for 50 cents. The whole place has a homelike atmosphere and is under the control of Commandant Mrs. P. Watson, a resident superintendent. There is sleeping accommodation for 150 men.

Mayor Performs Ceremony. In declaring the hostel formally opened, Mayor Church spoke of the great need there was for such a place, as the number of soldiers needing a place to stay was increasing monthly. Hon. Dr. Cody was greeted with cheers when he rose to speak. "I bring the greetings of the premier of Ontario," said the newly-appointed minister of education. "We cannot do too much for the returning men. The Salvation Army has always done a great spiritual and a great humanitarian work, but it has never substituted the latter for the former."

Commissioner Richards gave facts and figures showing the great work the Salvation Army was doing among the troops, both at home and abroad. He quoted from letters of some of the allied leaders and also read a letter of tribute from Gen. Haig.

Col. G. H. Williams represented Col. H. C. Bickford, who was out of the city, and must congratulate the Salvation Army on this rather daring venture of theirs. Nothing, however, is too good for the returned soldier; nothing or any place in Canada.

"Not even Boudin's" queried the mayor. Col. Williams referred to the work the Salvation Army was doing in linking up the work of the people at home with the boys at the front.

Chief Gives Praise. Col. H. J. Grasset, chief of police for Toronto, said he had officially known the work of the Salvation Army for 25 years and spoke a hearty word for the magnificent co-operation they had rendered the police in many emergencies.

G. A. Warburton, on behalf of the Y.M.C.A., welcomed another organization to help the soldiers, and said that there was no competition, but rather co-operation, in all Christian organizations. Mr. O'Connor, secretary of the G.W.V.A., and Dr. Hineks, representing the Methodist Church, spoke briefly, again emphasizing the splendid work done by the Salvation Army.

The hostel held open house all day, the cafeteria being open and free at all times, as merchants had donated provisions for the opening, and the Salvation Army, as usual, generously passed it on.

The annual convention of the Church of Christ (Disciples) opened yesterday in the Cecil Street Church, Toronto, with a large number present. The ministerial association occupied the entire day, the address of welcome being delivered in the afternoon by G. A. Brady of Toronto. The evening session was devoted to two addresses, one by Hugh Kilgour, Toronto, on "The Appeal of Christ," and the other on "The War and the Kingdom of God," by W. J. Cadman of Owen Sound. Discussions of the addresses followed, and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

TWO MONTHS FOR THEFT.

The German Drive.

It is evident that the Germans were able to spring a surprise on the western front in spite of the confidence of the critics that their plan of campaign was obviously directed towards the channel ports. It is probable that the Germans, who have skill in war, if they have skill in anything, are out for any objective that they can attain. If the present drive should succeed according to their hopes Paris would be their objective, and this accord entirely with the German attitude of mind or psychology. For the Germans reason that if Paris were captured the war would be ended. They do not understand or appreciate the fact that even were London captured the war would not end, and that democratic humanity would rather die than be Germanized. But things are by no means so bad as the capture of Paris and London. They are by no means as bad as they were in September of 1914, when neither France nor England were prepared for war and the Germans were unable then to break through as they had hoped. The same means of holding the Germans are being used that were effective in stopping their march in March. Ground is given as they seek to take it and yield the cost. The toll taken from the Germans is the measure of the battle, not the land taken from the allies. Land can be retaken, but men cannot be replaced. We should not forget that Hindenburg intended to be in Paris on April 1. He has not announced a new date for his present prospective visit, but General Foch will cancel any engagement of that sort that Hindenburg has in mind.

Some people are inclined to think that the French reserves are a myth, but they will be in action before long. We are inclined to think that General Foch is aware of the attraction that Paris presents to the enemy, and has made his dispositions accordingly. The claim of 25,000 prisoners made by the Germans can be discounted as in the drive in March, when the enemy claims were found to be absurdly exaggerated. The strategical ability of General Foch must be kept in view, and as the war has turned once more to one of manoeuvre it will not be out of place to anticipate some counter-stroke that will neutralize the enemy's present advance.

British Crops.

Reports from Great Britain on the increased acreage under crop there are of the first importance in their bearing on war preparations. Unquestionably our contribution of food to our European allies has been of the first importance, but the time has arrived when men are even of more importance. It is not that they need food, but that they need men more. To get men over to the great problem, and it is a problem of shipping tonnage as much as anything.

It was always a subject of discussion in England whether the nation was wise to depend entirely on outside sources for food. It was estimated that there never was more than a few weeks' food in the country, and it used to be said that the crops raised would only supply enough food for six weeks. It is therefore a decided change to have it stated that the present crops, after making all deductions for seed and other considerations, will provide a forty weeks' supply for the whole population. It is not so much that the people will be fed, but that the space set free from carrying food and therefore available for carrying men is equal to 1,500,000 tons.

Few people realize how very short of supplies the people of Britain are. Gipsy Smith told his audience on Tuesday night that they were pulling in their belts, and he warned them of wastefulness here in comparison with the measured rations over there. Two ounces of bread at a meal is all that is allowed. Two-sevenths of an ounce of sugar is another allowance. Three-quarters of a pound of meat a week is not helped by the microscopic portion of butter, margarine, lard or fat allowed. The British people will not fare any better for their larger crops. They will only release so much shipping space for the transportation of soldiers from Canada and the United States.

Eventually, no doubt, the redevelopment of agriculture in England will have a marked effect on the country. The total tillage area in the United Kingdom for the season will be well over 4,000,000 acres, and one has to go back as far as 1872 to find an equal acreage under potatoes. This means that the country will be self-sufficient in breadstuffs for four-fifths of the year 1918-19, instead of one-quarter in 1917-18, and only one-fifth in 1916-17.

It is probable that most of the increased acreage has been due to the labor of women. Machinery has been freely used, but the women of the land have been noble in their devotion; and as every available fighting man has been taken to the front, men of 48 years of age being under call, the women had the responsibility of raising food and saving tonnage to bring reinforcements from America. A new sense of national solidarity inevitably arises from such sacrifice and such mutual interdependence. Not less strong will the feeling be, arising from the reliance of the allies upon each other.

The extra crops in England will have little or no effect upon the situation here. It is necessary that we continue to produce all the food we can for four-fifths of the year only are provided for in Britain. And great areas of the continent of Europe are without means of sustenance. The world is still facing famine however the war may go, and this fact must not be forgotten.

The Belmont Home for Girls.

It is not unusual for the inmates of detention homes of any character to find fault with the arrangements to which they have to submit or the provisions made for them. When inmates escape or run away from such institutions the natural excuse for such action is to blame the institution. At any rate, two girls who recently left the Belmont street home took this course, and some reflections were made upon the management in consequence. Officials of the home considered the situation of sufficient importance to interview the board of control about it yesterday, and the result fully justified them, and cleared the air of any reflections upon a most estimable institution.

The home is really a house of correction, and Mr. K. W. Wright, representing the provincial secretary's department, testified that the government reports were of the most satisfactory nature. The two girls who ran away were detained for their own good. One girl, who was feeble-minded, had been in the home for 14 years. The legal time for detaining a girl was five years, except in the case of the feeble-minded. No girl could be discharged without a doctor's certificate.

The two girls had gone before a magistrate, who listened to their story and handed them over to other authorities. Controller McBride, on hearing Mr. Wright and Mr. J. B. Laidlaw, was satisfied that the action was not justified by the facts, and the other controllers agreed with him. The ladies and gentlemen who are interested in the home and who give it earnest service, were naturally anxious to remove a false impression and in this they have been successful.

Gipsy Smith's Broad Views.

Some people were inclined to resent Gipsy Smith's references to official ecclesiasticism at the Metropolitan Church on Tuesday evening. The eloquent and good humored evangelist remarked that if he had been ordained he might have been a chaplain. The boys liked him all the better just as he was. Had he been a chaplain he would have been appointed to a division and allowed to work only among men of his own denomination. With his roving commission he said he felt like a bishop over the whole field.

When God went to a gipsy tent for a preacher he knew what he was doing, was one of his remarks. What the speaker meant evidently was that the official chaplains do not get so near the heart of the men as the man does who is with them, not in an official capacity, but purely for the sake of showing them that the Christ life was intended to be. "God went to a gipsy tent to show you that His Christ is bigger than your creeds."

There have been a number of incidents of the kind which lend weight to Gipsy Smith's words. One in the last British mail is related by John Oxenham, the well-known poet and writer, in Lloyd's Weekly. It is exceptional, no doubt, but it justifies Gipsy Smith's observations.

"Just before one of the big pushes," says Mr. Oxenham, "some of the men detailed to go over the top to almost certain death desired to partake of the communion. The chaplain to whom they tendered the request inquired whether they had been confirmed. They had not, and on that ground he refused them that simple highest rite which his Master would have denied to none."

This officializing of Christianity has no doubt done much in limiting the influence of the churches. They are supposed to know their own business best, but the undoubted success of Gipsy Smith in carrying the message of the Diving Love to all sorts and conditions of men, and particularly to the men of the army, indicates that St. Paul's idea of being all things to all men, if by any means he could save some, should not be overlooked.

LONDON STOCKS EASIER.

Colorless Communication From British Front Subsidies Traders.

London, May 29.—The stock exchange opened today with a slightly easier feeling. There was occasional profit taking and hesitation on the part of buyers. Trading later became very steady, but the demand was still subdued, in view of Field Marshal Haig's colorless communication in some mining shares and the shares of the Autogastua Railway. Owning to the dividend announcement, money was more freely offered. Discounts were steady.

Other People's Opinions

A few days ago a letter was published in this column signed by Wm. Hodgins and Lionel G. Gardner, two returned soldiers, in connection with the new military hospital at St. Andrew's College, Rosedale. On Monday Gardner received a letter from Allan M. Denovan, barrister, 13 Toronto street. Yesterday, Gardner replied to Denovan. The letters follow:

Lionel G. Gardner, Esq.,
 98 Bird avenue, Toronto.
 Dear Sir: I have read with interest the somewhat eloquent letter composed by yourself and friend appearing in The World of Thursday morning. As I know the facts of the case your letter is founded on a misapprehension and is altogether uncalled for.

If you or your friend had done as a very large proportion of the young men of North Rosedale have done, namely, died for your country instead of merely fighting for it, you would not be here to write foolish letters about things you are totally ignorant of.

So far as the boys of North Rosedale are concerned there will be no need of a military hospital. There is a hospital for them at St. Andrew's. Just keep cool, you and your patriotic friend will receive all that a grateful country can give you.

Yours truly,
 A. M. Denovan.

DUKE TO PAY VISIT

Week Will See Units Completed, and Already All Services Are Represented.

Niagara Camp, May 29.—The military camp here has been thoroughly organized for the season's training of the troops who are to go overseas, and altho it is only the second day since the official opening, everything seems to be running in good order. Several improvements have been made in the Niagara Camp since the last training of the soldiers here, July, 1916, and the camp commandant, Col. J. I. McLaren, is warm in praise of the work of the Engineers in connection therewith. "The camp is well laid out," he remarked yesterday, shortly after his arrival, "and the Engineers' work has resulted in a wonderful improvement. I could not wish for much better." The improvements include new shower baths, new kitchens and new ablution tables—all connected with the sewer.

This week will see the completion of the units in camp, and already the various services are well represented. These include the Army Medical Corps, Army Service Corps, Ordnance Corps, Engineers, Dental Corps, etc., and all are running smoothly.

Following are the staff officers: Camp commandant, Col. J. I. McLaren; brigade major, Major A. C. Lewis; staff captain, Capt. A. W. C. MacDonald; musketry instructor, Lt.-Col. W. P. Butler; in charge of camp police, Major James Wigbery; Officers of services and departments: Camp engineer, Capt. C. P. Secord; A.S.C. services, Major A. C. Larter; medical services, Capt. T. Morrison; dental services, Capt. R. E. Walker; ordnance officer, Lieut. J. Richards; C.O.C. subordinate staff: Camp sergeant-major, Major F. Hargreaves.

Word Has Been Received at Headquarters

Word has been received at headquarters here that the governor-general will visit the camp here on Friday in accordance with the duke's wishes there will be no formalities in connection with his visit. The men of the Canadian camp will be drawn up and his excellency will address a few words to them.

The first detachment of the 2nd Depot Battalion, 2nd C.O.R., due in camp today, came from Brantford at noon about 450 strong, commanded by Lieut.-Col. A. J. McCausland, formerly of the 74th Battalion. With the arrival of the railway construction detachment tomorrow, the Canadian camp units will be completed. The Polish camp had an addition today of 75 men, 67 of whom came from Chicago.

The 2nd Depot Battalion, 2nd C. O. R., arrived in camp today. A detachment of 450 from Brantford, commanded by Lieut.-Col. A. J. McCausland, land, having arrived at noon, and a detachment of 350 from Oshawa under Major Baxter having come from Toronto by boat this afternoon. More than 200 men of the Army Medical Corps and other services also reached camp today, from Toronto.

Collection for Prisoners of War.

Editor World: I am very glad to hear of the collection that is being taken up in the Toronto churches on June 9 on behalf of the prisoners of war. Personally, I know so well the need, both for our own men and for the men of other nations. What our men would do without their parcels and their bread I do not know. From my own experience parcels and bread arrive with exceptional regularity at all the camps, except occasionally during unusual circumstances such as the closing of the frontier for a considerable delay.

The bread from Switzerland is prepared in such a manner that it keeps perfectly good for many weeks, and is not only thoroughly nourishing, but very palatable.

I spoke to one Belgian non-commissioned officer in prison, who was an occupant of a German prison camp in Poland. From this camp over 70,000 prisoners were working out at different occupations in that vicinity. The food was excellent, but cholera broke out and that 20 per cent of the 70,000 prisoners died, but that the mortality among British prisoners was much lower than that of other nationalities, and as a reason their greater resisting powers, owing to the fact that they had better food. Surely this is an argument which might stir any person to give to the utmost to this most worthy cause.

REPORT OF DEATH UNTRUE.

Col. McCordick of St. Catharines Wrote Saying He Was Slightly Hurt.

Special to The Toronto World.
 St. Catharines, May 29.—A rumor that Lieut.-Col. McCordick, of this city, now in command of the 10th Warwickshire (Imperial) Battalion, was in action, as published in a Toronto evening paper, is quite untrue. Not only is the family without official notification, but a letter reached the city today from Col. McCordick, dated the day following that on which he was rumored to have fallen, May 8, stating that he was slightly injured, but not seriously, altho he had lost all his belongings.

IN CAMP NEAR CHATHAM.

Chatham, May 29.—The first draft of fifty boys from Toronto arrived in the city this afternoon to go into camp in the vicinity as volunteers in the cultivation of the sugar beet crop in this section. Four camps accommodating fifty in each have been erected to house the boys who have arrived, and those who are expected from Toronto and other parts of the province within the next few days. The camps are in charge of Y. M. C. A. officials.

HAS HE PAID TOO MUCH FOR HIS BULLHEAD?

THE WOMAN WHO CHANGED

BY JANE PHELPS

A Hard Lesson to Learn.

CHAPTER XXIV.

In the days following the yacht incident I constantly seemed to do the wrong thing. No matter how hard I tried, I said and did things that annoyed George. I was almost discouraged. Several times I had been on the point of asking him to let me go during the rest of the summer, while he followed out his vacation plans without me; but each time I would remember that I might be giving way to someone else, Julia Collins, or some other woman, might be glad to be rid of me. Occasionally as the days went by she joined some picnic or dinner party at which George and I also were guests, and she seemed to go out of her way to notice me, I felt a covert sneer in many things she said.

"So my delight, one day Mrs. Sexton called. I never thought I should be so glad to see anyone I had once hated as I was to see this woman! I literally fell on her neck. And she didn't chide me. Immediately, I took it for granted that George had sent for her, and I was terribly disappointed when she undressed me. "I am not well, and am staying with friends," she told me.

"But you will spend some time with me, won't you? If you only knew how I needed you—knew what awful things I have been saying and doing this past week, or two—you'd surely stay with me!"

Open Confession.

"What have you done that is so terrible?" she asked smiling. "Open confession, they say, is good for the soul, so I'll invite myself to lunch with you while you tell me all about it."

"Oh, that will be fine!" I exclaimed, really delighted. "George will not be in to luncheon; he has some yachting."

"Why didn't you go?" She looked keenly at me.

"Maid-a-mere."

"Surely a good reason. It certainly spoils the day for others, as well as for yourself," she remarked; then asked me to tell her about the time I was so ill.

"I told her of my day on the yacht. And, before I knew it, I was also telling her of my dislike for Julia Collins—how it had increased, and how she seemed to sneer at me whenever I was where she was.

"You do not look well. I am afraid you are letting these things make you unhappy—that you attach too much importance to them."

"I honestly try not to. But it is hard."

"I know. But, my dear Mrs. Howard, in fashionable life much is said and done which means absolutely nothing—things which, if done in the atmosphere in which you were brought up, would have a sinister meaning. I wish you would rid yourself of that idea of your own incapability; it makes you sensitive, and unable to cope with situations which you would dismiss as amounting to nothing, if you had more confidence in yourself."

"I try to feel differently. I guess if I had a husband who wasn't so wise, I would do better." Yet I knew I was proud of him in his poise, his tact. Mrs. Sexton also knew it, so I could talk freely to her.

Merton Gray Calls.

I had had my last sitting some days before, and afterward had seen nothing of Merton Gray, until one afternoon he called. I was alone, and glad of company. I had been strumming the piano in our tiny parlor, and when he was announced I was so pleased to see him that I showed my pleasure very plainly.

"I thought you had forgotten me," I said.

"No, indeed. I have missed you sadly, and I have felt, at times, like destroying the portrait, so I could commence another one."

This foolish sentence affected me strangely; someone cared! I felt the blood rise to my face, and a thrill of gladness ran thru me.

"That would be silly," I retorted, then added: "I am honestly delighted to see you. I was a little blue, Mr. Howard has gone yachting, and I dread being alone."

"Why didn't you go?" It was the same question Mrs. Sexton had asked. I gave him the same answer.

"Fortunately, I am not a good sailor."

"That's too bad. If you go often, you may overcome it."

"No thank you! I prefer to stay on shore. You see, I make a nuisance of myself, as well as suffer tortures."

"I wish you would play for me," Merton said, after we had chatted a while.

"Certainly!" I replied, and for nearly an hour I played and sang for him.

"How can you complain of being lonely, you have your music?" he said as I arose, from the piano.

"It is a great help, but I guess I like folks better than most girls. I was brought up with them, you know—real people."

"I understand."

"That was one nice thing about Merton Gray. He always understood."

Tomorrow—Merton Gray's Attentions Cause Gossip.

"Tinkering Around His Auto Not a Useful Occupation"

Montreal, May 29.—A well-dressed and apparently wealthy young man appeared before the Montreal court today on a charge of being an idler. He explained that he was not working, but had spent the last two weeks in getting his automobile into working order, so that he might enjoy the pleasures of motoring. This was not considered by the judge to be work in the sense of the order-in-council, and he was found guilty and fined $10. The young man pushed a rod of bile out of his pocket and peeing off a ten spot paid his fine with a bored air.

International Garment Workers Union Wants Payment by Week.

Boston, May 29.—Elimination of all piecework and the immediate establishment of the weekly labor system for the hundreds of thousands of union workers on women's garments in the United States and Canada is proposed in resolutions adopted today at the annual convention of the International Women's Garment Workers' Union. The convention also voted to erect a convalescent hospital on ground recently purchased in New York City.

CONTROL FLEA BEETLES

The small, dark colored "flea beetles," one-twentieth to one-quarter of an inch in length, so-called from their habit of leaping or jumping, eat holes into the leaves of turnips, radishes, etc.

These beetles are most injurious in spring when the young seed leaves are often visited by large numbers of the insects and quickly destroyed.

The Potato Flea Beetle feeds upon the foliage of the potato, tomato, cabbage, cucumber, bean, tobacco, squash, etc. The Turnip Flea Beetle, also, occurs regularly in the vegetable garden.

The Flea Beetle is destructive to potatoes and beans. Infested plants should be promptly sprayed with an arsenical mixture containing either Paris green or arsenate of lead, or with Bordeaux mixture alone.

The latter acts as a deterrent.

WILD FLOWERS

BY Rachael R. Todd, M.D.

THE JEWEL WEED. Spotted Touch-me-Not, Impatiens Biflora Fulva.

"Tis softer than the west wind's sigh; 'Tis wilder than the unmeasured noise Of that strange lyre whose strings The grail of the breeze sweep." —Shelley.

The wildflower of today, the spotted touch-me-not, is one of the most beautiful things that any living hand can ever hope to touch. Strange as it is beautiful, entirely unlike any plant we have yet studied, the jewel weed is one of the very commonest of all our wild troops.

Easily discovered, and anyone can find thousands of the unique things along that very road thru High Park that has sounded the steps of countless thousands just down by that half-hidden and daily-dwinding stream that has its beginning away to the north somewhere beyond Bloor street—just there—and even now—may be found hundreds of these odd plants.

True, it is weak or two early for the blossoms, but still the tall half-transparent stem, fleshy, much branched and of a square appearance, with its pointed oblong leaves, on a short stem coming off the central and main branches—is quite plain in evidence now. You will find it more frequently in half-moist spots, for it dearly loves to cool its roots in the water, but it may also be found quite some distance away from any moisture.

The whole plant has a peculiar transparent appearance, especially when the sun is shining thru the leaves, that makes one afraid to touch it lest it melt away before our very eyes. A few weeks, the blossoms come out. And such strange blossoms they are.

Tawny orange jewels, all speckled and streaked with deep warm brown, or pale yellow, also mottled and sprinkled with golden bronze, these blossoms hang daintily as fairy jewels, on the most frail thin wires of a stem that one could ever imagine.

Like queer and unusually pendant "ear-rings" as the children love to name them, or like costly amber jewels, they hang away in the sun and breeze—but when you see them in the early dawn, "rare jewels jeweled by the phantom dew"—then all description fails.

Sepals and petals of the blossom have become so hopelessly mixed that one is hard put to it to discover which is which, and hence "popped" its seed-pods, know just what a queer feeling comes over them when the same thing happens at the slightest pressure on the seed-pod of the jewel weed.

Unlike so many of our wildflowers, this plant is not a perennial, but an annual, seeding itself down by its multitudinous seeds every fall. When you see so many of our wildflowers, you will understand how easy it is for the plant to spread so far and so rapidly.

It is supposed by many, and I myself have often heard the opinion expressed, that the juice of the jewel weed when applied immediately to the skin in contact with the poison ivy, would prevent the rash. Unfortunately, in all my reading I have not yet been able to verify this fact. It is a truth, however, that many old-fashioned folk applied the leaves of the plant at once, with varying success.

COMMITTEE TO REPORT ON SALARY GRANTS. Women teachers who go overseas to run canteens for soldiers at the front will have the question of salary grants reported upon by a special committee of their board of education.

Miss Isabel Brien, teacher of domestic science at Oakwood Collegiate, is going to France in July to take charge of a Y.M.C.A. canteen in connection with the American forces. The trustees are agreed that no difference should be made in respect to whether work at the front is to be with Canadian or American forces. "We are all one now," was the sentiment expressed at the management committee.

THE QUESTION OF GRANTING SPECIAL CONSIDERATION to teachers called to the colors under the Military Service Act will also be reported upon.

FUND BEING RETURNED. Cheques amounting to about $150,000 are being mailed this week to the public school teachers who made payments to the superannuation fund now abandoned. They are sent to the school principals for distribution to the members of each staff to whom they are addressed, and individually former teachers who are not now on the school staff.

STREET CAR HITS CYCLIST. When the bicycle he was riding at the corner of Dundas and Elizabeth streets yesterday evening was struck by a street car, William Johnson, aged 15, of 280 Markham street, was knocked down and severely injured about the head. He was removed to the General Hospital in the police ambulance.

SUCCESSFUL SHOWER. In association with the young men's society of St. Francis' parish a very successful "shower" was held last night by the women under the convener'ship of Mrs. D. A. Casey, when a generous supply of cigars, gum, cigars and cash was received for the choir, under the direction of Miss Annie Connors, provided a musical program. The comforts will be sent to the men of the parish who have gone overseas.

TRUSTEES DECIDE AGAINST PROPOSAL. Will Not Disturb Present Boundaries of High School Districts.

"Leave well enough alone" was the slogan of all the trustees when an elaborate report upon the reorganization of the high school districts was presented at the management committee of the board of education.

Dr. G. J. Steele vigorously condemned the proposal. He considered the high school principals had no right to ask for control over applications of parents for the transfer of pupils. Dr. Steele, Trustee C. A. B. Brown, Edmund and Dr. Hunter considered it unwise to make any change of boundaries until the reconstruction of high school conditions after the war. They asserted that everything was going on without trouble now.

Principal G. A. Smith declared that the shifting population away from the central districts prompted the recommendations of the high school principals. Dr. Steele's motion to table the whole reorganization scheme was adopted.

Chief Inspector R. H. Curley presented a report as to the progress of the distribution of occasional teachers. The chief inspector added to his summary the demand for occasional teachers could probably be regulated better if conditions affecting the absence of teachers could be taken into account. This question could be dealt with much more intelligently if the board was to gather all the outstanding facts regarding absence of teachers, with the aid of training and dealing with the fundamental conditions.

RETRIAL IS BEGUN ON SERIOUS CHARGES. The retrial of Ira H. Heath, on the charges of rape, carnal knowledge, and attempt to have carnal knowledge, was started yesterday in the assizes before Justice Laidford. Heath was tried at the winter assizes, when the jury failed to agree. He is an insurance agent, and it is alleged that he committed an offence against a stenographer, who was employed by the crown, given at the last trial, was to the effect that the girl fell against the radiator and lost consciousness, and when she recovered found that an offence had been committed. The defence is one of an alibi.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Crawford, giving evidence, said the girl had phoned to her after the alleged assault, and stated that something dreadful had happened. She directed her to come to her home, which she did, when the girl told her that Heath had knocked her off her chair against the radiator, and when she recovered something had happened to her. Witness phoned to Dr. Weston, who came and examined the girl in Mrs. Crawford's presence. Afterwards she rang up Heath, who denied any knowledge of the affair, and witness stated Heath said if his name was mentioned it was a put-up thing. The girl stopped at her home that night, and in her sleep she called out: "Don't, Mr. Heath."

ENLIST WITH TANKS. The University of Toronto has given two more of its graduates to the Canadian Tank Battalion. Hughes Cleaver, of Burlington, who took his B.Sc. degree with the class of '17, has enlisted in the tank unit as a private. He was practicing law in Toronto. Corp. Hugh MacFarlane, attached to the Tank Battalion headquarters at Ottawa, graduated from University College in 1916. He was a student at Knox College with the class of '13.

They are sent to the school principals for distribution to the members of each staff to whom they are addressed, and individually former teachers who are not now on the school staff.

STREET CAR HITS CYCLIST. When the bicycle he was riding at the corner of Dundas and Elizabeth streets yesterday evening was struck by a street car, William Johnson, aged 15, of 280 Markham street, was knocked down and severely injured about the head. He was removed to the General Hospital in the police ambulance.

SUCCESSFUL SHOWER. In association with the young men's society of St. Francis' parish a very successful "shower" was held last night by the women under the convener'ship of Mrs. D. A. Casey, when a generous supply of cigars, gum, cigars and cash was received for the choir, under the direction of Miss Annie Connors, provided a musical program. The comforts will be sent to the men of the parish who have gone overseas.

TRUSTEES DECIDE AGAINST PROPOSAL. Will Not Disturb Present Boundaries of High School Districts.

"Leave well enough alone" was the slogan of all the trustees when an elaborate report upon the reorganization of the high school districts was presented at the management committee of the board of education.

Dr. G. J. Steele vigorously condemned the proposal. He considered the high school principals had no right to ask for control over applications of parents for the transfer of pupils. Dr. Steele, Trustee C. A. B. Brown, Edmund and Dr. Hunter considered it unwise to make any change of boundaries until the reconstruction of high school conditions after the war. They asserted that everything was going on without trouble now.

MANNER OF GIVING RELIEF TO FRANCE CAUSES A DIVISION

Daughters of Empire Consume Much Time Over Discussion of Huts.

COMPROMISE IS MADE

Matter is Left to the Discretion of Committee to Be Named.

Because all the members could not see eye to eye with regard to the manner in which French relief should be distributed, a good deal of the time which on the agenda of the I.O.D.E. convention for yesterday had been allotted to other subjects, was taken up with discussion as to whether huts or some other form of assistance should go from the order to the devastated French districts.

The subject, which had been brought up on the day previous, was, at the request of Lady Pope, given a fresh hearing yesterday. The discussion was presided by the report of Madame Casgrain, who, with the approbation of the national executive, had just completed a tour thru Canada for the purpose of ascertaining the needs of the Empire in a proposed plan to help France. The plan was that the different chapters should individually raise the sum of $200, which amounts would give a hut, the aggregate to go for distribution in France.

Madame Casgrain reported a cordial reception in Vancouver, Victoria, Regina, London, Windsor and wherever she had been able to reach. When addressing the chapters of the order she had always been supported by the regents. The clergy and schools had also taken up the idea and aid had been largely promised. While she had not appealed directly to the huts, but confined herself to explanation of the plan which, if accepted by the annual meeting, would be carried out, co-operation was most encouraging, she had also that morning received a cheque from the Ontario Government for $10,000 in confirmation of which the cheque was handed to the president, Mrs. Gooderham.

Lady Pope Opposed. Opposition to the plan was voiced by Lady Pope on the ground that the time for the building of huts was not opportune. She pointed out that huts raised by American organizations had proved futile, owing to changes being continually brought about by war conditions and quoted authorities to show that the three recognized channels thru which relief should be given, the Secours National, Red Cross, and the organization for helping the devastated districts. What she seemingly thought an underlying force was voiced in the quotation "When the spirit of exaltation of this order creeps in then will be the end; it will be the handwriting on the wall," she said, and she suggested that there were soldiers' convalescent homes, people affected with tuberculosis, and other channels thru which aid could be given. She presented a resolution asking that the hut idea be altogether rejected.

Settled by Standing Vote. After a good deal of discussion in which Mrs. Colin Campbell, Lady Kingsmill, Mrs. Hessel, Mrs. Sexton, Miss Constance Bousset, Mrs. Spence and others took part, and after many explanations and a great exercise of patience on the part of the president, an amendment was brought in asking that the meeting approve of the money being spent for huts or any form of immediate relief which was deemed necessary, the funds to be in charge of a committee and distributed thru an organization that should be selected later, the chapters contributing to have the privilege of stating to what particular work their contribution should go. A standing vote was taken, Mrs. Sexton of Halifax and Mrs. Carey of Windsor being appointed scrutineers. The result was 150 for the amendment and 23 against. A standing vote of thanks was given Madame Casgrain for her work in connection with the publicity campaign which she had undertaken for the order.

Appeal for Navy League. Col. Cecil G. Williams was then introduced by the president, for the purpose of giving an address in the interests of the Navy League. The greatest subject in the world today is the British Navy," he declared, and then pointed out that the members owned a safe return. Their protection and that of the Red Cross and many other organizations and individuals depended for their safety on the navy. The speaker said he had just come from the United States, where he had taken part in the drive for $100,000,000, which already had exceeded its objective of $40,000,000, and more was expected. Our American friends are in up to the hilt," was his assertion. "They are going over at the rate of $500 a week, carried by the merchant marines. The particular plea of Col. Williams was for the merchant seaman, for whom so little provision was made and whose life was so hazardous. Illustrating this, he told of one captain whose vessel had been five times torpedoed and which had sunk two submarines. The I.O.D.E. was given generous tribute for the financial aid they have already given. The $100,000 of the $400,000 they had raised having been sent to Halifax, and other portions distributed to other naval needs.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Hessel. A letter from the president of the Navy League in Canada, W. G. Ross, was then read, telling of an appeal which will be made to all the provinces in support of the league in the first week of September, and expressing appreciation of the support already given by the Daughters of the Empire.

Congratulations Canadian. Before adjournment Miss Constance Bousset asked that a message of congratulation be sent to the Canadian men who had been the first to be gassed at St. Julien and who had prevented the enemy from reaching Calais. These men because they were gassed had been taken prisoner, and for three years had been confined in German prisons. In March they were returned in Canada, and since then have been interned in Holland. When they arrived they were received with many marks of friendship by the people, flowers and other favors being showered upon them. No word of congratulation had been sent them from Canada. Miss Bousset moved that congratulations be sent to them from the assembled Daughters of the Empire. The resolution was seconded by Mrs. Corry, whose son is one of the heroes of Calais, and was carried by a standing vote.

Made a Life Member. Honor for Madame Casgrain was given at the close of the general meeting when at an assembly of the national executive she was made a national life member of the order. In recognition of her splendid work in its behalf, the badge accompanying the life membership being pinned upon the recipient by the national president, Mrs. A. E. Gooderham. Madame Casgrain left last night for Ottawa, to where she will establish a canteen to be supported by herself, in the devastated areas.

Toronto's Good Share

Reports from Municipal Chapters read in the morning showed that Toronto had raised in all during 1918 $97,041, of which amount $27,877 had been raised by the Municipal Chapter. Beside this over 250,000 articles have been made for the soldiers, including 1492 filled Christmas stockings and 15,100 pairs of socks. Other packages of smaller articles, shirts, pyjamas, kit bags and other necessities, all adding to the comfort of the men, besides monthly donations having been made to the Y.W.C.A. for boxes and 1689 Christmas parcels have been sent to different battalions in Canada and abroad.

The maintenance of two nurses and one child in the hospital at Nasik, India, is included in the work of three chapters. The care of tubercular children in the homes, and the provision of nourishing food and clothing. Three hundred and twenty-nine new cases have been reported, and 327 out of this number are out of the hospital. Since the opening of the clinic two years ago a total of 3079 cases have been under observation. The preventor reports that 47 chapters were treated there in the past year.

Over 10,000 soldiers' families have also been visited. The work has been divided up between the various chapters, and carried thru in a systematic manner.

Primary Chapters. Miss McGuffin, national secretary, gave an interesting report of the work accomplished by the primary and junior chapters under the jurisdiction of the national chapter. The grand total from 68 chapters in the Province of Ontario that gave over $1000 each was $25,137. One list of 47 chapters was given, which showed a thousand mark showed receipts of $20,987.73.

The magnificent record of the Border Chapter, Windsor, calls for special mention. They raised the sum of $25,773. Daughters of the Empire have also assisted in the furnishing of veterans' clubs and hostels, and in a number of towns they are doing canteen work. A great deal of interest has also been shown in the St. Dunstan Hospital for blind soldiers. Two special appeals for the year were the Navy League and Halifax sufferers.

The evening session was largely devoted to discussion on the completion of organization of the order, in the course of which Mrs. Macdonald, organizer for Quebec, and Mrs. Spence of Calgary expressed the fear that the organization might become over-organized. One of the questions asked was could an American-born wife married to a British subject be a member of the order. The answer was in the affirmative, the wife being recognized as the same nationality as her husband.

The president advised the formation of provincial chapters in the provinces where they were not already in existence, with the recommendation that a provincial for Ontario should be formed last on account of the presence of the national executive. As the piece of a provincial organization until the machinery for the other provinces was completed. Speaking for Quebec, Mrs. Drummond said that the municipal chapters of Sherbrooke, Montreal and Quebec were so busy working for the war that they had not time to think of the formation of a provincial chapter.

An incident of the evening was when the president announced that rumors had been heard of a desire among the members of the order to supply the war with the west that the headquarters of the national council should be moved to Ottawa. The foundation had been tried to telegrams signed "Merit," and were said to have been sent by a woman who was not a member of the order and who was actuated by a personal grievance in connection with the military hospitals.

In a short resume, Mrs. Gooderham spoke of the development of the order during the past six years, in which the chapters had grown from 100 to 700, in view of which changes were needed in the constitution. She advised a committee of five to do the work of revision, their findings to be presented at the next annual meeting.

MOTORMAN IS GUILTY OF CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE

Harry Grettan, a motorman employed by the Toronto Street Railway and living at 72 Wynne avenue, was found guilty on the charge of criminal negligence yesterday by Judge Winchester and was fined $100.

Grettan was in charge of a west-bound King car on Nov. 9, and when proceeding under the King street subway his car struck a motor car, owned by the hydro-electric, and also a British-American oil tank, driven by Walter Miller, who was seriously injured. Motordan, the conductor on the car, swore that the car was traveling at only six miles an hour, but the rails were greasy and the car was going down grade. The witness swore that repairs were being made at the spot where the accident happened on the day in question, and all vehicles had to travel on the north track for a distance of 100 yards. His honor ruled that accused did not exercise proper care, and should have used sand and applied it to the rails. His car was skidding down the grade.

Walter Miller was carried in on a stretcher to give his evidence, having been injured by the car. The applicant is deputy superintendent of Metropolitan Life Assurance Co. The judge brought out the fact that the applicant was making $3600 a year. A brother overseas has assigned $15 a month to his mother. The military representative, F. Lawrence, held that W. R. McEachern was not doing work of national importance. When McEachern failed the judge adjourned the case. Before the trial appeared and stated he had no further statements to make, and was ready to best the defendant in his case. The court refused the application for exemption on condition of his being found physically fit for military service.

CAPT. BAILEY'S CASE EXTENDED FOR WEEK

T. C. Robinette, K.C., counsel for Capt. (Dr.) Bailey, who was convicted of using language likely to be hurtful to the service, was sentenced to three months in jail, appeared in the sessions yesterday and asked Judge Winchester for an extension of the stay granted by his honor and which expires today. Judge Winchester wanted to settle the matter at once, but finally granted the extension asked for a week, and Dr. Bailey will appear at the sessions next Wednesday, when Mr. Robinette will make an attempt to get it traversed until September, and in the meantime will attempt to get an answer to the appeal he has put in to the minister of justice at Ottawa to change the sentence and grant clemency.

SODA AS "MAGIC POWDER"

Judge Winchester in the sessions yesterday fined P. Gentili, alias Angelo Vigo, $500 or six months on the charge of fraudulently using the mails to distribute circulars to deceive the public. Vigo dealt in the sale of "magic powder," which, however, was only common baking soda. With him in business was his brother-in-law, Mask Landi, who has disappeared. As the authorities at Ottawa are considering whether Vigo should be deported, Judge Winchester ordered that he be kept in custody.

EGG CANDLERS ORGANIZE

The egg candlers held a successful organization meeting last night in the Labor Temple, when addresses were given by T. Black, and J. McArthur Connor, who spoke on the need of organization. It was decided to call a special meeting for next Tuesday night in the Labor Temple.

NORTHERN ONTARIO ROADS

An inspection is being made of the roads in the vicinity of Gowanus in northern Ontario, by the department of lands, forests and mines. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson stated yesterday, and from the report which will be made the amount of repair work necessary will be decided.

FIFTY-EIGHT MEN GIVEN EXEMPTION

Three Toronto Tribunals Deal With One Hundred and Forty-Eight Cases.

ONE APPLICANT FAINTS

Deputy Superintendent of Metropolitan Life Assurance is Refused Exemption.

Three tribunals sitting in Toronto yesterday dealt with the cases of 148 men. The number granted exemption from overseas military service was larger than on the preceding day, 58 of the applications for exemption being allowed. Of the others, the claims of 84 were refused. Six men's applications were withdrawn.

One of the applicants for exemption, W. R. McEachern, 540 Brunelwood ave., fainted in court while his case was being reviewed by Justice Kelly. The applicant is deputy superintendent of Metropolitan Life Assurance Co. The judge brought out the fact that the applicant was making $3600 a year. A brother overseas has assigned $15 a month to his mother. The military representative, F. Lawrence, held that W. R. McEachern was not doing work of national importance. When McEachern failed the judge adjourned the case. Before the trial appeared and stated he had no further statements to make, and was ready to best the defendant in his case. The court refused the application for exemption on condition of his being found physically fit for military service.

JOINS HUSBAND IN PRAISING TANLAC

Mrs. Benson Says Results She Derived Have Been Marvelous.

A few weeks ago, when James Benson of 688 Runnymede road, Toronto, a returned veteran, now-employed by the Harris Abattoir Company, gave a testimonial, which was printed in this paper, telling how Tanlac had relieved him of a serious stomach trouble, it attracted widespread attention. His wife, Mrs. Emma Benson, not only corroborates his statement, but in the following story of her own experience, which she read in a few days ago, tells of the benefits she has personally derived from the use of Tanlac.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed," said Mrs. Benson, "and that is exactly what I think of this wonderful Tanlac ever since it relieved me of my neuralgia and those awful headaches I used to suffer from so much.

"I had been in a badly rundown condition for a long time," she continued, "and I had such terrible attacks of neuralgia and my headaches so that I would just take to my bed and lie there in agony for as long as four days at a time. Going thru with this awful experience just what I would be awake at night for hours before I would doze off and then it would be so weak and nervous that I'd actually faint dead away. I tell you what, I was completely worn out and my life was just one day of misery after another.

"When I saw how Tanlac had relieved my husband of his stomach trouble, I decided to see if it would help me, too, and I can truthfully say that the results have been simply marvelous. I have taken only three bottles so far and that terrible neuralgia is completely gone. I haven't had a headache since I started on Tanlac, my nerves are quieter and I sleep like a baby. That tired, worn-out feeling has passed away, and I am stronger and better in every way than I have been in a long time. My husband and I both think so much of Tanlac that we have made it our family medicine and have already recommended it to many of our friends."

Tanlac is sold in Toronto by Tammy's Drug Store, and by an established agency in every town. (Advertisement.)

FOCH WILL STOP GERMAN ADVANCE

French Generalissimo Has Situation Well Under Control.

TO LOCALIZE BATTLE

Henri Bidou Believes Enemy Unable to Exploit Picardy Attacks.

Paris, May 29.—Gen. Foch now has the situation well in hand, and French troops are beginning to gain on a contest of speed. No important line of communication is threatened by the advance of the German Crown Prince.

Those on the scene declare it is not too much to say that another forty-eight hours will see the German drive definitely stopped. High praise is given the French reserves for the perfect order in which they are coming into the fighting line.

Not the least encouraging news yesterday was the brilliant success of the Americans in the Montdidier sector, which all the newspapers feature. It was the first important action carried out alone by them. All reports agree that they behaved like veterans. This is pronounced the best augury for the early future, when American help will weigh heavily in the balance.

A noteworthy point in connection with the present great battle is the freedom allowed the military critics in their articles. Henri Bidou, for instance, is allowed to say in Le Journal this morning that it was "certainly distressing that the enemy succeeded in recapturing in one day our conquests of 1917," an admission which it is considered virtually certain the previous censorship would not have passed.

Outspoken Criticism.

M. Bidou, who has established himself as one of the soundest and most conservative of the military writers in France, insists, however, that the only true point of view in the present circumstances is one taking a general wide outlook, and his article incites confidence in the final result, which he forecasts will be a repetition of that incident to Germany's last two great efforts.

The German success, this writer declares, is due to the enemy's ability to manoeuvre his reserves within the arc of the front in a way which admits of a crushing mass to be suddenly thrown against any point. But the enemy's object, he points out, is not to recapture territory, but to obtain such a victory as will end the war.

The Germans, M. Bidou recalls, found their violent effort in Picardy checked after they had engaged 111 divisions, while their second effort in Flanders cost the lives of fifty divisions. He argues that if the enemy has not pursued the logical course of following up these two partial successes it is certainly because he is unable to do so owing to the terrific cost in men, which is forcing him to place in line recruits born in the first half of the year 1900.

"It is a duel to the death," he concludes, "and every hour in which Germany fails to obtain the decision increases the imminence of her defeat."

Skin on Fire With Eczema

The Most Torturing of Skin Diseases—Few Doctors Have Satisfactory Treatment to Offer, But This Ointment Cures.

St. Thomas, Ont., May 29.—Eczema's itch is torture, the skin seems on fire with the burning, stinging humor; at times it becomes almost unbearable, and in desperation you could tear the skin to pieces. You dare not exercise for fear of aggravating the itching; neither can you sleep for no sooner does the body become warm than the scorching begins, and instead of restful, refreshing sleep, it is scratch, scratch, scratch all night long. There is scarcely a moment's respite from this maddening malady at any time. Of course you have tried nearly all the washes, salves, lotions and medicated soaps, but like thousands of others, you have been disappointed and disgusted.

Mrs. Alex. Perry, 18 Ross St., St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "I cannot recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment too highly, as it cured me of a very bad case of eczema. For six years I was ashamed to go near my door when anybody called, my face was so affected with this terrible disease. I consulted several doctors, but they could not help me at all. When I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment being good for eczema I tried it, and before I had used two boxes I could see it was helping me. Now, since my face is entirely healed, they want to know how I was cured, and I certainly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment. I cannot speak too strongly in its favor, as I paid out many dollars for doctors' medicines, but did not get any relief until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment."

You may be skeptical regarding the ability of Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure you. Most people are, after trying in vain to get relief from a host of remedies, but Dr. Chase's Ointment will not disappoint you. You will be surprised at the marvellous control which it has over all itching, burning inflammation of the skin, and the wonderful healing powers which it possesses. It takes time to thoroughly cure eczema, but Dr. Chase's Ointment will do it. You will find relief after a few applications, and gradually and naturally the cure will follow. Besides being a positive cure for eczema, Dr. Chase's Ointment comes in a hundred ways in every home for every form of skin irritation and eruption, chapped skin and chilblains.

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Inquiries only disappoint.

KAISER WRITES SPOUSE FROM BATTLEFIELD

Amsterdam, May 29.—Emperor Wilhelm, who is on the field of battle south of Lanon, on the Aisne front, has sent the following telegram to the empress at Potsdam:

"William (apparently Crown Prince Frederick William) has today attacked the British and French on the Chemin des Dames. The strongly consolidated height, after being subjected to mighty artillery fire, has been stormed by our glorious infantry. We have crossed the Aisne and are approaching the Vesle.

"Fritz, with the First Guards Infantry division, was one of the first to reach the Aisne. (This evidently is another reference to the crown prince.) The twenty-eighth division also has again distinguished itself. The British and French were completely surprised. Our losses are small. Tomorrow we shall make further progress.

"God has granted us a splendid victory and will help further. Greetings."

ARMED TO THE TEETH, SLACKERS DEFLY LAW

Wakefield, Que., May 29.—High up in the Laurentian mountains well provisioned, well clothed and armed to the teeth, 20 young men of the Gatineau district are setting at defiance the military service law.

The men are mostly shantymen, all familiar with the rough mountainous district, and they are said to be encamped in the most remote and roadless region they become, however, bold have they become, however, owing to the remarkable immunity from the law that they have thus far enjoyed, that recently a number of them came out to nearby villages to obtain provisions, and even went so far as to openly state that they were heavily armed and prepared to cope with any force the government might send to apprehend them.

SENT TO THE ASYLUM.

Galt, May 29.—Douglas McNaught, the local young man arrested on May 2 in company with Ethel McKinnon, also of Galt, at Montreal on a charge of forgery, was brought back to Galt by police officers. An announcement to this effect was made this afternoon by Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways and canals, who expressed the belief also that matters would be adjusted in a way satisfactory to all parties.

THREE DROWNED IN RIVER.

Quebec, May 29.—News comes from Amos, Abitibi, that three men were drowned Tuesday in the Megiscane River, 50 miles above Amos.

REMARKABLE WORK OF SALVAGE CORPS

Report on Canadian Department Which Saves Money Behind the Lines.

NO WASTE ALLOWED

Articles Handled Consist of Every Commodity Found in Military Camp.

Ottawa, May 29.—Major-General S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, has received from Sir Edward Kemp, minister of overseas forces, a report of the work of the Canadian salvage department, which shows that, thru utilizing of articles which would otherwise have been classed as waste, this department has saved the Canadian public $211,955 in the period of nine months ending February 29, 1918.

The Canadian salvage department's duty is to collect and conserve as discarded articles with a view to their return to military stores, if of military value, and for other purposes of best advantage if unserviceable, the proceeds to go to the credit of the Canadian public. In each area there is a local salvage corps with a limited personnel of low category men, not otherwise usefully employed, and a salvage yard in each area in which salvageable goods are received and classified. The supplies are centralized in London so that quantities appear to large buyers thus securing increased prices.

The report states: "In handling by-products, all bones and dripping are sold to war office contractors so that glycerine may be extracted and utilized for the manufacture of explosives and it is calculated that from Canadian areas alone there has been during the past nine months sufficient glycerine obtained to furnish the propellant power for approximately 24,230 British pounder shells. The most valuable items are old uniforms, a very vestige of fat, all cooking waste is carefully skimmed, and every particle of value is thus secured, no article is thrown away unless it is the greatest possible amount of dripping is obtained.

Articles Handled.

"The articles handled consist of almost every conceivable commodity found in a military camp, including bones, dripping, trap grease, rags, packages, meat wrappers, leather cuttings, metal shavings, old tin cans, shoes, lead, horsehair, rubber, straw, hoof-parings, cork, sacking, rope, tin, barrels, boxes, bottles, jars, crocks, lumber, paper, manure, baler twine, etc., etc.

"A study has therefore been made of the best possible markets for disposition of all lines so that best prices can be obtained from competition between buyers. The success of the plan is shown by the following figures which cover the past nine months' operations as from June 1, 1917 to Feb. 29, 1918.

Class credited to public funds	$162,262.24
Value of equipment returned for re-issue	31,855.05
Value of commodities issued to units	2,049.84
Value of commodities returned to imperial	2,968.36
Accounts general outstanding	474.12
Accounts still due	2,792.08
Estimated value stock on hand	5,552.86
Total	$211,955.10

"This record does not include the salvage of clothing and other ordnance stores, of which large quantities are reclaimed and handed thru the usual military channels as an ordinary expense.

Has General Value.

"The general success of the salvage department cannot, however, be fully gauged by the material value of the operations. The systematic education imparted has brought the point of view of areas to a status entirely new, and the result is that only areas, as such, received a constant education in this direction but the individual soldier has learned to respect the principles of economy and to conserve the material which by suitable afforded opportunity for a cleanliness, while the incinerator ceases to be employed as the method of disposal of material formerly considered of little or no monetary value.

"The principles guiding the Canadian salvage department are 'help to win the war by avoiding waste,' and 'nothing is too small to save.'

NEARLY A MILE DEEP.

American Penetration at Cantigny Almost as Broad as Long.

With the American Army in France, May 29.—The Americans have penetrated the German positions to a depth of nearly a mile. Their artillery completely smothered the Germans. The roar of the American guns could be heard for many miles in the rear. Several fires are burning behind the German line. Twelve French tanks supported the American infantry.

TO SETTLE G.N.W. DISPUTE.

Senator Robertson Coming to Toronto on Way Back From Coast.

Ottawa, May 29.—Senator Robertson on his return from Vancouver next week, will proceed to Toronto to inquire into the differences between the G.N.W. Telegraph Company and its Toronto operators. An announcement to this effect was made this afternoon by Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways and canals, who expressed the belief also that matters would be adjusted in a way satisfactory to all parties.

ENLISTING MECHANICS.

Enlistment of mechanics for service in the Royal Air Force has been resumed at the Toronto armories. This action is due to the demand for more mechanics caused by the rapid extension of the aviation training work in Canada. Practically all trained mechanics are required for the R. A. F. requirements. The men eligible for enlistment under the new call are those over 36 years of age, or married.

ENEMY CRITICS THINK SURPRISE ACHIEVED

Copenhagen, May 29.—Military critics in the Berlin press admit they were surprised by the choice of the Chemin des Dames for the new German offensive on the western front, and they declare it is obvious the entente allied commanders likewise were surprised.

The critics assert that exhausted English divisions recently were assigned to the Champagne positions obviously to permit them to have needed rest, and the commentators are jubilant over the assumption that the reserves of Gen. Foch are far away. The German newspapers give alleged statements of British and French prisoners admitting their surprise was complete.

NO DANGER OF BREACH IN ALLIED BATTLE LINE

London, May 29.—In many respects the German attack on the Aisne and its results bear a striking similarity to the opening of the German offensive in March. The present movement, however, differs in a most vital point, namely, that on this occasion there never has been, as was the case in March, danger of the allied line breaking. On the contrary, as soon as it was found the allies were unable to hold the crest, orders were given for the retirement to the Aisne, and the Anglo-French force made an orderly retreat in perfect unity.

Points of similarity are that again the Germans discovered a weak point in the allied line and attacked in a superiority of five to one. Gas also again played an important part, the allied forces being compelled to wear gas masks for hours at a stretch.

The brunt of the German onslaught was borne by the sixth French army under General Meist.

BIG PANICS RESULT FROM BRITISH RAIDS

London, May 29.—Reliable reports continue to show the immense damage done and great panic caused in British towns. For example: In a recent raid a huge bomb fell on an important railway station, killing many soldiers and gutting the railway works. Another one fell 150 yards from the House Iron Works, which manufactures an enormous quantity of rolling stock, and threw the workers into a panic. Bombs were also dropped on the Chrysler Works at Herwall, where thousands are engaged in the manufacture of munitions and on a national arsenal. The same day a squadron bombed with great success, large factories at Aix la Chapelle. Further reports regarding the raid on Cologne on Whit-Sunday confirm that the town is panic stricken.

GERMANS QUITE GLAD TO BECOME PRISONERS

Paris, May 29.—German prisoners taken by the Americans include men from a Bavarian and a Silesian regiment, some of them as young as 17 or 18, and others between 45 and 50. All are poorly clothed and appeared to be under-fed.

The Germans trooped out of their dugouts when they saw the utility of resistance, their hands held up, shouting "Kamerad." Apparently they were glad to surrender. One of them said he did not want to die, but had been compelled to do so.

FRENCH SURPRISE POST ON MACEDONIA FRONT

Paris, May 29.—Reporting on operations in Macedonia, an official statement from the war office tonight says: "Army of the east—There were reciprocal artillery actions west of Lake Doiran, on the right bank of the Vardar, and in the region of the Vardar. A French detachment carried out a successful surprise attack against an enemy post near the town of Givoghill. An enemy attempt to attack Serbian trenches southeast of Gradzenitsa was repulsed."

Britain Stops Big Raids On Corpus Christi Day

London, May 29.—The British Government has consented, on religious and humane grounds, that so far as raids on cities not in the vicinity of the battle front during the daytime tomorrow—the Feast of Corpus Christi.

This decision followed the receipt thru the Vatican of the request for salvage of clothing and other ordnance stores, of which large quantities are reclaimed and handed thru the usual military channels as an ordinary expense.

RAID KILLS GERMANS.

Three Hundred Enemy Soldiers Succumb to Bombs at Douai.

London, May 29.—As an instance of the great effectiveness of the continuous air raids which the British are making day and night at different points behind the German lines of troops, a German concentration that in the recent air raid of Douai, 300 soldiers killed and wounded in addition to great damage done.

GERMANS TO RUN FLEET.

Austria to Hand Navy Over to Rigors of German Discipline.

London, May 29.—In connection with the recent mutiny in the Austrian fleet it is significantly reported that the Austrian Government is opening a nautical school at Trieste for Germans. This is taken to mean that German discipline is to be introduced in the Austrian navy.

BERLIN PAPERS TONE DOWN ENTHUSIASM

London, May 29.—Berlin newspapers apparently have been given orders to tone down their war enthusiasm, says the Amsterdam correspondent of The Daily Express, reporting on German comment on Monday's fighting along the Aisne. The Cologne Volks Zeitung says of the fighting:

"Our new success shows us again how justified is our confidence in our great leaders. It would be premature to draw final conclusions, but it is enough for the German people to know that its confidence in the spirit of the troops can never be disappointed."

GERMANS PENETRATE TO SOISSONS LIMITS

Paris, May 29.—The French troops have fallen back to the eastern outskirts of Soissons, where the battle continues with bitterness, the French war office announces this afternoon.

Franco-British troops, the statement adds, have fallen back to the heights south and southeast of St. Thierry, where they are holding positions between the Vesle and the Aisne Canal.

In the centre, continues the war office announcement, fighting is going on with varying success on the heights on the southern bank of the Vesle River, where the French troops are bravely and admirably defending their positions.

ENEMY CRITICS THINK SURPRISE ACHIEVED

Copenhagen, May 29.—Military critics in the Berlin press admit they were surprised by the choice of the Chemin des Dames for the new German offensive on the western front, and they declare it is obvious the entente allied commanders likewise were surprised.

PORCUPINE IS CHEERFUL DESPITE WARS STRESS

Conditions at Hollinger, Dome, McIntyre and Other Prominent Properties Viewed by World Corres- pondent—Hollinger in Need of Six Hundred Workers.

Special to The Toronto World.
South Porcupine, May 29.—Your correspondent completed a few days ago a circuit of approximately 25 miles thru the greater part of the gold fields of Porcupine. Over one segment of this circuit the all-Porcupine sweepstakes for racing dog teams was pulled off in the early spring. The course for this annual sporting event began at Timmins, then turned southerly over Porcupine Crown and Thompson-Krist to the boundary line between the Townships of Tisdale and Deloro. This line is followed easterly with considerable variations until a point is reached south of the Dome Lake mine, then the road follows a general northeasterly direction by way of the west branch of the New, until this town is reached. Here, however, the competing teams turned northward and followed the gravelled and gravelled highway to the town of Timmins. This course is about 13 miles long. A notable fact in the race was the result of the race is that it was won by a team of only three dogs, all the other entries being of four dogs.

Principal Properties.
Our itinerary during the past two days extended much further north and entirely embraced the main road from Timmins and south Porcupine. Starting at the latter point, we made direct for the Big Dome, West Dome, Dome Lake, Premier, Ankerite, Imperial Sovereign, Hollinger, Porcupine Crown, Porcupine Consolidated and McIntyre Consolidated, thence across the Jupiter and Flanagan to the New, and from the latter mine there is a passable wagon road north for about three miles to the Preservation, the Bewick Moring properties and North Davidson. From the latter the route was south to the Davidson, northward to the Scottish Ontario, Hughes and Gold Reef finally completed the circuit at the point of commencement. This trip covers all the principal properties of the camp, and the some of those mentioned in the course. The all well worth a visit by any one wishing a general knowledge of this great gold camp.

The mine at the Dome, Dome has been closed down for some months there are still 102 men on the payroll engaged in sinking the main shaft. The shaft has now attained a depth of 1200 feet, the greatest depth of any shaft in the camp. The Hollinger is down 1250 feet the lower 300 feet is by winze. It will be recalled that some very rich results were obtained by drilling at the Big Dome below the 700 foot level. The work now going on is intended to thoroughly explore this very promising ore zone.

West Dome Ore Run.
Work is being done along in the usual way at the West Dome, Frank Hamilton being in charge. A trial run of 200 tons ore has just been made from the Dome Lake mill. We have nothing officially as to the product in gold tonnage, but from an outside source we learned that the heads ran $1 per ton. The Dome Lake is continuing its mining and milling, 60 men being employed, and it is believed that the outlook at the mine has considerably improved during the past year. The shaft is down 500 feet. Charles A. Randall is general superintendent, and Douglas A. Mutch consulting engineer.

The Premier, formerly the Standard, is in Deloro, just south of the Davidson. The discovery of a large body of low grade ore was reported last year, but the mine has been closed down during the past few months.

The Ankerite, owned and financed by the Coniagas of Cobalt, is the only property now in operation in the Township of Deloro. It looks like a big mine in the making. It has been very thoroughly and very skillfully developed. There are no vein systems of the same type in the camp.

Two Great Shear Zones.
There are two great zones of shearing and fracture, and in both zones there are large developments of the Ankerite. The gold itself occurs in distinct veins of highly silicious schist. Where the principal development has been in the four veins all have been opened up. These veins are parallel and lie close together. They have an aggregate width of over 100 feet. It is believed that the ore will grade higher than that of the Big Dome, the ore perhaps being of the same grade as the Hollinger or McIntyre. The main shaft is now down 350 feet, and the veins will be opened up at this level and also at 200 feet.

Development Work.
Of the two shear zones already mentioned the development so far has been entirely on the southern. It is very strongly indicated that the zone for a length of nearly 2000 feet has a general direction being 60 degrees east of north. The length of the other mineralized zone is nearly as great. The zone in the southeast strike, and the two zones meet and form nearly a right angle. At the point of junction there is a outcrop of quartz porphyry, in all probability an extension of that so much in evidence on the Preston and Porcupine. This half a mile or so to the northeast.

The great veins of the camp keep in

PORCUPINE MINES IN SERIOUS PLIGHT

Unless Government Takes Action, Situation Shows No Prospect of Improvement.

MORE MINES CLOSING Competition for Labor and Supplies is Proving Ruin- ous to Industry.

About the most-asked question in northern Ontario today, and undoubtedly in many mining places where the shares of gold mines are held, is: "What is going to happen to the gold mines?" meaning the gold mines of the north country, says The Northern Miner.

To answer this question with any exactness it would be necessary to have an answer to another multiple question: "When will the war be over?" However, there are several features of the situation that can be answered logically. Gold mining in northern Ontario, and in fact all Canada, has come down to the old law of the survival of the fittest. The survivor may not be the largest, but may be blessed with a reserve of higher grade ore than his competitor. Each mine is competing with the other for labor and supplies. There is no organized effort to secure either for the gold mines of the north, and there can't be. That is the condition of the gold mines in northern Ontario—more so in Porcupine than in Kirkland Lake—and meeting the situation fairly and squarely, there is no logical reason to believe that conditions will improve until some time after the war.

Forced to Close.
The early stopping of mining operations at two mines, Porcupine mines is reported. The directors of these two mines, the Schumacher and the Vipond, have decided to close their mines. They are not to be closed, their real assets, to attempt to compete with the larger and more powerful Porcupine mines. When the Dome closed down its mill some months ago it was a great relief to the other mines, but the closure of the Vipond and Schumacher mills will also be a relief to the rest of the camp. But the relief did not last long, the the closure of the Vipond and Schumacher mills has helped somewhat. The closing of the Vipond and Schumacher mills will also be a relief to the rest of the camp. But the relief did not last long, the the closure of the Vipond and Schumacher mills has helped somewhat.

INSTALLING NEW MILL AT PAINKILLER LAKE

Seventy Tons of Ore Per Day to Be Treated on Hill Property.

LABOR FOR MINES SEEMS PROBABLE

Government Said to Be Work- ing Out Method to En- sure Operation.

Matheson, May 29.—The new mill at the Hill Gold Mine at Painkiller Lake is in its final stage of installation. Even now the mill would be in operation were it not for the fact that delays in the delivery of parts have occurred. The delivery of the delayed parts is daily expected and on their arrival the work of installing will occupy but a short time and within the next week or two production is expected to commence.

The new mill is designed to treat about 70 tons of ore per day. For the present, however, the management propose to run thru about forty tons daily. The shaft is being continued to the 200-foot level, and later work is to be in progress. To the present, several hundred feet of drifting has been done, with satisfactory results.

The Northern Miner says: "It is reported that the Canadian Government is contemplating going to the assistance of the gold mines of Canada. Nothing definite has been reported, but it is known that officials of Porcupine mines have been at Ottawa conferring with government officials, and it is said that a method of ensuring the operation of the producing mines is being worked out. The prohibition laws have been conscripted, and as a result there is a shortage of at least two or three thousand men at the gold camps.

Prohibitions on the export of gold are made and apparently the metal has not lost its usefulness in international financing. Under the circumstances it is likely that there is something real behind the report of government aid to the gold mines.

BUYING OF DOME GOES ON STEADILY

Market is Quiet and Rather Heavy, With McIntyre Losing Another Point.

PURCHASE BIG BLOCK OF PORCUPINE CROWN

READY AT THE OTISSE FOR DIAMOND DRILLING

While the volume of trading on the Standard Exchange yesterday showed considerable improvement over that of Tuesday, the total was under 39,000 shares. The tendency was somewhat reactionary, not because stocks were in free supply but for the reason that the offerings, the limited, were more than the market was at the moment in a position to absorb.

One exception to the general run in the Porcupines was Dome which continued firm around $5.05, 600 shares being added to the steady buying accumulation of the past week or ten days. There were no transactions in Hollinger which was offered at 4.90 with 4.86 bid. In some quarters confidence is still felt that a dividend declaration will be made by the Hollinger directors in July. McIntyre slipped back another point to 1.77 and is now close to the low point of the year. It will be ex-dividend five per cent at the end of the week and, with the dividend off, it will look decidedly cheap. Newway at 19.1-2 was half a point down and Lake Shore also weakened half a point to 57. Elliott-Kirkland weakened three points to 80 and Porcupine Crown two to 11. In connection with the strength and activity in Porcupine Crown earlier in the week, it is stated that Crown Reserve interests have arranged for the purchase of a block of about 200,000 shares held by the estate of the late Barney McEnaney at a considerably above the market price. Wasapike was firm at 26.1-2.

Revel of a demand for Adanac carried it up from 9.1-2 to 10, but Ophir which was recently coupled with Adanac in a brisk buying movement was heavy at 87-8. Gintou at 3 was at the best level reached since the announcement that a resumption of the other work was impending. Hargraves weakened to 77-8 to 75-8 and Timiskaming lost half a point at 27-4. McKimley-Darragh held steady at 40 with 40 bid for more at the close. The developments on the Walsh property have given rise to hope that the life of the mine will be extended and an option on the property may be extended and the bid for Crown Reserve is firm at 17 with no stock offered.

The Gold Stocks

Unsurpassed Investment and Speculative Possibilities

The inauguration of the second great German offensive against the Allied lines in France brings the world war a step nearer to the finish. While the Huns fling their rapidly-diminishing hordes against the elastic Allied line, in an endeavor to gain a premature decision, the United States is waxing stronger and stronger. The results of the months of preparation, when the Germans scoffed at the idea of an American army in France, are now becoming apparent.

The oft-repeated statement by the enemy that the United States, even supposing they were able to raise a large army in so short a time, would be un- able to transport it across the ocean, has been dis- proven. French and British preparedness, com- bined with American ingenuity and unlimited energy, have solved the problem, and only yesterday the news of a successful counter-attack by the Americans in France was flashed over the wires. This is the answer to the Hun boast.

Nor is there to be any limit to the stream of American troops. According to the President, the United States, having entered the war, is determined to see it through. The number of men to be sent over will be determined only by the requirements of the Allies to give the knockout blow to German mili- tarism and all it stands for. Is it any wonder that the enemy is endeavoring, with all his waning strength, to breach the Allied line and win a decisive victory?

The German war lords are playing for high stakes and are willing to take big risks, particularly when the risks involved are split largely in the lives of the deluded German people. But the fighting has reached such a pitch that it cannot be continued indefinitely. There are still five months ahead in which fighting on a broad scale can be carried on, and it is safe to predict that with the open warfare in vogue events of far-reaching importance are bound to take place during the summer and early fall months. That such events will redound to the credit of the Allied arms is the belief of every loyal citizen of the Allied countries, and in well-informed circles it is confidently expected that before the snow fices again the German defeat will, if not an accom- plished fact, at least be well on its way.

A complete Allied victory (no one will be satisfied with less), and the cessation of war will, according to economists, usher in a period of recon- struction which will spell unprecedented activity, especially in Canadian and United States industry. The depleted stores of raw and manufactured com- modities, which are produced in this country, will have to be made up. The demand for Canadian wheat and her mineral products will be greater than ever.

The gold stocks, more than any other Canadian securities, will be benefited by the return to normal conditions. These stocks have been depressed by the fact that, while the value of gold is stable, the various materials and labor used in its production have advanced in price, so that, especially among the smaller mines, profitable operation was found impossible under the existing conditions.

Even now there is reported to be a movement on foot to secure assistance from the Federal Gov- ernment regarding labor in the Canadian gold camps. The foreign element, who largely com- prise the working classes in these camps, have, ever since the beginning of the war, been unruly and unwilling to work consistently, while at the same time their wages have been increased materially. If they were compelled by the government to at least work every day, instead of as they please, it would mean greater production, and would benefit the country proportionately.

The gold stocks are bound to come into their own. With a plentiful supply of labor, the Porcu- pine Camp, in conjunction with other camps of promise in the north, can break all records in the matter of production. Their future is all ahead, and from present indications the future of the gold pro- ducers is destined to be a brilliant one. Gold securities of merit at present market prices are a positive gift, possessing speculative and investment possibilities unequalled by any other class of indus- trial or mining shares.

BUY MILLION MORE OF ONTARIO BONDS

It is announced by R. C. Matthews & Co. that the syndicate of Toronto and Montreal bond houses that bought $3,000,000 Province of Ontario 4 1/2 per cent bonds, due 1925, last week, has purchased an additional $1,000,000, making the total transaction $4,000,000. The syndicate is composed of R. C. Matthews & Co. and Aemilius Jarvis & Co., Ltd., and Hanson Bros. of Montreal.

BELDING-PAUL DIVIDEND.

Montreal, May 29.—The directors of the Belding-Paul Corticeal have declared a dividend of 3-1-2 per cent on the preferred shares, payable June 15, on an account of arrears on the preferred.

C.N.R. IN APRIL

Total gross earnings of Canadian Northern Railway System for the month of April amounted to $3,958,100, compared with $3,815,500 same month last year; an increase of $142,600. Operating expenses, however, stand at $3,416,300, showing an increase of $889,200, leaving net earnings of only $541,800, a decrease of $218,600. Gross earnings for the ten months ended April 30, amounted to $34,657,500, an increase of $1,246,100 while net earnings during same period were only $5,091,400, a decrease of $523,000.

DOMINION IRON DIVIDEND.

The directors of the Dominion Iron and Steel Corporation have declared a quarterly dividend of 1-1-4 per cent, payable July 1, to shareholders of record June 5.

C. A. PEABODY PRESIDENT OF ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Marketa resigned today as president and director of the Illinois Central Railway. C. A. Peabody was elected president in his place, but the vacancy on the board of directors will not be filled. Charles Peabody, the new president of the road, is a New York lawyer, and president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company. He is said to represent the Hariman estate and Astor interests in the Illinois Central.

TRUST COMPANIES' DIVIDENDS.

Landed Banking and Loan Company has declared regular half-yearly dividend of four per cent, payable July 2 to stock of record June 15.

Ontario Loan has declared regular quarterly of 2 1/2 per cent, payable July 2 to stock of record June 15.

NEW YORK CURB.

Hamilton B. Willis received the following wire yesterday at the close of the New York curb: The market of the New York curb was strong today, as was to be expected after yesterday's shake-out. Wright-Martin advanced a point; from Tuesday's close on the McIntyre, A. S. Silver, and Empire, which held fairly strong during the break, advanced 75 cents a share today. Boston and Montana were the feature of the copper group, and advanced 1/2 cent from yesterday's low on excellent buying.

TONOPAH DIVIDEND CUT.

Special to The Toronto World.
Philadelphia, May 29.—Directors of the Tonopah Belmont Company today declared a dividend of 10 per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 15. This is a reduction of 2 1/2 per cent, as declared quarterly heretofore. The action of the board was induced by reason of federal tax conditions and the scarcity of labor at all properties. The properties themselves, however, are reported to be in first-class physical condition.

USUAL CRESSON DIVIDEND.

Simpson's June White Sale

Begins Today With Complete Assortments and Remarkably Good Values

The choicest merchandise (no under-standard lines), all fresh, crisp and new; priced in many cases at less than today's cost of production. We have been preparing for this sale for a whole year—ever since our last June sale—and our early preparations have turned out to your profit as never before. There is unquestionably going to be a world shortage of woollens, linens and cottons. A liberal supply bought at the prices at which we are offering our present stocks will pay you better than any investment which you could make.

Today we have huge stocks of merchandise, bought at very, very much lower prices than they could be replaced for, and with these stocks, and your knowledge of values, this is bound to be the biggest June the Store has ever known. Watch the papers every day.
