LIBRARY BOARD OPEN OPTIONS FOR NEW SITE

Prices Range From Ten to Thirty-Five Thousand—School Teachers Changed.

HAMILTON, Sept. 2.—(Special.)—The library board discussed a site for the proposed new building toward which Andrew Carnegie has promised to donate $75,000. Ten or twelve options were received ranging in price from $10,000 to $35,000. The board will offer to sell the present building to the city or the board of education for $25,000, although it would not accept that price from an outsider. The resignation of H. Obermeyer (nee Stewart) from the library staff was accepted. Mrs. H. A. Grant succeeds her.

The leaseholders of Burlington Beach held a meeting at the Royal Hamilton Yacht Club last night and it was decided to take steps to obtain from the Ontario Government either a lease for 99 years or a crown deed from year to year for the lots now occupied by them. A copy of the resolution will be sent to the government and a committee will meet Hon. Mr. Cochrane.

Too Late to Resign.
E. L. Kinrade, father of the murdered Ethel Kinrade, has severed his connection with the board of education after 24 years as principal. At the meeting of the board to-night a letter was received from Mr. Kinrade from New York in which he tendered his resignation and thanked the board for its courtesy to him during his long time in its service. However, as he had not applied for his position again this year, he was not considered in its employ and it was not necessary for him to resign. The resignation of Miss E. Kraft, junior teacher at the collegiate, was accepted and Miss Hill appointed at $80 a year. The resignation of Miss W. Hutton was also accepted. Misses Kate Looney and Agnes Stedman were appointed to the teaching staff of the public school.

A man named Cotti, employed by the Hamilton Bridge Company, was brought to the city hospital. He fell off a bridge at 8 a.m.

To Decorate Graves.
The trades unionists have decided to decorate the graves of their dead in Hamilton and Holy Sepulchre Cemeteries on Sunday.

As the outcome of his having taken flight at the explosion of a controller on a street car on Sept. 2, Edward Belmont-avenue, Crown Point, is suffering a bad shaking up, in addition to fresh wounds. He was standing on the front platform when the explosion occurred, and jumped.

Improved Sewage System.
Ald. Jutten has a scheme to improve the sewage system. He favors the spending of about $200,000 on the construction of a trunk sewer in the west end and a new sewage disposal works there. In order to carry out the scheme it would be necessary for the city to get a grant from the Ontario government because the insane asylum would be benefited.

Clara Burden is suing the Hamilton and Dundas Railway for $10,000 damages for injuries. She claims she was flung off a car near Dundas some time ago and her spine was injured. Ralph Rufus and Rose Bartlett, who have been on remand for several weeks on charges of keeping a disorderly house, were this morning allowed to go on their own recognizances until Annie Merry, the chief witness for the prosecution, recovers her health.

The continued absence of Ethel Manning, the 13-year-old Paris girl, who disappeared from the home of her sister there on Monday, is causing the greatest alarm among her relatives. The greatest effort of the police has failed to locate her. It is believed that the young girl, who was seen near a mouth about 18 years of age on the morning she disappeared, was enticed away.

True Blues Elect Officers.
The convention of the Local True Blues to-day: J. I. Hart, Orilla, grand master; W. I. Cole, Belleville, deputy grand master; Nicholas Ingram, Port Perry, grand secretary; H. W. Sheriff, Plenton, treasurer; Rev. Ralph Fulcher, Marmora, grand chaplain; Rev. James Irvine, Vancouver, grand director of ceremonies; W. J. Briggs, Brantford, and Mrs. Virginia Toronto, lecturers; I. McGill, Owen Sound, I. T. W. Arnold, Oshawa, O.T.; Wm. Fitzgerald, R. C. Newman, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Stinson, Toronto, orphanage board; J. B. Johnston, Orilla, and J. D. McGill, Toronto, auditors.

The officers of the Grand Blue Apron Chapter are: Rev. J. Irvine, Vancouver, grand master; Alex. T. Mackie, Hamilton, D.G.M.; W. C. Farley, Toronto, grand secretary; George E. Hill, Toronto, grand treasurer; George Billings, Hamilton, grand chaplain; T. F. Creeper, Belleville, G.D.C.; J. Worrell, grand conductor; W. Childers, house, Winnipeg, grand I. T.; J. B. McKeown, Rossland, B.C., grand out-stander. Kingston was chosen for the next convention on August 2, 1910.

Once More.
The rumor of a new G. T. R. station is again doing the rounds. A large block of real estate on Bay-St. near the bay has been bought, presumably as the site for a shoe factory. In the police court this morning Magistrate Jutten was told that this was a farce and should be abolished.

A Beautiful Instrument.
A very beautiful piano both in design and workmanship, is the new Chippendale style piano made by the Old Firm of Heintzman & Co., of time and material. The instrument is in handsome mahogany inlaid with satinwood. All the lines are perfectly plain—colonial in architecture—no carving to collect dust. It is made in upright and grand styles. All exhibition visitors should see this piano at the firm's exhibit in the Manufacturing Building.

M'KELVIE IS ACQUITTED OF CHARGE OF BRIBERY

Judge Leask Holds That Evidence Did Not Prove Attempt to Get Piche Out of Country

NORTH BAY, Sept. 2.—(Special.)—Angus A. McKelvie of New Liskeard was to-day acquitted by Judge Leask of the charge of having bribed John Piche to leave the country and not give evidence in a suit brought by the attorney-general's department against the Finlaybank and Hudson Bay Mining Co., affecting the title of that company.

McKelvie was vice-president of the mining company, against which several suits were being tried in the spring of 1906. John Piche, who was a prospect for the company, was a material witness in a suit against Henry Thompson and the company, and plaintiff in another to recover 484 shares of stock in the company, which he had hypothecated with Thomas McCamus, a director of the company.

Crown Attorney A. G. Browning, assisted by Ed. Bayly of the attorney-general's department, Toronto, prosecuted, while G. S. Slight of Haileybury conducted the defence. Inspector Joseph Rogers was also present.

P. W. Scott of the records office, Osborne Hall, produced the papers in dispute and Inspector Rogers told of searching McKelvie's premises and finding certain checks, one of $800, dated April 12, 1906, paid to Mrs. Elizabeth Burwash, sister of Piche.

Mrs. Burwash swore the brother left the country April 13, 1906, and the sequence of pending law suits in which he was interested. She told of interviews with McKelvie leading to a settlement of Piche's claims against the company, and of Piche agreeing that he would take $2000 and 100 shares of stock and leave the country. Witness said she broached this offer to McKelvie and he compromised at $1000 and 100 shares of stock, and she received for her brother $200 in cash and a check for $800, with 100 shares. After Piche had been away some time, he wrote her to sell the stock, but she said McKelvie had objected as Piche might bring the company after the money was gone.

Mrs. Burwash stated that McKelvie gave her $200 in February 19, 1907 to go to Edmonton and warn her brother that the authorities were looking for him, telling the secretary to charge this to legal expenses. She delivered the message to Piche, who promised to keep out of sight. Her brother gave among his reasons for wanting to go away that his lawyer, Pinkerton, wanted him to leave the country. The settlement he made was on condition that he do something to help McKelvie do his case against the company.

After her brother was arrested and taken to Toronto, she went there and gave the authorities a statement, after which Piche was released on bail and later discharged from custody on suspended sentence.

FIFTY THOUSAND ATTEND ON MANUFACTURER'S DAY

The human tide, it is safe to say that last year's mark for manufacturers' day was easily passed. There was a denser, more justling, elbowing crowd in the manufacturers' and process buildings, which were naturally particular magnets. Expressions of wonderment at the quality of the products were to be heard on every hand, and in many cases they came from persons who have been regular exhibition visitors for years, for the secret of the fair's success lies in the fact that it keeps pace with the country's development, and there is "something new" to be seen everywhere. Only the superficial observer who takes a general look around with no eye for detail could pass a "same old thing" judgment. Luckily there are few individuals of this spirit, the great majority, wide-awake Canadian men and women that they are, recognizing that year by year there are things to be seen that were not to be beheld before. There were automobiles and churns on exhibit years ago, but they were not the automobiles and churns of to-day, nor will those of to-day be altogether the same as those of next year, for these are times of many inventions and patents applied for.

Ideal Weather.

The weather showed a marked change from that of children's day, and it was all for the better; in fact, it was almost ideal. The early fall crispness of the air was pleasantly conscientiously endeavoring to do its duty. It now appears that conditions are settled and that the almost uninterrupted stretch of fine weather which the exhibition has enjoyed for years is to be repeated. The directors are already figuring on receipts that will come near the $250,000 mark, as against $234,000 last year.

The closing of the roadways has provided a good thing in keeping down the dust raised by vehicles, but in the opinion of many people it would be an improvement to exclude from the grounds all other than necessary vehicles. However, the speed regulations have thus far averted accidents.

Give Them Light.

A visitor from the United States admitted that he was surprised at the size and construction of the buildings, but thought the grounds poorly illuminated.

"Give the people a blaze of electric light as they did at the Pan-American. They like it," he asserted. "Another thing that would make a hit would

MANY THOUSANDS INTERESTED

The Miniature Food Factory One of the Principal and Most Interesting Features of the Toronto Exhibition.

Great interest is evidenced by the thousands of visitors to the Canadian National Exhibition in the miniature food factory erected by the Canadian Shredded Wheat Co. in the Process Building.

The entire process of manufacture of this popular cereal is shown and fully substantiated—the claim of its being the cleanest, purest and most nutritious cereal in the world.

The wheat is not touched by human hands during the transforming operation—it is steam cooked, shredded and electric baked—all accomplished by the most wonderful machinery.

All the rich, nutritious qualities of the whole wheat are embodied in Shredded Wheat—every bit of the wheat berry being utilized—the outer coats, so rich in the elements that make brain, bone and muscle, and generally discarded by the white flour millers, are made perfectly digestible by the steam cooking and shredding process.

To know how your favorite cereal is made will interest you, and after seeing how clean and pure the entire operation is, you will eat your Shredded Wheat Biscuit in the morning with greater relish.

Glistening Automobile Display.

By far the most beautiful display of autos at the exhibition is to be seen at the McLaughlin-Buick exhibit in the Transportation Building. Here are to be seen cars for everybody, from the runabouts at eleven hundred dollars to an eight thousand dollar six cylinder car. An attractive "model 8" four cylinder, five passenger, shaft driven car is shown at thirteen hundred and twenty-five dollars, also a forty horse-power, shaft driven, five passenger car, catalogued as model 17, which is duplicate of the car, which has been breaking all world's records, both in the United States and at Montreal. This car is selling at twenty-two hundred and ten dollars. Their handsome and superb Limousine on the same chassis as preceding car, is most artistically finished and admired by all, as the most comfortable and convenient in design and is appreciated to being the equal of any high priced car. This car is catalogued at thirty-three hundred dollars. Perhaps the most admired and popular car in the exhibit is the fifty-horse power, seven passenger, four cylinder, shaft driven machine at thirty-six hundred dollars. This car has a rich superb finish equal to any six or seven cylinder car on the market and connoisseurs are wondering why they should pay such high prices for foreign-made cars when a McLaughlin-Buick is sold at such a reasonable figure.

That the Canadian public are interested in McLaughlin-Buick cars, is most evidenced by the number of orders received and the many enquiries made.

This company is also showing a model of the famous Welch car, which is acknowledged to be the aristocrat of American cars and has already established a firm reputation for comfort, stability and grace. People who have been under a heavy expense as regards cartage will be interested in the Reliance Motor Truck, which has a speed of twenty-two miles and a carrying capacity of three and a half tons. Other sizes of this truck of the same type are made and parties interested will be able to see them on display, as well as a full and complete line of cutters and sleighs at the McLaughlin-Buick at the corner of Richmond and Church-streets.

The general construction of the McLaughlin-Buick machines is the highest grade in every particular. In not one single instance have efficiency or stability been sacrificed for the sake of saving expense.

Every individual piece of material that enters into the construction of these cars down to the last nut and bolt must pass a number of trained inspectors. Every car is thoroughly tested out and carefully adjusted before it is permitted to leave the factory.

Interchangeability of parts is a feature which most makers claim for their cars, yet few of them really possess it in its true sense. Interchangeability means that every part of a car is exactly like every other part of its kind. It does not mean almost or nearly like it, but exactly so, in many cases to the one-thousandth part of an inch. It means that when any part must be replaced a new one may be ordered from the factory and that it will fit without alteration in the slightest degree. True interchangeability is possible only in factories possessing the most complete equipment of machinery and tools capable of producing accurate work and where these are kept in the most perfect condition at all times.

At the Front Again.

The tent of the Independent Order of Foresters again occupies one of the most prominent positions in society place at Canada's National Exhibition. As you enter the main gate at Dufferin-street, turn your eyes to the right, and in large letters a few yards away you may read "I.O.F." inscribed upon a streamer.

As usual, this society has provided one of the best tents on the grounds, which is beautifully decorated and furnished. The genial Mr. George A. Mitchell, superintendent of organization, is in charge, with an obliging staff of assistants, who will be delighted to greet the quarter of a million of their brethren and the many thousands of visitors who are not members of this great fraternal and insurance organization.

Carey Fireproof Safe.

Ford & Featherstone, the sole distributors in Canada of the famous Carey safes, are installed at their old stand in the industrial building. Lack of space prevents showing a full line of these fireproof safes that are becoming so well known through the Dominion, but visitors will see a few safes that have demonstrated their superior fireproof qualities in recent fires.

Bird's Dining Hall.

A fine, wholesome and tasty meal is served in real quiet style at Bird's Dining Hall, opposite the centre of the grand stand. If you want to get satisfaction call at Bird's. It will only cost you twenty-five cents.

The Glassblowers.

One of the most attractive shows on the Midway is O. H. John's glassblowers, where all kinds of pretty ornaments are made by means of blowing and spinning glass. To watch the process is an education in itself. You will profit by calling to see them.

Self-Computing Scales.

"Honest weight as shown above" is the motto of the Toledo Computing Scale Co., exhibiting in the manufacturers' building. Every business man should call at the company's booth and have the peculiar virtues of these springless scales explained.

K-Zow Jar or Car Sealer.

It is a boast of many housewives that they can preserve fruit that tickles the palates of their families, but is frequently their grief that their fruit sealers which they have not made air tight, they preserve becoming decomposed. This is dispensed with by the K-Zow Jar, which is a view to putting an end to the resulting vexation that the K-Zow Jar Sealer Opener has been manufacturing. This little device is on exhibit in the manufacturers' annex.

In the manufacture of this instrument the company has provided the greatest boon to the housewife of the age. That it does what it is intended to do is simply demonstrated to every visitor to the booth.

FINE ELECTRIC PLANT PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IDEA

Winnipeg Has Fine Exhibit in Process Building Which Is Attracting Attention.

(Winnipeg is not the least bit ashamed of its public ownership venture in the direction of a 60,000 horse power electrical plant, but is on the other hand quite proud of its big undertaking to judge by the western city's exhibit in the process building.

There is a tank 16 feet by 12 feet, with a miniature river and power plant modeled upon what it is expected to look like when completed next year, at a cost of $3,250,000. Water flowing over a dam imparts realism even if the model power house has no electrical generating equipment.

The plant is being established on the Winnipeg River at Point Du Bois, 77 miles from Winnipeg. When in operation it will be a very formidable rival of the Mackenzie-Mann power company, which has a present monopoly and sells power at around $5 per h.p. per year. The civic plant will, it is figured, be able to cut charges in two. The construction work was halted for a time because of negotiations with Mackenzie and Mann, who offered to sell out, but the city considered the terms unreasonable.

The exhibit is in charge of George M. Hall, who is promoting the publicity campaign for the Winnipeg Exhibition of 1912.

Clean, Hot, Palatable.

Brown's dining tent at the northwest of the Process Building gained the reputation yesterday of making more people feel comfortable inside than any individual feature of the fair—and what's more, the silverware was clean, the meals served piping hot and the dessert palatable. Price 35 cents.

An Ambitious Exhibit in Steel.

Notwithstanding the fact that there was no tariff protection, the Canadian Sheet Steel Corporation, Limited, are forging ahead, and a visit to their exhibit in the process building is worthy the attention of every patron of the exhibition. With an investment of $723,000 and a plant that cost $320,000, the company are producing the highest grade of polished steel for stoves, and galvanized steel for building material, in the world. Samples of their product can be seen at their exhibit, which not only shows the quality of goods but the various labor operations involved in their manufacture. Through photos they also comprehensively show the size of their factory and the machinery used in the plant. The capacity of the plant is 15,000 gross tons annually, and the company are now shipping daily 25 tons of finished product.

British Columbia's Exhibit Makes 'Em All Sit Up and Take Notice.

When it comes to government exhibits, they've all got to take their hats off to the woolly west; that is, the extreme west—British Columbia. This exhibit from that province is the wonder of the Canadian National Exhibition, and the "Queen Bee" of the horticultural building. The biggest things that easterners ever imagined become diminutive when the products of the Rocky Mountain Province are brought into view. Exhibition Commissioner W. E. Scott couldn't very well bring the forest giants down with him, but he has brought sections of them that tell a comprehensive tale. There is a cross section of a Douglas fir, cut 25 feet from the butt, that measures, diametrically, 5 feet 6 inches. Mr. Scott says he could have produced one double that width, but it would be too difficult to handle. The plinth shown is only 18 inches thick, but 12 men couldn't lift it. There are also sections of spruce and cedar just as remarkable. Some of the trees grow to a height of 215 feet. There is a magnificent plant 4 feet 6 inches wide, cut from a board 80 feet long, shown in the exhibit.

In the fish section, too, there is just as much to marvel at. Everybody knows the industry which made British Columbia famous; but few people can comprehend the mammoth size of the fish until they have seen a spring salmon weighing 75 pounds. Some very excellent samples of white sea bass, red sea bass and black cod, are also shown.

The fruit raising industry of British Columbia has reached such proportions and proved such a successful venture, that the province now boasts of its possibilities in this field, as "the coming orchard of Canada," and the abundant array of luscious fruit of all kinds shown in the exhibit, does not belie the suggestion. Their principal fruit market is in the prairie provinces, and despite the rapid rate at which orchards are being planted, it is impossible to keep pace with the growing population of the grain growing areas.

The big game, native to the province, is also represented in the display, including big horn, bear, panther and elk. An immense stuffed elk roachet, and galvanized steel for building material, in the world. Samples of their be mounted in the horticultural building to-day.

Mr. Scott is assisted by W. J. Brandt, of Vancouver. Both gentlemen are very enthusiastic in their discourse about their province, telling that the revenues in 1908 amounted to nearly $6,000,000, having tripled in six years; that B. C. mines have produced over 300 million dollars; trade has increased over 15 million dollars; fisheries produce 14 million dollars; forests produce over 12 million dollars annually; orchards over seven million annually, and that she has millions of acres of paper-making material undeveloped.

Salome Cut Out.

The Midway has been deprived of some of the features considered injurious to public morals. Inspector Dickson and Constable Irwin acted as censors. A "Salome" and other oriental dances have been eliminated as a result.

A Second Art Gallery.

The art gallery is not the only place to view a pleasing display of art. There is a fine collection of high quality of art calendars and art advertising specialties, hand color plates, etc. in the booth of Brown & Bigelow, in the Manufacturers' Building. Manager J. N. Williams will be pleased to have callers at the office, 433 Traders' Bank Building, Yonge-street.

Commercial Travelers' Day.

At a special committee meeting of the Commercial Travelers, arrangements were made for a tent on the exhibition grounds for the convenience of travelers and their friends on Travelers' Day.

Runaway on Grounds.

A runaway team of horses on the roadway west of the first line of cattle sheds at 2:45 p.m., created a panic. As there was a good deal of traffic the miracle was that no one was hurt. Half a dozen people afterwards told of hair-breadth escapes to interested groups of auditors. A constable halted the frightened animals in front of the police station. The only victim was a horse with wagon attached standing by the roadside. It was kicked by a flying hoof, illustrating the saying that it's always the innocent bystander who gets hurt.

The Latest in Player Planos.

To all interested in pianos, the new player piano of Ye Old Firm of Heintzman & Co., on view at the exhibition, will be an object of great interest, being as it is, one of the finest instruments of this class turned out by any manufacturer. It will also be shown at the firm's warehouses, 115-117 King-street West.

PUBLIC POWER AND ITS ENEMIES
Ever since the inauguration of the provincial government's power policy there has been an insistent campaign waged against it. That campaign has been pursued in many ways, some at least involving the expenditure of considerable sums of money. No one believes for a moment that all these dollars were handed out by private individuals, instigated alone by their chivalrous devotion to the private interests, whose designs have been thwarted and whose personal profits have been threatened. It is difficult enough to get individuals sufficiently inspired by great moral and social causes to spend themselves, their time and their fortunes in the effort after reform. It is inconceivable that this should be done for private advantage without the accruing of personal benefit.

The opponents of cheap Niagara power have been driven from pillar to post until at last, in sheer despair, they are seeking to destroy not only the public enterprise, but their own special friends. For it is plain that if the Niagara River cannot be used by one company for the generation of electricity, it cannot be used by any company, and not one only, but all generating companies must go out of business. Truly a remarkable example of the length to which private interests will go in their efforts to keep the public out of the benefits to which it is justly entitled. But all this misplaced ingenuity will not avail. The delivery of Niagara white coal on a straight basis of legitimate cost is here to stay.

Other double-barreled contentions are being used to frighten the provincial government into submission. It is said, for example, that free trade in coal between Canada and the United States would make steam-generated electricity cheaper than Niagara power. Well, the prospect does not seem to appal the electric syndicate, which is striving so hard to retain its grip. If it does not frighten the private electric companies, why should it be any menace to the public undertaking? Contentions of this kind are but false fires lit to frighten the unwary. They are not real, and simply disclose the extremity to which the exploiters of public franchises are reduced. Meantime, the Whitney-Beck power policy moves steadily forward and will soon be an accomplished fact.

TARIFF REFORMERS AND SOCIAL REFORM.

Alfred Harmsworth, Lord Northcliffe, and Winston Churchill, president of the board of trade in the British Government, are two successful young men whose aggressive and irritable personalities have secured for them much caustic criticism. The peer is the elder of the twain by a decade, and is far and away the most enterprising newspaperman the United Kingdom has yet developed. Pen pictures of him have been frequently drawn, and however much they may differ, they appear to agree in this—that he concerns himself more with the commercial side of his ventures than about the consistency of their course on the political questions of the day. It is this which makes the change of tone, infrequent in the Harmsworth chain of dailies, a pretty good index of the ebb and flow of British public sentiment as reflected by the large circle of their readers.

Of late, however, there have been indications that a new line of policy is in course of adoption. The fluctuating opinions concerning current political affairs in Britain appear to be crystallizing into advocacy of tariff reform as a necessary preliminary to social reform. The notion that the Conservative party's future can be secured by identifying it with extensive social reforms, of course, did not originate with Lord Northcliffe. It can be found in the later speeches of Disraeli, and more clearly in those of Lord Randolph Churchill. Nor has it been uncommon in the British Conservative press. But the kind of social reform contemplated hitherto was that which would alleviate the condition of the masses, without affecting the predominance of the classes or the privileges of the aristocrat and the land owner. Just because the budget introduced by Mr. Lloyd-George threatens that predominance and those privileges has it been fought so determinedly by the Conservative opposition.

But the reforms advocated by The London Daily Mail, the leading Harmsworth newspaper, are not an alleviation but a reconstitution of the social fabric of the United Kingdom. As far back as February last it published three articles defining "the broad lines of a social policy which should go hand in hand with tariff reform, each supplementing the other and each inadequate without the other." These articles called for an honest, energetic attack all along the line upon existing social conditions. They asked for a recasting of the educational system of the country with as little as possible to do with sectarian squabbles. Upon the program suggested were, for example, compulsory attendance at evening continuation schools up to the age of 18, prohibition of street selling under 17, improved technical training for those showing aptitude for skilled trades and the discouragement of occupations that do not develop the facilities and promise nothing after the attainment of man's estate.

The articles also strongly urged the re-creation of the peasant class by giving all the encouragement possible to small holdings; to attempts at improving the farm laborer's outlook; to securing for farmers fair rents and secure tenure; to land banks which will lend money on the security of holdings; to county council schemes for agricultural education; to all efforts having for their object the arrest of the mad rush to towns for work which is not there. They held up as one of the ideals at which a real imperial program should aim, a system of insurance against illness, accident, unemployment and old age, to which the workers, the employers and the state should contribute. In short, what was suggested was not haphazard and occasional sops to particular interests, but strong, honest, national effort for the purpose of making Britain a country of comfortable, contented people. Much of this is entirely in line with Radical policy. Whether The Daily Mail succeeds or not in getting its program adopted by the tariff reformers, its articles cannot but accelerate the movement for drastic social reforms.

BRITISH PUBLIC SERVICES.
Those who dispute the success of municipally owned enterprises should seriously consider the annual reports recently issued by the city treasurer of Manchester, England. This city came to the rescue of the Ship Canal

Company when the undertaking proved too much for its ability and lent $25,000,000 to see it thru. Manchester has a debt, too, of $110,000,000, but its balance sheet shows a surplus of assets amounting to nearly $37,000,000.

Last year the electricity department contributed $80,000 in aid of rates, the gas department $300,000, and the street railway $350,000. These are all municipal undertakings conducted in the public interest, and there never is any trouble about extensions or service.

Last year the average fare paid by passengers on the street railway was a fraction over two cents. Coal gas is supplied at 54 cents a thousand cubic feet, and as in other British cities many facilities are afforded for its use by the poorer classes of the community.

Public ownership and operation of monopolies is not in Britain a matter of party politics. It is supported by Conservative cities quite as much as by Liberal, and the simple reason is that it best meets the public necessities.

FAIR TRUE BAROMETER OF CANADA'S PROGRESS

Manufacturers' Day Luncheon Attended by Men Prominent in Industrial Life.

Confidence in Canada's industrial outlook was the keynote of the addresses at the exhibition directors' luncheon. That the exhibition is not only a commercial barometer, but a stimulus to manufacturing development, was the view generally expressed.

The gathering of prominent manufacturers from near and far, was graced with the presence of M. Auguste Isaac, chairman of the French Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Lyons Board of Trade. The Montreal Chamber of Commerce was well represented, those present being Isaac Prefontaine, president; A. Roy, first vice-president; F. Larocque, second vice-president; Joseph Forcier, treasurer; A. Bourbonniere, secretary, and the following members of the council: C. H. Cattell, A. Balvin, A. Labreque, J. Labreque, G. S. Ferrault.

President Gooderham, in alluding to the special character of the day, expressed pleasure at the visit of the Montreal business men, and asserted that Canada's manufacturing was going ahead by leaps and bounds. Mr. Prefontaine, replying for the Montrealers, said the great object lesson afforded of what could be produced among all the nationalities of Canada. It was evident that the whole world, especially Europe, was becoming interested in an exhibition which was a factor in the world's progress. For an exchange of industrial, as with other ideas, it was essential that there should be an entente cordiale among all the nationalities of Canada. It was the duty of all Canadians to unite in working for the success of the country. A reason for Germany's commercial success was that the teaching of many languages in the schools was continued in the higher commercial studies.

"If the nineteenth century belonged to the United States, the twentieth belongs to Canada," he concluded.

J. S. McKinnon, president of the local branch of the Manufacturers' Association, believed that what were needed to make Canada a great industrial nation were a protective tariff and technical education. There should be fully equipped schools where the highest scientific training was afforded, and the association would do all it could to help establish such schools.

M. Auguste Isaac gave assurance that Canada was popular with the French people. Canada was destined to be one of the great nations of the future, and he was convinced that by the end of the century Canada would have a population equal to that of the old countries of Europe. He had thought France contained the most beautiful flowers and fruit, but he had thought Canada's, as shown at the exhibition, were even finer. He hoped that the bond between France and Canada would be strengthened. When he returned to the chamber of commerce he would make a report on what he had seen, and advise all the members to pay the exhibition a visit.

DON'T PROCRASTINATE.
To procrastinate in the matter of giving your children an education is as criminal as the neglect of a disease. Move so, in fact, for a day lost in the matter of acquiring an education can never be regained. We say it unreservedly.

Music is one of the most essential elements of a child's education and in order to give them music, you must give them a piano. The "New Seal Williams" is the piano of the hour, and acknowledged to be Canada's greatest instrument. The scale is absolutely perfect, giving that full, rich, sympathetic quality of tone that is so rare and which all musical people strive to obtain. They are sold with an absolute guarantee that if not satisfactory your money is refunded. See these great instruments at the exhibition or at our warehouses, 143 Yonge-street. The R. S. MYSTERY IS SOLVED
Dynamite Was Contractors' to Blow Out Stumps.
The mystery of the dynamite cases found in Moore Park has been solved. They were left by a contractor who is working on the improvement of Rosedale Heights, which is being improved by Robins, Limited, the well-known real estate firm.
The contractor is using dynamite to blow out stumps; a part of the work necessary in grading and leveling the property.
So, after all, the joke is on the evening paper that suspected a plot to blow up the reservoirs.

A VIVID DESCRIPTION OF DASH TO THE POLE

Easier to Reach it Than to Get Back—Terrible Struggle Against Famine and Frost.

AT THE TOP OF THE WORLD.

On April 21 the first correct altitude of the sun gave 90 deg. 50 min. 40 sec. The pole, therefore, was in sight.

"We advanced the fourteen seconds, made supplementary observations, and prepared to stay long enough to permit a double round of observations. Etukishok and Asawak were told that we had reached the 'big nail,' and they sought to celebrate by a dance of savage joy. At last we had pierced the boreal centre, and the flag had been raised on the highest peak of the North Pole. The day was April 21, 1909. The sun indicated local noon, but time was a negative problem; for here all meridians meet. With a step it was possible to go from the part of the globe to the opposite side, and from the hour of midnight to midday. The latitude was 90, the temperature 38, and the barometer 29.83. North, east and west vanished. It was south in every direction, but the compass pointing to the magnetic pole, was as useful as ever. The overjoyed with the success of the conquest, our spirits began to descend. On the following day, after the observations had been taken, with a careful study of the local conditions, a sense of intense loneliness came with the further scrutiny of the horizon.

The following purports to be a description of Dr. Cook's dash to the pole, and his return:

On February 19, 1908, the sun rose for the first time in months, and on that day, with augury success, the expedition made its start northward from Annuotok, Greenland. Eleven men and one hundred and three dogs and eleven heavily-laden sledges set out to cross the frozen Smith Sound. It was severely cold, and on the Ellesmere Sound westward to the Pacific slope the thermometer sometimes registered as low as 53 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Soon the progress of the march was facilitated by the finding of game trails thru the deep snow. These the expedition followed as well as it could up thru Nansen Sound to Land's End. One hundred and one mink or seven bears and over three hundred hares fell before the guns of the party, and added precious meat to their store.

From a point on the southern side of Heiberg Island the expedition pushed out into the Polar Sea. Here six Eskimo and forty-eight of the dogs turned back, carrying supplies for eighty days with which to establish relief stations for the backward journey.

The crossing of the belt of water just below the pole began three days later. The trains were now reduced to the utmost minimum. Twenty-six dogs, including the two leaders, big powerful brutes, were packed for the final dash to the pole, which was then four hundred and sixty miles away.

The first few days' marching showed encouraging progress, despite the severe cold and steady rippling wind. The big stretcher was made to examine the land ice from the floating polar pack was crossed in two boats, which had been brought along by the expedition with little delay.

Several days after the sight of known land had been lost, the sleds, which had been so overcast as to prevent an accurate determination of position, cleared a bit, and on March 29 there was seen on the western horizon a new land. This was in latitude 84.47, longitude 86.36.

Because of the necessity of pressing up the coast, here the expedition was forced to detour to the eastward of this coast. Here the expedition was the last signs of solid earth—beyond there was nothing stable and nothing terrestrial whatsoever.

Traveling Was Easy.

The surface of the ice-pack offered surprisingly little resistance to traveling. Although the party was living off tallow, dried beef and hot tea, there was no great torture involved in the journey. So cold was it that constant attention was required to keep the feet of the expedition were recorded each day, and careful observations made. By the first week in April the sun was so high that almost sunburn and frost-bites were felt during the course of twenty-four hours.

On April 8th it was discovered that only one hundred miles had been covered in nine days' travel. The position on that day was latitude 56.38, longitude 94.2.

By this time Cook was about two hundred miles from the pole. The amount of supplies had been reduced. Part of the dogs had been fed to the others, but there were still enough for the work. The indications of land remained as the 87th and 88th parallels were passed. Observations on the 14th gave latitude 88 degrees, longitude 95 degrees 52 minutes. This brought the party to within one hundred miles from the pole.

On April 21 the first correct altitude of the sun gave 89 degrees 59 minutes 46 seconds, and Cook knew he was almost at the journey's end. At length he reached the point for which he had been working. There a staff was set up and a flag hoisted, and the North Pole was found.

The temperature that first day, from midnight to midday, was 38 degrees, and the barometer was 29.83. There was no land in sight, and no sign of life other than the people and the dogs who had forced themselves into the wild. The party left the loneliness intensely, and on April 23 turned back from the pole.

The Return.

The return trip became a battle for life with famine and frost. The clear blue of the skies changed to a steady dismal grey. It became stormy, but steady progress had to be made. The ice was much broken, leaving many spaces of open water. A straight course was set for the muskox lands. At the end of the floating polar pack found themselves to the west of a large tract extending southward. The temperature rose to zero and a persistent snow-storm obscured the way. Food rations were reduced one-quarter. At the end of twenty days struggling thru the ice the party were far down in the Crown Prince Gustav Sea, with open water and impassable small ice separating them from Rhesberg Island.

In the next few days, several bears were shot for food, and a course was set for Lancaster Sound. Early in July progress that way became impossible and the forth of Devon was crossed into James Sound, an attempt was made to reach Baffin's Bay. With an occasional bird to eat, the party proceeded until frost in early September stopped them. They were then without food, fuel or ammunition in what seemed a lifeless desert. New implements were fashioned, and around Cape Sparbo game was hunted and knife and arrow, fish line, lance and knife, muskox, bear and wolves yielding meat, skins and fat. An underground den was prepared and a star was set on April 15, where Harry Whitney and a party of Eskimo were awaiting them.

Alberta, "The Pick of the Basket."

In discussing the future of Alberta in the September 4th issue of Collier's, Premier Rutherford refers to Alberta as the "Pick of the basket" among Canadian provinces. In 1850 Alberta was practically uninhabited; in 1909 it had seventy thousand inhabitants. It became a province in 1905 and to-day has a population of three hundred thousand people. No magazine has ever published a series of articles so absorbingly interesting to the Canadian people as this story of the future of the provinces told by the premiers and lieutenant-governors themselves.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVE CITY GROWS RAPIDLY

Extensive Dealer Comments on Features of Market as Indicated by Recent Heavy Sales.

Real estate all over the city is feeling the impulse of industrial expansion, said F. B. Robbins yesterday.

"During August we sold three times as many houses as during any previous corresponding month in the history of our business.

"An interesting feature is that a great many of the buyers are new immigrants, managers, or owners of new factories. There has been a large influx of residents from all parts of Ontario, people of means, who have come to the city to live. These people have stiffened values in real estate and created a wonderfully active market. As a result, real estate investments are of the highest order and well selected property is bound to increase greatly in value.

"There is an increasing demand for industrial sites, and many of the purchasers are from the United States.

COBALT Values of Big Waldman Vein Are Continuing at Depth--COBALT

More Buoyancy Exhibited By Majority of the Cobalts

Trading Continues on Easy Side, But Quotations Remain Firm--Kerr Lake Advances Ten Points.

World Office, Thursday Evening, Sept. 2.

Taken together the Cobalt issues were firm at the stock exchanges today. Trading continued on the easy side, but the better tone exhibited yesterday was again apparent. The majority of the stocks showing a decided change from the weakness of the immediate past.

There was nothing in the day's trading which pointed to any concentrated attempt to boost prices. The outside operation, as evidenced by the list of transactions, was limited, but offerings of the principal issues were light, this fact of itself serving to give a hand to quotations which might have otherwise been lacking.

The Cobalts, which were dealt in at higher prices than yesterday, were Foster, Little Nipissing, Nova Scotia and Rochester, but the advances in these issues were generally too small to call for special notice. The main offering of the day was the main offering of steady figures during the afternoon session.

Kerr Lake continued on the firm side with sales up to $3.50, a gain of ten points from yesterday. These quotations are for ex-dividend stock.

The other high-grade issues were quiet and with little change in quotations.

The market at the close was dull, but with a good tone. The majority of the mining issues are at the present time in a situation which it would take very little to change into a bullish demonstration and only an increase in public interest is needed to bring about an upward movement.

PARTY FROM INDIANAPOLIS

Visit Cobalt and Make Special Inspection of Hargrave.

A party of about twenty financiers and their wives from Indianapolis arrived in Toronto yesterday after having spent several days in the Cobalt camp. The whole of the party were most enthusiastic about Cobalt and the ladies were more than gratified at the treatment they received in the mining camp, and the pleasures which they enjoyed in visiting Northern Ontario. Most of the leading mines were inspected, but particular attention was paid to the Hargrave.

W. S. Jackson of Jackson and Jackson, brokers, Indianapolis, accompanied the party and acting as spokesman, he said that his highest expectations of Hargrave were more than realized when he saw the veins which they had uncovered on East Hargrave and the workings which are being made to connect with the celebrated vein from Kerr Lake on the West Hargrave.

The day was spent by the party in looking over the workings, and by the way, the visitors were much enamored. The exhibition was also taken in, the party leaving for home last evening. O. W. Kennedy of the Indianapolis Inn accompanied the party and will enlighten the readers of the journal on the silver camp.

STRIKE ON THE ELKHART

Important Showings Reported--Activity at the Maiden's Mine.

HAILEYBURY, Sept. 2.—(Special.)—An important strike of 7 inches of duplicate and smaltite has been made on the property of the Elkhart Mines in South Lorrain. This vein also carries cobalt, calcite and other good indications. The force of men working on this property at the present time are daily showing the main veins up to better advantage than the Kelsey, Green Northern, Wettlaufer and others which have made South Lorrain famous, are situated in close proximity to the Elkhart.

The Maiden's, which is one of the largest holding companies in the camp, recently discovered a vein of solid smaltite at least two inches in width on one of their lots and the company have started to sink a new shaft at this point. The direction of the mine is in charge of the Kelsey, Green Northern, Wettlaufer and others which have made South Lorrain famous, are situated in close proximity to the Elkhart.

Work has been resumed on the Verdette property where the 21st Yukon silver was picked up in South Lorrain, and silver is now being taken out.

All will soon be in readiness for the start of the Ontario logging trains daily to the camp in a week or so. It has been planned that they take a trip around Lake Timiskaming on the steamer Silverdawn and then visit the best properties at the camp.

Waldman Vein Sticks Values Holding Strong

Shaft Work is Being Hastened by Extra Steam Drill and Big Derrick.

COBALT, Sept. 2.—J. H. Waldman, the big Montreal cloak manufacturer, is in town looking after the interests of the Waldman Silver Mine down in the Gilles tract, where great things are being done.

Mr. Waldman is paying more and more attention to the development of the properties, which have been in his possession since January 15 last, when that area of the Gilles timber limit was a big uncut bush.

After an afternoon spent on the property in company with Engineer O'Connell, Mr. Waldman expressed the opinion that prospects never appeared better and that the development work was proceeding in an entirely satisfactory manner. He said he was glad to be the case when one considers that after a few weeks' operation the shaft is now down over fifteen feet.

"The big vein sticks," as the saying goes, and that is the surest indication of the real bona-fide formation on the Waldman claim and the results of the trenching were particularly satisfying.

On the Young and O'Brien claims about 12,000 feet of trenching has been done and some half dozen good sized stringers were uncovered, also some almost pure silver was found on what is known as the claim nearly touching Giron Lake.

On the Waldman claim over 15,000 feet of trenching has been done and the results were equally as good. The width of the claim nearly touching Giron Lake.

Traces of silver in the Keewatin were numerous, which is not altogether surprising, when the big vein in Keewatin formation right on the surface and in places from 5 to 8 inches in width.

The Sinking Shaft.

About ten yards from the spot where the original find was made, Engineer O'Connell is sinking the shaft, where he will likely catch the values of the big discovery.

Only two weeks ago work commenced on this shaft and now there are two shifts hustling the work and in all probability will soon reach some depth before the actual cold water sets in, which won't be for two months yet.

When Engineer O'Connell was down about ten feet, he ran across two small veins, which as a matter of fact were small in comparison with the big vein, measuring as they did from one to two inches in width. As the bottom of the shaft was being mucked out, it was found that the veins ran in fact to each other, making one large vein that promises excellent things.

Such results are more than encouraging and the prospect of such a successful haul is now at hand. Hundreds of men are now at work and only recently some valuable discoveries were made on the Martell claim, lying directly across the Waldman Mine.

To facilitate shaft operations, two steam drills are being worked on the shaft, air being obtained from the vertical mine, where lately an important find was made in Keewatin at the 15-foot level, all going to show that the Waldman claim has permeability at depth.

A derrick has been erected over the shaft, for the purpose of hauling out the debris from the blasting and this improvement will necessarily add greatly to the handling and hastening of the work.

On the Waldman claim over half a hundred men are working and nearly 40 acres cleared.

A. C. Fuiver.

Visitors Enjoy Trips

Exhibition visitors are flocking to Yonge-street wharf to take advantage of the lake trips and steamboat excursions are kept busy handling out miscellaneous information as to the beautiful scenery of the different routes. The fares seem to be the biggest consideration with most of them, and the 50-cent return rate on the Hamilton Steamboat Company's line is inducing great numbers to take advantage of these delightful outings. The Modjeski and Maccusa leave Toronto at 9 p. m. on Sunday, and 8 p. m. leaving Hamilton at 8 a. m., 2.15 p. m. and 7 p. m. The company will run a special service on Labor Day.

A Monument to a Good Woman

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Mgr. Shear, papal delegate, Lieut. Governor Pelletier, local ministers and other prominent people, took part in the unveiling to-day of the monument to Jeanne Mance, the foundress of the Hospital Dieu on the occasion of the 250th anniversary of the institution.

The delegation of Japanese merchants who will shortly visit the United States will not come to Canada. The trip will be entirely under American auspices and will be confined to the Pacific coast.

Timiskaming the Talk of Cobalt. Why?

1. Buffalo sold 70 per cent. of their holdings. Who bought it?

2. Eight thousand ounces of ore on 340-foot level.

3. Enough low-grade ore to pay regular dividends.

4. Concentrator being rushed ahead.

5. Tons of high-grade ore ready for shipment.

6. Timiskaming paid dividends when other mines used the money for development, and you may look for regular dividends in the near future.

We say: Buy Timiskaming now.

HOLIDAY IRREGULARITY

Too much attention should not be given to the market movements for the next few days. Professionals are in control of the market, but are more anxious to buy than to sell stock. Prices are often depressed for ulterior purposes, and too much credence should not therefore be given to what appears on the surface as weakness. We know the market, and feel confident that higher prices are only a matter of time. We cannot give all our information away in advertisements, but to legitimate investors we are always prepared to give our honest advice and personal knowledge of every stock property. For the present we still think that ROCHESTER, SILVER QUEEN, SILVER LEAF, SILVER BAR, TIMISKAMING and LITTLE NIPISSING offer the best opportunities for quick profits.

NEW STOCK EXCHANGE IS BEING ORGANIZED

It Will Have Branches in Several Cities and Will List All Standard Stocks.

A new stock exchange, to be known as the Dominion Exchange, Limited, is in course of organization. It will maintain branches in the leading cities of Canada, including Toronto.

The light demand is more than equalled by the light floating supply of shares, and buying orders if filled at all have to be executed at advances.

The market closed fearfully dull. All the professionals admit that stocks are scarce, they are not desirous of taking on any quantity of securities until a broader outside demand becomes apparent.

Western iron and steel markets have been observed of bills and open hearth steel.

Iron Age says there have been interesting movements in iron and steel fully 600,000 tons of lake, all for this year's delivery, at $3.50 for non-bessemer misals and $3.70 for non-bessemer old range.

Indications are that no general coal strike will occur.

Almost entire new issue of Borden Condensed Milk Co. $3,750,000 common stock taken by stockholders.

Denver and Rio Grande surplus for year ended June 30, after preferred dividends, equal to 1.7 per cent. on the common.

Far seven months ending July 31, imports were $30,485,600, against $30,885,600 last year. Exports $37,311,100, against $38,990,900.

August iron contracts aggregated 600,000 tons, railroads buying more rail and plates. Higher prices on steel bars and plates for early shipment.

Crucible Steel Co. directors expected to declare quarterly dividend of 1.4 per cent. on September 16.

U. S. Steel Corporation has taken over coal property on option from the Hammond Co.

Regular quarterly dividend on Am. Car Foundry, 1-2 of 1 per cent. on common, and 1-4 on preferred.

SHAPING FOR HIGHER PRICES.

World Office Thursday Evening, Sept. 2. Notwithstanding the small amount of business at the Toronto Stock Exchange, firms continue the main characteristic. Dominion Steel was firm under Montreal support on yesterday's announcement as to the dividend on the preferred stock, and a good deal of speculation occurred in the common shares.

A strong issue to-day, as yesterday, was Mexican Light & Power. Several attempts have been made to either coax or force this issue out of present holders' hands, but the attempts have been flat failures.

Without demonstration the market is unquestionably shaping for higher prices.

Rally Proceeds Regularly Despite Holiday Feelings

Trend of Market Upward on Smaller Business—Toronto Market Dull but Decidedly Firm.

World Office, Thursday Evening, Sept. 2. Semi-stagnant conditions at the Toronto Exchange are no barrier to buoyancy in most of the speculative securities.

The light demand is more than equalled by the light floating supply of shares, and buying orders if filled at all have to be executed at advances.

Joseph says: Stick to Steel common. J. P. Morgan looks for it to sell above 90. International Pump common is going some. Buy Atchison for 125. Common will sit up and notice that the gain in net profits of over 150 per cent. for the year on American Hide and Leather must help preferred stock.

Tendency of Steel prices continues upward, and several independent companies have advanced price of bars and structural steel from $1.40 to $1.45 per 100 pounds. For immediate delivery sales have been made as high as $1.50. Bessemer iron in Pittsburgh has been advanced another 25 cents per ton, and is getting scarce.—D. Jones.

AEROPLANE HAT FOR LADIES This is the Newest Official Creation in Millinery.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The National Association of Retail Milliners has launched the aeroplane as the new style of head gear, put a ban on the peach basket and decreed the three-cornered hat of the Louis XVI period as the stunning bonnet for the coming winter months.

The new creation in millinery art resembles an airship in shape, having its high trimmings at either end and a curved rim. Its dimensions are twenty by eighteen inches, and because of its high trimmings it weighs considerably less than a bonnet.
