STEAMER WRECKED ON SCOTTISH COAST

Was Bound For Montreal—Crew Climb Cliffs to Safety

PETERHEAD, Scotland, Nov. 2.—Going ashore in a dory for early yesterday the British steamer Cairn, 2245 tons gross, owned by the Cairn Noble company, of Newcastle, England, on a trip from Leth, Scotland, to Montreal, is a total wreck on the rocks about half a mile south of Buchan Ness, Aberdeenshire.

The majority of the crew were asleep and when the vessel went ashore they hurriedly put on their night clothes and ran on deck. A heavy sea pounded the steamer on the rocks. Just before she broke in two the members of the crew succeeded in reaching the rocks from the low by means of a rope ladder. Four of the seamen then scaled the dangerous cliffs and obtained a cliff ladder from a coastguard station in the vicinity, enabling them to rescue their comrades.

RESISTS ARREST

Officer Grabs Gun From Him And Fires Fatal Shot Into Hand

MUSKOGON, Mich., Nov. 2.—The bandit slain here Saturday night after he had shot and fatally wounded Charles Hammond, city detective, was positively identified today as "Dutch" Anderson, noted thug, and pal of Gerald Chapman, super-bandit. The identification was made today by finger prints.

DIED FIGHTING

Anderson went to his death fighting. So did Detective Hammond, who although fatally wounded, wrested the revolver from the bandit's hand in an alley in the shadows of the police station, and then killed Anderson with the latter's own weapon.

BATTLE IN STREET

Hammond was detailed to pick the man-up. Finding him in the town's main business street, the detective told him to accompany him to the police station. Anderson walked beside him for several blocks, and then slipped a revolver from his pocket, shot twice, both of which went wild. He then ran into an alley back of the police station, Hammond followed and Anderson fired at close range, the bullet going through the detective's right arm.

THWARTED BEFORE

Two weeks ago, he entered a drug store at Flint and gave a clerk one of the bills. The clerk, suspecting that the bill was spurious, followed Anderson into the street.

RAPID GROWTH OF BARGAIN BASEMENT SHOPPING DEPARTMENT

A few years ago when such stores as Filene's of Boston, Wanamaker's of Philadelphia, Marshall Field's of Chicago, and others launched on the Bargain Basement method of merchandising, many people were dubious, thinking it simply another way of trying to sell the "poor bugs" from other departments. However, the public soon realized that this was not the case. They found out that the Bargain Basement was a shop unto itself; that the Basement, by cutting down expenses to a minimum and by its method of buying, was able to give, continually, bigger and better values at lower prices than usual. As a result, these basement departments have grown enormously, and today there is hardly a person visiting the larger cities who does not make it a point to stop in some of the Bargain Basements.

Saint John is not behind the larger centres in grasping this Basement idea. Three years ago Oak Hall started the first Bargain Basement, and every month has seen more people taking advantage of it. In three short years, this department has grown beyond the capacity of the space allotted to it, and now Oak Hall has been forced to considerably enlarge it. Alterations have just been completed and Oak Hall are bringing this to the attention of the public by means of a great Expansion Sale that starts tomorrow, offering many bigger and better values for less money.

Weddings

Boyce-Simpson.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Moran, River Glade, when Mrs. Moran's sister, Miss Audrey Beryl Simpson, was united in marriage to Leo J. Boyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Boyce, 14 Millidge street, of this city, in the presence of immediate relatives. Many useful gifts were received, including a chest of silver from the staff of R. & W. F. Starr Co., Ltd., and the Dominion Coal Co., Ltd., checks from the Starr company and also from the employs at Starr's, where the bride is employed. Mr. and Mrs. Boyce will reside in Saint John.

McDowell-Hawkins.

BEAVER HARBOR, Oct. 31.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hawkins was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter, Bertha Gertrude, became the bride of Ernest Alvin McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McDowell, of Pennfield, N. B.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. B. Wetmore, in the presence of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Miss Marion Holmes played very sweetly "Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus" as the bridal party entered the parlor. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white silk Canton crepe with veil and bridal wreath. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and maiden hair fern. Miss Lillian Hawkins, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, she being accompanied by a maid in a white dress. Canton crepe with shoes and stockings to match. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern. Kenneth McDowell, cousin of the groom, acted as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served, after which the bride donned her traveling suit of grey pique with hat and shoes to match and the happy couple left by automobile amid showers of rice and confetti for a honeymoon trip to Moncton and other places in New Brunswick.

The bride was one of our most popular young school teachers and her popularity was attested by the beautiful gifts of linen, cut glass and silver, also several substantial checks.

A host of friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. McDowell a long and happy wedded life.

L. R. Long, of Liverpool, England, and E. L. Taylor, of Ottawa, assistant superintendent stamp

CIVILIZED MEN OLD AT FORTY.

The highest authority in America, Prof. McCollum, says: "Old age disease deaths have doubled within thirty years, every year younger persons being attacked, due mostly to faulty foods." In these thirty years patent white flour and refined cereals were invented and diseases of the heart, arteries, kidneys, brain, nerves, and digestive organs have kept even pace with their ever-increasing use, until now 150,000 people die each year in the States alone under 40, from diseases which belong to 70 or beyond.

A return to a natural, unrefined, non-acid dietary of whole grains, milk, eggs, leafy vegetables, and fruits will go far to protect civilized man from the ravages of these diseases, unknown to simple races who do not use refined products.

Roman Meal is the only non-acid grain or cereal food, 400 parts "Excess Alkali" in each 1,000 parts, alkaline enough to correct the "Excess Acids" of white flour, other cereals, meats, fats, and sweets, all known to modern food science as "Excess Acid" foods, because they turn the blood from its natural alkalinity to acid. Acid blood lowers vitality, irritates vital organs, prevents blood repair, prematurely bringing on old age and disease. Roman Meal keeps the blood alkaline or non-acid, relieves the organs of irritation and strain and rebuilds them, restoring youthfulness and vigor of body and mind. Being non-acid it cools the blood and keeps you upstanding and fit.

Use Roman Meal every day. It makes delicious porridge, muffins, pancakes, johnnycakes, etc. Add it to your white flour baking to improve the flavor and to restore valuable properties lost in making flour white. All grocers sell Roman Meal.

The Evening Times-Star

The Evening Times-Star is published at 25-27 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by New Brunswick Publishing Co., Ltd., J. D. McKenna, President.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 2, 1925.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

While uncertainty as to the course to be adopted by Hon. Mr. King must continue until after the Cabinet meeting to-day, and perhaps even longer, it becomes increasingly clear that neither of the old parties is in a position to carry on and give the country a decisive government.

This drug is almost universal among the criminals responsible for robberies accompanied by violence and frequently by murder.

There will be six (variously spelled) Macdonalds in the new House of Commons.

The Toronto Star is of the opinion that there will be no sweeping changes in the tariff at the coming session or during the life of the present Parliament.

By the grace of Mr. Forke, Hon. Mr. King could carry on for a time, but both he and the Progressive leader are to-day confronted with statements they made during the late campaign and to which they obviously attach considerable importance.

Odds and Ends

Kipling's Popularity

"That over two and a half million copies of Mr. Kipling's prose works have been sold by Messrs. Macmillan is evidence of his assured popularity."

Unknown Men of Wealth

One of the most curious things about great wealth is the obscurity of some of its possessors.

THE NARCOTIC PERIL.

A circular letter bringing out the extent of the danger to the American people arising from the increase in the use of narcotics, and pointing out particularly the danger to the young, has been sent to 5,000 superintendents of schools in the United States.

A Modest Candidate.

Here's some fuel for the fire in Welland county: Mayor H. P. Stephens of Niagara Falls who is running as a Liberal candidate against George H. Pettit, Conservative, met a friend at the Ontario Club the other day.

Town's Prodigy Returns Home.

Marion Talley, of Kansas City, Mo., whose fellow townsmen raised $12,000 a few years ago to send her abroad to study grand opera because of her remarkable voice, has returned to her native health, increased and disilluminated.

Just Fun

ONCE there was a woman who trusted her husband absolutely. He was 50 years old, and bed-ridden.

WE RECENTLY saw an item in a newspaper where a young man in Indiana was refused permission to work in a mine because he was a minor.

AND to think with all of our wide-awake chambers of commerce no city has yet sent out a bid for a boot-legger's convention.

A VARIETY OF PALMS.

AN EASTERNER who went to work at a Los Angeles movie studio took up his residence at the little hotel of Palms.

It isn't true; there were few great problems in the beginning and they have been worked out, or have worked themselves out.

LIFE is simple. It is easy to know its rules. Nature is everywhere, proclaiming them.

MILLIONS of men merely exist to-day, and, drunk with roseate hopes, tell themselves glibly, "I'll LIVE tomorrow."

THESE modern pants were invented in a harem. America merely took over the puckering strings at the bottom.

HOLD-UP men are holding up Taxi drivers. Next we'll hear of porch climbers climbing porch chimney porches.

SPEAKING of cigarettes, "Let the Rest of the World Go Bye."

A NEW way to catch falling hair-catch it!

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD YOU CANNOT LIVE TOMORROW.

THE Professional Orators are telling us continually that "We are confronted by great problems."

They have made it a commonplace that life isn't understandable; that we must resign ourselves to our lot and pray that we will be better off in the Next Life.

It isn't true; there were few great problems in the beginning and they have been worked out, or have worked themselves out.

LIFE is simple. It is easy to know its rules. Nature is everywhere, proclaiming them.

MILLIONS of men merely exist to-day, and, drunk with roseate hopes, tell themselves glibly, "I'll LIVE tomorrow."

TOMORROW I will live, the fool does say; Today itself's too late, the wise lived yesterday.

They have to learn that the present hour alone is man's!

And that "he who postpones the hour of living as he ought, is like the rustic who waits for the river to pass along (before he crosses); but it glides on and will glide on forever."

Poems That Live

APPARITIONS.

Such a starved bank of moss Till, that May morn, Blue ran the flash across: Violets were born!

Sky—what a scowl of cloud Till, near and far, Ray on ray split the shroud: Splendid, a star!

World—how it wailed about Till God's own smile came out: That was thy face!

Tumbler Pigeons Forget Laws of Gravitation

THERE has been discussion recently about homing pigeons and their mysterious faculty of finding their way home from points hundreds of miles away, but this by no means exhausts the marvels of pigeon flying.

Tippler flying is a popular hobby with many in Europe. Tipplers are small, neat pigeons with well-developed wings, and feathers usually plentifully sprinkled with white.

Another extremely interesting pigeon is the "flying tumbler." The ordinary "tumbler" when circling around its loft turns a complete back somersault.

A variant of the ordinary "tumbler" is the "roller." This pigeon is flown in the same manner as the "tumbler," but instead of turning single somersaults it will turn over six, eight, and even a dozen times in a continuous roll.

The sight of a large flight of "rollers" with several individuals "rolling" with lightning speed in a series of back somersaults in a perpendicular line from sky to earth must be witnessed to be believed.

These pigeons are the smallest of the flying breeds, and are pretty marked. Some have long feathers on their legs right down to their toes, which give them a quaint appearance.

Dinner Stories

A WOMAN in Scotland, hearing of a house that was said to be haunted by the ghost of a woman who wandered through its rooms and passages, wrote to the agent and hired it for the summer.

When she and her family arrived she remarked, "I must have been here before, for I know the place so well!"

Suddenly she remembered that it was a house she had frequently visited in her dreams.

A few weeks later she complained to the agent that part of the contract had not been fulfilled—she had hired the house and a ghost for the summer, but no ghost had been seen.

"Of course not," he replied, "for you are the ghost; we recognized you the moment we saw you."

AN AMERICAN fapper and her mother occupy the adjoining table. The fapper is studying the words painted on the fringe of the awning.

"Oh, look, mo-ther," she draws, "it says 'brasserie.' Isn't it too funny? I always thought that meant a thing um-bob you wear around your chest!"

"Sh-h, my dear!" murmurs the mother, "these French may be vulgar, but we don't have to imitate them."

DURING the World War, one of the great steamships that was used as a transport for soldiers was on her way across when a torpedo boat was sighted. In anticipation of the danger they were in, all on board were lined up on deck.

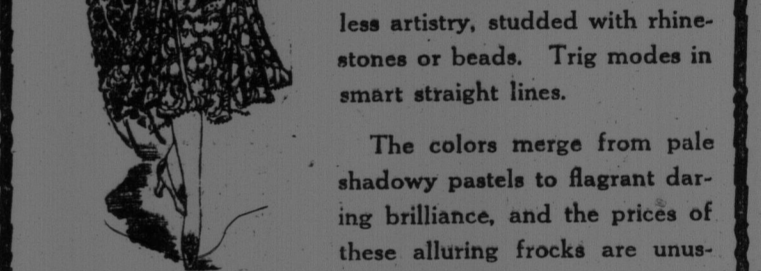

There was a deathly hush for an instant, when suddenly from down the line a negro's voice rang out: "De dan envoibly hesh dat wants to buy a gold watch and chain!"

Can the Repentant Husband Return to His Divorced Wife After Learning His Lesson?—Is a Young Man Who Doesn't Want to Marry Really in Love—Specially Written Reminder to Parents.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a man 44 years old, and have been married twice. My first wife and I lived together eight years. She was an ideal wife, but I was a fool. I let a woman who was working for me make me a fool, and I thought that my wife did not appreciate me because of my power to arouse high and furious emotion.

ANSWER: If you are wise you will crawl in the dust before your first wife and tell her that you repent in sackcloth and ashes, and perhaps, because wise women know that their husbands are just bad little boys that need to be spanked and kissed and forgiven, the mother heart of her will make her overlook your sins against her and take you back.

IT IS a very common thing for a middle-aged man, when he reaches the years of indication, to think that the wife of his youth is too old for him, and to imagine that he has grown tired of her, and for him to begin running around with flappers and wild women.

His bogus youth collapses like a pricked balloon, and he finds out that he is an old man tied to a young woman who has no love for him, but who only married him for his money.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young man, in love with a girl whom I have known more than a year, but although I am able financially to get married, I don't want to marry, and I don't know why.

ANSWER: I think, Charles, that you have merely a case of near-love, and that you will be very wise to refrain from marrying until you feel that the best time you can possibly have will be as a husband, and not as a gay young rouser.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl 19 years of age and my father will not let me go to any dances, or parties, or go out with boys, or have them come to see me. I would be happy if I could go out just once a week. Would you please write something about parents who have forgotten they were ever young?

ANSWER: I am always writing that, Rose Marie, because I am so sorry for you poor kids who are being robbed of all the joy of your youth and who are being actually forced by your fathers and mothers into doing foolish, risky things that so often turn into tragedies.

I CAN'T SEE how any man and woman can forget when they were 19. I can't see how they can forget how their feet ached to dance, and how they craved other youthful companionship, and what fun they could get out of all sorts of silly, nonsensical things.

And how any man and woman can be cruel enough to deny that to a 19-year-old girl and make her sit at home all evening, while other young people are skydiving about, is more than I can tell, but I think Nero never had a thing on them in the way of hard, grinding tyranny.

AND HOW any father and mother can have little enough sense not to realize that they are deliberately shutting a girl away from her chances to love and marriage, and home and children, and dooming her to lonely spinsterhood by shutting her away from association with other young people is beyond fathoming.

And how any parents can be fool enough not to know that if they won't let their girls have beaux at home, and meet nice young men respectfully and under the proper environment, that they will pick up men on the street and make the worst possible acquaintances, is something I cannot even try to guess.

I could weep over you, Rose Marie, and all other poor little girls whose parents have forgotten their own youth and who crush out their children's with their pitiless old hands.

Zane Grey's Latest Film Is Excellent

By JACK JUNGMEYER. "The Vanishing American," Famous Players-Lasky adaptation of Zane Grey's story, rates as an important photoplay because of its sheer pictorial excellence, because of its marching historical pageantry, and, most of all, because of its power to arouse high and furious emotion.

Appealing both to the eye and the heart, to the aesthetic and moral perceptions of the beholder, this compelling tale traces the vanquishing of the red man by the white from the far day of their first skirmish to the period following the World War.

The drama this time is visioned from the standpoint of the Indian, without any maudlin, patronizing airs. Here, with pictorial grace and beauty and swift dramatic weaving, you see the other side of the shield from that presented fragmentarily in the "Covered Wagon," "The Iron Horse," "The Pony Express" and a score of photoplays where the Indian but served to complicate the white man's progress, to hamper a love story or to delay the bits of a plowshare into the prairie.

Morally, its ironically arraigning power reaches its climax in the scenes where the Indian soldiers return from the war to safeguard democracy to find themselves dispossessed of their own huts and fields.

Richard Dix gives a remarkably fine, restrained performance as the heroic leader of the doomed race. Lois Wilson, as the white school teacher and beloved confidante of the tribe, and Noah Beery in the role of treacherous agent, fit admirably into the picture.

Hats Which Are Different

Just as the vogue of felt for all occasions seemed an established custom when the smartly attired Paris has decreed that velvets, satins, silks and straws again figure largely in the chic of the crowning adornment of midday.

The brims which hitherto were satisfied with the briefest flare are again drooping coquettishly over the eyes, or are being smartly different in their abrupt upturning. Then, too, there is the very new hat which boasts a brim of greater width on the right side— which just now is very popular in Paris.

The deep, rose violet hats which are so becoming come in delightful shapes in velvets, satins and felts. The velvet hat, which is very smart right now, is often seen in various purples and reds, or bright blues.

Dorothy Mackall, who has followed the mode for velvet trimmed hats, wears a chic little bangkok which boasts an upturned brim of velvet, with saucy bluish effect of the velvet above its brim in front.

Old Sol May Be The New Weatherman

AN OBSERVATORY for measuring the amount of heat radiated daily by the sun is to be installed upon a mountain top in the eastern hemisphere. The exact location has not yet been chosen.

At the present time, the Smithsonian Institution maintains two such stations in the western hemisphere, one on a mountain top in Chile, the other on Mount Harqua Hala, Arizona.

The new observatory is to be financed by the National Geographical Society. Dr. C. G. Abbot of the Smithsonian Institution, who is directing the study of the sun's heat, hopes that funds will soon be forthcoming which will permit the erection of a fourth observatory.

The sun is the original cause of all weather conditions upon the earth. Therefore change in weather conditions here have their beginnings in the sun. It is, however, eventually that through a complete understanding of the sun's actions and their consequent effect upon the earth, it will be possible to make detailed accurate weather reports months in advance, and accurate general forecasts as much as a year in advance.

DR ABBOT calls attention to work which Dr. H. H. Clayton has been doing for the Smithsonian Institution. Dr. Clayton has been attempting to predict the temperature of New York City five days in advance, basing his prediction upon the fluctuations of the sun's heat as observed by the two stations in Arizona and Chile.

Dr. Clayton's predictions show a percentage of correctness that removes any doubt as to the reliability of this method of forecasting, says Dr. Abbot.

So the Pled Piper began to play and the Scare Crow began to dance. "Hold on! Hold on!" said the Clown. "You're losing all your straw. If you keep on you won't have anything left but your clothes and two broomsticks."

"That's long enough anyway," said Nancy. "You may now have your sauce pan hat, Mister Scare Crow. We shall now go on with the forfeits."

So the Clown picked up the next one and held it over Nancy's head. "Heavy, heavy what hangs over?" asked the Clown, picking up a forfeit and holding it over Nancy head.

"Fine or superfine?" said Nancy. "Fine," said the Clown, winking at Mister Corn Dodger.

For it was Mister Corn Dodger's pipe he was holding over Nancy's head, although she didn't know it. "What shall be done with the owner?" asked the Clown.

"Nancy thought and thought, and everybody in High Jinks Land crowded around to hear what she was going to say. "He'll have to say his A B C's over 50 times," said Nancy, laughing.

"Oh, ho!" laughed the Clown. "Here you are, Mister Corn Dodger. You have to say your A B C's over 50 times. "I'll have to learn them first," said Mister Dodger. "I never had any use for books, living as I do, in a corn-shock. But I'll say anything that I do know as many times as you like. I not only like to be agreeable, but I want my corn-shock pipe back."

TODAY'S RECIPES. Prune Pudding—Soak a pound of prunes for several hours, then stew and sweeten them as you wish. When they are cold, strain the prunes and stone enough to make two solid cupsful.

Cheese and Lentils—Cheese baked with lentils makes a most substantial and easily prepared dish. Place a quart of lentils in a granite saucepan with a quart of cold water, a teaspoon of lemon juice and the prunes. Turn the mass into a well-buttered mold, cover it with greased paper, put on the cover and tie it down. Steam steadily for two and a half hours.

Mix a half cup of sugar with a cup and a half of the prune juice. Add a half cup of cream and thicken the mixture with a little cornstarch. This makes a very good sauce for the pudding.

Wm. Hughes, Appin, Ont. writes: "Dr. Chase's Ointment cannot be equalled. I used it for protruding piles of the worst kind. When the Doctor said an operation was the only hope, I began to prepare for one, when I remembered reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment. I resolved to try it, and after using two boxes I had no trace of the piles. It was the greatest relief I ever got, and I only hope other sufferers who read this letter will lose no time in purchasing a box, and see for themselves the miracles it works. It will be the best investment they ever put their money into."

"Certainly," said Nancy. "Where's the Pled Piper?" "Here," said the Pled Piper stepping out. "How will you have it, Mister Scare Crow?"

Willis Lodge, No. 70, L. O. L. of Fairville held its annual church parade yesterday afternoon to attend service in the Fairville Baptist church. At McKel's a stop was made to serenade Mrs. Martha Totten at her home. Mrs. Totten is a staunch supporter of the Orange Order and is descended from Orange ancestry on both sides. The Carleton Cornet Band led the parade, and following came the Scarlet chapter, the Black Knights and members of Willis Lodge of which William Goding is worthy master. Representatives of other lodges paraded as follows: Dominion Lodge No. 141 with W. M. George McQueen; True Blue Lodge, West Saint John; Mount Purple Lodge No. 29, of Lorneville, W. M. John Ferguson; Prentice Boys, of Fairville, and Maple Leaf Lodge No. 40; Prentice Boys, of West Saint John.

Makes Electricity Obey Human Voice

LONDON, Nov. 2.—A Nottingham inventor claims that he has an invention by which electricity can be controlled by spoken command. This inventor, L. H. Pearson, states that the device consists of an apparatus for transforming the sound waves in such a way that they operate and control an electric circuit. The invention has been patented as "Pearson's Acoustic Control" and at a demonstration given at an Electricity Exposition seemed remarkably successful. The inventor claims that he is able to say to an electrical motor, "start" and it starts; or to an electric lamp, "light" and it lights.

J. M. FLEWELLING DIES IN MONTREAL

M. L. A.—elect For St. Stephen-Milltown Succumbs After Operation

ST. STEPHEN, Nov. 1.—John Medley Flewelling, member-elect of the Legislative Assembly of New Brunswick, died yesterday at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, where a few days ago he underwent an operation. He had been ill for several months and had been to Montreal for treatment a few months ago. John Medley Flewelling was born at Woodstock, N. B., June 28, 1879, a son of Rev. J. E. and Mrs. Flewelling. He was educated at Centreville, N. B., and in June, 1908, was married to Sarah J. McVay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McVay, of this town. Mr. Flewelling came here about 16 years ago and went into the insurance, real estate and brokerage business, in which, with his genial personality and his ability, he worked up a large business. In 1920 he was elected to the Legislative Assembly as one of the Conservative representatives for Charlotte. Again on Aug. 10, 1925, he was elected, although sickness prevented him from campaigning or taking any part in election. He scored a large majority and was to represent the new constituency of St. Stephen-Milltown. He was a past president of the St. Stephen-Milltown Rotary Club. A member of Masonic Lodge, also of the St. Andrew's Society, a director of the St. Stephen Agriculture Society and a member of the Fredericton City Club and other societies.

SURVIVING RELATIVES. Besides his wife, he leaves one daughter, Jean, two young sons, Joseph and John, his father, Rev. J. E. Flewelling, and several brothers and sisters. Miss Jean Flewelling, R. N., of this town, is a sister, and Sterling, of Dufferin, is a brother. Emery, another brother from the West, is also here, having come last week to see his brother. The body will arrive at St. Stephen tomorrow noon. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

MIDNIGHT FIRE

Four-Story Property Ablaze;

Man at Radio Sees Flames and Rouses People—Building
Ell is Guttered.

Damage to the extent of about $5,000 was caused shortly after Saturday midnight by a fire which broke out in the two ells adjoining the large four-story building 151-157 Union street. The building is owned by J. L. McAvity, and the occupants are D. J. Barrett, a dealer in stoves and metal work, and F. J. Cameron, tailor, on the ground floor. Mrs. Julia McAulay and Mrs. J. Saunders conduct a rooming apartment on the second floor, while the third and fourth floors are occupied by Thomas Frontin in a lodging apartment.

Frontin, had narrow escapes from being trapped in their bed rooms and were obliged to make a hasty escape as the flames were entering the rooms. The fire was first discovered by Stewart Spear, grandson of Mrs. Saunders. He was listening in on his radio which was in a room in the ell of the building close to the Barrett workshop on the second floor. About 12:30 o'clock Mr. Spear smelled smoke and then noticed sparks dropping from the wall.

He immediately roused the household and then rushed across the street to No. 8 fire station and sent in an alarm from box 8.

When alarmed by the call of fire, the Misses Saunders awoke to find their bedroom full of smoke, and it was with considerable difficulty that they battled their way to safety in the front of the building.

John Hunter, who occupied a room in the front section of the building, awoke to find the fire entering his room and feels assured that had not the fire been discovered at the time, he would have been caught in a death trap.

FIRE IN ELL

When the firemen reached the scene the fire had control of the ell and was burning fiercely and had worked up through the roof. There is a well between the ells at the rear of the main building, and the bulk of the blaze was in the section used by Mrs. McAulay and Mrs. Saunders on the eastern side, while that on the western side is occupied by Mr. Frontin.

With a few good streams of water from the rear windows and roof of the main building, and from the small yard below, Chief Vaughan and his men worked well and were able to keep the fire confined to the two ells, but were obliged to work hard for about three hours before the fire was all out. Four rooms in the ells were destroyed and the section of the building was badly gutted. The work shop and storage department of Mr. Barrett was badly burned and the stock, including about twelve furnaces, was damaged by both fire and water.

Mr. Barrett's large store, filled with costly stoves and other hardware, escaped, as the only damage to the building was the breaking of glass in the windows by the heat. The furnishings in Mrs. McAulay's kitchen as well as that of Mr. Frontin received water damage.

The tenants returned to their homes after the excitement and were residing in the main portion of the house yesterday.

The damage to the building is estimated at about $3,000, and is covered by insurance. Mr. Barrett carries $4,000 insurance and his loss is estimated at about $1,000.

The loss to the furniture of Mrs. McAulay and Mr. Frontin amounts to a total of about $1,000 and is only partially covered by insurance.

CARS IN COLLISION

Automobile 5254, driven by Herbert Magee, Fairville, was in collision with car No. 8738, owned and driven by George Bishop, Wright street, on the corner of Union and Charlotte streets, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Bishop's car was quite badly damaged.

Automobile No. 7141, operated by Hardley Hayward, was in collision with a car driven by Herbert Lobb on Waterloo street at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Both cars were slightly damaged.

At 6 o'clock Saturday an automobile driven by Edmund Power and street car 122 collided in Douglas avenue. The automobile was badly damaged.

WAS RAINY MONTH

October Also Provided Some Breezy Days and a Bit of Cold

During October 8.81 inches of rain fell in this district which is 8.77 inches above the normal rainfall for that month and the mean temperature was 41.5 degrees or 8.5 degrees below the average.

September was noted for high winds but October capped that record also and showed up with three days on which the winds attained a velocity of 48 miles an hour.

The warmest day in October, 1925, was the 16th, with 62.2 degrees temperature, the coldest was Oct. 31 with a minimum reading of 22.2. In October last year the rainfall amounted to only 2.22 inches.

Saturday was the coldest day of the season with its 20.2 minimum and Sunday with a minimum reading of 22 degrees was very little warmer, although it profited by the fact that there was less wind.

On both days the maximum reading of the thermometer was 54 degrees. The greatest velocity of the wind on Saturday was 13 miles an hour.

At the choral Eucharist Cruikshank's service was sung in Saint John last night. Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, rector, conducted the services.

In the morning his subject was "Blessed are they who are called to 'Make of the Making of a Saint'."

ments through Portland. Mr. McLean expressed the hope that the Charlottetown conference would be a success, and that the agitation for a larger use of our own Atlantic ports would bear fruit in enlarged steamship services.

At the office of the Willys-Overland, Mr. Baggs explained that it was necessary to route much cargo for France, Spain, Scandinavia, Africa and India via New York. In fact the routing was done in New York. One car might contain shipments for three ports in France. By sending it to New York each shipment could get a steamer to its own port. The company uses Saint John and Halifax in winter for its West India and Australian business, and a Canadian service when available to South America. In other words Canadian ports are used when practicable, but a large traffic necessarily goes through New York. Mr. Baggs was deeply interested in the Maritime situation as explained to him

Brokers' Opinions

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Bachs & Co.—"Continue bullish on practically all the rails, especially the southern and northwestern." Clark Childs—"There is indication of a steady buying of Anaconda and accumulation of the oil stocks." Josephthal & Co.—"We expect the rails, copper and oil to play a more prominent part than yet witnessed."

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—There is still no change indicated in the market. Some day prices will disappear rapidly and leave a good many people stranded, but there are no indications of such a change in the near future. It will probably come when least expected. Some rails have shown a strong tone in the week and we may have general strength in them yet before this market is over. Certainly some of the more entitled higher, among them, R. G. & O., Y. C. & O., Ill. Cen. and B. & O. We expect steel to respond more fully to news of advancing steel prices. Steel common stocks and Republic will eventually sell higher. We expect to see Anaconda higher. Brooklyn Union is making good on tip on the gas stocks, but Con. Gas lags behind. Eventually this stock will sell higher.

ALL EAGER FOR COUNCIL FIRE NEXT SATURDAY

Boy Scouts to Conduct One for First Time in Saint John

SCENE IS BEACH AT EAST SAINT JOHN

Scouts and Cubs Report Good Meetings Held Last Week

Scouts are looking forward to the big council fire, to be held on the beach at East Saint John on next Saturday. All the troops of the city will meet that afternoon and will take part in the building of the large council fire, which will be lit at 8:30 p. m., and which will be the first of its kind in scouting in Saint John. District Scoutmaster O. J. Lawson will be in charge, assisted by other district leaders, including F. Choppin, the assistant district commissioner, and L. L. Johnston, district secretary. It is hoped that District Commissioner Dr. G. B. Peat will be present to open the council fire in proper camp style.

TRAINING COURSE

Another big event for scouting here will be the leaders' winter training course planned for November. Last winter Field Commissioner Harry Lister conducted the first course in Saint John, which resulted in 15 scouts successfully completing the course. This season the course will be conducted entirely by Saint John men who have taken the Gillwell Training.

FIRST AID TESTS.

Many of the troops are now getting their first aid teams in shape for the coming Wallace Nesbitt competitions. Grand Falls Troop took first place in the province this year, and it is hoped that Saint John will make a strong bid for it in the coming competition. Miss L. E. Barber, provincial secretary for the Saint John Ambulance Association, is ready to visit the troops to get them started on their team work.

The Wolf Cubs are going strong, and their leaders are looking forward to the first meeting of the Cub Leaders' Study Circle. Several troops that have been inactive owing to lack of leaders have resumed operations again, and did fair to show great improvements in the future.

FAIRVILLE BAPTIST TROOP, No. 24.

This troop started in for the winter's activities by getting the troop working entirely on the patrol system. The programme includes patrol corners, flag break, general and special inspection, games, freeze tests, scout law, baseball, and jolly good council fire programmes of songs talks by the S. M., and other features. The fellows in the Beaver Patrol are living up to their name as workers, and the Moose Patrol is made up of hustlers. One of the patrol leaders will soon be second class. A Saturday hike is planned.

ST. JUDE'S, NO. 5.

At a meeting on Monday a member of the Gillwell Committee conducted the troop. There was a fine council circle programme. St. Jude's troop extends a hearty welcome to all other troops to visit the meetings Monday evenings from 7 to 8:30.

TRINITY TROOP, No. 17

Trinity Troop on Monday evening welcomed the new district scoutmaster, O. J. Lawson. He addressed the boys on their duties as scouts, and also took part in and instructed the boys in various games. Scout practices were also carried on and the meeting closed with a song and council fire.

ST. GEORGE'S TROOP, No. 21

St. George's continues to have excellent meetings every Wednesday with steadily increasing attendance. The new members are coming along fine in Tenderfoot work. At a recent court of honor meeting points were drawn up for the patrol competition, which will be in full swing at the next regular meeting. Another very enjoyable feature of our meetings is the council circle, which is run on Gillwell lines.

KIRK TROOP, No. 9

This troop has resumed its activities. Two very capable leaders have been secured, and prospects are bright. On Thursday evening, the assistant district commissioner visited the troop, and gave a Gillwell committee program, No. 1. Next week's meeting will be on Monday at Thursday evening, which will be taken up by the wolf cubs who are making such excellent progress. Eighteen boys attended Thursday's meeting. It is expected to have four patrols up to full strength soon.

STONE TROOP, No. 7

The new curate, Rev. G. Moore, was welcomed to the meeting on Thursday. The regular program of instruction, inspection, games, etc., was carried out. A new feature of the meetings is the inspection of patrol corners. Rev. Moore has accepted the position of troop secretary. Some surprising and interesting plans are being made for the troop.

MISSION TROOP, No. 3

At the Wednesday meeting 14 scouts were present. All were delighted to receive a visit from the new district scoutmaster, O. J. Lawson. He gave an interesting talk on scouting, and tested the scouts on their knowledge of the scout law and the second class tests, games and instruction periods under the direction of the district scoutmaster proved delightful. Mr. Lawson presented a handyman's badge to Scout John Peacock. Mr. Lawson was given scout honors.

SUNRISE TROOP, No. 4.

On Wednesday evening the meeting was carried on by Assistant Scoutmaster E. H. Wiley. One feature was first aid instruction by Troop Leader Marks, assisted by Patrol Leader Boudreau. This was exceptionally fine work. Compass work for second class tests was followed by judging distance tests for first class. This was given by the A. S. M. Games of foot wrestle and tub tilting were enjoyed.

ST. JUDE'S WOLF CLUBS, No. 5.

The pack held an enthusiastic meeting on Wednesday evening. Visitors were two members of the pack committee, Mrs. H. K. Bamford and Mrs. Martin A. Campbell. Three members of the troop gave valuable assistance as instructors—Wm. Edwards, R. Evans and S. McLennan. The programme was carried out under the direction of Assistant Cubmaster Douglas A. MacLennan. Three boys passed tenderfoot tests. A display will be put on by the pack soon. A new game called "Akelia Says" was greatly enjoyed. Twenty-five boys were present as well as three Cubs from the Kirk Pack. Special instruction was given on the Union Jack, and the health tests.

ST. JAMES' PACK, No. 19.

On Tuesday evening 20 boys attended. One new boy joined. A well-planned programme was carried out. Many star tests were passed.

KIRK PACK, No. 9.

At the meeting on Thursday 15 boys were present, including one new one. A jolly programme of games and tests was carried out. Sixer Donald Cunningham completed his First Star tests, and Dalton Fulton passed his tenderfoot tests. As soon as they have mastered the art of skipping backwards the required number of times, several of the Cubs will complete their First Stars. The pack is making real progress. This week the meeting will start at 6:30 p. m.

ST. PAUL'S PACK, No. 2.

The second meeting of the season was under the direction of the new leaders, Misses I. Lyon and W. Wood-ley. Three sixes were formed, named the Silvers, Reds and Grays. Keen competition has started already. Last Saturday a jolly hike to How's Cave was enjoyed, and a tracking game carried out. The pack was glad to welcome the assistant district commissioner for Wolf Cubs at last Thursday's meeting.

U. N. B. Now Only 3 Points Off 100 For Year's Total

University of New Brunswick showed some of the form this year in the Maritimes this year on Saturday afternoon against the Trojans and although minus the sterling services of two of its stars, McCaffrey and Donohoe, they managed to pile up a 19 to 0 score against the local lads, running up their grand total for the season up to 97 points and three against. At no stage of Saturday's game were they seriously extended, 75 per cent of the play being in the local territory.

McPhail, playing third line, made the first try and Fraser failed to convert it. Later in the period from a scrimmage on the five-yard line, the U. N. B. forwards dribbled the ball across the line and scored again. This time Fraser booted the pigskin over the bar for the two additional points. The period ended with the score 8-0.

kicking off and the play was pretty well in the Canucks' territory. A National forward, received a pass and made a try in the second half the Canucks fought hard and forced the play into the National territory and on a scrimmage the ball was carried forward on the scrum and Duff made a try. The referee awarded the score to the Canucks. A crowd rushed on the grounds and, as it was nearly time for the final, the Canucks' manager held that the Nationals objected to the score and refused to play, and accordingly the referee, A. Linton, awarded the game to the Canucks. The manager of the Nationals claims that his team did not refuse to continue the game but declares that while his team was making its objections the referee awarded the game to the Canucks and walked off the field five minutes before the time for finishing.

SPEAKS OF CHINA

Rev. Dr. J. L. Stewart, Mission Worker, Heard in City Churches

The situation in China today as regards the anti-foreign feeling is decidedly more reassuring in the opinion of Rev. Dr. J. L. Stewart who is now in Saint John and spoke in two of the city churches yesterday.

Dr. Stewart has spent 23 years in mission work in China and is vice-president of the West China Union University as well as professor of psychology and philosophy on the college staff.

Dr. Stewart spoke in the Fairville United church yesterday morning and in the Portland United church in the evening. He described the characteristics of the native people and of the country in which they live.

Dr. Stewart said the cause for the anti-foreign demonstration had been much deeper than the incident of the killing of students. It was found in China's demand for her rights to set her own tariff and extra territorial problems.

A commission is now sitting in Peking to look into the matter of Chinese tariff and customs and on Nov. 14 a commission on extra territoriality would be convened.

The first appeal of the United Church of Canada on behalf of its regular work at home and abroad is meeting with a most gratifying response throughout the Dominion.

Dr. McConnell spoke in the Exmouth Street United Church yesterday morning and was the preacher in the Queen Square United Church in the evening when large congregations were present at both services.

He spoke in the interests of the maintenance and extension fund of the church and said that the people everywhere were realizing that the church had entered upon a tremendous task and were displaying a splendid loyalty and great generosity.

Dr. McConnell leaves today for Halifax.

W. F. Yetman, 84 Wellington Row, informed the police yesterday morning he had found a parcel containing two men's shirts and a piece of oilcloth left in an alley adjoining his home.

Inventor of Movie Projector Unnoticed At Film Event

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—As Julius Miller, president of the Borough of Manhattan, tapped in place the cornerstone of the new Fox Film Exchange at 845 West Forty-fourth street, a frail, white-haired man stood in the background behind a score of others who no doubt felt they had more right to be up in front.

The man in the rear was Jean A. LeRoy, a machinist, of 941 West Forty-fourth street, who invented the motion picture projector in 1894 and failed to patent it.

He came to the cornerstone laying, unknown and unheard of by many of those present, although four strips of film run by him through his projector in 1894 were in the stone. They were the coronation scene of Edward VII, a fire scene, a storm scene, and one called "Washing the Baby."

Mr. LeRoy had shown them all at 5 Beckman street, and "Washing the Baby" was one of the first pictures produced by Thomas A. Edison.

Mr. LeRoy's invention of the projector made its presentation and the presentation of all the other pictures and "superpictures" possible, also the huge industry which employs tens of thousands of persons, pays millions of dollars a year to actors and directors and has brought great fortunes to producers and exhibitors who entertain every night millions of persons throughout the world.

He stood on the outskirts of the crowd while a movie photographer took pictures of the building and the celebration. He was unknown and unnoticed until an employee of the Fox Film Company saw him and brought him forward. As the final sentence of a notice sent out by the Fox Film Company said: "Mr. LeRoy, whose shop at 841 West Forty-fourth street is the next door but one to the new exchange, was present at the ceremony."

Mr. LeRoy did not patent his invention and he got practically nothing for it.
