

When Asepto Gives a Helping Hand, Washing Labor is Halved.

A tablespoonful to a bucket of water is plenty. Leave the clothes in this preparation for two hours—and attend to other household duties. After the time is up, you will be amazed to see how rapidly the dirt disappears—and without the use of the destructive wash-board.

ASEPTO cleans better than soap—is a harmless, odorless, antiseptic soap powder. Costs but 5c. a package, at all discerning grocers.

A Romance of Modern New York and Paris

By Hudson Douglas

"I hope not," she answered demurely and the dancing continued in the shadow of the long lashes which had encircled them.

"It wouldn't matter at all if it had," he assured her, convincingly. "I'll dig it out though it's half way through to Ceylon."

She was smiling outright now.

"Are you always so successful?" she asked, and he thought that something of challenge lurked behind the straightforward question.

"Always," he replied with a whimsical gravity wherewith she laughed aloud.

"How pleasant that must be—for you," she said lightly.

"Success is certainly pleasant to defeat," he admitted, and faced about leaving her, a little abruptly, having no further commonplace at his command, not yet daring to give voice to any more personal speech.

She was no altogether adorable as she stood there before him, straight and slender and fearless, the sea-wind blowing her wild-rose cheeks, the sun playing hide-and-seek with the lights and shadows among her tresses, that he could not turn himself against the grave-grown woman in the eyes again. And he would no more look furtively at her. Wherefore he occupied himself for a space with the ostentatious object of their joint interest.

But, turn up the sand as he might, the missing armlet was not forthcoming, and a dozen times, he sat down with a great air of exhaustion, not too far from where she was leaning against the grave-grown bank, which dropped from the belt of wood to the shore.

"I thought Mrs. Smith's cat," he said casually, having once more recovered full use of his faculties.

"Oh, did you?" she exclaimed. "I'm glad because she was a good little cat."

"I'm sure I shall," he agreed, grateful that she approved the proceeding.

"I've been wondering," she went on with a quick inspiration, "whether I might perhaps be permitted to leave it with Mrs. Smith, until I move down here, on living at the Fifth Avenue in Manhattan at present, and I've another car to me. It would be a great convenience to me. I could get her to make some use of it, and so keep it in tune till—"

"I'm afraid she couldn't consent to such an arrangement," he said quietly.

"I'm staying with Mrs. Smith," she added, "and so I know most of her plans."

This nonplussed Quintance could not but pursue that subject, and a glance upward, to see whether his suggestion had caused her any offence, almost cost him his self-control again.

"This is a charming spot," he said, somewhat lamely, feeling very hard that he should have to limit himself to such banalities while words of so much more import were on the tip of his tongue. But he realized that he could not be too cautious in his words and conduct on this occasion, when the least slip might lose him all he had so far won from Dame Fortune, and maybe more. He had listened as Mrs. Smith's probable opinion of his behaviour, and could not afford a single false step lest he forfeit his precarious standing with the girl as well.

"Very," she replied easily. "I'm very fond of it."

"I love it," he averred with great fervor, and got up suddenly to resume occupation.

He had almost asked her whether she did not prefer it to such scenes as that in which they had first encountered each other, in Martin's, but recollected that time that she probably would not care to be reminded of that incident. Later on, when they should have learned to know each other better, when she should have become accustomed to meeting him as a neighbor, there would be time enough to clear up the vague atmosphere of mystery which still encompassed her.

He had already decided that he must settle down in Stormport, as close to the bungalow as he could find, and to shelter him, and at the moment, the best way to her good graces would be forthwith to find the bracelet.

That it was which must constitute an enduring between them.

"Did you go far beyond the other edge of the creek?" he asked brookly, adventurous a brief glance at her from the brink.

"Are you quite sure that you dropped it in the water?"

A sea-bird cried shrilly from the marsh beyond the bridge, hidden from sight by the intervening trees, and at the sound she started again, her eyes dilated.

TAILORED SUIT IN WALKING LENGTH.

Very few trailing skirts will be worn during the summer, except on extremely formal occasions, though the style will probably be taken up again in the fall for summer outing wear. The double-breasted coat has—instead of the usual revers—a natty little satin collar with a loose tie, and satin cuffs to match the sleeves. The skirt is a simple gored model opening down the side front with a row of buttons and finished at the bottom with a bias band of the material.

AROSHA'S EVIDENCE ADMITTED

STRONG PROTEST IS OVERRULED

Lawyers for Defence in Andover Murder Case Contend That as Arosha is Condemned for Murder He is Civilly Dead and Cannot Testify

Andover, N. B., April 21.—Tony Arosha, the condemned Italian youth who is sentenced to die on the gallows in Andover, May 4, and the star crown witness in the murder trial against his three compatriots, after his confession under oath this afternoon and the objections of the defence counsel, that he being a condemned man and civilly dead was inadmissible to testify, but they were overruled by Judge McLeod.

Dr. Taylor of Plaster Rock, who conducted the trial, stated that the crown would prove that Murray and the Hatch brothers plotted, aided and abetted the murder of Alexander Parasky and they are therefore equally guilty as the actual murderers.

Dr. Taylor, of Plaster Rock, who conducted an autopsy on the body of the murdered man, was the first witness examined.

Treuman Dell, a time keeper at Johnson's Bros. camp, No. 2, swore to seeing Green three days prior to his murder and Antonio Arosha he escorted to court from his death cell, and when the youth was led into court Mr. McKeown submitted the testimony given by him at the trial.

The solicitor general thereupon procured the sanction of his honor to order that Antonio Arosha be escorted to court from his death cell, and when the youth was led into court Mr. McKeown submitted the testimony given by him at the trial.

Mr. Jones contended that as Arosha was an accomplice certain corroborative evidence must be introduced before Arosha's testimony was given.

The solicitor general argued contra.

The oath was then administered to Arosha and with Mr. Carter conducting the direct examination the rotund youth commenced the narration of the connection of Murray and the Hatches with the crime. He stated, in English, that he was aware that he would be hanged some time in May and was resigned to his fate.

At this point, as the answer of the witness was somewhat unintelligible, the translation process with the interpreter was commenced. Mr. Carvell's objection to irrelevant testimony was sustained.

Tony stated that he exchanged a gun and revolver for a watch and on the Friday night previous to the Sunday on which the murder was committed, he and Seppeli departed from their camp, returning on a Saturday night. After some macaroni had been eaten by both he and Leon and also Murray, the Hatches and the young son of James Hatch, Murray broached the subject of killing Green and Parasky, the peddlers, adding that if the deed was committed they would be wealthy on Sunday morning. Murray asked him and presenting him with a knife and gun advised him to accompany Arosha out of the camp and to slay the two peddlers.

He identified the knife, in the possession of the crown, as the one in question and saw Andrew Hatch parsing cheese with it on a previous occasion. Murray accompanied him and Seppeli from the camp to the dump, some distance away, where he expressed his reluctance to fulfil his mission, but was dissuaded from returning by Murray, who reassured him by asserting that many murders are committed in

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bellefleur, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—Mrs. E. HATEL, Valleyfield, Bellefleur, Quebec.

Another Operation Avoided. Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered under many female troubles, and my doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it most as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—Lena V. HENRY, R.F.D.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirm the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

CLEVELAND TORNADO KILLED SIX PEOPLE

Five Minute Storm Injured Fifty Others, and Did $1,000,000 Damage

Cleveland, Ohio, April 21.—Six persons were killed, nine more fatally hurt and at least fifty were injured and property valued at more than $1,000,000 was destroyed by a tornado which swept through Cleveland, northern Ohio, today.

Unidentified woman, blown into a pond at Wade Park and last night only five minutes.

The storm rose suddenly and lasted only five minutes. At 12:30 o'clock the sun was shining brightly. At 12:35 o'clock it was dark as darkness. From the northeast struck down by flying bricks and timbers which killed the air.

In the blinding rain pedestrians were blown off their feet and hurled against buildings, while in many cases they were struck down by flying bricks and timbers which killed the air.

Roofs were lifted from houses, wells were hurled and strongly braced smokestacks and chimneys were demolished.

Twelve school buildings were damaged and many pupils, but remarkable escapes, but none was seriously hurt.

BRONCHITIS MORE THAN A COLD

Sometimes It Becomes Chronic and Returns Again and Again, Wearing Out Its Victim.

At Other Times It Develops Rapidly Into Pneumonia—Care is Found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Lined and Turpentine.

Any cold is serious enough when it develops into pneumonia, but when it develops into chronic bronchitis, which is often confused with an ordinary cold.

It is usually known by aching limbs and body pains, chilly feelings, weakness and weakness, pain in the chest and a tight, tearing cough. Fever, dry skin, thirst, coated tongue and constipation are other symptoms.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Lined and Turpentine seems almost like a specific for bronchitis because it is so successful in loosening up the cough, aiding expectoration and preventing the inflammation from reaching the lungs.

Bronchitis is particularly dreaded because of its tendency to develop into pneumonia and even when this does not result bronchitis is likely to return again and again whenever a slight cold is taken until it wears out even the most vigorous system.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Lined and Turpentine is so prompt in affording relief and so thorough and far-reaching in action that it succeeds when ordinary cough medicines have no influence.

Mr. James F. Thompson, Yonge Mills, Leeds Co., Ont., writes: "Last winter my two boys were so bad with colds on the chest or bronchitis that they coughed all night and could get no rest or sleep. Several cough remedies were tried to no avail until I was told about Dr. Chase's Syrup of Lined and Turpentine and this treatment soon cured them." 25 cts. a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Stale bread should be thoroughly dried in the oven, then ground to a powder—a rolling pin will do—and put away in cans to be ready at any time for croquettes or scalloped omelets of any kind.

HITS THE POOR MAN The conflicting interests which met at Fredericton yesterday to discuss the amendments to the St. John assessment law agreed upon a compromise which gives some relief to men of income from $400 to $900. These will be exempted on $230 of the amount, and will pay on the balance, with a $2 poll tax added. Persons whose income is $300 or under will be exempt, but must pay a poll tax of $5, and to them the gain is extremely small. The claim is made that this change will increase the revenue. If so it will be at the expense of the very poor man, who is least able to pay. The change is declared to be fairly satisfactory to the representatives of working men who were present at Fredericton, but they speak for a class which has an income larger than $400, and who therefore will gain by the change. If the very poor man, least able to pay taxes, had any friends at the capital, they did not distinguish themselves by the force or effect of their appeals in his behalf. The banks, the street railway and the express companies were more fortunate.

DR. GRENFELL All who have met or heard Dr. Grenfell have been greatly impressed by the outstanding personality of the medical missionary of the Labrador. The Toronto World pays him this striking tribute:—"Dr. Grenfell's manly and vigorous personality is sufficient in itself to account for the success he has attained in his long sea mission work. His simplicity, his earnestness, his conviction, present an irresistible appeal. Dr. Grenfell's message is a thoroughly practical one. The only thing that will make a man happy and at peace with himself is work. That is what he starts with, and he illustrates the view with plenty of experiences. A man who has plenty of money and has not found time to devote to some noble and beneficent work, is a man who is a curse to himself and to his country. Dr. Grenfell follows this example in the Labrador. He is the man who has turned out twelve good men. He did that, and more, and Dr. Grenfell believes that personal influence in this fashion counts for more than does all the oratorical appeal made from the pulpit."

THE WHEAT MARKET There is a sharp dispute in the United States over the question whether the shortage in wheat is real or imaginary. The New York Journal of Commerce says: "The agricultural department of the government, calculating from its statistics of last year's crop and the market movements since, reported a quantity still in farmers' hands on the first of March amounting to 143,000,000 bushels, which would indicate no actual shortage in this country. Secretary Wilson insists upon the substantial correctness of the figures. This would indicate a supply, visible and invisible, somewhat larger than last year, when 35,000,000 bushels of wheat of the 1907 crop were exported after March 1 and 70,000,000 bushels were carried over to the next market year. On the other hand, Mr. Fatten, on the other hand, declares that the government statistics are all wrong, and claims to have more accurate information. He professes to believe, or rather to know, that the acreage and the yield of last year were greatly over stated and that the farmers do not hold anything like the quantity estimated from the Agricultural Department's returns." Whether there is a shortage or not, prices have soared, and are expected to go still higher. The Journal sums up the situation thus:—"The millers and bakers and the buyers of daily bread will not find much comfort in this controversy, as the sound of the grinding gets low and the loaf shrinks in size or rises in price, nor will they be

HEARD ADDRESSES IN MISSION CAUSE Rev. Dr. Gould Tells W. A. of Conditions in Turkey—Canon Smithers Speaks on Home Missions

The afternoon session of the Women's Auxiliary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England included the reading of the reports of the Dorcas secretary, the designation of life membership and the election of the baby's branch secretary and the answering of questions by juniors. These latter were afterwards addressed by Miss E. G. Grant, the branch secretary of the baby's branch.

Of the thirty-eight missions in the diocese, he said, twelve were now vacant, but it was hoped to have them supplied at least during the summer. He made a plea for larger salaries and the appointment of an organizing secretary for the diocese. In organizing the diocese he suggested a redistribution of the parishes, equalizing the work. This would call for more men, but if the church could not put men in they could not continue to hold their own. In conclusion, he appealed to the women's auxiliary to offer their sons to the work of the ministry.

The Lancet, London, agrees fully with the action of the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture in this country in pulling against the bleaching of wheat flour. "The public," says the Lancet, "would be well advised to abandon the fallacious theory that the whiteness of bread is a mark of its quality. On the contrary, it nearly always means an insipid, unwholesome bread, and an attractive flavor is a factor of considerable importance in connection with the digestibility of food. The destruction of the natural color of flour by bleaching agents synchronizes with the destruction of its attractive flavor. Such tampering with the 'starch of life' should be made illegal." —New York Tribune.

HOW YOU CAN A BE BOY AT SIXTY

There's no rational excuse for a man who is not yet sixty years old grunting and complaining about pains in his back, stiffness in his shoulders and legs, that "fired feeling," weak back, nervousness, indigestion, constipation and failure of vitality. It should not be. Nature started you with a constitution that ought to have held you good until you are eighty, and you ought to feel like a boy now. But you have overdone some things and wasted your vitality. You still have the constitution, but lack the force. That's electricity. You know that electricity is vitality. Electricity will restore it.

Dear Sir,—Having passed the critical time in which I expected to have the rheumatism return on me, being a year ago since I was so bad, I thought I would let you know how I was getting along. Well, I am as well as I expected, and certainly feel that your Belt has done me a world of good. Wishing you continued success in your good work.—W. REYNOLDS, Paris, Ont.

New Lace and Net CURTAINS Of Exceptional Value

NEVER before have we had such a splendid stock of Lace and Net Curtains. They are from new makers who supply the New York market and the designs are entirely away from the ordinary curtain patterns.

Pretty net centrecurtains, in delicate designs and single border, for small sitting rooms, at one dollar and a quarter a pair. Excellent Egyptian designs, extra wide curtains, at one dollar and seventy-five. Handsome double border, net centre curtains, for large windows, at two fifty.

Have you seen the new cable net or knitted curtains, that are made in Louis XV. designs and are exact reproductions of Irish point curtains that would cost double the price. They are very strong, too; are said to outwear two pairs of point curtains. These cable net curtains come at from three twenty-five to six fifty.

Come and see our curtain stock before buying elsewhere—it may not be as large as some other stocks, but you will receive every attention, and it will be a pleasure to show you every line. Catalogue to mail customers.

COMPROMISE REACHED ON INCOME TAX BILL

$300 Incomes are Exempt and $5 Poll Tax is Levied—Incomes of $400 to $900 Get $200 Off and Poll Tax of $2—No Increase in Assessment on Banks—Street Railway Clause is Cut Out

Fredericton, N. B., April 21.—St. John had full possession of the house today. Ald. Pickett arrived last night, and this morning Recorder Skinner and Ald. Baxter, Kelley, McGoldrick and Elkin put in an appearance at a meeting of the municipal committee, which was held in the assembly chamber.

The committee had a number of bills before them, and it was noon before the St. John bills were reached. Those of minor importance were quickly disposed of and before noon the municipal committee had passed a bill, in which general interest centred, was reached. A large delegation, representing the city, was present at a public meeting of the city which was held at the city hall, and the bill was passed by a large majority.

The only other bill before the committee was one from St. Stephen, which is largely a revision of the town charter, as it applies to water works. In the house this afternoon, Hon. Mr. Hazen introduced a bill to increase the salary of the chief commissioner of public works and of the surveyor-general and chief commissioner for agriculture remain the same for the present at least.

Mr. Hazen's reply was properly characterized by Mr. Robinson as an "appendix to the report of the commission." It is in the nature of a plan that nobody will be deceived by its wording.

That there is a growing feeling in the rural districts against automobiles is apparent from the number of petitions that are being presented to the house in opposition to the unrestricted use of the roads. The matter is being referred to several times in the house and was considered by the agricultural committee, and it is now in the hands of a special committee, and it is very likely that legislation will be introduced fixing regulations which those who own automobiles will be subject to and providing penalties for their violation.

It is not unusual that the automobile owners pay little or no respect to the rights of others on the highways, and it is this want of consideration that has brought about the present conditions. There are now about 150 automobiles licensed in this province and the number is increasing rapidly. The bill does not include provisions brought in from the United States by tourists or those from other provinces.

Among the bills introduced today were the order in the grounds surrounding St. Peter's church, and another to amend the act of incorporation of Campbellton. This makes provision for a change in the fiscal year to the 31st day of March, and another to give power to issue licenses, vests certain powers in the council now exercised by the water and light committee, requires the accounts to be published a month before the elections and to grant power to issue $30,000 in debentures for the extension of the water and light service. The Fredricton Board of School Trustees are seeking authority to issue $40,000 in debentures to extend existing bonds. Prorogation is expected early next week. The following bills were read a third time.

To incorporate the Moncton Electric Tramway Co.; to authorize the guarantee of bonds of N. B. Cold Storage Co.; to amend the act incorporating the Logging and Campbellton Ry.; to incorporate Corthian Lodge, and to authorize the exchange of certain lands. The house adjourned at 6 o'clock. The corporations committee met at 8 o'clock. The bill to amend the act to incorporate the New Brunswick Cold Storage was reported favorably without amendment. The Tobacco Pulp and Paper Company bill was further considered. Mr. Finlayson, of the marine and fisheries department, Ottawa, was heard. In speaking of the weight of the proposed dam, forty feet, he said the department had no records or knowledge of fish ascending a forty-foot dam. He had a lot of experience in Scotland and in Canada, and twelve to fifteen feet was about the extreme height. Asked the effect of acids from a pulp mill upon salmon fry, he said it would undoubtedly kill them and at the same time be injurious to the large salmon. To questions by Hon. Mr. Hazen, Mr. Finlayson said he was engaged in the fish culture in Scotland before coming to Canada and had been connected with the fish culture branch of the marine and fisheries department for the past eleven years. From his experience both in Scotland and Canada he would say that it was impractical to construct a forty-foot dam. He said that salmon would ascend a forty-foot dam in Ontario there was a fishway in a forty-foot dam, and although many changes had been made in the fishway and experiments tried, yet they had not succeeded in getting a single salmon to go up it. Mr. Powell questioned the speaker as to the feasibility of constructing a fishway forty feet high in four successive steps, with pools or resting places between. Mr. Finlayson did not think fish would

MILLIONS OF CELLS

The human body is composed of countless millions of cells. These cells are constantly dying and new ones are being created. Dead cells are removed from the blood by the bowels, kidneys and skin. The great eliminating organs filter this waste matter from the blood, and thus purify the blood.

If there is constipation, or non-action of the bowels—if the kidneys are strained or weakened—if there is defective skin action—then the dead cells are not removed from the body. The blood thus becomes loaded with impurities, and we suffer for it. The only way to purify the blood is to cure the skin, bowels and kidneys. When these organs are healthy and doing their work as nature intended them to do it, waste matter is promptly removed and the blood is kept pure and rich. "Fruit-a-tives" purify the blood by acting directly on the skin, the bowels and the kidneys. "Fruit-a-tives" purify the blood because they keep the whole body strong, vigorous and healthy. 60¢ a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box 25¢. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

even made an attempt to go up such a fishway. The slope of the fishway should be about one foot in ten. Mr. Powell stated that Mr. Culler had consulted the most eminent authorities in the United States and had been informed that it was feasible to construct a successful fishway in a dam forty feet high if the company was willing to incur the expense. Further consideration of the bill was postponed until tomorrow morning. The bill to incorporate the International Power Company, Ltd., was considered and reported upon favorably. The bill to amend the act to incorporate the Canadian Terminal Railway Company was considered. Mr. Marsh, one of the promoters, explained the bill. It was desired to build and operate a line of railway from L'Etang, in the county of Charlotte, to some point on the St. John river near Fredericton, so as to connect with the Transcontinental railway. The promoters were interested in trade between the Canadian west and the West Indies and would secure freight from the Grand Trunk Pacific and Intercolonial railways at Fredericton and ship the same at their terminals at L'Etang. The bill was reported favorably. The bill to incorporate the Bathurst Skating & Curling Rink Company was reported favorably.

Thomas Leonard of the death occurred at the home of his father, Andrew Leonard, last Thursday at noon, after a protracted illness of seven years. As a young man he entered the teaching profession and then took a course at Acadia College, entering the Baptist ministry. Rev. C. G. Finlayson conducted the funeral service at the funeral home of the deceased. The funeral home of the deceased was at the residence of the deceased. The funeral home of the deceased was at the residence of the deceased.

George Parlee

Postmaster Sears received a telegram from J. Frost, 743 West 80th street, Chicago, last evening, asking him to find William Parlee, who is connected with the St. John public schools, and notify him that his brother George died in Chicago yesterday morning. This is taken to refer to Wm. H. Parlee, principal of Victoria school, who has been on leave of absence for some time. It was said last night that Mr. Parlee is in Ipswich (Mass.), and Mr. Sears directed a telegram to him there notifying him of the death of his brother. Mr. Parlee, in partnership with a man named Moffat, conducted about the largest commission business in this city before the end of 1877. Their store was on Gorman street, nearly opposite the market. The firm dissolved and Mr. Parlee went to the States. He came back again, but did not remain long before returning to the west.

James D. McCarthy

James D. McCarthy, who died in South Boston last week, was in his early life a popular resident of St. John. He was a member of the old Shamrock club in the seventies. He was employed for years in Mullin Bros' clothing establishment in Dock street. He is survived by his wife and two children.

SICK WOMEN MADE WELL

Thousands Find Their Way Back to Health Through Ferreroze. No need for so many sick girls and women. Their ills are curable if they give them proper treatment. Nutrition must be supplied, blood must be enriched, nerves strengthened, and additional power given to digestion. Ferreroze does this and more; it cures such cases as Mrs. N. E. Peabody, of Trenton. FREE CANADIAN WHEAT TO STOP MANIPULATION

The Only Effective Measure, U. S. Flour Men Say Would Protect From Congestion of Supplies at Critical Times, Besides Giving United States Command of the Export Market

(New York Journal of Commerce.) "I thoroughly believe it would be to the decided interest of not only the farmers, but the dairymen, millers and users of flour, to have the duty on Canadian wheat removed. It is a well known fact that the milling industry of this country is due to a large extent to the wheat and flour from the great markets of the United Kingdom and the Continent. Entrance of Canadian wheat into this country without duty would place us on a good competing basis for these markets. Then again, the removal of the duty on Canadian wheat would lead to a very large extent to the exportation of surplus wheat and flour from congestion of supplies of wheat and flour from manipulation."

ZABRISKIE BELIEVES HIGH FLOUR PRICES WILL NOT BE FOR LONG. "This is not a 10,000,000-bushel scalping market," said Mr. George A. Zabriskie, of the Pillsbury-Washburn Company, "and it is quite beyond Mr. Patten."

VIEWS OF OTHER MILL MEN ON THE PRESENT SITUATION. Mr. A. Ruyter, of the Hecker-Jones-Jewell Milling Co., while taking an almost hopeless view of the possibility of securing any early action from Congress relative to the Canadian duty, believes that before many years have elapsed we must deal with the problem presented by increased population and a decreased per capita production of wheat. What the country is just now realizing through the

CLUB PLANNED FOR BACHELOR MAIDS

St. Louis Real Estate Man is Planning an Interesting Experiment

St. Louis, April 20—One hundred self-supporting or financially independent women will be eligible to a club which S. F. Addington, a well known St. Louis real estate man, is projecting. Bachelor maids, school teachers, artists, private secretaries, music teachers or any young woman of good character able to pay $10 to $12 a month for a room with first-class accommodations may obtain membership in the club. There are at least 1,000 young women of this class in St. Louis, Mr. Addington believes, who would appreciate such an institution. It will not be a charity project, neither is it planned to make big money for the members of eventually becoming part owners in the building and its furnishings.

Prominent St. Louis men and women, some of whom are members of the larger clubs, have talked with Mr. Addington about his idea and have approved it. He believes he will get financial support from many of these, although all the money needed for carrying out his plans is his hands.

Mr. Addington owns the lot on which it is proposed to erect the clubhouse. It is about a half block west of Taylor avenue, on the south side of Washington boulevard. The lot is 75x200 feet, and the property is worth $115 a foot.

The total cost of the club will not exceed $20,000. The building Mr. Addington has in mind is to be not more than three stories in height, and will contain fifty sleeping rooms.

Mr. Addington said: "I have had this scheme in mind several months. It is not going to be a charity in the ordinary sense. The women I seek to accommodate are those who would not accept charity."

"It is not planned to provide for shop girls. That class of girls, while just as deserving as the others, already is provided for very amply in St. Louis."

"The ones I hope to interest in club life are those young women who hold responsible positions, such as school teachers or professional women like artists and musicians, and women with enough means to be classed as independent."

"I will want for club members women who cannot afford to live in the first-class hotels."

"On the lot I have there is enough room to build a clubhouse which will embrace, besides the sleeping quarters, a cafe, gymnasium, bowling alley and other features designed for mental and physical recreation. I think that all of this can be accomplished and that the cost of living in the club can be fixed midway between the prices charged in a first-class hotel and in a boarding house, say from $10 to $12 a month for a room for each member."

Jeanette is Out With a Sweeping Challenge to the Heavyweight Fighters

New York, April 21—Jeanette, who defeated McVey in a finish fight in Paris Saturday night, is out with a sweeping challenge to fight Jack Johnson, Sam Langford, Al Kaufman or any other heavyweight in the world. He says that as soon as Johnson arrives in England he will post a forfeit and demand a limited round bout in London, or a battle to a finish in the French metropolis. Jeanette has repeatedly asserted that he can whip Johnson and gives as a reason that in five out of six bouts with Johnson in this country he held his own.

Charles Henry, the well-known horseman, is making things go in Calgary. At a recent horse show his stallion Game Healer took first prize, as did also his 1908 filly Ethel Be Sure. In the class for standard bred mares, Queen He Sure carried off second honors. Mr. Henry recently imported three fast ones from Toronto and one from Montana, and has already established a noted stable in the western town.

SPRING EXODUS OF AMERICAN FARMERS TO CANADIAN WEST

(Minneapolis, April 20—Seventy carloads of farmers, with their wives, babies, chickens, pigs, cows and farming tools, are being taken en route to the Saskatchewan country.

As happy and prosperous a community as wheels ever pass through the Midway, according to J. R. Hayden, chief clerk of the Minnesota Transfer Company, had arrived to take a brief rest before resuming their journey. Fifteen of the seventy are immigrant cars and the rest are freight cars, fitted up with as choice an assortment of cattle, plows, vegetables, seed and hay as the Western farmer can command.

In the immigrant cars the families of the farmers are gathered among stables, shawls, fruit and furcoats, while the sir is resident with the odor of steaming coal. Doy-checked babies roll and tumble on the cane seats of the cars, while the mothers scurry to and fro from the range to the place which is their temporary bedroom, kitchen and parlor. Young men and old men, people who have been married for years, and young folks who will be married soon are in evidence. Already some of the rustic youths have "screwed their courage to the sticking point" and invited their bosom acquaintances to accompany them while they water the stock in the car ahead.

The shadow of the transfer station had had to take the place of the old orchard at home, and it is whispered among the old folks that the young people have caught the spirit which makes emigration a success, and are beginning to "sit up" with each other and talk about houses and crops.

Among those who travel in the freight cars with the stock and household furniture, plows and dogs (for every party has at least one dog) is Mrs. Walter Anderson, of Audubon, Ia. Mrs. Anderson is traveling with her two boys, Willie and Arthur, aged three and five years. In spite of the rules which permit only one person to a car when the freight cars are used, the company made exception in Mrs. Anderson's case, and allowed her to take her two boys in the car with her.

Mrs. Anderson is the pluckiest woman in the whole army. She decided to go to the Saskatchewan country when the time was started. With only a woman's strength, but dauntless courage, she has undertaken the most difficult position that could fall to the lot of a woman—that of pioneering in a new country where she says that she hopes to establish a lucrative farming business.

The Canada-bound immigrants are not the only home seekers at the midway. Scattered through the yards are cars of the same description as those bound for the Saskatchewan country. Many are on their way to the farming country in North Dakota. James Fordum, a young farmer on his way to Bowman county, N. Dak., from Iowa, declared this morning that 5,000 persons, to his knowledge, settled in Bowman county last year, and they all came from Iowa.

"How do you feel about this Canadian proposition?" Mr. Fordum asked a young man who was dividing his attention between a young colt who was whinnying for his mother and a huge coffee pot which threatened to boil over at any moment.

"I like the proposition," said the young fellow. "The land is cheaper up there. One can get more for his money. Yes, I'm glad I'm going up there, but," he said as he recurred the coffee pot from the blaze as the first rumblings of boiling became manifest, "I don't quite like the idea of leaving the States. I have thought over it a long time, but I guess a man can be as loyal to the Stars and Stripes up here as down here."

At this juncture some of the coffee "went down the wrong way," and, choking, he turned to busy himself with the colt.

The Luce Land and Development Company, of St. Paul, is responsible for the present instance of exodus of farmers into Canada. At points all over Iowa, Indiana, Nebraska and Wisconsin parties have been forming to take advantage of the lands in the Tramping Lake district of Saskatchewan. The largest contingent of home seekers arrived by way of the Great Western. The Omaha and Rock Island also brought in a large number of the farmers, and tomorrow night all the cars will be made into one large train and started on its way, via the Great Northern.

The aggregate capital of the party, counting the cost of farm machinery and stock represented along with the money to be invested, amounts to $1,000,000 and the total output of crops per year has been estimated in advance at half that figure.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

There is considerable interest in the make-up of the Inter-Society ball league teams this season. Many old players are to again don the uniform and there will be some new blood. There is also talk of artists from Maryland and Moncton offering with local teams.

GAMES POSTPONED

New York, April 21—Inclement weather and wet grounds caused the opening of the American League season in New York set for today with the Washington Club to be postponed until tomorrow.

The opening of the National League season in Brooklyn is scheduled for tomorrow with game between the Brooklyn and New York. Because of the high tide of baseball interest it is not thought that the conflict of tomorrow's openings caused by today's postponement will affect the attendances either in Brooklyn or New York.

WILL CELEBRATE ST. GEORGE'S DAY

Englishmen the World Over Will Celebrate the Anniversary of Their Patron Saint Tomorrow — Something About St. George's Society

"Tis a glorious charter, deny it who can, 'That's breathed in the words—I'm an Englishman."

Tomorrow, April 23, will be celebrated the world over wherever there are Englishmen, as the anniversary of England's patron saint, St. George. Here in St. John, St. George's Society will celebrate the occasion with a reception and dance in Keith's assembly room, in the evening, and during the day the flag of St. George—a red cross on a white field—will be flown from various buildings about the city.

"Ring English bells, your festal peal, 'Bring Roses, red and white, 'Upborn in many a fight; 'This is our England's month of months, 'This is her day of days, 'Unspread the Banner of St. George, 'Red Cross and White upraise."

The objects of St. George's Society are to foster a spirit of patriotism and nationality, to promote social intercourse among its members and to extend aid to Englishmen and Welshmen or their descendants, or their widows and orphans.

The above clause is from the constitution of the society, but the objects comprise a broader field and are really identical with those of The Royal Society of St. George, London, of which H. R. H., the Prince of Wales is president, viz:— To encourage and strengthen the spirit of patriotism amongst all of English birth or descent, irrespective of creed or party, and to maintain that spirit of fraternal union and sentiment of race, which should animate all of kindred blood, helping to preserve those distinctive characteristics, traditions and culture which have contributed to make the English pre-eminent the world over.

To maintain the recognition and celebration of St. George's Day—the old English Festival Day of St. George—and the anniversary of the birth and death of Shakespeare—April 23rd.

To further British interests by every possible means and to render assistance in the conduct of all English and patriotic movements.

The St. George's Society of St. John has always endeavored to live up to these objects, and aim point with pride to many acts and celebrations in commemoration of notable events, such as the placing of the bust of her late Majesty Queen Victoria (of glorious memory) in Trinity church in Jubilee year 1887; their participation in the diamond jubilee of 1897; subscriptions and donations to funds for men of the St. John contingent during the war in South Africa, and the celebration of the Thirteenth centennial in 1908.

But in keeping alive patriotism and celebrating such events for the honor of old England, the society does not forget its duty of charity—a special charity fund is maintained, a special charity commission is annually elected, and a great number of cases of unfortunate Englishmen are considered and alleviated by grants of money and help in obtaining employment. This is a most important work of the society. Some idea of the results may be formed from the fact that during the first ten months of this year, 1909, no less than 64 men of English birth or descent have been assisted with financial help or aid in obtaining employment.

The society now numbers over 140 members and the membership grows year by year.

The celebration in the assembly rooms this year is expected to be one of the most successful ever held.

A large number of tickets have been disposed of and no doubt there will be a big attendance. A programme of dances will be arranged, including a "merry dance," and the 62nd Band will furnish music. The rooms will be appropriately decorated with the colors of the society.

"Tis a rich rough gem, deny it who can, 'The heart of a true born Englishman."

POLICE COURT

Five Prisoners Faced the Magistrate This Morning—All Were Dealt With

Five prisoners faced the police magistrate this morning in the police court and were quickly disposed of. Harry Hampton who was arrested by Policemen A. H. Ross and McNamee on Charlotte street about 10 o'clock last night is charged with being drunk and using profane language. He is also said to have insulted a woman, near the market building. He was remanded until this afternoon.

Michael Daley who was arrested by Sergeant Campbell between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning on the charge of indecent conduct, was likewise sent to the cells until this afternoon.

Carl Schultz who was begging money from passengers on the C. P. R. train in the depot last evening, was landed behind the bars by I. C. R. Policemen Scovell Smith and this morning the magistrate gave him the option of paying $20 into the city coffers or of spending two months' as a guest in the King street east institution. As the money stringency seems to have affected him Schultz will doubtless choose the latter.

Arthur Howe, drunk on Prince William street and Andrew White, drunk on Water street were asked to pay $8, or spend months and twenty days in jail respectively.

One common drunk was fined $4.

WEDDINGS

Goodner-Manuel

On Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of friends, William Goodner, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Eva Manuel, of this city. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Flanders. The bride wore a princess gown of white silk organza and veil, and carried a bouquet of carnation and ferns. The bride was assisted by Miss Marguerite Quirk, and the groom was supported by B. Baineley. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony. The presents were beautiful and costly, bearing testimony to the esteem in which the young couple are held. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful diamond ring. They will reside at No. 9 Horsefield street.

OH! WHAT A SURPRISE

The Times wishes to tender its hearty congratulations and its sincere sympathy to Alderman Baxter. Congratulations upon his secret marriage and sympathy with him upon the indisposition of his bride. The Sun this morning had the following paragraph in an article dealing with the Carleton Cornet Band's tribute to successful West Side candidate.

"It had been the intention of the band to serenade Ald. Baxter, but the Brooks ward representative was out of town and his wife was indisposed, so the idea had to be abandoned."

An Unbreakable Set of Teeth

There is a class of patients who do not object to paying a fair price for artificial teeth, if they can really secure comfort, usefulness and naturalness.

I have a set of teeth, such as is unobtainable in any other office in this city, to my knowledge. It is out of the ordinary line and unlike the teeth in general use. Its beauty is at once apparent, and it is practically unbreakable.

It will pay those who are desirous of obtaining the best to be had in the dental line, to call and inspect this for themselves.

I will gladly demonstrate its superiority over other plates, even if you have no immediate intention of investing.
