THE SMALL CAPITALIST

"We are not offering anything in the way of either free or assisted passages," said Mr. Bowder, "indeed, for the present my chief efforts will be devoted to attracting the small capitalist with agricultural experience to make my first tour in England on behalf of the Government of New Brunswick last year, and took back with me several men of this type, who are doing well. Following my advice, they delayed buying land and bringing out their families until they had gained local experience. Next year they start out for themselves, in possession of good-sized freehold farms."

"Muttiny" was Soon Quelled. Andrew Stewart, commodore of the Reed's Point Boat Club, was up the river yesterday in his motor boat with a crew of bold adventurers on a voyage of discovery. When they reached Carter's Point, it was discovered that somebody had jettisoned the refreshments. The commodore was thereupon confronted by a mutiny. But when he offered to apply a slow match to the gasoline tank, the mutineers humbly submitted and the voyage was proceeded with. A bull on the river bank was discovered eating them suspiciously and they got afraid night would catch them so they turned about and come home at a ten knot clip.

DID CARELESSNESS AT HOSPITAL CAUSE A REGRETTABLE ERROR?

Thomas Cowell's Daughter Sent to Hospital to Enquire for Father Said She Was Told "He is Resting Easily"—At That Time His Body Was in the City Morgue.

The body of the man found floating in the water of Charlotte street extension on Friday afternoon was identified Saturday at noon as that of Thomas Cowell, of 60 Erin street. The circumstances surrounding the unfortunate man's death point strongly to a case of suicide. He had been seriously ill for the past nine months, and was about to undergo an operation at the general public hospital on Saturday morning. He had gone to the hospital early Friday morning and it was agreed that an operation was to be performed on Saturday morning. It was rumored through the city Saturday night that Mrs. Cowell upon her husband failing to return home Friday evening had inquired through friends at the hospital and was told that her husband was all right. It was also said that her little daughter who went to the hospital Saturday morning to inquire about her father, was told that he was resting comfortably. What Mrs. Cowell Says. Mrs. Cowell when seen by a Standard reporter last evening, said that she did not care to discuss the matter at present. She thought there surely had been some misunderstanding about the whole affair. Her husband had been ill for the past nine months. He had been in the hospital for five weeks on a previous occasion. He had gone to the hospital Friday morning with the intention of having an operation performed. He did not return on Friday evening but she learned through friends that he was all right at the hospital. Saturday morning she sent her little girl to the hospital to inquire further about his condition and the child was told that an operation had been performed, and that Mr. Cowell was resting easily. She did not wish to make any charge against the hospital people but hoped that the matter would be fully investigated. What Dr. Walker Says. Dr. Thos. Walker, chief hospital commissioner, when asked about the matter last evening expressed considerable surprise. He could not understand how such a thing could occur.

WILL VOTE $5,000 MORE TO FIRE FUND City and County Council Will Vote Additional Grants to Fire Sufferers—Considering Plans to Pay Debt.

St. John city and county will probably vote $5,000 additional to the relief of the Campbellton fire sufferers. At the meeting of the common council this afternoon, Ald. Baxter chairman of the Treasury Board will make a motion that an additional grant of $5,000 be voted to the Campbellton people, and there is little doubt but that the motion will be adopted. A special meeting of the County Council will be called next week, probably on the 9th inst., with the object of voting a sum of money for the assistance of the Campbellton fire sufferers. Warden Connelly, who has been consulting, or corresponding with the members of the council, has found that there is a strong feeling in favor of the municipality doing something to assist the unfortunate people of the town, and has determined to give the councillors an opportunity to put their sympathy into practical shape— that is, of course, the expense of the people. It is understood that the county will as a first contribution vote at least $2,000 to the relief of the sufferers. J. King Kelley, county secretary, stated Saturday that there was a move on foot to call a special meeting of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities for the purpose of considering whether any measures can be taken to help the people of Campbellton rebuild the town. It has been suggested that the Union of Municipalities should take measures to fund the bond indebtedness of the town, and look after the interest until such time as Campbellton is in a position to assume the burden; but as the union is not incorporated it is in some quarters believed that this proposition will not commend itself very strongly to the members of the union. In any case special legislation would have to be secured to enable the union to carry out this plan of rendering assistance, and it is pointed out that the easiest way out of the difficulty would be for Campbellton to secure legislation enabling it to borrow a sum of money sufficient to pay the interest on its indebtedness for a number of years. However, the county secretary feels that if the representatives of the different municipalities got together they would probably be able to devise some means of helping the citizens of the stricken town, and that, in view of the magnitude of the calamity, it is advisability that a meeting should be held for the purpose of seeing what might be done. You can't fool her, "Othello" chocolates are the right kind. At White's, King street.
