CHINESE REBELS BURNED HANKOW

Gunboats Guard For-

Rebels Murder Prisoners and Wounded--More
Than 1000 Imperialists
Killed in Battle.

Pekin, Nov. 2.—The massacre of natives at Hankow by imperialist troops of intelligence of which has reached both the war board and the German legation, may prove a serious hindrance to the peace negotiations which Yuan Shi Kai has been endeavoring to inaugurate with the rebel leaders. The population of Hankow is estimated ordinarily at 500,000, but it is believed that every non-combatant who was able to escape proceeded into the country prior to the conflict.

The Hankow streets are very narrow and the houses are closely packed. There are many wealthy Chinese merchants and manufacturers in gold and silver.

The exodus from Peking continues, the doors of many shops, as well as private houses being closed in anticipation of a massacre.

The diplomatic body will meet tomorrow to reconsider the question of allowing the Chinese troops to enter Tien Tsin, a consul there having made serious objection.

An official despatch from Shin Kai Tan, Shan-shi province, says that a regiment of Shan-shi troops which had been despatched to assist the imperialists has mutinied. The mutineers killed their brigadier general and then bombarded a Manchu city, massacring a thousand Manchus including the governor and his family.

General Yin Tchang, who until a few days ago was commander of the imperialists at Hankow, returned here today.

It is understood that the national assembly is showing determined opposition to the Chinese loan, for which arrangements already have been made arguing that such a loan is unnecessary as many millions are hoarded in the forbidden city.

Pekin, Nov. 2.—The German legation today received a wireless message from the vicinity of Hankow stating that the imperial forces are now burning the native city of Hankow, and confirming yesterday's report to the Chinese war board that the imperial troops massacred men, women and children during several days' fighting.

It is evident that the Manchu soldiers are infuriated over earlier Chinese successes and that they have gotten out of the hands of their officers. Letters from a correspondent at Sin Yang-Chow written some days ago, declare that Gen. Yin Tchang's troops were beyond control. They are described as insubordinate and as having looted a village north of Hankow.

Gen. Yin Tchang, who has been removed from his command at Hankow to become chief of the general staff, returned to Peking today. It is believed that Yuan Shi Kai arrived at the imperialist headquarters at Sikan rook late to stop the massacres which had Democratic Agitator Offers to Run for President of U. S. with Canadian Annexation as His Policy.

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 2.—Nine-tenths of the people of this country favor the annexation of Canada, declared Champ Clark, speaker of the House of Representatives today. And I don't care who hears me say it.

Beginning with a speech here Speaker Clark was scheduled to make addresses in twenty-one towns in the third Nebraska district in the interest of Daniel V. Stevens, Democratic candidate for Congress to succeed the late representative, Jas. P. Lamm. The Speaker's remarks concerning annexation of Canada caused considerable comment. "I am willing," he said, "to make this proposition: 'You let me run for President on a platform calling for annexation of Canada, in so far as this country can accomplish that end, and let President Taft run against me, opposing annexation, and I will carry every state in the nation.'"

Altogether 207 veniremen have been drawn, of these ten sat in the jury box tonight, having been accepted as to cause by both sides, a gain of one man since yesterday's session in which no talesmen were passed.

Counsel for both prosecution and defense in the trial of James R. McNamara renewed predictions that the entire venire might be accepted by tomorrow night if there were no hitch in getting more veniremen to examine.

Halifax, Nov. 2.—R. L. Borden is the sixth Conservative prime minister of Nova Scotia, did honor to the Nova Scotian premier in monster banquet.

The Mayflower rink, a large auditorium capable of seating three or four thousand people, was the place. It was seated to accommodate seven or eight hundred guests, and its capacity was heavily overtaxed. The size of the crowd was matched by its enthusiasm. Mr. Borden was given an extraordinarily warm reception and a most cordial hearing.

The guests of honor comprised Mr. Borden, seven of his colleagues in the cabinet, Mr. Cochrane, Mr. Doherty, Mr. Hazen, Mr. Foster, Mr. Monk, Mr. Pelletier, Mr. Nantell and a considerable number of members of parliament, including Justice Landry, prospective speaker of the senate; Dr. Spruille, prospective speaker of the

Hon. W. T. White Has Opened Campaign

Minister of Finance, Speaking
In His Constituency Explains
How He Entered the Borden Cabinet.

Landowne, Ont., Nov. 2.—Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, made here tonight his initial speech since becoming a member of the Borden ministry. It was the occasion of the opening of his campaign for election to the commons for the County of Leeds, where George Taylor resigned to make way for him.

At the outset he expressed appreciation of Mr. Taylor's act. Continuing, he said in part:

"When, as the result of the election, reciprocity was laid at rest and I returned to my desk, I had no thought whatever of entering the field of active politics. It was at this time that I was honored by receiving from Mr. Borden an invitation to join his cabinet, which I conceived it my duty to accept. No doubt Mr. Borden had in mind that as necessity arises he would recognize the support given him by tens of thousands of Liberals throughout Canada which contributed so greatly to his success. But I also believe that he thought I might have special qualifications for the important position which he assigned to me and so, to this I can only say if I fall his expectations, it will not be for lack of effort on my part."

Proceeding Mr. White expressed his sympathy with the farming community, its financial connections and was free to serve the country unfettered and untrammelled by any interest, as regards public ownership and he looked forward to a development on its part commensurate with the growth of Canada. He went on to speak to the national outlook based on the industrial expansion in progress. Dealing with the tariff he enumerated his policy and said:

"I have always believed in a policy of responsible protection for Canada, including protection for the farmer, especially in such protection desirable for him during the constructive stage of a nation's development. Now we are in the midst of these prosperous conditions, and I need not say how careful we should be in taking any step or doing any act that might tend to change these conditions. Trade questions are exceedingly intricate and complex. They require the most careful study. Changes in the tariff in times such as these should not be lightly considered. Assurance of stability is required to give confidence to our manufacturers, our commercial men and our farmers. I think I am safe in saying that there is in contemplation no immediate change without the most careful enquiry, without the just consideration of the claims of all who may be interested, producer and consumer alike. I do not mean to say that the tariff must remain as something fixed, stereotyped or crystallized. The interests of the community as a whole must always be before us. It will be the duty of the government to take such measures as may be necessary to remedy any inequitable or unjust advantage enjoyed by trusts and combines. In other words, my conception is that while stability of tariff should be a chief consideration in times of such prosperity as we now enjoy, we must make it the subject of constant study in order that as necessity arises it may be modified to meet the changing conditions of a constantly changing country."

STOLEN CASH FOUND UNDER A SIDEWALK

Strange Fashion.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 2.—About twenty-five thousand dollars of the money recently stolen from the Bank of Montreal at New Westminster has been recovered. The money was found this afternoon under the sidewalk in front of Dr. Walker's house on Fourth street, New Westminster. It was discovered by George McCleary, foreman for a power construction company, which has the contract for laying a new sidewalk along Fourth street. Men engaged on the work had torn up an old board sidewalk when they came upon the money, $4,280 of which was in gold, contained in a sack stolen from the bank. The remaining twenty thousand was in new $5 and $10 bills. McCleary at once notified the police and the money was removed to the Bank of Montreal. More important developments are expected.

The elder woman went out early today to try to raise the single dollar they needed to make up their $5.00 rent. While she was gone Mrs. Moriarty's men came and began dismantling the place. As they started to roll up a mattress they discovered the dead body of Mrs. Moriarty under the sheets. Her husband died a year ago, and since then both she and her mother had been ill and unable to work.

Rockefeller and found the oil magnate eating his morning meal. The Marshall, when he returned to his office later today said he had declined the invitation to partake of the meal.

Italian Fleet Sails.
Malta, Nov. 2.—It is reported that the whole Italian fleet has left Tripoli for Turkish waters. The Italian government has suppressed direct sailings between Tripoli and Malta, owing to the leakage of news to foreign papers. All the mails from Tripoli have now to run the gauntlet of the equestrian at Sicily.

A Lively Fight.
Tripoli, Nov. 2.—The Turks this morning brought up a few guns to the south of El Moari and opened fire. This was not effective as most of the shells failed to explode. The Italian artillery soon silenced the guns and forced the enemy to retire. About five o'clock last evening Turks appeared before the line of defense and forced the 52nd Italian infantry to fall back on their position. A cruiser, Carlo Alberto, located the Turkish artillery and by a well directed and vigorous fire silenced it.

3,000 Natives Executed.
Frankfurt, Nov. 2.—A despatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung, from Tripoli under date of Oct. 31 says: "The American and Austrian consulates have been removed to the interior of the city because of the danger in their old location. Turkish shells have fallen in the neighborhood of the German consulate. At least 3,000 natives were executed by the Italians."

Warning From Turkey.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Vessels whose cargoes are made up either in bulk or weight, or one-half, contrary to law, will be confiscated by the Turkish government, according to advices today from Ambassador Rollin at Constantinople. The Turkish government desires as a condition of war all material which can be used without further preparation in promoting warfare.

A Warlike Service.
Rome, Nov. 2.—A despatch to the Giornale d'Italia, from Tripoli describes the observance of All Saints Day at the Italian military camp at Binoulin. The altar was surrounded by cannon and a forest of rifles the bayonets of which flashed back the rays of the sun. Above all waved the tricolor. The military band played the Ave Maria, by Verdi. After the chaplains had celebrated mass each general addressed the soldiers, urging them to imitate the example of officers and men who had won victory and honor for the country by shedding their blood.

The thousands of soldiers responded with cries of Long Live Italy.

Chinese Rebels Burn Hankow

already begun. It is thought that the effect of the atrocities committed by the government soldiers will have a serious bearing on the situation. The blood of the Chinese is up as is indicated by their desperate defence of Hankow which has caused the greatest surprise among Europeans who did not expect the Chinese on either side to fight seriously. The rebels, who are also suspected of being able to protect their concessions as they have ten or twelve gunboats at their disposal though some loss of life among the foreigners may be expected.

Rebels Slaughtering Wounded.
Hankow, Nov. 2.—In the fighting at Han Yan Sunday night the Imperialists were victorious and entered the native city. Looting was permitted and there were many incendiary fires. Late at night the Imperialists withdrew to their camp and the rebels, reinforced and occupied the city. It is reported that they numbered 6,000. On Monday the fighting at artillery engagement began but it was not decisive. The rebels at Hankow have besieged Col. Chang Siu Yang, who commanded the battle on Friday, when the rebels met with a reverse. Other officers in the revolutionary cause, also suspected of treachery, have not a like fate. Foreign reports that he saw the rebels kill twenty imperial prisoners and a thousand of the wounded. The rebels, in Hu Peh province and Yochow, in Hu Nana are flying the revolutionary flag.

1,000 Men Killed.
San Francisco, Nov. 2.—Advice from Canton today state that Vice Roy Chang Ming Chi, of that province had signed a memorial to the Prince Regent asking for the pardon of Wang Ching Wei, who had attempted to assassinate the prince a year ago last April.

Pardon to the prisoner, he said, would go far to placate the people and to show the liberal attitude of the government toward the republicans. Full pardon was also asked for the revolutionary General Li Hui Yen. According to another message, General Li has refused to consider peace offer unless the Manchu dynasty yields the throne to the republicans. Revolutionists are said to occupy all the railway stations near Hankow and to have inflicted a loss of more than a thousand men on the Imperialists in battle yesterday.

Dead Piled in Streets.
Pekin, Nov. 3.—Letters dated Oct. 29th and 30th from the Associated Press correspondent with the Imperialist army at Hankow say that in the struggle for the possession of the city there was hand to hand fighting in the streets, the quarters being too close for shooting. The rebels, mostly raw recruits, not understanding the use of rifles were driven back with much slaughter, their dead piling up on the way. The casualties among the Imperialists for two days, Oct. 25 and 26 were 30 killed and 150 wounded. The rebels had about 700 killed or wounded.

The fighting continues the correspondent, until the last three days had not been serious. The rebels had the advantage in number of guns but their shells did not explode.

The Imperialists had the advantage in troops, but they were poorly provisioned. The latter force, aggregating 25,000 men, advanced in three columns, the third mixed brigade in advance, the fourth division supporting.

and the eleventh mixed brigade as a reserve. The fighting was done by the third brigade, the two others not being requisitioned. No prisoners were taken. Rebels captured alive were shot or decapitated.

Barbarous Outrages.
It is learned that the most barbarous outrages were perpetrated on November 2nd in the villages. An officer of Yin-Tehang's staff explained that the outrages were committed by only forty men of the Hu-Peh division. The general staff consists mostly of German and Japanese trained men, but the campaign does not reflect much credit upon them, as they are seemingly ignorant of the country.

The soldiers are in good spirits, but apparently are indifferent to the proceedings at the front. They do as they please. Coming from the northern provinces they have no sympathy with the rebels.

Trains come and go at all hours. The military and railway authorities are constantly embroiled. The railway employees complain that the soldiers and officers beat them and many of them have taken to flight. As a consequence some of the trains are run by soldiers, who do the work badly.

Rebels Hampered in Pass.
Prior to the opening of operations on Oct. 27, Gen. Yin Tehang told the

HON. R. L. BORDEN, GUEST OF HONOR AT REMARKABLE BANQUET IN SISTER CITY

John W. Regan presided and proposed the health of Premier Borden. It was nearly 10 o'clock when Mr. Borden began to speak.

Mr. Borden's Reply.
Mr. Borden's response to the toast in his honor was in part as follows: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen,—I need not tell you that I am deeply moved by this splendid reception accorded to me in this city where I have spent the best years of my life, and perhaps my happiest days, and which I have had the honor of representing for many years in the parliament of our country. I am proud of this reception because it is accorded to me by those with whom I have fought shoulder to shoulder and side by side in some of the fiercest political battles ever waged in Canada.

A great soldier said some years ago, that those only know the true meaning of comradeship who had marched and fought and bivouacked together. The same holds true of political comradeship. In the contests which we have waged we have not always proved victorious, but in 1908, and again in 1911, the result was more than made amends for the defeat which we sustained, not only in this county, but in this province in 1904.

"My own election in 1908, I think, was marred by the defeat of my friend and colleague, A. B. Crossby. I desire to repeat tonight the tribute which I have paid to him more than once by stating what is only the truth, that no constituency was more faithfully and loyally served by its representative in the late parliament than this constituency of Halifax by A. B. Crossby. However, for the moment defeated, he rejoices, as we all rejoice, in the wider victory which our party won throughout the Dominion.

The Election Issue.
"The issue which confronted the people of Canada in the recent contest was of surpassing interest and importance, not only to this Dominion, but to the whole Empire. Its importance was realized by the people of Canada, and is not amiss on this occasion to express our appreciation of those Liberals who placed the interests of Canada above the ties of party allegiance, and who fought with us in this campaign for the welfare of Canada and of the Empire.

"The Liberal-Conservative party would not be worthy of its record, or worthy of the name which it bears if it were not able to welcome the aid of such men; if it would not be worthy of its record, or worthy of its name, if it were not willing to recognize, as we have sought to recognize, the ability which these men exerted in that contest.

"In some quarters which I need not name, it has been made that the result of the recent elections was due to some hostile or unfriendly spirit on the part of the Canadian people. It is desirable that any such idea, if it exists should be dissipated and dispelled. A brief retrospect of the events which have transpired since the conclusion with regard to this.

"In 1879 Canada placed upon her statute books a series of laws which remained open to the United States for 18 years, or until 1897, when it was renewed by the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The United States always declined to entertain this standing offer and we sought right to take that course. In the meantime Canada had entered upon a policy which aimed at the development of the natural resources of the country, the growth of its industry, and the preservation of its home market. Canada's fiscal policy in 1879 and it will never be relinquished. The reciprocal treaty would have interfered with Canada's complete control of its own fiscal system and, in many respects, was a policy which this country had pursued for many years.

Proposed Agreement Unwise.
"The Canadian people were startled and alarmed by the idea or suggestion that two members of the government without any mandate from the people, should enter into a treaty which would materially alter that policy. Moreover the interlocking of our tariff with that of any country is an interference with the standpoint of our fiscal autonomy. It should not be forgotten that similar arrangements made between British Columbia and South Africa proved unsatisfactory and irritating and in the end they had to be abandoned.

"During the recent elections the opinion prevailed in Canada that in the interest of friendly relations it would be far better that each country should have the right to frame and modify its own tariff in what it considered to be the best interests of its people. We are also convinced that a tariff which must be accepted or rejected as a whole and which cannot be amended in any respect to meet even the most obvious injustice, is an undemocratic and undesirable form of legislation, and we believe that experience has proved this beyond question.

during an increasing friendship and good Nova Scotia's Good Work.

"Turning again to the result of the recent elections, I am glad to see among those assembled here tonight the men who carried nine of the eighteen seats in this province and the men who put up a splendid though unsuccessful fight in the other nine counties. In 1904 Nova Scotia did not elect a single Liberal-Conservative to the federal parliament. Today we hold nine of the eighteen seats, and if a general election were held tomorrow, I leave it to your imagination as to what the result would be. Considering the point to which we started only seven years ago in this province the Liberal-Conservative party has every reason to be proud of the results of the manufacturing efforts which it has put forth during the past seven years. We hold sixteen seats in the maritime provinces and considering the results in two counties in New Brunswick there is good reason to claim that as a fair record and that we should have been eighteen at least.

"But our gains have not by any means been confined to the maritime provinces. Ontario today holds the record with its majority of sixty white in British Columbia not less than in Ontario. In the Province of Alberta, and the Province of Saskatchewan, we sustained the loss of two seats, but that was the result of conditions which I believe will not prevail in the future and I look for a splendid record for the Liberal-Conservatives in the next parliament from those provinces.

Responsibilities of Power.
"But Mr. Chairman, I did not come here to exult over our success. The recent victory has been won with responsibility which no man in Canada is more keenly alive than myself. The Liberal-Conservative party must give to the people of Canada intelligent, progressive and clean government.

"There are many problems which confront those who are responsible for the administration of public affairs in Canada today. Great problems have been solved in the past and no problem is ever faced by any people than the binding together of the scattered communities, of eastern Canada into one Dominion, and the extension of our boundaries over the vast area which today constitutes Canada. Looking back over the history of the Dominion, it is almost amazed at the audacity of the undertaking and the success which has hitherto attended it.

"There is every reason to believe that Canada is entering upon a period of development and growth even greater and more important than that which we have witnessed in the past. The marvelous growth of our western country will undoubtedly continue and there is no reason to suppose that similar if not equal development will not come to eastern Canada as well, and especially to this little province of Nova Scotia, with its extent and variety of its resources, is not surpassed by any equal area in Canada. Intelligent administration of our natural resources as well as their development in the interest of the whole people.

The Transportation Problem.
"In a country like Canada with an enormous area and scattered population the problem of transportation is of prime and vital importance, and you may be sure that the Liberal-Conservative party, which conserves and carries into effect the project of binding together provinces of Canada first by the interlocking railways and afterwards by the Canadian Pacific railway, will be always alive to the vital importance of the problem.

"The railway problem in this province to which transportation is of prime importance and perhaps none is more essential than to our great fishing industry. It always seemed to me that Nova Scotia with a coast line which adjoins and even projects into the best fishing grounds of the world ought to supply fresh fish of the best quality and in the best condition to Ontario, Quebec and even to the United States. This can only be done by the organization of a system of cold storage and transportation facilities such as are to be found in other parts of the world with no greater opportunities than our own.

Will Have Tariff Commission.
"The policy of the Liberal-Conservative party as presented to the people in the recent contest is before you. I will not dwell upon it tonight. Among the principal features are such encouragement of the great basic industry of agriculture as will enable those who till the soil to receive the highest price for their produce to turn out their products in the highest form, and at the same time preserve the fertility of the land. Hand in hand with this is the great encouragement which we propose for the purpose of establishing and maintaining permanent highways of transportation suitable to our conditions. Some such effort is needed in the interest of that effective scheme of transportation which ought to be the aim of any progressive government.

are absent will give to the public service which they have been called upon to undertake, the best of their energies and their abilities.

"The life of a cabinet minister who is anxious to perform his duties in an exceedingly busy life and any man who undertakes this high public service must be prepared to sacrifice ease and comfort at the behest of duty. I know that the men who have been called to the cabinet of Canada are prepared to make this sacrifice. We do not claim to be infallible, but we do claim that as servants of the people of Canada we shall give to our public duties the best that in us and no man can do more.

"This little province by the sea has given to the public life of Canada three prime ministers and all of them have been of the same political faith. The names of Sir Charles Tupper and Sir John Thompson are honored today by every citizen in Canada irrespective of party. One of them passed away in the full maturity of his strength and vigor leaving a great name behind him. The other, Sir Charles Tupper, the grand old man of Canada, has attained the age of 80 and beyond the seas in the old Mother land, he takes as keen an interest in the welfare of this great Dominion as he did in the days when he led with marvelous vigor and ability the Conservative forces in this province and Dominion.

"The courage and the achievements of these great leaders will not fail to be an inspiration to us and I shall be more than satisfied if I may be enabled to perform my allotted task with such advantage to my country as their efforts.

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the honor which you have done me tonight and for the encouragement which you have shown. My demonstration will ever lead to me in the great work that lies before us."

A Great Ovation.
When Mr. Borden concluded his address he was given an ovation such as seldom falls to the lot of a public man. The whole assemblage rose en masse and cheered for the Premier until the big building rang with the shouting. Again and again he was acclaimed and it was some minutes before the next speaker could make himself heard. Hon. Mr. Foster followed Mr. Borden.

Mr. Foster renewed the pledges made before the election. The country needed, and would get, an absolutely clean civil service on the hill at Ottawa and on all the hills of the Dominion. The revenue would be looked upon as a sacred trust, the cabinet being the trustees. He urged his hearers to stand by the cabinet in insisting upon absolute honesty in the administration of public business. Referring to reciprocity he said that it was given a blow in 1891 and that he received its death blow in 1911. There is now a permanent policy established for the country he said.

Hon. Mr. Monk.
Mr. Monk in a warm tribute to Mr. Borden said that Quebec was grateful to a degree which was deep and long abiding for the generous and wise leadership of the Premier. He would not lack a full measure of support from it. Much that had been asserted of the Premier in Quebec had been fulfilled in his loyalty and whatever was decided upon by the majority would be carried out. Mr. Monk concluded with the reference to the particular needs of Halifax, opportunities of learning which had been afforded him during the day.

Hon. Mr. Hazen.
Mr. Hazen said that as a loyal representative of Nova Scotia, he deeply regretted that Halifax would get what it deserved. Halifax and St. John had common interests. The Maritime Provinces would strive hand in hand for commercial greatness. It was only by act of parliament that Nova Scotia and New Brunswick became two provinces instead of one. In 1784 when the separation took place it was rendered advisable by isolation. Now that the isolation has disappeared it will be amiss to repeal the act and make the two one province. Dealing with his own department, he forestalled a rooster service.

The other members also spoke.

CHINOQUY'S WIDOW DIED IN WORCESTER

Samuel C. Delacour. Mrs. Chinoquy was 77 years old. She was a native of the Province of Quebec and after the death of her husband in Worcester to live with her daughter.

FOR HOUSEHOLD ACCIDENTS

Zam-Buk is so Very Useful. Read how beneficial it proved in this Case.

Mrs. H. Sawyer of Keene, Ont., writes: "My husband is engaged on a farm, and one day while chopping wood, the top of the axe broke and fell upon his foot, cutting a nasty gash. The wound was so bad that we first thought we would have to get a doctor, but we finally decided to dress the cut with Zam-Buk.

"Well, the Zam-Buk treatment proved a great success. It not only eased the pain, but it prevented any inflammation, and right from first applying Zam-Buk, the cut began to heal. It is now completely healed and my husband says he will never be without a box of Zam-Buk in the house, for we are sure it saved us a great deal of expense."

Over and over again Zam-Buk has been proved to be the worker's best remedy. As soon as applied to a cut, a burn, a scald, or any skin injury, it relieves the pain and it sets up healing. It also prevents blood-poisoning or inflammation. It is a sure cure, too, for eczema, piles, ulcers, old wounds, bad leg ulcers, strength sore, eruptions, cold sores, chapped hands, etc. Its absolute purity, also, makes it the ideal balm for babies.

Zam-Buk Soap should be used along with the balm for washing all sore places. This soap will be found excellent for baby's bath, even where the balm is not being used.

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. Box and Zam-Buk Soap at 25c. Tablet, or post from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

WAITED TO WELCOME HUBBY WITH A GUN
Winnipeg, Nov. 2.—The Winnipeg police last night arrested Mrs. McDonald, of Montreal, while she was waiting for her husband in the C. P. R. station with a loaded revolver. Early in the day she had appealed to the police to arrest him on a charge, but they would not do so until she had formally sworn out a warrant.

Mrs. McDonald did not appear at the station, but managed to locate her husband in a James, a suburb of the city. She learned that he was about to go west and purchased a revolver and went to the station. She told some people of her intention to shoot her husband on sight, and they called the police up. When arrested Mrs. McDonald had a loaded revolver concealed in her muff. Since her arrest the police have been investigating and they think that McDonald has three wives in the west, one of which is either in Calgary or Edmonton.

SOMBRE IS THE GARB OF MOURNING, BUT IT'S MOST ATTRACTIVE ON MANY WOMEN

The Influence of England and France is strongly felt in this country when mourning is worn. For many years American women wear men's veiling as a badge of bereavement. That day is past. Heavy English crepe is now shown, not only in hats and veils, but forms a strong feature upon the coats and dresses of those who are "wearing black."
From France comes the head dress or mourning. The veil is not worn over the face. It is draped on the back of the hat with many folds and hangs to or below the waist line. Even widows wear hats. The sign of widowhood is the narrow ruche which is worn underneath the rim of the rolling hat. The latter is formed of heavy crepe made of folds and a crushed crown.
A very handsome costume for a widow was recently made. The dress proper being of China crepe. This was so elaborately trimmed with English crepe that little of the main part of the dress was seen. The heavy English material reached within 12 inches of the waist line in front and at the side and back the crepe was put on to a depth of 20 inches. The yoke was of black chiffon. The collar and bow were of the crepe, while crepe bands were on the short sleeves.
The sash and bow were also of this material.
When the heavy mourning is being laid aside a suit of dotted malline may be worn. This should be edged with five rows of narrow black gros-grain ribbon. Many pretty mourning stocks and cravats are shown. These too, are done with second mourning. A pretty one of black chiffon is edged around with ruchings of the same while black Brussels net is effectively used over white chiffon. In both of these cravats the jabot is pleated and a small knot of ribbon may be used at the throat.

THE STREET RAILWAY SENDS A BIG BILL TO THE CITY

Treasury Board Receives Statement of Account for $8,140.65 for Expenses in Connection with Land Slides in Union Street, West End -- To Increase Insurance on Ferry Steamer Governor Carleton.

The treasury board met last evening and dealt with a number of bills, including one from the street railway for $8,140.65.

A resolution was adopted recommending the council to increase the insurance on the Governor Carleton ferry steamer to $40,000.

Ald. Hayes presided and there were present Ald. Wigmore, McGoldrick and Codner with the common council.

The board decided to take no action on that matter, as it was not responsible for losses incurred by private citizens acting under a misapprehension.

More Insurance on New Ferry.
The chamberlain said there were about $41,000 of bonds issued against the Governor Carleton, and only $22,000 of the same carried on her. If a fire occurred, the city would incur a great loss. The danger of a fire on the Governor Carleton, she being a wooden boat, was greater than on the Ludlow. To carry $40,000 of insurance would mean an additional expenditure of about $200 a year.

The St. John Street Railway sent a bill for $8,140.65, which it claimed the city owed it on account of expenses incurred through two landslides on Union street, West end, in 1906. The charges were itemized as follows:

Wages of men clearing first landslide $3,561.46
Material used 2,688.81
Charges on cars 448.00
Penalty charges 714.00
Charges on account of second landslide, 1906 189.00
Penalty charges 18.00
Use of pile driver 410.00
Coal used by pile driver 121.34
Total $8,140.65

The matter was referred to the Recorder and Chamberlain to report.

Germain Street Assessment.
The Chamberlain brought up the matter of the special assessment against the residents of Germain street for the permanent pavement. He said about half the residents had paid up, but others declared they wouldn't pay till after a better class of pavement was put down. If the city had to collect the assessment by process of law, there would be a loss.

INTERESTING EXPERIENCE OF A TORONTO LADY

I have seen OXO Cubes advertised a great deal and thought I would try them, so I bought a 25c. tin and found them so satisfactory that I am going to tell the women of this city how I used them.

MONDAY
Last night, we were going to the theatre, so I filled my brass kettle and alcohol lamp and left them in the den with the box of OXO Cubes. We were tired and cold when we returned from the play. But in a moment, the water was boiling, the OXO Cubes were dissolved, and we were sipping the most delicious "beef tea" I ever tasted. And how we did sleep that night!

TUESDAY
Morning, my small daughter would not take her milk. I was at my wit's end when I thought of the OXO Cubes. I brought out the box, let her open one of the cartons, and showed her how to stir in the OXO with the milk. She said it was "good!" and every morning now she wants her "brown milk."

WEDNESDAY
There is a dear old lady next door who has been ill for a long time. I wanted to make something to tempt her appetite. So I dissolved an ounce of Gelatine and three OXO Cubes in a pint of boiling water—then added a winglassful of sherry and poured it in a mold, allowed it to cool and sent it to my poor friend. When I ran in to see her next morning, she actually cried as she tried to tell me how good it was.

THURSDAY
Two of the children do not come from school at lunchtime. I do not care to give them meat sandwiches—yet want them to have something more sustaining than bread and sweets. OXO Cubes solved the problem. I read and know that the children have a nourishing and appetizing luncheon.

FRIDAY
Just as we had finished dinner, who should walk in but my brother and his new wife! While I was warning the rest of the dinner, I had the kettle boiling, dropped in a few OXO Cubes and brought in two big plates of steaming OXO soup in a jiffy. After dinner, my new sister asked "how did you make that delicious soup?" When I told her I used OXO Cubes, she was so pleased to know that she could have soup like mine.

SATURDAY
I came in from doing my Sunday shopping all day and out—and I could feel myself coming down with a dreadful cold. I made a cup of OXO and felt so rested that I added two OXO Cubes to another cup of boiling water and drank that. When I awoke Sunday morning, I had not a sign of a cold. I am finding new uses for OXO Cubes every day.

SUNDAY
We were tired of the everlasting eggs or clumps for breakfast—so I tried to see what I could do with OXO Cubes. I tried small portions cut in slices, with a little apple, in a butter until brown—then poured in a teaspoonful of stock made with two OXO Cubes and boiling water—and added a tablespoonful of curry powder, a little chutney and finally minced cold beef. I stirred it for fifteen minutes over the fire and served in a hot dish, garnished with boiled rice. Everybody was delighted with my OXO creation.

OXO Cubes are the greatest advance in food invention since men began to eat and women learnt to cook.

She was a native of Newfoundland, but had lived in this city prior to removing to McAdam with her husband. A MOTHER'S CARES DESTRUCTIVE TO HEALTH

ANAEMIA, BAD BLOOD, HEAD-ACHES AND LASSITUDE VERY COMMON.

Mrs. Wilkinson's Letter Gives Advice That Every Mother Can Well Follow.

From her home in Newton where she resides with her large family, Mrs. Wilkinson writes: "For years I was pale, anaemic and lacking in vitality. I was a constant sufferer from indigestion and the distress and pain it caused me, coupled with ever-increasing anaemia, made me weaker day by day. Constant headaches, specks before the eyes and attacks of dizziness made me feel as if life were not worth living. My constitution was completely undermined and the constant pallor and dullness in my eyes showed what a sick woman I was. I began to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills for the improvement, although slow, was sure.

"I gradually got back my strength and my appetite grew much stronger, and I enjoyed my meals thoroughly, and the sickly pallor of my face was replaced by a bright, rosy color, which proved that a strong medicine was at work. In a few months Dr. Hamilton's Pills brought me from a condition of deathly pallor to robust health."

You can obtain the same results by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills—beware of the substitute that offers you anything except Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers or the Cataracton Company Kingston, Ont.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1911.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The decision of the Privy Council allowing the appeal in the case of Lovitt vs. the King, finally disposes of a celebrated suit which has been before the courts for five years and settles a question relating to succession duties which is of far-reaching importance not only to New Brunswick but to other Provinces in Canada.

Great credit for the successful result is undoubtedly due to Mr. Hazen who, as Attorney General of New Brunswick, was entrusted not only with the interests of this Province but also with those of Ontario and British Columbia in the appeal to the Privy Council. The judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, to the effect that succession duty on the deposit made by Mr. Lovitt payable to the Bank of British North America in St. John was payable to the Government of Nova Scotia, in which Province Mr. Lovitt resided, not only raised a point which had been previously settled in the courts of Ontario and British Columbia. Four Provinces were affected by the decision.

In allowing the appeal in the case which Mr. Hazen argued before the Privy Council in London last July, the highest court in the realm has finally disposed of a question of great public importance. The right of a Province to collect succession duties under similar circumstances has been clearly established.

SHEEP FARMING.

Just now when so much attention is given to fruit culture in this Province, and there is evidence of a general awakening among the farmers as to the important position occupied by agriculture among the employments of its people, it may not be amiss to direct attention to sheep raising, a branch of agriculture which is being sadly neglected, not only in New Brunswick but all over Canada.

About a year ago the Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion, through Dr. Rutherford, live stock commissioner to the Federal Government, appointed Mr. W. T. Ritch and Mr. W. A. Dryden special commissioners to enquire into the sheep industry of the Dominion. Mr. Ritch is not a Canadian, but as the representative of an English wool concern, has had extensive experience in that business, not only in Great Britain but also in Australia. Mr. Ritch's duty was to investigate the sheep industry from the standpoint of the production of wool. Mr. Dryden's duty being confined to the question of the production of mutton. Both of these gentlemen have travelled through every section of Canada making their investigations and have also visited the chief consuming centres of both mutton and wool in the United States. Their report has not yet been published but will appear at an early date.

In an interview in the Montreal Gazette, Mr. Ritch makes the statement that in twelve years the number of sheep in Canada has declined from three millions to a little over two millions, although the country could easily support eight millions of sheep.

Why sheep raising has been so neglected in this country is past understanding. The theory has been advanced that it is due to an improper selection of breeds, which are not adapted to the country. While there may be some force in this it is unreasonable to expect that the decline is due wholly to that cause. One thing is certain, however, and that is that sheep farming is not pursued to the extent that it ought to be. Although the percentage of decline in the number of sheep maintained by the farmers in New Brunswick is not so great as would appear in the statement of Mr. Ritch for the whole of Canada, still there has been a falling off.

According to the census of 1901 there were 152,254 sheep in New Brunswick. The report of the Agricultural Commission in 1908 gives the number as 156,628, and the Agricultural Report for 1910 147,489. This would show an annual falling off were it not that the figures for 1909 are given as 142,274, and are the lowest. Viewed from any standpoint the situation is not an encouraging one.

For the matter of that the live stock statements issued by the Government do not show an increased interest in this branch of agriculture excepting in swine, which increased from 51,743 in 1901 to 59,922 in 1910.

There have been numerous importations of sheep for breeding purposes into this Province in the past twenty years, but the farmers do not seem to have taken any measures to increase their flocks, although the price of mutton and wool have advanced very considerably during that period. There are thousands of acres of lands in New Brunswick which would maintain large flocks of sheep. On almost every farm there is sufficient pastureage for double the number of sheep at present kept. It has been said of some localities that if there were fewer dogs there would be more sheep. Some years ago the Legislature enacted a tax law and there have since been amendments to make it more workable.

Last year there was an importation of sheep by the Provincial Government which was disposed of by public auction in several centres, the object being to give every section of the Province an opportunity of purchasing thoroughbred stock for the improvement of that already in the Province. Unfortunately while the stock may be improved by these importations the number of sheep has not increased. This increase can only be brought about by the farmer himself or through some organization taking up the sheep industry as a commercial venture. This has been talked of more than once, but up to the present time has never got beyond that stage. There is no doubt of the profits in the business if properly conducted by experienced men and the wonder is that some of those exploiting capital have not taken the matter up and promoted a company having for its object the production of both wool and mutton.

AN EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

At one of the meetings of the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association a resolution was passed requesting the Dominion Minister of Agriculture to take into consideration the establishment of an experimental farm in the Province of New Brunswick. When the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa decided to establish experimental farms in different sections of Canada, Nappan, N. S., was the site for the one allotted to the Maritime Provinces, the situation being generally considered as sufficiently central to serve all purposes. It cannot be said that this farm has been of great material benefit to the Province of New Brunswick, or even to Nova Scotia. In selecting a site for their agricultural college, the Government of Nova Scotia chose Truro and have there established the first agricultural school in the Maritime Provinces.

Two or three years ago the question of agricultural education was considered by the New Brunswick Government and the Senate of the University of New Brunswick as well. The intention of the University authorities at the time was, apparently, the establishment of a Chair of Agriculture in connection with that institution, which is the owner of a considerable area of agricultural lands. The University had just added a Chair of Forestry and it was thought by some that the two subjects would greatly increase the usefulness of the University, particularly if the Dominion Government could have prevailed upon to establish an experimental farm convenient to the institution. No satisfactory answer could be obtained from the authorities at Ottawa regarding the experimental farm and the matter dropped.

There can be no doubt that great advantages would accrue to the Province if the Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa could be prevailed upon to establish an experimental farm in New Brunswick giving attention, not only to horticulture in all its branches, but also to general farming and cattle raising. Whatever the outcome may be the fruit growers have done well to bring this matter up for discussion. There is certainly great need in this Province for wide dissemination of agricultural knowledge.

IN TRIPOLI.

Those people who described Italy's advent into Tripoli as a campaign for civilization, were in a position a day or so ago to record the first decisive victory scored for civilization—namely, the indiscriminate massacre of thousands of non-combatant natives by the pan-strident Italian soldiery. It is not to be supposed that Italy entered upon her adventure in Tripoli without being prepared to pay a heavy price. Putting aside the disastrous experiences in Abyssinia, the Italian General Staff must have been fully aware that campaigning in the tropics is a very expensive bit of business. Even the model German army found that to be the case in East Africa, and that the French Government had to throw nearly fifty thousand troops into Morocco during the campaign that followed the occupation of Casablanca, and Italy must count upon severer opposition than the French encountered.

The Turkish army in Tripoli, while unimpressive in point of numbers, nevertheless constitutes a nucleus about which the desert horsemen may be brought into something like military discipline. And in the Turkish officers the natives will find leadership of a kind that the Bedouin tribesmen in Morocco were entirely without. That brilliant young officer Enver Bey, one of the pillars of the regime at Constantinople, is reported to have arrived in Tripoli, or to be on his way there. Ultimately, it is to be supposed, the Italians will make themselves masters of the country. The national honor is now so deeply engaged in the enterprise that any sacrifices necessary to the end will be forthcoming. But Italy will be fortunate if she comes out of the struggle with merely a heavy loss of men and money. The reaction upon conditions at home is one that the Government must look forward to with no little anxiety.

WHERE WE LEAD.

That Canada leads the United States in progressive legislation that makes for stable conditions is the statement of Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, who may be the next president of the United States. Speaking recently at a meeting in his own state, he said:

"Do you know the real reason why reciprocity was voted down in Canada? Have any of you visited Canada recently? The present contrast between Canada and the United States is this, that in the United States, business is feverish and fretful and distrustful; in Canada it is absolutely buoyant with confidence and with hope.

"The contrast is extraordinary and the Canadians fear that reciprocity would be the opening lever to a very much closer commercial and industrial relationship with the United States, and they felt that their situation with regard to those matters was vastly superior to ours and they did not want to be pulled down into our distress.

"I do not take that to be conjecture, I take that from gentlemen in Canada who know what they are talking about, and the truth is that Canada is just about a generation ahead of us in the regulation of corporate business, in her banking system and in her currency system; she has got through all the deep waters we are in now, or rather she was never in them; she never let herself get into them. While we have been going on from one financial crisis to another, Canada has not had any financial crisis. Canada, if we must admit the truth, feels her economic superiority to the United States because she did some time ago, as a matter of course, the things now called radical in the United States, and which are making business men uneasy."

Current Comment

(St. Thomas Times.)

Rev. J. A. Macdonald, editor of The Toronto Globe, is certainly not a type of Canadian of whom Canadians should be inordinately proud of at the present time. He is meandering around in the United States telling the dis-appointed people over there that a million and a half dollars of American money was spent in giving his countrymen Reciprocity. Nice reputation to be giving his countrymen. Not only that, but in giving credit to the influence of American Canadian independence to the influence of American dollars he is doing what he can to eradicate the fact from the minds of the American people that Canada has enough gunpowder to make a patriotic pop like that off her own back. It is not very flattering either to the thousands of Liberals throughout Canada who voted against Reciprocity to have an editor of their leading party organ heralding abroad the assertion that they were bought by American money. The question naturally arises, what is the editor of The Toronto Globe prowling around American cities for, anyhow?

(Ottawa Citizen.)

The sisterhood of gentle Methodist deaconesses have gone on strike in Toronto because the cruel superintendent will not allow any of them to accept the escort of somebody else's brother on the street. It has been laid down by hard-headed economists that no strike can succeed without the backing of intelligent public opinion. In that case the strike of the deaconesses is as good as won. All the fair strikers have to do is to refrain from committing any overt acts of violence and the public is with them to a man.

(Hamilton Spectator.)

A new organization, termed the Housewives' league, has been formed in the United States, to combat the adulteration of food supplies and other methods of dishonest dealers, including short weight. Should it spread across the border, it is not likely wide of the mark to assert that it would cause not a few to amend their ways here.

The average wage paid in the manufacturing industries in Canada in 1908 was $7.25 per week for all classes of workmen. In the same year the average wage of the British unskilled laborer was $5.65 per week. These figures look low, but they are said to be official figures.

HOW AN AMERICAN GRAYE NEWS PREMIER OF CANADA

Miss Laut writes of Mr. Borden in the Review of Reviews—Reasons of Success—A Message to the United States People on Canada's National Purpose.

Among the interesting contents of the American Review of Reviews for November is a sketch by Ames C. Laut, of Robert Laird Borden, premier of Canada. Among other things Miss Laut writes:

Three times Canada has come to great crises in her destiny. At the first crisis, Sir John Macdonald arose and blended the warring factions of disjointed sections in one Confederation. At the second crisis, Sir Wilfrid Laurier came to the top and grasped the hostile English and French interests in one national aim with preference for overseas. Now the third crisis comes, shall Canada work out her own destiny, or blend her fiscal policy with that of the United States? And R. L. Borden takes the helm to pilot Canada to a destiny of her own.

A quiet, strong, reserved, reticent man, a powerfully pre-lection man, unhampered by a single pre-election pledge; a man, who, when the western farmers heeled him and shouted for reciprocity, rose quietly and with quietness had to have the premiership at the cost of sacrificing Canada's national policy, he did not want the office. He talked force and integrity. All through his leadership of the Opposition, the office has sought him.

"There is an old proverb: 'The dog that barks never bites.' R. L. Borden never barks; but there is a suspicion if he gets a quiet building grip on the word of 'arbit' St. John. He is a man, he comes into the premiership at within two years of the same age as Laurier when he assumed the office of premier fifteen years ago—that is, a little past his fifty-sixth birthday. Like all the other Bordenes of the Maritime Provinces, he is a descendant of the United Empire Loyalists, who were driven from the Eastern States after the Revolution. He was born at Grand Pré in 1854 and was called to the bar at the age of twenty-one.

It will be remembered in '96 the Conservative government of Sir John Macdonald, who died just in time not to see the downfall of his party, came to an end, and a smash as the Liberals have suffered today. Sir John left some able lieutenants, but none so prepared to take the reins as Laurier. Foster had the brains as trenchant critic and financier; but he never came up to the mark of imparting some ginger to his repartee. Sir John Abbott tried his hand at pulling the old cabinet together and died at the age of fifty-nine. Sir John Macdonald, a steel lance of a man, defeated Laurier. Sir John had some delicate dealings with the party, but he never indulged in skyrockets nor banner headlines. He never spread his attacking net. He was a man of peace, and of peace he was a man of peace. He never took small personalities with a forty-foot pole. He conserved his forces, and when the chance came, concentrated fire at one point till the enemy had to show itself defensively if not aggressively. This was very striking when the question came up whether Canada should contribute troops to the Boer War. Borden had hardly yet been acknowledged as a leader. Borden was chosen leader of the Opposition; of a party which the general public thought had no chance of coming to power in twenty years. Purely as a harmonizer he was chosen—a man to lead broken ranks and purge the party and heal animosities. He had never indulged in skyrockets nor banner headlines. He never spread his attacking net. You will be proud of the bread you'll make with PURITY FLOUR

AFTER seeing a batch of big, golden-crust, snowy-white loaves, that you have baked from PURITY FLOUR, you will, indeed, be proud of your cooking-ability—and proud of your wisdom in deciding to pay the little extra it costs to procure such high-class flour.

PURITY FLOUR. "More bread and better bread" PURITY FLOUR is milled exclusively from the best Western hard wheat—the world's finest. More than that, PURITY FLOUR consists entirely of the high-grade portions of the wheat.

It makes lighter, flakier pastry, too, if you just take the precaution to add more shortening. On account of its unusual strength PURITY FLOUR, for best results, requires more shortening than ordinary flour.

Progressive dealers, everywhere, sell PURITY FLOUR and take pride in recommending it. Add PURITY FLOUR to your grocery list right now.

BAKER GOT 'EM ALL AS THEY CAME

"What did you give him?" Rube Marquard claimed he asked Mathewson, when he came back to the bench last Tuesday, after Frank Baker hit his home run drive.

"Don't you know he murders a fast ball? What did you want to feed him a fast one for?" asked Jennings.

"Well, I had two strikes on him, and I knew that he thought I wouldn't dare throw him a fast one, so I tried to cross him," replied Willett.

"Yes, you two fellows have done a swell lot of crossing and all either of you have got out of it. Willett allowed to pitch a brand new ball to the next batter," said Jennings, by way of comment.

ABOUT THE BOXERS. Joe Ketchel and Dick Fitzpatrick will meet in South Bend, Ind., Nov. 7. Pal Moore and Frankie Madoin will clash in Philadelphia this week.

BAKER GOT 'EM ALL AS THEY CAME

"What did you give him?" Rube Marquard asked Mathewson, when he came back to the bench last Tuesday after Frank Baker hit his home run drive.

"The same thing you gave him," Marquard claims Mathewson answered. "I pitched a curve ball. Marquard says it was a curve ball on the inside that failed to break right. Baker says it was a fast one, the same kind of a ball that Marquard pitched the day before and which he hit for a home run."

This reminded Hughie Jennings of the game the Tigers and Athletics played several weeks ago, the game in which the Athletics scored up the American league championship, and which Baker won by hitting two home run drives, the first of which he hit the second off of Marquard.

"A fast ball. That's what he got the homer off of." "What did you pitch him a fast ball after you saw what he did to Willett's fast one, and what you know he will do to a fast ball?" yelled Jennings.

"Well," answered Works. "I know what he will do to a fast ball, but I thought that he thought I wouldn't dare to pitch him a fast one after what I saw he had done to Willett's fast one, so I tried to cross him."

"Yes, you two fellows have done a swell lot of crossing and all either of you has got out of it, to be allowed to pitch a brand new ball to the next batter," said Jennings, by way of comment.

EIGHT TEAMS ENTERED FOR COMMERCIAL BOAT RACE

At the meeting of the Commercial League last evening in Black's Alley, eight teams signified their intention of entering. These are: the C. P. R. T. McAvity and Co., Waterbury and Co., H. H. Warwick Co., Barnes and Co., S. Hayward Co., Brock and Patterson and the Globe. As the entries will not be closed till Saturday, it is probable that two more teams will enter. A sailing committee was appointed to settle disputes and look after the boats' business. This committee consists of chairman, H. Sullivan, L. Chesley, P. McAvity, T. Masters, and K. Jones. The schedule will be drawn up by Monday.

BENDER'S XRAY EYES BEAT GIANTS

(By Tip Wright.)

Chief Bender's black eyes won the 1911 world's series for the Athletics. The Chippewa's keen vision penetrated the bulwarks of the Giants like an X-ray and shattered their hopes.

The Athletics should have won four straight games. The break in the luck and Collins' momentary failure to think three away the first and injury to Coombs lost the other.

When Marquard pitched his first game it was patent that the Athletics had on their batting shoes. Although they did not get many hits, they were driving the ball viciously.

The Mackmen hit wickedly. They backed up the Giant outfield to the fence to get balls that threatened to clear the barrier. In the sixth, when Collins doubled and Baker hit for his home run, the stand buzzed.

Collins tipped off Myer's signal to Baker. "So it seemed, but it was not the solution." Three men did the tipping. They were Bender, Coombs and Hartzel. This day it was Bender and Hartzel. They didn't steal signals from Chief Myer. They used their eyes to see what the pitcher would throw.

Each of them could see whether the pitcher would throw a fast ball or a curve before he let go of the ball. Events proved this. McGraw thought they were getting Myer's signals and would get it from Roger Wilson, the boss at the Ingal's farm, for Roger was something of a fan, and with others was to get the news of the games.

Sol comprehended that one of the sides was New York. New York was "beeg," the other side—"well that didn't matter, it would just be the other side. So while he waited he whetted his hunting knife upon his moccasin and repeated the formula.

"It was not more than 15 minutes after the game was over in New York when the bell tinkled feebly in the box on the trunk line of the tall pine above the great grove of the Penobscot, 25 miles from the nearest habitation.

"Aha," said Sol. "Hey, Injun, do you hear me?" came in a faraway, squeaky voice. "Yarse sar."

"Well, New York beat—get that? New York beat—2 to 1. Get it? You there, Injun—Nooyack two, nudder wan, wan."

Sol was there, and with feverish nervousness carried two deep notches on the larger of his two alder sticks and he murmured to himself, "Beeg place, Nooyack—beeg steek—Nooyack two—two. Nudder wan-wan."

"Two—two—Nooyack two—nudder one—Jesse an, Gooby." Then Sol Sebat took a notch in his belt and turned his face for the Archambault camp.

It was midnight when he glided into the circle of freelight, in one hand he held an alder stick with two deep notches. He grasped it lightly and holding it before him, muttered, "Nooyack, beeg-two; nudder wan, little one, Jesse one."

The man who would have given $5 to know the result first came to a realizing sense. "Whoop-ee-ee! Giants win, 2 to 1." "Dunno—Giants—Nooyack two—nudder one, Jesse one," persisted Sol.

And Archambault came in and said something he always tries to please his guests.

changed the code, but the hitting did not let up. It would have had they been catching the catcher's signals. Ball players admit of two deliveries—the fast ball and curve—but there are several curves. There is the big, slow, "round house" curve, the quick-breaking, hook curve, the out drop, the straight drop and Matty's fadeaway.

When batter and pitcher match wits the battle is pretty. The batter "takes a toe hold." He looks for a "tid ball." If he gets it, good night! If he gets a curve, he is outgassed. The same applies when he is set for a curve and gets a fast ball. The batter's advantage when he knows what is coming is enormous. And the Athletics knew.

Bender originated "calling the turn" from the catcher's box. He might Coombs and Hartzel, both keen sighted. Between them they have broken many a pitcher's heart.

From first and third they watch the pitcher's fingers strap the ball. They can tell whether he will throw a curve or fast ball as he winds up. A movement of the foot, hand or body informs the batter and he is ready.

In the series Hartzel coached at first. Bender or Coombs was at third, Hartzel, arms folded, never moved.

save to turn his face toward the batter. The fingers of Bender's and Coombs' right hand did the work for them.

When told they knew every ball pitched, the curious may ask why the Athletics didn't hit harder. On answer is Mathewson. Matty has a great left hand curve. The Athletics in the first game, could not gauge Matty when he used a high drop or a fadeaway, although they knew the ball would be a curve. What they hit it was usually a pop-up or a roller to an infield. When Marquard pitched his first game his speed was tremendous and the ball jumped so it was hard to gauge. They hit him hard, but the ball seemed devilish in its intention to travel straight to a Giant fielder.

Everyone noticed how the Athletics pitched after the first ball. One of the team was asked why they did not make Marquard work instead of playing his game for him and the answer cleared the situation.

"We couldn't keep our bats off the ball. We knew everything he was pitching and it was a question of how soon we would get the ball safe. We got them beaten before they started and they don't know it."

This was after the second game, when the count stood even. It was the attitude of the Mackmen through the series.

In his second game Mathewson "wasn't there" with his curves and was easy. The same is true of the other pitchers, whose stock of foolery was not enough to beat the men who were prepared for whatever they pitched.

For the first ten minutes of the game, the Frederickian fifteen figuratively played the game and blue boys off their feet, keeping the ball between their five and ten yard lines, when only the wonderful work of Acadia's defense prevented a score. It looked at this point as if the Acadias were doomed to defeat. They soon found themselves, however, and before the half was over the argument became more even.

The second period opened lively, with both teams playing like demons for an advantage. Ten minutes after the ball had started, Phil Anderson, the star of the Acadia's stock across the U. N. B. line for the only try of the game. The kick was from an angle and Reid converted nicely.

The visitors set a lively pace after this, but once more the Gibraltar-like defensive of the Wolfvilleans proved impenetrable and the game ended: Acadia, 17; U. N. B., 9. The field was very wet, making accurate passing, fast running and combination work impossible. It was a forwards' game from start to finish and excitement was intense. Despite the inclemency of the weather a large number of people witnessed the struggle.

ACADIANS DEFEATED THE U.N.B.

Special to The Standard. Wolfville, Nov. 2.—In one of the most keenly contested football matches ever played in this town, Acadia College defeated the U. N. B. today by a score of 17 to 9.

Richmond, Acadia's little halfback, sprained his ankle early in the second half and was obliged to retire from the game, being substituted by Lauring Andrews. Norman Ralston, formerly captain of the Tallowale Tickers, referred impartially and satisfactorily.

The teams lined up as follows: Acadia Fullback U. N. B. Reid. Lockland Halfbacks Richmond. Murphy Grant. Murray P. S. Andrews. Willis P. Andrews. Matman Morrison. Quarterbacks Black. McGillibro Robison. Loggie Forwards Pineo. Dixon Freda. Melrose Atkinson. O'Hallerhan Spencer. Dugan McKinnon. Lynch Lozan. Jewett Vanbuskirk. Duke

The visitors were banquished by the A. A. A. tonight. Will an American be found to take up the burden after the passing of Gutch and defend the title against this formidable array of foreign invaders, or will some forebears be allowed to take back the title again across the seas? England, the birthplace of this popular style of wrestling, had not had a champion for the title for twenty years. Canada, represented by D. S. McLeod, held the title for a time, but has no man of class in the heavyweight division today.

HOW FANS IN THE WILDS GOT NEWS OF THE GAMES

Hunters Isolated in the Maine Woods Overcome Difficulties to Follow World Series.

From that clearing furthest Coogan's Bluff called the Polo Grounds to Archambault's sporting camps, far up the great north woods of Maine, is no more than a million miles, but to the half dozen erstwhile hunters but rabid baseball "fans" who gazed gloomily into the campfire, it seemed a block nearer—"out up to 88,79th street," says the New York Herald.

All you do to get to the camps is get out when the conductor pulls the cord and the brakeman yells, "Sou-dob-SIS. Sou-dob-SIS." Then you slip your pack and follow the tote of the road eighteen miles to the old Ingal's farm, which is only five miles from the Penobscot's mouth.

A BIG PURSE FOR WOLGAST-GOTCH AND OTHER MAT MEN

(Calgary Herald.) All Calgary sportmen at the present time are in a state of feverish anxiety over the forthcoming appearance of the world-renowned Frank Gotch, the kingpin of all the mat artists. Since last Labor Day, when the redoubtable Russian Lion sank beneath the merciless, irresistible onslaught of the champion, he has been followed by a cheering host of admirers with a devotion bordering on frenzy.

The lovers of clean, manly sport in Calgary are to be congratulated on their opportunity to see this popular sport in action. Gotch seems to possess all the qualities necessary to be a successful wrestler in a marked degree. By nature he is endowed with a marvellous physique, indicating great strength and endurance, combined with wonderful speed and a skill which can only be acquired by long experience.

He is willing to meet Wolgast under the conditions of the Milwaukee match, but the champion refuses the proposition and holds out for 133 pounds rindside. As Wolgast has declared that "Pakey" will again be fighting in a 20 round bout, "fight fair" says that inasmuch as Pakey is willing to go the long route—a distance he has not travelled in the ring in many years, while Ad is a tried campaigner at the game—Wolgast ought to concede a point and consent to meet McFarland at 133 pounds at 5 o'clock.

JACK TWIN DREW WITH TONY ROSS

Although outweighing his opponent by 30 pounds, Tony Ross, the New York Roman wrestling leader in public favor, the wrestlers of thirty years ago have the most crude ideas of the catch-as-catch-can style, but in more modern styles of grappling there was a long list of men famous in their time. The contests for supremacy between Gotch and Hackett, which were the most famous of the desperate contests of thirty years ago by two other magnificent gladiators, which for ferocity and Roman wrestling lead in public favor.

The first contest, which was held in San Francisco, went to Muldoon after one of the fiercest struggles of the record. The second was held in Madison Square Garden, New York, and Muldoon's friends, to save him from the defeat that stared him in the face, put out the lights and ended the contest. Muldoon is still living, but he could never again be induced to try conclusions with Whistler. The latter soon after went to Australia, where he died. A monument was erected to his memory by public subscription in Sydney, which bears the inscription: "To the memory of Clarence Whistler—he was a peer among wrestlers." After the passing of those two gladiators, Gracco-Roman wrestling in this country fell into a decline. Other forms of wrestling, however, continued. Flourish for a time, especially collar-and-elbow and cornish wrestling.

At the latter style, Jack Carkeek was a bright star, while at the former such noted performers as Duncan C. Ross, H. M. Dufur and Major McLaughlin held the centre of the stage. A great many matches were contested in those days, victory alternating from one to the other until the public began to look upon them as a mere program, for which the abbreviation take is now substituted. Mr. Hawthorne, chairman of the managing committee reported that new wiring would be necessary for electric lighting of the rink and a committee decided to recommend the installation of the Tungsten lights. Treasurer MacNutt submitted the financial report showing total receipts for the year of $67.21. The expenditures amounted to $57.09. The credit balance on October 24th was $40.12 and since then $32 has been received in dues, bringing the total up to $72.10. The club elected officers as follows: President, J. R. Page and P. H. Peters; secretary, N. Dougherty; treasurer, L. C. Macnutt; chaplain, Rev. Dean Schofield. Managing committee, J. H. Hawthorne, Dr. Holden, P. H. Patten, R. S. Barker with the president and secretary ex-officio. Auditors, R. F. Randolph and J. A. Reid. On motion of P. H. Patten it was decided to challenge for the McLeellan Cup. The prospects for an enthusiastic and successful season of curling are excellent and the club's standing in every way is quite equal to that of any period of its long history—its foundation dating back to 1848.

Joe Mandot of New Orleans must be some scraper when he stops Young Saylor. It was a bad setback for the Indianapolis boxer.

AROUND THE CLUBS

University Women's Club.
A business meeting of the University Women's Club will be held on Saturday evening, Nov. 4th, at the residence of Dr. Parks, Colburn street. All members are requested to attend.

Charged With Theft.
Thomas Grant, aged 24 years, was arrested on a warrant yesterday evening at seven o'clock by Police Officer O'Leary and Henry. The warrant was sworn out by Mrs. Madeline Wilson, who says that Grant stole a gold bracelet from her that she valued at five dollars.

Y. M. C. A. Boys To Raise Funds.
The extension committees of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. will try to raise $50 between now and the 1st of April. $25 of this amount will go to the Y. M. C. A. Maritime committee and $25 will be given to the fund of $600 that is to be raised among the senior membership of the Y. M. C. A. that the St. John association will subscribe toward the Y. M. C. A. work in India.

No Labor Candidate in County.
The trades and labor council will take no action to bring out a candidate in the county by-election. Some time ago representations were made to the labor organizations by workmen living in the county looking for support for a labor candidate in the by-election, but it was felt that it would be inadvisable for the trades unions, most of whose members reside in the city, to attempt to impose a candidate on the county.

Owls To Visit Fredericton.
At a well attended meeting of the Owls, held in their rooms last evening, P. L. Bell occupied the chair in the absence of the president. It was decided to send a delegation to Fredericton today to assist in organizing the lodge that was recently started there. Among those who will go are G. E. Logan, James Huey, Chas. Watanaker, W. E. Wood, Y. D. Hold, A. Hodges, P. W. D. Campbell, C. A. Hewitt and W. H. Underhill.

The Temple Fair.
Today is children's day at the Temple Fair and preparations have been made to give them a good time. The girls' door prize for this afternoon is a large doll, and a good watch will be the prize for the lucky boy. The door prize for last evening was a load of coal, and it was won by R. Armstrong. Following is a list of last evening's prizes and the winners: Bowling, a clock, won by Chas. Shanks; shooting gallery, a pipe, won by William Lingley; bean board, fountain pen, won by Fred McAllen; plate loss, a pair of boots, won by Ralph Culver; nine pins, gentleman's set, won by W. J. Devenney. The door prize for this evening is a barrel of flour.

Boy Scouts At Dinner.
The scout supper given by the scoutmasters and the patrol leaders in White's restaurant last evening was a big success. Malcolm McAvilly occupied the chair and outlined for the benefit of the boys the proposed scout work for the coming winter. He also spoke of a hockey league that he hoped to see formed among the patrols this winter. The Rev. H. A. Cody gave an address on "Observation." The evening was very heartily received by the boys. Troop No. 1 of St. John's (stone) church, challenged another troop to a series of games of basketball. After the supper the different patrols rendered a very pleasing musical programme that was well received. About 60 scouts were present.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

Society Will Observe St. Andrew's Day, This Year. by a Dinner - Reports of the Year's Work.

Instead of a Scottish Night which has been the customary manner of observing the feast of St. Andrew's, a dinner will be held this year on the occasion of St. Andrew's Day. This decision was reached last evening when the members of St. Andrew's Society met for their annual meeting, and the decision met with the approval of nearly all the members of the society.

The annual meeting was held in the rooms of the society and the work of the past year was reviewed. The year has been a prosperous one for the society, the different reports heard last evening being of an encouraging nature. The president of the society, R. B. Paterson, occupied the chair and the attendance at the meeting was large.

Following the reading of the minutes the yearly reports were approved. The treasurer's report showed the finances to be in a healthy condition. The receipts for the year were $5,155.38 and the expenditure $4,827.76. In his report the treasurer announced that the building fund now totals $700.

The president in his address made feeling reference to the loss sustained by the society through the death and removal of members, and paid tribute to the late C. K. Cameron, a past president of the society and an earnest worker in the interest of the organization. A resolution expressive of the society's sense of loss through the death of Mr. Cameron was on motion of J. Roy Campbell, seconded by Geo. F. Robertson, ordered inscribed on the minutes of the society.

The committee on membership in reporting for the year advised that the society secure rooms which would be open for the accommodation of the members. The officers for the ensuing year are: President, R. B. Paterson; 1st vice-president, James Jack; 2nd vice-president, Alex. Macaulay; secretary, F. W. Fraser; treasurer, John White; auditors, R. B. Kessen, A. R. McIntyre; committee on charity, Dr. P. R. Inches, Andrew Malcolm and Alexander McMillan. Rev. Gordon Dickie is the new chaplain of the society. It was decided that the society attend church services in St. Stephen's church on Sunday, 26th of November, when the new chaplain will preach. Following the business meeting the members adjourned to White's on the invitation of the president where they enjoyed an excellent collation. With addresses by the officers and others, and a short musical programme an enjoyable hour was spent.

NEW BRUNSWICK WINS IN APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Favorable Decision in Lovitt vs. The King, Dispute with Nova Scotia Over Payment of Succession Duty - Mr. Hazen Successfully Argued Case in London - Other Provinces Interested - History of Suit.

A cable message received from London yesterday announced that the Privy Council had allowed the appeal in the case of Lovitt vs. the King. This decision is a final victory for the Province of New Brunswick in its dispute with the Province of Nova Scotia on a question of succession duties which had been before the courts since 1906. By reason of the public importance of this case it had grown into a cause celebre, and the decision of the Privy Council will be received with much interest not only in New Brunswick, but in other provinces of Canada.

Hon. J. D. Hazen, K. C., during his visit to England last summer had the management of the case for New Brunswick and also for the provinces of Ontario and British Columbia which were also interested, and as attorney general argued the case before the Privy Council in London last July. Mr. Hazen will receive hearty congratulations on the success of the appeal which finally settles a question of far-reaching importance under the succession duties act.

The facts in the case were as follows: George H. Lovitt, of Yarmouth, N. S., died in 1900 possessed of a large estate, a portion of which, consisting of upwards of $60,000, he placed during his lifetime on special deposit with the Bank of British North America in St. John. The question involved in the case was as to the right of the Province of New Brunswick to collect succession duties on this amount on the ground that it was property within New Brunswick and therefore liable to duty. The Province of Nova Scotia claimed that this amount was liable to succession duty in Nova Scotia and not in New Brunswick. By agreement between the parties a special case was stated for the opinion of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick. The succession duty amounted to $5,231.56.

The case was argued before the Privy Council in July last by Mr. Hazen as Attorney General of New Brunswick assisted by English counsel on behalf of the appellants, and by E. L. Newcombe, K. C., deputy minister of justice in Canada, assisted by English counsel for the respondents. The case was taken through the courts in the name of the executors of Mr. Lovitt, but in effect was a suit between the provinces of New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia to decide which had the right to collect the succession duty. New Brunswick wins.

"IS BETTER THAN ANY EXCEPT IN TORONTO."
Professor Macoun's Opinion of N. B. Apple Show, in St. Andrew's Rink, which Closed Last Evening.

Although the weather during the progress of the fruit show was rather unfavorable the attendance this year was somewhat better than last year. The show closed last evening. Many of the private exhibits have already been sold, and these will be removed from the rink today. On Saturday there will be a sale of a number of collections placed on exhibit by the department of agriculture. Quite a number of the prize-winning exhibits will be reserved by the department of agriculture and the Fruit Growers' Association which will send them to the Fruit shows at Toronto and Ottawa. The department will also take over about fifty barrels of the best apples and send them Great Britain, where they will be placed on exhibit in different cities by the provincial representative at London.

According to the conditions under which exhibitors enter their displays all prize-winning plate exhibits become the property of the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association, and the department of agriculture has the first option of purchase of all the prize-winning box and barrel exhibits. The fact that their names were not attached to the exhibits seemed to have occasioned some dissatisfaction among some of the contributors. W. W. Hubbard, secretary of the department of agriculture, said this was an oversight, as it was the intention of the department to have all exhibits marked with the name of the grower and the part of the province they came from. He added that the exhibitors might have marked their exhibits themselves, as was done in some cases. Tappan Adney and the St. John River Fruit Company, for instance, had large signs displayed over their exhibits.

It is claimed that had this policy been generally adopted it would have added to the interest of the show and given visitors a more complete idea of the fruit raising capabilities of the province. C. N. Yroom, president of the association, remarked to a reporter that there was a general impression that the big display of the department of agriculture was raised entirely along the St. John River Valley, when as a matter of fact about 40 of the boxes in this display came from Charlotte county.

Prof. Macoun, Dominion horticulturist, who acted as one of the judges, was delighted with the show. Asked how it compared with fruit shows in Ontario, he said it was only surpassed by the shows held in Toronto, where they usually had upwards of 2,000 boxes on exhibit.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S GREATEST SHOE HOUSE

Don't Get Cold Feet

So many people complain of cold feet once the weather changes, that it is actually necessary that they should wear a good stout soled boot.

Men's and Women's Heavy Soled Boots
When we say heavy soled, it does not mean that the boots are a load to carry. On the contrary, the art of shoemaking is so perfect today that a person can get at our stores boots that are warm and impervious to weather and yet light and flexible. We would be pleased to show them.

A CORONATION MEDAL FOR DR. J. W. DANIEL

Pleasant Souvenir of Visit of Canadian Parliamentarians to Great Britain on Occasion of Coronation Ceremonies.

With a view to marking His Majesty's sense of the importance of their visit to the coronation ceremonies King George has awarded the members of Parliament, who attended the coronation, a silver medal as a souvenir of the occasion. Dr. J. W. Daniel yesterday received a copy of the medal accompanied by the following letter:

Downing street, 14 October, 1911.
Sir: I have the honor by command of the King, to transmit to you the Coronation Medal, which has been awarded you by His Majesty. I shall be glad to receive an acknowledgment in due course. I have the honor to be, Sir, Your most obedient servant,
L. HARCOURT.

The Coronation medal which is of silver is neatly designed. The obverse side bears the effigies of their majesties the King and Queen. On the reverse side of the medal are the letters, G. R. beautifully and artistically engraved, and surmounted by a crown, and below these letters are the words, 22 June 1911. The medal is attached to a silver bar by means of a blue ribbon double barred with red. The medal makes an attractive souvenir of the Coronation ceremonies and will no doubt be cherished by the recipients.
