

WASHINGTON CONFERENCE TURNS TO CONSIDERATION OF FAR EASTERN PROBLEMS

Question Tackled With Same Momentum as Characterized That of Naval Armaments.

CHINESE DELEGATES SET THE PACE

Open Sympathy of United States With China at Once Manifest.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The Washington conference today turned to consideration of "Far Eastern" questions with almost the same momentum with which it tackled the question of naval armaments.

It was the Chinese delegates who led the way this time. In the Committee of Nine, at which all nations participating were represented, they produced a basis for discussion which represents their views. The open sympathy of the United States with their position was at once manifest. The British supported it in many respects. The positions of the others were not clearly defined, although members of the Japanese delegation have given expression of approval, in part, at least, to China's "bill of rights."

What China Wants

In brief, China wants guarantees for territorial integrity and political and administrative independence; she proposes the open door for all in all parts of the country; she wants all spheres of influence relinquished; she wants no treaties made affecting her without being consulted about them.

The full extent of China's position is much broader than this, but these are the essentials. The last feature may be construed as affecting the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, although the British take no view.

Today's session of the Big Nine was occupied entirely with the presentation of China's views. Immediately afterwards it became known that they commanded the moral support of the United States. The British viewpoint was made known a little later. The Japanese did not state their position but previous pronouncements by some of their representatives have put them in line with some parts of China's proposals.

To Continue Discussion

The discussion of Far Eastern affairs will be continued at another meeting tomorrow. Meanwhile the committee of admirals appointed at yesterday's meeting of the Big Five is continuing its examination of the United States proposals for naval limitation.

Price, the National Liberal-Conservative candidate in Westmorland, opened his speaking campaign in the county with two meetings, one at Bayfield, in the parish of Botsford, and the other in Dover, parish of Dorchester. Dr. Price and Rene Richard, barrister, of Sackville, addressed a splendid meeting at Bayfield. Arvid Dobson presided. About 150 electors, both men and women, were present, and the candidates received a fine reception. Great interest was manifested in the issues as discussed by Dr. Price and Mr. Richard, and Dr. Price received most encouraging promises of support from both male and female voters. At Dover the meeting held in the public hall was well attended and was addressed by H. M. Lambert, barrister, and E. W. Seely, of Moncton. Bentley Dobson, a well known farmer of the district, presided, and the speakers were given the best of hearers. Meetings have been arranged for every night until the close of the campaign, and the county will be thoroughly covered from one end to the other. Sir George E. Foster, who was billed to speak at Sackville on Monday night next, has been transferred to Moncton for that night, arrangements to that effect having been completed today. Other speakers at that meeting will be the candidate, Dr. Price, and a French speaker. Reports favorable to the Meighen government and the candidacy of Dr. Price are coming in from all parts of the county, and the situation so far as the government is concerned in this county has improved a hundred per cent in the past week.

LEMIEUX AND GAUTHIER IN WARM PASSAGES

Former Accuses Latter With Being Traitor to the Liberal Party.

LEMIEUX NOW POLITICAL CORPSE

Supporting the Shaughnessy Plan He Is Ruining Canada, Declares Gauthier.

Saint Casimir, Que., Nov. 16.—Warm passages were exchanged between Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and L. J. Gauthier, ex-M. P. for St. Hyacinthe-Rouville, at an open air joint meeting held here this afternoon. Mr. Lemieux insisted that Mr. Gauthier had been a traitor to the Liberal party, comparing him with Judas Iscariot, and hoped that Mr. Gauthier would go as far as that, but would leave it to the electors of St. Hyacinthe-Rouville to suspend him by their votes.

Mr. Gauthier said Mr. Lemieux was a corpse, politically speaking. He declared that Mr. Lemieux and his fellow Liberals had betrayed the true principles of the Liberal party, the principles of Lawler, to follow the socialism of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

The crowd was keenly interested, but there was comparatively little interruption at the meeting. It was called by Rene Morin, the Liberal candidate for the constituency, and Mr. Gauthier, who is running as a Liberal Protectionist, was given 40 minutes' time. Following Mr. Morin, on the charge of having betrayed his mandate, Mr. Gauthier said he was elected on the Laurier tariff that called for 50 per cent on manufactured goods. He intimated that the real traitors were the framers of the Liberal convention of 1919, and he claimed that the Shaughnessy plan for dealing with the National Railways.

Replying Mr. Lemieux repeated that the Shaughnessy plan is the only one that seems worth while, but it is to be studied. In any case I prefer monopoly by the C. P. R. to the bankruptcy of Canada.

Halifax Board of Trade Ask For Better Facilities

Say Port is Handicapped in Proper Equipment for Handling Shipping.

Halifax, Nov. 16.—Following a meeting of local shipping men and members of the Board of Trade this afternoon a telegram was sent to L. S. Brown, eastern superintendent of the Canadian National Railways, urging him to come here and take up at once the matter of providing this port with proper facilities for handling the passenger and other traffic expected here this winter. According to schedules submitted by the steamer men there will be 100 sailings to this port during the winter, exclusive of the sailings of the Royal Mail Packet Company and other long established lines. At present Halifax has only one deep water pier with sheds for the accommodation of passengers while passing the immigration officials, unless additional facilities be provided without delay shipping men fear there will be serious difficulties when more than one passenger liner in port.

LOYALISTS PROTEST AGAINST BRITISH CABINET TREATMENT OF ULSTER

Belfast, Nov. 16.—Ten thousand loyalists in three meetings tonight emphatically protested against the British cabinet's treatment of Ulster. Great enthusiasm was displayed. The Lord Mayor of Belfast, presiding over the principal meeting in the assembly hall, declared that Ulster never would be the vassal of a Sinn Fein parliament. Resolutions to this effect were adopted unanimously. These included a resolution confidently relying upon the Liverpool conference to repudiate the idea of placing Ulster under the dominion of an all-Ireland parliament. The mention of Lloyd George's name was greeted with groans.

PREMIER MEIGHEN STANDS BY CONSTITUENCY THAT STOOD BY HIM THIRTEEN YEARS

At Portage La Prairie Prime Minister, for Second Time, Talks Issues of Campaign to His Constituents—Gov't Intends to Keep Up Military Hospitals as Long as They Are Necessary.

Portage La Prairie, Man., Nov. 16.—"I have chosen to stand by the constituency which has stood by me for thirteen years," Premier Meighen declared here tonight in addressing his constituents.

The Premier said he had not complained of being opposed in his own constituency. He thought his record marked re-election, but if his constituents considered that another man could represent them better than he, had done, it was for them to elect him.

"If Portage La Prairie and I part I will be because of the decision of the people of this constituency and not through my choice," he said.

Stand by Soldiers

The Premier declared that the Government intended to keep up the military hospitals just as long as they were necessary to re-trained soldiers. As long as returned men wished to go on the land, the Government proposed to provide them with land to go on.

Compulsory Grading of Dairy Products For Export Trade

Federal Dept. of Agriculture Regards Such More of Importance to Dairy Interests.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 16.—Regulations making compulsory the grading of dairy products to be exported, will probably be put into effect next season by the Federal department of agriculture, according to J. A. Ruddle, dairy commissioner for Canada, in an address today before dairy produce graders from all over the Dominion, meeting here under the auspices of the Dairy and Cold Store Branch of the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Ruddle emphasized the necessity for grading to ensure uniformity of quality if Canada was to hold her own against the strong competition in the principal dairy produce markets.

BRITISH LIBERAL PRESS CRITICISMS BASED UPON MISCONCEPTION OF FACTS

Washington, Nov. 16.—The severe criticisms in certain leading British Liberal newspapers, of what they regard as reservations proposed by the British delegation to the Hughes navy reduction proposals, is based upon a misconception of the actual attitude of the delegation, according to statements made today by British representatives here.

The British representatives here, while emphasizing again commitment to the construction of a small amount of naval construction during the ten year holiday, and while pointing out that Arthur J. Balfour, the delegation head, in his speech yesterday, developed strong objection to the construction of large submarines and generally to the use of submarines at all in war, state that beyond that they are not positively committed to any substantial amendments to the United States programme.

WARM WELCOME ACCORDED SIR CHAS. TUPPER

Westville Hears Distinguished Statesman Intelligently Discuss Political Issues of Day.

COMPLIMENTARY ADDRESS TENDERED

Speaker Paid Tribute to Liberals of Old Who Had Been Above Board.

Westville, N. S., Nov. 16.—Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper received a warm welcome to the town of Westville tonight. Greeted by audiences in the two local theatres which jammed them to the doors, it was evident that the lapse of time had not diminished the old ties which existed when he represented Pictou County as Ottawa.

At the Grand Theatre the Conservative candidate, Thomas Cantley was the first speaker. He dealt largely with what he called the misstatements and misrepresentations of his opponent E. M. Macdonald. Col. Cantley made particular reference to the coal and steel industries and the railway situation. He said he did not care to speak about himself, but adding he wanted to put his opponent right. He told where he stood with the Nova Scotia Coal Company and what his remuneration had been as director of the Canadian National Railways.

Tribute To Sir Hibbert

Ex-Mayor McQuarrie read a complimentary address to Sir Hibbert which was accompanied by a magnificent silver tea service, the gift of the Conservatives of Pictou County to Lady Tupper and himself.

Sir Hibbert, who was greeted with prolonged applause, was visibly affected. He reviewed his career as representative of Pictou County, and said a glowing tribute to the steadfastness of the Westville Conservatives in the days when he was a principal in the fray. He was confident Westville would be true to its record and do even better for Mr. Cantley than it had even done for himself.

Discusses Protection

Sir Hibbert then went into an exhaustive speech on protection, and paid a tribute to the Liberals of bygone days who, he said, were open and above board in their advocacy of free trade and outspoken in their denunciation of the national policy. But in the intervening years there has been a marked change, he said, and free trade is only popular now on the Prairies. The Liberals have practically ally stated their policy of their opponents. They called it a tariff for revenue, but it was nothing of the kind. Sir Hibbert reviewed the Liberal record as regards the steel and coal industries and said that those basic industries were never in graver danger than at the present time. The farmers' party made no bones about what they would do as regards the basic raw materials. The speaker said Hon. Mackenzie King was a wobbler, but the success of his party could not possibly lead to a better order of affairs if pledges and promises counted for anything.

Wrong Parties Got The Boozie

Local Revenue Officers Expected to Make Arrests in Case.

Sydney, N. S., Nov. 16.—Arrests are expected at any moment in an amusing smuggling episode which occurred at South Bay, three miles below the city, one dark night recently, when a smuggling schooner from St. Pierre landed a cargo of the choicest stuff on the beach, where it was loaded into waiting motors and hauled away. An hour later, when the real consignment appeared it was discovered that, through the treachery of two of the smugglers' crew the liquor had fallen into the wrong hands. The vessel's identity is a mystery, but local revenue officers state that they had information of the parties who got the free booze.

THE INDUSTRIAL BOOM ENTIRELY WITHOUT CAUSE

Bremen, Nov. 16.—"Our industrial boom will not last long," was the keynote of a brilliant two-hour speech, saturated with cold, calculated pessimism, delivered by Dr. Walter Rathenau, ex-Minister of Reconstruction, before the Democratic party convention in Bremen. Analyzing Germany's economic situation, he said:

"In the foreground of economic discussions has the call for reconstruction. We must have an absolutely clear understanding of the cause of this phenomenon. The optimistic view held abroad about our economic abilities has changed. The hope of Germany's economic reconstruction is no longer shared abroad. The catastrophe of Upper Silesia has also supervened. It is the victory of those of our enemies who do not want us to flourish and prosper again.

"Feeling abroad must be variously estimated. Everywhere a khaki parliament, elected under the influence of war or the armistice, is a reality with which the same statements must reckon. A favorable turn for us is not to be expected. We are today in the position of seller who is absolutely dependent on buyers for our paper money; otherwise it is unsaleable.

"How do we stand in principle toward the reparations question? One can say: We reject and decline reparations entirely. Then we must ask the counter-question: 'What are the consequences of a refusal? What can we do against such consequences?' Anyone who recommends a policy of resistance must tell us how he proposes to carry out such a policy; otherwise he prefers phrases instead of policy."

This analysis of the policy of active resistance championed today by German reactionaries was applauded by the convention. Dr. Rathenau continued:

"Another element recommends not open defiance, but passive resistance towards reparations. This policy is even worse than the first. It has not even the merit of the activity of the first and harbors even graver dangers. As honest men we must say one thing: We have given our signature—not voluntarily, but to be sure—but now we must respect it and carry out our engagements with good will. Reparation is not merely a pure loss of goods and money; it signifies something tremendous when observed by the world's millions of inhabitants. We declare: 'We will help repair the shattered

Students' Society Enjoy A Banquet

Excellent Menu at Manor House Followed by Round of Toasts and Music.

If keeping with the custom of the last of Court whereby law students in England are said to "eat their way to the bar," the Students Society of King's College Law School held a very enjoyable dinner at the Manor House last evening.

The president of the society, Ralph G. McInerney, was in the chair, and after each student had shown a thorough knowledge of the subject of conveying, in so far as it dealt with the transferring of the viands from plate to palate, having placed items on the connoisseur, and assumed title in the roast chicken, current jelly, and all the other appurtenances appertaining and belonging to the repast, a toast list was presented.

"The King" was proposed by the President and duly honored. George P. Holly proposed the toast "The Benedictus," his remarks testifying to careful research on the subject. R. A. Murray responded, and doing so furnished his fellow students with several friendly pointers.

Our Fallen Comrades by the Wayside" was proposed in a very happy manner by D. Gordon Willet, and was responded to in a humorous vein by K. E. MacLaughlin. The glowing tribute paid to the faculty by Mr. MacLaughlin was heartily applauded by other fallen comrades present.

Sidney H. Hinton proposed "Our Absent Comrade, R. P. Cahill" and the students responded by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The toast to "The Ladies" was proposed by A. E. Richard, and responded to by Stephen G. Mooney.

During the evening readings from Charles Service were given by Mr. McInerney; piano selections by F. A. Baesen, and vocal selections by Messrs. Holley, Knowlton and Quinn.

Belfast, Nov. 16.—Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, tonight wrote from London to the leaders of the Ulster mass meeting held here in protest against an all-Ireland parliament, asking for a vote of confidence to continue the present negotiations, in the following terms:

"May I ask a simple, though momentous question? Will you support my colleagues and myself in every way we consider necessary to maintain our freedom from Sinn Fein domination, while still striving to attain an honorable peace? I shall be much strengthened in the stand I am taking, as much in the interests of Great Britain as of Ulster, by an expression of your confidence and support. It appears to me that the honor, prestige and, it may be, the whole future of our Empire are at stake."

Report of Famine in Newfoundland Absolutely False

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 16.—Sir Richard Squires, Premier of Newfoundland, has received from Dr. Grenfell of Labrador mission, the following statement:

"My attention has been called to an article headed 'Famine in Newfoundland,' which I am informed has been circulated in a section of the United States press, insofar as this article purports to be an interview with me or to suggest a state of famine or starvation in Newfoundland, it is absolutely false. I have no knowledge of any Newfoundland relief fund in New York or any other American city.

INDEBTEDNESS OF RIORDON CO. TO GOVERNMENT

Sir Henry Drayton Says It Is $500,000 and Is First Charge Against Its Assets.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, gave a statement to the Toronto Telegram today regarding taxes due to the Government by the Riordon Company, Limited.

Sir Henry points out that the entire indebtedness of the company to the Government is about $500,000 which is an absolutely first charge against any or all of its assets and resources, estimated to be worth $48,000,000. It had been the policy of the Government, he says, to urge the banks of Canada not to press merchants for accounts and, taking this attitude, he asks how the Government could repudiate this principle in the case of Riordon. Moreover, if the Government were to insist on its claim it would throw the company into bankruptcy and many millions of dollars would be lost to its Canadian creditors.

The Minister of Finance states, in reply to Hon. Mr. Crerar's question as to how many other companies have been treated by the Government similarly to Riordon, that such information can only be given to Parliament and "to make it public would undermine the foundations of business, depreciate credits and work incalculable harm."

That the Quebec Government similarly recognizes the necessities of the case is indicated, Sir Henry declares, by that fact it is carrying $550,000 worth of Riordon accounts, very largely in respect of stampage dues that should have been paid at once.

Nourishing, and a most economical food.

Power Commission and the Mayor stated yesterday morning that as soon as the report is in his hands he will call council together and take the matter up. BRITISH EYES TODAY FOCUSED ON LIVERPOOL

Unionist Members Gather in Conference Over the Mooted Irish Question.

Liverpool, Nov. 16.—A large number of Unionist leaders, including Austen Chamberlain, government leader in the House of Commons, arrived here tonight to attend the conference of the Conservative party tomorrow. Most of the leaders who have arrived expressed themselves as being hopeful of achieving a settlement of the dispute between the two sections of the party over the Irish negotiations, despite the apparently great differences, provided they were not compelled to make premature disclosures regarding the progress of the negotiations. Rank Unionist leaders are assuring the rank and file of the party that they insist upon the complete security of the British Empire and of Ulster.

Another good sign, from the government point of view, is the action of Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, in inducing his colleagues of the northern cabinet not to speak at the Ulster demonstration in Belfast tonight. At his request it was decided to substitute some of the lesser lights in the Ulster movement as speakers at tonight's manifestations.

Prime Minister Lloyd George will watch the proceedings of the conference here from Bournemouth, a seaside resort not far from Southampton, where he is taking a short holiday, and where he also expects to receive Sir James Craig's reply to the government's latest communication on which Sir James was working in London today.

Liver Pains

Pains under the shoulder blades tell of liver derangements. Other indications are slow complexion, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headaches.

The quickest way to arouse the liver to healthful action is by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will insure lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mrs. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, bearing-down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and found them excellent. The dragging feeling in my back disappeared and I felt much benefited generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

British Schooner Lucy R. Cuts Up On Maine Coast

Goes Onto Ledges, Deserted by Crew, Slides Off and Travels Seas Alone.

Vinal Haven, Me., Nov. 16.—The three-masted British schooner Lucy R. demonstrated today that a sprightly misadventure may go where she likes without men's direction. After her crew had abandoned her and rowed ashore last night, when she grounded on Old Horse Ledge, she slid back into deep water and, with all sails set, bore off on the wind to the northwest tip of Martinique, where fishermen sighted her again this afternoon, aground again and on her beam end.

The steam lighter Sophia was dispatched to the vessel's aid. The Lucy R. was built last year at Weymouth, N. S., and registered 128 tons. She is owned by James P. Hood, of Halifax, N. S.

Weddings

Connelly-Carson.

An interesting wedding took place at St. James' church at 3.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when Rev. H. A. Connelly officiated at the marriage of Mary H., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Carson, and George Edgerbert son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Connelly, Annapolis, N. B. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of navy serge and hat of tussie tussie. She also wore a grey squirrel scarf, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Connelly left on the Montreal train for a trip to Upper Canadian cities. On their return they will reside in this city, where the groom is manager of the B. N. S. branch at Haymarket square.

Many beautiful gifts were received, testifying to the popularity of the young couple. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. James P. Connelly, Miss Greta Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore and Master Donald Moore, of Apohaqui.

Evans-Cummins

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 16.—At the Lewisville Baptist church at high noon today occurred the marriage of Miss Annie Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cummins, Lewisville, to Edwin Ronald Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Evans, Moncton, the Rev. H. B. Champion, of Newcastle, N. B., officiating. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father wearing her travelling suit of navy blue serge with ermine choker, gage hat of blue panne velvet and corsage bouquet of Orchids and Lillies of the Valley. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. I. Malcom, of Moncton. Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests, which numbered about 60, repaired to the home of the bride, where a dainty luncheon was served. The groom's gift to the bride was a wrist watch, to the organist, a $10 gold coin and the same to the ushers. The bride was presented with a beautiful pyrex casserole from her Sunday School class. The groom was presented with a handsome chest of silver from the Engineering Department of N. S. N. B. and from his office associates, a pyrex set.

The out of town guests included Mrs. H. J. Fowler, Hampton, grandmother of the groom; H. E. Fowler, Fredericton, uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hooper, of Grand Falls; Miss Meta Adams, of Dorchester and Miss I. A. Smith, New York. The bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto.

ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1921.

"More than any other country, Canada needs a protective system. She is a young country mostly undeveloped. She lies alongside a great big country tremendously developed. The United States has every advantage that Canada has and tremendous advantages besides. It surely follows, to the mind of every reasonable man, that to abandon the protective system in Canada would be simply to invite the absorption of Canadian industry in the far vaster industries of the United States. The principles of the protection of Canadian industry have been proclaimed by practically every statesman who has shouldered the responsibility of government in Canada. They are sound and they are right and the vast mass of the people of Canada know that they are sound and right."

—From Premier Meighen's Postage Speech.

CANADA'S STATUS AT THE CONFERENCE.

A considerable amount of discussion is taking place as to the position occupied by Sir Robert Borden at the Washington Conference, and whether his presence there indicates a recognition of independent status for Canada. Any discussion of this question is somewhat pointless, for the simple reason that only sovereign powers were invited to attend the Conference and Canada is not—as yet at any rate—such a power. Neither can she be one as long as she remains within the British Empire. When the British Government was invited to the Conference, all the overseas Dominions, Canada, Australia, South Africa and India were asked to send a representative on the British delegation, and as a matter of fact this delegation consists of as many representatives of self-governing Dominions as there are representatives from Britain itself. The situation is peculiar, because notwithstanding the fact that the overseas Dominions are part of the Empire, both Canada and Australia have embryonic navies of their own, and it is conceivable, in Australia's case at any rate, that there may be a desire to develop those navies. According to Washington despatches, this phase of the question has been under the consideration of Sir Robert Borden and Mr. Balfour, and the idea seems to be that the strength of the overseas navies will have to be included in the total strength of the Imperial fleet.

As long as the United Kingdom remains the head of the Empire—which will naturally be for all time—it will be the dominant partner in the councils of the Empire. If the overseas Dominions do not like their subordinate positions, they can of course withdraw and become Sovereign powers themselves. In that case, any navies they may choose to construct and maintain will be their own affairs. While one naturally does not care to contemplate any breaking up of the Empire, it is readily understandable the question may easily arise in which the particular interests of certain parts of it may be affected differently from others, and a general policy may not be agreeable to all alike. What may happen under those circumstances, time alone can show; but there are people who have not very much faith in a Confederation of self-governing states locally elected in all parts of the world and subject to varying and altogether different conditions.

MR. COPP AND HON. C. W. ROBINSON.

Mr. A. B. Copp of Westmorland wants the I. C. R. manned by Maritime Province men. Will Mr. Copp state who mans the I. C. R. today, and all the branch lines that the Government has taken over? When the Union Government was formed, Mr. Copp solicited "God bless the common people." But for Mr. Copp's statement it would never have been thought that there were common people in Canada. Even when he talks to himself Mr. Copp says unwise things. Who were in the Union Government party? Fielding, Fardeau, Carveil, A. K. McLean, Sifton, Michael Clark and many other Liberals. Mr. Copp was not invited to join the Union Government for reasons that are not a secret.

Mr. Copp remarks "Moncton was prosperous between 1896 and 1911." What was the average wage of the railway men between 1896 and 1911, and what was it between 1911 and 1921? When did Moncton have its greatest growth, under the Liberal or the Conservative regime? When did the majority of railway men buy their own homes? When were the streets paved? When was the subway built? When were the yards enlarged? When was the indoor baseball built? When were the magnificent churches erected? When was the Town Hall constructed? When did Moncton practically double its population? Will Mr. Copp please answer.

Moncton became a city of which this province is proud under a Conservative Government. What has Mr. Copp done for Moncton that during an election he should take credit for the city's marvellous growth. The St. John Standard prefers to give the credit to the enterprising spirit of the citizens themselves.

Hon. C. W. Robinson, one of the most likeable public men in the Province is coming to Rothesay to speak. He is also the most plausible politician in the Province. Will Mr. Robinson please give for the benefit of the voters of New Brunswick his views on the railway question and his solution of the problem? Will he also explain Mr. Mackenzie King's attitude, as well as those of Gouin, Lemieux and Lanctot. The Standard will await with considerable interest his clear, definite and unequivocal plans as to how the railways are to be handled. The only fear The Standard has is that Mr. Robinson, as usual, will see so much good in all the schemes, that he will avoid the substance with grass widows so couldn't say anything about their huge grubs, between them, they don't know what they are doing. (Address care Standard.)

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Liberals and Railways.
(Montreal Gazette.)

Upon no question are Opposition leaders more at sea than upon the railway problem. The Liberal and Conservative groups, however, brought up the tariff as an issue, and set out to stampede the electorate with pictures—mostly copies—of the supposed advantages to be derived from a low rate for the commodity at an extremely restricted one, they began to hedge to somewhat incoherent explanations having to do with charts and middle courses, while Mr. Crear assured his audience that the protective tariff, though morally wrong and economically unsound, would not be eliminated overnight. Other Liberal spokesmen, having a sympathetic regard for local conditions, declared themselves prof- itless and made no bones about it. This situation became one of increasing embarrassment for the Opposition, and more especially for the Liberal wing, whereupon Mr. MacKenzie King had an inspiration, not unlike that which later came to him upon the wharf at Lewis, and he began to talk about the railways. Others followed, notably Mr. Lemieux, Mr. Mitchell and Sir Lomer Gouin. Here and there, now and then, a Liberal speaker has had the very considerable hardihood to assert that this miserable and costly railway fiasco has been the work of the present Government, and that the Liberal speaker has had the very considerable hardihood to assert that this miserable and costly railway fiasco has been the work of the present Government, and that the Liberal speaker has had the very considerable hardihood to assert that this miserable and costly railway fiasco has been the work of the present Government.

SOME NAVY, TOO!

The Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux can make himself appear more ridiculous on the stump than any man in Canada. Just read the extracts from one of his latest speeches and say if we are not right:—

"What," demanded Hon. Mr. Lemieux, "prevented Halifax from being bombed by the German warships? It was the Niobe, and on the Pacific we saved Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert, because there was one of the ships there that Laurier got for the Government."

"How had supplies gone through Vancouver for Russia, except this Laurier had had the good sense to defend the Pacific coast with Canadian ships? The Laurier policy had been justified by the war, the 'win- pot' navy had shown its worth."

KING FAILED TO—

Mr. Mackenzie King has failed to stand by the tariff platform he helped to make, and has failed to repudiate it. He failed to get the farmers to join him; he failed to get Burnaby to resign in his favor in North York; he failed in his fight against conscription; he failed in his attempt to blacken the Government's reputation over the shells he discovered at Lewis; he failed to keep his Quebec supporters in line on the tariff pronouncement of the party; he failed to bring Hon. Was. Pugsley into the fight in this province, he has failed in all his attempts to weaken the strength of the Prime Minister's arguments. Some failure to the boy leader!

NOTES BY THE OFFICE BOY

There are five men at the job as Mayor of Boston, and on Monday night they all attended a woman's convention, where she was the rousing orator on the platform and expanded their programmes in turn. Incidentally it gave the members of the audience an opportunity to determine which of the four candidates for this constituency might follow.

I see in the Market Report that four sold for $4 a barrel in Minneapolis last week, the fact showing how much more quickly news of that sort reaches the public than it does the bankers.

When the football season laps over into the snowball season by three or four weeks as this year, it is time to consider readjusting the football calendar.

It would be a very dull young man who wouldn't take the hint when the young lady he calls upon comes to the door to meet him wearing an automobile veil.

Vernonia, (that's the elevator girl) asked me a riddle yesterday. She wanted to know whether a grass widow's hug can properly be called a hay-press. I told her I had no acquaintance with grass widows so couldn't say anything about their huge grubs, between them, they don't know what they are doing. (Address care Standard.)

I see in the paper that telephone operators in Egypt are required to be able to speak English, French, Italian, Greek and Arabic. I don't suppose there will be many of our girls applying for jobs there.

Cigars seemed to be plentiful round the office last night. This is a real pity, I suppose, of the large cabbage crop in the Southern States this year.

THE LAUGH LINE

The Not Impossible She.
"I am going south on my vacation to see my fiancée."
"Who is she?"
"How do I know?"

Soft-Hearted Landlord.
"Why do you object to children in your apartment-house?"
"As a matter of kindness. People who are raising families can't be expected to pay the rentals I require."

The Great Passion.
Maud—have just heard of a case where a man married a girl on his death bed, so that she could have his millions when he was gone. Could you love a girl like that?
Jack—That's just the kind of a girl I could love. What's her address?

According to The Globe, St. John and Halifax are being side-tracked in favor of Portland in the matter of grain shipments. "It is side-tracking which can and should be stopped." How would our contemporary propose to stop it? Sir Wilfrid Laurier gave the shipper the right to choose his own route.

CHINA ASKS THE TERRITORIAL INTERNATIONAL ADMINISTRATION

Objection to Secret Treaties
ance of the Open Door
posals to Armament Co

Washington, Nov. 16.—Preservation of "territorial integrity and political and administrative independence," together with treaties in the Far East were included in the Chinese program outlined today at the initial session of the Armament Conference Committee on Far Eastern Questions.

China, in return, would agree "not to alienate or lease any portion of her territory" to any foreign power, and "all special rights, privileges, immunities or commitments" now held in China by any foreign power are to be carefully re-examined.

All "existing limitations upon China's political, jurisdictional and administrative freedom of action" would be removed and provision made for future conferences from time to time for the international discussion of the Far Eastern situation.

Other elements of the Chinese proposals provide for full respect for China's rights as a neutral in all future wars to which the nation is not party, and for peaceful settlement of international disputes in the Pacific and the Far East.

Dr. Wellington Koo, who presented the Chinese proposals, said they were made in the interest of all powers involved in the Far East as well as of China and, if adopted, "would pave the way toward solving some of the perplexing problems in laying a firm foundation of the Pacific and Far East."

Text of Proposal

The text of the Chinese proposal submitted to the assembled delegates by the heads of the Chinese delegation follows:

"In view of the fact that China must necessarily play an important part in the deliberations of this conference we refer to the political situation in the Far East, the Chinese delegation has thought it proper that they should take the first possible opportunity to state certain general principles, which in their opinion should guide the conference in the determination of the principles which it is to make.

"Certain of the specific applications of the principles which it is expected that the Conference will make it is our intention later to bring forward, but at the present time it is deemed sufficient simply to propose the principles which I shall presently read.

"In formulating these principles, the purpose has been kept steadily in view of obtaining rules in accordance with which existing, and possible future political and economic problems of the Far East and the Pacific, may be most justly settled, with due regard to the rights and legitimate interests of all the powers concerned. Thus it has been sought to harmonize the particular interests of China with the general interests of all the world.

"China is anxious to play her part, not only in maintaining peace, but in promoting the material advancement and the cultural development of all the nations. She wishes to make her vast natural resources available to all peoples who need them, and in return to receive the benefits of free and equal intercourse with them. In order that she may do this, it is necessary that she should have every possible opportunity to develop her political institutions in accordance with the genius and needs of her own people. China is now contending with certain difficult problems, which necessarily arise, when any country makes a radical change in her form of Government. These problems she will be able to solve if given the opportunity to do so. This means not only that she should be freed from the danger of threat of foreign aggression, but that, so far as circumstances will possibly admit, she be relieved from limitations which would deprive her of autonomous administrative action and prevent her from securing adequate public revenues. Principles Involved "In conformity with the agenda of the conference, the Chinese Government proposes for the consideration and adoption by the conference the following general principles to be applied in the determination of the questions relating to China: (a) The powers engage to respect and observe the territorial integrity and political and administrative independence of the Chinese Republic. (b) China upon her part is prepared to give an undertaking not to alienate or lease any portion of her territory or to grant any special privilege or concession to any foreign power...

CHINA ASKS THE PRESERVATION OF TERRITORIAL INTEGRITY, POLITICAL ADMINISTRATIVE INDEPENDENCE

Objection to Secret Treaties in the Far East, and Maintenance of the Open Door Policy Fully Set Forth in Proposals to Armament Conference Yesterday.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Preservation of "territorial integrity and political and administrative independence," together with treaties in the far East were included in the Chinese proposals outlined today at the initial session of the Armament Conference Committee on Far Eastern Questions. China, in return, would agree "not to alienate or lease any portion of her territory" to any foreign power...

HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER COMMISSION AWARDS CONTRACT FOR TRACTION EQUIPMENT TO ENGLISH ELECTRIC COMPANY.

It is announced that the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario has placed a contract with the English Electric Company, of Canada, Limited, for traction equipment for the new Hydro Radial cars at Windsor and Guelph. This is the first large order for traction equipment placed by the Commission, and it is interesting to note the adoption of the English Electric Company's equipment, as this company has just commenced manufacturing in Canada. It is understood that this entire order will be manufactured at the St. Catherine plant of the English Electric Company. The equipment ordered is similar to that recently purchased from the English Electric Company by the Toronto Transportation Commission and now in use on their new cars.

Funerals

The funeral of John A. Connolly took place yesterday morning from his late residence, 18 Murray street, to St. Peter's Church for high mass of requiem by Rev. G. Coffin, C.S.S.R. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery. The funeral was attended by many and the floral and spiritual offerings were numerous. The funeral of Thomas Edwin Robinson was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 36 Kennedy street, to Fernhill. Members of the Foresters and the Knights of Pythias attended the funeral. Rev. R. A. Armstrong conducted service at the house, and James Moulson conducted the Pythian burial service at the grave.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS QUICKLY RELIEVED

It is hard to keep the children from taking cold, they will run out of doors not properly wrapped, or have too much clothing on and get overheated and cool off too suddenly, they get their feet wet, kick off the clothes at night, the mother cannot watch them all the time so what is she going to do? Mothers should never neglect the children's coughs or colds, but on the first sign should procure a bottle of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP. It is pleasant and nice to take, and relieves the cough or cold in a very short time, and thus prevents bronchitis, pneumonia, or perhaps consumption getting a foothold on their system.

Mrs. E. Smith, 388 Victoria, Ave., North, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have three children who have had very bad colds, due to change of climate. I have tried different remedies, but I seem to get best results from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I have no difficulty in giving it to them as they like it. I always have at least one bottle in the house." Price 50c and 90c, a bottle at all drug stores. Put up only by The T. M. Smith Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Women's Institutes Meet In Toronto

Unusually Interesting Programme for the 20th Annual Convention.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 15.—The twentieth annual convention of the Women's Institute of Ontario opened its sessions today in the Foresters' Hall, and an unusually interesting programme has been prepared. There is to be an innovation this year, in that individual institute reports are not being asked for, leaving more time for fresh discussion. Institutes working along special lines have been asked to report on results achieved, but the omission of the somewhat dreary routine of report reading is a happy decision.

Lady Falconer gave the address of welcome at the opening session where also Mrs. William Todd, Ontario president of the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario, gave her presidential address, followed by reports of the conventions held in Northern, Eastern and Western Ontario and of the Dominion Federation, held at Edmonton.

Community singing, as before, will inaugurate each evening session. Mr. George Putnam, superintendent of the Women's Institute Branch Department of Agriculture, spoke at the first meeting also. Mrs. D. D. Dunlop, director of the Extension Service, University of Toronto, and Miss Lillian Smith, of the Children's Department, Toronto Public Library, Miss Smith spoke on "Story Telling."

Other speakers on the three-day programme are Miss Vida Couterworth of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, who will talk on "Music for Country Homes and Communities"; Miss Mary Yates, Port Huron, who gives an illustrated address on "Outside of the Country Home"; Dr. John Waugh, Chief Inspector of Schools for Ontario, who will discuss "School Facilities for Rural Ontario"; Dr. Annie Ross, Guelph, who speaks on "Community Recreation"; Miss O. Crick, Guelph, who will tell "What the Ontario Agricultural College is Prepared to Do for the Institute."

Other speakers will be Dr. Helen MacMurphy, Chief of the Child Welfare Division, Ottawa; Dr. Margaret Paterson, Toronto; Dr. J. J. Middle-

PRESERVE CUT ROSES

There are a number of chemicals which give more or less success in prolonging the life of cut roses. A little sulphate or carbonate of soda sprinkled in the water will prolong for several days the lasting time of cut roses, says rose expert. Puncture of Nux vomica in the water answers the same purpose. A little ammonium chloride or ammonia also keeps the rose petals from losing their turgidity. All these chemicals act through cell stimulation. The amount of water and the number of roses, and is easily established by experiment.

QUITE A SHOCK

A woman rushed up to a friend's house and knocked on the front door. At first she knocked quietly, but got no reply. Then she knocked louder but still no reply, but after the third knock a window above was opened and a woman's head appeared.

"Mrs. Binks, yer 'usband's got two months' imprisonment," said the woman below, excitedly.

"Good gracious, Mrs. Binks," replied the other calmly, "you you did frighten me. I thought it was the man called for the rent again."

NONE AT ALL

Sandy had gone to the station to see his cousin off.

"Mac," he said, "ye might like to leave me a bob or two ta drink ye a safe journey."

"Mon, I canna," was the reply. "A my spare cash I gie ta my auld nither."

"That's strange! Your mother said you never gave her anything!"

"Well, if I dinna gie my auld nither anything, what sort of chance d'ye think you've got?"

Department of Health, Toronto; Dr. A. E. Marty, Public School Inspector, Toronto; and Miss K. F. McIntosh, Department of Agriculture, Brampton.

There will be a round table conference on Wednesday afternoon, when the fostering of community work, programme planning and girls' work will be informally discussed.

Two films are being shown on Friday afternoon.

District conventions have been already held at Port Arthur, North Bay, Ottawa and London.

Answers To Correspondents:

TWENTY-FIVE—I can quite understand that you are worried about your skin becoming dry, because there is nothing that will kill a good complexion so quickly as the dry atmosphere of Canadian homes during the winter time. And, of course, continuous housework will run any hands unless you do something to prevent it. The best thing you can do is to rub CAMPANAZ'S ITALIAN BALM at any Drugist. 40c. a large bottle.

English Women To Work For Success of Conference

London, Nov. 16.—English women, who already have flooded Premier Lloyd George and other members of the British delegation with thousands of petitions and memorials for the success of the Washington conference, are to continue their work while the conference sits. A movement was launched today for every individual branch of all the great women's organizations of this country to adopt resolutions and to forward them not only to British delegates but to those of the United States and other nations taking part in the conference. Mrs. Winifred, the second woman member of Parliament, made the following statement at the conference.

"The most happy women is that day following the anniversary of the armistice, which ended the terrible struggle between nations. The thoughts and hopes of people all over the world are with the delegates of the nations at Washington today—charged as they are with a mission from their respective peoples to seek a reduction of armament, the very existence of which is a menace to the peace of the world. It is a time when the resources of every nation should be available for the building up of a better and happier society, let the watchword of nations be 'to another be love and good will.'"

My mother got me a box of Milburn's Laxative Pills and told me to give them a fair trial. After I had taken one I felt much better and one almost cured me. Lloyd George As Grandfather

Little intimate glimpses of Mr. Lloyd George are always interesting, more especially by reason of their contrast with the heavy burden of state carried by the "Little Welshman." A pretty story, with the Prime Minister in the role of grand-papa, is told, the incident taking place in London at Victoria Station on October 9th, on the arrival from the daughter of Mrs. Carey Evans, the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George, who went out to join her husband, Major Carey Evans, almost two years ago, and who was returning for a visit with her parents, bringing with her a tiny daughter, christened with the old name Eluned. The Prime Minister, Mrs. Lloyd George, their daughter Megan, and Mrs. Carey Evans' other child, three and a half year old Margaret, were at the station to receive her. The traveller's first greeting was for her little daughter, then for her mother. Then Mrs. Carey Evans noticed the Prime Minister a few yards up the platform.

"Hello, daddy!" she exclaimed excitedly, and in a moment her arms went impulsively round her father's neck, almost upsetting his bowler hat. While she was kissing Megan the Prime Minister asked: "Who's the baby?" Eluned, swathed in a white shawl and carried by a nurse, was kissed by her distinguished grandfather, who smiled his approval. It was apparently mutual, for Eluned smiled back in a happy way. The party entered a car and the signal was given for the chauffeur to start, when once again the Prime Minister asked, this time in alarm: "Where's the baby?" There was a hurried search, and the nurse was discovered some yards away looking after the luggage.

National Hockey Association Cup

Trophy Has Been Turned Over to National Hockey League and Cup to Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—The O'Brien Cup, originally the championship emblem of the National Hockey Association, will serve henceforth as that of the National Hockey League. Word to this effect has been received from President Frank Calder, of the N. H. L., who will turn the O'Brien cup over at once to the Ottawa Club. The O'Brien cup was presented by Senator M. J. O'Brien, of Renfrew, after the "creamery kings" and other rebel clubs had successfully battled the eastern Canada League into submission by organizing the National Hockey Association. When the National Hockey Association closed up shop several years ago to be succeeded by the National League, the O'Brien cup was then held by the Canadians. Following the death of the late George Kennedy, it was secured by President Calder, who is having it cleaned and polished, prior to its presentation to the Ottawas.

Thoroughbred Foals On Increase

2,117 This Year as Compared With 1,737 in 1913 and 1,823 in 1919.

New York, Nov. 15.—Those who are interested in the thoroughbred will be pleased to learn that there is a marked increase in the number of thoroughbred foals registered this year with the Jockey Club over last season. In comparison with the high-water mark of 4,406, when the racing was at the crest of its popularity in this country in 1906, the 2,117 of this year, as reported by Registrar Herbert, of the Jockey Club, shows a marked depreciation. When measured with the 1,737 of 1913, or the 1,823 of 1919, however, the increase is not so marked, and the interest in blood stock production is on the increase.

One of the healthiest signs of the times for the lovers of the thoroughbred is the demand by small breeders in various parts of the country for pure bred stallions and mares. The farmers of the Genesee Valley have found the possession of a well-bred mare an asset. Such dams do their share of the farm work and their foals command a higher price than those from cold-blooded families. There is the advantage of an earlier market also, as most thoroughbreds change hands at one, two or three years of age. Yearlings bred in the Genesee Valley have sold for as much as $1,000 each during the past autumn. Naturally the farmers of the Genesee Valley want more thoroughbred mares.

Farmers in other locations are also seeking mares of this type. Applications are coming to the office of the breeding bureau of the Jockey Club at intervals from as far west as Montana and north as Maine for breeding material. Some of these farmers want a stallion, as well as brood mares, but a majority of them are so placed that they have access to the sires of the breed. Some service or to those that are privately owned. Numerous importations. Another felicitous happening for the lovers of the thoroughbred comes in the shape of the numerous importations of blood stock from England and France during the current year. In no similar period in the history of the turf in the United States has there been so many fine specimens of the blood horse brought to our shores. Their presence must inevitably work to the improvement of the type in this country.

There was a time when the importation of such horses as Norfolk, Prince Palatine, Archduke and Brown Prince, whose total purchase price is reported to have been in the neighborhood of $200,000, would have been a sensation, but they have been absorbed as though it were an ordinary transaction for an American fancier to pay upwards of a quarter of a million for a thoroughbred horse.

The war was the means of this country gaining noteworthy recruits to our supply of blood stock. Exceptional specimens were parted with then with the greatest reluctance. An endeavor has been made within the past two years to regain some of these for English studs, but so far without success.

Recent importations of mares include Herencia by Roi Herode, Rose Pom Pom by Rocks and Oria by Dark Ronald, which came over for Messrs. August Belmont, Jos. E. Widener and Harry F. Sinclair, respectively. Their influence on the thoroughbred families of the United States must be for good. That other fine brood mares are bound to find their way to this country in the near future is certain, as there is a depression abroad for the moment, and the rate of exchange is so greatly in favor of the American buyer that it would be a mistake not to take advantage of it.

BENNY LEONARD Belongs To Silent School of Golfers

By "Chick" Evans. Concentration in golf is that virtue that makes a man think only of how to play the shot before him. It means that the attention of the mind must be taken from every other thought and focused on the play at hand. How to attain this desirable condition is very important to the golfer. Some days it is easy—on others impossible.

As I sat the other night pondering over the question, the thought of successful, silent golfers rushed to my mind, and I wondered if somewhere among them lay the key to the closed door. We have all heard the story of the Scottish golfers who spoke never during a whole round until Sandy missed a short putt for a half on the eighteenth hole, and the startled Aleck said, "You missed it!" to which Sandy replied, "Chatterbox!" and never played with the loquacious Aleck again.

Stars Veritable Deaf Mutes. It may be more than a quest for silence that so many of our best players have been veritable sphinxes. Take the grand old man of golf, W. J. Travis, and picture him in his best days. I can see him now with his black hair moving speechlessly over the course. And even when his match was ended he spoke but little.

Then, there was Jerry Travers, who rarely spoke, and his face—"a poker face," a well-known English writer called it—expressed absolute nothing at all. If one attempted to speak he walked away. The forbidding silence oppressed and depressed his face. Some of these famous players were not a wholesome, delightful recreation, but an important business. The attitude, which was probably wholly natural, was strangely effective while it lasted.

Now we have another silent champion, Jesse Guilford. I heard a man say that it was surprising that a man who could not carry on a conversation should excel at golf, a game requiring much clear thinking. He had forgotten our two former champions, who were not brilliant conversationalists. Probably they could have been, but they were not. Jesse Guilford is not quite fair to Jesse because he says little, but from my observation, I would say there is much common sense hidden behind his silent exterior. Some are born with the gift to express themselves by words, and others—"by their works ye shall know them."

Jesse is a fine-natured fellow, and since I have come to know him I like him very much. Of course, any one can be a silent marcher toward a championship goal, but the three prominent examples of our great game are not only not talkative in other walks of life. It may be that it is because talk brings up many ideas, and a multitude of ideas confuse the common aim.

Likes to Talk With Gallery. I have studied this side of golf thoroughly, and I can trace many of my own losses to talking with the gallery. Once just a sentence from a friend turned my mind to other thoughts, and my game suffered. But in spite of many such examples, I am forced to conclude that I am different. I have the play-by-play spirit, and for me a game never becomes a business.

Peter Manning's Speed Not From Sire

Authority on Horse Breeding Makes Several Interesting Discoveries.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 14.—When the new world speed records during the fall trotting season held here recently thousands of spectators took the performances as a matter of course, while breeding specialists and close followers of the sport went home to scan pedigrees and statistics to discover if possible the origin of the unusual speed displayed by the two animals.

A pedigree of pedigree made by Prof. W. S. Anderson, an authority on horse breeding and a member of the animal husbandry department of the Kentucky College of Agriculture, shows that the two animals derived their ability for speed from Arxworthy, a sire who was not exceptionally fast himself, but one who is noted for the speed of his get and that of his sons. He has a record of 2:15 1-2.

Studies made by Prof. Anderson show that Peter Manning, who set a new world's record for the mile by reducing the time from 1:58 to 1:57 3-4, could not have obtained his speed from his sire, Glenora (3), who had a track record of 2:35 3-4, nor from her sire, Emmet Grant, who had a record of 2:23.

Azoff Not Speedy. On the other hand, one would not pick the sire of Peter Manning, Azoff, who has a record of 2:14 1-4 for a mile, to produce the greatest speed of any sire of breed, but it must be conceded that the champion's speed came to him from his sire, since his black hair moving speechlessly over the course. And even when his match was ended he spoke but little.

Then, there was Jerry Travers, who rarely spoke, and his face—"a poker face," a well-known English writer called it—expressed absolute nothing at all. If one attempted to speak he walked away. The forbidding silence oppressed and depressed his face. Some of these famous players were not a wholesome, delightful recreation, but an important business. U. N. B. And Dal. Battle Today

Indications Are That Rival Gridders Will Be Favored With Ideal Weather.

Truro, N. S., Nov. 16.—The gold and black of Dalhousie and the red and black of University of New Brunswick will today have their rematch in the Maritime Intercollegiate Football game which will be contested. Indications are that the rival gridders will be favored with ideal weather conditions and the battle of the year is expected. A special train, carrying 250 Dalhousie rooters from Halifax is expected here, and U. N. B. will not lack support as many former students of the Fredericton institution, of learning will be there with their red and black colors, while hundreds of Truro sports will also support U. N. B.

than one line of his pedigree. This is an important factor which is sometimes underrated by people who view a trotting race. No matter how fast a horse may be, or how great his endurance, if he will not start right, stay in his gait or yield himself to his driver, he will not make records worthy of his speed and endurance.

In spite of the fact that he was not a fast horse, Arxworthy, who contributed to the speed of the mare-bred Peter Manning, is noted for the speed of his own get, as well as that of his sons, as shown by the records established by some of these animals. Prof. Anderson said, "The world's champion station, was sired by Guy Arxworthy, a son of Arxworthy, while General Watts, another son of Arxworthy, is founding a family of consistent trotting horses, according to Prof. Anderson. Dillon Arxworthy, another son, is at present the sire of the most sensational lot of young trotters ever produced by any trotting sire, Prof. Anderson said.

Great Contribution. It is safe to say that the greatest contribution which any sire has ever made to a breed is Peter the Great's gift of toughness to his descendants," Prof. Anderson said. "He also has passed on extreme speed, but his value in his offspring has not been as great, perhaps, as his contribution of endurance. Peter Manning got his toughness or endurance through his sire Azoff, in a superlative degree. Last year he was a consistent trotter and established the world's record for three heats in 2:03, 2:02 3-4 and 2:03 1-5. He also holds the world's record for four-year-old geldings with a mark of 2:02 1-3.

Peter Manning's intelligence could have come to him through more than that I might better be sitting in an office.

Yale Bowl Unique Among Structures

Famous Eli Playing Field Accommodates 70,000—Occupies 12 1/2 Acres.

"How large is the Yale Bowl and how many persons can it seat?" This compound question frequently comes buzzing over the telephone wires to the sporting department of a newspaper after an argument has arisen as to the capacity of the unique football stadium at New Haven. Estimates of the seating capacity often vary from 10,000 to 15,000. As an answer to the question of capacity, with numerous interesting other facts about the Bowl thrown in, the following from the Yale Official Football Programme seems to tell the story: The Bowl is a product of Yale, unique among structures, seating the largest number of people of any structure in existence. It was conceived and designed by a Yale man, Charles A. Ferry, '71, S., and built by the Sperry Engineering Company, of New Haven.

Yale, with her growing demand for athletics, realized in 1913 that the old wooden stands were inadequate and that, with continuing large expense for maintenance, a complete new structure would be needed in a short time. A committee, of which S. J. Elder, '73, was chairman, reported to the Yale Corporation the necessity of a new seating structure, and forthwith a committee of twenty-one was appointed, and incorporated. T. De Wit Cuyler, '74, was chairman, and under the supervision of this committee the Bowl was built.

The features that determined the selection of the Bowl were: A large structure at minimum cost and at low permanent cost, one that would be permanent, safe and fireproof, as well as being adapted to handling large crowds and finally a structure in which all could see. The Bowl met all the above requirements. It is interesting to note that the Bowl is so constructed that in the afternoon neither team has the sun in its eyes. Following are some statistics concerning the Bowl:

There are 64,005 permanent seats; with temporary seats the total capacity is 70,657. The Bowl is 333 feet long and 744 feet wide, outside to outside. The playing field is 500 feet long and 300 feet wide. It covers twelve and one-half acres and the distance around the outside is about a half mile. There are about twenty-three miles of permanent seats. The Bowl was constructed with half of its sloping side below the level of the outside ground. The playing field is twenty-seven feet below and the top of the stand twenty-seven feet above the outside ground level. The Woolworth Building could be put to bed within its walls and the largest ship could be placed within it. A drainage system around the inside wall carries water to the West River, which is fourteen feet below the playing surface. The field is one foot higher at the centre than at the sides, to facilitate the draining.

Serious Charges Before The Court

Threats to Shoot, Kill, Stab, Knife and Wring Necks Part of Evidence Heard.

Notwithstanding the peace party in Washington, yesterday's session of the police court was a decidedly boisterous one, and threats to shoot and stab, stab and knife, wring necks, and bust up happy families in a wholesale fashion, entered largely into the evidence.

Archibald Kenney was charged with threatening to shoot Madeline DeLong, but pleaded not guilty. According to the evidence of Miss DeLong and Mrs. Edward Landry, Kenney inferred that a certain other woman, the object of his affections, Miss DeLong, and he himself, would form the members of a certain firing party, in which he would shoot Madeline DeLong, should he ever find his lady love with his hated rival, Kenney was remanded to get sureties to keep the peace.

Would Wring Neck. The second case in which Magistrate Ritchie was called upon to play the role of peace maker is a President Wilson, was that of Gertie Campbell, who afforded an opportunity to try out the question of "Can you name eight women?" Miss Campbell pleaded not guilty to the charge of using threatening and abusive language to Mrs. Mary Frowley.
