In the course of events, it is an understood thing that October is autumn. However, this year it is hard to believe that such is the case, notwithstanding the fact that frost is in the air. However when spring flowers are picked on the 30th day of October one hesitates before believing that such is the case. To Miss M. A. Hebert goes the honor of picking several dandelions on the above mentioned date.

HORSE NOTES, AND WOODSTOCK NOTES

Racing is entirely over for the season and the horses are all in winter quarters. Dan Hedgewood, with his trainer, Fred Cameron and caretaker, John McManus, arrived home from Lewiston, Me., last Wednesday. Dan stood the hard summer's grind and is looking and feeling well. While he did not win any races he was always right up with the bunch and a horse has to be some pacer to stay with the bear cats all through the season. John R. Braden comes home the King of the lot. He and Dan Hedgewood have started every race during the season and have had only two weeks lay off since July 4th. Jackson Grattan had a few weeks rest after Fredericton meet in July. Roy Grattan was lame and had a long rest from his labor but came back strong the last of the season winning at Lewiston.

At the last meeting of the Driving Club the secretary reported a nice comfortable surplus, $1500, of which was handed over to the Agricultural Society. The managers of Dan Hedgewood are to be congratulated on the showing they have made. Apparently the Club were not altogether satisfied with their ability as a proposition they made to purchase another horse at an attractive figure was flatly turned down.

Henry DeWitt has sold his double gaited horse, Togo M., to Dr. Macintosh of Hartland. Togo is an excellent road horse and the genial Doctor will enjoy his long drives this winter.

Joe W. Gallagher has sold his colt, Bling Hank to Robert Brown. This colt only had a few weeks handling on the track this spring. He showed lots of speed and perfect manners. He and Baby Marie went a half mile in 1:15 June 22nd.

All horsemen regret the loss Dr. McIntosh met with when Baby Marie was so severely injured that she had to be put away. This mare was really the best local raised prospect that was ever in this section.

A local syndicate have bought the black gelding College Swift, 2:11 1/4. College is eligible for a 3-16 class next year and should prove very useful to his new owners.

The track has been covered with manure and laid away until spring, when we hope there will not be a repetition of last spring's flood.

There should be some ice racing this winter as three good ice horses are now owned in Woodstock—College Swift, Royal McKinney, and Sis Peters.

All the papers are commenting on the recent County election in Woodstock, when Joe W. Gallagher was defeated. Mr. Gallagher is getting a lot of praise and good words for the able work he did at the Council Board through the many years he has been a member. He and the late Harry Carroll were a great team, always looking after the welfare of the whole county and interested in any scheme which they thought would turn out for the betterment of the whole electorate. Both men will be very much missed and their places will be hard to fill.

Our new bridge is nearing completion and will be a great improvement on the old structure. Both the roadway and side walks are much wider and the bridge is heavier material throughout. The concrete floor is finished and it only remains to set the blocks on the floor.

The Government seems to use Carleton County fairly well as far as roads and bridges are concerned, especially when the county has all its three members in opposition.

GRAND FALLS SOCIAL EVENTS

And a Big Budget of General News From the Up-River Town

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bradley were at home to a large number of friends on Tuesday evening, the occasion being the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. But the hardships there and German gas had weakened his constitution and tuberculosis had laid its dread hands upon him. He died in November, 1920. The eldest daughter, Ernestine, married Walter McKinnay, of Fort Fairfield, but she, too, fell a victim to tuberculosis, dying in the spring of 1920.

On Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Kerton entertained very delightfully at their charming home, in honor of Mrs. Kerton's cousin, Miss Alice Markee. Food of the Gods

Isn't it interesting to know that the botanical name for chocolate is theobroma, "food of the gods"? Especially as it received this name before Moir's Chocolates were originated. Rather prophetic!

Pedibourne Biscuits are a dainty addition to the afternoon tea.

The fruit season—some of the finest examples of proper preserving can be found in Moir's fruit centred chocolates, such as those containing cherries, pineapple and peach. You'll notice how these centres have the flavor of the fresh gathered fruit. And they don't leak like other kinds.

On a cold morning a good pilot biscuit that has been soaked over night makes a bracing dish, fried in bacon fat.

In a personal letter received from His Excellency, Percy B. Baxter, Governor of Maine, to the Editor, there is this pregnant paragraph: "I appreciate what you say about the stand I have taken in regard to the water powers of Maine, and I certainly hope that the Province of New Brunswick will see to it that its Water Powers are retained for the benefit of the people and are not turned over to be exploited for the private gain of great corporations. If your people once understand the situation their decision will be given in no uncertain terms." In reference to the above, we are glad to say Mr. Dodge of the International Pulp and Paper Co., no longer has the sole rights to the Grand Falls, thanks to Premier Veniot, the Hon. J. E. We notice in a recent issue of a financial magazine that Archibald Fraser of the Fraser Companies, Ltd., has been appointed to the Directorate of the proposed reorganization of the Horden Paper Company.

The Editor had the pleasure with the delegation from the Board of Trade of meeting Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways on Wednesday. Sir Henry is a fine upstanding man, and looks equal to the great task which is his.

Thieves broke into L. A. Dugal's store on Saturday night, breaking the window and stealing flashlights and pocket knives. There has been quite a little petty burglary the past few weeks, and as some boys were before the magistrate last week on account of theft it is thought that perhaps these "breaking ins" have been caused by youthful criminals. The next time any of these come before the magistrate they will be severely dealt with.

PAWNER-AVERY

In the presence of a large number of friends a wedding of much interest was solemnized at Christ's Church, Glassville, on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 17, when Hilda Elizabeth Pawner was united in marriage to Ralph Emerson Avery of West Campton, New Hampshire. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. As the bride entered the church the choir sang "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden." The bride was attired in a navy tricorne traveling suit, and grey velvet hat and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses and asparagus ferns. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. P. Haigh, rector, the choir again sang "O! Perfect Love."

Then came the signing of the register in the vestry. As the bridal party was leaving the church a march was rendered by Mrs. W. Hannington of Eastreton.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery left immediately for an auto tour through Maine and Massachusetts, thence to their home in West Campton where the groom is a prosperous young merchant.

"I Can Now Do My Work Without Feeling Tired"

Mrs. A. Moffatt, Roston Falls, Que., writes:

"I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. Today I feel like a new woman, and am able to do my work without that dreadful tired feeling."

Two of the best programmes of the year were given patrons last week by the theatre management. A Fox news and comedy made the bill complete. On Saturday evening, the old-time matinee idol, William Farnum, did some pleasing acting as the sheriff in "Without Compromise." He was supported by Lois Wilson, Tully Marshall, Otis Harlan and other good actors. A Fox news and a comedy "Safe in the Safe" were also shown.

Last week George Briggs and Horace Estabrooks, road patrolmen, while ascending the church hill at Tracey Mills, had the misfortune to be run down by an American automobile making the descent. Headaches, dizzy spells, pains in the back, swelling of feet and ankles, suppressed, scalding or painful urination—these are all indications of kidney trouble. Read how Gin Pills relieved one sufferer—

Order Printing Now

Now is the time for produce dealers and other business men to look over their stock of office supplies and place their orders for printing before the big rush that usually sets in around the first of September. We can handle any orders sent in now very expeditiously, but if orders are deferred they may come at a time when we have weeks of work ahead. Letterheads, invoices, envelopes, all the various needed blank forms may as well be ordered now and be ready the instant they are required. We can at any time deliver blank typewriter paper, second sheets, from stock in hand, and we supply any form of special loose leaf or other blanks as quickly and as cheaply as they can be secured elsewhere. The facilities of The Observer Newspapers printing plant are not excelled in the province, being quite equal to the best equipped city offices. The most expert craftsmen we can secure are employed, and the enterprise needs your patronage and we will lend our best effort to satisfy every customer in quality, service and price. Orders sent by mail will be filled promptly and at just as low a price as if we gave competitive figures—and if you must have an order filled in a great rush we will never take advantage of your necessity. The regular customer, the "stayer," gets our best prices. We try to fill every order so that we may hope for the next one with reasonable assurance. The Observer Newspapers Ltd., Hartland, N.B.

NEW C.N.R. PRESIDENT

HE WANTED WHEN A BOY TO BE A BISHOP.

Sir Henry Thornton Invented Ball-Bearing Railway Coach—Old-Timers in Logansport, Ind., Still Call Him "Little Hen" Thornton—His Early Days in America.

Old-timers in Logansport, Ind., have been gathering around the town grocery these last few days swamping yams about "Little Hen Thornton," who used to live there. To-day he is Sir Henry Worth Thornton, and the boldest of the cracker box prophets have been heard to say that they always knew he would grow up to be something like that. He has been a Knight for several years, and Logansport has put out its chest with proper pride. The thing that started old residents harking back again to his barefoot period was the announcement the other day that their "Little Hen," now general manager of the Great Eastern Railway, had developed with associates a ball-bearing device which might conceivably revolutionize railroad operation.

One despatch said that a coach equipped with these bearings was "so easily moved that its brakes must be kept on lest the wind start it off."

Sir Henry Thornton is a conspicuous figure in the little group of Americans who have won to the biggest sort of success in England. He has done so many notable things since going there in 1914 that he is looked upon as one of the outstanding personalities in English affairs. Previous to becoming general manager of the Great Eastern, he was superintendent of the Long Island Railroad and known as a rising man in the railroad field. His achievements of the last eight years have more than borne out that estimate.

At the same time verifying the opinion of the grocery store philosophers in his old home town. Probably no man ever took up such a job as his under greater difficulties. The first of his difficulties arose when Lord Claude Hamilton, chairman of the Great Eastern in 1914, said that no man capable of running the road could be found in England, and made known the selection of Thornton. Immediately one section of the press, a large share of the public, and most of the railroad world rose in criticism. "Great Britain has not in many years had such a shock to her pride," commented the Sunday Observer. The things printed were mild compared to the spoken word. It was said that Thornton had made a name for himself by driving his men to the limit, that he was an efficiency expert of the worst sort, and woe to those who fell under his jurisdiction.

The kind of greeting that awaited Thornton may be imagined. Certainly the executive who must work with this stranger to them and their ways looked upon him with questioning eyes, at the very best. And the thousands of men in the Great Eastern's employ were on guard from the moment. Here was an outsider trying to take the face of English conservatism, of every precedent, a man who had been presented as capable to hold down a job for which nobody in England was equipped. It took a good deal of nerve and considerable common sense to face that kind of a beginning.

Thornton has both. He arrived quietly, took up his duties without any blare of horns, and looked about him. He was just the kind of man pictured in England for many years as a successful American executive—a big, powerful man, something like six feet four inches tall, and weighing around 255, with level gray eyes, a close mouth, and an intensive air.

By degrees the Great Eastern's manager won a measure of public confidence. He had gone to work in the spring of 1914, and the whole world knows what happened in August. Immediately there was a pressure on England's roads such as they never had known before. Troops, artillery, supplies, moved in an unbroken stream to the Channel ports, a large part of the whole over the Great Eastern.

Thornton was appointed to the control committee, and later was more intimately concerned in the operation of all the roads. He was knighted. Then he was appointed Director of the Channel Transports. In fact, titles were coming his way, and before long he had more to do with war transportation than almost anybody else. King George made him a K.B.E., and he was knighted Commander of the Order of the British Empire, and something that only a few men ever get. He also got the Legion of Honor and other marks of merit.

Thornton had attended St. Paul's School at Concord, N.H., and made something of a name on the football field. Afterward Thornton was one of the heavies in the line-up at the University of Pennsylvania. Following graduation, the future head of the Great Eastern went to work for the Pennsylvania as a draftsman. That was in 1896. In 1901 he reached his first real executive job as superintendent of the Cleveland, Akron & Columbus Railroad, and his climb upward has been steady ever since.

Here and There

A grant of $25,000 to the Salvation Army Canadian emigration work in Great Britain has been authorized by a Canadian Order in Council.

According to information received by the Canadian Pacific Railway in Winnipeg, sixty-three bushels of wheat to the acre has been harvested on the farm of T. M. Ballantyne, three miles north of Lacombe, Alberta. The wheat graded No. 1 and weighed 64 pounds to the bushel.

Weighing 3,170 pounds, a steer said to be the largest ever received in Winnipeg, arrived at the union stockyards from Wainwright, Alberta. It was sold for $350, the highest selling price any steer in Winnipeg since the war.

The Canadian Pacific S.S. "Brunton," which arrived in Liverpool on September 6th, put up what is considered to be a record in the speedy discharge of cargo when she sailed the following day, Sept. 6th, at 7 p.m., having discharged over 2,000 tons of cargo.

It is announced that the Canadian Pacific Railway will increase the size of its irrigation headgates at Kimball, in southern Alberta, by 50 per cent in anticipation of an increase in area of 40,000 acres in the Lethbridge district. Water will be turned into the ditches of the Lethbridge Northern project, it is expected, some time this fall.

Buffalo steak will be abundant in Canada this fall. A herd of 2,000 surplus Buffalo wandering in the range in the National Park at Wainwright will be slaughtered by an Order-in-Council, and the meat and skins sold. For several years the Government has paid special attention to the preservation of the buffalo and the work has been so successful that the National Parks are now overstocked.

At a dinner given in his honor by the Vancouver Board of Trade, H. W. Bentley, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, announced that the company proposed immediately to add two large modern steamers to its coast fleet in order to take care of its increasing tourist traffic over the Company's Pacific Coastal lines. He also announced the early completion of a new pier at Vancouver at a cost of several millions.

There have been large increases in the number of pure bred animals in Canada during the decade between the last two censuses. The increase in the number of pure bred horses between 1911 and 1921 was 44 per cent; of cattle, 129 per cent; of sheep, 75 per cent; and of swine, nearly 44 per cent. The number of pure bred horses in the Dominion in 1921 was 47,762; cattle, 286,656; sheep, 22,643, and of swine, 81,143.

A conservative estimate of the amount of money spent in Quebec by tourists reaches $2,250,750. From the beginning of May until the first of September, 15,000 motor tourists had called for information at the offices of the Quebec Auto Club. Taking an average of four people to each car, this meant that at least 60,000 people had come to the city by automobiles. Of this number there were approximately 3,000 camping parties, or 12,000 people.

At the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, recently, Colonel J. S. Dennis, Chief Commissioner of Colonization of the Canadian Pacific Railway, outlined in a detailed speech existing conditions in Canada and prospects for the future. He emphasized that there was no cause for discouragement, but, on the contrary, every prospect of a renewal of rapid development, including an increase in our population and the development of our latent natural resources in such a way as to insure in the comparatively near future, that we should be out of the woods, and progressing rapidly to a large population and favorable business and financial conditions.

YOUNG DAUGHTER MADE WELL

Mother Tells How Her Daughter Suffered and Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vancouver, B.C.—"My daughter is a young girl who has been having severe pains and weak and dizzy feelings for some time and had lost her appetite. Through an older daughter who had heard of a woman who was taking it for the same trouble, we were told of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My daughter has been taking it for several months and is quite all right now. It has done all it was represented to do and we have told a number of friends about it. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, for I myself take it for that weak, tired, worn-out feeling which sometimes comes to us all. I find it is building me up and I strongly recommend it to women who are suffering as I and my daughter have."—Mrs. J. McDonald, 284 25th Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C.

From the age of twelve a girl needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time. If she complains of headaches, pins in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her by giving her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, it is especially adapted for such conditions.

PRINTING

While it is true that the stamp on your letter is a guarantee of delivery, it falls to the letter itself to determine its final destination—the filing cabinet or the waste basket.

In many cases your written correspondence is your only point of personal contact with your client or your customer, and it is through poor appearance or address it fails to convey the importance of your message. It naturally is received with but scant attention. If, on the other hand, your letter has a "crisp" quality—a clean, dignified appearance—it will command the same respect which would be accorded to you on a personal visit.

To ensure quality which you know will be faultless and therefore above comparison, specify Colonial Bond. Printers everywhere in Canada have it—better still, let us send a sample sheet.

Colonial Bond, all-rag, tub-sized and lot-fitted. Made by The Roland Paper Company Limited, who have been making high grade papers for over 40 years.

HAS TWO HOBBIES

Principal Prendergast of London Normal School is Practical

Golf and reforestation, which have nothing to do with each other, are the hobbies of William Prendergast, who has just assumed charge of London Normal School, as principal. Mr. Prendergast is an enthusiastic golfer, plays a good game, and writes interestingly of it. In the matter of reforestation he is also both theoretical and practical, for, besides knowing how to speak and write of the benefits of reclaiming Ontario's waste areas, he has actually replanted a good-sized acreage of his own property with white pine.

Principal Prendergast is a Roman Catholic, but in any educational controversy his voice is not likely to be heard raised in criticism of the separate school question. Mr. Prendergast went to London from Toronto Normal, to take the place of John Dearness, retired. In service he was senior to anyone available in London for Mr. Dearness' post, and his fourteen years of work at Toronto mark him out as a capable head for the London institution, which under the retiring principal attained an enviable reputation throughout the province for efficiency. Although he has lived in the Queen City for a long time, Mr. Prendergast claims Western Ontario as his home, having been born in Elbert Township, North County. He studied at South High School and at Toronto University. On graduating he took up teaching in high schools and served in some of the best in the province. Of his two hobbies, reforestation takes up most of his spare time. He believes in the importance of reclaiming the vast waste areas of the northern part of the province, pointing out that while Muskoka is not much good for farming it grows excellent pine, which in itself offers a striking example of what can be done even by individuals.

As for golf, he is a recognized authority on that subject. His contributions to Toronto and other publications have been read by thousands of devotees of the game.

Three sons of Mr. Prendergast served in the war, the two elder boys being on the firing line right up to November, 1918.

Our French Trade

What Canada will obtain in the new commercial convention which is sought with France, and what she must give in order to obtain it, were outlined at Ottawa recently. Broadly speaking, Canada owes France to grant her most favored nation treatment, that is, the treatment at present granted to the United States, and in addition a schedule under which certain Canadian products will enjoy special customs rates. Dominion will probably be required to offer in exchange will be the benefits of the intermediate tariff, with a supplementary schedule under which certain French products will enjoy a special rate.

The products for which France will ask this special rate will probably be: silk, wool, toilet articles, perfumes, surgical instruments, silk dresses and other articles of silk, toys, fancy goods and feathers. There will also be concessions to offset the closing of the Canadian market, with the exception of Quebec, to French wine.

Canada will ask for a special rate on agricultural implements, spare parts, autos, trucks, boots, furniture and other manufactured goods. Although Canadian agricultural implements enter France on the same terms as those from the United States, spare parts from Canada are taxed in some cases four hundred per cent, or more, and this gives the United States manufacturers an immense advantage over their Canadian competitors. Canadian canned goods, including canned salmon, will also benefit under the new tariff. The importation of Canadian salmon into France has grown immensely in the past two years, but lately the French importers have been buying "chums" instead of the better grades, in order to balance the rise in dollar exchange, and this has injured the trade to some extent.

The new trade treaty, if consummated, will place Canada on an equal footing with the United States in the matter of trade with France. It is said to be likely that the provision in the former convention, that Canadian products to receive its benefits must be shipped direct from Canada to France, will be abolished. It is claimed that it is now hindering trade.

Canadian Cement Wanted

The crown agents for the colonies have invited Canadian manufacturers to submit quotations immediately for a large supply of Canadian cement. It is understood that the material is for use on the Gold Coast, where Gen. "Jack" Stewart is building a big harbor.

Canadian firms had expected that, as the work was being done by a company headed and controlled by Canadians, the bulk of supplies would be purchased in Canada. These expectations have in the main been disappointed, as the crown agents, and not the contractors, have the authority to place the orders.

The inquiry for Canadian cement indicates, however, that Canada's friends at court in the Gold Coast, including its Canadian-born governor, Gen. Guggisberg, are making their influence felt.

The Mildew Course

Ralph: "What we want is action instead of words."
Hughes: "Not always. I prefer a man who shouts at me to one who throws bricks."

"None So Blind," Etc.

"I don't understand why mothers can't see the faults in their own children," said Mrs. Grey to Mrs. Green. "Certainly I could, if my children had any."

GAY WITH COLORS

Picturesque Scene on Old East Indian Highway.

Customs and Costumes of the Past and Present, Mingled in Kaleidoscopic Progression.

The great highway which runs from the Khyber pass in the far northwest of India to Calcutta in the Far East is a kaleidoscope of the colors and the customs of the past and present, writes Temple Manning in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. On this great road are to be seen ox teams, caravans and camels from Afghanistan dodging huge, snorting motor trucks and light American and European cars. At a glance one might think it all a circus en route, because even the elephants are there.

Parallel to this road is a railway. One of the most interesting places along the line is Lahore, the capital of Punjab. It is called "The City of the Thirteen Gates." The railway station in Lahore resembles a fort, and so picturesque is it that one can almost imagine it being besieged by ancient oriental warriors.

On leaving the station one is struck by the spirit of the place. It is still the East, even if there are sandwich men advertising American moving pictures.

The bustling city, with its crowded bazaars and towering mosques, is very beautiful. It is surrounded by lovely gardens, which form a green circle around the city, the only break being the dusty section near the Ravi river. In Lahore is the beautiful palace of mirrors, where thousands of tiny mirrors, set in plaster, form the decorations of the walls and ceiling. Here a single candle will illuminate the interior with myriads of glistening lights like a many-sided diamond turned inside out.

The streets are crowded with the gayly-dressed inhabitants. As in most countries, the color is given by the women's dress. The average woman of Lahore wears a white waist resembling a Russian blouse, spotless white trousers of the baggy Turkish variety, and last but not least, a waistcoat like a man's with checks—great big checks.

The belles of Lahore weight down their hands with rings, and also their noses. Sometimes the nose ring is worn jauntily in one nostril, in the same manner that a hat is put on a rakish angle. Their arms are heavy with bracelets, and invariably nowadays each girl's arm is adorned with an American wrist watch. The wrist watches are an amusing touch, and dispel the oriental effect in the mind of the traveler who expects to see only what he has read of in old books.

Some of our girls who think they are very devilish and advanced because they roll down their stockings or even wear socks, are behind the times compared with their sisters of Lahore. For in Lahore the men wear stockings, and for centuries the girls have worn socks.

The Golden Goose

An American says he is "skinned" and Americans understand him. The French have a corresponding word for robbing somebody outside the law, and this word is "estampage," and the French are becoming wise to the fact that France may be overdoing this taking of irregular toll from tourists and visitors. Except for one or two special resorts, touring in France has fallen off this year, and those who are thinking about this enormous source of income to the country are pointing out the evil of the incapacity of some and the rapacity of others. The word "estampage," by the way, is a dictionary word for punching holes in metal, and is commonly understood in France for overcharging.

Britain Wants Own Beet Sugar

Before the great war Great Britain paid Germany, even upon a low computation, $35,000,000 a year for beet sugar. Great Britain now appears determined not to do it in the future, as there has been recently opened at Newark-on-Trent a beet-sugar factory which opens a new chapter in British farming annals.

The factory, covering some forty acres in all, is the result of co-operation between the government and the Sugar Beet Growers' society and Home-Grown Sugar, Limited, and is to be the first of five factories, which in turn may be precursors of the 400 that would be necessary to make England quite self-supporting.

The Necessary Husband

"She wants her husband back again." "But she sued him for divorce and got it."

"I know."

"And the court gave her the custody of the children?" "That's the trouble. She finds now that she really needs him. You see she has no one to stay at home with the children on the nights her club meets."—Detroit Free Press.

Relic of the Dark Ages

"What is this torn and tattered flag, grandmother?"

"That's a suffrage banner, my child. During the great suffrage battles of 20 years ago I dared 12 brawny policemen to take that sacred standard away from me."

"And did they do it, grandmother, dear?" "Yes, my child, but it was about 20 minutes later."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Worth Its Price

"We have cheaper teas, madam, but I think you'll find 'KING COLE' is worth its price." So said a wise grocer recently to a questioning customer. He was there not merely to serve her, but to serve her well.

He might please her purse with the cheaper article but her final judgment of his service would be on the quality of the tea supplied. He wanted a satisfied customer.

This was one of the many merchants using "KING COLE TEA" in their own homes, and so he could say with sincerity: "It is worth the price."

"You'll Like the Flavor."

PARKER-BRIGGS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briggs, of Lindsay, was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening at 5 o'clock when their eldest daughter, Bessie A., became the wife of Harry Barker, of Woodlawn. Rev. H. C. Upton performed the ceremony in the presence of several relatives and friends, after which a wedding supper was served. The bride, who was unattended, was gown in a white satin dress, trimmed with radium lace and wore a bridal veil and orange blossoms. She wore a beautiful necklace which came from the Island of Ceylon, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. Miss Mildred Gibson, of Northampton, played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party entered the parlor, which was artistically decorated with greens and white trimmings and potted plants. Many handsome and useful gifts showed the esteem in which the young people are held.

THE MIRACULOUS CHRISTMAS GIFT

It's a very nice thing to make a gift that will please all the members of the family. A box of candy will do that or a crate of fruit. But usually some one in that family gets the lion's share. That is not possible when the gift is a subscription to The Youth's Companion. It is like that fabulous pitcher of milk of the Greeks; though everyone drank deep the pitcher remained full. Everyone has a lion's share in the good things of The Companion; everyone skims his own cream, yet there is the very choicest cream left for the next comer. What better Christmas present can you make than a periodical with such fabulous powers of dividing its pleasure among a dozen and yet keeping it all intact.

The 52 issues of 1924 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1924.
2. All the remaining issues of 1923.
3. The Companion Home Calendar for 1924.
4. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority of fashions. Both publications, only $3.00.

JEWETT SIX PAIGE BUILT

New Jewett Brougham, $2075 Cleverest 5-Seater—Baked Enamel Finish

HERE it is! The really comfortable, moderate priced 5-passenger Brougham—the new Jewett! Experienced motorists everywhere express approval of its clever seating arrangement; and they prefer the combination of stout wood frame body with separately baked enameled steel panels.

The lasting lustre finish of this New Jewett Brougham will always look well. Each steel body panel is dipped 3 times in finest black enamel, then baked, then fastened to the extra-strong wood frame—wood, because wood absorbs vibration, reduces noise to nil. There is the rich black gloss ALL OVER THE CAR that you sometimes see on the fenders of other cars. And it needs no attention but washing.

Both front seats fold forward. Easy entrance and exit; ample leg room. Rear seat 46½ inches wide—room for three big people, in comfort. You'll agree that this is the cleverest 5-seater among all closed cars.

The New Brougham is a Jewett through and through—a strong, rugged car, not a flimsy light six. It has the same amazing performance that astounds old-time motorists. Its full 50 h. p. Paige-built motor gives the most spirited performance you ever saw in any car. Passes most any car on any hill. Goes from 2 to 60 miles an hour in high; accelerates from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds in high. [Try that with ANY other car!]

Drive this New Jewett Six Brougham; Never in our experience has $2075 f.o.b. Windsor, tax paid, bought so much car. Just telephone us for a demonstration.

ADAMS-SAYLES

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sayles on Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock, Oct. 27, when their only daughter, Edith T., was united in marriage to E. Oliver Adams of Bloomfield Station, P. E. I. The bride was given in marriage by her father who led her to the altar to the strains of the wedding hymn "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden" which was played by Mrs. W. P. Haigh. The bride was attended by a maid of honor, Mrs. N. H. Bradley, of Foreston, while the groom was attended by a best man, Hugh J. Lee of Beaufort. The bride looked charming in a navy blue suit of garbaidine embroidered with black sides and back with hat of navy blue velvet trimmed with gold bands and grey feather while her gloves were grey chamois. In her hand she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, white carnations and maiden hair fern. The maid of honor wore a navy blue suit of tricotine with navy blue velvet hat trimmed with red feathers, she carried a bouquet of white asters. The groom wore a suit of navy blue serge and the best man wore a suit of brown serge. The father of the bride wore a brown suit of tweed and the mother of the bride wore a dress of brown satin trimmed with radium lace. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. P. Haigh of Hartland in the presence of 100 guests. The bride and groom stood on the lawn under an archway of autumn foliage. After the ceremony was over the happy couple entered the house under the strains of a wedding march played by Mrs. W. P. Haigh. Then the guests entered the house to wish the bride and groom a long and happy married life. After the register was signed the bride exchanged her suit for a navy blue dress with a train and all-over radium lace. The maid of honor also changed her suit for a navy blue habitus dress with old rose side panels. Then the parents of the bride invited the guests to a dinner served on the lawn and after the bride cut the bridal cake the guests drank a toast in honor of the bride and groom, also in honor of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams received numerous presents such as silver, glassware, linen, blankets, pyrex, ivory and aluminum.

The members of the Delta Rebekah Lodge No. 24 of Glouceville presented the bride with a pyrex casserole with silver stand as the bride is a member of the lodge. The groom gave the bride a three piece ivory toilet set while the bride presented the groom with a silver shaving mug and brush. The groom gave the best man a silver shaving mug and brush and the bride gave the maid of honor a cut glass berry bowl. The parents gave the bride and groom the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams will reside in Beaufort and they expect to take a honeymoon trip to Prince Edward Island in the spring to visit the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adams.

FIND WINTER WORK
15,074 HARVESTERS

Soldier Settlement Board Closes Its Canvass

The active canvass for openings for winter employment for the 11,000 Imperial ex-service men and others who came to Canada to help garner the crops is closed, and Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Immigration, yesterday made the statement that the Soldier Settlement Board field supervision staff listed 15,074 places.

Over half the number, or 7,446, are for farm jobs, 6,384 are for lumbering and bush work, 490 are required on railway construction in Saskatchewan, while there are openings for land clearing and mining in British Columbia and Alberta, as well as some work opportunities in a number of the trades. By Soldier Settlement Board districts the numbers are: St. John, 66; Sherbrook, Que., 150; Toronto, 4,526; Winnipeg, 577; Regina, 359; Saskatoon, 380; Prince Albert, 1,025; Calgary, 1,322; Edmonton, 1,375; Vernon, B. C., 350; Vancouver, 474.

Already the actual placing of the temporary harvesters in the positions which have been found, the fitting of the man to the job is well under way. It is pointed out that the opportunities for winter employment are necessarily restricted to certain industries. There is not the same range of choice as there would be in the spring when many branches of industry become more active. There is no question that the overseas harvesters who are anxious to remain in Canada over the winter and be on hand for more remunerative employment in the spring will be quick to accept the opportunity presented, at reasonable wages, rather than return to the Old Country, perhaps to swell the ranks of the unemployed.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my mother who died Sept. 11, 1923:

The beautiful stars of evening
That shine on the sea and the waves,
Are shining as brightly as ever
On our dear mother's grave.

We listen for the coming of foot steps,
That we shall hear no more,
Until we too have gathered there
To that eternal shore.

We wake from our slumber at midnight
When all is so silent and still,
We think of the mother that left us—
And her place can never be filled.

But the years will roll on as ever
Like many the year that has fled,
In our homes the change will be ever,
Since we knew our dear mother was dead.

God pity us all in our sorrow,
If ever the words we gave
To wound the dear heart of our mother
Who sleeps in a silent grave.

Signed, Mrs. Achbar E. Hartley.
(Insertion paid for).

Here and There

Each acre of corn grown in Ohio costs on an average 42.24 hours of labor.

Canada is now second on the list as an exporting land, the per capita being $100.63 per annum.

A new station is being built by the Canadian Pacific Railway at Fredericton at a cost of $50,000.

Half a million Canadians look to the forest each day for their meals and lodging, and more than 100,000 Canadian workmen are engaged in converting forest products into one form or another.

The large party of Hebrideans who were brought to Canada on the Canadian Pacific steamer "Montcalm" have gone to Red Deer, Alta., where they will form an agricultural colony.

Seven hundred farmers and farm laborers arrived in Canada recently on the Canadian Pacific steamer "Montcalm." These colonists are proceeding to Ontario and western points where they will take up farm work.

The project of a ship canal across Scotland from the Clyde to the Firth of Forth was brought to the fore again at a recent meeting of the Mid-Scotland Ship Canal Association, and there is a possibility of something being started in this connection in the near future.

A single pair of potato bugs would, without check, increase to 60,000,000 in one season; the hop aphid, developing thirteen generations in a single year would, if unchecked to the end of the twelfth generation, have multiplied to ten sextillions.

Canadian air pilots flew 234,449 miles carrying 5,153 passengers and 77,850 pounds of freight in 1922, according to a report of the Canadian Air Board. Saskatchewan pilots led in the Dominion, carrying 5,822 passengers. Manitoba pilots carried 1,622 people and British Columbia pilots 1,122.

It Pays to Advertise!

The remarkable success with which the Dominion Government floated its recent loan of $172,000,000 abundantly proves two things—two things that hold true in Carleton County and throughout the Dominion. First, it proves that it DOES PAY TO ADVERTISE. It was advertising that put the loan over. Had there been no advertising the people of Canada would not yet know that a new issue of Dominion Bonds was on the market. And the advertising was done chiefly through the newspapers, The Observer being among the number of mediums used. Ads ordered by the Government and by local bond dealers to run three weeks in The Observer were cancelled after the first issue for the reason that the full allotment of bonds WAS SOLD—sold through newspaper advertising, backed up, of course, by good salesmanship. All successful advertising offers good value in the things people want to buy, and it must be backed up by good selling force when the advertising has brought buyer and seller together.

If you have goods to sell and want to get into intimate touch with the buyers, you can best do it in Carleton County by advertising in The Observer with its 2850 circulation, 90 per cent. of which is distributed in the territory embracing Woodstock north to the county line.

The other thing that the tremendously successful advertising of the Dominion Loan proves is that THE PEOPLE STILL HAVE MONEY! Surprising it is, but it is true.

The Government issued Bonds for $172,000,000 and it was anticipated that the whole month of October would be required to dispose of them. But BEFORE the bonds were on the market sales of $72,000,000 had been assured and before the first week of October had elapsed the issue was over-subscribed to the tune of $200,000,000! Money in the country? You just bet there is. And buying the bonds didn't send any of it out. All the money is here in Canada yet, ready to make its useful rounds again and again.

Money in Carleton county? Local bond dealers were amazed at the flow of it when the people were offered a good thing—when they were offered a good thing by good newspaper advertising.

Mr. Merchant, there is money in Carleton county for YOU. The good people have simply got over their wild orgy of free spending; they have learned caution. Save your prices a bit, offer the people real value in the things they want and COAX THEM OUT OF THE BLUES.

ADVERTISING IN THE OBSERVER WILL DO THE TRICK. TRY IT!

The Observer's advertising service is at YOUR service. Call or phone or write any time of any day and let us talk the matter over.
