COSTS THOUSANDS TO MOVE TEAMS

C. P. R. Under Heavy Expense in Sending Trains via C. N. R.

Thousands of dollars are being paid by the Canadian Pacific Railway to provide an emergency service for its patrons each day that freight conditions keep the C. P. R.'s short route from Montreal to St. John blocked at Danforth, Me.

Latest reports indicate that it will be the first of next week before the C. P. R. have their own through line from Montreal to St. John in operation. Meanwhile it is taking forty-two instead of seventeen hours for passengers to reach Fredericton from Montreal with the Quebec and St. John is concerned in trips from Montreal not so great, but the C. P. R. has maintained an uninterupted service for its patrons despite the great cost. The flood therefore means much to the C. P. R. for, in addition to the great expense of operating trains on a tonnage basis over a competitive route's lines, many thousands of dollars are daily being expended in effecting repairs to the great stretches of the roadbed which have been washed out by the freshets.

Much uncertainty existed as to when through trains from Boston to the Maritime Provinces would be in operation again until the C. P. R. arranged temporary service via Houlton. Little has been learned here of the progress being made with repairs on the Maine Central and Boston & Maine lines and until to-day there had been no mails through from Boston and New York since last Saturday, when some passengers have come through from Boston and elsewhere in the New England States but these have all followed a circuitous route to Montreal and thence via the old Intercolonial line to New Brunswick.

RECOVER BODY OF HEAVY DAMAGE GAME WARDEN IN RECENT FLOODS

Disappeared Last November While Chasing Poachers in Main Woods.

Fredericton, N. B., May 5.—Final reports from the damage to provincial public works in New Brunswick by the spring floods will show that it has not exceeded $1,000,000 unless the freights become worse than ever again and the chances are the damage will amount to nearer half a million than the full million dollars.

At the C. P. R.'s regular passenger trains between Montreal and St. John as well as dozens of steamship specials—that special trains in accordance with Trans-Atlantic steamships—are being routed via C. P. R. line from Montreal to Quebec and thence via the old Intercolonial route from Levis to Mount Joli, Campbellton and Moncton to St. John.

ILLINOIS MAN IS BELIEVED MURDERED

Several Clues Found Point to Violence—Prominent Attorney.

Aurora, Ill., May 2.—A blood-stained club, found in a greenhouse, a man's pyjamas and a woman's glove discovered from an oldwell are clues in the investigation of the disappearance yesterday of Warren J. Lincoln, attorney and distant relative of Abraham Lincoln. It is believed he was murdered.

HELPED 1,100 CONVICTS BACK TO CITIZENSHIP

Chicago, May 1.—Two hundred men paroled from seven state penitentiaries and Federal prisons during 1922, earned $98,044, or an average of something more than $4 a day, according to a statement given out here by the Central Howard Association to which the men were made responsible.

Essential relief was rendered 1,100 men discharged from various prisons during 1922, and 954 wayward boys were restored to homes and given a vision of thrift and wholesome companionship.

In all, 2,454 men and boys were assisted in some way by the association during last year, and 83 per cent of the men paroled to the association finished their parole with credit.

The Central Howard Association, under the direction of its founder and superintendent, F. Emory Lyon, of this city, aims for the prevention of crime by better supervision of offenders while on probation and parole.

Superintendent Lyon says: "Eight dollars covers the average cost of bridging the gap between the prison door and self-supporting, self-respecting citizenship. It is really worth while."

FRIDAY MAY 13 IS ARBOR DAY

Suggestions for Proper Carrying Out of Day—Plant a Tree This Year.

Friday, May 13th has been appointed Arbor Day for school children in District No. 1, which includes the counties of Westmorland and Northumberland and the Parish of Stanley, in the County of York.

Excellent suggestions for the observance of Arbor Day may be found in the August number of Canadian Forestry. The writer suggests the planting of shade trees along the lines of fences, inside the school trees, a row of shrubbery, and inside the shrubbery, flower beds.

Many teachers need a little practical help so we ask the trustees to provide a few shade trees, perhaps the maple is the best, to stand to the transplanting and to see that the trees are properly staked.

It is to be regretted that all school grounds are not fenced, but the trees may grow without fence protection. Many teachers observe the day by giving both the house and ground a general clean-up which work of course, is most commendable, but the primary object of Arbor Day is tree-planting.

The exercises in the school room might include an interesting and profitable talk on the protection of our forests against fire, the observance and protection of our migratory and summer birds, etc.

The roll is called as on other school days, for Arbor Day is not a holiday, but the attendance is not recorded. The day is observed according to school regulations and a report sent to the inspector.

Sporting News of the Week

Although the season is advancing there has been very little activity in sporting matters here as yet and it seems to be the idea of many that there may be no baseball or sport of any kind here this season. That, however, is unbelievable. In spite of several draw-backs that have always existed there is no reason why the organization of the Baseball Club should not be gone ahead with. We have now all but reached the middle of May and it is time that definite steps were being taken by sport enthusiasts and sport promoters. In two weeks time, if the weather is favorable, the ground will be fit for games and delay should be avoided as unfavorable weather conditions during the summer are likely to prolong the series into the fall with the result that many postponed games may never be played.

The Field Question.
What is probably regarded as the biggest obstacle to a successful venture in baseball here, is the matter of securing a field for a reasonable rent—that is, for a rental which the club can afford to pay and still escape bankruptcy at the close of the season. It is understood that the O'Leary Field on which last season's games were played is available again this year but that the owner is demanding an exorbitant rental. The writer does not know who the legal owner of these premises are but he believes that if the matter were put up to him fairly he would lower the rental to a reasonable figure—if he has any sporting blood in his veins. The price asked, one hundred dollars for the season, we understand, is not so huge in itself if the field were fit for or being used for vegetation of any kind. But for years this land has been merely lying in disuse and it could not be put to much better use than donated to an organization whose aim is the promotion of good clean sport.

Not a Barrier.
In the event of the owner refusing to take this opportunity to help in the promotion of athletics, however, this should not be considered an insurmountable barrier. It is possible for a well-organized baseball club here to pay a field rental of more than one hundred dollars and still come out of the experiment with a credit balance if they had the proper support. In Dalhousie there is a Baseball Club which pays $75 per season for its ground and comes through right side up. The population of the shiretown is less than one-third that of Campbellton so there is no reason why this town cannot finance a much more pretentious sport movement. What is needed in the interest and support of the citizens.

of how good a brand of ball they may be exhibiting. But it is hardly necessary to argue the matter. It can be easily seen that a no "admission system" simply undermines the whole baseball organization. Sport of any kind cannot be carried on without enough revenue for expenses and there is no earthly reason why it should be expected. The bugaboo has been struggled against long enough. It should be tackled at once—and settled.

A Municipal Disgrace.
In talking over the sport situation with a prominent and well-informed citizen recently the writer was greatly encouraged by the optimistic view in which he regarded the matter. He saw no reason why Campbellton should not have a good base ball league here this season and also enter a "first team" in a "North Shore League" if neither is it surpassed by any town in the maritime provinces. Some people seem to have the idea that our "home talent" is inferior although they never say so. Their mere attitude however, is just as inimical as if they were to come off against a sport movement, for they simply sit back and grumble about this being "an L of a place" to live in and refuse to contribute even a few dollars or a little time to an effort to make it better. Of course, sport leaders cannot expect any assistance from that class of creature. Their day of usefulness to the community, if they ever had one, is past. But it is to the real citizens of our town that the appeal for support must be made—to those who recognize the value of athletic training to our youth. And I am sure that it will be found that there are hundreds who will respond. As far as the few obstacles are concerned it would be a municipal disgrace for a town like Campbellton to fail to support an athletic movement with all its advantages, for the young people who really deserve more attention than they are getting. Coming from a man who commands respect, and moreover knows fully what he is talking about, these words should greatly encourage sport leaders here and spur them on to re-organize the Baseball Club, confident of the support which is almost sure to follow.

Other Obstacles.
Of course there are other questions to be considered in connection with the successful operation of a baseball club here. Space on this page is limited but we will mention one matter which has, of late years, been a serious draw back to baseball. That is the lack of a fence around the diamond. Scores are in progress and the club reaps no benefits from their transient attendance. Moreover when people can witness any kind of a performance free they are bound to regard it as something of little import. Consequently interest sags and little appreciation is ever felt or spoken for the efforts of the players regardless

Junior Baseball.
Another branch of the sport movement which should not be overlooked is the organization of a junior baseball league. There is abundant material among the teen-age boys here to draw up at least three promising junior baseball squads. These boys are anxious for good healthy outdoor exercise and will be only too glad to co-operate with any efforts put forth on their part. This is a side of the sport movement which should be given immediate attention. As we have already stated, space is limited but we intend to deal more fully with the subject of sport in Campbellton in our next issue.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WORK.
Sometime ago a Home Economics Questionnaire was sent from this office to every branch Women's Institute in the Province. In answer to one of the questions it was found to be the wish of the majority of Institutions to have Short Courses in Sewing Millinery in as many centres as possible throughout the Province. On Thursday, November 9th, we held a meeting of our Provincial Advisory Board and decided to carry out the wishes of our various branches and hold Short Courses during the winter months. Classes in sewing and millinery with instructions in weaving, renovating old furniture, and Harmony of color upon request, will be held at Jacquet River, May 14th, 18th, 16th 17th and 18th, 1923. Teachers have been engaged by the Department of Agriculture to give practicable instructions in these subjects and we would like every instruction to be represented at one of these courses and would especially encourage the young girls to take advantage of the course.

Millinery.
Purpose of the Course—To teach the principals in Millinery underlying the making and covering of "simple hats and the renovating of old hats. Materials—2 yards material for blouse; 1 yard narrow elastic webbing, 3/4 inch pin, thread and tape-measure. If you cannot take advantage of this Course tell your neighbors and friends about it. For further particulars write Superintendent of Women's Institute, Dalhousie. A silk and broad hat requires a bunch of bristles and 1/2 yard of silk, 2 bunches of bristles for an all breast hat. Never Skipped. Lady—Why did you become a milliner? Elizabeth—The doctor's fault, mum. He told me to take walks after meals and I've been walking after 'em ever since.

Yours very sincerely,

Two hundred men paroled from seven state penitentiaries and federal prisons during 1922, earned $38,044, or an average of something more than $4 a day, according to a statement given out in Chicago by the Central Howard Association to which the men were made responsible.

Essential relief was rendered 1,100 men discharged from various prisons during 1922, and 454 wayward boys were restored to homes and given a vision of thrift and wholesome companionship.

In all, 2,454 men and boys were assisted in some way by the association during last year, and 68 per cent. of the men paroled by the association finished their paroles with credit.

The Central Howard Association, under the direction of its founder and superintendent, F. Emory Lyon, of Chicago, aims to work for the prevention of crime by better supervision of offenders while on probation and parole.

When the facts above given are considered it really appears to be worth while. Laws were made to take care of criminals and punitive measures have been found the only adequate means of curbing the tendencies of lawbreakers but when a convict has served his term he is turned out into a cold and unfriendly world to shift for himself as best he can.

The law gives him no assistance. He must have almost superhuman tenacity and stick to whatever good resolutions he has salvaged from his wrecked life or go back to the old thing. There is indeed a great work to be done among this class of people.

It is a most worthy branch of welfare work simply because it has as its aim the making of useful and profitable citizens out of former lawbreakers who were both a menace and an economical burden to the country.

GEMS OF ABSURDITY.
The fallacious statement of our contemporary which is contradicted by Councilor St. Onge's letter in this issue is only one example of Mr. Crockett's marvelous faculty for twisting things around to suit himself. In the verbose and wearisome editorial comment which dogged the columns of the Tribune yesterday he somehow contrived to twist several of the Graphic's authentic statements to such an extent that their inference was entirely different to what they implied when published in the Graphic.

For instance, he stated that the Graphic had threatened to take legal action against any parties who were found responsible for interfering with the Walker Brook. This paper made no such statement. What it said was that the Board of Health was prepared to prosecute these offenders to the full extent of the law in the event of their names being handed in.

Whether the Board of Health holds its statements or not is immaterial to us, as far as we are personally concerned. But this instance merely shows what a remarkable faculty the editor of the Tribune has for misconstruing and misrepresenting things he hears or reads. If this pastime, which appears to be the art at which he is most competent, affords him any amusement, we would not be heartless enough to attempt to spoil his fun. His ludicrous journalistic endeavors are the laughing stock of the town and are despised on one, as the citizens of Campbellton are quite familiar with his periodic ravings.

NOTE AND COMMENT.
An increase of more than ten per cent in the gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways during January, February, March and April, as compared with the earnings in the corresponding period of 1922, is another indication that business in Canada is improving steadily.

Provision has been made by the Department of Marine Affairs in the following despatch from Ottawa:
"Addrs. C. Fraser, local produce merchant who voluntarily presented himself to police court yesterday and was fined $50 and $5 costs on a charge of buying and selling partidge without a license. It is understood that he was unaware of the existing game laws when he violated the law. Mr. Fraser attributed his action to the influence of Drangell; Billy Matheson, whose revival meetings he had attended."
Apparently the man who shot the partidge out of season is still at large. What a different world this would be if there were enough Billy Matheson's to get after all the lawbreakers. We would use several in Campbellton.

NEW REGULATIONS RE FOREST FIRES

Slash Burning Allowed Until May 15—Must Clean Up Brush

Fredericton, N. B., May 10.—As a result of the wet weather of the past week following the backward spring conditions, the Department of Lands and Mines has decided to extend the time limit for slash burning from May 10th to May 15th.

THIS action by the Department is similar to the extension which was granted last year and will permit those who have not yet succeeded in disposing of their slash a further opportunity to do so before slash burning, except in exceptional circumstances, is forbidden. Operators and loggers will also benefit from this extension in clearing up brush from the past season's operations occurring within three hundred feet of railway lines and in the vicinity of mills and camps.

The new regulation which provides for registration certificates is receiving the endorsement and hearty support of all directly connected with the forest industries. Many letters of approval have been received by the department since the first announcement of the operation of this scheme was made.

"I receive a book of certificates and wish to congratulate the Department in such commendable advanced legislation," wrote a citizen who has had some twenty years of fire fighting experience. "The concise statement of regulations on the back of each certificate should do much to eliminate carelessness with camp fires, cigars and cigarettes."

From a County Councillor—"The matter of registration certificates, I believe, is a long step in the right direction, and one I was hardly expecting to see this year, as a great many people look on wilderness lands as their own. However, I am very glad to know that it is in force, and feel that ultimately it cannot help but be of great value in saving our forests."

A no-forest-fire record for the month of April has already been established, but fishermen are already preparing for their initial fishing trips this season.

$5.00 Given Away!

Three Prizes, $2.50, $1.50 and $1.00

To the first, second and third boy or girl turning in a complete list of the ten words in the article below which are misspelled or misused, the management of the Opera House will give the above mentioned cash prizes. Here's the article:

"IN THE DAYS OF BUFFALO BILL"

Colonel Calvert Carter, who lost an arm in the service of the South during the Civil War, after doing all he could for the Cause, leaves with his only daughter for the West where he takes up a homestead.

Art Taylor, a pony express rider, and his only son, later known to fame as Buffalo Bill, are instrumental in saving the Carters from an Indian attack. The friendship between Carter's daughter and Art Taylor ripens into love.

In Washington, sinister interests are desirous of preventing the passage of the Act authorizing the building of the Union Pacific Railway, to unite the East and West with bonds of steel. Failing in their attempt to prevent President Lincoln from signing the Act, they search records and find what they believe is to be the Junction site of the Central and Union Pacific Railways, but which Junction site finally proves to be, as per history, Promontory Point, Utah.

As time goes on, President Lincoln is assassinated by John Wilkes Booth and Booth meets the fate deserved by an assassin.

"Buffalo Bill" and his bloodthirsty Sioux Indians are on the warpath and overcome the occupants of the Carter home and take them prisoners, together with Art Taylor, pony express rider, who had served as cavalryman in the Army of the Potomac under General Grant. He has returned West, bringing a dying message from Carter's only son, who served with the Confederate Army.

During the progress of the drama we show the steady advance in the building of the Union Pacific Railroad with points of interest attached thereto, and in the end we drive the golden spike at Promontory Point, Utah, signifying the completion of the first transcontinental railroad uniting Eastern and Western United States in bonds of closer prosperity and happiness, and the final fighting of the truth of Art Taylor and the girl; the jealousy of the Indians when they find out what they believed was the Junction point is to be the historical Junction at Promontory Point; and the happiness of Art Taylor and the girl when they make their home in the old homestead taken up by the girl's father some years before.

GREAT RECEPTION TO NEW BISHOP

Game Residents Out En-Masse to Welcome Bishop Ross and Party.

Game residents on Thursday welcomed the new Bishop, Monsignor Francis Xavier Ross and party. A special train had been provided by the railway management to convey His Lordship and party to Gaspe. Because of some delay, the service for Wednesday evening was postponed until Thursday.

Upon arrival of the train Wednesday evening a great crowd met the party and conducted them to Baker's Hotel where every arrangement had been made for their comfort. At this juncture Thursday morning His Lordship was accompanied to the cathedral by bishops and priests. The cathedral which was very tastefully decorated for the occasion, was crowded to the doors.

The ceremony was very impressive and the music and singing was beautiful, surpassing anything which had previously been heard here. Rev. Fr. Grenier had spent much time in the preparations and special mention must be made of the singing of the children, which added much to the ceremony.

The following address was read by Mr. C. S. LeBoutillier: To His Lordship, Monsignor Francis Xavier Ross, By the Grace of God and of the Apostolic See, Bishop of Gaspe.

On behalf of my English speaking compatriots inhabiting the Diocese of Gaspe, I have the honour and the pleasure of welcoming your Lordship on your arrival in our midst to assume the care and responsibilities, the joys and consolation of the exalted dignity to which you have been called, and which we pray and hope you will occupy for many years to come for the greater glory of God, for the exaltation and fruitful development of the Catholic faith and the salvation of souls.

Your Lordship's presence among us is indeed a manifest evidence of the inscrutable designs of Providence and is destined to contribute in a remarkable degree to the establishment in our Diocese of a larger measure of the blessings of peace, concord, moral, social and religious perfection. We stand as we do today on the threshold of a new era in our religious life we may be permitted to carry our thoughts into the nebulous uncertainty of the future and to cherish the hope that another grand and magnificent ceremony takes place in 1924 when your Lordship surrounded by the entire episcopacy of Canada dignitaries of church and state nobles and people, will intone the wonderful melody of the Te Deum.

We solemnly invoke the grace of your Lordship—a distinguished prelate whose has been pleased to honor by promoting to the dignity of bishopric a man of such high character and copious a dignity which will be adorned by your Lordship's matured wisdom, paternal solicitude, profound erudition and remarkable contribution to the cause of education in this province.

With the assurance of a very sincere welcome are mingled our heart felt congratulations and we beg to assure your Lordship that in fully realizing the grief with which you have severed ties so dear to you in order to come and minister among us, we, your new diocesan by our devotion to your person, by our submission to your teachings, by our loyalty to the church and its dogmas may you find much to compensate for the sacrifice your Lordship has made in accepting the See of Gaspe for the more effectual propagation of the doctrine of Christianity and for the spiritual and temporal of the people of the Diocese of Gaspe.

ALLEN-FRENETTE.
An interesting event of great interest locally, was recently celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Boston, U. S. A. when Mary Evelyn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frenette, of Jacques River, N. B., was united in marriage to Arthur J., only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Allen of Harshaw, Sussex, Eng.

The event took place at 7.30 a.m. on the morning of the 19th. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Norman Frenette, and was attended by her cousin, Miss Dora Carey of Bedford, Mass., as bridesmaid. The bride looked charming in a travelling suit of navy blue point twill, a French picture hat, to match and tulle for the ad carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the Copley Plaza where a wedding breakfast was served. Mr and Mrs. Allen left at noon for New York City and Long Island, where a short honeymoon will be spent, before making their new home in Scranton, Pa., where the groom holds a position in the Inspection Dept. of the Western Electric Co.

KING AND QUEEN VISITING ROME

Received Great Welcome From Italian King and People—Streets Crowded.

Rome, May 7.—King George and Queen Mary arrived in Rome at 2 o'clock this afternoon on their long planned visit to Italy.

King Viktor Emmanuel, Queen Helma, Crown Prince Humboldt and the other royal Princes and Princesses were met at the station. Also greeted them at the station. The royal entourage followed and preceded by members of the cabinet, headed by Premier Mussolini, General Dasa and Admiral Reval, representing the army and navy, the presidents of the Senate and the Chamber, the members of the British embassy staffs with their wives.

From the station to the Quirinal Palace the streets and public squares were crowded with applauding people and the buildings along the route were decorated with flags and bunting. The royal cortege followed and preceded by cuirassiers in their shining breast plates and helmets presented a brilliant and impressive spectacle. The square facing the royal palace was filled with an immense crowd and in response to its applause King George and Queen Mary, accompanied by the Italian sovereigns and the royal princes, appeared upon the balcony.

INCOME TAX PAYMENTS LESS

$100,000 Less Than Last But Decrease Was Expected.

St. John, May 4.—The amount received by the income tax office here during the period set aside for the receiving of returns totalled about $445,000 as against $546,000 received last year. The decrease of $100,000 was partly expected this year and in fact the officials received more than they had anticipated in view of reductions which had been granted in certain classes. A start will be made Monday to round up cases in which payments due and collectable have not been made.

Great plates and helmets presented a brilliant and impressive spectacle. The square facing the royal palace was filled with an immense crowd and in response to its applause King George and Queen Mary, accompanied by the Italian sovereigns and the royal princes, appeared upon the balcony.

WINTER SPENT IN DALHOUSIE

Tramp Tells of His Visit to Shiretown Nearly Half Century Ago.

The following article, written by a tramp who spent a quiet winter in the shiretown after his long summer of wandering, is copied from the March 1884 edition of "The Dalhousie Comet," one of the six newspapers which were published here nearly half a century ago:

In the month of December I found myself in one of those small cities which abound in Western Ontario. I had spent the summer tramping through the length and breadth of the land, and tired of wandering, I cast my eyes about me for a place in which I could pass the winter in peace and quietness.

A friend of mine told me that he knew of a place that would just suit me. It was situated, he said, at the mouth of the Restigouche in New Brunswick, and was surrounded by beautiful scenery. The town was quiet, and the people very kind, especially to strangers.

His recommendations pleased me so much, that I determined to make Dalhousie my home until spring. Accordingly, one fine day I said goodbye to my friends in the west, and began my journey. For the first fifty miles I travelled on top of a freight car, but unfortunately one of the brakemen discovered me and put me off. I next climbed the pilot, or cow catcher, and was very comfortable there until we got near Fort York, when the train ran into a horse and at that time there was not room enough for the horse and me on the pilot, I vacated the premises in favor of the new comer.

I cannot enumerate all the incidents of my journey, but will only say that after a week's traveling I arrived in Campbellton in safety, having been put off various trains sixteen times. So far, my traveling expenses had only cost me fifty cents. At Campbellton I bought a first class ticket to Dalhousie, and took my seat in the pullman, as I wished to create as good an impression as possible on my future associates. Judge at my chagrin at finding, on my arrival at the station, that the town of Dalhousie was seven miles distant. It is against my principles to spend money for railway fares, so I determined to be at no more expense, and set off for the town on foot. After a while I was overtaken by a farmer's sleigh, and jumped on behind, and thus I entered the town.

After a few weeks stay, I found that my friend's description of Dalhousie had been true. Never have I seen more beautiful scenery than that which surrounds the town, and though the place is quiet, the people with whom I associated were so pleasant and kind that the winter has passed too quickly. One night not long after my arrival I was walking along one of the streets of your town, when I saw a number of lights crossing a field, and moving towards the top of the hill. I am not superstitious, but I must confess that when I first saw that line of lights wandering along through the fields, a vague, undefined feeling of awe came over me, and I instinctively felt that there was something supernatural in this strange appearance.

Still, though I had heard of haunted houses, and haunted ships, I never before imagined that a field could be haunted. Soon after meeting a friend, I asked him if he could explain the mystery of the lights. "Oh," said he, "that is the snows club with the unpromising name. They tramp once or twice a week, and what you saw was merely a torchlight procession of the club. Many evenings after this, I watched the lights of the torches as they moved over the hills or down the harbor, and disappeared behind some promontory. I took a great interest in the club, and even learned to pronounce the unpromising name. "A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind," and I always had a kindly feeling for a club, which was composed of tramps like myself.

On another night, I happened to be walking slowly up one of the streets which run from the harbour to the top of the hill. I was meditating, wrestling with the great problem of my life, how to live, like Random Crawley, on nothing a year, when I was startled by an unearthly shriek. It sounded like the whistle of a locomotive, the war whoop of an Indian brave, or the yell of a coyote or perhaps like a little of the three. Raising my eyes from the snow, I beheld a black something dashing down the hill at a terrific pace. On it came, and as it dashed past me I could just distinguish the form of a boy on a sled. Many other sleds passed me ere I reached the top of the hill, and all were coming at a rate of speed that throws the locomotive into the shade altogether. I enquired of a bystander if accident ever occurred in coasting down these hills, he replied "No, I think the boys of Dalhousie must have coasted from here. I have known a boy to run into a sleigh and smash it all up without injuring himself or his sled, to any great extent."

But, now, the spring is returning. Soon the snow will melt on the ground and the ice float out of the harbour, and I also must float out of this haven of rest, out on the vast ocean of the world. The quiet streets and picturesque hills of Dalhousie must be left behind, but as I tramp on my weary way through cities and over lakes and rivers, I shall often think of the little town

Happenings of The Week

The weather for the past week has been cloudy and damp, with a haze hanging over the river. The temperature has been low.

Owing to the floods in the southern part of the province the mails have been irregular of late. But in this respect we are much more fortunate than many other towns.

When you want good, fancy, staple groceries try Troy & Harquail the new grocery store just opened at the McDonald stand.

For good meals at right prices go to Henry Good's. You'll get the kind of food that keeps you fit.

The Boy Scout's Troop intend giving a concert and display of Scout work in St. Mary's Hall, Thursday evening, 17th. The Dalhousie Orchestra will be in attendance.

If your watch goes wrong—or won't go at all—don't send it away. E. C. Breaux will attend to it.

Forest travel certificates are necessary now, before a person may enter forest land. Certificates may be obtained from a few wardens, county councillors and game license vendors.

Lisore Allain, who recently purchased the John Tandy property on Adelaide street, is having considerable improvements effected on the buildings.

The season for trout fishing which opened on May 1st has not been very promising in this district. The high waters in the streams and the ice in the river have deterred even the most ardent anglers from the haunts of the trout. Fishing may be carried on till the last day of September.

A record for late skating was made here at the Rink last Saturday when two of our most prominent young men Mr. C. E. Scott and Mr. E. LeGouffe indulged in about an hour skating on the surface of the Rink. Both skaters declared that they enjoyed themselves immensely.

Messrs. Troy & Harquail have opened a flour and feed and general grocery store in the building formerly occupied for many years by the Daniel McDonald. Their friends wish them every success in their new venture.

Opening of the Rink Ice-Cream Parlor under the management of our popular friend Trudelle took place on Saturday April 29th. As in the past a large number made the event most successful, and as usual nothing but the best was enjoyed. The place looked as cosy and inviting as ever and nothing was left undone by the management to assure his patrons entire satisfaction. Mr. Trudelle wishes to thank all his friends for their generous patronage in the past and certainly invites all to call often, assuring them attentive service and satisfaction.

The Restigouche is clear of ice, today, as far down as Point la Nim. From there to the lower inland of Dalhousie, where the river is full of ice, from shore to shore. It is the general opinion that the river will be clear by this time tomorrow, such a late date for the opening of the river has been known for many years. "The oldest inhabitant" is an important person, these days, as, with pipe in hand, he gesticulates and waxes eloquent about the hard winters and late springs of the good old times.

Of the citizens generally for any movement of this nature deserves encouragement and help as it can be made a most appreciable asset to the social life of the community.

Dalhousie Sporting News

Sport in Dalhousie

Within the last week sport circles in Dalhousie have taken on a semblance of their old time activity and prospects for a very successful season in baseball and other sports are now quite evident. The annual baseball meeting took place on Wednesday evening of last week at the rink and a large and enthusiastic crowd attended. Manager Trudelle who gave so liberally of his time last year to make the sport movement a success was again on hand and gave the boys the assurance that he would give them the power to make the coming summer a great baseball season for the shiretown.

The question of a suitable field was discussed and it was unanimously agreed that Mr. Trudelle be allowed to take care of the matter. The other necessary steps of organization were taken and everything put in order for the next meeting of the Baseball Association.

At this next meeting which will be held at the rink at an early date, it is expected that a league of five teams will be formed. The three lumber companies here are organizing each a team and the town is also making up a team which nestles among the hills at the mouth of the noble Restigouche. AU REVUIR.

THE SOCIAL CLUB AT DALHOUSIE

This Society in Shiretown is Well Organized and Active Association.

As announced in another column the members of the Dalhousie Social Club will hold a Whist Party in the club-rooms this evening in conjunction with the Dalhousie Orchestra. The Social Club, through its large membership and its different activities will know here but many people from Campbellton and other nearby places have frequently sought information about this association, probably with a view to organizing a similar one in their town.

If such were their intentions they deserve encouragement. All club members here will doubtless derive the enjoyment and the many privileges which such an organization offers. Besides its splendid opportunity for most pleasant social intercourse, such an association provides its members with the free use of a library, billiard room and the enjoyment of numerous social functions throughout the year.

The Dalhousie Social Club which was organized some years ago has a large membership and is a very active society. The Club rooms which are situated over the Royal Bank offices, are spacious, cheery, pleasantly furnished and comfortably furnished. They consist of three large rooms, besides a spacious entrance hall. The reception room with its large centre table and deep-seated cozy-looking arm-chairs and the library with its array of volumes and other attractions, are on the sunny south side of the building overlooking the main street, while the billiard room occupies the north east corner of the building.

The success of the Dalhousie Social Club and the constant interest that is taken in it by those who belong is evidenced by the obvious appreciation of all its members whenever the club or its activities become a subject of discussion. This is probably due in large measure to the careful way in which the club is managed. The rules are fair and impartial but strict enough to obviate any trouble or to prevent a repetition of any misconduct. All new applicants for membership are voted on by the members of the association before being admitted to the club as permanent members. Each member is supplied with his or her own key so that the rooms are always open to them.

New and old members alike are unanimous in their support of the Social Club idea. In a town or city of any size it has its place and fills a need which is all too often neglected. In small towns and even in country places where a fair membership can be enlisted, the social club is an invaluable aid to clean and wholesome social enjoyment, and apart from this it has an educational value, as well for various entertainments, debates, concerts and other activities of a certain intellectual appeal can be made part of the club's programme.

The McLaughlin

E. Sullivan says:— Talking about records—Mr. Robertson of the McLaughlin Co., left Montreal at 10.40 A. M., enroute for Niagara. Was running an E. 45 McLaughlin, four years old. He stopped for dinner, crossed the St. Lawrence at the Thousand Islands and ran until supper time, filled with gas, ate a hearty supper and proceeded on his way arriving home at 1.30, covering 450 miles. Was not running to make a record. If Mr. Robinson had run four days he would have covered at least 1800 miles, and he did no blowing.

Tell Women How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

When I was 35 years old I became a nervous wreck and I tried to do my work. Even the sound of my own children playing made me feel that I must scream if they did not get away from me. I could not sleep at night. The doctor told me to do nothing for me. My husband's mother advised me to take the Vegetable Compound and I started to take it. I was able to do my work once more and I was a pleasure, not a burden. Now I have a fine looking baby and am able to nurse her and enjoy doing my work. I cannot help wondering how I was able to do this. I am now 45 years old and I feel as well as I ever did. I must say only too pleased for you to use my testimony. Lydia E.
