by a Great Cyclone—Effel to be Out-Effelled.

The British Budget.
LONDON, July 17.—The House of Commons finished this evening the report stage of the budget. Sir Wm. Harcourt announced the third reading for tomorrow evening.

Marshal of Dublin.
DUBLIN, July 16.—Voting for candidates for the office of city marshal of the municipal council today resulted in the election of Edward Clancy. O'Donovan Rossa received three votes.

The Little Prince's Nomenclature.
LONDON, July 16.—The infant of the Duke of York was christened today, being given the names of Edward Albert George Andrew Patrick David Christian. The Queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales and Duke and Duchess of Teck were his sponsors.

Devastated by a Cyclone.
MUNICH, July 16.—The cyclone which swept Upper Bavaria on Saturday did great damage. Scores of houses and barns were wrecked, domestic animals killed and crops injured. The village of Forstinning was almost obliterated, several inhabitants were killed and scores wounded. The church tower at Forstening fell in on a crowd seeking shelter, injuring a dozen persons. Reports of accidents and heavy losses are still coming from the remote northern districts.

Pointing for the Pole.
CHRISTIANIA, July 16.—The yacht Salde has brought to Tromsø a dispatch dated at Dances Island, on the north-west coast of Spitzbergen, on May 10, by Walter Wellman, the newspaper man who has led a polar expedition into those waters. The dispatch says: "We arrived in six days from Tromsø, thus making a record, as the passage of the 80th parallel was never reached previously so early in the year. We met little ice. All are well."

The party sailed on May 10 for the Seven Islands, and had not returned when the Salde started for Tromsø. After a search the Salde found their vessel, the Ragn vald Jari, fixed in the ice in latitude 80° 12' N. The ice formation, however, seemed to be only temporary.

Effel Out-Effelled.
PARIS, July 16.—The French Government has ordered that the plans for the exposition of 1900 shall provide for an entirely new group of buildings with the exception of the Trocadero, which will be used for the same purposes as in 1889, and the Eiffel tower, which will be once more an integral part of the show. But Eiffel has been surpassed in sky-climbing. The Watkin tower at Wembley Park, fifteen minutes from London, is being pushed rapidly. Its height will be as near 1,200 feet as Eiffel was near 1,000, for it lacked half that number, although generally said to be 1,000 feet high. It will require another year to finish the Watkin tower. It cannot be fairly said that this is imitation, for an Englishman named Trevellick proposed a 1,000-foot tower in the last century, and his plans were approved by competent engineers. He died before the necessary capital could be secured.

For the Royal Baby.
LONDON, July 17.—A beautiful quilt is to be presented to the Duchess of York by the committee and associates of the Royal School of Art Needlework in honor of the birth of the baby prince. It is a facsimile copy of the quilt on the State bed in the king's room at Knole Park which was worked for James I., and belongs to Lord Sackville. It is of genuine red satin, the design, lilacs and roses conventionally treated, worked in gold and silver thread, the silver flowers being much raised and outlined with black silk, which gives a very rich effect. The quilt is bordered with a heavy tufted fringe of silk, the heading being worked with gold and silver thread.

SHOT AND SHELL
Sickening Carnage in the Streets of Chicago

Result from the Explosion of an Artillery Cannon—Four Men Killed, Two Mortally Wounded and Many Hurt.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 16.—Exploding shot and shell wrought sickening carnage among soldiers, civilians and horses this afternoon on Grand Boulevard, one of Chicago's fine driveways. Four United States soldiers were injured by projectiles so that they died instantly. Two of the wounded soldiers are not expected to live. Eight more were killed and struck with missiles and half a dozen more civilians were injured.

Killed—Edward Doyle, cannoner, Second Light Artillery; Jeremiah Donovan, cannoner, same battery; Joseph Gallier, farrier, troop "B," Seventh Cavalry; Fred Lotz, wheel horse driver, battery "F," Second Artillery.

Mortally wounded—Martin O'Donnell, cannoner, battery "E," Second Artillery; Sergt. Linder, same battery.

Injured—W. I. Antis, bugler of troop "B," Seventh Cavalry, Fort Sheridan, recovery doubtful; J. W. Allen, cannoner, battery "F," Second Artillery, burned; Hoffman, sergeant same battery, chin lacerated; Anthony Kane, cannoner, same half of ear blown off; Driver battery "E," head hurt; Driver, same battery, cut and bruised; Ter Uiguart, same battery, face cut by powder and right hand by bullet; Trooper Huyck, Seventh Cavalry, rendered deaf, bruised and burned; Ralph M. Byers (boy), leg pierced by two bullets; Mrs. E. A. Howe, face and head cut; Mrs. S. C. Griggs, wrist and face cut; unknown man and woman driving on Oakwood Boulevard slightly hurt.

Many citizens who followed the military column were thrown to the ground and more or less bruised. At least $25,000 worth of damage was done to the property of the residence on both sides of Grand Boulevard for half a block north of Oakwood Boulevard. Houses in adjoining streets were also damaged.

The ill-fated body of troops was proceeding south from the lake front camp along Grand Boulevard at a trot. The soldiers having to quit or railroad property to guard were out for drill and exercise. Among other corps were the ill-starred section of Battery "E," Second Artillery, from Fort Riley, Lieut. Gayle and 40 men, bearing two Hotchkiss field pieces and four caissons filled with shrapnell, common shell and bags of powder.

When within 100 feet of Oakwood boulevard there was a roar like a mighty burst of thunder, followed in an instant by a succession of sharp explosions. The artillerymen received the brunt of the explosion, being directly in rear of the caisson. Donovan and Doyle were sitting on the caisson which exploded. Donovan was blown through the air over trees 50 feet high a distance of 500 feet across a vacant lot. His companion, Doyle, was hurled 300 feet away.

All the eight artillery horses are dead.

A Measure Aimed at Speculative Conductors.

The Insolvency Bill to be Dropped for this Session.

Final Passage of the Fast Atlantic Service Bill.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]
OTTAWA, July 16.—In the House of Commons Mr. Haggart secured the first reading of a bill respecting the sale of railway passenger tickets. He explained that it was to compel persons purchasing tickets to give a receipt. The object was to prevent conductors from refusing to punch return tickets, and by giving them to third parties collect the rebate provided by law.

In reply to Mr. Laurier, Sir John Thompson said that the only new measures yet to be brought down were further railway subsidies and bounty on pig iron and puddled bar iron and steel, as explained in the budget speech. "The insolvency bill would be dropped, but a large edition of the bill would be printed and widely distributed, so that the commercial classes would become familiar with the changes made in the Senate, where the progress made would be of assistance in considering the bill next session. The same remarks applied to the bill consolidating and amending the Joint Stock Companies Act. The Premier added in an ominous tone that if the session was protracted other measures would certainly be brought down.

At this threat the Opposition laughed derisively.

Sir John Thompson said all the other measures on the order paper would be proceeded with.

The bill subsidizing the proposed fast Atlantic service was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Caron in reply to a question said the mails would not be sent exclusively by the proposed fast Atlantic steamers when the line was established, the present practice of sending letters as per line indorsed on the envelope being continued. The new line, however, would be the only Canadian line to thereafter receive a mail subsidy.

The Dillon divorce bill was passed through committee of the whole House pro forma, and will be set down for its final stage tomorrow.

On further consideration the bill amending the Insurance Act, part of which provides for enabling companies from investing in certain classes of securities, Mr. McCarthy defended the character of securities held by the Canada Life Insurance Company, which had been aspersed by Mr. Wood, of Westmoreland, chairman of the committee on banking and commerce. The bill was read the third time.

The House in committee of the whole passed a bill amending the Dominion Lands Act by enabling the Government to sell certain ordinance lands in the Northwest and in other ways. The bill was read a third time and passed.

The railway land subsidies were advanced a stage in committee.

After recess Sir John Thompson moved the third reading of the bill amending the Northwest Territories Act.

Mr. McCarthy made a speech in support of his amendment relating to the Northwest Territory, and moved the bill to be read a fourth time.

The honorable gentleman moved his amendment.

Major Hughes moved, seconded by MacDonald (Assiniboia), an amendment to the bill taking away from the territories the power of establishing separate schools altogether and giving the territories exclusive power to deal with all matters of education.

The House then divided on Hughes' amendment as follows: Yeas, 2; nays, 131. Major Hughes and Mr. MacDonald alone voted for the amendment, even McCarthy voting against it.

The debate was continued by Hon. Mr. Laurier, Hon. Mr. Duly, Mr. Mills (Bothwell), Sir John Thompson, Mr. Craig, Mr. Denison, Mr. McNeil, Mr. Davin.

The House divided on the amendment as follows: Yeas 21, nays 116. Those who voted for the resolution were: Messrs. McCarthy, Sproule, McNeil, Denison, Madill, Twissitt, Smith (Ontario), Carscallen, Charlton, Mulock, McDonald (Huron), Davin, Bain (Westworth), Innes, Rowand, Semerville, McMillan (Huron), Allan, Beech, Boston and Marshall.

The House adjourned at 2:10 a.m.

THE OTTAWA MEMBERS KICKING.
OTTAWA, July 17.—Ottawa has been agitating for a subsidy to the Nepean Point bridge, crossing the Ottawa River opposite the city. The subsidies brought down last night do not include any vote for the bridge, and as a result the two city members threaten to resign.

The firm of Wm. Campbell & Co., of New York, has been absorbed by the National Wall Paper Company, a trust whose capital is recorded at $53,000,000.

BLOWN TO BITS!
A Terrible Explosion in a Pennsylvania Mine.

From Nine to Eleven Men Torn to Shreds—An Awful Sight.

HAZELTON, Pa., July 17.—A most horrible accident took place at No. 8 Strickland mine this morning. Two hundred sticks of dynamite exploded. A number of men were going to their daily work. All of the unfortunates were shattered and torn to fragments. The exact number killed is not positively known at this writing, but it is placed between 8 and 11.

The true cause of the explosion will never be known, as none of the men are living. It occurred at 7 o'clock. The men were descending the slope at the time and distributing themselves in the various chambers and gangways where they were employed at the bottom of the slope. Although the explosion took place twenty yards below the surface the shock was felt over an area of surface extending three miles south. From Stockton mine No. 2 a rescue party rushed through subterranean passages to No. 8. Pushing forward towards the bottom they came upon a scene which defies description—huge timbers were twisted and torn and scattered about promiscuously, rocks and debris were everywhere and over all was strewn the flesh, legs and arms of the unfortunate victims, and from the jagged sides hung two shattered bodies. Not one of the several bodies was left sufficiently intact to permit of identity.

Men and women gathered about the dark mouth in hundreds. Rescue parties were formed at once. Miners would be lowered into the pit on the return of the cage a number of men and boys would be brought to the surface who had escaped.

THE BATTLE CREEK WRECK.
Reward Offered for the Mischance—List of the Injured—Threats Heard.

WHAT MANAGER SEARGEANT SAYS.
MONTREAL, July 16.—The general manager of the Grand Trunk, Mr. L. J. Seargeant, in speaking of the wrecking at Battle Creek this morning, said there was not the slightest doubt but that the outrage was the outcome of the strikes. A dispatch from the scene of the wreck stated that the track walker had just passed the point where the wreck took place, and every thing was all right then. This goes to show that the perpetrators determined deliberately to wreck the train just before it passed.

$500 REWARD.
A $500 reward has been offered by the company for the capture of the wreckers, and a cloud of Grand Trunk detectives are scouring the country on both sides of the line in hopes to make arrests.

THREATS HEARD.
BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 16.—The officers were informed this morning that three persons were heard to say Saturday on the streets that on Monday morning the G. T. R. would have a wreck and the officials would be sorry the old hands were not taken back. The persons who heard these remarks have made affidavits to what was said, and an officer is now investigating the matter. The persons who made the remarks will be arrested and made to prove their whereabouts last night and early this morning. Sheriff Watkins has offered a similar reward ($500) to that of the Grand Trunk managers for the arrest of the guilty parties.

THE INJURED.
The following were injured:
Robert W. Layel, bruised hips,
Carl Benson, Annapolis, Mo., back injured and face cut.
Nic Kuehen, Chicago, gash on head.
H. S. Garskill, mail agent on car, bruised.
James Keefe, Chicago, right knee hurt.
Chris Grimes, cut on knee.
Fireman Crow, who was killed, wore a gold watch and a diamond ring. He had a large sum of money in his pocket.
The outrage has caused the wildest excitement here. All of the citizens are indignant at the cowardly crime.

NO SURRENDER.
The Pullman Employees Urged to Stand Firm—A Compromise Fails—Trouble in Hammond.

AT MONTREAL.
MONTREAL, July 16.—District Assembly, No. 18, K. of L., Black Diamond Assembly, K. of L., and Freight Handlers' Assembly, have passed resolutions declaring that they are ready to join the present strike in the United States whenever the leader of that strike should consider it necessary.

AT BATTLE CREEK.
A number of the Battle Creek merchants have become alarmed because the strike on the G. T. R. here went against them and have put in garnishees against those of them who owe them, and have not yet been taken back by the company. A petition has been circulated among the merchants asking that the company take the men back.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 17.—Strikers this morning fired the Michigan Central round house and machine shop at Fort Pickering. The prompt arrival of firemen prevented serious loss. Several freight cars were burned.

HAMMOND, Ill., July 17.—A mob of 500 armed men fired at a train last night because the conductor would not slow up at their demand. The militia were called out but the crowd had disappeared.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 17.—St. Louis labor men have voted not to strike, but to be prepared for emergencies. Police are afraid of more trouble. Attempts at train wrecking have been made.

BRAZIL, Ind., July 17.—United States Marshal Hawkins has arrived here with 30 deputies to open traffic on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway. During the night some miscreant fired into a Pullman sleeper on an east-bound train, barely missing a woman and her little daughter.

A COMPROMISE FAILS.
CHICAGO, July 17.—An attempt was made yesterday afternoon by officers of the first regiment to compromise the strike at Pullman. It is believed it would have been at least partially successful but for the course adopted by Vice-President Wicks, of the Pullman Company. He informed the men that instead of the Pullman company opening its works and asking workmen to come in the men should make application for employment and ask the company to start up again. Another meeting was held at Kensington. A crowd of perhaps 1,500 listened to speeches by various strike leaders, among them Rev. [Mr. Carwarden], a Methodist preacher of Pullman. He denounced the meeting at Marks Hall as an insult to Pullman employees and worked the crowd up to a high pitch. Resolutions were adopted urging the men to stand firm until they had won the fight.

THE VIGILANT WINS.
The Britannia Meets With an Accident—Sinking of the Western League—Meteor Club Races.

AQUATIC.
THE VIGILANT'S FIRST WIN.
BAGGER, Eng., July 17.—The Vigilant and Britannia raced to-day again for the commodore's cup. The breeze was a spanking one—just what the Americans wanted. The Vigilant had the lead all the way, forging ahead in the opening and losing none when tacking. At the end of the second round the Britannia was six minutes behind when her stays broke and she was forced to give up the race. The Vigilant would certainly have won if the breeze had continued.

Later—It was found the Britannia had broken the jaws of her gaff. The mishap was due to the yacht jumping in the seas. The Vigilant covered the 50-mile course in 4 hours, 49 minutes and 28 seconds, or at the rate of somewhat more than ten knots an hour, which, considering the many turns and fourteen miles of hard windward work, is exceptionally fair.

THE WHEEL.
The first of the series of road races to be run on "the guns" in Victoria Park to St. Johns and return, under the auspices of the Meteor Club, will be held to-morrow (Wednesday) night, the first man leaving at 7:22 sharp. These races are open to members of the Meteor Club only, and three medals—one gold and two silver—and two special are to be contested for. W. Shebrooke, who now holds the record for the best time over the St. Johns course, will start from scratch with C. H. Tambling, and an exciting finish is expected between these two riders. The following are the names of starters and their handicaps: W. Shebrooke, C. H. Tambling, scratch; John Tambling, John Eos, 1 minute; W. Brock, 4 Griffiths, 2 minutes; B. Firth, 4 minutes; W. H. Horton, W. Foote, 5 minutes; Geo. Watson, H. Gorman, 5 minutes; W. Line, A. Chambers, 7 minutes; W. Allison, C. Smallman, 8 minutes.

THE TRIP.
LONDON, July 17.—At Newmarket today a Sayok stakes was won by Lord Zetland's Seaholm, A. W. Cox's Choice second, and Dohell's Whiston third.

Earncliffe, the three-year-old, owned by Schlusht Bros., West Lorne, has returned from Michigan, having won first place at Flint at second money at two other places in the Michigan circuit. He now bears a record of 2:40, and has showed 2:30 speed in his races.

BASEBALL.
Pittsburg has released Shortstop Shiebeck (formerly of London) and Pitcher Easton. They may possibly sign with Erie.

A friendly, though hotly contested game of baseball was played on the Erie Flats last evening. The London Machine Tool Company boys succeeded in beating the D. S. Prin club by a score of fourteen to ten. The L. M. T. boys are a promising club, and bids fair to be foremost of all shop clubs in the city. They are ready to receive challenges from any shop club in the city. Address all challenges to Ernie Lee, London Machine Tool Company.

The Deoit Athletic Club eleven defeated EaToronto at cricket on Monday by 27 run Score, D. A. C., 42 and 46; East Torop, 39 and 23.

ATHLETICS.
SOLACE FOR YALE.
LONDON, July 17.—The Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on the Yale-Oxford contests yesterday says: "The sports were sport, and Yale in its freely congratulated as well as Oord. Though the Americans were beaten they made an admirable fight, despite their training under strange climatic conditions and an unfamiliar course."

Prominent Toronto Man Dead.
TORONTO, July 17.—George W. Reiley, one of the wealthiest citizens of Toronto, and who, via Sir Frank Smith, was a principal owner of the old street railway company, was found dead in bed this morning. He had been ailing the last couple of years but was not considered seriously ill. He was 55 years of age. Heart disease was the cause.

A DROP OF 1,000 FEET.

From Eldorado's Heights Skyward, Then Into the Hudson.

NEW YORK, July 16.—Saturday's half-holiday was celebrated at Eldorado by a balloon ascension. In addition to the usual afternoon concert, the aeronaut was Charles LeStrange, who changes from the dull monotony of freight breaking in winter to ballooning in summer. He is a hot-air balloonist, a distinct branch in the calling from the gas balloonist, and his flights are necessarily short.

He makes up for this, however, by substituting a parachute for a basket, and with its help descending from the highest point his balloon reaches. When the fire was lighted under the balloon Saturday the sky had become cloudy, and by the time the balloon was half filled it began to rain. Then the flames were freely fed with kerosene till they rushed high inside the big bag and threatened to set it afire. Finally the man who went inside armed with a pair of water to quench sparks changed his cry of "Four feet of flame and steady" to "Douse it, Charley!" and the aeronaut, who had been acting as freeman, ran to the parachute, which lay extended on the grass. By the time he had secured a firm hold of the iron rings which hung from it the rain was coming down very hard and the horde of small boys who were weighing down the balloon were glad to hear the signal to let go. There was no hesitation on the balloonist's part. Up it went, with the man swinging below. It took its way toward the river. It headed rapidly for the end of a rainbow which seemed to indicate the presence of a pot of money at about Thirtieth street and Broadway. When at a height of fully 1,000 feet it was over the Hudson and half a mile from the New Jersey shore. Then the aeronaut loosed his parachute. It promptly filled and he came down easily and steadily.

After the water was reached he left the parachute and swam for a passing tugboat. The boat seemed to hesitate for a moment, then backed toward the swimmer, a line was thrown to him and a start was made for the nearest wharf. In the meantime the balloon had turned bottom up, emptied and sunk to the surface of the water, and became the salvage of another tug.

No Cause of Wonder.

Wonder has been expressed at the rapid growth of the sales of Eucaly's Liver Lozenges. The secret of their great success is in the fact that they do not react and weaken like pills and other laxatives. It should be rather a wonder that people will use any other medicine for stomach and liver troubles. They are sold at 25 cents a box, or five boxes for $1.

On the Verge.—Her Mother.—Did young Mr. Faythart propose last night, Dorothea? She—No, but he acted awfully scared through the evening.

The great lung healer is found in the excellent medicine sold as Fickie's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain of soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

The City's Offer.

The Council Draws Up a Proposal of Its Own

And Submits it for President Everett's Consideration.

No Percentage is Asked—The Company to Supply All Material.

Cheap Fares—An Option of a Road to Springfield—Inspector Isaacs and Assistant Engineer Irensides Retained—No Road Roller This Year—New Gas Lamps to be Tried on City Streets.

The electric street railway matter took on a new phase at last night's meeting of the aldermen. This time the city draws up a proposal and submits it to the street railway company for their acceptance or rejection. The aldermen have clearly abandoned all idea of getting a percentage, just at present anyhow, as nothing is said about it. They ask that the company supply labor and material for paving and repairs, and extensions; that eight tickets be given for 25 cents from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. with transfers, and then a 5-cent fare for the balance of the day. The city names its own extensions and provides the company with an option of running a road to Springfield, providing they become responsible for any electrolytic action on gas or water mains. The proposition drawn up differs from the last one received from the company in the supplying of materials for paving and in some of the extensions. It also extends the hour of reduced fares from 6 p.m. in the last offer to 9 p.m. The whole offer is the result of the recent private deliberations of the council and passed through without discussion. It is thought that it will receive favorable consideration from the street railway company. All the members were present.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

No. 3 committee submitted its report on the gas lighting of the city streets, and recommended that no action be taken at present until the gas company erect a number of lamps for inspection.

The offer provides for the erection of a very artistic post and glass globe, and where the gas mains do not reach a 20-candle power coal oil touch light.

Ald. Parnell said that it would do no harm to get all the information they could on the subject.

Ald. Coe ridiculed the idea of going back to gas and coal oil.

Ald. J. W. Jones thought that the committee was quite justified in the course taken. They were not receiving as high a candle power light now as they were paying for. He moved, and Ald. Coe seconded a motion to offer the Canadian General Electric Light Company a contract for lighting the streets for five years at 25 cents per light per night.

The motion was referred to No. 3 committee to consider and report. Ald. Judd did not vote when the division was called.

NUMBER TWO COMMITTEE.

The council refused to purchase a road roller and engine combined at a cost of $3,800. The committee recommended the purchase and a supplementary estimate to provide for the payment of the same.

There was a long debate, and while the members admitted that the machine was necessary, they thought next year would do. Ald. Parnell, Pritchard, F. J. Fitzgerald and O'Meara spoke against the purchase, which would necessitate the addition of one-fifth of a mill to the rate and another fifth to pay for changing the rolls.

Then Ald. Garrett moved that the amount be taken from the year's appropriation, but the council threw out the clause.

The committee submitted the bond of S. W. McKinnon for $2,000, guaranteeing that all buildings to be erected on land abutting on Beaconsfield avenue, shall be back from the street line a distance of at least ten feet, and recommended the passage of the bylaw, granting permission for said street to be laid out as a 50-foot street.

Ald. Shaw said that the street had already been opened.

Then Mayor Esery designated the whole affair as a farce, that a man should open a street contrary to bylaw and then make a pretense of securing the council's consent afterwards. If he could get a second he would move that the person be prosecuted.

Then he took the floor and moved that the matter be referred back to find out the exact condition of affairs by the next meeting.

The mayor could not get a second and the clause was adopted.

NUMBER ONE COMMITTEE.

The accounts amounted to $5,280.98. The report stated that a satisfactory agreement had been reached in the dispute between the township of Westminster and the city. The township threw off $700 of the school moneys and assigned the entire claim to the city of London. They had also thrown off $279 for gully holes, reducing the claim of the township against the city from $2,400 to $1,500.

On motion of Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald and Nukins the matter of polling booths was referred to the solicitor for his opinion. To the city's position in refusing to pay for the polling places not ordered by the city.

There was some debate on the advisability of discharging the street watering inspector at $9 a week and making the assistant city engineer do the work.

Ald. Parnell said that it was economy of the very rank kind to discharge a $9 a week man whose whole time was taken up in the discharge of his duties, and make a man at $800 a year take his place.

Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald said that Mr. Isaacs, if he did his work properly, as he thought he did, could find plenty to do to earn his salary. He said that the contractors did not care for Mr. Isaacs because he made them live up to their contracts. If Mr. Isaacs was discharged there would be another man appointed inside of two weeks.

Ald. J. W. Jones believed that the office of street watering inspector was more necessary than that of an assistant engineer. If it was economy to discharge a $9 a week inspector and retain an $800 a year assistant engineer he wanted to know it.

Ald. Searrow said that Mr. Isaacs did his duty, as was shown by his reports. In this way he had brought down the wrath of the contractors. Mr. Searrow also believed the post of assistant engineer a necessary one.

Ald. Drenaney and Wm. Hayman spoke for Mr. Isaacs' case.

Ald. O'Meara wanted to discharge both Mr. Isaacs and the assistant engineer and let the street commissioner do the work. He moved accordingly. There was no second.

The vote was then taken and the clause struck out, thus retaining the services of Mr. Isaacs.

The committee recommended that the solicitor be instructed to obtain the proper evidence under section 505 of the Municipal Act of 1892, and apply to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council for power to issue debentures for waterworks extension and improvements. Carried.

The tender of the London Printing and Lithographing Company for Printing and Chas. Chapman for blank books was accepted, and the advertising fee divided between the ADVERTISER and three Presses. The special committee on the matter of a sewer for the aged People's Home recommended no action in the matter.

INQUIRIES.

By Ald. Pritchard—Why does not the L. E. and D. R. Road give the city of London a better excursion service? The present was simply disgraceful.

Ald. Judd said that the council had no jurisdiction. It was a matter for the L. E. and D. R. Road.

Then Mayor Esery said the matter would be looked into if there was a written complaint made.

MOTIONS.

By Ald. Taylor and Pritchard—That No. 3 committee call for tenders for lighting the city by electricity or gas. Lost.

Ald. Garrett and J. W. Jones moved in extension motion which practically laid down the terms on which the council will agree to give a franchise for an electric street railway. It reads as follows:

"That Mr. Everett having at the Toronto interview with the mayor, requested the City Council to state what amendments they desired to the last proposition made by the London Street Railway Company for a London Street Railway Company supplying all labor and material of every description necessary for the purpose of changing the system to an electrical one, and for keeping that part of the streets upon which their tracks now are or hereafter may be laid during the franchise to be agreed upon, including eighteen inches outside of each of the outside rails, in proper repair, and to pave, repave, or repair the said portion of the material of every description may be required from time to time during said franchise. And also that in addition to the extensions offered by the said street railway company in their communication submitted to this council on the 11th day of June, 1894, namely:

1. Ridout street from Dundas street south to York street, and Horton street from Ridout to Thames street, and Thames street north to York.

2. York street, from Richmond street west to Thames street.

3. Askin street, from the Wharfedale east to Wortley road.

4. Wortley road, from Askin street south to Langarth street.

5. Wellington street, from Horton street south to York street, and Wellington street south to York street, from Adelaide street east to Egerton street.

6. Hamilton road, from Adelaide street east to Egerton street.

7. Oxford street, from westerly city limits to Adelaide street.

8. Richmond street, from St. James street north to city limits, subject to an agreement made with Proof Line Road Company by said railway company.

9. Horton street, between Clarence and Richmond streets.

10. Adelaide street, from Oxford street south to Dundas street.

The company to have the option to abandon the following lines: Pall Mall street, or what portion thereof they may deem expedient.

The following extensions shall also be made by the street railway company: Hill street, from Wellington street to Adelaide street, thence north along Adelaide street to the Hamilton road. Rectory street, from the Hamilton road north to Dundas street. Victoria street, from Richmond street east to Colborne street, thence south along Colborne street to Dundas street. York street, west along Stanley street, from Thames street to the Wharfedale, thence south to Askin street.

The Pall Mall street line to be taken up if the company so desire.

Any bridges belonging to the city to be used by the London Street Railway Company to be properly strengthened by the said company and kept in repair by them during the said franchise.

All snow upon the street railway line from Askin street to sidewalk to be cleaned off and carried away by the said street railway company when required.

Tickets eight for 25 cents from starting of cars, or 6 a.m. to 9 p.m., with transfers. After those hours 5-cent fares with transfers.

All tracks and switches to be laid down or altered to their proper position, to be carried out by the said street railway company.

This offer is a compromise made without prejudice to the rights of this council, mileage or percentage if not now accepted and made for the purpose of an immediate electrification.

At Ald. J. W. Jones' suggestion the following was added:

"The said London Street Railway Company shall enter into an agreement with the City of London to construct, equip, a railway between the said city of London and the lands vested in the commissioners of the city of London, Springfield within one year from the final passing of this bylaw; permit any other persons or corporations who may obtain such franchise, to be access into the city of London over all streets as they may elect to reach Richmond street at its point of intersection with York or King street, and such persons or corporations, if they require such purpose to run over any part of road of the said London street railway shall be permitted so to do upon paying reasonable toll therefore. The amount thereof, if the parties cannot agree, to be settled by arbitration, and the said option shall be exercised by the said London street railway within ten days after the final passing of this bylaw, otherwise the bylaw not to go into effect, and that the street railway company or corporation may construct the said railway to Springfield and become responsible for all damages to water and gas mains in the construction and working of the said railway."

Ald. O'Meara moved in amendment to the motion read by the mayor.

The council divided as follows on the motion: Yeas—John Heenan, John W. Jones, Joshua Garratt, Wm. Heenan, Wm. C. Coe, R. Carrothers, Thos. Jones, James Fitzgerald, M. Searrow, F. J. Fitzgerald, E. Parnell and Mayor Esery—12.

Nays—Chas. Taylor, Pritchard, O'Meara, Drenaney and Nukins—5.

Ald. Pritchard pressed his motion to discharge Assistant Engineer Irensides, but the council threw it out, only four voting "yea." Ald. Searrow accused Mr. Pritchard of personal feeling in the matter, but Mr. Pritchard indignantly denied this.

Ald. Parnell and Judd moved that No. 1 committee be instructed to take into consideration ways and means of having the taxes collected at the city treasurer's office. Carried.

Gods in his heaven, All's rights with the world.
—BROWNING.

If you trust in God and yourself you can surmount every obstacle. Do not yield to restless anxiety. One must not always be asking what may happen to one in life, but one must advance fearlessly and bravely.
—(PRINCE BISMARCK.)

—Only those communications to which the writers are willing to have their names appeared in print will be published in these columns. Neither the writing nor the publication of anonymous letters can be justified.

—At Ottawa we pay a high price for a low down Government.

—What does Sir Adolphe Caron know that gives him such power over Sir John Thompson and his political associates?

—Hon. Wilfrid Laurier starts for his tour in the Northwest on Aug. 20. The Liberal leader will have for his companion
Mr. S. A. Fisher, of Knowlton.

—If Parliament had been promptly called after last January the members would not be sweating in the heat at Ottawa now, endeavoring to do the work of a month in a day or two.

—The president of the Manitoba Conservative Association says that the members of his party in that Province will have nothing to do with the Patrons.
Probably not; but if Patrons are elected,
and if the Conservatives are much in the minority, as in Ontario, we will have the friends of the president claiming that Patron and Conservative are interchangeable terms!

—There are some people who profess to believe that no person can sympathize with the workingmen in their struggles to get fair play from the grasping Mr. Pullman and at the same time be ready to condemn the lawless spirits who engage in the diabolical work of wrecking railway trains.
It will be found that the people who most strongly condemn all lawlessness, whether by strikers or others, are the respectable workingmen. The gratuitous assumptions of those who argue otherwise are most offensive.

—Prof. Drummond wrote the "Ascent of Man," a remarkable work that has a wide circulation. The professor is also a believer in the ascent of woman. In a speech at Haddo House, Lord Aberdeen's place,
the other day, he remarked that "woman
had been put through a marvelous discipline during the long night of history to teach her the virtues of unselfishness,
tenderness, patience, compassion and love,
so that she might become the teacher of the world; and it was quite certain, by all the laws of science and all the traditions of the world's past, that the great factor in the future evolution of society must be the ascent of woman."

THE COST OF NATIONAL DEGRADATION.

The Montreal Witness suggests that Parliament should inquire into the contract system, so as to ascertain just how much each contractor for Dominion Government work is expected to pay to the election funds of the men now in power.

If anyone proposes such a motion it will be voted down by the men who refused to investigate the charges made against Sir Adolphe Caron, who was one of the handlers of the gigantic Quebec corruption fund.
Perhaps an easier way of getting at the truth would be to ask for the name of the contractor who has done business with the Government in the last twelve years
who has not been much overpaid
in order that he, in turn, might contribute to the Conservative election
fund. Has there been one contractor honestly awarded, honestly carried out in that time? Has there been one contractor who has not been enabled to collect more than his agreement called for, in order that he might be able to bleed for the benefit of the political leaders in power?

Many contracts have been investigated in Parliament, but so far no contract has been discovered in recent years that was carried out with a sole regard to the public interests. When the Quebec harbor works scandal became a subject of inquiry before the courts, it was found, on the authority of Judge Rose, that $117,000 passed over from Mr. Connolly and his fellow contractors to Mr. Mc-Greavy, M.P., who was the bosom companion of the Dominion Minister of Public Works, and at the same time treasurer and confidential agent of the Conservative leaders. Another case of bleeding the public to provide election funds was revealed recently. The Lake St. John Railway, of which Senator Ross was president, applied for aid. Subsidies to the amount of $262,000 were paid to the company.

The president handed $25,000 to Sir
Adolphe Caron, the Postmaster-General, who in turn paid this sum to Mr. Thomas McGreavy, the treasurer of the Conservative election fund. The money thus obtained was spent to defeat legitimate tariff reform in this country. And when a motion was made that the whole expenditure should be investigated, and the proper relation of contractors to the Government, and the Government to the people decided on, Sir John Thompson called upon his majority to vote down all inquiry. Sir Adolphe Caron, it is understood, threatened to go into rebellion unless this was done.

Just as these unsavory revelations were being made came the announcement that,
through handing over the management of the Caran bridge at Montreal to Mr. St.
Louis, a notorious political boss, the country had been fleeced out of several hundred thousand dollars. The pay rolls were stuffed, false statements of material purchased were prepared, the grossest of jobbery prevailed, and the Government at Ottawa directly and indirectly profited by the inquiry.

Let it be remembered that this wholesale thieving from the people of Canada was resolved on after the McGreavy-Langevin exposure, and when the Ministers at Ottawa knew full well the danger to public interests from laxity of management and from the condoning of wrongdoing.
The contractors seemed to have evened up matters by liberal subscriptions to aid in winning elections then pending. But how many thousands they paid out, and how much of the money stuck to the fingers of the men who handled the boodle, will never be known, as the moment an investigation was resolved on the contractor burned his books, and thus destroyed all trace of the disposal of the ill-gotten gains.

As usual, an attempt is being made to shoulder the blame of the evil-doing on wicked overseers. The politicians who profited by the rascalities, and who ought to have so managed the work that the people would have received honest value
for their money, are inclined to wash
their hands clean of the whole affair. Just as, after conniving with McGreavy and Connolly, and accepting many thousands of dollars of their money to help to retain power, they offered these men up as a sacrifice to palliate wrong-doing in high places, so they now seem inclined to shirk responsibility for the robbery of the public in the latest scandalous job. The Montreal Star, which has generally supported the Government, calls for the punishment of some one and asks, "Do the Ministers imagine that Canadians will forever be content to be bribed with their own money?" adding that "if the Conservative party can only live by such means it is time for decent men to wash their hands of the party." Our contemporary should know that it was only by such means that the elections of 1887 and 1891 and the succeeding bye-elections were carried. Surely honest men, whether Liberals or Conservatives, are now ready to vote for a change.
Recent experience has certainly proved that it is useless to attempt to change the methods without changing the men. They are inseparable, and besides the chief sinners have publicly gloried in the success of the wholesale speculation of public money
and the triumph of the system of robbing
the electors with one hand and bribing them with the other.

MARRIAGE AND SUCCESS.

It is said that Cecil Rhodes, the diamond
mine owner and political boss of South Africa, is not only a bachelor, but insists on surrounding himself with bachelors. He will have none but unmarried men on his personal and domestic staff. Any of the subordinates who marries is dismissed.
Marriage spoils a man's career—destroys singleness of aim—is his motto. Undoubtedly Cecil Rhodes has been a successful business man, and he is a power in South African politics. But we take leave to doubt that he is a better man because,
for the reasons here set forth, he refuses to become a complete man. Marriage does not spoil a man's career, if properly gone about. It need not destroy his singleness of aim or in any way spoil his prospects.
Indeed, there are thousands of successful men in every civilized country who owe their all to their wives—who were nothing till they married, and would have made no headway in the world but for the inspiring counsel and cheerful assistance of their life companions. Mr. Rhodes may live to discover, as many a cynical bachelor has done, that money and political success are not the only concomitants to true happiness. We care not what success he meets with, the man who fails to cultivate the domestic side of his nature is always to be pitied.

A STARTLING PETITION

By the United States Government
Against Thirty Railroads—A Combine Alleged.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 17.—A petition
in equity was filed in the United States Circuit Court here yesterday of a startling character. The petition is instigated by Attorney-General Olney, and is directed against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and 36 other railroad companies, besides many noted railroad people. If the suit is successful it will affect every railroad in the United States. It is stated that the effect will be to make every corporation now a part of the Southern Pacific Company operate under a separate management and make void all monopoly of freight and passenger traffic. The defendants are charged with conspiring to restrain trade between several States.

THE STEWART CASE.

Mr. Stewart Pays a Visit to Picton—Congratulated by His Many Friends
on His Restoration to Health.

PICTON, N. S., July 16.—Good news
sometimes travels as fast as bad news, which is proverbially fast. Many people here knew that Mr. Allan Stewart, of Springton, P. E. I., had been for many years afflicted with kidney disease and gravel. It was known, too, that last year he was so bad that public opinion put him down as likely to die soon. Mr. Stewart fooled public opinion, though, for he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and ten boxes of them completely cured him. When he paid a flying visit to this city a few days ago he received many hearty congratulations on his restoration to health and improved appearance. Dodd's Kidney Pills have never yet failed to cure in this part of the Dominion.

Were the scrofula sores on my poor little boy, skinning and disgusting. They were especially severe on his legs, back of his ears and on his head. His hair was so matted that combing was sometimes impossible. His legs were so bad that sometimes he could not sit down, and when he tried to walk his legs would crack open and the blood start. Physicians did not effect a cure. I decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two weeks the sores commenced to heal up; the scales came off and all over his body new and healthy flesh and skin formed. When he had taken two bottles of

he was entirely free from sores. HARRY K. RUBY, Box 356, Columbia, Pennsylvania.

TWILIGHT WHEELING.

The London E. C.'s Evening Meet at Queen's Park.

Result of the Oxford-Yale Athletic Tournament—Sporting News in General.

RADWAY AT IT AGAIN.
Between 700 and 800 people were seated in the stands at Queen's Park last night to witness the initial evening races of the London Bicycle Club. The directors of the evening had expected the "meet" to be well patronized, but their desires were more than realized when they saw the big crowd. And a good-natured and enthusiastic crowd it was, too. They cheered every rider, whether in first place or last, but an extra effort was made every time Frank F. Radway crossed the tape. The events were all pretty well contested. The half-mile, 130 class, brought out Radway, Moorehead, C. H. White and Reid. With the word "Go" the riders started well together. Moorehead pushed forward and was closely followed by Reid. These two had a small picnic to themselves till the homestretch was reached, when Radway put on one of his best efforts, passed his opponents and finished twenty feet in advance of Moorehead. White appeared out of condition and dropped out near the finish. Time, 1:18 1-5.

"Green" riders of 1894 was hardly a suitable term to apply to some of the entries in the 94 race. Sereaton, Dilloway, Baker, Croden and Peacock filed into line at the race being called. The distance was one mile, and Baker showed up well on the first half. His energy was spent at the three-quarter post, and Sereaton and Dilloway worked to the front. The former had all he could do to maintain first place. Dilloway was second, and was followed in order by Baker, Croden and Peacock. Time, 2:58 4-5.

The one-mile handicap was not so exciting as it was expected to be. Radway was the only scratch man. White had 50 yards, Moorehead 80 yards, Bryant 125 yards, Little 50 yards, Reid 125 yards, Elson 150 yards, Jenkins 150 yards, Holt 125 yards, Macbeth 125 yards, Sereaton 200 yards, Croden 250 yards, Dilloway and Blackwell 175 yards, and Baker 250 yards. Radway was in hard luck throughout the race, being in the first place, 5 seconds behind the field in starting. He endeavored to make up for the delay, and was succeeding admirably as he was about to turn on the home stretch. He was but a short distance behind Little and Holt when he got mixed in about half a dozen riders. Several seconds elapsed before he freed himself, but when he did he came down the stretch at a terrific rate, and was given hearty applause by the stands. Little finished first, Holt second, Macbeth third and Radway fourth. The rest of the entries were bunched. Time, 2:23 1-5.

The two mile team race was more like a procession for the first three laps. The eight riders held about the same positions in the three laps, but on the fourth Captains Radway and White urged their men forward as best they could, but White had the best following, and won by two points. The time was 6:05 1-5.

The following were the teams and points secured:

Points.	White (Capt.)	Points.
8	White (Capt.)	7
7	Bryant	4
4	Little	6
6	Macbeth	3
3	Holt	1
1	Jenkins	2
2	Elson	1
1		1

A funny event was the 100 yards solo race. The entries were so plentiful that three heats were necessary to decide the winners of Nos. 1 and 2 only were permitted in the third, and Sweeney was the winner, proving himself slower than Frank White. Some of the riders proved themselves as expert balance artists as some circus professionals.

The officers of the day were:
Referee—C. J. Wade.
Starter—Dr. Balfour.
Judges—James McCormick, Fred Scan-

A GOOD WHEEL.
At Monday night's bicycle races the one-mile handicap, with about twenty starters, was acknowledged to be the race of the evening. This race was won by Mr. A. F. Little, a harness maker, of Iderton, on a Smalley road machine, purchased from W. Mann & Co., the Canadian agents.

A FOE OF WHEELMEN.
English wheelmen regard Lord Malmesbury in the same light that an enraged bull does a red rag. Lord Malmesbury is chairman of the quarter sessions and president of the board of magistrates of Hampshire and takes advantage of his office to act with brutal severity toward offending wheelmen. His lordship recently told the police that it was time to clip the wings of wheelmen, and, on being informed by the superintendent that the police had difficulty in stopping the riders owing to their speed, he advised the officers to run a stick through the spokes or throw a stone at the machine.

LITTLE LENA'S SAD FATE!

Watched Her Brother and Cousin Smoke Cigarettes and Was Burned to Death.

KINGSTON, July 16.—Lena, a little daughter of Jas. Doyle, of Williamsville, near this city, came to her death yesterday in a "king manner." Her brother and cousin, a pack about 11 years old, had secured Lena Doyle's cigarettes, and invited her to smoke. Lena, who was a little girl, went to the barn and saw them smoke. One of the boys threw part of a cigarette viciously alongside of her. The boy ran off to the back of the property and the child started, screaming for her mother. The wind fanned the fire in her clothes, and she was fatally burned, in spite of all efforts by her father and friends to save her.

How Royal Births Are Witnessed
[From The New York Home Journal.]

The attendance of Mr. Asquith, the English Home Secretary, at the birth of the little Duke of Kent gives rise to the story of the origin of the custom. It arose out of the dispute that followed the birth of the eldest son of King James II. of England. This led to the enacting of the law which requires one of the secretaries of state to be present whenever there is a birth in the reigning family of Great Britain. When the eldest son of King James was born the king's enemies maintained that his heir was not the offspring of the queen, but that an infant had been procured elsewhere for the purpose. Since then a Cabinet minister has been present in the room when a royal birth has taken place, and the custom has been adopted by all the continental courts.

John Friend, baker and confectioner, has fresh pastry on hand every day. All sorts of cakes, parties and balls supplied at reasonable rates. No. 117 Dundas street.

A Transformation.

"Dear lady! No, she has not hurt me. It was a distress of the moment. No more, no more," says the poet, quite beautifully. Mr. Kitts almost admires him. "And as for women, dear friend, pray do not speak of them as unfair. They are always fair. And they have their own little gifts, as you will see, if you go into it—their pretty charms, their tricks—"

"Like kittens," suggests Mr. Kitts, eagerly, as if dwelling on his thoughts and desirous of following them.

"Yes, yes. You take me, I see," says the poet, pointing himself on one leg and beaming on Kitts, in spite of his decision about him a few minutes ago. "But adulation is so sweet, and so hard to get—with some people! 'Kittens! Kittens! Little cats! The dearest women have something of the tiger in them, you know. Not the tiger, but a little of the tiger. Not the tiger, but a little of the tiger—not as yet vulgarized to the paper form, but here—here,' tapping the place where he supposes, poor dear man, that his brains lie. 'Women have something of the tiger in them,' says Mr. Kitts, unconsciously of the fact that Kitts is longing to go for him. 'They have their beauty. And if Nature has denied them intellect, poor souls, still their beauty, transient though it is, gives us refreshment as we wander through this gloomy vale.'"

"Who's us?" asks Mr. Kitts, with a brown of perplexity. It is a rather dangerous question.

"Dear friend, surely I need not reply. Why, we—the lords of creation—we, the creatures of intellect. We, who can rule the world with our thoughts, our aspirations, our genius."

"Do you know," says Mr. Kitts, surveying him calmly, but straightly, "you'll get yourself kicked if you go on like that?"

"Till? What?" says the poet, as if not able to believe.

"Yes. Kicked. Kicked. I assure you," says Mr. Kitts, turning on his heel.

Terry is now pouring out the tea, Fanny chatting beside her. Larry is laughing with Miss Anson over some absurd mistake of yesterday, whilst Max and Geoffrey, with their stockings very carefully but most unmistakably darned, are handing cakes to everybody. Trefusis is holding Terry by the heart somewhat disturbed within him.

Terry is looking lovely, quite lovely, poor child, in spite of the shabby old gown in which she is dressed; a gown suspiciously neat, but old, and yet—the best of it is here—so undeniably her best. There is something of anger in the glance that Trefusis occasionally sends from her to Miss Anson. The latter is so exquisitely frocked—everything is so exactly as it should be—everything is so toned; it is the very art of dressing! Trefusis feels his soul rebel against the contrast. Why, why will Terry let no one help her? Surely pride can go too far. It hurts him in a strange way that she, the girl he has chosen out of all the world, should be one whit behind the very best the world can show.

It is not altogether an ignominious error, it is an error, indeed, for her more than for herself—a sort of jealousy of love. He throws it from him after a bit. Terry, after all, is always Terry. Nothing could improve her. Nothing can perfect perfection. And Terry, with all her faults, is what Miss Anson, with all her faults, is not. And then a quick thought comes to him, and his eyes lighten. There is no need to be impatient. Soon, soon she will be his, and she shall walk in such 'silk attire' as few have worn.

The poet is again holding forth, but now to Larry.

"How picturesque it all is!" says he. "And how she suits it!"

"She's suit anything," says Larry, looking at Terry.

"Yes, she's a picture in herself," says the poet, laying his head delicately on one side—the side which he thinks is Miss Anson's shrine.

"Miss Anson! I wasn't thinking of her," says Larry. "Though of course I'm chivalrously 'admirable' to her. But—there's a good deal of her, isn't there?"

"Could there be too much of perfection?" asks the poet, plaintively.

"I suppose not," says Larry. "But Miss Anson is big, eh?"

"Ah, the charming creature!" cries the poet. "She is supreme, exquisite. One can take her, as it were, by degrees. She lasts."

"Do you mean that you cut her up?" asks Larry. "You should be careful, you know. Women hate being cut up."

"Her eyes yesterday, her lips to-day, her perfect chin to-morrow," goes on the poet, sighing heavily. "She is a perfect feast. She is a thing of beauty, as that very much overrated person called Keats once said: pray excuse my quoting him. She has so many charms that one hardly knows how to take them all in at once. She is dear, very dear."

"At any price," says Larry to himself, but out loud he says, "You should not let her be. Not now, you know; this is a cheap age. And if you want her eyes, her lips, and her chin, why, reduction made if a quantity taken, you know, and you like quantity, evidently."

"I fail to understand you," says the poet, shaking his head.

"Well, I'll explain. I like quality," says Larry, nodding at him with a beaming smile. He adds to his inquiry by going off home lately to where Terry is standing behind the tea-table.

The day is waning. Evening is coming on. Trefusis is still helping Terry with the tea, Mr. Gabbett, and his sister having happened to drop in rather late. Terry after a minute or two has moved away. Mr. Kitts is helping the boys to eat the hot cakes. It is quite astonishing how he does it, seeing that he never stops talking all the time.

Trefusis has stooped to whisper some little pleasant thing to Terry's ear—something going on over there where Miss Bridget is sitting—and Terry has lifted her flower-like face to his in answer. Almost for the first time her eyes look calmly, steadily, friendly-wise into his. She smiles at him. Trefusis's heart gives a bound. Never has he seemed so near to him as now, in this hour, in this her own home.

Larry, unfortunately (his eyes are never very far from Terry) sees that glance of his, and Terry's answering smile. He turns abruptly away, and grows almost boisterous in his attention to Geraldine Anson. He is evidently telling her a story, vivisection one of the near neighbors with a view of bringing a laugh to her lips—in reality to let Terry see that his heart is void of even one touch of pain.

"What is it, Larry?" asks Mr. Adare, who knows all her brother's moods and is now very sorry for him. Perhaps she too has seen that little growing towards Trefusis in Terry's air, and has understood.

"Oh, nothing. Only that old story about the duchess. You remember it? About the night she was playing backgammon at the Mackenzies, you know."

He laughs lightly, but falsely, as his sister knows. "If you don't, Terry will," says he, looking straight at Terry. It seems to him now as if he must bring her attention back to himself and away from Trefusis, if only for a moment.

"Yes, I remember," says Terry, smiling sweetly at him over her tea. "I believe it," she says, looking at him. "What! That she doesn't remember?"

"Oh, no, no, no—Miss O'More, isn't he silly? Of course she remembers; women always remember—afterwards!" She says this with a strange, swift glance at Trefusis, that seems to warn him of trouble in the future connected with Larry. "I mean that I don't believe that story of yours—Your brother," turning to her—"

"—saying that the duchess was once playing backgammon with Sir Darby Mackenzie, and that she swallowed the dice!"

"One of them. One of them," says Laurence. "She was eating—she was eating—of one sort or another—and the rigor of the game growing too much for her, and finding that Sir Darby was winning, she concluded that one of the dice was a fibert, and swallowed it."

THE B. M. E. CHURCH

A Mixed Diet.

Experiments and experience prove that a mixed diet is necessary. Observation shows an habitual excess of any one or more of the great divisions of food over and above the wants of the body will result in the production of a constitutional derangement, and these derangements or diseases often become chronic. Chronic disorders are not readily removed, but a continued course of treatment with Eschley's Liver Lozenges has been proved to radically build up the whole digestive system. These Lozenges are 25 cents a box, or five boxes for $1.

Indigestion's painful grip (Give me many a cruel nip, Till of remedies the chief, "Pierce's Pellets" brought relief.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets promote digestion, cure constipation, sick headache and biliousness.

The life insurance companies are seriously considering the advisability of requiring that where a Chicago policy in excess of $1,000 is issued the applicant must be under sentence of death.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are especially subject.

Men who when star-gazing can see a distance of 420,000,000 miles, in mundane observation can't see beyond the end of their noses.

At Death's Door.—Dyspepsia Conquered.—A Great Medical Triumph.

EXETER.—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live, when I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be of some benefit to others who are afflicted with this certain cure for Dyspepsia. (Signed.)

My Little One Was Near Death.

A Port Williams Mother Speaks of Lactated Food.

IT ALWAYS SAVES BABIES' LIVES.

Mrs. E. G. Bishop, of Port Williams, N. S., is anxious that every mother in Canada should know the value of Lactated Food for young, tender and puny infants.

Mrs. Bishop says: "One of my little ones was very near death. For its sustenance we had tried various foods without any good results. At last my doctor advised me to use Lactated Food, and I feel sure it was the means, under God, of saving my child's life."

During the present hot weather thousands of babies are in a half dead condition. They are not being fed with life-giving and nutritious and strengthening food. Every mother should know that Lactated Food shows its grand superiority and health-giving powers in the hot, oppressive weather. It makes weak and fragile babies strong, and enables them to sleep peacefully and contentedly.

If you are not using Lactated Food, mother, your child's life is in danger.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Balloting at Meetings.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: At a duly notified meeting called to elect an officer by ballot, the nominations were made in open meeting. When the scrutineers handed the result to the chairman it was found no one had the necessary number of votes. A three-fourths vote was necessary. Some of the members called for the state of the ballot. Was the chairman justified in giving the names and number of votes cast at this stage of the proceedings? JAMES PATTERSON.

[He was not so justified of his own motion. According to the custom in deliberative bodies, except where bylaws provide differently, the chairman should only state the condition of the vote at the request of a substantial majority of those present and entitled to vote.—EDITOR ADVERTISER.]

New Ontario.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: I have noticed in the columns of your paper once in a while within the last year or two letters concerning Algoma written by settlers and crown land agents in that country giving a good deal of information as to its resources and the opportunities and inducements it offers as a field of immigration. And as doubtless a good many of your readers are interested in the subject, I send you by concurrent book post for your personal perusal a copy of the "Hand Book of Information Concerning Algoma," which has recently been published in London, England, for circulation among the tenant farmers in the old land. I understand an edition of 50,000 is being printed, and that they are now being carefully distributed in the old land by Sir Charles Tupper, the High Commissioner.

I would ask you kindly to read the "Hand Book" carefully, and then give your readers who may be interested in the subject such extracts and information as you may see fit therefrom. You will notice it gives statistics and information about the whole of the vast country known as New Ontario or Northwestern Ontario, a province in itself, and containing, besides the mainland of north shore, the large islands of Manitoulin, Cockburn and St. Joseph, lying along the front.

Might I also ask you to suggest to any of your readers who have friends or acquaintances in the old country that they think likely will emigrate that they should ask them to drop a line asking for the hand book to Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., High Commissioner for Canada, 17 Victoria street, S. W., England, and they can get a copy.

I may add that a few copies have been sent out by Sir Charles to me and that as long as I have any on hand I shall be glad to send a copy to any of your readers who may be desirous to emigrate or who may be looking for land for his son, and who will send me his address and return postage. Yours faithfully, FRED ROGERS. Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Sarnia and its attractions an amount of advertising that under ordinary circumstances would cost him hundreds of dollars, and must prove of great benefit to the town in the way of attracting public attention to its unsurpassed advantages as an excursion point. For all of which Sarnia is greatly indebted to the London press.—[Sarnia

last, and intend staying under canvas for about ten days. The company attended divine service on Sunday at St. Ann's Church, Byron, and were cordially received by the rector, Mr. Rhodes. During the were at the camp. The lads are all enjoying good health.The South Street Methodist Mission Sabbath school held their annual picnic in Nelles' Grove, about a mile east of the city limits on the bank of the south branch of the Thames, on Wednesday. Some 200 members of the school and their friends were present, and the very enjoyable time was spent. Buses were in attendance at the school at 9 o'clock to convey the party to their destination. On reaching the grove games were indulged in and refreshments enjoyed. Messrs. Pasmore, Mortimer and other teachers were in attendance, and helped to make the affair a success. A baseball match was played between the school and the Ontario nine, resulting in favor of the Ontario boys.A paragraph appeared in yesterday's ADVERTISER, stating that Edward Jury, a respected resident of Oak street, London West, had been arrested for refusing to comply with a judge's order to pay to his wife, Sarah Rose Jury, $3 a week alimony.

Mr. Jury was arrested, but any order made never issued against him for the amount stated. The wife has entered an action, which will be tried at the Fall Assizes,
asking for $200 alimony and interim alimony of $3 per week, and a lien
upon the property in London West.
In her statement of claim Mrs.
Jury says that the domestic relations in her household have not been of the most harmonious; that Jury has more than once threatened her, and that he expressed his intention of selling out and leaving for England with the proceeds of the sale.
These statements Mr. Jury emphatically denies. Jury was detained in jail only a few hours, bail being furnished by a leading manufacturer of the city. Mrs. Jury will be examined before Col. Shanly on Wednesday, and a motion to set aside the order will be made before Judge Edward Elliott on Thursday. W. H. Bartram is acting for the plaintiff and McEvoy, Wilson & Pope for the defendant.

Miss Johnson in England.

The many friends of Miss E. Pauline Johnson, the Canadian Indian authoress, will be glad to know that she has attained
the object of her trip across the ocean in it being a first-class publishing house of her book of poems, which will be issued simultaneously about Christmas time in London, New York and Toronto.
When looking over her manuscript she says
a prominent publisher pronounced some of her poems "wonderful," and that she is much elated over her success. She has attended any number of receptions, and at one of these Lady Helen Blake presented her with a beautiful jewel containing thirty-two pearls. Miss Johnson says that "Next to the gift of my own townspeople on leaving home I value this more than any other gift that I have ever received." It is a poet's life surrounded by a star. During a reception at the Royal Academy she was the recipient of marked attention by the president, Sir Frederick Leighton. She returns home for a day or so at the end of the present month
and then starts on a two months' professional tour to the Canadian Pacific coast.
She writes that only for the damp English climate, her visit would have been simply perfect, but this affected her throat very seriously on several occasions.Repairing and Insuring the Schools.A special meeting of the Board of Education was held last night to discuss the report of No. 2 committee on the condition of London public schools. The committee of which Trustee Blackwell is chairman,
had recently made a thorough inspection of each school. Satisfaction was expressed at the condition in which everything was found, and the repairs recommended in the report were trivial. The Colborne street school requires new seats in two rooms, the tower wants repairing and these seats in another room require attention. In the other schools, kalsomining, repainting, oiling of floors,
painting of circles and the supplying of several teachers' chairs were about the only changes necessary. The division of the school insurance was recommended as follows: Beidome & Brown, $5,000; A.
Gillelan, $4,000; Butler & Son, $5,000; E.
Hammond, $5,000; G. M. Gunn & Son,
$8,000; G. H. Merritt, $5,000; J. A.Chief Attraction.Among the chief attractions in the procession of the Cook & Watby circus last Saturday was the yellow wagon, which conveys throughout Canada the most desirable of cures—Williams' Royal Crown Remedy. This is what Mr. Weir says, whose life it saved:
"This is a most marvellous cure. I became pale as a corpse, my blood seemed to be turned to water. I had dizziness and a ringing noise in my head; my hands and feet were cold all the time, and my limbs were completely swollen up to the body. Some doctors called it consumption of the blood. I got so weak that I could not walk, and finally took to my bed." Mrs. Weir says: "All Mr. Weir has told you is true. At times he lay for days unconscious and unable to take nourishment of any kind, and was reduced to a mere skeleton of 84 pounds; and I fully believe if we had been one day later in getting Williams' Royal Crown Remedy he would be in his grave today. So it may well be said 'Williams' Royal Crown Remedy saved John Weir's life.' The best druggists keep Royal Crown Remedy; but if your druggist does not,
write direct to Isaac Williams Company,
London, and they will send it to you by first express. The price at which Royal Crown Remedy is sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with any other medical treatment. Six bottles for $5,000; E. V. Taylor, $5,000; Edward Towe, $5,000; A. Wallace, $5,000;

E. B. Love, $5,000; McEherson, $7,000;
J. H. Flax, $5,000. The report was adopted with but little discussion. In future all janitors will clean the furnaces in their schools, and will be paid according to the contract price of last year. The tender of John Mann & Sons for coal and wood was accepted at $4.70 per ton for hard coal, $3.70 for soft and select lump, and $4.50 per cord for hard maple. Miss Mabel Smith was given permission to attend the normal school; and Mr. Berry was employed as chimney sweep for the year.
Trustee Alexander occupied the chair in the absence of Mr. MacRobert. The other members present were: Trustees Greenleaf, Stephenson, Anderson, Griffin, Craig, Turner, Powell, Blackwell, Sanders, Martin, Johnston, and Dr. Campbell.When Traveling.Whether on pleasure beat, or business,
